ATHLETIC CLUB WILL BE SUCCESS

New Organization for Business Men Enlists Hearty Support.

The Sacramento Athletic club has secured the two upper floors and fifteen large rooms of the Meister building, Ninth, I and J streets, and will equip them with a complete gymnasium, baths, handball court, billiard, pool, card and reading rooms in a first class manner, enabling the business man or clerk to have access at any time, which is something this city has been in want of for some time, and by the enthusiasm taken by the old members and new members coming in, the club expects to be in its new quarters by the first of February. At that time they will probably have 300 members, which will assure the club a great success.

Those responsible for the active interest taken in the club are three well-known young business men, Otto Heilbron, E. H. Traxler, and George H. Curtiss, and those interested may be assured that the club will be a success if they are behind it.

Following is a partial list of names secured by them, among them several prominent business men:

EFFECT REORGANIZATON OF SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB

In Enthusiastic Meeting Plans Are Made for Permanent Quarters.

At a highly enthusiastic meeting of those interested in the formation of the New Sacramento Athletic club, the rehabilitated organization which has been allowed to lapse for several years, more than forty members signified their intention of getting behind the movement and boosting it to complete success. The signatures of 240 members were presented, and official formation of the new club was completed, officers being elected for the ensuing year.

The meeting was indicative of the enthusiasm and earnestness with which the business men of Sacramento are taking up this movement for an athletic club, which has been a long-felt want in this city, and concerning the lack of which visitors often commented. Unanimous opinion urges the speedy preparation of quarters, and places the arrangement of all details in the hands of a newly elected board of directors.

At 8:30 o'clock the boosters for the club gathered in Encampment hall, at Ninth and K streets. Will A. Newcum, one of the oldest members of the old Sacramento Athletic club, was asked to preside as temporary chairman, and George E. H. Curtis consented to act as temporary secretary, which positions they held throughout the evening.

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Selection of officers was programmed, after the list of members, including more than 240 names, had been read, and the following leaders, as suggested for the various offices, were chosen by unanimous vote:

President, W. W. Bassett; vice-president, W. F. Gormley; financial secretary and treasurer, J. M. Inman; captain, George H. Curtis; recording secretary, Will A. Newcum; board of directors, Ed Dalton, J. W. Gray, E. H. Traxler, and J. W. Laughlin. In the hands of the board was vested complete power to prepare quarters and make all arrangements incidental to the reorganization of the athletic club.

The meeting had been called by a committee of arrangements composed of Otto Heilbron, George H. Curtis, and J. W. Traxler, to whom much credit is due for the reopening of the battle for such an organization, and to whom a vote of thanks was tendered by the gathering. It was this committee which named the slate which was approved.

It was announced by J. W. Traxler, as a member of this committee, that quarters have been secured for the club in the Meister building, I and J, on Ninth street, opposite the Plaza. Here, in time, the club will fit up handsome apartments, which will include accommodations for various branches of athletics, and also will care for the social end of the club's activities. A new handball court will be installed, gymnasium equipped, hot and cold water baths installed, a small running track provided, and other conveniences, including a number of small rooms, which probably will be occupied by members of the club.

The organization will occupy two floors of the building just over Wonderland, each floor affording 80 by 100 feet pace. An option already has been secured on this property, and the board of directors being empowered to take full action, this will be immediately closed and a lease taken. Thereafter work will be begun at once on the apartments, entrance for which will be had on Ninth street.

A letter was read from County Assessor Ed Kay, stating that he, as a member of the old club, wished to be put down as a charter member of the new club, and sending his best wishes as a booster for the organization, although compelled by a previous engagement to be absent.

A committee of three, composed of Messrs. Inman, Traxler, and Heilbron, was appointed to consider the revision of the by-laws of the former club to suit the present situation, and the rules and regulations also will be altered as found necessary. Following a date to be set later by the board, but which will probably be fixed at the time when the rooms are occupied, the initiation fee will be fixed at ten dollars, though no fee is charged for charter members. Also a date will be set when the members applying will no longer be considered charter members, though it is probable both dates will be the same.

The enthusiasm exhibited is evidence that the reorganization of the Sacramento Athletic club is regarded as a serious proposition, and there is no question that the movement will be a success.

Sacramento Athletic Club and Its Splendid Work in Amateur Sporting Events

Bee March 2-03

Written for The Bee by J. W. Gorman.

In the month of August, 1889, George Crum, Arthur Arnold, Henry Rubenstein and Al. Kleinsorge, being interested in athletics and sports, decided that they would form a club in this city, to be used for athletic purposes. At that time there was a social organization existing in this city called the Stag Club, and was composed of the following men: Chas. Bauer, E. M. Bauer, George Chatterdon, Morrow Hamilton, Herbert Ripley and Frank Whitmore. These first named men thought they might receive help from the members of the Stag Club, and they made known their intentions. A special meeting of the Stag Club was called a few days later. The proposition of starting a club was brought up and was well received by the members, and all were willing to help in the matter. At this meeting thirty notices were sent out to different business men, whom the members thought might be interested in athletics and requested them to be present at the next meeting.

At the next meeting, which was held at Wheelman's Hall, at the Masonic Temple, a large crowd was present, and everybody seemed enthused over the proposition. At this meeting J. Chas. Jones was elected Temporary President and the constitution and by-laws were drawn up. The organization was named the Sacramento Athletic Club. A Committee was then appointed to solicit members and was composed of Al. Kleinsorge, George Lavelson and A. Arnold. In a week's time they made their report and 125 names were added to the list of signed members. The next task was the finding of a suitable place for a gymnasium. Many buildings were suggested, among others the Breuner warehouse, Fifth and I, and the Old Pavilion, their present quarters. The latter building was finally decided on and arrangements were at once made for the fitting up of the hall. The Pavilion was then used as a warehouse and the floors were far from being in a fit condition for use. The members took upon themselves the task of fitting up the building, and after expending a large sum for apparatus, the club was opened to the public.

In the start the club had no regular instructors, but Messrs. Kleinsorge, Arnold, Hildebrand and J. G. Mansfield volunteered their services and they instructed the members in the different branches of work.

The club grew very rapidly from this period on and it was soon recognized as one of the best athletic organizations of the State.

The club's first instructor was Cal. Godfrey, and much credit is due him for his good work in the gymnasium. He was the originator of handball in the club and his methods have made many players of renown.

The club has always been noted for its fine entertainments and tournaments and they were always well patronized by the public. The club gave "ladies' nights" very often at the start and the pavilion was packed on all occasions. The most notable entertainment [illegible] was given annual field days and many Coast records were smashed by the athletes of the club. Among those athletes were: Ed Cox, Louis Payne, Samuel Smith, Charles Bauer, A. Yoerk and H. Spanger.

Handball is the leading game now played in the club, on account of the present small quarters, and much interest is being taken in the sport. In the recent tournament given by the club the players made a brilliant showing and many of them were mere novices at the game. Louis Levy, the crack amateur player of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, in his recent article in this paper, spoke strongly of the ability of the players of the Sacramento club, and said that the most of them would be stumbling blocks for any team in the State, including San Francisco. He mentioned Pope, Delano, Yoerk, Biewener and Alexander, and prophesied promising futures for them. Among the less experienced players, Caen and Shannon, the winners of the Class B trophy, showed wonderful improvement. McClatchy, Marston, Del Noir and Lauser are also credited with playing good games.

The club has had six tutors since its organization, and each individual has helped to give the club the standing it now has. The following are the names of the instructors: George Hildebrand, Cal. Godfrey, A. Arnold, H. Pahr, W. Johnson and J. Schenk.

The latter has been instructor for the long period of seven years and his fine work in the gymnasium is known throughout the entire State. Mr. Schenk is acquainted with every branch of athletics and sports and he has many clever performers under his charge. His methods have built up many young men of this city, and all under his charge improve very rapidly.

William Johnson, the professor of boxing, is one of the most proficient instructors in this branch of work in the State, and he has at the present time many clever performers under his charge. Mr. Johnson, in speaking of the sport, said: "The science of boxing has always been the favorite sport among the growing youths, but, at the present time, I think it is far ahead of all other branches of athletic sports and pastimes. Every youngster who enters the club is anxious to don the mits and box and the great majority of them learn very rapidly. As an exercise, I think it is unsurpassed. It brings the head, eyes, brain, and, in fact, the whole muscular system, in to activity and trains the senses to be alert." Mr. Johnson has turned out a large number of clever amateurs, many of whom held the Coast championship. In the championship tournament held at San Francisco the club made a fine showing, John Kelly, Louis Payne, and Henry Spanger, carrying off the laurels in their respective classes. In the recent try-outs, Frank Duffraney easily defeated his clever opponents. He has also taught many professionals to box. W. McGraw, Wells Birdsell, Al. Hellman, and Ed. Johnson, have been under his care and they have met with great success in this State and the East.

Wrestling is comparatively new in the club, but it has proved very popular and great interest is now manifested in the sport. Wrestling is one of the best exercises that can be had, but it requires much patience and perseverance to accomplish success. Edward Cox, the present instructor, says: "No exercise brings into play all the muscles of the body in a more thorough manner, and none is more interesting than wrestling. Of course, at the beginning, care must be taken against over-exertion, but that is true in every sport. The muscles must be gradually strengthened to do their duty. But when one has learned thoroughly the art of wrestling he will find no exercise more valuable in the cultivation of his faculties which will help him to success, whatever be his walk in life—strength, determination and coolness."

Mr. Cox has many skilled wrestlers in his charge. Among them are Bacon, Delano, Holland, Chapman, all of whom have made rapid advancement in the sport.

In the general athletics and gymnasium work the club members have improved greatly in the last few years. The club has sent out many clever performers, who have chosen athletic work as a profession, and they have met with much success. Pascatel, or Del Le Noir, the world-renowned contortionist, learned the most of his art in the club. Kleinsorge, Flanders, and Thompson, the clever trio of club swingers, made a great hit during their recent trip through the State. Newbert and Schenk have made great success in their tumbling and pyramid work. The latter, Ernest Schenk, will leave shortly to join Denozo, the wonderful barrel jumper, and they will make an extended tour of Europe. Among the amateurs there are many promising performers. Frawley is a very good tumbler and contortionist. Bert Tivodo is an expert on the rings. Storz, the bag puncher, is the best at this work that the club has ever had and he will soon make his debut into professional company.

One of the best features of the club is the women's and youths' classes. The women's class is a late addition to the club and it has grown very rapidly. The members are all hard workers and they have added much credit to the club. In the last entertainment given by them, the women went through their regular exercises and they showed much ability at their work.

The youths' class has always been a special feature of the club, but in the last few years it has become very popular and the classes have grown very large. It is a pleasant sight to see the youngsters go through their gymnasium work and they do it [illegible] have neglected their business interests in order to get a place that would accommodate the members better. The business men have taken little or no interest in the welfare of the club and this is the main reason why it has fared so badly the last few years.

The club is not a private organization and every member has the same privilege as any other.

In many other cities, not half as large as Sacramento, the athletic clubs are large, prosperous and well furnished and the citizens take pride in the results of their efforts. Half the people of this city scarcely know that the Sacramento Athletic Club is in existence and the present quarters, with its barn-like appearance, is a disgrace to the city. The club should have a structure of modern style, not necessarily elaborate, and it should be situated on one of our business streets so that our visitors would see that that is a modern city. The club has always volunteered its services on all occasions when it was asked and the public is expected to give help in this trying time. It may be hoped that a new building will be started in the near future, and let it be one that will be a credit to the city.

ANOTHER RELAY RACE IS PLANNED

Success of First Event Argues for Another Before Meet of Sacramento Day.

A plan is afoot to hold another relay race similar to that around Capitol park on Washington's birthday some time previous to the big track and field meet to be held on "Sacramento day." Again the Capital City Wheelmen, who successfully promoted the first relay, are behind the movement, and it looks as if they will make a go of it.

Other clubs, with the exception of the Y. M. C. A., have not been acquainted with the plans, but judging from the spirit that was shown at the previous race it is probable that no difficulty will be had in securing ample entries. The fact that the people of Sacramento want and will support the type of clean sport to which the relay belongs is an argument in favor of its continuation, and the boys who intend to run recognize it.

Frasier of the Wheelmen thinks the race will be held in about two or three weeks, if the other clubs concerned will agree on such a date. The Y. M. C. A. boys are out two nights a week, keeping in condition for Sacramento day, and the high school track men are out every afternoon. In addition to these, the C. C. W. boys are training individually, and it is understood the Turners trot around the park several times a week just before nightfall. The only clubs who entered the other meet who have not been heard from are the Sacramento Athletic club and Company E teams. Company E is known to be preparing for Sacramento day, and it is probable will have a team ready to enter the newly suggested relay.

Since the Y. M. C. A. was successful in carrying off first place in the initial relay the squad of those who practice has increased. It now includes De Witt Chase, J. S. Larson, Louis Tester, Henry Jensen, D. W. Cowie, Clyde Donald, Phil Knight, W. C. Hammick, E. Renter, D. A. Elliott, C. Brandon, Chris R. Jones, C. J. Essell, Clarence Coombs, M. Ireland, Clarence Shaw, Earl Donald. These boys are out every Tuesday and Friday nights.

Is Fast Member of Relay Team

Frank Bowden will probably head the Sacramento Athletic club relay team, which will perform against several other city organizations when the big athletic meet is held at Agricultural park on "Sacramento Day."

Bowden was one of the fastest men in his team when the relay was held around Capitol park on Washington's birthday. He ran the first lap and finished a close second to the Y. M. C. A. man, Donald, who led. He is a soccer football player and also a baseball man. Bowden is known in Sacramento as an all-round athlete.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO FIT COMPLETE GYMNASIUM

The Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club made preparations last evening for the new club-rooms in the Meister Building on Ninth Street, between I and J Streets, over the Wonderland Theater. A Committee was appointed to select apparatus for the gymnasium handball courts and billiard rooms.

The apartments will be ready for occupancy about the middle of next month. When a date can be decided upon an opening night will be announced and friends of the members will have an opportunity to see what the athletes have accomplished in the line of organizing a club for clean sports.

Two handball courts will be built with galleries for about 100 persons. A string of six shower baths will be installed with a large heater to supply hot water at all times of the day or night. Every article known to a gymnasium will be purchased evenually.

The membership is now more than 400 and new members are coming in at the rate of about ten a day. When 500 have signed up the charter will be closed and an initiation fee will be charged new members in addition to the $1.50 a month dues.

The Directors have not engaged solicitors or collectors but have asked the pledged members to pay their dues for the first few months in advance to any member of the Board of Directors consisting of the following:

W. W. Bassett, Capital Bank and Trust Company, Seventh and J Streets; George H. Curtis, Waterman, Davis & Curtis; J. M. Inman, Bryte Building; W. A. Newcum, United States Land Office, in Post Office Building; Ed F. Dalton, 2330 H Street; W. F. Gormley, Coroner's office; J. W. Gray, Robertson & Govan; E. H. Traxler, Ben Leonard Company; J. W. Laughlin, C. P. Nathan.

S.A.C. TO FURNISH CLUB ROOMS SOON

Subscribers Are Now Asked to Pay Advance Dues to Board of Directors.

At a meeting of the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club last night a committee was appointed to arrange for the furnishing of the new apartments of the club, which are to be located over the Wonderland theater in the Meister building. The committee will immediately arrange with some local firm for the furnishing of the rooms, and will purchase apparatus for the gymnasium, handball courts, and billiard rooms. No opening night was decided upon.

As told in the Union yesterday morning, the rooms are nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy by the middle of April. The two handball courts will be most conveniently arranged, and each will be fitted with a gallery having a combined seating capacity of 100 persons. Six fairly sized shower baths will be installed, and a 500-pound improved heater will furnish hot water at all hours of the day. The gymnasium will be the largest and best equipped in the city, and will be fitted with all the latest modern apparatus.

The present membership of the club, counting those who have signed up, is 400. When the membership reaches 500 the charter will be closed, and then a large initiation fee will be charged, besides the regular fee of $1.50 per month, to any person desiring a membership.

It is desired to run the club on strictly first-class lines. No ungentlemanly element will be tolerated. No prize fights will be held by the club, and no gambling or liquor selling will be allowed in the clubrooms. It is a business men's club, and each member will be entitled to full privileges of the club. It affords excellent opportunities to young business men who are confined many hours in offices or stores to build up their bodies as well as their minds.

In order to defray the first expenses of organization, it was necessary to request that members pledge themselves to pay a few months' dues in advance. Those who have signed up may pay their dues to any of the directors, who will gladly give them a receipt for same. It is especially urged that members come forward and pay their subscription, and not wait for a collector to come around. Following is the board of directors and their places of business, where dues will be received: W. W. Bassett, Capital Bank and Trust company, Seventh and J streets; George H. Curtis, Waterman, Davis & Curtis; J. M. Inman, Bryte building; W. A. Newcum, United States land office, in postoffice building; Ed F. Dalton, 2330 H street; W. F. Gormley, coroner's office; J. W. Gray, Robertson & Govan; E. H. Traxler, Ben Leonard Co.; J. W. Laughlin, C. P. Nathan.

S. A. C. WILL OPEN BY FIRST OF APRIL

Work of Remodeling Meister Building Is Progressing Rapidly.

Work of remodeling the two upper floors of the Meister building on Ninth street, between I and J, for the occupancy of the new Sacramento Athletic club has been in progress for almost a week, and Secretary J. M. Inman said last night that it is hoped and probable that the place will be ready for occupancy by April 1st.

When the building is completed and in shape for athletic work classes will begin immediately. William Johnson, the well-known boxing referee, has been secured as boxing instructor, and Edward Cox, also well known in Sacramento athletic circles, will teach the members wrestling stunts. Those who care to go into other games just for exercise will have the handball courts and the gymnasium, where diversified means of hardening the muscles and bettering the lungs will be found.

The board of directors will meet tonight in the office of the Ben Leonard company, on J street, between Sixth and Seventh, and decide on an appropriate celebration for opening night. It is probable that open house will be the order when all is ready, and the ladies as well as the gentlemen of the city will be invited to inspect the new quarters of the revived athletic club.

Secretary Inman last night spoke encouragingly concerning the number of members who have signed up, and predicted that by the first of May the number will reach seven hundred. He said that 375 are already enrolled, and the number is increasing at the rate of between ten and fifteen a day. The undesirable element will be entirely excluded from the new club, which will not be permitted to generate into a prize-fight promotion organization. Secretary Inman declares that the interest shown will warrant the members making an effort to get a new building, to be owned by the club, some time next year. He felt that such an effort would be successful if interest continues at the present height.

It was finally decided by the directors that two handball courts instead of one, as previously planned, should be installed. The demand for handball was so great that this was finally deemed necessary, so the carpenters are now bending their main efforts to the construction of these recreation rooms. Work on the gymnasium, which will extend through three floors, and have a gallery that will accommodate fully two hundred people, also is in progress. The building is being thoroughly wired in accord with the construction work, and the plumbing facilities necessary to accommodate shower baths installed.

The club is fortunate in possessing the paraphernalia necessary to equip a gymnasium, besides a pool and billiard table and other articles. The Meister building contains twenty-one rooms besides those which have to give way to the gymnasium and handball courts. These will not be let out to club members who care to reside in the building, as first stated, but will be fitted up as game, reading, writing, smoking and general recreation rooms, besides the front parlors. It is probable that the members will find their new quarters ready to inspect Sunday after next.

TO FORMALLY OPEN ON THE FIFTEENTH

Visitors to Be Welcomed by S. A. C. in Middle of Month.

At a meeting of the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club Tuesday night it was decided to have a grand opening night on April 15th, when the new club rooms in the Meister building on Ninth, between I and J streets, will be formally opened to the public. On this occasion the wives and sweethearts and friends of the members will be invited to visit and inspect the new rooms.

The matter of making arrangements for the open house was placed in the hands of a committee composed of Financial Secretary J. M. Inman, Recording Secretary W. A. Newcum, and Director J. W. Gray. It is probable that a short program, chiefly of a musical nature, will be rendered on the opening night; refreshments will be provided, and the guests will be shown about the building.

When the directors got through computing expenditures Tuesday night they found that $5000 will have been spent before the building is completely remodeled as planned. But this amount will be a comparatively small matter in face of the fact that $10,000 already has been pledged by prospective members and the collectors are finding no difficulty in getting new members. As has been previously told in the Union, the rooms, handball courts and gymnasium will be thoroughly fitted with the best of apparatus.

At the meeting a furniture committee was appointed to get bids from various storekeepers who wish to contract for the furnishing. The three rooms in front of the club building will be furnished in luxurious style—there will be nothing cheap about the affair. That was one of the instructions given to the committee when it was appointed. The board also appointed the steward who is to have charge of the building and do the collecting.

Although the opening will be on the fifteenth of this month, it is probable that the members will have become acquainted with their new home before that time. When a Union reporter visited the place yesterday, the handball courts were nearly completed and progress in constructing the gymnasium is going on rapidly. The handball courts are regulation size for hard balls, but will also be available for the soft bouncer. One of the good features will be plenty of light.

J. M. Inman, financial secretary of the athletic club, said last night that the membership mark has reached nearly 600. It now stands between 555 and 600, and the number is increasing more rapidly every day. It is probable that at the next meeting of the board the charter will be closed and thereafter those who care to join will be compelled to deposit an initiation fee.

J. W. Laughlin, one of the club directors, has prepared a circular letter which is being mailed to the members of the old club. It tells of the progress already made in reorganization and urges those who were behind the original organization to support the new. A temporary receiving station for dues promised has been established at Brown & Doyle's, at the corner of Eighth and K streets. Brown & Doyle are authorized to collect fees and to issue receipts.

It was E. H. Traxler and George Curtiss who had much to do with reviving the athletic spirit, with the resulting reorganization of the old club. They worked among their friends and got results.

S. A. C. WILL OPEN BUILDING TONIGHT

Club Invites Sacramento People to Inspect New Quarters.

Reconstruction of the Meister building for the accommodation of the Sacramento Athletic club is practically finished, and tonight the people of Sacramento, especially the ladies, are invited to look over the new quarters, listen to the musical selections and speeches to be delivered. The program committee has prepared a short and informal program for the evening's open-house affair.

Yesterday many workmen were busy installing the apparatus and completing the furnishing of the parlors. Several big vans carried the chairs and sofas and pianos and billiard tables to the club-rooms, and it took most of the afternoon to get everything arranged properly.

The handball courts are entirely completed, save for a little staining that was necessary. Each court has a gallery, and will accommodate several dozen people. In the gymnasium most of the apparatus has been set up, and on the second floor a boxing ring has been arranged on one side and a wrestling mat on the other. Most of the shower bath and locker rooms are finished off.

Special attention has been devoted to the parlors. They have been finished in a rich brown, the carpets and unique window hangings being of this shade. The club has resurrected several pictures of old and capable teams which represented the club years ago. One picture is of the famous pyramid builders, and was composed of William Wiseman, Monte Newbert, August Yoerk, James Gray, Walter Billion, Ed Cox, C. Schenk, and George Yoerk.

The program tonight will be an interesting one. An eight-piece orchestra has been engaged. Besides several informal piano and vocal solos have been arranged for the parlors. Light refreshments will be served.

Secretary Inman has arranged to have speeches by Judges Hughes, Shields, Post, and Justice Clarken.

Heads Athletic Club Track Team

A number of athletes, who will probably be seen on the Sacramento Athletic club track and field team, met at the chamber of commerce last night, and were told by Captain Gould to have their entries in as soon as possible—by tonight at the very latest. The entries will close tonight, and those who have not their names in the hands of Chairman Reisner of the arrangement committee will not be allowed to enter the meet.

The Sacramento Athletic club counts on entering a strong team. Most of the athletes who appeared at the call of Captain Gould have been in the game before and will go to make up a strong aggregation.

The New Sacramento Athletic Club will to-night throw its doors open to the general public in a big reception to be tendered at the club-rooms in the Meister Building on Ninth, between I and J Streets. The Reception Committee has arranged a program which will include orchestra music, and addresses by members of the Sacramento County bar and the Club officials.

The Club launches upon its journey with a charter roll numbering about 725 members. Applications for membership into the Club are still being received. The closing time is to-night.

The new Club is probably better fitted than any in this section of the State. Two floors are taken by the Club. The first includes spacious reading, card, billiard and pool rooms, elaborately furnished, and facing on Ninth Street; shower and stationary baths; and general gymnast room. In the rear are two regulation handball courts. The second floor contains the rowing, bicycle, machines and also space for boxing and wrestling.

The launching of the Club is really the rejuvenation of a similar organization which made an enviable record in the athletic world years ago. The following interesting history of the Club is penned by one of its organizers:

"Twenty years ago this August, Al Kleinsorge, Henry Rubenstein, Arthur Arnold and George Crum decided to form an athletic club in this city for the benefit of those interested in sports. They called upon a social club existing in the city called the Stag Club and consisting of the following men: Charles Bauer, E. M. Bauer, George Chatterton, Morrow Hamilton, Howard Martin, Herbert Ripley and Frank Whittmore, and finding all concerned interested in the project, started the campaign among the business men which brought a good attendance at their next meeting held at the Masonic Temple. T. Charles Jones was elected Temporary President, and then a constitution and by-laws were drawn up.

The Club Is Organized.

"The organization was named the Sacramento Athletic Club. A Committee consisting of George Lavenson, Al Kleinsorge and A. Arnold was appointed to solicit members and within a few days over 100 members were added to the list. Quarters were found in the Old Pavilion, after spending considerable work cleaning and remodeling the warehouse—as it was used for at that time. They soon secured apparatus and had their club ready for occupancy. They had no regular instructor at that time, but Messrs. Kleinsorge, Arnold, Hildebrand and Mansfield volunteered their services in different branches of athletics. The club grew to be a prosperous organization, and desiring a regular instructor they secured the services of Cal Godfrey, who was the first instructor, and he introduced many new sports, among them being handball, which is known to those interested to be one of the greatest sports.

"The club put on some very successful entertainments, among them a Circus Maximus held at the State Fair in September of 1893, representing a Grand Roman Athletic Game as enacted during the reign of Caesar in the year B. C. 20. The performance was the first of its kind ever held in the State and was a wonderful exhibition of athletic feats and many of the papers throughout the State commented on the affair.

Athletes Among First.

"In athletics the members held their own and were among the best in the State. Among them was a team of pyramid men which in 1899 received much comment for its wonderful skill. The team consisted of William Wiseman, Monte Newbert, August Yoerk, James Gray, Walter Billou, Ed. Cox, E. C. Schenk and George Yoerk.

"Handball was one of the favorite sports of the club and among the elder members will be found several that have received prizes for their cleverness. Boxing was also one of the club's strong points. Billy Johnson was instructor of this sport and some very skillful amateurs were produced. Wrestling was also a favorite of many and will be continued in the future, as the club has had the good fortune of securing the services of Ed. Cox as the instructor in that branch.

"In tumbling, trapeze and bar work, wire performers and many other gymnastics the club has the credit of turning out some of the cleverest in the country. Al Kleinsorge and Rex Flanders were artists in club-swinging.

"For several years the club has been without quarters, due to the fact that the Pavilion was leased to the Militia and the club was left without a home. Since that time several attempts were made to locate new quarters or build a place, but the effort was in vain and the members were tbout to think the club would be a thing of the past. But with the removal of the Meister carriage factory from the building on Ninth Street and the remodeling of the main floor for a theater, an opportunity was presented. The attention of George Curtiss, one of the club's old members, was called to it as being one of the finest places for a club that could be had. He at once took up the question with Messrs E. H. Traxler and Otto Heilbron, and after soliciting the signatures of about 200 members, this Committee called a meeting and elected officers. A five-year lease was secured on the building, the contract let and the work followed up to the present stage.

THLETIC CLUB FORMALLY OPENED

Organization Is on Sound Basis and Charter Is Closed.

Hundreds crowded the beautiful new clubrooms of the newly reorganized Sacramento Athletic club in the Meister building on Ninth street, between I and J, last night, when the club was formally opened by a reception to the general public. Commencing early in the evening and continuing until the midnight hour had been reached, many persons found their way to the clubrooms and were made welcome by the directors and officers, who met the visitors and escorted them through the rooms.

Although a number of speeches by the local judges of the superior court were to have been made, they were canceled because of the immense crowd and never-ceasing noise made by visitors as they wandered from room to room. Adlers orchestra rendered classical selections throughout the reception.

LARGE GYMNASIUM.

The gymnasium, which is the largest and best equipped in the city, was the main center of the affair, while the lounging-rooms facing the plaza were filled by women and children. Punch was served the visitors from a buffet in the gymnasium.

New members were received as fast as the secretary could write their names. In a room off the main hall immediately adjoining the entrance the directors were stationed, and there took down names and received dues of all those wishing to join. The charter closed with the reception.

The entire club consists of a gymna- iv n, two large handball courts, a bal- o y and wrestling compartment, pool billiard-rooms, cardroom and gen- al lounging-room in which is a piano, x shower baths and several tub baths; rectors' room and several locker- oms. All this goes to make up the ly athletic club in the city which is xclusively a business men's organiza- on. No gambling, liquor or prize- ghting are allowed, and no boxing uts, other than by members, are aged by the club.

OUNGING ROOMS.

The lounging-rooms or parlors are stefully arranged, fitted with the test furniture and carpets and deco- ted in artistic paper and paintings. he locker-rooms are convenient and sily reached by hallways from the mnasium. Considerable apparatus use in gymnasium work was saved om the old club, which disbanded veral years ago.

The handball courts are perhaps the st in Northern California. They are xceptionally large and have good ght, which is a most important factor. t one end of each court is a balcony ith a seating capacity of one hundred ersons.

ISTORY OF CLUB.

Twenty-two years ago Al Kleinsorge, enry Rubenstein, Arthur Arnold, and eorge Crum decided to form an ath- tic club in this city for the benefit those interested in sports. SACRAMENTO CLUB THROWS OPEN ITS ROOMS

The rooms of the Sacramento Athletic Club in the Meister Building on Ninth Street, between I and J, were thrown open to the public on Saturday night. Several hundred people were present and spent the evening looking through the handsome quarters of the newly reorganized club and listening to music which was furnished by an excellent orchestra.

The appearance of the new club rooms made such an impression on the visitors that those who were not alerady members were in a hurry to get their names down on the list before the charter membership should close. The Secretary and several assistants were kept busy making out applications and receipts.

Three speeches, one by each of the Superior Judges, were down on the program, but the multitude was so great and was in such constant motion that all thought of the set literary part of the entertainment had to be given up.

The gymnasium is large enough for the great membership of the club and is fitted up with the best apparatus to be obtained. There are two handball courts, besides pool and billiard rooms, wrestling rooms, shower and tub baths, besides rooms for lockers, etc.

No gambling or liquor is permitted. The only boxing will be friendly bouts between members of the club.

All the room occupied by the club had been newly papered and furnished and the fine appearance of the place was a surprise to everybody.

S. A. C. INVITES VISITING ATHLETES

Club to Be Thrown Open to Athletes Who Contest in Sacramento Day Meet.

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Sacramento Athletic club last night in the club rooms on Ninth street, it was decided to extend a formal invitation to all the athletic associaions sending athletes to this city to participate in the anniversary celebration Sacramento Day, April 24th, inviting the representatives of the various associations to use the club rooms while in this city. The secretary was instructed to mail the invitations immediately. Out of town athletes not being members of any club are also invited to use the Sacramento Athletic clubrooms while here next Saturday.

Various matters of importance to the club were taken up and discussed last night. Arrangements were made with Billy Johnston, who will take up his duties as boxing instructor after the first of the month. Several physical instructors were considered, but none chosen, as the directors wish to get the best possible, and are not willing to decide upon anyone until they have had time to go thoroughly into their respective records. Edward Cox, proposed wrestling instructor, did not appear at the meeting, owing to an injury to his foot. Frank Bacon will undoubtedly act as wrestling instructor until Cox's foot gets well.

If possible the directors wish to organize a class this week and enter into the work Friday night. Monte Newbert has volunteered to take charge of the classes until a physical instructor is secured.

The directors decided that a membership card similar to that of the Elks should be designed, and one given to each member, the receipt for each month's dues to be put in the book.

The club steward Galleher was authorized to receive dues and issue receipts for same. It was announced that the club emblems would be ready for sale in a few days.

Un. 4-26-'09

It was 4:55 o'clock in the afternoon when the twelve men who felt confident that they could last the ten miles and come out on top lined up for the start. There was nothing spectacular in that start. It was a rather poky affair. It looked like a slow race, though it was seen that some of the men were putting on the brake and forcing themselves to forego a sprint for the love of the thing. Some of the starters were old hands at the business and took it easy; some were new to the game and were nervous. It was his hope to land the race for the glory of the Greece which had seen the birth and death of many of his ancestors. Frank Arduin of this city had long practiced for the work cut out for him to do, but he had been ill-advised. In the morning, it was asserted, he ran the ten miles over the course, and when he started out, while he appeared fresh, the strain of the morning counted, and before the course was half over his place in front had been usurped and he never again saw a chance for the victory. Had the representative of Greece not tackled the course in the morning, when he should have been resting, there might have been a different story to tell.

The twelve men who started were Ronald Frazer (C. C. W.), Frank Arduin (unattached), George H. Thacher (Monarch of San Jose), Edward McMullin (California Athletic association), Robert L. Schmidt Stockton Athletic asociation), Robert Howden (St. Mary's), William Howden (St. Mary's), Charles Stewart (St. Mary's), Jeff Hazlett (St. Mary's), Charles A. Ruiz (California Amateur Athletic association), George Rimington (Stockton Athletic asociation).

Young Arduin stepped away from his field at the start and moved so easily, so springily, and showed such form that his friends did not think he was overdoing it. He left the track for the run through the city a good 200 yards ahead of the field, which was bunched.

Just outside the track and in line were five autos—the first to act as pilot, the other four to follow the runners and render assistance and succor to those who were in distress.

Arduin easily led the pack and kept his distance till the county hospital, something over a half mile from the track, was reached. The next mile carried him past Homestead and to the Southern Pacific crossing at the old winery, but when he passed the tracks he was only 100 yards in the lead. In the meantime the bunch in the rear had split up. There were three bunches, each about thirty yards from its neighbor. A short run and the leader reached the city limits, sixteen minutes having been consumed in the race to that point. At Twenty-eighth and P streets Arduin was seventy-five yards in the lead, with the bunches of runners trailing. One man of the twelve had given up and dropped out of the game.

Down Twenty-eighth street to K came the strong men, the local boy holding his lead and apparently being in no distress, but the bunch behind at this point slowly but surely began to overhaul him. They were George Rimington of the Stockton Athletic association, Henry Damon of the Golden City Wheelmen, and Robert L. Schmidt of the Stockton Athletic association, and at Twenty-second and K Rimington caught Arduin and ran with him for a block, Damon and Schmidt close up. Rimington passed the local boy at Seventeenth street, and Schmidt ran with him, Hazlett of St. Mary's closing up.

At Eleventh and K streets, where the jog was made over to J, twenty-eight minutes had passed since the start, and the bunches of runners were widely separated. Rimington led a block, and at Fifth and J streets there was no change in positions, except that some of those who had started slowly were creeping up and becoming factors in the game. Half of the course was run, and the time was 32 minutes flat—just a few seconds over 6 minutes to the mile. Not bad going, that.

Damon had been creeping up and up, and at Tenth and K streets, going out, tackled the leaders and passed them. Damon maintained his lead, but Hazlett and Schmidt were on his trail, and Remington was still in the going, though his spurt had tired him. Indeed, further on in the game the boy took an auto, and while he finished the last mile and came within the winning half dozen, he did not for an instant claim that he had not been disqualified. On the other hand he was the first man to tell the officials of the course all about it.

And at 28th and K streets Hazlett tackled Damon and they had their little tussle. Schmidt was close up, and Arduin, who was still coming, was a hundred yards to the rear, and he had company and lots of it. It was at this time that Robt. Howden of St. Mary's became a factor in the race. He had been content to plod along behind and let the youngsters fight out their little battles, but when Twenty-eighth and P streets was reached and the turn was made east for the long homeward peg, he was only ten yards behind Hazlett and Schmidt. At the city limits, Thirty-first and P streets, 48 minutes out, Howden caught up with Schmidt and Hazlett, and Damon was content to fall back a peg. Howden was running in good form and had a bellows power

Broke Two League Records and Equaled World's Time

Un. 4-25-'09 (over)

Sacramento saw the most successful and extensive athletic meet in the history of the city or the valley yesterday, when many over two hundred athletes competed in 40 events. Records were broken and many were established to be equaled or exceeded in the future, when the Capital City has a second and a third annual meet. Out of a hopeless tangle when the first events were being run off, sprang order, and before the meet was well in progress it was running a little ahead of schedule. The many who crowded the track and retarded progress furnished the only disagreeable feature of the day. They prevented many of the seven thousand people who attended the meet from watching the events.

Of course the Olympic boys from San Francisco carried off most of the events in the open meet. It was expected that they would and when local boys saw the winged "O" leading in many events, they were not disappointed. Others were in the meet, however, for the points show that everything did not go to the red and white. Unattached athletes, in the meet for the points they could make and the medals, took 24 against the Olympic club's 50. Of the Sacramento teams the Capital City Wheelmen made the best showing, carrying away 18 points, which show in addition to their work in the bicycle events. St. Mary's college of Oakland got away with 10 points, made mostly by Spencer Dickson. The local Y. M. C. A. of Sacramento scored 4, Brothers' college 3, Boys' Brotherhood 1. Most of the youths in the last named teams were in competition out of their class.

RODDA A WONDER.

Sacramento did not win the S. V. I. A. L. meet, for both Chico high school and Chico normal had more points than the local boys could muster, but Vernal Rodda gathered in most of the honors of the day for his school and himself. Rodda was heralded the wonder of the day and probably the fastest sprinter in the state. It was announced in the Union a few days ago that Rodda would be unable to run because of a threatened rupture. In face of the injury, however, the fleet youth went into the meet and took three first places, helped much in winning second place in the half mile relay, broke two S. V. I. A. L. records, equaled a third, clipped 1-5 second off the state 220-yard dash, and equaled the world's record in the 50-yard dash.

Spectators, officials and veteran athletes gasped when they saw the local boy coming down the track, running easy, and simply lengthening the distance by yards between himself and his competitors. If pressed he probably could have made much faster time in the 100-yard dash, but he had the race all to himself. He was at least ten feet in advance of Stephens when he finished the 100-yard dash, and running like the wind. The gap of light between the men widened as they ran.

Rodda's showing in the other two races and the relay were similar. His entrance into the 50-yard, which was the initial race, furnished a period of anxiety for his team mates, as they were uncertain as to the condition in which the strained muscle had left him. But when Rodda quickly sprang into the lead, all fears fled and were supplanted by cheers. The time was announced as 5:1 and the youth who had equaled a world's record became the talk of the grandstand until the balloon went up and wrecked several trains of thought. In the 220-yard dash, Rodda was a little uncertain as to his capacity, but the finish was the same story, except that feet became yards, and he reached the tape about four in advance of Kinchelve. In the half-mile relay race, Rodda was given a bad start by his teammates, who had been unable to keep the pace set by faster men. However, he picked up the distance and finished a close second, at no time being threatened by the Woodland man. He left the field with fifteen points to his credit.

OTHERS HELPED.

But Rodda was not the only Sacramento high school boy to make a showing. Although the boys entered but few of the track and none of the field events, they made an excellent showing and were secure in the third place. Rodda took the fifteen points and the relay race counted for six, which makes twenty-one. Melvin in the mile run surprised his schoolmates by finishing an easy second. His capacity for the distance was not known. Sacramento took all but the second place in the fifty-yard dash, Yee, who is a son of the Orient, finishing third. Yee had been practicing hard for the meet and his teammates were glad to see him placed.

Case of the Chico normal school won fifteen points for his school and broke his own record in the high jump for the S. V. I. A. L., which he established a year ago. His height was 5 feet, 9¼ inches. Case also won the 120-yard hurdles and the 220-yard hurdles. It was not his fault that the normal school failed to win the meet. Case also clipped 3-5 of a second off the 220-yard hurdle record held by Hyde of Dixon. His work in the meet was second only to that of Rodda's.

Five S. V. I. A. L. records were shattered, four by two men. Those already mentioned have been the 50-yard dash and the 220-yard dash, by Rodda; the high jump and the 220-yard hurdles by Case; and the mile run by Jamison of Chico high school, who made the distance in 5:01½, a second and a half better than the time made by Stewart of the Chico high at the Woodland meet of 1907.

The grammar school boys, though entered in but six events, made a good showing, sufficient to warrant a continuance of the league in Sacramento. Good time was made in all the track events, and the records in others were well up with the average. Anderson of Sutter made the 50-yard dash in 6 seconds, which is good time for a youth so small. But the youth who attracted most of the attention was Littlefield, who isn't much larger than a minute, but trotted along in front of Eames with his choppy little steps making good and putting him in the right place at the finish. Littlefield also took third place in the high jump.

LOCTL MEN FIGURED.

Although most of the events in the open meet are attributed in the first places to the Olympic club, Sacramento men were there several times. Unattached athletes, Sacramento teams, and other teams made over half of the points. The Capital City Wheelmen were third in the list, or second in the team list, making 18 points. Kidder, a member of the team, took first place in the high jump, winning the event with a jump of 5 feet 2¼ inches. Gates of the Wheelman landed two second places, netting him and the team 6 points. He was second in the quarter and the half mile. In the pole vault, Clegg of the Wheelmen was second, and in the two relays Wheelmen teams figured. Although not having a chance to win, the bikers took second place in the five-mile event and third place in the half mile one. Besides taking part in the track events, they furnished all the entries in the bicycle races, which attracted much interest.

The Y. M. C. A. boys came away with 5 points, equal to a first place. These points, however, were scattered among three men. McNeely took second in them all, and showed that he is a comer by keeping close to the winner. Bening was third in the quarter, and Blake placed third in the 220-yard dash.

The Brothers' college won second in the half-mile relay, which was practically the only event they entered. The Boys' Brotherhood's lone point was made by Ireland, who finished third in the mile.

The meet attracted much attention, and created a spirit that will demand an annual event of the kind in Sacramento.

Last night the tehletes were presented with their trophies. High school boys from Northern California went to the local high school auditorium, where Secretary of the League Charles Irwin supervised the presentation of medals. The others received their trophies at the Y. M. C. A. Grammar school boys will not hold their exercises until later in the week.

And thus was the magnificent collection of trophies collected by the Sacramento Day committee disposed of.

that promised to stand him well when the pinch came. Schmidt, taller, trimmer, apparently built for a sprint and not for a contest of endurance, stuck to Howden like a Dutch uncle, and they ran shoulder to shoulder. Friends in autos, on bikes, and in buggies supplied them with water, ran by their sides, and sponged them down—did all that they could for them. Indeed, this was true of all of the runners. None so poor that assistance was not at hand, and if it appeared that some lad was not getting all that was due him, the auto drivers saw to it that he had some of the coolness that was being showered upon other runners.

And in the meantime some of the men had learned that they were not conditioned to meet the strain. Ruiz and Frazer had dropped out, and later in the race Thacher and McCullin followed suit, but the others kept going.

At the county hospital the contest was between Schmidt and Robert Howden, and both were fresh, though Howden showed superior form and looked willing to answer for a burst of speed when it should be needed. Fifty-four minutes had been consumed when the county hospital gate was reached, and a long mile and a half remained, the first third of which was over the roughest road on the course. The Rookery was passed 56 minutes out, with Hazlett making a bid for place with Schmidt and Howden. Behind Hazlett came Damon, who was still in the running, and whose friends believed he had it in him to show some of the form displayed earlier in the race and win out. Still further to the rear Arduin plugged along, and behind him was William Howden, and Stewart was coming on in the rear, game if not confident.

So the runners re-entered the Agricultural park track, and so they raced the last mile. Robert Howden and Schmidt raced shoulder to shoulder. On and around the turn into the stretch they came, and now the big crowd on the fences and stand was upon its toes. Up the stretch both boys ran easily, but when the furlong post was reached Howden stepped out. His great lung power was his friend. Strain as Smith would he could not reach the stock fellow who was running before him like a machine, shoulders back, head slightly down, and Howden crossed the tape ten yards ahead of the plucky Stockton boy, who had fought him inch by inch for three miles of the course, and the race was over. Howden's time for the ten miles was 1 hour, 5 minutes 12 seconds, or an average of a mile 6 minutes 6 1-5 seconds.

ATHLETES DISCUSS NEED OF STADIUM

Official Meeting Is Postponed, But Will Take Place This Week.

Owing to the inability of several of the athletic associations of this city to send committees on such short notice to the meeting called by the Capital City Wheelmen last night for the purpose of discussing the proposition of providing ways and means for the securing of an athletic field or stadium for the use of the athletes of this city, the meeting was postponed until later in the week. The representatives that did show up, however, discussed at random the wheelmen's plan for a stadium at South Side park.

While no official significance can be attributed to last night's meeting or conference, at the same time the enthusiasm evidenced clearly shows what interest is being taken in the proposition by local athletes. The wheelmen's plan for a stadium at South Side park was regarded as just about what the local athletes want. The plan is to erect a place on the southwest corner of the park with a four-lap track, a baseball diamond in the center and various other conveniences necessary to a stadium.

The official meeting will be held in the wheelmen's quarters at Fifth and J streets some time this week. At that meeting a definite plan of action will be formulated and the matter carried to an issue.

TO BUILD COURSE AT M'KINLEY PARK

Wheelmen to Convert Old Track Into Cycle Course and Hold Races There.

In line with the revival of bicycle riding by the Capital City Wheelmen and their efforts to foster outdoor sports in Sacramento, comes the news that the old cinder track at McKinley park, which has been used by the local high school track team, is to be converted into a bicycle course and used by the wheelmen for their races, which they intend starting as soon as possible.

The track in McKinley park is especially adapted to the use of outdoor sports, and will make an excellent track for bicycle riding after it has been put in shape. The curves of the track will be raised and the entire course smoothed off and a new covering of crushed rock put on it. The dressing-room will be repaired and modern appliances installed for the use of the riders.

Every Sunday morning and afternoon during the coming summer months the wheelmen will hold races on the track and prizes will be offered. These races will be open to all, but will be held under the auspices of the wheelmen, who have been given exclusive rights to the grounds. The local high school track team abandoned the cinder track recently, having arranged training quarters back of the new high school building, at Eighteenth and K streets. The grounds at McKinley park are being rearranged, and undoubtedly the place will become a popular rendezvous for Sacramentans during the summer.

ATHLETES TO MAKE FIGHT FOR FIELD

Capital City Wheelmen Start Movement for Grounds at McKinley Park.

At a meeting of the Capital City Wheelmen last night in their clubrooms, at Fifth and J streets, it was decided to again take up the matter with the city of building a general athletic field at McKinley park. A committee consisting of Frank Moeller, Clarence Herondon, and Frank Bentley was appointed to take up the matter with the Turners, Sacramento Athletic club, and the local Y. M. C. A. and try and interest them in the movement.

The local athletes contend that they should have a track and baseball field at McKinley park, where they could play ball and hold their race meets. There is no other place in the city which is devoted to amateur sports, and practically every athletic club in the city feels the need of some athletic field keenly. An effort was made some time ago with the board of trustees to have a place in the park set aside and put in shape for an athletic field, but nothing came of the affair other than a promise from the board that they would look into the matter.

Now the Capital City Wheelmen are taking the lead in the matter and declare that they will make every effort to force the matter to an issue. The aid of every athletic club in the city is desired in the matter. As soon as the above named committee gets in touch with the other athletic clubs, it is probable that a joint meeting will be held and plans for the campaign adopted.

ANOTHER TRACK MEET IS PLANNED

Wheelmen Propose Local Athletic Event for Decoration Day.

It is probable that another field and track meet, the result of the athletic epidemic which has taken hold of Sacramento, will be held before the spring closes. The Capital City Wheelmen last night took the initiative, as has been the case in most of the meets planned, and appointed a committee of one, Percy Kidder, to confer with the Y. M. C. A., High School Athletic association, Turn-Verein, Sacramento Athletic club, and Company E, with the view of arranging a meet for Decoration Day, Monday, May 31st.

It seems likely that a suggestion of the kind will be received favorably by the various clubs mentioned. Captain Rodda of the high school team said last night that he could not say what position the A. A. A. of the high school will take upon the matter. However, a meeting will be held in a few days, and he will mention the proposition, when officially informed, to his schoolmates. The only obstacle that might prevent the high school boys from competing is the fact that they are now in the busiest part of the high school year—re-examination time. Many members of the track team are preparing for graduation, so much of their time is occupied. It is understood the matter of the high school entering the meet will lay very much in the hands of Principal Tade.

President Pearl of the Wheelmen said last night that the five-mile relay will be made a feature of the meet, and thus an opportunity for the settlement of the championship in this event will be given. Captain Rodda of the high school said his long-distance men are very anxious to meet the C. C. W. team in the five-mile relay event, and the relay team is almost certain to enter whether or not the remainder of the field and trackmen do or not.

It is understood the Y. M. C. A., the Sacramento Athletic club, the Turn-Verein, and Company E will be glad to enter the meet. It will be strictly and only a Sacramento affair, thus giving the local men a chance to compare with each other. It will be a chance not afforded by the big meet of Sacramento Day, when outsiders carried off many of the events. The Y. M. C. A. team will be soon practicing for the conference meet, which Sacramento will probably see some time in October, so the proposed Decoration Day event will come just at the right moment.

S. A. C. DROPS FIRST GAME TEAM PLAYS

In a hotly contested game (all amateur baseball games are hotly contested) last Sunday morning at Oak Park between the Sacramento Athletic club's team and the Sacramento Electric, Gas and Railway team, the S. E. G. R.s carried off honors by a score of 13 to 4. The game was the first of the season for both clubs, and while there were plenty of rooters for the defeated side on hand, the tallies would pile upon the wrong side of the board.

The batteries were: S. E. C. R., Harlow and Smith; Athletic club, Tregallis and Brady. J. Stewart was umpire, and he escaped from the grounds with his life and no scratches.

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR FOR S. A. C. ARRIVES

Joseph H. Hjll, the new physical director of the Sacramento Athletic club, arrived in this city yesterday, and last night took actual charge of the physical culture classes of the athletic club. Mr. Nill comes from Oakland, where he was physical instructor at St. Mary's college. He has had considerable experience in gymnasium work and has been associated with athletic clubs about San Francisco bay for several years.

Mr. Nill says that he will immediately commence the organization of physical culture classes and will introduce new features into the work. He intends to take an active part in all branches of the club's activities and will assist the different managers and captains with their work. As Mr. Nill is a competent instructor and has had considerable experience in athletic matters, undoubtedly the Sacramento Athletic club will forge to the front in athletic circles on the coast.

SACRAMENTO MAY HAVE RUGBY TEAM

S. A. C. Planning to Break Into English Game and Others May Follow.

It seems likely that Sacramento will be represented by one or more Rugby football teams next year. Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club intends organizing a Rugby team when the fall comes, and it is probable that Sacramento people will see the university teams in practice games here.

Rugby has been looking for some organization to take the initiative in the Sacramento valley. Several high schools would like to play the game and last year Chico normal showed a decided inclination to get into the English way of handling a football. In the Sacramento high school, also, a sentiment in favor of the faster and less dangerous game has arisen. It is possible that the high school boys may adopt the game next year if the rest of the schools in the S. V. I. A. L. are willing.

At any rate, the Athletic club is to have a team and it is probable that other local athletic organizations may get interested. The Y. M. C. A. has had football teams and then there are several unattached Sacramento enthusiasts who would likely organize an All-Sacramento team should they be given the proper encouragement.

Since the universities adopted the Rugby game it has been slowly but gradually spreading over the state. The University of Nevada followed California and Stanford in adopting the game. At the present time the following schools and clubs have teams playing the game: University of California, Stanford university, University of Nevada, Olympic club, Barbarians' Athletic club, Santa Clara college, St. Mary's college, University of the Pacific, Palo Alto high school, Santa Clara high school, San Jose high school Lowell high school, Mission high school, Lick high school, Cogswell Polytechnic college, Berkeley high school and the Referees' union.

Physical Instructor Nill of the S. A. C. has arranged the following gymnasium schedule: Monday evening, basketball; afternoon, gymnasium and games; Tuesday evening, gymnasium class and wrestling; Wednesday, boxing; Thursday evening, track; afternoon, gymnasium and gamse; Friday evening, gymnasium class, boxing and wrestling; Saturday, open.

Members are showing considerable interest in basketball. Between ten and fifteen candidates for the club team appeared in one of the handball courts the other day for practice. Plenty of promising material for the team is available.

Thursday night candidates for the track team will go on a jog through the city. They will be out for practice Sunday morning.

ATHLETIC CLUB DEFEATS C. C. C. C. TEAM

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball team defeated the Camillia City Camera club aggregation at Oak Park yesterday by a score of 8 to 0. A great improvement was shown in the playing of the Athletic club team over last Sunday, when it made its first appearance. A feature of the game was the pitching of Charles Lauser for the club team. He struck out eleven men. Score:

Has Charge of S. A. C. Athletics

Physical Director J. H. Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club has taken charge of the classes and athletics with a vim since arriving in Sacramento. He has indicated to the directors that he wishes to have a S. A. C. team entered in every line of athletics. To this end he is planning a field and track meet to be held the last of July. Also the club is to secure a piece of land out of doors for a basketball court. The baseball team already has been organized, and swimming sports will follow as soon as the baths are completed. In the meantime a large attendance is noted at the classes in the gym each night.

S. A. C. NOTES.

The track squad of the Sacramento Athletic club is practicing daily in the evenings and Sunday mornings. Track Lieutenant Gannon has been in charge of the squad, but it will now be turned over to Physical Director Nill, who will whip the men into shape. It is planned to hold an inter-club meet some time in August. For competitors in this meet, Captain Curtiss will offer medals to be given to those who take places.

Captain Curtiss, who has charge of all athletics, has been instructed by the club board of directors to secure a lot somewhere near the club so that a tennis court and an outdoor basketball court may be installed. Physical Director Nill will commence immediately to organize a basketball team, and many members have expressed a desire to play tennis.

Baseball suits for the newly organized team will arrive some time the last of this week. Members of the team are practicing diligently.

Physical Director Nill expects to interest the members of S. A. C. in swimming sports. When the baths down the river are completed he will make arrangements to have a special locker-room for club members. Nill may also arrange to have club nights, at which exhibitions of fancy work in the water will be given.

Handball continues the leading sport among club members. The fact that the game will give sufficient exercise in a half hour for the ordinary man, is the argument that makes it popular.

The partition between the billiard and the poolrooms has been cut out and now members may use both tables without bothersome walls interfering with delicate shots.

A dozen model lockers are to be installed in one of the rooms. These lockers will be used by members in which to place their valuables while exercising.

PLANS MADE FOR ATHLETIC FIELD

Demand for Track Great in City—Those Interested to Meet This Week.

W. W. Bassett, president of the Sacramento Athletic club, has held a conference with City Engineer Randle regarding the athletic grounds to be built in South Side park. It is understood that since a strong sentiment has been shown in Sacramento in favor of a well equipped athletic field or stadium, the city officials are considering going more extensively into the matter than heretofore.

It was the Capital City Wheelmen who started the agitation for a stadium. At that time the plans of the city regarding the athletic track to be built at South Side park were not known. It was intended to build a small track in the southeast corner of the park, but further than that extensive plans had not gone. Plans now in the hands of Mr. Bassett, however, are for a quarter-mile track, faced by a grandstand which will extend nearly around two sides of the track. Under the grandstand dressing rooms will be placed, shower baths and other necessities for the athlete. In the lot of ground to be surrounded by the circular track will be sufficient room for a baseball and football field.

That the sentiment in Sacramento is decidedly in favor of a stadium, or at least a well equipped athletic field, which may later be transformed into a full-fledged stadium, was indicated yesterday, when the Union sought the opinion of several interested.

Said Principal Tade of the Sacramento high school, in whose charge are over 250 young men and boys who need an athletic training: "You can quote me in favor of a stadium or an athletic field. Sacramento certainly needs one. I suppose either McKinley or South Side park would furnish a desirable place for the track. High school boys need the athletic field, and so do the grammar school students. Then there are many others, members of athletic organizations, who need a convenient and suitable place to exercise out of doors. If the city is not able to provide the stadium, I think we could get it otherwise."

Captain Curtiss of the Sacramento Athletic club, which has a membership of nearly nine hundred, says: "We certainly need an athletic field on which the boys may practice. I think we will get it at South Side park. Mr. Bassett, president of the club, is working hard to have the city construct a suitable place for training and the holding of meets in South Side park. There is a big demand for an athletic field in Sacramento, and it is needed now."

Physical Director Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday declared himself in favor of the athletic field, and said he would do all in his power to help Sacramento secure one. F. A. Pearl, president of the Capital City Wheelmen, which started the agitation for the track and stadium, is doing all he can to secure the athletic field. The attempted meeting Tuesday night was a failure because representatives of the many organizations interested were unable to attend. However, the meeting will be held later in the week, some idea as to just what is needed placed in concrete form, and the matter taken up with the city officials.

THOSE WHO WANT STADIUM TO MEET

Wheelmen Call Session of Representatives for Saturday Night.

The Capital City Wheelmen have called a meeting of all organizations interested in securing a stadium for Sacramento to be held in the club rooms Saturday night. The meeting was to have been held a week ago, but representatives of clubs appointed were out of town and could not attend.

It is expected that representatives from the Sacramento Athletic club, high school, Y. M. C. A., grammar schools, Turn Verein, National Guard, Brothers' college, Boys' Brotherhood and other organizations will be present.

In the meantime, however, President Bassett of the Sacramento Athletic club is working with City Engineer Randle relative to the track asked for in South Side park. It is practically assured that one will be constructed if it is asked for. A quarter-mile track is desired. Room for a five-lap track is available in the southwest corner of the park. Space for a four-lap track can be had by moving a single path slightly and the track thus widened so it can contain both a baseball diamond and a football field.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO IMPROVE IN MANY WAYS

Joseph H. Nill, the new physical director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, arrived in this city yesterday and entered at once upon his duties. With his coming the club will branch out into several new lines of activity. It is the intention of the Directors to purchase a lot soon for tennis courts, and to make arrangements for entertainments and athletic exhibitions every couple of months or so.

Professor Nill comes from Oakland, where he has been the Physical Director at St. Mary's College up to the time that he was engaged by the local club. He is an all-round athlete, and an expert in bringing men into tip-top physical condition. He will start in at once with classes at regular hours of the day and evening. The gymnasium and handball courts of the club have been in constant use since the opening day, but no regular classes or courses of exercise have been organized hitherto.

NEW CINDER TRACK FOR ATHLETES

S. A. C. to Convert Track at McKinley Park Into Model Path.

Great incentive has been given to the track men of the S. A. C. by the news that the running track at McKinley park is to be put into condition again. Work on the oval will be started next Tuesday, under the direction of J. H. Nill, the new coach of the club, who has had considerable experience in this line of work. Tennis courts and a locker room, equipped with shower baths, will also be erected and placed at the disposal of the athletes of the city.

The members of the S. A. C. track team held an enthusiastic meeting on Thursday last, and set the date of their first meet for club members for August 1st. Handsome medals will be given to the first and second men in each event, and a trophy to the winner of the greatest number of individual points. This also has created new interest among the athletes of the club, and the squad is daily augmented by new members. It was decided to hold practice runs from the clubhouse twice a week, on Tuesday and Friday evenings, in addition to the weekly practice at the racetrack. Among the hard workers on the squad at the present time are Captain C. F. Gannon, N. Lucey, Muller, Schumaker, Chiles, Sparks, Cowie, Dalton, Tharp, McGrath, McCulloch, Michaels, Paine, Sprague, Beede and Garrison.

CITY GIVES MONEY FOR CINDER PATH

The Sacramento Athletic Club last night received an appropriation of $80 from the City Trustees to haul cinders for a cinder path to be constructed at McKinley Park. W. W. The track when built will be one of the best in the State, asserted Bassett.

MANY TO TRY FOR CLUB TRACK TEAM

Fifteen Athletes Out—Baseball Lieutenant to Organize Players.

About fifteen athletes responded to the call of Track Lieutenant Chester Gannon Sunday and were at Agricultural park to practice and try to make the Sacramento Athletic club team to be entered in the proposed meet of Decoration day. Some good material was presented, and it is hoped that the club may develop a capable aggregation.

Several of the boys ran the mile without having any practice, and L. Staher covered the distance in 5:30 apparently with ease. He could have done it much faster if pressed, assert his teammates. Earl Morgan crossed the bar in the high jump at 5 feet 3 inches without practice, which makes him very promising in the event.

Captain Curtiss is to get other branches of athletics into operation as soon as possible. Vernon Marston has been appointed baseball lieutenant, and will immediately proceed to organize a team which will play strictly amateur baseball. Marston has been in the game for some time, and is said to know the fine points.

It is possible that the club may arrange to get some tennis courts for the members and start a tennis club in connection. At the present time handball reigns the favorite sport among the club members. The courts are crowded from early in the afternoon until late at night. The classes are well attended and many are taking boxing lessons.

ALL MAY SWIM ON AUGUST FIRST

Baths to Be Completed Inside of Month—Clubrooms Reserved.

It is intended to have the Sacramento Swimming Baths ready for opening on August 1. The tank is completed and work is being rushed on the building proper. Bathing suits for men and women, the best in the land, have been ordered, and will be here in time for the opening night.

Besides the ordinary dressing-rooms the swimming baths have been fitted with four club-rooms, which will contain lockers for members of clubs which desire to be together. The Sacramento Athletic club has reserved one of these, and the Capital City Wheelmen have reserved another.

It is probable that as soon as the baths are completed some swimming races will be arranged. The tank is constructed in a different manner than the usual one, and is therefore especially adapted to racing. The tank is deep on one side and shallow on the other. Many tanks are deep at one end and shallow at the other. Under such circumstances none but short races are possible. The directors are going to put in a high dive for those who enjoy the sport.

Twenty entries have been received for the Sacramento Athletic club track and field meet to be held on August 1. The 200-pound race is especially popular. Among the likely entries are Dalton, Gray, Mott, Garrison, Curtiss, Root and Merz.

The Sacramento Athletic club has started a handball tournament, many having signed up for the contest. The enthusiasts will play both singles and doubles.

OAKLAND MAN TO BE PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR

May 21-09

After considerable trouble the Sacramento Athletic Club Directors have finally succeeded in landing a physical instructor for the club. An agreement was yesterday reached between the club and Joseph H. Nill, of Oakland, and the latter will begin his duties at the club on the first of the month. Nill comes highly recommended and his specialty is field work and basketball.

A field day for club athletes will be held some time in August and Chester F. Cannon, Captain of the field team, has a squad of athletes out at Agricultural Park every Sunday morning working out. Medals will be offered by the clug at the field day.

Captain Vernon Marsten, of the baseball team, has some good material in charge and the club expects to put out a winning aggregation. Suits have already been ordered. The club is thinking sriously of joining the P. A. A. and be put on a strictly amateur basis.

The club is figuring in putting in a steam room and several more showers on the third floor, the same being in much demand. Safe deposit vaults for the care of valuables will also be installed.

ALL-SACRAMENTO TRACK TEAM IS PROPOSED

An All-Sacramento track team to represent this city at the big athletic meet to be held during Portola week at San Francisco was advocated at a meeting of the Capital City Wheelmen last night, and P. E. Kidder was appointed to take the matter up with the other clubs in the city. It is proposed to send a track team down from here made up of men from every athletic club in Sacramento. Kidder invites an expression from all clubs on the matter, and will next week call a meeting to outline the preliminary details.

The Wheelmen last night also discussed the excursion of the "Land Lubbers," as their annual trip up the river is termed. This big event is to come off on July 25th, and a Committee consisting of P. E. Kidder, Frank Bentley and T. Watson was named to take charge. The trip to picnic grounds several miles up the river is made in row boats on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, and the day is spent on the grounds.

LOCAL ATHLETES GO TO PORTOLA

Wheelmen Endeavoring to Secure Representative Track Team for Contest.

An effort is being made by the Capital City Wheelmen of this city to interest other athletic associations in a track and field team to represent Sacramento in the athletic contests in San Francisco during the Portola festival next month. At a meeting last night the wheelmen decided to father the proposition and appointed P. E. Kidder as a committee of one to appear before all the athletic clubs in this city and request their support.

Mr. Kidder will call on every athlete in the city and talk the matter over. A meeting will be held at some future date at which final details will be arranged. It is planned to secure a large number of athletes and then choose from them, according to their own personal efficiency, a team that will represent this city in the contests. Mr. Kidder will gladly co-operate with any athlete or athletic society that desires to take part in the Portola festivities.

The entries for the events close July 31st and there must be three entries to every event before it will be. Prizes will be awarded the winners and the most one competitor can win is one silver and one bronze medal.

Every Sunday morning finds over a dozen members of club at Agricultural Park working out for the coming meet and keen competition is already developing.

ATHLETES WILL MEET TOMORROW

S. A. C. Track Squad Ready for First Contest—Swimming Popular.

The Socramento Athletic club will officially break into the field of outdoor athletics Sunday at McKinley park, when its field and track squad holds an opening meet. The squad numbers about twenty-five men and most of these are entered to participate in eight events Sunday.

Since the arrival of Physical Instructor Nill much enthusiasm has been shown in the work. Nill's long suit is outdoor work and he expects to have a strong track team representing the club in the fall in whatever events it may take part. A list of the events as they will be run off and of those who will participate in the meet follows:

High jump—Payne, Kay, Gannon, Shoemaker, Kidder.

Mayor White is to lead the officials who will have charge of the event. The mayor will be referee and has shown a good deal of interest in athletics. When a five-mile race was held in February the mayor was one of its most enthusiastic supporters. Other officials have been named by Instructor Nill as follows: Chief of Police John E. Sullivan, M. N. Kimball, C. R. Gill and County Assessor Ed Kay will be the judges; A. Givan, scorer; H. M. MacGregor, timer, and Charles Bennett, announcer. No admission will be charged those who wish to see the meet. It will be held at McKinley park in the afternoon.

Some lively contests are expected. In the sprints Villinger and Gannon (captain) are the most likely aspirants. Shoemaker and Bedee, who are jumping over five feet, are expected to fight it out in the high jump. But the mile is expected to be the most interesting race of the bunch. Destacio, Sparks and Childs are all counted likely contestants in the mile run. The hammer throw will be between Luce and Dalton and the 440-yard dash between Sparks and Shoemaker.

The club's swimming class is one of the most popular sub-organizations. Headed by Physical Instructor Nill, a dozen or more members go to the river every Sunday and enjoy a dip. But all are hoping the swimming baths will soon be completed. The Elks have secured one of the clubrooms at the swimming baths and intend to have a team. Other clubrooms have been secured by the athletic club and the Capital City wheelmen.

Physical Instructor McIntyre of the Stockton Athletic club was here yesterday and visited the Sacramento Athletic club rooms. He said several members of his club are anxious to meet local handball players.

First Outdoor Contests in History of New Organization Will Be at McKinley Park To-morrow Afternoon

The first track and field meet of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held at McKinley Park to-morrow afternoon. The events will start at 3 o'clock and no admission will be charged. The track at the Park has been put in fine condition, although it was found impossible to procure cinders at the present time. With the aid of the chain gang, steam roller and watering cart, a great change has been wrought at McKinley Park and the track men are all delighted with the result. It would be hard to find a place better adapted to hold an athletic meet, either for spectators or competitors. Seats have been provided for the women under the shade of the trees and a large number are expected to be on hand.

The Sacramento Athletic Club athletes are enthusiastic about the coming contests and the rivalry, though good-natured, is very keen. None of the men have been timed in their events and consequently all are eagerly awaiting the verdict of the stop watches.

The mile race promises to be the class of the meet, at least of the entries being confident of their ability to win this event.

Next in interest comes the fat man's race, for members weighing over 200 pounds. Some of the candidates for heavyweight honors have been training so hard that the gymnasium apparatus has to be repaired daily. One of the favorites is taking a two weeks' vacation at the Grove to put himself in the best of shape. Another 250 pounder has entered the open 50 yard dash and expects to make the youngsters hustle.

In the other events the fight for the medals will be just as hard, for many dark horses have been training privately and expect to spring a surprise on the field. Those who have been training, however, say that they will have to be shown and refuse to concede any chance whatever to these outsiders.

High Jump — Payen, Kay, Gannon, Shoemake, Kidder.

TRACK SQUAD MAKE OUTING TRIP

Several Departments of S. A. C. Active—Baseball Team to Play Clarksburg.

A camping party from the Sacramento Athletic club will start up the river tonight to spend the night opposite Bryte's, and to have a ripping time. Nearly all of the track squad has signed up for the trip, which will be in the nature of a training scheme, as well as a pleasure jaunt.

The bunch will be away most of Saturday and Sunday. Some of those who cannot leave today, however, will make the trip early Sunday morning. The commissary department of the outfit will be well stocked with preparations that will go good around the camp fire. Fishing, swimming, rowing and other athletic sports will be the feature of the trip.

The basketball team of the club will take an outing Sunday, and with it will go several members of the club who are not performers. The aggregation will go to Clarksburg on the steamer Duchess. A swim in the river, as well as a victory over the Clarksburg ball team, is on the program for the day.

Work on the athletic track at McKinley park is progressing rapidly, and the track will probably be in shape a week from now. The county chain-gang is putting the track into condition. The club hopes to hold its field day on the McKinley park grounds on August 1st.

The entry list of those who intend taking part in the track meet is increasing daily. Last night a squad of ten went out for a sprint. Under the instruction of Captain Gannon, the members of the team were practicing the sprinting start in the gymnasium last night.

NILL PREPARES MEET PROGRAM

The Sacramento Athletic club track squad will take the last fling at work on the morning of July 25th, when heavy stunts will occupy their attention for a half day. The practice of that morning will be in the nature of a tryout, but most of the squad members will be careful to disguise their ability.

Physical Director Nill, who will be in charge of the track meet which will be held at McKinley park on Sunday, August 1st, has arranged the events to be run off as follows: 50-yard dash, high jump, mile run, mile bicycle race, obstacle race (hurdles, barrels, etc.), 100-yard dash, 100-yard run for heavyweights, shotput, 440-yard dash, 5-mile bicycle race.

Entries for the meet will close on the night of July 31st. In competition but one silver and one bronze medal will be allowed to each competitor, even though he may be victor in many events.

A meeting of the juniors, who are planning a series of baseball games, will be held Monday night, July 26th, for the purpose of organizing teams.

ATHLETIC CLUB TRACK MEET NOVEL EVENT

DALTON HEAVY CHAMPION

Several Stubborn Contests Develop Among Squad Members.

The attendance of 500 interested spectators at the Sacramento Athletic club's opening games at McKinley park yesterday afternoon demonstrated that local people have been aroused to the sport in athletics, and wish to see more of it. Records made in most of the events surpassed Instructor Nill's fond hopes, and indicate that a capable track team can be formed of club members.

Although accommodations for the ladies were not the best because the promoters were not allowed the use of park chairs, everyone present apparently thoroughly enjoyed the meet.

Chester Gannon, captain of the club team, proved the star of the day, and was given the gold medal for being the best all-around athlete. Gannon was not closely pressed, his nearest competitor being Dalton, who secured five of his points in a freak race. Gannon was tied for first in the high jump by Kidder, won the 50-yard dash, the 100-yard dash and was second in the quarter-mile event.

The track was a little heavy, mainly because it has not been given the proper care. Mayor White and Chief of Police Sullivan were present as officials, however, and noted the needs of the track, so Instructor Nill expects some relief. He declares the track should have constant care and a wetting three times a week.

The prettiest race of the day was the first trial at the finals for the 50-yard dash. The race had narrowed down to three competitors, Gannon, Villinger and Bedee. All three got off at the crack of the pistol shoulder to shoulder. When the race was concluded the judges stood looking at each other gaping, for the three men had breasted the tape at the same instant. They ran the race over and Gannon won.

HIGH JUMP A FIGHT.

The high jump was a hard fight in which Gannon soon became a feature. While Kidder, whom he tied, was jumping easy almost to the last, Gannon was working hard all the time, but he was in at the finish, and the men tied at 5 feet 5½ inches.

Childs was expcted to have somewhat of a walk-away, but he grew nervous before the finish, and so exhausted himself that he left the track. All three places went to dark horses. Sparks was not conceded a chance, but he was first across the line. Sweet and Bestacio followed quickly. In the shotput Dalton's superior weight told, and he beat Root by less than a foot.

The 100-yard race for heavyweights was a circus, with the elephants featured. It was a contest in which the least number of pounds' weight was supposed to belong to the winner; but Dalton sprinted away from the field in the last twenty-five yards and won. Root maintained a lead for more than half of the race, but his wind gave out at the finish. Though Dalton was too heavy for him, Lucey, with 180 pounds against 250, threw the hammer almost within a foot of the big man's distance.

The 440-yard dash developed an interesting race, especially with Gannon trailing down the line with one shoe on and the other off. Gannon dropped his shoe before he got well started, and was good for second place barefooted.

Physical Instructor Nill says his officials handled the meet very neatly, and he was pleased to get such a capable crew of assistants.

The medals were distributed as follows: Gold medal for best all-around athlete, Captain Gannon; siver medals for first place, Gannon, Kidder, Sparks, Dalton, Bedee, Root, Lucey, Shoemake; bronze medals for second place, Villinger, Kay, Curtiss, Childs, Destacio, Payne.

FIELD CAPTAIN IS STAR AT MEET IN PARK

It was an enthusiastic bunch of athletes and an interested crowd of spectators that took possession of McKinley Park yesterday afternoon for the field meet of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Like all athletic events, there were surprises in store for the spectators and also the competitors. Chester Gannon, captain of the field team, captured the honors of the day and incidentally the gold medal for making the most points. He secured a place in all but one event in which he entered.

Medals were distributed as follows for the events: Gold medal for best all-around athlete, Captain Gannon; silver medals for first place, Gannon, Sparks, Dalton, Orpinella and Suber; bronze medals for second place, Bedee, Kidder, Sweet, Root, Suber, Luce and Gannon. Here is the way the contestants gathered in the points: Gannon, 15½; Dalton, 15; Sparks, 10; Suber, 8; Bedee, 6; Orpinella, 5; Kidder, 4½; Luce, 3; Sweet, 3; Destachio, Villinger, Wheat, Kay, Payne and Curtiss, 1 each.

The most spectacular event was the 50-yard dash. When the final was run Gannon, Beede and Villinger breasted the tape, all three tied for first place. It was a dead heat, no one having the slightest advantage. Running the event again Gannon came in first, the others at his heels. The dash started the day's sport and was a sort of tonic, for interest grew with the crowd. Women were as eager as men to see the events and they crowded along the lines cheering for a favorite or waving an encouraging handkerchief.

Physical Instructor Nill said at the conclusion of the meet that he was perfectly satisfied with the showing made and the way the events were conducted. Mayor Clinton L. White and Chief of Police Sullivan were present and acted as officials.

The most stubborn contest was in the high jump. Kidder and Gannon tied for first, with 5 feet 5½ inches. Kidder looked like an easy winner, taking the jump easily and with much to spare, but when the bamboo was put up to the 5 feet 6½ inch mark he, as well as Gannon, failed to make it. They agreed to the tie, both being entered in other events and not desiring to exhaust themselves.

In the mile run, Sparks won easily, sprinting on the last lap and touching the tape forty yards in advance of the nearest competitor. The others came in bunched, as they had run for the entire distance. Three of the eight who entered dropped out before the end of the first half.

For the 100-yard dash there were eight entries and in the first two heats, Kay and Bedee and Gannon and Cowie qualified. Both Kay and Gannon, the winners of the heats, made the distance in 11 flat. But in the final, Gannon won by a good lead, making 11 1-5 according to official time. The track was soft and made running difficult. The time in this event was good considering the conditon of the track.

The heavyweight 100-yard dash provided a surprise—the heaviest man, Dalton, winning. Dalton, after passing the 25-yard point, forged ahead of Root and held the place, Root being unable to circle around his rotund competitor. The time made in this race, 12 1-5 seconds, disputes the saying that large bodies move slowly.

Here are the events as told in the summary:

Fifty-yard dash—Gannon, first; Bedee, second; Villinger, third; time, 5.4.

High jump—Gannon and Kidder tied for first at 5 feet 5½ inches, Shoemake third, 5 feet 1¼ inches.

Mile run—Sparks, first; Sweet, second; Destachio, third; time, 5:22 4-5.

Shot put—Dalton first, 38 feet 2¾ inches; Root second, 37 feet 3¼ inches; Kidder third, 34 feet 7 inches.

Mile bicycle race—Orpinella, first; Suber, second; Wheat, third; time, 3:4 4-5.

Hammer throw—Dalton, first, with 106 feet 8 inches; Luce, second, with 105 feet; Kidder, third, 71 feet 8 inches.

Two-mile bicycle race, handicap—Suber, 150 yards, first; time, 6 minutes. Orpinella and Wheat dropped out, having met with accidents.

S. A. C. TO HOLD TRYOUTS WEDNESDAY

Realizing that a tough struggle awaits them next Sunday when they cross bats with the fast nine of Placerville, the baseball players of the Sacramento Athletic club have called a special practice game next Wednesday afternoon at Oak Park, where all players will gather and try out for the crack team that is to meet the Placerville demons. Only the very best material is wanted for the team, as no chances can be taken by allowing weak men in the various positions. The local club intends to win the game, and in order to do so desires to face the rivals with a team equally as strong as the opposing faction.

There will necessarily be some changes in the line-up of Sunday's team. New material is coming out, and everyone will be given an equal show to get on the team. A. Delano, the regular catcher, has sprained his knee and will not be able to play Sunday. Bronson has developed rapidly of late and shows promise of gaining the first base position.

Last Sunday the Athletic Club team played a 1 to 1 game with the Commercial Travelers, and in the ninth inning were denied further use of the grounds and so had to postpone the deciding innings. There is a probability that the grounds at McKinley park will be put in shape for baseball within the next two weeks.

The try-out was held yesterday on the Oak Park grounds.

WANT CITY TO MAINTAIN TRACK

Athletic Club Representatives to Ask Trustees for More Water.

A committee representing local athletic organizations will appear before the city board of trustees Monday night and ask that an appropriation be made to maintain the athletic track, which the Sacramento Athletic club members have put into condition. The committee is composed as follows: John Schenck, Turn Verein; Clarence Herndon, Capital City Wheelmen; Joseph Reisner, Y. M. C. A.; J. H. Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club.

The committee expected to get the co-operation of Principal Tade of the high school and Professor Snell of the manual training department of public schools, who is fostering athletics among the grammar school boys, but it was learned that both are out of Sacramento on their vacations. Both are known to have permanent athletic grounds.

The Sacramento Athletic club is back of the proposition. It was the club which took up the improvement of the track, which was commenced under the supervision of a high school committee two years ago Securing the aid of Superintendent of Streets Elliott, who furnished implements, horses and men, and President Donnelly of the board of supervisors, who sent the chain gangs to the park, the club put the track into excellent condition for the meet of August 1. But Physical Director Nill declares the track will not remain in shape three days without water.

The committee will ask the board of trustees to maintain the track. It will first need water piped to t so that it may be sprinkled frequently. Nill says a man should be in attendance with a horse and harrow to keep the earth loose.

Those interested in the McKinley park athletic grounds now plan to put a baseball diamond in the center. Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club is working on the proposition and expects to have a diamond in the center in less than a week.

THARP RIDDLES BIG BUCK WITH A GLASS EYE

Up in the mountains of Lake County, at Huff Springs, are Policeman Tharp and Policeman Naghel, spending two weeks of vacation. Tharp is the all-around athlete of the force, the sprinter, scrapper, hammer-thrower, and descriptive fisherman. He is a baseball, handball, football, basketball and volley ball player. Over and above all this, Tharp is a crack shot and a big game hunter. If his name had not been mentioned up to this moment, everyone would have recognized that these qualities are found nowhere in combination save in Tharp.

Days before Tharp went the other cops were besieging him with appeals for the flesh of deer and bear and mountain goats. All the venison the law would allow him was engaged weeks in advance, by friends who were not above taking advantage of his generosity. It looked as if the only reason why Tharp took Naghel along was that Naghel is no good at all as a hunter, and so by a slight evasion of the game law Tharp could kill four deer and make out that they killed two apiece, thus throwing dust in the eyes of the Game Wardens.

Tharp's fame beat him to Huff Springs. The natives were in wait for his coming. Before this they had seen big game hunters who live in city flats. When they got there Naghel did all Tharp's press work. He spread Tharp's reputation all over the country. The big officer took all his glory quite easily.

Form Conspiracy.

Either Naghel got envious all of a sudden, or he planned it out from the first. However that may have been, he got together a conspiracy of jokers, practical men all of them, and they thought out a scheme They procured a magnificent big buck, with spreading antlers. It was a perfect specimen, but stuffed and with glass eyes. They took it to a small open spot in the midst of the wild mountain scenery and erected it. It was propped up stiffly, with stakes driven deep into the ground, so that it couldn't move a muscle if a tree fell on it.

Next morning before daybreak there were about two score hunters ambushed in sight of the deer. They arranged themselves around the buck in a half moon.

New Gun Has Tharp.

Naghel and Tharp and a few of the rest set out before daybreak, Tharp carrying his new Winchester repeater, which shoots about twenty times before it tuckers out. A trusty guide was along who knew the lay of the land and what was expected of him. He led the pair where the rest were in wait.

Tharp was aggressive and ambitious. He plunged on ahead through the thick woods. The guide had hard work keeping him in the right direction. But finally they approached, Tharp in the lead. He got into the opening first, and sighted the buck.

Lowering his whole magnitude into a kneeling position, he took careful aim. He had to interrupt himself to wave his hands for the rest of the gang to keep back, but it was to no purpose, because they came ahead on the jump to get a good seat for the show about to begin.

Tharp fired the first time, and the buck batted nary an eyelash. He pumped at him again, and a third time, and a fourth. The deer continued to attitudinize in the same picturesque way, like the stuffed deer he was. Tharp adjusted his sights. He saw what was wrong. He had them raised for 500-yard shots, so at such short range his bullets were flying high

Inflicts Damage.

Then he opened fire again. At the first bullet one of the brittle prongs flew to pieces, and at the second a jet of dust puffed out from the side of the animal, and next time some horsehair flew from its neck. And yet the buck kept his eye serenely and stolidly fixed on the gunner.

Bang! Bang! Bang! A glass eye shattered into flinders. Bang! Bang! Not a sign from the deer, but Tharp, shaking like a poplar tree and no sign of exhaustion on the part of the repeater. Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Nervousness on the part of the spectators situated on the horn of the crescent. Bang! Bang! Wild flight of joshers in all directions as bullets whizz in about thirty-two points of the compass. Bang! Bang! Bang! It is all over. The gun shows a yellow streak. Tharp works the machinery like mad, but can't get another explosion out of it.

After a while there was a pause, and Tharp started to reload his gun. Everybody then thought it had gone far enough. They wanted Tharp to see the joke when his gun was empty to save him from a few murders that maybe he would be sorry for all the rest of his life. A couple of score wild peals of laughter broke out on all sides of Tharp, and most of the spectators gathered round him, while several went up to the dilapidated piece of furniture and removed it from its supports.

In the confusion of the moment, Tharp crawled into the underbrush. All day he was gone. At nightfall there was talk of organizing searching parties, but very late he got back to camp, and quietly walked into the tent where Naghel was. Naghel thought it would be undignified to say anything to him, so they turned in without a word.

TRACK AND FIELD

SACRAMENTO ATHLETICS.

Some Promising Athletes Who Bid Fair to Become Champions.

Fully 500 interested spectators witnessed the initial public meet at McKinley Park last Sunday and all returned well satisfied with the day's sport.

McKinley Park is an ideal site for an athletic field and through the courtesy of James Donnelly, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Sheriff Reese and Superintendent of Streets Elliot, it was possible to hold the meeting last Sunday.

Professor Nill, instructor of the club, expressed agreeable surprise in the "timber" of the club and a more jubilant instructor could not be found. The club is about to launch a project and already committees from the S. A. C., Y. M. C. A., Turn Verein, C. C. W. are at work and the Board of Supervisors will be asked in behalf of the schools and athletic clubs to devise ways and means by which the park can be made into a first class athletic field, where clubs can prepare for and give meets.

Professor Nill says: "Sacramento is in need of such a field, as the race track is too far distant and has no facilities for handling such sports. An athlete must have the best of care and attention to enable him to compete in contests."

A committee of the club are hard at work and are to meet with the Board of Directors of the California State Fair to ask for two or three days during the State Fair for a California athletic meet comprising of each club affiliated with the P. A. A. In fact, much interest could be added to the State Fair, as athletes from every part of California would be in evidence.

There is being organized in the club swimming teams (apartments have been secured at the new baths), basket ball teams, duel meets; in fact, they have under contemplation an auxiliary to the club composed of the ladies.

There is so much good "timber" in the club that in the September athletic meet another field of aspirants will be worked and more athletes will be added to the list.

Mayor White and Chief Sullivan were spectators at McKinley Park and enjoyed the sports immensely.

Ed Dalton gained many admirers last Sunday, and if predictions prove true, bids fair to become an athlete of great fame. In the several events he carried off the honors, and in view of his great weight and strength will be able to compete with the best.

The official score of the events appear below and the points received by the seven leaders:

The most interesting event in amature circles this week is the outcome of the game to be played at Vacaville today, between the Sacramento Athletic club of this city and the team of that place. Vacaville has a star team, but the locals have gathered up their strongest aggregation and while they are making no boasts, they will do their very best to bring home a victory. They will be slightly handicapped by the fact that their star catcher, Delano, is laid up by a sprained knee, but they have a good substitute in Bronson, and if necessary Holton can be brought in from third, although he is valuable in that position.

Professor Nill says: "Sacramento is in need of such a field, as the race track is too far distant and has no facilities for handling such sports. An athlete must have the best of care and attention to enable him to compete in contests."

A committee of the club are hard at work and are to meet with the Board of Directors of the California State Fair to ask for two or three days during the State Fair for a California athletic meet comprising of each club affiliated with the P. A. A. In fact, much interest could be added to the State Fair, as athletes from every part of California would be in evidence.

There is being organized in the club swimming teams (apartments have been secured at the new baths), basket ball teams, duel meets; in fact, they have under contemplation an auxiliary to the club composed of the ladies.

There is so much good "timber" in the club that in the September athletic meet another field of aspirants will be worked and more athletes will be added to the list.

Mayor White and Chief Sullivan were spectators at McKinley Park and enjoyed the sports immensely.

The most interesting event in amature circles this week is the outcome of the game to be played at Vacaville today, between the Sacramento Athletic club of this city and the team of that place. Vacaville has a star team, but the locals have gathered up their strongest aggregation and while they are making no boasts, they will do their very best to bring home a victory. They will be slightly handicapped by the fact that their star catcher, Delano, is laid up by a sprained knee, but they have a good substitute in Bronson, and if necessary Holton can be brought in from third, although he is valuable in that position.

PLANS BIG TRACK MEET DURING FAIR

State Fair Committee to Ask Valley Athletes to Compete at Agricultural Park.

The state fair amusement committee is planning for a big inter-valley athletic meet at Agricultural park during the state fair this summer. Already the plans have assumed enormous proportions and many valuable prizes, including cash and medals, will be awarded the winners of the various events.

The plan is to have a stupendous athletic spectacle that will be the occasion of matchless athletic prowess. Sacramento valley contains many remarkable young athletes and it is desired to get them together to match their ability again one another. While the plan is as yet immature, it assumes a more definite shape every day and will be practically settled when the heads of every athletic association in the valley are corresponded with and their support enlisted in the matter. The meet will not, however, be had as a team meet, but will be participated in by any and all athletes who may desire to compete.

U. 8-10-'09

TRACK AND FIELD MEET IS PLANNED

World's Champions Will Be Asked to Compete in Events Here August 28th.

One of the biggest athletic meets in the history of California is being planned by the State Agricultural society and will take place during the state fair this summer. Renowned athletes from all over the United States will undoubtedly be here and take part in the specially arranged events. Prizes amounting in value into the thousands will be given for the first, second and third places in each field and track event. Special events will be arranged for the class A amateurs, while the ordinary athletes will compete in a class of events by themselves. This will do away with any unfairness that might arise from a competition between a top-notcher and an ordinary athlete.

Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club is in charge of the affair and is being co-operated with by the heads of every athletic association in the valley. An invitation has been extended to President Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States to be present at the big meet and officiate as referee. The invitation, which has been sent to Mr. Sullivan by Hon. J. A. Filcher, also requests that any and all athletes now competing in the events at the fair in Seattle be requested to come to Sacramento and take part in the meet in this city on the 28th.

The plan is to get a representative delegation of athletes from Seattle, who have gathered there from all parts of the United States. Many of the athletes are world's champions and recognized masters in their special line. They will be in San Francisco August 21st, and it is hoped that they can be induced to come to this city for the meet August 28th.

A series of special events are now being arranged for the top-ntochers, while handicap events are being formulated for the ordinary athletes. A ten-mile Marathon will be one of the features of the affair. Every competitor must be a registered amateur athlete in the A. A. U. or a members of the subsidiary association, the P. A. A. More definite arrangements are expected within a few days.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB INDUCES DIRECTORS TO HOLD MARATHON ALSO.

An open athletic meet for the first day of the Fair, with a ten-mile Marathon race on Governor's Day will be among the big features of the coming State Fair. A Committee from the Sacramento Athletic Club, consisting of Secretary W. A. Newcomb and Physical Director J. H. Nill appeared before the Board of Directors of the Fair to-day and induced them to provide for the meet and Marathon.

The athletic meet is to be held on the afternoon of August 28th and all of the crack track and field men of this section of the State will take part in the meet. The events to be held will include the 100, 220, 440 and 800-yard handicap dashes; the mile run; hammer throw and shotput; high and broad jump; pole vault, and the half-mile and two-mile relay races.

The big ten-mile Marathon will be one of the features of Governor's Day.

SEATTLE ATHLETES WIN JUNIOR CONTESTS

By JOE R. HICKEY.

SEATTLE, August 13. — One new American record was the notable achievement of the annual junior track and field championships held here this afternoon under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The Seattle Athletic Club carried off the majority of honors as predicted, and the Multnomah Club was a poor third. The local athletes succeeded in annexing a total of 81 points. The New York Athletic Club was second with 15 points, Multnomah Club third with 13 points, Missouri Athletic Club fourth with 11 points and Vancouver Athletic Club fifth with 6 points. The Boston Athletic Association and the Mott Haven Athletic Club each scored 5 points.

The Chicago Athletic Association and the Olympic Club of San Francisco did not take part in the events to-day. Carl Hubbenette of the Swedish-American Athletic Club of San Francisco, who took second in the five-mile run, was the only Californian who appeared on the track.

All of the track events, with the exception of the five-mile run, developed unusual sport, including the fast mile completed by Joe Ballard, the school boy wonder, from Providence, R. I., who carried the colors of the Boston Athletic Association to victory in 4:24¾. This is a new Coast record and the best junior mile ever run in America.

Braley Gish of the Seattle Athletic Club furnished the surprise of the day when he tossed the javelin 144 feet. The javelin is a new event on the Amateur Athletic Union programme, but it drew some dozen entries, who contested the spectacular event until Gish had wiped out Platt Adams' record of 131 feet 6 inches made at the Olympic tryouts in Philadelphia a year ago.

In the mile run Ballard, the American interscholastic record holder, left the mark with Noble of the New York Athletic Club close at his heels. The quarter was covered in 0:58 and the half mile in 2:07, Noble hanging on until the very last.

Jim McIntee of the New York Athletic Club led all the way in the quarter, with Stolt and Warren of Seattle close behind. The Easterner finished in 0:51.

The hurdle events both went to Seattle, Donald, the University of Washington athlete, taking first place in the high event in 0:15 3-5, and his team mate, Maloomson clearing the low sticks in 0:25 3-5. Nelson, the Seattle sprinter, came through with a grand finish in the 100-yard dash, taking the New York crack Dawborn and the St. Louis wonder, Firline, into camp with a mark of 0:10 1-5.

Athletic Summaries

Dash, 100 yards, first heat—I Courtney, Seattle A. C., first; W. F. Dawbarn, New York A. C., second. Time, 10 1-5.

Second heat—J. Nelson, Seattle A. C., won; X. C. Forline, Missouri A. C., second. Time, 10 2-5.

OLYMPIC CLUB SECOND IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Ralph Rose Breaks His Own World's Record in Shot Put, Scores 21 Points— Seattle Takes Club Honors.

Seattle A. C.	46	Multnomah A. C.	5
Olympic Club	30	Boston A. A.	5
Chicago A. A.	26	Mott Haven A. C.	5
New York A. C.	17	Missouri A. C.	2
Kansas City A. C.	12	Unattached	5
Total	153 Points.

SEATTLE, August 14.—The team of the Seattle Athletic Club proved winners of the annual national championships held on the track at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition this afternoon, scoring forty-six points. The Olympic Club of San Francisco was second with thirty points, four points ahead of the Chicago Athletic Association.

The hero of the day was Ralph Rose, the giant weight-thrower from California, who scored twenty-one points, broke his own world's record in the shotput, and captured the discus throw, javelin throw and shotput, and took second place in the hammer throw and the 56-pound weight.

Edmundson, the University of Idaho middle-distance runner, who was competing for the Seattle Athletic Club, ran a remarkable race in the half-mile. He defeated a speedy field and finished in the remarkable time of 155 1-5, which, although outside of Kilpatrick's long-standing mark, is the fastest time made in a number of years by anyone except the phenomenal Melvin Sheppard. Edmundson won handily from Gissing, the New York Athletic Club's crack, who finished second, and John O. Miller, winner of the half-mile at the last Western Conference meet and a member of the Olympic Club's team.

INDIAN McLEAN SENSATION.

One of the sensations of the day was the defeat of Fred Bellars of New York, the five-mile champion of last year, by Harry McLean, the young Indian runner from Phoenix, Arizona. McLean aroused the spectators to a high pitch of enthusiasm by his speed and stamina, and received an ovation when he breasted the tape and became the five-mile champion of the United States.

Ralph Rose finally succeeded in putting the shot over fifty feet. Many times in practice has the record-holder exceeded the 50-foot mark, but up to to-day he could never hurl the sphere that far in competition. His put made him an easy winner and the big Californian kept right on getting points. He was beaten in the hammer throw and 56-pound weight by Lee Talbot, the Cornell athlete, competing in the colors of the Kansas City Athletic Club, who made a good record of points himself. Besides winning the hammer throw and 56-pound weight, Talbot was third in the discus and javelin.

Rose threw the javelin 141 feet 6 inches, failing short of the mark of 144 feet set by Gish yesterday in the junior championships. Gish could not do as well to-day and had to be content with second place to Rose. Alfred D. Plaw of San Francisco was third in the hammer.

In the mile run, Ballard of Boston, who won the junior championship yesterday, again proved a winner. His time was slower than in the junior event—4:30 1-5 being the flash—and he won from Craig of San Francisco by a fair margin.

The sprints showed that Seattle has a lot of fast short distance men. The local club took all three places in the 100 yards, the only outsider to qualify for the final being Hamilton of the Chicago Athletic Association. In the 220-yard dash, Dawbarn of New York won his heat in 22 seconds flat and also captured the final in 22 1-5 seconds. Martin of Seattle, who won the 100 yards, took second place and Gerhardt, the Olympic Club sprinter, ran third in the final of this event.

McEntee Disappointment.

Lindberg of Chicago took the quarter-mile event, in which Gish of Seattle took second and McEntee of New York third. The New Yorkers were disappointed at the showing of McEntee, whom they had figured a winner in this race.

Irons of Chicago, the winner of the broad jump at the Olympic games in London last summer, took first place in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 6 inches. Gish showed his versatility by taking second place in this event also. The high jump was won by Erickson, the Mott Haven Athletic Club's jumper, who cleared 5 feet 11¾ inches, beating Dave Martin of San Francisco, who was second.

Smithson of Portland again defeated his old rival, Shaw, of Dartmouth in the high hurdles, which he won in 15 1-5 seconds, tying Shaw's record for the event. In the low hurdles, Malcolmson of Seattle proved too fast for his field and added a few more points to his club's total.

The day was perfect for athletic games and an enormous crowd watched the sport with keen attention.

The summary:

10-yard dah—First heat, I. Courtney, Seattle A. C. won; F. Hamilton, Chicaago, A. A., second. Time, :10 1-5. Second heat—J. Nelson, Seattle A. C., won; W. Martin, Seattle A. C., second. ATHLETICS MANGLE CASCADE LAUNDRY

Sacramento Club Gets Revenge for Former Defeat in 6 to 5 Game.

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team was revenged yesterday afternoon when it defeated the Cascade laundry aggregation by a score of 6 to 5. The game was the second played by the teams, the laundry team having won the first game, and a big crowd of fans journeyed to the McKinley park grounds to see the Athletic club boys score a victory.

The game was full of ginger, the Athletics being on the job to wipe out their first defeat, and, in spite of the rooting by the members of the Laundry Workers' union, who attended in a body, accomplished their purpose. A feature of the game was the pitching of Harley Grady for the Athletics, who struck out nine men and fielded his position faultlessly. Grady has been twirling consistent ball this season, and will be in the big brush if he keeps up his work. Pongato, in center field for the Cascades, performed like a Demon Doyle, taking everything in his way.

Warren at third base for the Cascades, also showed a lot of speed. He stabbed a line drive in the second inning that had all the earmarks of a cushion shot, and completed a double play unassisted. Tregallis, who crawled into an Athletic uniform for the first time yesterday, performed nicely at first base, and will do. The score:

Two Fast Runners Prefer California To Eastern States

McEntee and Gissing of New York Remain in the City and Will Run at Sacramento.

When the athletes who came here to compete in the meet at the Stadium last Saturday left for their homes in Chicago and New York last night, two of the star runners stayed behind. The attractions of California appealed so strongly to Jim McEntee of New York and Harry Gissing of the same city that they decided to remain here, and the local athletic world is richer to that extent. McEntee is the junior champion of the United States at a quarter of a mile and finished third in the senior championship at Seattle ten days ago. Gissing ran second to Edmundson in the half-mile championship and last winter won the 600 yards indoor championship, in which he defeated Melvin Sheppard.

McEntee has already secured a position in the city and Gissing has several things in view and will probably remain here indefinitely.

Both of these runners will compete at Sacramento on Saturday next in the athletic meet to be held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the State Fair. A 600-yards scratch race is on the programme, and with McEntee and Gissing competing against John O. Miller of the Olympic Club the Capital City folks should see a great race.

Athletic Club Boys Badly Beaten on McKinley Park's New Diamond.

A fair crowd was on hand yesterday to see the Wingards defeat the Sacramento Athletic club ball team on the new McKinley park diamond. The feature of the game was the pitching of Koster of the Wingards, who allowed but three singles. Errors had much to do with the defeat of the Athletic club team. The score:

Big Field Day to Be Held At Sacramento State Fair

A new athletic event that gives promise of developing into an affair of considerable consequence will be the field day that is to be held in connection with the State Fair at Sacramento next Saturday. The day has been placed by the State Fair authorities under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club, a new and energetic amateur organization in the Capital City of which Joseph H. Nill, formerly coach at St. Mary's and Sacred Heart Colleges in this city, is athletic director.

The club has invited the pick of the local athletes to participate in the events and it is expected that many from about the bay will avail themselves of the opportunity to contest for the gold, silver and bronze medals which will go to the point winners. Most of the events will be handicap affairs, so that all will have an equal chance to come home with prizes.

The feature events will be a 600-yard invitational event, in which it is expected Miller, Macauley, Beeson and Glarner will contest for honors, and a mile handicap relay to which several of the local high schools will send teams.

Outside of these events the usual programme run off at amateur meets will be followed, all the events being handicap affairs.

Besides the athletes from about the bay, including the teams of the Olympic and Reliance Clubs and of St. Mary's College, the athletes of Sacramento and nearby valley towns will take part. These will include representatives of the following organizations: Sacramento Athletic Club, Sacramento Y. M. C. A., Sacramento Turnverein, Capital City Wheelmen, National Guards Company E and Stockton Athletic Association.

OLYMPIC CLUB MEN TO BE STARS

Eastern Athletes Not to Come, But State Fair Meet Shows Great Promise.

It seems likely that the California State Fair athletic meet will be patronized by California athletes alone and that the Eastern stars who entertained visitors to the Alaska-Yukon exposition will not come. Such is the belief of J. N. Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club, who is in charge of the meet and who returned from San Francisco where he interviewed the athletic leaders, yesterday. Nill has about given up hope of the men's coming, but will not cease his efforts to get them.

The decision of Easterners not to come here in no way throws a damper on the proposed meet. It will bring competition entirely between California athletes, which are counted among the best in the world. Nill brought with him the news that the Olympic club, with star athletes of the coast, will send a full track team. St. Mary's college will enter, and it is expected a number of San Francisco high school athletes will come.

Entries from the valley are already beginning to come, and it is expected word wil be received from Stockton in a short time. Sacramento athletes in all organizations and unattached are preparing to enter the meet. The handicap feature gives the novice, the mediocre man and the champion a like chance to win medals.

Among those from the valley who have returned their entry blanks are Floyd Rice, the Dixon giant, and O. F. Gates of Marysville. Rice is well known in Sacramento and took the hammer throw from a field of the best on Sacramento day. He holds the valley record in the weight events. Gates from Marysville is an all-around man, but will specialize on the sprints. Costar, the speedy Chico hurdler, is expected to enter.

Among those who are expected to enter as members of the Olympic club team are Moody and Cheek, the hurdle men; Martin and Beeson, six feet men in high jump; Glarner and Snediger, sprints and middle distance runs; Rose, weights; Mondrell, Garvan and J. O. Miller, middle distance runs; and Craig, the mile champion. These men would make any meet in the world interesting.

Nill looks forward to the 600-yard race between Glarner, Miller, Craig, Beeson and McCauley of Alameda high school, who has proven himself the fastest. There are many fast men to dispose of the 100-yard dash scratch race.

ATHLETES ARE FOSTERED BY HANDICAPPING

So Declares J. N. Nill, Who Is Promoting State Fair Track Meet.

NOVICES GIVEN A CHANCE

Starters in Coming Event to Have Equal Chance, According to Previous Record.

[Mr. Nill, physical instructor for the Sacramento Athletic club, has charge of the big athletic meet to be held in conjunction with the state fair on August 28th, and is promoting handicap events as a principal feature. Though common in the East, handicapping is comparatively new to the West.—Sporting Ed.]

By J. N. HILL.

There seems to be a great deal of misunderstanding on the part of the general public in regard to handicap racing. Even among athletes themselves there is a large amount of ignorance on the subject; and yet the handicap race is the most useful form of competition known, and is of primary importance in the development of the individual athlete.

It is a well-known fact that an athlete cannot develop into a first-class man unless he has the opportunity of competing against men of like caliber. He must have some one to draw him out. On the other hand, the beginners and middle class men do not care to be continually beaten or absolutely outclassed during the years of practice which are necessary for their development. They must have some encouragement to lighten the grind of training.

It was for this reason that the handicap event in field and track athletics was instituted, and found to be of great advantage to all. Of course, it is not possible to handicap a race so that all competitors will finish abreast. Sometimes a lucky beginner will be presented with a medal; but as a rule every man has an equal chance in an event of this kind, and the star performer has to work just as hard as the novice to secure his prize, generally a little harder, since any mistakes on the part of the head naturally favor that unknown competitor.

To insure accuracy of judgment and honesty in the matter of handicapping, it is placed in charge of one man, who is elected from year to year by the board of directors of the local governing athletic body, which is a branch of the A. A. U., and which is composed of representatives from every amateur club in the district. Douglass Erskine of San Francisco has been official handicapper of the Pacific Athletic association, Western division of the A. A. U., for a number of years, and has always given satisfaction.

There have been a great many track and field meets held this summer in California, but a very small percentage of them have been handicap events. It has been a case of one or two men taking all the prizes in sight, many of them winning three or four medals in duplicate, in addition to cups and other trophies. This is not sport, nor does it tend to promote the growth of clean amateur athletics.

The men of class have their chance in the junior and senior championship meets, as well as in the handicap meets. The junior championships are for those who have never won a championship event, and the senior championships are for the topnotchers. These meets are held each year under the auspices of the P. A. A., and include all track and field events. This year the meet was held at Los Angeles during the Elks' convention. Next year they will, in all probability, be held in Sacramento.

We are on the verge of a great era of athletics. Let us have consideration for the coming champion, as well as the present record holder, and in doing this we will serve the best interests of the whole.

CRACK ATHLETES MAKE CLEVER PERFORMANCES IN SPITE OF HIGH WIND

Chicago Representatives Show to Great Advantage in Sprints.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

THE invitation track and field meet held at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Olympic Club, in which the representatives from the New York Athletic Club, Chicago Athletic Association, the winged "O" organization and several individual entries competed was won by the Chicago team with a total of fifty-three points. Victory in the sprints, with May the spectacular performer, and the all-around work of Joe Horner in the field events were largely responsible for the total number of points scored by the Middle West athletes over the New York and San Francisco competitors. Although Ralph Rose, the holder of the world's record in the shot put and winner of twenty-one points at the national championships a week ago, succeeded in adding another foot to his previous mark, the big fellow was not at his best in the discus and javelin. Horner of the cherry circle team got away with both these events with results that are highly creditable in the athletic world.

As a team the Olympians performed to better advantage than at Seattle in the senior championships. Martin, Miller, Plaw and Snedigar all took first places with attainments much superior to the figures established in the north last week, and had Rose won another first Chicago would have been forced to take second place. Joe Ballard of Boston, the world's interscholastic record holder in the mile and two mile runs, shared the honors on the track with May of Chicago, the former intercollegiate conference champion. Ballard won the mile run from Craig and Noble, as was the case in the Amateur Athletic Union championships, and displayed a sprint seldom witnessed at the end of a long run when he passed McLean and Bellars in the finish of the three-mile run. Olie Snedigar of the Olympic Club, although unplaced in the 100-yard dash, proved a formidable opponent for Horner in the field events. Snedigar won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 8 1-2 inches, equaled the American record with the javelin and was second in the hop, step and jump, a total of eleven points. Horner secured thirteen points.

Miller Beats Crack New Yorker.

In one of the most sensational finishes witnessed on the Stadium track, John O. Miller turned the tables on Harry Gissing of the New York Athletic Club in the half-mile, when he breasted the tape ahead of the Easterner in 2:02 2-5, with Ramey of Chicago third. All three ran slower than at Seattle, due to the stiff wind on the backstretch and an evident desire to allow the race to be settled in the last quarter. Miller was in grand form and would have been hard to pass under any conditions. Lindberg of Chicago, American champion, and McEntee of New York ran away from Andrew Glarner in the quarter-mile in 0:51 4-5. McEntee gave the winner a merry chase for a greater part of the distance, but faded away as they approached the tape.

The Chicago trio—Waller, Shaw and May—fairly flew over the ground in their events. May was timed in ten seconds in the 100-yard dash and 0:21 4-5 in the 220-yard dash. The finish of the hundred was very close, and in view of the May conference record of 0:09 4-5 on two occasions, his showing yesterday was consistent with his past performances. Waller won the low hurdles from his teammate, Shaw, in 0:24 4-5, the latter clearing the high hurdles in 0:15¾.

Al Plaw in the hammer throw exhibited much of his old-time form, and proved that, in spite of his defeat at Seattle, he is still one of the best athletes in the ring to-day. He bettered the Amateur Athletic Union championship result by five feet, being credited with a toss of 166 feet in his final throw. Jim Mitchell of the New York Athletic Club, many times American, English and Irish champion, won the fifty-six-pound weight event from Rose and Plaw with a pitch of 31 feet 9½ inches. Con Leahy, the Irish jumper from the New York Athletic Club, and Olie Snedigar disputed the hop, step and jump in the last number on the programme, Leahy winning with 43 feet 5 inches.

Clear the Bar at Six Feet.

Over six feet were cleared in the high jump by Dave Martin, the local jumper. Martin won from Miller of Chicago and Leahy, both of whom he defeated at Seattle. The final result was 6 feet ⅛ of an inch, and the Olympic jumper supported the claim that he is the most consistent athlete over the bar that has competed in this vicinity for some time. Frank Irons, winner of the broad jump at the Olympic games last summer and a member of the Chicago team, was suffering with a bad leg during the event, which somewhat impeded his efforts. New York won an exciting relay race from Chicago, the Olympic runners being outclassed on the third lap. Miller endeavored to make up the difference, but it was too much.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a track meet in the Park was present at yesterday's games, and, although a strong wind that blew down the stretch interfered with runners at times, the weather was pleasant and acceptable to the athletes.

POINTERS ABOUT WELL-KNOWN ATHLETES

All of the athletes included in the makeup of the New York and Chicago track teams who competed at the Stadium on Saturday with the members of the Olympic Club team, left for home on Sunday morning with the exception of Jim Mitchell, the weight thrower from the New York Athletic Club, who departed yesterday, and James McEntee and Harry Gissing of the same club, who will remain here another week. McEntee and Gissing will take part in the games to be held at Sacramento on Saturday under the auspices of the State Fair. Both of these runners are well known competitors, and will prove an attraction at the capital city field-meet.

The Olympic Club will send a team to this meet, the number and names of the athletes to be announced later. A number of the local athletic officials will also make the trip to assist in directing the games. The events are open to all registered amateurs. Joseph Nill, former athletic director at St. Mary's College in Oakland, is receiving the entries for the meet at the Sacramento Athletic Club. Other athletic meets scheduled for the next few weeks at which the athletes will have a fling, are the games to be held at the Emeryville race track on Labor day, September 6th, under the auspices of the Building Trades Council and the Caledonian games at San Mateo on September 9th. Entries for both affairs will be accepted by the officials in charge. Prizes will be awarded in all events, consisting of first, second and third place donations.

BOXING BOUTS FOR S.A.C. FIRST SOCIAL

Wrestling Matches and Boxing Feature of This Evening's Entertainment.

"It Looks Like a Big Night Tonight" at the spacious clubrooms of the Sacramento Athletic club at Ninth and I streets. The members of the club will be treated tonight to an interesting program of boxing and wrestling matches, and the first big night of the club is being looked forward to with much interest.

Twenty-four rounds of boxing will be dished up for the first half of the program, sixteen prominent members of the club having been paired off in three-round bouts. All of the amateur boxers have trained faithfully and the bouts should be prolific of some speedy going. Those who will box are Johnson and Gray, Kilgore and Callahan, Bestagio and McAllister, Johnson and Erickson, McMorry and Kay, Michello and Childs, McAllister and Wheat and Delano and Hoffman. In addition to the boxing matches three wrestling matches will be staged. Those who will hit the mat are McCullough and Bacon, Pugh and several members of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, who will arrive this afternoon. Monte Newbert and several athletes will participate in some high and wiggly turning for the edification of the club members.

Refreshments will be served and a pleasant evening is looked for.

Smoker!

The Sacramento Athletic club is planning a smoker and a general good time for the members on the evening of August 24th at 8:30 o'clock. The object of the committee in charge is to get the boys together and keep them good-natured and friendly by giving a sort of variety show. There will be some wrestling, boxing, gymnasium work and good music with a good feed at the end, which should make the boys look forward to these gatherings. They will be given every month from now on.

Many Noted Athletes Will Compete In Sacramento Club's Track and Field Meet

The Sacramento athletic club is sparing no means to make its meet of next Saturday a great success. It will be a handicap affair, and a large list of entries is expected. The club itself will be represented for the first time in many years by a full track team, of which Gannon, the popular Sacramento high school athlete, is captain. Among the team's most prominent men are Villinger, a crack sprinter; McKillican, the old Oakland high school weight man; Floyd Rice, the well known interscholastic weight champion of the Sacramento valley, and A. F. Gates, a speedy sprinter and middle distance man, who is also a good broad jumper, having a record of more than 21 feet. If this meet is the success it promises to be the state fair association will ask the Pacific athletic association for the next state championship track and field meet.

BOXING FEATURE OF CLUB'S SOCIAL

Two Kinds of Bouts, Gymnastics and Punch entertain S. A. C. Members.

Two hundred and fifty members of the Sacramento Athletic club were entertained by their friends in the club gymnasium last night at the first party given by the new organization. Boxing and wrestling bouts were the principal forms of entertainment, but a liberal allowance of punch served to put an edge on the evening's pleasure.

The go between Erickson, the terrible Swede of the athletic club, and Pete Johnson of the Turn Verein was the class A event of the evening. Both men dug into the fray as if there was a purse hanging up in each corner at the end of a round. Johnson carried honors in the first and Erickson got away with the better part of the second. The third was furious, without result.

A wrestling match between O'Connor of the Reliance club of Oakland and Beede of the local club attracted considerable interest. As in the case of the principal boxing match, each man got a fall and they went the time limit before either was able to make the deciding flip.

Monte Newbert and John Schenk, who are soon to go on a vaudeville circuit, did the stunt which they will make a specialty and gave several other clever exhibitions of tumbling and acrobatic work. Their feature stunt was a "full twister spotter," which is the technical name for a very difficult stunt.

Delano and Hoffman went a warm three rounds, but no decisions were given in any of the events. Bill Johnson and Gray appeared in the heavyweight boxing event, and Michael and Childs did the lightweight boxing stunt. Other boxing matches were between Hallanan and Sollan, McAllister and McAllister, J. McAllister and Wheat, and McMurry and Kay. In the final bout Kay secured a knockdown.

Bacon and Hallanan wrestled and the latter secured the greater number of falls.

MORE CUPS FOR ATHLETES OFFERED

Howden Enters for Marathon. Names Are All in for the Meet.

The latest cup to be hung up by local merchants for athletic victors in the State Fair meet is one by the Wasserman-Gattmann Co. This cup will be for one of the Marathon men who will appear in their long race September 2, Governor's day.

Another cup has been hung up by the Shrieve Co. of San Francisco. This trophy will be for one of the Marathon leaders. With the exception of one for the relay race, the trophies offered complete the list. Medals are being made and will probably be placed on display with the cups today or tomorrow.

Entries for the events of Saturday have been closed, but names for the Marathon are still coming in. The latest to be received is that of Robert Howden, who won the long-distance event held here on "Sacramento day." Howden was expected to enter.

SOCIAL NIGHT AT S.A.C. SUCCESS

Some 300 members of the Sacramento Athletic Club enjoyed the first social evening given since its organization. Boxing, wrestling and a tumbling exhibition were the features of the evening. Punch was served in the way of refreshments.

The boxing matches of three rounds each were all fast and snappy. The star event was between Erickson, the "Terrible Swede" of the club, and Pete Johnson of the Turn Verein. They went at it hammer and tongs for the three innings, and finished even. Johnson and Gray, Hallanan and Sollan, Michael and Childs, McAllister and Wheat and Kay and McMorry furnished the other bouts.

O'Connor of Oakland and Beede of the local club wrestled for two falls, each securing one. Frank Bacon and Hallanan each secured a fall in the other match on the mat.

The final feature was the tumbling in which Monte Newbert and John Schenck and son were the principals. The youngster was there with the double flips, and every other kind of a turn, and the crowd applauded heartily. The evening was a complete success.

M'ENTEE AND GISSING ENTER 600-YARD RACE

Middle Distance Event Will Prove All-Star Contest Between East and West.

SIX CUPS FOR THE VICTORS

Y. M. C. A. and S. A. C. Already Send Entries—Other Clubs to Promise Names.

Two of the national stars who competed at Seattle have sent their entry blanks to participate in the athletic meet in connection with the State Fair opening here next Saturday. They are James McEntee of the New York A. C., who is junior national champion in the middle-distance events, and Harry E. Gissing of the New York A. C., who is a national star in the 440-yard dash and the half mile. So visitors to the fair will see a field of stars from the East and West in the 600-yard scratch race Saturday.

MERCHANTS OFFER CUPS.

Sacramento merchants are offering cups for the events. It was originally intended that five cups, two for the relay, two for the Marathon, and one for the team getting the greatest number of points, should constitute the total, but yesterday the Kimball & Upson company announced that it would hang up a handsome cup for the Sacramento boy making the greatest number of points. Albert Elkus has donated the point trophy which will go to the team winning the meet. H. Wachhorst has hung up the cup for the team winning the relay race.

The officials who will handle the meet comprise those most in amateur athletics of California. Lionel A. Wolff, a P. A. A. official in San Francisco, will referee the meet. Mr. Wolff was in charge of the meet here on "Sacramento Day." Coach Stanton of Pomona college will be the starter, and Sidney S. Pexotto, a P. A. A. official and leader in amateur athletics in San Francisco, will be scorer. George W. Schitter of the San Francisco playground commission, will be field marshal, and Joe Hickie of San Francisco has been selected as clerk of the course. J. A. Hammersmith of San Francisco, Albert Elkus and H. M. McGregor of Sacramento will be timers. F. H. Traxler of Sacramento has been selected to do the announcing. The athletic committee in charge of the meet is composed as follows: J. H. Nill, chairman; Joseph Reisner of the Y. M. C. A., Fred Pearl of the Capital City Wheelmen, John Schenck of the Turn Verein.

MARATHON POPULAR.

The ten-mile Marathon which is being planned for Governor's day, Thursday, September 2d, is proving popular, as did a previous one held in Sacramento. Nearly ten men have already sent in their entries. Among those to race will be Robert Howden of St. Mary's college, who won the ten-mile race here on "Sacramento Day." Others who have sent in their entry blanks are as follows: T. W. Buzzo of San Jose Y. M. C. A., Robert Schmitt of Stockton, Harry Woods of Sacramento, Charles Steward, formerly of St. Mary's, but now o the Sacramento Athletic club, and Frank Arduin of the Sacramento Athletic club.

But the 600-yard race will undoubtedly be the most important of the meet. As matters now stand, it will be of national importance, the entrance of McEntee and Gissing placing it on that footing. A long dispute as to the supremacy of the East over the West in the middle-distance race exists, and the Sacramento event should serve to settle the matter, as the best men of the East and the West will be pitted against each other to take the best two races out of three. McEntee is junior national champion. At Seattle he was beaten by Glarner of the Olympic club, but retaliated and won from Glarner at San Francisco last Saturday. The Sacramento meet will give these men a chance to settle their natural dispute. At Seattle Gissing won from John O. Miller of the Olympic club and Stanford in the 880-yard dash, but Miller won the same event in San Francisco last Saturday.. The 600-yard dash is for all middle-distance men. Miller, McEntee, Gissing and Glarner, besides many other stars, will appear. The race will be the first of its kind on the coast with national stars as participants. McEntee also entered in the 440-yard dash. Gissing enters the 440-yard dash and the half mile besides the all-star event.

Sacramento will furnish its share of the entries. The Y. M. C. A. and the athletic club names are already in. Those who will represent the Y. M. C. A. are as follows: Jensen, high jump; Chase and Simmermacher, sprints; Donald, mile; Price, 440-yard dash and broad jump; Blake, weights. The association will have a relay team.

Sacramento Athletic club entries are as follows: Bowden, Beede, Cowie, Kay, Falconer, sprints; Sparks, Childs, mile and half mile; Gannon, sprints and high jump; Shoemake, pole vault; Luce, Dalton, Root, McKillican, Gray and Curtiss, weights; Wilmunder, 440-yard dash. The club will have a relay team. The Turn Verein and Capital City Wheelmen have both signified their intention of entering teams.

Saturday's Meet Was Great Success

Olympic Club Gets Big Boost by Showing Against the Eastern Athletes.

As a result of the splendid showing made by the Olympic Club athletes against the top-notch performers of New York, Boston and Chicago at the Stadium on Saturday afternoon, amateur athletics on the Pacific Coast have taken a decided bound forward, and before the year is out it is expected that San Francisco wil be agog with enthusiasm over this branch of sport. Every one of the 7,000 or more spectators who were present last Saturday went home delighted with the clean-cut manner in which the meet was conducted and the showing made by the local team. The men who have indulged in athletics in times past made mental resolutions to get back into trunks and jerseys and go to it again, while many a sturdy youngster who had never before realized what amateur athletics meant, resolved to join some one of the big associations and try for the laurels which mean so much to these strong-hearted lovers of sport.

Ballard Beats Indian.

Perhaps the most notable performance of the day was the double victory of Joseph Ballard, of the Boston Athletic Asociation. After winning a gruelling mile race from such sterling performers as Craig and Noble, the Hub City runner entered the three-mile event, contesting with Harry McLean, the young Indian who had just been proclaimed five-mile national champion at Seattle, and Fred Bellars of New York. Up to the last turn Balard allowed McLean to set the pace. Then, in a tremendous murst of speed, he darted ahead of the red man and won handily, with a margin of ten yards. It was a remarkable performance and will stand as a record for some time to come. The time did not equal the world's record, but the double victory, both against champions, will insure Ballard a great reception when he returns to his home in Massachusetts.

Snedigar, Miller and Rose endeared themselves to the local contingent by their splendid performances in the track and field. All of them were on their mettle, and though Rose lost the discuss throw because the officials became tangled up in their records, he more than retrieved himself in the hammer throw and 56-pound weight, and established a new world's record in the shot put. Snedigar, after winning the broad jump from Frank Irons, the national champion, entered the javelin contest for the first time in his career and took second to Horner of Chicago and other top-notchers who have been practicing for months.

Rose Is Invincible.

Ralph Rose, the Healdsburg giant, again demonstrated that he is the greatest weight thrower in America, if not in the world, by hurling a 16-pound shot for a distance of fifty-one feet, thus exceeding his own world's record of 50 feet 4 inches, made some time ago. The discus event was perhaps the most unsatisfactory of the day, the result being that Joe Horner, a sturdy young athlete from Chicago, secured first place, with Lawrence second and Rose a poor third. Several of the spectators saw Rose throw the wood and iron disk a distance of 124 feet and heard the result announced, but for some unaccountable reason the throw was not recorded and Rose was forced to content himself with third place. He took second in the 56-pound event and second in the hammer throw.

Two or three of the Eastern athletes who took part in Saturday's meet have decided to stake out claims here and when the teams left for home yesterday James McIntee and Henry Gissing, top-notch track men of the N. Y. A. C., remained behind and will go into business in San Francisco. Several others were loud in their praises of central California and announced their intentions of returning to the Western metropolis as son as they could arrange their affairs in the East. Altogether the first national meet of the Olympic Club was a pronounced success and will do much to place amateur athletics in their rightful position on the Pacific Coast.

Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club is in charge of the affair and is being co-operated with by the heads of every athletic association in the valley. An invitation has been extended to President Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States to be present at the big meet and officiate as referee. The invitation, which has been sent to Mr. Sullivan by Hon. J. A. Filcher, also requests that any and all athletes now competing in the events at the fair in Seattle be requested to come to Sacramento and take part in the meet in this city on the 28th.

The plan is to get a representative delegation of athletes from Seattle who have gathered there from all parts of the United States. Many of the athletes are world's champions and recognized masters in their special line. They will be in San Francisco August 21st, and it is hoped that they can be induced to come to this city for the meet August 28th.

Every competitor must be a registered amateur athlete in the A. A. U. or a member o fthe subsidiary association, the P. A. A. More definite arrangements are expected within a few days. Prizes will be awarded as follows:

Registration fee is 25c per year, and cards may be obtained from Douglas Erskine, 217 Front street, San Francisco.

All the local athletic teams are pleased over the securing of water for the track at McKinley park. Much credit is due to H. A. Nauman, city trustee, for through his efforts the water was obtained. The pipes are being laid from the city limits to the track and it will not be long before the McKinley park track will be the finest in the valley.

WILL BID FOR ANNUAL P.A.A. ATHLETIC MEET

State Fair Directors Plan to Make Championship Event a Feature.

STARS MAY COMPETE HERE

Nill Goes to San Francisco to Invite Men Who Met at Seattle to Come.

In promoting the athletic meet in connection with the state fair the agricultural society directors are laying their wires to get hold of the annual Pacific Athletic Association championship meet and make it a permanent feature of the exposition. At the present time the P. A. A. championship meet wanders about the state seeking a place that will take the responsibility of conducting it from year to year. In preparing to take hold of the association's annual championship meet the state fair directors expect the cooperation of the P. A. A. officials, who, it is thought, would undoubtedly welcome a permanent home for the perambulating event.

NILL SPRUNG IT.

It was Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club who offered the idea in connection with his scheme for an athletic meet in connection with the coming fair, and it was accepted as one that might mean much to the success of the coming fairs. The P. A. A. meet always draws a large number of spectators and the best athletes on the coast. It is the windup of spring athletic activities on field and track and decides among the ever-increasing number of aspirants who are to excel and who will represent the coast in the great games of the nation at the Olympic games. If the meet planned for the coming fair is successful, and it promises to be, the agricultural society directors will bid for the P. A. A. meet next year as a permanent feature.

In the meantime Secretary Filcher of the society and Physical Director Nill, who practically has supervision of the meet, are bending every effort to bring the best athletes in the country here. Nill will go to San Francisco today and talk with those who come to this state fresh from the games at Seattle, and ask them to attend the carnival at Sacramento. San Francisco has arranged a meet for these men and will hold it Saturday. The following Saturday the Sacramento meet will be held.

The regular field and track events planned for the meet will all be handicap affairs so that the novice will have the same opportunity as the veteran. But the novice will not have to enter the same events as the world beaters Nill intends to import. For these special events will be arranged. The nucleus is found in the 100-yard dash scratch race and the 600-yard scratch race slated on the program. The short event will be for sprinters and the long one for distance men.

WOULD DECIDE DISPUTE.

In the distance event it is hoped to bring Glarner of the Olympic club and Harry Hillman of the New York Athletic club together and decide the long-standing dispute between the West and the East regarding supremacy in this race. Hillman is recognized champion in the East, his best time being 1:12 1-5. Glarner has defeated every one on the coast at 1:14, and has never been pressed, so it is thought never did his best. Hillman was at Seattle, and is expected to enter the San Francisco meet. Other men from the East, it is hoped, will race in the 600-yard run. C. Edmundson of the Seattle A. C., who beat John O. Miller of Stanford in the half at 1:55½, may be induced to come, and it is hoped Miller may also take a try in the event. Ballard, the fastest mile man in the West, and McIntee of the New York A. C., junior 440 champion, are others who are expected to enter. If these men come the race will attract national interest.

The 100-yard dash affords not quite as much interest, but an opportunity for a sensational race. A scratch race for the best hurdlers on the coast will be arranged.

It is assured that entries will be received from the principal institutions and clubs in the state. Mr. Nill yesterday received assurance from St. Mary's college that a team will be entered to represent that institution. Names of unattached athletes are being received daily.

An interesting fact relative to the medals developed yesterday. When the state fair directors took hold of the athletic meet they began to plunge with the intention of making it a success. According to their beliefs no less than $50 should be spent for each gold medal. Preparations had been made to order medals at this price when Mr. Nill informed Secretary Filcher that no medal exceeding $32 in value could be received by an amateur athlete. Medals are to be many in number, so that every athlete who enters will be within striking distance.

The handicap feature is one which Instructor Nill thinks will make the event popular. The handicap gives a young athlete an opportunity to compete on an even footing with the more experienced man. Handicapping will be entirely in the hands of Douglas Erskine, who is an official of the P. A. A.

Mr. Nill expects to hear today whether or not James E. Sullivan, president of the A. A. U., will act as referee of the state fair meet.

U. 8-18-09.

Entered will be men from the Sacramento Athletic Club, the Y. M. C. A., the Sacramento Wheelmen, the Turners, Stockton A. A., Olympic A. C., St. Mary's College, the California Club, Reliance A. C., and scattered entries of eastern athletes, and some from Woodland, Marysville and Chico.

The cream of the track events will be the 600-yard run. McIngee and Gissing, the New York A. C. titleholders, will be entered. This is to be a grudge-settling contest and therefore will have an added est for the fan interested in field athletics.

100 yards scratch, 100 yards handicap, 220 yards handicap, 440 handicap, 600 scratch, 880 handicap, mile handicap, mile relay, 220-yard low hurdles, high and broad jump, shotput and hammer-throw.

There will be no discus hurling.

A long list of entries has been sent by Physical Director Nill of the S. A. C., who is chairman of the meet committee, to San Francisco experts for handicapping. Among the best-known will be Snediger of the O. A. C., broad jumper; Miller and Glarner, 600 yard specialists from the Olympic; Beason and Martin, high jumpers; Craig, star miler, Klaw hammer-thrower, and Bambough, broad jumper, all from the Olympic.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will be well represented. They expect to lasso a prize or two. Following are among those who will take part: Gannon, Shoemaker, Villinger, Bedee and Cowie in the sprints; Gannon, Shoemaker and Kay in the high jump; Sparks, Childs and Stewart in the middle distance events; Woods, Arduin, C. Stewart and Falconer in the long distance; Dalton, Gray, Lucey, Garrison, Root and McKillican in the weights; and in the remaining events will participate various ones from among those already named.

The officials will all be well-known experts, as follows:

Chairman of the meet L. A. Wolff, a P. A. RECORDS MAY BE BROKEN AT FAIR MEET SATURDAY

Prospects are bright for a very successful field meet here when many well known local and outside athletes gather on the race track at the state fair grounds Saturday afternoon. Several national records may be broken, particularly that set by Ralph Rose in the weight events. Rose will spend every ounce of his strength and all his skill in the effort to beat his own unequalled mark.

The program begins at 2:30 p. m. All the events will take place or finish directly in front of the grandstand on the track.

Some Trophies Hung Up for State Fair Athletes

The Kimball-Upson company cup is for the Sacramento boy taking the greatest number of points. Wassermann-Gattmann cup is for a Marathon winner.

Temple of Music

The largest, best equipped and most magnificent piano house in the United States is the new home of the Sherman, Clay & Allen Company, now located at 135-153 Kearny Street and 26-30 Sutter Street. At the grand opening a few days ago, over 500 pianos were exhibited on the first three floors. Among them on the second floor were nearly 40 Grands, some of them the latest and smallest Grands manufactured and cost no more than the best large size, high-grade Uprights. During this week we will pay railroad fare and all expenses to San Francisco to those wishing to purchase from us any one of our various makes of pianos.

PIANO BARGAINS.

In our Sacramento store this week we have exceptional values to offer in slightly used and second-hand pianos; among them is a Steinway, Chickering and a Fischer. Prices ranging from $125 and upward. All Uprights and in fine condition with exceptional tonal quality. If you are interested either now or within two years from date, you will profit by giving us a call during the State Fair at our house, 625 [illegible]

ATHLETES OF STATE WILL MEET ON FAIR OPENING

Middle Distance Men of East and West to Meet in 600-Yard Event---Three Cups Promise to Remain in Sacramento.

Followers of the athletic game will see today in the first annual State Fair meet several contests which will excite local interest and one which has resolved itself into a coast to coast fight for honors as fleetest man in the middle distance event. A hundred and twenty-two entries have been made for the meet, and as it will be a handicap affair, a contest is certain in each event.

The meet will have more of a local tone than the previous big meet held in Sacramento this year. At least three of the cups hung up will probably remain in this city. The point trophy offered for the Sacramento boy making the greatest number of points, and hung up by the Kimball-Upson company, is certain to remain here. The relay cup offered by H. Wachhorst company is certain to remain here, for the Y. M. C. A. and the Sacramento Athletic club are the only organizations entering teams. At the present time it looks as if the team point trophy will be won by a Sacramento club, for the outsiders have not entered complete teams.

The 600-yard race, of course, promises to be the sensational race of the day because coast stars are pitted against those of the Atlantic, mainly McEntee and Gissing of the New York Athletic club. Garner and Elliott of the Olympic club will be the principal coast representatives.

The 100-yard scratch event, which was originally planned for outside stars, has narrowed down to a race between local men. Those entered for this event are Gannon of the S. A. C., Kidder of the C. C. W., and Villinger, who is unattached. Gannon and Kidder promise to be the principal contestants in the high jump. The last time these men met they tied at 5 feet 6 inches.

The handicaps for the half-mile relay race, which lies between the Athletic club and the Y. M. C. A., have not arrived, but are expected here this afternoon. A deal of rivalry had been aroused in this event, mainly because it is an even-up struggle for a handsome cup. The Y. M. C. A. will be represented by the following men: Chase, Simmermacher, Price, Bening, Hammach, Donald. Those who will run for the Sacramento Athletic club are as follows: Gannon, Beede, Shoemake, Kay, Stewart, Sparks.

The only sprint race that had to be arranged for heats was the 100-yard dash, for which there were sixteen entries. This event will be run in three heats. An unexpected entry for the handicap 100 was received from the Barbarians of the Olympic club. Alfred Munn, the former interscholastic star, is the dark horse. As a representative of Oakland high school a short time ago Munn broke several A. A. L. records, but went to U. C. and made a very poor showing. Munn has entered for the 100-yard dash, but, of course, because of his record, has been placed close to scratch.

From a spectator's standpoint, today's meet will probably be the most satisfactory held in Sacramento. The Morse patrol will keep the track entirely cleared of those not directly interested in the races. All events will be run off in full view of the grandstand. The Marathon, which is attracting a great deal of interest, will not be run off until September 2, which will be Governor's day.

The officials who will be in charge of the meet today will be as follows:

Referee, L. A. Wolff; field marshal, George W. Schitler; track judges, Chief John E. Sullivan, M. N. Kimball and P. A. Pearl; timers, Albert Elkus, J. A. Hammersmith, H. M. McGregor, Robert Lloyd; field judges, George Curtis, Dr. C. O. Engstrom, Charles Lumbard; starter, C. Stanton; track scorer, Eustace Pexotto; field scorer, A. Givan; clerk of the course, Joseph Hickey; assistant clerk of the course, J. Redman; handicapper, Douglas Erskine; inspectors, Frank Bacon, J. Rose, Ted Koening; announcer, E. H. Traxler; bulletin clerk, Otto Futterer.

The entries are given below with the handicaps allowed each man. Scratch men are the stars. In the list, S. A. C. stands for Sacramento athletic club; N. Y., New York athletic club; O. C., Olympic club; Rel., Reliance club; Un., unattached; St. M., St. Mary's college; Barb., Barbarians; S. T. V., Sacramento Turn Verein. The entries follow:

REGULARS PROVE THEY'RE THE STARS

There has been quite a little rivalry at the Sacramento Athletic Club lately in regard to positions on the baseball team. Those not on the team, but who have aspirations, evidently thought that the regular team was a bunch of has-beens, for they organized a team of their own, calling themselves the Outlaws. Outlaws they still are, for the regulars won out by 4 to 1 yesterday, thus vindicating the manager in his choice of material.

ALL READY FOR THE FIELD MEET

Final arrangements preliminary to the important field meet under the auspices of the Pacific Athletic Association tomorrow afternoon at the State fair were being made today by the local members of the committee in charge. The track has been put in fine shape and is fast.

Physical Director Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. this morning submitted his full entry list. Ten of the association athletes will take part. These, with the large number from the Sacramento Athletic Club, the Sacramento Wheelmen and the Turners, will form an imposing bevy of Sacramento defenders.

The meet will start at 2:30. All the events will be held or finish directly in front of the grandstand on the race track.

The following official list of entries was made public late this afternoon by Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who had just received them from San Francisco:

Sacramentans Win Honors in State Fair Meet

Gannon Is Star of Day, and Gissing Defeats Glarner in the 660 Yard Race

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—The best field day in this part of the state for keenness of contests was that held at Agricultural park track this afternoon as one of the features of the state fair opening. Competition was rife among the contenders, and although the Sacramento athletic club won the meet, this was mainly through their numbers and the skill of their captain, G. F. Gannon. Gannon was the star of the day, winning three first events, enough points to entitle his team to the team trophy. The Sacramento athletic club captured seven of the 14 events.

The day's special event, the 660 yard race, brought out a pretty struggle between Andy Glarner of the Olympic club of San Francisco and Gissing of the New York athletic club. It was a tight race, neck and neck up to within five yards of the line, when Gissing spurted and barely breasted the tape ahead of the crack winged O runner. The time made in this race was 1:26 2-5.

When these men entered for the half mile another close event was expected, but Gissing dropped behind soon after the start and Glarner had things his own way. Lombard ran second to Glarner. The time for the half mile was 2.15.

H. R. Elliott of the Barbarians defeated the two New York athletes, Gissing and McEntee, in the 440 yard dash, going the distance in :50 2-5.

The success of the meet has encouraged those who handled it to determine to make a strong bid for the P. A. A. annual meet. Summary:

220 yard dash—Elliott, Barbarians, first; Beebe, Y. M. C. A., second; Villinger, S. A. C., third. Time :23 1-5.

Broad jump—Won by Kidder, S. A. C., 18 feet 9 inches.

Harry Elliot Wins Two Races at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, August 28.—A good crowd turned out to the athletic meet held at Agricultural Park this afternoon at which a number of visiting athletes of high class competed.

The principal event of the day was expected to be the 600-yard scratch race in which McEntee and Gissing of New York were entered against Glarner of the Olympic Club. McEntee did not start and Gissing won handily from Glarner, only the two starting.

H. R. Elliot of the Barbarian Athletic Club of San Francisco showed greatly improved form in the quarter-mile and the 220-yard events, both of which he won. The quarter-mile lay between Elliot, Gissing and McEntee. The scratch man ran a good race, but he could not quite get up to the Barbarian runner; who had fourteen yards' start, and Gissing with seven yards also beat out the champion. Elliot won the 220 yards from the nine-yard mark.

Most of the other events went to local men, and the handicap runners carried off their share of the prizes.

The summary:

The Sacramento Athletic club overwhelmingly won the first annual State Fair track and field meet yesterday, and a member of the team, Captain Gannon, was the largest point winner, almost doubling on his nearest competitor. The fact that the S. A. C. relay men led from the start and finished first, completed a perfect chain of victories for the local organization, one which means that all three cups hung up for competitiors will adorn the walls of the athletic club.

The Capital City Wheelmen proved the athletic club's nearest competitors, but had no chance of claiming the cup, piling up a total of only 13. The three local clubs were bunched, for the Y. M. C. A. was next tied with the Olympic club, with 11 points. Gannon's points totaled 20, won in six events. His nearest competitors were Glarner of the Olympic club and Beede of the Sacramento Athletic club, with 11 each.

GLARNER BEATS GISSING.

One of the notable events of the day was the defeat of Gissing of the New York Athletic club by Glarner of the Olympic club in the half mile. Gissing dropped out at the quarter post, the coast champion having set too stiff a pace for him. At last the West has triumphed over the East in a middle-distance event. Gissing was the victor over the fleet Olympic club man both at Seattle and in San Francisco last Saturday.

Contrary to general expectations, the 880-yard handicap event pitted the East against the West more completely than did the 600-yard event, the only two competitors in which were Gissing and Glarner. McEntee and Gissing entered with Glarner in the 880 run as scratch men, and with them were Lumbard of the Y. M. C. A. and Childs of the athletic club. McEntee, Gissing and Glarner started abreast, but the tall national champion dropped out before the first quarter had been passed. He complained of not being in the best of health. Together Gissing and Glarner ran, gaining on the handicap men until the quarter pole was passed. Glarner was playing the game for all he was worth, and took the early part of the race fast, believing he could bluff out his man. It succeeded and just after finishing the 440 Gissing dropped back and joined McEntee, who was walking in. Glarner finished in the lead, Lumbard of the Y. M. C. A. second and Childs of the athletic club third.

GISSING 600-YARD VICTOR.

Though the followers of the game were disappointed in not seeing McEntee entered in the 600-yard scratch event, it proved a pretty race between Glarner and Gissing—the West and the East. The New York man nosed it over the line two feet in advance of the Olympic star, and he won the race in his last two strides. Up to and past the quarter pole the men came chest to chest and into the 220 running evenly. Then the nip and tuck tussle started. Glarner leaped into the lead, and a shout went up from the coast advocates. The runner in red looked like a sure winner until they broke into the last fifty yards. Then Gissing showed a remarkable burst of speed, indicating he had saved himself until the finish. A few powerful strides brought him abreast with Glarner, and three more steps took him against the tape, two feet in the lead.

The 440-yard handicap proved an all-star event, Elliott, Gissing, McEntee and McCauley being in at the finish. Elliott's handicap gave him sufficient lead to maintain him until the end. At one time McEntee looked like a winner, but he was closely pressed by McCauley, who was also a scratch man. At the finish, however, Gissing again proved the value of two or three powerful strides at the end, and easily stepped into second place. McEntee was third and McCauley was a close fourth. The field of handicap starters was distanced.

Gannon won the 100-yard scratch event from Villinger by two or three yards, only two entries appearing. In the handicap 100-yards. Gannon had a good lead, his nearest competitor being Beede, and Bening, the third man, who ran close to second. Gannon appeared in the only real contest of the field events. It was the high jump. He dropped it to Kidder, who cleared the bar an inch higher. With ten points in the weights, McKilligan of the Sacramento Athletic club, somewhat of a dark horse, was easily the star. He was first in both the shot-put and the hammer-throw.

Sparks carried first in the mile, in which all men were handicapped, but a pretty contest developed between Steward of the S. A. C. and Donald of the Y. M. C. A., who were third and second. Steward had a good lead up to the last hundred yards, but Donald had judiciously saved himself for the sprint, and easily passed his opponent. This event, which was entered entirely by local boys, was made in fast time.

Although handicapped, Glarner almost overtook Gannon in the 220 hurdles, but lost his stride and was compelled to be content with second, which he won from Chase in the last few strides. Elliott had a good lead in the 220 handicap and finished strong.

Bening of the Y. M. C. A., who led off in the relay, was a few feet in the rear of Shoemake when he finished the first 440 lap of the mile event. Chase was unable to maintain for the Y. M. C. A. the position he had been given, and relinquished a good bit of ground to Beede. Hammack of the Y. M. C. A. lost a little to Sparks of the S. A. C., but Donald picked up on Stewart in the final lap; but the lead was too great for him, and the cup went to S. A. C.

S. A. C. GETS AWAY WITH MAJORITY OF TRIUMPHS

The first track meet to be held by the State Agricultural Society was won Saturday afternoon at Agricultural Park by the Sacramento Athletic Club, cleaning up the majority of victories and winning over all others by 55 points. This means that all three cups offered go to the local organization.

The nearest competitor was the Capital City Wheelmen of this city with 13 points. The Sacramento Y. M. C. A. and Olympic Club of San Francisco each scored 11 points, while the other honors were distributed with the Barbarians of San Francisco, 10; New York Athletic Club, 9; unattached athletes 3, and Sacramento Turn Verein 2.

Captain Gannon, of the Sacramento Athletic Club's track team, proved to be the best all around athlete of the lot, being able to get away with 20 points by himself, which was nearly double that of his nearest opponent. Beede, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Glarner, of the Olympics, got away with 11 points each, and the next three principal point winners with 10 each to their credit were McKilligan, of the Sacramento Athletic Club; Kidder, of the Capital City Wheelmen, and Elliott, of the Barbarians. Gissing, of the New York Athletic Club, scored well by taking 8 points.

Glarner, of the Olympic Club, accomplished a feat which was one of the proudest in his career by defeating Gissing, of the New York Athletic Club, in the half-mile event. Gissing dropped out early in the race. Gissing won over the San Franciscan at Seattle and again in San Francisco.

Gissing, however, triumphed over Glarner in the 600-yard run by touching the tape only two feet ahead of the Westerner. This race was one of the most exciting of the day. Both men were in a position to win and the few extra strides placed the New York man in that position.

Gannon got away with an exciting run in the 100-yard scratch event when he beat Villinger, his only opponent, by several feet. The handicap 100-yard dash was easily won by Gannon. He got away with a good lead and held it with Beede second and Bening third. Gannon bid well for the first honors in the high jump, but fell to second place with Kidder of the same club going over the bar an inch higher—5 feet and 5 inches.

The relay started off with Bening, of the Y. M. C. A., in the lead, but by the time the final lap was reached the Sacramento Athletic Club sprinters proved to be the quicker and readily got away with the crowning victory of the meet.

Summary:

100-yard dash, scratch—Gannon (S. A. C.), first, Villinger (unattachd) second. Time—11 seconds.

100-yard dash, handicap—Gannon (S. A. C.), 6 yards, first; Beede (S. A. C.), 8 yards, second; Bening (Y. M. C. A.), 5 yards, third. Time—10.3 seconds.

GANNON IS STAR OF THE FIELD MEET

Saturday's field and track meet at the fair brought into action many promising amateur athletes and although no records were broken, their feats were very creditable. Medals and cups were numerous, Sacramento clubs and individuals winning the majority of them.

The Sacramento Athletic Club entered a strong team with the result that they took 55 points with the other competitors all below 13. The Capital City Wheelmen made 13 points, the Sacramento Turn Verein 2, and the Y. M. C. A. of this city 11. The Olympic Club of Can Francisco carried off 11 points, the Barbarians 10, New York Athletic Club 9, and unattached athletes 3.

Captain Gannon of the S. A. C., made 20 points, winning two cups and several medals. His nearest competitor was Glarner of the Olympic Club, who won 11 points. Bedee, McKilligan and Kidder, local contestants, all did good work and made 10 points each.

Before rather a light crowd the big field meet under the auspices of the P. A. A. was started this afternoon at Agricultural Park on the race track. The athletes were all apparently in prime condition and the track was in good shape. The first event, the high jump, was started at 3:05.

WALTER KNOX IS FOUND TO BE "RINGER"

A sensation was sprung in amateur circles at the bay yesterday when it became known that the officials of the Pacific Athletic Association had called Walter Knox, an all-star athlete, on the carpet and confronted him with evidence that he was not an amateur, as he had been proclaiming, but a professional who was thrown out of the amateur ranks in 1902 by the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. Knox admitted he had been sailing under false colors and fraudulenty winning cups and prizes in amateur circles on the Coast, but gave as a defense that he had given the truth of his standing to Frank McKane, of the registration committee, and Wady Glarner, captain of the Olympic team. Investigations will likely follow and the two later officials called upon for an explanation.

Knox's work in the 100 yard dash, broad jump, pole vault and shot put stamped him as a crack athlete and he was picked to represent the Olympic team at the Seattle Exposition. A few days before the team departed he pleaded press of business and refused to go. It has now been acertained that he feared exposure from the Eastern athletes who were familiar with his professional reputation in the East.

Knox will be remembered by Sacramentans as the Winged O athlete who competed in the Sacramento Day carnival. He captured the 100 yard dash in 10 flat and took places in other sprints and in the hammer throw.

ENTRIES FOR 10-MILE MARATHON

Seven entries had been received by Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic Club for the 10-mile Marathon run which will be a big feature at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon. Other entries, particularly from St. Mary's College, are expected late today.

The entries thus far received are as follows:

Robert Howden, Jr., St. Mary's A. A.; W. H. Hoburg Jr., Olympic Club; F. B. Yanazzi, Kahmadans A. C.; Robert Schmidt, Stockton Athletic Association; Charles Stewart and H. A. Woods of the Sacramento Athletic Club and J. Lorenze, unattached. It is believed that Schmidt of Stockton and Howden of St. Mary's stand the best show of the entries received.

EIGHT ATHLETES ENTER MARATHON

HOWDEN OF ST. MARY'S COLLEGE AND SCHMIDT OF STOCKTON ARE FAVORITES.

An added feature to the State Fair races to-morrow, Governor's Day, will be the ten-mile Marathon race between trained athletes of this and other cities. Eight entries for this endurance test have been received by Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic Club and a closely contested event is looked for.

The course of the race will be ten laps around the race track, instead of a detour of the city as was had on Sacramento Day. The entry of Robert Howden of St. Mary's College and Robert Schmidt of Stockton means a hard race between these two. Howden won the Sacramento Day Marathon.

The eight athletes entered are as follows: Robert Howden, Jr., St. Mary's College; W. H. Hoburg, Jr., Olympic Club; J. B. Zanazzi, Kahmadans A. C. of San Francisco; Robert Schmidt of Stockton; Charles Stewart, H. A. Woods and Frank Arduin of the Sacramento Athletic Club; J. Lorenzo of San Francisco.

CALIFORNIA STATE FAIR, August 28th to September 4th

The following is a complete account of the Big Athletic Meet held on Saturday, the first day of the Fair, and the program for the rest of the week including the entries for the Races on each day.

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club are righteously puffed up over the remarkable showing of the clubs prowess on the first day, in the athletic contests, of the California State Fair.

A great deal of interest was shown in the athletic announcements and a large crowd was in attendance to witness what proved to be a very eventful day, producing several spectacular contests.

The main cause for the wholesale rejoicing is the victory of Glarner of the Olympic Club over Gissing of the New York Athletic Club in the half mile.

Gissing had previously defeated the Olympic man at Seattle and in San Francisco on Saturday, the 21st of this month. But at Sacramento there was a feeling that the third meeting of the two runners would end wih a victory for the Westerner. Such surmise proved to be the case, for from the start Glarner set the pace and Gissing could not get the lead, although he made several powerful attempts to nose in to the advantage.

In the 880-yard sprint another opportunity was afforded the spectators to let loose with a burst of enthusiasm.

McEntee, Gissing, Glarner, Lumbard and Childs were entered for the event, and at the start McEntee, Gissing, and Glarner were running abreast Glarner, if anything, in the lead. At the quarter post McEntee dropped out owing to indisposition and this left the Easterner and the Westerner, Gissing and Glarner, again in a race which was eagerly watched after their previous struggle. Glarner pressed ahead hard and took advantage of his slight lead in every possible way and his idea seemed to be to bluff the dogged Easterner. His ruse succeeded entirely, for Gissing dropped down to a walk at the 440 pole allowing Glarner to pass the tape with a clear space and bringing Lumbard and Childs up into second and third places respectively.

In the 660-yard event, the tables were turned, and Glarner was temporarily reversed by Gissing in one of the most interesting heats of the day.

It appeared up to the last twenty yards of the race that Glarner would again be the victor. The two men started off breast to breast and held this position up to within the last fifty yards. At this point, Glarner forged ahead and a burst of cheers went up for the defender of the West's title. As the two were approaching the tape, Glarner turned slightly to see where his second man was when, with a wonderful burst of speed, Gissing drew up and passing Glarner fell onto the tape barely a foot in the lead.

The 240-yard handicap again brought the afternoon's champions before the grandstand. Gissing, Elliott, McEntee, and McCauley led off, with Elliot well in advance with a big handicap. McEntee seemed to freshen up and it was thought likely that he would capture second place, Elliot's advantage being too much for the scratch men. On the last fifty yards of the stretch Gissing gave another exhibition of his spurting prowess and with a few well-timed and powerful strides slipped in second with McEntee a close third and McCauley trailing a close fourth.

In the 100-yard scratch dash Gannon wrested the laurels from Villinger, who was the only competitor, there being but two entries.

Gannon also took the first place in the 100-yard handicap sprint, with Beede and Benning a close second and third, respectively.

Gannon again came to the fore in the high and broad jumping events, but in the high jump was beaten by Kidder, who cleared the pole at five feet and four inches:

In the hammer throwing and shot putting events McKilligan of the Sacramento Athletic Club took all the honors.

In the mile run, Sparks, Steward and Donald kept close together up to the three-quarter pole and then gradually Sparks drew away from the other and broke through the tape in the eqcellent time ot 4:51. Steward and Donald made a pretty struggle on the last stretch for second place. They ran breast to breast up to within five feet of the post, when Donald, who had been saving himself, nosed in second.

In the 2:20 hurdles, Glarner, who was handicapped, came very near defeating Gannon, the winner of the event. Glarner, in clearing the fifth hurdle, missed his stride and therefore surrendered his chance in defeating Gannon, who cleared the wickets in magnificent style.

In the mile relay race the Sacramento Athletic Club were the victors over the Y. M. C. A. team.

The following is the summary:

Pole vault—Beede, Y. M. C. A., won; Shoemaker, S. A. C., second; Gannon, S. A. C., third. Height—9 feet 5 inches.

SACRAMENTO BECOMING A STATE ATHLETIC CENTER.

Sacramento is in a fair way to become an athletic center of the State. In the last year much toward this end has been accomplished. Previous to this season the main athletic events of the city and valley, aside from professional contests, which really belong to the show world, have been promoted by the S. V. I. A. L., the high school league; but an era of interest in athletic events, principally on the track and field, has taken possession of the young men of the city, and it appears that we are soon to stand on a par with other centers of population in California and on the Coast.

The Marathon craze, which was given birth to by Dorando's sensational finish ot the ancient race at the Olympic games in London nearly a year ago, was largely responsible for Sacramento's being brought to a realization of the possibilities of the track and field. A relay race around the capitol in the spring drew nearly 2,000 people, mostly because the newspapers vividly described Dorando's finish. The ignorant were curious to find out what such a race between human beings looked like. They were favorably impressed and asked for more.

The "The Sacramento Day" athletic event drew to this city some of the best athletes in the tSate and was a huge success. It interested young men who had never before been impressed bv anything but baseball. Although the spectators were not accorded the proper courtesy at this meet and interest lagged in some of the events, they still show a keen appreciation of the simple sprinting, running, jumping or weight-throwing contests between men.

The latest athletic event to attract Statewide interest, and one which promises to pave the way for an annual contest of California athletes in this city, was the State Fair meet held last Saturday. This meet brought not only State but two national stars to Sacramento. But it was only the beginning. Its success means that the State Fair directors will make it a permanent institution.

J. H. Nill of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who promoted this meet, looks forward to next year with the idea of claiming the P. A. A. annual meet for Sacramento. The Pacific Athletic Association furnishes the State's annual athletic championship event. This is the meet which is looked forward to by all aspirants for championship honors, and it really means more to the young athlete than any other affair of the year. If Sacramento can land this it will be truly a State athletic center, especially for the track and field.—Sacramento Union.

Would Wrest Marathon Honors From Howden

ZANAZZI : MARATHON RUNNER

U. 9-2-09.

ATHLETES RUN MARATHON TODAY

Howden, Winner of Sacramento Day Event, Will Be Here to Compete.

One of the State Fair features today will be a ten-mile Marathon race, the event that proved so popular with lovers of the sport on Sacramento day. This event was planned by Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club, who has charge of the State Fair athletic features, as a special race for Governor's day.

Eight entries have been received from various places in the state. Frank Arduin, who was expected to be one of the Sacramento representatives, announced last night that he will not be in the race, as he is out of condition, due to illness. The race will bring together Robert Howden of St. Mary's college, who won the event on Sacramento day; Frank C. Zanazzi of San Francisco, and Robert Schmidt of Stockton, all of whom are known as stars in the event. Besides these there are several unknown men, any one of which may prove a dark horse.

Zanazzi, who will represent the Kahmadane club of San Francisco, has met Howden twice, and each time was defeated in the ten-mile event. But he comes to Sacramento with renewed confidence and expects to make a better showing. A silver loving cup has been hung up for the winner of the event.

The event will probably be started at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be run around the track, instead of partially in the city, as was the case on Sacramento day. It will take probably a little more than an hour to run off the event.

Those who will enter the Marathon are as follows:

Robert Howden Jr., St. Mary's college; W. H. Hoburg Jr., Olympic club; J. B. Zanazzi, Kahmadane A. C. of San Francisco; Robert Schmidt of Stockton; Charles Stewart, H. A. Woods of the Sacramento Athletic club; J. Lorenzo of San Francisco.

S.A.C. ATHLETES TO RUN ON BAY TRACK

Sparks, Stewart and Gannon Going With Nill to Track Meet.

J. H. Nill, physical instructor for the Sacramento Athletic club, left yesterday to enter three local track men in the Shellmound events, which will be held in Oakland tomorrow.

Most of the track men of the Athletic club are taking a slight rest, prior to hard practice for the Portola festival events, which will take place in San Francisco on October 15. However, Stewart, Sparks and Gannon will leave today to enter the Shellmound park meet tomorrow. Sparks and Stewart will be seen in the half-mile event, and possibly in the 440. Gannon has not decided whether he will get into the sprints or not, but may enter the 220, which is just a little long for him.

The program at Shellmound is rather short, but the events are well filled and the entries include many of the best athletes in the state.

DEFI HURLED AT S.A.C. BY WHEELMEN

Clubs Quarrel and Duel Track Meet Is Planned to Settle It.

A strong rivalry has arisen between the Sacramento Athletic club and the Capital City Wheelmen, and it will probably develop into a track and field duel meet. The Wheelmen hold that not enough of their men were entered in the State Fair meet to give the club a fair representation, so they intend to train a little, meet the S. A. C. men in a duel meet and, if possible, demonstrate their superiority.

A breech was opened between the two clubs some time previous to the State Fair, and it has been widening since that time. The first matter that came between them was concocted when officials of the two organizations failed to get together in the matter of securing an athletic track.

But the little quarrel did not reach the acute state until Villinger, a local sprinter, signed up to enter the State Fair meet bearing the Athletic club colors. Villinger was also a member of the Wheelmen, and a short time previous had run in a meet for that organization. Hearing that he was planning to enter the meet as a representative of the Athletic club, the Wheelmen sent a committee to Instructor Nill, protesting that, under the A. A. U. rules, Villinger could not run for the new team until after a certain period of time which had not passed should elapse.

Villinger, therefore, appeared in the meet unattached.

But the quarrel over Villinger has raised a barrier between the clubs, and the only way it can be raised is by a duel. A duel track meet will serve just as well as one with guns or swords.

Roland Frazer, a leader in athletics of the C. C. W., returned to Sacramento Tuesday and discussed the situation with his fellows. A meeting was held and plans laid for the formation of a team which will immediately be put into training. Fraser said yesterday that he thought the C. C. W. could beat any track organization in the city in a duel meet, and that he wished to challenge the S. A. C. team for an affair of this kind in three weeks. Following the duel event the C. C. W. team will enter the Portola games in San Francisco, in October. The track squad will begin work Sunday.

Inspector Nill of the S. A. C. was asked last night if he would accept such a challenge in behalf of his track team and declared that he would. The Athletic club, he said, is willing to meet all comers.

A NEW ATHLETIC CLUB

Sacramento Organization Has Bunch of Runners That Give Much Promise.

By Eustace M. Peixotto

The track meet which was held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the State Fair a week ago was in many ways an important event in athletic circles. It was a good illustration of the athletic awakening that is now going on throughout the length and breadth of the State. It marked the entry into the field of athletics of a new and more virile organization, the Sacramento Athletic Club, which took off all the honors at the meet—winning with 55 points—while the Capital City Wheelmen finished second with but 13 and the Olympic Club and Sacramento Y. M. C. A. tied for third with 11 each. Of course, as the events were handicap, the actual winning of the meet does not mean a great deal, and none of the events were run in record time; but it does mean that the Sacramento Athletic Club has a track team and that the members are working hard to develop an athletic organization that will be able to hold its own with the best of them.

The club has excellent club rooms and gymnasium, located in the heart of the Capital City, and has a membership of over 200, although it has only been running since April 17th of this year.

While none of the club athletes made wonderful performances at the meet, it certainly has a performer of no mean ability in Gannon, the young Sacramentan who took the individual cup offered at the meet for the "Sacramento athlete scoring the most points." There was no need of the saving clause "for the Sacramento athlete," inserted by the donor in the deed of gift for this prize, for no one entered in the meet came anywhere near Gannon's total of 20 points; he won first place in the 100-yard scratch and handicap, first in the 220 hurdle, second in the high jump, and third in the broad jump and pole vault. This showing is at least one of considerable versatility and there is no doubt that more will be heard of this young man later on.

WHEELMEN TO GO STRONG ON ALL ATHLETICS

The Capital City Wheelmen intend going into athletics in all branches this Fall and Winter and believe they have material on the membership roll to make up the best club team in this part of the State. B. A. Fraser, who has always taken a prominent part in the wheelmen's doings, has been chosen to handle the track and field branch of the club and is enthusiastic over the prospects.

Captain Fraser intends to get a squad out as soon as possible, as he contemplates on entering a team in the Portola Festival at San Francisco. A controversy which has arisen between the wheelmen and the Sacramento Athletic Club over the rights to Wheelman Villinger, who entered the State Fair meet as a member of the Athletic Club team, will doubtless result in a spirited dual meet between these two clubs.

The wheelmen at their meeting this coming Monday night will draft a public challenge to the Sacramento Athletic Club for a field meet for the latter part of September or the early part of October. There is every reason to believe that Physical Instructor Nill, of the Athletic Club, will accept the challenge.

The wheelmen intend putting a swimming team up as well, if enough members can be secured to enter.

LEAGUE TO PLAY BASKETBALL

Representatives of four clubs met at the Sacramento Athletic Club rooms last night to discuss the formation of a winter basketball league in Sacramento and another meeting will be held next Wednesday night, when delegates from other organizations interested in athletics will be present to aid in making final arrangements for the league.

Those who met yesterday were John Schenck of the Turn Verein, Chester Brandon of the Loyal Sons, J. H. Nill of the S. A. C., and J. Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. These organizations will enter teams and the Capital City Wheelmen, high school and Company E, N. G. C., will be invited to do likewise.

MARATHON CUP AGAIN WON BY ST. MARY'S BOY

Robert Howden Breasts Tape Almost Mile in Lead of Competitors.

STUART FINISHES SECOND

Time for Event Was 62:44 4-5; Fastest Mile Made in 5:26.

Robert Howden, a staunch young athlete from St. Mary's college, drifted out of his class yesterday when he ran the Marathon race, one of the features of Governor's day, at the State Fair grounds. His easy stride and six-cylinder lungs shoved him to the front at the start of the ten-mile grind, and he passed the grandstand an hour, two minutes and forty-four and four-fifths seconds later, with the rest of the field nearly a lap behind him. He was presented with the first cup, a handsome silver trophy offered by the Wasserman-Gattmann company.

STEWART DISABLED.

But the only reason that Howden was out of his class was that Charlie Stewart of the Sacramento Athletic club loped over the weary way with one of his toes minus a nail, which he lost while doing gymnasium work Wednesday night. Stuart withdrew from the race, and did not agree to enter until 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when his friends pursuaded him to try. All along the course, his foot pained him badly, the blood starting on several occasions. His race was a nervy display of endurance and grit. He had no trouble in winning the second cup, which was a silver trophy given by the California National Bank.

Lester Manning of St. Mary's, who was distressed during the eighth lap, was third, and J. Larson of the Swedish-American club fourth. As the runners scored eight times past the grandstand they were applauded for minutes. None of them seemed particularly weak, not one fainting or collapsing after the race. Howden and Stewart chatted for several minutes after the race, walking about easily, with no evidence of fatigue.

RACES AT SAME TIME.

The pedestrians of the weary way did the endurance test while the races were in progress, merely drawing to one side to permit the harness horses to pass by. The dust was somewhat unpleasant. As they passed the attendants at the grandstand, each runner was sponged over the chest and head.

In the second lap, Henry Gurband, the fifth man, who came from the Multnomah club of Portland, couldn't stand the sun, and dropped out in an exhausted condition. He was not feeling well when he entered the race.

From the start, the men lined up in the manner in which they finished. Howden forged steadily ahead, having a better stride than the others. Stuart had beaten Howden in two former races, and had he been in shape yesterday, the race would have been more evenly contested.

From the grandstand, the toilers appeared to travel the back stretch like a caravan of turtles.

The following is Howden's record by miles: 5:26; 11:30 4-5; 17:39 3-5; 23:56 4-5; 30:13 4-5; 36:37 3-5; 42:54-2-5; 49:33; 56; and 62:44 4-5.

MORE LIGHT ON VILLINGER CASE

Nill of S. A. C. Says C. C. W. Were at Fault as Man Would Run for Club.

The Sacramento Athletic club has not yet received a challenge from the Capital City Wheelmen for a duel track meet in three weeks, but is expecting it daily. Provided all arrangements for the meet can be made satisfactorily, the S. A. C. will accept the challenge immediately, and get its men ready for the event.

The matter in which Villinger is the bone of contention is still causing some discussion. Villinger, it will be remembered, was not released by the C. C. W., of which he is a member and which he represented a short time ago, so that he could enter the State Fair meet as a member of the S. A. C team.

Regarding the affair, Physical Instructor Nill of the Athletic club says: "Villinger wanted to run for the S. A. C. in the State Fair meet, but the Wheelmen held him up on a technicality. The A. A. U. rules provide that unless an athlete is released by his club he can not run for another organization within a year after the last time he entered a track meet Villinger wanted to run for us, but the Wheelmen held him up.

"If we wished, we could hold up Kidder, their star, on the same technicality, but we do not care to use these tactics. Kidder, who is a member of the S. A. C. as well as the Wheelmen, competed in our club field meet held on August 1. Under the A. A. U. rules, if we wish to hold him up, he could not represent the C. C. W. until a year from that date."

BASKETBALL TEAMS PLAN CITY LEAGUE

Four or Six Teams May Enter Proposed Union of Ball Tossers.

The outlook for basketball in Sacramento this winter is better than ever before. At present everything points to the formation of a four or six-team league, and the drafting of a schedule that will run the greater part of the winter. If a four-team league is formed, the following organizations will have teams entered: Sacramento Athletic club, Capital City Wheelmen, Y. M. C. A. an dSacramento Turn Verein. Representatives of these organizations have already talked the matter over.

But it is possible that the city league will be composed of six teams, which will make the winter race the more interesting. In case this plan is followed, the high school and the Loyal Sons or Company E will enter teams. Last year Sacramento had a city basketball league, but it was composed almost entirely of various players from the Y. M. C. A. This season, however, matters are different. All the organizations mentioned are interested in the game, and the Y. M. C. A., S. A. C., Turn Verein and C. C. W. have basketball squads at work already.

S. A. C. ACCEPTS WHEELMEN'S CHALLENGE

The Sacramento Athletic club last night accepted the Capital City Wheelmen's challenge to a track meet, and named a committee to meet with the Wheelmen Thursday night to make final arrangements and set the date. There is great rivalry between the Wheelmen and the athletic club, and it is likely that a meet between them will be hotly contested.

LOYAL SONS DEFEAT S. A. C.

The Loyal Sons' basket-ball team last night defeated the Sacramento Athletic club's team by a score of 44 to 10. The feature of the game was the effective team work of the Loyal Sons' team, which outclassed the Athletic club team. Knight and Amick were the Loyal Sons' forwards, Brabdon occupied the central position and McNeely and Hart were the guards.

SEVEN TEAMS TO PLAY BASKEBALL

Winter League Assured—C. C. W. Sends Challenge For Track Meet to S. A. C.

Sacramento will have a winter basketball league, composed of from five to seven teams, to represent the Sacramento Athletic club, the Y. M. C. A., Capital City Wheelmen, Turn Verein, High School, Loyal Sons, and Company E, N. G. C. A meeting of representatives of four clubs was held at the Sacramento Athletic club last night, and it was decided to call another meeting for Wednesday night, when the organizations mentioned will be asked to attend.

Those who attended yesterday's meeting were Joseph Reisner of the Y. M. C. A, J. H. Nill of the Athletic club, John Schenck of the Turn Verein, and Chester Brandon of the Loyal Sons. A tentative agreement on rules was reached. It was found that the different teams were practically under different rules, but all will unite on the P. A. A. laws.

Before the regular schedule of games is made up several practice games will be played. Those who met yesterday believe that the winter schedule should open the 1st of November.

Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club last night received a telegram from Captain Chester Gannon of the track team, that he took third place in the high jump and second place in the pole vault at the Caledonian games held in San Mateo yesterday.

President Bill Curtin of the Sacramento Coast league baseball club has invited the working boys of the Y. M. C. A. to be his guests at the ball game with Portland Saturday.

The Loyal Sons and the Sacramento Athletic club basketball teams will play a practice game of basketball Monday.

The following challenge has been sent to the Sacramento Athletic club by the Capital City Wheelmen:

"Attention, Mr. Nill. We take this means of advising you that we are desirous of competing with you in a day of field sports, on any date after October 1, which may be mutually decided upon as being most convenient.

"The teams to be composed of bona fide members of the respective clubs; to be limited to ten men. The meet to be held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic union. All men who participate to be regularly registered with the above.

"If you decide to accept this offer, we would be pleased to have you let us know to that effect at once, and also inform us as to what time and place you could meet our committee with a view of arranging necessary matters pertaining to the meet.

"Any date that you may suggest will be acceptable to us.

"CAPITAL CITY WHEELMEN."

CLUB WILL MEET THE WHEELMEN

The Sacramento Athletic Club has accepted the challenges of the Capital City Wheelmen to a meeting in track and field events sometime in October. The defi was take up at a meeting of representatives of the two organizations last night. Thursday night the final arrangements will be made and the date set. The meet is the result of dissasisfaction of the Wheelmen with the showing made by them at the state fair program, in which they believed they were not as fully represented as they should have been.

S. 9-14-'09.

The Sacramento Athletic club has not accepted the C. C. W. challenge for a dual track meet, but if Physical Instructor Nill hears from the Wheelmen management today he will ask that a meeting be held Thursday night and the matter discussed.

WILL MEET FOR BASKETBALL TALK

Three Clubs Will Get Together in Favor of City League.

Representatives from three local athletic clubs will hold a meeting in the Sacramento Athletic club directors' room today and plan the formation of a basketball league for the city this winter. It is probable that the high school will be invited to send a representative, which will make the number four. Those who will be present are Joseph Reisner, Y. M. C. A.; John Schenck, Turn Verein; J. H. Nill, Sacramento Athletic club. The Capital City Wheelmen were asked to send a representative, but said they did not intend to take up basketball this winter.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team will meet the California bank band of tossers at Seventeenth and R streets this afternoon.

J. H. Nill, physical instructor at the Sacramento Athletic club, announced yesterday that he will open the gym classes for the season beginning Friday night.

The Girls' Athletic association of the high school will hold a meeting Friday afternoon, and basketball will be the principal topic of discussion. Several members of last year's team survived the class of '08, and the girls expect to have a well trained and experienced band this year. The S. V. I. A. L. series of games will be arranged later.

U. 9-9-'09.

FAST TEAMS FOR BASKETBALL

Final arrangements for a City Basketball League will very probably be made tonight at a meeting in the Sacramento Athletic Club rooms. It is proposed now to enter regular, unlimited weight teams to represent the different organizations and to have separate games for teams of about 130 pounds average.

The meeting tomorrow will include men from the Sacramento High School, the Christian Brothers' College, Boys' Brotherhood, National Guard, Y. M. C. A., Turn-Verein, Loyal Sons, Capital City Wheelmen and the Sacramento Athletic Club.

At present the Loyal Sons are the most promising in the field for the championship, but time may develop some surprises. The Turners have a strong club and have been practicing a great deal during the past month under the tutelage of Herr Schenk. The Y. M. C. A. and the High School fives are composed of veterans at the game. The Athletic Club will develop some top-notchers and in fact some of the best basketball in the cty's history ought to be played this season, judging from the caliber of the teams.

Basketball Moguls Will Talk Business Tonight—League Idea Growing.

The basketball moguls will meet in the Sacramento Athletic club rooms tonight and discuss matters pertaining to the formation of a league in the city this winter. The basketball matter has developed into greater proportions than it was expected to when launched and will probably claim a lot of attention.

The latest idea is to have a lightweight and a heavyweight class of teams. The lightweight class will probably be 135 or 140 pounds and under, according as the representatives of various clubs agree tonight. The organizations which will be represented at the meeting tonight will be: Y. M. C. A., Sacramento Athletic club; Brothers' college; high school; Loyal Sons; Company E, and the Turn Verein.

It is possible that most of the organizations will enter teams both in the senior and the junior divisions. The S. A. C. and the Y. M. C. A. are already preparing to enter both divisions. The organizations which are composed of only boys, however, will probably be found among the lightweights.

FORM BASKETBALL LEAGUE FOR CITY

Season Extending Over Three Months Planned at Meeting

The Sacramento City Basketball League was formed at a meeting in the directors' room of the Sacramento Athletic club last night, and officers elected as follows: J. H. Nill, S. A. C., president; John Schenk, Turn Verein, vice-president; B. V. Lawrence, Brothers college, secretary; Joseph Reisner, Y. M. C. A., treasurer.

The directors of the league have not been named, mainly because it is not yet known how many organizations will enter teams. It was decided that entries of teams will close on October 1st, at which time it will be possible to ascertain just how many teams will be provided for. In addition to the organizations named in the list of officers, the high school and the Loyal Sons were represented at the meeting last night.

Although definite action in many particulars cannot be taken until the entries are completed, several important matters were decided at the meeting last night. The season for the tournament will extend from November 1st to January 31st. This will be three months. The season will close in the last of January so that the championship team may enter the tournament for championship of the state to be held in San Francisco in February.

All athletes taking part in the league games must be registered amateurs. In order to insure every team appearing for schedule games, each will be required to post $5 at the beginning of the season with the understanding that it will be forfeited if any date is not filled.

The teams entered will make two division, the lightweights and the heavyweights. The lightweight class will include all those weighing 135 pounds and under in full playing uniform; provided, however, that the lightweights may enter the heavyweight class. To prevent any attempt at dodging classes each player will be weighed previous to the first three games in which he appears. This rule was made at the suggestion of President Nill, who said that during the championship series in San Francisco last year some players took off as much as 17 pounds by the steaming process previous to the time in which they weighed in. Each player on the team must weigh 135 pounds or under.

Two games will be played on every Wednesday night, which will probably cause each team to meet each other three times during the season. A regular referee will be employed to handle all games.

The officers expect to have difficulty in securing a competent man. The most prominent candidate for the position is Alfred Putnam, who does not want the job.

A committee as follows was appointed to draft a suggestive schedule of games to present at the next meeting: Chester Brandon, Joseph Reisner, John Schenk.

M. E. Sparks, who is one of the Sacramento Athletic club stars, will go to Oakland Sunday to compete in the athletic games at Shellmound park. Sparks does not think he did himself justice at the last meet he attended. He will run in the mile and the half.

Instructor Nill of the club yesterday announced that he will send a full track team of ten men to the Portola meet to be held in San Francisco in October.

G.C.W.-S.A.C. DUAL MEET IS ASSURED

Committees Hold Meeting and Decide on Number and Order of Events.

The Sacramento Athletic club and the Capital City Wheelmen will settle their differences in a dual field and track meet at McKinley park, on Sunday, Oct. 10. Committees representing both clubs met last night and reached a conclusion on all details.

The Wheelmen issued a challenge to the Athletic club several days ago. The first matter decided at the meeting last night was that teams will not be limited to ten men. The limitation will be three men in each event and eleven events.

The meet will be held at McKinley park on October 10th, at 2:30 in the afternoon. Five minutes intermission will be allowed between each event. The program with the list of events as they will be run off is as follows: High jump, 100-yard dash, mile run, shot put, 220-yard dash, 880-yard run, hammer throw, broad jump, 220-yard hurdles, 440-yard run, pole vault.

The Stockton Athletic association has sent a communication to Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club informing him that it will hold a 15-mile Marathon race in Stockton on October 3d, and inviting entries from Sacramento. Instructor McIntyre of the Stockton club will have charge of the Marathon.

RIVAL TEAMS IN CAPITAL CITY TO MEET

The Sacramento Athletic Club and the Capital City Wheelmen are to hold a dual track meet on October 10th and the affair is causing considerable stir in athletic circles at the Capital City, as these are the two largest athletic organizations in Sacramento. In recent field days held in Sacramento and in this vicinity, both of these clubs have shown that they have athletes of no mean ability and it will be hard indeed to predict who will come out victorious in the coming event.

The Wheelmen have three stars, who are counted upon to bring them a large percentage of the points. A. F. Gates is a short-distance runner, who gave Gerhardt of the Olympic Club a scare in the 176-yard dash at the Irish Volunteers' picnic recently. Kidder has gone 5 feet 7 inches in the high jump and Fraser has done as well as 10 1-5 in the 100-yard dash.

This is a trio that it will be no easy matter for the men from the Athletic Club to best. They are relying to no little extent upon Gannon, their crack all-round athlete, who won his spurs when he took the cup for the largest number of points made by an individual in the recent State Fair track meet, bringing a total of twenty points to the club. In addition to Gannon the Sacramento Club has a large and well balanced track team and are figuring on getting most of the place points, even if the Wheelmen are successful in capturing several of the firsts. A loving cup will be the prize for the winning team.

A Basketball League has been formed in the Capital City, the following officers being elected: J. H. Hill, Sacramento Athletic Club, president; John Schenk, Turn Verein, vice-president; B. P. Lawrence, Brothers' College, secretary; Joseph Reisner, Y. M. C. A., treasurer. The league has been left open until October 1st for teams to join, and as soon as the entries close more definite steps will be taken to perfect the organization and arrange the schedules. A board of directors, consisting of one representative from each team, will then be selected.

It is expected to run a tournament from November 1st to January 31st and to enter the champion team of this series in the P. A. A. State championships next spring. There will be two divisions in the league, the lightweights and the heavyweights, the lightweight class being under 135 pounds and the heavyweight over that.

LOYAL SONS THE VICTORS

The Sacramento Athletic Club got in a tangle with the Loyal Sons on the basketball floor last night in the club rooms. When disentangled the score was only 52 to 36 in favor of the Loyal Sons. The disaster happened in the first half. The S. A. C. won the last but couldn't overcome the lead of the Loyal Sons.

S. A. C. TO HAVE FOOTBALL TEAM

Y. M. C. A. Will Hold Gymnasium Opening in Building Tonight.

The Sacramento Athletic club will have a football team to play the old intercollegiate game this winter. Physical Instructor Nill has reached this decision and has issued a call for candidates. Prospects for a strong aggregation are good. The athletic club contains a number of husky men who have played the game. The line especially may be one of the heaviest in the state.

Harry Tharp, the policeman, will probably be the nucleus around which the team will be formed. He is looked upon as the most likely candidate for center. Tharp weighs 250 pounds and is built in proportion. Besides he is fast on his feet and knows the game from the beginning.

The Y. M. C. A. will entertain friends and all others who wish to attend at a gymnasium event tonight. The occasion will be the formal opening of winter physical work. The main features will be a volley ball game between the intermediates and the employed boys, a game of long ball by the juniors, peanut races, pole climbing, towel fights and other comical gymnastics. The feature of the evening will be a basketball game between two teams selected from the seniors. During the intermissions the Y. M. C. A. orchestra will play.

F. W. Galleher of the Sacramento Athletic club has received a letter from Howard Baker of Boulder, Colo., that he licked Dick Gilbert hands down in twenty rounds recently. Baker left Sacramento to fight Gilbert. He is expected to return here shortly.

The city has promised to put McKinley park athletic track into condition for the Sacramento Athletic club-Capital City Wheelmen dual track meet, to take place shortly. A pipe line will be laid to the track so that it can be watered regularly and placed in condition. The county jail chain gang will probably do the work. Trustee Nauman is looking after the matter.

BASKETBALL AND DANCE

Great preparations are being made for the basketball game with the Turn-Verein and the grand ball afterwards Friday night in the Old Pavilion.

The entertainment is especially for club members and their friends. It will be ladies' night.

After the game there will be wrestling and boxing. Then the floor will be cleared for the dance. A large crowd is expected.

FOOTBALL FOR ATHLETIC CLUB

The Sacramento Athletic Club is not going to let any branch of sport slip past without getting into it. Last night a football team was organized at a meeting in the club rooms. J. Strachan was elected manager.

Tuesday and Friday were appointed practice night. At first there will be indoor practice but later the regular, gruelling outdoor work will be started. A captain will be elected as soon as the team gets to going well.

M. E. Sparks won the quarter-mile race at Oakland Sunday in the athletic meet held by the Irish Volunteers. He fought a large field of entries.

GAME'S FEATURES FOR SOCIAL NIGHT

Athletic and social features will vie Friday night when the Sacramento Athletic club holds its first combination entertainment in the Old Pavilion at Sixth and M streets. Dancing will follow the special features, and there will be plenty of refreshments for the closing. The affair will be for Sacramento Athletic club members and their lady friends.

The athletic event of the evening will be the game of basketball between a selected team from the Turn Verein and one from the S. A. C. Neither of these teams will have had sufficient practice to play their best, but the contest will doubtless be an interesting one. The teams have been selected for the occasion, and may not be the ones that will represent these clubs in the Sacramento City Basketball league. The Turners' team is as follows: A. Weiss, center; D. Newbert (captain), A. Lentz, forwards; F. Schuler, G. Zinkgraf, guards; L. Stober, H. Stober, extras. The Sacramento Athletic club team will be as follows: James Barnes, center; Frank Bacon, J. Lobner, George Wenzel, guards; Clarence Shaw (captain), F. Elliott, Jack Stewart, forwards.

A wrestling bout between Clarence Coombs, a promising lightweight of Sacramento, and L. C. O'Connor, who comes as the challenger, is expected to be a hard tussle. Delano and Hallihan will box in the middleweight class, and Cowie and Michaelo are slated for a lightweight bout of three rounds. Bill Johnson, the boxing instructor, is handling the ring events. Other events not yet arranged may be added to the program.

The Y. M. C. A. people are preparing to have an athletic or recreation day here when the association delegates of the state get together, from the 18th to the 21st of November. The sports committee has already been appointed, and will probably hold a meeting late this week. U. L. Dike has been appointed chairman, and will have as his associates in arranging the recreation program Joseph Reisner, physical instructor; H. W. Whitbeck, H. M. Snell, Dr. E. R. Pitts, Frank Sherwood and Hayward Reed.

Although nothing at present indicates it, it is possible that the state association basketball championship may be played off here when the convention meets. This has been the custom, but this year the delegates will gather before the basketball season is well under way. A baseball game between the delegates from the north and those from the south will be a feature of Recreation day.

The Sacramento Athletic club held a football meeting Monday night, and Hugh Strachan was elected manager. He will get the names of all those interested in the game, secure a coach and appoint days on which the squad will be called out for practice. The athletic club promises to have a heavyweight team, wih a line like a stone wall. When the squad is called to get into action, it will practice at Capitol park. Practice days will be Tuesday and Friday.

The first basketball game to be played on the coast was seen by Sacramento followers of the sporting game and played by Sacramento athletes. It was nearly eighteen years ago, when the Y. M. C. A. had rooms in Masonic hall, at Sixth and K streets. Professor John Schenk of the Turn Verein was physical instructor for the association at that time, and coached the teams. The athletes who participated in this introduction of basketball on the Pacific coast are numbered among Sacramento's men of affairs today.

Members of the C. C. W. track squad are out nightly practicing for the dual meet with the S. A. C. team at McKinley park on October 11th. "We mean business," is the byword of all Wheelmen athletes. From the sprinter to the miler and the weight man to the jumper, they are practicing quietly, but with vim and determination.

Captain Gannon of the S. A. C. has just returned from his vacation, and will get into action. Most of his men are in condition, but will practice right along from now until the meet. The dual event promises to be one of the bitterest contests of the kind Sacramento will have seen.

Basketball has certainly invaded Northern California and will this year see its most prosperous season. Starting in Sacramento, it has spread from the S. V. I. A. L. into the Northern High School league, and there now occupies a position as the most important winter sport. When the northern league delegates met this year, their principal duty was to draft two league schedules—for girls' basketball and for boys' basketball. They also did a little work on football, but only three teams were entered. Two of these, Chico high and Chico normal, were formed for the valley league. The other school which will enter a team is Redding high.

Sacramento may see some Rugby football this year in spite of the fact that all the teams now in the field are playing either the intercollegiate game or soccer. The athletic club was thinking of playing Rugby, but thought it would be hard to play the game. It now appears that most of the soccer players, who are largely from Australia and England, are old hands at the Rugby game, and are willing and glad to play the game any old time.

SACRAMENTO CLUB TO HOLD SOCIAL TO-NIGHT

The members of the Sacramento Athletic Club will hold sway to-night at the Old Pavilion, where a match basketball game, wrestling and boxing bouts will be given as an addition to an evening of dancing and general social time. The opposing teams in the basketball game will be those of the Turn Verein and the Sacramento Club. The boxing and wrestling bouts promise some good entertainment.

U. 9-24-'09

Owing to unavoidable circumstances, the Basketball Tournament and Dance, scheduled to be given tonight by the Sacramento Athletic Club, has been called off until a later date. Notice of date will be sent to members.

BASKETBALL HOLDS SWAY IN CLUB COURTS

Basketball has taken a firm hold on the Sacramento Athletic Club, and if the club does not turn out a winning team this season it will not be because there has been a lack of interest taken in the game. There are twenty candidates out for places on the heavyweight and lightweight teams and rivalry for places is keen.

A week from to-night there will be a meeting of the Schedule Committee of the Sacramento Basketball League, at which time the schedule for the League will be made out.

In the meantime the various club teams are having all the practice games they can take care of in preparation for the League opening. On Thursday night at the club a game will be played with the Sacramento High School team. On next Monday night the Brothers' College team will be played a match game at the club, and on Saturday a week a game with the Y. M. C. A. team will be held.

Instructor Nill has added the business men's class to his program, and has set Mondays and Thursday at 5 o'clock aside for this class. There is every assurance that this department for business men will be a popular one.

The track squad is hard at work getting into condition for the big dual meet with the Capital City Wheelmen at McKinley Park on Sunday, October 10th. This meet promises to be a red-hot one, for intense rivalry exists between these organizations, and both have crack athletes in the field.

The entries for the meet must be in by a week from to-day. The Sacramento Athletic Club has a strong bunch of athletes out training, and Instructor Nill is keeping close tab on their work as he will soon select the team that is to represent the club.

FIRST PRACTICE GAME TO Y.M.C.A.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team won from the high school boys in a practice game last night, the score being 43 to 11. The score was so lopsided mainly because Captain Paul Amick of the high school team took the opportunity to try out all his men, the inexperienced as well as the experienced, and shifted his line-up several times during the game.

The unfortunate occurence of the contest was the injury of Amick shortly after the contest opened. The captain, who seemed the life of his aggregation, had his boys in the lead of the Y. M. C. A. crowd when the accident occurred. A turn of the ankle put him out of the running and will probably lay him up for two or three days. Harding, the regular high school center, also was temporarily laid up with a sprained ankle.

The best work of the Y. M. C. A. team was done by Hart, who played during the last few minutes of the last half. In that time he threw four field goals, as many as any other man threw during the entire game. Hart will be with the Loyal Sons' team in the Sacramento city league. Payne and Donald, also of the Y. M. C. A. team, played fast games, but Donald was troubled by fouls. Chase was successful in more than 75 per cent of the free throws he attempted. Hammack was strong on long shots.

Chapman and Chan of the high school showed the advantage of experience. Both played consistent ball. Amick has considerable good material in his high school squad, but a scarcity of tall young men will handicap him. Putnam, one of his huskies, was too much inclined to use football tactics to be effective in a close game. His specialty is fouls.

J. H. Nill and Joseph Reisner handled the affair as referee and umpire, alternating when the halves changed. The team lined up as follows: Y. M. C. A.—Payne (captain), Hart and Theilen, forwards; Donald, center; Chase and Hammack, guards. High School—Allen, Putnam, Mc Laughlin, Ernst, Yang, Chan, forwards; Amick, Putnam, centers; Simmermacher, Chapman, Peasles, Gruhler, guards.

A number of basketball games are scheduled to be played during the coming week and several next week. In fact, some two of the teams in the city will get together almost every other day between now and the opening of the Sacramento City league schedule.

The one attracting the most interest at present is that scheduled between the high school team and the Ione high school team next Saturday night at the Old Pavilian. This will be the first test of strength among the high school teams.

The Loyal Sons and the Sacramento Athletic club teams will play a practice game in the latter's gymnasium tomorrow night. The teams will line up as follows: Loyal Sons—Brandon and Knight, forwards; Hart, center; Donald and McNelley, guards. S. A. C.—Barnes and Elliott, forwards; Shaw, center; George and Cowie, guards.

The Brothers' college team and the high school boys will play in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Tuesday night. On Thursday night the high school team will play the S. A. C. aggregation, and the club's second team will meet the Brothers' college juniors.

The Sacramento Athletic club handball enthusiasts are planning a handball tournament to begin some time in October. Since the courts opened a large number of pretty fair players have been developed, and it is thought a tournament would be interesting. The tournament will be for the double championship. Arthur Delano is handling the affair.

KEEN INTEREST IN DUAL MEET

Two Squads Preparing to Decide Grudge in Field Day.

With the dual meet between the Sacramento Athletic club team and the Capital City wheelmen but little more than a week away, the affair promises to be a nice tussle. Interest is reaching a high pitch, and it is probable the squads of both teams will be added to during the next few days.

Roland Fraser, who heads the C. C. W. team, is expected to make a good showing in the distance events. Of the Sacramento club men, Futterer in the pole vault and broad jump is counted on for points.

Villinger, the man who caused the original trouble between the clubs, in the sprints, and McKillican, in the weight events, are two reliables on whom the club bases much faith.

A new athletic club to be called the "Comanche Club" has been formed, and intends to launch teams in the field of athletics this winter. Those interested met recently and elected the following officers: President, James H. Latham; vice-president, Harold Kiernan; treasurer, Ernest Fields; recording secretary, Theo. Schlosser; corresponding secretary, Roy Wallender; board of directors, Max Meye, L. S. Pratt, Charles Clark, J. Johnston, H. A. Powers. The club intends to secure a cottage in the vicinity of Tenth and O streets, which will be furnished with lounging and smoking rooms. The basement will be used as a gym. A football team will be organized shortly. A club orchestra is now being formed. One of the first functions will be a skating carnival at Oak Park near the end of October.

Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club has organized a business men's class for certain days of the week, and is having considerable success in training down the Sacramento men of affairs. The board of directors formed the nucleus about which the class was formed. Music with the drills, to be introduced shortly, is expected to attract additional members.

The San Francisco grammar school athletic league is having trouble because of its popularity. It has become so large and unwieldy that he directors are now figuring on ways and means to lighten their work and make it less a responsibility. There is some talk of starting a league of this kind in Sacramento. It would undoubtedly be popular among the Sacramento grammar school boys.

The Portola meet is to be scratch instead of handicap as was at first expected. Since athletes from Oregon and Washington, including the best of the coast and, in many cases the best in the world, will compete in the scratch events, it is considered the ordinary athlete will not be in his class. Some athletes may go from Sacramento, however. If the S. A. C. sends a team the men will remain over until the Sunday following the Portola meet and enter the Irish-American events.

In a recent game of basketball the S. A. C. team was defeated by the Loyal Sons, the score being 52 to 36. The game was for practice only.

BROTHERS COLLEGE TEAM WINS AT BASKETBALL

In one of the fastest practice basketball games ever seen in the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic club the "C. B. C." team of the Brothers college defeated the lightweights of the Sacramento Athletic club by a score of 21 to 14. The feature of the game was the goal throwing by S. Farrell, who secured several points from difficult vantage. Center Hill of the C. B. C's played a fast game. The lineup of the C. B. C's was as follows: Farrell and O'Neil, forwards; Hill, center; Coughlin and West, guards.

The C. B. C. team has only recently entered the Sacramento Basketball league, and is already developing excellent material. They are willing students of the game and will undoubtedly prove prominent factors in the coming championship games which commence in November.

10-5-'09. U.

The lightweight teams of the Y. M. C. A last night defeated the Brothers college basketball aggregation, which will enter the lightweight division in the Sacramento City league, by a score of 28 to 11. The teams lined up as follows: Y. M. C. A.—Chase and Smith, forwards: Hicks, center; Kesleh, Barger, Cooper and Hogan, guards. C. B. C.—Coughlin and West, guards; O'Neil and Cecil, forwards; Hill, center. Previous to the basketball game the employed boys of the Y. M. C. A. defeated the intermediates in a game of basketball by a score of 21 to 14. Monday night the C. B. C. basketball team will play the Sacramento Athletic club team a practice game.

DECLARE S. A. C. IS NOT PLAYING FAIR

Wheelmen Say Athletic Club Is Using Unsportsmanlike Tactics.

C. C. Morris, representing the athletic committee of the Capital City Wheelmen, which is in charge of that clubs end of the dual meet to be held at McKinley park Sunday, said last night that he is not at all pleased with tactics being adopted by the Sacramento Athletic club relative to athletes who are members of both organizations. Morris had the following to say:

"A few days ago the Sacramento Athletic club posted a notice stating that all members who represented other clubs in athletic games against the Sacramento Athletic club would be expelled. It appears to us that this is a direct attack on the team we intend to put in the field against the S. A. C. team Sunday. Two of our best athletes, Kidder anr Ritchie, are also members of the athletic club, though they have belonged to the wheelmen for a long time. I believe that the S. A. C. people are afraid they will be beaten by us and are using this method to save themselves.

"Had the notice been posted several weeks or a month ago, before our team began to train, we would have had no objections. But it was evidently the result of a decision reached when the athletic club people found we were developing more strength than they expected us to muster. They evidently hoped to keep Kidder and Ritchie out of the meet by threatening to suspend them from the athletic club. But both these men intend to be with us just the same.

"The inconsistency of the S. A. C. procedure is shown in the case of Villinger, about whom there was a squabble. Villinger broke into athletics here as a representative of the C. C. W., but later wanted to run for the S. A. C. He applied for his release from us, according to P. A. A. rules, only a few days ago, so that he could compete against us, and we made no attempt to hold him up. If we wished we could keep him out of the coming meet, for, acording to the rules, he could not run for the S. A. C. until sixty days after being released by us. But we do not care to use that kind of tactics."

An effort was made to secure an opinion from Physical Instructor Nill of the S. A. C. on this matter last night, but he could not be located.

S. A. C.:—High jump—Gannon, Villinger, Shoemake, Bedee. 100-yard dash—Gannon, Bedee, Elliott, Villinger, Mile run — Stewart, Futterer, Childs, Bailey. WHAT THAT S. A. C. NOTICE SAYS

That the Sacramento Athletic Club had posted an order that any member competing against the club would be expelled and that they were using unsportsman-like tactics as stated in the morning paper by members of the Capital City Wheelmen, was denied by Physical Director Nill this morning.

When asked concerning this Mr. Nill said, "Here is the notice, judge for yourself." It reads: "Any member of this club that completes against this club in open competition shall not be eligible to compete for prizes in events which are closed to club members."

Hope to Win Points From Athletic Club

E. A. RITCHIE

Without telling the world about it, the Capital City Wheelmen track team has been training diligently for the coming dual meet with the Sacramento Athletic club team at McKinley park next Sunday. The quiet work has meant the development of some strong weight throwers besides a bunch of track men who claim to do the sprints in fast time.

Captain Fraser had his men out at Agricultural park yesterday afternoon in spite of the wet weather. As the meet approaches the interest becomes more intense, mainly bcause the Wheelmen are working with the intention of giving S. A. C. a rub. A strong part of the athletic club men is composed of weight throwers and sprinters, and it is these men C. C. W. are developing. Among the weight men are E. A. Richie and F. Stahr. Two sprinters who hope to make points are C. Morris and T. S. Watson.

NILL INDIGNANT; ROW IS STILL ON

Athletic Club Instructor Says Statement From C. C. W. Is Uncalled For.

Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club was indignant yesterday that C. C. Morris of the Capital City Wheelmen athletic committee should suggest his club is using unfair tactics relative to the dual meet Sunday. Nill held that the statement by Morris was uncalled for; that action taken by the club's directors aimed in no way to intimidate members of the C. C. W. team, as suggested.

Nill said there is no rule in the club category that would cause the expulsion or suspension of any club member competing against a club team. There is a rule, said Nill, that makes any member of the club who competes against the club in open competition ineligible to compete for prizes in events closed to members of the club. Nill added that this rule had been in effect for more than a month, and also that he does not consider it right that members who compete against the team in open meets should be permitted to enter closed meets and compete for prizes hung up by the club.

C. G. Morris of the C. C. W. last night still held to his original statement, and added that Kidder, one of the Wheelmen's athletes, had received a letter stating he would be suspended were he to comepete against the club. Nill of the athletic club said that it is possible Kidder received a letter from the directors, but it was only to notify him of the rule that would keep him from entering club closed meets. Morris said that Ritchie had been informed several times by an employe of the S. A. C. that he would be suspended if he competed with the Wheelmen.

The squabble between the two clubs is evidently a deep-seated one. It has broken out in two places already, and will probably continue a raw place even after the dual meet of Sunday is finished. Friends of the two clubs had hoped their grievances could be cast aside by the hoped-for friendly competition in the dual meet Sunday, but are rapidly ceasing to expect such a reconciliation.

OUT FOR BALL-TOSSING HONORS

In front—H. Lang, forward.

The next outside game to be played by the boys' high school basketball team will probably be at Nevada City. Captain Paul Amick has arranged games with several other high school teams, including Santa Clara and Berkeley. He will also probably have his men against several Northern California teams. The S. V. I. A. L. schedule will not open until later, so that it will not interfere with the football.

OPENING BASKETBALL GAME IS WON BY IONE

S. V. I. A. L. Delegates Meet and Arrange Schedules for Winter Athletics—Local Football Team Drops Game at Stockton.

Mainly because the local boys were not over-confident of their ability to find the opening in the baskets, Ione high school won the basketball contest at the Old Pavilion last night. The score was 20 to 13. Both teams did most of their scoring before first time was called, the figures at the end of the initial half being 13 to 8. The absence of Paul Amick from the local line-up was the underlying cause of the defeat. Had he been in the game and not thrown a goal, his companions would doubtless have made a better showing because of the confidence he would have inspired.

Both teams showed the lack of experience, but defects were about evenly divided. The Sacramento aggregation played a more open game than did their opponents, fouls materially helping the local score. In fact, all but four of the Sacramento points were scored on free throws, Chapman and Bybee each tossing the ball through the loop four times from unmolested territory.

Stewart, one of the visiting forwards, showed himself an adept at finding the basket from the field. He threw four of the nine Ione field goals and two of the free throws allowed because of fouls. Miller tossed the ball in twice from the field and made one successful free throw. Gordon, playing center for the Ione boys, found the basket from the field twice in the first half. For Sacramento Harding threw one field goal from center, and Lang, playing forward, dropped the ball in once.

Captain Paul Amick, the mainstay the local team, hobbled along the side lines with a cane, his sprained ankle keeping him out of the game. A fair crowd, composed mostly of high school students, saw the contest. J. H. Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club refereed the game.

Teams lined up as follows: Ione—Miller and Stewart, forwards; Gordon, center; Madden and Forbes, guards; Sacramento—Bybee and Chapman, forwards; Harding, center; Simmermacher and Lang, guards.

BASKETBALL MEN TO PLAN SCHEDULE

City League Directors Will Meet Tonight and Set Dates For Games.

Those interested in the Sacramento City Basketball League will meet at the Y. M. C. A. tonight and arrange a schedule of games to be played during November, December and January. Six teams in the heavyweight divisions and five lightweight teams have entered for the series of games.

The committee working on the matter will report in favor of having the early part of the season run on the percentage plan and then to have a subsequent series to be participated in by the four best teams to decide the championship. This post season series will be run on the elimination basis.

The league has reached such proportions that the matter of having all games played in a limited time is becoming a difficult one to solve. Each team is to play two games with each other one in the league. It is probable that games will be played on two nights in the week, instead of one, as was originally planned. The heavies will have one night and the lightweights another. Double-headers will be played each evening.

The proposition of securing a suitable court for the games, also, is worrying the league directors. Financial difficulty is the only thing preventing the league's securing the old Pavilion. The Y. M. C. A. and the Turn Verein offer accommodations.

Some Sacramento business house is expected to hang up a cup for the best team to win.

The Sacramento hotel has hung up a cup for the Capital City Wheelmen-Sacramento Athletic club dual meet to be held at McKinley park Sunday. Captain Roland Fraser of the Wheelmen secured the cup's donation.

V. 10-6-'09.

In a practice game of basketball on the S. A. C. court last night the high school won from the club boys by a score of 37 to 26. The contest was featured by an exciting finish, during which Captain Paul Amick of the school boys tossed the ball into the basket for eleven points in five minutes. Most of the points were made on throws from the field.

At the end of the first half the score stood 15 to 11 for the high school. But the club men made a big brace in their half and brought the game to a tie at 26 to 26, when time was called the second time. By agreement it was decided to play five more minutes. In these five minutes the high school made eleven points and the club men none.

The high school showed considerable additional strength, Captain Amick being back in the game. Of the thirty-seven points, twenty-five were made by the captain, who was playing forward. Harding, at center, and Bybee at forward, also played a strong game. For the athletic club, Shaw put up a strong game at forward and Bacon at guard indicated that he had been in the game before.

The youngsters in the Christian Brothers college have caught the basketball spirit, and could not stay away from the game. Yesterday two teams representing the lower grades met in the college gym and played to a tie. Five minutes were allowed to play to a decision, and when the final whistle blew the score was 13 to 11 for the fifth graders over the sixth.

The members of the winning team are: R. E. Cavanaugh, V. Horton, E. Brown, J. O'Connor, E. O'Connor and L. Connolly.

S. A. C. MEN NOT PRESSED BY WHEELMEN

Club Track and Field Team Has No Difficulty in Beating C. C. W.

GATES PROVES STAR MAN

Three Good Athletes With Bikers Unable to Make Up for Losses.

Sacramento Athletic club athletes had little difficulty in quieting the Capital City Wheelmen field and track men when the teams met at McKinley park yesterday afternoon As a team, the Wheelmen were outclassed, but they put three good athletes into the field and furnished the star of the afternoon, A. Gates, who won every event he entered. The final score in eleven events was 62 to 37 in favor of the athletic club men, which gave the Sacramento hotel cup to them.

Strangely enough the first places were about evenly divided, the Sacramento men taking six and the Wheelmen five. Three bikers were responsible for the five victories. The Wheelmen trio did nicely, but those who fell down were outclassed. In the weight events there was practically no competition. Kidder, representing the Wheelmen, managed to nose in third place in the shot put, but his heave was not a long one. In the distance runs, also, the Wheelmen entries proved a fizzle, those who expected to carry away first places being unable to make any showing worth mentioning. In the sprints and the middle distance event, however, Gates brought the percentage up nicely. In the jumps and the pole vault Wheelmen took first prizes, but these were not enough to balance losses in the weights and on the track.

GATES THE STAR.

Gates was the day's star, and evidently had himself well in hand during the entire meet. His experience put him in a position to use judgment in his races and distribute his energy. He showed good work especially in the 440-yard run, the 220 event being a simple dash from start to finish. Gannon, captain of the S. A. C. team, was Gates' nearest competitor for individual honors. A half point separated them. Gates' fifteen came in lumps, all being made on first places. Gannon was first in the hundred-yard dash, tied for first in the hurdles, second in the 220-yard dash, and tied for second in the high jump, which gave him a total of 14½ points. Gates carried the 440-yard run, the 220-yard dash and the broad jump, making a creditable performance in all the events. Gannon was handicaped in the 220-yard dash by the loss of one of his spikes early in the race.

Clegg for the Wheelmen won eleven points, showing well in the jumps and the pole vault, which he won. The vault record, however, was probably the poorest of the day, the height being 8 feet 11 inches. Kidder, also for the Wheelmen, gathered nine points, winning the high jump. Other Wheelmen athletes exhibited little that gave them a right to class with others in the meet.

The athletic club was well fortified in the weights, McKillican, Hall and Lucey taking about everything in sight. Hall and McKillican divided honors. Hall tossed the twelve-pound lead 45 feet and 7 inches, but did not do so well when he had the ball attached to a wire. McKillican had trouble staying in the ring when throwing the hammer, but finally got his equilibrium and hurled the ball 147 feet 2 inches. McKillican was improving all the time, but did not need to throw longer.

In the distance events, also, the athletic club had some strong men working. Stewart won the mile in a walk. Kelley of the Wheelmen trailed along behind him with prospects for a second place until little Childs changed his jog into a sprint at the finish and trotted over the line second. Kelley made a feeble effort to hold his own, but he was wasting away, and had to be content with a slow third. Child's finish was good to see.

Are Leaders of Athletic Rivals

HALF A JOKER.

The half became a sort of farce after Fraser had been killed off by Sparks and Stewart. By sprinting into the lead when half way to the finish the Wheelman representative hoped to put his opponents on the retired list. But he succeeded only in winding himself. The way Sparks lengthened out his stride when he decided to come home indicated a nice bit of headwork. After Fraser had dropped in the rear Stewart and Sparks trotted to the line, the latter finishing first.

In the hundred Gannon had a good lead to the line, but the Wheelmen grabbed two places. Gates of the Wheelmen and Gannon and Elliott of the athletic club were bunched in the 220-yard dash. Elliott made a strong finish and threatened to pass Gannon, but failed to do so. Gates ran a steady race. In the 440-yard run Gates was evidently not worried. He took the lead and then eased up and sprinted it across the line for five points at the tape. Sparks ran a nice race and came in second. In the broad jump Gates made 20 feet 5 inches, which is about the best distance covered by local athletes.

The point winners with the number gathered by each man were as follows: Gates (C. C. W.) 15, Gannon (S. A. C.) 14½, Clegg (C. C. W.) 11, Kidder (C. C. W.) 9, Sparks (S. A. C.) 8, Hall (S. A. C.) 8, McKillican (S. A. C.) 8, Stewart (S. A. C.) 8, Elliott (S. A. C.) 5½, Childs (S. A. C.) 3, Bedee (S. A. C.) 2, Futterer (S. A. C.) 2, Lucey (S. A. C.) 1, Villinger (S. A. C.) 1, Kelley (C. C. W.) 1, Fraser (C. C. W.) 1, Shoemake (S. A. C.) 1.

Summary:

The Sacramento Union prides itself on its cleanliness, trustworthiness and loyalty to home interests.

TO SETTLE FEUD IN TRACK MEET

S. A. C. and C. C. W. Athletes to Compete at McKinley Park Today.

Athletes representing the Sacramento Athletic club and the Capital City wheelmen will meet at McKinley park this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to settle differences in a dual field and track meet. Preparations for the event have been in progress for some time and rivalry has reached a high pitch. Both track teams declare their men are in excellent condition and both clubs profess to be confident of winning the trophy.

Physical Instructor Nill of the Athletic club last night announced that admission to the grounds will be free and programs will be supplied to all guests. Both teams welcome everyone from Sacramento to see the meet and promise a well-contested affair.

Officials who will be in charge of the meet are as follows: Referee, L. S. Upson; judges, Dr. C. Todd, J. A. Garrison, Prof. John Schenk; timers, Amand Clay, H. M. McGregor; starter, Otto Rittler, clerk of course, A. Given; scorer, E. Sachs; marshal, Albert Bettens.

The winning team will be presented with a cup hung up by the Sacramento hotel.

Regarding his contention that the Sacramento Athletic club was trying to keep athletes who are members of both clubs concerned from competing in the dual meet and threatening expulsion if the athlete persisted in competing, C. C. Morris yesterday presented the following letter which was received from Recording Secretary Will A. Newcum of the Athletic club by Percy Kidder, who is one of the C. C. W. stars:

"Percy Kidder: Dear Sir: This is to notify you and all parties concerned or interested, that at a recent meeting of the board of directors of this club held on this date, September 7th, it was determined by resolution that a member would not be allowed to compete with other clubs against our club members, and any infraction of this rule or an attempt at infraction thereof would be sufficient cause for charges to be preferred against said members which if proven would justify either their suspension or expulsion from the club.

"WILL A. NEWCUM."

Physical Instructor Nill of the Athletic club was shown a copy of the letter and he did not know of such a rule in the club's catagory, and intimated that no such rule (as that spoken of in the letter) exists.

BASKETBALL MEN ADOPT SCHEDULES

Season for City League to Extend From November 3d to February 2d.

The directors of the Sacramento Basketball league got together last night and approved schedules for the heavyweight and lightweight divisions of the league. The senior schedule will extend from November 3 to February 2, 1910, and the junior schedule from November 6 to January 22, 1910. Each team will meet each other team in the league twice during the season.

The standing of teams will be figured on the percentage plan, the same as in baseball, and the team having the highest per cent at the season's end will be given the trophy. All games will be played either in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium or the Turn Verein gymnasium. It was hoped at first to get the old pavilion, but the financial condition of the league would not permit its paying high enough rent. The final games of the series will probably be transferred to the old pavilion.

Henry Jensen was selected to be official scorer for the league, but no one to referee the games could be found. It is probable that no official referee will be appointed, as no one not interested in the clubs supporting teams has been found. The referee matter was laid on the table, and will be taken up at a future meeting.

Different colored uniforms will be worn by the various clubs. Those entered in the heavyweight class announced their colors last night as follows: Loyal Sons, white; Y. M. C. A., black and orange; Sacramento Athletic club, cardinal; Capital City Wheelmen, green and white; Company E, blue and white; Turn Verein, gray and white.

The schedules of games are as follows:

BREAK EVEN IN PRACTICE GAMES

S. A. C. Basketball Heavies Win—Y. M. C. A. Lightweights Retaliate.

Sacramento Athletic club and Y. M. C. A. handball teams divided honors in the association gym last night, one team from each of the organizations winning a game. The S. A. C. heavyweights won by a score of 32 to 17, and the Y. M. C. A. lightweights got away with the big end of a 32 to 10 score.

Both games were lively, and the participants showed they are improving, rapidly learning the game scientifically. The Y. M. C. A. heavyweights might have made a better showing had they been more proficient at throwing baskets; likewise the club lighter team showed a deficiency at finding the hole at the top. The youngsters played a prettier game than did the heavys, mainly because the court was more nearly their size. The heavies played a rougher game than they would have had there been more room.

Two of the Athletic club heavyweights failed to put in appearance for the practice game and their places were taken by members of the Loyal Sons, Hart and Knight. Instructor Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. states that his team was not all present, Payne, the captain, not being in the game.

For the Athletic club, Barnes, center, and Bacon, guard, indicated that they have seen basketball before. Barnes threw the majority of the club goals from the field, and was in the game all the time. His all-around work was a feature of the playing. Bacon stuck to his man like a leech, and prevented any goals being thrown by his opponent. Boutwell, Donald and Chapman of the Y. M. C. A crowd played consistent ball. Boutwell proved a crack at throwing goals, though considerably lighter than most of the others in the game.

Hicks for the Y. M. C. A. was the star of the lightweight bunch. He was here, there, and everywhere on the ball all the time. His team work and ability to find the basket won most of the points for the association lightweights.

Rodda, brother of the sprinter, Vernal Rodda, and formerly a member of the championship Watsonville Y. M. C. A. team, played the association heavies, but had not been in the game for five years and could not find the basket as he used to. Rodda made a big effort at team work, but found the quarters rather cramped for effectiveness.

The teams lined up as follows: Heavyweights—S. A. C.—Barnes, center; Stewart and Knight, forwards; Hart and Bacon, guards. Y. M. C. A.—Rodda and Barger, center; Theilin, Bouthwell, Donald, forwards; Chapman, McEwey, guards.

Lightweights—Y. M. C. A.—Cooper, Smith and Hicks, forwards; Chase, center; Barber, Kestler, guards.

BASKETBALL NOTES.

Y. M. C. A. and Sacramento Athletic club basketball teams will play two games in the association gym tonight. First the heavyweights representing the institutions will mix and then the lightweights will have a session.

The Capital City Wheelmen will hold a meeting Monday night for the purpose of discussing basketball matters. Plenty of good material for a basketball team is to be found in the club, the boosters say.

LOYAL SONS TAKE WELL PLAYED GAME

The best-played basketball game Sacramento has seen in some time was that of last night, when the Loyal Sons defeated the Y. M. C. A. boys by a score of 18 to 15. Interest was maintained until the last two minutes of play, when a sensational field goal by Amick of the Loyal Sons sapped a little of the Y. M. C. A. hope and vim. The contest was much closer than was expected, the Loyal Sons being held down mainly because of the fast guard work of Chapman and Rodda in the association back field.

At the end of the first half the score stood seven to five in the winners' favor. Early after time was called, following the intermission, the Y. M. C. A. took a lead and held it until about five minutes before closing. "Time out" taken when two or three of the boys received minor injuries kept the audience in suspense and increased the interest. With the score tied five minutes before the game was to be called the Y. M. C. A. secured a point on a free throw. The Loyal Sons regained the tie by a free throw, and as the time narrowed down playing became brisk. Then Amick tossed a basket from the field and a difficult position. This practically settled the game, but a point awarded on a foul under the Loyal Sons' basket gave them the eighteen. A hard fight continued until the timekeeper's whistle ended the game.

Team work by the Loyal Sons was a feature of the game. These boys were the logical victors, for they have been playing together three years. The showing made by the Y. M. C. A. boys against them was a surprise. Rodda and Chapman at guard were largely responsible for the score being held to eighteen. Almost invariably they broke up the team work formation with which the boys in white started down the court.

The Loyal Sons play a consistent game. It is difficult to pick a star from the crowd—all play basketball scientifically and evidently make no effort at spectacular work. The forwards are strong on throwing the baskets—a factor which was not prevalent in the Y. M. C. A. work.

But six field goals were thrown during the game. Five of these were tossed by Loyal Sons' players and one by Bothwell of the Y. M. C. A. Brandon, Knight, Donald, Hart and Amick were responsible for the double points. Chapman of the Y. M. C. A. tossed eleven of twenty-one tries for the basket from unmolested territory. Blake of the Y. M. C. A. crowd put up a fast game at center field after being out of the gym for two weeks.

Teams lined up as follows: Loyal Sons—Brandon, Knight and Amick, forwards; Donald, center; Hart and McNeely, guards. Y. M. C. A.—Bothwell and Thielen, forwards; Blake, center; Rodda and Chapman, guards.

Previous to the main contest in the association, the Brothers' college lightweights lost to the Y. M. C. A. lighter boys by a score of 27 to 25. This, too, was a fast and interesting contest, the college boys being in the lead, 19 to 10, after the first half. Hicks for the Y. M. C. A. and O'Neil for the college were the star players.

Line-ups: Y. M. C. A.—Hicks nd Smith, forwards; Chase, center; Cooper and Bulger, guards. Brothers' College—Hill, O'Neil and Farrell, forwards; Trueblood, center; West, Cecil and Kulper, guards.

Captain Paul Amick of the high school basketball team has called off the game that was to have been played at Gridley Saturday because his men are not in condition. Not enough attention has been paid to practice at the high school, and Amick will try and start a revolution. The next game in sight is the one to be played on Thanksgiving day at Ione.

Amick has issued a statement to his squad stating why the team was not entered in the Sacramento league series, and urging the members to stick with the high school and not play against it with other teams. Amick says that his boys are not in a class with the club men, who probably are older than they, and for this reason he did not care to enter the high school in the city league. He also states that if players from the high school continue to jump to other teams there will soon be no high school five.

The first game of the S. V. I. A. L. football series will be played at Auburn Saturday, between Auburn high school and Chico normal school. Auburn boasts a strong team this year. The eleven won from Nevada City high school last Saturday by a score of 38 to 5.

SWIMMING RACES FOR SCHOOL BOYS

Young but lusty swimmers from thirteen schools in Sacramento will be pitted against each other in a swimming carnival to be held at the Sacramento baths on Friday night, October 22d. Several hundred boys are now in training for the event, and the best of them will represent their respective schools on the night of the carnival.

All sorts of stunts in the water are planned for the evening, and it is probable that a game or two of water polo may be included in the list of events. The program is not made up, but it will include diving from all positions, swimming of various strokes, swimming wth limbs tied and all such stunts.

For the last five days those in charge of the affair have been trying out the youngsters in the Y. M. C. A. tank after school hours. The events will be handicap, so that primary and grammar school boys will have an equal chance in the competition. Some remarkable swimmers have been developed since an interest was started in the water sport last year. The swimming baths people expect to make a feature of the carnival.

THREE LOCAL MEN ENTER PORTOLA MEET

But three men from the Sacramento Athletic club will be present when athletes get on the mark for Portola athletic events. The fact that the events are not to be hapdicap places the possibility of winning out of many local boys' reach, since they will be competing against world men. Hence Stewart in the mile, Sparks in the middle distance runs and McKillican in the weights, will be the only men from Sacramento to enter the meet. These three will remain over for the Irish-American handicap meet to be held at Shell Mound on the Sunday following. They will be joined by Shoemake in the 440-yard dash and Childs, one of the club's milers.

U. 10-15-'09.

Whether or not the S. A. C. will send a track team to the Portola meet is yet uncertain. The directors of the club have given the team permission to make the trip, but many members do not care to enter the scratch affair. It is probable that several track men will take part in the Irish-American meet in San Francisco on the Sunday following the Portola affair.

A handball tournament is soon to be started at the Sacramento Athletic club. Arthur Delano has been given charge of arrangements. Only doubles will be played. Simultaneously a whist tournament will be started in the club rooms. S. Pixley is in charge of the tourney.

The Yankees of the C. B. C. basketball league were defeated by the Tigers yesterday, score 17 to 10. A regular schedule for the four teams will be drafted this week. Just now the boys are playing out of doors, but intend doing their work in the college gymnasium when the rains come. Teams lined up yesterday as follows: Yankees—Coyle and West, guards; Decoe, center; Cecil and Connelly, forwards. Tigers—O'Neil and Shinn, forwards; Horton and Christian, guards; Waters, center.

Connelly did most of the goal throwing for the Yankees. O'Neil and Shinn were about even in tossing baskets for the Tigers. The clubs now stand as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Giants	1	0	1.000
Tigers	1	0	1.000
Pirates	0	1	.000
Yankees	0	1	.000

The Turners defeated the S. A. C. lightweight team in a practice game of basketball in their gymnasium last night by a score of 20 to 15. Fouls made in the first half put players on their mettle, so that in the second, playing was faster and cleaner. Lineups: Turners—K. Schenk and R. Schenk, forwards; De Panger, center; Hildrath and Stober, guards. S. A. C.—Cowle and Luke, forwards; Duke and Bergman, guards; Allen, center.

S. A. C. READY FOR TOURNAMEN

Thirty Members of Club to Deal Cards for Trophy.

Under the direction of C. S. Pixley, a whist tournament will be started at the Sacramento Athletic club this week. Thirty members have entered the tournament and will play for a trophy to be designated by the club directors later on. It is probable that the directors will offer some minor prizes for the best players.

The entries will be divided into four divisions, and each of these will play one night a week through the preliminary rounds. When the first rounds are finished, the best players will be entered in the finals, which will be for the championship of the club. The best player will get the trophy offered, and will represent the club in contests with outside organizations, providing some can be arranged.

As they pair off those to play are as follows:

R. T. Warren and W. F. McDonald, F. W. Sprague and F. W. Gallager, J. M. Ward and F. Burns, W. H. Pugh and Fred Boyer, H. Duke and C. Luke, George Wisseman and E. Terrell, R. W. Emes and Clarence Coombs, J. W. Morehead and Charles Wahlander, Donald D. De Coe and George H. Bar, Chester Gannon and Charles Stewart, Dr. C. E. Turner and Ed. H. Morris, A. G. Payne and H. Doval, H. L. Sprague and W. R. Erway, Tony Arcega and A. Q. Pitman, C. S. Pisley and Ralph A. Sollars, L. R. Bray and W. L. Rose.

S. A. C. WHIST POSTPONED.

C. S. Pixley, manager of the Sacramento Athletic club whist tournament, announces that the play has been postponed until next week, when the tournament will commence. The club championship and the selection of a club team depends upon this tournament. The participants will play four nights of each week until the first of the year.

Athletic Club Sets Date For Postponed Social Affair.

The postponed Sacramento Athletic club entertainment will be held next Thursday at the old pavilion, according to the latest arrangements. The principal event on the program will be a basketball game between the Turn Verein team and the club heavyweights, but several minor changes have been made in the evening's schedule as originally planned. Refreshments will be served during the period of dancing that will follow the special features. Club members and invited friends only will be in attendance.

One of the evening's features will be a wrestling match between Clarence Coombes and O'Connor, two of the club's lightweights. Then there will be an indoor pole vault and some other stunts.

ATHLETIC CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN

S. A. C. Members and Friends to See Basketball Game and Boxing Bouts.

The Sacramento club will entertain its members and their friends at a combination athletic performance and dancing party in the old pavilion tonight. An athletic program to include a baseball game and two short boxing exhibitions has been arranged. The exhibitions will be followed by dancing, during which refreshments will be served. Adler's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

The basketball game which will open the evening's entertainment will be between the Turn Verein and the S. A. C. heavyweight teams. They will line up as follows: Turn Verein, Wise, Stober, Schuler, forwards; Lentz, center; Schenk, Stober, guards. S. A. C., Schaw, Barnes, Bacon, forwards; Griffin, Emes, centers; Elliott, Lobner, Palm, forwards.

Following the basketball game there will be two three-round boxing contests refereed by William Johnson, boxing instructor of the athletic club. The first will be between Ralph Sollars and Ansel Hoffman, and the second between Salvator Michallo and Clarence Coombes. Dancing will follow.

CLUB GUESTS JEST AS LIGHTS GO OUT

Turn Verein Men Lose Basketball Game—Bouts Not Held.

While half a dozen incandescents cast a dim light on the glossy floor at the old pavilion last night fifteen basketball players slid about, making dives for a dark, inflated object. Now and then the players strained their eyes and found the basket. The game between the Athletic club team and the Turn Verein was won by the former, score 24 to 8. Following the athletic stunt the orchestra struck up and everyone danced by the light of the moon, which shone through the windows and a few candles scraped together by the athletic club committee.

The Sacramento Athletic club entertained under difficulties at the old pavilion last night, but every one there enjoyed the informalities of the affair, and made of it a jolly lark. Dancing in the darkness has its charm, and the merry crowd that went to the old pavilion made the most of it. After the lights left altogether, flickering candles gave a fantastic effect. But the dim light did not last, for the arc illuminators flared up shortly after 10 o'clock and gave the orchestra a chance to play from something besides memory.

Because of the light defects, the committee called off the boxing and wrestling matches that were planned as a part of the program. The basketball game was the only athletic feature presented, and it created quite a deal of interest.

Players on both teams showed a better finish to their playing than was expected by those on the outside. Although the slippery floor rendered effective guarding difficult, there was plenty of opportunity for team work. The large size of the court almost eliminated fouling. The Turn Verein men were weak at throwing goals. It was this defect in their playing that contributed largely to their defeat. On the other hand, Shaw, Bacon and Barnes made good at almost every try for the goal.

Teams lined up as follows: Turn Verein—Center, Weis; guards, H. Stober and Lentz; forwards, K. Schenk and F. Schuler. Athletic club—Emes and Griffith, center; Shaw, Barnes and Bacon, forwards; Elliott, Palm and Lobner, guards. Referee, J. H. Nill.

. . . ATHLETIC INTEREST INCREASES . . .

The Sacramento Athletic Club defeated the Capital City Wheelmen in the dual meet held at McKinlay Park on the afternoon of Sunday, October 10th.

The event had been looked forward to with unusual interest, as it was well known that a big effort would undoubtedly be made by the Wheelmen to worst the S. A. C. A large crowd was on the ground anxiously awaiting the killing.

Gates of the Wheelmen was generally credited as the best all-round man on the field, he taking first place out of the five events in which he was entered. Gannon for the Sacramento Athletic Club was a close second in point of all-round fitness and there is still a difference of opinion as to whether Gannon did not actually better Gates in the final reckoning.

Gates, Clegg and Kidder were the standbys of the Wheelmen's team and they as individuals pulled off the more telling points credited to the C. C. W. Morris and Kelly also did some very creditable work.

After Gannon, Stewart came in for the honors, he winning the mile run with an easy lead of several yards over Kelly, who dropped second place to Childs of the Athletic Club.

McKillican, Hall and Lucey had everything their own way in the 12-pound hammer throw, they taking first, second and third places respectively for the S. A. C.

The S. A. C. had a clean corner on the 120-yard hurdles, Gannon and Ellit tieing for first place. There was no third place.

Gates again came in first for the Wheelmen in the 440-yard dash, followed second by Sparks and third by Shomake of the S. A. C.

The Wheelmen closed in with Clegg first in the pole vault, leaving Bedee and Fuetterer to tie for second place for the S. A. C.

Undoubtedly the surprise of the afternoon was the excellent showing of D. O. Elliott, a member of the S. A. C., who came to the fore in a very unexpected manner. He was a close fourth in the 220-yard dash and in the 100-yard sprint was right up to the tape in a bunched finish. He tied the 120 low hurdles with Gannon.

Elliot has had very little training and his performance at the dual meet should have the effect of influencing him to devote himself to regular and systematic training. He is excellent material for a sprinter and should develop into a good all round athlete.

The following is a summary of the results of the events as generally accepted, but several points credited have been questioned by both sides.

100-yard dash—Gannon (S. A. C.) first, Kidder (C. C. W.) second, Clegg (C. C. W.) third. Time, 10:3.

Mile run—Stewart (S. A. C.) first, Childs (S. A. C.) second, Kelly (C. C. W.) third. Time 5:21.

220-yard, dash—Gates (C. C. W.) first Gannon (S. A. C.) second, Elliott (S. A. C.) third. Time, 23:3.

880-yard run—Sparks (S. A. C.) first, Stewart (S. A. C.) second, Fraser (C. C. W.) third. Time, 2:25.

440-yard dash—Gates (C. C. W.) first, Sparks (S. A. C.) second, Shoemake (S. A. C.) third. Time, 54:1.

120-yard hurdles—Gannon and Elliott (S. A. C.) each win a heat and take all points. No time taken.

High jump—Kidder (C. C. W.) first, 5 feet 6 inches; Gannon (S. A. C.) and Clegg (C. C. W.) tied for second, 5 feet 5 inches.

12-pound shot put—Hall (S. A. C.) first, 45 feet 7 inches; McKillican (S. A. C.) second, 45 feet 5 inches; Kidder (C. C. W.) third, 34 feet 2 inches.

12-pound hammer throw—McKillican (S. A. C.) first, 147 feet 2 inches; Hall (S. A. C.) second, 123 feet; Lucey (S. A. C.) third, 114 feet 2 inches.

Broad jump—Gates (C. C. W.) first, 20 feet 5 inches; Clegg (C. C. W.) second, 19 feet 5 1-2 inches; Villinger (S. A. C.) third, 18 feet 7 1-2 inches.

Pole vault—Clegg (C. C. W.) first, 8 feet 11 1-2 inches; Bedee and Futterer (S. A. C.) tied for second and third at 8 feet 7 1-2 inches.

The Loyal Sons defeated the heavyweight team of the Y. M. C. A. last week by a score of 18 to 15, and the play was the most exciting that has been seen in the basket ball courts of Sacramento for many a day.

Monday night the protest of the Capital City Wheelmen in connection with a basketb game played against the S. A. C. team under the auspices of the Sacramento Basketball league, will be considered. President Nill has called a meeting for that date. The only thing on which the protest can be decided is the regular basketball rules. These do not have anything to say concerning the protestation of a game, because swearing on the floor, which it is alleged by the athletic club players. Referee Putnam and Umpire Reisner say they heard no swearing on the floor, so it appears likely that the wheelmen will not win their case.

Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club has received a communication from the Pacific Athletic assiciation announcing that under its auspices contests will be held for the boxing championship in Dreamland rink at San Francisco on November 8th and 9th. Whether or not the local club will furnish any contestants has not been decided. However, Sacramento has a likely lot of amateur boxers.

STOCKTON, Oct. 30.—In the "Rush of '49" celebration athletic meet held here this afternoon the Sacramento Athletic club team, composed of four or five athletes, finished fourth with 12 points and Capital City Wheelmen fifth with 9 points. Points were distributed as follows: St. Mary's college, 39; Barbarians of San Francisco, 23; Stockton Athletic association, 14; Sacramento Athletic club, 12; C. C. W., 9; Sweedish-American club of San Francisco, 3; Stockton Y. M. C. A., 1.

Gates of the Capital City Wheelmen was the only Sacramento man to take a first place. He won the broad jump, making 21 feet 1 inch in the event. Shoemake of the Sacramento Athletic club was second in the hammer throw, third in the 440-yard dash and third in the mile run. Elliott of the S. A. The Sacramento Basketball league opened its season, which will extend over nearly three months, in the Y. M. C. A. court last night when the Sacramento Athletic club team and the Capital City Wheelmen played. The heavyweight contest went to the former and more experienced team by a score of 44 to 15. The wheelmen showed their inexperience, but made evident the fact that they have material which will put them in the running as an important factor before the league season closes.

The disagreeable feature which marred what might have been an auspicious opening was a bitter enmity shown between the two teams. Early in the history of athletics, since the arrival of the Sacramento Athletic club, a feud sprang up between the wheelmen and the new organization. At a field meet it was hoped the hatchet would be buried, but the Athletic men won the event and only increased the intensity of feeling between the organizations. As a result the row was carried into the game last night, and some rough play resulted. The wheelmen talk of protesting the game, but as yet have taken no definite action in the matter.

S. A. C. SHOWS WELL.

One thing that the first basketball contest of the league series showed was that the S. A. C. team will be near the top of the list, fighting for first place. Two sets of players were tried out during the game, though three men played during the entire contest, and both line-ups appeared strong. The Y. M. C. A. and the Loyal Sons also have strong teams, and by their work on the field the Company E men and the wheelmen have indicated that the league fight will be one to the finish, and one which will maintain interest until the final games.

The prettiest work of the contest was afforded by Barnes and Shaw, who played forward for the Sacramento Athletic club team. Both tossed goals nicely, and got in a bit of team work that reminded the spectators of the game as it should be played. The wheelmen made quite a number of fouls, but these were due mostly to inexperience, and will probably become an unknown quantity when all the teams are in perfect trim.

BETTER IN SECOND.

At the end of the first half last night the score stood 19 to 6 in favor of the Sacramento Athletic club. In the second half both teams did better, showing that the change in line-up made by Captain Shaw of the Athletic club improved his team, and that the wheelmen were getting more used to the game. It was, by the way, the second time the bikers had played together.

Griffith, at center, in the second half, for the Sacramento men, made a nice showing, but was unable to put the ball in the basket when given an opportunuity. His enormous height made his opponents almost helpless to cope with him, but he could not seem to find the basket when given an opportunity.

For the wheelmen, Bowden appeared one of the strongest players. He played the game about five years ago, but had little practice for the contest last night. In the first half Bowden played guard, but it was thought and found he could put up a better game at forward, so he was put where the basket-throwing is done later in the game. De Panger, at center, also did well, considering that he was working with a new team.

PERCENTAGE PLAN USED.

The basketball league is run on the percentage plan.

Following are the line-ups of the teams which played last night, with the points made by each player:

S. A. C.—Shaw, 9 field goals; Barnes, 6 field goals and 11 successful free throws, forwards. Emes, 1 field goal; Griffith, centers. Elliott, Bacon and Palm, guards.

C. C. W.—E. Richie, 1 field goal; R. Richie, 1 successful free throw, forwards. De Panger, 2 field goals and 2 successful free throws, center. Bowden, 3 field goals, guard and forward. Morris and E. Richie, guards.

The Sacramento Athletic club track team members were the guests of the club directors last night at a banquet served at the Hotel Sacramento. This was the first celebration of numerous victories won by the local athletes held by the but recently organized athletic club. Besides being the occasion of rejoicing over triumphs, the dinner offered an opportunity for the formal presentation of medals and other trophies won by athletes during the existence of the track team.

ALL GET TROPHIES.

Practically every athlete present received medals and Captain Gannon and Charles C. Stewart were presented with cups won. Each trophy presented naturally brought out a short talk from the young men who had been victorious on the field and track. The athletic spirit shown at the affair was gratifying to the directors, who sat as hosts, and probably more than anything else since the club's reorganization gave them to understand that their work for the establishment of a place to keep the young men off the streets and away from the saloons at night has been appreciated.

A new building became a sort of slogan at the gathering and practically every director looked forward to a time not far in the future when the club will be able to erect its own quarters with the best of athletic equipment. President W. W. Bassett, who sat at the head of the table, spoke especially encouragingly concerning the outlook. The fact that though but in existence as a reorganized body only since April, the club now has a membership of 1000, most of which is active, is one which it was insisted will commend itself to the most pessimistic as symbolic of a successful future.

WANT STADIUM.

Those at the banquet also looked forward to McKinley park to contain an ideal stadium within a year. If ideas of those present are put in practice the track to the east of the city will be the best in Northern California shortly and will make Sacramento an athletic center permanently. Several of the older members recalled the times when the athletic club was originally organized and had its headquarters at Sixth and M streets. Among those who spoke interestingly along this line was H. H. McGregor.

Those who attended the banquet included all members of the track squad, the directors of the club and officials who had charge of the dual track meet between the Capital City Wheelmen and the athletic club on October 10th. Those at the table were as follows:

CLUB DIRECTORS BANQUET TRACK ATHLETES

The trained athletes of the Sacramento Athletic Club were last night decorated with medals by the Directors of the club at a banquet tendered the track team by the Directorate at the Hotel Sacramento. The emblems of victory were earned in a dual meet held with the Capital City Wheelmen, and official cognizance of the fine showing of the club athletes was taken last night.

Around the festal board the club officials congratulated the athletes for their good work. From topics of the present the addresses went into the future and talk of building a new home for the club and making the McKinley Park field one of the finest stadiums in the country became general. With an active membership of 1,000 the club feels in a position to seriously consider the owning of a home and the start of such a movement is not far distant.

Medals to almost every athlete present were presented. Captain Chester Gannon and Charles C. Stewart were given cups.

Directors and hosts—President W. W. Bassett, Secretary J. M. Inman, J. W. Gray, E. H. Traxler, W. F. Gormley, E. F. Dalton.

In a practice game on the Sacramento Athletic club court last night the Loyal Sons defeated the Sacramento Athletic club by a score of 49 to 11. The S.A.C. line-up was incomplete. which is probably responsible for the wide score. The C. B. C. lightweight team won from the S. A. C. lightweights by a score of 21 to 14.

The Tigers in the C. B. C. Basketball league yesterday won from the Pirates by the score of 27 to 10. This leaves the standing of clubs as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Giants	4	0	1.000
Tigers	2	2	500
Yankees	1	3	250
Pirates	1	3	250

Because Company E has a social engagement for Saturday night and cannot, according to military discipline, overlook the fact, the Sacramento Basketball league games scheduled between the Company E team and the Y. M. C. A. teams that were to be played Saturday night have been postponed for a week. Both the heavies and the lightweight teams were to play.

Henry E. Raphael, manager of the Columbia Park Boys' club of San Francisco, has been in Sacramento for several days visiting local athletic organizations. Manager Bacon of the Sacramento Athletic club basketball team had a talk with him the other day, and as a result it is probable the Columbia Park basketball team, bringing its band along, will come to Sacramento shortly for a game. The Park boys won the state basketball championship in their class last year, so, in addition to the fact that they will bring music, should be quite a card for Sacramento enthusiasts.

Physical Instructor Nill of the S. A. C. states that his track team won 18 points, and not only 12 at Stockton, as has been stated. He also says that the Stockton men won but 3 points, and not 15, as they tried to lead the public to believe. Only a few of the sprinters went from Sacramento. Had the weight and distance men been able to enter the meet, Sacramento could easily have carried the points from St. Mary's, judging from the records made in all events.

The Capital City Wheelmen yesterday filed a formal protest of the basketball game in which they were defeated by the S. A. C. team Wednesday night. President Nill of the S. B. L. will call a meeting shortly to decide the dispute.

TO HOLD SPECIAL MORNING CLASSES

Beginning Monday morning Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento Athletic club will open a morning class for those who wish to take setting-up exercises. The time for the class is set at 9 o'clock. From expressions heard in the club rooms Nill believes that it will attract a large number of members who have leisure time during the morning.

A junior basketball league has been formed at the Christian Brothers college and four teams entered. Several games have already been played, but twenty-five more are scheduled before December 21st. Yesterday the Little Fellows won from the Buicks by a score of 13 to 11. Team work won the game for the lightweight team. Individual work of the O'Connor brothers was a feature of the play. The line-up of the winners was as follows: Ennis O'Connor and Ernest Kavanaugh, forwards; Lloyd Magofflin and Lester Connell, guards; Jerome O'Connor, center. League percentages with the average weights of each team given are as follows:

	Weight.	Pct.
O'Connell	95 lbs.	.800
Victors	95 lbs.	.666
Little Fellows	75 lbs.	.333
Buicks	95 lbs.	.000

In a practice game at the Sacramento Athletic club last night the lightweight team gave the heavyweights the surprise of their lives by winning, score 27 to 13. The story of the score lays in the fact that the light men have been practicing while the heavyweights loafed.

The Sacramento Basketball league will have a meeting next Wednesday night to take up some matters laid on the table at the last meeting and probably fight a little. Earl Chapman of the Y. M. C. A. team has been protested by Manager Morris of the C. C. W. boys. An attempt is being made to have Chapman excluded from games on a technicality. If the protest against this player holds good, the result will not be to increase the sporting spirit of the league, but will probably be the cause of more stormy sessions at league gatherings. Chapman's sin is that of being employed at the Y. M. C. A. a little while after school hours.

Y. M. C. A. LIGHTWEIGHTS WIN FROM S. A. C. TEAM

In a practice game of basektball the Y. M. C. A. lightweight team last night won from the S. A. C. boys in that section by a score of 34 to 25. Both teams played their best game in the first half, at the end of which the score stood 22 to 18 in the winners' favor. Many of the Y. M. C. A. points were made on the fouls, while not one S. A. C. point came on a free basket.

Chase, Hicks and Kestler, for the Y. M. C. A. boys, played strong games. Loverich was the star of the S. A. C. team. The Y. M. C. A. boys were better in team work, and goal throwing honors were about evenly divided. The teams lined up as follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Hicks, center; Chase and Barger, forwards; Youman and Kestler, guards.

CHAPMAN BARRED BY P. A. A. RULES

If the Capital City Wheelmen stick by their protest entered against Earl Chapman, a member of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team in the Sacramento Basketball League, Chapman will be forced to retire. A letter from Secretary Hickey, of the P. A. A., the governing body, in answer to a query from officials of the local league, adjudges Chapman a professional in playing with the Y. M. C. A. team while working for the same institution.

An illustration is given by Hickey. He says the Secretary of the Olympic Club, although a crack athlete, has been restricted from participating in any of the meets because he draws a salary from the Olympics. Chapman works in the capacity of Assistant Physical Director for the Y. M. C. A.

Director Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. is not satisfied with the ruling and has written to the President of the P. A. A. stating the circumstances of the case and asking for a dispensation for Chapman.

FOUR BASKETBALL TEAMS WILL PLAY

Second Game in Sacramento League Scheduled for Tonight.

The second heavy-weight game and the fisrt lightweight contest in the Sacramento Basketball league will be played at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. Company E, N. G. C., and the Loyal Sons will mix in their first games in the heavyweight class, and the Christian Brothers' college lightweight team will furnish the other contest.

The first game in the heavy-weight division was won by the S. A. C. team over the wheelmen and places the athletic club at the league's head. Tonight the Loyal Sons are picked to win and will therefore be tied with the S. A. C. team. Company E has shown a good lot of material, but the team has been organized but a short time, and on that account is not as well trained as the Loyal Sons team, which has been in existence nearly three years. As a matter of fact, the Loyal Sons are considered the best team in the league.

The S. A. C. lightweights and the C. B. C. lightweights have been at work about the same length of time and should put up an interesting contest. The basketball spirit struck the college with such force that an intra-school league was formed and all boys have been getting lots of practice. The S. A. C. team has been strengthened by the addition of Loverich or the high school team, who has shown himself particularly accurate at throwing baskets.

JOINS LEADERS IN BASKETBALL

Y. M. C. A. Team Defeats C. C. W. Boys in City League Series.

BASKETBALL RESULTS.

Y. M. C. A. 42, C. C. W. 6.

	W.	L.	Pct.

Y. M. C. A.	1	0	1.000
Co. E.	0	1	.000
C. C. W.	0	1	.000

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team had little difficulty in winning its first game from the Wheelmen in the Sacramento Basketball league last night, the score being 42 to 6. In the second half the Wheelmen failed to score, though they made the association men fight for every point made. In both halves the Y. M. C. A. team made 21 points.

In the first period the play was more even than it was in the second. The Wheelmen started in slashing style, and oftimes had the ball near their basket, though the forwards invariably overshot the basket. On the other hand, the team work by the Y. M. C. A. men and accurate basket throwing gave them points at the end of most every rally. Had the Wheelmen been able to find the interior of the circle when they had an unmolested opportunity, their points must have been doubled in number.

The Wheelmen got tired in the second half, mainly because they had no subs to take the regular players' places, and practically all of them were not strengthened by the constant practice Y. M. C. A. men had the advantage of. Another weakness in the Wheelman team was occasioned because of the disability of Captain Richie.

Rodda played the star game for the Y. M. C. A. boys, keeping the ball at the Y. M. C. A. end of the field most of the time. Morris tossed most of the Wheelmen goals, but walked with the ball frequently, and had fouls called. J. Blake, I. Blake and Hough of the Y. M. C. A. boys, threw most of the baskets. Harding at center, in the first half, played an effective game.

The line-ups, with the points made by each man, follow:

Y. M. C. A.—Bouthwell, two field goals, one free throw; Hough, three field goals, two free throws; I. Blake, five field goals, three free throws; Thielen, one field goal. Forwards—Harding, three field goals; I. Blake, three field goals, one free throw. Centers—Whitbeck, one free throw; Rodda, one free throw.

C. C. W.—H. Richie, one free throw; Morris, two field goals and one free throw, forwards. De Panger, center; Bowden, Watson, Fraser, guards.

Company E and the Y. M. C. A. roughted in the Sacramento Basketball league last night, the asssociation men winning in both classes. The military men showed some improvement in their work over that in previous games, but were unable to do much consecutive playing. Their forwards showed a disposition to put the ball in the basket when given an opportunity, but failed to get hold of the sphere except semi-occasionally.

GAMES MUCH ALIKE.

The lightweight games showed about the same kind of work as was the feature in the heavy-weight class, but both of the guardsmen's aggregation indicated that they will be in the running before the league series is completed. The heavies went at it in football fashion last night, Captain Canon of Company E being particularly proficient at bowling over opponents. But all of the soldier boys displayed a cheerful disposition when deceived by the fleeting ball in the hands of their opponents and will soon learn the better points of the game.

For the Y. M. C. A. lightweights Chase found the basket most frequently, tossing his share of the field goals and scoring all the free points. Cooper, Smith and Hicks also threw for a number of the points. Joe Blake was responsible for 24 of the 29 heavyweight points, but his ability at throwing goals was partially supplied by his comrades, who gave him the ball at opportune moments. Dr. Rodda, at guard, played a great game and was fast all the time, his wind showing an improvement. Huff and Bothwell were tried out at guard.

HOW THEY LINED UP.

Heavy-weights, with the number of points scored by each man, lined up as follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, J. Blake (ten field goals, four free throws), Bothwell and Huff; center, I. Blake (one field goal, one free throw); guards, Rodda (one field goal), Bothwell and Huff.

The lightweights:

Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, Chase (three field goals, seven free throws), Cooper (three field goals), Smith (one field goal; center, Hicks (two field goals); guards, Kestler, Barger and Price.

Company E—Forwards, Hodgdon (seven free throws), Dunn (one field goal); center, R. Pugnello (one field goal); guards, W. Pugnello, Crondi and Wright.

In a practice game last night the S. A. C. team defeated the high school boys by a score of 43 to 17. The score was 22 to 6 at the end of the first half. The club boys played great ball. The teams lined up as follows: S. A. C.—Shaw and Bacon, forwards; Griffith and Emes, centers; Lobner, Palm and Elliott, guards. High School—Bybee and Amick, forwards; Harding, center; Allen and Simmermacher, guards.

R. F. Warren was elected manager of the S. A. C. lightweight basketball team last night. Physical Instructor Nill is trying to arrange a game between the lightweight team and the Gridley high school team, to be played as a curtain raiser to the heavyweight-independent game to be played here on the 27th.

Some of the old-time athletes of the Sacramento Athletic club are to form an outlaw basketball team which will play the regulars after it has sufficient practice. County Assessor Ed. Kay is at the bottom of the insurrection. Others to play on the team are H. M. McGregor, Howard Bronson, Tony Arcega and Tom Burns.

SELECT SECTIONS FOR WHIST PLAY

Tournament for Club Cup to Open Tomorrow Night.

C. S. Pixley of the Sacramento Athletic club, in charge of the whist tournament, has issued the following notice relative to the play:

Tournament play will commence Tuesday night, November 16th, at 8 o'clock. The players have been divided into four sections, each section being assigned one night per week for tournament play. Each section will play its own preliminary series of games, four players to be taken from each section for the final series. The division of players is as follows:

Section 1, Tuesday—L. R. Bray and W. L. Rose, H. Doval and A. G. Payne, W. R. Erway and H. I. Sprague, C. Gannon and C. C. Stewart.

Section 2, Wednesday—T. Burns and J. M. Ward, F. W. Galleher and F. W. Sprague, C. S. Pixley and R. A. Sollars, A. O. Pittman and E. Terreli.

Section 3, Thursday—C. Coombs and R. W. Emes, H. L. Duke and C. Luke, C. A. Howard and T. Vandenbosch, J. W. Morshead and Charles Wohlander.

Section 4, Friday—George H. Bar and D. D. DeCoe, Fred Boyer and W. H. Pugh, W. F. McDonald and R. T. Warren, E. H. Morris and E. C. Turner, W. Covell and L. K. Lobner.

General play will be governed by the laws of whist. Scoring will be on the percentage basis—of the number of games won—the two highest teams of each section qualifying for the final series. Each team will play a series of five games with each other team of the same section. The tournament will determine the club whist championship and the selection of a whist team to represent the club against other organizations. A silver loving cup will be provided as the championship trophy, and suitable medals, eight in number, for team emblems.

MORE BASKETBALL ON SLATE TONIGHT

Two Games in Local League Series to Be Played at Y. M. C. A.

The Sacramento Basketball league schedule will be continued today, when the Sacramento Athletic club team and the Company E heavyweights lineup in the Y. M. C. A. gym. The game cannot but go to the Athletic team, which will place it tie with the Y. M. C. A. boys, with two games won.

In the lightweight division the Company E and the C. B. C. teams will play games. Both of these teams have lost a game apiece, but are expected to be in the running before long. The contest between them will furnish an interesting side light on how the rear teams will play.

Because the Loyal Sons are to have a counter attraction Tuesday night, their game that was to be played with the C. C. W. on that date has been postponed until Saturday night.

GRIDLEY HIGH AND MARINES TO PLAY

Double-Header Basketball Contest in This City November 27th.

A double-header basketball contest has been arranged for November 27, to take place in the old pavilion in this city. Manager Bacon of the Heavyweights' team of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday completed arrangements with the basketball team of the United States ship Independence, stationed at Mare Island, for a game on the 27th. Manager Warren of the Lightweights also completed arrangements with the team of Gridley high for a game on that date. So the games have been combined and will be contested in the old pavilion as a double-header.

The contests between the S. A. C. heavies and the United States marines should grove an interesting game, as both teams are recognized as clever players. The lightweight contest should not be a dull exhibition. Gridley high beat Sacramento high at Gridley three weeks ago, and for that reason is accorded some prestige in the basketball world. Whether or not they will prove a match for the S. A. C. lightweights remains to be seen.

AUBURN GIRLS TO PLAY FINAL GAME

S. V. I. A. L. Championship Between Auburn and College City Teams.

The final game in the S. V. I. A. L. girls' basketball championship contest will be played at College City Saturday, between the Auburn high school team and the College City high school team. The game was to have been played in this city, but because of more convenient arrangements was canceled and allotted to College City. The Auburn girls are recognized as effective players and count on an easy victory, which will make them the champions of the Sacramento Valley. Friday afternoon the Auburn team will play a practice game with the girls of Williams high school at Williams.

The Sacramento High School Basketball team will play the Ione team in Ione Thanksgiving day, and the following evening will play the Stockton Athletic Club team in Stockton. A practice game will be played at Stockton between the local high school team and the Stockton Athletic Club team, Saturday.

In a practice game of basketball in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, Company E. N. G C. defeated the local high school team by a score of 39 to 14. The high school team was not composed entirely of the regular players, and it is to that Captain Amick attributes defeat. The soldiers entered the contest to win and had little trouble in marking the score board in their favor. The clever and effective guarding of Chapman for the high school was the feature of that team's playing. Hodgdon of Company E showed up well, and Beckman proved the star of the evening despite his change from forward to guard. It appears as if Company E's team would be strengthened by keeping Beckman on guard. The line-ups: Company E—Dunn and Hodgdon, f; Smith, c; Marks and Beckman, g. High school—Biehl and Allen, f; Amick, c; Chapman and Simmermacher, g.

The regular Loyal Sons team defeated the S. A. C. lightweights in a practice game in the S. A. C. gymnasium last night by a score of 37 to 29. The first half of the game was comparatively even, the score being 20 to 18. The S. A. C. team hardly expected to win, and were well pleased with their showing against the champions.

The Christian Brothers' College team defeated the S. A. C. third team yesterday afternoon in a game at the college by a score of 32 to 11. Gruhler and Allen of the Athletic club played a good game and McCarthy and Azavedo were the stars for the C. B. C.'s.

Thanksgiving day Sacramento's championship basketball team, the Loyal Sons, will play an exhibition game with the Stockton Athletic club in Stockton.

SURPRISE SPRUNG BY LIGHTWEIGHTS

Win First Half by Good Playing and Then Lose Out in Second.

BASKETBALL RESULTS.

Heavy-weights—Company E, 15; S. A. C., 25.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
S. A. C.	2	0	1.000
S. A. C.	2	0	1.000
Y. M. C. A.	1	0	1.000
Company E	0	1	.000
C. C. W.	0	1	.000

In the regular basketball league meet last night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Company E lightweights surprised everybody by running up seven points to the C. B. C.'s four in the first half and then losing the game in the second half through poor team work and weak guard. The C. B. C. team regained lost nerve in the second half, and reviving put eighteen points into the basket to Company E's nine, taking the game by a final score of 22 to 16.

Though the heavy-weight game was scheduled as the feature, the lightweight game was by far the most spectacular of the evening and created the keenest interest. Company E's heavyweight team showed a marked improvement, but was outclassed by the clever players of the Sacramento Athletic club. When the end of the second half was in sight the soldiers seemed fagged and winded, while the S. A. C. men were fresh and as strong as at first. The final score was 25 to 15, though it could have been much greater had the athletic club team so desired.

In the lightweight game the contest started off with little in favor of the C. B. C. team. They seemed in the air and unable to gain their bearings. The soldiers worsted them on every turn and far surpassed them in points and team work. Dunn of Company E was the whole team, throwing three goals and two free throws. O'Neil of the C. B. C. team threw three goals and five free throws. Hill of the same team also made a record of three goals. At gong in the first half the score stood 7 to 4 in favor of the soldiers, with gloomy prospects for the C. B. C.'s.

CHANGE IN SECOND.

But confidence in their ability proved fatal for the soldiers, and in the second half they changed their players, which generally weakened their team and probably was the cause of their defeat. The C. B. C. team went into the second half with determined looks upon their faces and caused a direct reversal of things that had proved so detrimental to them in the first half. The nervousness that was only too apparent in the first half seemed to leave them and only a few minutes of the second half was over before the spectators knew which way the game was going. Their onslaught was terrific and little by little the soldiers gave way before it until it was too late for them to recover. The C. B. C.'s went through the soldiers' guards like mercury through water, and again and again threw the ball into the basket. The soldiers' weakness was easily discernible and the C. B. C.'s took advantage of it and so gained a decisive victory, scoring 18 points in the last half. The game was exciting, well played and sensational, and was accorded the applause of the evening.

HEAVYWEIGHTS SLOW.

In the heavyweight contest the S. A. C. team opened up by scoring a goal immediately after the whistle blew. They repeated this performance time and again, until the scoreboard showed them to have eighteen points to their opponents' seven. The soldiers were outclassed, but showed a decided improvement, with the exception of Beckman, who was inclined to loaf. He refused to get in the game, and was responsible for points scored against his team. His friends explained it as being his night off. Captain Canon showed up in good order, springing the sensation of the evening in a long throw to the basket. Cap really made a remarkable throw, and was heartily applauded for his efforts. Lobner of the S. A. C. team played a good game, as did Elliott and Bacon, who made four and three goals respectively. Elliott of the S. A. C. made a freak play in the first half on guard by tipping the ball into the soldiers' basket, thus giving them two points. Fortunately for him his team did not need the points, and so he was saved the trouble of explanations.

The second half was a tired demonstration of the sport, every play seeming a great effort on the part of the players. Exhaustion seemed to explain the phenomenon. The score for the second half stood 8 to 7 in favor of the soldiers. The line-ups:

Company E Heavyweights—Epling and Beckman,, forwards; Smith, center; Marks and Canon, guards.

S. A. C. Heavyweights—Bacon and Lobner, forwards; Elliott, center; Palm and Griffith, guards. Extras, Shaw, forward; Emes, center.

C. B. C. Lightweights—O'Neil and Coughlin, forwards; Hill, center; Haggerty and Trueblood, guards. Extras, Cecil and Farrell.

Among other things, the club lightweights recently accomplished the defeat of their heavyweight comrades. They have been practicing dilligently, and are strong at team work and basket-throwing. WINTER SWIMMING CARNIVAL PLANNED Athletes to Meet With Bath's Management and Arrange Tournament.

A committee from the Sacramento swimming baths and representatives from the various athletic associations will meet in the real estate office of H. A. McClelland, on J street, Friday night, and make arrangements for a winter swimming tournament. Invitations for the meeting were sent out early this week, and all local athletic associations have accepted, and will launch the plans for the scheme Friday night.

The plan is to organize a swimming department in each local athletic association. The members of these swimming clubs will contest in tournament order for cups and other trophies to be offered by the swimming baths' management. It is planned to hold matches at specific intervals during the entire season. The contests will be in ordinary swimming, high diving, trick swimming, water polo, etc. The Sacramento Athletic club, Young Men's Christian association, Capital City Wheelmen and the Turn Verein will send delegates to the meeting Friday night.

The management of the swimming baths is planning to hold a contest in two weeks for which cups and other trophies will be offered. The match will not take up so much time as did the grammar school boys' contest, and will thus give other people a chance to enjoy a plunge.

WHIST TOURNEY ON AT S. A. C.

A handsome loving cup is to be presented to the winning team of the Sacramento Athletic Club whist tournament which commenced last Tuesday and which willl ast a month.

Forty-four members of the club are out for whist club honors, and the games have been played Tuesday and Wednesday. They will be continued tonight and Friday night, four nights of each week being devoted to the tournament.

The team composed of C. S. Pixley and R. A. Wollers has won ten straight games so far and is undefeated as yet, the prospects being good for this team winning the cup.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the match and it is expected that a challenge will be issued to the athletic club by the Capital City Wheelmen at the close of the present tournament.

PIXLEY AND SOLLARS LEAD IN WHIST TOURNEY

As a result of the whist play in the S. C. A. tournament last night C. S. Pixley and R. A. Stollars are still at the top of the percentage column, with ten games won and none lost. T. Burns and E. M. Ward, G. W. Horsehead and Charles Wahlender and Fred Boyer and W. H. Pugh each won four games and lost one. These are the four highest teams in the tourney.

Will Dupen has hung up a cup for players in the tournament. Slight changes have been made in the nights on which some of the men will play because whist has interfered with basketball practice. But the change has not affected the tournament materially.

LOCAL TEAMS TO INVADE STOCKTON

Basket-Ball Boys After Experts in Mill City—Four Fives After Victory.

Local basketball teams are about to make a concerted attack on the tossers of Stocketon, who have maintained one of the game's strongholds in this state for several years. For a long time Stockton basketball players have been on top or near the top in state competition. Sacramento and Sacramento Valley are only beginning to realize the benefits of the game and are taking to it so rapidly that now nearly every community in the north has a team.

Sacramento is just getting into position to attack Stockton. On Thanksgiving day the Loyal Sons, one of the strong local teams, will go to Stockton to meet the Athletic club team there. On the following day, Saturday, the local high school boys will play in the mill city. Although no arrangements have yet been reached, the local Athletic club team and the Y. M. C. A. men are soon expected to invade the Stockton territory. One of these four teams, at least, should return with victory, even if they are against the all-stars.

Tomorrow night the Loyal Sons and C. C. W. teams in the Sacramento league will play a postponed game. The Loyal Sons will probably win and take their places with the Y. M. C. A. boys at the top, with two games won and none lost. The first real contest of the league series will not come until the 22d, when S. A. C. and Y. M. C. A. teams will meet. This game will probably be a finish fight, with the result in doubt until the last.

One of the most interesting games of the C. B. C. basketball league series was won by the Giants from the Tigers yesterday, the score being 24 to 23. As a result of the contest, the teams now stand as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Giants	6	1	.857
Tigers	3	3	.500
Yankees	1	3	.250
Pirates	1	4	.200

McCarthy and Snyder of the Giants tossed most of the goals. Connelly and Azevedo were successful in their work for the team that lost by a point. Excellent team work featured the play of both teams. Teams lined up as follows: Giants—McCarthy, center; Snyder and Makle, forwards; Christie and Lynch, guards. Tigers—Horton, center; Azevedo, forward; Cecil and Carroll, guards.

Henry G. Longhurst has been elected an honorary member of the Sacramento Athletic club, and to the position of publicity agent.

Alumni of the Grass Valley high school are forming a football team to play the Auburn high school team on Thanksgiving day.

ATHLETES PLAN SWIMMING RACES

Representatives from the three athletic associations of the city met with a committee from the Sacramento Swimming Baths company in the office of H. A. McClelland on J street last night and laid plans for the establishment of swimming clubs in the three local athletic associations and prepared for the arrangement of winter swimming tournaments to be held at the local swimming baths twice a month during the winter season.

The committee from the baths was composed of L. S. Upson, S. M. Phillips and G. P. Beere. From the Sacramento Athletic club Physical Director J. Nill. From the Turn Verein G. Zinkgraf and F. Schuler. From the Capital City Wheelmen, W. Bentley, C. Brocan and C. Hansen.

The committee will start the ball rolling as soon as possible and arrange with the management of the baths to allow each and every member of the three athletic associations free admission to the baths Sunday afternoon after 3 o'clock in order to get a line on those wishing to join the swimming team. It is especially requested by the officials of the athletic associations that their members who desire to take part in the swimming tournaments be present at the baths Sunday afternoon and sign up on the club roll.

The following Wednesday afternoon those members of the three athletic associations who were present at the baths Sunday will again congregate at the baths and compete in the tests by which the final selection of the swimming teams of each association will be made. That evening the management of the swimming baths and the athletic club committeemen will meet and arrange a program for the first contest, which will undoubtedly be held a week from this coming Sunday. The meet will not take more than one hour and will be held in the afternoon. Suitable prizes and trophies will be awarded the winners of the various events. H. M. LaRue Jr. is one of the promoters of the swimming tournament who will donate a $30 cup as one of the prizes.

Free admission will be granted the members of the three athletic organizations next Sunday, the Wednesday following, and after that only the chosen team of each association will be admitted free of charge. The local athletic associations are heartily in accord with the movement and the tournaments will undoubtedly prove a popular pastime during the winter.

EIGHT SETS OPEN HANDBALL TOURNEY

Thirty-Two Men in S. A. C. to Play in Pairs for Indoor Court Honors.

Thirty-two members of the Sacramento Athletic club will open their handball tournament in the club courts this morning. Eight sets of three games each are scheduled to be played in the first round. Following these games but half of the original players will be in the running for the championship.

The tournament is for teams only, doubles being the feature. Among the players are some of the best in Sacramento, and a lively competition for a cup to be offered the winners is expected. The tourney will be short, run on the elimination basis and each team to stay in the running must win two of three games in each set. After the first round Manager Arthur Delano will set the dates for the second round, which will be composed of four sets each.

The teams as they will play in the first round are as follows:

1, Morris and Arcega versus Holten and Marston; 2, Bacon and Shorrock versus C. Coombs and P. Coombs; 3, C. A. Nathan and Doval versus Douley and Shaw; 4, Feeney and Barnes versus James and Smith; 5, Lobner and Wahlander versus Warren and Pugh; 6. Strachan and Thayer versus Lucy and Bronson; 7, Tate and Wenzel versus McCullock and Julian; 8, Bloomberg and Payne versus Rose and McGregor.

A crowd from the S. A. C. will take a trip down the river to the swimming baths this afternoon to try out for the club swimming team which will participate in races planned by the bath's management. Physical Instructor Nill of the club promises that his men will do some novel stunts when the competition opens. Members of the Turn Verein and the Capital City Wheelmen also will take in the baths this afternoon.

Sacramento Athletic Club Now Taking Up Swimming as a Sport

Expect to Have Team That Can Hold Its Own in Competitions Soon.

SACRAMENTO, November 27.—The Sacramento Athletic Club is widening the scope of its athletic activities and constantly taking up new branches of sport. The latest acquisition is the organization of a swimming team, which will hold an exhibition in connection with the other important athletic organizations in Sacramento—the Capital City Wheelmen and T8urn Verein—tomorrow. Various aquatic stunts are on the programme, including canoe tilting contests and pyramid teamwork. Physical Director Nill of the Sacramento Club has selected a team of twelve athletes to take part in this event, and it is probable that these same twelve will represent the club when the next competitions are held, which it is expected will be in the near future.

The managers of the new swimming baths at Sacramento are encouraging the sport in every way and are going to offer prizes during the winter. They have also given the teams free use of the baths for tryout purposes.

Basketball is booming at the club, the teams recently having played games with the Y. M. C. A. and Loyal Sons' teams. The club is represented by two fives, a lightweight and heavyweight aggregation. It is expected to enter both of these teams in the P. A. A. championship tournament next spring.

The C. C. W. boys showed some improvement in their play when they kept the Loyal Sons working for a regular Sacramento league basketball game that put the victors at the top of the percentage column, with two games won, and in the same position as the Y. M. C. A. team, so far as the league series is concerned. They were evidently a little frightened in the first period, for only one point was scored up to the end of this stage, and that by a foul committed by one of the youngsters in white. The final score was 47 to 9 in favor of the Sons.

In the second half the wheelmen guards got to working nicely, and kept the ball at their end of the field a share of the time. This allowed H. Richie and Bowden an opportunity to shoot for the goal now and then. H. Richie mdae six of the nine points for his team, and Depanger, who played in center position, tossed two goals after the Sons had fouled.

During the play, Phil Knight, captain of the Loyal Sons, had a Class B foul called on him. He was charged by Referee Nill with elbowing an opponent. This is a serious foul, and is one that may keep a man out of the game for a while. Knight was cautioned not to repeat the offense. The foul was evidently unintentional.

Amick made the majority of the Loyal Sons' goals, but his percentage, based on the number of tries, was not as good as Captain Knight's. Amick tossed nine field goals and failed twenty-five times. Knight tossed six goals, and failed eighteen times. In the second half, Knight's percentage was almost .500. He threw four goals out of nine tries. The team work of the Loyal Sons, and quick work all over the field, was the games' feature. Donald did some great work at center, and also marked in the play around the Loyal Sons' goal. Line-ups:

C. C. W.—Bowden, H. Richie (two field goals, one free throw), forwards; Depanger (two free throws), center; E. Richie, Morris, guards. Referee, J. H. Nill; timekeeper, B. Lawrence; scorer, Joseph Reisner.

Following the basketball game last night, the directors of the Sacramento league met in the Y. M. C. A. C. C. Morris of the C. C. W. was elected vice-president. A committee was appointed to attend to the matter of procuring trophies for the two divisions in the tournament.

The most important matter decided was the disallowing of the protest against Chapman of the Y. M. C. A. team. Secretary Eastman of the Y. M. C. A. stated that he had held a conference with Secretary Erskine of the P. A. A., and had found that Chapman was perfectly eligible to play. The protest was withdrawn.

The third team of the Sacramento Athletic club defeated the Brothers College lightweight team in a basketball game by a score of 33 to 13. The game was played in the S. A. C. court.

The following table shows the standing of the various teams in the Sacramento basketball league:

	Won.	Lost	Pct.

Loyal Sons	1	0	1000
C. C. W.	0	1	.000
Y. M. C. A.	0	0	----
Co. E	0	1	.000

Shaw is also working hard in the forward line.

Barnes has been doing good work forward, but wants more team practice.

In the game with the Brothers' College the Sacramento Athletic team and their opponents both showed nervousness and "stage fright."

Rodda of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team is well to the front in the finer points of the game. He is one of the best guards in Sacramento.

The Y. M. C. A. team is weak in forwards while the S. A. C. team is weak in guards.

Ritchie of the Capital City Wheelmen team is their mainstay, and his absence in the last game with the Y. M. C. A. was keenly felt.

DePanger is a strong center for the C. C. W. Bowden also looks good. The other members are pretty green.

Captain Knight of the Loyal Sons is a good all-around reliable man and one whose support is a great aid. Although he does not shoot the most baskets yet he is directly responsible for many of them.

Track and Field has met with an encouraging welcome in the Sacramento Valley, for whose development along the lines of manly sport this publication is working. Subscribers have come to the front liberally with their support and the businessmen of Sacramento and other Eastern advertisements have added material aid in their endorsement of the new venture.

There are seven driving clubs in the Sacramento Valley, all within a radius of 50 miles from the capital, there are three motor boat clubs on the Sacramento river, these are three well organized athletic clubs in Sacramento alone, while others are flourishing in nearby valley towns.

The interest for years latent throughout the valley has been stirred up and with such enthusiasm as is now prevalent in the various gymnasiums California should without offert come to the front rapidly and take her just share of athletic victories. California climate and California spirit should win everywhere.

MANY TRYING FOR SWIMMING TEAMS

A hundred and fifty athletes, of which nearly a hundred were from the Sacramento Athletic club, went to the Sacramento swimming baths yesterday afternoon to participate in the first tryout for a swimming team. Representatives from the Capital City Wheelmen and Turn-Verein also were on hand and practiced stunts with the others. The spirit shown by the athletes indicates that the winter sport of swimming indoors will be popular.

As a result of the showings made at the baths, Physical Instructor Nill of the Sacramento club has selected from the club members twelve of the best in various stunts and will form from them the team which is to represent his club in the contests planned. Evers proved the best distance swimmer and Cowie led in the sprints. Cox, Wahlander, Lucey, Shoemake, McDonough, Thayer and Luke also showed ability in the short events. The best divers of the crew proved to be Erickson and Beardslee. The wheelmen and Turn-Verein have not yet selected men who are to work on their teams.

As a result of the turnout yesterday a water carnival on a small scale is planned for next Sunday. The stunts planned will be merely for exhibition purposes and no prizes will be awarded, as will be the case when the real competition is under way. Among the stunts planned for next Sunday is a canoe-tilting contest, which is a thriller and laugh-producer for the spectator. The sport is widely known in the East, but has not gained much of a foothold in the West.

The Turners will furnish a pyramid stunt, and it is probable the Schenck family and Montey Newbert will appear in this event. The wheelmen have not announced what they will contribute.

Water polo is expected to follow as a winter game when the other swimming sports are thoroughly mastered. Instructor Nill of the S. A. C. will develop a team in the club.

Wednesday night athletes will again practice at the baths.

LEAGUE LEADERS WILL TOSS BALL

Y. M. C. A. and S. A. C. Teams to Meet First Time in Basketball.

The first real contest in the heavyweight division of the Sacramento Basketball league will be at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight, when the association team leading the league and the Sacramento Athletic club five, with no games lost, meet. It is difficult to say which team will be the victor, for there is little "dope" on which to estimate their respective strengths.

The only plan on which the teams can be compared is by putting together their showings made against the Loyal Sons, which both teams have played. The Loyal Sons beat each of them at different stages, but the scores have been various. The fact that Chapman was not disqualified by the P. A. A. will strengthen the Y. M. C. A. team a little. Chapman is a guard. The Y. M. C. A. guards are strong, but the S. A. C. forwards, Shaw and Barnes, are among the fastest in the league. Otherwise the teams are about evenly balanced. The S. A. C. will have a little advantage in height at center.

Before the heavyweight teams get together, lightweight teams representing these organizations will compete. The lightweight boys are tied for first place, with a game won and none lost.

The Stockton Daily Record has again come to the front with a decidedly ludicrous yet pitiful give away in their account of the Rush of '49 athletic meet. Unfortunately the Stockton Daily Record was not the only paper that made a bungle of the account but the influence was felt in the pages of the Sacramento Union which either copied the Record story or received their information from an unreliable or unofficial source. The Union, however, corrected their story the next day. The Record did not.

However, TRACK AND FIELD realizes that what has been done cannot be altered, yet it wishes to set right in a few minds the actual and official account of the meet. It seems perhaps a coincidence that this is the second time within three months that the Record has shown its sporting, or better, lack of sporting instincts, the last bobble being the ridiculous "roast" of the Sacramento Driving club when that organization was the guest o fthe Stockton Driving club in September last.

The whole trouble is that Sacramento in the personality of the Sacramento Athletic club went over to Stockton to take part in the meet.

They did. They took more than their part considering that they sent over only sprinters and took honors in distance and other events. They clearly worsted the Stockton complement and did they get their credit? No. Did they even get the medals for the events they did win? No—not yet.

The Record published the scores of the respective contestants and in the table gave Stockton 14 points and Sacramento but 12.

Stockton Athletes took second place in the mile which netted them three points and third in the 440-yard which gave them another point, making a total of four points. They won the Marathon race and credited themselves with 10 points which points according to A. A. U. rules must not be applied to a score in a field meet, to be correct nothing over two miles may be counted.

Track and Field compliments the Stockton athlete who won this supreme test of endurance, and also the club of which he is a member, and Track and Field is sure that the Stockton Athletic club is willing to accept their points won under A. A. U. rules and receive the commendation for winning the Marathon which does not count under these rules. It appears then that the newspaper responsible or the account as published to the people is solely to blame.

There is but one criticism of the Stockton club and that is the "deal" afforded Stewart of the S. A. C., who was to have run in the Marathon.

Owing to business requirements Stewart found that he could not arrive at Stockton until the afternoon, thus missing by a few minutes the start of the long race. Telephonic inquiry advised him that the race would be held over for him to start. It was not. The race started exactly 10 minutes before Stewart arrived on the field. He saw the race.

The arrangements were distinctly poor. For the pole vault event there was "nothing doing." There was no pole. According to ethics the medals won during the meet should have been presented on the field before the grand stand. There were no medals. There are no medals.

For the benefit of those who are still skeptical Track and Field will note the Sacramento points: Third place in the mile, gave them I point, third place in the 440 netted 1 point, third in the 100 yards gave 1 point; second and third in the 220 gave them 4 points; second and third in the hammer throw netted another 4 points, and third in the broad jump gives another. This is a total of 12 points—The score allowed by the authority—The Stockton Daily Record.

Finally, be it remembered that Sacramento won second palce in the relay race, which gave them 6 points. The first place counting 10 points, which was duly credited to St. Mary's.

Relay races count 10 points for second place and six points for third place.

ALL TURN OUT AT HANDBALLTOURNEY

Three Teams Have Clean Sheets in Percentage Column—Interest Shown.

With all of the fourteen teams playing and several thrilling games on the S. A. C. handball tournament opened yesterday in the two club courts. The enthusiasm shown far outstripped expectations, and the teams proved more evenly matched than Arthur Delano, who had the drawing of teams, hoped them to be.

With an entrance of fourteen teams, embracing some of the best talent in the city, the big crowd in the galleries was kept in a constant uproar. As a result of the first day's play, three teams have a clear score—Bacon and Shorrock, Mansfield and Wahlander, Tate and Wenzel. Yesterday morning a decision was reached to hold the tournament on the percentage plan, it being more desirable to the participants than the elimination play first suggested.

One of the most exciting sets of the day was that played by Holton and Marsten against Arcega and Morris. Evenly matched, thoroughly up in all the fine points of the game, and spurred on by the continued coaching from the gallery, they put forth every effort. Some of the rallies by the men were hummers. After dropping the first game, 21 to 15, and with the second apparently gone, Marston came through with a flying rush and nosed out their opponents 21 to 20.

Other sets played in the whirlwind manner were by the teams: Nathan-Doval versus C. Wahlander-Lobner, Barnes-Thyer versus Bronson-Lucey, Gallup-Payne versus Rose-McGregor.

One of the disappointments of the day was the poor showing made by McCulloch and Julian, who were considered to form one of the strongest teams in the club. The failure to make a good showing was a surprise to all. Wenzel and Tate, who played against them, however, put up a strong game and indicated they will be in at the finish.

Results were as follows:

Bacon and Shorrock beat C. Coombs and P. Coombs, 21-2, 21-12; Mansfield and Wahlander beat Griffith and Warren, 21-14,21-3; Tate and Wenzel beat Julian and McCulloch, 21-8, 21-9; Nathan and Douval beat Wahlander and Lobner, 21-14,20-21,21-16; Arcega and Morris beat Holton and Marston, 21-15, 20-21, 21-16; Barnes and Thayer beat Bronson and Lucey, 8-21, 21-20, 21-6; Gallup and Payne beat Rose and McGregor, 21-14, 16-21, 216.

Excellent team work, clever goal throwing and luck in avoiding fouls won the basketball game for the Sacramento Athletic club last night and placed that team on an even basis with the Loyal Sons, slipping the Y. M. C. A. team back a notch into third place on the percentage list. The Y. M. C. A. boys fought hard and earnestly despite the fact that two of their men were ejected from the game for unnecessary roughness. In the first half the Athletes had the best of the match, and scored five points to the Y. M. C. A.'s two. The second half proved one of surprise for the spectators, for with two men put out of the game for roughness and one extra substituted, the Y. M. C. A. team held the score down, and finished 11 to 11 with the S. A. C.

The Y. M. C. A. team work was generally weak and its basket-throwing was poor. Several of the team fouled time and again, and most of the points made by the Athletes were from free throws. Both Irving and Joe Blake were put out of the game in the second half, each having two cross B fouls, which, according to the rules of the game, disqualified them. Young Blake was ejected on a foul called by the umpire and referee that was questioned by a majority of the spectators. Blake was crossing the room at a terrific rate, grappling for the ball, and was thrown off his balance. In an endeavor to save himself from falling he is said to have fouled his opponent.

Irving Blake had several ordinary fouls and one cross B against him, and with the accession of an additional cross B foul, was taken from the floor by Director Reisner. This left the Y. M. C. A. with only four men. Joe Blake was taken out of the game soon after his brother, and an extra substituted, leaving the Y. M. C. A. with four men to finish the half.

Feeling was strong on both sides, though each acknowledged that the game was won fairly by the S. A. C. The Y. M. C. A.'s declared, unofficially, that the referee had given them the worst of it, and the Athletes retorted by saying they had no foreknowledge the contest was to be a football game instead of basketball. The fault was generally laid at the door of the referee, who denied that he had given any but decisions he considered fair, though acknowledging that he was too short to see over the players' heads and was not certain of several plays.

The spectators had been keyed up to an intense interest by the lightweight contest, and were more than ready when the heavyweights trotted into the gymnasium. Rivalry was bitter between the two teams, and extended over a greater part of the large audience. Both teams engaged in the contest with a vim uncommon to the sport. The game was rough from start to finish, and both sides shared in the scrimmage, though the Y. M. C. A. team had a shade the better of the roughness.

Early in the game Shaw of the Athletes showed his class and kept up a high standard from the beginning to end. Barnes and Loverich also played good games and shared the honors on the score board. The playing of both the Blake boys told on the Athletes despite the fact that they were ejected from the game for roughness. They were alive and played the swiftest of their team. Chapman, also of the Y. M. C. A.'s, did some creditable work, and put two goals and five free throws on the score board. The first half closed 5 to 2 in favor of the Athletes.

Time was taken out twice in the second half, and repeated fouls interrupted and prolonged the game. Thielen, J. Blake and Chapman put the ball into the basket four times, and Chapman threw three successful free throws. Shaw and Loverich, who had been substituted for Barnes, scored the only points in the second half for the Athletes, and ran the score up to eleven. Both teams were even on the board at time up.

The lightweight contest between the Y. M. C. A. and S. A. C. teams was a lively, well played exhibition of the sport. The Athletes far outclassed the Y. M. C. A.'s and played all around them. Duke, Cowie and Luke of the Athletes proved the stars, while Chase, Hicks and Bayor of the Y. M. C. A. lead in that team.

The first half closed 9 to 13 in favor of the Athletes and the second 4 to 14 the same way, making the total score 27 to 13. The line-ups:

Heavyweights.

S. A. C.—Barnes and Shaw, forwards; Elliott, center; Lobner and Palm, guards; Loverich, Bacon, Erne, extras.

Y. M. C. A.—Thieden and J. Blake, forwards; I. Blake, center; Rodda and Chapman, guards; Harding and Bothwell, extras.

Lightweights.

S. A. C.—Cowie and Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Sprague and Erway, guards; Allen and Lindbery, extras.

Y. M. C. A.—Keslor and Bayor, forwards; Hicks, center, Chase and Smith, guards.

McNeely, referee; Amick, umpire.

Tars Who Will Play S. A C. Basketball

Saturday night the Sacramento Athletic club basketball team will play a five from the Independence training ship at Mare Island navy yard. The sailor boys are making a trip among several towns and will make their last stop in Sacramento. The above is a picture of the U. S. Independence team, those in the top row being as follows: B. C. Hotchensmith, referee; Limbough, guard; Earl, center; Hitchcock, forward; Elmer, sub-guard. In the bottom row are: Keefer (captain), forward; Parminter, sub-guard; Woodward (manager) guard.

S. A. C. IS WINNER OF CLOSE GAME

Only by the hardest effort and by the closest score of the season was the S. A. C. basketball team able to take the game from the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The final score was 16 to 13.

There is some satisfaction in Y. M. C. A. circles over the game because of the fact that both Irva and Joe Blake were taken out of the game for alleged foul tactics. In the case of one it is declared that the referee was unwarranted in his action. But despite this handicap, the association scored as many points in the second half as the S. A. C., which won its advantage in the first half.

Chapman and Rodda of the Y. M. C. A. did heroic work in preventing the S. A. C. from scoring. Shaw proved the star player for the Athletics.

In the lightweight game preceding, the S. A. C. team won over the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 27 to 13.

The teams lined up as follows:

HEAVYWEIGHTS.

S. A. C.—Barnes and Shaw, forwards; Elliott, center; Lobner and Palm, guards; Loverich, Bacon, Erne, extras.

Y. M. C. A.—Thielen and J. Blake, forwards; I. Blake, center; Rodda and Chapman, guards; Harding and Bothwell, extras.

LIGHTWEIGHTS.

S. A. C.—Cowie and Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Sprague and Erway, guards; Allen and Lindbery, extras.

Y. M. C. A.—Kesler and Bayor, forwards; Hicks, center; Chase and Smith, guards.

In a game that resembled in some particulars a football match, the team of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night defeated the basketball five of the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 16 to 13. The club team played a rattling first half and secured a lead that could not be overcome in the last half.

There was more feeling than expected engendered into the game, and as a result many fouls were called. Irving Blake and Joe Blake were both put out of the game by the referee for committing cross B fouls.

The S. A. C. completed the night's work by taking the lightweight match from the Y. M. C. A. lightweights by a score of 27 to 13. The club team outclassed their opponents.

The line-ups of the teams were:

Heavyweights.

S. A. C.—Barnes and Shaw, forwards; Elliott, center; Lobner and Palm, guards; Loverich, Bacon, Erne, extras.

The Loyal Sons added another game to their list of victories in the Sacramento Basketball league last night by again defeating the Company E team at the armory, the score being 24 to 4. Play was somewhat at variance to the usual basketball game in the league series since it was in the armory hall and the court much larger.

Open work was possible and real basketball was played by the teams. The larger floor required more exertion on the part of the players, but they seemed to enjoy it just the same. Knight scored a larger number of points than any other man on the floor, but Amick and Brandon played only a half apiece. Knight tossed the ball through the basket from the field four times and was successful on four of his free throws.

The Company E boys went into the game with their usual vim, but were unable to prevail against experience and superior team work and basket throwing.

Line-ups:—

Loyal Sons—Knight (4 field baskets, 4 free baskets), Brandon (2 field baskets in one-half), Amick (2 field baskets in one-half), forwards; Donald, center; McNeeley (1 field basket), Hart (1 field basket), guards.

Company E—Epling (1 field goal), Beckmore (1 field goal), forwards; Smith, center; Canon, Marks, guards.

Referee, Nill; scorer, Emes; timepeeker, Lovich.

The high school basketball team will leave this morning for Ione to play there tomorrow against the team which defeated the local boys early in the season. From Ione they will go to Stockton to meet the Stockton high school team Friday night. Captain Amick has not arranged a game with the Woodland high school team to be played in the Yolo town Saturday night, as reported, nor have the high school girls arranged a game there for the same date, as reported. The local high school teams will play in Woodland later in the year. The Sacramento boys on their trip will line up as follows: Forwards, Amick, Bybee; center, Harding; guards, Chapman, Simmermacher.

WOULD PLAY WHIST WITH OTHER CLUBS

S. A. C. to Send Out Challenges Following Tourney—Team Standings.

That the members of the Sacramento Athletic club do not intend to restrict their activities to athletics is evident from the keen enthusiasm they are manifesting in the whist tourney now in full swing at the club. The play is showing that a number of very strong whist players may be depended on when the club needs representatives in that direction. A few weeks more of play will determine the selection of a club whist team from the forty-six entrants now listed, following which challenges will be sent to any athletic or other organization in the city whose members are willing to compete for whist honors.

C. S. Pixley, who is in charge of the S. A. C. whist tourney, reports an intense club spirit among his players, and voices the opinion that the group of players to be put forth as the club's representatives will be foemen worthy of the steel of any whist players in any city. He expects halt a dozen or more contests with other clubs after the holidays, and expresses confidence that the S. A. C. team will easily bear the championship.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Bovyer and Pugh	9	1	.900
Morshead and Wahlander	4	1	.800

WHEELMEN VS. S. A. C. IN WHIST TOURNEY

Athletics is not all that is interesting the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club for a whist tournament is in full swing at the club. As the Capital City Wheelmen are also having a similar tournament a challenge has been sent them. The Wheelmen have already signified their intentions of accepting the challenge and some hotly contested games are anticipated, when the separate club tourneys are completed.

IONE OVERWHELMS LOCAL HIGH TEAM

Outclassed By Ione Basketball Team, Local Boys Are Defeated By Score 55 to 34

Special to the Union.

IONE, Nov. 25.—The local high school basketball team defeated the Sacramento high school team here tonight by a score of 55 to 34. The game was an exciting one and stubbornly contested, and although the Sacramento team was outclassed, it fought bravely until the whistle sounded the end of the contest.

It was an off day for Chapman and Simmermacher of the Sacramento team, their opponents scoring goal after goal with little effective opposition. The Ione team was wild and rough, and during the game thirty-four fouls were called on its members. Chapman succeeded in scoring a field goal, Harding threw three, Bybee one and Amick three. The rest of the score was made by free throws.

Captain Amick of the Sacramento high school team was much put out at the treatment he alleges his team received at the hands of the Ione boys. The line-ups:

Ione High School—Stuart and Miller, forwards; Gordon, center; D. Stuart and Baggley, guards.

STOCKTON GIVES LOCALS A SMELL

Sacramento High Boys Outclassed in Basketball, Losing 72 to 12.

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Nov. 26.—Sacramento high school basketball five was outclassed when it met the local secondary school team in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tonight, the score being 72 to 12. In size, ability at tossing baskets and team work the Stockton team showed itself to be entirely in a different group from the visitors or from the average high school team, for that matter.

To a certain extent the contest was a rough-house affair, many fouls being made, particularly by the local boys. All but four of the Sacramento points were scored on free throws by Amick, which came as the result of fouls by Stockton team members.

Muenter, the Stockton forward, towered several inches above Harding of Sacramento, their respective heights being 6 feet 5 inches and 5 feet 9 inches. He had no difficulty in tossing the ball through the hoop while guarded as thoroughly as possible. He made thirty-four of the Stockton points from the field, tossing seventeen baskets.

On the Sacramento team Bybee was fortunate enough to find the basket once, and Chapman, playing a guard position, put the ball through the circle once. Amick made eight successful free throws, making the remainder of the visitors' twelve points.

The Stockton team is expected to take state championship honors. Line-ups:

BASKETBALL TEAMS VISITING OUTSIDERS

S. A. C. Games Scheduled For Saturday Night Called Off.

Commencing today two Sacramento basketball teams are to have an active season for three days outside of the city. Four games are scheduled to be played, two in Stockton, one in Ione and one in Woodland. The S. A. C. and Y. M. C. A. aggregations are the only ones of the strong local teams not scheduled to play during the week-end activities.

Up to yesterday the S. A. C. team had two games scheduled for Saturday night at the Old Pavilion, but it was learned at the last minute that the Pavilion could not be secured on that date. The games therefore had to be called off. The heavyweight team of S. A. C. was to meet the U. S. Independents and the lightweights were to play the Gridley high school team. Games with these teams will be played as soon as a date can be arranged.

The high school five left Sacramento yesterday bound for Ione to play against the team that beat the local boys early in the season. Dope gives this contest to the Sacramento team, for the locals gave Ione a hard rub in the last game with Captain Amick, the star forward, out of the game. From Ione the Sacramento team will go to Stockton to meet the high school team there Friday night. Little is known of the opponents in this case.

The Loyal Sons five will leave today for Stockton to meet the Athletic association team, one of the strongest in the city, there tonight. From Stockton the Loyal Sons will hurry back to Sacramento and run over to Woodland for a game with the Woodland high school team Saturday night. The Loyal Sons will line up as follows: Knight, Brandon and Amick, forwards; Donald, center; McNeeley and Hart, guards.

Amick, who is captain of the high school team, and a forward for the Loyal Sons, will be the hardest worked man on the two crews. He will have to make close connections and play a game at Ione and one at Stockton on the same day, today. Friday he will play a game with the high school team at Stockton and then will return for one as a member of the Loyal Sons team at Woodland. J. H. Nill, of the Sacramento Athletic club, accompanied these teams to Ione and Stockton as referee.

LOYAL SONS LOSE TO STOCKTON TEAM

Local Boys Outclassed By S. A. C. Players, Are Defeated 48 to 17.

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Nov. 28.—The basketball team of the Stockton Athletic club meted out defeat to the Loyal Sons team of Sacramento here tonight by a score of 48 to 17. The Sacramento boys were outclassed and could not place the ball in the basket, despite their stubborn efforts to do so. The Stockton men were much larger than the Loyal Sons and had a damaging advantage in reach. The Stockton center was several inches taller than Donald of the Loyal Sons and threw thirteen field goals as a result.

The three Loyal Sons men, McNealy, Donald and Amick, each scored a field goal. The balance of the score was made by free throws by Brandon and Amick.

The Loyal Sons will remain in Stockton and play the Stockton High school team tonight in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium of that city.

Saturday the Loyal Sons will journey to Woodland and engage the basketball team of that city in an exhibition game.

PREPARE PROGRAM FOR WATER STUNTS

Swimmers to Give Exhibition Sunday—Handball Teams Drawn.

A program to entertain visitors for an hour has been arranged by those in charge of preparations for a swimming contest at the Sacramento baths, the exhibition to be given by representatives of S. A. C., C. C. W. and Sacramento Turn Verein. The exhibition planned for Sunday has nothing to do with the swimming contest proper being promoted, but those participating will in all probability be seen in the official event.

Entries for the event of Sunday have not been received, but they will include men selected from the three club teams. The exhibition will be composed of six water events, the most interesting of which is expected to be the canoe tilting contest. Canoes have been procured and will be on hand for use Sunday. Four men will be entered in this event, two for each craft. One man in each boat will paddle and the others will try to push opponents into the water or tip over the opponent's canoe, which amounts to the same things.

Diving and swimming stunts will furnish the remainder of the program which is as follows:

1. Twenty-five-yard dash.
2. Fancy diving from springboard.
3. High diving.
4. Relay race for four men teams, four lengths of tank.
5. Turner's pyramid stunt.
6. Canoe tilting contest between two teams.

The time of the exhibition will be from 3 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Handball teams were drawn at the Sacramento Athletic club last night and those which will be pitted against each other designated. It is expected that the play of Sunday will make some changes in the present aspect of the percentage column. The drawing resulted with the teams being matched as follows:

Bacon and Sharrock vs. Nathan and Doval; Rose and McGreagor vs. Mansfield and W. Whlander; Tate and Wenzel vs. Bronson and Lucey; Holton and Marston vs. Julian and McCulloch; Arcega and Morris vs. Lobner and C. Whlander; Barnes and Thayer vs. Gallup and Payne; C. Coombes and Coombes vs. Griffith and Warren; Strachen and Burnes to enter race if another team gets into contest.

The Pirates and the Tigers of the Brothers' college played a lively game last night in the college gym., the score being 24 to 24. The boys were unable to break the tie. Coughlin of the Pirates and Azevedo of the Tigers played a good game.

Manager Frank Bacon of the S. A. C. basketball team hopes to hold the games which were to have been played tonight on the 11th of December in this city. If he is successful, the United State Independents will be here to play the local heavyweights on that date, and the Gridley high school team will come to play the athletic club lightweights. Manager Bacon has received challenges to visit Colusa, Livermore and Stockton. These will probably eventually be accepted.

Y.M.C.A. TEAM IS WITHDRAWN FROM LEAGUE

Reisner Accuses Umpire Amick of Being Partial in Basketball.

IRVA BLAKE'S CASE CAUSE

President Nill Says Winter Sport Will Continue Without Interruption.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball teams, heavyweight and lightweight, are out of the Sacramento league because Physical Instructor Reisner of the association considers the umpiring of Paul Amick in the S. A. C.-Y. M. C. A. contest of Monday to have been partial, while the league delegates at a meeting last night showed a disposition to discipline Irva Blake for alleged rough playing. Reisner withdrew his teams when the three league delegates besides himself present indicated that they would vote to keep Blake out of the game for some time, it was afterwards learned, a month at least.

UMPIRING UNFAIR, HE SAYS.

"If the Sacramento Basketball League cares to place itself on record as supporting the kind of umpiring done by Paul Amick in Monday's game, I do not want to be associated with the organization," said Reisner last night, "and that is why I have withdrawn the two association teams. I have no ill feeling against the other teams in the league and recognize that my team was fairly beaten by the S. A. C. boys. But Amick's officiating, particularly in calling a Class B foul on Irva Blake and thereby excluding him from the game, was manifestly not fair. Amick showed partiality throughout the contest."

Relative to the action of the Y. M. C. A. teams President J. H. Nill of the league said last night: "I think the Y. M. C. A. showed an unsportsmanlike disposition in withdrawing from the league. Blake deserved to be disciplined. The withdrawal of the association will have no effect on the winter's sport. A meeting of the delegates will be held Monday night and the schedule rearranged. Games that were to have been played in the Y. M. C. A. gym will be played in the S. A. C. court. We will probably admit two more teams to take the vacated places. The high school can fill the lightweight vacancy and the Turn-Verein the heavyweights. Monday night's games will be played in the athletic club court."

HOW IT HAPPENED.

The league gathering at the Y. M. C. A. last night was attended by J. H. Nill of S. A. C., Brother Lawrence of C. B. C., Pugnello of Company E and Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. Representatives Morris of the C. C. W. and Donald of the Loyal Sons were not present, having left before the meeting was called to order.

First the case of Joe Blake, who was ejected from the game Monday night when the second Class B foul was called on him. According to Reisner the league directors in executive session decided that the umpire had made a mistake in calling the first foul on young Blake. That the offense was not in Class B and was slapping instead of hacking. President Nill, however, says that mistake was made by the scorer, who was Phil Knight, but accused Reisner of being responsible for the ejection of the younger Blake. Joe Blake's first class B foul was called for hacking and the second one, which caused his retirement from the game, for unnecessary roughness. Joe Blake was reinstated.

As soon as the discussion of Irva Blake's case was begun, Reisner says he got the impression that the delegates intended to suspend him for a time and support the decision of Amick relative to the last Class B foul called on the player. Thereupon Reisner stated that he was tired with the continual fighting in the league and that he did not care to be associated with an organization that would support the Amick type of umpiring. He withdrew his teams.

CAUCUS DECIDES CASE.

meeting that Reisner did not give the delegates time to take any action but admits that at a caucus before the President Nill says regarding the meeting it was practically decided by the three delegates, himself, Lawrence and Pagnello, that Blake should be suspended at least a month.

"The last Class B foul called on Irva Blake is the one which I contend was not fairly called," asserts Reisner. Amick was far away from the scene of the play. In a scuffle for the ball Irva Blake fell on the floor back downward. An S. A. C. player was rushing toward him and Blake drew up his arms and knees to protect his body from the impact. Amick evidently construed this movement to be one of attack against the man who was coming toward him, but such a decision could not be else than unfair."

TWO HANDBALL SCORES PERFECT

Twelve Teams Still in Running for Court Honors at S. A. C.

Handball play at the Sacramento Athletic club found several teams missing yesterday., but there is still a healthy number out for chief honors in the courts. Twelve teams are still working, and two of these have passed the second round and maintained a clean score with a percentage of 1.000. Bacon and Sharrock and Tate and Wenzel are still at the top, with five games won and none lost.

Tate and Wenzel are doped by the court experts to take the top place in running, but Arcega and Morris and perhaps Bacon and Sharrock will give them a hard tussle.

Rose and McGreggor and Griffeth and Warren indulged in three hard games yesterday, the first mentioned crew winning two of the three contests. The first game went to a score of 21-20, and the winners lost the next, but came forth with a 21-13 score in the final. Strachan and Burns gave Holton and Marston a beating in three wild games, the score in the second of which was 20 to 21.

Bacon and Sharrock beat Nathan and Doval, 21-5, 21-17, 21-17; Tate and Wenzel beat Bronson and Lucey, 21-7, 21-9, 21-0; Arcega and Morris beat Lobner and Wahlander, 21-9, 21-3, 21-1; Rose and McGreggor beat Griffeth and Warren, 21-20, 12-21, 21-13; Strachan and Burns beat Holton and Marston, 21-13, 20-21, 21-10; Barnes and Thayer beat Gallup and Payne, 19-21, 21-11, 21-9.

SWIMMERS TO DO STUNTS AT BATHS

Hour Show to Be Provided by the Members of Three Teams.

Between three and four o'clock this afternoon at the Sacramento swimming baths, members of the S. A. C., C. C. W. and Turn-Verein swimming teams will give an exhibition, six specific stunts being scheduled for the afternoon. The program, which will run for an hour, will include high diving, fancy diving, swimming races, a pyramid stunt, and a canoe tilting contest between two teams. This last will be the feature of the sport.

The second round in the S. A. C. handball tournament will be run off in the club's two courts this morning. Bacon and Sharrock are at the head of the percentage column so far and will play the first games of the second round against Nathan and Doval. The leaders have won two games and lost none.

Howard Bronson, one of the tallest men in S. A. C., and a fast handball players, is going to try for the basketball team and is expected to make good at center position.

At a meeting of the Sacramento "Soccer" football league held recently, it was decided to increase the number of the clubs participating in the league schedule. J. D. Robertson of 621 J street, was appointed a committee of one to take charge of the matter. All unattached players who desire to join the new clubs have been requested to communicate with him.

WATER FROLIC AMUSED CROWD

Eight Hundred People See Club Athletes in Stunts at Baths.

Fully eight hundred people were attracted by the first indoor exhibition of water sports Sacramento has seen for many years, at the Sacramento swimming baths yesterday afternoon, when three local club teams provided amusement and incidentally practiced for a trophy competition to be held in a few weeks.

The Sacramento Athletic club men won the majority of events, while the C. C. W. and Turn Verein athletes also made good showings. The Turn Verein pyramid stunt furnished by the Schenk family and Monte Newbert, attracted considerable interest, but the canoe tilting contest, in which the Moore-Sollars crew was tipped into the water, provided amusement for the spectators. All the races were better than the average, and Charles Wahlander and Eddie Fletcher showed good form in the diving events. Wahlander had the fancy touch to his work from the springboard, while Fletcher made the most graceful curve in dropping from the topmost platform of the high-diving layout.

In the relay race one of the S. A. C. teams and the C. C. W. boys finished in a dead heat, making second place in the event a thriller until the last.

The clubs interested in the water sports promise to continue the exhibition work every other Sunday in the month. A week from next Sunday a water polo game is scheduled to be held. Until the date for this contest is reached, two teams to represent local clubs will be busy getting into training for the contest. Besides the water polo contest, the baths management promises tub races, a greased-pole walking contest, a half-mile handicap and some fancy trapeze work.

S. A. C.—Cowie, Ewers, Thayer, C. Wahlander, R. Wahlander, Shoemake, Lucey, Beardslee, Collars, Moore. C. C. W.—E. Richie, Smith, Flynn, Nebress, De Panger, Bentley, Hansen, H. Richie, C. Herndon. George Faber. Turn Verein—Schuler, Zinkgraf, H. Stober, Lintz, Lohoff, Weise, Monte Newbert, K. Schenk, B. Schenk, L. Schenk, Kurtz. Bachman, Fletcher, Hurley.

Summary: 25-yard sprint—Ewers (S. A. C.), first; E. Ritchie (C. C. W.) second; Shoemake (S. A. C.), third.

High diving—Won by Eddie Fletcher (Turn Verein).

Relay race of four lengths—S. A. C. team composed of Cowie, Ewers, Thayer and C. Wahlander, first; C. C. W. team, composed of E. Richie, Hensen, E. Richie and Flynn, and S. A. C. team composed of Shoemake, Lucey, Beardslee and R. Wahlander, tied for second in dead heat.

TAILENDERS WILL MEET FIRST TIME

Games Tonight to Be Played in S. A. C. Court—S. A. C. and Co. E Lightweights to Mix.

Basketball teams of the Sacramento league will be seen in action at the Sacramento Athletic club tonight instead of the Y. M. C. A., as provided in the schedule. The change in the place for the game was necessitated because of the Y. M. C. A. team's withdrawal.

Tonight for the first time the two tailenders will meet in the S. A. C. court and will probably give those interested a line on which C. C. W. or Company E will be the more serious contender for the booby prize. In the lightweight division the Company E team and the S. A. C. boys will play. This game will in all probability be won by S. A. C. and strengthen that team's position at the top of the league.

Y.M.C.A. OUT OF THE LEAGUE

On account of alleged unfair decisions on the part of Paul Amick, as umpire, because of the suspension of Irva Blake, a Y. M. C. A. player, and on account of continual wrangling and disputes that were constantly occurring among teams of the leagle, Physical Director Reisner has withdrawn both Y. M. C. A. teams from the Sacramento Basketball League.

When questioned concerning his withdrawing the association teams from the League, Mr. Reisner gave the following as his reasons for his action:

"The members of the association teams and myself do not care to be associated with an organization that will permit such decisions as rendered by Paul Amick when he refereed the Sacramento Athletic Club-Y. M. C. A. game. He showed direct favoritism and hi sdecisions were decidedly unfair. His ordering Irva Blake from the game was uncalled for. Aside from this everything connected with the league has been decidedly distasteful to me and others. For several months no minutes of the preceeding meetings have been read, and nearly everything accomplished has been in an unbusiness-like manner, which caused a continual wrangle. The action of Amick was the last straw, and if the league delegates permit that kind of work I feel compelled to withdraw the association teams. We bear no ill feeling toward the other teams, but have decided to withdraw from the league."

Director Nill of the Sacramento Athletic Club had little to say on the subject, aside from the fact that he was of the opinion that the Y. M. C. A. had acted in an unsportsman-like manner in withdrawing from the league. He said that it had been practically decided that Blake should be punished for his rough playing by keeping him from playing in the league for a month, by a majority of the league. When the meeting to decide what action was to be taken by the league in regard to the suspension of Blake, was called, delegates from the Loyal Sons and Capital City Wheelmen teams left the meeting. President Nill announces that two teams will be taken into the league and the games continued as before, save that in place of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium the games will bep layed at the athletic club.

WHEELMEN VS. CO. E. TONIGHT

On account of the withdrawal of the Y. M. C. A. team from the Sacramento City Basketball League, the league game scheduled between the Capital City Wheelmen and Company E will be played in the Athletic Club court tonight in place of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

The meeting of the tailenders tonight will in a measure determine who has the best chance of winning the cellar championship. The lightweight preliminary game will be between the S. A. C. and Co. E teams. The Athletic Club team is picked as a winner in this contest.

DR. RODDA SAYS EVENING PAPERS MISQUOTED HIM

The following communication was recived by the sporting editor of the Union yesterday, and is published verbatim:

Sporting Editor The Union—Sir: In the evening paper I have been quoted as saying that I have withdrawn from the Y. M. C. A. team because of the roughness of their playing. Such is not the case, however. I was in favor of withdrawing the team from the league because of the continual wrangling which showed itself among the teams, together with the continual use of phrases and remarks from the side lines concerning the Y. M. C. A. teams. We are still playing basketball, and are now making arrangements for ganfes with outside teams. I am sure, as a team and an association, we have shown all courtesy to all the teams that have played, and as an individual I hold no ill feeling of any kind against any individual player, and hope for the improvement and increase of interest of basketball in Sacramento.

DR. G. S. RODDA.

UMPIRE AMICK HAS WARM REPLY FOR REISNER

An eruption in the Sacramento Basketball League was caused Saturday night by the withdrawal from the league of the two basketball teams of the Y. M. C. A. because of the action taken by other directors in punishing Irva Blake, a Y. M. C. A. player, for rough playing. Director Reisner of the association teams declared his teams could not stand for the sort of umpiring done by Paul Amick in the S. A. C.-Y. M. C. A. game, when he is alleged to have shown partiality to the clubmen.

Umpire Amick now comes back with a hot shot at the director of the Y. M. C. A. as follows:

"Director Reisner has taken occasion to lay the whole blame for his withdrawal of the teams upon me. He claims I was partial in the S. A. C.-Y. M. C. A. game and that I could not see to make some of the rulings I did. At the same time Reisner, who was sitting amongst the crowd says he could see everything. After he tells how his team was robbed by the umpire he concludes by saying he was fairly beaten. There is not much consistency about that.

Captains Were Cautioned.

"Before the game started the captains of both teams were told that they would be held down close to the rules as it was known that the game was going to be a hotly contested and possibly a rough one. I showed no partiality intentionally. I called Class B fouls on both Irva and Joe Blake and I also called the same kind of fouls on two different S. A. C. men. The rough work of the Blakes caused the audience to hiss at them. The foul for which Irva Blake was put out of the game and out of the league as well occurred in the last half. He was lying on his back with the ball and when a S. A. C. man ran toward him he kicked him. I immediately put him out o fthe game.

Calls Reisner a Disturber.

"To demonstrate what one of their own men thought of their playing, Dr. Rodda, one of the best players on the Y. M. C. A. team, has withdrawn on account of the rough playing of his team-mates.

"Reisner says further that he does not care to stay in a league where there is so much wrangling. The disturber in the league as all the other directors will admit is no other than this same Reisner."

The adjusting of the Sacramento Basketball League will be made tonight at a meeting when teams to fill the vacancies left by the lightweight and heavyweight teams of the Y. M. C. A. will be found. The Y. M. C. A. teams will not be permitted to re-enter the league, as the directors voted them back their entrance fees.

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS OUT OF LEAGUE

Representatives Meet and Disqualify Players—Also Demand Forfeit Money.

Immediately after the league basketball games in the Sacramento Athletic club gymnasium last night, the representatives of the several organizations comprising the league met in regular sssion, and by unanimous vote disqualified the two Young Men's Christian association teams, and declared their cash bond of $10 forfeited to the treasurer of the league.

This action was taken because Director Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. withdrew his teams from the league at the disposition of other members of the league to disqualify Irva Blake, who had two class B fouls against his credit, for which the rules of the league, agreed to by Director Reisner and all other members of the league, empower the directors to disqualify or retain a player, just as they see fit. The delegates of the league last night held that Reisner had withdrawn his teams before a vote was taken, and that he had acted too hastily in the matter, and thus violated the forfeit rules of the league, which he in particular advocated at the formation of the organization.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with Reisner and request the forfeit money of the league deposited with him as treasurer of the league, which office he also forfeits in withdrawing his teams, and in addition the $10 guarantee deposited at the commencement of the league, and which was an assurance against just such action as was taken by himself (Reisner).

Every member of the two Y. M. C. A. teams is disqualified, and cannot play in any games save in representing his high school or college, for one year, and not until three months after he receives his clearance papers, should he be able to do such. Outlaw ball will be played, but under the P. A. A. rules the men are out of the league until the proper time expires. Chapman, of the Y. M. C. A. team, however, may play for the high school but not for an athletic association.

To take the place of the two disqualified teams, the league directors voted to take in the high school in the heavyweight class. The vote was not unanimous, however, as the Loyal Sons delegate, C. T. Brandon, opposed the movement on the grounds that the high school could cripple all the teams by demanding players who chanced to be members of the high school student body. However, he bent his will to that of the majority, and the high school team was admitted.

These new teams will commence anew, and the games and percentage of the Y. M. C. A. will be canceled from the books of the league. The high school team will re-play the games that were played with the Y. M. C. A. A motion made by C. C. Morris of the C. C. W. provided for the admission of a second lightweight team from the Sacramento Athletic club. The schedule of games will be rearranged later.

The S. A. C. games with Gridley high school and the Marines, which were postponed, will be played in the old pavilion Saturday, December 11.

The hardest fought game ever played in the history of the Sacramento Basketball league was contested last night in the S. A. C. gymnasium between the lightweight teams of the Sacramento Athletic club and Company E, N. G. C., in which the former won by the remarkably close score of 12 to 11.

It is not amiss to say the contest was the cleanest and best played game that has yet taken place between the teams of the local basketball league. The two teams were so evenly matched it is hard to judge between them. Company E was in the lead up to the last few moments of the second half and lost the game by a clever field goal by Forward Duke, who was substituted for Lindberg in the first half and played a demon game.

Luke of the Athletic club played a good game, throwing three field goals. Duke threw one field goal and the rest of the score was made by free throws. Dunn of Company E showed up in brilliant manner. R. Pagnello threw a field goal and Hodgdon made most of the free throws.

Thirty-four to eight tells the tale of the heavyweight contest between the C. C. W. and Company E, N. G. C., in which the wheelmen won. The soldiers were crippled greatly by the non-appearance of their crack forward, Epling, and had to substitute an inexperienced player in his stead. The wheelmen played rings around the soldiers and worsted them on every turn. The line-ups:

Heavyweight contest—Nill, referee. C. C. W.—Morris and Bowden, forwards; De Panger, center; E. Ritchie and H. Ritchie, guards. Company E—Cannon and Beckman, forwards; E. Smith, center; Cippa and Menks, guards.

threw a field goal and was one point ahead. But in a desperate rally the Athletic team rushed the ball to its end and tossed the sphere into the basket, winning the game 12 to 11.

The heavyweight game which followed between the Company E and Capital City Wheelmen was a good deal slower. Company E was crippled by the absence of Forward Epling and lost 34 to 8. Company E now holds the cellar championship with five games lost and none won.

The teams lined up as follows:

Lightweight contest—Amick, referee. S. A. C.—Lindberg, Luke and Kelley, forwards; Duke, center; Allen and Sprague, guards. Company E—Dunn and Hodgden, forwards; R. Pagnello, center; W. Pagnello and Crowder, guards.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ATHLETIC CLUB

Jan 23 '10

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club, last night, a number of things of vital importance to the club were decided. It was decided to install a steam bath and rubbing room, and all appliances necessary to such a department.

The boxing and wrestling departments of the club will be attended to. A boxing entertainment for the members of the club will be given every month, and the winners will be given medals. The services of Al Lavine, wrestling instructor at St. Mary's, will be secured for three nights a week. Provisions for boating, and outdoor as well as indoor athletics will be made by the directors. Fifty additional lockers will be installed, and many other minor improvements will be made.

BRAND Y. M. C. A. OUTLAW AND DEMAND SECURITY

That the Y. M. C. A. will have to forfeit the security money, posted at the organization of the Sacramento Basketball League as a guarantee that all scheduled games would be played by the team, and that the Association players be disqualified from playing in the league, was decided by delegates of the league at the conclusion of the league game played last night.

In addition to forfeiting their security money the members of the Y. M. C. A. teams were declared outlaw players and cannot play on any team in the league unless representing some new team. This ruling by the directors of the league will keep the Association players from playing in the league for a year. The P. A. A. ruling on this subject is that outlaw players cannot play in the league until they have received their clearance papers.

To take the place of the Y. M. C. A. team the directors decided to allow the high school to enter the league as a heavyweight team. This action was opposed by Brandon, of the Loyal Sons, who stated that the high school team could cripple the rest of the teams by demanding players that were members of the student body and also members of other teams in the league. If so disposed the high school team can obtain the services of Chapman, the association guard.

The secretary of the league was instructed to communicate with Reisner and request the forfeit money of the Y. M. C. A., as the agreement made at the organization of the league had been broken by the withdrawal of the Assocaition team. Physical Director Reisner stated that he had nothing to say in regard to what action would be taken in the matter by the Y. M. C. A. and as for his part the matter would be dropped. If the directors of the league decided that the security be forfeited the Y. M. C. A. would accede to the demand.

BASKETBALL BODY LOSES LAST HOME

No More League Games to Be Played in S. A. C. Court.

The Sacramento Basketball league again is in trouble, and it is possible this time its disruption may result from the difficulty. Captain George Curtiss of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday informed Physical Instructor Nill that no more league games shall be played in the club court after Monday night, when the S. A. C. and Loyal Sons' teams meet. This practically turns the league out of house and home, and at present there seems no place available for the games.

The Y. M. C. A. was the league's haven until Umpire Paul Amick threw two association players out of the game for alleged rough playing, and caused a row which resulted in Instructor Reisner's withdrawing his team from the league and refusing the use of the gym for further games. Hall the league contests were scheduled to be played in the Old Pavilion at Sixth and M streets, but seldom have the athletes been able to secure accommodations, such as lights, there, so their chances of playing the rest of the league games there are considered very slim.

A meeting of the league officials will be held Monday night, and it is hoped a solution of the new difficulty may be found. Just now the league is in an extremely homeless condition.

Monday is scheduled to see what is expected to be one of the best games of the series, and a deciding contest. S. A. C. and Loyal Sons, the leading teams, are to meet. The high school team is getting into trim to take up the burden laid down by the Y. M. C. A. team.

FORMS LEAGUE TO KEEP MEN IN TRIM

Y. M. C. A. Basketball Men Will Continue Play—Classes Are Active.

In order that his basketball men may be kept in trim while not out of town playing games, Physical Instructor Reisner of the Y. M. C. A., since withdrawing from the Sacramento Basketball league, has organized an intra-association league composed of four teams. All basketball players have been divided into four sections of about equal length. The first games will be played tonight, after which a schedule for the contests will be drafted. Team members have been named, but they have not selected body names as yet. Until names are selected they will be known as follows:

Reisner is also starting in the association class contests for the seniors, intermediates, employed boys and juniors. Classes will be divided evenly and one-half will contest for points against the other half in a series of varied games and stunts. The contest will close about the first of the year. Games and stunts to occupy attention are: Standing broad jump, running high jump, medicine ball relay, basketball hurdle relay, rope climb, chin-up, dumb-bell relay, obstacle race, long ball, volley ball, playground ball and basketball.

A handball tournament among the intermediates and employed boys also being conducted. Fourteen boys have so far signed up for the play.

SAILOR BOYS OF UNCLE SAM TO PLAY

The Sacramento Athletic Club tonight holds the first of a series of five basketball games with outside teams at the Old Pavilion. The club team is to face the United States Marines from the United States Steamship Independence at Mare Island, and from the record of the jackies they should be able to give the club boys a lively argument.

The navy team is the first of its kind on the Pacific Coast, and the jackies have not hesitated against tackling the best basketball teams in the State.

Basketball games combined with a social dance form the program for the evening. The Marines and the S. A. C. will play the first game, and the S. A. C. lightweights and the High School team will play the second game. A social dance will follow.

The teams will line up as follows:

United States Steamship Independence—Hitchcock and Kiefer, forwards; Earl, center; Limbrough and Woodward, guards; Elmer and Parminter, sub-guards. S. A. C.—Shaw and Barnes, forwards; Griffith and Emes, center; Elliot and Lobner, guards; Palm, Donald and Bacon, extras.

S. A. C. Lightweights—Cowie and Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Allen and Sprague, guards; Erway and Beardslee, extras. High School—Amick and Lovich, forwards; Harding, center; Chapman and Simmermacher, guards; Bybee, extra.

PRACTICE GAME IS WON BY CLUB TEAM

Handball Attracts Interest—Whist Lagging—Sport Notes.

In a practice game at the athletic club last night, the S. A. C. team won from the high school boys by a score of 29 to 16. Both teams are preparing for contests Saturday night, when the athletic club men will play the U. S. Independents and the high school boys will meet the S. A. C. lightweights. The contests contained no features save steady playing by members of both teams. Line-ups:

S. A. C.—Shaw and Donald, forwards; Griffith, center; Emes and Elliott, guards.

A deal of interest is being attracted by the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament now in progress. The contest has simmered down considerable, and it is the popular belief about the clubrooms that the final struggle will be between three teams composed of Tate and Wenzel, Arcega and Morris, and Strachan and Burns. Contestants and other club members concede top place to Tate and Wenzel, who are now in the second station. It is thought Arcega and Morris and Strachan and Burns will have a lively fight for second place, but the odds favor the first mentioned team, which now heads the list of contestants. Drawings for the games of Sunday morning will be made tonight.

The whist tournament at S. A. C. is lagging, but Manager Pixley states the first round will soon be finished, and those who are behind will then be eliminated. After the first round the contest will become more brisk.

The basketball game which the local high school team was to play in Woodland tonight has been postponed until Friday night next week.

TATE AND WENZEL AGAIN TAKE LEAD

Interest in Handball Tourney Is Reaching a High Pitch. Yesterday's Results.

The lead in the handball race at S. A. C. again shifted yesterday when Tate and Wenzel beat Gallup and Payne in three straight games, putting their percentage at .909, with but one loss recorded against them. Arcega and Morris, who were at the top for a week, but dropped to second place yesterday, losing one of their games and lowering their percentage to .833. Bacon and Sharrock did not play, so maintain third place with .750.

Of the teams which were lower down the list the Nathan and Doval crew pulled up to .667, taking three games from their opponents. Strachan and Burns, who are expected to be well up at the finish, were unable to do better than .444, taking one of the set with Arcega and Morris. But this team has its easier games ahead.

The first game between Arcega and Morris and Strachan and Burns was the best of the day, the score being 21 to 20. The last point was one of much contention.

OTTO RITTLER TAKES CHARGE DECEMBER 15

OTTO RITTLER,
New Physical Director at S. A. C.

Otto Rittler, the new Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, will arrive here about the 15th of December and take up his duties at once.

Rittler was chosen for the position he is to fill in local athletics after a personal investigation by the Board of Directors of the S. A. C. in regard to his past record, the Board having sent one of their number to Oakland and San Francisco for that purpose, and if recommendations and previous success pass for anything, he should put the S. A. C. high among the leading clubs on the Coast. One of his first efforts will be to organize a large class in physical culture and general gymnasium work, and particular attention will be given to the physical advancement of business men, who will be urged to be regular attendants.

Rittler has been associated with the Turners in Munich, Bavaria and Germany as a member and as instructor. He has been with the Turners of Oakland, the Acme Athletic Club, the Olympic Club, Sunset Athletic Club, Reliance Club and St. Mary's College, from which the S. A. C. has drawn him by offering him a handsome salary. He has coached and trained many teams in basketball, football and track work for clubs and schools, has put on athletic entertainments for churches, lodges, etc., and is a thorough all-around man.

An Oakland paper of recent date says as follows: "The splendid condition of St. Mary's Rugby team can be attributed to a considerable extent to Otto Rittler, Physical Director of the College. Hard-working and intelligent, Otto must be ranked with the very best when it comes to conditioning an athletic team."

Among the successful pupils of Rittler are Robert and William Howden, the former having won the ten-mile race twice in Sacramento and the latter making second place in the Dipsea race. Charles Stewart, who is one of the strongest trackmen of the S. A. C., having won several trophies for the club this season, was formerly associated with Rittler and is an ardent admirer of the professor.

ANOTHER MEN'S NIGHT PLANNED

Directors of the Sacramento Athletic club are planning a gentlemen's night at the club on December 28th, when several boxing and wrestling bouts and other amusements will be staged. A previous entertainment of this kind handled by the club attracted much attention and provided amusement for over 500 people, so the directors think it is time for another performance.

In addition to the men's entertainment, a masquerade ball is planned for the near future, though the directors are not yet ready to announce the date for it.

In the meantime assurances have been received from Otto Rittler, who is to be the club's new physical director, that he will arrive here on the 15th, ready to take up his duties. Rittler was chosen for the position he is to occupy after the S. A. C. board of directors had made a personal investigation of his record in Oakland and San Francisco. Rittler, it is stated, has been associated with the Turners in Munich, Bavaria and Germany and the Turners in Oakland, the Acme Athletic club, the Olympic club, Sunset Athletic club, Reliance club and St. Mary's college, from which he comes here. The S. A. C. directors state that he has coached teams in basketball, football and track work.

One of his first duties after reaching Sacramento will be to organize classes in general gymnastic work and to give particular attention to the physical advancement of business men. Among the successful pupils of Rittler are Robert and William Howden of St. Mary's and Charles Stewart of the S. A. C., all distance runners.

OVER 100 MEMBERS JOINED S. A. C. YESTERDAY

With the passing out of the old year and the entrance of 1910 the charter of the Sacramento Athletic Club which has been open for the past month or so was closed. Yesterday being the last opportunity of getting into the club without the payment of an initiation fee over 100 applications were filed.

The Sacramento Club starts 1910 with a membership roll that includes fully 1,100 members in good standing. Of this number fully 300 enlisted during the month of December, thirty having signed up during the reception tendered to Physical Instructor Rittler on Tuesday night.

With such a large membership and the club showing every indication of prosperity, the Board of Directors are naturally considering seriously the proposition to have their own home. Several business men who have been spoken to on the matter have pledged support to the movement and the Directors will look around for a location.

The basketball league formed this week will be launched Monday night at Pythian Castle. The full schedule for the league games will be arranged tonight by the Schedule Committee. It is believed friction among the league teams will be avoided by holding the games on neutral ground. The league has yet to select its referee and umpire.

Physical Instructor Rittler is enthusing much interest in his gymnasium classes and these promise to be one of the features of the club before long.

Another handball tournament will be started shortly at the S. A. C.

CLUB TAKES TWO DEFEATS IN ONE NIGHT

S. A. C. Heavyweights Lose to Navy Team in Basketball by Score of 20 to 15.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS GAME

First Contest Lively, But Big Men Fail to Interest Spectators.

Sacramento Athletic club took defeat from two basketball teams last night, both the heavyweights and the lightweight boys losing. In the main event of the evening, the huskier boys lost to the still heavier U. S. S Independents by a score of 20 to 15. The lightweights dropped their contest to the high school boys, the figures being 27 to 16.

The first game between the two local teams proved the more interesting of the two, open playing and less fouling being prevalent among the youngsters. As a general thing the mariners were a little too big for the Sacramento men, but they also had some plays figured out and their captain, Hitchcock, could hit the baskets, proving the fact by making the entire twenty points scored by the visitors.

STUDENTS WORK TOGEHER.

Working for the high school team, Amick and Lovich proved strong at forward, but the entire team worked well. In the second half Bybee took Lovich's place, and also put up a good game. But it was due to strong work by the guards, and particularly Harding at center, that the students played better together in the first half than they did in the second.

As is usual, Amick made some surprising shots, throwing the ball through the basket from difficult positions on the field. Lovich, who has but recently joined the team, also proved a man who could hit the basket from difficult angles. The athletic club boys were weaker on most points of the game than their opponents, showing particularly that they were not use to the large floor space. Duke, at center, proved the strongest man making nine of the club's sixteen points, which included four goals.

By the way the main event started it was generally thought the local men could win, but they soon lost their nerve or something failed thereafter to connect with the basket frequently enough to win. Team work appeared fairly good with the local boys until they got to throwing the ball the full length of the field and into the bleachers, thereby giving their opponents an advantage. Neither Shaw nor Barnes could connect with the basket in the first half in which the local team was beaten by a score of 8 to 5. In the second period Shaw improved and Donald, substituted for Barnes, made two goals from the field good his man.

LINEUP CHANGED.

Save for Shaw, the local lineup was changed entirely in the second, and the team appeared a little stronger, though the difference was very slight. Earl, the visiting center, got the touch on local men almost every time the ball was tossed, being several inches taller than either of the Sacramento players. But Hitchcock, captain of the navy boys, was the evening's star. He seemed to hit the basket almost with ease. Although other men on the team came near to the hoop's interior several times, they failed to get through it.

Following the contest dancing was the order, Adler's orchestra furnishing the music:

Team lineups:

S. A. C. Lightweights—Forwards, Luke, Cowie (1 field goal); center, Duke (4 field goals, 1 foul goal); guards, Allen (1 field goal, 2 foul goals), Sprague.

U. S. C. Independents—Forwards, Hitchcock (7 field goals, 6 foul goals), Elmer; center, Earl; guards, Woodward, Limbough.

CLUB TAKES TWO DEFEATS IN NIGHT

WIRELESS CLUB CELEBRATES

CLEVER YOUNG TELEGRAPHISTS HOLD ANNIVERSARY MEETING.

The "Sacramento Wireless and Signal Club," an organization of Sacramento boys who are students of wireless telegraphy and who have been successful in receiving and sending messages long distances, held an anniversary party Tuesday evening at the home of Elwood Rackliffe in honor of the completion of a year, prosperous in the advancement of the art of wireless telegraphy among local enthusiasts and students.

The members of this club have been highly successful in the subject which they have been pursuing. They now possess several complete sets of instruments of their own manufacture, and are able to catch messages sent from great distances, although they are handicapped in sending by the want of the great electric power and high voltage required in transmitting messages great distances.

They have been able to catch messages from the large Government station at Sitka, Alaska, and by the United Companies' station at Honolulu. They are able to keep in touch nightly with stations all the way from Vancouver, B. C., to San Diego.

Just before Portola week when many foreign ships were on their way to San Francisco, the local amateur station succeeded in catching messages sent from the British cruiser Bedford, then 1,200 miles out at sea.

Guy Banard was able last Saturday to send by wireless to Mare Island and to the cruiser New Orleans the result of the basketball game between the Naval Training School at Mare Island and the Sacramento Athletic Club of this city.

A USEFUL CLUB

SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CENTER OF WIDE ATTRACTION.

New Instructor Proves a Favorite, Although He Is a Stickler for Discipline.

Under the management of Otto Rittler, the new physical instructor, the rooms of the Sacramento Athletic Club are rapidly becoming the busiest and most popular evening resort of the city. To meet the professor on the street is to encounter a quiet gentlemanly fellow with a cheery smile, who impresses one with the thought that he is a man one would like to know better. Outside of his graceful bearing and compact form one would never dream that he was a professional athlete. On the floor of the "gym," encased in sweater and trunks, he is another individual. One cannot but be impressed with the idea that he thoroughly understands every branch of his art and is the essence of strict business, demanding respect and obedience from all who come under his tutelage. When one steps on the floor of the "gym" attired in working costume, he has to work. Either he must join the class at work on the horizontal bars, swing on the rings, pull on the weights or practice some other of the developing processes. With all these various exercises going on at the same time, Professor Rittler possesses a faculty of having his eye on everybody at the same time. One minute he is instructing some business man who is sweating away at the weights as to the best way of attaining results, the next second he is demonstrating to the would be tumbler the way to stand, hold his arms, bend his knees and spring in order to turn a back somersault, at the same time he is keeping a watch of the men on the rings and other apparatus. Skylarking while in athletic costumes does not go for a minute, everything is business with the instructor, but with all his firmnes sof demeanor, it is easy to be seen that even in the brief period he has been in authority he has already gained the respect and admiration of his pupils. A world of amusement can be obtained within the walls of the Sacramento Athletic Club, for if one does not feel like joining the workers he can stand on the outskirts and enjoy a hearty laugh at the crudity of the beginners, who, by the way, laugh in unison at their own awkwardness, or he can slip up into the gallery where Professor Billy Johnson has his class at work and watch the developments of the boxers as they acquire the rudiments of the art of self-defense from that polished artist. If these do not appeal to them, they can lounge in the easy chairs of the library with the latest novels and standard works at their command, or, if musically inclined, can perform on the piano or enjoy the musical efforts of others. In fact, the Sacramento Athletic Club as conducted under the regima of the present Board of Directors, is all that its name implies—a place of instruction and amusement that caters to the taste of all, providing a place where the young man without home environments can spend his evenings in a congenial atmosphere with no chance to acquire any vicious habits, but on the other hand, a chance to upbuild his physical being that will better fit him for his business pursuits and his daily battle in life.

Every citizen of Sacramento who can afford to put up the price should be a contributor to this grand institution.

ATTENDANCE AT S. A. C. GYM CLASSES INCREASING

Gymnasium classes are becoming so popular at the Sacramento Athletic club that if the increase in attendance keeps up the directors will have to establish extensions out of each window and resort to the roof for extra room. Last night was a record-breaker. Fifty lined up in class, and all seemed to take a keen interest in the instruction handed out by Physical Instructor Rittler. It was necessary to use dumbbells for Indian clubs last night, so great was the attendance. Additional apparatus will be secured today.

Otto Rittler, New Physical Director at Sacramento Club Promises Boom in Atheletics

Otto Rittler, the new physical director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has been busy since his arrival here two days ago in getting located in his new domicile. It is no small matter to jump from one place to another of strange surroundings and feel at home, but Rittler seems to have mastered the faculty of so doing, and whether he feels at home or not in his new quarters he makes one think so at least.

Rittler comes from an institution where they do things in the athletic world and from the few words he has to say of future plans he intends to take some of the athletic seeds from St. Mary's College and transplant them in the Sacramento institution. Every athletic venture at St. Mary's receives hearty support and every branch of amateur sport is well patronized. Rittler hopes to make the Sacramento Athletic Club members equally as enthusiastic.

Everything, as far as future plans are concerned, is at the present time indefinite, but will be taken up as time will permit. As soon as the proposed basketball league is over a team that will be far superior to the others in the club and to be known as the club team will be selected. This team will be entered in the regular P. A. A. tournament at the bay in February.

Swimming Tourney.

The sanction of the P. A. A. will also be secured for the swimming team with the idea of holding a big tournament at the Sacramento Baths in the near future, at which time crack swimmers from the Olympic, Reliance, St. Mary's and other bay clubs will compete.

Director Rittler is a stickler when it comes to Rugby and he intends introducing this style of football in Sacramento next year. He has played both styles of football and much prefers the English game. He says he will watch the game Christmas Day between the All-Sacramento and Grass Valley teams in order to get a line on the material at hand.

Baseball at the S. A. C. will be taken up at the proper season this year. It was so late last season when the game was started that the club was not able to put a very strong aggregation in the field. Practice will be taken up in Spring in 1910.

Club Magazine.

Among the innovations which the S. A. C. Directors may take up is that of issuing a monthly magazine devoted to club doings. This would not be undertaken with the idea of making money, but merely for the purpose of creating interest in club affairs and giving the institution notoriety.

A gentlemen's night will be given by the club Directors on December 28th, and will be in the nature of a reception to the new physical director, Rittler. Invitations have been issued for the affair, each club member being asked to bring along a friend and have him join before the initiation fee of $25 is made a rule.

Boxing bouts, wrestling, tumbling, music and other stunts are on the program for that evening.

The event of the season on the club's calendar will be the masque ball on April Fool's Day.

News From S.A.C.

The finals in the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament will be played this morning by Tate and Wenzel vs. Arcega and Morris, the two teams that have qualified for the finals. Great interest is taken in the match, as both teams are conceded to contain the best players in the club and the followers of either team are firmly set in their declarations as to which of the two will be victorious. The four athletes will be presented with medals—silver for the winners and bronze for the defeated.

Yesterday morning Arcega and Morris played off a set with Bacon and Sharrock and defeated them 21-11, 21-9, 21-1, thus adding three more games to their credit and raising their per cent several figures. Tate and Wenzel have lost but one game and have won sixteen, while Arcega and Morris have lost two games and won but fourteen. Their percentage is .941 and .875, respectively.

This afternoon the members of the swimming team will try out for the team to contest in the tournament on New Year's day. Representatives of the Athletic club to contest in all of the events will be chosen today and will be opposed by the aquatic champions from the Capital City Wheelmen and the Sacramento Turn-Verein. Trophies for the various events will undoubtedly be awarded the swimmers.

These local tournaments will be held occasionally until the opening months of summer, when the big tournament to be contested in by swimming teams from San Francisco, San Jose, Stockton, Oakland and this city will be held. The committee in charge will have the baths for that day and will pay the expenses of the visiting teams out of the box-office receipts.

News From S.A.C.

UNION-1-5-10

Professor Otto Rittler goes to Marysville today to meet with the members of the Marysville Athletic club regarding the proposition of a number of Hub City athletes joining the local club. Rittler will explain the pros and cons of the local club, and probably bring back a number of applications. Some time ago the president of the Marysville club wrote, asking if it would be possible for members of that club to join the S. A. C., and he was replied to in the affirmative. The Marysville boys are willing to pay the required dues in order to get the privileges of the club when they are in this city. They want especially to attend the boxing contests which will be held once every month.

The directors' meeting was postponed last night until next Tuesday, and the board, as a whole, turned out and took a lesson in physical culture. One of the largest classes since the re-establishment of the club was held last night. Edward Dalton was one hand, and, together with Captain Curtiss, practiced some clown tumbling antics they will display at the masquerade ball April 1st. Thirty members were in the class.

Morning classes will be commenced soon, and the business men members of the club are urged to attend. Twice a week classes will be held between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, and also between the hours of 11 and 12 on different days.

Medals that will be awarded the winners of the whist tournament have been finished and await the claiming. The trophies are of silver and have four cards in enamel on one side and a place for engraving on the back. They are of a very neat design, and should be an incentive to competition.

Manager Pixley has been trying for several weeks to get the whist teams together to play off the finals, but so far has not been successful in more than one or two instances. Another effort will be made to have the finals played, and if it fails more drastic means will be employed to dispose of the matter.

Captain Curtiss has a sample of the proposed club paper almost ready to submit to the directors, and will probably be ready to do so by next Tuesday night. He reports flattering success in the matter of advertisers, and says the news department will surely be supported extensively by the club members.

S. A. C. TAKES FIRST GAME FROM C. C. W.

Slippery Floor Handicaps Players but Lightweights Play Good Game.

It was a case of slip and slide last night at the first games of the season in the Sacramento Basketball league in Pythian castle between the heavyweights of the Capital City Wheelmen and the Sacramento Athletic club and the lightweights of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Sacramento Athletic club. All four teams were handicapped greatly by the slippery floor, and because of that fact did not play up to the standard established last season. The Sacramento Athletic club heavyweights easily took the game from the Capital City Wheelmen by a score of 56 to 14, and the lightweights of that club defeated the second team of the Y. M. C. A. by the close score of 25 to 24. The Y. M. C. A. team played with four men, being forced to contest short-handed because the odd player did not show up, and the rules of the league forbid any other than regular members of a team to take part in a league game.

LIGHTWEIGHT CONTEST.

The lightweight contest was easily the feature of the initial play and was a stubbornly fought match from commencement to end. The Y. M. C. A. men were a little out of form in the first half, but livened up some in the second half and held their own. The slippery floor and the absence of one player proved too much for them and they were defeated by one point. In the first half the score stood 7 to 13 for S. A. C. and in the second 17 to 12 for the Y. M. C. A. Hicks played the star game for the Y. M. C. A., throwing five goals. Smith was also there with three field goals to his credit. Chase chalked up two field goals and three free throws.

Duke and Luke of the S. A. C. team were the most prominent on the score board, having four field goals, three free throws and five goals to their credit, respectively. Cowie also made a field throw. Beardslee played as extra on the team and Luke and Sprague substituted in the central position.

HEAVIES LAG.

The heavyweight contest lagged along in the first half and did not take on any very enlivening appearance until in the second half, when both teams became more accustomed to the slippery floor and dug in with more effect, furnishing the fair crowd of spectators with something to keep them awake. The miserable floor proved such a detriment that it is probable that the future league games will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium if possible.

The S. A. C. team scored goal after goal in such rapid succession in the first half that the scorekeeper nearly paralyzed his arm keeping records of the plays. The wheelmen only succeeded in gaining two points, and one of these was a point awarded on a foul by Lobner and Barnes. The wheelmen have good material for a team and with a little more development will be able to give the best of them a good turn. H. Ritchie basketed the ball three times from the field in the second half, Morse twice and DePanger once. In the first half E. Ritchie scored a free throw.

BARNES SCORES 18.

Crosses after Jimmie Barnes' name for the S. A. C. took up all the spare space on the score book and a total of his field goals showed eighteen to his credit. Shaw was a close second with eight field goals, while Bacon and Lobner each made one. Bacon played the best game of the evening and was in the fray at all times. Lobner made a remarkable field goal from the three-quarter field line, placing the ball squarely into the basket. He was cheered repeatedly.

Next Monday night the fastest game for the month is expected when the Y. M. C. A. and the Loyal Sons meet. The high school and the Christian Brothers college will compete in the lightweight class. Following are the line-ups of last night's matches:

Heavyweights—S. A. C.—Shaw and Barnes, forwards; Emes and Griffith, centers; Bacon and Lobner, guards; Palm, extra. C. C. W.—H. Ritchie and E. Ritchie, forwards; DePanger, center; Bowden and Morse, guards.

Lightweights—S. A. C.—Luke and Cowie, forwards; Duke and Sprague, centers; Allen and Erway, guards; Beardslee, extra. Y. M. C. A.—Smith and Hicks, centers and guards; Barker and Smith, forwards and guards. Putnam, referee.

Captain Curtiss to Start Paper

S.A.C. WEEKLY IS ALMOST ASSURED

Directors of Club Will Decide on Matter at Next Monthly Meeting.

Although no official action has been taken, it has been practically decided by the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club to start a weekly paper or magazine, devoted to the interests of all departments of the club, as soon as necessary arrangements can be made. Captain George H. Curtiss originated the idea, and has been agitating the matter for several weeks and is now able to see the consummation of his ideas. At the next regular meeting of the directors the proposition will come up and be decided upon. In the meanwhile Captain Curtiss will go on with his arrangements and gather details, and, it is hoped, be able to issue the first edition of the club weekly in about six weeks, at the most.

The great success that has met the efforts of other athletic clubs in similar lines greatly encouraged the promoters of the scheme in this city, and the system used by other clubs in the publication of their papers will be applied to the best possible advantage in the publication of the Sacramento Athletic Club weekly. Captain Curtiss has sought the advice of the members of the club, directors, and outsiders in the matter, and is now well acquainted with the details of the task before him. A local printer is now figuring on the cost of the publication, and will furnish Captain Curtiss with estimates to submit to the board of directors when they meet next month.

Curtiss' plan is to have the paper distributed to all members free of charge, thus insuring a wide circulation and creating a general interest. Advertisements will be solicited, and in that way the expenses of publication disbursed. Every department of the club will be conducted separately, and as much prominence given one department as is given the other. The heads of the various activities will, unless they object, be the reporters for that particular sport, and will be supposed to make reports on all events, both proposed and enacted. The social life of the club will receive considerable attention, and the joke department will be made a feature. At different times articles by well-known athletes will be printed in the paper, and cartoons of various subjects and sizes will adorn the pages and make them attractive and interesting. In all probability Captain Curtiss will edit the paper or magazine until it is on its feet, and then undoubtedly it will be turned over to some other competent man.

S.A.C. GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT A SUCCESS

Five Hundred Members Enjoy Boxing, Wrestling and Bar Exhibition.

The Sacramento Athletic club's "gentlemen's night" last night was one of the biggest and most successful entertainments given since the club was reorganized. In every detail it was a perfect success, and the manner in which the members turned out showed how much they hunger for such entertainments. Fully 500 members were present and from the oldest to the youngest all enjoyed the program and counted the evening well spent.

Boxing matches among members of the club were the feature liners of the evening, though bar work by a class from the Sacramento Turn-Verein, under the direction of Professor Schenk, an old S. A. C. man, furnished some good amusement for the spectators. Music by Adler's orchestra, wrestling, fancy skating and vocal solos completed a very acceptable program.

The feature event of the evening in "Ole" Erickson, the fighting Swede, and 'Ole" Erickson, the fighting Swede, and an old hand at the game, Charles Schwallenberg. Although Erickson, who is to fight a preliminary with Curry before the Buffalo Athletic club New Year's day, reminded Schwallenberg before the gong that they were only supposed to box, the bout went off with a fury and firm milling that served bushels of amusement for the large audience. Schwallenberg shows the signs of a once clever man with the gloves, and he has by no means lost all his class, still years of absence from the game has softened him and he made little attempt to display his skill and only warded off the Swede's heavy, well-aimed blows. Three times blood oozed from Erickson's nose, but the little fighter kept up the mill and retired each time at gong to his corner with an apparent expression of wanting more on his face. The bout lasted three rounds, as did all the matches, and amply rewarded the spectators for the trouble they had taken to attend the entertainment. Billy Johnson was third man in the ring and held the boys well under thumb.

The other matches were all good, though the fighters were amateurs and have had little or no experience in exhibition fights. The matches were as follows: A. Delano vs. Hallanan, S. Mitchelo vs. D. Cowie, Sid Wallace vs. N. Stone, Ed Murray vs. Earl Weir, Kid Schlitz (Hoffman) vs. R. Sollars, Joe Erickson vs. Charles Schwallenberg. As is the custom, no decisions were rendered.

The Turners, directed by Professor Schenk, performed cleverly on the bars. The men showed results of faithful practice and scientific instruction and received much applause from the spectators. Those in the team were G. Vinkgras, A. Weiss, L. Stober, A. Lentz, H. Stober, S. Joost, J. Schenk and R. Schenk.

Some new stunts on roller skates were shown the audience by young Tappen, a skater of marked ability. The gymnasium floor was not smooth enough to allow Tappen to perform the more difficult feats on the wheels, but at the same time he performed remarkably well.

C. Combs and T. Combs put on a wrestling exhibition that was well received. The boys understand wrestling well and are said to be the S. A. C.'s representatives in that line. Al Morelli rendered some ragtime vocal solos and was accompanied by A. J. Parra on the piano.

S. A. C. BASKET BALL TAKEN BY HIGH SCHOOL

Matters have been patch, irregularities made regular and the high school basketball team will enter the Sacramento Basketball league Monday night as per schedule. But the line-up of that lightweight team will not be as at first thought, and behind this change of players lies some interesting history that is apt to again cause rupture in the ranks of the local basketball league.

Captain Amick of the high school team has demanded the return of Lovich, Allen and Gruhler, who were arrayed as members of the Sacramento Athletic club lightweight team, and will put the men to use on his own team. The rules of the P. A. A. under which the league is conducted, especially provides that high school athletes shall give preference to the teams of school above all and any outside teams, and that the captain of the high school team can demand that any player who is a member of the high school cease to be a member of any outside team and immediately join forces with the high school team. This privilege Amick has taken and, although there has been no verbal objection as yet, it is ligely that a merry time will ensue at the next meeting of the league when the members will have sufficient opportunity to air their objection, if they have any.

The high school team will line-up as follows in the match with the Christian Brothers college Monday night: Bybee, center; Laing and Lovich, forwards; Allen and Gruhler, guards.

S. A. C. PLANS DISTANCE RUN NEXT SUNDAY

The track season of the Sacramento Athletic club will open on Sunday, January 16, when a run around the capitol grounds will be held in order to get some line on the distance runners who will possibly represent the club in track meets this season. It is expected that sixty athletes will start in the race. Later on in the season cross country men will be held and medals awarded to the winners.

HIGH SCHOOL MAY NOT BE IN LEAGUE

Irregularities in Entry, Failure to Deposit Fee, May Lose High School Membership.

It is doubtful whether the local high school will have a team in the Sacramento Basketball league, despite the fact that a team has been entered, supposedly regular, and is scheduled to meet the Christian Brothers' college team in the lightweight class next Monday night at Pythian Castle, when the Loyal Sons and the Y. M. C. A. clash in the heavyweight contest.

Unless immediate action is taken the high school boys will not be allowed to play unless they turn over the necessary $5 to the treasury of the league, and even in that event they may suffer suspension from the P. A. A. for not proceeding regularly in entering the league.

The situation as recited by members of the team is this: Amick, who was basketball captain, entered the team on his own responsibility without getting the proper permission from the athletic association of the local high school, and has not been authorized to expend or furnish the necessary entrance fee by the association. Amick left high school yesterday for the term, and will undoubtedly be relieved of his position as basketball captain. This not only leaves the team without a head but, as the entering of the team was irregular, practically destroys the right of the high school team to a membership in the league.

The rules of the league provide that an entrance fee of $5 must be deposited with the treasurer before the match, and up to the present time the high school team has failed to put up the fee. Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club said yesterday that he would maintain the rules of the league, and not let the high school team play unless the necessary entrance fee was first paid to the treasurer of the league.

Efforts have been made to get a meeting of the high school athletic association for the purpose of regularly settling the matter, but for one reason or another the meeting was not held and the matter left in an irregular condition. Unless the high school athletes are successful in meeting before Monday night and straightening out the matter it is extremely doubtful if that team will play next Monday night in the scheduled contest.

A.C. PLANS NIGHT AT THE RINGSIDE

Big Boxing Entertainment of Twenty Bouts Being Arranged for Jan. 27th.

A members' night at the ringside is being planned by Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club for the evening of January 27, and ten whirlwind bouts are being arranged between clever amateur fighters in this and other cities. The great success of the last evening of boxing was so encouraging to the directors of the club that they directed Captain Curtiss and Director Rittler to immediately inaugurate plans for a more extensive entertainment for the latter part of this month.

Director Rittler has communicated with the athletic clubs of Stockton and Marysville and has secured several favorites to appear here on Jan. 27. The entertainment will be open to paid-up members only. Several additional features, such as wrestling and bar work, will make up the card of entertainment.

One bout that has created considerable interest in Marysville and may bring quite a crowd to Sacramento on that evening is scheduled to take place between the "Fighting Scribe" Everett A. Barr and a Stockton Athletic club favorite whose name has not yet been learned. Barr enjoys the distinction of being one of Marysville's comers and is expected to display some original tactics when he appears in this city. Others who will box, but who have not yet been matched, are: C. S. Bojorgula of Marysville, Salvador, Hallanan, Cowie, Joe Erickson and E. Murry. The Coombs boys will undoubtedly furnish a wrestling exhibition.

SWIMMING EVENTS

SUN. NEWS. 1-9-10

ATHLETIC CLUB WILL ORGANIZE A SUMMER SERIES.

Professor Rittler Gives the Program, Which Will Bring Outsiders to the Sacramento Contests.

(By Professor Otto Rittler.)

The season is close at hand for the indulgence of the most popular of all outdoor sports—swimming. The Sacramento Athletic Club will boom aquatic sports in Sacramento the coming summer, by holding complete meets for club members, at which bars and medals will be given winners, and by bringing to Sacramento the best amateurs on the coast to compete in open events. Many of the best swimmers of the world have been downed by losing their heads at critical moments, or by attempting long swims or swimming against strong currents when exhausted or out of condition.

A strong swimmer will be easily defeated by a weaker swimmer who breathes correctly, does not put all his energies into his movements, and is able to save his efforts for a final spurt.

If you intend to swim develop your wind and endurance by running, walking and breathing exercises. Swimming is the best lung and all around developer, but if you are unable to swim the year round keep in condition by some other form of exercise. If you are troubled with nerves or insomnia try diving, plunging, surf riding. The sport and exhiliration will banish your sleeplessness, renew your vigor and appetite. Do not commence your swimming with a long swim or against a strong current until sure of your condition. You will tire easily at your first effort of the season, your over confidence may result in the usual notice in the paper, "Deceased was an expert swimmer."

Notice is up on the bulletin board for the track athletes to compete on Sunday, January 16, at 10 o'clock in a race for club members only to be run once around the Capitol grounds. The race is to be a scratch race as Professor Rittler has no line on the distance runners as yet.

The coming season distance running will be encouraged by the S. A. C. and we hope in the annual Dipsea race held from Mill Valley to the ocean, a seven and one-fourth mile course up and down hills, Sacramento athletes will carry the emblem of the club to victory. From the looks of entries received for the race on Sunday, January 16, the club will have some good material for the coming season and it is hard to pick the winner. Track Captain G. Gannon thinks J. Childs, McNeily, Danold, J. Erixson, C. Stewart and Frenchy will be among the first to cross the line. Out of the large entries Captain Gannon has secured there might be a dark horse. The club will put up three bars, a gold bar for first and a silver bar for second and third. This event marks the opening of the track work of 1910.

The coming boxing show to be held January 27 is looked upon as a big feature to many members who belong to the club and never come only when there is something doing.

The boys can be seen almost any time during the day and class nights, getting ready for their bouts. These bouts will be all amateur boxing contests of three rounds.

Professor Johnson, boxing instructor, will referee all contests. There will be two judges and in amateur rules if the contest at the end of the third round is a draw the judge will order an extra round of two minutes, after that a decision must be given.

S. A. C. NOTES

Sac. Bee 1-9-10

George Yoerk and George Marston sprang a surprise on Tate and Wenzell, the winning handball team of the recent Sacramento Athletic Club tournament, Sunday morning by taking them into camp two games out of three. Yoerk and Marston lost the first game, but won the next two 21-14 and 21-17.

Marston and Yoerk are ready to meet Sid Root and Schaw as soon as the latter are prepared. Root was to play the Tate-Wenzell team single-handed at the S. A. C. courts on Sunday, but did not appear.

The interest taken in handball at the club has decided the directors to launch another handball tournament.

A meeting of the directors of the S. A. C. will be held to-night, at which time the matter of running a club paper will be taken up. Captain Curtiss has prepared a form of club paper that is tastefully arranged, and will submit it to the directors to-night.

Athletic Interest Increases

Athletics Boom

Interest in athletics has steadily increased in Sacramento and the Valley during the past year. Sacramento alone can boast of at least three representative athletic clubs: The Sacramento Athletic, The Capital City Wheelmen and the Turn Verien.

In all three clubs excellent individual athletes are to be founr and there is a feeling of rivalry between them that serves to add spice and life to the competitions by the rival clubs.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has a large membership roll and even now efforts are continually being made to interest the youths and business men of Sacramento in the developing and training of their bodies. With proper proportions of athletic training and work there is no excuse or reason for sickness.

Athletics are a branch of sport or better is the foundation of all sport, as before man can excel in any par icular business or sport he must have a strong mind, which condi ion depends entirely upon a healthy and developed body.

Unfortunately during latter years, interes in athletics seemed to have a sinking spell and the hours formally devoted to training were cast aside for business and more money making. Now it seems that keen interest has awakened in the minds of bo'h elderly and young men and that new life will break into business and proper exercise be tendered the body.

Sacramento has an opportunity of placing i self at the head of a great movement for the advancement of a hletic training in this state and with this as headquarters and as a pattern there is no reason why within a few years each country town will have its athle ic club and take keen interest in wa'ching the beneficial competion between athletes.

A' a meeting of the board of direc'ors held on Wednesday evening, a systematic plan of boost and development was formulated. These plans included the building of a steam chamber in a section of the club behind the gymnasium, the remodeling and equipping of the gym with modern apparatus, the painting of the hand ball courts and a number of alterations tending to make the living parts of the club more comfortable.

It has been agreed upon by the board that the club shall build a barge for the river and in the early spring a rowing crew may be launched in a 4 oar shell. This is a distinct step forward, as the Sacramento river affords every opportunity for the wide development of rowing and there is no better form of exercise for bringing all the muscles of the body into direct play.

Swimming, diving and water sports have been organized and strong teams are now in the making. The swimming is carried on in the tank of the New Swimming Baths which is another addition to Sacramento's development along the lines of manly sport.

Rugby, more modified form of the Americ.l game of football, may be introduced into the club by Physical Instructor Rittler. This game as played in England and Australia embodies all the fascinating points of the rougher game, eliminating the tearing away of ears and other facial attachments and does not require contestants to step in one anothers faces or wear armor. It is played without padding of any kind and serious accidents are the exception and by no means the rule.

Hand Ball and Basket Ball have swooped down upon the club and have now progressed so far as to be called a craze and Mr. A. J. Delano, who has charge of the Hand Ball tournament says that the epidemic is contagious and keeps him busy writing out application acknowledgments for the coming tourney.

Christmas cheer and plenty of it in the Sacramento Athletic Club's quarters marked both Christmas day and Sunday. On Sunday the great event that has been looked forward to for several weeks—the finish of the handball tournament, was completed, leaving Tate and Wenzel at the top and Arcega and Morris second.

The scores for the first two games s ood 21-7, 21-3. In the third game the score was reversed to Arcega and Morris who ended the game 21-17. Tate and Wenzel therefore have won the coveted silver medals and Arcega and Morris receive bronze medals for second place.

Tate and Wenzel have been challenged by Shaw and Root and the two Blakes of the Y. M. C. A. They have not accepted the challenge as yet but a deciding contest match will surely be arranged.

For the social life of the club, Mr. A. Strachan has charge of the organizing of a club quartette and a Glee Club is already practicing under the direction of Mr. Thomas Burns (of Sacramento, not a pugilis'). With all these efforts of the board and with the co-operation of the individual members, interest in athle ics should not be allowed to flicker for an instant, but a steady flame of zeal should be fanned along until Sacramento has made an impression in atheletics all over the State the United States and then some.

Y. M. C. A. LOSES TO LOYAL SONS, 17 TO 24

SAC. BEE. 1-11-10

The Loyal Sons took first place in the heavyweight class of the Sacramento Basketball League last night with the S. A. C. by defeating the Y. M. C. A. team 24 to 17 in a fast game. The High School team went to the lead in the lightweight class by defeating the Christian Brothers' College team by a score of 39 to 4.

The first half of the heavyweight game ended with the score 13 to 13, thus spelling misfortune for one of the teams. The Y. M. C. A. was the one to suffer as they added but four points to their score in the second half while the Loyal Sons annexed eleven. Brandon scored fifteen of the Loyal Sons' points with three field goals and nine free throws.

The Brothers' College team appeared in the game with the High School with two of its strongest players absent and was no match for the students. Lovich for the High School scored ten field goals and one free throw.

Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, J. Blake (3 field goals), Thielen (2 field goals), Harding; center, I. Blake (2 field goals), guards, Rodda, Chapman, (3 foul goals), Huff.

Gym Ghat

TRACK & FIELD 12-29-09

A steam room will be constructed in the Sacramento Athletic Club for the use of members and will be a valuable and useful addition.

The handball courts are soon to be painted white and the hard rubber Canadian ball may replace the soft tennis ball.

Several new individual lockers will be built in the club as the demand has far exceeded the supply.

The Washington Boat Club, it is rumored may join hands with the Sacramento Athletic Club as far as athletics go.

An effort will be made to secure an outside court of regulation size for the playing of League Basketball. Interest is keen in this game and many converts are being made.

Physical Instructor Rittler has suggested that the services of a wrestling coach could be profitably secured for the training of members. Al Lavine of St. Marys College has been mentioned as a likely coach.

The gymnasium will be remodeled shortly, additional equipment in the form of dumbbells, rings, etc. will be made. The present shower baths will be remodeled also and made more comfortable.

A club quartette has been organized by Mr. A. Strachan and a Glee Club is being rounded up by Tommy Burns (not the pugilist). Harold Holten, Arnon Marsten and A. Griffith have been named.

A well attended banquet was given to the new Physical Instructor of the Club, Mr. Otto Rittler on Tuesday night. Members of the various clubs in the city including a delegation from the Turn Verein were present. Boost was the keynote in the toasts and speeches.

Gannon is confining himself to indoor training, paying particular attention to the high jump and weights.

HANDBALL HONORS WON BY TATE AND WENZEL

Dec 27/09

By defeating their closest rivals, Arcega and Morris, two games out of three, Tate and Wenzel yesterday won the handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic Club, finishing 90 points ahead of the next highest. Silver medals will be conferred on the winners, while Arcega and Morris will get bronze medals for running second.

The winners far outclassed Arcega and Morris in the final set of three games, the scores 21-7 and 21-3 indicating as much. The third game of this set went to Arcega and Morris by a score of 21-17. Bacon and Shorrock finished third with .533 and Nathan and Doval fourth with an even .500.

	W.	L.	Pct.
Tate and Wenzel.....	18	2	.900
Arcega and Morris.....	17	4	.810
Bacon and Shorrock.....	8	7	.533
Nathan and Doval.....	9	9	.500
Strachan and Burns.....	7	8	.467
Barnes and Thayer.....	8	7	.533
Bronson and Lucey.....	6	9	.400
Lobne rand Wallander.....	6	12	.333
Holten and Marsten.....	4	11	.267

Joe and Irva Blake of the Y. M. C. A. and Schaw and Sid Root of the S. A. C. have challenged the winners, but chances of a match game are considered few.

A new tournament will be started at the club and will be conducted on the elimination style, a team dropping out by losing a certain number of games.

A try-out for a swimming team to compete in the swimming tournament at the Sacramento Baths on New Year's Day was held yesterday at the baths by Captain Lucey of the Sacramento Athletic Club and from the group of swimmers he selected the following sixteen to represent the team:

A. Evers, sprints; H. Evers, sprints and canoe tilting; Cowie, sprints and canoe tilting; Shoemaker, sprints; Thayer, sprints; C. Wahlander, diving; R. Wahlander, sprints; E. Terrell, diving; Beardslee, sprints; C. Kramer, diving and sprints; Moore, canoe tilting; Sollars, canoe tilting; Osborn, canoe tilting; Erickson, diving, Lucey, sprints; Duke, sprints.

It was one of the best and closest contests on the basketball field Sacramento had seen last night when the Loyal Sons nosed out the Y. M. C. A. in the second half and took the game by a score of 24 to 17. It was of the Sacramento Basketball league series and played in Pythian castle. The lightweight contest was won by the high school team, which defeated the C. B. C. boys by a score of 39 to 4. Among the heavies S. A. C. and Loyal Sons now lead, and the high school with S. A. C. No. 1 are at the top with the lightweights.

CHANGES HURT.

Changes in the second half evidently were responsible for the Y. M. C. A. defeat, for this is the only visible reason for the association boys having not gleaned an equal number of points with their opponents. However, it is difficult to hold a basketball game down to concrete reasons, as a team may be strengthened in the latter part of a game without there being any apparent excuse for it.

At any rate, the first half of the contest concluded with a good-sized audience shouting and the score at 13 to 13. The Y. M. C. A. boys had the better of the game, for they tossed the greater number of baskets from the field and all but a few of the Sons' points were made on free throws as the result of fouls. In the second half, however, the Y. M. C. A. men were unable to add more than four points, while the Loyal Sons tacked on three field goals and five free throws.

Probably because the C. B. C. team was weakened by the absence of two strong players, the lightweight contest was a walk-away for the high school team, the score being 39 to 4. Lovich of the high school team tossed a continual stream of goals, making ten from the field and netting his team twenty-one points. Laing, the other forward, tossed five from the field, and Bybee, who played center, was good for a field goal and a free one. O'Neil of the C. B. C. team threw the only field goals for the college boys and made a third point on a free throw.

RECEPTION GIVEN TO RITTER AT S. A. C.

Dec 29/09

Several hundred members of the Sacramento Athletic Club gathered in the club rooms last night to attend the reception given to the new Physical Director, Otto Rittler. The affair was arranged to give the members an opportunity of meeting the new instructor who has already made a fine impression in his few days of service for the club.

Boxing bouts were held, the following matches being conducted:

A. Delano vs. Hallanan; S. Mitchelo vs. D. Cowie, Sid Wallace vs. N. Stone, Ed Murray vs. Earl Weir, Kid Schlitz (Hoffman) vs. R. Sollars, Joe Erickson vs. Charles Schwallenberg.

Under the direction of Prof. John Schenk the Turners' team did some clever bar work. Those in the team were: G. Vinkgras, A. Weiss, L. Stober, A. Lentz, H. Stober, S. Joost, J. Schenk and R. Schenk.

C. Combs and T. Combs took part in a wrestling bout, and some clever roller skating was done by a young man named Tappin. Music by an orchestra and several vocal selections added to the entertainment for the evening. The function was a great success.

AMATEUR BOXING BOUTS AT CLUB JANUARY 27

Jan 28

On or about January 27th, the Sacramento Athletic Club is to hold its first amateur boxing night. Physical Instructor Rittler is making preparations for this event, and says he hopes to arrange ten bouts for that evening, between club members and several amateur boys from Marysville and Stockton clubs.

The bouts will be held under amateur rules, and each will be of three rounds, and must go to a decision. Two judges and a referee preside over the bouts, and if the judges can not agree the referee decide, and may order another round of two minutes' duration.

Two members of the Marysville club have been secured to take part in the bouts, and the Stockton Athletic Club has been asked to send over several. The attendance will be limited to members of the Sacramento Club.

This event is to be a monthly one at the S. A. C., and Rittler proposes to match the winners of the coming bouts and the losers, thus insuring a good card for February.

A race around the Capitol Park is planned for a week from to-morrow. Club runners are already in training for the event, and twenty entries are expected for the race, which will probably be a handicap one.

Physical Director Rittler has aroused unusual interest in his gymnasium classes, and last Tuesday night had a class of forty members. As many turned out last night to go through the exercises.

The business men's classes will be started this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Wednesdays and Saturdays have been set apart for this class, and quite a number of merchants are expected to join.

Next Tuesday night the Board of Directors of the S. A. C. meets and will take up the proposition of having a club paper and making other improvements at the club such as the installation of steam and hot rooms. Should the Directors approve the new baths scheme they will likely be ready for use by February 1st. They are to be placed in the upper story of the building.

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. BEE 1-12-10

The mile run around the State Capitol Park Sunday by Sacramento Athletic Club athletes will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning. Twenty-four runners appeared for practice last night and took a trial trip around the course.

The Directors of the S. A. C. met last night and took up the proposition of starting a club paper. The matter was finally placed in the hands of a Committee consisting of Inman, Loughlin and Newcomb, to report back at the next meeting.

It was decided not to go ahead with installing steam and hot rooms at the club as the estimates were larger than expected.

The handball courts will be painted at once.

As usual a monster gymnasium class appeared last night. Over forty were on the gym floor for work, and there was not enough apparatus to go around. The gym classes are getting to be a feature of the club, under the direction of Physical Director Rittler.

S. A. C. SWIMMERS WIN NEW YEAR'S MEET

The Sacramento Athletic Club team won the swimming tournament at the Sacramento Baths New Year's Day in competition with a team from the Capital City Wheelmen. Teams were expected to represent the Y. M. C. A., Brothers' College and Turn Verein but did not make an appearance. The results of the races were as follows:

25-yard dash—A. Evers, S. A. C., first; E. Ritchie, C. C. W., second; C. Luke, S. A. C., third. Time—:15 1-5.

Plunging—H. Ritchie, C. C. W., first; E. Ritchie, C. C. W., second. 15 yards.

50-yard dash—A. Evers, S. A. C., first; E. Ritchie, C. C. W., second; H. Ritchie, C. C. W., third. Time—:51.

100-yard dash—A. Evers, S. A. C., first; E. Ritchie, C. C. W., second; Luke, S. A. C., third. Time—1:29.

BARR AND SHREEDER TO FURNISH MAIN EVENT

A threeround bout between Everett A. Barr, a pugilistic scribe from Marysville and a member of the S. A. C., and C. Schreeder, a member of the Stockton Athletic Club, will form the main event for the boxing bee to be put on by the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Club January 27th. From all reports this go will be a lively one.

Physical Director Rittler is arranging nine other bouts to stage on that night.

MEMBERS WILL BE ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Vandalism and Disregard for House Rules Brings Trouble for Athletes.

Sac. BEE—1-11-10

Repeated violations of the house rules of the Sacramento Athletic club and vandalic treatment of the parlor furnishings and other frail fixtures has caused the board of directors to decide to cite several members to appear before the board at its next regular meeting and show reason why they should not be suspended from the club or suffer the punishment of indefinite expulsion. This drastic action was necessarily resorted to as the only way of putting a stop for all time to the utter disregard certain members of the club have for the property of the club and the comfort of fellow members.

Complaint after complaint has been sent in to the directors of the club by attendants and members, and despite the repeated warnings the wanton destruction of club property and disregard for house rules has continued and increased to such an extent that only by making examples of certain members against whom there is conclusive evidence do the directors hope to preserve the club for the benefit of those who have learned to appreciate its many homelike conveniences.

The identity of those who will be cited to appear before the board is kept a secret, as the directors have no wish to cause any unnecessary scandal in the club. The breaking of the railing on the stairs last month, the chipping of a piece off the keyboard of the piano, scuffing and scratching of the furniture and careless use of the billiard and pool paraphernalia are among the things that are supposed to have incited the board to action, with a view to stamping out such hoodlum practices and weeding out the undesirable persons who, by hook or crook, have gained membership in the club.

The directors have no desire to be unfair in the matter, neither do they wish to do any particular member an injustice, but as a fulfillment of the promise made to the general public that the club would be conducted along genteel lines, the directors see no way out of the matter but by calling the erring members to time.

KEEN INTEREST IN S A. C. RACE FOR SUNDAY

Track and Field Captain Gannon of the Sacramento Athletic club is counting on being able to get a line on available material for field sports for the coming season by the proposed run around Capitol park Sunday morning. Interest is growing in the race, and it is likely that a large number of runners will participate. After the season is started and well on its way cross-country runs and Marathons will be held for members of the club, and medals will be offered as trophies to the winners. Among those who have already signed up for the Capitol park run Sunday are the following:

J. G. Childs, Charles C. Stewart, R. W. Eames, F. Foley, T. J. Reese, J. C. Hern, G. Berkley, Frenchy George, D. Wickham, R. C. Shoemaker, M. E. Sparks.

RITTLER PREPARING FOR BOXING BOUTS

SAC. STAR 1-14-09

Physical Director Rittler is making preparations for the S. A. C. amateur boxing entertainment, to begiven at thec lub on the 27th. Five or six three-round boxing contests, several wrestling contests and some gymnastic stunts are on the program. Erickson, the Norwegian cyclone, and other well known athletic club boxers will participate. Athletic clubs of Marysville and Stockton are sending some of their best men.

MAKING UP CARD FOR S. A. C. BOXING-BEE

SAC. BEE 1-14-10

Four of the ten three-round bouts to be put on by the S. A. C. at the boxing-fest January 27th have been arranged by Physical Director Rittler. Everett A. Barr and C. Shreeder of Stockton will furnish the fetaure bout and the others arranged are: Murry vs. McCullough; Ed. Bojorgula of Marysville vs. Young Hoffman of Sacramento; Satterberry vs. E. M. Hicks; Joe Erickson vs. Kid Seiner.

DIRECTOR RITTLER IS MATCH-MAKING

Has All but Six of Boxers Matched for S. A. C. Tourney on 27th.

SAC. UN — 1-14-10

Physical Director Rittler is busy matchmaking these days. He is after good amateur boxers to meet before the Sacramento Athletic club on the 27th. It is planned to have five or six three-round bouts and some wrestling and gymnasium apparatus exhibitions on that evening for the entertainment of the members of the club.

The match between Everett A. Barr and C. Shreeder of the Stockton Athletic club will undoubtedly be the feature go of the evening. Barr is a clever youngster, with a good amateur standing, and the Stockton boy is rated as the best the Slough City has produced in many a day. It is up to Barr to save the Sacramento Athletic club's colors on that evening, and it is just about certain that he will do so.

Joe Erickson has refused to join the ranks of the professionals, and so is now a full-fledged amateur, and will participate in the race around Capitol park Sunday morning. He will meet the baker boy, Kid Seiner, who is regarded as one of the hardest-hitting amateurs in the field.

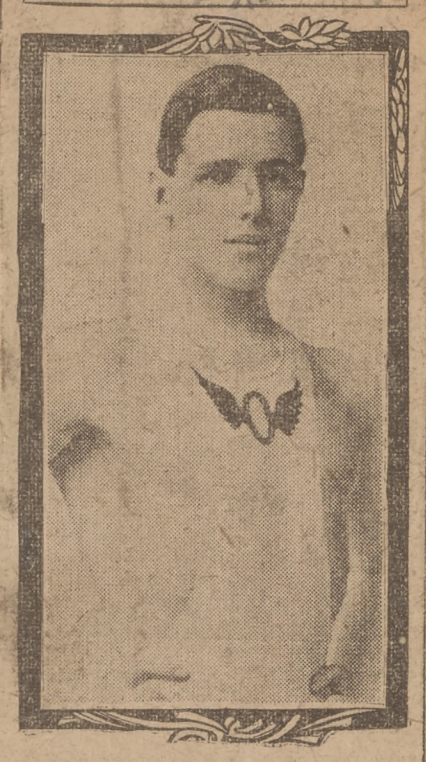
Murry and McCullough have been matched. Ed Bojorgula of Marysville will meet Young Hoffman. Satterberry and E. M. Hicks will go a fast three rounds. Sprague, Wallace, Hallahan, Cowie, Wilson and Ritchie have not yet been matched. It is probable that contests will be arranged between the boys with the assistance of one or two outsiders.

SUN. NEWS. 1-16-10

The boxing card of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be in no way behind the other in point of interest. A lot of ambitious youngsters have been gathered together for this event. It will be for members only and it is a sure shot that it will be a case of hot scrapping. Professor Rittler is giving lots of time and attention to this event, the opening one of his supervision of the club, and the outlook is that this will be the event of the season.

Although the matches to be fought before the club membership are not complete, Professor Rittler announces the following: The main event will be a hot contest between E. A. Barr of the Sacramento Club, and G. Schredie, of the Stockton Club, at 133 pounds. C. L. Bojorgular will meet Kid Hoffman at 140 pounds; Erickson will meet Scoiner at 140 pounds; Murry will meet McCullough at 110 pounds; Ritchie will meet Chapman at 130 pounds; pounds; Sprague will meet Wallace at 136 pounds and matches will be made for Salvador at 115; Cowie at 130 and Hallinan at 125, making a very complete evening's entertainment. These contests are for members only.

McWood, the Olympic Swimmer, Who Leads in the Tournament Now Under Way at That Club. S.F. EX. 1-15-10



M'WOOD CONTINUES TO WIN IN SWIMMING TOURNEY

THE scratch events of the Olympic Club swimming tournament last evening proved another triumph for McWood, who has won practically every race which he has entered in the competition. Last evening he was returned the winner in the 100-yard, the 220-yard and the quarter-mile races. The first two of these events he took easily, but the last was a keen fight between McWood and Resleure the entire distance, the former finally winning by a margin of not more than two yards. The time was 6:19 2-5.

McWood has a clean-cut style. He uses both hands in the overhead stroke, combining it with the crawl stroke, and is very low in the water at all stages of his race. Resleure, who pressed McWood in the quarter-mile event, swam a tie race with his opponent the last time they met. Last evening he picked up very fast in the last two laps and was coming much stronger than his rival when the line was crossed.

The summary of the events held last evening follows:

Dash, 100 yards—Won by McWood, Bond second and O. Schultz third. Time, 1:03 3-5.

Dash, 220 yards—Won by McWood, Resleure second and Bond third. Time, 2:46.

Diving contest—Won by Pomin, Pomeroy second and O. Schultz third.

Quarter-mile race—Won by McWood, Resleure second, Pomeroy third. Time, 6:19 2-5.

Last evening closed the scratch competition of the tournament and next week and the week following the final races, handicapped on the basis of performances in the scratch events will be run off. The tourney will be continued on Tuesday, Friday and the following Tuesday evenings.

The five leading swimmers and the number of points they have won up to date follow: McWood, 44; Bond, 22; Resleure, 19; Pomin, 15; Dawson, 8.

S. A. C. TRACK MEN TO RUN AROUND CAPITOL PARK

SAC. BEE 1-16-10

The Sacramento Athletic club will formally open the track season this morning providing, of course, it does not rain too hard. Captain Gannon has ordered the track men to show up at the Capitol park at 10:30 a. m. and contest in a road run around the park. About fifty members of the club, some of whom were on last year's track team, have signed up for the run and it is probable that a majority of the prospective material for the season will be sized up this morning.

The distance is not far but is nevertheless sufficient to test the ability and staying powers of those who wish to make the track team this summer. In a few weeks a cross-country run will be held for which trophies will be offered. The club team will contest in all open track and field meets in this city and valley and will undoubtedly take part in meets about the bay.

BASKETBALL SLATE PREPARED FOR LEAGUE

SAC. BEE — 1-15-10

The Sacramento Basketball League will offer some good games Monday night. The Loyal Sons and the Sacramento Athletic Club heavies will be the main event as these teams are tied for first place in the heavy-weight class. The High School team will play the Y. M. C. A. and the Brothers' College five will meet the S. A. C. lightweights.

The schedule which the teams in the League will follow is as follows:

January 17th—Lightweights, S. A. C. vs. Brothers' College; High School vs. Y. M. C. A. Heavyweights, Loyal Sons vs. S. A. C.

January 24th—High School vs. S. A. C. Heavyweights, Wheelmen vs. Y. M. C. A.

January 31st—Y. M. C. A. vs. Brothers' College. Heavyweights, Y. M. C. A. vs. S. A. C.; Wheelmen vs. Loyal Sons.

The usual large gymnasium class turned out last night at the Sacramento Athletic Club. A flashlight of the gym class will be taken at the Club next Tuesday night.

Arrangements are being made to hold a "ladies' night" at the Club at a date in the early part of February. A class of gymnasts is being drilled for some athletic stunts for that night.

STEWART IS FIRST IN S. A. C. ROAD RUN

Sixteen Athletes Start in Run Around Capitol Park and Thirteen Finish.

SAC. UN. — 1-17-10

Sixteen athletes from the Sacramento Athletic club contested in the first track event of the season yesterday morning, when the road run around Capitol park was held. Much to the surprise of the followers of the track department of the club, Stewart took the event, covering the distance in five minutes and forty-four seconds. The course was over a mile, and considering the little practice the athletes have had this season, the time was remarkably good. McNeely finished second, at 5:46, and Sparks was third, having run the distance in 5:47. These three men will be presented with gold, silver and bronze bars respectively. When an athlete wins ten bars he is given a solid gold pennant, which is linked to the bars, thus forming a beautiful medal.

But thirteen of the sixteen men starting, finished. Shoemake was forced to drop out on account of the tennis shoes which he endeavored to run in. The other two became winded and were taken out of the race.

The track event yesterday is preliminary to a series of cross-country and Marathon runs Captain Gannon of the S. A. C. track team is planning for the coming season. Next Sunday at McKinley park the track and field men will contest in the hundred yards dash, quarter mile and shot put. These contests are being held in order to get a line on material for the track and field team of 1910.

Those who contested in yesterday's event, and the manner in which they finished, follows:

Stewart, 5:44; McNeely, 5:46; Sparks, 5:47; Reese, 6:02; Childs, 6:03; Luke, 6:04; Hern, 6:15; Donald, 6:20; Beede, 6:21; Erickson, 6:22; Sutterberg, 6:28; Villinger, 6:29; Duke, 6:29—tie.

TEAMS TO MEET IN LEAGUE GAME

Loyal Sons and S. A. C. to Contest in Third Play of Basketball League.

SAC. UN. — 1-17-10

The third play in the Sacramento Basketball league will take place tonight in Pythian castle between the Loyal Sons and the Sacramento Athletic club in the heavyweight class, and the high school and Y. M. C. A., the Christian Brothers' college and the S. A. C. second team in the lightweight class. As the Loyal Sons and the Sacramento Athletic club teams are tied for first place, undoubtedly the game between those two teams will be the feature of the evening.

A partial schedule has been arranged by Manager Bacon and Physical Director Rittler and will be completed in a few days. The incomplete schedule is as follows:

January 17th—Lightweights, S. A. vs. Brothers' college; high school vs. Y. M. C. A. Heavyweights, Loyal Sons vs. S. A. C.

January 24th—High school vs. S. A. C. Heavyweights, Wheelmen vs. Y. M. C. A.

January 31st—Y. M. C. A. vs. Brothers' college. Heavyweights, Y. M. C. A. vs. S. A. C.; Wheelmen vs Loyal Sons.

The Sacramento Athletic Club's heavyweights took the lead last night in the basketball league by defeating the Loyal Sons by a score of 17 to 9. The lightweight team of the club and the High School team each hold perfect scores by coming out victors in the two other games of the evening.

The S. A. C. lightweights defeated the Christian Brothers' College by a score of 29 to 9, and the High School boys came out winners over the Young Men's Christian Association team by a 13 to 11 score.

Physical Instructor Reisner, of the Y. M. C. A., announced after the game that he would protest the contest his team lost because Lovich, of the High School team, was a former heavyweight player in the League last November. The rules of the League, according to Reisner, prohibit this. The High School boys say Reisner did not protest until he saw he was getting beaten. They say the protest is groundless.

The victory of the S. A. C. huskies was due to their superior teamwork. They played hard and fast, using a code of signals which permitted them at many stages of the game to play rings around their opponents. At the close of the first half the score stood 8 to 2 in favor of the club players, and with little trouble they maintained the lead throughout the match.

The other two games were well fought, and although the score of the S. A. C.-C. B. C. game was somewhat overbalanced, it was not because the game lacked interest.

The games were witnessed by a large crowd, which grew enthusiastic at times, cheering star plays. Referee Putnam gave satisfaction in the manner in which he handled the games.

Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, Chase (2 field goals, 3 foul goals), Smith (1 field goal); center, Hicks (1 field goal); guards, Barger and Kestler.

S. A. C. Lightweights—Forwards, Luke (6 field goals, 1 foul goal), Cowie (2 field goals); center, Duke (6 field goals); guards, Allen, Erway; substitute, Beardslee.

Officials—Referee, Putnam; umpire, J. Blake; scorers, Allen and Gallup; timekeepers, Simmermacher and Warren.

Under the new conditions perfected by Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club, a new era is opened in basketball that bids fair to make the sport more than popular. All contests are now held in Pythian Castle on Monday evenings and the increased attendance on the part of spectators is very marked. The women of the city are beginning to take an interest in this lively game and are attending the contests in increased numbers on every occasion. Tomorrow evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock there will be three games. In the lightweight class the Sacramento Athletic Club team will play the Christian Brothers College team; the Sacramento high school will play the Young Men's Christian Association and in the heavyweight class the Sacramento Athletic Club will play the Loyal Sons. These contests are very exciting and amusing and as the public is welcome it will be a pleasant place to spend an evening.

The business men's classes instituted by Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club are becoming deservedly popular, the evening classes often finding as high as from forty-five to fifty of the business men of the city in athletic costume gaining a new hold on life in going through the different exercises set them by Mr. Rittler. This number will probably swell to a hundred or more as soon as stock taking is completed in the various stores. Those who have taken advantage of the classes are delighted with the exercises and with their gentlemanly instructor whose long experience in the work enables him to accurately judge just the kind of exercise that should be taken by his pupils without in any way injuring them physically. The time for the classes is set to meet with the convenience of almost everybody in business life. On Mondays and Tuesdays there is a class from 11 to 12 a. m. On Wednesdays and Saturdays from 4 to 6 p. m.

LOYAL SONS AND THE S. A. C. WILL CLASH

SAC. STAR — 1-17-10

What has the promise of being one of the fastest games of basketball in the Sacramento league will be played tonight when the Loyal Sons and Sacramento Athletic club teams clash at Pythian Castle. These teams are two of the strongest in the league, and their meeting tonight will practically decide the leadership.

Prior to the heavyweight game two fast lightweight games will be played. The Y. M. C. A. and S. A. C., and S. A. C. second team and Christian Brothers' College teams will play. A great deal of interest in these teams is being taken, as may be seen by the large attendance of the games.

S. A. C. CLUB RUN IS WON BY STEWART

SAC. BEE — 1-17-10.

Stewart captured the club run of the Sacramento Athletic Club men around the State Capitol grounds yesterday morning from a field of sixteen. The course, which under any conditions is not of the best, was made worse by the early rains. Notwithstanding this, Stewart did the lap in five minutes and forty-five seconds, a distance of little more than a mile.

Sixteen runners entered in the event, which was the first of a series Physical Director Rittler has arranged for the club athletes to get a line for a Spring team. Three of these runners dropped out.

Stewart, 5:44; McNeely, 5:46; Sparks, 5:47; Reese, 6:02; Childs, 6:03; Luke, 6:04; Hern 6:15; Donald 6:20; Beede 6:21; Erickson, 6:22; Sutterberg, 6:28; Villinger, 6:29; Duke, 6:29—tie.

Next Sunday a small meet will be held at McKinley Park, when the hundred yards, quarter-mile and shot-put events will be held.

STEWART WINS S. A. C. SPRINT

SAC. BEE — 1-17-10

Representing the Sacramento Athletic Club sixteen scantily clad athletes ran a race around Capitol Park yesterday morning. Stewart finished first doing the distance in 5:44. As it is quite a bit over a mile around the grounds this is considered very good time. McNeely finished second in 5:46 and Sparks third in 5:47. These three will receive gold, silver and bronze bars. An athlete winning ten bars will receive a handsome pennant to which the bars can be attached making a very handsome medal.

The run of yesterday morning was the first of a number of similar track events that will follow. Captain Gannon is planning a busy track season in hopes of developing a point winning team. Next Sunday a track meet will be held at McKinley Park. All of the sprints and the field events will be participated in by an increasing track squad. Cross country runs and other events will follow.

CREATE SUB-LEAGUE FOR BASKETBALL

SAC. BEE. — 1-21-10

A basketball tournament to be known as the P. A. A. basketball championship, and to cover the Northern California district, has been sanctioned by the P. A. A. at the bay, and will start next month. Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Chico, Woodland and several other cities have A. A. U. membership, and will enter teams.

Such is the information Professor Otto Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic Club brings back from the bay, where he attended the P. A. A. meeting. He says the games will start on February 24th. The League will be divided into several classes, as follows:

Midget class, for teams averaging 110 pounds; junior class, teams of 130 pounds average; intermediate, 120 pounds; senior, 145 pounds; and the unlimited class, for teams of varying weight. Entries for the championship play will positively close on February 15th.

GREAT SCRAP-FEST FOR S. A. C. BIG NIGHT

Sac. STAR 1-19-10

On Thursday night, Jan. 27, the cream of local amateur scrappers will be seen in the Sacramento Athletic Club's fight show for club members and invited friends to be held in the club rooms. Most all of the bouts, which will be three-round affairs governed by A. A. U. rules with a referee and two judges, are between club members, but a few are between outsiders.

Professor Johnson, the club boxing instructor, and Physical Director Rittler have arranged a card of ten bouts and some wrestling matches. Following is a list of the boxing bouts:

E. Murray and W. McCullock will meet at 110 lbs.

Salvador and Jockey Mally at 115 lbs.

Hallanan and W. Gore wil meet at 130 lbs.

C. Luke and G. Stack at 115 lbs.

C. L. Bojorgula and Slitz Hoffman at 140 lbs.

W. Ritchie and W. Chapman at 150 lbs.

The main event will be between E. Barr, Sacramento Athletic Club champion and G. Schreider, champion of the Stockton Athletic Club. All of the contests will be three rounds, a decision to be given by the referee and two judges. In case a decision cannot be reached in three rounds, an extra round will be fought. Billie Burke will probably referee and Arthur Delano will be one of the judges. The club members are looking forward to the boxing night and are expecting some lively milling. Special interest is being taken in the Seiner and Erickson go, as these two are well-known fighters. The main event has promises of being a whirlwind affair.

S. A. C. WRESTLING INSTRUCTOR ARRIVES

Walter Dyrebord, of Portland, who has been engaged by the Sacramento Athletic Club to act as wrestling instructor, has arrived to take up his duties. Dyrebord comes highly recommended, having acted as instructor for the Reliance Club of Oakland and the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland. He will give instructions three days and evenings during the week at the S. A. C.

ATHLETICS GIVEN BOOST BY P. A. A.

Coast Association Will Form Sub-League for Teams in Northern California.

SAC. UN. — 1-21-10

All branches of amateur athletics in Northern California received a big boost this week, and, providing the spirit in which the boost was made continues long enough to become permanently fixed, this section of the state will be placed on an equal footing with the central and southern portions. The particular boost which promises to become a boon to athletics in this part of the state was given by the Pacific Athletic association, the supervising body of amateur athletics on this coast, at a meeting held in San Francisco early this week, and to which Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club went as a representative of this city.

Aside from regular business matters usually transacted at such meetings, the association found ample time to inquire about the situation in the Sacramento Valley, and, after a round of earnest discussion, launched a scheme by which the athletic clubs in Northern California will form a sort of sub-basketball league, in which all will contest in preliminary play and battle in the finals with the teams of the several athletic clubs about San Francisco bay.

In this league will be Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Chico, Woodland, and every city having a membership in the A. A. U.

P. A. A. CHAMPIONSHIP.

A basketball tournament, known as the P. A. A. Basketball championship, will be held during the coming months. The Sacramento Athletic club will probably enter two or three teams, and possibly more. The play will commence February 24, and will be divided into five classes, as follows. Midget class, for teams averaging 110 pounds; Junior class, teams of 130 pounds average; intermediate, 120 pounds; senior, 145 pounds; and the unlimited class, for teams of varying weight. Entries for the championship play will positively close on February 15th.

A rigid set of rules will govern the tournament, and no concessions will be made to any team or individual player. The play will be elimination, and each team losing one game will be dropped. Players must weigh in before each game, and a failure to make the weight under which the team is registered will result in the expulsion of the team from play. All players must be registered with Joseph Hickey of the P. A. A. before taking part in a contest, otherwise they will not be recognized as participants, and should they play, the game will not be counted as a championship match. Two sets of finals will be held, one in San Francisco and the other in Oakland. The semi-finals will be contested in San Francisco. The winners of the championship will receive suitable trophies, and individual players will receive medals.

CONTESTS HERE.

The schedule of play will be so arranged as to give several contests to Sacramento, and the teams from this city will journey to nearby towns, and, in the event they qualify for the finals, they will go to San Francisco and Oakland to play. The management of the championship play in Northern California will be under the supervision of Physical Instructor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club.

This arrangement shows that the importance of athletics in Northern California is at last beginning to be properly recognized by the larger cities, and the allying of the local clubs with the more extensive ones around the bay will open up a wide field of endeavor that will, in all probability, act as an incentive to local athletes to become proficient in the various branches of amateur sports.

S. A. C. PRAISED.

It was found necessary at the meeting to suspend members of several clubs for repeated violations of the association's rules, and the regular manner in which the S. A. C. has always observed the rules brought forth the praise of the officials of the association, who openly complimented Sacramento on its conduct in such matters.

Professor Rittler was invited to enter long-distance runners in cross-country runs, and agreed to send representatives to the Dipsea and Olympic club runs in February. The delegates from clubs about the bay also promised Rittler that they would, in every way possible, co-operate with the local club in promoting amateur athletics. The practice of the S. A. C. in holding amateur boxing bouts for members only was condemned, and representatives of several clubs promised they would send men up here occasionally to participate in the matches. It is probable that one or two San Francisco or Oakland boxers will take part in the boxing tournament to take place here January 27.

MEMBERS WILL BE ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Sac. UN. — 1-13-10

Vandalism and Disregard for House Rules Brings Trouble for Athletes.

Repeated violations of the house rules of the Sacramento Athletic club and vandalic treatment of the parlor furnishings and other frail fixtures has caused the board of directors to decide to cite several members to appear before the board at its next regular meeting and show reason why they should not be suspended from the club or suffer the punishment of indefinite expulsion. This drastic action was necessarily resorted to as the only way of putting a stop for all time to the utter disregard certain members of the club have for the property of the club and the comfort of fellow members.

Complaint after complaint has been sent in to the directors of the club by attendants and members, and despite the repeated warnings the wanton destruction of club property and disregard for house rules has continued and increased to such an extent that only by making examples of certain members against whom there is conclusive evidence do the directors hope to preserve the club for the benefit of those who have learned to appreciate its many homelike conveniences.

The identity of those who will be cited to appear before the board is kept a secret, as the directors have no wish to cause any unnecessary scandal in the club. The breaking of the railing on the stairs last month, the chipping of a piece off the keyboard of the piano, scuffing and scratching of the furniture and careless use of the billiard and pool paraphernalia are among the things that are supposed to have incited the board to action, with a view to stamping out such hoodlum practices and weeding out the undesirable persons who, by hook or crook, have gained membership in the club.

The directors have no desire to be unfair in the matter, neither do they wish to do any particular member an injustice, but as a fulfillment of the promise made to the general public that the club would be conducted along genteel lines, the directors see no way out of the matter but by calling the erring members to time.

TRACKMEN WILL BE GIVEN A TRYOUT

Sac. Star 1-20-10

About 45 track aspirants have signified their intention of taking part in the S. A. C. track tryout at McKinley Park Sunday afternoon. The club track season opened last Sunday and from now on Capt. Gannon will have some sort of a meet every week.

A mile race for novices will be one of the features of the meet. Last year's team developed some good distance runners and as the club expects to enter a team in some of the track meets at the bay cities, the long grind men will be expected to make a showing. With this in view Capt. Gannon will segregate the distance men and start them in training.

Not only the distance and sprint men will be attended to but all track and field possibilities. The following Sunday the weight-throwers and field men will have their inning. Physical Director Rittler, and Track Captain Gannon are planning to have a winning team this year and are getting ready early in the season. Among the club membership is a host of material that can be developed into a championship team. The club won several cups last year and expects to double the number this year. Track enthusiasts will be given special training as the club will go in strong.

ATHLETIC CLUB LEADS IN BOTH DIVISIONS

Three fast basketball games were played at Pythian Castle last night, and at the conclusion the Sacramento Athletic Club heavy and lightweight teams were both at the head of the league in their respective classes.

A good deal of practice and a system of signals used by the S. A. C. team was the cause of the defeat of the Loyal Sons, who lost to the athletic club team by as core of 17 to 9. Two lightweight games which preceded the heavyweigfiht contest were fast and furious. The high school team defeated the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 13 to 11. Physical Director Reisner of the association states that he will protest the game on the grounds that Lovich, who played on the high team last night, formerly played on a heavyweight team of the league, which is av iolation of one of the rules. The Christian Brothers' College team was defeated by the Sacramento Athletic club team by a score of 29 to 9. A good-sized crowd attended the games.

Following is al ine-up of the players:

S. A. S. Heavies—Forwards, Barnes and Shaw; centers, Ames and Griffin; guards, Lobner and Bacon.

Y. M. C. A.—Forwards, Chase and Smith; center, Hicks; guards, Barger and Kestler.

College — Forwards, O'Neil and Trueblood; center, Haggerty; guards, West and Coughlin.

S. A. C. Lightweights—Forwards, Luke and Cowie; center, Duke; guards, Allen and Erway.

Is Wrestling Director of S.A.C.

Sac Un. 1-20-10

Walter Dyreborg of Portland, the newly engaged wrestling instructor of the Sacramento Athletic club, arrived yesterday and now awaits the command of the directors to begin the duties of the recently established department. Dyreborg is a wrestler of considerable repute and is a powerful man. He holds the Pacific coast championship and was once champion of Nebraska, in which state he was born and raised. He will give instructions three days and evenings of every week and will later arrange a class schedule.

For several months Dyreborg was connected with the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland, Ore., from which club he was turned out a professional wrestler. He acted as instructor in the Reliance club of Oakland for a while, and conducted an athletic club in Medford, Ore. He weighs 175 pounds and is 5 feet 10½ inches in height. He is extremely anxious to meet some local wrestler, and announces that he will appear in a professional contest if arrangements can be made for such an exhibition.

Sport Notes

SAC. STAR 1-17-10

Chester Dyeberg a wrestling instructo rof note is on his way here, having been engaged by the Sacramento Athletic Club. Dyeberg was formerly with the Multonomah Club of Portland, and has been with the Reliance of Oakland and other clubs. He will instruct S. A. C. members three days a week.

P. A. A. SUPPORTS OUR ATHLETICS

In addition to the regular transaction of business considerable attention to Sacramento Valley athletics was given by the representatives of the Pacific Athletic Association at the regular monthly meeting held in San Francisco yesterday.

In the Sacramento Valley those foremost in athletics of the Pacific coast, saw a chance for great development. That the Sacramento Athletic Club should be the medium was the statement given to Physical Director Rittler, who was a delegate to the meeting. Every undertaking of any magnitude that will develop athletics in the valley will be heartily endorsed by the P. A. A.

As a boost to valley activities, athleitc meets in which the strong bay city athletic clubs will lend a helping hand will be held in Sacramento and other centers. Track meets, a basketball valley league, and other features throughout the season are planned for this valley by the P. A. A. The continuance of the state fair athletic meet and the inauguration of similar meets is planned.

The Sacramento Athletic Club was paid a high compliment for its good showing and the good standing in amateur ratings.

All manner of support for the promotion of valley sports is assured as it is the desire to place this valley on an equal standing with the rest of the state. Representatives of the P. A. A. will confer with the athletic leaders of the various valley towns and a meeting of delegates of some of the leading cities and towns in order that plans may be formulated will be held some time in the near future.

Next Thursday evening the initiatory swatfest of the Sacramento Athletic Club is slated to take place for members only. It is predicted that the evening's card will bring out one of the best entertainments that have taken place in this city for years from a fistic standpoint. In all there are nine events on the card at all kinds of weights. The boys are battling for glory only, so every contest will develop into a genuine match, especially as the route is short in every event. The card is perfected as follows:

C. L. Bojorgula (unattached) vs. Hoffman (S. A. C.), 140.

Salvador (S. A. C.) vs. Mally (Una), 130.

LEAGUE ALLOWS Y. M. C. A. PROTEST

Lovich Must Retire From High School Team and Blakes Will Be Protested.

SAC. UN. 1-23-10

The regular meeting of the Sacramento Basketball league last week was productive of some rather interesting arguments, and the spirit which practically put the league on the rocks last season cropped out so prominently that putty in the keyholes and cotton in the cracks would not have stopped the heated words that flew back and forth over the conference board.

The Y. M. C. A. succeeded in getting its protest of the game last Monday night, in which the high school team came out victorious, sustained, and Lovich was forced to retire from basketball, and will not be identified with the high school team in the future. In order to get back at Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. team, who, Amick says, protested the game because he was piqued at the defeat of his team Monday night, Amick has demanded that the two Blake boys, who were barred last year for rough playing and have never been reinstated, be kept out of the game. The rules of the P. A. A., under which the league is run, sustain Amick in his demands, and he has a letter from the association stating that the Blake boys have not been reinstated and should not be allowed to play.

LOVICH THE QUESTION.

Amick declares he would never have taken this action had not Reisner protested against Lovich. According to a rule of the local league, a player can go up but not down, and when once a player has taken part in a heavyweight game, he cannot go back and play in a lightweight contest. This Lovich did, but the irregularity could have been overlooked, as the circumstances in the case made a concession very permissible. Lovich was on the S. A. C. heavyweight team, but belonged to the high school. He was let go by the S. A. C., but because he played with them one game he, legally, could not go back and play with his school team. There was nothing for the representatives to do but allow Reisner's protest, and without much doubt they will be forced to allow Amick's also. Which of the two will be benefited remains to be seen. Reisner has evidently cut off his nose to spite his face, and Amick is in bad also. If the one had not made a move undoubtedly the other would have remained still.

So the matter, as it stands, is not extremely bright for either of the lightweight teams. Amick's team can undoubtedly recover from the wounds, but the Y. M. C. A. team will be badly ruptured. Chase goes away soon, and with the loss of both the Blake boys, who are excellent players, the Y. M. C. A. line-up will be badly tattered.

A majority of the league representatives who are inclined to be more business-like in their methods, say they are becoming disgusted with the almost constant wrangling, and will not stand for it much longer. If the practice continues, it will undoubtedly bring about the end of the league, even as it did last year.

BOUTS ARRANGED FOR AMATEUR NIGHT

SAC. BEE — 1-22-10

The bill of fare for the boxing bee to be staged by the Sacramento Athletic Club on January 27th at the club rooms has been made up by Physical Instructor Otto Rittler and looks good to the hungry fight followers at the Club.

The bouts arranged will all be of three rounds duration and are as follows:

Salvador vs. Jockey Mally, weight 115 pounds.

Halloran vs. W. Gore, weight 130 pounds.

C. Luke vs. G. Stack, weight 115 pounds.

W. Ritchie vs. W. Chapman, weight 150 pounds.

E. A. Barr, of Marysville, vs. G. Schreider, of Stockton.

The last-named bout will be one of the best on the program it is believed, as Barr, who is a newspaper man in Marysville, is said to be quite nifty at the biff and bing game.

Y. M. C. A.	0	2	.000
C. B. C.	0	2	.000

Otto Rittler's method of training the S. A. C. heavyweights—team-work operated by a system of signals—put them at the head of the Sacramento Basketball league last night when the Loyal Sons were defeated by a score of 17 to 9. The Loyal Sons are wondering how it happened, but attribute their defeat to the fact that they had little practice while the enemy was working hard and saying little about it. At any rate, the club men ran away with victory in the first half, making a score of 8 to 2, and had little difficulty in maintaining their lead in the second, though the tussle became a little more interesting.

VICTORIES EARNED.

All basketball of the evening was interesting, and the three contests presented did not belie the title applied to them. Every victory was earned, which is saying a good deal for a cluster of three basketball games. In the first court-warmer the High School team won from the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 13 to 11, and the one just before the heavyweights entered was taken by the S. A. C. from C. B. C. by a score of 29 to 9. The wide score would indicate a walkaway, but such was not the case—the contest was over points rather than for the entire game.

The whirlwind style of playing, together with accurate passing and evident consecutive work, took the heretofore victorious Loyal Sons off their feet in the first half of the big game. The youngsters have to date been victorious in the Sacramento field, and went onto the floor with the idea that the title was not to be snatched from them right away; but it was this confidence, not backed up by work that should precede a game, that left them in a lurch when the action began. Barnes had much success in tossing baskets for the S. A. C. heavies, and Lovich for the high school and Luke and Duke for the lightweight S. A. C. teams, were similarly well equipped to find the inside of the rim.

TO PROTEST GAME.

Physical Instructor Reisner of the Y. M. C. A. announced last night that he will protest the lightweight game between the Y. M. C. A and the high school teams on the ground that Lovich formerly played with a heavyweight team, which he says is against the rules of the league.

Last night's series of games brought out a larger crowd than has heretofore attended the contests, and much encouraged the sport promoters. Play was remarkably free from rough tactics, and the work of Referee Putnam with the whistle gave unusual satisfaction.

WHERE THEY PLAYED.

The line-ups:

High School—Forwards, Liang, Lovich (4 field goals, 3 foul goals); center, Bybee (1 field goal); guards, Rankin, Gruhler; sub, Chilson.

BASKETBALL PLAY TONIGHT

SAC. STAR 1-24-10

The fourth games of the Sacramento Basketball League schedule will be played tonight when thhe Y. M. C. A. and Capital City Wheelmen, of the heavy-weight division, clash at Pythian Castle. In the lightweight preliminary games the high school and S. A. C. and Christian Brothers College and Y. M. C. A. teams will play.

There are but a few more games of the league schedule to be played. As the standing of the teams is rated on the elimination basis, one of the teams in tonight's game will be dropped from the league, as each has lost a game. The team losing two consecutive games will be dropped from the league. The Y. M. C. A. is picked as the winner, as it appears the strongest team. At present the S. A. C. is at the head of the league, but it will have a hard fight to hold the place against the strong Loyal Sons and Y. M. C. A.

S. A. C. MEET POSTPONED.

On account of the weather yesterday the Sacramento Athletic club track team did not hold the scheduled tryouts at McKinley park. The meet was postponed indefinitely. The club's scratch distance man, Stewart, went out to the park and ran five miles, making the distance in good time and showing unusual strength. Great things on the track are predicted for him.

SIX TEAMS TO PLAY LEAGUE GAMES TONIGHT

BEE 1-24-10

The Capital City Wheelmen and the Young Men's Christian association heavyweight teams will clash tonight in Pythian castle in the fourth league play in the Sacramento Basketball league. The lightweight teams of the high school and the Sacramento Athletic club are scheduled to meet. A third game between the Christian Brothers' college and the Y. M. C. A., in the lightweight class, will also occur.

The league is rushing the games through in as short order as possible, so that the play will be finished before wrangling among certain members causes the untimely death of the organization, as it did last year. The basketball men are pretty much disgusted with the matter as it stands, and say that they will not organize the league again next season.

CLUB LIGHTWEIGHTS WIN LEAGUE HONORS

SAC. BEE — 1-25-10

The game between the Sacramento Athletic Club lightweights and the Sacramento High School team was the only regular game played in the Sacramento Basketball League last night. The two other games scheduled were not held, as neither the Christian Brothers' College nor the Capital City Wheelmen teams appeared to play their games against the two Y. M. C. A. teams, and thus forfeited them.

The one regular game held resulted in a victory for the club team by a score of 20 to 10. It was a rough game at the best, and Referee Putnam will suspend Forward Wickum, of the S. A. C., from further games for a period of at least two weeks because of two class B fouls committed. The S. A. C. victory gave it the championship of the lightweight division.

Collegians Blame Rittler.

The manager of the C. B. C. team to-day explained his team's absence by stating that he had been told by Physical Instructor Rittler, of the S. A. C., that the collegians were not to play last night, the S. A. C. team taking their place. The manager says the schedules have been changed so often that it is hard to follow them.

The teams lined up as follows last night, the line-ups of two picked teams which played a practice game being also given:

S. A. C. Lightweights—Forwards, Wickum, Luke (7 field goals, 4 foul goals); center, Duke (1 field goal); guards, Sprague, Erway; substitute, Beardsley.

High School—Forwards, Laing (1 foul goal), Chisholm; center, Bybee (1 field goal, 5 foul goals); guards, Reinking (2 foul goals), Gruhler.

Would Bes—Forwards, Brandon, Bothwell; center, Donald; guards, Huff, Rodda.

Out of three games scheduled, the Sacramento Basketball league managed to make good with one last night, and it gave the S. A. C. Lightweights championship when they won from the high school by a score of 20 to 10. The other two games scheduled were forfeited, one in the heavyweight division to the Y. M. C. A. by the C. B. C., and the other in the lightweight division to the Y. M. C. A. by the C. B. C. team. The league is finishing its series in a very crippled and loose condition, and the animated crowds that attended the first two games had dwindled to a scattering of school boys and club members, who raise such a hoarse howl of personalities that few women venture to the games.

ROOTING OFFENSIVE.

While the rooting of last night would have been appropriate at a contest attended by club members and school boys, it was hardly the thing to perpetrate upon a crowd of outsiders who came to see basketball games and not hear nerve-wrecking yells.

The Christian Brothers' college team failed to appear for its lightweight contest against the Y. M. C. A. team, and when it came time for the heavyweight game, the event of the evening, but a percentage of the C. C. W. boys were there to play against the Y. M. C. A. heavies. In place of the regular game, two picked teams were gathered from the Y. M. C. A., Loyal Sons, and C. C. W., and played an exhibition game. The team with the strikingly original name of Never-Was made a score of 36 to 8 for the Would-Bes.

EJECTED FROM GAME.

During the first game, that which gave the lightweight championship to the S. A. C. team, Wickum of the club team committed two class fouls, hacking an opponent, and will be ruled out of the game for two weeks, or as much longer as Referee Putnam of the league directors chooses to designate. Luke had one class B foul called upon him.

The game between the lightweight teams was marred by rough work and personalities, but was a warm tussle in the first half, when the high school boys held their own. In the second half Luke, the star basket thrower for the club team, got into action and seemed able to hit the hoop almost at will. The victory was due to his accurate basket-throwing and the strong work of the club guards, who prevented the high school goals from dropping the ball through the opening.

A LITTLE AMUSEMENT.

The exhibition game rapidly developed into a farce, but as such had its amusing qualities, which partially allayed the disappointment of the spectators at not seeing real league games.

LINE-UPS.

S. A. C. lightweights—Forwards, Wickum, Luke (7 field goals, 4 foul goals); center, Duke (1 field goal); guards, Sprague, Erway; sub., Beardsley.

LIGHT MEN TO FURNISH FEATURE

The main bout of the Sacramento Athletic club's monthly fest of Thursday night will be that between E. A. Barr of Marysville and C. T. Schrader of Stockton, both boys of the 125-pound class. These boys will go it for three rounds, the time limit for other of the ten mix-ups scheduled for the evening.

Barr has not much of a record among the amateurs of the ring, but has done considerable boxing around Marysville with Jack Clifford and is said to be a clever boy with his hands. Schrader holds the amateur championship in his class, having won it during a series in Los Angeles when the Elks held their big meeting in the south.

A number of names have been placed on the list by those who intend trying for the Sacramento Athletic club Rugby football team. The new game is attracting a deal of interest in Sacramento and it is likely that the fall will see at least two teams in the field here. Names on the S. A. C. list are H. Evers, A. Putnam, F. R. Bettens, C. Gannon, J. C. Hern, O. Elliott, R. C. Shoemake, J. R. Pixley, A. Evers, Edward Sollars, W. McNeely, G. Beckley and C. C. Stewart.

S. A. C. LIGHT-WEIGHTS WIN

But one of the three scheduled games in the Sacramento Basketball League series was played at Pythian Castle last night. This was a hotly contested lightweight contest between the S. A. C. and high school team, the former winning the game and the championship by a score of 20 to 10.

Wickum, the S. A. C. forward, was thrown out of the game for having two Class B fouls charged against him. This keeps him out of the game for two weeks or as long as referee Putnam and the league directors see fit.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE COMES TO END MONDAY

SAC. BEE — 1-26-10

The Sacramento Basketball League, which has had quite a rough journey because of the petty technicalities which have been brought into its life, will come to an end next Monday night. The Sacramento Athletic Club heavies will play the Y. M. C. A. heavies, the Loyal Sons will meet the Capital City Wheelmen and the High School team will play a protested game with the Y. M. C. A. lightweights. These three games will terminate the schedule.

The heavyweight game between the Athletic Club team and the Y. M. C. A. five should be a hotly contested one. The game between the High School and the Y. M. C. A. lightweights promises as much.

When the league comes to an end there will be a complete reorganization of basketball at the Sacramento Athletic Club. Physical Instructor Rittler plans to organize three club teams, one in the 120-lb. class, another in the 130-lb. class and the third in the 145-lb. class. These teams will represent the S. A. C. in the P. A. A. basketball tournament at the bay.

There is plenty of material for the teams at the club, as almost every member of the present basketball league teams belongs to the club, with the possible exception of the Y. M. C. A.

The whist team consisting of C. S. Pixley and R. A. Sollars finished in the lead of the Sacramento Athletic Club whist tournament which terminated yesterday at the club. F. C. Bovyer and W. H. Pugh formed the second team, E. Morris and Dr. E. C. Turner the third and F. W. Bennett and B. C. Gallup the fourth. All four teams will receive medals and are qualified to participate in the whist tournament to be held for the club cup.

The Pixley-Sollars team did not lose a game in the recent tournament. The winners of the club cup play will be expected to hold their own against any outside challengers.

A superintendent, whose duty will be to have complete charge of the club rooms and govern the conduct of the members will soon be appointed for the Sacramento Athletic Club. At a special meeting of the Directors last night it was deemed necessary to have such an official. A Committee consisting of J. M. Inman and J. W. Laughlin was appointed to secure a superintendent.

WHIST TOURNEY COMES TO AN END

Pixley and Sollars Finish First and Three Other Teams Take Places.

SAC. UN. — 1-26-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club Whist tournament came to an end last night, and four teams finished with the necessary number of victories to entitle them to a place in the championship class. The teams will be presented with medals on Thursday evening, when the club will celebrate the second of the fistic exhibitions which are held every month. The team composed of C. S. Pixley and R. A. Sollars finished in the first place, having taken seven games and lost none. F. Bovyer and W. H. Pugh were second. They won eight and lost two. E. Morris and Dr. E. C. Turner were third, finishing, winning five and losing two. The fourth team was F. W. Bennett and B. C. Gallup. This team won two games and lost three.

The other twelve teams that started in the tournament either dropped out or failed to play, and were thus disqualified for the finals. The tournament has extended over a period embracing several weeks, and would have been terminated sooner had not the Christmas holidays interfered. The club has provided eight beautiful silver medals, significant of the competition, and each member of the four winning teams will receive a medal engraved to signify the rank the player finished in.

These four champion teams will contest among themselves for the club cup, which has been set up by the board of directors for a series play. The winners of this club cup championship tournament will be supposed to defend their title against all comers in the club, and in the event they lose a series of contests, the cup becomes the possession of another team.

After the cup championship play is terminated, the four championship teams will be willing to meet any and all whist teams of various other local organizations. A match with the C. C. W. is probable, and one with Company E club and the Spanish War veterans is not unlikely.

S. A. C. TO HAVE SUPERINTENDENT

SAC. UN. — 1-26-10

Directors Decide to Secure New Official to Have Full Charge of Club.

Moved to action by repeated disobedience of club rules and a general inclination of the club members to destroy various fixtures, abuse instruments of amusements and gymnasium paraphernalia, the board of directors of the Sacramento Athletic club at a special meeting last night voted unanimously to create an office of general superintendent and to place a competent man in charge of all departments of the club immediately. The new superintendent will not, however, have supervision over the physical, wrestling or boxing instructor.

The duties of this new official will be to look after the club rooms, see that the house rules are obeyed to the letter, examine the credentials of persons wishing admittance to the club at all times, directing the employes, keeping order in the gymnasium and parlors and various other duties common to such officers.

Jack Inman and J. W. Laughlin were appointed a committee to look up a competent man and engage his services. They announce that they have no one in view at present but will endeavor to get a good man for the position as soon as possible. The superintendent will have full charge of the club at all times and will have absolute jurisdiction over every employe except the directors of the gymnasium. Members will, at all times, upon request, be forced to show their membership cards and those behind in their dues will be warned to pay up and if repeated warning fails they will be denied admittance to the club rooms.

That faction among the club membership that has been accustomed to run things about as it wished in the past will find the situation slightly changed when the superintendent is fully established and the new office effective.

FIGHTING SCRIBE MAY NOT SHOW UP

SAC UN. — 1-27-10

Barr May Not Be on Hand for S. A. C. Boxing Fest This Evening.

Everett A. Barr of Marysville, known as the "fighting scribe," may not be seen in a three-round boxing contest with G. Schreider of Stockton before the Sacramento Athletic club tonight, as per schedule. Barr's employer on the Marysville Appeal has informed that ambitious fistic artist that he must either do his newspaper duties or go to the game, and it is probable that if Barr comes to Sacramento tonight he will have no job when he returns to the Hub city. It was understood that if Barr asked for permission to come to Sacramento tonight he would be refused, and if he came his name would be immediately stricken off the pay sheet. Barr works at night. So it is very probable that Professor Otto Rittler's program will have to be shifted, and the best match on the card canceled.

However, there are several other good bouts that will undoubtedly satisfy the boxing element of the club which will gather at the ringside for the second of the regular monthly fistic fests tonight. One of the main events that is attracting no little interest is that between Joe Erickson and Kid Seiner, the baker boy. Seiner has quite a record, and thinks he can put Erickson in the shade easily. He won over Kid Scotty, the pride of the South Side, went to a draw with Kid Curry, knocked out Kid Beebe, won over Kid Ryan, and knocked out Kid West in two rounds.

Erickson got a decision over Kid Curry, won from Joe Destano, and went three rounds with Pete Johnson to a no-decision.

The bouts will all be of three rounds each, and will be as follows, providing there are no changes at the last moment:

Salvador vs. Jockey Mally, weight 115 pounds.

Halloran vs. W. Gore, weight 130 pounds.

C. Luke vs. G. Stack, weight 115 pounds.

W. Ritchie vs. W. Chapman, weight 150 pounds.

E. A. Barr of Marysville vs. G. Schreider of Stockton.

GREAT DEMAND TO SEE AMATEUR BOUTS

SAC. BEE —— 1-26-10

The last details for the amateur boxing night to be held Thursday at the Sacramento Athletic Club have been completed, and the twenty amateur pugilists who are to make up the ten three-round bouts are getting into condition for the short grind.

The Directors of the Club daily receive requests from outsiders for permission to attend the bouts, but all are denied, as it is a strictly club affair, and only those members who have paid their dues up to date will be admitted. The membership cards must be presented. Some of the Directors have even been offered money to pay for admission.

One of the main bouts of the evening will be the one between Kid Seiner, the baker boy, and Joe Erickson. Kid Seiner has quite a record of victories. His record looms up as follows: Won over Young Scotty in six rounds; draw with Kid Curry, six rounds; knocked out Kid Beebe in five rounds; won over Kid Ryan in six rounds; knocked out Kid West in two rounds; lost to Eddy Thompson in five rounds; knocked out Ray Campbell in two rounds.

Erickson's record is not so long, but he hopes to add another win when he meets Seiner. He has fought Pete Johnson three rounds to a no decision; won over Joe Destano in six rounds, and won over Kid Curry in six rounds.

SAC. STAR —— 1-25-10

The team of Pixley and Sollars last night won the championship Sacramento Athletic Club whist tournament. Bovyer and Pugh were second, Turner and Morris third, and Bennett and Gallup fourth. These teams will be presented with medals. These four teams will compete for a cup donated by the club. The cup-winning team will represent the club and will probably play teams from the C. C. W., Company E and Spanish War Veterans.

GALLEHER IS NAMED SUPERINTENDENT

SAC. BEE —— 1-27-10

Fred W. Galleher, Steward at the Sacramento Club, has been chosen Superintendent of the club by the Committee of Directors recently appointed to take up this matter. The appointment was made yesterday. A successor to Galleher's position has not been found as yet.

WILL RUN AGAINST FIVE-MEN TEAM

Stewart, the Sacramento Athletic Club long distance runner, has sent a novel challenge to the local high school to a race of five miles. He will run five miles against a relay team of five high school students. The challenge has been accepted and a try-out of high school runners will soon take place.

GALLEHER APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT S. A. C.

SAC. UN —— 1-27-10

Fred W. Galleher, who has held down the position of collector for the Sacramento Athletic club, was yesterday informed of his selection as superintendent of the club, a newly created office, the details of which have been publisehd in the Union. The appointment, which carries a bigger salary and many other conveniences, came as a total surprise to Galleher and was given him as a reward for the good work he has done for the interests of all connected with the club. His choice is regarded by the members as just about the thing. He will take possession immediately.

WAR VETERANS WILL PLAY S. A. C. WHISTERS

The challenge of the Sacramento Athletic Club whist team has been accepted by the whist team of Evans Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, and the whisters of these two organizations will be seen in play in a week or so. Tryouts will be held at the S. A. C. between two teams to select a representative team.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE FINALS ON TO-NIGHT

The finals in the Sacramento Basketball League will be played to-night at Pythian Castle. The heavies of the S. A. C. will face the Y. M. C. A. team, the Loyal Sons will play with the Capital City Wheelmen and the High School team will meet the lightweights of the Y. M. C. A. By taking the heavyweight bout the club team can capture the league honors. A defeat will mean a tie with the Y. M. C. A. and perhaps the Loyal Sons.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB STAGES NINE FAST BOUTS

SAC. UN 1-28-10

Over Five Hundred Members Crowd Club Rooms and Witness Best Amateur Card Ever Put on in This City in Which Local Boxers Triumph Over Stockton Stars.

The walls of the Sacramento Athletic club bulged out like the sides of an over-crowded corncrib last night, when nearly 500 members witnessed one of the best amateur boxing cards ever put on in this city. There was no question as to the quality of the nine bouts, which went three and four rounds each, and every person present voted them to be the choicest seen in this city in many a day. Physical Director Otto Rittler received rounds of praise for his judgment in matching the young boxers so well.

Things came out about as everybody wished, and the best of it was Stockton failed to get that medal it was so sure of taking away, even without an effort. The Athletic club scored at every turn, and every man put up a game fight. The losers took their defeat in good grace, and the Stockton boys, especially, put up game fights and were cheerful losers. Joe Erickson proved again that he is a comer, and brought the Athletic club colors home a-sailing when he put Kid Seiner, the baker boy, to the mat for the count in a little over two minutes of what was to have been a three-round, or, in the event of no decision in three rounds, a four-round go.

MAIN EVENT.

The main event of the evening, if any particular bout can be so designated, so superior were all the matches, and the one that was of greatest interest to the fans, was that between Everett A. Barr, the fighting scribe of Marysville, and G. Schreider, the Stockton Athletic club's pride. Well Barr got away with four rounds of as hard milling as has been seen here between two boys at 133 in many a day. He was given the decision, though the match was so close it was a hair's-breadth at the most.

In the first round Barr showed himself to be a clever fighter, with a good defense and a fairly heavy wallop. Schreider fought on the defense all through this round. Barr came in with a furious left hook and a right uppercut, and Schreider went to the mat for the count of six. He sat there long enough to get his breath, and was up again and at it. This was easily Barr's round.

In the first part of the second Barr had things his way, landing telling blows with his right and keeping covered well with his left. Then Schreider took a spurt and worsted Barr, rushing him to the corner and hammering him on the kidneys and ribs. Few, if any, clean blows were landed on Barr in this round, and it might be said he had a shade. The third opened with Barr a little tired and fighting on the defensive. Schreider flew to him and came near making Barr take a beating. At no time, however, did Schreider have any great advantage over Barr, and it cannot be said that the Stockton boy came near putting him out.

FOURTH WAS NECESSARY.

The agreement under which the bout was fought was that it should go until either man had sufficient advantage to render a decision. This was hardly possible at the end of three rounds, and so a fourth was allowed.

Fierce milling characterized the last round, both men fighting for all that was in them in order to get a decision. Barr kept his defense well and Schreider came in with windmills that struck Barr on the back and for the most part glanced harmlessly over his shoulder. The boys clinched many times and the bout ended with Barr in the victor's seat. Some of the fans called for a draw, but as Barr had done most of the leading and was the strongest and cleverest man, Referee Billy Johnson gave him the decision.

The winners of the nine bouts will be given suitable medals next week.

The Terrible Swede made the Baker Boy look like thirty-three and one-third cents. He came into the ring cool, reserved and determined—characteristics that Joe always carries with him when he enters the ring. The manner in which the men went at it showed clearly they knew the business, and there was little of the amateurishness that was common in most of the other bouts. The boys shook, and after excahnge of rights they clinched. In the break Erickson jumped back and escaped a stiff swing from Seiner's left. Erickson then came in with right and left, keeping himself well covered. Seiner backed away, but too late, and the Terrible Swede, living up to his name, slipped in a straight right to the jaw and laid the baker flat on his back for the count. Seiner had boasted that he would put Erickson away in the second. Joe was lifted to the shoulders of enthusiastic backers and carried about the ring.

PINK TEA STUNT.

The pink tea stunt was executed by "Slitz" Sollars and his twin, "Slitz" Hoffman. The sofa pillow and eider-down duel between these two was the laughter-brewing occasion of the event. Hoffman's scheduled opponent, Boyorpula of Marysville, failed to appear, and so "Cutie" Sollars took him on for three rounds. So close was the contest that it was called a draw.

Another fighting scribe lined up for battle, but was soon put down. In fact, by his own declaration he knew not what was it after the first punch. This warrior was Willis T. Chapman and his opponent, who got the decision, was W. Ritchie. Chapman went all to pieces in the first round and did not fight his man at all. Had he done so, or been able to have done so, the result might have been different.

Hicks and Satterberg, the heavyweights, went two rounds of fast milling, the former winning in the second round. Green, the winner's second, was undoubtedly responsible for the victory, so valuable was the advice he shot into his protege.

An exciting bout, and one that seemed to have created considerable interest, was that between Billy Gore and Hallahan. Gore got the decision in the third round, having outpointed Hallahan in the last two rounds. In the first round Hallahan had a shade, but could not keep up the pace and gave up everything to the more clever Gore.

BURNS OUT IN FIRST.

Cowie (who fights under the name of Wickham) laid Burns of Stockton on the mat in the second with short right jabs to the wind. Burns went down and had to be carried out, so completely had the Sacramento boy winded him. The play lasted thirty seconds and Cowie hammered the slough city boy in the wind much in the manner of a diamond drill goes after a tough piece of granite.

Shoemake was given a decision over Weir, the fight being stopped. Weir was knocked down twice and the bout was terminated in order to stop serious damage that might have been done.

C. Luke was given a decision over E. Murray in the bantam-weight class.

The winners of the recently completed whist tournament, the victors in the handball tournament and the long-distance runners who led in the race around Capitol park a week ago last Sunday, were presented with suitable medals.

Announcer Walter Bassett announced that there would be another surprise for the club members February 24th.

VETERANS ACCEPT S. A. C CHALLENGE

Two Organizations Will Engage in Whist Tournament for Championship.

SAC. UN —— 1-30-10

The Evans camp, United Spanish War Veterans, has picked up the gauntlet cast at their feet by the Sacramento Athletic Club Whist club, and will contest in a tournament to be commenced within a week or two. Manager Pixley of the athletic club team issued the challenge early last week, and yesterday morning he was notified that his challenge had been accepted.

Before the tournament play is commenced, however, it will be necessary for the athletic club to select two teams, and in order to do this it has been decided to hold tryouts this week. The veterans are recognized as clever handlers of the cards, and the athletic club players are not so slow themselves, so it is likely there will be a furious set-to when the rival teams clash. The winners of the tournament will undoubtedly challenge some other local club, and so on until the championship of Sacramento is won by some society or organization.

Manager Pixley of the S. A. C. Whist club has arranged a series of games to serve as tryouts, and the two teams that finish in the lead will be the ones to represent the club in the tournament play. In the first contest Bennett and Gallup will try a turn with Bovyer and Pugh. The former will play Morris and Turner, Pixley and Sollars will engage Bovyer and Pugh, and, last, Morris and Turner will contest with Pixley and Sollars.

It is planned to secure a championship cup to set up for all local clubs that wish to compete.

NINE GOOD GOES BEFORE S. A. C

SAC. STAR. 1-28-10

Nine boxing contests of all descriptions were staged by the Sacramento Athletic Club at its monthly boxing show at the club rooms last night. Several quick knockouts added to the interest of the evening's entertainment.

The first bout staged was between Shoemaker and Wier at 110 pounds. This fight was stopped, Shoemaker being given the decision after having knocked Wier down twice and having him in a groggy condition.

E. Murray and W. McCullock, also in the 110-lb. class, tried to best each other, McCullock getting the decision after four rounds.

Salvador and Jockey Mally furnished one of the best bouts of the evening, both boys showing considerable class. Mally earned the decision.

Cowie of the local club scored the first real knockout when he dropped Burns of Stockton in the first. The two rushed together and in a wild exchange of solar plexus blows Burns dropped.

Halloran and Gore chopped at each other and put up a good scrap. In the first round it looked like Halloran's fight but later Gore easily defeated his man, getting the decision.

C. L. Boyorjula, who was to have met "Slitz" Hoffman, did not show up. Sollars was substituted and furnished the crowd a great deal of amusement. Their bout was a comedy affair and was declared a draw.

W. Ritchie gave W. Chapman a beating. These two met at 150 pounds. Ritchie made a chopping block of Chapman who took all that was coming and seemed anxious for more. Had Chapman followed his tactics in the second the result might have been different. Ritchie was given a well-earned decision.

The Erickson-Seiner scrap was short and sweet. The Norwegian whirlwind dropped the "Fighting Baker" with a right jab 30 seconds after the first round had started.

The best fight on the card was the main event between E. A. Barr of Marysville and G. Schreider of Stockton. Both boys showed all manner of class and put up a rattling good scrap. An extra round was called to determine the winner. Barr was given a just decision although Schreider put up a good fight.

Over five hundred witnessed the fights and seemed to enjoy them. The club will have another entertainment next month.

LOYAL SONS MEET DEFEAT, 39 TO 12

Lose to Woodland High School Team in Hard Fought Basketball Contest.

SAC. UN —— 1-29-10

Special to the Union.

WOODLAND, Jan. 28.—The Loyal Sons of Sacramento met defeat here tonight at the hands of the basketball team of the high school, by a score of 39 to 12. The visiting team played a hard game and was reluctant to yield an inch, but despite its valiant efforts the local team outplayed it and brought home a glorious victory.

The game was played in a dance hall and the floor was slippery. This handicapped the Sacramento boys, who seemed unable to score under this disadvantage. However, the locals outplayed the Loyal Sons on every point, and even in the first half had the game their own way.

Hill of the local high school team played the most spectacular game of the evening for the locals. McNeeley of the Sacramento team showed up in excellent manner, and Brandon also of the visitors made most of the 12 points. After the game, which was largely attended, the floor was cleared and a dance was held.

The honors were distributed as follows: Hill of Woodland, 9 field goals; Durst, 5 field goals; Stephens, one field goal and five free throws. Two points were awarded. The Sacramento boys scored as follows: Brandon, 2 field goals and 2 free throws; Hart, 2 free throws; Knight, 1 field goal. Three points were awarded. The line-ups:

BOXING BOUT OF ATHLETIC CLUB PROVIDED GENUINE SPORT TO BIG CROWD.

President Walter Bassett, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and his Board of Directors were a happy bunch Thursday evening when nearly a thousand members of the Club gathered at the ringside to witness the amateur swatfest they had arranged for their entertainment. To accommodate the crowd the capacity of the big gym was strained to its utmost and everyone present went away impressed with the idea that amateur bouts put it over professional matches a mile. To be sure the ring stretched between four posts on the main floor was only fifteen by fifteen feet, but amateurs do not require as much room as professionals, their idea being to get together and mix things as fast as possible, so the ring was plenty big enough.

The evening's card was headed by Eddie Murry and C. Luke, slated at 110, but Luke looked much the heavier. It was biff, biff, bang from start to finish, Luke having the reach and Murry the grit. Four rounds were required to decide and Luke got it, although the sympathies of the crowd were with Murry, who took lots of punishment and grinned as though he liked it at all stages.

Schoemake and Weir, at 115, furnished another style of fighting. They stood far apart and made wild swings that disturbed the atmosphere and little else, although one of Schoemake's haymakers landed in the first, flooring his opponent. In the second he closed in a little and his swings sent Weir to the mat so often that Referee Johnson stopped the scrap.

The Wickham-Burns scrap, at 125, was short and sweet. Burns, who hails from Stockton, in the initiatory mixup started an attack on Wickham's breadbasket. This suited the local boy to a nicety and he returned the compliment with such a shower of heavy pokes in his opponent's stomach that the latter went down and out in just thirty seconds.

Hallanan and Gore were next up at 130., and Gore got the decision, proving too much for his opponent, who bled like a stuck pig from an introductory poke on the snout that he got in the opening round.

Hoffman and Sellers furnished the comic event of the evening. Sellers was not in condition, going in to oblige, as the boy slated to meet Hoffman failed to appear. Both were clever and the bout was enjoyed by audience and participants.

Ritchie and Chapman, at 150, came next and Ritchie got a decision. He landed a heavy swing on his opponent's face in the first round that dazed the fighting scribe, who, while displaying great grit throughout, was not in the running afterward.

Ole Erickson, "the pride of the Club," was pitted against Seiner, the fighting baker, and the two furnished a whirlwind bout. Seiner announced that he would fight if he was assured a fair decision and it is claimed said he would lower "the pride of the Club" in the second round. Perhaps he might have carried out his declaration but the scrap only lasted thirty seconds, the terrible Swede landing a punch on the baker's jaw in the first that sent him down for the count.

The card closed with a contest between Everett A. Barr, the fighting scribe of Marysville, and G. Schneider of Stockton. The latter put up a game fight that for three rounds held the decision in doubt. Another round was called for and Barr, in a fast rally, won out. Many thought it should have been a draw at that.

During the evening the medals won in the whist tournament, the handball tournament and the long distance runs were awarded the winners.

The next fistic bout of the club will be held on the 24th of next month and the directors promise even a better card than was presented at their opening event.

AMATEUR BOXING BEE AT S. A. C. IS GREAT SUCCESS

Ten Bouts Produce Four Knock-Outs—Two Scribes Try Fight Game—Erickson Drops Seiner in First Round

SAC. BEE. 1-28-10

Ten bouts which produced four clean knockouts and several near-knockouts were rattled off in jig time at the amateur boxing-bee at the Sacramento Athletic Club before close to 500 club members. It took but two hours to go through the program Physical Instructor Littler arranged, but a good entertainment was squeezed into those two hours, and no minutes were wasted.

Marysville Scribe Some Fighter.

The pen may be mightier than the sword, but Everett A. Barr, a Marysville newspaperman, demonstrated last night that the padded mitt cuts some figure. Barr was pitted against G. Schroeder, the pride of the Stockton Athletic Club, who is said to have won honors in the amateur meet at the Los Angeles Elks' carnival. He opened the first round by dropping the Stocktonian for the count of five and by putting on full speed in the fourth round nosed out Schroeder for the decision.

The fighting scribe had the best of the first round but found the Stockton boy aggressive and the ring judges could not reach a decision at the end of the third round. Barr had a straight left lead that gained him points, and he also covered up nicely. He forced matters in the fourth round and with the aid of this left lead won the fight. Barr gained a victory and holds his job with the Marysville paper besides.

Erickson Stows Seiner Away.

The other main event betewen Joe Erickson and Kid Seiner, the baker boy, came to a quick end when Seiner very carelessly ran into a straight right that Erickson shot out with the force of his body behind it. Seiner went clear off the floor and landed on his back under the ropes, where he stayed until Referee Bill Johnson counted him out.

This bout was over almost before it started, for the boys had been at it for only two minutes when Seiner was stowed away. Seiner, however, got the worst of the exchanges early in the round and found that Erickson had a vicious kick in either hand. Erickson's friends carried the victor out of the ring on thier shoulders.

Luke and Murray fighting around 110 pounds, furnished the first bout on the program. Luke was too big and strong for Murray and the advantage earned him the decision.

Shoemake Surprises Crowd.

Young Shoemake stumbled on to fame last night in his bout with Wier. He is not a member of the club, but being anxious to witness the fights he was granted admission. When he got inside he was pressed into service as a substitute to go on with Wier. The youngster had a hard punch concealed about him and to the surprise of the crowd dropped Wier twice in the second round with right swings. The fight was stopped and the decision awarded to Shoemake.

Jockey Malley got the decision over Salvador through aggressiveness, Salvador being satisfied to stay on the defensive.

Knocked Out in Thirty Seconds.

The bout between Wickham of the Sacramento Club and Burns of Stockton was over in thirty seconds. Burns started a tattoo on the Sacramento boy's midsection and was beaten at his own game. In the midst of a volley of exchanges for the stomach Burns went down and took the count.

William Gore and Hallanan, fighting at 135 pounds, went three bloody rounds, Hallanan getting punished badly about the face. He injured his hand in the fight. Gore got the decision.

The reputation of "Slitz" Hoffman doubtless scared Boyorjula of Marysville away, for the latter failed to appear and R. A. Sollars generously donated his services. The judges and referee refused to render a decision.

They're Not All Fighters.

A second fighting scribe was introduced into the fight game in the person of Willis Chapman, a local reporter. He was up against E. Ritchie and gamely essayed to stop everything Ritchie drove his way. He was no match for Ritchie, and narrowly escaped a knockout. According to "Chap," he was beaten by the first punch and had but a hazy remembrance of what followed.

During the evening handball medals were awarded to Tait and Wenzel, the winning team in the recent club tournament, and to Arcega and Morris, who finished second. Stewart, McNeeley and Sparks were awarded medals for finishing first, second and third, respectively in the run around the Capitol grounds. The members of the leading whist teams were also given medals.

President Walter Bassett of the Club announced that there would be a treat in store for the members on February 24th. He also announced that a masque ball will be held on April 1st.

The Sacramento Athletic Club Bouts Thursday Evening Were Good

SAC. SPORTING LIFE. 1-29-10

The walls of the Sacramento Athletic Club bulged out like the sides of an overcrowded corncrib last Thursday night, when nearly 500 members witnessed one of the best amateur boxing cards ever put on in this city. There was no question as to the quality of the nine bouts, which went three and four rounds each, and every person present voted them to be the choicest seen in this city in many a day. Physical Director Otto Rittler received rounds of praise for his judgment in matching the young boxers so well.

Things came out about as everybody wished, and the best of it was, Stockton failed to get that medal it was so sure of taking away, even without an effort. The Athletic club scored at every turn, and every man put up a game fight. The losers took their defeat in good grace, and the Stockton boys, especially, put up game fights and were cheerful losers. Joe Erickson proved again that he is a comer, and brought the Athletic club colors home a-sailing when he put Kid Seiner, the baker boy, to the mat for the count in a little over two minutes of what was to have been a three round, or, in the event of no decision in three rounds, a four round go.

The main event of the evening was that between Everett A. Barr, the fighting scribe of Marysville, and G. Schreider, the Stockton Athletic club's pride. Well, Barr got away with four rounds of as hard milling as has been seen here between two boys at 133 in many a day. He was given the decision, though the match was so close it was a hair's-breadth at the most.

The winners of the nine bouts will be given suitable medals next week.

The Terrible Swede made the Baker Boy look like thirty-three and one-third cents. The boys shook, and after an exchange of rights they clinched. In the break Erickson jumped back and escaped a stiff swing from Seiner's left. Erickson then came in with right and left, keeping himself well covered. Seiner backed away, but too late, and the Terrible Swede living up to his name, slipped in a straight right to the jaw and laid the baker flat on his back for the count.

The pink tea stunt was executed by "Slitz" Sollars and his twin "Slitz" Hoffman. The sofa pillow and eider-down duel between these two was the laughter-brewing occasion of the event. Hoffman's scheduled opponent, Boyorpula of Marysville, failed to appear, and so "Cutie" Sollars took him on for three rounds. So close was the contest that it was called a draw.

Another fighting scribe lined up for battle, but was soon put down. In fact, by his own declaration, he knew not what was it after the first punch. This warrior was Willis T. Chapman and his opponent, who got the decision, was W. Ritchie. Chapman went all to pieces in the first round and did not fight his man at all.

Hicks and Satterberg, the heavy-weights went two rounds of fast milling, the former winning in the second round.

An exciting bout, and one that seemed to have created considerable interest, was that between Billy Gore and Hallahan. Gore got the decision in the third round having outpointed Hallahan in the last two rounds.

Cowie (who fights under the name of Wickham) laid Burns of Stockton on the mat in the second with short right jabs to the wind.

Shoemake was given the decision over Weir, the fight being stopped. Weir was knocked down twice and the bout was terminated in order to stop serious damage that might have been done.

C. Luke was given the decision over E. Murray in the bantam-weight class.

The winners of the recently completed whist tournament, the victors in the handball tournament and the long distance runners who led in the race around Capitol Park a week ago last Sunday, were presented with suitable medals.

Announcer Walter Bassett announced that there would be another suprise for the club members February 24th.

S. A. C. TO CONTEST IN MARATHON AT STOCKTON

SAC. UN. 2-2-10

An invitation was received yesterday by Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club from the secretary of the Stockton Athletic club to enter a distance man in the five-mile marathon to be held in that city February 22d, under the auspices of the "Rush of '49" committee.

Several of the club's long-distance men will try-out for the meet, and the local representative will, in all probability, be chosen from one of the following runners: Childs, Erickson, Satterberg, Stewart, and Donald.

HOLD TRYOUT TRACK MEET

SAC. STAR 1-27-10

A good-sized crowd journeyed out to McKinley Park yesterday afternoon to see the track try-out of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Every Sunday afternoon a few of the track and field events will be run in order to get a line on available material. Captain Gannon was well pleased with the showing made yesterday afternoon.

Shoemake, Shaw and Tharp make excellent showings in the events they entered. Following is the list of events, the winners and the time made:

One hundred-yard dash—First heat, Shoemake won, Putnam second, Herr third; time, 10:04. Second heat, Beede won, Sparks second, McLaughlin third; time, 11. Finals, Shoemake won, Hern second, Putnam third; time, 10:04.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash—Sparks won, Shoemake second, Donald third. Time, :56.

Mile novice—Shaw won, Luke second, Payne third.

FAST GAMES WILL END LOCAL LEAGUE

SA

Sacramento Basketball Tourny Will Be Concluded Tonight With Three Contests.

Local athletes look for a furious trio of contests tonight in Pythian castle, when the Sacramento Basketball league will come to an end. Constant wrangling in the organization by certain of the members caused such an unpleasant atmosphere at the meetings and contests that it was decided to rush the league through to a speedy end, and so bring about the conclusion of such uncalled-for disturbances.

In the heavyweight class the Capital City Wheelmen will bank up against the Loyal Sons, and the Loyal Sons are looked upon as victors. The Sacramento Athletic club and the Young Men's Christian association will contest, and as both teams are good players, a hot set-to is predicted. The protested game between the Y. M. C. A. and the high school in the lightweight class will be played off.

If the Sacramento Athletic club loses to the Y. M. C. A. and the Loyal Sons win, there will be three teams tie for first place in the league, but, on the other hand, if the S. A. C. wins, that will give it three games against the Loyal Sons' two and the Y. M. C. A.'s one. To make things come out a three-team tie, the S. A. C. must lose and the Loyal Sons must win. In that event the Y. M. C. A., the S. A. C. and the Loyal Sons will all tie for first place in the league.

S.A.C. TRACK MEET IS BIG SUCCESS

Promising Material Is Discoverd in Four Events Staged at McKinley Park.

SAC. UN. — 1-31-10

The first preliminary track and field meet of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday afternoon on the McKinley Park cinder track was a success in every detail. Despite the fact that the track was a little heavy and the boys not in the best physical condition, the four events produced some interesting contests and exceptionally good time was made, considering the circumstances under which the events were held. Track Captain Gannon did not contest, but kept a close watch on the boys in order to be competent to pick those that will represent the athletic club for the coming season. He is well pleased with yesterday's results and says the S. A. C. will be represented this year by the strongest team it has ever been the fortune of that club to possess. About a hundred spectators were present.

The four events were the 100-yard dash, quarter mile, shot put and novice mile run. Good material was discovered in all these contests and Captain Gannon will in all probability have little trouble to pick his team. Other try-outs will be held in the near future, however, and the men that showed up good yesterday will have an opportunity to strengthen their hold on the positions they happen to be trying for. Shoemake took the 100-yard dash. Shaw took the novice mile run by a good margin. Harry Tharp, the big policeman, easily took the shot put, there being no competition save that by Alfred Putnam. In the quarter mile Sparks took the lead and came home the winner.

100-YARD DASH.

The first even in order of schedule was the 100-yard dash, and twelve promising sprinters lined up in the field. The first heat was won by Shoemake, who beat out Putnam and Hern by a few feet. Beede won the second go, with Sparks and McLaughlin close at his heels. In the finals Shoemake again broke the tape first and Putnam and Hern finished in almost a dead heat, but the judges decided in favor of Hern, so Putnam had to be contented with third place. Beede was looked upon as the winner, but lack of practice prevented him from placing in the finals. The time of the finals was 10:04.

The mile run for novices followed the 100-yard dash and proved the most exciting event of the day. Shaw won by a good margin and will be heard of in the mile later on. He finished with a good sprint and could have cut the time down a good deal had he been pressed. The rest of the runners were bunched and Luke and Payne fought it out neck-and-neck until a few feet from the finish, when Luke managed to nose in a few feet to the good. The smallest member of the squad (Harry Cotter) surprised the crowd by the game race he put up. He came in fourth with a good sprint and beat out many starters who were head and shoulders over him.

THARP WINS.

Tharp won the shot put with ease, there being no weight men to compete though Putnam tried out.

In the quarter mile last season's star quarter miler again showed his ability. Sparks took the lead early and was never headed, although Stewart made a futile attempt to overtake him, and in doing so exhausted himself and was unable to finish. None of the other competitors came within striking distance and he romped home an easy winner.

Shaw, McLaughlin, Luke, Putnam and Hern will be strong candidates for the team and will make the hustle to hold their places.

THE RESULTS.

Following are the results:

One hundred-yard dash—First heat, Shoemake won, Putnam second, Herr third; time, 10:04. Second heat, Beede won, Sparks second, McLaughlin third; time, :11. Finals, Shoemake won, Hern second, Putnam third; time, 10:04.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash—Sparks won, Shoemake second, Donald third. Time, :56.

Mile novice—Shaw won, Luke second, Payne third.

S. A. C. ATHLETES HOLD TRY-OUTS

SAC. BEE. 1-31-10

A bevy of Sacramento Athletic Club athletes participated in try-outs held at McKinley Park yesterday under the directions of Physical Instructor Rittler and Captain Chester Gannon of the S. A. C. The 100-yard dash, quarter-mile, shot-put and mile run for novices were the events held.

Shoemake was the winner of the 100-yard dash. He took first place in the first heat and in the finals, the watches catching him in both heats at 10 4-5 seconds. Putnam and Hern had a close race for second place, Hern winning out by a very close margin.

The mile novice was won by Shaw. Shaw's showing stamped him as one of the coming long-distance men of the S. A. C. The 440 yards was easily won by Sparks, while the shot-put was taken by Policeman Tharp.

The summary of the events follows:

One hundred-yard dash—First heat, Shoemake won, Putnam second, Hern third; time, 10.04. Second heat, Beede won, Sparks second, McLaughlin third; time, :11. Finals, Shoemake won, Hern second, Putnam third; time, 10:04.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash—Sparks won, Shoemake second, Donald third. Time, :56.

Mile novice—Shaw won, Luke second, Payne third.

S. A. C. COLLECTOR VICTIM OF THIEF

CROOK CRAWLS THROUGH TRANSOM AND THEN CRAWLS OUT BY THE SAME ROUTE.

While Fred W. Galleher slept, a burglar crawled through the transom into his room at 1120 Eighth Street last night and stole a gold watch and something over $35 in money.

Galleher is well known as the collector for the Sacramento Athletic Club. He got into bed last night at about midnight after seeing the prize-fight at the Old Pavilion. Some time between then and 6 o'clock this morning, the burglar by mounting the banister at the head of the stairs was able to squeeze himself through the transom and to let himself down to the floor in Galleher's room. The thief made a quiet search through the most accessible of Galleher's belongings and obtained the watch and money, while overlooking many other valuables. He left the room by putting a chair against the door and crawling through the transom again. All this while Galleher slept. The money was Galleher's and not the club's.

S.A.C. MEETS STOCKTON CLUB FEBRUARY 22

SAC. UN. 2-3-10

Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club received another letter yesterday from the Stockton Athletic club relative to the meet February 22, which will be held independent of all parties other than the club. For the 5-mile race the Stockton man proposes to give a club trophy, a gold medal for first place, and two silver medals for second and third places. Sacramento will be looked to for two entries in this race.

A basketball game is asked for and also a handball team, and the former will be taken and possibly the latter. The Stockton club uses the Irish ball, and the locals the soft ball, and unless the Stockton men will consent to use a soft ball it is unlikely a local team will go. Bob Schmidt, the crack distance man of the Stockton club, will not contest, and so this will give Sacramento men a better chance to win and place.

S. A. C. PETITION.

Handball enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athletic club are circulating a petition among the members for subscriptions to erect a second planking in the handball courts so that the wall will be hard enough to permit the use of the Irish hard ball. The present courts are not firm enough to work the hard ball, and as the local boys want to be up to date in the sport they want courts that will permit regulation games. SAC. UN. 2-3-10.

By the close margin of one point the Sacramento Athletic Club heavyweight basketball team last night won the championship of the Sacramento Basketball League in the game with the fast Y. M. C. A. five. Up to the last moment these two teams struggled for the title, the Y. M. C. A. boys putting up a game uphill fight.

The first half of the game ended 4 to 2 for the club team, but the margin was cut down to a fineness when Rodda for the Y. M. C. A. tossed a field goal from the center of the court. The club team had made a goal on a free throw, however, and managed to keep their opponents away from the basket after Rodda's pretty toss.

The game between the Loyal Sons and the Capital City Wheelmen resulted in an easy victory for the former by a score of 23 to 6. The protested game between the High School team and the lightweights of the Y. M. C. A. resulted in a victory for the students by a score of 13 to 11.

The lineups of the teams and the goals made by each player were as follows:

S. A. C.—Forwards, Shaw (1 foul goal), Barnes (1 foul goal); Lovich (1 field goal, 1 foul goal); center, Griffeth; guards, Lobner, Bacon.

S. A. C. WILL HOLD AMATEUR NIGHT ON 24TH

SAC. BEE. 2-1-10

The second monthly "amateur boxing night" to be held by the Sacramento Athletic Club on February 24th and from the plans of Physical Instructor Rittler it is evident that a card that will again draw a crowded club room will be arranged.

The amateur night given at the club last month was a great success and drew out about 400 members of the club. The bouts were of all sorts and four knockouts were produced. There were few shining pugilistic stars developed, the bout between Jockey Mally and Salvator being about as clever as any on the bill.

The principals who are to make up the program for the 24th have not been picked as yet. Joe Erickson, Mally and Barr will probably be seen again. Some of the boxers on last month's card made their appearance in a ring before spectators for the first time and are expected to show up much stronger when they appear again.

Several members of the Capital City Wheelmen may participate in the coming event as a number of clever boxers have been discovered among the Wheelmen.

BASEBALL SQUAD TO APPEAR NEXT SUNDAY

The baseball squad of the Sacramento Athletic Club will appear in practice for the first time next Sunday at McKinley Park. Two teams will be selected, while field and track try-outs are being held and a game played. On the Sunday following four teams will probably enter the field and a league will be formed among the club members.

BASEBALL IS NOW GOSSIP AT S.A.C.

SAC. UN. 12-3-10

First Game of Season Will Be Played Sunday as Preliminary Try-Out.

Handball retired long ago, basketball is well along the downward path, track has just commenced to bloom, and now baseball has doffed its hat to the athletes of the Sacramento Athletic club, selected a soft seat in the club's comfortable quarters, and is at present the most discussed and most popular subject of after-dinner tete-a-tetes among club members. Already the prospective players have begun to talk of what sort of uniforms the teams will wear, whom they will play and when the season will commence and end. Various and minor details, as in the professional sport, are being talked over and plans laid for the coming events.

On Sunday afternoon at McKinley park the ball will be set agoing. Ben Gallup has taken temporary charge of that department and has called a game for Sunday afternoon between two teams to be picked from those wishing to try out for the club team. On the following Sunday, February 13th, four teams will be organized and a league started. After five or six weeks of preliminary play in this league the best players will be banded together as the official S. A. C. team. Then games with other teams both in Sacramento and in the near-by towns will be solicited. Among those who have entered the try-outs are: E. Gallup, catcher; H. Hern, shortstop; H. J. Sprague, outfield; F. Pearl, outfield; H. Holten, first base; V. Marston, third base; F White, outfield; R. Beardslee, outfield; C. Satterberg, outfield; L. H. Godt, catcher; L. M. Scotty, second base; A. Strachen, outfield; H. Tate, shortstop.

In the game Sunday the two hastily picked teams will be known as Gallup's Colts and Hern's Stars. Hern and Gallup will act as captains of the two teams for the day. Gallup's team will line up as follows: B. Gallup, catcher; J. Johnston, pitcher; Carrigan, first base; McNeely, second base; Carpenter, shortstop; Bowden, third base; E. Carrigan, left field; Grohosky, center field; Tucker Johnston, right field.

S. A. C. TRACK TEAM TO CONTEST IN MILE RUN

The track and field squad of the Sacramento Athletic club will not hold so extensive a contest Sunday as was held last Sunday, the mile run being so far the only event on the card. The event will be open to all, and every distance man in the club is supposed to be on hand and show what class he belongs in. Novices will be given handicaps, and in this way everybody will have an equal chance of winning or getting a place. The following are among those who will take part in the event Sunday afternoon on the track at McKinley park: R. W. Wahlander, W. B. Erway, J. F. Foley, C. Shoemake, Charles Stewart, R. H. Payne, R. W. Emes and J. G. Childs.

JOSEPH NILL RESIGNS AS SACRED HEART COACH

S.F. CHRO. 2-4-10

All is not harmony in athletic circles at Sacred Heart College, for it became definitely known yesterday that Joseph Nill, who recently was announced as being in charge of the athletic teams, had resigned. According to Nill, he was not given a free hand in the selection of the basket-ball team which was receiving the benefit of his coaching.

When Nill made known the line-up of the team previous to a scheduled game last week there was a protest from influential students who disagreed with him in his choice. Nill claims that the player in question was better, in his opinion, than the students' favorite, and that it would be impossible to have a successful team unless the best players represented the college. The deposed coach has been connected with local athletics for about a year and a half, having instructed the St. Mary's College athletes upon his arrival from the East. Later he took up similar work at the Sacramento Athletic Club, but returned to this city at the first of the year to assist the athletic teams at Sacred Heart College.

S. A. C. FISTIC FEST WILL BE SURPRISE

Erickson and Barr Again to Furnish Main Events for Evening of Feb. 24.

SAC. UN. — 2-4-10

The Sacramento Athletic club's next amateur boxing card for February 24th will contain eleven bouts, providing Director Otto Rittler can complete arrangements by that time. Instead of matching club members against one another, as has been the practice, boxers from out-of-town clubs and other local organizations will meet the S. A. C. boys. Medals and trophies will be awarded the winner of each event. The club members will be given gold or silver bars and the outsiders will be given regulation club medals.

Everett A. Barr, the fighting scribe, who proved the Waterloo of Kid Shroeder of Stockton at the last fistic fest, will again be seen in the ring. No opponent has been secured to face him as yet, but as there is plenty of time there will probably be little difficulty in that line. Willis Chapman, the other fighting scribe, who was defeated last month, will in all probability make his second appearance on the 24th. In the last fight Chapman lost himself completely in the first round, and could not point his man. Since that time he has been given some valuable pointers, and will undoubtedly be in a better position to face his opponent. The pride of the club, Joe Erickson, who laid Kid Seiner low in the second round last month, will again be on hand with some new fistic maneuvers. Joe is still training, and says he is in better condition than ever before in his life. A furious set-to is looked for when he mixes with the opponent in the 135-pound class.

There will probably be some changes in the card before the date set, and some of the men may be shifted from one class to another, some omitted and others added, but so far only eleven events are down. The following members of the club will be matched as soon as is possible, and will contest at the weight appearing immediately after their names:

E. Murry, 110 pounds; Young Salvador, 115 pounds; D. Wickham, 125 pounds; Hoffman, 135; E. Ritchie, 150; W. E. Satterberg, 160; R. Shoemake, 145; Childs, 125; Joe Erickson, 135; E. A. Barr, 133; E. M. Hicks, 160.

PROBABLE P. A. A. TEAMS ARE SELECTED

SAC. UN. — 2-4-10

Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club has announced the following athletes as probable members of the three basketball teams that will contest in the Pacific Athletic association championship play which begins in March:

One hundred and twenty-pound class—Brandon, center; Luke and Lovich, forwards; McNeeley and Gruhler, guards.

The try-outs for these teams will be held soon and unless something unforeseen happens the above will compose the representative aggregations from this city. The second team in the list will probably go to Stockton on February 22d to meet the heavyweight team of Stockton Athletic club in exhibition play.

BALL TEAMS AT THE S. A. C.

SAC. STAR 2-3-10

In addition to the regular Sunday afternoon track meets being held at McKinley Park, baseball will be added to the list of Sunday events conducted by the Sacramento Athletic Club. Many players are members of the club and baseball is now the chief topic of conversation. Next Sunday afternoon a match game will be played in order that a line on the material may be obtained. Nearly 30 have already signified their intentions of trying for the club team. Ben Gallup and H. Hern have hastily gathered together players and will oppose each other Sunday afternoon.

GETTING TEAMS IN SHAPE FOR P. A. A.

SAC BEE. 2-4-10

The lists out of which the teams to represent the S. A. C. in the P. A. A. basketball tournament in March will be selected have been prepared by Physical Instructor Rittler. They are divided according to weight and are as follows:

One hundred and twenty-pound class—Brandon, center; Luke and Lovich, forwards; McNeeley and Gruhler, guards.

The teams will hold try-outs shortly.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR S. A. C. TEAMS

STAR 2-5-10

The opening of the Sacramento Athletic Club baseball activities for the coming season will occur tomorrow afternoon at McKinley Park. Over forty have signified their intention of trying for the team. A league will be formed, and from the winning teams of the league, the club team will be picked. Two teams of club members will play at the park tomorrow afternoon. While the games are being played the customary track events will be trun. Some interesting contents in this line are promised.

TO ENTER TOURNAMENT.

SAC. STAR 2-6-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club teams won the championship in both the heavyweight and lightweight classes and have developed such an admirable class of play that Prof. Rettler has decided to enter teams in the tournament to be given under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Amateur Association in both classes. This tournament begins February 24th. In the meantime a challenge has been received from Stockton which will be accepted and a team will go to that city to play the representatives of that place on Washington's Birthday. It is probable that the teams from the inland cities will compete against each other before going to the Bay for the final games.

LADIES' BOXING NIGHT.

On the 17th inst. it is proposed to give a ladies' night with a program of boxing, wrestling, dumbbell drill and other athletic work so that the wives and sweethearts of members may see just what they have to go through after they fall into the clutches of Professor Rittler. The card under preparation for this event will be an excellent one and will prove very interesting to the guests present.

A. C. BASEBALL.

STAR 2-6-10

So numerous have become the applications to obtain place on the baseball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club that Prof. Rittler has decided to form six clubs and play a regular league series of games to determine who will be the lucky applicants. The cream of the players will be the first team to represent the club and it is more than probable that there will be a second team for emergency purposes. This means that the club in the amateur ranks that beats the Athletic Club team this year will have to go some. The opening tryout between teams coptained by J. C. Hern and B. C. Gallup will take place this morning at McKinley Park.

SAC. STAR 2-6-10

NEW HANDBALL COURT.

The handball players of the Sacramento Athletic Club have decided that they require a court in which they can play with a hard ball and in consequence they have started a subscription list to acquire the necessary funds to build the required court. Subscriptions are coming in fast and the outlook is that the court will be constructed shortly.

AT M'KINLEY PARK TODAY.

SAC. STAR 2-6-10

Aspirants for the mile run from the membership of the Sacramento Athletic Club will gather at McKinley Park this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a try-out in the handicap event. The sprinting department of the club is advancing rapidly and it is proposed to enter several aspirants at the races in Stockton. In the five-mile race to be run there it is probable that the local club will be represented by C. Stewart, J. Erickson, C. Sidleberg, E. Donnell and F. Childs.

SHORTSTOP WHO BACKS 'EM UP PLAYS FOR SUCCESS OF TEAM

He can do it by covering ground—a lot of ground—between second and third.

In addition to playing his own territory for batted balls, he can, by fast work, get behind the third baseman and grab a hard-hit ball that gets away from the guardian of the off corner, in time to throw out a runner at first.

He can sprint around back of the second baseman when the infielder covers the bag, and while his services may not be needed very often, if he is a live wire he will be Johnny-on-the-spot to get the ball thrown or hit, that does get away.

The short fielder who backs up every play at second or third is far more valuable than the man who is content to play safe and get only what comes to him. One is team playing, the other isn't.

BIG PROGRESS IN AQUATICS ON COAST

S.F. EX. — 2-6-10

Local Swimmers Have Held Their Own in All Championship Tourneys.

LEARY FIRST CHAMPION

Writer Predicts Great Future for W. C. Wood, Who Won Recent Olympic Contests.

By Oscar St. Cyr

Swimming is one of the oldest and one of the most beneficial sports and exercises known to man. Notwithstanding this fact, until the last few years it has been the most neglected of all branches of athletics. The deplorable slump in attention given to this art is at an end, however, as all the Y. M. C. A.s, gymnasiums, schools and colleges in the country are fast following in the footsteps of the athletic clubs—installing swimming pools and developing acquatic stars of more than ordinary merit.

Its progress has been universal and the position it holds in the field of sports to-day is recognized as permanent. Within the last two years complete acquatic teams have been organized in Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles, while the Olympic Club of San Francisco has been a household word all the way East to New York. We are indebted to the Olympic Club for our first champion, J. Scott Leary, who is one of the most consistent performers in acquatic sports to-day. His swimming career extends over a period of more than ten years and his performances earned him the American record for the 100-yard championship, which he held, defeating all competitors until February, 1906, when he lost to C. M. Daniels, N. Y. A. C., in the New York Athletic Club tank.

Leary Really Won.

Leary lost both the 50-yard championship and the hundred-yard championship by a small margin to Daniels, whose phenomenal work has since won most of the world's records to-day, he having defeated all of the stars of the old world in actual competition in their own waters.

The writer had the pleasure of witnessing the final heat of the 50-yard world's championship at the Olympian games at St. Louis in 1904, won by J. Scott Leary. The heat was decided a tie by the judges, who ordered the swimmers out for another race, which was lost to Holimay by Leary, due entirely to a poor start. No plausible explanation can be offered for the decision and Leary deserves the credit of winning the race.

A photographer who caught the finish of the first final heat won by Leary was asked to produce a picture of it, and next day he reported that the plate was broken in developing. Figure it out.

Leary still holds the Pacific Coast titles for the 100-yard championship and the half-mile. He covers the century mark in the remarkable time of 59 seconds and negotiates the half mile in the fast time of twelve minutes forty-five seconds (12:45). Next to Daniels he is the best known swimmer in America.

The Olympic Club has another champion in the person of W. R. McWood, a strong young swimmer covering all distances from twenty yards to the half mile in close to record time. We are indebted to Leary for this new aspirant for championship honors, whose time for the different distances makes him a scratch man in all races on the Pacific Coast, and he would fare no better in Eastern competition as his past performances put him in the foremost rank of speed swimmers. Below are given some of his best performances, all in competition:

33 yards—17 seconds flat.
50 yards—27 seconds flat.
100 yards—1 minute 2 seconds (1:02).
220 yards—2 minutes 44 seconds (2:44).
440 yards—6 minutes 19 seconds (6:19).
880 yards—13 minutes 41 seconds (13:41).

McWood has the build of the adept swimmer, the same height and weight of the world's champion, and we do not hesitate to predict a brilliant future for him in the swimming world if he applies himself.

The attitude of Californians towards acquatic sports is the most favorable west of Chicago, due perhaps to the fact that the former American champion represents the foremost club in the West. A champion in the home club educates the enthusiasts and fans right up to the mark. The New York Athletic Club, the Chicago Athletic Club and the Olympic Club are easily in the front rank of all American athletic clubs and stand for a great deal in the territory they represent, and the organization of acquatic teams in Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and even Victoria, B. C., will be the means of developing a keener interest and some lively competition in this section of the country in the very near future. Evidence of this has already been substantially shown by the visit of the Portland and Los Angeles swimming experts Portola week, when a most successful set of races was given.

The Crawl Stroke.

The completion of the Olympic Club's new home, work on which is in progress and will be pushed rapidly forward, means a world of good to all branches of athletics. Special attention will be given to the development of swimming, which already has a good hold, due to the performances of Leary, McWood and other members of the team, past and present.

The new style of swimming, known as the crawl stroke, which has revolutionized swimming in the past few years and which has been adopted throughout America, was first used in competition, according to our late history of swimming, in Australia. The Australians copied the stroke from the natives of the South Sea islands, who are as much at home in the water as on land, and who are a speedy lot of swimmers.

This style of swimming has been the means of lowering every swimming record since its introduction a few years ago is a combination of the overhand stroke and a peculiar leg propulsion. The overhand stroke is so common a description of it is not necessary, but for the novice an explanation of the leg drive and the position of the body when swimming the crawl will be interesting.

Practice Makes Perfect.

First the position of the body in the water is most important; it must be held absolutely straight. The swimmer must ride the water squarely on his chest and stomach, being careful not to roll from side to side with each stroke. The breath is taken quickly through the mouth every few strokes by throwing the head a little to either side, and exhaled through the nose at the swimmer's will.

The leg propulsion is derived from a perpendicular kick of the legs; a continuous up and down thresh of the legs from the knee down, both feet operating in a space of from twelve to sixteen inches. Combine the overhand stroke with this kick and you will be using the fastest swimming stroke known to man. Practice makes perfect.

S. A. C. STARTS OFF BASEBALL SEASON

S. STAR 2-7-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball tryout at McKinley Park yesterday afternoon was a successful one. About 30 players showed up and two sides were chosen. Hern's Stars defeated Gallup's Colts by a score of 20 to 12. That there is a quantity of good ball material among the club's membership was demonstrated. During the week an athletic club baseball league of four teams will be formed, and a league schedule of games commenced next Sunday. Some interesting games of baseball will probably result.

BONHAG CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST

Attributes Success to Faith and Vegetable Diet

But few spectators that saw George Bonhag, the Irish-American crack, who brought thousands to their feet by his lightning sprint at the finish of the five-mile invitation Saturday night, were aware that the great runner was an enthusiastic Christian Scientist and a believer in the vegetarian diet.

Bonhag remained over Sunday in Boston after his great race and was very much pleased by the reception he received from the Boston fans.

"I want to thank the Boston public," said Bonhag last night, "for the great reception I received after my contest. I expected to win before the race, as I have been running in fine form in training and I knew what my field was capable of doing."

About training for such a distance race the champion said: "Yes, it is true that I am a believer in the Christian Science faith. I believe it is the greatest thing in the world for an athlete. Last year I was distinctly off form. To save my life I could not get back into my old form. But I just made up my mind to get back and I believe faith was responsible for my so doing."

Vegetarian Also

Bonhag also gave out some interesting facts about training for a distance contest. The crack runner claimed that the vegetarian diet was extremely helpful to distance men. Bonhag said:

"I don't believe that an athlete should distinctly eliminate flesh food from his diet, but I do believe that many an American athlete eats too much meat. They would be better off if they would cut it about half and resort to the vegetable diet in the interim. For instance, in my race Saturday night, I refused to eat a thing coming over on the Pullman from New York, but before the race I satisfied my appetite by eating just a little figs, raisins and almonds. I started in the race with very little in my stomach."

When it is considered that many other American athletes have been or are believers in the vegetarian diet, this adjunct in training looks to play an important part in athletics to come.

Harry Porter, the Olympic high jumper, also claims the Christian Science faith, and believes in the vegetarian diet. Stevens, the old intercollegiate sprinter, is another of the non-flesh eaters and so are many others who could be mentioned.

S. A. C. BASEBALL TEAMS PLAY GAME

SAC. BEE. 2-7-10

The first try-outs for the Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team was held yesterday at McKinley Park when some thirty candidates for the team appeared. The game between Hern's Stars and Gallup's Colts resulted in a victory for the Stars by the score of 20 to 12.

J. N. Inman acted in the capacity of umpire and Amick as scorer.

Before the showers arrived at McKinley Park yesterday seven long distance runners of the S. A. C. had time to start on the free-for-all mile run. But three of the seven finished. Donald breasting the tape ahead of the rest Donald ran the mile in 5 minutes and 10 seconds.

A four-team league will be started by the baseball men of the Sacramento Athletic Club next Sunday and all the candidates will be lined up.

SEVEN TRY OUT IN LONG RUN

SAC. BEE. 2-7-10

At the tryout for long distance runners from the Sacramento Athletic Club several good performances were made at McKinley Park yesterday afternoon. Out of the 13 entries seven showed up. Earl Donald won a fast mile race in good form in 5:10 on a sloppy track. Childs and Payne made a close second and third. Payne has the making of a good runner and although completely exhausted, gamely finished third. Stewart, the club's crack long distance man, did not run yesterday. Next Sunday a tryout for the five-mile relay team, which will compete with a team from Stockton on the 22nd, will be held.

HERN'S STARS WIN FIRST S.A.C. GAME

By Score of 20 to 12 Gallup's Colts Are Defeated at McKinley Park.

SAC. UN. —— 2-7-10

By a score of 20 to 12 Hern's Stars defeated Gallup's Colts yesterday afternoon at McKinley park in the first Sacramento Athletic club try-out game of the 1910 season. The game was called in the seventh inning on account of the cold and rain, but the victory was safe in Hern's hands, as Gallup's Colts were too colty and could not shuffle their pins sufficiently to keep up with the fast ball put up by the Stars. At bat the Gallupins were weak and in the outfield they were weaker, and so it was not a very hard bit of work for the stellar representatives to carry off the game. However, the boys had a good time and got some valuable practice, and will undoubtedly produce a good nine when the season proper rolls around.

The best of the whole affair was the showing the club members made on the field. There are about fifty contestants signed up for the team, and out of that number about thirty were present on the field. Manager Gallup says that he will have little difficulty in organizing a fast team from the great variety of material at his disposal. Roher of Dixon, who held the supreme position on the mound for the Stars, shows promise of developing into a crack twirler. He has a speedy curve ball, and with proper instruction and plenty of practice will be able to wrap the sphere around the end of the bat. Lidion, who pitched for Gallup's Colts, has a straight swift ball that is hard to find, but travels fast enough when met.

LEAGUE NEXT SUNDAY.

Next Sunday a four-team league will be commenced, and a series of inter-club games will be held up to the opening of the present season, at which time the best players will be awarded positions on the regular club team. Manager Gallup has made no selections as yet, and held the game yesterday merely as a means of getting a line on the prospective material, so that the players can be allotted to certain classes and tried out in positions suited to their ability.

Aside from the great quantity and variety of material on hand for a ball team, the baseball enthusiasts are overjoyed at a discovery that pleases them almost as much as the finding of a diamond mine undoubtedly would. This new discovery is of an umpire, and Jack Inman, better known as "Iney," is the pearl that by chance was unearthed yesterday. Every decision was rendered with a precision and intelligence not often common in an amateur, and immediately after the game a delegation of spectators waited upon Inman and tried to persuade him to embark in the profession, but he only shook his head and refused their earnest appeals, saying that he wanted to be a judge, and until he annexed that title to his name he would think of nothing else.

THE INNINGS.

In the first inning the Colts came to bat, and Wright singled to left and managed to reach the home rubber. The Stars proved more heavy at bat, and slipped three men through. In the second the Colts failed entirely, and the Stars added five to their three. The third went to the Colts, who ran up a string of six as against the Stars' one. The other four innings were well divided, but the Stars managed to slip several extras over on the Colts, and took the game by an almost double score. The line-ups:

Hern's Stars.	Pos.	Gallup's Colts.
Folke	C	Gallup
Williams	1 B	Wright
Felix	2 B	McNeeley
Hern	S S	Bowden
Donald	3 B	Erway
Roher	P	Lidion
Silva	L F	Godt
Sprague	C F	Grohosky
Hugh	R F	Payne

DONALD FINISHES MILE RUN FIRST

Is Closely Followed by Childs and Payne in S. A. C. Event at McKinley Park.

SAC. UN. —— 2-7-10

Three of the seven distance runners entered in the Sacramento Athletic club free-for-all mile run yesterday at McKinley park crossed the tape, the other four dropping out before the four and one-half laps has been covered. Donald covered the distance in 5 minutes and 10 seconds, leading the field, and was followed five yards in the rear by Childs. Payne is a new man on the track, and was the third man to finish. The run was merely a try-out, and while sixteen men were entered only seven showed up. The track was weedy and heavy, and the time, though not remarkable, was nevertheless good considering the conditions under which the event was held. Track Captain Gannon was in charge, but did not run.

RUNNERS ANXIOUS.

The seven men breasted the lines tense for the shot that was to set them free, and with the short snap of the gun they bounded away and set a pace much greater than the usual mile is generally run under, but as the first lap was covered the pace was slackened, and aside from three or four of the runners, the decline was marked at the turn in the second lap.

Donald, who took first place running from scratch, ran a good race, and kept his wind and form throughout. Childs, also from scratch, crept steadily from the rear to the lead, and showed himself to be good material for a distance runner. Payne, the third man, is younger than the other two, and was given 100 yards handicap. With the proper training and care for his physical condition, he will undoubtedly make a great runner. His running yesterday showed the lack of proper physical training, but he did remarkably well to stay with the race until the finish. Twice he fell to his knees in the last lap, but pluck revived him, and he braced up and kept on to the end.

HOW THEY RAN.

Donald finished in pretty style and sprinted from the half-lap post. Emes, who ran in unusually good form, dropped out in the early part of the fourth lap. Stewart, the crack distance man, McNeeley, Luke and Wahlander did not run. Shoemake ran three and a half laps, but did not finish Cotter and Woods also failed to finish.

Next Sunday a five-mile try-out for the competition with Stockton on the 22d will be held. So far the only entries are Joe Erickson, Childs, Donald and Stewart.

C. LUCEY CHOSEN CAPTAIN FOR S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 2-9-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club was last night placed in the hands of a new captain, C. Lucey. The Directors of the club last night named Lucey from a list of eligibles to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of Captain George Curtiss to Oakland. Lucey is a conductor on the Southern Pacific Company and is well posted in athletics.

The proposition of having a club paper was taken up and discussed, but no definite decision was reached. A proposition to make one of the local weeklies the official organ of the club has been considered.

The S. A. C. has two big nights listed for this month. The first is February 17th, when a "ladies' night" will be held. Athletic bouts, trapeze and bar work will be given on that evening. An orchestra will be in attendance and refreshments will be served.

Another amateur boxing card will be produced by the club on February 24th. Eleven bouts will be furnished on that night, and Physical Instructor Rittler has some good fights to offer.

Henry Maginn has been chosen collector for the club, to take the place vacated by present Superintendent Galleher.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO GIVE BENEFIT

Proceeds of Second Show at Grand on February 25th Will Go to Injured Athlete.

SAC. UN. —— 2-11-10

The Sacramento Athletic club decided yesterday to give a benefit at the Grand theater on the evening of February 25th for Jack Hallanan, who was injured three weeks ago while engaged in club activities. The club in a body will attend the second performance, and Manager Godard has agreed to turn over 50 per cent of the proceeds, which will be presented to Hallanan.

Hallanan is a popular member of the club, and has always taken an active part in athletics. He fell and was injured in his left arm three weeks ago, and after two or three days the pain was so intense he went to a doctor and it was found that his left hand was broken. As the boy suffered while participating in a club event, it was thought nothing but justice to come to his aid, and as the entire membership desired to help, a benefit was decided upon. Hallanan is employed in the Southern Pacific shops, and because of the injury he has not been able to work. He will be idle for over a month as a result of the injury received while participating for the club. The directors have sanctioned the plan, and every member of the club is asked to attend the show on the 25th and help swell the fund that will be expended in nothing but a just cause.

ONE MAN WOULD RACE AGAINST 5

SAC. STAR. 2-8-10

STEWART OF S. A. C. CHALLENGES ANY QUINTET OF HIGH SCHOOL RUNNERS — MANY ATHLETIC EVENTS FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington's Birthday has the promise of being a busy day in athletic circles for nearly every athletic organization is planning an event of some kind for then. The high school will contribute largely towards the day's activities. Its athletes have a relay race, a football and a basketball game scheduled for the 22d.

They will start the day with the relay race. Stewart, the Sacramento Athletic Club long distance runner, has challenged the high school to a race of five miles, he to run the five miles alone and the school to be represented by a team of five men. Stewart has run the five miles in 29 minutes. As few of the high school students can run a mile under six minutes, they will have to be at their best to defeat this one man. A try-out has been called by Track Captain Zimmerman and a team to run against Stewart will soon be picked. This race will probably be run around Capital Park at 10 o'clock in the morning.

In the afternoon the local high school will play a game of intercollegiate football with a team from Stockton. As the American game was discontinued at a recent meeting of the high school athletic body, this will probably be the last game of American football played by a high school team. The Stockton team has a victory over the Sacramento team for the season and the local boys are desirous of winning back their lost ground.

In the evening the Stockton and Sacramento high school basketball teams will try conclusions. Stockton has a very fast team and last year won the State championship. This team has a victory over the home team. As the team is in good condition and has been practicing a great deal of late, it is expected that they will make a much better showing on the 22d.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has several events planned for the 22d. A track meet and a relay race with a team from Stockton, several baseball games and other events are on their program for the day.

The Y. M. C. A. and other organations have several things planned.

The selection of athletic teams will be under the direct supervision of Physical Instructor Rittler. The various teams, however, will select their own captains.

Two more handball tournaments will be started about the 20th of the month by Captain C. Lucey of the club, one for the club members and the other an open tourney. A new rule has gone into effect at the club in relation to handball playing. In the future each team or teams will be allowed the use of the court for forty-five minutes when others are waiting. The same time limit will be put on tournament games. The days will be divided into three periods and in order to play on those days teams will have to sign up a day or so in advance.

Cigarets Worse than Whisky Declares Athletic Coach

SAC. STAR. 2-9-10.

JOE THOMPSON.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9.—There isn't room for cigarets on the campus at the University of Pittsburg, and Jos. H. Thompson, track and football coach, is leading the fight for the extermination of the deadly "pills" among the students.

"Cigarets will do a young man more harm than whisky," declares Thompson emphatically when warning an undergraduate. "I don't care whether a man is an athlete or not, cigarets will injure him."

Thompson will not permit a cigaret smoker on any of the athletic teams, and has asked all the students to cease smoking the nails. He puts his request on the broad grounds that the sight of others smoking is a temptation to the athletes.

Chancellor S. B. McCormick and other university officials are supporting Thompson enthusiastically in his crusade.

"If cigarets will stain a smoker's fingers a dark yellow, what do they do to the stomach?" Thompson demands, when arguing. "The skin of the hands and fingers is tougher than on any other part of the body, yet you can pick the inveterate smoker almost at a glance by his stained fingers. Imagine then, the appearance of the sensitive internal organs.

"Cigaret smoking is one of the most dangerous habits our youth contract. Maybe three or four cigarets a day won't do much harm—I'm not a crank on this—but how many stop at three or four? Some smoke as many as 40 a day. I haven't much to say against cigars, for they are not so harmful, but tobacco in any form is bad for an athlete."

Thompson says he never drank intoxicants or smoked. He played football for eight years and was never injured in a game, although he was a star halfback for five years.

BALL TEAMS FOR S. A. C. SELECTED

Manager Gallup and Assistants Name Members of Four Try-Out League Teams.

SAC. UN. —— 2-10-10

At a conference of the baseball enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athletic club last night, Manager Ben Gallup and his assistants, Captains Bacon, Marston, Hern and Gallup, selected the members of the four teams that are to commence a six-weeks' try-out league play next Sunday at McKinley park. The first game in the morning at 10:30 will be between the Giants and the Alerts. In the afternoon the Shamrocks and the Corkers will contest. Bill Johnson and Jack Inman will umpire in the afternoon and Johnson in the morning. Two club teams will be formed from the best players in the try-out.

Partly for their attentiveness to the sport and partly because of the great drawing card their names will be to the contests, the following were chosen mascots of the teams: Fred Galleher, Giants; Traxler, Corkers; Jim Gray, Alerts; Ralph Sollars, Shamrocks.

The four teams will line up as follows:

Alerts—Hern, s s; Folk, c; Grady, p; Carrigan, i f; Donald, i f; Foy, i f; McNeeley, i f; Starling, i f; Harris, o f; Silvey, o f; Houghson, o f; Severance, o f; Burns, o f; Wickum, o f; Clonough, o f.

TO GIVE AMATEUR BOXERS A CHANCE

Matchmaker Hoffman of S. A C. Offers Excellent Opportunities to Ambitious Boxers.

SAC. UN. —— 2-11-10

Matchmaker A. Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic club wants to give every amateur in Northern California an opportunity to develop himself, and announces that any boxer with an amateur standing will be given a try-out Friday nights at the club. Providing those trying out are found at all familiar with the game, matches will be arranged for them for appearances in the club's fistic fests, which are held monthly.

"There are a lot of clever amateurs in this county and other sections of Northern California," said Hoffman, "and we want them to come forward and accept matches in the club's monthly cards. We have now ten boys waiting for matches for the 24th of this month, and if possible we want to match them with outsiders. No money is given for these bouts, but the winner of each event is awarded a club medal.

"What we want to do is to get the best there is, and develop some clever amateurs to send to the annual national boxing competition in Seattle. Every other big city in the state sends entries, and the trophies are always elaborate affairs. I understand there are a lot of boys in Oak Park who are handy with the mitts, and I wish they would come and see me and sign up for the three-round bouts at the club. Boxers in the out-of-town clubs will also be acceptable, and we will be willing to pay the expenses of bringing them to this city. Any man weighing 110 pounds to 160 pounds is eligible.

Any boxer wishing to accept Hoffman's offer may do so by either calling for him at the club or leaving his name with Physical Director Otto Rittler. Athletes with fistic ambitions could hardly get a better opportunity of developing themselves than is offered by the Sacramento Athletic club.

LADIES' NIGHT TO BE GREAT AFFAIR

SAC. UN. —— 2-12-10

S. A. C. Entertainment Committee Announces Program for Evening of Feb. 17.

Arrangements for the Sacramento Athletic club's first ladies' night, to be held next Thursday evening, have been nearly completed, and undoubtedly the event will prove epoch-making in the history of the organization. For the last month the entertainment committee has been busy with the program, and at the present time has reached that stage when the most important details are all but complete. Professor Otto Rittler has had charge of the arrangements of the athletic numbers and has succeeded in working up some interesting features. Among the most noticeable is that by C. Lucey and P. J. Gimberling, who will offer an acrobatic stunt, for which they have been preparing for several weeks. The other numbers on the program are as follows: Overture, Christian Brothers' college orchestra; opening remarks, W. A. Newcum; pyramids, S. A. C. gymnasium class under direction of Professor Otto Rittler; baritone solo, C. Morris; flying trapeze, J. S. Gimberling; wrestling, C. Combs vs. J. Phillips, R. W. Eames vs. Professor W. Dyeberg; contralto solo, Miss Willamette Lobner; barbell bars, S. A. C. gymnasium closs under direction of the class leader, D. McColloch; acrobatic act, C. Lucey and P. J. Gimberling; cornet solo, Leo Demers; statuary poses, Otto Rittler, C. Combs, F. Bacon and C. Wickham; boxing, A. Hoffman vs. R. Sollars, Joe Erickson vs. C. Schawleberg; exhibition handball and basketball games in handball courts. Dancing will conclude the evening of entertainment.

S. A. C. BASEBALL LEAGUE TO OPEN

SAC. UN. —— 2-12-10

The start of the baseball league of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held at McKinley Park to-morrow when the four teams in the club baseball squad will play. Some of the best amateurs in the city are included in the line-ups of these teams.

J. M. Inman will be one of the umpires. Since his debut as an umpire last Sunday he has received a flattering offer from the Roseville Club to officiate during the coming season.

START BASEBALL TRY-OUTS TODAY

S. A. C. Four-Team League to Commence Play at McKinley Park.

SAC. UN. —— 2-13-10

The first game in the four-team try-out baseball league of the Sacramento Athletic club will be played this morning and afternoon at McKinley park, providing rain does not interfere. The morning game will be between the Giants and the Alerts and the first-up will be called promptly at 10:30 a. m. The Shamrocks and the Corkers will hold forth in the afternoon, and will commence play at 2:15. The league will continue for six weeks with two games each Sunday, and at the conclusion the players having the highest averages in their respective positions will be made members of the first and second regular club teams.

Umpires Inman and Johnson will have full control and every point will be scored carefully and the contests run upon the most official basis. Johnson will umpire in the morning and Inman will reign in the afternoon. The mascots are required to be present at both games to root for their respective teams.

The track squad will also hold a try-out for a distance team to represent the club in the meet with Stockton on February 22. A three-mile run will be held this afternoon under the direction of Professor Otto Rittler. Childs, Payne, Wickham, Gore and Willingham signed up for the race, but it is not known whether they will try-out or not.

Handball enthusiasts and the remnants of several teams that contested in the tournament recently completed will this morning commence the revising of the sport in a series of matches. Under the new rules as instituted by Captain Lucey no team can hold the courts longer than forty-five minutes, providing others are waiting to use them. The entire day is divided up into periods of forty-five minutes and each team or sets of teams have the right to use the courts only one period a Sunday. This arrangement gives everyone a chance to use the courts and makes it impossible for any team or set of players to monopolize them.

Two more handball tournaments will be started about the 20th of the month by Captain C. Lucey of the club, one for the club members and the other an open tourney. A new rule has gone into effect at the club in relation to handball playing. In the future each team or teams will be allowed the use of the court for forty-five minutes when others are waiting. The same time limit will be put on tournament games. The days will be divided into three periods and in order to play on those days teams will have to sign up a day or so in advance.

SHAMROCKS AND ALERTS WIN GAMES

SAC. UN. — 2-12-10

Four Teams in S. A. C. Try-Out

League Play at McKinley Park.

McKinley Park was the scene yesterday morning and afternoon of two exciting games of baseball. The four try-out teams from the Sacramento Athletic club furnished the amusement of the day to a crowd of several hundred people. The morning game was won by the Alerts from the Giants by a score of 9 to 4. The afternoon game went to the Shamrocks, who defeated the Corkers by a score of 13 to 8.

Next Sunday these four teams will again contest at McKinley Park, but with the opposite teams, and after a series of six weeks of play the best players will be awarded positions on the two regular club teams.

SHAMROCKS SCORE EARLY.

The Shamrocks came to bat and succeeded in placing three men over the rubber. The Corkers failed to score and were not successful until in the fourth inning, when they scored one. The Shamrocks ran along until the sixth without scoring, and in the seventh annexed two. The Corkers here took a spurt, due to the rooting of the team's faithful mascot, E. H. Traxler, and ran up a string of five. The Shamrocks went up in the air and let the ball pass through them time after time. The score now stood 6 to 5 in favor of the Corkers, and Mascot Traxler fairly hooted his head off, much to the chagrin of the Shamrock's mascot, Sollars, who retired behind the spectators. But the triumph was short-lived, for the eighth gave the Shamrock's five runs and the Corkers but one. Mascot Sollars dashed into the diamond and flung taunt after taunt at his rival, Mascot Traxler, and from this on the Corkers were far behind in the race. The losing team used three pitchers—Marsten, Williams and Scotty, but could not regain lost ground and played two dragging innings to the end. Gallup showed himself to be a good slammer, making three hits out of five times up. Carrigan, Felix, Wheat and Rohrer each made two hits. Rohrer, who held the box position for the Shamrocks, proved to be a demon with the pills and was far too swift for many of the batters. Williams, first bagger for the Corkers, slammed out three hits out of five chances. Burr succeeded in getting two out of five times up.

MORNING GAME FAST.

The morning game was the most sensational of the day. Folk, the Alerts' catcher, made the remarkable record of five hits out of five times at bat. Silvey of the same team made two.

Delano and Bacon of the Giants each made two hits out of four and three times at bat, respectively. Pitcher Grady of the Alerts put up a good game and Johnston Jr. of the Giants also showed up in good shape. The club seems to be strong in the infield and weak in the outfield. Pitchers and catchers are plentiful, but a great deal of practice is necessary to perfect the outfield. Results:

TATE AND WENZEL WIN TWO HANDBALL GAMES

The tournament champion handball players of the Sacramento Athletic club, Tate and Wenzel, yesterday beat Yoerk and Marston two out of three series of three games. The scores were 21 to 4, 20 to 21 and 21 to 9. Last week Yoerk and Marston defeated Tate and Wenzel, and by the victory yesterday the two teams become a tie. A third game will be played and the winning team will be recognized as champion of the athletic club.

A match between McCulloch and Lobner vs. Strachan and Thayer resulted in two straight victories for McCulloch and Lobner out of a series of three games.

FIVE DISTANCE MEN RUN THREE MILES

Five long distance men of the Sacramento Athletic club track squad showed up at the McKinley park track yesterday afternoon and ran three miles in good time. The crack runner, Stewart, coached Childs and Payne and brought the boys in first and second, respectively. Gore and Woods also finished in good time. The best of these runners will contest in Stockton, February 22d.

Sparks is looked upon as a probable representative of the club in the Olympic club indoor meet February 22d. He will undoubtedly be entered in the quarter-mile.

S. A. C. NOTES

The basketball teams which are to represent the Sacramento Athletic Club in the State championship games to be played in San Francisco have been selected by Physical Instructor Rittler, of the S. A. C., and are as follows:

LADIES' NIGHT AT S.A.C. IS A BIG SUCCESS

SAC. UN. — 2-18-10

Excellent Program Entertains Hundreds of Friends of Athletic Club.

NEWCUM WELCOMES GUEST

Statuary Poses Hit of Evening While the "Schlitz Twins" Provoke Laughter.

The grandest success in the history of the Sacramento Athletic club was the unanimous verdict of all that attended the club's first "ladies' night," yesterday evening. For the first time since the formal opening of the club, women were admitted, and the great crowd that jammed the spacious quarters spoke plainer than words of the keen appreciation and deep interest local people have in the organization.

NEWCUM WELCOMES.

Commencing with a few straight from the shoulder remarks by W. A. Newcum, secretary, who welcomed the guests, the program was carried through without a hitch, and, be it said in all sincerity, every performer did credit to himself and to the club. But one man deserves more credit than will perhaps be given him. For the success of the affair rested upon his shoulders, and the tale of his worry and hard work, in order to perfect a program that would be acceptable to all, will undoubtedly never be told. Results showed, however, and Physical Director Rittler has risen many notches in the estimation of both his employers and fellow-associates. He was ably assisted by Captain Lucey, Frank Bacon, Fred Galleher, and a host of others, who deserve credit for the great success of the entertainment. Through the courtesy of the Christian Brothers' college, orchestra music was furnished throughout the evening, and at the conclusion of the program dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

STATUARY POSES.

Of the many athletic exhibitions perhaps none deserve more mention than another for all in all every number was good and high above the average of the usual vaudeville attraction. Statuary poses by Professor Rittler and Frank Bacon was the most unique number of the evening and was perhaps the one that might easily have been mistaken for a professional performance. Lucey and Gimberling surprised themselves and all other club members in their acrobatic stunt. The men showed up remarkably well and with a little more practice would undoubtedly have little difficulty in securing a professional engagement. Dyeberg and Eames, in a six-minute wrestling exhibition, were also pleasing entertainers. Schlitz Sollars vs. A. Hoffman and A. Delano vs. C. Herman, furnished the boxing exhibitions of the evening. Following is the complete program:

Overture, Christian Brothers' College; opening remarks, Mr. W. A. Newcum; baritone solo, Mr. C. Morris; flying trapeze, J. S. Gimberling; wrestling, C. Coombs vs. J. Phillips and R. W. Eames vs. Prof, W. Dyeberg; contralto solo, Miss W. Lobner; parallel bars, S. A. C. class, under direction of class leader D. McCullouch; piano solo, Fred West; acrobatic act, C. Lucey and P. Gimberling; solo, Mr. T. Burns; statuary poses, F. Bacon and Prof. Rittler; boxing, A. Hoffman vs. R. Sollars, A. Delano vs. C. Herman.

Exhibition handball and basketball games were played in the handball courts.

S. A. C. OFFICERS PROVE GOOD HOSTS

SAC. BEE. 2-18-10

Several hundred members of the Sacramento Athletic Club and friends attended the "ladies' night" last night tendered by the members of the Board of Directors of the Club, and witnessed one of the most successful functions yet given by the S. A. C. The reputation of the Club officers as hosts was materially added to through last night's affair.

The orchestra of the Christian Brothers' College was on hand and furnished excellent music for the occasion. Secretary W. A. Newcum of the Club launched the entertainment with an address of welcome to those in attendance, and the following program was taken up:

Overture, Christian Brothers' College Orchestra; opening remarks, W. A. Newcum; baritone solo, C. Morris; flying trapez, J. S. Gimberling; wrestling, C. Coombs vs. J. Phillips and R. W. Eames vs. Professor W. Dyeberg; contralto solo, Miss W. Lobner; parallel bars, S. A. C. Class, under direction of Class Leader D. McCullouch; piano solo, Fred West; acrobatic act, C. Lucey and P. Gimberling; solo, T. Burns; statuary poses, F. Bacon and Professor Rittler; boxing, A. Hoffman vs. R. Sollars, A. Delano vs. C. Herman.

Club medals were awarded the following at the conclusion of the program: For track—Shotput, Harry Tharp; 440-yard run, M. E. Sparks; 100-yard dash, R. Shoemake; mile run, E. Donald. Boxing—Main event, Everett Barr of Marysville; special, Joe Erickson, pride of the boxing department; D. Luke, R. Cowie, T. Hicks, C. Ritchie and B. Gore.

Several exhibition handball and basketball games were played, and the evening's entertainment ended with a dance.

LADIES' NIGHT BIG SUCCESS

SAC. STAR. 2-18-10

In every way the entertainment and ladies' night at the Sacramento Athletic club was a success last night. Every number on the program pleased the large crowd which attended. Physical Director Rittler deserves credit for having arranged so pleasing an entertainment. He was ably assisted by Captain Lucy, Frank Bacon, Fred Gallaagher and Secretary Newcum.

The program was as follows:

Overature, Christian Brothers' College; opening remarks, Mr. W. A. Newcum; baritone solo, Mr. C. Morris; flying trapeze, J. S. Gimberling; wrestling, C. Coombs vs. J. Phillips and R. W. Eames vs. Prof. W. Dyeberg; contralto solo, Miss W. Lobner; parallel bars, S. A. C. class, under direction of class leader D. McCullouch; piano solo, Fred West; acrobatic act, C. Lucey and P. Gimberling; solo, Mr. T. Burns; statuary poses, F. Bacon and Prof. Rittler; boxing, A. Hoffman vs. R. Sollars, A. Delano vs. C. Herman.

Exhibition handball and basketball games were played.

S. A. C. TEAM TO PLAY COAST LEAGUERS

SAC. UN. — 2-18-10

Arrangements were made by the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday for a practice game with the local Pacific coast team on March 12th at the new ball park. The Senators will then be well lined up and able to put up a good exhibition of the national game. The S. A. C. team will probably not be chosen by that time but a picked team from the club will oppose the professionals.

Captain Lucey has written a letter to the Los Angeles Athletic club inviting the championship handball team to visit the local club and engage the Sacramento champions in a series of games. The southern boys recently completed a tournament with the Olympic club of San Francisco in which they were victorious. They are undoubtedly the champions of the state. The San Francisco players were also invited to come to this city and compete in the exhibition tournament that will be arranged providing the Los Angeles players accept.

Immediately following the completion of the program last night medals were awarded as follows to the athletes who have won the several contests held during the last month: For track: Shotput, Harry Tharp; 440-yard run, M. E. Sparks; 100-yard dash, R. Shoemake; mile run, E. Donald. Boxing: Main event, Everett Barr of Marysville; special, Joe Erickson, pride of the boxing department; D. Luke, R. Cowie, T. Hicks, C. Ritchie and B. Gore.

DEPARTMENT HEADS OF S. A. C. CHOSEN

Lucey Is Made Captain of the Club and Gallup and Hoffman Get Positions.

Reorganization for the 1910 season in all departments of athletics of the Sacramento Athletic club was effected at a meeting of the board of directors this week. C. Lucey was chosen captain of the club to fill the vacancy made by the removal of George Curtis to Oakland. In the selection of Lucey as captain the club obtains one of the best-posted athletic authorities in Northern California. His selection for the position came as a pleasant surprise to the club members and the action of the directors could not have been more in accord with the desires of the entire membership. Lucey will begin his duties immediately and has several new schemes for the handling of various departments which he will put into effect as soon as possible.

By the unanimous choice of the directors, Ben Gallup was chosen manager of baseball and has appointed several assistants to help him with the work of developing and selecting the teams. Gallup has had several years' experience with baseball nines and is considered the most capable man for the position in the club.

HOFFFMAN IS MATCHMAKER.

The boxing department was also given attention by the choosing of A. Hoffman as matchmaker. Mr. Hoffman will assume his duties immediately and all arrangements for the club's monthly bouts will be entirely in his hands. This will take considerable work off Physical Director Rittler's shoulders and in the long run will undoubtedly have the effect of causing a bigger and better boxing department.

At the same meeting of the directors it was decided to dispose of the club paper proposition by establishing a department in the Sacramento Weekly. Joseph Anderson, publisher of the Weekly, agreed to handle a S. A. C. department and to take charge of all the duties attached to such an enterprise. The club members will be given copies of the paper free of charge and the head of each department will be the correspondent for his particular department. As this arrangement will not cause any unnecessary expenditure by the club, it was thought feasible and therefore accepted.

RITTLER GIVEN POWER.

Physical Director Otto Rittler was given full charge of all departments of athletics. In his hands will be the selection of the members of the various teams and they will be supposed to train under his instructions. Instead of the club selecting the captains of the track, baseball, swimming, handball and basketball teams, the members of the different teams will have the power to select their own captain. This arrangement will give the members of the teams the privilege of being governed by one of their unanimous choice rather than by a person who might have sufficient influence with the directors to secure the position. It was decided to form two baseball teams instead of one.

Captain Lucey announces that the handball tournaments will commence probably by the 20th of this month. Two tournaments will be held—one for the club members and one open. Teams from out-of-town clubs will be invited to compete and medals and trophies will be offered for the events, which will be arranged in detail in a few days.

NEW HANDBALL RULES.

So numerous are the players that flock to the club Sundays for games that Captain Lucey thought it necessary to arrange a schedule by which each team or teams will be limited in using the courts. Each team or teams will be allowed forty-five minutes in the courts, providing, of course, there are others waiting. The entire day has been divided into three periods, and teams wishing to contest upon that day will be required to sign up two or three days in advance. In tournament plays the same time will be allowed for a contest, and if the set is not over in that time the game will be called and the team that is in the lead will be declared the winner. In the event a team fails to show up when it is scheduled to play, the game is forfeited and counts as a defeat. Captain Lucey thought it necessary to take these steps in order to run the tournaments upon a businesslike basis and as a means of stimulating interest in the contests.

LADIES, GUESTS S. A. C. TONIGHT

SAC. UN. 2-17-10

First "Ladies' Night" Since Reorganization Will Be Great Affair.

For the first time since the reorganization of the Sacramento Athletic club, the women friends of the organization will be entertained tonight at a "Ladies' night." An extensive program has been arranged, and contains several features that promise to be of particular interest to the women. There will be boxing, wrestling, parallel bar work, gymnastic exhibitions, and other stunts. After the program is dispensed with the rest of the evening will be given over to dancing. Refreshments will be served, and everything done to make the occasion a memorable one in the history of the club.

W. H. Pugh has been appointed manager of the pool and billiard department of the club, and has arranged for a tournament, to commence February 25th. F. Bouyer, P. Knight, P. Amick, and R. Beardslee have signed up for the pool team. The following will contest in the billiard tourney: W. H. Pugh, J. Coyle, C. S. Pixley, H. C. Maginn, M. Sparks, and R. Beardslee.

Sunday afternoon at McKinley park, the club tryout league will continue with the play. The Corkers will engage with the Giants at 1 o'clock, and the Shamrocks will meet the Alerts at 2 p. m. The Corkers will be strengthened by the addition of "Wiz" Pappa as pitcher and Chief Daroux in the outfield. Arrangements are being made to give a benefit game at Oak Park, but the date has not as yet been set. J. N. Inman and Billy Johnson will referee the games Sunday. The mascots who have proven such valuable members of the teams will again be on hand, and have promised to root harder than they did last Sunday.

Professor Rittler Chooses Players for Club Basketball Teams—Notes.

Professor Otto Rittler, physical instructor for the Sacramento Athletic club, yesterday announced the names of the members of two basketball teams which will represent the club in the state championship games to be played in San Francisco some time in March or April. Rittler selected his men following the local season, during which games were played with outside teams and those entered in the Sacramento basketball league.

Clarence Shaw, who was head of the club's first or heavy-weight team, will be captain of the championship aggregation of the 145-pound class, and S. Luke will captain the championship five of the 135-pound class. The men selected for the teams by Prof. Rittler are as follows:

Captain Lucey of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday announced that commencing on the 27th, which will be a Sunday, the club tramps, to be held monthly, will begin. The first hike into the suburbs is described as follows: From the clubhouse at 1 o'clock east to Twenty-first street, south on the lower Stockton road to the Sutterville road, thence east to the Riverside road and north to the Riverside baths, where all will take a plunge and ride or hike home.

Batting and fielding averages for the Sacramento Athletic club teams, compiled, show the four aggregations to have the following standings:

Name	Bat.	Fld.
Alerts	.302	.909
Giants	.290	.891
Shamrocks	.268	.857
Corkers	.175	.757

Entry blanks for the annual two-mile run and games of the Olympic club of San Francisco to be held on Washington's birthday, next Tuesday, have been received at the club and are ready for any athletes who care to enter the meet.

In the whist tournament between the Sacramento Athletic club and Evans Camp, U. S. W. V., last night, the club took a substantial lead, such a great one that victory seems assured. Playing against Connolly and Canon for the camp, Sollars and Pixley won, 10 to 5; while Morris and Turner beat Tennison and Rochon, of the camp, 8 to 7. The tournament is half finished, two more nights remaining for play.

The Athletic club is arranging tournaments with the C. C. W. and Company E, N. G. C., to commence in the near future.

VICTORY FALLS TO SHAMROCKS AND ALERTS

SAC. BEE 2-14-10

The Alerts and the Shamrocks yesterday grabbed the long end of the scores in their games in the Sacramento Athletic Club League played at McKinley Park. The Alerts handed the Giants a 9 to 4 bunch in the morning and the Shamrocks won out over the Corkers in the afternoon by a score of 13 to 8.

The Alerts won in the morning by their heavy slugging and the loose fielding of the Giants. Folck of the Alerts garnered five safeties out of as many times up, two of these being doubles. The Giants held the lead for the first three innings, but in the fifth the Alerts put three tallies over and kept scoring until the end of the game.

The morning game was an exciting one, but the afternoon affair was a howler. The Shamrocks starting off with three runs in the first inning, looked able to make a slaughter of what should have been a peaceful game. The Corkers stored their energies until the seventh, then unloded them to the extent of five runs. This gave them a lead of two runs over the Shamrocks but it was only held for one inning; as E. H. Traxley's gang got busy and chased over eight tallies in the next two innings until the final score read 13 to 8 in their favor.

The games produced some good baseball for so early in the season. Errors and misplays were expected, but the general showing was good and will give a good line on the players who are to represent the S. A. C. this season. Scores:

BIG WRESTLING TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Professor Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic club, is planning for an extensive entertainment, especially for the ladies, some time in the early part of March. The entertainment will be distinctly out of the ordinary and an exhibition women rarely have the opportunity to witness.

The entertainment will be in the form of a wrestling tournament and several of the club members who have accomplished something in this line will be matched against wrestlers from other clubs in the state. C. Coombs, recognized as a clever little wrestler, will meet Leo O'Connor, a man that has reached a high mark in such athletics about the San Francisco bay. Much interest is taken in this proposed match, for its outcome will determine whether or not Coombs is eligible to contest in the big meets in San Francisco. If he succeeds in making a good showing against O'Connor he will be matched against a San Francisco man in one of the annual indoor meets. Besides Coombs, Professor Rittler has Emes, Phillips and the younger Coombs, who he will match with some Northern California wrestlers. Wrestling Instructor Dyeberg has the men in charge and is imparting to them some of his wide knowledge of the sport.

Other features of the program have not as yet been arranged but it is Rittler's wish to make the exhibition distinctly a wrestling tournament.

S. A. C. Holds Try-outs.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will have a representative team this Spring. Manager Ben Gallup is holding a league try-out every Sunday at McKinley and from the best of these will pick a club team. These try-outs give players affiliated with other teams a good chance of warming up for the coming season.

Physical Instructor Main at the Sacramento High School is working with the squad of baseball men who answered his call a week ago and is satisfied he can turn out a winning bunch. Porter McLaughlin is Captain of the High team this year and will do most of the twirling for the team.

S. A. C. MAN ENTERED IN OLYMPIC EVENT

SAC. UN. 2-19-10

The entry of M. Sparks in the 440-yard run in the Olympic club's annual 2-mile run and games to be held in San Francisco, February 22, was sent to the Olympic club yesterday by Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club. Some of the best athletes in the state compete in this event and Sparks is looked upon as a probable winner of one of the five places.

Donald, Childs and Stewart have been chosen to represent the local club in the track events of the Stockton Athletic club February 22. The three men will be entered in the distance runs. Sprinters and other track and field men will also compete. A basketball team will contest with a Stockton Athletic club team for a club trophy. Several crack Oakland athletes have entered in the meet and many other clubs will be represented.

Manager Bacon of the basketball department yesterday received a letter from the training ship Independence basketball team stating that they would not be able to play the match scheduled for this month. The local club team will make other arrangements.

Additional entries in the pool and billiard tournament which is to commence February 25 are coming in every day. Interest in the tourney is growing rapidly, and it is likely that a great number will take part in the affair. Medals will be awarded the winners.

Although tickets for the Hallanan benefit at the Grand theater on the 25th have just been issued over 500 have been disposed of up to the present. Hallanan was injured while participating for the club, and because of his injuries was forced to quit work. Every member of the club is expected to buy at least one or two tickets and attend the show.

PROF. RITTLER MAINTAINS A PERPETUAL MOTION.

Club Tramp Once a Month and Pool and Billiard Tournament.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has something doing all the time and the management is certainly giving the membership a wholesome return for the money they monthly donate for the support of the institution. Primarily, the members have the advice and training of Professor Rittler to place themselves in prime physical condition, if they desire to take advantage of it, and by the numbers of business men who have joined his classes it is apparent that the professor's services are appreciated. Ladies' night was a grand success and reflected much credit on the management of the club, for it must be remembered that those who participated had only a short time in which to practice for the events in which they took part, and that they were green as to appearing before the general public. A new idea which has been introduced by Professor Rittler is a club tramp that will take place every month. The initial tramp will take place on the 27th inst. when all who desire to take part will leave the club at 10 o'clock in the morning and hike out to Twenty-first street, down the Lower Stockton road to the cross-road that leads to the Riverside, to the baths, where they will take a dip, and return. A billiard and pool tournament will begin on the 25th inst. and already eighteen entries have been made.

Ansel Hoffman, matchmaker of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has done a world of hard rustling in preparation for the evening's boxing card that will be presented before that organization on the 24th inst. Those who were in attendance at the former entertainment were delighted with the sport and the assurance is given that this card will surpass the other in every particular, as all of the lads will be more closely matched. As yet the card is incomplete, but the following aspirants for pugilistic fame have been secured: McCullough, S. A. C., vs. Queny of Marysville, 104 pounds; Murry, S. A. C., vs. Young Sharkey of Yolo, 110 pounds; Salvador, S. A. C., vs. Frankie Hogan, of Stockton, 115 pounds; De Rosa, S. A. C., vs. Silva, unattached, 122 pounds; Tate, S. A. C., vs. Martinez, unattached, 125 pounds; Cowie, S. A. C., vs. Burns of Stockton, 125 pounds; Wilhelm, S. A. C., vs. Richards, Co. G, 135 pounds; Gore, S. A. C., vs. Baker of Winters, 150 pounds; Raymond vs. Wallace of Marysville, 160 pounds; Ritchie vs. Shoemake, 150 pounds. There are several other lads anxious to compete whose opponents will be selected tomorrow. SAC. NEWS. 2-20-10

In the Sacramento Athletic club's try-out league the Corkers handed out defeat to the Giants yesterday at McKinley park by a score of 16 to 4. The Shamrocks repeated their success of last Sunday by winning from the Alerts by a score of 8 to 5, and now lead the league. The first game was between the Giants and the Corkers and the second immediately after, between the Shamrocks and Alerts.

While the first game was an interesting exhibition of the national sport the second contest was by far the closest and more evenly balanced set-to. Pappa appeared on the mound for the Corkers and showed himself to be a classy pitcher. He held the Giants down until the eighth when they slipped through four runs. Grady for the Alerts was hit pretty bad, but managed to keep the passes down to seven hits. In the first contest Tate made a three-base hit and Johnston, Sprague, Gill, Pappa, Burr and Overhouse made two-base hits. In the second game Gideon was the only player making a spectacular hit. He lined the sphere out for a two bagger. Roher of the Shamrocks struck out ten men and Grady of the Alerts dealt death to nine. Pappa struck out nine and Bacon two. Next Sunday the play will be continued and late next month the regular club team will be picked. Results:

STOCKTON RUNNER CAPTURES TROPHY

Local Man Second Over Change Course; George Mann Joins S. A. C.

SAC. UN. —— 2-23-10

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Feb. 22.—Keeping up the same even stride that he had maintained from the start, W. W. Russell of the Stockton Athletic club won the five-mile road race here today from six competitors. Time, 28:30. Charlie Stewart of the Sacramento Athletic club was second. Time, 28:50. W. Howden of St. Mary's college finished third. Time, 29:10. Fourth place fell to J. Child of Sacramento. This was the latter's first long-distance race and his showing was deemed very creditable.

The poor condition of the course, which had been marked out along the county roads, led the officials in charge of the meet to decide at the last minute to mark off a new course through the outlying streets of the city.

It was claimed by the Sacramentans after the race that the distance over the improvised course was half a mile short of five miles, and they are inclined to think that had the race been a little further Stewart would have caught up with the local man and probably passed him. The visitors, however, accepted the ruling of the judges in good part and no official protest was made. The winner was presented with the handsome trophy cup and a gold medal, while a silver medal went to Stewart.

There were fourteen entries for the race, but of these seven withdrew because of the condition of the course.

The officials were: Judges at the start, Henry Glick, Otto Rittler and Robert Smith; starter, Bernard Glick; judges at the finish, H. E. Ross and Sam Cohn.

It was announced from the headquarters of the Sacramento club in this city last night that George Mann, a noted Dipsea runner of San Francisco, has taken up his residence in Folsom and has applied for membership in the local club. It is expected that he will prove a very valuable addition to the strength of the club.

S. A. C. TO PLAY BLAKE BOYS FOR TITLE

SAC. UN. —— 2-21-10

At last the handball department of the Sacramento Athletic club has accepted the challenge of the Blake brothers for a contest to determine the championship of Northern California. Captain Lucey yesterday accepted the challenge and will this week set the date for the meet.

Regular try-outs for the club team will be held and the two highest men will represent the club in the contest. The contest for the club team lies between Tate and Wenzel, champions of the club; Roote and Shaw, Bacon and Gallup, Delano and Yoerk. The Blake boys will be allowed the use of the S. A. C. handball courts to get into condition, so that when the match is played they will not be handicapped by a new floor and back board.

RUSSELL WON TODAY'S RACE

STOCKTON RECORD 2-22-10

First—W. W. Russell, Stockton Athletic Club; 28 minutes, 30 seconds.

Second—C. Stewart, Sacramento Athletic Club; 28 minutes, 50 seconds.

Third—W. Howden, St. Mary's College; 29 minutes, 10 seconds.

Fourth—J. Childs, Sacramento Athletic Club; 29 minutes, 30 seconds.

The above are the results of the five mile running race pulled off in this city this afternon under the auspices of the Stockton Athletic Association and under the auspices of the P. A. A. of the A. A. U.

There were seven entries. L. Fuhrman and Maurice Schmidt of the Stockton Athletic Club and C. Walters of St. Mary's failed to finish.

Russell, Stockton's crack little runner, took first honors in easy style. Considering the weather conditions, the dampness under foot and the fact that a new course with which the runners were unfamiliar had to be selected, the time made is excellent.

To avoid the mud, a new course over the following course was selected: Hunter street fountain to Weber to El Dorado to Vine to California to Market to Center to South, returning over Center to Main to San Joaquin to Weber to Hunter.

Officials rode ahead of the runners in an auto to point out the course.

The officials were: A. G. Ross and Sam Cohn, Judges of finish; Bernard Glick, starter; Henry Glick, Otto Rittler and Robert Schmidt, inspectors.

A club trophy and three medals were hung up on the result.

present at the contest this evening.

STEWART PICKED AS WINNER OF MARATHON

Stewart is picked as a winner in the five-mile Marathon in Stockton today. He is generally feared by the other runners, and the Sacramento Athletic club hopes to take the event through him. Childs and Donald will also participate, and are looked upon as possible placers. Stewart, Childs and Donald will meet such men as W. Howden, holder of second time in the Dipsea long-distance event; L. Manning, C. Walters, G. Rice, P. Noble, Russell of Stockton and Young and Smith of Stockton, all well-known long-distance men.

Sparks left for San Francisco yesterday to hold up the club's end in the Olympic club's annual event. He will be entered in the 440, and is a likely winner. Captain Lucey accompanied him, and will confer with the San Francisco amateur sporting officials relative to bringing the San Francisco and Los Angeles handball players to Sacramento to play exhibition games with members of the club.

STEWART OF S. A. C. RUNS CLOSE SECOND

SAC. BEE —— 2-23-10

W. W. Russell of the Stockton Athletic Club yesterday won the five-mile Marathon race at Stockton. Russell's time was 28 minutes and 30 seconds. Charles Stewart of the Sacramento Athletic Club finished second in 28 minutes 50 seconds; W. Howden of St. Marys College third in 29 minutes 10 seconds, and J. Childs of the Sacramento Athletic Club 29 minutes 30 seconds.

FIRST BENEFIT OF S. A. C. IS SUCCESS

SAC. UN. —— 2-26-10

Hundreds Crowd Grand Theater and Enjoy Athletes Benefit Performance.

Over nine hundred members of the Sacramento Athletic club, with as many friends, were present at the second performance of the Grand theater last night, when the club gave a benefit for Jack Hallanan, who was injured while participating in a club event and was forced to lay off work.

So successful was the affair that more than the estimated amount was raised. With hardly a single exception the members of the club purchased tickets and many bought five or six, and in one or two cases individuals purchased ten and twenty.

After the regular performance the club staged several stunts. Professor Walter Dyeberg of the wrestling department and William Emes put on a wrestling exhibition. The Schlitz twins, Sollars and Hoffman, boxed several rounds of parlor taps, which was the hit of the evening. An old member of the club, Gustav Slovz, exhibited his skill at bag-punching. He started in with one bag and ended with five. He was heartily applauded. J. N. Inman was the announcer of the evening and thanked those present for their unselfish patronage of the club's first benefit.

THE VALUE OF SIGNALS AND COACHING IN TEAM WORK

[By Hal Chase in the New York American.]

"In a general way in previous articles for the American, I have dealt with the value of teamwork in baseball success. I wish now to speak of the two chief agencies of this most important principle. This is the employment of a secret code of signals and the coaching of players. By coaching I do not mean only the work of those too-much-abused individuals on the sidelines who occupy the coaching boxes.

"There is a great deal more coaching done outside of those lines than on them. The batter, for instance, coaches the baserunner in a degree as to when he will try the hit and run. Or it may be just the other way. The Manager coaches the batter as to what to do when he is in a pinch. The individual players of the team in the field have often to be coached. In this case the Manager on the bench is in no position to perform the office. The teammates of the player at sea must assume the responsibility. That is why brains stand out in the game.

"Every player on a team must be a coach. When an outfielder turns his back with the crack of the bat and tears toward the fence at breakneck speed to intercept a mighty wallop he is not running blindly. He depends on one of his associates to "steer" him right. His associate, facing the ball, and with a long experience, is able to judge just about where the ball will drop. He figures everything to a nicety, wind, speed and flight, and directs the unseeing pursuer of the ball just where to go, when to stop, and so on. Outfielders have been credited with miraculous catches, when, in fact, some fellow who did not figure, so far as the stands were concerned, was really entitled to all the credit. That is a part of the game to which the spectator seldom gives a thought.

Games Lost By Poor Coaching.

How many games have you seen lost by bad coaching of one player by another? Naturally, such offenses are more noticeable in the infield. The play there is closest to the stands. I remember a two-bagger with which I was credited because the catcher and third-baseman each called for the ball at the same time, and then both side-stepped, thinking the other was under the tall fly. This happened once with the bases full and two out, and won a game for New York. It wasn't the fault of either catcher or baseman. It was the fault of the rest of the infield who did not direct who should take the fly. Either could have made the catch easily.

Captain Formerly Directed.

In former times the Field Captain directed the players in all these emergencies. But the Field Captaincy today is practically an honorary title. An infielder can no more coach the outfielders than an outfielder could coach the infielders. So it remains, then, with every player of the team to assume a portion of this responsibility. No player should call for a ball unless he is sure that he can handle it properly. Once a player calls for a ball he should be allowed the chance even if he has to go away out of his territory. At least, no one else should interfere unless in much better position, and then only after the one calling for the play is absolutely warned.

The Value of Signals.

Signals are but silent coaching methods—simply a means of letting every player on the team in on a contemplated play and keeping the opposition in ignorance. It is merely a silent language. Every move on the diamond today is planned. Every player on his side knows what sort of ball the pitcher intends to deliver to a batsman. They must know in order to place themselves properly for the emergency. It is necessary that the opposition be kept strictly in the dark as to what the various signals mean.

The fan sees the catcher and pitcher signaling on almost every pitched ball. He does not see the signals that are flashed between the infielders and outfielders at the same time. If he does those signals would be worth less.

Signals must be disguised so that the opposing players cannot fathom them. Then what chance has a fan? Now, if but one sign were employed for each sort of a play, it would not take a cunning opponent long to fathom any signal code. That is why as many as half a dozen systems have to be mastered before the season opens.

Baseball stupidity can generally be traced to crossed signals. The player with average sense can master this phase of the game. Some break into the big leagues who can never get the various codes through their gray matter, but they do not stick long in fast company. Many sets of signals are necessary for various reasons. One of these is that, careful as a catcher may be in guarding his sign, he cannot always hide it from a wide-awake baserunner. Especially is it difficult to do the trick when the runner is on second. Now, at second base, that runner can watch the ball. He can tell what a certain sign means. The sign must not be employed twice in the same sense while he is on second or he will profit. When any one of half a dozen signs mean a curve the runner is just as much at sea as if he were on the bench.

Then, too, baseball players are always changing from one club to another. We couldn't use signs against Washington last year that we employed the previous season. "Wid" Conroy was with the Senators. He played so long with the Yankees that he had our signals down pat. Of course, he had to get something new for Washington. The same went for Ira Thomas, with the Athletics, and with Detroit on account of George Moriarity. Besides, you never know just what scheme the other fellow is working.

Cross Batter to Scare Him.

Signal tipping has been charged many times, even in the big leagues. There is only one remedy left when you think the other fellow is tipping off your battery signs with the binoculars and wigwagging it to the batter. Cross the batter. Shoot a fast one at his head when he expects a curve and he'll lose faith in the source of his information. All these things necessitate many distinct sets of signals.

You have seen Hugh Jennings, the scrappy Tiger leader, coaching? You have noticed him pick grass and dance and yell and give vent to his world-renowned "E-E-Yah!" Well, some of that may be for effect, but you may chalk it down that a whole lot has sense and meaning to the mighty Detroit batsmen and baserunners. Did you ever watch George Stallings' legs during a tight battle? He is highstrung and nervous on the bench, but every time he shifts those legs or changes his position in any way—body, feet or hands—it means something to us. And we sit up and take notice.

Now, in baseball, daring, if not misplaced, will often go a long way. I remember the confusion of Ira Thomas last season when I pulled the squeeze play on him at the Hilltop. We had a sign when Ira was here for this play which I sprung so that he could see. It was simply brushing the left side of the nose as if to remove dust from the face. Now, the very fact that I used the signal unarmed Thomas. The squeeze was the logical play.

"You guessed it," I said.

That made him sure I wasn't. So he signaled for a ball that couldn't have suited me better. And I squeezed the runner in—in fact, I beat the bunt. I'll never forget Ira's face when I turned back at first and gave him the laugh.

As to coaching on the baselines, none but experienced and heady players should be employed. You want men here who can size up a situation in a twinkling. They should be those in whose judgment the players have implicit confidence. But the coach should shoulder no more than his own responsibility. He is useful to a player only when the latter's back is turned to the ball. As a general rule the baserunner himself should be his own coach, except when finishing a long sprint to stretch a hasbit.

S. A. C. DIRECTORS PLAN MASK BALL

SAC. UN. —— 2-27-10

Committees Are Appointed and Plans Laid for Big Time April 1st.

Meeting for the purpose of perfecting preliminary plans for the greatest celebration since reorganization, the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club last night appointed committees, established and revised plans for the grand masquerade ball to be given on April 1st in the Old Pavilion.

Although the plans are yet in their infancy, enough were set on foot last night to assure an early perfection of the evening of entertainment and revelry that is to mark the winding up of practically the first year of the reorganized club. The money realized from the ball will be used to pay off debts incurred in establishing the club. The directors hope to raise enough to dispurse every debt, and with that in view are planning an elaborate program so as to attract a vast multitude. Right of admission will be reserved, and the affair will be run on lines strict enough to preserve the high moral standard of the organization. The festival will commence with a grand parade in costume, and will be followed by an extensive athletic exhibition and a vaudeville show. Although the entertainment program is not yet completed, it will be elaborate and extensive enough to guarantee every person attending triple their money's worth. As an incentive to the public to take pains with their costumes, cash prizes of the value of $250 will be offered for the best sustained, original and local character.

Finance—Walter Bassett, Edward Dalton and J. M. Inman.

Music, Hall and Lights—H. E. Yardly, C. W. McKillip and C. R. Gill.

Entertainment—C. W. Haub, George Yoerk, L. S. Upson and V. S. McClatchy.

Costumes—W. Rose.

Refreshment—G. Newbert, A. Hoffman and G. Wissemann.

FIVE BOXERS LOSE OUT IN FIRST ROUND

SAC. UN. — 2-25-10.

FIVE OUTS IN 9 CONTESTS

Outsiders Score Over Local Boxers While Big Crowd Cheers Lustily.

If there is a record for knockouts in rapid firing time anywhere in the annals of boxing it was surely put to shame last night at the Sacramento Athletic club's regular monthly fistic fest, when four men were knocked out and one decision given in the first rounds of what were to be three-round bouts, in exactly six minutes and forty-five seconds. Out of a total of nine scheduled bouts five were knockouts in the first round, three were decisions in the limit, and one was stopped in the first, in order to save one of the boxers from a beating that would undoubtedly have ended quickly in a knockout.

Never perhaps in the history of boxing on the Pacific coast, and perhaps in the world, have so many men gone down in so short a time. Included in the five boxing matches was a three-round wrestling match between A. C. Phillips and the older Combs boy. Phillips won, making two downs in one minute and thirty-four seconds.

BOUTS ARE FAST.

The bouts were all fast and furious while they lasted, and despite the fact that five men went down for the count, none of them were hurt beyond a scratch or a bruise. By the time the first two fights ended in the first round, the crowd, which was almost triple that of last month, began to sit up and observe, and when the third and fourth and fifth, one after another in rapid succession, ended in the first, astonishment knew no bounds and everyone was boisterously expressive of his surprise. Young Salvador and Lee Muskrat were the first to stay the limit and they were followed by Hooker and Lawrence, and they by Cowie and Burns. The last go, which was the main event, followed the style of the first five and ended in two minutes and forty-five seconds in the first round by a clean knockout. The tenth go, which was scheduled between Murden and McCulloch, was called off owing to a ruling of the club physician who would not permit McCulloch to fight because of his poor physical condition. The seventh go between Hooker vs. Lawrence was easily the most scientific and better matched bout of the evening, while that between Burns of Stockton and Cowie of S. A. C., was the most interesting.

GORE A WONDER.

In the main event Billy Gore of the S. A. C. outpointed and outfought Charley Baker of Winters, and laid him low in the latter part of the first round. Baker is a husky boy, and commenced with a fast and furious pace. Gore took things easy, and waiting his chance dealt the Winters boy several heavy uppercuts that sent the latter down and out. Four times was Baker knocked down, and on the last he stayed. On the first down he took a count of eight, on the second seven, and on the third seven. Gore has only been familiar with the gloves a month, and for the short time he has been boxing is considered a marvel. Great things are predicted for him.

Cowie lost the special event to Burns of Stockton by a good decision in the third. The first round was fast and was about even. In the second Cowie was floored and took a count of eight. He rested, however, and stalled through the round. In the third Burns was put bad by a body blow, and was wholly at Cowie's mercy for a few seconds. He recovered quickly and made Cowie the under dog. They finished in a whirlwind of blows, and Referee Billy Johnson struck up Burns' arm, giving him the decision.

Young Hooker of Marysville is a clever little fighter, as everyone discovered last night. He knows the game and fights an easy, careful fight. He kept things even with Lawrence in the first, opened up in the second and tired Lawrence, taking the round by a good margin. In the third he landed heavy rights to the chin and stomach, and Lawrence was forced to defend himself and not try to hit back.

LEE FIRST TO STAY.

Muskrat Lee was the first to stay the limit, and although he looks only a kid and undeveloped, he put up a game fight with Young Salvador, and was without doubt the toughest nut on the entire card. Salvador, who is larger and older, had the first by a shade, while the second went to Lee. In the third Salvador had a shade, but did not hurt Lee. The Muskrat is entitled to a return match, and will undoubtedly get it. Billy Johnson says the kid is O. K., but needs someone to give him a few points.

While it lasted, the go between Young Sharkey and Murray was an interesting match. The boys are paperweights, and are fairly clever. Sharkey seemed afraid, and would not keep in the game. Murray was cool and anxious to mix things. Sharkey was easily dropped in the first, after it had gone but one minute and forty-five seconds.

Da Rosa slipped a left swing into Silva's face, and put him down for the count in the first, after one minute and forty-five seconds of boxing. Da Rosa was too clever for Silva, and clearly demonstrated his superiority. He is looked upon as a comer, and will probably be matched with Whittaker of the Acme club of Oakland next month.

TATE PUT OUT.

Harrison Tate, the all-around athlete, ran up against a bulwark last night in the fist of C. Martinez, when he was floored in the first round, after one minute and two seconds of milling. Tate showed up in clever style at first, but his tactics were too parlorish, and were ineffective against Martinez's heavy chop-house blows. The latter shot out a straight left chop that caught Tate on the chin, and he went down in a heap.

The heavyweight contest was no better than the rest, and ended in forty seconds. Raymond of the S. A. C. lit into Roadhouse with a terrific cyclone of right uppercuts and straight lefts, and easily put him to the mat.

Childs put Wier down seven times in the first round of their scheduled three-round go, and by accident struck him on the fourth time down. It was an accident, however, and Billy Johnson gave Childs the decision to save Wier from a knockout.

Preliminary to the boxing events, Phillips and Combs wrestled for three rounds. Phillips gained the first down in one minute. Combs secured the second in one minute and thirty-six seconds. Phillips took the third down in thirty-four seconds, thus winning the contest.

LA LONG WILL COACH S.A.C. TEAM

Catcher for Senators Will Give Athlete Ball Players Pointers Today.

SAC. UN. — 2-24-10

Mickey La Long, the Senatorial catcher, will get behind the Shamrocks this afternoon at McKinley Park in the third try-out league play of the Sacramento Athletic club baseball department and endeavor to coach the wearers of the green on to victory. The Shamrocks will line up against the Giants at 3 p. m., and in the early afternoon the Corkers and Alerts will face each other. About a month remains for the play and then the club will be chosen. The players having the highest percentages will be awarded positions on the team.

It is reported that Ben Gallup, the club's mainstay in the baseball division, has signed with Arbuckle, and if the report is correct it means undoubtedly the severing of all relations between Gallup and the club baseball teams. Gallup became angry last Sunday at some occurrence and threatened to resign his position as manager of the baseball department. He was urged not to take such a step but refused to listen to reconciliation and authorized the Union to announce his withdrawal. The club will be sorely handicapped by the withdrawal of Gallup.

Captain Lucey will inaugurate his monthly club hikes today over the country roads. Those who are to participate in the initial tramp will leave the clubhouse at 10 o'clock a. m., the route leading out to Twenty-first street, thence to the lower Stockton road and south to the lane that crosses westward to the Riverside road, and up the latter to the Sacramento swimming baths. Here the hikers will don bathing suits and take a plunge in the big tank. They will return to the city as they please, either by street cars or on foot.

New hours have been set for gymnasium classes. Evening classes will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 to 10. Day classes on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 4 to 6.

POTPOURRI OF GOOD GOES FOR TONIGHT

SAC. STAR. 2-24-10

Some lively scrapping of all description is expected at the fight show to be given at the Sacramento Athletic Club tonight. Matchmaker Hoffman has arranged ten scraps which he is sure will quench the fight thirst of the club members until the next battle. All of the fighters have stated they will do or die and all are equally sure they will not die. With these assurances the club members are anticipating some lively milling. Several of the scrappers who were victorious at last month's show are out for more victories and will again be seen in action.

William Johnson will referee all of the bouts, which will be of three rounds and an extra round in case a decision cannot be reached. Three judges will give the decision. The bouts will comence at 8 o'clock. The following will box:

McCulloch, S. A. C., and Hooker of the Marysville A. C., 108 pounds; Murray, S. A. C., and Young Sharkey, unattached; Salvador, S. A. C., and Frankie Hogan, Stockton, 118 pounds; De Rosa, S. A. C., and Muskrat Lee, Una, 125; Childs, S. A. C., and Wiers, S. A. C., 122; Tate, S. A. C., and Martinez, Una, 125; Wickham, S. A. C., and Burns, Stockton, 125; Willingham, Una, and Richards, Company E, 130; Gore, S. A. C., and Baker; Winters, 130, and Wallace, M. A. C.

None but club members in good standing will be admitted.

OLYMPIC CLUB MEN TO PLAY S. A. C. SOON

SAC. UN. — 2-27-10

The crack Olympic club handball players of San Francisco have accepted the invitation of Captain Lucey of the Sacramento Athletic club for a series of games in this city, and will be brought here as soon as suitable teams can be selected from among the membership of the club. Tryouts will be held, and two or three teams chosen to represent the club. Singles and doubles will be played. The Olympic club team consists of McGuire and Hampton.

NORTHEAST CORNER WAS JINKS TO FIGHTERS

SAC. BEE. — 2-25-10

The northeast corner of the improvised prize ring at the Sacramento Athletic Club was a jinks last night to the amateurs who sat there between rounds. Every boy who chose that corner went to defeat, and seven of them chose it. Burns of Stockton was the first to notice the steady stream of defeats which fell to that corner, and so changed to the northwest corner and gained a victory over Cowie, of the S. A. C., in the best fight of the evening.

The 300 to 400 members in attendance indicated the popularity of these amateur nights at the S. A. C. Inclement weather failed to keep the club men away, and none regretted they were there. Out of nine bouts they witnessed six clean knockouts and three decisions. The knockouts were all administered in the first round, and the rest of the fights never exceeded the three rounds.

Cowie-Burns Bout Hummer.

The best bout by far of the card of nine was that between Burns, of Stockton, and Cowie, of the local club. The Stockton boy outpointed Cowie, but collided with several Cowie swings in the third round, and was all but out. He was hanging on to save himself, and the crowd was yelling for Cowie to put him out, but Cowie by that time was pretty tired. Cowie neglected to press the fight, and the Stockton boy in a great show of gameness came back and gave him a good beating, bringing the house down by his rally.

The main event lasted but one round. Baker, of Winters, faced Gore, of the S. A. C., in this event, and went to the mat four times in the first round. He carried the fight to Gore, and found the latter more than willing to mix with him. Baker played possum on three of the knock-downs, but at the last did not get up until counted out.

A wrestling match between Phillips and Combs opened the bill. Phillips took the first and third downs, and Combs the second, all within one limit.

The first fistic bout was between Wier and Childs. Wier repeatedly danced himself off his balance and into a left hook, and was floored every time Childs landed. Wier finally refused to get up, and was counted out.

The bout between Raymond and Roadhouse was a whirlwind while it lasted, Raymond tearing into his man like a buzz saw. The grind was too heavy for Roadhouse, and he went to the mat for the count in the first round.

Harrison Tate had ambitions as a prize-fighter, but C. Martinez blasted them with a left to the jaw that put Tate flat on his back for the full count. Tate got up shaking his head as if he was still somewhat confused.

Silva was another who chose the northeast corner, and as others before him had done, took the count in the first round. Da Roza was behind the kick that put him out of the running.

The going was too strong for young Sharkey in his bout with Murray, and he absolutely refused to continue hostilities after the first round was about two-thirds over. Murray paced impatiently up and down the ring when his adversary would not rise.

The Muskrat-Salvatore bout was the first to go over one round. Muskrat is only a youngster, but he put up a game fight, and defied his older opponent to stow him away. Salvatore lacked the punch to do the trick, but managed to get the decision at the end of the three rounds.

Lawrence, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Hooker, of Marysville, put up a gingery three rounds. Hooker for a youngster has a vicious right, and he put it over on Lawrence repeatedly. Hooker got the decision.

S. A. C. COMMITTEE FURTHERS PLANS

Arrangements for Giant Mask Ball April 1 Growing Rapidly.

SAC. UN. — 3-2-10

Working quietly, step by step, leaving no matter undiscussed or no suggestion unfathomed, the general committee of the Sacramento Athletic club, which has the promotion of the masquerade in hand, held its second meeting last night and furthered plans for what will undoubtedly be the greatest occasion of its kind ever held in this city. The vastness of the scheme can hardly be realized, and the elaborate scale upon which it is being promoted is unprecedented in the history of the masquerade. History will be made on the evening of April 1st, both for Sacramento and the athletic club that so competently bears its name.

Prizes for the masqueraders were the principal topics of discussion last night, and after lengthy consideration nine or ten classes were selected, and the amount the winner of each is to receive stipulated. There will be a first and second prize for each class, and liberal awards will be given each winner. Among the prizes that will be competed for are the following:

Ladies' group of three or more, men's group of four or more, lady's handsomest gown, gentleman's handsomest costume, lady's homemade costume, lady's most original character, same for gentleman, best local sustained character, best couple. The sum of $250 is to be divided among the winners of the first and second prizes of each of the above named classes.

The price of admission was set at $1 for gentlemen and 50 cents for women. The same prices will be maintained whether or not the patrons come in costume or in citizen's dress.

W. A. Newcum and J. M. Inman were appointed as a committee to handle the ticket and program proposition. This work was at first scheduled to be handled by the publicity committee, but was taken off its hands as it was deemed a separate matter. The publicity committee will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Herman Davis and lay plans for the advertising campaign.

Another meeting was called for Friday evening, at which time the subcommittees will report on their plans and the cost of same.

S. A. C. NOTES.

Track practice in earnest is scheduled to commence next Sunday morning at McKinley park, under the supervision of Professor Otto Rittler. There will be no monkey business now; the boys have simply got to get into the game and show what there is in them, declares Rittler. If there are any that have not come out as yet, it is not too late, and the more the merrier.

The Corkers will oppose the Shamrocks promptly at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and the Giants will try and stay with the Alerts. The second game will be called promptly at 2:45, no matter if the first game is incomplete. The Barbour brothers will be on hand for the Giants, and will appear at first and behind the plate. The addition of these two men will undoubtedly strengthen the Giants greatly.

Because of incapable scoring, all averages will be thrown out, and the candidates for the team will be chosen by their showing from Sunday on. A committee has been appointed to choose a competent scorer who knows his business, and will furnish a correct record of the games.

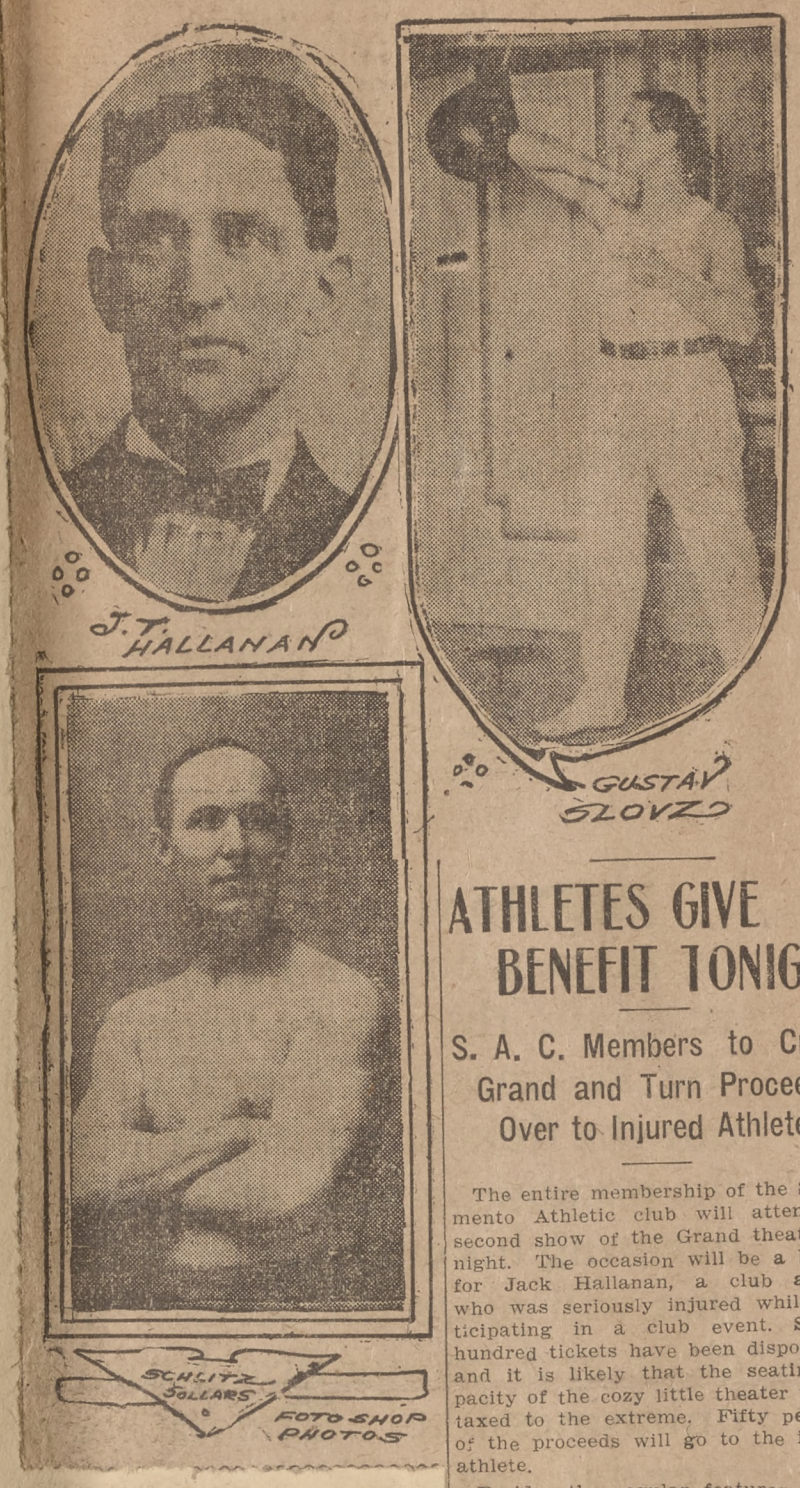
Beneficiary and Two Participants in Benefit



ATHLETES GIVE BENEFIT TONIGHT

S. A. C. Members to Crowd Grand and Turn Proceeds Over to Injured Athlete.

The entire membership of the Sacramento Athletic club will attend the second show of the Grand theater tonight. The occasion will be a benefit for Jack Hallanan, a club athlete, who was seriously injured while participating in a club event. Several hundred tickets have been disposed of, and it is likely that the seating capacity of the cozy little theater will be taxed to the extreme. Fifty per cent of the proceeds will go to the injured athlete.

Besides the regular features on the program a number of club members who are particularly developed in some line will put on stunts. Professor Dyeberg of the wrestling department and William Emes will wrestle. The Schlitz Twins (Sollars and Hoffman) will box several rounds. Gustav Slovz, the expert exhibition bag-puncher, will go on with his special attraction. Slovz punches several bags at once and uses his feet equally as well as his hands. He also employes his head, neck, shoulders and elbows in punching.

Admittance to the theater is not limited to the club members, but the club will not benefit by an outsider's attendance unless the person purchases the special club ticket, for which 25 cents is charged.

Sport Notes

SAC. STAR 2-28-10

Ben Galup, the Sacramento Athletic Club ball player, has signed to play a backstop position with the Arbuckle ball team.

Mickey La Long, the Sacramento catcher, will coach the Sacramento Athletic Club players until the opening of the season.

The directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club are planning a masquerade ball for April 1st. It is expected that the affair will be one of the most attractive of the season.

Tim O'Niel and Terry Mustain, the heavies who battle before the newly organized Capital Athletic Club on March 11th, are now in training.

McGuire and Hampton, two of the best handball players of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, will play the S. A. C. players very soon.

All of the ball teams of the Pacific Coast League will have new players this year with the exception of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Harrison Tate, the S. A. C. athlete, has been selected to choose the baseball club team. Tate has had considerable experience as a ball player and is considered a competent person to select the team.

The winners of the Tate Wenzel, Schaw Root handball contest at the S. A. C. will play Blake and Trainor for the championship of Northern California.

Matchmaker Hoffman is arranging for the next S. A. C. amateur boxing show which will be held March 19th. He would like to hear from any amateur fighters who would like to box.

The Shamrocks and Corkers strengthened their hold on the percentage column of the S. A. C. baseball tournament by defeating the Alerts and Giants yesterday.

Sacramento Athletic Club Fights

The fight show at the Sacramento Athletic Club last night resembled a bowling match, for a few blows would be exchanged and a man would drop. Two more fighters would step into the ring and duplicate the performance. Out of nine bouts five knockouts occurred in the first round. The spectators after a bit thought that somebody was putting bricks in the boxing gloves. Nearly all of the fights lasted about a minute and a half. How it all happened is as follows:

Raymond and Roadhouse started after each other before the bell had stopped echoing. A series of whirlwind exchanges of blows ended Roadhouse on the floor. The round had hardly commenced when it was all over with the fight. These two were the heavyweights of the evening, they fighting at 150.

Childs was given a decision over Wier after he had dropped Wier six times in the early part of the first round. This fight lasted nearly two minutes.

Harrison Tate, an all-round athlete, climbed into the ring to do battle with Cooney Martinez. At first Tate had all of the ear marks of a sure winner. Martinez simply waited for him and after a slugging fest dropped Tate in a neutral corner with a right chop to the point of the chin. This bout had promises of furnishing some entertainment to the crowd had not the fighting pressman been been so ambitions as to want to knock his man out without letting him display any of his skill.

Da Rosa and Silva followed the example of the fighters preceding them and just as the fans were settling back with the expectation of seeing at least two rounds of milling, Da Rosa very carlessly stroked the chin of Silva, which so embarassed that fighter that he just flopped down and remained perfectly quiet. A left swing after ninety seconds of fighting ended this bout.

Young Sharkey and Young Murray nearly completed the first round. Both were paperweights. Murray, the coolest of the two, dropped Sharkey in the latter part of the first round.

One of the best fights of the evening was the Muskrat-Salvador fight. This fight was the first to complete the scheduled three rounds. Salvador was the larger and the more experienced of the two. Lee was game and willing and had he a better knowledge of the game he could have defeated Salvador, who was given the decision.

The special event between Burns of Stockton and Cowie of the S. A. C. was the best of the evening. At last month's show Cowie dropped Burns in the first. Burns requested a return match and last night won a well-earned decision over Cowie.

The main event ended in a very quick knock-out in the first. Billy Gore, who has been fighting about a month, dropped Charlie Baker, of Winters, in the latter part of the first round. Baker was a very husky lad, but was very excited.

Prior to the fights, Phillips, an Olympic Club wrestler, gained two falls over Combs, an athletic club wrestler. A large crowd of club members enjoyed the fights.

OUTSIDERS MAY SEE S. A. C. BOUTS AT $2 PER HEAD

SAC. UN. 3-2-10

Hereafter, any member of the Sacramento Athletic club who desires to bring a friend to the regular monthly boxing card, may do so by paying $2 to the management. No person without being recommended by a member will be admitted to the show, no matter what fee is offered or what persuasion is brought to bear. The directors merely consented to this arrangement because so many members had requested the privilege of bringing friends.

The management wishes to state through the Union that all previous reports as to price or purpose of such an arrangement are not correct. A rumor has spread broadcast to the effect that any person will be admitted for the small sum of 50 cents, but such is not the case. It is the desire of the management to make these boxing bouts exclusively for the club members, and the patronage of outsiders is not solicited. However, any member who desires to bring along a friend who is not a member of the club may do so by putting up $2. Persons applying for admission without the necessary vouching will be promptly turned down. Only 100 extra admittances will be granted for each amateur card. The management is of the opinion that it is easier to pay $1.50 per month on a regular membership than $2 for the privilige of but one evening's amusement.

INTEREST GROWING IN S. A. C. VS. SENATORS

SAC. UN. 3-2-10

Extensive interest is being taken in the baseball game Sunday, March 13, between the Senators and the Sacramento Athletic Club team, in the new ball park at Eleventh and Y streets. Harrison Tate, who has been appointed to select the team, is now busy looking up records of the prospective players, and announces that he will put a team in the field that will do wonders. Just who the players are he is not certain of yet, but says that he will announce them by next week.

One week later the S. A. C. team will play the State League team in this city.

S. A. C. TO HOLD ANNUAL OUTING AT ARBUCKLE

SAC. BEE. 3-4-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

ARBUCKLE (Colusa Co.), March 4.—Jack Lucey, Captain of the Sacramento Athletic Club, was in town to-day making arrangements for a carnival of sports with the local Athletic Club, to be held on the 24th day of April. A baseball game, a field of fourteen big events, ending up with an eight-mile Marathon to College City and back, will be the program for the day, and it will be the biggest day ever witnessed in Arbuckle.

The Sacramento Club, which numbers over a thousand members, will make this its annual outing, and hundreds of the members will accompany their ball and track teams to enjoy the day and cheer their track and diamond heroes to victory. They will charter a special train which will take on passengers at all southern points, and then make a run to the north to allow the northern Colusa and Glenn people a chance to take in the big day.

The merchants and business men of Arbuckle are joining forces and will do all that is in their power to entertain the trainload of visitors and make the day one to be remembered in the history of Arbuckle. A four-lap track is now being constructed at Balfour Park, and the ball diamond, which is one of the fastest in the Valley, will be in the best of shape.

AMBITIOUS BOXERS TO BE GIVEN TRY

3-4-10 SAC. UN.

Matchmaker Hoffman of the S. A. C. will give an ambitious bunch of fighters a try out at the club quarters tomorrow night. Up to date about ten scrappers are anxious for honors in the "biff and duck game." Hoffman, and Boxing Instructor Johnson will try the lads out and if they show up they will be matched for the next club's fight, which will take place on the 19th. Sveral good fighters have not yet appeared in the club fight shows. Some rattling good fights are promised for next month's card, and Hoffman is hard at work arranging an attractive card.

Once Famous Mask Ball to Be Revived

Sacramento Athletic Club to Again Institute All Fools' Eve Jollity.

In days when a majority of the society people of Sacramento were banded together in one crowd the annual masquerade ball of the Sacramento Aethletic club was a memorable event and always attracted wide interest and received general patronage. The event was the occasion for great revelry in social circles and never was there a ball held that did not draw out from 1500 to 2500 people.

This year the one-time famous mask ball is to be revived. Old records of the events have been dug up and the revival will be similar in every respect to the occasion of years ago.

The principal thing the public should become acquainted with at this time is the matter of floor space. Groups who intend trying for one of the valuable prizes should arrange beforehand for their places on the floor. Tableaux, popular in old days, must also have floor space, and the same can be obtained by applying to the committee on hall and decorations.

A wide campaign of advertising is to be instituted and the event popularized everywhere. The entire membership of the club (some 1200) will be in attendance and outsiders will also be admitted. The management, however, reserves the right to refuse anyone admitance.

The general committee will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to hear reports of sub-committees.

S. A. C. PLANS FOR BIG TRACK SEASON

Meet With Arbuckle April 24th Will Open Series of Athletic Events.

SAC. UN. — 3-5-10

By ALFRED PUTNAM.

The track material that Professor Rittler and Track Captain Gannon have in hand this year looks like the Sacramento Athletic club will come out on the long end of all of the meets they enter in.

In addition to last year's men, there are a great many new track men in the club, who will strengthen this year's team to a considerable extent.

Already there are two or three field meets to be held in different parts of the state, and the Sacramento Athletic club has been asked to send representive teams.

The first out-of-town trip will be to Arbuckle on the twenty-fourth of April. Captain Lucey arranged with the Arbuckle management for a track meet in the morning and a baseball game in the afternoon. The Sacramento athletes and their followers will be taken to Arbuckle in a special train. A great many of the club members are expected to go, and it is the desire of the management to make it a great event. The meet will be held under strict P. A. A. rules.

This meet promises to be one of the best track meets held in this part of the state in years. Already a number of track men have answered Captain Gannon's call.

Captain Gannon will again head the club team. In Gannon the club has one of the best all around track athletes in the city. He will run the sprints and hurdles, and will also enter in the high jump.

C. Gates, the C. C. W.'s star athlete and present holder of the S. V. I. A. L. 440 record, has joined the club. He will greatly strengthen the club team both in the 440 event, which he has made in 52 seconds already this year, and also in the broad jump.

Charles Stewart, as a member of last year's team, will attend to the long-distance end of the club's affairs and also the long-distance special races, such as the five-mile and Marathon races.

Childs will also run the mile and the 880.

Payne, Shaw, Luke, Donald, McNeeley and Morris are all new men who will try for the mile or the half mile. They are all good and some of them are bound to be record breakers.

Villinger, Bedee, Elliot and Shoemake will run the sprints and two-twenty. They are all members of last year's team, and are all fast men.

Hern, a new man from the South, will be seen in the 440.

The weights will be well represented by McKillican, Tharp and Root.

Kidder and Villinger will do the broad jumping.

This is probably the best collection of material that can be found anywhere in the northern part of the state.

S. A. C. NOTES

Nix Pendergast, the boxing commissioner of the Olympic club, has written that he will have two fast boys here for the next boxing bout on the 25th.

Bill Yost, the famous Oakland "poly" high school sprinter, has joined the club.

Irva Blake and Will Trainor are training every day in the S. A. C. handball courts for their coming game with the S. A. C. team, to decide the championship of the city.

Unless the S. A. C. handball team starts practicing soon, there will probably be a few surprised handball followers when the championship game is over.

Gus Storz, the noted bag puncher, has joined the S. A. C.. He is said to be the best all-around bag puncher on the coast.

R. Barbour, who caught for Suisun last year, will catch for one of the club teams Sunday.

Pat Holt, a member of Vacaville's championship team two years ago, has joined the club and will be a valuable addition to the track team.

SWIMMER BREAKS WORLD'S RECORDS

SAC. UN. 3-5-10

C. M. Daniels in A. A. U. National Meet Swims 300 Meters in 3:37 3-5.

NEW YORK, March 4.—C. M. Daniels won the 500-yard A. A. U. national swimming championship tonight. Time—6:28.

During the contest Daniels made three new American records and one world's record. His time for 250 yards was 2:55 3-5, beating his own American record of 2:58 made three years ago. He swam 300 yards in 3:35 4-5, his former figures being 3:38, and he established a new world's record of 3:57 3-5 for 300 meters, the best previous time for which was 4:04.

AMATEUR NIGHT DATE CHANGED

SAC. UN. — 3-5-10

Twenty-Fifth Chosen as Date for S. A. C. Boxing Night, Instead of 19th.

The date for the Sacramento Athletic club's next fistic fest has been changed. Instead of on the nineteenth the card will be staged on the twenty-fifth. Matchmaker Hoffman and Captain Lucey held a conference yesterday morning on the matter and decided that as the professional bouts were so near the date it would be better to delay the exhibition a few days. One of the best amateur cards ever staged in this city is promised.

Last night Mr. Hoffman and Boxing Instructor Johnson tried out a number of amateurs who wish to get on the next card. None was chosen last night, but selections will be made within a week. Those who tried out last night were: Fagan, 125; Corey, 110; Thompson, 102; Nelson, 118; Holland, 120; Marino, 140; Dunn, 118.

SAC. BEE. 3-5-10

S. A. C. NOTES

At a meeting of the Committees in charge of the big mask ball to be given on April 1st by the Sacramento Athletic Club last night it was decided to hold an athletic carnival as a feature. A parade of all the athletes in the club, the baseball men, gymnasts, track men, jugglers, handball, boxing, wrestling billiard and pool men and basketball men will be held around the Old Pavilion, giving an effect like the old Roman games.

The date of the amateur fight night at the club has been changed from March 19th to March 25th. Matchmaker Hoffman is at work getting a line on the boys who are to fight that night. Outside spectators to the number of 100 will be permitted to attend these bouts upon the payment of an admission of $2.

Play in the S. A. C. Baseball League will be resumed to-morrow, the Corkers facing the Shamrocks at 1 o'clock.

Shaw and Root will to-morrow play Tate and Wenzel a match game of handball for the championship of the club.

A. C. Hampton of the Olympic Club has written to the S. A. C. stating that he stands ready to come to this city with McGuire and play a series of games.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR S. A. C. TRACK

The outlook for track this year in the Sacramento Athletic Club is a great deal better than last year. A large number of out-of-town athletes have taken up their residence in Sacramento, and have joined the club.

At the recent meeting of the track team, Chester Gannon was appointed track captain again, and McKillican track manager. With these two men at the head of the track team, things should run smoothly. Professor Rittler and Captain Gannon have issued a call for track candidates to show up at McKinley Park Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Professor Rittler will start in immediately to coach the squad on the fine points of running. Rittler has had considerable experience in track work, and as a trainer he is considered among the best.

Captain Gannon, who will head this year's team, will run the sprints and broad jump.

McKillican, who proved himself to be the best weight man in Sacramento last year, will put the shot and throw the hammer. He was a member of the University of California track team in '05.

Charles Stewart will again be seen in the mile, five-mile and Marathon events. Stewart is a runner of Coast renown, and is showing up in exceptionally fine form this year. Childs and Paine will also be seen in the distance races. They are both boys with lots of speed and endurance. Childs is a member of last year's team, for which he did very creditable work, while Paine is a new "find" of the club.

Percy Kidder will again be seen wearing the black and gold, and he will be quite an addition to the broad and high jump material.

Gates, a former C. C. W. man, will run with the club this season. He runs the 440 in 52 seconds, and broad jumps 22 feet. Yost, a former Oakland "Polly" sprinter, will also try out for the club team.

The following will run in the distance race: Sparks, Donald, McNeeley, White, Luke and Shaw; the sprints, Beede, Knight, Shoemake, Villinger, Ritche and Morris; the weights, McKillican, Thorp and Root.

Big Athletic Carnival to Feature Ball

SAC. UN. — 3-5-10

Most Unique Attraction in History of State Planned For April 1.

An athletic carnival, one of the most unique features of its kind in the history of Northern California, will be a leading attraction at the Sacramento Athletic club's masquerade ball on the evening of April 1st. The department is now working night and day arranging for the exhibition, and while the plans are yet in the making, the idea is settled upon, and bids fair to be the most memorable event of its kind ever enacted by a local association.

All the surroundings of a circus and the background of Roman "games' day" will set off the carnival. The floor at that time will be exclusively devoted to the use of athletes, and so extensive is the plan of the carnival that there will be little room to spare. Commencing with a grand parade the athletes will go through various drills, and at the proper signal will take their places and carry on exhibitions. In the parade, in fitting uniform, will be sections to represent practically every branch of sports known to the civilized world. Baseball, tennis, boxing, juggling, football, racing, gymnastics, handball and a number of other sports will be portrayed in a thoroughly original manner.

Tickets for the ball will be out today, and every member of the club and numerous friends of the organization will set about to dispose of as many as possible. Two thousand people are expected to attend, and as many more will be welcome. The Old Pavilion will be transformed into a fairy palace, thoroughly cleaned, and the floor waxed and made acceptable to dancers. Maskers will have full privileges of the floor, and spectators will not be allowed to dance until after the midnight hour.

The general committee met last night and heard reports of various sub-committees. Next Wednesday night the committee will get together again and further the plans.

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. UN. 3-6-10

This morning Tate and Wenzel and Root and Shaw will play a handball match for the championship of the club and the winner will go up against Blake and Turner for the championship of Northern California. Root and Shaw are looked upon as probable winners, as Tate and Wenzel are in poor condition physically. The series by which the championship will be determined will take place on the 19th and 20th.

A hike will be held today from the clubrooms along the Freeport road. The hikers will leave the club at 10:30 sharp and will cool off by a plunge in the baths on Riverside road.

The try-out league will continue its play this afternoon. The Shamrocks and Corkers are in the lead and the Alerts and Giants are striving to catch up. The game will be played in the afternoon.

Track practice will begin in earnest this morning and Professor Rittler and Captain Gannon will personally see that the men are put through exercise that will benefit them.

Plans for the rowing club are coming on in excellent shape, and before the season is well on the new department will be well organized. Mr. Morsehead is at the department's head.

Dare Morgan and H. McGregor have been appointed a committee to arrange for the special train that is to convey the club team and members to Arbuckle on April 24th, when the big track and field meet will be held.

HAND BALL COURTS.

Contest on the Improved Court for This Morning.

SUN. NEWS. 3-6-10

Under direction of Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club, the handball courts have been entirely renovated, one of them being fitted with a hard wall and new floor for the playing of hard ball, while the others are being painted white. Under the new arrangements two of the courts can be used for soft balls and the other for semi-hard and hard balls, which should please all the cranks.

This morning at 11 o'clock Shaw and Root will play Tate and Wenzel for the club championship, the winners to play Blake and Trainer of the Young Men's Christian Association on March 13th. The winners of this series will be pitted against McGuire and Hampton of the Olympic Club, the contest to take place March 20th.

On March 19th Sid Root, Clarence Shaw, Harrison Tate, George Wenzel and George Yoerk will play Messrs. McGuire and Wenzel a set of singles and this should be a very interesting event to the lovers of the sport.

A challenge to the champions of the Stockton Club has also been accepted and this event will be pulled off in the near future.

THE BIG MASK BALL.

The committee in charge of the big mask ball to be given on the evening of April 1 by the Sacramento Athletic Club have a number of surprises to spring on that occasion. Among other things there will be a big athletic show with novel features never before witnessed on the Coast. Prof. Rittler has this feature in hand and is working hard to make it a success. He states that he finds lots of good talent on hand, the only difficulty to be encountered is to chose the best.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLASSES.

The business men classes of the Sacramento Athletic Club are becoming so deservedly popular under the personal supervision of Prof. Rittler that they are now held every day in the week with the exception of Sunday. The evening classes are held Fondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, the day classes in the afternoons Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Lots of business men are taking advantage of this training and are delighted with their new experience.

CLUB HIKE.

The usual club hike will take place this morning starting from the club rooms of the Sacramento Athletic club at 10 o'clock sharp, going to K, to Tenth, to the South Levee, down the Riverside Road to the Freeport Road, turning to the baths for a swim. Every member is invited to take the hike.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will present an interesting card on the 25th inst. This event was originally scheduled for the 19th inst. but it was decided that Saturday night was a busy eve for so many of the club membership and that it was better to transfer to some other night. Prof. Billy Johnson says that he has a large class of aspiring amateurs in training for these bouts and Ancel Hoffman, who is matchmaker for the club, promises the best set of bouts that have been put on since the club was in existence. He will bring up at least two cracks from the Olympic Club and two from the Acme Club, to try out with some of his boys who are anxious to meet classy boys. Erickson, the pride of the local club, will be in one of these events. He declares that he wants to make a "rep" for himself and he can never do it meeting dubs, so he wants a chance at some good scrapper, and will get it.

S. A. C. NOTES

The club hike along the Freeport road was a great success yesterday, almost a score of members attending. Captain Lucey was again in charge, and the boys finished off with the usual refreshments in the baths. Superintendent Galleher was not along, and his jovial presence was missed very much.

Track practice began in earnest yesterday morning at McKinley park. Every member of the prospective track team was on hand and was given some valuable pointers by Professor Rittler. No races were held, the athletes merely confining their endeavors to form and pace.

The handball contest for the championship of the club, which was scheduled to take place between Tate and Wenzel and Root and Shaw, was postponed. Tate was unable to appear for the game, having injured his foot last week.

The entire membership of the club is excited to a fever heat over the coming masquerade on April 1st, and the athletic carnival to be held in Arbuckle on April 24th. A special train will be run to Arbuckle, and three-quarters of the membership of the club, it is expected, will attend.

The Giants won their first game yesterday, the Shamrocks lost their first, and changed places with the Corkers in the Sacramento Athletic club's baseball tryout league, in the regular Sunday play at McKinley park. The defeat of the Shamrocks, who have hitherto led the league, came as a surprise, and the Giants' victory over the Alerts was as much of a surprise, as that team has been the trailer up to the present.

The first game between the Shamrocks and the Corkers was won by the latter by a score of 10 to 9. Rohrer was in the box for the Shamrocks, and, despite the fact that he held the hitting down, his field assistance was weak, and the Corkers outsticked them and took the contest. "Father" Pearl was put out of the game by Umpire Inman for crabbing, and, although he called Inman a dub, the latter retaliated, styling Pearl a dub, and the matter temporarily ended.

The Giants did things up in good shape, putting it over on the Alerts to the tune of 16 to 6. The Giants' success was due in part to the presence of Barbour on the receiving end. The boy is a demon, and is relied upon to pull the Giants out of the hole. Puck, Bacon and Barbour were the sensations of the afternoon, each making three base hits. Pugh pitched for the Giants, and Grady for the Alerts. Results:

BIG DAY FOR ARBUCKLE

GRAND CARNIVAL OF SPORTS HERE APRIL 24

Grimes is to have her picnic; Colusa her Water Carnival; Williams, her Fourth, but do not for a moment think that Arbuckle is going to be behind the rest of Colusa towns. On April 24th she will have one of the greatest days in her history. The biggest day of sport ever witnessed in Colusa County will be staged here on that day, and preparations are already under way for the occasion.

Tuesday Jack Lucy, captain of the Sacramento Athletic Club, intereviewed G. W. Whybark, manager of the ball team and J P. Hall, who has the management of the Arbuckle Athletic Club in charge, and it was decided to hold a big field day and baseball game on the date mentioned above, in which the two clubs will compete against each other on the track, field and diamond.

The Sacramento club has a membership of over a thousand strong, and intend making this trip their annual outing. They will charter a special train out of the Capital City, which will bring their ball and tract teams and hundreds of interested members who will come along to enjoy the day and cheer their athletes on to victory. If there are indications of a heavy traffic from the north the special will be run up as far as Willows to accomidate the people of Northern Colusa and Glenn.

The Sacramento club have one of the strongest baseball organizations in Sacramento, and when they cross bats with the local ball tossers, those witnessing the game may expect a battle royal. Their track team, composed of ex-university men and many prominent athletes of their city and surrounding towns, will be a hard bunch of material to beat. The local club has been granted the previlege of utilising the services of as many athletes on the West side as they choose, and invitations will be extended to Yolo, Colusa and Glenn track men to enter the competition under the local club's colors. However the athletes of Arbuckle and College City will be depended upon mostly to roll up a score against the Sacramento boys.

A quarter-mile track has been begun at Balfour Park, and it will be completed immediately so that local athletes will have a good opportunity to get in some good practice.

The final game for the Sacramento Athletic Club cup was played between Pixley and Solars and Bovyer and Pugh, the former team winning by a score of 14 to 3.

Tickets Out for S. A. C. Mask Ball April 1

SAC. UN. — 3-10-10

Tickets for the Sacramento Athletic club's gigantic masquerade ball on the evening of April 1st were put in circulation yesterday, and every member of the club will be asked to purchase one or more and boost the affair to the best possible advantage. After receiving the tickets at 11:30 yesterday morning, Superintendent Fred Galleher disposed of $13 worth, and despite the fact that the unlucky number looked all to the bad, Fred could not dispose of another, and came near buying the fourteenth himself.

The general committee reported progression in all lines last night, and before another week everything will be in readiness so that if the date were changed to the 21st, instead of April 1st, no difficulty would be encountered in holding the affair then.

The most important matter transacted last night was the awarding of a contract to Goldstein & Co. of San Francisco to furnish costumes for the occasion. Goldstein was made the official costumer, and all attending are urged to rent their costumes from that firm. A store will be opened in this city, probably on J street, in a few days, and those wishing to attend the masquerade can select their costumes and have them held for the occasion.

Reward Offered For Her Name

SAC. UN. 3-9-10

The above is a masked likeness of one of Sacramento's most prominent society women. She will be present at the Sacramento Athletic club's masked ball on the evening of April 1st. Are you good at guessing? Do you want to earn $5 easy? If so send the name of the above society woman to the management of the Athletic club's masquerade ball and if the guess is right, and you are the first to send in the masked woman's name, $5 will be sent you. The contest is open only to local people, and no one is allowed more than one guess. The contest will close two days before the ball and the winner will receive the reward.

MAY OPEN P. A. A. OFFICE IN THIS CITY

SAC. UN. — 3-9-10

Movement Is on Foot for the Establishment of Branch of Big Assocation.

S. A. C. BACK OF SCHEME

Hickey and Hauser Coming in Few Weeks to Look Up Matters.

What will ultimately mean placing Northern California upon the same footing with Los Angeles, Portland and San Francisco in the athletic world, is the probable establishment of a headquarters of the Pacific Athletic association in this city. Steps are being taken by the Sacramento Athletic club, backed by other members of the same branch of the national governing body, to secure such a headquarters in this city, and if the opinions of high officials of the P. A. A. are to be considered significant, it is as good as settled that before many months Sacramento will have its own sub-governing body in the strongest of athletic associations.

If the officials of the P. A. A. see their way clear to recommend to the A. A. U. the establishment of such a headquarters in Sacramento, athletics in general in the Sacramento Valley and in all sections of Northern California, will receive the biggest boost it has yet received at the hands of outside interests. What such a close affiliation would mean to sports in this section of the state can hardly be realized by the layman, but to those intimate with the situation in all its phases there could not possibly be a more beneficial occurrence.

WHAT IT WOULD MEAN.

It would mean that every high school in Northern California having any amateur standing would be dictated to by the officials in Sacramento. All important questions that might arise would be recommended to this office and be settled. The annual P. A. A. meet for this division would probably be held in Sacramento. By such an arrangement this city would become the seat of power in amateur athletics for the entire portion of the state north to the state line, south to and including Stockton, and to the east and west extremities of the state within the aforementioned north and south lines.

San Francisco is at present the directing center for this portion of the state, Los Angeles for the south, and Portland for the Northwest. For a few years, at least, Sacramento would be under the authority of the San Francisco department, but when this division grew in importance and extent it would undoubtedly be in a section by itself, with its own governing body.

Two officials of the San Francisco headquarters, Joe Hickey and Herbert Hauser, were approached on the subject last Saturday by H. MacGregor, S. A. C. P. A. A. delegate, and spoke favorably on the proposition. In fact, so impressed were they with the scheme that they decided to come to Sacramento in a few weeks and see what could be done. Every effort will be made to persuade them of the necessity of such a move.

GROWTH OF ATHLETICS.

During the past year amateur athletics in Northern California have grown to such proportions that the San Francisco office has found it extremely difficult to attend to the duties attached to same, and for this reason alone will undoubtedly favor the establishment of a sub-headquarters. The territory in question is extremely large for the San Francisco office to handle, and as there are fully as many members, if not more, in Northern California as there are in Los Angeles and Portland, it is nothing but just that headquarters should be established in their midst.

OFFICIAL IN CHARGE.

The official in charge of such headquarters would probably be from some other city, and not affiliated with any particular association. While the scheme is yet in its infancy and not yet assured, there is every reason to believe that it will be brought to an issue and made a realism. The importance of Northern California as an athletic center cannot longer be unrecognized, and sooner or later the national body will be forced to establish a branch here. The goal for which local athletes have striven for years is about to be realized, and the establishment of a P. A. A. headquarters in Sacramento would mean, in part, the consummation of their untiring ef-

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. UN. 3-9-10

Captain Lucey has written to Chico, Colusa, and the University of Nevada asking for track and field and baseball meets. This season will be commenced with the Arbuckle meet, and it is the intention to hold other similar meets during the spring and summer months.

One aspirant for a match in the next amateur card for the 25th came to grief yesterday when being given a try. George Green is the man, and while conditioning with one of the Schlitz twins (Solars) was struck on the chin by a tennis ball and floored. Thereupon Schlitz refused to consider Green for the next card, and the latter is grief-stricken as the result of what he calls an unjust test.

Phinney, Cote and Marshall, surveyors, have surveyed the McKinley park track, and drawn plans for the installing of an up-to-date track. The estimated cost of establishing a complete athletic grounds at the park is $813. The directors of the club are soon to ask the city fathers to make an appropriation for the same.

Transportation committeemen Morgan and MacGregor announce that they have completed arrangements for the special to conduct the athletic club members to Arbuckle April 24th, when the big field and track meet is held. A fare of $1.55 will be charged for the round trip, providing 125 persons attend. In the event that number or more do not go, a fare and one-third will be charged. Rates will be given from all points in the vicinity of Arbuckle, and elaborate plans are being made for a big celebration.

Entry blanks were received yesterday for the annual indoor games of St. Mary's college, to be held in San Francisco, March 16th. It is not likely the club will enter any athletes.

ATHLETES TO MEET AND PLAN FOR STADIUM

SAC. BEE. — 3-10-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club has called a meeting for to-night at 8 o'clock to take up the matter of making a complete stadium at McKinley Park, which can be done at a cost of little over $800.

The athletic clubs of the city have been asked to send representatives, including the Young Men's Christian Association, Capital City Wheelmen, Sacramento High School, Brothers' College, the Turners, and all other organizations interested in athletics.

The object in view is to establish a grounds which will serve the purpose of all championship track events in Superior California.

With a good track the Pacific Athletic Association will establish a branch here and this part of the State will then be well equipped for track and field contests.

TATE SELECTS S. A. C. BALL TEAM

Names Members of Club That Will Oppose Senators Sunday.

SAC. UN. — 3-11-10

One of the Senators' most important exhibition games this season will take place Sunday afternoon, when that distinguished aggregation faces a picked team from the Sacramento Athletic club in the new ball park at Eleventh and V streets. The Athletic club is the only local amateur team that was granted the honor of a game with the big leaguers this year, and the members are making the best of the occasion by disposing of tickets far and near. A big crowd is expected.

Harrison Tate, who was chosen to pick the Athletic club team, has done so to the best of his ability. He thinks that he has secured the best players available in the club, and named the men according to their past records. The S. A. C. team is as follows:

Barbour and Godt, catchers; Pappa, Rohrer, Johnson, and Grady, pitchers; Joe Williams, first base; O. Burr, second base; Harrison Tate, shortstop; Scotty Bowden, third base; Carrigan, left field; Father Pearl, center; Gill, right. Overhouse and Folcks are the subs.

The players named above are requested to report at the club at 1:30 p. m. Tate will captain the team.

WILL DISCUSS STADIUM MATTER

Mayor Invited to Meet With Athletes in S. A. C. Tonight.

SAC. UN. — 3-10-10

Invitations to the meeting tomorrow night in the Sacramento Athletic club, called for the purpose of devising ways and means of converting a portion of McKinley park into a complete athletic stadium, were extended yesterday by Captain Lucey, and besides representatives of the various athletic organizations Mayor Beard and members of the city trustees will be asked to attend the meeting and express their views on the matter.

A realization of the importance of Sacramento as an athletic center and the fact that the Pacific Athletic association, as announced exclusively by the Union, is about to establish headquarters here, led the local athletic associations to again revive the movement for a complete athletic field for this city at McKinley park. Without such a place it would be almost impossible to hold track and field meets of any importance in this city.

Other cities of less importance and much smaller than Sacramento have such grounds and it is thought nothing more than a civic duty for the local government to appropriate a few hundred dollars for the work. A mere eight or nine hundred dollars should be no obstacle in the way of a movement which at the least will return thousands both materially and morally to this city in a few years.

While the athletic club has taken the lead in this matter it solicits the cooperation of other interests and invites every organization or individual to join the movement, which if secured will be equally for the benefit of all.

In order that no difficulty will be encountered in improving the park to the best advantage, the athletic club has had plans and specifications drawn up and the cost of the improvements estimated. Phinney, Cate & Marshall drew up the plans and made estimates gratis, and their report to the club directors is in detail as follows:

In regard to the reconstruction of the running track at McKinley park, we beg to report that it will require the following material to construct the same and put it into first-class shape.

To build up and extend the straightaway track for the 100-yard wash, and the 120-yard dash and hurdles will require about 80 yards of earth.

To place running boards and braces around both the outer and inner face of the track will require 8176 feet B. M. lumber. This lumber should all be redwood.

To construct a cinder track according to the plan as shown will require: 200 tons of coarse crushed rock; 220 cubic yards of coarse cinder; 110 cubic yards of fine cinder to be mixed with 110 cubic yards of loam.

As regards the cost of this work it is hard to say, but if the earth and loam can be obtained in the vicinity of the track, about 25c per yard ought to place the same.

The crushed rock costs 75c per ton at the crusher, and freight of 25c to Sacramento. If an arrangement can be made with the Northern Electric and Southern Pacific to deliver the rock at McKinley park for this figure, an additional 25c will place it on the track. It will cost about 50c per yard to deliver the cinders to the park.

Redwood lumber is needed for the running boards and braces. This lumber, including the labor of placing same will cost about $40 per 100 feet B. M.

The cost then will be about as follows:

190 cubic yards earth at 25c	$ 47.50
200 tons rock at $1.25	250.00
330 cubic yards cinder at 50c	115.00
8176 feet B. M. redwood at $40	327.04
	$739.54
Add 10 per cent for incidentals	73.95
Total cost	$813.49

WOULD CHANGE PARK INTO A STADIUM

SAC. STAR 3-11-10

Two things important to athletic interests of Sacramento were accomplished at the meeting of representatives of the various athletic organizations at the Sacramento Athletic Club last night. The purpose of the meeting was to see if it were not possible to convert McKinley Park into an athletic stadium for the use of the various athletic bodies of Sacramento. In addition to this an attempt to have a branch office of the P. A. A. established in Sacramento will be made.

Nearly all of the bodies were represented last night. After considerable discussion it was decided to appoint a committee to confer with the McKinley Park commission to determine just what could be done. Estimates and drawings showed that a four-lap track of the best material could be constructed for about $900. It was pointed out that a grand stand would be needed. Several of those present were of the opinion that the grand stand of the dancing platform could be used.

With the idea of getting an athletic stadium for the use of the athletic organizations of Sacramento at McKinley Park three committee were appointed.

A united effort will be made towards the establishment of the stadium which would be so arranged that all manner of athletic contests could be held there.

The following committees were appointed last night:

Finance—Captain Lucey of S. A. C., L. S. Upson of C. C. W., Brother Leo of C. B. C., Walter Bassett of S. A. C.

Press and Publicity—Frank Tade of high school, J. Gray of S. A. C., J. J. McKinnan of Caledonians, Willis Chapman of Star, H. R. McLaughlin of Bee, H. Gimbal of Union, and E. C. Rutherford of News.

Conference committee—Captain Lucey of S. A. C., E. H. Traxler of S. A. C., and J. Gray of S. A. C.

TAKE UP MOVE TO ADVANCE TRACK ATHLETICS

SAC. UN. — 3-11-10

The coming to Sacramento of the Pacific Athletic Association and the building of a field and track stadium at McKinley Park absorbed the discussion last evening at the Sacramento Athletic Club rooms of athletes representing the organization of this city who are interested in the movement.

Those present last evening were heartily in favor of having Sacramento in the P. A. A. and to show their intentions in this direction a resolution endorsing the move was adopted. Delegate MacGregor was instructed to continue his dealings with the P. A. A. officials.

The task of converting McKinley Park into the proper style for an athletic stadium suitable for all sorts of track and field events was gone over thoroughly during the discussion. Each man present had some idea to advance and much valuable information was brought out for the benefit of the Committee in charge of this end of the work.

The delegates present were: J. M. Anderson, E. H. Traxler, J. A. Garrison, Neal Lucey and J. A. Gray, from S. A. C.; Principal Frank Tade, of the High School; L. S. Upson, of the C. C. W.; Brothers Leo and Zenonian, of the C. B. C.; J. J. McKinnan, of the Caledonians, and Joseph Reisner, of the Y. M. C. A.

BIG PRIZES FOR CLUB MASK BALL

The Sacramento Athletic Club has arranged with a San Francisco costumer to bring gorgeous garments to this city in a few days, from which selections can be made for persons attending the masque ball to be given by the club in the Old Pavilion on the night of Friday, April 1st.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the event. Prizes amounting to $250 have been offered as inducements to attractive costumes, and the classification of these tokens is such that a good many different styles of make-up can compete. One of the features in this line will be the group-prizes for men and women.

From 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock the athletes of the club will give an entertainment for the amusement of the masquers.

LEAGUERS WIN BY CLOSE MARGIN OVER S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 3-14-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club's baseball team came out a close second in the game with the Sacramento Coast League team yesterday afternoon, losing by the score of 7 to 6. The professionals loafed along with the club players, allowing them a bunch of runs, yet refusing to permit them the privilege of coming out on the long end of the score.

Roher pitched well, except for the first inning, when he probably had stage fright and allowed three hits, which resulted in as many runs. Fournier, one of the professionals, was loaned to the club boys, and with his catching the Leaguers were held to better control than otherwise.

Pappa relieved Roher in the eighth displaying some good pitching. Hunt, Whalen and Fitzgerald pitched for the Senators. In the sixth inning Fitzgerald was hammered for enough bingles to make a trio of tallies. Errors were sprinkled throughout the game by both sides.

ATHLETIC BODIES FOR P. A. A. MOVE

SAC. UN. 3-11-10

Proposed Stadium at McKinley Park Receives Boost by Appointment of Committees.

At a meeting of representatives of all local athletic organizations last night in the Sacramento Athletic club a resolution was adopted indorsing the movement of P. A. A. Delegate MacGregor of the Athletic club, in trying to get a P. A. A. headquarters established in this city. Besides receiving the sanction and co-operation of the entire athletic faction of this city, Delegate MacGregor was instructed to take the matter up further with the officials of the P. A. A., and urge upon them the necessity for establishing such a headquarters in this city. Details of the P. A. A. movement were published in the Union this week.

While the P. A. A. mattter was incidental to the purpose of the meeting, it was, nevertheless, thought important enough to be allowed considerable discussion, which resulted in the above-mentioned resolution. A great stride in procuring complete athletic grounds at McKinley park was taken last night, when three committees were appointed. It will be the duty of these committtes to further carry on the matter and to report their progress to the general body.

Fully two hours of discussion ensued on the advisability of one thing and the uselessness of another. A question that received much attention was whether the different organizations had the right to charge admission to contests within a fenced ground inside the park. The question was unanswerable, and was referred to the proper committee. It was thought advisable to erect a grandstand, install shower baths and various other conveniences for the use of athletes. The following committees were appointed:

Finance—Captain Lucey of S. A. C., L. S. Upson of C. C. W., Brother Leo of C. B. C., Walter Bassett of S. A. C.

Press and Publicity—Frank Tade of high school, J. Gray of S. A. C., J. J. McKinnan of Caledonians, Willis Chapman of Star, H. R. McLaughlin of Bee, H. Gimbal of Union, and E. C. Rutherford of News.

Conference committee—Captain Lucey of S. A. C., E. H. Traxler of S. A. C., and J. Gray of S. A. C.

Those present as delegates at the meeting were:

J. M. Anderson, E. H. Traxler, J. A. Garrison, Neal Lucey and J. A. Gray from S. A. C.; Principal Frank Tade of the high school, L. S. Upson of the C. C. W., Brothers Leo and Zenonian of the C. B. C., J. J. McKinnan of the Caledonians, and Joseph Reisner of the Y. M. C. A.

SAC. WEEKLY

THE managers of the club have decided to feel the public pulse on the subject of erecting a building that will serve not only as a home for the club, but also fill the want so severely felt in the city of a public hall or auditorium. The club needs a commodious, up-to-date headquarters that will be in keeping with its position as one of the largest organizations of its kind in the State, and the city needs a hall large enough to accommodate big gatherings such as attend public meetings and conventions.

The matter is one that will interest every public-spirited citizen and all the civil bodies of the city.

President Bassett of the club believes there is sufficient civic pride among the citizens to make the project a success. The idea, as at present outlined, is to have each member of the club to take as many shares of the capital stock as his means will permit, to be paid up in small installments running through two or three years. Also to solicit stock subscriptions from citizens generally.

Mr. Bassett states that the capital necessary for securing a site can be had at any time.

The expense of fitting up the club gymnasium will be comparatively light, the principal item being for proper clubrooms. The club, of course, would use the upper stories of the building, the first floor to be devoted to a public hall. Compared to buildigns used for commercial or office purposes, the expense of fitting up the interior would not be heavy.

Here, then, is the opportunity for Sacramento to obtain a public hall and the Athletic Club a home commensurate with its needs. The matter is as yet in an incipient stage, but it is the purpose of the officers of the club to push the project with energy.

Sacramento, being the Capital and the geographical and railroad center of the State, is the logical place for the holding of conventions, but they cannot be invited to come here until the city has a hall that will accommodate large bodies. Ever since the removal of the State Pavilion from Capitol Park there has been no place in which to hold public meetings of large size, and until provision is made no outside organizations can be expected to come to Sacramento.

Although the Athletic Club is taking the initiative in this movement, it is really a matter in which the city generally is most concerned, and one in which civic bodies, property owners and capitalists will, no doubt, assist.

SENATORS DEFEAT S.A.C. TEAM 7 TO 6

Burr Makes Two Hits and Wins Baseball Shoes—Roher a Demon.

SAC. UN. — 3-14-10

Senators 7, S. A. C. 6.

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball team covered itself with glory at Buffalo park yesterday afternoon by holding Charley Graham's Coast league players almost level, but class told and the "pro" team won out by a score of 7 to 6. Roher, who pitched for the Athletics, showed himself to be a nice twirler and barring his nervousness in the first inning, when the Senators got to him for three hits, netting as many runs, he showed up very well against veteran players. Fournier, who was borrowed from the Senators to handle Roher's shoots, coached the youngster well and the Athletics' battery was the main cause of the score being so close. Charley Graham turned Hunt, Whalen and Fitzgerald loose against the Athletics, Fitzgerald, as usual, being the unlucky hurler, the Athletics giving him a bumping in the sixth inning which netted three runs.

SENATORS HIT FREELY.

Jimmy Whalen and Hunt were also hit freely by the Athletic boys, who had their batting lamps in good condition. Carrigan and Bowden for the Athletics showed good hitting qualities, slamming the ball to the outfielders each time at bat.

Tate at short stop for the Athletics was out of form, allowing a number of Senators to reach first base through his errors. Burr at second base for the Athletics handles himself nicely, and in addition secured a corking two-bagger and a single. Carrigan, Tate and Pearl in the outfield for the Athletics showed fine form, gathering in everything that came their way.

A single to center and an additional single to left gives Burr a total of two hits, which wins for him the pair of baseball shoes offered by a local shoe concern. Carrigan was picked for the winner but in trying to stretch a two-bagger into a three he was put out and so his two-bagger was not placed to his credit.

SENATORS LOAFED.

All of the Senators played up to the form that they have shown in their past few games but were inclined to loaf along until their opponents got close, and then would spurt and keep a shade to the good. In drawing the finish fine the Senators were nearly beaten, as Pappa, who was sent in to relieve Roher in the eighth inning, showed a nice assortment of curves, and but for the fact that the Senators had a safe lead the story of the game might have been different. The Athletics showed up very well and will give any of the semi-pro teams in this neck of the woods a good clatter during the summer season.

SHAW AND ROOT HANDBALL CHAMPS

Take Two Out of Three Games From Blake and Trainor and Win Title.

SAC. UN. — 3-14-10.

The Sacramento Athletic club now has the honor of possessing the Northern California championship handball team. By the defeat of Blake and Trainor yesterday, Root and Shaw gained the right to that title, and will now repose upon their laurels until some better team takes them away.

One of the biggest crowds that has jammed the spectators' gallery of the Athletic club for many a day witnessed the contest yesterday morning and cheered their players on to victory. Excellent team work combined with good judgment won the game for the B. A. C. players and decided the long rivalry that has stood between the four handball enthusiasts.

A series of three games were played, and the Athletic club took the last two, which gave them the contest. The first set-to went to Blake and Trainor by a score 21 to 15, but Root and Shaw found themselves in the second, taking it by a score of 21 to 18, and kept the lead easily in the third, winning out 21 to 12.

The game was hard fought from the outset to the end, and for a time in the first game it looked dark for the S. A. C. team. Blake surprised everybody by playing a conservative, gentlemanly game, and so pronounced was his affability that, upon several occasions, the spectators cheered him lustily. He is a powerful athlete, and often plays rough unknowingly, but in the contest yesterday he seemed greatly changed, and won the admiration of all.

Trainor was a little weak on serving, which was undoubtedly due to unfamiliarity with the court, but as the contest progressed he improved, and settled down to a steady, effective style that held up his side greatly. Shaw and Root played equally effective, and, as a consequence, won the championship. Their team work all through the series was good, and proved a serious handicap to the opposers. Results:

First—Blake and Trainor, 21; Shaw and Root, 15.

Second—Shaw and Root, 21; Blake and Trainor, 18.

Third—Shaw and Root, 21; Blake and Trainor, 12.

Umpire—George Yoerk. Scorer—Phil Knight.

PETALUMA TAKES P.A.A. SEMI-FINALS

Defeats S. A. C. Basketball Team by Score of 39 to 37 and Qualifies for Finals.

Special to the Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—In a hot-fought but rather shambling exhibition of basketball the Sacramento Athletic club lightweights went down to defeat before the Petaluma team by a score of 39 to 37 in the semi-finals of the P. A. A. championship here tonight. The two teams fought hard and were evenly matched. The first half ended with Petaluma on the long end, 20 to 17. The second half closed a tie, both teams having thirty-six points. This peculiar situation brought forth a basketball rule seldom unearthed. As both teams were tie at the end of the contest and a decision had to be reached, it was decided to play on until one of the teams had made two points. When that was accomplished the team making the two points was to be declared the winner.

Petaluma succeeded in scoring the two extra goals, thus taking the semi-finals and qualifying for the final round Saturday night.

Among the interesting items of the contest were the following:

Sacramento was awarded 2 points and Petaluma 6. Ninety-three fouls were made in all, Sacramento making 49 and Petaluma 44. Brandon, one of Sacramento's forwards, scored 27 out of the 37 points made by his team. Sprague made 1 point, Luke 3, McNeely 2 and Duke came in for 2.

The deciding play was sensational, each team having an equal chance of winning and both equally as anxious to do so. Petaluma succeeded in scoring the first point and Brandon of Sacramento was awarded a free throw. He basketed the ball, but in throwing stepped over the line and the point was disqualified. Adams, Petaluma's center, scored the deciding goal, throwing a clean basket. The line-up:

McNeeley of Sacramento, though a guard, played an excellent game. Manager Frank Bacon of the basketball department of the Sacramento Athletic club and Professor Otto Rittler accompanied the team. The game took place in the Pastime Athletic club gymnasium.

CARRIGAN WINS SHOES.

Eddie Carrigan, who played in the field last Sunday for the Sacramento Athletic club against the Senators, was awarded the pair of baseball shoes put up for the player making the most hits in the game. Carrigan made two hits, one a two-bagger, and in trying to steal third was put out. This, however, does not discredit his hits, and he thus became the rightful claimant of the trophy. The score books clearly show Burr credited with two singles, but as one of Carrigan's hits was a two-bagger, he was named the winner of the shoes. S. UN. 3-16-10

MANY S. A. C. ATHLETES INTERESTED IN SWIMMING

Although the summer is hardly here, many members of the Sacramento Athletic club are already talking of a swimming team for 1910. Last year the club went fairly strong on that branch of sports, and from present outlook and the general interest already shown, this season will be an exceptionally strong one. Up to the present the following have signed for the team:

H. Evers, D. Wickham, A. Evers, A. B. Erway, R. Beardsle, H. E. Smith, F. Felix, Ed Dunn, C. Bourrett, E. Carrigan, C. Kromer, R. Wahlander, B. Wickham, T. Burns, C. C. Clark, Charles Wahlander. S. UN. 3-16-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club light basketball team has skipped the preliminary rounds of the basketball tournament of the P. A. A. being held at San Francisco and will play Petaluma in the semi-finals Friday night. The team expects to win the P. A. A. championship.

ATHLETES PLAY SENATORS TODAY

First and Last Exhibition Game With Local Team Scheduled at New Park.

What will be perhaps the Senators' first and last exhibition game of the season with a local team in this city will take place at the new ball park this afternoon, when a picked team from the Sacramento Athletic club lines up against the Coasters.

The game has been advertised widely and, besides a majority of the membership of the club, undoubtedly a big crowd of fans will be on hand to witness the battle. The Athletic club has the best material in the organization in its team, and hopes to win. Following are the members of the S. A. C. team:

Barbour and Godt, catchers; Pappa, Rohrer, Johnson and Grady, pitchers; Joe Williams, first base; O. Burr, second base; Harrison Tate, shortstop; Scotty Bowden, third base; Carrigan, left field; Father Pearl, center; Gill, right. Overhouse and Folcks are the subs.

The players named above are requested to report at the club at 1:30 p. m. Tate will captain the team.

Carrigan Got the Longest Hit in Last Sunday's Game

Last Sunday the picked team from the Sacramento Athletic Club went down to defeat before a large crowd of fans by a score of 7 to 6. The game was full of errors and quite a few hits were made. Rohrer who pitched for the club team showed up fairly well for an amateur. Bowden and Carrigan carried off the batting honors for the picked team, each securing two bingles. Carrigan got the longest hit of the day, sending one over the left fielder's head in the 7th inning.

The club team will be a hard bunch for any of the amateur teams to defeat.

Holds Handball Title of Northern California

C. S. SHAW — FOTO SHOP PHOTOS — S. A. ROOT

By the defeat of Blake and Trainor, Sunday morning, the Sacramento Athletic club handball team, composed of G. S. Shaw and Sid Root, becomes the title holder of Northern California. A long-standing dispute as to which of the two teams was the most skilled at the sport, was also settled by the match. Shaw and Root's success came as a pleasant surprise to the members of the Athletic club, for a majority had picked Blake and Trainor as the winners. The S. A. C. team now lays exclusive claim to the title and will soon oppose crack teams from San Francisco and Los Angeles. So far as is known there are no handball teams in this section of the state of sufficient class to qualify for a try at the championship.

THE DAILY APPEAL 3-16-10

Sacramento Athletic Club Is Negotiating With Local Organizations and May Reach An Agreement.

MARYSVILLE,

Captain Lucey of the Sacramento Athletic Club, was in Marysville Tuesday morning conferring with the club's local representative, Alva Gates, as to the possibility of holding a monster field meet and baseball game in this city in the early part of April. Both the field meet and baseball game to be held on the same date and probably on a Sunday to insure a sufficient attendance to defray expenses. One admission admitting to the field meet in the morning and the ball game in the afternoon, or vice versa.

The Sacramento Athletic Club stands for the development of all things athletically in the Sacramento Valley and the meet contemplated is similar to the one to be held at Arbuckle April 24th.

There is undoubtedly abundant material on the east side of the valley north of Sacramento from which to pick a cracker-jack team of athletes to oppose the club team now forming for the season. An effort will be made to induce Captain Davidson of the Marysville high school to gather a team together from the various schools in this part of the State. With such a representation the performances would be unusually classy. It would be hard to pick the result. In fact it is extremely doubtful whether the Sacramento Athletic Club would be able to hold its own.

Ten and one-fifth seconds for the 100-yard; 22 seconds for the 220-yard; 51 seconds for the quarter mile; less than two minutes for the half mile; less than five minutes for the mile and 22 feet for the running broad jump are close to the probable results. Such performances are seldom seen outside of San Francisco, but with a thousand or more athletes to pick from the above results are by no means improbable.

The Sacramento Athletic Club intends to capture the State championships to be held at the State Fair this year and the above meet and the arbuckle affair are preliminaries of an active season.

Sacramento Five Loses to Petaluma

S.F. CHRON. 3-19-10

But one game was played in the P. A. A. basket-ball tournament last evening, the Petaluma team defeating the Sacramento aggregation in the 130-pound class by a score of 39 to 37. The game was easily the most exciting of the final contests and was in doubt until three minutes after the regular playing time. The score was tied on sixteen different occasions.

At the end of the first half the Petaluma five led by the score of 22 to 17 and at the end of the second half the score stood 36 to 36. After each team had scored one point on a foul goal Petaluma scored the field goal that won the game. Adams for Petaluma and McNally for Sacramento were the stars of the game.

UNION 3-18-10

The special meeting of the P. A. Mr. MacGregor was not notified of the postponement and was considerably inconvenienced thereby.

S. A. C. BILLIARD AND POOL TOURNEY

SAC. UN. 3-20-10

The pool and billiard tournament at the Sacramento Athletic club, under the supervision of Director Pugh, is now on in full swing, and it is likely there will be a large number of contestants to qualify for the finals. Those qualifying will be announced March 30th. As there are only a few days left, all contestants are urged to get in as many games as possible, for the averages will count on games played as well as standing. The present standings are as follows:

Pool—Amick, played 4 and lost 4; Beardslee, played 2, won 1 and lost 1; Combs, played 2, won 1, lost 1; Davis, played 4, won 1, lost 3; Knight, played 10, won 6, lost 4; Linderberg, played 4, won 2, lost 2; Morgan, played 8, won 1, lost 7; Pugh, played 7, won 6, lost 1; Tate, played 4, won 4; Warren, played 3, won 2, lost 1.

Billiards—Bergman, played 7, won 1, lost 6; Coyle, played 3, won 2, lost 1; Flickinger, played 11, won 6, lost 5; Grossclose, played 6, won 1, lost 5; C. S. Pixley, played 7, won 3, lost 4; J. L. Pixley, played 8, won 4, lost 4; Pugh, played 7, won 4, lost 3; Hogan, played 2, won 2; Warren, played 7, won 7.

ATHLETES PLAN TO HOLD MEET AT MARYSVILLE

SAC. BEE, 3-17-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), March 17. Negotiations are under way leading up to a monster field meet and baseball tournament in Marysville in April. The chief promoter of the athletic exhibition is the Sacramento Athletic Club, which organization had Captain Lucey in this city Tuesday to take the preliminary steps.

The proposition is to have the meet in the forenoon of a Sunday early in April, and the baseball game in the afternoon of the same day.

Marysville is the home of several members of the Club, so the Sacramento organization does not feel that it is trespassing.

The local High School and the schools in surrounding towns may be induced to take part in the meet.

HANDBALL RESULTS.

Magurre beat Root 21-17. Root beat Magurre 21-20. Magurre beat Root, 21-6. Root beat Magurre, 21-16. Hampton beat Blake, 21-17. Blake beat Hampton, 21-29. Umpire—Kay.

Handball players of the Sacramento Athletic club surprised themselves and everybody else yesterday afternoon, when they practically tied "Midget" Magurre and A. C. Hampton, champions of the Pacific coast, in a series of exhibition games in the Athletic club's handball courts. The court gallery was packed to capacity, and the local players were enthusiastically cheered and urged to do their utmost. No title was involved in the contest.

FIRST SERIES.

The first contest, a series of three games, between Sid Root and "Midget" Magurre, was won by the Olympic club man, who took three of the games. In the second exhibition, Irva Blake, who has lately become a member of the club, opposed Hampton and won one of a series of two games. After the conclusion of the Blake-Hampton match, Root and Magurre again faced each other, and Root took the match, 21 to 16, thus distributing honors even in the series of four. This morning at 11 o'clock the visiting team will oppose Root and Shaw, champions of Northern California, in a double contest.

Magurre started out at a pace that discouraged local sympathizers, for at the outset it looked mighty dark for Root. The San Francisco player ran up a string of seven before Root got in the game. Sid then came on in earnest and ran his score up to about even. They played along pretty even, and finally Root caught up at the fifteenth mark, and it was "up sticks." Root here took the lead and ran ahead two points, but the superior driving of Magurre came to his rescue, and he closed the game 21 to 17.

SECOND IS BEST.

The second game of the series was by far the most interesting and hardest fought match of the entire exhibition. Magurre is unmistakably a player of class. It took only a casual glance to see that. He has a pretty back-hand shift drive, and seems able to place the ball in any section of the board. He understands thoroughly the velocity and rebound of the little sphere, and so is able to keep the ball in action without exertion. On the other hand, Root showed up in unusual style. The big fellow entered the arena at 235, and for his weight covered ground in a remarkable manner. He has an excellent serve, and any advantage gained over his opponent was because of that accomplishment.

Both men opened the second game with a vim, and played hard throughout. Root kept one or two points in the rear, but caught up and tied Magurre at the ninth mark. Magurre again took the lead, and again did Root catch up, and on the same mark as in the first game (fifteen) the players tied. They ran along even until the nineteenth, when Root gained a point, and soon after Magurre also reached the twenty mark. The champion failed to reach a low ball, and Root won, 21 to 20.

The third round found Root utterly exhausted, and he only continued the game because he was urged to by his fellow club members. He could do little, however, and Magurre won, 21 to 6.

ROOT REVIVED, WINS.

A rub-down by Joe Erickson and a good rest brought Root into better shape, and in the fourth game he defeated Magurre 21 to 16.

Blake commenced operations in poor shape, but settled down to an effective gait, and lost the first game, 21 to 17. Hampton appeared every bit as good a player as Magurre, and has the same easy serve and drive. Blake warmed up considerable in the second game and fought a masterly battle to the end, winning by one point. Hampton, like Magurre in the second game of his contest, failed to recover the ball, giving Blake the ball 21 to 20. This made the standings: Root 2, Magurre 2, Blake 1, Hampton 1.

Besides the doubles this morning, one of the visitors will oppose two local men in a game of singles. He will probably have to beat Trainor and Blake, or some other stars. While Magurre is honored with the cognomen "Midget," members of the S. A. C. were at a loss to know where that title came in. "Midget" is nearly six feet tall and weigs 185 to 190 pounds, and looks for all the world like a Hercules or a Sandow.

Bacon and Rittler to Take Lightweights to San Francisco for Game Friday.

PETALUMA WILL BE MET

Sacramento Skips Preliminary Rounds and May Be 1910 Winner of P. A. A. Title.

The Sacramento Athletic club lightweight basketball team has jumped over preliminary play in the great P. A. A. championship and will face the Petaluma lightweight team in the semi-finals in the gymnasium of the Pastime Athletic club in San Francisco Friday night. Manager Frank E. Bacon of the basketball department and Professor Otto Rittler will accompany the team. Should the Sacramento team defeat Petaluma it will qualify for the finals Saturday night and in event the locals are successful in their finals the championship title of the P. A. A. will go to this city.

The committee in charge of the P. A. A. championship has treated Sacramento liberally in this matter, allowing the team to skip all the preliminary rounds and jump right into the semi-finals. Just how strong a team Petaluma has is not known, but it is thought the local team is in every way their equals if not their superiors. With the completion of the semi-finals Friday night about four teams will qualify for the championship and Saturday night the winners will play the finals, thus determining the P. A. A. champions.

Should Sacramento win the finals, each member of the team will receive a medal and the Sacramento Athletic club a beautiful trophy in the form of a cup. Should Petaluma defeat the locals they will be out of the running.

The local team is a strong one and is about the best of its weight in this section of the state. The high school, the Y. M. C. A., the S. A. C. heavies, and others have gone down to defeat before them. McNeeley, Sprague and Erway will act as guards, while the central position will be divided between Luke and Brandon. Lovich, Duke and Cowie will be the forwards. With this line-up the S. A. C. officials fear to face no basketball team of 130 pounds in the state.

Teams from all the leading athletic clubs in the state are or have participated in the championship play and the winner will have every reason to feel proud of the title.

The next event in the roped arena to interest local fans will be the monthly fight card of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Matchmaker Ansel Hoffman has this in hand and promises one of the best cards ever given in this or any other city. There will be all kinds of contests at all kinds of weights and as the lads fight for glory only, they certainly make things hum in the four rounds in which they are in action. Owing to the popular demand and to increase the club's financial status outsiders will be admitted when vouched for by members for a consideration, but only a limited number will be so admitted.

Up to date the fight cards is as follows: McCullock vs. Thompson, 104 pounds; Murry vs. Corey, 110 pounds; Salvadore vs. Lee Muskrat, 118 pounds; Cowie vs. Burns, of Stockton, 125 pounds; Sollers vs. Morena, 140 pounds; Erickson vs. George Greene of Grass Valley, 145 pounds; Holland vs. Dunn, 120 pounds; Kid Steiner vs. Webb of Grass Valley, 140 pounds; Reuben Amacker vs. Nelson, 118 pounds. In addition to these Hoffman has Hooker, DeRosa, Martinez, Gore, Raymond and Silva, for each of whom he expects to obtain antagonists. All of the boys are in training at the club. If the cracks make a good showing they will be taken to the Seattle swat-fest.

Captain Lucey Secures Two Crack Players for Games Saturday and Sunday.

"Midget" Magurre and A. C. Hampton, champion handball team of the Pacific coast and members of the Olympic club, will be seen at the Sacramento Athletic club in exhibition games Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning. The crack players were pusuaded to come to Sacramento to try the mettle of local players by Captain Lucey of the club, who has been in almost constant communication with the players since they won the coast championship from Los Angeles a few weeks ago. No two men on the entire Pacific coast have yet proven more proficient in the sport, and it is with considerable pride that Captain Lucey yesterday announced the successful culmination of his efforts to secure the men for games with club members in this city.

Singles will be played Saturday afternoon with Root, Blake (who has lately joined the club), Tate, Trainor, Yoerk and Wenzel. Doubles will be played Sunday morning, commencing at 11 o'clock, with Root and Shaw, the S. A. C. team that lately won the championship of Northern California by defeating Blake and Trainor.

Ed Kay will act as referee of the Sunday contest and will be ably assisted by Val McClatchy and George Yoerk as umpires and Arthur Delano as scorer. In order that every member of the club that so desires may see the game only so many will be allowed in the court gallery at one time. After a certain period the gallery will be cleared and a new bunch let in. In this way the management hopes to insure impartiality.

"Midget" Magurre, as he is familiarly known to hundreds of athletes all over the coast, is regarded as the most skilled handball player in the West. He has participated in the sport many years and has numerous medals and trophies that without words proclaim his ability as a handball player. His partner, A. C. Hampton, is also a skilled player, but is a new expert in the field and does not yet enjoy such a wide reputation as his illustrious co-player. Authorities, however, say he bids fair to be the successor to "Midget," and undoubtedly when Magurre retires from the game Hampton will fall into his much-coveted position in the sporting world. Only members will be allowed to witness the contest.

TURNERS BID JOHN SCHENK FAREWELL

SAC. UN. — 3-17-10

Members Present Retiring Master With Token of Esteem and Welcome Successor.

John Schenk, for many years turning master of the Sacramento Turn Verein, retired from that position last night and gave way to Charles Wagner of Pittsburg. Hundreds of the members of the prominent German societies gathered in the gymnasium to bid farewell to the old master and to welcome the new. Mr. Schenk (or "John," as he is known to many of the men, women and children of this city) resigned from the position he has filled so capably these many years to go on the vaudeville stage with an acrobatic troupe organized by himself and Monte Newbert.

CLASS PERFORMS.

The reception and farewell was in the form of a gymnastic exhibition by members of the men's class, and immediately after the floor was cleared and dancing indulged in until a late hour.

The farewell address of Mr. Schenk was at times pathetic, and as he addressed his many friends and pupils for the last time it was difficult for him to control his voice and express his thoughts, so reluctant was he to give up the friends and surroundings that have grown so familiar to him through long years of association. He lined up the members of all his classes, starting with the men and ending with the little tots, and in a few fitting words told them that he was to leave them and urged upon them the necessity of treating their new master with the same attention and respect they had always shown him. He bade them farewell, and as the last words fell from his lips the pupils raised their voices and cheered lustily the instructor they had known so long and liked so well.

PRESENTED WITH TOKEN.

Charles Schmidt, acting for the society, presented Mr. Schenk with a beautiful gold chain and locket, a token of esteem from the members of the popular organization. Feelingly Mr. Schenk thanked the Turners and then Mr. Wagner, the new instructor, was called and introduced.

Mr. Wagner is a graduate of the Turners normal in Milwaukee and has had six years' experience. He comes to the Turners highly recommended and will undoubtedly have little difficulty in filling the position efficiently. An interesting performance on the parallel bars, horse, and acrobatic exhibition by the Schenk family preceded the presentation.

S. A. C. HOST OF CHAMPIONS TODAY

SAC. UN. — 3-19-10

Handball Experts Will Play With Local Teams Today and Sunday.

The Sacramento Athletic club will today be the host of the Pacific coast handball champion, "Midget" Magurre and A. C. Hampton, who are coming from San Francisco to test the ability of local players. The distinguished athletes will be entertained by the club and housed in the Hotel Sacramento. They will give exhibition contests this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, and tomorrow morning, commencing at 11 o'clock.

A committee from the club, consisting of President Walter Bassett, Handball Commissioner Delano, County Assessor Edward Kay and others, will meet the champions at the train and will escort them through the streets of the city in automobiles, after which they will take lunch at the Hotel Sacramento and then proceed to the club, where the singles will be played with the club's star players.

In the evening the players will be taken to some local theater and in various other ways entertained by members of the club. Sunday morning a double contest will be played with Shaw and Root, champion of Northern California, on the opposing end. The athletes will then return to San Francisco.

Magurre and Hampton are not only the handball champions of the Pacific coast, but are recognized as one of the best teams in the United States. They have been in many important contests and have numerous victories to their credit. They are members of the Olympic club.

PLENTY ATHLETES FOR ARBUCKLE SUNDAY

SAC. BEE. 3-18-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

ARBUCKLE (Colusa Co.), March 18. The fans of Arbuckle and vicinity will enjoy a double attraction here Sunday. Manager Hall of the Athletic Club and Manager Whybark of the baseball team have scheduled events to take place at Balfour Park Sunday afternoon. One plans a track meet with the Esparto Athletic Club and the other a ball game with the Williams team.

Manager Hall is holding the track meet to get a line on the available material for the big field day which is to be held here with the Sacramento Athletic Club on April 24th. As yet his team has done but little practicing and if the Yolo County team take the meet it will not be a surprise.

The ball game with the Williams team will be the first of the season. Forderhase, who last Sunday pitched for Orland and let the Willows Giants down with but four hits, will be on the mound for the locals, with Gillaspie as his catcher.

"Scotty" McLean of Sutter City, who this week has been trying out with the Stockton State Leaguers, will play short for the locals and "Tiny" Poorman will cover the third sack. The rest of the team will be local boys.

Ben Gallup of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who lately was signed up by Manager Whybark, will probably not be seen in the local line-up, as the position that was secured for him here did not suit him and he has returned to Sacramento.

Heilerman and Culbertson, both of Sacramento, will do the battery work for the Williams aggrgeation.

FIFTEEN EVENTS ON FRIDAY'S CARD

Thirteen Boxing Bouts and Two Wrestling Matches Make Record Card.

SAC. UN. — 3-23-10

The biggest amateur card ever staged by the Sacramento Athletic club and probably the biggest even seen in this city has been arranged by Matchmaker Hoffman, and will be staged next Friday evening, March 25. There will be thirteen three-round bouts and two wrestling matches. Barr, the Marysville demon, refused to meet Billy Gore of S. A. C., saying that he was too heavy for Gore. Bill is not worrying about weight and is extremely anxious to get a crack at Barr.

The following will act as officials Friday evening: Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron, judges; William Murry and James Gray, timers; Jack Donnelly and Charles Swallenberg, referees. Following is the complete card:

TO PLAY HANDBALL FOR S. A. C. MEDALS

SAC. BEE — 3-23-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will hold a handball tourney beginning April 3d, at which medals will be awarded to the victors, who will also be known as the club champions. It is planned to have a silver award for the best individual player and a bronze medal for the second best. The tourney will be under regular tournament rules.

Shaw and Root stand as the champions for a team, with Tate and Wenzel as next best. Blake and Trainor are good players, and will be ready to make a hard try for the medals. The club has a number of good players, which promises much interest in the coming events.

Handball is now one of the chief features of sports at the club. When it was organized less than a year ago not half of the members could play the game, but now practically all the club members are handball players.

HANDBALL CHAMPS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP

Easily Defeat S. A. C. in Singles and Doubles—Maguire May Be World's Champion.

SAC. UN. — 3-21-10

Magurre and Hampton, Pacific coast handball champions, quit toying with Sacramento experts yesterday in the Sacramento Athletic club and settled down to earnest playing, easily winning every game they engaged in. That the San Francisco men did not play their best Saturday was apparent yesterday, for they displayed extraordinary ability, which to the most enlightened layman branded them as experts at the game.

The big match, a double contest between the visitors and Root and Shaw of the S. A. C., was won handily by the visitors, 21-11 and 21-19. Despite the fact that Root took two of the four singles Saturday afternoon, he could not make effective inroads into the Olympic clubmen's play, and even with the able assistance of Shaw, the local boys were easily defeated.

OLYMPICS WIN SINGLE.

Besides the double contest singles were played, and in these the San Francisco men were victorious. Magurre engaged in a game with Blake and beat him 21 to 11. Hampton did for Harrison Tate 21-17 and 21-1.

After the competitive exhibitons were dispensed with the champions gave an exhibition with the hard ball, in the new court, which was rushed to completion yesterday. The new court has a double wall and also a double floor and is said to be one of the best on the coast. Magurre won the game, 21 to 20.

F. E. Bacon acted as referee of the contests, Yoerk and Rose, judges, and Macgregor, umpire.

There is probably no other man in all the United States that has more right to try for the championship of the world than "Midget" Magurre.

The management of the Olympic club has been endeavoring for some time to get a match for Magurre with the present world's champion, Mr. Dunn of Brooklyn, and think that they will succeed this summer. Several handball players, who have seen both men play, pick Magurre as the winner. Should he defeat Dunn in the championship match, the title will then come to California, a state that has never yet had the honor of the championship.

MAGURRE A CHAMPION.

Magurre has all the requirements of a handball player. Build, weight, strength, foot work, ability to serve and drive, and all other necessary qualities only combined in a champion. His playing is said to resemble closely that of retired World's Champion Egan, who was never beaten in a championship game, and like Jeffries of the prize ring, retired undefeated. Some admirers even went so far as to say there never was a man on earth that could beat Dunn at his favorite pastime, and they were evidently right, for none were found who could wrest the honors from the champion.

Though there may never be another Egan of handball, at the same time there will be many near his class, and those who know the X Y Z's of the sport pick Magurre as the next champion of the world.

CHAMPIONS DEFEAT HANDBALL STARS OF S. A C.

SAC. BEE. 3-21-10

"Midget" Magurre and A. C. Hampton, handball champions of the Pacific Coast, were the winners yesterday in the handball games at the Sacramento Athletic Club, taking contests away from the local boys in such fashion that they showed themselves to be in a class of their own, despite the fact that on Saturday the local players practically tied them.

The Coast champions took the principal contest, the double against Sid Root and Clarence Shaw, champions of Northern California, by a score of 21 to 11 and 21 to 19. The local boys were active as could be, but the Olympic Club fellows easily proved their superiority.

Magurre plays with such class that those who saw him here declare that he stands in line to take the world's championship at handball.

F. E. Bacon was referee of yesterday's games, Yoerk and Rose, judges, and Macgregor, umpire.

The Saturday's results were as follows: Magurre beat Root 21-17. Root beat Magurre 21-20. Magurre beat Root, 21-6. Root beat Magurre, 21-16. Hampton beat Blake, 21-17. Blake beat Hampton, 21-29.

S. A. G. STRONG MAN

Among the original and interesting athletic features that will be offered at the Sacramento Athletic club's masked ball on April 1, will be a "strong man" act by C. T. Hintz. Like other strong men Mr. Hintz breaks nails in twain, twists horseshoes into all sorts of fantastic shapes, and lifts weights it would necessitate almost three ordinary men to budge. He is not the rigid muscle sort of person but has a vice-like grip, and for his size is considered a marvel for might.

Costumes will be here in a day or so. The other details of the affair are well in hand, and if necessary the masquerare could be produced tomorrow night.

BIG FIGHT FEAST FOR S. A. C. BOYS

SAC. BEE. — 3-23-10

Thirteen three-round boxing bouts and two wrestling matches are on the program for the Sacramento Athletic Club's big amateur card Friday even- Matchmaker Hoffman has arranged the matches as evenly as possible to make all of them good goes.

The officials will be Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron, judges; William Murry and James Gray, timers; Jack Donnelly and Charles Swallenberg, referees.

The card is as follows:

Murray, S. A. C., vs. Lorey, unattached, 110 pounds.

TO PLAY FOR HANDBALL TITLE OF ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. UN. — 3-23-10

Another handball tournament is about to be commenced at the Sacramento Athletic club, and this time the individual championship will be determined. The tourney commences April 3d, and will be governed by regular tournament rules. A silver medal will be awarded to the winner of the tournament, and that person will also be known as the champion of the club. A bronze medal will also go to the player finishing second.

There are several clever players in the club, and it is likely that the competition will be most keen. Shaw and Root compose the championship team, and Tate and Wenzel are the second best. The members of another team, Blake and Trainor, are to be considered seriously in the tourney. Besides these distinguished players, there are a host of others who will enter the contest and make close races for the semi-finals and finals.

ATTRACTIVE LIST OF S.A.C. FIGHTS

SAC. STAR. 3-24-10

Matchmaker Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club has arranged what has the appearances of an attractive card for the club's monthly fight show to be given Friday night. Fifteen events are staged. Several visitors from outside cities will make their bow. Several who have been in previous shows will be seen in action again. The following have been matched:

Salvadore, S. A. C., vs. Lee Muskrat, unattached, 118 pounds.

WOULD AGAIN TRY FOR HANDBALL TITLE

SAC. BEE — 3-24-10

It is likely that there will soon be another set of handball games for the championship of Sacramento, for it is understood the vanquished in the recent set at the Sacramento Athletic Club are not satisfied with the result. Should it not be possible to bring the four who played together in a special set they will meet automatically in the tournament commenced by the Athletic Club anyway, and therefore will have another chance to decide the championship.

It will be remembered Clarence Shaw and Sid Root beat Irva Blake and William Trainor two games out of three.

Speaking of the contest Blake says: "There was nothing to it in the first game. We had a good lively ball and played well around Root and Shaw. But in the second game the cover began to come off the ball and it developed a set of ears and Trainor nor I could ever play with a ball with ears. We fell down. A 5-year-old kid with an eary ball could beat me. In the third game they got another ball but it was as dead as a doughnut and we couldn't do anything on the serve. There is no doubt and our records show that we should have beaten Shaw and Root."

Before the Sacramento Athletic Club was reorganized and the best handball players of the city performed in the Y. M. C. A. court, Blake and Trainor could beat Shaw and Root almost any time they got together. But the victors have had more experience and play a clever game in the big S. A. C. courts, where long drives count for more than speed.

ARBUCKLE MEET TO BE HUMMER

(The Bee's Special Service.)

YUBA CITY (Sutter Co.), March 30.—Captain Lucey, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, was in this city yesterday conferring with Alvin Gates, the local representative of the Club, relative to the big field meet to be held at West Side Park in this city on Sunday, April 10th. Civil Engineer L. B. Crook, of Marysville, has been engaged to stake out the track and it will be put into the finest of condition for the meet, which promises to attract more attention than any athletic event held in Northern California in years.

Athletes from all the surrounding cities have applied for an entrance and this will make the meet one of an extremely interesting nature. Among the many events to be held during the day there will be a Marathon race that will cover a distance in Yuba City and Marysville and a handsome new cup will be awarded to the winner.

BRANCH COMMISSION OF P. A. A. AWARDED TO SACRAMENTO

This City to Become Headquarters of Athletics in Northern California Through Efforts of P. A. A. Delegate Macgregor; Biggest Bo ost Ever Given Amateur Sports in This Section of State.

SAC. UN. 3-25-10

By HARRY R. GIMBAL.

Through the efforts of P. A. A. Delegate H. M. Macgregor of the Sacramento Athletic club, Sacramento has been awarded a branch commission of the great amateur athletic governing body, and will soon be the headquarters of amateur athletics in the entire northern portion of California. Never before in the history of this section of the state have athletics been given a bigger boost, and if the present rate of progress is maintained, before many years Northern California will be on an equal basis, athletically, with Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, and equally as important in the sporting world as St. Louis, Pittsburg, Chicago, and other enthusiastic athletic cities in the East.

A meeting of the Western representatives of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States was held in San Francisco Wednesday, and Mr. Macgregor laid his proposition before the officials, with the result that a unanimous vote was cast in favor of granting Sacramento a branch commission. Even better than that, the officials went farther, and pledger themselves to recommend to the national body that Sacramento be created an independent territory, just like Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Portland, within a year, providing this section of the state shows itself willing and capable of properly supporting such a body.

MACGREGOR AS CHAIRMAN.

Delegate Macgregor was appointed chairman of the Sacramento branch commission, and was authorized to appoint four assistants, to be known as P. A. A. commissioners, and to work with him in all matters pertaining to the functions of the commission. Within a few weeks the officials will be appointed and steps taken to organize the entire northern portion of the state into a strong central body. The great importance and benefit received from athletics in the East and in Europe is due to organization, and of the few organizations in existence the Amateur Athletic union, of which the Pacific Athletic association is but the Western branch, stands first among such bodies in the known world.

The aim of this commission will be similar to the aim of branches already in existence on the Pacific cost. The main aim will be to foster amateur athletics in all sections, and to form new clubs under the supervision of the P. A. A. in every city and town in Northern California not already having such an organization. The commissioners will personally canvass all sections and endeavor to create a desire for organization that will benefit the merchant and farmer, as well as growing youth.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS LEAGUE.

Another aim of the commission, and one that is so vast in its scope that it is almost impossible to describe it with justice, is the formation of a Public Schools league, to embrace every grammar and primary school in Northern California, but principally those within cities and towns. The plan has been carried out with flattering success in San Francisco and other metropolitan cities, and one acknowledged result has been the augmentation of the standard of scholarship. Briefly, the scheme is this: The teachers and principals of the public schools are interested in the matter and a club is formed within the school. Other schools form clubs, and each school has a representative, who meets with a commissioner of the P. A. A. in what is known as the Public Schools league.

At different times field and track meets are held. Each school has its team and colors, and the winners are awarded regular P. A. A. medals. No athlete can become a member of the team without being physically capable and up to a certain standard in studies. The teachers have supervising charge of the clubs in their respective schools and attend to all matters, such as the entering of athletes, etc. The P. A. A. sets the date for the meet, exclusively handles the meet, awards medals, settles disputes, and directs the movements of the league. No student can become a member of a team or participate in the meet without the sanction of the teacher in whose charge he is placed in school.

HELP TO TEACHERS.

In this way the boys take a great deal more interest in their studies, particularly if they are interested in athletics, and, as most boys of grammar school age are, the league thus works a great benefit, and is a wonderful help to teachers, and may well be used as a threat to incite the student to do his best.

After the commission is well organized, this proposition of a Public Schools league will be taken up. The board of education of this city will be asked to sanction the movement, and a meeting of all teachers and principals will be called, and the commission will then lay their proposition before them and secure their cooperation in the movement.

COMMISSION'S JURISDICTION.

The commission in this city will have jurisdiction over every team registered under the P. A. A. in Northern California, and teams not registered in the P. A. A. cannot participate in official amateur events, and their records count for nothing. In fact, they are utterly unrecognized, and occupy much the same position as outlaws do to the baseball organization. It will be in the province of the local commission to settle all disputes, pass upon all matters athletically, and, in fact, do everything the San Francisco commission has hitherto transacted. And within a year, if this section of the state shows itself able and willing to handle the matter properly, the national body will be petitioned by the San Francisco officials to create an independent and distinct territory. The benefits to be derived from a distinct territory here and a complete organization throughout Northern California are almost beyond comprehension, but will have the result of eventually placing this section of the state upon an equal basis with all other divisions of the Pacific coast.

SACRAMENTO WILL HEAD THIS SECTION IN P. A. A.

SAC. STAR 3-25-10

At the recnt meeting of the P. A. A. in San Francisco, Sacramento was awarded the Northern California branch of the association. The awarding of the branch was largely through the efforts of H. M. McGregor, delegate from the Sacramento Athletic Club. This will place Sacramento on an athletic equal with San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and other Pacific Coast cities.

The branch at Sacramento will practically control all athletics in Northern California. It will be the aim of the branch to create athletic activities throughout the northern part of the state. In addition a movement towards the establishment of a public school league will be made. The Sacramento branch will have under its jurisdiction all of the P. A. A. teams in Northern California. All disputes will be settled and in a measure Sacramento will head the athletic interests of the north half of the state.

SACRAMENTO CHOSEN SITE OF P.A.A. MEET

SAC. UN. — 3-25-10

Great Athletic Event Will Be Held Here During State Fair This Summer.

MANY ATHLETES WILL COME

This City Must Show Commission Meet Can Be Handled and There Are Grounds.

As a direct result of the securing of a branch commission of the Pacific Athletic association in this city to have jurisdiction over all sections of Northern California, the San Francisco commission at a meeting Wednesday voted to show their goodwill toward this section of the state by choosing Sacramento as the site of the 1910 P. A. A. track and field meet. There is a proviso, however, inserted in the commission's proposal and that is, that the meet will be held here providing Sacramento can show the commission that there are suitable grounds and that this city is able to handle such an important amateur athletic event.

It is planned to hold the meet here during the state fair and the matter will be taken up as soon as the local commission is organized. The best athletes on the Pacific coast are members of the P. A. A., and at the least three hundred of them would be sent here to participate in the events. Not alone would this be a great boost for Sacramento, but it would establish for all time the standing of Northern California as a center of athletics. It would be the greatest athletic event ever held in this section of the state and would eclipse anything similar yet promoted in conjunction with the state fair. Over 2000 athletes are registered in the P. A. A. on the Pacific coast, and the cream of them would come to Sacramento to take part in the meet.

All that now rests with Sacramento is to go ahead under a strong cooperative body and force the city government to grant us an athletic stadium. The greatest athletic event on the Pacific coast will be awarded to this city if it shows a disposition to insure a proper handling of it. Every athletic team in Northern California having a membership in the P. A. A. is eligible to compete in the event, and a medal won in such an event is worth a hundred awarded in petty meets.

The San Francisco officials assured Delegate MacGregor that they were most heartily back of the growing spirit in Northern California, which tends to uplift amateur athletics. They recommended that as a starter a track and field meet be held in Sacramento and participated in by all the cities in Northern California, and that after the meet a banquet be held, at which every team will have a representative, and that the purpose of the meeting and banquet be to talk over athletics in all their phases and institute steps for the carrying out of the plan of the commission.

The San Francisco officials promised to back the matter by coming up here with several prominent athletic authorities, among whom will probably be Sidney Pixotto, who is devoting his life to the promotion and uplifting of the school boys by clean, beneficial athletics.

To Lead Parade at S. A. C. Ball

The parade of athletes at the Sacramento Athletic club's grand masquerade ball, on April 1st, will be led by Ben Durning, one of the best baton manipulators on the Pacific coast. The pageant will be made up to represent every branch of athletics, and will undoubtedly prove of great interest to the big crowd that is expected to congregate in the old pavilion. Durning will also participate in Indian club passing.

Costumes for the masquerade arrived yesterday, and the official costumer will be established in Hotel Sacramento today. The costumer has hundreds of clean costumes, and will rent them for the night at a nominal price.

The athletic parade will commence at 8 p. m. sharp, and continue for two hours. Immediately thereafter the maskers will have the floor, and will be in charge until 12 o'clock.

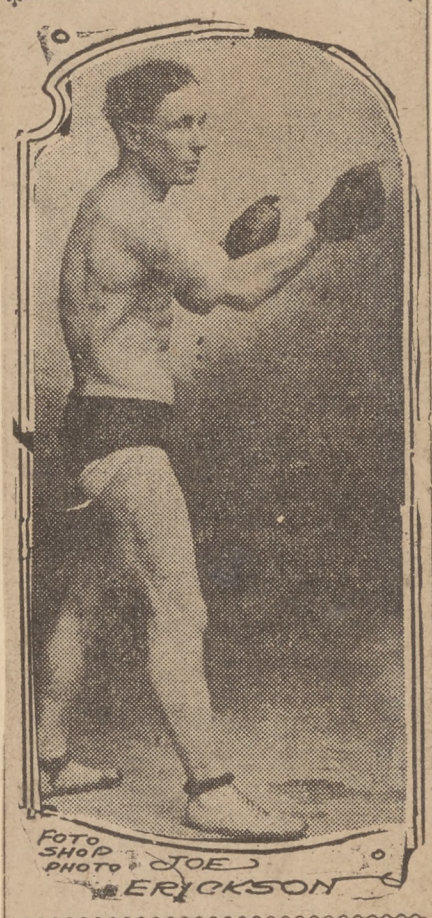
On S. A. C. Card



S. A. C. BIG BOXING CARD ON TONIGHT

Thirteen Bouts and Three Wrestling Matches Will Make Up Record Show.

What will probably be the biggest amateur boxing card ever staged in this city will be put on tonight at the Sacramento Athletic club, for the benefit of the members. Sixteen events in all, including three wrestling matches, will make up the card. At the last moment Matchmaker Hoffman received word from San Francisco that he could get a clever boxer from that city, and he will be put on with Da Rosa, the local demon. It was at first planned to put Silva against Da Rosa, but now Silva will be matched with some other boy.

The main event will be between Cowie and Burns of Stockton, while Joe Erickson will face George Green of Grass Valley. Following is the card, which may necessarily have to be changed at the last moment:

AMATEUR CARD OF FIGHTS BELOW STANDARD

SAC. BEE. 3-26-10

Joe Erickson's one-round knockout of George Green, a doughty Briton from Grass Valley, was the only thriller of an otherwise slow card of amateur bouts at the regular monthly fightfest of the Sacramento Athletic Club held last night. The card had produced nothing very bright from the first bout to almost the end, when Erickson awoke the drowsy spectators by stowing Green away in thirty seconds of fighting.

The usual large crowd of club members was on hand to witness the bouts and wanted to wax enthusiastic, but to little avail. The bout between Holland of the S. A. C. and Dunn of Company E was about the best of the evening, Holland outpointing Dunn in clever fashion.

Cowie Loses to Burns.

Supplemented with several wrestling bouts at the start, the night's entertainment drifted along until midnight, but the crowd stayed in expectation of seeing something worth while in the main event between Cowie of the Sacramento Club and Burns of Stockton. Cowie made a poor showing against the lad he once before had knocked out, and was easily outpointed by Burns.

Thompson faced McCullough in the first bout of the evening, and although the smaller of the two won the decision after three rounds of going. Murray won from Lorey in the second bout, but through the kindness of the judges, whose decision was considerably out of plumb.

Happy Dougherty, the pride of the Southside, was withdrawn from the ring by his handlers after going a round with Guthrie of the S. A. C. One of Dougherty's handlers became abusive and had to be escorted from the hall by officers. They refused to let their protege go on with the bout, and Guthrie got the decision on a forfeit.

Ralph Sollars' windpipes gave out in his fight with Marino, and the latter got the decision. Both fighters went to the floor for the count several times. The Hooker-Martinez bout was stopped by Referee Sollenberg because Hooker had no show with his larger opponent, although he put up a game scrap. Hooker weighs but 115 pounds, but consented to meet Martinez, who fights at 122. Hooker hales from Marysville.

Da Roza, who hung a sleep-bestower on Silva in a previols battle had to fight four rounds to gain a decision last night with the same boy. Considerable interest was taken in the Salvatore-Muskrat Lee bout. The boys fought hard, but Salvatore had the lead by a good margin.

One-Round Erickson.

The dropping of Green of Grass Valley by Joe Erickson was the only knockout of the evening. Erickson struck but three blows. The first went wide, but the next two, a right and left to the jaw sent Green off his pins and to the floor. Green's head hit with a fearful thump on the floor and he was too dazed to get on his feet again. When he recovered he asked for a return fight next month.

Some very clever wrestling preceded the fights. O'Connor in two straight falls won "the championship of California" from McCullough. The heavyweight championship of the S. A. C. was won by Eames over Reynolds. Combs won from Zillaux, but was later defeated by O'Connor.

SPORTING LIFE 3-26-10

The only knockout bout of the evening at the Sacramento Athletic Club last night was between Joe Erickson, the pride of the club and George Green of Grass Valley, the latter going out in the first round of thirty seconds of fighting.

The go between Dunn of Company E, and Holland of he S. A. C. was the fastest of the evening, the latter getting the decision.

Burns of Stockton got the decision over Cowie of the S. A. C. as did Marino vs. "Schlitz" Sollars in their bout.

Lee Muskrat showed up well against Salvador, but lost the decision by a narrow margin. The bout between Murry and Lorey at 110 pounds was a poor decision, Murray winning.

"Cyclone" Roy Thompson had to go an extra round with McCulloch in their fight. Thompson won easily in the first and second rounds by big margins and had a shade in the third. The last was so much in his favor that the judges awarded him the decision.

The fight between Young Hooker of Marysville and Kid Martinez was stopped in the second round. Hooker was substituted for Johnny West of Stockton who failed to put in an appearance.

In the wrestling bouts Ralph Emes beat Reynolds in one minute and forty-five seconds. Combs ended Carl Jillaux in the third bout and was in turn defeated by O'Connor, who won from McCullogh for the championship at 130 pounds.

Coroner Will Be Regular "Cut Up" at Big Mask Ball

WILLIAM F. GORMLEY,
Who will be a merry masker on April 1st.

Gormley, Like Others, Is Getting in Line For the Fun

Even an undertaker has to have a good time sometimes, but who would believe that "Bill" Gormley, the County Coroner, would "cut up" like this?

It will be worth the price of admission to the mask ball of the Sacramento Athletic Club on April 1st to see him. He is one of the Directors of the club.

Goldstein, costumer of San Francisco, will open a branch department in the Hotel Sacramento for the convenience of those who wish costumes for the ball.

Goldstein's reputation as a costumer and provider of unique, original and clever character dresses is well known and is sufficient guarantee of satisfactory results.

Great interest is being shown on all sides in the coming ball, spaces are being rapidly taken up for set scenes and comic effects, and the Committees on Arrangements are confident that the affair will exceed in interest and splendor any ever previously held in this city.

SINGLES HANDBALL TOURNEY AT CLUB

SAC. BEE. 3-26-10

A singles handball tournament will soon be started at the Sacramento Athletic Club in connection with the doubles series it is expected to begin shortly. By this tournament it will be possible to decide which is the champion individual player in the game. Irva Blake, who has held the local singles title for a number of years, is among those signed up for the singles sets.

GRAND PAGEANT TO PRECEDE THE CLUB MASQUERADE

SAC. BEE. 3-29-10.

CITY CLERK MIKE DESMOND
as a Spanish Cavalier.

An athletic carnival followed by a grand mask ball, all for the price of one admission, is offered by the Program Committee of the Sacramento Athletic Club for the big April 1st function to be held at the Old Pavilion. An athletic pageant in which will be illustrated every branch of sport known to this country, will be the curtain raiser and following this will be some very clever athletic stunts such as pyramid work, statues, wrestling, boxing and juggling.

The Program Committee promises that this particular feature will alone be worth the price of admission and besides that they are offering the mask ball, an event they say will rival those of the old Sacramento Athletic Club days.

City Clerk Mike Desmond will be there with many other dignitaries. No one ever hinted to the genial city officer that he was a Spanish cavalier, but the costumer will work many wonders even with one's nationality.

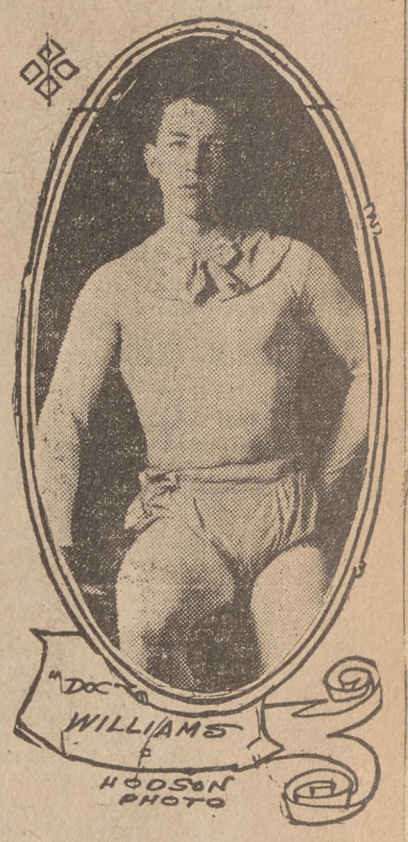
S. A. C. Masquerade Ball Performer



Doc Williams, a former professional single trapeze performer of great ability and now a business man and a member of the Sacramento Athletic club, will again resume his old life for a few minutes on the evening of April 1 at the athletic club's big annual masquerade ball. Mr. Williams has been practicing of late on some old stunts he used to perform with ease and promises a good performance Friday evening. He is a star performer on Professor Otto Rittler's gigantic athletic show card which will be run in connection with the grand masquerade ball.

The rarity of the athletic bill in store for those that attend the masquerade ball is in a sense betrayed by the program, which is as follows:

Single trapeze, Doc Williams; slack wire artist, J. Gimberling; heavyweight lifting, bending sixty-penny nails and breaking horseshoes, Charles T. Hintze; wrestling, L. O'Connors vs. J. Phillips, Emes vs. Prof. Dyreborg; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; novelty juggling, Ben Durning; Chinese pyramids, Fat Gray, Bah-can, Pearl, Ah Knight, Sprahgua, Er Way, Hoot Man, Hintz Pickles, Bee Dee, Co-Wey, Beard-Slee, McCulloch, also a Chinaman, Saw Bar-Ber, Kro-mer, More-Stung, O'Connor, Prof. Ritt-Ler, and the Royal Imperial Chinese band; fancy bag-punching, Gus Storez; Indian-club passing race, S. A. C. football team vs. picked team from Chinatown; solo, "Wandering Cowboy," Prof. W. Johnson; fancy club juggling, Kleinsorge, Russell, Holten; novelty rope skipping act, A. Pape; comedy boxing bout, Mickey O'Sollars vs. Schlitz Hoffman, Dead-Eye Johnson, referee; statuary posing, a study in black and white, L. O'Connor, W. Dyreborg, R. Emes, R. Barber, F. Bacon, C. Hintz and Prof. Rittler.

Wrestlers to Appear in S. A. C. Mask Ball April 1

Wrestling is comparatively a new sport in Sacramento, but is catching on rapidly and promising to become well rooted before long. Under the able direction of Professor Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic club a number of athletes are being rapidly developed. Some of them will be sent to other cities this summer and matched in open meets.

The six wrestlers above will put on an exhibition in the athletic club show at the annual masquerade ball to be held in the Old Pavilion on the evening of April 1. Reading from left to right in the bottom row are J. W. Phillips, W. Dyreborg and L. O'Connor. In the top row from left to right are Edward Willmunder, J. Emes and R. Reynolds.

S. A. C. ANNUAL MASQUERADE IS SUCCESS

Three Thousand People Witness Great Athletic Exhibition and Enjoy Dance.

GRAND PARADE IS FEATURE

Three thousand people crowded the Old Pavilion last night, a majority in costume and a goodly number in evening dress, and helped the Sacramento Athletic club celebrate it's birthday with one of the grandest occasions of its kind ever given in this city. Previous celebrations of like nature given by the club years ago were made to look insignificant beside the entertainment and masquerade last night.

Unlike most affairs of a similar nature, there was little delay. The able management of the participants in the grand athletic show by Professor Otto Rittler was in a great measure responsible for the promptness with which each number was carried out.

GOOD DECORATIONS.

With a setting, the like of which has never before been seen in this city, thousands of merry masqueraders held high revelry until a late hour. The spectators' seats were jammed and crowded to their utmost capacity, and every inch of space in the hall was occupied by a greater number than under ordinary conditions would have been comfortable.

At 8:30 the grand entree of King James I and Queen Sue, king and queen of the carnival, took place. The king and queen, in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Grey, were preceded by the board of directors and the committee of arrangements. Following this division came the attendants of the queen in the persons of six little girls in elaborate costumes. Then the stately king and queen came next, and carrying their gorgeous trains were four boy pages in suitable costumes.

The members of the royal court, the directors and committeemen and their ladies, marched down one side of the hall and came down the center where they halted, forming two lines facing each other, through which the king and queen and attendants passed to the throne where they were seated. The directors and committeemen then formed in order and took seats at both sides of the throne. "Ned Greenway" Yardley was the able manager of this, the grandest sight of the evening.

CARNIVAL IS GREAT.

The athltic carnival then began.

Never, perhaps, have the people of Sacramento witnessed a more complete athletic carnival than that given last night by members of the club. That there is extraordinary material in the club was clearly shown, and the able manner in which all performed their stunts reflects credit upon the management in obtaining such competent men to handle the various departments.

The parade of athletes, representing practically every branch of amateur sports, was the most noteworthy happening of the evening. It was complete and could not possibly have been improved, and for those reasons was accorded tremendous applause by the extensive audience. Ben Durning of San Francisco led the parade as a drum major. He performed with the baton as drum majors usually do, and showed himself to be a skilled manipulator of the instrument.

The parade was led by a drum corps and then came the athletes representing the different sports. Noticeable among the divisions was that representing rowing. The rowers carried a long red shell and oars, and easily stood out one of the most unique get-ups of the evening.

CHINESE PYRAMIDS.

The Chinese pyramids, in part two of the program, were the most laughable exhibitions of the evening. The boys taking off the Chinese, of which there were about twenty, were well trained, and their funny antics won thunders of applause from the spectators. Fancy bag punching by Gus Storz, champion of the world, attracted much attention, and all voted Mr. Storz the best bag puncher they had ever seen. The comedy boxing bout, between Mickey Sollars and Kid Schlitz Hoffman, created a lot of giggling and applause. Joe Erickson, pride of the club, met George Green of Grass Valley in a friendly bout. The work of Doc Williams on the single trapeze, Gimberling on the slack wire, and Rittler and Gimberling in an acrobatic act, were all good numbers. Charles Hintz, the heavyweight lifter, gained much applause. The statuary poses, a study in black and white, were received with great satisfaction. The fancy club passing act was a good one and is fully up to the standard of professional performances of that sort.

Professor William Johnson surprised everybody by filling the immense hall with the strains of his melodious voice. His friends learned for the first time that he could sing well as well as box well.

SALE OF LIQUOR AT MASQUERADE CAUSES TROUBLE

SAC. BEE. 4-2-10

S. A. C. May Be Prosecuted For Running Barroom Last Night

Barrels of beer were sold over the bar at the masquerade of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Old Pavilion last night like the old times before the raid of the Law and Order League on Dick McCredie's party put a stop to the New Year's Eve masked celebrations where the sale of beer was always a feature of controlling importance.

Finding themselves under heavy obligations in the management of the organization, the Directors adopted as a means of making money the expedient of selling beer in connection with the affair.

An attempt was made to shelter this proceeding from the law which forbids the sale of liquor without a license by making the barroom ostensibly a department for the accommodation of members only. Beer was not a nickel a glass, as at a saloon, but on the contrary it was only delivered over the bar on presentation of a printed ticket. These tickets were sold among the club members, and outsiders were obliged to procure tickets for their drinks from club members. This red tape was considered necessary in order to furnish the management with the excuse that it was in the same boat with the Sutter Club and the Douglas Improvement Club.

Looking Up the Law.

Whether the club, by taking these pains, succeeded in keeping clear of a violation of the law is a matter that City Attorney Hart is just now looking up.

Then another point of law involved is whether a club has a right to serve liquor to its own members anywhere else than on its own premises. If City Attorney Hart finds that the Sacramento Athletic Club failed to keep within the law, the Sacramento Athletic Club, or George Newbert, the actual manager of the barroom last night, will probably be prosecuted by the Chief of Police.

No liquor is allowed on the premises of the Sacramento Athletic Club. This is supposed to be one of the cardinal principles of the organization, and is dwelt upon with emphasis when the club goes into the field for new members.

Kept Chief in Dark.

Permission was not asked of the Chief of Police for the sale of liquor at the affair last night. A Committee, consisting of W. W. Bassett, W. F. Gormley and Ed Dalton, called upon the Chief yesterday and asked him to station officers at the hall in order to make sure that no undesirable citizens slipped in. All the maskers were obliged to reveal their features to the officers, so that none with a police record should be admitted.

But this Committee gave no intimation to the Chief that the sale of liquor was in contemplation. Sergeant Pennish, Policemen Becker, Balsz and Kripp were on duty at the hall, but, having been posted there by the Chief, they probably got the notion that the beer garden had his approval and consequently they made no effort to put a stop to it.

Chief of Police Ahern stated emphatically this morning that if it had been advertised that beer was to be on tap or if he had been notified of that fact, he would not have allowed it to proceed.

TO ENTER TOURNAMENT.

S. NEWS. 2-6-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club teams won the championship in both the heavyweight and lightweight classes and have developed such an admirable class of play that Prof. Rettler has decided to enter teams in the tournament to be given under the auspices of the Pacific Coast Amateur Association in both classes. This tournament begins February 24th. In the meantime a challenge has been received from Stockton which will be accepted and a team will go to that city to play the representatives of that place on Washington's Birthday. It is probable that the teams from the inland cities will compete against each other before going to the Bay for the final games.

LADIES' BOXING NIGHT.

On the 17th inst. it is proposed to give a ladies' night with a program of boxing, wrestling, dumbbell drill and other athletic work so that the wives and sweethearts of members may see just what they have to go through after they fall into the clutches of Professor Rittler. The card under preparation for this event will be an excellent one and will prove very interesting to the guests present.

SERVED BEER AT THE MASQUE BALL

STAR APR 24

S. A. C. OFFICERS ADMIT 'TWAS MISTAKE, BUT GAVE EXCUSE 'TWAS DONE TO RESCUE ORGANIZATION.

Considerable comment was rife today concerning the selling of liquor last night at the masque ball of the Sacramento Athletic Club in the Old Pavilion. The liquor was sold contrary to law, as the officers of the club admitted today. The excuse given was that the club was away below the surface in debt and clutched at this method to safe itself.

'We plead guilty. It was a mistake, we admit. We sold only beer. We thought we would take a chance," said one of the prominent officers and directors today.

"You see we were far in the hole. We set the date for our entertainment away last December. Then the Kirmess people set theirs for the same evening. We had to do something to come out. So we sold liquor and soft drinks."

The method used was similar to that in the Sutter and other clubs of this city that have government licenses. But the result accomplished was profit and not merely for the delectation of the club member. For any and all at the masqe dance were able to get the beer in a little ante-room.

Tickets were sold at ten cents each. With each of them the man who wanted a sandwich and a dring bought a very small glass of beer and a good-sized sandwich. The federal license to clubs permits the member only to get his and his guest's drink and have the amount tabulated on his ticket. No money may be passed over the bar for the drink. But the liquor is supposed not to be a means of making profit.

Some unfavorable comment was caused by the fact that some of the guests at the ball last night got boisterous, unruly, not to say rowdy, as the result of their potations. The dance lasted till after 3 this morning.

'We sold the liquor to prevent others going out and bringing it in in bottles," said a member of the club.

Chie of Police Ahern said the club had violated no law because they used the ticket method. There was some difference of opinion on this subject.

The Old Pavilion was crowded last night with three thousand persons who gathered to attend the masque ball. At 8:30 o'clock King James I and Queen Sue (Mr. and Mrs. Gray) entered the hall, accompanied by their band of retainers, courtiers and ladies. They formed an imposing sight as they took their seats on the throne. The staging of this pretty tableau was under thed irection of "Ned Greenway" Yardley.

After the entrance of royalty, the athletic carnival began. The first was a parade of athletes, led by Ben Durning of San Francisco. This was followed by the Chinese pyramids and then came bag punching by Gus Storz, champion of the world. A comedy boxing bout between Mickey Sollars and Kid Schlitz Hoffman caused a storm of merriment. Joe Erickson and George Green boxed an exhibition. Doc Williams appeared on the single trapeze, Gimberling on the slack wire and then Gimberling and Rittler gave an acrobatic act. Charles Hintz, a heavy lifter, astonished the audience. The statuary posing and the Indian club passing were good features.

The decorations for the affair were unique and caused much favorable comment.

LARGE CROWD AT MASK BALL

SAC. BEE. 4-2-10

BEER SOLD WITHOUT LICENSE AT S. A. C. EXHIBITION LAST NIGHT.

A big crowd turned out last night for the masquerade ball of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Old Pavilion. The program was rounded off with an athletic exhibition under the management of Professor Rittler, and with a grand review of the various maskers and the groups in costume.

The parade around the hall led off at 8:30, the club Directors and Committeemen in charge of the affair leading, with the king and queen of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray, following at their heels. Under the marshalship of H. E. Yardley, the procession made the tour of the hall, and the mighty ones took seats on the dais, surrounding the royal throne. The whole court appeared in full regal splendor and looked very swell.

The parade of athletes and their platform exhibition were among the chief features of the evening. There were several high-class numbers in the show that followed.

Beer in large quantities was dispensed without a license from the large room adjoining the hall. There was large representation of politicians and office-seekers at the gathering, so that it was possible for the thirsty voter to get a pretty good lead at small expense. Towards the latter part of the evening the operation of the direct primary law began to tell to a certain extent upon the gait and utterance of the faithful. George Newbert, of the Del Monte saloon, ran the beer department of the evening's entertainment.

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club to Tramp Into the Country.

At 10 o'clock this morning the membership of the Sacramento Athletic club are to gather at their club rooms on Ninth street and take their first outdoor "hike" of the season. The route outlined is from the club to Twenty-first street, out that thoroughfare to Sutterville, to the river, winding up at the baths for a swim, after which they can walk or ride home, as they see fit. These cross-country walks will be supervised direct by Professor Rittler and should become deservedly popular.

BUNCH OF LIVELY BOYS NOW IN TRAINING AT THE CLUB-HOUSE.

JACK BURNS FLUKED FOR REASON THAT HE COULD NOT HELP IT.

The next event in the roped arena to interest local fans will be the monthly fight card of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Matchmaker Ansel Hoffman has this in hand and promises one of the best cards ever given in this or any other city. There will be all kinds of contests at all kinds of weights and as the lads fight for glory only, they certainly make things hum in the four rounds in which they are in action. Owing to the popular demand and to increase the club's financial status outsiders will be admitted when vouched for by members for a consideration, but only a limited number will be so admitted.

Up to date the fight cards is as follows: McCullock vs. Thompson, 104 pounds; Murry vs. Corey, 110 pounds; Salvadore vs. Lee Muskrat, 118 pounds; Cowie vs. Burns, of Stockton, 125 pounds; Sollers vs. Morena, 140 pounds; Erickson vs. George Greene of Grass Valley, 145 pounds; Holland vs. Dunn, 120 pounds; Kid Steiner vs. Webb of Grass Valley, 140 pounds; Reuben Amacker vs. Nelson, 118 pounds. In addition to these Hoffman has Hooker, DeRosa, Martinez, Gore, Raymond and Silva, for each of whom he expects to obtain antagonists. All of the boys are in training at the club. If the cracks make a good showing they will be taken to the Seattle swat-fest.

ONE RECORD SMASHED

S.NEWS 2-27-10

S. A. C. SURPASSES IN SHORT-TIME BOUTS.

Amateurs Take to the Mat in Marvelously Rapid One, Two, Three Order.

Knockouts were as plentiful at the monthly swatfest of the Sacramento Atheletic Club this week as hobos in the brush camps of the surrounding levees. Every aspiring amateur seemed to be endeavoring to emulate the reputation of "Knockout" Hogan of San Francisco. In the main they succeeded. It was biff, bang, thump, and someone was down for the count, with the result that the first five matches went only six minutes and forty seconds of scrap altogether, which breaks all known world records.

The evening's card opened with a wrestling match between Phelps and Combs. The former won the first down in one minute. Combs got the next in one minute and thirty-six seconds and Phelps won the next and the match in thirty-four seconds.

In the opening scrap Childs, who went against Weir, knocked the latter down seven or eight times and Referee Billy Johnson stopped the fight, giving Childs the decision.

Raymond and Roadhouse at 160 pounds furnished the next bout. Roadhouse took the place of Wallace of Marysville, who had an attack of cold feet or some kindred ailment. Roady was not in condition but put up the swiftest kind of a fight for forty seconds, when a right swing connected with his jaw and sent him to dreamland.

DeRosa and Silva came next at 120 pounds. They put up an interesting go for a minute and forty seconds, when Silva slipped into sleep.

Murry and Young Sharkey, two diminutive scrappers in the 108-pound class, came next. This being Sharkey's first appearance, he was badly handicapped by stage fright. Although he was very plucky, he got wild, lost his defense and was knocked out in a minute and forty-four seconds. Murry, who is a big favorite with the fans, delighted the audience by doing an impromptu war dance to celebrate his victory and was carried out of the ring under the arm of one of his seconds.

Lee Muskrat, as gritty a youngster as ever donned the mitts, went against a heavier antagonist in Salvador and had the honor of being the first gladiator of the evening to stay three rounds. He took an awful thumping, gave some in return, and when the decision was rendered against him, demanded to know if he was not entitled to a return match. If the kid had a slight knowledge of defense he could make it lively for even better lads than Salvador.

Hooker of Marysville and Lawrence, unattached, furnished the next bout and it was a hot one. Hooker showed a knowledge of the game that was not possessed by his opponent, but who was as gritty as a bear. Hooker obtained the decision.

Cowie and Burns of Stockton, fighting at 125 pounds, put up the most interesting and hardest contested battle of the evening. In the third round Cowie had his opponent all to the bad, but was so tired that he could not put in the finishing punch. The latter recuperated and had Cowie all but out when the bell called peace. Burns earned and received the decision.

Billy Gore and Chas. Baker of Winters made the main event. Baker was more than willing and tore in like a mad bull, but Gore's long reach and cool ring generalship proved too much for the visitor. It was a whirlwind affair in which Baker hit the canvas four times, taking the count each time. The fifth knockdown came in two minutes and forty-five seconds and Baker was out.

The evening's entertainment was the best that has ever been given in this city and reflects much credit on Mr. Hoffman, the club matchmaker, who had but a short time to prepare it and who was disappointed in some of the lads who had promised to come forward.

ROWING ON THE RIVER TO BE MADE FEATURE IN CLUB'S ACTIVITIES.

HANDBALL CONTEST TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP NORTHERN CALIFORNIA.

VARIOUS ILLUMINATING FEATURES FOR THE BIG MASQUE BALL ARE ARRANGED.

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club who are interested in aquatics are making preparations to take up rowing as a pastime for the summer months. A number have signified their willingness to take part and will endeavor to have a boat house erected on the banks of the river. They will go in training for all rowing events that may take place on the coast. Prof. Rittler says that there is lots of good material on hand and he believes that a crack team of oarsmen can be selected who with proper training will be hard to defeat.

The club swimming team for the season of 1910 has already fourteen entries and practice at the baths has begun. Some of the aspirants give promise of being speedy performers.

At 11 o'clock this morning Root and Shaw of the S. A. C. will play Blake and Trainor of the Y. M. C. A. a game of handball to decide the amateur championship of Northern California. The contest will take place on the court of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

BASEBALL TODAY.

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team will play the Coast League team at the Buffalo Athletic Park this afternoon. All the members of the club are expected to be on hand to root their team to victory. The team that will represent the club is very fast for amateurs, having been picked from the membership of all four teams connected with the club.

THE BIG MASK BALL.

A main feature of the masque ball to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club April 1 will be a representation of every kind of athletic sport. A band will head a parade to the hall prior to the dance. This feature has been prepared by Prof. Rittler and will be the first of the kind that has ever been presented on the coast. In appropriate costume members of the association will represent baseball, basketball, bicycling, rowing, La Crosse fencing, cricket, driving, skating, football, swimming, hunting, fishing, snow shoeing, golf and every other kind of sport. The athletic program which follows will also be well worth the price of admission. There will be bag punching by Gus Stortz, pyramids by the membership, double trapeze by the McCollock Bros., posing by the members, acrobatic acts by Gimberling and Rittler, both of whom are practicing daily; single trapeze by Gimberling, club juggling by the members, comic boxing act by Hoffman and Sellers, French rope skipping by Alex Pope, club passing by the members, wrestling by the members, illuminated club swinging by Prof. Rittler, wand drill by the members, heavyweight lifting by C. T. Hintz and many other features.

This means that the club in the amateur ranks that beats the Athletic Club team this year will have to go some. The opening tryout between teams captained by J. C. Hern and B. C. Gallup will take place this morning at McKinley Park.

AT M'KINLEY PARK TODAY.

Aspirants for the mile run from the membership of the Sacramento Athletic Club will gather at McKinley Park this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a try-out in the handicap event. The sprinting department of the club is advancing rapidly and it is proposed to enter several aspirants at the races in Stockton. In the five-mile race to be run there it is probable that the local club will be represented by C. Stewart, J. Erickson, C. Sidleberg, E. Donnell and F. Childs.

A MIXED EVENING

S.NEWS. 3-27-10

ATHLETIC CLUB TOURNAMENT MADE TOO LONG WITH WRESTLING AND BOXING.

SOME OF THE BOYS PUT UP EXCELLENT SPORT IN SHORT MATCHES.

A SECOND WHO WAS KNOCKED OUT BEFORE THE ENTERTAINMENT STARTED.

In one way the boxing night given under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club was a disappointment. It was too long. This was caused by the mixture of boxing and wrestling. While both sports are popular, it would be better if the club management made them separate affairs on separate evenings so as not to detain the crowd until midnight.

The fight card was all that could be desired, with enough side lights thrown in to intensify the interest. It was not a night of knockouts. The lads becoming more accustomed to the art of self-defense, showed more class and less slugging. To be sure, Joe Erickson, the pride of the club, sent George Green of Grass Valley crashing to the mat in thirty seconds of fighting, landing him in dreamland with a wallop to the provision bin and a cross to the jaw that lifted him off his tootsies and landed him on the back of his head with a jar that shook the house.

The card was opened by Thompson vs. McCullock, 104 pounds, and so evenly were they matched that an extra round was required to give Thompson the decision. The latter being the smaller, had the sympathy of the fans and the decision was popular.

Murry vs. Leroy, at 110 pounds, was a case of hard slugging, in which the visitor had a shade. The judges, however, gave the decision to Murry and the crowd hissed.

Guthrie's opponent failed to show up and he was put up against Dougherty, the pride of the south side, who came in with a second who was much the worse for booze. The latter handed out a line of bad advise to his principal and when requested to leave the ring, refused. Policeman Koening politely assisted him out of the ring and Policeman Thorp, who had been called in, did the rest. As his second went skipping lightly down the stairs, propelled by Thorp, Dougherty flew the ring and Guthrie was awarded the decision. There can be no doubt but what Guthrie's wallops in the first round had more toward sending the south side pride out of the ring than chagrin at the treatment accorded his second.

Mareno vs. Sollers, 140 pounds, resulted in a decision for Mareno. Sollers was not in prime condition, and while much the cleverer, lacked the wallop possessed by his opponent.

Holland vs. Dunn, at 120 pounds, came next and the lads put up a gritty fight, Holland getting the decision.

Hooker of Marysville was put against Martinez, as his selected opponent failed to appear. He was so greatly outweighed that Referee Swalenburg stopped the fight, fearing that the gritty little kid from up country might be injured.

De Rosa and Silva, at 122 pounds, put upone of the most terrific battles of the evening. These descendants of the Latin race each had a kick that commanded the respect of his antogonist. A fourth round was required to give De Rosa the decision.

Salvador and Muskrat, at 118 pounds, had a hot encounter, in which Muskrat again went down to defeat. His gritty battle and improvement in form made him a favorite with the fans, but Salvador was too heavy for him.

The card ended with the main event, Burns of Stockton vs. Cowie, at 125 pounds. Cowie was not in form and Burns won easily.

Wrestling.

If you enjoy having your face jammed into a rough canvass, your head twisted nearly off your shoulders, the hide scuffed your elbows, another fellow's hand jammed into your mush and kindred events, then you want to become a modern wrestler. It is sure lots of joy for the participants and interesting to the spectators. In the wrestling bouts at the Sacramento Athletic Club, McCully and O'Connor opened in a four-minute bout without a fall. They were followed by Zillaux and Combs, with the same result. The first pair then returned and McCully was defeated in a pin fall and registered a full sized kick. Zillaux went another bout without a fall. Emes and Reynolds then wrestled for the club championship, Emes winning in one minute and forty-five seconds. Zillaux and Combs again appeared and Combs won. O'Conner and McCully had another bout, O'Conner winning. Combs then mixed with O'Conner and was defeated, O'Conner winning the championship of California.

HAND BALL.

S.NEWS. 3-20-10

Big Event Yesterday Resulted in Defeat of the Locals.

The membership of the Sacramento Athletic Club were treated to the greatest exhibition of handball playing yesterday that any of them had ever witnessed. Root and Blake, the local champions, were pitted against McGuire and Hampton, two of the greatest handball players in the world, and the latter's play was a revelation, as they made the local players look like amateurs at the sport. The games yesterday were all singles. In the first set Root was pitted against McGuire, the visitor winning the first game by a score of 21 to 17. Root won the second game of the series by a score of 21 to 20, McGuire winning the third game and the set by a score of 21 to 7. Blake and Hampton, by the courtesy of the latter, broke even, Hampton winning the first game by a score of 21 to 17, and Blake winning the next game by a score of 21 to 20.

This morning at 11 o'clock McGuire will play two of the best players of the local club, both being pitted against him at the same time. Neither of the visitors extended themselves in yesterday's games, working without any apparent effort and always placing the ball where it was the most difficult for the local players to connect with it. Hampton, who is the ex-champion of the world, astonished everyone by his grand form and is apparently as good as he ever was, while McGuire gave the greatest exhibition of handball that the onlookers had ever witnessed.

ROUGH STUFF CUT OUT

S.NEWS. 2-13-10

BAN PUT ON EXTRAVAGANT ROOTING BY HOFFMAN.

"Must Behave Like Gentlemen," Says the Matchmaker, "Or Leave the Room."

Matchmaker Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club is scouring the adjacent country for a bunch of amateur boys to meet his local talent before that organization on the 27th inst. He intends to give all outside clubs a chance to show their favorites in action.

At the opening boxing tournament some of the younger members of the club yelled too vigorously for the locals and gave the visitors all the worst of it. In the future they must restrain their enthusiasm, act as gentlemen, or get the "grand bounce." All amateurs who lend their services to entertainments of this nature fight for glory only and are not to be classed in the light of hired fighters who scrap for coin. It may be allowable at regular ringside fights to advise a fighter to "knock the block off the dub," and to shout like encouraging remarks at your favorite pugilist, but in a gentlemen's club where the boys battle for glory alone this rought stuff is not allowable.

As a straight tip just save your nickels and dimes and take a trip to Richmond to witness the Nelson-Wolgast affair. This will be one of the greatest battle of the age. Here are two men almost evenly matched in strength and science, or rather, slugging ability would be more accurate, each with an intense hatred each for the other that will stir them to loosen up from the start and go a swift route to the finish. There will be no picture fighting and falling about this scrap; it will be all battle.

HANDBALL AT THE CLUB

DEMANDS OF THE PLAYERS OVERTAXES SPACE.

Choosing a Team by Selection to Meet All Comers From Other California Cities.

Handball is becoming such a popular amusement at the Sacramento Athletic Club and the courts are in such constant demand, that Captain Lucey has been compelled to limit all games to 45 minutes. In the future the courts will be apportioned to different disputant at stated hours and if they fail to show up on time, they will forfeit their rights, the court going to the next playeds o nthe list. This list will be perfected and hung out on the bulletin board and published in the club's official mouthpiece that will reach every member each week. The best player will eventually be included in a team to play an open tournament with [illegible] from Stockton, Vacaville, Los [illegible] San Francisco and other cities.

ATHLETIC CLUB TOOK U. S. INTO ITS CONFIDENCE

SAC. BEE. 4-4-10

Put One Over On Police But Not On Federal Authorities

The beer selling feature of the Sacramento Athletic Club masquerade on the evening of April 1st and early morning of April 2d was well engineered to prevent trouble by anticipation with the Federal and city authorities.

Play No Tricks With U. S. A.

On March 29th, W. W. Bassett and W. A. Newcum, former Receiver at the United States Land Office and Directors of the S. A. C., obtained a Federal license to sell liquor at the mask ball at the Old Pavilion. On the afternoon of April 1st, a Committee consisting of Ed Dalton, W. W. Bassett and W. F. Gormley had an interview with Chief of Police Ahern and obtained the privilege of having several officers stationed at the dance to keep order. The fact that the sale of beer would be a feature was kept secret from the Chief, he says.

This is the circumstance to which the Chief of Police attributes the inactivity of the several officers who were on duty at the ball. Whether intentionally or not, the Committee so managed, declares the Chief, that the officers who were given orders to be present at the dance supposed because they were stationed there by the Chief that he had acquiesced beforehand in the plan of running a barroom. He says that this surmise on the part of the officers kept them from interfering with the illegal sale of liquor.

Chief Will Not Prosecute.

Chief Ahern stated to-day that he did not intend to bring proceedings against the Club officials, because he could not see what would be gained by such an action after the affair is all over.

City Attorney Hart declared to-day: "Whether organizations as the Sutter Club have a right or not to distribute liquor to their own members, the sale of liquor at the Sacramento Athletic Club masquerade was clearly against the law, because liquor was sold there without a license to all comers, members of the Club and non-members."

THE SENSIBLE SWEDE.

S. NEWS. 2-13-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club promises a fine card at their monthly event for the 25th inst. Matchmaker Hoffman has secured the services of several boys from the outside, including two fast lads from the Bay, who will be sent against the club's most ambitious amateurs. Erickson, the fighting Swede, will have one of these antagonists assigned to him. He says that he does not care how stiff a reception he meets. He wants to be a skilled boxer; if he has anything in him he wants to know it. If he has not, the sooner it is impressed on him the better. He does not want to face any dubs but is looking for the real article and it is claimed that he will get it this time. In other words, a skilled hard hitter will be brought up from San Francisco for his especial benefit. Should the local lads show class they will be sent to the Seattle amateur meet.

POOL IN THE CLUBS.

S. NEWS. 2-6-10

Fascinating Sport Finds Wide Favor in Sacramento.

Poolplaying has obtained a prominent hold on the membership of the Elks' Club. It is a rare thing to find the tables idle during club hours. All varieties of the game are played, including bank, golf, call shots, rotation and French, each having its votaries. Probably the most expert player of the club is Vin Merkley, who can seemingly pocket a ball from almost any position on the table. While he is acknowledged to be a crack, there are plenty of others who are willing to take a try with him at any time and who are regarded as excellent players. These include W. A. Kelly, Charles Doyle, Lew Keller, Jack Lewis, A. D. Patterson, Judge Hughes, Chas. Waymire, Fred West, Fred Peck and others. Other classy players are T. R. Jones, Gus Yoerk, Geo. Sherman, Ed Yardley, George Treichler and Fred Eberhardt. While these are looked upon to be the cracks, there are plenty of others who enjoy the game in its every phase.

On any evening may be seen excellent poolplaying at the University Club.

NEW HANDBALL COURT.

The handball players of the Sacramento Athletic Club have decided that they require a court in which they can play with a hard ball and in consequence they have started a subscription list to acquire the necessary funds to build the required court. Subscriptions are coming in fast and the outlook is that the court will be constructed shortly.

Will Be King and Queen at S. A. C. Mask Ball April 1

SAC-UN- 3-26-10

"Hats off. Hail to the King and Queen."

Such will be the shouts on the evening of April 1 at the Sacramento Athletic club's masquerade ball to be held in the Old Pavilion, when the athletic club show opens at 8 p. m. sharp. The king and queen of the athletic festival will be Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gray, and they will be arrayed in gorgeous costumes and followed and led by the usual retinue of court followers that generally accompany the royalty at any public exhibition or reception.

The parade will commence at 8 sharp and will be led by the directors of the club in full dress, accompanied by beautifully-gowned women. Immediately following will come the committee in charge of the ball, also in full dress and accompanied by ladies. The athletes will then follow, and during the exhibition the directors and committee will occupy a reserved section surrounding a throne upon which will be seated the king and queen.

The directors decided that the right of admission shall be reserved in order to exclude all objectionable characters. Masks must be lifted at the door prior to entering. It was also decided to prepare an elaborate athletic exhibition prior to the dance. The committees selected are as follows: Finance—W. W. Bassett, Ed Dalton and J. M. Inman. Publicity—H. G. It is the intention of the directors to offer cash prizes to the amount of $250 for the best original, local, sustained characters and they promise this ball will be the best conducted ever given under the auspices of the organization.

A COMING EVENT.

Ladies' Night at Athletic Club Will Be By Ticket.

S. NEWS. 2-13-10

The outlook for the coming baseball season in the ranks of the Sacramento Athletic Club membership was never brighter and so numerous are the aspirants for place on the teams that it has been decided to start an interclub league. B. C. Gallup has been chosen temporary manager, Frank Bacon, Vernon Meister, J. C. Horn and B. C. Gallup as temporary captains. The teams will be selected from the best of the big amount of talent to be chosen from.

The ladies' night to be given on the evening of the 17th inst. to the membership of the Sacramento Athletic Club will present a program full of interest. In consequence, tickets of admission will be in great demand and it is expected that there will be a big crowd in attendance.

LOUIS PAYNE, FAMOUS ATHLETE. SERIOUSLY ILL

SAC-UN- 3-26-10

Louis Payne, at one time the best all-round athlete on the Pacific coast, and three times winner of the amateur lightweight boxing championship of the West, is seriously ill at his home, 2705 K street, in this city. He is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Payne won his honors in the athletic world while a member of the old Sacramento Athletic club, and he was known from one end of the coast to the other as an athlete of rare ability. He could always be relied upon to jump in, in emergency cases, and take the part of some athlete, and in the boxing department there were none that could touch him. He was asked many times to go into the professional ring, but his natural regard for amateur athletics kept him from accepting, and so the professional sporting world never heard of him.

While Mr. Payne is very ill the physicians hold hopes of his recovery.

TATE TO SELECT TEAM FOR MARCH

Well-Known Athlete Chosen to Pick S. A. C. Baseball Team for Game With Senators.

Harrison Tate, one of the best all-round athletes in Northern California and an energetic worker in the Sacramento Athletic club, has been chosen to pick the club baseball team which will play a practice and exhibition game with the local Pacific Coast League team in this city either March 12th or 13th.

The baseball team of the athletic club is the only local team to be granted a game with the Senators this year and the other amateur team that will play them will be Santa Clara college. This game will probably take place on the 12th.

As the club wished to make a good showing against the leaguers the very best material in the club will be chosen and when the directors get together to select the men they found that they were not familiar enough with the individuals and so decided to pick one of their number for the important task. Their choice fell upon Mr. Tate and shortly after the first of the month he will set about selecting the players that are to represent the club in what will perhaps be its most important contest this season.

Tate has had extensive experience in baseball and is considered thoroughly competent to select the team. He has played with several local teams and has had considerable experience in other cities. He has quite a reputation as a shortstop.

S. A. C. WHIST TEAMS LEAD MILITARY BOYS

SAC-UN- 3-5-10

The third night's play of the whist tournament between teams from the Sacramento Athletic club and Company E of the national guard resulted in the club boys running up a lead of thirty points. Bennett and Beckley of the S. A. C. defeated Dr. Loiseaux and Beckman of Company E, score 9 to 4; Eames and Turner, S. A. C., defeated Pegnelio brothers, Company E, score 10 to 2.

The final game for the Sacramento Athletic club cup was played between Pixley and Solars and Boyyer and Pugh, the former team winning by a score of 14 to 3.

TO SELECT S. A. C. BALL TEAM TOMORROW

3-26-10 SAC-UN

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball team will be selected next Sunday at McKinley Park. All league play has been called off, and no more try-outs will be held. The best material in the club will be put on the team, and it is fully expected that the athletes will finish in the lead this season.

STOCKTON RUNNER CAPTURES TROPHY

Local Man Second Over Change Course; George Mann Joins S. A. C.

SAC-UN—2-23-10

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Feb. 22.—Keeping up the same even stride that he had maintained from the start, W. W. Russell of the Stockton Athletic club won the five-mile road race here today from six competitors. Time, 28:30. Charlie Stewart of the Sacramento Athletic club was second. Time, 28:50. W. Howden of St. Mary's college finished third. Time, 29:10. Fourth place fell to J. Child of Sacramento. This was the latter's first long-distance race and his showing was deemed very creditable.

The poor condition of the course, which had been marked out along the county roads, led the officials in charge of the meet to decide at the last minute to mark off a new course through the outlying streets of the city.

It was claimed by the Sacramentans after the race that the distance over the improvised course was half a mile short of five miles, and they are inclined to think that had the race been a little further Stewart would have caught up with the local man and probably passed him. The visitors, however, accepted the ruling of the judges in good part and no official protest was made. The winner was presented with the handsome trophy cup and a gold medal, while a silver medal went to Stewart.

There were fourteen entries for the race, but of these seven withdrew because of the condition of the course.

The officials were: Judges at the start, Henry Glick, Otto Rittler and Robert Smith; starter, Bernard Glick; judges at the finish, H. E. Ross and Sam Cohn.

It was announced from the headquarters of the Sacramento club in this city last night that George Mann, a noted Dipsea runner of San Francisco, has taken up his residence in Folsom and has applied for membership in the local club. It is expected that he will prove a very valuable addition to the strength of the club.

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC-UN-2-28-10

The club hike yesterday morning was a success in every respect and although the number participating was not unusually large, at the same time there were enough to make things interesting. Superintendent Fred Galleher, despite the fact that he was scheduled as pack horse, waddled along, keeping in shouting distance of the crowd and finally finishing in a blow of wind at the baths. Here the walkers stripped and, donning their swimming suits, enjoyed a plunge. They then returned on the street car. Next Sunday another hike will be held but the route will be along the Freeport road.

Next Sunday Tate and Wenzel will oppose Shaw and Root at handball for the championship of the club. The winning team will play Blake and Trainor for the championship of Northern California. The championship match will take place March 13 in the morning and the best two out of three will determine the winners.

J. M. Inman has been appointed manager of baseball to take former Manager Ben Gallup's place and he will begin his duties immediately. The directors of the club have decided to get behind the team and push it to the front as much as possible.

C. Yost and D. Butler have surveyed the track at McKinley park and staked off the distances. The stakes will be set after the manner of Eastern tracks. In measuring the laps the surveyors found the hundred several feet short and the 440 ten or twelve yards short. No wonder the runners have been breaking so many records lately.

The surveyors also estimated the cost of putting the track in the proper condition for contests and the city trustees will be asked to make an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same. The track is sorely in need of renovation.

The next amateur boxing fest will take place on the evening of March 19 and it is planned to stage one of the best amateur cards ever seen in Sacramento. Every member will be of some note in such athletics and instead of one main event all the bouts will be in that class. The boxing will be preceded by three wrestling matches by local wrestlers. Matchmaker Ansel Hoffman is in complete charge of the affair and promises something out of the ordinary.

SHAMROCKS AND CORKERS IN LEAD

Two Fast Games at McKinley Park Mark Third S. A. C. Try-Out Play.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Giants	0	3	.000

The Shamrocks and Corkers strengthened their hold on the percentage column yesterday at McKinley park, in the Sacramento Athletic club tryout league, by defeating their opponents, the Giants and Alerts. The two teams are at the head of the league, and it is believed contain a majority of the best players. There are, however, in the two struggling teams individual players of class, and in the run for the club team they have as much of a chance as the members of the two leading teams, as individual records, not team records, count.

The Shamrocks fairly plastered their opponents, the Giants, to the tune of 7 to 0, while the sensational game took place between the Alerts and the Corkers, the latter winning by a score of 3 to 0. Both games were speedy and hot fought, and it was undoubtedly a case of "the best team wins."

The feature of the first game was a pitchers' battle between Grady and Pappa, the latter having a shade. In the second game Mickey La Long and the boy with the everlasting smile, "Happy" Reese, showed some class at base running. La Long was scheduled to appear behind the bat, but was not in condition, and so played in the left field. He was a great help to the boys, however, and will be urged to appear again next Sunday. The sensational fielding of Grohosky and Barber were also features of the game. How they played:

ERICKSON GETS ONLY KNOCK-OUT IN S. A. C. BOXING FEST

"One-Round Joe" Unhooks Terrific Mystery and Puts Grass Valley Boy to Mat in Thirty Seconds—Ten Boxing Bouts and Three Wrestling Matches Make up Sacramento Athletic Club's Biggest Amateur Card.

SAC-UN—3-26-10

One-Round Joe Erickson, pride of the Sacramento Athletic club, slipped another of his mysteries over last night in the monthly boxing fest of the Sacramento Athletic club, and laid George Green of Grass Valley on the mat in thirty seconds, scoring the only knockout of the evening and placing another block in his pedestal of fame that is fast soaring skyward. Green was picked to go the limit with Erickson, and some thought he would give the "Pride" a hard tussle, but it was the same old story, and Green tasted of the same medicine forced down the Baker boy's throat two months ago. Before the big crowd had an opportunity to see just what was happening Joe sent in a terrific right to the bread-basket and came like a flash with a short left full on Green's jaw. The Grass Valley boy went over backwards, striking his head on the mat like a ton weight, and writhed around in unconsciousness for several seconds. Erickson's seconds raised him to their shoulders and carried him to his dressing room amidst a thundering volley of cheers. The "Pride" has won again, and now has a just right to the title "One-Round Joe."

TEN BOXING BOUTS.

There were ten three-round boxing bouts in all, and three wrestling bouts. Owing to the non-arrival of several of the contestants, the boxers had to be shifted, and there was some delay. One disagreeable incident occurred, but the cause of the disturbance was quickly hustled from the room, and prize ring tranquillity again prevailed. Cap Cooney, a second for the Southsider Dougherty, refused to sit down when requested several times and retaliated by calling Director Gray a liar. Things were getting hot, and Ted Koening jumped into the ring and ordered Cooney out. He still protested, and was given over into the hands of Patrolman Tharp—well, what happened then is not necessary to relate. Dougherty left the ring and refused to continue the fight, and Guthrie of the S. A. C. was awarded the bout on a forfeit. The crowd cheered lustily at the ejection of Cooney. "His presence and the presence of people of his kind will get no welcome in this club," cut in Director Gray, as the disturber was hustled from the room.

The go between Dunn of Company E and Holland of the S. A. C. was the fastest of the evening. Holland won after three rounds of hard, fast fighting, and the decision was a close one. Holland is a tall, lanky boy, with a big reach, and outpointed Dunn.

It took John Da Rosa four rounds to satisfy the judges of his superiority over Silva. The first two rounds were even. In the third both fighters fought fast and hard and both went down. Da Rosa had a shade. In the fourth Da Rosa showed his class and fought so hard he frightened Silva and won by a mile. In a long fight Da Rosa would undoubtedly be a hard boy to beat. He is strong and fairly clever.

BURNS WINS.

Burns of Stockton demonstrated his superiority over Cowie of the S. A. C. by taking the go in the limit on a decision. The boys fought for blood. They met twice before and Cowie got a knock-out and Burns a decision. The third go last night was for blood Burns fought all the time and had each round. Cowie simply would not or could not get in the game and well deserved what was given him. He undoubtedly could have made a better showing and his follow-club members are at a loss to explain his unusual actions.

Marino, cousin of the aviator Marino, put "Schlitz" Sollars to the bad and took the bout in the limit. The first round was even, but in the second Marino had Sollars groggy and won by a full length. In the third Sollars came back in better condition and the boys mixed it for fair. Marino went down first for nine and Sollars was put down for eight. The finish was fast and furious, but there was too much "Schlitz" and Marino was awarded the bout on points. Sollars is used to easy boxing and was new at rough and tumble stuff. He is the cleverer of the two but is weak on the punch.

MUSKRAT LEE LOSES.

In his return match with Salvador, "Muskrat" Lee showed up in improved style but lost by a narrow margin to his previous conqueror. The bout went four rounds and it was in the last two that Salvador won. The first two were even.

A poor decision was given in the Murry vs. Lorey bout at 110 pounds. Lorey is an outside boy, and was undoubtedly given the worst of it. He fought a good bout with Murry and had a shade in the second round. The first and third were even.

Thompson was forced to go an extra round with McCullock, and easily had the fight in the third. He won the first and second by big margins, and had a shade in the third. The fourth was so much in Thompson's favor the judges had no other choice but to give him the bout.

HOOKER FIGHTS GAME.

Johnny West of Stockton failed to show up and so Young Hooker of Marysville was forced to face Kid Martinez, a tough boy, fast on his feet and with a wallop. Notwithstanding this, Hooker put up a good fight for two rounds, but was outweighed and so the go was stopped in the second and Martinez given the decision.

The three wrestling bouts were so jumbled and rumbled and tangled it was next to impossible to segregate them. Anyway, Ralph Emes threw Reynolds in one minute and forty-five seconds, and won the heavyweight championship of the club.

Combs ended Carl Zillaux in the last of the third bout, and was in turn defeated by O'Connor, who won from McCullogh, for the championship at 130 pounds.

S. A. C. BASEBALL COMMENCES TODAY

SAC-UN—3-25-10

Prospective members of the Sacramento Athletic club baseball and track teams will hold forth at McKinley park this afternoon when the first baseball practice will be held and the third track try-out staged. The baseball practice will be in the form of a game between two teams chosen from those trying for the club team, and these teams will contest as Gallup's Colts and Hern's Stars. A mile track event will compose today's activities in that line.

Next Sunday a league of four teams will be started, and after four or five weeks of preliminary play, the best players of the four teams will be picked and formed into the club team. Ben Gallup has taken temporary charge of the sport, and will put the boys through some fitting practice today. Over forty members of the club are out for the baseball team.

Captain Gannon of the track team has been working his men rather hard the last three Sundays, and will give most of them a rest this Sunday. The mile event will constitute the entire track practice for the day, and will be open to everybody. Novices will be given liberal handicaps, and in this way everyone will have a fair show to finish in a place. Professor Otto Rittler will be in charge as advisory director.

S. A. C. HOPES TO BEAT MARYSVILLE

SAC. UN. — 4-5-10

Strong Track and Baseball Team to Compete With Hub City Athletes Sunday.

When the Sacramento Athletic club track and baseball teams go to Marysville next Sunday to participate in a dual meet with the track and baseball teams of that city, the baseball department will for the first time test the material in its team against a picked nine of clever ball players. The local team was chosen last Sunday but the positions were not allotted permanently, and anyone so desiring may try out for any position and, if he proves more capable than the man already in that position, the honors will be transferred.

Manager Barnes and Captain Tate think they have a good team, in fact they are positive of it and declare that it is a crackerjack and will make the Marysville boys hike and dig every inch of the way. The team line-up is as follows:

Great preparations are being made for the track and field meet, and a strong team will be sent to the hub city to compete against the athletes of that city. A special will be run from this city over the Northern Electric, and a big crowd is expected to attend. The local club will enter the below named men in the following events:

220-yard dash—Gates, Elliott, Bedee, Simmermacher.

440-yard dash—Gates, Sparks, Shumake.

880-yard dash—Gates, Sparks, McNeeley, Flichinger.

Mile—McNeeley, Paine, Day, Shaw, Flichinger, Luke.

High hurdles—Gannon, Holt, Simmermacher.

Low hurdles—Gannon, Holt, Elliott, Simmermacher.

Shot put and hammer throw—Tharp, McKilligan, Hall.

High jump—Gannon, Kidder, Holt, Elliott, Shumake.

Broad jump—Gates, Kidder, Flichinger.

Pole vault—Bedee, McNeeley.

The track and field meet will be held in the morning and the doubleheader baseball game in the afternoon. The local club will probably take a second ball team.

SELLING OF BEER AT MASQUE BALL ILLEGAL SAYS ATTORNEY HART

SAC. STAR 4-3-10.

City Attorney Hart this morning declared that in his opinion the Sacramento Athletic Club violated the law when it served beer on tickets at its masque ball. But at the same time he stated that he did not intend to initiate any prosecution for the alleged violation, as he said that was out of his line of duty. He would not indicate who he though should begin proceedings where ordinances are violated, but he invited The Star to make a complaint and stated that he would prosecute vigorously.

The Star is not paid by the citizens of Sacramento to enforce the law. Its duty is to give the news, to act as a Comparisons are odious is an old saying but a true saying. No organization of Sacramento is above the law.

Chief Ahern this morning stated that he thought the agitation over the beer selling of the athletic club was a mighty small matter. He did not say it as if he were irritated, but it came from the heart.

"I believe," said City Attorney Hart, in discussing the case this morning, "that the club violated the law. They might beat a case by showing that tickets were sold only to members and that if they get out of the hands of members it was not the club's fault, but this is doubtful. The fact that tickets were sold makes the affair a public one. The club should have had a permit from the trustees.

"I am ready to prosecute if anyone wants to make complaint. I cannot both prosecute and enforce the laws. The enforcement is in other hands."

But Mr. Hart did not want to say in whose hands. The police are initiated.

S. A. C. NAMES TRACK ATHLETES

The members of the track team of the Sacramento Athletic Club and the baseball nine who are to compete at Marysville next Sunday, have been chosen. Captain Gannon has selected the following track squad:

100-yard dash—Gannon, Elliott, Shumake.

220-yard dash—Gates, Elliott, Bedee, Simmermacher.

440-yard dash—Gates, Sparks, Shumake.

880-yard dash—Gates, Sparks, McNeeley, Flichinger.

Mile—McNeeley, Paine, Day, Shaw, Flichinger, Luke.

High hurdles—Gannon, Holt, Simmermacher.

Low hurdles—Gannon, Holt, Elliott, Simmermacher.

Shot put and hammer throw—Tharp, McKilligan, Hall.

High jump—Gannon, Kidder, Holt, Elliott, Shumake.

Broad jump—Gates, Kidder, Flichinger.

Burns, third; Burr, second; Tate, shortstop; Foy, first; Reese, left field; Overhouse, center; Johnson, right field; Grady, pitcher; Godt, catcher.

ELECTION OF S.A.C. WILL BE BITTER

SAC.UN. 4-6-10

Opposition Ticket Springs Up and Another Is Expected; Lively Time Promised.

There promises to be a lively time at the annual election of the Sacramento Athletic club this month when the directors and officers of the club are elected for the ensuing year. Two tickets are now in the field and another is expected to make its appearance today. The ticket named by the official nomination committee had but one change. Macgregor was named as a director instead of Laughlin. The new ticket posted yesterday makes many changes.

Walter Bassett is down for the presidency and William Gormley has no opposition for the vice-presidency. George Anderson is down for the position of financial secretary and Eddie Morris is slated for recording secretary. The old-time athlete, Frank Bacon, is to run against Neil Lucey for the captaincy of the club. The directors on the new ticket are: Henry Thiele, E. H. Cox Jr., W. L. Rose and Dr. E. C. Turner.

It is probable that the entrance of a third ticket will cause a great splitting of votes. The official ticket seems to be more popular than the independent ticket, as there are more business men named. If the third ticket contains a more suitable list of names probably the fight will be bitter and the official ticket opposed by both the second and third tickets. The five men nominating the officers on the second ticket are: V. Marston, H. A. Mohr, G. P. Yoerk, George R. Ritchie and R. E. Kilgore.

EAGLES TO HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

4-7-10 SAC. BEE

Sacramento Aerie No. 9, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will give a ladies' night in their hall in Red Men's Hall to-morrow night. A varied program has been arranged for the occasion. It will include vocal and insurumental music, boxing and wrestling matches, bag punching, etc. It is expected that a large gathering will be present and a good time is promised all who attend.

S. A. C. BILLIARDISTS PLAY TOURNEY FINALS

SAC. UN. 4-7-10

The first play in the Sacramento Athletic club's billiard tournament finals took place last night and the winners will soon be declared. When any contestant loses two games he drops out. Last night's results were as follows:

Warren beat C. S. Prixley 34:29; Warren beat Flichinger 34:16; Coyle beat Pugh 34:16; Pugh beat Warren 34:32; Pugh beat Flichinger 34:32.

NEXT AMATEUR CARD OF S. A. C. SET FOR 28TH

SAC. BEE. 4-7-10

The next amateur fight card to be put on by the Sacramento Athletic Club will be staged on April 28th. The Directors have agreed on that date, and given Matchmaker Hoffman the cue to go ahead and arrange his bouts. One of the main fights this month, it is believed, will be between Scribe Barr, of Marysville, and perhaps Shroder, of Stockton.

SAC. UN. 4-7-10

S. A. C. WILL TRY AND GIVE MINSTREL SHOW

The board of directors of the Sacramento Athletic club decided to change the class nights from Monday, Wednesday and Friday back to Tuesdays and Fridays as before.

The great success of the masquerade ball last week encouraged the proposition set on foot some time ago, namely, to hold a big minstrel show at the Clunie theater. A committee was appointed and will look the matter up and report back to the directors at the next meeting either favorably or unfavorably.

Captain Lucey returned yesterday from Reno, where he had gone to try and arrange for a big track and field meet in that city this summer. The Reno athletes are looking the matter up and will give their answer in a few days.

MARYSVILLE IS READY FOR S.A.C.

Athletic History Will Be Made in Hub City Sunday at Big Track Meet.

SAC. UN. — 4-8-10

Special to the Union.

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), April 7, —The track and field meet to be held here next Sunday at the West Side park in Yuba City promises to eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted north of Sacramento. Details of the day have been carefully planned and the work of preparing the grounds has been practically completed.

The entry list for the field meet is a record breaker for this section of the country. Contestants will meet here from the following localities: San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Sacramento, Marysville, Woodland, Oroville, Chico, Stockton, Sutter, Camptonville, university state farm at Davis, Arbuckle, Willows and Colusa.

Arrangements are being made by the Sacramento Athletic club to send 250 of their members, although they will not all take part in the games. A special train will leave Sacramento at 8:00 a. m., reaching this city at 9:30.

The street car service between this city and Yuba City for that day will be especially good. A 20-minute service will be maintained from 8:20 a. m. until 9:40 a. m., and from 9:40 a. m. until 6:40 p. m. a 10-minute service will prevail. This will easily take care of the travel.

The special train will leave Marysville for the return trip to Sacramento at 7:00 p. m.

Two spirited ball games of seven innings each will be played in the afternoon, one between the Hub City club and the first S. A. C. team, and the other between the Marysville Reds and the second S. A. C. team. Managers Spillman and Schwab are confident of holding their own against the Capital City players.

NEW RECORDS ARE EXPECTED AT MARYSVILLE

SAC. UN. 4-9-10

The track and field meet at Marysville to-morrow, which will bring together the best athletes of Superior California, will draw a large number of Sacramento people who will accompany the track team from the Sacramento Athletic Club. The local boys are confident of taking the meet, but may be given a hard tussle by some of the northerners.

A Marathon race will be one of the features of the meet. The 440-yard dash between Sparks, Gates and Wadsworth should be a close one, as Gates is anxious to defeat Sparks, who led him in the S. A. C.-Wheelmen meet here last year.

Rice, the weight phenom from Chico High, is conceded first place in the weight events, as his records are far above anything made in the valley.

The Stockton Athletic Association will send three of its best athletes to compete. The boys who will represent Stockton are Wayne W. Russell, the crack long-distance runner, who is entered in the ten-mile event; George Rimington, who will compete in the 220-yard dash and mile event, and R. Mitscher, who will go in for the quarter and half mile runs. The boys leave for Marysville Saturday night.

Russell has won quite a reputation on the Coast in the Dipsea and other races.

ACME ATHLETIC CLUB ENLARGES MEMBERSHIP

OAKLAND TRIBUNE 4-4-10

OTTO RITTER and AL FORSLAND, past and present physical directors of Acme Club.

The newly formed Acme Athletic Club of this city, one of the latest organizations of the kind in this State, has, according to the report issued by the officers of the club, reached the 250 mark in its membership roll, and is now planning a spirited campaign for more members. This organization, which was formerly known as the St. Mary's Athletic Association, has its headquarters in the gymnasium of St. Mary's College, and, although not a part of the regular college athletic department, is watched over by the faculty of that institution.

Professor Otto Ritter, probably one of the best athletic instructors in this country, who was with this club at the start, has recently taken charge of the Sacramento Athletic Association's gynasium, after having served as instructor with the Olympic, Reliance, Acme, and a number of other athletic organizations about the bay. His place has been taken by Al Forsland, professor of the St. Joseph Academy Athletic Association in Berkeley, who spends several nights each week at the Oakland gymnasium. Among the star athletes who are members of the new club are Will Howden, the prominent cross country runner, Robert Howden, champion ten mile amateur of this State, Jeff Hassards, holder of the Dipsea cross country record, and Bob Macmillan, lightweight boxer.

Ed Warren, known throughout the State as a boxing instructor, has charge of several classes in the club and a number of amateur boxing contests have been planned to take place among the club members in the near future, Al Lervine, wrestling instructor, is also planning a number of exhibitions, to take place within the new few months.

Arrangements are being made between the Acme and the Sacramento athletic clubs for a match race, to take place within the next two months. The event will probably be a five mile relay, and several men will form the teams of each club. The club will participate in the Marysville ten mile run in April 10, with a number of other athletic organizations, and it is expected that Howden of the Oakland Club will win the event.

The officers of the organization are as follows: President, W. Laurie; vice-president, Ed Warren; secretary, Will Howden; treasurer, F. Brownell; Professor Forsland, general instructor and Ed Warren, boxing instructor.

SECOND S. A. C. TEAM WILL BE GOOD ONE

SAC. UN. 4-9-10

Manager Roy W. Wahlander and Captain McLaughlin of the Outlaws or Juniors, or second team of the Sacramento Athletic club, as the aggregation has been thrice named, announce the following line-up for the Marysville game in Marysville tomorrow:

Hearst, catcher; McLaughlin, pitcher; Maginn, first; Holland, second; McNeeley, short; Bowden, third; Folck, left; Reese, center; White, right; Thayer and Marsten, extras.

McLaughlin will appear for the first time for the athletic club Sunday. In accordance with a rule made some time ago, namely, that no member of the high school shall play with any other athletic body except that in the high school, the ban is put on McLaughlin.

POLITICS BECOMES LIVELY AT ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. UN. 4-9-10

Politics at the Sacramento Athletic club is sharpening down to a keen point and some lively campaigning is being done in behalf of the various candidates and tickets. Yesterday it developed that Jos. M. Anderson, Frank Bacon, E. H. Cox and Morris had withdrawn from the race for the good of the cause, as they said. Bacon was running in opposition to Captain Lucey for the captaincy of the club, but retired to let Arthur Delano have a clean field against Lucey.

There is a firm belief among the membership that the official ticket should be re-elected. The argument is that the club is just at that stage when only the old sailors are competent to pilot the ship past the rocks, whereas it would be unwieldy in the hands of a new and younger crew. Another argument is that to refuse to re-elect the present officers would be a mark of ingratitude to the men who have unselfishly striven to make the club what it is. The men behind the club are business men and able to give their notes for credit that would be hard to get if a new board should suddenly jump in and assume control.

SACRAMENTO GIVEN COMMISSION IN P. A. A.

SAC. BEE 3-25-10

Delegate H. M. Macgregor, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has returned from the conference of the P. A. A. officials at the Bay and brings the good news that Sacramento has been awarded a branch commission of the P. A. A., which is the governing body of Coast amateur athletics. This concession will give Sacramento control of all amateur athletics in Northern California registered as such, and is a high honor.

The granting of a commission to Sacramento not only means that amateur athletics as registered with the P. A. A. will be under control from this point, but also means that the formation of public school leagues will be started following the example at the Bay, where such a league exists. The formation of such leagues means the holding of field days and track meets, besides match games in other lines of sports.

Sacramento may be the scene of the 1910 field day and track meet of the P. A. A., according to advices received by Delegate Macgregor. This city, however, must show that it has a suitable place for holding a sport carnival of such magnitude. Several hundred athletes contest in these meets.

Macgregor will shortly name four assistants, to be known as P. A. A. Commissioners, to aid him in the work. He is to be Chairman of the Sacramento branch.

The Southern Pacific Baseball league will open the season Sunday in this city with San Francisco at Oak Park. The San Francisco aggregation is also said to be composed of good players, so undoubtedly a good game will be played here.

The S. P. league consists of six teams. Two in Oakland, two in San Francisco, one in Sacramento and one in Stockton. Every Sunday games will be played in the four towns having teams. The local team is under the management of C. C. Morris and a popular and capable member of the team is George Danis. The line-up has been arranged for Sunday but at the last minute there may have to be some changes, as some of the boys may not [illegible] up. SAC. UN. 4-10-10

Athletes of Northern California Will Compete With S. A. C. Members at Marysville.

Twelve events of running and field skill, capped with a ten-mile "Marathon" (a Marathon is a fraction over 26 miles), in the forenoon and two baseball games in the afternoon will compose the afternoon's amusement. Excursions will be run from all nearby towns and there is no reason to doubt but that there will be a big crowd present. The meet will be held in Yuba City and the Marathon in Marysville.

The events and the local athletes entered in same are as follows:

100-yard dash—Gannon, Elliott, Shumake.

220-yard dash—Gates, Elliott, Bedee, Simmermacher.

BURNS AND COWIE WILL SETTLE QUESTION

SAC. BEE — 3-25-10

Amateur Burns, of Stockton, and Amateur Cowie, of this city, are supposed to settle for all time the existing doubt of their ability, as they are matched to fight the third bout of their short prize ring careers at the third monthly amateur night of the Sacramento Athletic Club to-night. The first meeting was all the candy for the Sacramento boy, as he dropped Burns within a few seconds of the opening gong, but Burns outgamed Cowie in their second meeting and won a close decision. Their third battle should be a hummer.

But Matchmaker Hoffman has other attractions on his card for to-night besides the Burns-Cowie affair. Joe Erickson, the pride of the S. A. C., will meet George Green of Grass Valley, and Raymond will be placed in the ring with Wallace of Marysville. Salvadore and Lee Muskrat will again go over the journey.

The full list of events is as follows:

Murray, S. A. C., vs. Lorey, unattached, 110 pounds.

Wrestling—Combs, S. A. C., vs. Carl Zillaux, 126 pounds; O'Connor, S. A. C., vs. Charles McCulley, 130 pounds; Reynolds vs. Emes, for championship of Club.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will stage their next amateur events on the 28th inst. Matchmaker Ansel Hoffman is at work perfecting his card. The club has decided to cut out the admission of a number of outside seconds owing to the experience with the Southside crowd at the last bout. Hoffman has all kinds of material to pick from and promises a very interesting evening's entertainment.

Captain of S. A. C. Leaves on Tour

Captain Neil Lucey, head of the athletic department of the Sacramento Athletic club, departed for the East last night, to be gone about three months. A special meeting of the directors of the club was called and Lucey was sent on his way with the best wishes of his many friends. He will go to Portland and thence over the Canadian Pacific to Montreal, Quebec, Nova Scotia and down to New York. He will visit relatives in that metropolis for six weeks and then start on the return trip, stopping at most of he important cities.

The board of directors decided last night that only those paid up in full in their dues could vote at the election to take place Saturday evening. The polls will be opened at 6 p. m. and closed promptly at 9 o'clock. Not only will the evening be devoted to an election, but it will be the occasion of the annual meeting of the club, at which time a staement of the club's resources and expenses and all such details will be made to the members.

President Walter Bassett and E. H. Traxler were appointed a committee to attend to the duties of the athletic department previously performed by Captain Lucey. If they cannot properly attend to the matter a captain will be appointed temporarily in Lucey's stead.

H. A. Macgregor was authorized to take full charge of the Arbuckle field and track meet on the 24th and will henceforth be in absolute control.

The boxing card on the 28th will be conducted strictly in accordance with amateur rules in the future. The rules limit the goes to three rounds.

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. BEE 4-12-10

Three affairs are absorbing the attention of the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club these days. The first is the annual election of officers to be held Saturday, another is the field day to be held at Arbuckle a week from Sunday, and the third is the proposed minstrel show to be given by the members.

The Directors of the club last night announced that only those members who have paid up in their dues will be permitted to participate in the election. Although there was originally four tickets in the field, most of the candidates have dropped out until the only fight on now is for Captain, Arthur Delano being after Captain Neil Lucey's position. Lucey left for the East last night, so an active campaign in his behalf is not anticipated.

The meet at Arbuckle a week from Sunday will be a big affair.

A good card of events is promised for the amateur night of the club this month. Scribe Barr will probably fight Bill Gore, Green of Grass Valley will meet Kid Seiner, and McAllister of the Olympic Club will be pitted against Joe Erickson.

Floyd Rice, the phenom weight handler of the Chico High track team, will shortly be enlisted as a member of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Rice as a shot-putter and hammer-thrower promises to equal the record made by Ralph Rose, and he would be a great addition to the S. A. C. track team.

The S. A. C. is contemplating sending Joe Erickson and Bill Gore to participate in the Coast amateur boxing tournament to be held in the North in the Fall.

A dual meet with the athletes of Stockton is being talked of at the club. The Stockton boys are anxious to meet the Sacramento Club team, and it is likely that a meet will be arranged.

William Pugh annexed the pool and billiard championship of the club last night by beating Knight 35 to 15 in the final pool game, and winning from Coyle in two straight billiard games by scores of 34 to 30, 34 to 26.

S. A. C. ASKS TO BE RELIEVED OF FEE

SAC. STAR 4-12-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club, through J. M. Inman, last night appealed to the city trustees to abate the annual license fee of $20 and also the usual $20 charged for boxing bout permits. He took the ground that the club did not igve exhibitions for the general public, and that consequently the fee should not be paid.

The trustees referred the matter to the judiciary committee. In discussing the matter Trustee Carragher told the others to be careful or they would have many applications for abatements.

Enthusiasm in Reno.

The recent visit of Captain Lucey to Reno, Nev., where he conferred with the managers of the athletic club of that place relative to a series of summer meets, seems to have had a good effect. The Reno Olympic Club has become active and is getting a team into shape to be sent into California. It will participate in a meet on this side of the mountains on the 14th of May, when teams from Stanford, Berkeley, Washington and Oregon will come together. Later the Reno team may be seen in Sacramento in competition with the local club's athletes.

Building a Club Yell.

Most athletic bodies have their club songs and yells, but none have as yet been adopted by the club. The omission is soon to be supplied, however, as Professor Rittler and Alfred Putnam have formed a combination to that end. They are now giving their spare moments to the task of whipping into shape some amazing team songs and yells which will soon be heard wherever a group of Winged-S. men may be gathered together. When the Arbuckleites hear those yells they will know that somebody has come to town.

The Marysville Meet.

The "Winged-S." athletes returned from the Marysville-Yuba City field meet of last Sunday in flying colors, with 65 points to their credit against 45 for the up-country men. They expected hard contests in many of the events, and the club officials feel well satisfied with the showing made by their team.

The weakest spot developed in the hurdle events, and it is evident the men in that line are short of work. With a little more practice they will be able to give a better account of themselves.

Captain Lucey, Track Captain Gannon, Baseball Manager Barnes and Physical Director Rittler accompanied the team and coached the men in their work. They all speak highly of their reception and treatment at the hands of their hosts.

Woodland sent an excellent team to the meet and captured first in the short running events and hurdles. Peters of Yuba City lost the 220-yard dash through an unfortunate accident. He was well in the lead near the tape, but made the mistake of turning to see if any of his adversaries were dangerously near. He made a misstep and fell, giving Kinnshloe of Woodland the race.

The 100-yard dash furnished considerable excitement. It was close from start to finish, Hollingsworth nosing out Gannon, S. A. C., with Elliott, S. A. C. a close third.

In the 220-yard hurdles event Elliott and Gannon encountered more than they had looked for in McFessel and Jacobs of Woodland, who beat them out.

When it came to the distance runs, Stewart, S. A. C., had things all his own way, winning readily from large fields in the mile and mile and a half events.

The event that furnished the most interest, and not a little excitement, was the 10-mile race. There were many good long-distance men engaged in it, and it looked like anytbody's race up to near the outcome, where Day of Sacramento went to the front and won out handily. He had to contend with some of the best men in the State—C. Walters and Robert and Will Howden of the Acme Club of Oakland, Walter Magee of the Irish-American Athletic Club (and Pacific Coast champion), Tom Larsan of the same club, Russell of Stockton and Harris, his team-mate. For eight miles Magee, R. Howden and Day led the rest of the field. Then the latter unwound a few kinks and shot to the front. Magee had shot his bolt and quit, and shortly Howden dropped out. None of the others were dangerous, and Day loped across the score an easy winner.

Following is a summary of the day's events:

100-yard dash — Hollingsworth, Woodland; Gannon (S. A. C.), Elliott (S. A. C.). Time 10 1-5.

Preparations For Big Day

ARBUCKLE AMERICAN 4-16-10

Big full sheet posters have been sent out all over Yolo and Colusa counties advertising the Carnival of Sports which is to be held here on Sunday, April 24th, and indications point to a monster crowd. The local hotels will be overtaxed and the Women's Improvement Club will serve dinner and supper in the Odd Fellows' Hall banquet room, so there will be no excuse for any of our visitors having to go hungry.

The day's program will begin at 10:30 a. m. with the first events of the field day, the program of which will appear in next week's issue. At noon there will be an intermission of an hour and a half, when the field day will be completed by 3 p. m. The ball game will then be called.

Upon the completion of the ball game, the 8-mile marathon to College City and return will be started on the track. The long distance runners will make two laps on the track and will then take a course laid out thru the streets of Arbuckle to the College City road. They will follow the main road into College City as far as the Post Office, then turn west for two blocks taking the road which leads past the packing house. The long race will not finish on the track as heretofore announced but the finish line will be drawn at the Arbuckle Rochdale corner, where hundreds of spectators will be waiting to see the weary runners finish their long grind.

An admission of 50 cents will be charged for the entire day, return tickets being given at the gate to those leaving the park for lunch.

4-16-10

H. A. Macgregor, the Northern California representative of the Pacific Amateur Association, was in town yesterday making arrangements with Manager Hall for the big field day to be held here on Sunday, April 24th. It is Mr. Macgregor's duty to see that the rules of the amateur association are strictly followed.

The first team of the Sacramento Athletic club will play the Williams nine at Williams Sunday afternoon. The local team is a swift one and Captain Tate fully expects to win. The following players will compose the S. A. C. team: Burr, Rese, Barbour, Grady, Tate, Flock, Wheat, Gaffney, Burns.

LUCEY LOSES OUT TO DELANO

S.A.C. Re-Elect Practically the Same Officers and Board of Directors.

SAC. UNION 4-17-10

With the exception of Neil Lucey and the addition of H. M. Macgregor, the same board of directors and officers of the Sacramento Athletic club were returned to office at the annual election held yesterday evening. Arthur Delano was almost a unanimous choice for the captaincy of the club, defeating former Captain Lucey by a vote of 109 to 16. The only other competition in the ofice division was for the secretaryship, and in that position J. M. Inman beat George Anderson out by 86 votes. Anderson was an unwilling candidate and did not solicit the office.

Gray, Traxler and Dalton, former directors, were returned to office by big margins, and Macgregor was elected to fill the position vacated by Laughlin, who did not wish the office again. The five opposing candidates lost out by overwhelming majorities. Edward Kay was another unwilling candidate, having notified the management of the club several days before the election that he did not wish to run.

The annual report showing the disbursements and receipts of the club was submitted to the club and received the approval of all. The report showed that during the past year over $14,000 had been received and something like $13,000 expended. On April 1 there was a surplus of $367 in the treasury. Following are the results of the election in detail:

President, W. W. Bassett, 126; vice-president, W. F. Gormley, 122; financial secretary and treasurer, J. M. Inman, 106, Geo. Anderson, 20; recording secretary, Will A .Newcum, 119; captain, C. Lucey, 16, A. J. Delano, 109.

Directors—J. W. Gray, 96; E. H. Traxler, 98; Ed. F. Dalton, 86; H. M. Macgregor, 70; H. G. Thiele, 11; Eldridge C. Turner, 57; W. F. Renfro, 12; G. P. Yoerk, 52; E. J. Kay, 10.

S. A. C. WINS OUT IN 11 INNINGS

Pitchers' Battle for Two Hours in Williams and Locals Are Successful.

SAC. UNION 4-18-10

In one of the most exciting extra-inning games of the season and probably the most sensational exhibition of of the great national sport ever played in Williams, the Sacramento Athletic club nine battled through nine innings to victory, defeating the Williams team by a score of 5 to 3 yesterday. It was a pitchers' battle from commencement to end and H. Grady of the Athletic club clearly demonstrated his ability by holding the opposing batsmen down to four hits. Heilman of Williams held up his end in class A order and was only hit for four.

The game was in Williams' favor up to the eighth inning, when the Sacramento nine came in and after a couple of passes, including a clean double-bagger by Reese, tied the score, making it 2 to 2. Both teams scored in the ninth inning, making it 3 to 3, and in the eleventh the athletic club forced two men through, taking the game 5 to 3.

There was not one disagreeable incident in the entire game and a spirit of good sportsmanship prevailed throughout. The Williams fans were on hand en masse and rooted lustily for their team. The results:

	R.	H.	E.
Sacramento	5	4	3
Williams	3	4	3

Batteries—Grady and Barbour, Heilman and Colberson.

S. A. C. OUTLAWS WIN FROM NICOLAUS

The Sacramento Athletic club Outlaws journeyed to Nicolaus yesterday, and had no trouble in running up a score of 11 to 6. Nine runs were made in the first two innings by the club team to the Nicolaus team's two, and the score ran along this way until the last inning, when the club team annexed two and allowed the Nicolaus team to run up a total of 6 runs.

McNeeley, Thayer, Strachen and Bowden were there with the stick, and showed up well in the field, McNeeley gleaning four hits out of five times at bat.

	R.	H.	E.
Sacramento Athletic club	11	17	2
Nicolaus	6	5	6

Batteries—Godt and Sheehan; Engasser tnd Elliot.

WHO WON ROWING RACE IS BURNING QUESTION AT S. A. C.

SAC. UN. 4-19-10

Who won the rowing race?

Such is the question that is being flung about the rooms of the Sacramento Athletic club in electric-like fashion nowadays. As yet no one has been able to determine, but Professor Otto Rittler holds the medal in behalf of his crew, which consisted of one "Demon Oar" Morsehead, and as he himself says "possession is nine points of the law," it is permissible to predict that Steward and his derailed crew—Erickson and Childs—have the other point, but not possessing Rittler's nine, are unable to make a unit and so neither is nearer the winner than the other. This is how it happened:

Stewart and Childs recently launched their new rowboat. They made a crack or so about the club that they could outrow anything in the city, and Morsehead and Rittler took them up. A meeting was set for last Saturday. Childs could not show up, so Stewart decided to take Joe Erickson, once a sailor man, as his partner. Through some crooked work, Rittler is said to have spirited Erickson away a few hours before the race and when the time for the meeting rolled around Stewart was on hand without a rowing partner. Of course he could not race. Rittler and Morsehead went over the course and claim the race on a forfeit. Maginn, the official judge, declares the race off because Rittler did away with Erickson. Stewart is hot under the collar and claims that he is the victim of a dark conspiracy.

Rittler managed to get hold of the brass and steel medal set up for the occasion and proudly displays it on his breast when it is not reposing on the shirt front of his partner.

But who won the race?

Rittler and Morsehead say they did. Stewart and Childs contend that there was no race. But Rittler has the medal and he declares that tells the tale. Ask him, he'll say so himself.

S.A.C.-ARBUCKLE TRACK MEET ON TODAY

SAC. U. 4-24-10

Today will be a big one for Arbuckle fans. Over a hundred track athletes will contest in a track and field meet and a six-mile race. The occasion is the second of a series of track meets arranged by the Sacramento Athletic club. In the morning the track meet will take place and in the afternoon the regular team of the club will tackle the Arbuckle nine. An excursion will be run this morning from Sacramento and a big crowd of local people are expected to go. The Arbuckle team is made up mostly of Woodland track men but the local boys have not yet forgotten their victory over Marysville and feel confident of trouncing Arbuckle.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETES TO PLAY ARBUCKLE

SAC. UN. 4-23-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team will go to Arbuckle Sunday to play the Arbuckle team. Arbuckle has a strong line-up and Captain Tate promises to take the strongest material available. Gaffney, of State League fame, will twirl, and Barbour will catch.

The management of the Athletics has secured a new outfielder in F. Reese, who will be given a tryout Sunday. Winning an eleven-inning game from Williams last Sunday has put a great deal of confidence in the Athletics.

The line-up will be as follows: Tate, short; Burr, 2b; Burns, 3b; J. Roose, lf; Foy, 1b; F. Reese, cf; Wheat, rf; Barbour, c; Gaffney and Grady, p.

S. A. C. ELECTION AND ANNUAL REPORT TONIGHT

SAC. UN. 4-16-10

Politics will be the absorbing topic in the Sacramento Athletic club this afternoon and evening when the annual election of officers and directors and the issuing of the annual report will take place. Polls will be open from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. Besides the official ticket, which includes the old officers with the exception of Laughlin, in whose place Macgregor was substituted, there are about two other opposition tickets. The competition will undoubtedly be bitter. Various candidates who were not consulted but placed on opposing tickets have withdrawn and so practically crippled certain tickets. It is probable that the official ticket will be elected without much opposition, though some is, of course, expected. Following is the official ticket:

For president—Walter W. Bassett.

For vice-president — William F. Gormley.

For financial secretary — James M. Inman.

For recording secretary—William A. Newcum.

For captain—C. Lucey.

For other directors—Ed F. Dalton, J. W. Gray, E. H. Traxler and H. M. Macgregor.

Nominating committee — J. M. Anderson, E. Morris, Frank Bacon, William Rose, Ed Cox.

S. A. C. BOATMEN TO ROW.

Boating enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athletic club are much interested in a wager boat race scheduled to take place this afternoon between Rittler and Morsehead vs. Stewart and Childs. The last named athletes have just launched their new rowboat, the Virginia, and will try its speed against Morsehead's old standby. H. E. Maginn wil act as official scorer.

S. A. C. TO WILLIAMS.

Manager Barnes, of the Sacramento Athletic Club team, will take his team to Williams Sunday to do battle with the aggregation of tossers of that city.

S. A. C. NINE PLAYS WILLIAMS SUNDAY

The first team of the Sacramento Athletic club will play the Williams nine at Williams Sunday afternoon. The local team is a swift one and Captain Tate fully expect to win. The following players will compose the S. A. C. team: Burr, Rese, Barbour, Grady, Tate, Flock, Wheat, Gaffney, Burns.

ARTHUR DELANO NOW CAPTAIN OF S. A. C.

SAC. UN. 4-13-10

Arthur Delano was Saturday night chasen as Captain of the Sacramento Athletic Club to succeed Neil Lucey. There was but one change in the Directorship, H. M. Macgregor being chosen to succeed Director J. W. Laughlin, who did not desire the office again. The rest of the present officers were re-elected.

The Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday won an eleven-inning game from Williams by a score of 5 to 3. Each team made four hits and three errors. Batteries: S. A. C., Grady and Barbour; Williams, Heilman and Colberson. The Williams team treated the visitors with great courtesy and made them enjoy a splendid day.

M'ALLISTER WILL FIGHT JOE ERICKSON

SAC. BEE. 4-22-10

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club has arranged four of the bouts for his amateur card to be staged on April 28th. His main event will be furnished by Bobby McAllister of the Olympic Club and "One Round" Joe Erickson. McAllister is reputed to be a very clever middleweight.

Phil Newman of the Olympic Club will fight Kid Seiner, Scribe Barr of Marysville will meet Bill Gore of the S. A. C., Murray and Corey will fight a return match and Wallace and Raymond will meet. The other bouts will be arranged in a day or so.

BASE BALL GAME

The base ball game will start at 3 o'clock and gives promise of being a fast game. The athletic club team played Williams last Sunday defeating them by a score of 5 to 3 in an eleven inning contest. Hust and Forderbase will form the battery for the home team.

The first annual masquerade ball and athletic entertainment, given by the club in the pavilion last Friday night, was fully up to the expectations of the directors and other members who had labored so assiduously to make it a success and credit to the club. And the public who so generously patronized the entertainment were delighted with the spectacular affair.

Not much attention has been given to masquerade balls since the old Sacramento Athletic Club ceased its activities, but that of last week demonstrated that well arranged and properly conducted affairs of that character still appeal to the public taste.

The large hall was handsomely decorated, and the scene attending the entrance of the King and Queen, who were to be entertained by their athletic subjects, was really brilliant and suggestive of the Circus Maximus days of royal splendor when the Roman Emperors and their courts appeared in the great amphitheaters to witness feats of athletic skill and courage. The royal pair on this occasion were personated by Director J. W. Gray and wife. They were garbed in brilliant royal robes, and escorted from the entrance to their elevated throne after making the circuit of the hall. The entrance of their majesties was announced by the Court Herold with trumpet blasts, followed by music by the band, and surrounded by a retinue of courtiers, they took their seats, and the games were begun. Professor Rittler, the club's Physical Director, deserves much credit for the excellent arrangement of the hall and general direction of the entertainment. In this he had valuable assistance from Captain Lucey, Superintendent Galleher—in fact all the officers and directors.

The features attending the seating of the royal pair, which was attended with great pomp and dignity, were under the direction of Mr. H. E. Yardley. After this had been accomplished, came the parade of the performing athletes, who passed in review before their majesties, led by Ben Durning of San Francisco and a drum-corps.

The groups representing the various branches of athletics were appropriately costumed and made a splendid appearance. The oarsmen carried a racing-shell and oars, and altogether the effect was decidedly attractive.

The athletic program was full of good features. Champion Gus Storz gave a remarkable exhibition of bag-punching; Mickey Sollars and Kid Schlitz provoked much merriment by their comedy boxing bout; Joe Erickson and George Green of Grass Valley gave a pretty exhibition of scientific boxing; Doc Williams did some thrilling stunts on the slack-wire, and Gimberling on the single trapeze; Professor Rittler and Gimberling appeared in difficult but graceful acrobatic acts and classic posing, which were warmly applauded. The Chinese pyramid act, in which a large number of the club athletes appeared, all in Oriental costumes, was a laughable and pleasing feature.

At the close of the athletic exhibition the floor was cleared and the hall turned over the the masquers and others, who danced the hours away. There were many elegant costumes, and the scene that followed was one of unusual brilliancy.

Costumes—W. Rose.

Finance—W. W. Bassett, W. A. Newcum, J. M. Inman.

Decorations—E. Cox, Al. Kleinsorge, H. Bronson.

The Secretary of the latter has replied that the Multuomahs will not have another tournament until next fall, at which time they will be more than pleased to have Sacramento athletes visit Portland and participate in any of the events.

The athletes of the Sacramento Athletic Club are looking forward to the meet to be held at Arbuckle next Sunday. MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), April 21. The attraction on the local diamond next Sunday will be a game of baseball between a nine from the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Hub City team of this place. Pitcher Colby of Point Richard has been signed up for the local team and Kane and Hopkins will hold down the first and third bag, respectively. The game will be played at West Side Park.

High-up Heavyweights.

L. Inslip and Superintendent Fred Galleher, familiarly known in club circles as "Baby Bliss" and "Trixy," respectively, and who are high up in the heavyweight class, essayed their first gymnasium work this week in the hope of taking off some of their superfluous poundage before the hot weather sets in. Rittler says they are the most cheerful workers under his charge, and adds that their contortions on the mat serve to keep the rest of the class in good spirits during the evening. He advises those who like to be amused to come around on class nights.

On its Financial Feet.

The annual report of Financial Secretary-Treasurer J. M. Inman, submitted to the Directors on Saturday, showed that the year's receipts were $14,000 and expenditures $13,000. The club has, on the 1st of this month, a surplus of $367 on hand.

S. A. C. NOTES

A committee from the club called on Mayor Beard this week and secured a promise that the track at McKinley park would be sprinkled three times a week. This will insure a fast track. The water will pack the earth and the sun will bake it, thus rendering the course almost as good as a cinder track.

Swimming will be taken up extensively at the club this summer. Already Captain Delano is making arrangements for an inter-club try-out. Medals will be awarded the winners of each event. From the winners of the inter-club meet will be chosen a regular club team that will compete in other cities.

A track team will be picked for the Gridley picnic, which is an annual event. A club tramp and lunch in the country is also being planned. The club tramp will be an extensive affair and the club members will compete with each other in the several athletic games.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman has partially arranged matches for the amateur boxing card to be held on April 28th, which are as follows:

Main event—Billy Gore of S. A. C. vs. Everett Barr of Marysville.

Special event at 145 pounds—Joe Erickson of S. A. C. vs. "Bob" McAllister of Olympic club, San Francisco.

Special event at 140 pounds—Kid Seiner, the fighting baker boy of Sacramento, vs. Phil Nooman of the Olympic club, San Francisco.

160-pound class—S. Raymond, unattached, vs. Wallace of Marysville.

Lee Muskrat, Salvadore, and Hooker of Marysville will be matched for the three remaining events on the card of ten three-round goes.

The presence of San Francisco boxers points to one of the best amateur cards ever staged in this city.

Eddie Cox and Walt Henley will be the judges; timekeepers, Gray and Pendergast; referee, Charles Scholenberg; general second, Billy Johnson; glove master, Marston. Bacon and Rittler will have charge of the dressing rooms. J. M. Inman will be the announcer of the evening.

No wrestling matches will be allowed on the card this month. The presence of too many such bouts last month nearly ruined interest in the affair.

Simmermacher and Henderson were defeated seven straight games of volley ball yesterday by Gallagher and Gimbal, and the last named players now claim the championship of the club. Simmermacher and Henderson made more points than Gallagher and Gimbal, but the former were disqualified for "crabbing" and the games awarded to the orderly team. A return match is scheduled to take place next week.

SPORTING LIFE. 4-23-10

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club has arranged four of the bouts for his amateur card to be staged on April 28th. His main event will be furnished by Bobby McAllister of the Olympic Club and "One Round" Joe Erickson. McAllister is reputed to be a very clever middleweight.

Phil Newman of the Olympic Club will fight Kid Seiner, Scribe Barr of Marysville will meet Bill Gore of S. A. C., Murray and Corey will fight a return match and Wallace and Raymond will meet. The other obuts will be arranged in a day or so.

That Minstrel Show.

Professor Rittler, J. M. Anderson, E. H. Traxler, H. E. Yardley and A. Delano, the committee having in charge the matter of the proposed minstrel show, are working out a plan that will later be submitted to the Board of Directors. It is the purpose of the committee to have all the details arranged before making its report. When this is done, and the Directors take action thereon, the matter will be quickly brought to a focus. There is considerable dormant talent among the club's membership, and Professor Rittler declares that the coming burnt-cork show will make some of the pretentious professional minstrel companies look as if they were being viewed through the small end of an opera-glass.

Club Election.

The annual election of officers on Saturday last resulted in the success of the regular ticket named by the Nominating Committee, with the exception that A. J. Delano was chosen Captain over Neil Lucey. The only other change in the club's Directorate from the present regime was the election of H. M. MacGregor in place of J. McLaughlin, who was not a candidate for re-election. Several of the candidates named in opposition to the regular ticket were in the race unwillingly and made no effort to be elected. The balloting resulted:

President, W. W. Bassett, 126; Vice-President, W. F. Gormley, 122; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, J. M. Inman, 106, Geo. Anderson, 20; Recording Secretary, Will A. Newcum, 119; Captain, C. Lucey, 16, A. J. Delano, 109.

Directors—J. W. Gray, 96; E. H. Traxler, 98; Ed. F. Dalton, 86; H. M. MacGregor, 70; H. G. Thiele, 11; Eldridge C. Turner, 57; W. F. Renfro, 12; G. P. Yoerk, 52; E. J. Kay, 10.

Hard-Played Baseball.

It took eleven innings to settle the game on Sunday between the club's team and that of Williams, Colusa County, but victory finally perched on the banner of the athletes. The score was 5 to 3. The Williams team held the advantage up to the eighth inning, but Reese rapped out a two-bagger, which enabled the visitors to even up the score. Each got in a run in the ninth, and it was 3 to 3. There were no runs in the tenth, but in the eleventh the visitors put two men over the plate. They were handsomely treated by the Williams people.

The club ball team known as the Outlaws went to Nicolaus on Sunday and scalped the home team. The score was 11 to 6, with 17 to 5 hits. It was a picnic for the Outlaws.

—o—

Baseball Schedule.

Manager James Barnes announces the following schedule of games for which the club's chief team has engagements up to nearly the 1st of August: April 24, Arbuckle; May 1, Willows; May 8, Isleton; May 15, Folsom; May 22, Rocklin; May 29, Auburn; June 5, Dixon; June 12, Courtland; June 19, open date; June 26, Willows; July 10, Roseville; July 17, Newcastle; July 24, Courtland.

The line-up of the team is as follows: Grady and Gaffney pitchers, Barbour catcher, Foy first base, Burr second base, Burns third base, Folck right field, Reese left field, Wheat center, Tate short.

Up-River Tramp.

On Sunday, the 8th of May, Captain Delano will lead in a club tramp up the river, and a committee will soon be named to round up the members and make arrangements for the outing. Refreshments will be sent up by wagon. There will be all kinds of stunts indulged in—some practice-work along regular lines, and any amount of burlesque games. Professor Rittler says he will let loose some surprises from his store of fun-making novelties.

Next Boxing Night.

Boxing Manager Ancil Hoffman is getting together a list of events for the next boxing night for club members, which is to be on the 28th of this month. All of the classes have not yet been filled, but he expects to present about the best card the club has yet given.

The main event will be between E. Barr of Marysville and W. Gore, S. A. C., at 135 pounds. This should prove a whirlwind bout.

The special event between Bob McAllister, a San Francisco Olympic Club crack, and Joe Erickson, the local club's crack-a-jack, is another feature that should warm the hearts of fistic fans. They will meet at 145 pounds. Other known bouts will be:

Paul Noble, Oakland Acme Club, and Martinez, S. A. C., 125 pounds

Wallace of Marysville and Raymond, S. A. C., 160 pounds

Billy Maier, S. A. C., and a Marysville heavyweight, 170 pounds.

"Red" Murray, S. A. C., and Corey, unattached.

Mr. Hoffman is in correspondence with other outside boxers for additional events.

Ho! For Arbuckle.

Tomorrow morning the club's field and track team, including the first baseball team, will leave by excursion train for Arbuckle, Colusa County, to participate in the meet to be held under the auspices of the Athletic Club of that place. Quite a delegation of members will accompany the team, and Club Captain Delano, Physical Director Rittler, Captains Gannon, Tait and Barnes, and other officials will be on hand to look after the interests of the performers. Those who go on the special train will be allowed $2.10 round trip fares. The club committee having charge of the arrangements for the occasion is composed of Harry Gimball, President Bassett, Superintendent Fred Galleher, Professor Rittler, Alfred Putnam, and Director H. M. MacGregor. Professor Rittler will have charge of the track team, Captain Barnes of the baseball team, and Captain Delano will be in general charge of the excursion.

The men are reported to be all in good shape for the meet, and while they realize that it will be a day of strenuous work against some of the best athletes of the interior, they expect to come off victorious. Professor Rittler is confident of Louis Day's ability to capture the 5-mile run, and counts on Stewart to lead his fields in the mile and half-mile events. A. Gates is also a prospective winner in the sprints.

E. Eich, a new member, is expected to show up well in the jumps, the 100-yard run and high hurdles.

The outcome of the baseball game is difficult to guess, but Captain Barnes has no misgivings as to the ability of his men to win.

During the day Putnam will lead in the club yell, and Galleher will be mascot. There will be a goodly supply of small club pennants on hand for the rooters.

The several events, and the club entries in each, are:

100-yard Dash—Gannon, Elliott, Putnam, Knight, Shoemake.

440-yard Run—Gates, Sparks, Shoemake, C. Stewart.

880-yard Run—C. Stewart, Gates, Sparks, Shaw, C. Childs, E. McDonald.

Mile Run—C. Shaw, C. Stewart, McNeely, H. Day, Childs, Luke, E. Donald.

High Hurdles—Gannon, Holt, Simmermacher.

Low Hurdles—Holt, Gannon, Elliott, Simmermacher, Knight.

Shot Put—Tharp, McKilligan, Hall, Gannon.

Hammer Throw—Tharp, Hall, McKilligan.

High Jump—Holt, Elliott, Kidder, Hart, Shoemake, Gannon.

Broad Jump—Gates, Kidder, Gannon, Shoemake, Bedee.

Pole Vault—Gannon, Bedee, Shoemake.

Five Miles—C. Stewart, H. Day, Childs, O'Connor.

880-yard Relay Race—Four men that finish best in above events.

—o—

Medals are now ready for delivery to winners in last month's boxing bouts.

—o—

About the middle of May the club will give another of its popular ladies' nights, for which the more advanced members of athletic classes are industriously practicing.

—o—

Several more members have signed the boating list during the past week. Rowing and swimming will soon receive the attention of Captain Delano.

—o—

Since the masquerade ball and exhibition the attendance at the evening classes has been increasing. Professor Rittler expects to have at least seventy-five pupils at work inside of a week.

—o—

"Outlaws" Go to Marysville.

The club's second ball team, known as the Outlaws, will be taken to Marysville tomorrow by Roy Wahlander, when the line-up will be: Godt catcher, McLaughlin and Maronavich pitchers, Strachan nrst base, Holland second base, McNeeley shortstop, Bowden third base, Hearst left field, L. Reese left field, Thayer right field, Erway extra.

—o—

Members of the second baseball team, and aspiring ball-tossers who are willing to be tried out have been notified to be at McKinley Park on Wednesdays and Fridays, in the early evening for practice.

S. A. C. LOSES HOT GAME.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

YUBA CITY (Sutter Co.), April 25.—In one of the closest and most interesting games of baseball ever played in this city the team representing the Sacramento Athletic Club went down to defeat at the hands of the Hub City aggregation at West Side Park Sunday by a score of 5 to 4. It took 13 innings to decide the contest. The local team did not tally a run until the ninth inning, when they bunched a few hits, which, coupled with errors, piled up 4 runs, tieing the score.

Director H. M. MacGregor.

H. M. MacGregor, who was added to the Directorate of the club at the recent annual election, is not only a valuable acquisition to the active official list, from a general point of view, but possesses special qualifications therefor owing to his thorough early training in college athletics. He is a native of Canada, and a graduate of the upper Canada College of Toronto. He was a conspicuous member of that institution track team, and has a record as an athlete of which any man might be proud. In 1885 he won the Governor's Cup for the 100-yards and open steeplechase, also first prize in the college's gymnastic competition, and a three-mile match race on ice-skates against the champion of Ontario.

From 1886 to 1889, Mr. MacGregor played on the first ball team of the Winnipeg Lacrosse Club, which held the championship of Manitoba at that time. In 1889 he held the 440-yard championship of British Columbia, played on the first team of the Vancouver Lacrosse Club (holder of the Province championship), and played on the first team of the Vancouver Rugby Football Club, holder of the British Columbia championship.

In 1890 Mr. MacGregor was a member of the New Westminster Lacrosse Club's first team, which subsequently won the world's championship. In 1893 he held the 100-yards and 220-yards championship of the Tacoma Athletic Club, also the middleweight boxing championship of that club. In the year 1894 Mr. MacGregor won the 100-yard championship of the Pacific Northweest. He has a record of 10 seconds for 100 yards, 22 1-5 seconds for 220 yards, and 51 seconds for 440 yards.

From 1886 to the present time Mr. MacGregor has been connected with railroad business. For 14 years he was with the Canadian Pacific system as Traveling Passenger Agent for the territory embracing Manitoba, B. C., Alaska, Oregon, Washington and California. During the past ten years he has been traveling for the Union Pacific in California, with headquarters in Sacramento.

It needs but a glance at the athletic record of Mr. MacGregor to impress one with the fact that he is specially fitted for any duty connected with the club with which he is now identified. Since the club's organization he has been its accredited representative in all dealings with the Pacific Athletic Association.

S. A. C. NOTES

Three more track and field meets are being planned by Captain Delano and Director Macgregor for the summer. One is with Reno, another with Marysville, July 4, and the third with some Northern California athletes to be held in conjunction with the Gridley picnic. Marysville wants a track meet pretty bad and so does Reno. It is likely that the two named will be granted meets, but it is doubtful if the boys take part in a meet at the Gridley picnic.

A sore lot of ball players returned to Sacramento yesterday from Arbuckle. They had been robbed, so they said. Robbed of a game they had won by a goodly margin. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of Arbuckle. The umpire, so the story goes, knew little of the game, and was prejudiced in favor of his nine.

The second team also got a similar dose at Marysville, though no complaint is heard against the decisions of the umpire. The Outlaws lost out by a score of 4 to 5.

A club tramp will be held Sunday morning up the river. A big lunch will be sent up ahead of the party and a fine time is looked for. All the fat boys who wish to reduce have signed up, and a strenuous day's enjoyment is looked for. There will be races, swimming and all sorts of athletic tests in which the members of the club will compete against one another.

The first team will go to Willows next Sunday, while the Outlaws will journey to either Rocklin or Roseville.

Entry blanks have been received for the annual Irish-American field and track meet in San Francisco May 8. Sparks will be entered in the 440 and the 880. Stewart will run the mile and 880. Gates will contest in the 100, 800 and 440.

So well did the boys spread the gospel of the club in Arbuckle and vicinity Sunday that they came away with promises from Stevens, Hollingsworth, Kinchloe and Purington, all good athletes, that they would join the club in a few weeks. Providing they become members, the club will have strong men in the 220, 880, 440 and broad jump.

CLASSY CARD FOR S. A. C. AMATEUR NIGHT

SAC. BEE, 4-26-10

The amateur fight card prepared by Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman for the Sacramento Athletic Club on Friday night looks more promising than any yet prepared, as he has gone outside the club circles to get amateur fighters and has secured some good ones.

There will be seven bouts on the card. The main event will be between Billy Gore, of the Sacramento Club, and Everett Barr, the fighting scribe from Marysville, who is also a member of the local club. They will fight at 135 pounds.

The special event will be between "One Round" Joe Erickson, of the S. A. C., and Bobby McAllister, a clever amateur belonging to the Olympic Club. They will fight at 145 pounds.

The full list of events is as follows:

Erickson (S. A. C.) vs. McAllister (O.), 145 pounds.

S. Raymond (unattached) vs. Wallace (Marysville), 160 pounds.

Salvadore (S. A. C.) vs. Arthur Martin (San Francisco), 115 pounds.

There will be no wrestling bouts mixed on the card this month.

Arbuckle Meet, Next.

The next important engagement for the club's athletes will be at Arbuckle on the 24th of this month. They expect to encounter even more formidable adversaries there than they did at Marysville last Sunday, but are in no way dismayed. Professor Rittler says the club expects to send a stronger team to Arbuckle. The men have benefited by their experience with the Yoloites and Yubaites, and hope to make a better showing in the spots where weakness was developed. And they have a couple of weeks yet in which to condition themselves for a hard day's work.

Track Captain Gannon has called on all the track performers to be at McKinley Park at 10 o'clock Sunday morning for working out. All members who have track aspirations are directed to be on hand and to show what they can do. If any who are not at present on the team should show forms over those who are, they will be given preference when the team is made up for the Arbuckle meet.

SAC. WEEKLY 2-26-10

While Sacramento is progressive and up-to-date in many things, her civic bodies are apathetic in other respects, perhaps because they have not had certain matters brought to their attention in a forcible manner. One of the things the city lacks, and should have without delay, is a place where field and track events—in fact all branches of athletic sports—could take place. Most cities of the size of Sacramento have athletic grounds where not only local events are held, but which offer inducements to clubs of other cities to visit them and participate in competition contests.

The only place in this city where anything in this line can be pulled off is McKinley Park, but that is available only in dry weather. It has never been placed in condition for varied athletics, and a shower of rain transforms the grounds into a mudhole. The park would make an ideal athletic field if the city could only be induced to spend a little money in improving and making it an inviting place for athletic games.

Instructor Rittler and Track Captain Lucey of the Sacramento Athletic Club state that this city has a great advantage over San Francisco as a place for track meets, as it escapes the cold ocean winds and fogs that greatly handicap the clubs of the Bay City, yet Sacramento never has any State gatherings or contests because there are no suitable grounds here for track events. They say that no better spot than McKinley Park could be desired if only it could be put in proper condition.

With inviting grounds frequent State championship meets would be held here, bringing to the city delegations of people from other cities who would not only leave considerable money here, but the good reports they would make would serve to advertise the city abroad. Several of the leading organizations of the State have expressed a desire to come here and compete with our athletes, but the officials of the local club have been forced to discourage all such visits because there are no suitable grounds for holding athletic competitions. Only this week games between the Stockton and the local High School teams had to be called off because of a sprinkle of rain on the preceding night.

Clean, healthful sports and athletic contests such as these clubs encourage are enjoyed not only by the youth of the land, but by men and women of all ages, and it does seem that there ought to be sufficient civic pride in the community to provide a proper place for them.

Future Competitions.

While at Stockton on Tuesday Physical Instructor Rittler and Captain Lucey had a conference with Manager E. Smith of the Athletic Club of that city regarding future competitive events. They all agreed to use their endeavors to inaugurate dual track, swimming, handball and other contests between members of the two clubs. Some of these meets will be held here, and some in Stockton, and will serve to stimulate the athletes of both clubs in their work.

—o—

Basketball.

The basketball teams are hard at work getting into shape for the forthcoming games with the San Francisco cracks. They realize that they will have a hard road to travel when they meet the seasoned players of the Bay City sometime next month, but are not dismayed. The teams are doing excellent work, and Instructor Rittler feels certain they will make a good showing.

—o—

WILLIAM F. GORMLEY.

Mr. Gormley is Vice-President of the Sacramento Athletic Club, in the reorganization of which he took a very active part. He has always been interested in athletics, and was identified with the former club which had its headquarters in the Old Pavilion. He was President of that organization, also its Secretary, and is thoroughly familiar with the business of conducting a club of this kind. Mr. Gormley came to Sacramento from Georgetown, El Dorado County, in 1874, and has been engaged here in the undertaking business. He is now serving his second term as Coroner, having been elected on the Democratic ticket.

Child's Fine Showing.

Club members were agreeably surprised by the excellent showing made by Childs in the five-mile race at Stockton on Tuesday. While he was fourth at the finish, he made an excellent showing for an 18-year-old novice, and with experience and training his club friends are confident he will yet be classed among the speediest athletes of the State.

—o—

Charles Stewart, the club's middle-distance runner, who carried the hopes of the members when he went to Stockton to compete in the five-mile race there on Tuesday, was not the one to break the tape at the outcome, but he was a good second to W. W. Russell, the Stockton Athletic Club's crack, who covered the distance in 28:30. Stewart's time was 28:50. The third man in was W. Howden of St. Mary's College. J. Childs of Sacramento was fourth. The time made by Russell was an average of 5:40 for each mile.

The course originally laid out was along a country road, but its condition was so bad that city streets were substituted at the last moment. There was some talk about the course being short of five miles, and the Sacramentans were of the opinion that if the race had been over the full five miles Stewart would have won, as he was coming strong at the close of the race, and five miles doesn't trouble him. He was presented by the judges with a silver medal. Of the fourteen men who had entered for the event, seven withdrew because of objection to the course.

April Fool Masquerade.

Preliminary steps have been taken by the club's officers for a grand entertainment to begin on the evening of April 1st, in the nature of a masque ball, to take place in the Pavilion at Sixth and M streets.

The matter was considered at a meeting of the directors and officers on Saturday evening last, at which various matters affecting the interests of the organization were taken up.

The club is now nearing the close of its first year under the reorganization plan, and in its endeavors to provide Sacramento with a first-class athletic club devoted to the highest ideals in sport and physical culture, it has incurred some indebtedness.

To relieve the club and its public-spirited promoters from this financial burden, the public will be afforded an opportunity to help, while at the same time being handsomely entertained.

After a careful canvass of the situation, the officers of the club decided that this could best be accomplished through the medium of a high-class masquerade ball, such as the old club was accustomed to give once a year. These affairs were always planned and conducted in the best possible manner and were freely patronized by the best people of the city. They were features of the city's social life that were looked forward to with interest.

The revival of these annual masque balls by the present club will, it is believed, be fully appreciated by the public. The club deserves well of the people of the city, for it is doing much for the physical and moral upbuilding of young men, and it is confidently hoped that the efforts to provide high-class entertainment will result in material financial assistance.

Among the prizes that will be competed for are the following: Ladies' group of three or more, men's group of four or more, lady's handsomest gown, gentleman's handsomest costume, lady's homemade costume, lady's most original character, same for gentleman, best local sustained character, best couple. The sum of $250 is to be divided among the winners of the first and second prizes of each of the above named classes.

The price of admission was set at $1 for gentlemen and 50 cents for women. The same prices will be maintained whether or not the patrons come in costume or in citizen's dress.

W. A. Newcum and J. M. Inman were appointed as a committee to handle the ticket and program proposition.

The club will reserve the right of admission and rigidly enforce its rule to allow only persons of good standing to participate in entertainments held under its auspices. Cash prizes amounting to $250 will be offered for the best sustained, original and local characters, to be announced more fully after all arrangements shall be completed. The preparations for the ball are in the hands of the following committees:

Finance—Walter Bassett, Edward Dalton and J. M. Inman.

Advertising and Program—H. G. Longhurst, Herman Davis, J. H. Anderson and H. Gimbal.

Music, Hall and Lights—H. E. Yardley, C. W. McKillip and C. R. Gill.

Entertainment—C. W. Haub, George Yoerk, L. S. Upson and V. S. McClatchy.

Between the date the Sacramento Athletic Club so unfortunately lost its lease of the Old Pavilion and had to go out of business for the time being, and the date of its resumption in its present quarters, in April last year, there were a number of ardent believers in the club who worked valiently to bring about its rehabilitation. Among these were William A. Newcum, who came to the city from Jackson, Amador County, about nine years ago, to assume the duties of Receiver of the U. S. Land Office.

When the club was reorganized he was made its Secretary, and Secretary of the Board of Directors, and proposes to hold down the desk until his successor is elected and qualifies.

His interest in athletics and the club is prompted by the personal knowledge of the physical benefit that can be had by the systematic and proper use of its facilities by both young and old, and he regrets exceedingly that the present quarters do not admit of a larger membership and gymnasium facilities for women.

Mr. Newcum says he firmly believes that the energy expended in a hard day's work can be regained in a half hour of work in the "gym," under the direction of a competent physical instructor. Thus he cannot understand why the employers of labor in a city like Sacamento, as a matter of economy do not see their way clear to erect, maintain and encourage the use of a strictly first-class and up-to-date athletic club building and equipment. The boy or girl, man or woman, who scientifically makes use of the privileges of the "gym" for physical development, is more efficient, capable and able than the one who does not. That the "gym"-trained clerk, salesman, manager, owner, can perform more satisfactory work during working hours with less fatigue than the one who does not have such training, is undoubtedly true, and being true, should induce the Captains of Industry in this city to seriously consider the matter of a proper site and building for our club. Purely as a matter of getting more value for money paid out for labor, omitting entirely the more important consideration of the physical development and general health of the employe, it would prove a most profitable investment, as well as a worthy public institution for this growing city.

Selecting Handball Team.

Those interested in handball are anticipating great sport when the club's experts play the crack team of the San Francisco Olympic Club, Hampton and McGuire. The latter club has announced its acceptance of Captain Lucey's invitation to send its team to Sacramento on the 19th of this month. On that date a series of singles will be played between the visitors and Sid. Root, Clarence Shaw, Harrison Tate, George Wenzel and George Yoerk. On the 20th the best two of the club's men, to be selected by Captain Lucey will meet the Olympics at doubles.

—o—

Change in Class Hours.

There has been a readjustment of the hours for training classes. Hereafter the evening classes will exercise from 8 to 10 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and the day classes on alternate days from 4 to 6 p. m.

Picking Ball Players.

The selection of the ball team that is to represent the club against Graham's local Coast League team on the 12th or 13th of this month devolves on Harrison Tate, who is an expert judge of performers on the diamond. The line-up will be made after the club's tryouts now in progress, and it is thought a team can be picked that will make the big leaguers do some hustling. Graham's men will play only two games outside the Coast League schedule—with the S. A. C. and Santa Clara. These will take place here on the 12th and 13th of March, or possibly both on the 12th.

The Shamrocks are still ahead in the club's series of tryouts, having won three games and lost none. The Corkers also have a perfect percentage, but have played only two games. In last Sunday's work at McKinley Park the Shamrocks scored seven runs, whitewashing the Giants. The Corkers also applied the kalsomine to the Alerts, while scoring three runs. There was considerable crisp, snappy work throughout the games, both at the bat and in the field. The teams will change places again tomorrow, if the weather permits. The last games' scores were:

On The Mat.

Emil Tanner, the jiu jitsu coast champion, has challenged Wrestling Instructor Dyerberg to a wrestling match to be held in Sacramento in the near future. Dyerberg signifies his willingness to meet Tanner if some person or club will promote the match.

Work For Field Performers.

Tomorrow Professor Rittler will have the track athletes out at McKinley Park for earnest practice. He says the season has now advanced so far that it is time the men were showing something like good form, and he expects them to get down to work with all the vim of which they are capable. "It will be downright work from now on," he says.

With the Boxers.

Matchmaker Hoffman is busily engaged in securing outside talent for the club's next boxing night, which is scheduled for the 19th of this month. Arrangements have not yet progressed to the extent that the men who will come here to oppose the local boxers can be positively named, but Mr. Hoffman is negotiating with several members of other clubs, and some unattached boxers, and is confident he will be able to present a card that will even outshine that of last week.

In response to a desire of many sport-loving citizens, who are not members of the club, to witness its boxing bouts, the directors this week decided to permit any member to bring one friend on boxing nights by the payment of $2. Only persons recommended or indorsed by members of the club will be admitted. This regulation will be enforced as against all considerations or outside influences. The number of non-members to be admitted on any boxing night has been limited to 100.

The fame of the club's boxing nights has gone far and wide. The last one was a corker. Knockout followed knockout in rapid succession until the sixth man failed to respond to the timekeeper's tenth count. This rather sets a record for club boxing bouts.

As to Professionalism.

The matter of professionalism has in the past militated much against the popularity of athletic clubs generally, but in recent years the Amateur Athletic Union, whose object is to hold all its members down to purely amateur work, is bringing into its membership, and under its laws, rules and regulations all of the purely amateur athletic clubs, and that objection is fast being eliminated and clubs like ours are fast assuming the positions in their various communities to which they are entitled.

——o——

Notes.

The club's handball championship will be decided tomorrow, when Tate and Wenzel will play against Shaw and Root. The winners will be pitted against Blake and Trainor for the Northern California championship on the 13th of this month.

Ben Gallup having taken to the brush, being now in an up-country ball team for the season, the supervision of the club's baseball section has been assigned to J. N. Inman. Mr. Inman knows the game from A to Z.

SAC. WEEKLY. 3-26-10

Arbuckle Prepares Surprise.

It is just possible, if not probable, that the athletes of Arbuckle will uncork a few surprises, not only for the interior teams that participate in the great field day at the Colusa county town on the 24th of April, but even for the Sacramento athletes. It is said the astute Arbuckle managers of the coming field day have gathered together a staff of former University men from that neck of the woods who are anything but novices—indeed, whose college records are very classy. Though some of these lads have gone back to the old ranch they have not gone back to any extent in their knowledge of the athletic game, and are now getting in condition to give a warm reception to their visiting opponents in a variety of field stunts.

All the same, the stories of their prowess that have been wafted hitherward over the intervening plains have not brought anything like dismay to the Capital City lads. The latter, while realizing that Arbuckle field day will not be a cake-walk for them, expect to bring home a fair share of the bacon.

Evening Class Hours.

Mondays Wednesdays and Fridays, from 8 to 10 p. m.

Sacramento, Cal., Mar. 25, 1910.
To the Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club.
Fellow members:

Through the kindness of The Sacramento Weekly, official organ of this association, it has become possible for us to receive each week, collated in one issue, all of the collective news of the week concerning the association and its members.

Th's, as you know, is a valuable and highly appreciated advantage.

The Directors and myself earnestly urge that the members of the S. A. C. return kindness for kindness, by systematically patronizing those merchants who advertise in the Sacramento Weekly.

Kindly give the matter serious attention.

Fraternally yours,
W. W. BASSETT, President.

ALL the committees charged with preparations for the big masquerade ball and athletic exhibition on the night of April 1st have been hard at work, and gratifying progress has been made. Several new features are being developed, with the result that the officials of the club are confident that the affair will prove a marked success. Keeping in view the achievements of the club under its former organization, every effort is being made to have the forthcoming masquerade the equal of any of its predecessors, and the present outlook promises that this will be accomplished, if indeed it be not excelled.

There are no drones nor back numbers among the officers and directors of the club, every one of them being not only a "live wire" but a whole battery of energy and tireless industry. All are animated with the one desire and determination of making the organization second to no athletic institution on the coast, and they feel that it is the duty, as it should be the pleasure, of the community to do its share toward promoting the welfare of the club.

The opportunity is given by the club's efforts in providing high-class entertainments in the way of athletic exhibitions, masque balls, etc. It certainly is justified in looking forward to a generous patronage by the public on the occasion of the exhibition and ball on April 1st. It will encourage the club members to even greater efforts in the future to know that their labors are meeting with the appreciation of the public and that they may rely upon its support.

Among the principal features of the entertainment will be the entrance of the King and Queen to witness the athletic games. This will be an imposing scene. Their Majesties will appear in royal splendor, attended by their court, composed of club Directors and members of the Entertainment Committee appropriately costumed. The retinue will be preceded by the Court Herald, who will announce in trumpet tones the entrance of the royal pair. They will be followed by the performing athletes, and after making the circuit of the hall will be escorted to their throne, near the entrance, from which they will view the games. This feature is being arranged under the direction of Professor Rittler, assisted by various club officials.

The Committee on Decorations has prepared many striking effects, and the pavilion hall will be resplendent in its array of banners and colorings.

Among the athletic features on the program are strong-man acts by Charles T. Hintze, who sustains a weight of 680 pounds by his neck, twists horseshoes out of shape, bends good-sized spikes with his fingers and performs other feats of strength that have made professionals famous.

There will be seven Greek and Roman statuary tableaux by Professors Rittler and Dyreberg, Leo O'Connor, Charles T. Hintze, Ralph Emes, Frank Bacon and Clarence Coombs, all of whom are men of large stature and splendid physical development. Doc. Williams will do some thrilling stunts on the trapeze that would do honor to the skill of the best professionals. The slack-wire performance by John Giemberling will be another feature not often seen in an amateur performance. He will also be seen in acrobatic acts with Professor Rittler.

The club managers have reserved for the last the Chinese Pyramid distortion—the real piece de resistance of the athletic feast. If there should be any persons in the audience who object to being forced to laugh in spite of themselves, they are advised to obtain return checks and step outside while this act is on. On the other hand it is promised to be a positive remedy for anyone afflicted with the blues. Beyond this its promoters decline to be interviewed.

The music for the evening will be rendered by the Sacramento Athletic Club Orchestra of ten pieces, under the direction of Professor Moses Adler. All the members of the Adler Orchestra are also club members, and the aggregation will be known by the former designation.

Earlton H. Traxler, a member of the club's Board of Directors, is a living example of the benefits to be obtained from well-directed physical culture. He was an active member and official of the old Sacramento Athletic Club, and his upward of six feet in height and 210 pounds of physical energy he attributes largely to the exercise and judicious training he underwent during the club's years of usefulness.

Mr. Traxler is a native of Sonoma county, but has been a citizen of Sacramento for the last eleven years. His youth was spent on his father's large stock and dairy farm in Marin county, the site of the present famous tourist hostelry, the Hotel Rafael. Since coming to Sacramento he has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business. He was one of the leading spirits in the old Athletic Club, and has never ceased to regret its later years of enforced lethargy preceding the present organization. Its rejuvenation has been in large measure the result of his persistent efforts and effective agitation.

Mr. Traxler believes that stronger bodies, healthier minds and purer life are the logical results of physical activity along scientific lines, hence he gives as his best tribute to this city and its people his support to an institution which stands for the best elements of citizenship—the S. A. C.

Mr. Traxler has an abiding faith in the future of Sacramento. While the smell of the salt spray of the seashore, and even the fogs of San Pablo Bay, often bring pleasant memories of earlier years, the persistent longing for his native shores has been doomed to call unheard because of his love for Sacramento and his firm faith in her growth and prosperity. In fact, Mr. Traxler is a born trumpeter, whose unvarying note is, "I for Sacramento—Sacramento for me!" He is one of the leading spirits in the present agitation for a $250,000 club building, and believes it will succeed.

NOTICE TO ATHLETES

Who Wish to Take Part in and Represent the Club on Track Field This Season.

It is time to begin actual training, as we have several meets at hand. Get into good physical shape, and work gradually up to your event. Build up the body. Remember it is not only the legs you need—you must have a good body. For this reason it is necessary to strengthen your back and abdominal muscles, which you can do in the "Gym." Take care of your body and cut out tobacco from now on. Many a good athlete is spoiled through the use of tobacco while training. You cannot do yourself justice when your brain is becoluded with nicotine. Then "cut it out." Get plenty of sleep. This is necessary for physical development, especially when the body is still growing. (This clause includes the dancing fiends).

I wish, as coach of the Track Team of 1910, to have each member get behind me and do his duty to himself and to his Club. Train faithfully, and try to keep as near to the training schedule as time permits.

OTTO RITTLER,
Physical Instructor.

Hurdlers taking the high and low hurdles should cut out a little from each schedule, as these races are liable to exhaust the athlete and will make him go stale.

SAC. WEEKLY 4-16-10.

—o—

Building a Club Yell.

Most athletic bodies have their club songs and yells, but none have as yet been adopted by the club. The omission is soon to be supplied, however, as Professor Rittler and Alfred Putnam have formed a combination to that end. They are now giving their spare moments to the task of whipping into shape some amazing team songs and yells which will soon be heard wherever a group of Winged-S. men may be gathered together. When the Arbuckleites hear those yells they will know that somebody has come to town.

—o—

Today's Election.

To-day the annual election of club Directors and officers will take place. There are four tickets in the field—one named by the regular committee, and three by various groups of members. The competition has aroused considerable interest, and it is likely a pretty full vote will be polled.

—o—

Captain Lucey has appointed the following committee to take in hand the preparations for the track meet at Arbuckle on the 24th: Harry Gimball, W. W. Bassett, Fred. Galleher, Otto Rittler, Alfred Putnam and H. M. MacGregor.

—o—

Several more members of the club have this week signed the list of those who wish to form a rowing section. If all who have signified their desire to engage in rowing are to be provided with boats, even in crews of four or six, the club will require a good-sized flotilla.

—o—

Enthusiasm in Reno.

The recent visit of Captain Lucey to Reno, Nev., where he conferred with the managers of the athletic club of that place relative to a series of summer meets, seems to have had a good effect. The Reno Olympic Club has become active and is getting a team into shape to be sent into California. It will participate in a meet on this side of the mountains on the 14th of May, when teams from Stanford, Berkeley, Washington and Oregon will come together. Later the Reno team may be seen in Sacramento in competition with the local club's athletes.

—o—

Ed. J. Kay has declined to be a candidate for one of the Directorships. He had been named on two of the independent tickets.

—o—

It has been announced by the Directors that only members who are not in arrears for dues will be permitted to participate in the election of officers this evening. The principal contest seems to be over the position of club captain.

—o—

Chico High School has a track performer in Floyd Rice who is fast developing into a shot-putter and hammer-thrower of great promise. Up there he is touted as a second Ralph Rose. The S. A. C. expects to add Rice to its list of athletes at an early day.

—o—

Boxers Must Have Cards.

It has happened that on some occasions members of other clubs, as well as unattached men, have come here to participate in the club's boxing bouts without bringing cards verifying their good standing as amateurs. Henceforth no person will be permitted to take part in club events unless he presents his amateur card. The rule will be rigidly enforced, and aspirants for boxing honors should bear this fact in mind.

—o—

Volleyball is becoming a quite popular game with some of the members. It is played indoors and is somewhat on the tennis order. Like handball, it is conducive to speed, and is an excellent form of exercise.

—o—

The finals in the billiard and pool tournaments which had been in progress for several weeks, were concluded this week. Both were won by William Pugh. The scores were:

Billiards—Pugh 34-34, Coyle 30-26, Coyle 34, Warren 37.

Pool—Pugh 50, Knight 35.

SACRAMENTO WINS FROM ARBUCKLE

Boys From Capitol City Carry Off the Honors at Field Meet by a Score of 59 to 53 Points.

CALUSA SUN. 4-25-10

The Sacramento Athletic Track team defeated the Arbuckle boys at Arbuckle Sunday by a score of 59 to 53 points. Both teams were in good shape and the honors belonged to neither one or the other until after the meet was over. The Sacramento team was given a warm reception by the citizens of Arbuckle and the many visitors who came up with the special train from the Capitol City expressed themselves with being well satisfied with the treatment they received.

Through the courtesies of J. P. Hall, the official scorer the Sun is not able to give the official score of the game but the data gathered is considered reliable as it was gathered from the different members of the two teams, and so far has not been disputed. Hall had all of his records in "shorthand," and was "too tired to even give the names of the winners for publication." It later developed that this accommodating gentleman is the brilliant editor of the American and wanted to save his data so he could have a "scoop" in the May edition of that valuable paper.

The Sacramento team did splendid work in the heavy shot put and long distance running and it was probably these events that placed them in the lead. Zimmermacher of the Sacramento team made remarkable time in the first lap of the relay race which was won by his club. Following is the summery which was not taken from the official records:

100-yard-dash — Hollingsworth (A.) first; Gannon (S. A. C.), second; Elliott (S. A. C.), third. Time—10 2-5.

22-yard-dash — Hollingsworth (A.), first; Elliott (S. A. C.), second, Kinchloe (A.), third. Time—2 3-5.

440-yard-dash—Gates (S. A. C.), first; Sparks (S. A. C.), second; Elsaon (A.), third. Time, 2:10 3-5.

Mile run—Stewart (S. A. C.), first; Donald, (S. A. C.), second. Time, 5:15.

120, high hurdles—McFessel (A.), first; Eich (S. A. C.), second; Holt, (S. A. C.), third. Time, 17.

Shot put—Hall (A.), 47.4, first; Tharp, (S. A. C.), 45.5 second; McKilligan (S. A. C.), 40.9, thrd. Distance, 47 ft. 4inches.

Hammer throw—Weyand, first, Tharp, second; Hall, htird. iDstance, 131.10.

High Jump—Holt (S. A. C.), first; West (A.), second; Kidder, (S. A. C.), third. Distance, 5 ft 9½ inches.

Broad jump—Gates (S. A. C.) 1st; Weyand (A.), second; Holt, (S. A. C.), third. Distance 21:6.

Pole vault—Knox (A.), first; G. Cain (A.), second; Beede (S. A. C.), third. Distance, 10 feet.

Five mile run—Day (S. A. C.), first; Child (S. A. C.), second. Time 27:30.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB DEFEATED BY ARBUCKLE

CALUSA SUN.—4-25-10

The strong Sacramento Athletic Club team went down to defeat Sunday before the Arbuckle Leaguers, the score standing 5 to 1.

The Arbuckleites first found the way around the circuit in the second canto with a beat out bunt, a sacrifice and a bonehead error by Sacramento. In the third three bunched hits, a combination of passes and a wild throw netted them two more runs and from then on the game was never in doubt. Sacramento made their one tally in the fourth on a hit, an error and a wild throw.

The game was marred at intervals by the partial and one-sided decisions of Dr. West who apparently favored the home team. One of his decisions was particularly raw. In the fourth inning with a Sacramento man on first one out, bater knocked a high fly to catcher who dropped it at least three feet in front of the home plate, man on first took second, batter took first, and the umpire called it a foul ball. Even the Arbuckle supporters let out yells of rotten, etc. The largest crowd of the season was in attendance; over $150 being taken in at the gate.

To Organize Rowing Section.

Captain Lucey has laid before the club members the subject of organizing a rowing section, in the following words:

"Oarsmen: Owing to the fact that rowing in all its forms has developed a great deal of interest throughout the city, and particularly among the members of the club, the management have requested the undersigned to devise ways and means whereby the club may in future be fittingly represented in this congenial sport.

"The present purpose is to determine the extent of interest among club members and to this end the Committee desires the signatures of those who, regardless of experience, wish to enter the sport, that they may be able to arrive at definite conclusions."

In response to the call the following-named members have notified the committee of their desire to take up rowing, and the list is still open: A. Putnam, P. Amick, Bruce McDonough, James Barnes, E. Palm, Harry Villinger, C. Lucey, Tom Vanden Bosch, Downy Buttler, C. Yost, Dave Johnston, A. J. Delano, Chester Gannon, E. D. Palm, Jess Childs, B. C. Gallup, A. E. Evers, R. W. Emes, R. W. Next a Minstrel Show.

At the meeting of the club Directors Wednesday evening the proposition of giving a minstrel show in the near future was taken up and discussed, with the result that Director J. M. Anderson and Professor Rittler were authorized to take preliminary steps looking to such an entertainment. Later a committee will be named to work out all the details.

There is excellent material in the club's membership for an amateur minstrel company, and the opinion is freely expressed that when that burnt-cork show comes off it will throw some of the professional traveling minstrel companies in the shade.

To Meet Scribe In Main Event

WIND-UP CARD AT S.A.C. TONIGHT

Six Good Bouts Will Probably Mark End of Season at Athletic Club.

Six of the best amateur bouts ever staged in this city will practically wind up the season at the Sacramento Athletic club tonight. It is doubtful if any more cards will be staged this summer. Erickson and Gore, it is said, will become professionals and several others are going away, so it will be almost impossible to arrange good matches with no one in the club that is winning and can fight.

"One-round" Erickson will have an opportunity to demonstrate his fighting ability tonight when he goes up against Bobby McAllister of the Olympic club in the special event. Billy Gore will face "Fighting Scribe" Barr of Marysville in the main event, and a lively time is looked for. Billy Maier of Marysville telephoned Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman yesterday that he could not go on and so the bout was canceled, thus leaving but six on the card. Following are the six bouts:

Erickson (S. A. C.) vs. McAllister (O.), 145 pounds.

S. Raymond (unattached) vs. Wallace (Marysville), 160 pounds.

Salvadore (S. A. C.) vs. Arthur Martin (San Francisco), 115 pounds.

There will be no wrestling bouts on the card tonight.

Fixing Out-of-Town Dates.

Captain Delano and Director MacGregor are laying plans for several out-of-town engagements for the field and track team this season. The matter has not yet taken definite shape, but it is likely the club team will be seen in action against the Reno University athletes, the Marysville team on July 4th, and possibly at the proposed games in connection with a big picnic to be held at Gridley.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WILLOWS (Glenn Co.), April 29.—On next Sunday afternoon at Recreation Park in this city the Willows Giants will contest with the Sacramento Athletic Club team. This team has an excellent record in this section of the valley, as has the Giants, and the game is being looked forward to by all the fans in Glenn County.

SAC. WEEKLY 4-30-10

S. A. C. 59; Arbuckle 53.

The day preceding the big field and track meet at Arbuckle, on Sunday last, Professor Rittler did a little figuring. He took the program of events, went over each in detail, and figured out the probable result as 58 to 55 in favor of the club's athletes. The actual result (59 to 53) shows him to be an excellent judge of the abilities not only of his own performers, but of the men with whom they had to contend for track honors.

The meet was a grand success, and the officers of the club who accompanied the team to the Colusa town declare the athletes of that vicinity to be foemen worthy of the best amateurs. In defeating them, even by so small a margin, the local team deserves great credit. It had been expected that Arbuckle would win the relay race, and the S. A. C. in the weight events, but the reverse occurred. Incidentally, the visitors have only words of praise for the Arbuckle Club's officers and members for the excellent manner in which the meet was managed and the hospitality of the citizens. Everything passed off smoothly. There was no dissatisfaction, no apparent jealousies, and consequently no "kicking." The weather was fine, and all the conditions conducive to good fellowship and rare sport.

The time made by the winners in the runing events compares favorably with the best amateur records. Stewart upheld his own and the S. A. C. reputations in the half-mile and mile events, repeating his recent performances at Marysville. The club managers feel that in Stewart they have a runner who can hold his own in any company, and in figuring on the outcome of coming events he is always put down as a point-winner. Stewart started in the five-mile race only to encourage his team-mates. Owing to his exertions in the previous running events, he did not finish in the longer event.

Harry Tharp, a new acquisition to the track team, is another on whom the club relies for future honors. Although but a beginner in handling the hammer and shot, he was second in both the shot-put and hammer-throwing to Hale of Arbuckle, a strong, expert and experienced athlete.

Holt, the S. A. C. high jumper, made them move the peg up to 5 feet 9½ inches before reaching his limit. It would be no surprise if he should reach the 6-foot mark before the season ends.

Gates, S. A. C., had a hard competitor in Purrington in the 440-yard dash, but won out in the excellent time of 53 seconds. It may be here remarked that the track was not an ideal one for fast time. With perfect going all the runners would have scored higher.

Gates also annexed the broad jump, covering 21.6 feet, defeating Weyand of Arbuckle.

In the relay race Zimmermacher, a comparatively green performer, surprised his friends by holding his opponent level in the first relay, giving the next S. A. C. man an even start on the second relay.

Day and Childs, both S. A. C., took first and second, respectively, in the five-mile run. They can both be relied on to give good accounts of themselves against any distance runners on the Coast.

In Hollingsworth, Kinschloe and Purrington, Arbuckle has a trio of splendid amateur performers. Captain Delano and Director MacGregor are already negotiating with them for places on the S. A. C. team, and it is not unlikely that in the near future they will be seen in the "Winged S." ranks.

Following is a summary of the day's events:

100-yard dash—Hollingsworth (A.), first; Gannon (S. A. C.), second; Elliott (S. A. C.), third. Time, 10 2-5.

220-yard dash—Hollingsworth (A), first; Elliott (S. A. C.), second; Kinchloe (A.), third. Time, 2 3-5.

880-yard run—Stewart (S. A. C.), first; Sparks (S. A. C.), second; Elsaon (A.), third. Time, 2:10 3-5.

Mile run—Stewart (S. A. C.), first; Donald (S. A. C.), second. Time, 5:15.

220-yard low hurdles—Kinchloe (A.), first; McTassel (A.), second; Zimmermacher (S. A. C.), third. Time, 28.

120-yards high hurdles—McTessel (A), first; Eich (S. A. C.), second; Holt (S. A. C.), third. Time, 17.

An Evening with the Boxers.

The home boxers did not have as easy jobs in disposing of their outside adversaries in the Thursday night bouts as on some former occasions. In nearly every case they had to extend themselves, with the result that the large audience was treated to about two hours of as pretty glove-boxing as one could wish to see. Boxing Manager Hoffman received many compliments at the close of the entertainment for the good judgment displayed in framing up the program of events.

The decisions in a few instances were very close, and all were not by any means concurred in by the majority of spectators, notably that in the case of Erickson, the club's popular welter-weight, and Bob McAllister of the San Francisco Olympic Club. The judges required a fourth round, so even was the result at the end of the third, and the Olympic lad was finally given the benefit of the doubt. Erickson is short and stocky, and McAllister long and lanky. He towered away above the Sacramentan, and had the advantage of a half-foot in reach. Joe had to fairly jump into the air to reach him, and though he landed often Bob was so far away that the blows usually did little damage. Erickson carried the fight to his man right along, and it was easy for the lanky Olympic lad to counter without having to do much hard work. Many thought Erickson entitled to the decision, but it must be admitted that he received the most punishment. At the close of the bout the lads good-naturedly embraced in the center of the ring, smiled as pleasantly as their puffed lips would permit, and Joe told Bob to consider himself challenged to another trial later on.

The bout between Kid Seiner (unattached) and Phil Nooman of the San Francisco Olympic Club, was another corking good one. Senier weighed 143 pounds, and Nooman 135. Three rounds found the lads on such even footing that the judges sent them on for another. It was a mighty close scrap, but the judges thought Nooman had a shade the best of it.

The Martinez-Noble bout was very exciting. The former represented the club, and Noble came from the Oakland Acme Club. They boxed at 125 pounds. Noble has a fine straight left-hand punch, and is a very clever lad. In the second round Martinez caught him with a terrific swing on the jaw, which turned the Acme man completely round and landed him on his back. The timekeeper had nearly counted ten when the gong rang. Noble was carried to his corner, and he revived so quickly that he seemed as fresh in the third round as at the start. Though severely punished by Martinez's heavy punches, the Oakland man was given the decision.

Everyone expected to see a slashing set-to when the big fellows, S. Raymond (unattached) and Clarence Wallace of Marysville climbed through the ropes. They weighed 160 pounds each. This clash ended in the second round. Raymond floored his man repeatedly and soon had him at his mercy.

Arthur Martin of the San Francisco Club had easy going with Salvadore of the home club in the 115-pound class. He put the latter out in the first round.

The closing bout of the evening was won by Billy Gore (S. A. C.) over E. Barr of Marysville. The lads are in the lightweight class. The Marysville man made a good showing up to the third round, when Gore's rapid-fire punches began to tell, causing Barr to hang on so that Gore had few chances to work on him. The decision in Gore's favor was well received.

Prior to the boxing Director Inman distributed medals to the winners of last month's boxing and wrestling bouts. The recipients were Salvadore, Gore, Thompson, Martinez, Hooker, Marino, Holland, Raymond, Murray, Erickson, Burns and Eames.

SAC. WEEKLY. 4-30-10

Promising Boxers.

The Tuesday and Friday class nights are bringing the active members of the club together in increasing numbers, and many of them are showing marked ability as athletes. Billy Johnson, the Boxing Instructor, is developing a number of very promising glove artists. He has been upward of ten years with the club—before and since its reorganization, and is known as one of the most competent and successful boxing instructors on the coast. Some years ago Mr. Johnson won his way to the State middleweight championship over the best amateurs that could be found by the bay clubs to pit against him, and going out of his class he took on and readily disposed of Billy Smith, an Australian light heavyweight, who ranked high in pugilistic circles.

Under Mr. Johnson's tutelage Joe Erickson has developed such ability that the club would not hesitate to send him against the best amateurs in the State in the 145-pound class. In club circles Erickson is regarded as the coming amateur champion.

Billy Gore, in the 135-pound division, and Young Salvadore, 115 pounds, are also clever boxers with prospective ring honors.

In the wrestling class Instructor Dyeberg has about a dozen good performers, some of them being unusually clever. It is the intention of the club managers to hold a wrestling tournament somewhere about the middle of May, when local men will be given a chance to test their skill and strength against the best amateur wrestlers in the State. During the tournament Leo O'Connor will be pitted against Miller, the San Francisco Olympic Club's crack mat artist.

Besides the wrestling and boxing classes, other divisions are showing up well, and the club will, through its indoor and outdoor athletes, soon be on even footing with any of the older organizations of the cities about the bay.

P. A. A. May Locate Here.

Officials of the Pacific Athletic Association have promised to come to Sacramento in the near future and confer with the club managers relative to establishing here a headquarters of the Association for the northern part of the State. If this can be accomplished—through permission of the American Athletic Union—it will be a great aid to athletics in this part of the State, and of special importance to Sacramento, which would have its own governing body, working under the P. A. A.

Hodson Photo

Prominent among the officials of the club is J. M. Inman, Financial Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. Inman, because of his long connection with and thorough knowledge of athletics, is a very efficient also a very busy club official. He is a native of Inyo county, Cal., and 34 years of age. His mother was one of the pioneer women of California, having crossed the plains in 1850 by ox train. He came to Sacramento five years ago, and gave evidence of his appreciation of the city and its people by wedding one of its most popular daughters, Miss Edith Trainor.

Mr. Inman is a rising member of the Sacramento bar, and has an office in the Bryte building. He is prominent in local politics, and is now a candidate for the Republican nomination for Township Justice. He is deeply interested in amateur and professional sports, being a director and Secretary of the Sacramento Coast and State League Clubs.

Rowing.

There is now every indication that the club's rowing section will be an important factor in the sports of the coming summer, and already thirty-one members have signed the roll, and Captain Lucey expects to work up several strong rowing crews.

Team of Crack Men.

With the acquisition of several up-country athletes, mentioned elsewhere, and the development of local talent, the club will soon have a team of track performers whose achievements will attract wide attention in athletic circles. The latest addition to the list is Al. Rathbone, who had an excellent record as a member of one of the big University track teams. He ran a close third, in a recent University meet, in the 100-yards dash, and crowded the winner of the broad jump. Mr. Rathbone is now connected with a local real estate firm, and is to take an active part in the club.

Watch the S. A. C. grow.

Corkers vs. Bohemians.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow the club"s third baseball team, the Corkers, under the management of V. Marston, will take on the Bohemians at McKinley Park. They will line-up thusly: Bookaw and Delano catchers, Ilnar and Marincovich pitchers, Bronson first base, Johnson second base, Marston third base, Holten shortstop, Lauser left field, Maginn right field, Gill center field.

Club's First Outing.

Sunday, May 8th, will be one of those club days of which members will delight to talk in coming years when in reminiscent mood. It is to be the occasion of the first grand, go-as-you-please outing since the club's rejuvenation—an occasion intended to bring the members together in a day of good fellowship, unhampered by the rigid rules governing field and track competitions. It is to be a day in the woods, where fun and frolic will hold sway—when Captains, and Directors, and Professors, and Managers will not be regarded with awe, but will themselves mix with "the boys" in their wholesome, mirth-provoking, and healthful pastimes.

The proposition is to hold a grand club picnic in one of the many inviting groves along the river and north of the city. Launches, skiffs and other craft will be called into service for the trip, but the picnic grove to be selected will not be many miles distant, so that all who prefer to do so may make the journey a hiking one. This many will probably do if the weather should be cool.

An abundant supply of eatables will be shipped ahead, so that none may return hungry. For this purpose a fee of 50 cents will be collected from each participant in the picnic. All members who contemplate taking part are requested to hand in their names (together with the 50 cents), to either Superintendent Galleher, Captain Delano, Professor Rittler, or Messrs. Putnam or Shorrock.

During the day there will be impromptu rowing races, foot races, ball games sack races, and other games and amusing features, which latter will include a fat-men's sprint. Professor Rittler and the other managers expect to work up quite a list of informal diversions for the day. It is hoped to bring together most of the club members at this day's outing, whether for either rest or recreation, as may suit them.

—o—

Director James W. Gray.

One of the most active of the club Directors is James W. Gray, himself an athlete of considerable ability, and who appreciates fully the benefits to be derived through physical culture along proper lines.

Mr. Gray is a native of Denton County, Texas, and is 36 years of age. His boyhood days were spent on stock ranches in California, Oregon and Nevada, but mostly in this State. While attending college in Sacramento in 1894 he allied himself with the Athletic Club. He acquired marked proficiency in various branches of athletics. In the old club's pyramid team he did the strong-man part, holding up seven men in one act. He also took an active part in boxing, in which he frequently appeared in friendly bouts at the club's entertainments.

When the Spanish War broke out, in 1898, Mr. Gray responded to the first call for volunteers by enlisting in Company F, Sixth California Volunteer Infantry, and is now one of the officers of J. Holland Laidler Camp, No. 5, Veterans of the Spanish War. After some years spent in the life in-

OUT-OF-TOWN BOYS SCORE IN S.A.C. BOXING TOURNEY

Joe Erickson, Pride of Sacramento Athletic Club, Loses to Olympic Club Boxer by Unpopular Decision and "Scribe" Barr of Marysville Is Beaten in Main Event by "Whirlwind" Gore.

SAC. UN. 4-29-10

Out-of-town boxers scored heavily at the regular monthly boxing fest of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night and the local boys, not all however, were forced to sit up like good little men and take their medicine. "One Round" Joe Erickson, dubbed the Pride of the Athletic Club, fell from grace and was declared the loser in a four-round go with Bob McAllister of the Olympic Club. The referee was relieved of all responsibility of making decisions and two judges bore the brunt of his labors, writing down on a slip of paper their choice for the honored position.

CARD WAS GOOD.

No knock-outs occurred and there was not too much butchering. The card started off with two poor bouts, but after those were laid away the remaining goes were good. The two Olympic Club men carried off the honors of the evening, while Billy Gore, the local whirlwind, was given a well-earned decision over Everett Barr of Marysville in the main event. The decision in the Erickson-McAllister go was somewhat inconsistent, and just why it was rendered as it was, is yet a puzzling question to many. Erickson did all the forcing and landed an equal number of telling blows. McAllister, on the other hand, was several inches the tallest and had the advantage in reach. He fought game and put through some good punches. At the end of the third round, which was supposed to be the limit, the bout was declared a draw by the action of the judges in calling for another round. In the last round Erickson held his own, and if anything had a shade. Erickson declares that he was not given a fair deal and says that one of the judges told him before the fight that if he did not knock out his man the decision would be rendered against him. The fact that one of the judges, so 'tis said, voted for Erickson at the finish tends to deepen the mystery. Erickson is anxious to know why the decision should have been given against him when one of the two judges decided he was the best of the two.

POOR DECISION.

Martinez of the Athletic club also came in for his share of trouble, and the crowd hissed when the decision was rendered in favor of Paul Noble of the Olympic club in San Francisco. Martinez had Noble out in the second round, when the gong came as the referee was about to deliver the tenth count and saved him. The first round was even. In the third round Martinez broke ground a little, but stood up and fought his man to a standstill. He was tired and wild but landed his blows, and should have been given another round at least. The decision was unpopular, and the judgment of the crowd was in this instance well founded.

The main event between Everett Barr and Billy Gore was the best fight of the evening. Gore outpointed his man, but did not escape without receiving a few stiff blows. Barr used his left to advantage, but could not stand up under Gore's heavy rushes and wild swings. A stomach punch delivered in the first round sent Barr reeling backwards to the mat, but he was up again like a flash and waded in with renewed energy. The second was about even, though Gore was the aggressor. In the third Barr was tired and could not have gone another round.

SEINER LOSES OUT.

Kid Seiner, the local baker boy, lost on a decision to Phil Nooman of the Olympic club after virtually having his man beat. The boys fought the hardest go of the evening, and were perhaps the best matched, though the weight was in Seiner's favor. The three rounds were even, but in the fourth Seiner weakened and was easily outfought by Nooman. The boys fought all the time and waded in in a manner new to the Athletic club fans.

The opening bout between Salvador of the S. A. C. and Arthur Martin of the San Francisco club was a joke so far as Martin was concerned. The San Francisco boy was too small for Salvador, and practically laid down in the first round, receiving the count and seeming glad to escape from the ordeal of going the limit.

S. Raymond, unattached, found Clarence Wallace's weak spot in the first round when he shot in a terrific right hook which caught Wallace on the jaw, spinning him around like a top and then dropping him flat on the mat, and the Marysville boy was done for from that on. He was all but out in the first, but went to his corner at gong and returned fresh and for a few moments made Raymond hop about. Then he went under rapidly, and seeing that he had no chance his seconds threw up the sponge, ending the contest in the latter part of the second round.

YOUNG BOYS PRESENT.

The presence of three or four little boys at the bout was remarked on unfavorably by a majority of those to whose notice the matter was brought. A state law, enacted recently by the legislature, forbids the allowing of boys under 18 years of age at prize fights or boxing contests, and it is thought that the law applies to amateur contests as well as to professional goes. Upon several previous occasions boys of tender ages have been present at the club's goes, and it is the opinion of many that they should not be allowed to witness the contests. It is understood that if boys are to be admitted in the future certain of the members will take the matter up and enter a protest with the club directors.

Medals were awarded by Announcer Inman previous to the goes to the following: Salvador, Thompson, Holland, Gore, Raymond, Erickson and Emes.

surance business in Sacramento, San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, also as a commercial traveler, Mr. Gray two years ago entered the service of the Robertson-Govan real estate firm, as salesman, and is still identified with that company.

In the recorganization of the Sacramento Athletic Club, Mr. Gray took an active part, and is entitled to much of the credit for all that has been accomplished. He is a member of Eureka Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., is married, and declares he is glad of it. He is enthusiastic over Sacramento, says he never found, in all his travels, a place half so good as this, and has become a confirmed b[illegible]ster.

Percy Kidder, the club's high jumper, is receiving daily congratulations on the recent arrival at his home of a little Kid (der). The fond father wants the club to inaugurate futurity events so that he can enter his prospective high jumper.

BOXING BOUTS AT S. A. C. TO BE CONTINUED

SAC. UN. 5-3-10

There will be no boxing contests at the Sacramento Athletic club this month, but in June the exhibitions will be resumed as before. This month, about the 20th, a ladies' night will be held, and the club wrestlers will put on several bouts. The great success of the amateur bouts makes the abandonment of the feature impossible, and the management has decided to maintain them indefinitely.

S. A. C. PLANS BIG OUTING

STAR. 5-3-10.

There is promise that the Sacramento Athletic Club's outing up the river opposite Bright's next Sunday will eclipse all plans which have been announced. The start will be made from the Dolphin and the Crescent Rowing Clubs at 8 a. m. and three big launches and 25 rowboats will proceed up the river to the camp where the day's fun will begin. At noon a luncheon of barbequed beef and other good things will be served.

The day's program will not be announced, but it will be one which will entertain everybody. Those who desire to go should see some member of the committee before Wednesday. The committee is composed of Prof. Rittler, Fred Gallagher, Arthur Delano, Jack Morshead and Robert Shorrock.

STEWART ELECTED TRACK CAPTAIN

SAC. BEE. 5-4-10

Charles Stewart was last night chosen to lead the track team of the Sacramento Athletic Club for the season of 1910. Stewart is fully competent to lead the squad as he is the star distance man on the club team. Captain Stewart will immediately get to work on his team in preparation for the field meet to be held with the Chico athletes on May 30th.

The directors last night also selected May 25th as the date for the "ladies' night." This event will take the place of the amateur fight nights. On the program for the night is a wrestling bout for the championship of the coast between O'Connors of the club and Miller of the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

M'ALLISTER LOWERS COLORS OF JOE ERICKSON

SAC. BEE 4-29-10

Bobby McAllister, a clever rangey lad, carrying the winged "O" of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, last night took the measure of "One Round Joe" Erickson, the pride of the Sacramento Athletic Club, at the amateur bouts staged by the club. With height and reach in his favor, McAllister worked a clever left jab on Erickson that threw the fighting Swede off his balance. He outpointed Erickson so completely that it was unjust on the part of the two judges to ask him to go a fourth round to get a decision.

There were six bouts on the card, but they were all lively ones, and near-knockouts were witnessed in every one. The three San Francisco fighters pitted against the Sacramento boys carried off the honors of the evening.

Barr Loses to Gore.

In the main event Everett Barr, of Marysville, forsook the journalistic field to take another whirl at the game of biff and bang. He was put up against Billy Gore, of the S. A. C., and found in Gore a tough nut to crack. Gore was too much of a whirlwind for the fighting scribe, who kept shooting in left jabs to keep Gore off. Gore was given a well-earned decision in the third round.

The special event was that between Erickson and McAllister. The haymaker which Erickson has been putting over on his opponents in the first round could not be hung on the wily hay boy. Constant left jabs to the face soon had Erickson swinging wild, and in this manner McAllister kept outside the danger zone, occasionally rushing in, however, to mix it with Joe.

Kid Seiner and Phil Nooman, of the Olympic Club, went four fast rounds for one of the best bouts of the evening. Had the baker boy been able to follow up his advantage in the first round when he had Nooman shaky, he stood a good chance of beating the Olympian. As it was, Nooman recovered and carried the fight to Seiner and got the decision at the end of the fourth round.

S. Raymond, unattached, in the second round put Wallace, of Marysville, into a state of grogginess that brought forth the towel of the Marysville man's seconds. It was a free hitting bout, Raymond dropping Wallace to the floor several times. A right uppercut coming unexpectedly from Wallace put Raymond in distress for a time.

The judges cut short the even bout between Martinez and Paul Noble, of the Acme Club of Oakland, to give the decision to Noble at the end of the third round. Noble enjoyed a lead in the third, but one of the two preceding rounds was in favor of Martinez. The latter laid Noble out cold at the end of the second, the gong saving the Oakland boy. His seconds had to carry him to his corner. A call for a fourth round would have been popular.

Arthur Martin, of San Francisco, failed to show up for his fight with Salvadore, of the S. A. C., so his brother, some ten to fifteen pounds lighter than Salvadore, took up the burden. He was no match for the local boxer, and the bout was stopped in the second round.

Previous to the bouts, medals for previous victories were given to Salvadore, Thompson, Holland, Gore, Raymond, Erickson and Eames.

S.A.C. OUTING SUNDAY WILL BE BIG EVENT

S. Union 5-5-10

Thirty rowboats and a third that number of motorboats will convey the Sacramento Athletic club members up the river Sunday on the club's annual outing. Over a hundred club members have signed up already and a big crowd is expected to go along. Several baskets of lunch will be taken and refreshments will be in abundance.

Captain Marston of the Corkers challenges any baseball team for the event. A real old-time barbecue will be held. The following events will be contested by the picnickers:

Three-legged race; wheelbarrow race; sack race; fat man's race; horseback wrestling.

Rowing races—Free-for-all doubles; free-for-all singles; free-for-all four in boat; paddling race.

On June 12 the S. A. C. ball team will play an exhibition game with the Columbia Park boys who will stop off in this city while on their vacation visit to Washington and Oregon.

S. A. C. TO HOLD A MEET UP THE RIVER

SAC. BEE. 5-7-10

The journey of Sacramento Athletic Club members to the grove of oaks opposite Bryte's Landing, above this city, where a field day meet will be held, will commence at 7:30 o'clock to-morrow morning from the Sacramento end of the Southern Pacific bridge. The parade, which will end at the Dolphin and Crescent Rowing Club house, will be headed by a brass band. The river run will commence as soon as all the athletes can be bundled into rowboats and launches, and, once at the camping ground, the day's sport and athletic contents will be the order of things.

For the purpose of preserving order and keeping the members of the party upon their best behavior, Jack Hallahan has been appointed officer of the day. Jack Denny will be starter for the boat races, and George Traxler will be starter for all the field and track events. There will be a barbecue, and in addition three bull'sheads will be on the menu.

SAC. WEEKLY 3-12-10

Whist Tournament.

In the whist contests between club players and members of Company E, National Guard, the former were again victorious this week. Bennett and Beckley defeated Dr. Loiseaux and Beckman of Company E. score 9 to 4; Eames and Turner defeated Pegnello brothers, Company E, score 10 to 2.

The final game for the club cup was played between Pixley and Solars and Bovyer and Pugh, the former team winning by a score of 14 to 3.

—o—

Track Meet at Arbuckle.

Arrangements have been completed for the special train that is to be run by the club to Arbuckle on the 24th of April, the occasion of the field and track meet. If 125 or more persons go from here the fare will be $1.55 for the round trip. If less than 125 the rate will be a single fare and one' third.

—o—

It is not expected that the club's colors will be seen at the indoor games at St. Mary's College, San Francisco, on the 16th of this month.

—o—

Efforts are being made by Captain Lucey to arrange baseball dates with Chico, Colusa and the Nevada University teams. The club's first outside game will be at Arbuckle.

—o—

Awakening Interest in Rowing.

There is a good prospect of the club including rowing among its activities. Captain Lucey has appointed Jack Morshead, Robert Shorrock and Charles Wahlander a committee to confer with members of the club, and if possible awaken an interest in this branch of sport. Quite a number have already signified their willingness to form a boat crew, and it is thought there will be enough signers to constitute several crews. Hence rowing contests may soon be on the club program.

—o—

Billiard and Pool Tournament.

On the 30th of this month the preliminary play in the billiard and pool tournament will close, and quite a large number of members have signed the list of contestants. Each player is to meet every other during the tourney. The pool games are to be of 50 points each, and the billiard games 34. Three-ball carom rules will prevail in billiards and straight pool, call everything will be played. The standing of the players will be figured on the percentage basis and the four players having the highest standing in each tournament will play for the Club championship.

Those entered for pool are: Amick, Beardsley, Bovyer, Coombs, Davis, Erway, Knight, Lindeburg, Morgan, Pugh, Roguin, Tate and Warren.

The billiardists are: Bergman, Bovyer, Coombs, Coyle, Davis, Fleckinger, Groseclose, Lovich, Maginn, C. S. Pixley, J. L. Pixley, Pugh, Roguin, Spark, Tate, Warren and Wickham.

—o—

Changes in Baseball Map.

More ginger than usual was injected into the baseball games at McKinley Park last Sunday, and the tryouts were snappy and interesting, and occasionally exciting. The Giants broke through the fog of defeat which had settled down upon them, defeating the Alerts 16 to 6. The Shamrocks

Handball Championship.

The Northern California handball championship now belongs to the club through the success of its crack team, Root and Shaw, over Blake and Trainor this week. The contest took place in the club's handball court and was witnessed by a large crowd. Three rounds were played. The first was won by Blake and Trainor, 21 to 15. The second and third went to the club's pair—21 to 18, and 21 to 12, respectively. Their team work was excellent—in fact, the work throughout the three games was clean-cut and the play close and exciting. George Yoerk acted as umpire, and Phil. Knight as scorer.

Held Down League Team.

Captain Tate's baseball outfit game gave Graham's Coast Leaguers all they wanted to do in Sunday's game in order to gain a 7 to 6 victory. Pitted against the club team were three of Graham's star pitchers, Whalen, Hunt and Fitzgerald, but Tate's men succeeded in batting the trio freely. The race for the prize of baseball shoes offered by a local merchant was between Carrigan and Burr. The former got the shoes. Bowden also did good stick-work. Roher and Pappa both pitched a good quality of ball for the Athletics, otherwise there would not have been a 7 to 6 finish.

S.WEEKLY 3-12-10

THE managers of the club have decided to feel the public pulse on the subject of erecting a building that will serve not only as a home for the club, but also fill the want so severely felt in the city of a public hall or auditorium. The club needs a commodious, up-to-date headquarters that will be in keeping with its position as one of the largest organizations of its kind in the State, and the city needs a hall large enough to accommodate big gatherings such as attend public meetings and conventions.

The matter is one that will interest every public-spirited citizen and all the civil bodies of the city.

President Bassett of the club believes there is sufficient civic pride among the citizens to make the project a success. The idea, as at present outlined, is to have each member of the club to take as many shares of the capital stock as his means will permit, to be paid up in small installments running through two or three years. Also to solicit stock subscriptions from citizens generally.

Mr. Bassett states that the capital necessary for securing a site can be had at any time.

The expense of fitting up the club gymnasium will be comparatively light, the principal item being for proper clubrooms. The club, of course, would use the upper stories of the building, the first floor to be devoted to a public hall. Compared to buildigns used for commercial or office purposes, the expense of fitting up the interior would not be heavy.

Here, then, is the opportunity for Sacramento to obtain a public hall and the Athletic Club a home commensurate with its needs. The matter is as yet in an incipient stage, but it is the purpose of the officers of the club to push the project with energy.

Sacramento, being the Capital and the geographical and railroad center of the State, is the logical place for the holding of conventions, but they cannot be invited to come here until the city has a hall that will accommodate large bodies. Ever since the removal of the State Pavilion from Capitol Park there has been no place in which to hold public meetings of large size, and until provision is made no outside organizations can be expected to come to Sacramento.

Although the Athletic Club is taking the initiative in this movement, it is really a matter in which the city generally is most concerned, and one in which civic bodies, property owners and capitalists will, no doubt, assist.

Sacramento Athletic Jurisdiction.

The Amateur Athletic Union of America, at a meeting of its Western delegates in San Francisco this week, awarded to Sacramento a branch Commission of that athletic governing body. This was accomplished through the efforts of the local club's representative, H. M. Macgregor, and is the culmination of the club's activity in that direction ever since its reorganization.

This places Sacramento on an equal footing with the other large cities of the coast, and means that this will be the headquarters, or center, of amateur athletics in Northern California. Sacramento will be recommended to the parent body as an independent territory, provided this section of the State shows the proper interest in the matter and a disposition to support a governing body.

Delegate Macgregor was appointed chairman of the Sacramento branch Commission. He will choose four assistants to aid him in the work. The Commission will begin its labors in a few weeks and proceed to organize the northern portion of the State into the proposed central body. It will endeavor to organize athletic clubs in all the important towns, to be under the supervision of the P. A. A., and the members of the Commission will make a personal canvass of the district.

This is the most important movement in the interest of athletics in this part of the State that has yet been made, and the result is directly due to the activity of the local club.

W. H. Hanlon, Directors Gray and Traxler and Physical Instructor Rittler are still engaged in the work of perfecting the list of features for the night of the great masque ball to be given by the club in the M-street pavilion. While the program has been partially prepared, there are yet several novel and attractive features to be added. The grand march will, it is believed, eclipse anything of the kind presented in the city in past years. All the committees charged with arrangements for the ball and exhibition are working with energy to make the affair a brilliant success. Following are features of the program, as far as decided on:

Overture. Carnival of sport (first time ever produced on the Pacific Coast). Band or drum corps; baseball, fencing, swimming, basketball, tennis, hunting, bicycling, cricket, fishing, track and field, driving, snowshoeing, rowing, skating, golf, lacrosse, football. Picture final.

Part 2—Bag punching, Gus Storz; pyramids, S. A. C. members; double trapeze, McColloch Bros.; posing, S. A. C. members; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; fancy club juggling, S. A. C. team; comedy boxing bout, Hoffman and Sallars; fancy rope skipping act, Alex. Pape; Indian club passing race, S. A. C. members; wrestling, S. A. C. members; illuminated club swinging, Prof. O. Rittler; wand drill, S. A. C. members; heavy weight lifting, Chas. T. Hintze.

The club has arranged with a local photographer to take flashlight pictures during the grand march, also when dancing is in progress.

—o—

Swimming.

The swimming season will soon be in full blast, and Captain Lucey is signing up all members who wish to identify themselves with the aquatic element. Those who have already signified a desire to enter the tryout list are: H. Evers, D. Wickham, A. Evers, C. Luke, A. B. Erway, R. Beardslee, Heber E. Smith, F. Felix, Ed. Dunn, C. Bowrett, E. Carrigan, C. Kromer, R. Wahlander, B. Wickham, T. Burns, Charles Clark and Charles Wahlander. The list is by no means complete as yet.

Basket Ball.

Yesterday the club's lightweight basketball team went to San Francisco, where the men were last night to meet the Petaluma team in the State championship semi-finals. As The Weekly went to press last night, the result cannot be given in this issue. The winning team will play the leaders for the State championship. Physical Instructor Rittler says the team is a strong one, and he was confident the men would give a good account of themselves. However, they have been accustomed to playing in a small court, and it was possible they might be handicapped in one of the regulation size.

The team is in charge of Captain Bacon and Physical Instructor Rittler.

There is great activity at the gymnasium on class nights (Tuesdays and Fridays), the members displaying commendable interest and enthusiasm in the work, under the direction of Physical Instructor Rittler and his assistants. There are all kinds of contests in progress on these nigths, with not a dull moment from the opening to the closing hour. And the progress that is being made by members who apply themselves to particular classes of work is gratifying to the officers of the club. The wonder is how the young men of the city could have held in check their physical energies during the years preceding the organization of the club, so eager are they now to avail themselves of the advantages offered to perfect themselves in physical culture.

The club officials are expending considerable money in the improvement of the baseball grounds at McKinley Park. When these improvements are completed the members will have an up-to-date diamond and a most convenient place for club games.

When the basketball season ends Professor Rittler will set about preparing members for the field and track meets to take place during the season. He is keeping tab on the work of his pupils in all lines of athletics and is confident that the club will cut an important figure in field contests with other organizations.

—o—

Preparations are in progress by Physical Instructor Rittler and Wrestling Instructor Dyerberg for a wrestling tournament to take place during March. The wrestlers are showing up well, and there will be many spirited contests. In the 115-pound class O. Phillips is displaying unusual cleverness as a wrestler, and much is expected of him. In fact, all the classes are developing promising wrestlers.

—o—

In the coming State basketball championship, to be played in San Francisco, the club will be represented by two teams. Physical Instructor Rittler has made his selections of men to compose these teams, choosing his material according to the form displayed by the players in recent local games. In the 145-pound class Clarence Shaw will be team captain, and S. Luke will have charge of the 135-pound team. The players named are:

145-pound team—Forwards, Shaw, Knight, Amick; centers, Barnes, Griffeth; guards, Donald, Lobner, Bacon.

The start will be made from the Southern Pacific bridge promptly at 7:30 a. m. The boys will spend the day up the river, and will not return until late in the evening.

The run will be made in rowboats and launches, and once at the camping ground the day's sport and athletic contents will be the order of things.

For the purpose of preserving order and keeping the members of the party upon their best behavior, Jack Hallahan has been appointed officer of the day. Jack Denny will be starter for the boat races, and George Traxler will be starter for all the field and track events. There will be a barbecue, and in addition three bull's-heads will be on the menu.

CALEDONIAN CLUB WILL JOIN P. A. A.

Scottish Organization Votes to Enter Ranks of Organized Athletics.

SAC.UN— 5-8-10

Another step toward the advancement of athletics in Northern California was made last night, when the Caledonian club of Sacramento, at its monthly meeting held at Odd Fellows' hall, decided to affiliate with the Pacific Athletic association.

In the ranks of the Caledonian club are many athletes who will appear in the games to be held by the club in the near future.

A number of the athletes of the Caledonians have been in training for several weeks, and will participate in the games to be held May 30 by the Scottish societies of Oakland and San Francisco

A great deal of enthusiasm was shown by the members of the Caledonian club last night relative to the revival of athletics in the ranks of the club, and it was decided to make a big success of the games to be held by the club in the near future. Among those who will participate in the games to be held by the club are:

A. McCaw, Lewis Smith, Duncan Grant, D. G. McKinnon and H. M. McGregor. Chief McKinnon of the club has been notified that Rev. John Campbell of the Bridge of Allan, Scotland, will be in Sacramento on June 13, and will preach in the Presbyterian church, Thirteenth and K streets. The members of the club will attend the church in a body, marching from their clubroom to the church to the tune of the bagpipes.

Sacramento Boys Win Meet

ARBUCKLE AMERICAN 4-30-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club won the field day held here last Sunday by a close margin, the score being 59 to 53, the winning of the relay deciding the outcome. When taken into consideration that the Sacramento club has been strengthening its team with the best athletes obtainable for the past two years, the local boy, who were ably assisted by four Woodland high school boys, put up a good fight. Of the 53 points, the Woodland boys scored 20.

Hollingsworth of Woodland was the star in the sprints taking the 100 and 220 in fast time. The Sacramento boys were strong in the distance runs taking 21 out of a possible 27 points in these events. Had the local team a good strong distance man they would have won the meet. Gates and Stewart, nowever, are two men who would be hard to beat.

Meckfessel was there in the hurdles winning the 120 yards in 17 sec. and taking second in the 220 yards, which was won by Kinchloe of Woodland. The surprise of the day was when Knox and Cain took first and second in the pole vault. Knox cleared 10 feet. West made Holt of Sacramento high jump 5 ft. 9½ in. to get first place. Fred Weyand came up from Richmond and scored 8 points for the local club. He won the hammer throw and second in the broad jump, which was won by Gates of the Sacramento club with a jump of 21 ft. 6 in. Gates is a Marysville boy.

Hall nearly met his match in the shot put in the big policeman, Harry Tharp, who balances the scales at 268 pounds. Hall won out in last trial putting the 12-pound shot 47 ft. 4 in.

The 5-mile marathon had no charms for the local lads. It was run by four Sacramento boys, Day winning the first cup and Childs the second. Day's time was 27 minutes 43 seconds.

The following are the results: 100 yard dash, Hollingsworth A, first; Gannon S, second; Elliott S, third. Time 10 2-5.

220 yard dash, Hollingsworth A, first; Elliott S, second, Kinchloe A, third Time 23 1-5.

440 yard dash, Gates S, first; Purington A, second; Sparks S, third. Time 53 seconds.

880 yard run, Gates S, first; Sparks S, second; Elston A, third. Time 2:10 3-5.

220 low hurdles, Kinchloe, A, first; Meckfessel A, second; Simmeracker, S, third. Time 28 seconds.

120 high hurdles, Meckfessel A, first; Eich S, second; Holt, S, third. Time 17 seconds.

Shot put, Hall A, 47.4, first; Tharp S, 45.5 second; McKilligan S, 40.9, third. Distance 47 ft 4 inches.

Hammer throw, Weyand A, first, Tharp, S, second; Hall, A, third. Distance, 131 ft 10 in.

High Jump, Holt S, first; West A, second; Kidder, S, third. Height 5 ft 9½ inches.

Broad Jump, Gates S, first; Weyand A, second; Holt S, third. Distance 21 ft 6 inches.

Pole vault, Knox A, first; Cain A, second; Beedee S, third, Height 10 feet.

Five mile run, Day S, first; Childs S, second. Time 27 min 43 sec.

S. A. C. NOT HANDLING MARATHON.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has been advertised as handling a Marathon race to be held at Oak Park Sunday, but the club officials deny having anything to do with it. The Marathon race is a professional affair, while the S. A. C. is an amateur organization.

NOTICE TO ATHLETES

Who Wish to Take Part in and Represent the Club on Track Field This Season.

It is time to begin actual training, as we have several meets at hand. Get into good physical shape, and work gradually up to your event. Build up the body. Remember it is not only the legs you need—you must have a good body. For this reason it is necessary to strengthen your back and abdominal muscles, which you can do in the "Gym." Take care of your body and cut out tobacco from now on. Many a good athlete is spoiled through the use of tobacco while training. You cannot do yourself justice when your brain is becoluded with nicotine. Then "cut it out." Get plenty of sleep. This is necessary for physical development, especially when the body is still growing. (This clause includes the dancing fiends).

I wish, as coach of the Track Team of 1910, to have each member get behind me and do his duty to himself and to his Club. Train faithfully, and try to keep as near to the training schedule as time permits.

OTTO RITTLER,
Physical Instructor.

Saturday (or race day)—Time trial over the full distance.

Hurdlers taking the high and low hurdles should cut out a little from each schedule, as these races are liable to exhaust the athlete and will make him go stale.

Harrison Tate, one of the more prominent among the active members of the club is receiving the congratulations of his numerous friends these days. Mr. Tate has just become of age, and early this week he came into possession of the very comfortable sum of $30,000, his share of the estate of his grandfather, the late J. D. Tate. This inheritance will give the young gentleman an excellent start in life, and by judicious investments should make him a handsome fortune long before he reaches the Osler mile-post.

The track team has been strengthened this week by the acquisition of Messrs. Hollingsworth, Kinschloe, Purrington and Stephens, well-known athletes of Woodland. The two first-named are sprinters of acknowledged speed. They will be seen on the club's field and track team in coming events.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-7-10

Director MacGregor went to Reno this week to confer with the University track team of that place, relative to the holding of meets this season. The club managers look for a very busy summer. Fat Champions.

Galleher and Gimball recently laid claim to the fat men's volley ball championship by the alleged defeat of Zimmermacher and Henderson in seven straight games, and issued a challenge to all competitors. Their claim is refuted by Zimmermacher and Henderson, however, who have accepted the challenge. And the battle is on once more.

Arbuckle Defeats S. A. C.

ARBUCKLE AMERICAN 4-30-10

Arbuckle added another to her string of victories last Sunday when she took the Sacramento Athletic Club into camp by a score of 5 to 1. The Sacramento boys went into the game with an idea that they had it won and when they realized that they were up against a stiff proposition began to "crab," the over abundance of which spoiled the game to a certain extent and made the umpire job that much more difficult.

Arbuckle earned the victory and to the experienced fan was by far the superior team. They hit when hits meant runs and fielded almost perfectly, making but one error. Altho the visitors touched up Forderhase for ten hits, they were so scattered that they did not mean runs. A sample of the ball that the lanky pedagogue can put up was seen in the second inning. J. Reece singled which was followed by a double by Gaffney. Here Frank settled down and struck out the next three men.

The hitting of Barbour and Gafney for the visitors and Jack Gillaspie for the locals were among the features of the game.

Club Trophies Exhibited.

The club trophies won in field and track competitions have been on display this week in the window of a shop at Seventh and K streets, where they have attracted much attention and admiration.

These trophies speak eloquently of the abilities of its members in many branches of athletics. They represent achievements of the past, but there is reason to believe that each succeeding season will witness additions to the collection. Several members in the various classes of athletics are rapidly developing into finished performers, capable of upholding the reputation of the club in any company.

The club is justly proud of the emblems of its success on hard-fought fields, and is having a suitable glass case constructed in its reception room, where they can be properly displayed.

S. A. C. BOX FEST

SUNDAY NEWS 5-1-10.

MOST INTERESTING MEETING YET PRESENTED FOR EDIFICATION OF FANS.

HANDY SPARRERS FROM ABROAD SEEM TO HAVE IT ON LOCAL BOYS.

O'NEIL-SULLIVAN FIGHT FOR FRIDAY NIGHT NEXT THING BY PROFESSIONALS.

The boxing card of the Sacramento Athletic Club, presented Friday evening to its membership, was, by far, the best in the line of short bouts that has ever been given in the city, and reflects great credit on Matchmaker Ansel Hoffman and the officials of the club, who made it possible for him to gather so many classy events together in one evening.

While it is true that one or two discontented ones, warm friends and adherents to the local boxers, endeavored to register a kick against some of the decisions that rightfully went to the San Francisco boys, earned by their superior knowledge of the game, those present who knew the game upheld every decision rendered as manifestly fair, and the few attempted hoots were drowned in a volley of applause. It is true that the local boys fought well, but they lacked the experience and knowledge that comes from constant boxing practice, such as is enjoyed by the representatives of the outside clubs, and tney were defeated on points rather than for lack of grit and slugging ability.

The opening number on the card brought out Salvadore, S. A. C., vs. Martin of the San Francisco Club, at 115 pounds. Two minutes and forty-nine seconds of volleying on the part of the local boy developed a yellow streak in the visitor and he quit cold.

Raymond, S. A. C., vs. Wallace of Marysville, at 160 pounds, came next. In the opening round Raymond landed a terrific wallop on the visitor that completely dazed him. Wallace stayed through the round, but came up so groggy in the second that Raymond made a chopping block of him and his secnods threw up the sponge to save him further punishment.

In the next event, between Martinez, S. A. C., vs. Noble of the Acme Club of Oakland, the visitor snatched victory from defeat. In the second round Noble went down and out, being saved by the bell before the referee could count nine. His seconds dragged him to his corner, revived him and in the third round, he fought the local boy off his feet, winning a decision that could not be disputed. This was the fastest battle of the evening.

It required four rounds to settle the dispute between Sceiner, unattached, and Phil Noonan of the Olympic Club, fighting at 143 and 135 pounds, respectively. Sceiner was not in the best of condition, while his opponent was a "wiz" It was a hard-fought battle, in which Noonan won a well-earned decision.

In the next event, Joe Erickson lost to Bob McAllister of the Olympic Club, fighting at 145 pounds, to the great disappointment of the fans. Erickson made the mistake throughout of trying for his opponent's face, instead of attacking his lower works. McAllister had the reach and heighth and Joe, in reality, required a stepladder to land an effective blow. Had he drove in a few wallops in the latter's refrigerator and brought his chin within reach, Erickson might have earned a decision. As it was he was outpointed in every stage of the game.

Gore, S. A. C., and Barr of Marysville, fighting at 135 pounds, ended the card. Gore outfought his opponent, who, however, put up a very gritty battle, Gore gaining the decision on points.

During the month of May the directorship of the Sacramento Athletic Club will give their fighting men a rest and hold a ladies' night for other membership. In June, however, Matchmaker Hoffman promises a fight card that has never been surpassed in short-round events on the coast, as he will have all of his local boys in constant practice for the next month, in order that they may make a better showing against the crack boxers who will come from the Olympic and Acme clubs to contest for honors and medals. Last Friday's bouts showed that the local lads require more experience and they are going to obtain it even if the boxing game has to lay over a month.

Lucky Single Gives Opposers Tally and Locals Cannot Even Things.

SAC. UN. 5-2-10

Willows took the measure of the Sacramento Athletic club championship team yesterday at that place in a highly exciting game before one of the biggest crowds that has ever been present at a baseball contest in the history of that city. The score was 1 to 0, and the winning tally was made in the first inning.

Buslua came up to bat and singled. The ball took a jumping bound and the runner reached second, where he remained a few minutes, and scored on McCaffray's single over second base. Wheat and Morten made the only hits for the S. A. C. team. Both pitchers showed up in excellent form, and fought a hard fight throughout the contest. The score:

CORKERS VICTORIOUS.

Bronson, playing for the Sacramento Athletic Club Corkers, made four hits out of five times up at Oak Park yesterday, in the contest against the Bohemians, which the S. A. C. team won by a score of 8 to 4. The athletes outclassed the birds of the night, and won by a good margin. The battery for the Corkers was Yost and Payne, and for the Bohemians, Harlow, Rothwell and Smith.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-7-10

Columbia Park Coming.

During the visit of the Columbia Park Boys of San Francisco, early next month, the club's senior team will meet the visitors in a ball game at Buffalo Park. The Columbia lads will arrive in Sacramento on Friday, June 10th, and remain until the following Monday. On the 12th the ball teams will come together. Prior to the game the teams will parade through the city, headed by the Columbia Park Band of forty pieces.

The visitors will be on their annual summer vacation, and will journey from here to Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, giving entertainments in the principal cities. These tours are of an educational feature, and the concerts are given to defray the expenses of the trips. While here they will give three performances for the benefit of the City Mission Association and some local charity, reserving only enough to meet their traveling expenses.

So much by way of explanation of the purposes of the visit. These Columbia Park lads have a ball team that has never tasted the bitterness of defeat. They made a 30,000-mile journey through Australia and New Zealand and defeated every foe that faced them on the diamond.

That is the kind of baseball material the S. A. C. Senior team will tackle on the 12th of June. In the visiting team they will encounter players of the quality that goes to make National League men, but are optimistic enough to feel that they can hold their own with them. The game should prove sufficiently attractive to test the seating capacity of Buffalo Park.

Tomorrow's Outing.

There will be great doings at the club's up-river outing tomorrow. The idea is to give the members a day of p'easure and of perfect freedom from the exactions of training and exercise regulations by indulging in a picnic in the woods, where all care will be laid aside for at least one day.

The place selected for the outing is a lovely grove of oaks and sycamores on the east bank of the Sacramento River, at a point about opposite the Bryte ranch. The committee in charge of the arrangements—consisting of Professor Rittler, Jack Morshead, Superintendent F. W. Galleher, Captain A. J. Delano and Robert Shorrock—has completed the details, and all is in readiness for the column to move.

The start will be made from the Dolphin and Crescent Boat Clubs' headquirters on the Yolo side of the river, at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. It is expected that at least 100 or 125 members will be able to participate in the day's festivities, and lunches and rowboats sufficient to accommodate the greater number have been secured.

There will be no time wasted on the river. The line of march will lead direct to the picnic grounds. None need hesitate because of lack of experience in rowing, as each boat will be handled by skilled oarsmen, and those who cannot be accommodated in the lighter craft will find room in the big launches.

In selecting the spot for the picnic, the committee was careful to see that there was plenty of open ground for the games and varied stunts that will be introduced. There will be all kinds of races, burlesque and otherwise, ball-playing, athletics, or whatever pranks the picnickers may choose to indulge in.

Abundant provision has been made for solid refreshments, the expense of which will be met by an assessment of fifty cents on each member participating in the picnic. The chief feature of the "feed" will be a barbecue on a modified scale. Instead of roasting entire carcasses of beef or lamb over great pit-fires, the choicest cuts only will be used. These will be cooked in barbacue fashion by being spitted on iron rods in small pieces. Of course there will be a large variety of good things to appease the appetites of the hungry assemblage.

If any should prefer to walk up the river bank, on the Yolo side, they must take their chances on getting ferried across the stream when opposite the picnic grounds. It is possible, however, that some thrifty boatman will see the chance to do a little business in that way.

While no set program has been arranged for the day, it is announced that among the frolicsome events will be a three-legged race, wheelbarrow race, sack race, fat men's race, horseback-wrestling, free-for-all single, double and four-oared boat races and a paddling race. Many other competitive contests will take place.

The latest announcement is that there will be ample opportunity for those who choose to go up the river on foot to be ferried across to the picnic ground on the Sacramento side.

Next Ladies' Night.

Another ladies' night will be given Wednesday, the 25th of this month, the program for which is being tentatively prepared by Professor Rittler, Wrestling Instructor Dyeberg and other club officials. It will include wrestling and boxing bouts, acrobatic acts, and many other features, and will conclude with a dance.

One of the events will be of unusual interest—practically a contest for a State championship. The club will send Leo O'Connor, its crack wrestler, in the 145-pound class, against Miller, the San Francisco Olympic Club's champion, who now leads the amateurs of the State as a wrestler. While O'Connor has not had the experience that Miller has enjoyed, his club associates, who have noted his rapid development as a wrestler, have confidence in his ability to hold his own with the best in his class.

Ralph Eames and Reynolds will also be pitted against outside wrestlers. Heintz will be seen in some new strong-act specialties, and Charles Russell and H. Holton will give one of their dazzling club-juggling performances, in which they can put many professionals to the blush.

Professor Rittler and J. O. Gimberling will give an exhibition embracing a variety of acrobatic acts. They are finished athletes whose work is most skillful and graceful, embodying the perfection of physical development.

S.A.C. WEEKLY 5-7-10

Superintendent F. W. Galleher.

The fact must not be overlooked that the best of executive ability and business tact are necessary to the success of an athletic organization if it is to be conducted on a high plane such as the S. A. C. has occupied since its rejuvenation. In the person of F. W. Galleher the club has been most fortunate in the selection of a General Superintendent, on whom the Directors have relied to pilot it safely through the shoals and breakers that threaten all bodies whose membership represents so many phases of society. That Mr. Galleher has succeeded in his difficult task, and conducted the club's affairs on the best business principles, has been amply demonstrated by the results achieved.

Mr. Galleher had been engaged in the railroad business before becoming identified with the club's interests. He has been a resident of Sacramento for four years prior to which time his home was in Oakland. He has been an active, energetic and efficient official, always at his post of duty and alert in advancing the interests of the organization. He is married, his family consisting of himself, wife and young daughter. He has charge of the club's business affairs and records, which are in excellent shape under his management.

While Mr. Galleher's duties prevent him from giving much time to gymnasium activities, and his avoirdupois renders him ineligible to a place on the track team, he is becoming something of an expert at volley-ball, in which he holds the club's heavyweight championship, which title he is prepared to defend against all comers in his class.

A Fine Track Team.

Keep your eye on the S. A. C. track team during the rest of the season. The members have shown such good form in their work thus far that Professor Rittler is confident they will be able to capture many of the track events in which they expect to compete. He wants his men to tackle the best performers in the ranks of the older athletic clubs, believing they will be able to give creditable accounts of themselves in any company. He is particularly anxious to see them in competition with the Olympic Club's men and those of all the high-class clubs at the bay.

Professor Rittler is also desirous of having some of the older clubs send their teams to Sacramento, so the people of this community will have a chance to see the local men in action. He considers the club's present track team the best that was ever got together here, and—considering their rather limited experience—the equal of any on the Coast.

In Gates and Stewart the club has two very fast runners. The latter has a record of 4:49 in the mile dash, made while a member of the St. Mary's College team. It secured for him one of the elegant trophies now in the S. A. C. collection. But Stewart is not satisfied to rest on these laurels. He is confident of his ability to lower his record to the 4:40 mark, or under.

It is to be regretted that Sacramento has not suitable grounds for a track meet, so that the club might invite the leading athletic organizations of the State to assemble here for a great tournament. Such an event would be a great advertisement for the city, for the results would be given publicity all over the country through the channels of the American Athletic Union. By the expenditure of a few thousand dollars, McKinley Park—now of no earthly use to the city, nor to anyone—could be made an ideal stadium for athletic events.

Auxiliary Aquatic Organization.

An important meeting will be held next Tuesday of the Directors of the club and members interested in aquatic sports, to consider the advisability of forming an auxiliary boating organization. The matter is one that has been hanging fire for several months, but of late has been brought more forcibly to the attention of the club managers by the interest shown by a large number of members who desire to have the club get behind a movement of this kind.

Out of so large a membership it is but natural that there should be many who cannot become track athletes, boxers, wrestlers, nor acrobats, but among this class, and even among the athletes, are dozens who have a taste for boating, and they are desirous of having that included in the club's list of pastimes.

The leading spirit in the movement is Jack Morshead, one of the foremost members of the club in all its activities. Mr. Morshead recalls the time when Sacramento was regarded as the boating center of the State—in the old days of the Undine Club and contemporary organizations, when amateur boat teams came here from San Francisco, Oakland, Stockton and other cities to participate in barge and shell races on the river. No waters in the State were as popular in those days for shell racing as the stretches above and below this city, and many and exciting were the contests held there.

It is Mr. Morshead's belief that a boating auxiliary to the S. A. C. would revive interest in the sport equal to that of other days, and that boatmen of other cities would be glad of the opportunity to come here and compete for trophies. He has been assured by boating enthusiasts of San Francisco and other places that there is no course for shell-racing equal to that opposite this city. From the first of November there is absolute certainty of a placid river, and during all these months the weather conditions are ideal for either pleasure boating or racing.

Of course there are financial problems to be considered, and it is this end of the subject that is to be taken up at the meeting next week. It is possible the club managers may be able to see their way to take affirmative action after threshing out the matter in its various details.

Willows Noses Out.

The ball game at Willows on Sunday between the home team and the S. A. C. Senior aggregation of diamond experts was of gilt edge quality. The game was witnessed by an immense crowd of people, some of whom traveled many miles to see it, which shows that the visitors enjoy a widespread reputation and are a drawing card wherever they go.

The only run made was in the first inning, when Buelua of the home team went to second on a bingle that was really a one-bagger, but the ball took a rebound and escaped Reese in right field. The runner finally scored on a ball that McCaffery sent over second. Otherwise the game was a very even one to the end, and the country people were treated to as pretty and exciting a display as any collection of fans who sat through a Coast League game on that day. Martin for the visitors and Thede for Willows did fine work in the box. The latter struck out 15 men to Martin's 5, but he gave passes to two, while Martin did not send a man to first. Score:

SAC. WEEKLY 5-7-10.

New Sort of Outing Planned.

There is something doing all the time in S. A. C. circles. The participants in tomorrow's outing will barely have gotten rid of the sun-tan and other effects of the up-river event before they will be preparing for another jaunt into the country. It will be by automobiles. Professor Rittler has already begun to work out the plan of operations.

The idea is for 100 or more members of the club to go on a long-distance excursion to the country, partake of a genuine, old-fashioned farmhouse dinner, get "full of prunes" or other fruits, practice the club yell, indulge in impromptu games, and have a general all-round good time.

Professor Rittler says he has already in sight enough automobiles to accommodate one hundred persons, and is canvassing for more. The San Francisco Olympic Club is tomorrow going on a similar outing to Santa Cruz, and will probably visit Jeffries' training camp at Ben Lomond.

Corkers Make Good.

The Corkers, the club's Junior team, made good on their first appearance for the season. They took a fast game from the Bohemians at Oak Park on Sunday, piling up eight runs to their opponents' four. Yost and Payne composed the battery for the Corkers, while Harlow, Rothwell and Smith were on the Bohemian's firing line. Bronson, of the Corkers, made a record at the bat that is not often equaled. He was up five times, and made five hits. That's surely going some. Yost's work in the box was especially good, as was that of Rothwell for the Bohemians. Much of the credit for the success of the Corkers belongs to the infielders. They were on their jobs at all times. The Corkers bid fair to bring home lots of club scalps before the season ends.

Athletic Commission Formed.

Acting on the advice of Club Captain Delano, the Directors have organized an Athletic Commission, such as is maintained by all large clubs, to work under the direction of the Captain. Each club section will be under the immediate supervision of a Commissioner. They will hold monthly meetings to discuss matters affecting the interests of the various departments, thus preserving that equilibrium in club activities that is so necessary to harmony and smoothness.

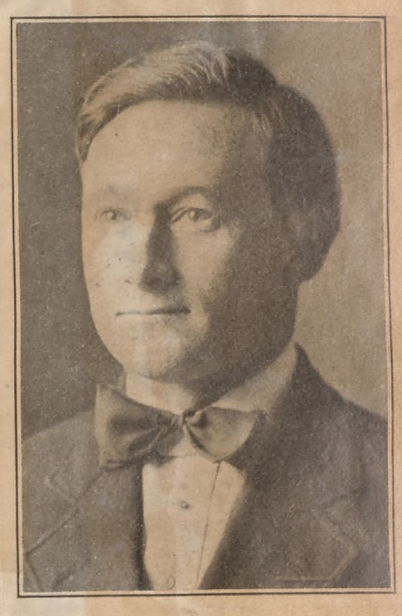
CHICO AND LOCAL ATHLETES TO COMPETE

SAC. BEE 5-10-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

CHICO (Butte Co.), May 12.—A field and track meet will be held at Speedway Park on Memorial Day, the competing teams to be picked from Chico and Sacramento. Sacramento promises to send a team of twenty strong athletes, including Gates, who holds four S. V. I. A. L. records. The Chico Athletic Club was organized Tuesday evening, with J. E. Ranker acting as Chairman and Lloyd Costar as Secretary. Another meeting is to be held in the near future, at which time permanent officers will be elected, and the club fully started.

Ancil Hoffman, Boxing Commissioner.



Hodson Photo

All who have attended the club's boxing exhibitions have either openly or mentally expressed gratification at the excellence of the contests put on for the entertainment of the members and invited friends. This duty has been discharged by Ancil Hoffman, to whose good judgment is chiefly due the credit for the results.

Mr. Hoffman began boxing as a member of the Sacramento Athletic Club in 1898, William Johnson being then, as now, the club's instructor in that department of athletics. In 1905 he won the club's championship in the 133-pound class, and displayed so much cleverness that many tempting inducements were offered him to leave the amateur ranks and become a professional. Several boxing experts and promoters believed him capable of going to the top of the ladder, but Mr. Hoffman could not be induced to enter professional pugilism. He likes boxing for the exercise and sport he derives from it, and that only.

He takes an active interest in the club's affairs, and as Boxing Commissioner has done much toward bringing together the best amateurs in the State for the club's exhibitions.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS ENJOYABLE OUTING

5-9-10 SAC. STAR,

A big crowd of Sacramento Athletic Club men ate barbecued beef and engaged in races and games to their hearts' content at Bryte's Inlet, three miles above the city, yesterday. Many of those engaged in the boat races had arms and shoulders so burned by the sun that evidences of the picnic will be with them for weeks.

All gathered promptly at the Dolphin Boat Club house at 8 o'clock in the morning and in a dozen motor boats and twice that number of row botes, proceeded to the grounds.

Every race was hotly contested, and though only club members were present, a serious purpose was put in the efforts. The day was ideal.

In the fat men's race Fred Galleher took first, J. Gray second, and W. Rose third.

The sack race was won by Dick Cowie, with Leo O'Connor and Ben Erway as a close second and third.

In the wheelbarrow contest J. W. Gray and Ed Wahlunder were victorious, though the team, R. Beardslee and Lee O'Connor, stoutly declared that except for a slip in starting the prize would have been theirs. To back up their declarations, they promptly challenged the winners, and expect to dispute the championship at an early meet.

W. Dryeborg was victorious in two wrestling contests, one with J. Erickson the other with J. W. Gray. Leo O'Conner downed Ed Wilmunder in a similar match.

Wahlander's Stars beat the Malloney Colts in a fast game of baseball to the tune of five to four. The batteries were Wahlander and Doval, Clark and Day.

The three boat races were the most exciting of all. In the flat bottom double Morsehead and Rittler led, with Wahlander and Paum tying Johnson and Shorrock. In the single race, Dryeborg was first and Thayer second. In the round bottom double O'Connor and Reynolds were first; Terrell and Schlosser, second; and Loverich and Luke third.

The committee in charge of the day were Captain A. J. Gelano, R. P. Shorroc, E. Palm, J. W. Morsehead, R. Robinson, Otto Rittler, Fred Galleher and C. Wahlander. J. Denny, former chief of police was official starter, and R. Robinson head chef of the barbecue.

S. A. C. HAS BIG DAY UP-RIVER

ATHLETES ENJOY FIELD SPORTS, BOAT RACES AND BARBECUE ABOVE THIS CITY.

The Sacramento Athletic Club had a day of sport, an outing and plenty of good things to eat yesterday in the oak grove on the bank of the Sacramento, opposite Bryte's Landing. There were athletic events, rowboat races, a baseball game and a big barbecue feed. One hundred and six persons, including members of the Sacramento Athletic Club, the Dolphin Rowing Club and friends of both organizations, went to the selected spot early in the forenoon and remained until after sundown.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning the first consignment of athletes started for the oaks. They went up in the rowboats of the Dolphin Club, but shortly after several launches came chugging along with loads, and for two hours afterward rowboats, cruisers and launches were kept busy hauling the crowds to the place where the day's sport was held.

As a starter for the fun, a light meal was served, consisting of coffee, toast, meat and some fruit. Then the men blessed with an overabundance of flesh lined up for the fat men's race. This event was the feature of the day and one of the most closely contested. But the boat races were productive of earnest effort, the rowing crews and single rowers struggling with all their strength to land the pennants and medals. Johnny Denny, veteran rower, acted as Judge and starter for the rowing races. The summary of the sporting events follows:

Three-legged Race—Ray and Beardsley won, Hoffman and Heintz second.

Fifty-yard Dash—Charles Wahlander won, Robert Sharrock second. This was for championship of the Dolphin Rowing Club.

Half-mile Race—L. J. Rease won, E. Scott second.

220-yard Dash—J. W. Gray first, C. Heintz second.

Baseball game won by Wahlander Stars from Moloney's Colts. Score, 5 to 4.

Double Skiff, 1½ Miles—J. W. Morshead and O. Rittler, first, in the Dix; Gene Palen and C. Wahlander, second, in the Fox; Bob Sharrock and Dave Johnston, third, in the Zip.

Single Skiff, 1½ Miles—W. Dyeborg, first, in the Dix; H. Thayer, second.

Double, Round Bottom Skiff, 1½ Miles—J. Reynolds and L. O'Connor, first.

Early in the afternoon a big feed, consisting of barbecued meat and all the trimmings, was enjoyed. Some speeches were also made, but the hungry crowd was too busy eating to pay much attention.

Successful Outing.

Sunday's outing on the bank of the Sacrametno River, opposite the Bryte ranch, was greatly enjoyed by the large delegation of club members who availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a delightful spring day in the woods. The picknickers went to the grounds in launches and rowboats, except a few who made the trip on foot.

Soon after reaching the grove light refreshments were served, and about an hour later a barrel of fun was opened up. From that time till the trees began to cast long shadows across the fields there was no let-up to the mirth-provoking stunts put on by Professor Rittler, Captain Delano and other club officials. The weather was a trifle warm for the strenuous character of some of the games indulged in, but the athletes didn't seem to pay much heed to that.

During the afternoon choice cuts of beef and lamb were roasted over big pit-fires, and together with the generous supply of other eatables provided a repast that every hungry picknicker relished to the utmost. The racing and other athletic events were:

Fat Man's Race—Fred Galleher winner; entries, Rose, Gray, Heintz, Green, Dieterle and Galleher.

Fifty-yard Dash—Charles Wahlander won, Robert Sharrock second. This was for championship of the Dolphin Rowing Club.

Half-mile Race—L. J. Reese won, E. Scott second.

220-yard Dash—J. W. Gray first, C. Heintz second.

Baseball game won by Wahlander Stars from Moloney's Colts. Score, 5 to 4.

Double Skiff, 1½ Miles—J. W. Morshead and O. Rittler, first, in the Dix; Gene Palem and C. Wahlander, second, in the Fox; Bob Sharrock and Dave Johnston, third, in the Zip.

Single Skiff, 1½ Miles—W. Dyeborg, first, in the Dix; H. Thayer, second.

Double, Round Bottom Skiff, 1½ Miles—J. Reynols and L. O'Connor, first.

Seniors at Folsom.

Tomorrow the club's Senior ball team will journey to Folsom and take on the team of the foothill town. Harley Grady will handle the sphere for the visitors, and what he won't do to the Folsom batters wouldn't be worth doing, provided he is in good form. Grady gives promise of making a noise in the baseball world before he is much older. He will have Barber to handle his deliveries tomorrow, and Barber is known to be one of the best catchers in the amateur brigade. He had intended to accept an offer from the fast Arbuckle team, but has concluded to stay here and wear the mask for the S. A. C.

Outlaws in Willows.

There is no little rivalry between the club's second ball team, known as the Outlaws, and the Seniors. The Outlaws are going to Willows tomorrow to play the team which recently walloped the Seniors, and they boast that they will show the latter how baseball should be played. They will have the able assistance of pitcher Heister of the Coast League, and if they go down to defeat, after all their boasting, the Seniors will give them the merry ha-ha.

—o—

Many are the compliments that have this week been showered on the head of Joe Erickson for the skillful manner in which he officiated chief of the cooking squad at the club's picnic last Sunday. The barbecued meats were done to a turn, and all the eatables were prepared in the most tempting manner.

Caledonians Would Come in.

Application for permission to affiliate with the Pacific Athletic Association will shortly be received from the Caledonian Association, which decided at its last meeting to join the P. A. A., which is represented in this section of the State by the S. A. C. The Caledonians will hold their usual athletic competition in the near future, and several of their members are preparing for participation in the games at Oakland on the 30th of this month. There is a strong sentiment among the Scots in favor of a vigorous revival of athletics, which have been somewhat neglected of recent years.

—o—

Gymnasium Becomes Popular.

Physical Instructor Rittler is well pleased over the interest that members are taking in gymnasium exercises, outside the ranks of those who have specialties, such as boxing, wrestling, handball, etc. Many of the members take regular exercise in the gymnasium simply for its physical benefits. Among these are H. W. Sheridan, Division Superintendent for the S. P. Company, Constable Timothy Hagerty, Fred Galleher, Louis Inslip, Lawyer W. F. Renfro and many others whose pursuits are of a more or less sedentary character. Active work in the gymnasium serves to keep down a tendency to taking on excessive flesh, hardens the muscles, strengthens the lungs, and generally tones up the system. A few hours a week given to physical exercise of this character, under the direction of skilled instructors, is the best promoter of good health known to science.

Club Repudiates Foot-Racers.

Handbills having been distributed about the city announcing a series of foot-races at Oak Park by professional runners and stating that they were to be held under the auspices of the S. A. C., the officials of the club emphatical'y repudiate the statement. The club cannot be in any way identical with professional athletics, even if the managers were inclined that way, which they are not. They are jealous of the club's reputation and standing in amateur athletic circles, and have nothing in common with professionalism.

They were not aware of the use of the club's name to boost the so-called Marathon races until attention had been called to the street dodgers. The promoters of these races are men who make a business of holding meets of that character, which are generally regarded as mere exhibitions.

—o—

Corkers Seek Victims.

Since the Corkers, the club's junior ball-tossers, took the Behemians' scalps, the other amateur teams seem to have been afflicted with cold feet and are doing the side-stepping act. The Corkers, however, are modest fellows, and hope some good team will soon muster up sufficient courage to take them on.

—o—

Next Ladies' Night.

The club managers are working up a program of events for the next ladies' night, on the 25th of this month, which they think will outclass any heretofore presented. The main feature of the evening will be the contest between O'Connor, the club's 125-pound wrestler, and Miller of the San Francisco Olympic Club. The latter is the present amateur champion, but the S. A. C. members have sufficient confidence in their club-mate's skill and strength to look for him to win.

There will be two other wrestling contests on the bill. Eames will meet Russell of the Oakland Reliance Club at 158 pounds, and Wilmot and Marino, both local men, will go on the mat at 145 pounds.

In addition to the wrestling matches there will be quite a list of events, in which the club's best athletes will appear. The entertainment will conclude with a dance.

Value of Outings.

"To much cannot be said in favor of such outings as that which the club members enjoyed last Sunday," said Professor Rittler the other day in speaking of the picnic held up the river on that day.

"It is not possible to bring the members together in any considerable number on week days, nor even on class nights," he continued. "While some are present others must be absent, and it is only on exhibition nights, or outing occasions, that they can get together, become acquainted, or talk over matters of club or individual interest.

"The old saying, that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, is as applicable to athletic club life as to any other. I consider that last Sunday's day in the woods did more to awaken and foster a friendly, congenial spirit among the members than anything that has transpired since the club was reorganized. The lid was off for the day—that is, so far as rigid club rules were concerned. Care and business perplexities were cast to the breezes that blew softly through the groves, and everyone went into the spirit of the occasion with a will.

"The removal of the lid does not mean, of course, that any practices were invited or allowed that conflict with the club's position as regards the use of intoxicants, gaming, or things of that sort. It is the club's aim to bring out and develop, morally as well as physically, the best qualities of its members. The taste for fun and frolic exists in all men whose lives had not ben warped and twisted through long years of hard knocks with the world, and he who cannot relax at times and feel the impulse to become a boy again, if only for a little while, is to be pitied.

"There is nothing like getting together, as we did last Sunday, and having a good time, to promote that feeling of goodfellowship that is so essential to the success of an organization like ours. I hope we shall have more frequent outings in the future, and am sure the members of the club generally feel that way."

The Limburger Trophy.

C. Heintz, the club "cut-up" has on display at the gymnasium a sepcially-built trophy, or cup, awarded to Messrs. Galleher, Gray and Rittler as the champion Limburger-devouring team at last Sunday's picnic. The cup is a gorgeous affair, constructed of pasteboard, lavishly embellished with fluid-gilt and lettered with lamp-black. It bears the portraits of the trio of Limburger destroyers, and neither taste nor expense were considered by the manufacturer. The trophy is open for competition, but the general opinion is that Galleher, Gray and Rittler have a cinch on it—that nobody will dare challenge them on the Limburger basis.

RECORDS UNHARMED BUT ATHLETES HAVE FUN

While no records were broken at the field-day meet on the bank of the Sacramento, opposite Bryte's landing, last Sunday by the Sacramento Athletic Club athletes, the sports in the oak grove and the rowing races on the river combined to make one of the best outings ever held by the club. The contests started off with burlesque, but as the day wore along real rivalry cropped up until the members were struggling for the prizes offered.

Pennants and medals were distributed to the winners of the several field events, and also to the rowers who won the races on the river. While the sports were being reeled off under the large oaks, motorboat parties landed from this city and entered into the run as spectators. The wildest kind of enthusiasm prevailed.

While the races and wrestling matches were being held, another squad was busy with the preparation of dinner. A young steer was barbecued, the meat being put on spits and cooked over coals. Of course, there was bread and butter, pickles, coffee, fruit and other kinds of trimmings. The best part of the whole thing was that the feast was not apportioned out, so much to each hungry man—there was enough for all, and then some to spare.

S. A. C. WILL BUILD CONVENTION HALL

SAC. STAR. 5-14-10

Plans for a combined convention hall and club quarters have been evolved by President Walter Bassett and Joe Anderson of the Sacramento Athletic Club and will be laid before the club directors within a short time for discussion and approval. So far have the details been worked out, that preliminary sketches of the building have been made, prospective sites selected and arrangements made for the organization of a building company. Prominent bankers of the city have agreed as to a plan of financing the enterprise and no obstacles are expected when the directors finally decide to go ahead with the work.

The recent publication in The Star of plans for a municipal convention hall and theater and the declaration of A. Bonnheim that some organization should carry through a like enterprise in Sacramento, caused those who were discussing the S. A. C. proposed building to extend their ideas to include a convention hall which should be ample to accomodate almost any gathering that could be brought to the city.

President Bassett proposes to have a convention hall which can seat at least 4000 people. When the convention hall idea was first discussed, it was thought 2000 seating capacity would be sufficient, it was later decided that while they were building, they might as well build a real hall.

Mr. Bassett has been assured that the club can arrange the financial end. A building association will be formed and stock sold on installments. If enough money cannot be raised in this way, bonds will be issued. The banks will advance the cash for the building and be paid back as the money comes in.

Mr. Bassett and Mr. Anderson believe that practically the entire lower floor should be devoted to the hall. A moveable stage, which can be lowered, raised or taken entirely away will be provided.

On the second floor front would be the handsome club quarters, with a commodious gymnasium and plunge in the rear. The promoters of the plan believe that a lot at least 60x160 feet should be secured.

S. A. C. OUTLAWS MEET WILLOWS

The S. A. C. second team will go to Willows Sunday to meet the Giants. An excursion train will leave at 9:30 a. m., carrying the team and a number of their friends. Following will be the line-up: Strachan, 1b; McLeeley, ss; Bowden, 2b; F. Reese, 3b; Godt, c; Grandy and McLaughlin, p; L. Reese, Thayer, Chenoweth and Hearst, outfielders.

S. A. C. OUTLAWS VS. WILLOWS GIANTS

S. BEE. 5-14-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WILLOWS (Glenn Co.), May 14.—Willows will again be treated to a fine exhibition of the National sport tomorrow, when the Sacramento Athletic Club outlaws will be in this city to contest with the Willows Giants.

The locals have lost but one game this season and that to the Sacramento State League team, and are practicing hard for the coming event.

The Sacramento Athletic Club outlaws went to Willows yesterday where they were beaten by the score of 19 to 9. A high wind made it hard to play good ball. The Outlaws were outclassed, the Willows team being too strong for them.

Grady and Godt were the battery for the Outlaws and Thode and French for the Willows.

S.A.C. WRESTLER TO MEET YOUNG GOTCH

SAC. UNION 5-17-10

Wrestling Instructor Walter Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic club and Young Gotch of Seattle have been matched for a bout in this city some time next week, and providing arrangements can be completed in time the go will take place at the Old Pavilion. The meeting will be for the middleweight championship of the Pacific coast.

Young Gotch is passing through Sacramento on his way to Chicago, where he is matched to meet Tynnoman in that city in June, and will remain here long enough to meet Dyreborg for a side bet of $250 and also to settle a dispute as to which is the better man. Last Admission Day the two met in Oakland and wrestled to a draw.

Gotch is the young wrestler who defeated the Japanese, Schascha Yakajama, who killed a man in a wrestling bout in this city a year or so ago.

Young Gotch has been in Europe and at the recent tournament in Italy won second prize in the international meet. He threw Thompson, the Portola week champion, two straight falls in Oakland shortly after the big celebration in San Francisco.

The wrestlers meet at 168 pounds.

WOMEN WILL OWN S. A. C. ON MAY 25TH

SAC. UN. 5-17-10

Ladies' night, May 25, will be the event of the month at the Sacramento Athletic club. The regular boxing card has been postponed for the month to give way to the ladies, but will be resumed next month with as much vigor as ever.

Wrestling will form the feature of ladies' night, and some of the cleverest wrestlers in the club will participate. Second to wrestling a vaudeville show will claim attention, and dancing and gymnastics will complete the evening of entertainment. The entire club will be turned over to the women, and those that wish may play pool or billiards or enjoy a few minutes at cards.

WRESTLING BOUT TO BE ARRANGED

Arrangements are being made for Wrestling Instructor Dyreborg of the S. A. C. to meet Young Gotch of Seattle in this city some time next week. The match, if arranged, will be for the middle-weight championship of the Pacific Coast.

Young Gotch will pass through Sacramento en route to San Francisco to meet Tynnoman in that city. He is a promising man and at a tournament in Italy recently won the second international prize.

New Captain to Meet Ruth in Feature Event at Chico.

Charles Stewart, recently appointed captain of the Sacramento Athletic club track team, will be the club's main support when the Chico track and field team is met on Memorial day, May 30. Stewart will be seen in a mile race with Ruth, the Chico crack, and tne local boy is being boosted to win the race. This contest will be the feature of the meet and great interest is already being taken in it.

The best athletes in Northern California and the cream of the athletic club will be seen on the track in Chico on that day, and the outcome of the contest will practically decide the championship of Northern California. Chico will have in its line-up some of the crack men of the state, and the athletics hope to prove their superiority by taking the event. The locals give Chico first place in all the field events but retain first places in the track events for themselves almost exclusively.

CLUB EXPECTS TO WIN MEET

SAC. STAR. 5-17-10

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club are much interested in the coming field and track meet at Chico, which will practically decide the championship of Northern California. The meet will be held May 30.

Charles Stewart, the new field captain of the S. A. C. team, will take a prominent part and will run a mile race with Ruth of Chico.

Although the S. A. C.'s members believe the Chico team will take first in all the field events, they are counting on first for themselves in the track events, which would give them the meet.

S. A. C. TO HAVE BICYCLE CLUB

SAC. STAR. 5-18-10.

A bicycle club is to be formed as a new division of the S. A. C. activities. Captain Arthur Gelano is working on plans and the organization is expected to be started this week.

"We want to be in line to take the prize at the State Fair," said one of the enthusiasts today. "Already the Bay City Wheelmen of San Francisco, the Garden City Wheelmen of San Jose, and the Oakland Wheelmen have each signified their desire to compete with us in meets before that time."

The Athletic Club is determined to leave nothing in the line of athletics out of their list, and Gelano states that he believes he has a bunch of material here that with a little training can beat anything on the map.

S. A. C. WILL TAKE STRONG TEAM TO CHICO

SAC. BEE 5-17-10

If the Sacramento Athletic Club track team does not capture the meet to be held in Chico Decoration Day it will not be because there is not strong material in the local club squad. Professor Rittler and Track Captain Stewart have gathered together a well-balanced bunch of athletes to take to Chico, and are trying to figure out how Sacramento can lose.

Knox, a pole vaulter; McFessel, a hurdler and relay man, and Hall, a weight man, are all from Arbuckle, and are members of the S. A. C. From Woodland are Hollingsworth, Kinslow, Stevenson, Perrington, four very good track men. Perrington is slated to run the half-mile with Ruth, of Chico.

The Sacramento members of the squad will be: Stewart (Captain), Tharp, Kidder, McKilligan, Day, Childs, McNeely, Sparks, Elliott, Gates, Payne, Luke, Hart, Holt, Shoemake, Gannon.

Plan Olympic Meet.

A dual meet is planned with the crack Olympic athletes in the near future, and by the time the meet is held the S. A. C. track team will be greatly strengthened by the addition of several outside men. When the sessions of St. Mary's College are over, Dixon, an all-around athlete, will join the club. Dixon can do 11 feet 8 inches in the pole vault, 21 in the broad, can toss the 16-pound shot 43 feet, and can clear the bar at 5 feet 4 inches in the high jump. He is track and football Captain of the collegians.

Walker, who is good in the pole vault, hammer throw and shot-put, and Ed Martin, a good quarter-mile, 220-yard dash and relay man, will join the S. A. C. this Summer after St. Mary's College adjourns.

Together with these athletes, Professor Rittler hopes to get Floyd Rice, the young giant who attends the Chico High School and promises to be a second Ralph Rose with the weights. When all these cracks have enrolled with the S. A. C. the Olympic cracks will have trouble in carrying off a dual meet with them.

WILL MEET TO PLAN BUILDING

SAC. STAR 5-18-10

Plans for a new Sacramento Athletic Club building are assuming more definite shape. A special meeting to settle the matter is to be called within the next few days, at which time arrangements for increasing the membership mark of 1100 to 2000 will also be considered.

"A location on N street is being considered," said Professor Rittler today. "The plan is to have a fine athletic building complete in eevry respect. An auditorium seating 4000 people that may be rented out to conventions will probably be a feature. Sacramento has needed something of that sort for a long while.

"In addition, there will be a big swimming pool, baths of all kinds, a hot room, a steam room, massage rooms, and in fact everything needed to make the athletic club as good as any on the coast."

SAC. UNION 5-21-10

READY FOR TRACK MEET

SAC. STAR 5-19-10

All arrangements have been completed for the field and track meet to be held at Chico between a team of that city and the Sacramento Athletic Club, May 30. Twenty men from each organization will be on the field. All contests will be in accordance with rules of the A. A. A. The Chico team has been greatly strengthened by the crack Chico high school team.

SACRAMENTO WILL MEET WITH CHICO

SAC. UN. 5-19-10

CHICO, May 18.—The program of events for the track meet at the Speedway on Memorial day, May 30th, when the Sacramento and Chico Athletic clubs will contest for athletic honors, has been completed. Twenty men from each organization will exert their best efforts to capture the high score for their home towns.

There will be foot races over courses of 100 yards, 200 yards, 440 yards, 880 yards and one mile; also a relay race for one mile, with five men to a team. There will be two hurdle races, 220 low and 120 high. Contests will be on for the broad jump, high jump, pole vault and putting the shot.

The events will be pulled off according to the rules and regulations of the A. A. V. Six crack athletes from the local high school, who recently joined the Chico Athletic association, will participate in the events. Three of them, Floyd Rice, Lloyd Costar and Bennie Lee hold state records in athletics.

CHICO WILL BE READY FOR S. A. C.

Best Athletes in Northern California Will Contest With Locals May 30.

SAC. UN. 5-20-10.

Special to the Union.

CHICO, May 19.—Officers were elected and final arrangements made for the athletic meet to be held at the Speedway track Monday, May 30th, with the team from the Sacramento Athletic club at a meeting of the Chico Athletic club held in the office of W. J. Costar in this city last night.

The program of events for the meet has been determined, and with the strength of the local athletes as shown in recent meets it is expected that the boys from the capital city will know after the meet that they have participated in a real contest.

Six of the athletes on the winning Chico high school team at the recent Stanford meet have joined the local club, and are expected to figure prominently in the point getting. Floyd Rice, who established a new record at the Stanford meet in the hammer throw; Lloyd Costar, who sent the Olympic club champion, Andy Glaner, down to defeat on the low hurdles; Bennie Lee, holder of records in both hurdle events; Clarence Ruth, who lays his claim to prominence on his performances in the mile and half-mile; Claude Holmes and Clarence Henry are among those who have been taken from the ranks of the high school.

The newly elected officers of the local club as named last night are as follows: President, Jesse Ranker; vice-president, Winfred Lee; secretary, LeRoy Williams, and treasurer, Winfield Riley.

Prospective Meets with Stockton.

As The Weekly went to press last night the P. A. A. Commission and other club officials were holding a meeting at which various matters were to be considered. There are dual meets between the Stockton Athletic Club and the S. A. C. being talked of for the summer season, including track and handball events.

The Stocktonites think they have some handball players that are capable of beating the Sacramentans, and negotiations are pending for a series of games to be played in this city.

There is a likelihood that the track athletes of these clubs will hold a meet here on the Fourth of July, and preliminary steps are being taken to that end. All such meets must have the sanction of the Pacific Athletic Association, which body is represented north of San Francisco by the S. A. C.

—o—

Boxing Commissioner Hoffman and Professor Rittler have secured for sale 100 of the $10 seats for the Jeffries-Johnson struggle for the world's physical culture championship (and a big stack of coin). Club members who are interested to the extent of $10 can procure tickets for reserved seats by applying to either Rittler or Hoffman. The seats are reported to be going fast.

—o—

Prospective Handball Competition.

There is good prospect of the club's handball players being seen in a series of games against those of the Stockton Athletic Club in the near future. Secretary Smith writes that they have some very classy players over there and could send over here four or five at any time that will be agreeable to the local club.

The proposition is to have a series of doubles and singles in Stockton, with the hard ball, and another in the S. A. C. court with the soft ball.

Dyeborg to Wrestle Tonight.

Walter Dyeborg, the club's wrestling instructor, has been matched with Young Gotch, the Seattle wrestler, and they will meet this evening in the Central Gymnasium, 620 K street, in a contest that should prove one of the most exciting of its kind ever witnessed on the coast. Dyeborg won his way to the front rank of California wrestlers by meeting the best men in his class, and his clubmates have every confidence in his ability to win tonight's contest.

Young Gotch is also a wrestler of considerable fame. In an international tournament in Italy, not long ago, he won the second highest honors, and to accomplish this he had to meet the best men of several countries.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-21-16.

Ladies' Night May 25th.

Professor Rittler and the heads of the various departments of the club have prepared a very attractive program for the Ladies' Night exhibition to be given on the 25th instant. There may be a few more features added before that date.

The wrestling match that had been arranged between S. O'Connor and Miller of the San Francisco Olympic Club will not take place, owing to the inability of the Olympic champion to be present. C. Cunradsen, one of the S. A. C. wrestlers, has been substituted. He is deemed capable of making O'Connor extend himself.

Other wrestling bouts will be between R. Eames and G. Russell and W. Willmunder and J. Marino, all clever men at the mat game.

Holten and Russell will give one of their dazzling exhibitions in the art of club-juggling.

C. Hintz, the strong man, has been practicing some new feats that cannot fail to astonish his auditors.

G. Gimberling will be seen in some of his thrilling stunts on the slack-wire.

D. Williams, the daring performer, will go through several graceful acts on the single trapeze.

Professor Rittler and G. Gimberling are on the list for a series of acrobatic acts and poses that few professionals can equal.

Salvador and Holland and McAllister and Erickson will put up some spirited bouts in the boxing line.

Among other features will be "coon" specialties by the inimitable Tom Burns, a saxophone solo by H. F. Curlee, vocal solos by William Johnson and Walter Longbotham, and piano selections by S. A. Root.

There will probably be the usual dance after the exhibition.

THE JOSH CORNER

(In this department certain members, inclined to harmless frolic and merry quip, will occasionally take a good-natured fling at their fellows. Nothing calculated to wound, and certainly nothing showing animus, will be admitted, and those "touched up" may have their revenge by similarly coming back at their friends.—The Editor)

Rittler's Stop Watch.

Professor Rittler, surrounded by a bunch of the boys, was asked the other day to come through with a story of some of his life-saving deeds, it being well known that he has rescued more than one victim from drowning. So he told how he was standing on a bridge, when a small boy fell overboard and was rapidly drowning. He, Rittler, quickly stripped to his trousers, he said, and added:

"These were the trousers I have on, now. The very same, and I had this stop watch in this very same side pocket. Well, I leaped to the railing of the bridge, and was just about to jump in, when I noticed that I had my stop watch——"

At this point he was interrupted by Chester Gannon, who had joined the circle only in time to hear the words "stop watch," and, being a track athlete, thought Rittler was talking of some record.

"What time did you make, Otto?" he innocently asked and didn't understand the roar that went up.

Meanwhile, as far as the story goes, that little boy is still struggling in the water beneath the bridge. For the yarn hasn't been finished, yet.

That Unenergetic Clock.

It was about 10:30 P M. when Sam Lovich and a friend left the club rooms for home. Opposite the Elks Building Sam looked up at the clock and saw that it pointed to 11.

"Gee," said Sam. "I promised to be home at 10:45. My watch must be on the bum."

"That's all right," explained his friend, "this is the Elks' clock and it always points to 11. All Elks' clocks do."

"Quit your kidding," chided Sam, "that sort of dope may do for kids, but not for me. I'm late for home, that's all."

The friend insisted that the clock hands were permanently fixed at 11 and offered to bet the cigars they wouldn't move an inch in the next fifteen minutes. Sam took the bet and stood there, his own watch in his hand, waiting for the fixed hands to win the cigars for him. Finally he gave it up and admitted he'd lost the bet. Also he got home exactly at 11 o'clock. Ever since he has been trying to figure if all Elks' clocks stand still at 11, how in thunder Elks can tell the time.

Charles Stewart, Track Captain.

The club has reason to be proud of its track team, members of which have already achieved victories over some of the best athletes of interior teams. Prominent among its members is Charles Stewart, who bids fair to achieve more than local fame as a long distance runner. Mr. Stewart first gave promise of developing speed and stamina while working under the famous Mike Murphy of the University of Pennsylvania. He competed in the short distance sprints against Westney, the noted sprinter, and others in his class, and subsequently took up long-distance running. He made a record of 27 minutes for five miles, and then retired for about ten years.

With only a few months training, Stewart again took up racing, and won a 10-mile competition in 59 minutes flat. This was in St. Louis in 1908. He came to California in October of the following year and competed in most of the amateur long-distance events of last season. Out of twenty-five races against the fleetest runners about the bay, he was placed in about twenty. He took fifth place in the extra Marathon event, although suffering from a bad knee. Two weeks later he was chosen from among several of the best distance runners on the Coast to represent St. Mary's College in the 26-mile Marathon at Seattle.

In the latter part of last season Stewart took up middle-distance running and covered the mile in 4:49. He is now running stronger than ever, and under Professor Rittler's instruction—with whom he has worked ever since coming to the Coast—he is confident that he will be able to run the mile in less than 4:40 before the close of this season. He will also be seen in half-mile events, and feels equally sure of his ability at that distance.

Mr. Stewart is now a permanent resident of Sacramento, holding a position in one of the leading mercantile houses.

Sky Blue on Ole.

Ole (Joe) Erickson will be a picture the next time he is seen in the ring. A lady friend recently presented him with a beautiful blue silk sash, on one end of which is embroidered the American colors and on the other those of that dear old Sweden. When the sash girdles the waist of the club's premier boxer the two flags come together and form the wings of a bow-knot. It will thus be hard for one to tell just where Joe's heart is—whether with his native land or his Uncle Samuel.

Another admirer of the man who carries a punch in each hand is at work on a crown which is to be placed on his classic head when he is proclaimed the amateur champion. The crown-maker has opened negotiations with Major Wells, the local diamond expert, who has a large and rare collection of gems, for a bushel or two of precious stones(and glassware) with which to embellish the tiara. The plans and sepcifications for this crown indicate that it will be a peach.

Great Track Meet at Chico.

The coming dual track meet with the Chico athletes, on the 30th of this month, is exciting deep interest both in the northern city and here in Sacramento. Both clubs are confident of winning, and all indications point to one of the most hotly contested meets ever held in the interior. With the new Woodland accessions to the S. A. C. team Captain Delano, Professor Rittler and Track Captain Stewart feel that they will take to Chico a team capable of holding its own in most of the events with any amateur collection that can be gathered in the State. If the team doesn't get away with the Chico men—and it is admitted that among the latter there are some star performers—there will be gloom for a while in S. A. C. circles.

Professor Rittler went to Woodland on Wednesday and returned with the signatures of several of the best track men of that place to membership cards in the S. A. C. They are:

T. C. Mugge, pole vaulter and Track Captain of the Woodland High School team.

J. Purrington, 440 and 880-yards runner.

P. Hollingsworth, 100 and 220-yards runner.

Z. B. Kinschloe, 100 and 220-yards runner and low hurdler.

B. J. Stephens, 100-yards runner and broad jumper.

The team that goes to Chico will include these new men and the best of the following-named older members of the club: Charles Stewart, H. Tharp, L. Day, A. Gates, Hap. Reese, J. Childs, R. Payne, P. Kidder, A. Hart, J. Hall, Ed. Martin, O. Elliott, Chester Gannon, and Messrs. McKilligan, Knox, Mecfessel, Zimmermacher, Dickson, Holt, Luke, Shoemake and McNeely.

When finally selected the team will be the strongest ever sent out to represent the club. In the one-mile event Stewart, Purrington, Putnam and Day will meet Root and other fast men, and the finish promises to be close and exciting.

Root, who is one of the fleetest runners on the coast, will meet Purrington and Day also in the half-mile.

Chico has a crackajack shot-putter in Rice, but Tharp, Hall and McKilligan are expected to make him extend himself to the utmost.

In the quarter-mile run and broad jump Gates is counted on to win, but he will be up against some good ones.

Six crack athletes from the Chico high school, who recently joined the Chico Athletic association, will participate in the events. Three of them, Floyd Rice, Lloyd Costar and Bennie Lee hold state records in different branches of athletics.

If 60 or more persons go on the excursion which the club will run on the occasion of the meet, a one-way fare only will be charged. This will afford an excellent opportunity for Sacramentans to spend a day in the country, and to witness some interesting sport, at a nominal expense.

Initiation Fee Abolished.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors, held this week, it was decided to throw open the charter and do away with the initiation fee of $10, until the club membership shall have reached 2,000.

This action went into effect immediately and new members may now join the organization by merely paying the monthly dues of $1.50.

The directors carefully considered the matter before arriving at this important decision, and reached the conclusion that the initiation fee, while eminently reasonable, was keeping fine material out of the club, in discouraging young men who are earning a moderate income and cannot easily afford to pay the ten-dollar fee in addition to the monthly dues.

The effect of the resolution passed by the directors was almost immediately followed by the receipt of a large number of applications for membership, and from present indications it will be only a comparatively short time before the charter list of 2,000 is reached. The initiation fee will then be restored, so it behooves intending applicants to act promptly if they desire to become members on the present uncommonly advantageous terms.

"With one exception everything I've put money into has gone up into the air."

"What was the exception?"

"An airship."

Stockton Track Meet in Doubt.

The outlook for a dual track meet at Stockton on the Fourth of July between the club of that city and the S. A. C. is not very bright. Everything depends on the home club's success in securing grounds. The only available place for holding track events will be occupied by State League ball teams on that day unless—as now seems quite probable—the league should blow up before then.

The Secretary of the Stockton Club admits, in a letter to Professor Rittler, that they have no one to pit against the S. A. C. wrestlers. He says:

"We have no wrestler who could turn over a hot cake with a steam shovel."

Outings in the Woods.

Professor Rittler and the other officials of the club are still at work on plans for the proposed automobile outing at an early day. A number of club members who own machines have expressed a willingness to lend them for the occasion, and others are expected to do likewise.

The idea is to take as many of the members as possible to some inviting grove in the country, the time and place yet to be selected, to spend a day in the woods in much the same manner as at the recent outing up the river. There will be a chicken dinner, a vaudeville entertainment, and a number of pleasing features.

The officers of the club regard these outings at which the members are brought together in greater numbers than is possible at the gymnasium, as a splendid means of promoting sociability among them and developing the better qualities of the men's natures. The resultant effects are the taking of a keener interest in all affairs of the club.

Now for a Bicycle Division.

The Athletic Committee of the club is desirous of having every branch of athletics represented among its members—track, basketball, handball, rowing, boxing, wrestling, swimming, bicycling, tennis, Rugby football, and the officers are working tentatively toward this end.

One of the first divisions to be taken up will be bicycling. There are many good wheelmen in the club, and the desire is to develop a racing team capable of going against those of the best clubs about the bay, where bicycle racing has been steadily maintained. The San Francisco, San Jose and Oakland clubs have expressed a desire to come to Sacramento, as in former years, and compete with local riders.

In the palmy days of bicycling Sacramento had frequent wheelmen's tournaments, long-distance relay races and sprinting events that attracted thousands of people. It is Captain Delano's desire to get a team in shape to compete in a tournament to be held during the coming State Fair. The matter will be taken up by the club at once and the ball started in motion.

Picking Football Men.

In a couple of months Professor Rittler will begin to select members for a Rugby football team. He says there is an abundance of good material for such a team, and thinks the club will be able to make as good a showing in football competition as it has in other branches of sport.

Boxers Going to the Bay.

The club will be well represented at the boxing tournament of the Western Athletic Club to be held in San Francisco this month. Boxing Manager Hoffman has been in communication with the Western Club's officials, and has promised to attend the tournament with a group of S. A. C. boxers. He expects to take six or eight men to the bay to compete in various classes, and is confident that several of them will come home with trophies.

In return it is expected the Western Club will send to this city a number of its best boxers to meet local men at the June boxing night of the home club.

New Collection Arrangement.

Fred Galleher, superintendent of the club, has consented to act also as collector for the organization, and members will hereafter pay their dues to him. Mr. Galleher is nearly always available and is personally acquainted with all the members, so the new arrangement will be found to be agreeable and advantageous all around.

S.A.C. WILL TRY FOR MEET WITH REDDING

S.A.C. 5-24-10 S. UN.

H. A. Macgregor of the Sacramento Athletic club will try to arrange a track and field meet with the new Redding Athletic club which, as announced by the Union, was recently formed. Mr. Macgregor will go to Redding in a few days, and talk the matter over with the management of the new club.

On May 30 the boys will contest with Chico at the latter place.

S. A. C. LADIES' NIGHT.

SAC. NEWS 5-22-10

On the 25th inst. the Sacramento Athletic Club will give a ladies' night for its membership that promises to be one of the most interesting social events of the season. Professor Ritter, the club's physicial instructor, has charge of arrangements and is perfecting a program which will embody several wrestling matches, light sparring events, club swinging, musical numbers, acrobatic stunts, etc.

MAY MEET REDDING.

A. A. Macgregor of the Sacramento Athletic Club will endeavor to arrange a field meet with the new Redding Athletic Club. He will visit Redding soon to talk over the matter.

OUTLAWS AT FREEPORT.

The Sacramento Athletic Club outlaws will go to Freeport tomorrow, where they will endeavor to humble the pride of that town. The Freeports have not lest yet this season and are somewhat chesty over the record.

S.A.C. OUTLAWS LOSE TO FREEPORT NINE

SAC. UN. 5-24-10

The S. A. C. Outlaws ball team journeyed to Freeport Sunday and met defeat by a score of 8 to 3.

N. Hack, who was supposed to pitch, could not come, so C. Hack donned his pitching togs and pitched a good steady game, holding the Outlaws down to 6 scattered hits and striking out 13 men and allowing no free passes, while on the other side Grady was hit hard and often. His support was fair. The features of the game were the hard hitting of Hamilton, who clouted out two three-baggers.

Next Sunday the Bohemians will cross bats with the home team, these two teams having met before and the Bohemians met defeat by a score of 9 to 3.

The score by innings:

S. A. C. Outlaws	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	— 3
Base hits	0	1	2	0	0	1	0	2	0	— 6
Freeports	2	0	0	2	0	1	3	0	*	— 8
Base hits	2	1	1	2	1	1	3	0	*	—11

Summary: Three-base hits—Hamilton (2), Godt 1. Two-base hits—C. Hack (1), Hunt (1). Struck out—By C. Hack 13, by Grady 2. Base on balls—Off Grady 2. Double plays Godt to Bowden, Stolen bases—Freeports 4, Outlaws 2. Umpire—C. Baumgartel. Scorer—N. D. Hack.

WOMEN TO SEE ATHLETES WRESTLE

S.A.C. to Entertain Fair Friends Wednesday Evening With Real Bouts.

SAC. UN. 5-24-10.

Probably for the first time in their lives the women of this city (by invitation, of course) are to be afforded an opportunity to witness a wrestling and boxing exhibition. The Sacramento Athletic club is the maker of the liberal offer, and expects a unanimous response Wednesday night when the second ladies' night in the history of the reorganized club is held. Extensive plans for the entertainment of the fair friends of the athletic organization have been made by Professor Otto Rittled and Captain Arthur Delano. It is their plan to eclipse the first ladies' night, and a glance at the following program should convince the most skeptical of the assured success of their efforts:

Wrestling tournament—W. Willmunder vs. J. Marino at 145 pounds; R. Emes vs. G. Russell at 154 pounds; C. Cunradson vs. S. O'Connor at 125 pounds for the championship of the club.

Boxing—Joe Erickson (pride of the club) vs. McAllister of S. A. C.; Salvador vs. Holland, both of S. A. C.

Athletic features—Strong man acts, C. Hintz; novelty juggling, Wolten and Russell; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; single trapeze, "Doc." Williams.

Instrumental and vocal selections—Solo, William Johnson; saxaphone solo, H. F. Curlee; tenor solo, Walter Longbotham; ragtime specialties, Tommy Burns.

The evening will be finished off in dancing.

CHICO VS. S..AC. TRACK MEET CALLED OFF

SAC. UN. 5-24-10

The track and field meet between the Sacramento Athletic club and the Chico Athletic club scheduled for the latter city Decoration day, May 30, has been called off. Word was received from Chico yesterday morning asking that the meet be cancelled owing to opposition which has grown up among church people and others in that city who think Decoration day should be one for reverence rather than sport.

The Chico team is also partly composed of members of the National Guard who are forced to parade on that day and after a consultation it was decided to postpone the meet indefinitely. It will probably be taken up again later in the summer.

WOMEN GUESTS OF ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE 5-24-10

Wrestling and boxing bouts will be held at the Sacramento Athletic Club to-morrow night at the "ladies' night" to be given there. The affair will be a substitution for the monthly amateur night of fisticuffs and instead of being for members only will be given for the benefit of the wives and women friends of the members.

Professor Otto Rittler and Captain Arthur Delano have prepared the following program for the evening:

Wrestling tournament—W. Wilmunder vs. J. Marino, at 145 pounds; R. Emes vs. G. Russell, at 154 pounds; C Cunradson vs. S. O'Connor, at 125 pounds, for the championship of the club.

Boxing—Joe Erickson vs. McAllister of S. A. C.; Salvador vs. Holland, both of S. A. C.

Athletic features—Strong man acts, C. Hintz; novelty juggling, Wolten and Russell; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; single trapeze "Doc,' Williams.

Instrumental and vocal selections—Solo, William Johnson; saxophone solo, H. F. Curlee; tenor solo, Walter Longbotham; ragtime specialties, Tommy Burns.

Dancing will follow the program.

FIELD MEET AT CHICO POSTPONED

SAC. BEE. 5-24-10

The proposed dual meet between the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Chico Club at Chico for Memorial Day has been indefinitely postponed, the Chico Club having written to-day that too much opposition had arisen in the city against holding a field meet on Decoration Day.

As many of the members of the Chico Club are students in the Chico High and Normal Schools, while others belong to the National Guard, too much influence could be brought to bear against the meet, according to the information received here.

To Juggle at S. A. C. Tonight

SAC. UN. 5-25-10

G. RUSSELL (Seated). H. HOLTEN.

The women friends of the Sacramento Athletic club will be entertained this evening at the second ladies' night given by the club since the reorganization. For the especial benefit of those who have never witnessed a boxing or wrestling bout, a number of matches will be staged. It is not often that women have the opportunity to see men box or wrestle, and it was with the idea of introducing a novelty that Captain Arthur Delano and Professor Otto Rittler arranged the goes. There will be nothing brutal about the matches, but at the same time the contestants will do their best to make them realistic. The program for tonight is as follows:

Wrestling tournament—W. Willmunder vs. J. Marino at 145 pounds; R. Emes vs. G. Russell at 154 pounds; C. Cunradson vs. S. O'Connor at 125 pounds for the championship of the club.

Boxing—Joe Erickson (pride of the club) vs. McAllister of S. A. C.; Salvador vs. Holland, both of S. A. C.

Athletic features—Strong man acts, C. Hintz; novelty juggling, Holten and Russell; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; single trapeze, "Doc" Williams.

Instrumental and vocal selections—Solo, William Johnson; saxophone solo, H. F. Curlee; tenor solo, Walter Longbotham; ragtime specialties, Tommy Burns.

The evening will be finished off in dancing.

LADIES' NIGHT AT THE S. A. C.

SAC. STAR 5-25-10

Many ladies were guests last night of the Sacramento Athletic Club at its ladies' night entertainment. The gymnasium was prettily decorated with bunting and club emblems, and an entertaining program was given.

In the 125-pound wrestling match, L. O'Connor won the club championship from A. Conradsen. R. Emes and G. Russell got a draw and Prof. Walter Dyberger and Ed H. Willmunder gave an exhibition wrestling match.

Salvador and Holland, and McAllister and Erickson bored three rounds.

CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAIN WOMEN

SAC. BEE. 5-26-10

Several hundred members of the Sacramento Athletic Club, with their wives and fair friends, attended the "ladies' night" given in the club rooms last night. A program consisting of wrestling and boxing bouts and other gymnasium work was rendered and proved highly entertaining to the women.

In the wrestling bouts L. O'Connor won from A. Conradsen. R. Eames and G. Russell wrestled to a draw. Professor Walter Dyeburg and E. H. Willmunder also wrestled. Salvador and Holland, and Erickson and McAllister furnished the fisticuffs.

The remainder of the program was as follows:

Bag punching, Gus Story; Sacramento's strongest youth, C. Hintz; solo, William Johnson; novelty juggling, Holton and Russell; saxophone solo, H. F. Curlee; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; tenor solo, W. Longbotham; single trapeze, "Doc" Williams; piano selections, S. A. Root.

LADIES' NIGHT AT S. A. C.

SAC. STAR 5-23-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will entertain the ladies tonight, and for their especial benefit boxing bouts and wrestling matches have been arranged. The matches will not be brutal, but will be good exhibitions of both the art of self-defense and of wrestling. Interspersed will be music and other features. After the program dancing will conclude the evening. Following are the events for the program:

Wrestling tournament—W. Willmunder vs. J. Marino, at 145 pounds; R. Emes vs. G. Russell, at 154 pounds; C. Cunradson vs. S. O'Connor at 125 pounds.

Boxing—Joe Erickson vs. McAllister of S. A. C.; Salvador vs. Holland, both of S. A. C.

Instrumental and vocal selections—Solo, Wm. Johnson; saxophone solo, H. F. Curlee; tenor solo, Walter Longbatham; ragtime specialties, Tommy Burns.

S. A. C. NINE TO PLAY REDDING DOUBLE-HEADER

SAC. UN. 5-24-10

The Sacramento Athletic club senior nine has a double-header on schedule with Redding for Sunday and Monday. The athletics will journey to Redding Saturday night and be on hand bright and early the next morning. They will remain in the northern city Sunday night and will furnish amusement for the population of that city on Decoration Day. Following is the line-up:

Tate, ss; Burr, 2b; Burns, 3b; Foy, 1b; Grady and Buckingham, p; Godt, c; J. Reese lf; Wheat, cf; Greenlaw, rf.

To Be Jolliest Ball Ever Held in Sacramento

WILL A. NEWCOMB, Secretary of S. A. C., who will go masked.

Athletic Club Sparing No Pains in Plans For Merry Maskers

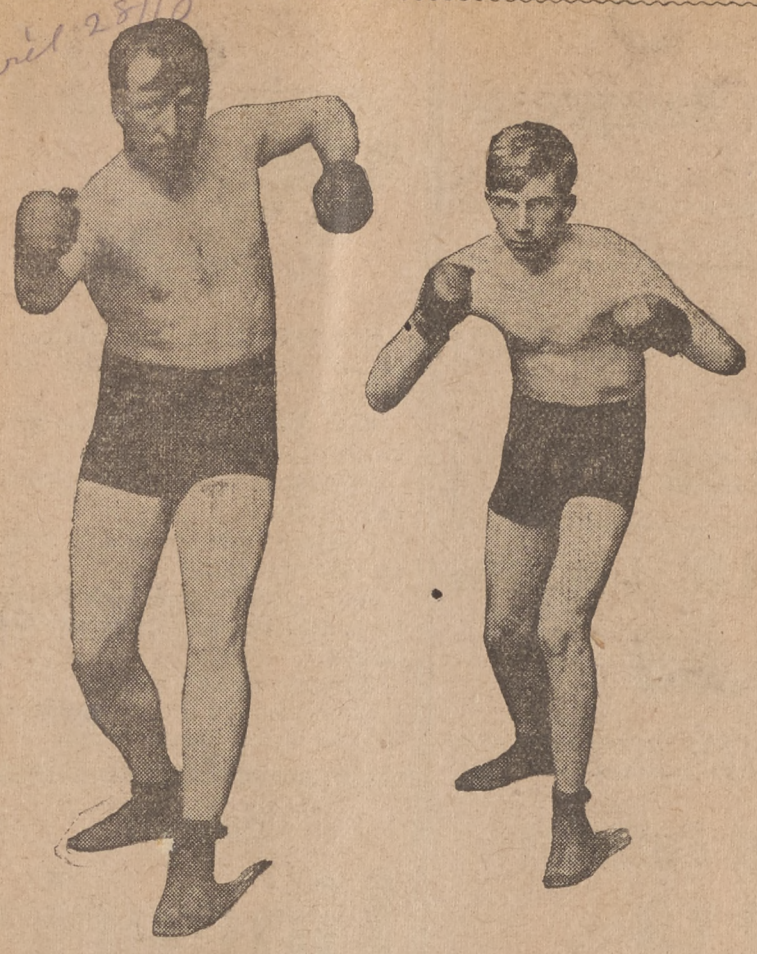
If you don't want to miss the best and jolliest ball of the season get your ticket early and likewise your costume for the grand mask ball to be held in the Old Pavilion April 1st, say the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club, under whose auspices the dance is to be held. The various club members are drilling for athletic stunts of every imaginable character; comic scenes and personages will abound. Splendid preparations are being made on every hand.

Goldstein, the famous costumer of San Francisco, will open a branch department in the Hotel Sacramento for the convenience of those desiring original costumes, and unless all signs fail the Old Pavilion on the night of April 1st will be a veritable fairy land.

Will A. Newcomb, Secretary of the Sacramento Athletic Club, whose picture is printed above, is only one of the many who will be on the floor in some sort of a unique costume.

SIX BOUTS ON ATHLETIC CLUBS AMATEUR CARD

April 28/10



BOBBY WALLACE (Left) OF MARYSVILLE, WHO WILL FIGHT S. RAYMOND, AND SCRIBE BARR (Right) ALSO OF MARYSVILLE, WHO WILL MEET BILL GORE AT THE SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB TO-NIGHT

The April amateur fight card of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be staged to-night in the club rooms and the bouts arranged by Matchmaker Hoffman give promise of some good milling. Everett Barr, the Marysville scribe, will fight Bill Gore of the club in the main event, and Joe Erickson and Bobby McAllister will meet in the special event.

The other four bouts will be as follows:

Martinez (S. A. C.) vs. Paul Noble (Acme Club of Oakland), 145 pounds.

S. Raymond (unattached) vs. Wallace (Marysville), 160 pounds.

NEXT AMATEUR CARD OF S. A. C. SET FOR 28TH

The next amateur fight card to be put on by the Sacramento Athletic Club will be staged on April 28th. The Directors have agreed on that date, and given Matchmaker Hoffman the cue to go ahead and arrange his bouts. One of the main fights this month, it is believed, will be between Scribe Barr, of Marysville, and perhaps Shroder, of Stockton.

S. A. C. BEATS REDDING.
(The Bee's Special Service.)

REDDING (Shasta Co.), May 30.—The Sacramento Athletic Club ball team yesterday defeated the Redding team by a score of 5 to 4. Gil De Forest, third baseman for Redding, had his nose broken.

REDDING TIGERS GET REVENGE ON S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 5-31-10

REDDING (Shasta Co.), May 31.—The Redding Tigers more than retrieved themselves yesterday for the defeat on the preceding day by the Sacramento Athletics. A return game was played yesterday afternoon, with a score of 12 to 2 in favor of the locals. Though the Tigers were weakened by the loss of one of their best men, Gill De Forest, whose nose was broken in the Sunday game, they trounced the Sacramento players at ease.

Chico - S. A. C. Meet Off.

Captain Delano received a letter from Chico Tuesday, stating that the Chico boys had called off the track meet which was to be held there, Decoration Day, because public opinion was strong against the games. The G. A. R. and the principals of the Normal and High Schools thought that a day set aside for the ones who had given up their lives for this country, should not be spent in track activities. Without public backing, the Chico boys are afraid that financially the meet would be a failure, so it has been postponed indefinitely.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-28-10

Benefit of Summer Gymnasium Work.

Now that the days are getting warmer, the drop-off in attendance of the gymnasium classes, handball courts, and club rooms is very noticeable.

The members seem to think, that because it is hot outside, it is too warm to do gymnasium work. If they would stop and think how two months ago they were wearing extra sweaters, and crowding on all the wearing apparel possible, so that they might get a good "sweat on," they would probably go in the gymnasium and receive the real benefit that is awaiting them. They can work off much more weight, and a nice cold shower will put them in prime condition for the heat that is waiting on the outside.

The Redding Trip.

One of the best baseball trips that any amateur team has taken this year will be made by the Sacramento Athletic Club's team today. They play their first game Sunday, and their second on Monday, returning home Tuesday. In playing the Reddings they meet one of the best teams in the north, one that has not been defeated this year, and it has played some of the best teams in the State.

Do You Want a New Building?

Well, if you do now is your chance to put your shoulder to the wheel and help Superintendent Galleher in his canvass for new members. Two thousand active members will do the work. As a special inducement the Board of Directors has done away with the initiation fee, and requires only a payment of $4.50, which pays for three months.

Every member of the club knows two or three fellows that are waiting for an opportunity like this, and all you have to do is to tell them the terms, and the thing is done.

Now let all the members get busy and boost for the new clubhouse, which can be had if you are willing to work a little.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-28-10

Amell Tanner to Conduct Wrestling.

Wrestling Instructor Dyerberg has been granted a leave of absence by the Board of Directors, and in his absence Ameil Tanner, a wrestler of considerable European reputation, will conduct the wrestling.

Mr. Tanner competed in a great many national matches in Switzerland before he came to California, and was recently connected with the Reliance Club of Oakland.

Wahlander Resigns.

The trials and tribulations of a baseball manager were too much for Roy Wahlander of the Outlaw team, so he resigned. Wahlander has been one of the most efficient managers the club has ever had, and during his term of office he brought together players that have brought credit to the club by their skill and hard work. It is only when he finds that he has not the proper time to devote to his team that he resigns. It is hoped the Outlaws will still keep up their good work, although their former leader will be greatly missed.

Local Boxers at Oroville.

On the 24th and 25th of June the Oroville Athletic Club will hold a boxing tournament in connection with the carnival to be held there. Boxers are expected from Sacramento, Chico, Marysville, San Francisco, Vallejo and other places.

A Rising Young Athlete.

Floyd Rice, the Ralph Rose of Northern California, first came into notice when he competed with Dixon High School in the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic League in 1906. He broke the shot and hammer record that year and has repeated the performance every year since. In 1908 he left Dixon High, and has competed with Chico High School ever since. He holds the present record for the weights, both in the Northern League and Sacramento League.

Greenlaw on First.

Bill Greenlaw, the University of California's big first baseman, will be seen in a Sacramento Athletic Club uniform from now on. He was also Captain of the Sacramento High School's championship baseball team. He will go to Redding with the team today.

Chat.

The Outlaws are suffering from a slump, but now that the comet has gone, we hope that the hard luck has also departed.

The S. A. C. team did not play last Sunday.

Captain Tate is taking on the Redding trip the best material in the club.

The hitting of "Deacon" Strachen and "Handsome" Thayer made the Freeport fans sit up and take notice.

"Sleepy" Reese is trotting the mile in fine fashion, and promises to break some records before track season is over.

Too bad Chico postponed the track meet; another scalp would not hurt anybody—except the loser.

The Outlaws' fame has already reached the East, and Manager Wahlander, it is rumored, has received communications from the White Sox asking if they could sign up some of the fast ones.

Sparks, the crack quarter and middle distance runner, is going to San Francisco on Decoration Day to show up a few of the Bay men that are going to run at the Caledonian meet.

Joe Erickson, the fighting beauty, has developed a new punch, to be known as the "McAllister fade-away," which all hope he lands when the speedy Olympic Club man and Joe clash again.

George Green, champion heavyweight handball player and wind-puncher, was to have defended his title on Tuesday, but when the hour for the exhibition arrived he was nowhere to be found. This was rather peculiar, and as there is a side bet, there is much speculation in club circles.

What is the matter, Georgie?

Simmy was a busy man on ladies' night. He says he met them in Vacaville.

Didn't Joe look beautiful when he stepped into the ring? Too bad it is not Colonial times, for blue satin becomes him, and he would be stunning in a blue coat and knickerbockers.

Oh! you Doc. Williams! When you appeared there was a regular riot among the ladies.

The way Professor Rittler and Gimberling went through their stunts was not very slow.

There is nothing the matter with Chet. Gannon when it comes to ladies' night.

"I love the club fights, but oh! you ladies' night!"

Fred. Galleher was also there, but he disappointed everyone by not appearing, as he had promised, in a tight-rope sketch with Tad. Koening, entitled "When We Were Little Boys."

What is the matter, Burns? Did you get lost on ladies' night or are you afraid of the ladies? They were all disappointed, for they wanted to hear you sing.

Deacon Stricken is suffering from a sprained ankle, which he received while sliding to second in the Freeport game.

Mr. Dyerberg wishes to state that the newspapers have quoted him wrong, when they said he was going away for good. He will return to his active duties in a month or two, and probably not alone.

SAC. WEEKLY 5-28-10

The Ladies Entertained.

The members of the club and a large gathering of ladies were handsomely entertained on Wednesday night by the boxers, wrestlers and acrobats, who presented a program of more than usua' interest. S. O'Connor and A. Conradsen went on the mat to decide the wrestling championship in the 125-pound class, which the former won.

R. Eames and G. Russell were so evenly matched in the 154-pound class that the bout was declared a draw. A fine exhibition of wrestling skill was also given by Walter Dyeborg and E. H. Willmunder at 145 pounds.

There were two boxing bouts, one between Salvador and Cowie, and the other between McAllister and Erickson. The lads did some pretty stiff punching, even if it was only a ladies' night affair.

C. Hintz, the club's strong man, went through his specialties, and Holten and Russell did a very clever club-juggling act, at which they are finished artists.

Gimberling and Rittler's acrobatic work was specially good, as also was that of "Doc." Williams on the trapeze.

In the line of music there was quite a variety. William Johnson, the boxing instructor, warbled all by himself so charmingly as to evoke the applause of the ladies; H. F. Curlee demonstrated the fact that the saxophone can produce good music when one knows how to coax it out; Walter Longbotham, the tenor, favored the audience with a charming selection; Tom Burns gave a few ragtime specialties and S. A. Root displayed his skill at the piano.

The entertainment was enjoyed from first to last by the large audience.

Director J. N. Inman opened the proceedings with a neat address of welcome to the large assemblage. He told them they owned the building, and all that was in it, for the evening.

JIM GRAY CHOSEN TO PLUCK GREEN'S PLUMES

SAC. UN. 6-3-10

The handball enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athletic club are greatly excited and interested over a prospective match between George Green and Jim Gray, which is scheduled to take place, that is providing no one buys Gray off, on or about June 12th. Green is some handball player but there are those in the club who think he is a much better player in his own mind than he is in reality, and the doubters have set up Jim Gray to pluck the plumes of Green and thus lower his strutting and conceit, as they call it.

Negotiations have been opened for a settlement of the long-standing difficulty, and unless anything disastrous turns up within the next two weeks the matter will most likely be settled. The articles of arrangement, which, by the way, Green has not yet affixed his signature to, provide that the loser must open his purse and put up for a French dinner for five. The match will consist of a series of seven games, a majority in either of the players' favor will decide the winner.

YOUTHFUL VISITORS WILL STAR IN VAUDEVILLE

Concerts, Ball Games and Exhibitions Planned by Peixotto.

THE Columbia Park Boys' band, a famous educational organization of San Francisco, will arrive in Sacramento June 10 under the leadership of Sidney Peixotto, founder of the club. The boys are making a tour of Northern California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. They wish to earn their way as they go and with this idea, will appear in Sacramento in several vaudeville concerts and athletic contests. Their performances are superior to the average professional productions, so that the public can both aid a good cause and get their money's worth at the same time.

Friday evening, June 8, the visitors will present a concert and vaudeville show at Turner hall. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the Columbia Park Baseball club will meet that representing the Boy's Brotherhood of this city at Buffalo park. In the afternoon of the same day there will be an entertainment for school children at Turner hall, followed in the evening by an athletic and dramatic exhibition at the pavilion, Sixth and L streets. The program on this occasion will include a basketball game between the visitors and a team representing the Y. M. C. A.

Sunday there will be another ball game between the Sacramento Athletic club players and the San Francisco lads, and in the afternoon there will be an open-air concert in the city plaza, preceding a mass meeting in the city hall under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Boys' Brotherhood. The visit will conclude Saturday evening with a stereoptican lecture in the city hall by Sidney Peixotto on "Work Among Boys."

All the entertainments, with the exception of the ball games, will be for the benefit of the Sacramento Mission society.

GATES INTERESTS BAY ATHLETES IN JULY MEET

SACBEE 6-1-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), June 1.—Alva Gates, a well-known athlete of this city, has returned from San Francisco where he ran second in the half-mile handicap race at the picnic of the Knights of the Red Branch against forty-four competitors. While at the Bay, Gates made arrangements for some of the leading talent to attend the field meet to be held in Marysville on July Fourth. Officials of the Olympic Club and the Irish-American Club are promising their aid. Howden and Magee, the Marathon runners, seen here on a previous occasion, are anxious to run a ten-mile race in this city on July 4th, to be especially arranged for them.

S. A. C. BALL TEAM WILL PLAY AT DIXON SUNDAY

6-3-10, SAC. STAR

The base ball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club will play the Dixons Sunday afternoon.

The S. A. C. team has been strengthened by the acquistion of Will Greenlaw, captain-elect of the University of California team for 1911, who will play with the Athletics the rest of the season. Greenlaw is a classy first baseman and a good sticker. His stick work won the game against the Redding Tigers last Sunday, and the club is fortunate in securing his services.

Grady will pitch for the S. A. C.'s and Godt will be on the receiving end. The following is the line-up and batting order for Sunday's game: Tate, ss; Burr, 2b; Burns, 3b; Greenlaw, 1b; Reese, lf; Wheat, rf; Godt, c; Foy, cf; Grady, p.

MORSEHEAD AND NELSON TO RACE CLAY AND TODD

SAC. UN. 6-5-10

The long delayed and much-postponed race between Nelson and Morsehead and Clay and Todd of the Dolphin Rowing club will take place this afternoon on the river over a course of one-half mile, starting from the bridge and running down stream. John Denny, former chief of police, will be judge of the match, and promises to render his decision free of all prejudice. Nelson and Morsehead will row in the Dix, while Todd and Clay will ride in the Owl. Considerable rivalry exists between the four men, and the ability of each with the oars has always been a matter of dispute. The race this afternoon will decide who has the best claim to the blue ribbon.

S. A. C. NOTES.

SAC. STAR 6-5-10

Ancil Hoffman, boxing instructor, expects some first-class goes this month. He will secure some first-class men from the clubs around the bay cities to compete with the boys of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who are all under the arm of "Billy" Johnson.

The swimming club is about to start for the coming year, and try-out for the club team will be held in a few weeks. Some members are in training already. The club has fine material for a good team this year.

June will be a big month at the Sacramento Athletic Club for all branches of sports, especially for those who have been unable to win the gold bars. Announcements were made this week that all members of the gymnasium classes would be given a chance to show their ability in class tournaments at the end of the month. It will be in the form of a house-warming, and ladies will be invited. There will be three divisions, and in this way each individual will have a fair chance. All kinds of exercises will be held, from the dumb-bells and Indian clubs to the parallel bars and horses; rope-climbing hand-over-hand will also play an important part, as well as high diving and jumping. Physical Director Otto Rittler, under whose directions the classes are held, expects much competition, as there is strong rivalry in some of the classes.

TRACK MEET.

SAC. STAR 6-5-10

The dual track meet, which was to come off at Chico Decoration Day, was postponed on account of public sentiment, till the end of June. The track team is hard at work every evening at McKinley Park. Captain Stewart has his men in fine form expecting to bring home the victory. The club has added Dixon, the St. Mary's star, to the squad. He is a good all around man and is reliable for ten points in any track meet. Dixon was captain of the St. Mary's Rugby team in 1909 and will be a great addition to the club team this Winter.

ROWING RACE.

SAC. STAR 6-5-10

For some time past there has been rivalry in the ranks of the Dolphin Rowing Club over the respective merits of the "Dix" and the "Owl" and their crews as to speed and this mooted question is to be settled this afternoon on the river when the "Dix," manned by Morshead and Nelson will row against the "Owl" manned by Clay and Todd. That veteran oarsman, Johnny Denny will officiate as judge.

HANDBALL MATCH.

The handball enthusiasts are greatly excited over the match game to be played by George Green and Jim Tray. The match will come off about the middle of this month. The game is of long standing difficulty and great interest is being taken by the handball enthusiasts. The articles for this match call for seven games and the winner will preside at the head of a French dinner set for five.

Athletic Club at Redding.

P. A. A. Representative MacGregor took a trip to Redding the other day to try and get the new athletic club there to become a member of the P. A. A. They think favorably of the P. A. A. and probably very soon we will have another northern rival.

Their gymnasium is very well equipped, and they intend to put out track and basketball teams. Good luck to you, Redding, and to your spirited National Guard that is back of the club.

—o—

An Inter-Club Meet

Professor Rittler, Captain Delano and Track Captain Stewart are preparing for a big inter-club meet to be held in the latter part of the month. This will practically pick the track team and also create an interest in track work.

There are a couple more good track meets in sight, and as it is rather warm right now it is a little hard to get the men to working right, but the inter-club meet will set a little friendly rivalry at work and create an interest, and thereby get the men stirred up to action.

S. A. C.-Redding Game.

Sacramento and Redding broke even in the two games played at the latter place this week. The Sacramento Athletic Club team is the first baseball team that has been able to defeat Redding this year.

Never before on any trip was the club team treated so royally. The town and everything in it was theirs, and everyone met them with open arms.

Sacramento won the Sunday game by the score of 4 to 3. It was a fast and sensational game. Grady pitched a fine steady game, placing the ball anywhere he wished.

The feature of the game was Greenlaw's two two-baggers. The first scored Burns and Tate, and won the game for the visitors. He was also a demon on first, getting everything that came his way. The team played great ball all the time.

The Monday game would have been ours if we had had an extra pitcher, but at the last moment Manager Barnes received word that the other pitcher would not be able to come. This left Grady to pitch both games, a thing that most pitchers would not even think of doing. But Grady was equal to the occasion, and went into the box. He pitched great ball up to the seventh, and held Redding down to 3 to 2, but in the fatal seventh he weakened, and when the mist cleared away the score was 12 to 2.

Greenlaw, Tate and Burns hit well in both games. There were a great many errors on account of the rocky condition of the diamond.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-4-10.

George Green Challenges.

Probably knowing that I had been called out of town by railroad business, J. W. Gray has taken advantage of my absence to circulate the report that from fear of defeat I failed to keep an engagement to play him a handball series. I do not pretend to be the equal of Mr. Gray as a strategian or as a press agent, but I can beat him at straight handball, and I hereby challenge him to a series of seven games, the loser of the series to pay the costs of a dinner for five at the Cafe Rex. Seeing the great public interest which has been excited by the notice posted on the bulletin board and by the items in The Sacramento Weekly, in which I am represented as running out on Gray, I respectfully submit the proposition of charging an entrance fee of 25 cents to the series, the proceeds thus accruing to be devoted to the sweet uses of charity.

Yours truly,
GEORGE GREEN.

Swimming Suggestions.

About six months ago the subject of organizing a swimming team was talked about, but that was as far as it got. There are a great many good swimmers in the club, and the forming of a swimming team would interest a great many outsiders who are good swimmers and would join the club if a swimming team were formed.

The Sacramento Swimming Baths management would probably be willing to assist the club, and probably would allow it to hold swimming exhibitions.

On Memorial Day a great many of the club members went to the Baths, and while there built pyramids in the water and did some very good work.

Now, talk it up, fellows, and see if we can't have a championship swimming team.

Basketball Outlook.

The outlook for this year's basketball team is very bright, as all of last year's players are getting into the game, with the addition of some very promising new material. With these to pick from, the club officials expect to have 120, 135 and 140-pound teams that will outplay any in Northern California, if not in the state.

The tryouts will start in October, with something doing every minute from start to the finish.

S. A. C. to Play Dixon.

The S. A. C. team will play Dixon on Sunday. Dixon has a very strong team, but the club team is confident of success after the showing it made in Redding. Captain Tate will take the following men: Grady, pitcher; Godt, catcher; Greenlaw, first; Burr, second; Tate, shortstop; Burns, third; J. Reese, left field; Wheat, center; Foy, right.

Gymnasium Work Increasing.

Every director of the club, but one, was in the gymnasium on Tuesday, and most of them returned on Wednesday. They all claim they feel a great deal better, and did not notice the heat during that hot wave. You had better try it—you will like it.

Many of the big boys are seen regularly in gym. costume. Messrs. Leitch, Inman, Gray, Koening, and Newcum are daily patrons. They are reducing weight, and doing it in a rational way.

Alva Gates, Second.

Out of 45 competitors in a half-mile race at San Francisco, this week, Alva Gates carried the S. A. C. colors in second place at the finish. Gates lives in Marysville, where on July 4th he will probably meet some of the speedy men from the Bay clubs in a long-distance race.

The Club's Trophies.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has a record of victories and trophies won of which its members are justly proud. Although but a year has passed since its reorganization, it has a reputation throughout the valley of putting out the strongest athletic teams of any club.

The basketball teams were the first to bring victory to the club this season. Both the heavyweight and lightweight teams captured the championship and received two beautiful cups from the Sacramento Basketball League.

The track team has not as yet been defeated this year, and has been doing great work. It has won five beautiful cups already, and expects to win more as the season advances.

In boxing, handball and wrestling the club has won a well-deserved reputation.

In the whist tournament held some time ago the club team was victorious. If it keeps on winning cups it will soon be obliged to have a place built to keep them, as its show-case is full already. It is for the members of the club to win trophies and the directors will find a place to display them.

John W. Morsehead.

Hodson Photo

In pursuance of its policy of promoting all branches of clean, healthful sport, the club has selected a Boating Commissioner to whom has been assigned the work of organizing a rowing section. This official is John W. Morsehead, a boating enthusiast who, as one of the organizers of the Dolphin Rowing Club, has done much toward awakening an interest in local aquatic sports.

Mr. Morsehead is a native of Shasta county, but has passed most of his life in Sacramento, though a few years were spent in the State of Nevada, Oakland and San Jose. While specially interested in rowing, he has always been active in athletic circles. He was a member of the Sacramento Athletic Club of other days, and has been an earnest promoter of the club since its reorganization.

For the last six years Mr. Morsehead has maintained an advertising agency in Sacramento, prior to which he was connected with one of the city's leading business firms as Advertising Manager. He earlier held a position with the Southern Pacific Company.

As Boating Commissioner, he is now organizing a rowing auxiliary to and within the S. A. C., for the development of sculling in all its branches.

Club Chat.

Demon "Red" Gordon let out some of his knowledge of the game while at Redding, so Captain Tate gave him a chance, thinking that probably the Red-man was some hidden treasure, but alas, it proved to be only a hidden lemon, and of the rankest sort, for, while gazing into the skies trying to forecast the climatic condition, a nice long fly was hit out his way. He neither had to move nor even wink an eye, for it was coming straight into his hands. The demon stretched out his hands, the ball hit his glove. He should have had a basket, for there was rubber in his glove, and the man who hit the ball galloped around the bases while Red went prospecting.

When Fred Galleher jumped into the swimming tank on Monday there was almost a panic, as the water rose two inches.

"Piute" is taking a great deal of the boys' time now-a-days. That is the principal game that the gentlemen of leisure play.

"Frenchie" is going to start a French class during the summer months.

"Doc" Burns is going to take some ginger pills on the next baseball trip. He thinks the boys should have more "pep."

Dittlerie thinks the club boys are real rude, for when he was swimming the other day someone "chawed beef," or in more polite words, tied his clothes so he could not untie them. He had to return to town in a bathing suit.

Everybody was glad to hear that Galleher's watch, which was stolen from him some time ago, has been located in a pawn-shop in Reno. But then that does not catch the thief.

With such oarsmen as Johnson, Morsehead and Shark it is a shame that we can't have a shell.

Ed Dalton has started to train, but what for, he will not tell. The title of heavyweight handball champion, however, is undecided, as yet. Look out, heavyweights!

Now that the out-door concerts are near, it should not be forgotten that the plaza is only across the street, and the club's balcony is well stocked with easy chairs. As the card tables are near the windows, one might have a friendly game in the meantime.

And from the porch one can get a good view of what is walking around the plaza.

Lefty Johnson is pitching fine ball for the Wingards. Look out, John, or the big League will grab you.

McLaughlin pitched for the High School when they won the championship of the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic League by defeating Chico. He pitched good ball, and also banged out as pretty a homerun as has ever been made on the local diamond by any player.

Director Inman nas returned from an eight days' outing with Dr. Smith. They went out after bears, but as it was rather early they did not make a large haul, killing only one, which is considered very good for this time of the year. Dr. Smith is still after bear.

Kid Arcega is in charge of Whirlwind Gray's training quarters. He is recognized as one of the best handball trainers and authorities in the city. Gray started training on Wednesday, and a large audience witnessed his first work-out, which was very satisfactory to the fans.

Boost for that new club house.

Joseph Erickson is working—really working, but don't worry, for he has only to sit down and see that a rope does not get twisted in a windlass.

About twenty-five of the club fellows went to Colusa to attend the Water Carnival. A good many of the boys were returning on the boat that tipped the men overboard when they were asleep.

Thayer, Palm, and "Doc." Fay were among the unfortunates that got wet.

The S. A. C. team is surely a good aggregation. Every man is a good player, and if they keep up the pace they have set everybody will have to sit up and take notice.

George Green is going to start training for the big handball game on Monday. He is doing light road work now.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-4-10

Captain Dixon of St. Mary's College is living in Sacramento now, and will probably join the club. He is a fine pole vaulter and Rugby player, and will be a fine addition to the athletic department.

When Gray and Green start to mix it in the handball court there is going to be some color flying. It will surely be an exciting, as well as interesting, game. Both men are in the pink of condition.

Galleher and Rittler would not allow the near-gold Limburger cup to leave the building to be photographed with the other cups. They claimed that it was not, as yet, insured, and the risk would be too great.

Echoes From the Rescue Department

Alas! faith in man is shattered! Athletes live awhile—that is, in athletic fame—and then they stray from the path and start on the decline.

Curly Day, the club's crack marathon and distance runner, has, it is claimed, strayed from this simple path and taken a step higher. "Doc." Hart, notorious gambler, pool sharp, and basketball fiend, is credited with most of the blame.

The Rescue office, which is in charge of Professor Rittler and Deerhound Galleher, are attending to the case, and have placed the old-time sleuth Erickson and his dog Fido on the trail, and good results are expected.

Chaff.

Porter McLaughlin—I'm just crazy to be a poet. I want to be a great poet.

Prof. Cummings—Look out, my scholar; insanity is not a qualification.

Beggar—Give me a quarter, sir.
Joe Erickson—I have no quoter.
Beggar—Well, give me a dime for a bed.
Joe Erickson—Vel, now, dot's bizzness. Show me der bed.

Tony Arcega—What caused the riot in the gym. when Eberhart was rehearsing his part in the play "Israel of New York?"

Punk Thielen—Well, he held up the skull of Yorick and said, "Alas! you are not the only dead head in the house."

Sid Root—What are you doing now?
C. Shaw—I'm cleaning out the bank.
Sid Root—President or janitor?

Burr—Tate, what is three-fourths of a score?
Tate—Third base.

Traxler—Do you charge extra for filling a customer's mouth with soap?
Bill Rose—Only when he swallows the brush.

Prof. Rittler—What was all that hollering going on in the parlor for yesterday, Scotty?
F. Scott—Hollering!—why I was singing a solo.
Prof. Rittler—Now look here, Scotty, all I have to say is that when people can't sing and still persist in singing, they should be sent to Sing-Sing.

The Josh Box.

Starting Monday there will be a josh-box in Superintendent Galleher's office, in which members are asked to put all the jokes, suggestions, and criticisms they wish.

Everybody is asked to contribute because there is something always going on that the other fellow would like to hear, and it is impossible for the club scribe to get everything. The articles will always be subject to change and refusal. Let everybody write, for the success of our part of the paper relies on what you do to help.

S. A. C. AT MARYSVILLE JULY 3.

Track men of the Sacramento Athletic club are greatly interested in the coming meet with Marysville on July 3, in conjunction with the hub city's big Fourth of July celebration. Some of the best athletes in Northern California will contest in the meet and it is likely that the affair will draw a big crowd.

BEAR HUNTING PARTY IN SISKIYOU KILLS TWO

SAC. BEE. 6-6-10

J. M. INMAN RETURNING FROM BEAR HUNT NEAR GAZELLE, SISKIYOU COUNTY.

A bear hunting party, consisting of Dr. R. E. Smith and J. M. Inman of Sacramento, J. W. Gregg of Gazelle and Herb Evans and Clay Johnson of Etna Mills, Siskiyou County, spent a week or so in the mountains near Gazelle recently. Dr. Smith had his pack of hounds in the hunt and two bears were killed, one by Inman and the other by Smith. The one killed by Inman weighed about 300 pounds and the one dropped by Dr. Smith several days later was about twice as large. The party saw eighteen deer in one day.

FAMOUS RUNNERS FOR MARYSVILLE

Four Western Wonders to Meet in Ten-Mile Marathon on July 4.

SAC. UN. 6-8-10

Four of the best amateur long-distance runners in the West will appear in the ten-mile Marathon at Marysville July 4 in the Sacramento Athletic club-Marysville Athletic club annual track and field handicap meet. The four well-known athletes and long-distance runners who will compete in the ten-mile race are:

Magee of the Irish-American club of San Francisco, twice champion in the fifteen-mile record; Howden of the Acme club of Oakland, a phenomenal ten-mile runner; Rob Smith of Stockton, who ran ten miles in an hour in a recent open meet in that city, and Day of the local club, who beat Magee and Howden in Marysville some months ago.

While the Marathon will be the feature of the meet, there are other events in which some of the Pacific coast's foremost athletes will compete. The scratch events will be: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, shot put, hammer throw, pole vault, broad jump, relay, ten-mile Marathon. The handicap events will be: 400-yard run, half mile, mile, high jump.

The meet will be open to all registered athletes and entry blanks may be obtained of Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club. Three medals will be given in each event, and a beautiful silver loving cup has been set up by the Marysville merchants. The meet will be held in conjunction with the big July 4 celebration in the Hub city.

TO HOLD GYM TOURNEY AT S.A.C.

Heads of Local Athletic Associations to Act as Judges of Big Club's Big Event.

SAC. UN. 6-8-10

Members of the Sacramento Athletic club who have found it impossible to make any headway on the track in handball or in baseball, will have an opportunity to win medals in a gymnasium tournament to be held by the club on July 1st. Professor Otto Rittler has completed final arrangements for the affair, and it will be staged under his personal supervision.

The tourney will be divided into three divisions and the best performer in each will be awarded a club medal. Judges will be selected from the various other athletic organizations. Only members of the club will be allowed to compete in the event. Each contestant will be supposed to do two acts submitted by Professor Rittler and one originated by himself.

TIME IS DROWNED BUT OWL WINS FROM DIX

Moved by the intense excitement of the moment and confused by the knowledge that upon his decision rested the satisfaction of nearly two thousand people who gathered yesterday afternoon on the river banks to witness the rowing race between Todd and Clay and Morsehead and Nelson, former Chief of Police Denny's hand trembled ever so slightly for the mere fraction of a second, but sufficiently for the stopwatch he held to slip from his hand into the silvery waters. Because of this sad accident, the time made by Todd and Clay, who won by a good length from Morsehead and Nelson, will never be known, but the fact that Todd and Clay beat Morsehead and Nelson is sufficient for most of those interested, and the small matter of time pales into insignificance before the more important detail of winning.

John Denny was chosen judge, timer, starter and high master of the affair. Because of his knowledge and long experience on the Sacramento, and save for the small accident, he filled the bill to a queen's taste. Todd and Clay rowed in the Owl and Morsehead and Nelson rowed in the Dix. The Owl took the lead soon after the start and walked away from the Dix. The race settles a long standing dispute between the four oarsmen and also their many friends.

The Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday defeated the Dixon team by the score of 4 to 3. The game was one of the most interesting that has been seen at Dixon for years. In the ninth inning, when the Dixon team practically had the game won, the Athletics held a little batting bee which turned the scale of defeat into victory.

Grafy for the Athletics pitched a great game and held the Dixon team to three hits. SAC. STAR. 6-6-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club's first team will play the Columbia Park Boys at Buffalo Park next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

HOME FROM TRIP.

Neil Lucey, formerly captain of the Sacramento Athletic Club, is home from an extended trip in the East. Lucey says that everywhere there is general interest in the Jeff-Johnson battle.

THAT MAN GREEN IS HANDBALL MARVEL

SAC. UN. 6-8-10

Green, demon handball player of the Sacramento Athletic club, who has been attracting considerable attention of late because of his meeting with Jim Gray next Sunday morning for the championship of the club, showed in a measure his class yesterday when he defeated Morgan in two games out of three. Green loafed in the first contest and was beat 21:19. He settled down to the winning stride in the second game and won it 21:15 and in the third he fairly drubbed Morgan, winning out 21:2.

The handball enthusiasts of the club are greatly interested in the match Sunday and it is likly a big crowd will be on hand to witness the exhibition.

ERICKSON WANTS A SECOND GO WITH M'ALLISTER

SAC. BEE. 6-7-10

After an elapse of a month the Sacramento Athletic Club Directors will on June 29th, stage another amateur fight card, an attraction which has been a great drawing card at the club every month. Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman has started to gather material to make up his card.

The main event of the program may be a return match between Bobby McAllister and Joe Erickson. Erickson is anxious to get a return match with McAllister, who outpointed him in their April fight, and an effort will be made to bring McAllister from San Francisco. Erickson realizes that he made a mistake in trying to stand off and fight McAllister and now says he will carry the fight to the slim boy should they come together again.

Matchmaker Hoffman is anxious to have all ambitious pugilists who want to get on the card for the night to report to him. His idea is to develop comers from among the young fighters and is offering them every opportunity to make a "rep."

Kid Seiner, Billy Gore and Cowie will be among those who will appear on the June card.

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. UN. 6-8-10

The Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night formally set June 29th as the date for holding the amateur fight card. Indications are that the best card yet staged will be put on by Boxing Commissioner Hoffman.

It was also decided to hold a "Ladies' Night" in the early part of next month, at a date to be set later.

Preparations are being made for the meet to be held in Marysville on the Fourth of July. The Sacramento Athletic Club will send up a strong team. In the ten-mile Marathon race there promises to be some crack runners. Magee of the Irish-American Club of San Francisco, Howden of the Acme Club of Oakland, Schmidt of Stockton and Day of the local club have entered. Entry blanks for the meet can be obtained from Professor Rittler at the S. A. C.

A gymnasium tournament is to be held at the club on July 1st. The turney will be divided into three divisions and a medal will be awarded to the best performer in each division. The affair is in the charge of Professor Rittler.

FORMER CAPTAIN OF S.A.C. RETURNS HOME

SAC. UN. 6-8-10

Neil Lucey, former captain of the Sacramento Athletic club, returned yesterday from an extensive trip through the East and Canada. He reports excellent commercial conditions and says that every sport has his eyes turned westward and his ears blose to the ground for a sight and a sound of the big fight to be held in San Francisco July 4.

Lucey is a local railroad man, and while head of the athletic club made a reputation for himself that will stand for many years unrivaled. He had the time and the inclination, and by conscientious labor whipped the club into shape, until it now stands among the first in the state. He went East about eight weeks ago and spent a month with relatives in New York. He attended all the sporting events that occurred in cities where he was staying, and declares that California has many athletes that would make New Yorkers tremble should they chance to meet in competition.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT THE DIXON POPPIES

SAC. BEE 6-6-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

DIXON (Solano Co.), June 6.—The opening of the new ball park at this place yesterday drew the largest crowd of the season. The local brass band was present and played during the game, which was played between the Athletics of Sacramento and Golden Poppies of this place. The visiting team had the honor of taking the scalps of the locals in the first game played on the new diamond. The home players had the game well in hand by a score of 3 to 1 up to the ninth inning, when by ragged ball playing they allowed the visitors to score three runs. Rohwer of the Poppies fanned twelve men.

Batteries — Poppies, Rohwer and Meyer. Athletics, Grady and Godt.

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH

Through the courtesy of Mr. Richard (Dick) Taylor, staff photographer of the New York Herald and other eastern publications, The Bulletin is enabled to print—herewith—one of the most unique photographs of ring celebrities ever caught by the camera. Seldom, indeed, is it possible to secure a snapshot of three world-famous heavyweights—each one a champion in his time and each one of whom has battled wtih the other—stripped for action and assuming a fighting pose. Yet here they are—Jeff in the center, Choynski on the left and Corbett on the right—shaking hands as though they had never pounded each other cruelly in the prize ring. Corbett and Choynski, after years of bitter emnity, have joined forces in his task of regaining the championship of the world for the white race. Incidentally, they will appear in a three-round boxing exhibition at Blot's new arena, Eighth and Howard streets, next Saturday afternoon. Together they have gotten the big boilermaker into championship condition and, assisted by Manager Berger, Frank Gotch and others, will direct his campaign against Johnson on July Fourth.

SIDNEY PIEXOTTO.

BAND LEADER TO ADDRESS LEAGUE

SIDNEY PIEXOTTO OF SAN FRANCISCO TO TALK HERE SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

Sidney Piexotto, leader of the Columbia Parks Boys' Band of San Francisco, will address the members of the Civic League at the luncheon at the Rex Cafe next Saturday at noon. Mr. Piexotto is an interesting speaker and his address is being looked forward to by the members of the League with much enthusiasm. It is expected that the largest gathering the League has had at a meeting in some days will greet the leader of the famous organization of San Francisco boys.

Mr. Piexotto will bring his boys to this city to-morrow night for a two days' visit. They will present a vaudeville show in Turner Hall to-morrow night, and on Saturday night they will give an entertainment consisting of military exercises, boxing exhibitions and musical numbers. The proceeds from these two entertainments will go to the Sacramento City Mission Association.

The visit to this city will close on Sunday night with a lecture by Mr. Piexotto in the new City Hall on "Work Among Boys."

The band recently made a successful tour to Australia and is now touring the Pacific Coast cities.

FIELD MEET TO BE HELD AT MARYSVILLE

6-8-10 SAC. UN.

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), June 8.—Arrangements for the field meet to be held here at West Side park on July 3d as a part of the Fourth of July celebration are well under way. From all indications it will be the largest event of its kind ever held north of Sacramento.

As the meet will be under the sanction of the Pacific Athletic association, any registered amateur athlete may enter.

The meet is limited to registered amateurs only. All entries must register, if not already registered. Entry blanks and any information can be obtained by addressing A. F. Gates, P. O. box 21, Marysville. Entries positively close June 30th.

Following is the list of events: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile run, pole vault, broad jump, high jump, 12lb. shotput, 12-lb hammer throw.

In the above events gold and silver medals will be given for first and second places.

Mile relay (five men) for a handsome cup. Ten-mile Marathon with cups awarded to first and second and silver melals to third, fourth and fifth to finish.

In addition to the above a silver cup will be put up for the team scoring the most number of points, a cup to the athlete scoring the greatest number of points and a cup for the best individual performance.

S.A.C. TO CLASH WITH COLUMBIA PARK BOYS

SAC. UN. 6-10-10

The Sacramento Athletics will meet the Columbia Park boys in a baseball game at Buffalo Park Sunday morning. The contest was previously scheduled for Sunday afternoon, but owing to the mass meeting set for that time, the time was changed and the morning selected instead of the afternoon. The game will commence promptly at 10 o'clock.

The Athletics have been practicing for some time for the meeting with the Park boys, and expect to win in a walk-over. Grady and Godt will form the battery for the locals.

—o—

Gymnasium Tournament to be Held.

A gymnasium tournament will be held on July 12th. This is the first time an event like this has been seen in the club, and it is creating a great deal of interest amongst the gymnasium enthusiasts.

Medals will be awarded to the best men, so there will be quite a bit of friendly rivalry.

The judges will be selected from the Turners, Y. M. C. A. and other athletic organizations in the city. Already a large number have expressed their intention of competing in the tournament.

The following events will be held: Five minute dumbell exercise, horizontal bar work, parallel bar work, exercise on the horse, high diving, high jump, and climbing a rope hand over hand. This list is subject to change by Prof. Rittler.

Ladies will be invited to attend the tournament, and there will probably be a dance.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-11-10

The Marysville Meet.

On July 4th there will be an open track meeting for registered amateur athletes at Marysville. It will be one of the most important meets yet held in the northern part of the State, and most of the best athletes will be present.

The marathon race will be a feature, as the best men in the State will compete. W. Magee, the State fifteen-mile champion from the Irish American Club, the two Howden brothers from the Acme Club, one of whom won the marathon here Sacramento Day; Robert Smith of the Stockton Athletic Club, who won the ten-mile race there in sixty minutes, and Curly Day, our little man, who can make anybody in the State "hump," and who won the ten-mile marathon from all of the before-mentioned men at Marysville a few months ago, have been entered for this event.

The 100 and 220-yard dashes, the shot put, hammer throw, broad jump, pole vault, relay race, and ten-mile run will all be scratch events, and three beautiful medals will be awarded in each event, except the relay race and ten-mile race, for which the winners will receive silver sups.

The 440-yard dash the 880, one mile, and high jump will be handicap. The three winners in each event will also receive medals.

This meet promises to be a great success, and Professor Rittler will start immediately to train the men who are expected to compete.

S. A. C. vs. Columbia Park Boys.

The S. A. C. baseball team will play the Columbia Park boys team tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock, at Buffalo Park. The visitors are touring the north with their band and baseball teams and will be here today and Sunday. The Sunday game will be a great one, as both teams are playing great ball.

All the club members should be there to root the S. A. C. team to victory.

Neil Lucey Returns.

Neil Lucey, former [illegible]b captain, and one of the most ardent workers the club has ever had, returned home Monday from an extended trip in the East and Canada. He spent most of his time in New York City visiting his brother, where he saw all of the athletic games played there during his stay. He says he would not be afraid of the club's chances with any of the amateur clubs of the East and Canada.

He is glad once more to be back in the land of sunshine and with the club members, who certainly welcome him with outstretched arms.

Green vs. Grey Tomorrow.

At last after the managers and promoters had wrangled for three hours as to the time, place and referee of the coming handball contest between experts Grey and Green, harmony was reached. It was decided to start the first three of the series of seven games at ten sharp tomorrow morning. Honest George Yoerk is to referee the contest. He is one of the best authorities in handball, having held many championships himself.

No admission will be charged, as it is against the laws of the club, but if you miss the contest you miss one of the best and most warmly contested games ever seen here.

Our Boys Beat Dixon.

The S. A. C. team again showed their class when they defeated the fast Dixon aggregation Sunday.

Dixon has defeated most of the Sacramento teams they have met, and their pitcher, Rohr, has been invincible.

Inman and his Bear.

Tomorrow's Baseball Lineup.

Manager Barnes and Captain Tate have selected the following team to play the Columbia Park boys Sunday: Tate short stop, Burr second base, Burns third base, Greenlaw first base, Reese left field, Wheat right field, Godt catcher, Foy center field, and Grady pitcher.

—o—

Rescued.

After Tate had his picture taken for The Weekly last Monday, he went back into his dressing room and started to dress himself. He only had his necktie to put on when his head grew heavy and drooped, and he was in the land of nod. How long he stayed this way he did not know, but he awoke with a start to find that no one was in the building and the doors were locked. There was only one thing to do, and he did it. He rang up the rescue department, and immediately Greyhound Galleher with fifteen men, armed to the teeth, stormed Hodson's and rescued the slicker.

New Member for Limburger Lodge.

"Punk" Thielen was taken into the mystic portals of Limburgerdom last Tuesday evening. He stood the shock very well, although he will not be able to "peddle the land" for awhile on account of the after effects, but as soon as the fumigation is over he will be able to once more take up his active duties.

Dr. Turner gave him the degree and his words were pure, wholesome, and odorless, and "Punk" left the hall a better and wiser man.

—o—

Inman's Bear.

Director Inman and Dr. Smith were bear hunting for the last two weeks.

Dr. Smith is still hunting bear and up to yesterday he had killed four.

[illegible]man was only there fourteen days [illegible]d killed one in that time, which is considered very good as they have just left their winter quarters.

Mr. Inman takes these trips quite often, and he promises the next time he goes he will bring back the boys a treat in bear meat.

—o—

Chat.

Fred Yoerk has had a beautiful Sacramento Athletic Club pin made. It is set in diamonds, and sure looks classy.

"Doc." Burns [illegible] as robbed of the finest home run that was [illegible]r hit, Sunday, at Dixon. Hard luck, "Doc.," you certainly played a good game and cracked the ball hard.

The club members are just getting tuned up for the "fight night," that Matchmaker Hoffman says will be the best ever. It will surely be going some, if it can beat the last fight.

Whirldwind Gray is fast getting into condition. The hardest work he has is to keep Kid Arcega on the job. The Kid seems to like to wander around with the boys a trifle too much.

We have not been able to see our baseball team play for a long time, so better come to see them in action at Buffalo Park tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Jack Reese is a marvel in left. He gets everything that doesn't fly over the fence.

Demon Green is doing road work every morning to reduce. He is fast getting into shape.

Capt. Stewart had some of the track men out to McKinley Park Sunday.

Dixon started training at the track Sunday, and the only complaint he made was that the standards were not high enough, for the first time he vaulted he went over the cross-bar, standards, and all, and as they could not raise them any higher he had to stop.

How about the boxing night on the 29th? Will you be there?

The S. A. C. team had more "pep" Sunday than they have ever shown before. Keep it up.

Green won the handball series Tuesday noon from Morgan. It was a very good exhibition of handball.

In the second game Morgan had Green 13 to nothing, but he went up in the air and lost out.

Prof. Rittler is going to send a big aggregation to Marysville on the Fourth of July.

Phil. Knight, is is said, is going to San Francisco to join Jim Post's Beauty Chorus.

Grady pitched great ball at Dixon, and is pitching better every game. Grady says Dixon is his favorite town. We wonder why?

Oh! you twentyninth!

Both Gray and Green are confident of winning Sunday, and the betting so far is even.

Louis Day is now working with the Southern Pacific in the way billing department.

Phil Knight—How could Tate stay in Hodson's so long at night?

Jed McClatchy—Why! he thought he was going to have an all night exposure.

S. A. C. VS. COLUMBIA PARKS.

The Sacramento Athletic Club ball team will Sunday morning at 10 o'clock cross bats with the Columbia Park boys' team at the Buffalo Park. The San Francisco boys are said to be some ball tossers, but Manager Barnes, of the S. A. C., is confident his team can defeat them. SAC. BEE 6-13-10

COLUMBIA PARK BOYS QUIT GAME

Grumble at and Protest Almost Every Decision and Walk Off in Fifth Inning.

SAC. UN. — 6-13-10

Nothing seemed to please the Columbia Park baseball team yesterday—that is, a part of it—and after "crabbing" at practically every decision given by Umpire Jack Inman, matters reached a climax in the fifth inning in the contest with the Sacramento Athletic club, and when Inman called a base runner safe at the home plate the visitors walked off the field and refused to continue play. From the first ball to the last the pitcher for the Columbia boys kept up a continual kicking and grumbling and Umpire Inman declares that he was insulted so often that the cutting and disrespectful remarks rapidly assumed the air of cheap comedy, and he added in concluding that he felt pretty much as did Mark Twain when the mule kicked him.

Whether it was the lack of a big crowd or early morning peevishness that caused the visitors to carry on as they did, is a matter of debate among members of the S. A. C. team. After the first inning, when the Athletics had tied the score, the Park team wanted to quit but was coaxed and urged to continue. Every inning thereafter, 'tis said, they wanted to quit, and finally in the fifth, when they had about worn out the outraged patience of the locals, they marched from the diamond, and this time were not coaxed back. But the locals found a way to punish them for their actions and confiscated the entire box office receipts, which, by the way, would hardly be enough to buy a cigar in Rome, and will today turn over the Columbia Park nine's share to the Sacramento Orphanage and Farm.

The climax came about in the following way. Greenlaw, of the S. A. C., slid into home on a sacrifice fly. He touched the rubber before the ball was on him and Inman called him safe. With only a feeble protest the visitors walked off the diamond and the game was off.

"It was a disagreeable affair throughout," said Manager Barnes, in speaking of the matter yesterday. "If the Columbia Park boys did not want to play they need not have shown up at the park at all and things would have ended much better. We did everything we could for them but nothing seemed to please. Inman umpired a good, impartial game, and if anything favored the visitors instead of us. They showed a mighty poor spirit for athletes and we cannot find it in our hearts to feel kindly towards them after what they 'pulled off' at Buffalo park yesterday morning."

At the end of the fifth inning, or when the game was discontinued, the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors.

ENTRY BLANKS FOR JULY 3 MEET HERE

6-13-10 SAC. UN.

Entry blanks for the big handicap open-track and field meet at Marysville, July 3d, in connection with the big Fourth of July celebration, were received by Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday. The cream of the track and field men of the local club will be entered in the meet, and as a body the locals expect to win the meet as they have all others held in the Sacramento Valley this year. The meet will consist of the following events: One hundred yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, mile run, pole vault, broad jump, high jump, 12-pound shot put, 12-pound hammer throw, gold and silver medals awarded first and second, mile relay (five men) for a handsome silver cup, ten-mile Marathon; cups to first and second; medals to third, fourth and fifth to finish.

In addition to the above an elegant cup has been put up for the team winning the meet, a cup to the athlete scoring the greater number of points (applying only to first ten events), and a cup for the best individual performance in any event, taking results as a whole.

All the above events will figure in the scoring for the team trophy; first, second and third in the regular track and field events scoring five, three and one in the order named; first, second and third in the relay scoring ten, six and two; first, second and third in the Marathon scoring twenty, twelve and four.

Competitions open to all registered amateurs under the rules of the American Athletic union.

Entries positively close Thursday, June 30th, with A. F. Gates, P. O. box 547, Marysville.

GREEN SAYS HE WILL MAKE JIM GRAY PLAY

SAC. UN. — 6-11-10

Jim Gray, who has been matched with George Green for the championship of the Sacramento Athletic club in the handball division, is trying, so 'tis said, to crawl out of his match with Green. Green has been working hard for the go, and flushed up a bit yesterday when informed that Gray intended passing the affair up.

"By Jove, he will do nothing of the kind," said Green, waxing hot. "I've trained hard for this match and gone without my dinner many a time in an effort to reduce, and if you think I'm to be disappointed now you're way off."

It is said that Gray likes not the hard work attached to training for the match, and is frightened by Green's boasted ability.

FIELD DAY WILL BE GRAND EVENT

6-8-10, DAILY APPEAL

Amateur Athletes From All Sections Will Compete For Prizes.

Arrangements for the field meet to be held Sunday afternoon, July 3rd, at West Side Park as part of the Fourth of July celebration, are well under way. Indications are that it will be a record-breaker—surpassing any athletic feature of the sort ever held in Northern California.

As the meet will be held under the sanction of the Pacific Athletic Association and is open to any registered amateur athlete, every effort is being made to bring together all of the crack runners and jumpers of the bay section and the Sacramento Valley. It is not generally known, but there are a number of athletes throughout the Sacramento Valley capable of holding their own in fast company.

The meet is limited to registered amateurs only. All entries must register, if not already registered. Entry blanks and any information can be obtained by addressing A. F. Gates, P. O. box 21, Marysville. Entries positively close June 30th.

Following is the list of events:

100-yard dash.
220-yard dash
440-yard dash.
880-yard run.
Mile run.
Pole vault.
Broad Jump.
High jump.
12-lb. shot put.
12-lb. hammer throw.

In the above events gold and silver medals will be given for first and second places.

Mile relay (five men) for a handsome cup.

Ten mile Marathon with cups awarded to first and second and silver medals to third, fourth and fifth to finish.

In addition to the above a silver cup will be put up for the team scoring the most number of points, a cup to the athlete scoring the greater number of points and a cup for the best individual performance.

All the above events will figure in the scoring for the team trophy: First, second and third in the regular field and track events scoring five, three and one in order named; first, second and third in the relay scoring ten, six and two; first, second and third in the Marathon scoring twenty, twelve and four.

COLUMBIA PARK BOYS QUIT.

The ball game between the Columbia Park boys and the Sacramento Athletic Club team yesterday morning at the Buffalo Park did not materialize as the Columbia Park lads got sore at the decisions of Umpire J. M. Inman and quit the game in the fifth inning and refused to play any more. The score was 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors when they quit. SAC. BEE. 6-13-10

Arrangements will be made for a double-header in that city in the near future—probably next month. Next Sunday the local team goes to Galt.

TEAM QUITS BALL GAME

SAC. STAR 6-13-10

After five innings of an uninteresting contest at Buffalo Park yesterday morning between the Sacramento Athletic Club team and the Columbia Park boys, the latter team left the field. The Columbia boys protested throughout the game, and in the fifth, when an S. A. C. man was called safe at home, decided to quit. The receipts of the game, which were small, were turned over to the Sacramento Orphanage.

WHO IS TO BLAME, GREEN OR GRAY?

SAC. UN. 6-13-10

The much looked for and greatly longed for handball contest between Jim Gray of the Sacramento Athletic club and one Green, also of that organization, and who claims the individual heavyweight championship of the club, did not take place yesterday, but was postponed as usual.

Although Gray is a giant in stature, Green says he has the heart of a flea when it comes to an athletic contest. There may be some truth in Green's allegation, but if Gray hears of his expostulations, it may be hard on the allegator. Gray was up bright and early yesterday and struck out for Tahoe. Green says he will catch him and force a contest. In appreciation of the efforts of these two big "Baby Blisses" to furnish amusement for the membership of the club, the poet laureate of S. A. C. yesterday composed the following riddle, which is intended to touch the hearts of all who read:

If Green can beat Jim Gray a mile,
With nothing on but a pleasant smile,
What, do you think, would be his chance
If George played in his Sunday pants?

The game was called for the first of May,
They put it off for another day,
And now three months have passed away—
Who is to blame—the Green or the Gray?

SAC. STAR 6-14-10

Several members of the Dolphin Boat Club went up the river Sunday and selected a place for camping next Sunday. About ten or twelve boats conveying about twenty-five members of the Dolphin and Crescent Boat Clubs will leave Saturday night for the grounds. They will have supper at Brights and wait there until 8 p. m., when the moon comes out, and then will continue their row up to the camping grounds, camping for the night. Sunday they will have races, swimming, baseball and a general good time, returning Sunday afternoon about 5:30.

Jack Morsehead, Freeman Smith and Chas. Wallendar have a racing scull which is about ready to launch. It is twenty-eight feet long and will be the first one of its kind to be launched here, but it may lead to others.

SAC. STAR 6-15-10

The Sacramento Athletics will mix it with Galt Sunday, leaving on the 10.10 train. Manager Barnes being away on a trip, Lester Godt who catches for the team, will manage the trip Sunday. The following is the line-up and batting order of the Athletics: Tate, ss; Burr, 2b; Burns, 3b; Greenlaw, 1b; Reese, lf; Foy, cf; Godt, c; Wheat, rf; Grady, p; Overhouse, extra. The Athletics weer the first team to beat the Tigers of Redding.

The Outlaws of the Sacramento Athletic Club who have not been playing lately, will probably play the Hub City team. The Outlaws have had two very close games with the Marysville aggregation, losing both by a very close margin, and the fans are looking forward with pleasure to the coming game.

MATCHMAKER Hoffman has already received letters from the different clubs around the Bay about sending fighters for the twenty-ninth.

The Olympic and Western Clubs claim that their men will not come here to fight, because the medals they receive for fighting are not due compensation for the time they lose by two days absence from work, and fighting besides; but Matchmaker Hoffman thinks that things can be arranged so that a more valuable medal can be given. At present he has no definite plans, but if he cannot get the Bay fighters he can rely on the boxers in and around the vicinity of Sacramento and Northern California.

He promises one of the best amateur cards the club has ever had, and to do this he will surely have to go some, as he has put on some great goes lately.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-18-10

Gray vs. Green Sunday.

Honors are now even between Gray and Green as breaking dates for matches are concerned, so it is up to both of the heavyweights to show up Sunday or Greyhound Galleher can claim the championship without any interference.

The third time is always the charm, so Sunday at ten a. m. sharp the first of the series of seven games will be held.

Last Sunday the courts were packed, and the crowd waited until ten-thirty for Whirlwind Gray to make an appearance, but the speed marvel did not show, and it was only when Kid Arcega in a neat little speech stated that his wonder was called away to Tahoe, that the crowd dispersed.

The Outlaws On Deck.

The Outlaws are again ready to face anybody and everybody. They have started on a new lease of life under the management of Fred Marston, and by the looks of things their team will be stronger than ever.

Manager Marston has a great many good players in sight, and a number of good games with speedy teams around Sacramento. They will start playing on Sunday when they will meet the speedy Marysville team in that city.

Boxing Instructor, William Johnson

Hodson Photo

The club has been exceedingly fortunate in securing a corps of instructors in the various branches of athletics, and in none more so than in the boxing section. At the head of this department of the club is William Johnson, a native son of Sacramento, who some years ago won considerable fame in amateur boxing circles after meeting the cleverest men the leading clubs of the State could produce.

With the exception of a few years spent in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, Mr. Johnson's occupation has been that of bookkeeper and accountant. He now holds a responsible position of this kind with the Nonpareil drygoods establishment.

Mr. Johnson became Boxing Instructor of the old Sacramento Athletic Club on the death of Thomas Dwyer, and held the position while the club retained its organization. He was the logical person for the head of the boxing department of the new club, where he has maintained his success in imparting a knowledge of the game to novices. Under his tutorship the club has developed a group of clever boxers in the several classes who can hold their own with those of any amateur club in the State.

Mr. Johnson is a man of family, and a popular and respected citizen of the community.

Jem Mace vs. Bill Clark.

An S. A. C. member writes to inquire how long ago Jem Mace, the pugilist, died. The inquiry comes at a timely moment. Of course most people who used to read of Mace's prowess in the roped arena fifty years ago have naturally supposed that Father Time had knocked him out long ago, but not so.

A St Louis press dispatch this week states that Jem Mace and Bill Clark, another celebrity of the long ago, have been matched to box in a preliminary at the Jeffries-Johnson matinee next month. Mace is only 79 years old, and Kid Clark is but 84. What a whirlwind go they will put up!

Fine Baby-Act Exhibition.

The Columbia Park boys gave an elegant exhibition of the baby-act at Buffalo Park last Sunday morning, when they quit cold in the fifth inning, with the score 5 to 4 in their favor, and marched off the field. The S. A. C. boys were climbing up on them, and would have undoubtedly either tied the score or taken the lead in their half of the inning. With one man out, and two on bases, Greenlaw scored on a deep fly. It was close, but not a bit doubtful. He was safe all right, but the Columbia Park pitcher threw off his glove at the decision of Umpire Jack Inman and the rest of his baby brothers followed him off the field. The visitors were too light for the home boys. They played nice, nifty ball, when they were not crabbing, but they were crabbing nearly all the time. It is said the Columbia Park team has never been defeated. If the nine leaves the field every time it sees defeat coming its way, it probably will never be beaten.

The Marysville Meet.

Following is the official list of the events to be pulled off at the Marysville field and track meet on Sunday, July 3d. Look it over, and if you find one or more events in which you would like to enter, notify Professor Rittler at once, as the list of S. A. C. entries must be sent in very soon:

100-yard dash, scratch event.
220-yard dash, scratch event.
440-yard dash, handicap event.
880-yard dash, handicap event.
Mile run, handicap event.
Pole vault, scratch event.
Broad jump, scratch event.
High jump, handicap event.
12-pound shot-put, scratch event.
12-pound hammer-throw, scratch event.
Gold and silver medals awarded first and second.
Mile relay (five men) for a handsome silver cup, scratch.
Ten-mile Marathon, scratch event.
Cups to first and second; medals to third, fourth and fifth to finish.

In addition to the above an elegant cup has been put up for the team winning the meet, a cup to the athlete scoring the greater number of points (applying only to first ten events), and a cup for the best individual performance in any event, taking results as a whole.

All the above events will figure in the scoring for the team trophy; first, second and third in the regular track and field events scoring five, three and one in the order named; first, second and third in the relay scoring ten, six and two; first, second and third in the Marathon scoring twenty, twelve and four.

Competitions open to all registered amateurs under the rules of the American Athletic Union.

Athletics to Journey to Galt.

The Athletics are going to Galt, on the 10:10 train, on Sunday. Galt has a fast aggregation of ball players, and the boys expect a good game.

Manager Barns will be unable to take the trip, so has appointed Godt to take his place.

The team has been practicing during the week, and expects to be in great form. The following men will take the team: Godt, catcher; Grady, pitcher; Greenlaw, first base; Burr, third base; Fay, Reese, Wheat and Overhouse will play in the out field.

—o—

Corkers' Handsome Trophy.

The beautiful Reach baseball trophy has arrived and is on exhibition in Kimball & Upson's window. It was won by the Corkers in the recent interclub baseball series, and is the most beautiful cup that the club has ever won. The club emblem, and the names of the players are engraved on it.

Vernon Marston was the Captain and Manager of the Corkers, and the following men played on the winning team: Godt, catcher; Pappa and Marston, pitchers; Joe Williams, first; Burr, second; Tate, shortstop; Bowden, third; Overhouse, Pearl, Thayer, Holton and Groseclothes in the outfield.

The Corkers did not lose a game in their entire series. The Shamrocks came second in the race, playing a very high class of ball.

The presentation of the cup was more or less of a surprise, as no one really knew whether or not a cup had been offered, as it is very seldom a cup is given for interclub contests.

—o—

The snappy team representing the S. A. C.

Chat.

From now on Overhouse will be seen in with the Athletics. He has been playing with the Wingards, and is a classy outfielder and a great hitter. He will strengthen the team considerably.

"Doc" Burns slammed out a pretty three-bagger Sunday, but he forgot to touch second base, and his forgetfulness proved disastrous.

Cowie is getting in condition for the twenty-ninth. We will all be glad to see him mix it once more. He is in great condition and feels fine after his rest.

Grady was a little out of form Sunday, but he promises to make things hum at Galt.

Joe Erickson will also be seen in his fighting togs on the twenty-ninth.

A great deal of credit is due Manager Barnes for dividing the gate receipts of Sunday's game with the Orphans instead of the Columbia Park Boys.

Schlitz Solars will soon appear in a new comedy, entitled "Raffles, or The Auctioneer Kid."

Day, the Marathon runner, is fast rounding into superb form. He is training every day at McKinley Park, and as he is going up against some of the best men in the State on July 3 he wants to be in the best possible condition, so that when he wins this time he will have convinced everyone that he is the best ten miler on the Coast.

Holt—What did you tell her?

Sparks—I told her that I was much obliged, as I couldn't raise it myself.

Busher Gallup—Schlitz, what is marriage?

Schlitz Sollars—Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Chet. Gannon, who on seeing one of the club's prominent members coming out of a saloon, said: "I hate to see you coming out of a saloon, old man. It looks bad."

The indignant member: "Well, you don't want me to stay in there all day, do you?"

Frank White thought he would have a little something to eat, and as he was flush he stepped into the Rex, and as the waiter handed him the bill of fare he said, "No, thank you, I don't read before eating."

Prof. Rittler is waiting for that hat that he won on a bet. Morsehead said the hat is coming, but Rittler says, "So is Christmas."

It happened this way: A few Sundays ago Morsehead and Nelson rowed against Todd and Clay to see who was who. Rittler bet Morsehead a new hat that he would get beaten. Morsehead took him up, but the hat or Morsehead have not been seen or heard of since, and Rittler things that now that summer is here a Panama would look good.

Overhouse will be a great addition to the team in the hitting line.

Sparks will most likely go to Marysville on the 3rd of July.

There were a great many sad fellows in the club rooms Wednesday night when they heard the big fight could not be held in California. They were figuring how to get the additional coin to go to Nevada.

They are sure preparing a royal time for the boys in Marysville. Everybody had better come. There will be low railroad rates, lots of dancing, celebrating, a track meet, fireworks, more celebrating, boating, baseball games, and still some more celebrating when we win a few cups.

Rittler and Gimberling and Gus Stortz performed at the High School benefit, and received a great deal of applause for their fine work.

Gray and Green are going to put up a great handball game on Sunday, and there will probably be a record crowd in attendance.

Sandy Eberhart retired at 11:30 sharp Tuesday night. He established a new record.

A great many of the boys enjoyed the open-air concert Sunday, but they do say Galleher did not hear much of the music. How about it, Fred?

Come on, fellows! bring in all the new men you can!

Most all of the Directors attend the afternoon "gym" classes.

Reese slammed out a pretty three-bagger on Sunday.

Carsmen En Route to Up-River Camps

Dolphin Club's Outings.

Members of the Dolphin Rowing Club are anticipating many delightful outings during the summer. It has been their custom to row up the river on Saturday evenings, when the full moon rises early, spend a few hours ashore in the neighborhood of the Bryte ranch, and then row by moonlight to Monument, some six miles farther up the river.

At the Monument the party goes into camp for the night. Bright and early the following morning—presumably after devotions—they begin activities. Baseball, athletic stunts, foot-races, fishing, swimming, etc., serve to round out a day of recreation, if not of rest, and in the cool of evening they drift gently down the stream to their moorings opposite the city.

Usually the excursionists number from thirty to fifty, and the outings are kept up until the chill November nights create a "hankering" for soft beds and double blankets. This summer the Dolphins will have the cooperation and good-fellowship of the members of the Crescent Rowing Club in these moonlight night diversions.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-18-10

Probably two dozen members of the Dolphin and Crescent Rowing clubs will go up the river this evening on the first of their summer moonlight outings. They will make a halt at the Bryte place, and later complete the trip to their camping place at Monument, where they will spend Sunday in outdoor recreation.

Several of the oarsmen are getting the racing fever to such an extent that it is probable the present season will find a few shells in commission. Jack Morsehead, Charles Wahlander and Freeman Smith have taken the initiative and are having a 28-foot racing shell constructed, which is about ready for the water.

SUNDAY NEWS 6-19-10

Ancel Hoffman, matchmaker for the Sacramento Athletic Club, is having troubles of his own. For a month past he has been endeavoring to perfect his fight card for the evening of the 29th inst, but is having little success. The Olympic Club of San Francisco is in the throes of housemoving and cannot furnish any ambitious amateurs to represent that organization here, as the boys cannot get into condition

The Sacramento Athletics went to Galt Sunday and lost by a score of 9 to 2. The score stood 2 to 2 up to the seventh, when the Athletics weakened and the Galts gathered up five runs and two more in the eighth. The battery for the Athletics were McLaughlan and Godt; for Galt, Webb and McMurray.

SAC. STAR, 6-20-10

AMATEUR BOXING IS ALSO HAVING DIFFICULTY

SAC. BEE, 6-20-10

Even the amateur boxing game in this city is running up against snags. The Sacramento Athletic Club is having difficulty in getting a card for its monthly fistic carnival for June 29th. Unless some stray fighers come to the front to-morrow night there will be no entertainment this month.

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman finds that he cannot get amateurs from San Francisco this month. The Olympic Club is moving, so members from there cannot come, and the Western Athletic Club does not want to send fighters here for medals and expenses only.

"The Sacramento Athletic Club and the Olympic Club are the only two in California that handle strictly amateur boxing matches," said Hoffman yesterday. "Most of the clubs say they are only amateurs, but when the fighters come right down to match they demand the coin. Sometimes they fight for merchandise, which is the same as money to them, and again they ask to take the cash value of the medal they win."

The Sacramento Athletic Club gives a little silver medal to the amateur boxers who win. This medal cannot be exchanged for much coin, but the glory attached is supposed to make up for the shortcomings in financial value.

With the professional fights in Sacramento ruled out by Governor Gillett, the absence of the athletic club's card this month will be adding deeper disappointment to many. The club bouts, which are of three rounds each, are open to members of the club only.

Hoffman states that should there be any amateurs who would like to make up a card, they can apply to Boxing Instructor Billy Johnson at the club rooms to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Hoffman will not be in town.

GREEN LOSES TO GRAY 3 STAIGHT

Contender for the Heavyweight Handball Title Is Given Terrific Drubbing.

SAC. UN. 6-20-10

George Green got all there was coming to him yesterday in the heavyweight championship handball match at the Sacramento Athletic club. In the future he will brobably take cognizance from the fables which tell us that it is never good form or profitable to insist on a meeting with a good-natured person who wants to be let alone. Genial gigantic Jim Gray turned the tables entirely upside down yesterday, and when the session was concluded Green was buried so deep in the debris that it necessitated many hours of hard labor to bring him back to earth again.

Not one of the three games did Green take or come near taking. He fell many marks short in the first, finishing with but 9 as against his opponent's 21. In the second he frisked up a bit, and his backers were hopeful, but it was the same old story only in a softer tone, and the second finished 21-17, with Gray on the big end.

The best Green could do in the final was to step up a notch from his score in the second. Gray maintained his effective form and waltzed over and ahead of Green at every turn. The old war horse galloped into a decisive victory and settled for all time Green's contentions in the heavyweight class. The third match ended 21-18. A big crowd witnessed the games.

KILGORE AND GIDION WIN S. A. C. BOAT RACE

SAC. UN. 6-24-10

A number of Sacramento Athletic Club members journeyed up to Bannon yesterday and witnessed the first rowing race ever held by the reorganized Athletic club. Three boats, double oars, competed, and the course was from first Bannon to second and back again, a distance of a mile, more or less.

Kilgore and Gidion, in the Rover, covered the distance in twenty minutes, winning the event. Watkins and Morris, in the Floke, finished second, and McDonough and Delano, in the R. M. P., came in third.

Clay and Todd acted as stakeboat men. Shorrock and Johnson were the starters.

DOLPHINS HAVE BIG TIME AT MONUMENT

SAC. BEE. 6-20-10

The Dolphins had a great time Saturday night and all day Sunday at the Monument, nine miles up the river. The members of the rowing club had the sport of rowing up the stream by moonlight Saturday night, had the fun of pitching camp and preparing a meal at midnight. Every hour yesterday was crammed full of excitement and sport. There was a baseball game in which C. G. Wahlander, in sliding to the plate, collided with an opposing player's knee and emerged from the dust with his scalp torn.

The best part of the whole outing was the barbecue. The Dolphins do know how to prepare good things to eat, and that barbecue was up to the usual standard.

Swimming, jumping matches, running races and other kinds of athletic contests were enjoyed and then after the sun had dropped behind the tree tops in the late afternoon camp was broken and the Dolphins rowed and drifted home.

GRAY BEATS GREEN AT CLASSY MATCH

George Green lost out in three sets of handball yesterday morning to Jim Gray at the Sacramento Athletic Club, but does not call this result an entire defeat, because he will make a try next Sunday to blank his opponent in four straight sets in order to take the four out of seven, which is the figure fixed for the tournament.

Gray beat Green 21 to 0 in the first set, 27 to 17 in the second and 21 to 18 in the last.

The clash between these two heavyweights has long been looked forward to, so there was a large crowd on hand yesterday.

GOOD MATCHES FOR THE S.A.C.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will hold its next amateur boxing night on June 29, and the members are looking forward with pleasure to the coming event.

G. Elliott and Red Murry will box at 110. Murry has put up quite a few good exhibtions. Salavador and E. Bertagno will box at 118. Salavador is a very clever lad. Kid Seiner, the baker boy, will box R. Furth at 150. Shoemake will meet Schreck at 150. Joe Erickson, pridee of the club, will meet Steel of British Columbia, who is claimed to be a speedy boy, and it will probably be the best bout of the evening. They will box at 145. Kid Cooney will meet William Gore at 130. D. Cowie will meet Burns of Stockton. They have met three times already and as they are very evenly matched a good bout is expected.

Raymond, Young Scotty and Lee Muskrat have not been matched as yet, but will be later.

BIG FIELD MEET SCHEDULED FOR 3D

MARYSVILLE-6-23-10 DAILY APPEAL.

Although the entry list does not close until June 30th the following clubs have entered the big field meet scheduled as the feature of the celebration on the afternoon of Sunday, July third: Sacramento Athletic club, Stockton Athletic association, Chico Athletic club, Swedish American Athletic club of San Francisco, Irish-American Athletic club of San Francisco, Olympic club of San Francisco and the Acme club of Oakland.

The entries from these clubs are the pick of the athletes in the game in California today. Some of them hold state records. Three of the runners coming from San Francisco hold Pacific coast records.

Every effort has been made to get hold of the pick of those competing at the present time. This has been so successful that each event promises a stirring fight from start to finish and it is extremely difficult to pick any favorites.

The Sacramento Athletic club has only become a power in amateur athletics during the past year and in this meet is making a determined effort to get away with the honors and a majority of the prizes.

The Sacramento contingent will number twenty-five athletes. A big rooting section will accompany the club and be on hand to boost for the Capital City.

BIG TRACK MEET IS PLANNED FOR THIS CITY

SAC. BEE. 6-24-10

Plans are being laid by the Sacramento Athletic Club to hold a big track and field meet in this city some time in September which will excel any competition of its kind ever attempted here. Athletes from all points along the Pacific Coast will come here, in the event of present plans carrying successfully, because the meet will be open to all Pacific Athletic Association members.

One of the most important problems confronting the club is the matter of a location for the meet. McKinley Park is not arranged in such a manner that admissions can be collected from a crowd. Agricultural Park is too far out for a large atendance and the track is not favorable to the sports which will be held.

Negotiations are being made with Manager Charlie Graham of the Sacramento Coast League team for the use of Buffalo Recreation Park. If some form of track can be built that will not break up the grounds, the park will be open to the meet. This problem is now under discussion between the baseball club and the athletic club.

Roy Elliott Joins Track Team.

Roy Elliott, of University of California fame, has started training for the coming meet in Marysville. He is about as clever a man with the weights as can be found in this part of the State. He will be a great help to the club, both in the track team and also in the football department.

—o—

Basketball Commissioner Palm.

Eugene Palm, one of the club's foremost members, and Basketball Commissioner, is one of the most popular young athletes of the club. He played on the championship heavyweight basketball team of '09 and '10, and was one of the mainstays of the team.

He is also a prominent member of the Dolphin Rowing Club, and has competed for them for the past year. When rowing is permanently installed in the club he will more than likely be a member of the crew.

Eugene Palm.

Under Palm's direction basketball during the coming season should be one of the club's strongest features.

—o—

The Club Fight.

Club Captain Delano and Fred Galleher have gathered together all of the classy local talent that can be found for the coming boxing night on the 29th of this month.

The Bay City clubs will not be able to send any material this time, but the next time, all of the best material will be seen. The following men will box this time:

110 pounds—G. Elliott vs. Red Murray.

115 pounds—Salvador vs. Bertagni.
150 pounds—Scaner vs. R. Furth.
150 pounds—Shoemake vs. Chreek.
145 pounds—Erickson vs. Steel.
115 pounds—Lee Muskrat vs. Deardorf.
125 pounds—Burns vs. Cowie.

Gore, Watson and Raymond are as yet unmatched. If anyone wishes to meet either of them he should confer with Superintendent Galleher on Monday.

A Coming Bantamweight.

"Sally" Salvador, the club's clever little bantamweight boxer, will be seen in action on the 29th. Everyone is glad, because he is one of the most popular little boxers in the club.

In his three former contests he showed lots of speed. He always uses his head, and never sluffs off, but keeps coming all the time, and it is these qualities that have made him popular with the fans.

His first battle with Lee Muskrat was so good that everyone wanted to see them mix again, so another go was arranged. "Sally" won both these bouts, although Muskrat was the bigger boy. His third bout was with clever little Arthur Martin of San Francisco. Here he again showed his superior class by out-pointing Martin and winning by his clever work.

On the coming boxing night he is going to meet Kid Burtagno, who is noted for his speed and cleverness. They should put up a classy scrap.

Athletics Lose to Galt.

It was sure a sore bunch of ball tossers that arrived home Sunday evening from Galt. Sore, because they cannot realize how they took such a slump after having won such hard games as the last two they played.

McLaughlin pitched a good game, allowing only three hits and a few scattered walks, but the "jinks" was sure on the rest of the team, for no matter how easy the ball was hit to them they would miss it. Every team has an off day, so it will be overlooked this time.

The Athletics made six hits and scored but two runs, while Galt made three hits and scored nine runs.

—o—

Gray Defeats Green in First Games of Series.

Gray defeated Green, Sunday, by winning the first three games of their series of seven games.

Both men played classy handball, but Gray's serving was too much for Green.

The first game was not very interesting, as Green could not hit his gait, and was defeated, 21 to 0.

The second and third games were very interesting. Both men played very evenly until the eighteenth point was reached, and then Gray went out each time.

Green lost the second game by the score of 21 to 17, and the third by the score of 21 to 18.

Each man had a good bunch of rooters in the audience.

Yoerk refereed a perfect game, and neither man had any complaint to make.

Delano Returns From Vacation.

Club Captain Arthur Delano has returned from a two weeks' outing at Lake Tahoe, where he attended the Native Sons' convention. Everyone is glad to see him back in the harness again. As Ancil Hoffman is away on his vacation, Delano will have to take his place as matchmaker for the boxing night. He already has some good men matched.

Burr made only three errors at second in Sunday's game, and Burns and Tate assisted him, as far as errors were concerned.

If Green wants to win the heavyweight handball championship he will have to capture all four of the remaining games.

When Yoerk entered the handball court to referee the match, he carried a big Indian club.

The club will send one of the strongest track teams it has ever turned out to Marysville on the 3d of July.

Richard Shoemake will enter the roped arena for the first time on the 29th. He is a husky kid.

Schlitz Sollars is entered for the dancing Marathon that is to be held here soon. He has started light training already.

Pixley, the blonde kid, will soon leave for his Nevada home. Everybody will miss his smiling face.

Green never crabbed once during the Sunday game. Something is going to happen. He claims he was a little out of form on Sunday, and says, "Watch me win those next four!" Good luck to you, Georgie!

P. A. A. Representative MacGregor will referee the Marysville meet, and immediately after the meet will leave for the big fight at Reno.

Club Captain Delano is trying to get all the men he can to accompany him to Marysville to root the boys on to victory. This will be the hardest meet the club members have ever been in, because there are not alone other teams competing against them, but also unattached men that are just running for themselves and not representing any organization or club.

Frank Mantell has had some very tempting offers from New York, and also from Australia, but as yet does not know what to do. He likes Sacramento so well that he does not want to leave, and still hopes that something will turn up that will improve the boxing situation.

Sandy Eberhart has been bothered for the last week trying to explain about the black auto mystery. It is a good story—ask him about it.

BOXING CARD AT LAST COMPLETED

Matchmaker Hoffman of S. A. C. Announces Card for Wednesday Night.

SAC. UN. — 6-25-10

The gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic club will undoubtedly be jammed to overflowing next Wednesday evening when the regular monthly boxing card is to be held. Fistic hungry fans who have been deprived of the right to witness professional bouts, will, in all probability, take to the three-round amateur goes, and for the purpose of allowing everybody a chance the admittance fee has been cut down from $10 to $1.50, the regular monthly fee.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman completed the card yesterday morning after a deal of strenuous labor and he thinks that the card offers some promising goes. "One Round" Joe Erickson will face Kid Steel, a husky lad, at 145 pounds, and this time Joe hopes to regain honors lost to McAllister two months ago. Kid Saner, another S. A. C. boxing star, will meet R. Furth at 150 pounds.

Billy Gore, who has perhaps the largest following of any local amateur, and who is a really clever boxer, has been pitted against Young Wallace, a tough boy who many think will prove too much for the rangy Billiam.

There are nine bouts on the card and the boxers weigh from 110 pounds to 150 pounds. Following are the participants:

Young Sharkey vs. Reed Murry, 110 pounds; Salvador vs. E. Bertangno, 118 pounds; Kid Saner vs. R. Furth, 150 pounds; Shoemake vs. Chreck, 150 pounds; Steel vs. "One Round" Erickson, 145 pounds; Lee Muskrat vs. Whirlwind Deardorf, 115 pounds; Wickham vs. Cusch, 125 pounds; Young Wallace vs. Billy Gore, 128 pounds; Weir vs. Breen, 125 pounds.

Youngsters in Fine Condition and Are Eager to Earn Distinction With Their "Mits."

By Irving Nason.

On next Wednesday evening the Sacramento Athletic Club will hold its monthly boxing bee. The fights this month will be the strongest card for some time and the Club expects a large attendance.

Manager Ancil Hoffman has been hard at it rounding the boys into shape, and there will be some "hard nuts" to crack.

Dick Cowie will again don the gloves after a two months' lay-off. Dick has improved wonderfully in speed recently and will undoubtedly make the fans sit up and take notice.

Red Murry and Young Salvadore will also appear against some local boys.

The banner attraction of the evening will be the match between Billy Gore and Tommy Wallace, fighting at 125 pounds. Young Gore is one of the best the Club has and has won all his fights. He won a three-round decision over Barr of Marysville last time with ease, Barr weighing a great deal more than Gore.

The card arranged for this month by Hoffman is as follows:

Young Sharkey vs. Red Murry, 110.
Salvador vs. Bertagno, 118.
Kid Saner vs. Kid Futh, 150.
Schoemake vs. Kid Check, 150.
Steel vs. "One Round Joe" Erickson, 145.
Lee Muskrat vs. Young Deardorf, 120.
Cowie vs. Cash, 125.
Weir vs. Breen, 125.
Tommy Wallace vs. Billy Gore, 125.

The course was from First Bannon Slough to Second Bannon Slough and return, approximately a mile. Twenty minutes was the time made by the winning team. Ammon Clay and Dr. C. Todd acted as stakemen, timers, starters and judges; in fact, they were the whole official staff. BEE

MARYSVILLE MEET DRAWING GOOD ATHLETES

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), June 27. The field meet to be held at West Side Park next Sunday, July 3d, in connection with Marysville's big Fourth of July celebration promises to be the occasion for a gathering of the State's most noted athletes. Thirty-five from the section around San Francisco Bay have already entered, with others to be heard from before the entries close next Thursday. The Sacramento Athletic Club and Woodland club will also send along some first-class talent to try for the cups and other prizes hung up by the Celebration Committee.

The entries include such men as Martin and Dixon of St. Mary's, San Francisco, noted as vaulters and sprinters, and Woodland's prize sprinters, Stephens, Kincheloe and Hollingsworth. Marysville and Sutter County will be represented by "Shorty" Dunn, Joseph Peters, Grover Bedeau, George McIntosh, Ralph Jones and others.

The event that probably will excite the most interest will be the ten-mile Marathon, for which Howden, a Coast champion, James Magee of San Francisco and Day of Sacramento have entered. Howden and Magee have an old grudge to take out on Day, who has defeated them for big honors, and this of itself assures a warm contest.

GEORGE GREEN LOSING CUT

SAC STAR 6-27-10

George Green shows signs of weakening in his matches with Jack Gray. It was agreed upon to play a series of seven games, three of which have been played, Gray taking the first, 21 to 9; the second 21 to 17, and the third 21 to 18.

There yet remains four games to be played to decide the championship, but Green claims that he is not in condition and will not play until he can get into shape. Many of the handball admirers are disappointed as they expected to witness a set of fast and snappy games.

ATHLETES HAVE GOOD BOXING CARD

Governor's Edict Will Not Affect S. A. C. Events This Evening.

SAC. UN. — 6-29-10

The ban placed on glove contests by Governor Gillett will have no effect on the Sacramento Athletic club's boxing contests scheduled for tonight. Many have asked whether or not the athletic club could stage its regular monthly bouts and the only answer that can be made is that it can by all means. These contests are limited to three rounds, no monetary reward is offered, though a medal is awarded the winner, no admissions are charged, the card is staged by an incorporated and registered association, and last but most important, the boxers are amateurs. There is no law in the United States that prohibits such contests and they may go on until doomsday providing the legislature does not prohibit boxing entirely.

Tonight's card should be a good one. There is Erickson, Gore, Muskrat, Wickham, Wallace and others of more or less prominence in amateur athletic circles down for exhibitions. Wickham may have some trouble in meeting his man as Cusch is inclined to back down. Billy Johnson will referee. Following are the nine bouts, which may be changed slightly at the last minute:

Young Sharkey vs. Reed Murry, 110 pounds; Salvador vs. E. Bertangno, 118 pounds; Kid Saner vs. R. Furth, 150 pounds; Shoemake vs. Chreck, 150 pounds; Steel vs. "One Round" Erickson, 145 pounds; Lee Muskrat vs. Whirlwind Deardorf, 115 pounds; Wickham vs. Cusch, 125 pounds; Young Wallace vs. Billy Gore, 128 pounds; Weir vs. Breen, 125 pounds.

SAC. WEEKLY 6-25-10

S. A. C. BOXING BOUTS PRODUCE LIVELY SPORT

Mother of One Contestant Comes and Prevents First Match

SAC. BEE.—6-30-10

The monthly boxing bouts of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night were productive of great sport from the first to the last tussle. Some bouts were as good as a circus, while others were of the real pugilistic order.

Two of the bouts were scratched. The one scheduled as first on the program found Red Murray without an opponent when the bell rang because Young Sharkey's mother did the Governor Gillett act. The youth was in the dressing room making ready to meet Murray when Mrs. Sharkey requested that her boy be not allowed to box. The request was granted.

Clyde Muskrat, who was to have met young Cowie, got cold feet at the last moment and hiked.

Erickson Again a One-rounder.

The main event brought Joe Erickson, S. A. C., back to his title of "One Round" Erickson. He went after Joe Steel, unattached, of Oakland, with such vigor that the bout had to be stopped. Steel was unwilling to admit his defeat, going about the ring looking for Erickson, but his seconds dragged him to the corner. He had made the threat that he would whip the second or official who dared throw a sponge in the ring. His brag that he would continue fighting just the same, and incidentally kick the sponge out of the ring, was only an idle jest. Erickson scored about three knockdowns before the end came. Frank Mantell was in Erickson's corner.

Jack Raymond of the S. A. C. was given an unpopular decision over Dick Furth fought the hardest for the three round of boxing. It was necessary to go over the three-round limit to give material for a verdict because the three rounds had been quite evenly balanced. Furth fought th ehardest for the three rounds, but in the fourth he let Raymond do the greatest work. Raymond landed a number of blows low which were called foul by a large number of spectators.

Lawrence-Azevedo Go a Fast One.

George Lawrence and Joe Azevedo, 112-pounders, both unattached, put up about the best bout of the evening in No. 4 on the program. The youngsters showed the crowd what real mixing looked like, going to it hammer and tongs. Lawrence's aggressiveness easily won him the decision.

Sal Salvadore was given the decision over Ernest Bertagno in a good bout. Salvadore showed himself the more skillful of the two, but lacked the whip to dispose of his opponent when he had him under fire. Both were S. A. C. members.

Young Schreck, unattached, quickly disposed of Dick Shoemake, S. A. C., in the fifth bout. Shoemake was as slow as a lumber wagon and did nothing but shadow boxing, except when Schreck got close enough to hammer a few blows for the knockout in the first round. The seconds back of Shoemake lost no time in heaving a pile of towels and sponges into the ring.

Lee Muskrat Shows Class.

Lee Muskrat, S. A. C., had all the best of Gus Salhman, S. A. C., getting an easy decision in the third bout of the evening. Muskrat scored a couple of knockdowns in the second round. His opponent was somewhat larger, but Lee rushed him stubbornly, forcing the fighting at all times.

Batt Weir, S. A. C., and Kip Zipp, unattached, showed a disposition to box at long range, one in one corner and the other in the opposite. Weir finally got close enough to Zipp and knocked him to the mat five times in the second round. In the third Zipp rolled over to take the count and was smothered with towels and sponges.

The first bout lasted quick. Rueben Amaker, S. A. C., whipped Kid Greene, unattached, with the knockout in the first round.

Jack Burke officiated as referee, J. M. Inman as announcer, Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron as judges, and Jim Gray and Ed J. Kay as timers.

SHOEMAKE THE VICTOR.

Dick Shoemake was the victor of the fifth bout at the Sacramento Athletic Club Wednesday evening and not Young Schreck. Shoemake is one of the coming boxers of the club and displayed his ability by the manner in which he disposed of Schreck, who was unattached.

ATHLETICS GET GAME.

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team will play the Washington team at McKinley Park Sunday morning. Grady will twirl for the Athletics and Spiker for the Yolos.

MOTHER STOPS RING CONTEST

SAC. UN.—6-30-10

Parent, Fearing Arrest, Takes Boy From Arena.

It was parental and not official authority that stopped the three-round boxing bout between Young Sharkey and Red Murray at the Sacramento Atheltic club last night. Mrs. Sharkey, mother of the lad who was to don the mitts, appeared at the door leading to the club previous to the calling of the fights, and asked for her son. She was told that her boy was in the dressing room doffing his street togs, and pushing past the doorkeepers entered the building and found her son in the act of wrapping tape around his hands while his handlers were busily engaged in massaging his back and legs.

"Willie Sharkey, you come home," said the mother of the aspirant for ring honors.

"But, ma, I've got to go on; they're waiting for me now."

"You won't go on; you'll come on and you'll come with me. Put on your clothes or Red Murray won't have to lick you."

Willie put on his clothes and was led from the building by the ear, his mother taking no chances on a getaway.

It was ascertained that some of the neighbors in the vicinity of the Sharkey home had informed Mrs. Sharkey that the militia and police were going to raid the athletic club while the fight was in progress and she decided to save her son from the disgrace of arrest.

"I don't mind him fighting, but I won't see him pinched," was Mrs. Sharkey's parting shot at the doorkeepers as Willie was led homeward.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has some fine material for basket ball for the coming season and expects to put some fast teams in the field. There will be teams at fourd ifferent weights, 120 pounds, 130, 145 and an unlimited class. Prof. Rittler has hopes of turning out some champion teams.

Gene Palm, who played on last year's championship team, is basket ball commissioner. Hart, who played on the U. C. team two years ago when it held the championship of the State, is now a member of the club. Day, who played on the Swastikas last season, and Purrington of Woodland High will be teams at four different weights, bers of last year's team the club has fine prospects of doing things up right.

SAC. UN. 7-8-10

At McKinley Park Sunday morning the Washington-Yolo baseball nine will clash with the Sacramento Athletic club team in what promises to be a pitchers' battle from beginning to end. Grady of the Athletics and Spiker of Washington are the men upon whom the burden of the game will rest. The Washingtons have lost but one game this season. The Athletic club team has not been playing much lately, but is again in the field for contests.

MANY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS

DAILY APPEAL MARYSVILLE

The gold and silver medals to be awarded the winners and those who come second in the big field day at West Side part next Sunday have been received by Milton Haney and are on exhibition in his show window on D street.

The fact that handsome prizes have been offered has proved a drawing card for athletes from San Francisco. By the time the entries close next Thursday there will be at least twenty-five from the bay section entered in the various events. Several of these have entered in three and four events indicating that they are out after the cup offered for athletes scoring the greatest number of points. They will have plenty of fast company. In all probability the winner of any two events will stand more than a fair show of carrying off this prize. Two first places will total ten points. It is just an indication of the close contests expected in every event.

A Capable Bunch.

The Sacramento Athletic club has gathered together the most capable bunch of runners and jumpers ever competing as a team in California outside of San Francisco. Recent additions include Martin of St. Mary's college, a sensational quarter miler; Dixon, also of St. Mary's, who has been vaulting an even eleven feet during the present season and Woodland's trio of speedy sprinters, Stephens, Kincheloe and Hollingsworth.

Several local athletes have entered unattached which makes the final result all the more uncertain. Among those entered from Marysville are "Shorty" Dunn, Joseph Peters, Grover Bedeau, George Mackintosh, Ralph Jones and George Churchill. Churchill has been rounding into form on the quiet the past few weeks and says he is going to go some when he starts in the 100 yard dash.

Ten Mile Marathon.

The most interesting and hardest fought event on an interesting program promises to be the ten mile Marathon. This entry list is much larger than usual for an event of this distance. California's speediest distance runners will all be in Marysville the afternoon of Sunday, July third. Among the best known are Wm. Howden, who holds the coast record for ten miles, James Magee of San Francisco, who holds the coast record for fifteen miles, and Day of the Sacramento Athletic club, who defeated both in a ten mile race here on April 10.

Howden and Magee will exert every effort to turn the tables on Day. That they were defeated on the prior occasion by the lanky long striding youngster from Sacrament has been more or less of a source of annoyance to them as they have for some time had the distinction of being able to hold their own against all comers at this distance. Day has written that he is stronger and expects to cut several minutes off his time of April 10th, which will bring the final result well under an hour for the total distance and there is a possibility of shaving a few odd seconds off the coast record.

Fast Running.

Running ten miles in less than an hour is not a feat to be sneezed at. It takes an A1 buggy horse to equal it. For a man it takes months and months of training and he handles himself at all times with the same scrupulous care exercised by the most painstaking trainers of horses. The trained man puts up the better race of the two. He is not driven or guided. His effort requires speed and endurance that are remarkable. He knows well his own limitations and in every contest is constantly on the alert for signs of fatigue and exhaustion in his opponents. an experienced runner has a dozen different ways of drawing out an ambitious competitor, saving himself for the final effort when those less capable of judging speed and distance drop out breathless and exhausted.

S.A.C. TO SEND TEAM OF WINNERS TO MEET

SAC. STAR 7-2-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will take one of the strongest track teams ever assembled fromthis city to compete in the open meet to be held in Marysville, in July 3. They will be accompanied by a large crowd of rooters ,and expect to win the meet.

Louie Day, the club's crack Marathon runner, will represent the club in the ten-mile event. Day has won the last two races he has run, getting two cups, one at Marysville and one at the Arbuckle meet.

S. Dickson and L. Walker, formerly of St. Mary's, R. Elliott, formerly a U. C. man, and H. Tharp will tussle with the weights.

Gates, a sure point winner, will enter the sprints and the broad jump.

Chas. Stewart, captain of the team, who has shown his worth in the past two meets, will try to repeat his performances in the mile and a half race.

Holt should prove a winner in the high jump, as he has beaten some of the best performers in Northern California, making five feet, nine and a half inches.

Littlefield and D. Elliott should be figured as point winners, while Sparks will appear in the quarter mile.

Evening Class Hours.

Tuesdays and Fridays, 8 to 10 p. m.

Boxing Night Full of Surprises.

Probably one of the best amateur local boxing cards that was ever presented here was witnessed by the usual large crowd on Wednesday evening. There were eight rattling good bouts, and considering that all of the talent was local the bouts were all fast and good. A few of the fighters pulled off quite a bit of comedy, which was enjoyed by everyone.

By far the best exhibition of the evening was furnished by "Sally" Salvador of the club and Ernest Bertagni, unattached, and fighting at 118 pounds. Salvador won on the decision, which was more than popular, as he did almost all of the leading. The first round of fighting was very even, but in the second Bertagni weakened considerably after a terrible onslaught of left and right hooks, and uppercuts. In this round "Sally" showed lots of class in landing different punches effectively. In the last round Salvador had Bertagni at his mercy, but could not finish him before the gong sounded.

Raymond, of the S. A. C., and Dick Furth fought the only extra round contest of the evening. Raymond did all the leading in the last round, and although both men were all in at the end of the round neither could land a knockout, so Raymond was given the decision for his aggressiveness.

The main event of the evening was between "One Round" Joe Erickson, S. A. C., and Steel, who was once champion amateur welterweight of British Columbia. Joe lived up to his "rep," and the fight had to be stopped in the first part of the first round, after Erickson had scored several terrific knock-downs. Steel showed great gameness, and it took three men to keep him from re-entering the ring after the bout had been stopped.

"Fighting" Dick Shoemake of the S. A. C. finished Young Schreck in one round. He was receiving such a beating that his seconds threw up the sponge.

Muskrat, S. A. C., put Salhman, also of the club, away in three fast rounds.

Del Lawerence, unattached, outpointed Joe Azevedo, also unattached, in their go, which was even-up until the third, when Del ripped in some awful bad uppercuts that made the little dark boy feel sick.

Kid Weir, of the S. A. C., scored five knock-downs on Young Zip, so his seconds threw up the sponge.

Ruben Amaker, S. A. C., knocked out Kid Greene in one round of fast milling.

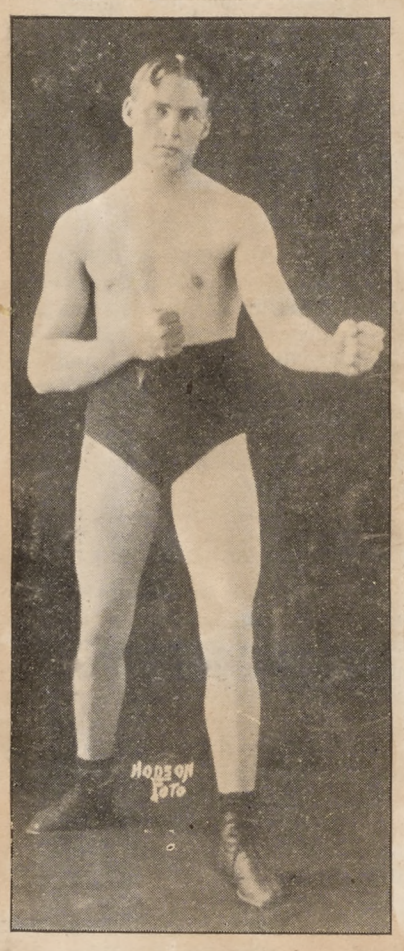
Rooters Wanted.

If you know of anyone that wants to go to the Marysville meet tomorrow, let Superintendent Galleher know immediately. If a party of sixty is formed, the round trip will cost only $1.30, so get busy and see your friends. A great time is assured everyone, so come along and help the fellows win. The excursionists will leave on the early morning train, so be on deck with lots of noise.

—o—



Jack Burke

—o—

Jack Burke as a Referee.

The club is lucky in having such a man as Jack Burke for the third man in the ring for their boxing contests. He is one of the best referees in the business, for he knows the game from beginning to end. He was one of the best boxers that Sacramento ever put out, and it was only owing to sickness that he did not become the best in the State.

His decisions are always right. He keeps the men boxing all the time, and that is the reason he is so popular with the followers of the game.

—o—

University Captain Joins Club.

Sam Hart, the Basketball Captain of University of California's championship team of '08, has joined the club. He will be a great addition to the club in the basketball department, as he was one of the best forwards that ever played with California. He is also a Rugby player, and as it is Professor Rittler's intention to put one of the best Rugby teams in the State on the field this year, he will be a great help. Hart is a civil engineer, and Sacramento will be his home.

—o—

State P. A. A. Meet to Be Held Here.

Club Captain Delano has received the welcome news that Sacramento had been chosen as the place for the State Pacific Athletic Association meet this year. He immediately set about looking for an available place to hold the track events. The Sacramento Coast League baseball team's managers have consented to allow a track to be made in Buffalo Park.

The date as yet is unsettled, but most likely the meet will be held some time in the early fall. The State's best athletes always compete in this meet, so Sacramento track enthusiasts will have a chance to see some of the best amateur athletes in competition.

Men Who Will Represent the Club at Marysville.

Professor Rittler and Track Captain Stewart have chosen one of the best track aggregations that has ever left the club to represent the Winged "S" in Marysville tomorrow. A very noticeable feature in the present team is that it is much stronger in the field events that any previous team the club has had.

The following men will represent the club tomorrow:

100-yard dash—S. Dickson, E. Martin, Stevens, Gates, Hollingsworth, Shoemake, Kinsheloe.

440-yard run—R. Payne, P. Dunckhorst, J. Childs, C. Stewart, McNeely, A. Gates, H. Williams, E. Martin, E. Sparks, R. Fraser, Kinsheloe, Shoemake.

880-yard run—McNeely, A. Hart, C. Stewart, A. Gates, J. Childs, P. Dunckhorst, R. Payne, H. Williams, R. Fraser, R. Luke, D. Cowie.

One mile—R. Payne, P. Dunckhorst, J. Childs, C. Stewart, A. Hart, S. Day, W. McNeely, P. Kidder, H. Williams, R. Fraser, R. Luke, E. Sparks, D. Cowie.

Pole vault—S. Dickson, Muegge, Walker.

Broad jump—S. Dickson, P. Kidder, E. Sparks, Holt, A. Gates, Stevens, Kinsheloe, Walker.

High jump—S. Dickson, A. Hart, J. Childs, P. Kidder, E. Sparks, Holt, Gates, E. Elliott, R. Shoemake, S. Walker.

Hammer throw—H. Tharp, R. Elliott, S. Walker.

Ten-mile Marathon—S. Day and D. Daniels.

S. A. C. River Races.

The first of a series of river races were help on Sunday up the Sacramento River. Rowing is becoming a very popular sport among the club members.

Kilgore and Didion won last Sunday's race, and challenge all club members. Morse and Watkins came second, and Delano and McDonough third.

Delano and McDonough are anxious for a return match for the championship.

Club Chat.

The Athletics and Outlaws did not play last Sunday, but both teams probably will play tomorrow.

Club Captain Delano, when asked what he thought about the Marysville meet, said: "The only thing I can see is cups and medals for our boys tomorrow. Everyone is in the best of condition, and victory is certain."

"Barb" Loverich is looking for work. so how can we lose? He never mascoted losers yet. Here's hoping he wears his French panama.

"Barb" Loverish is looking for work. For goodness sakes, give him work, so that he will keep still.

The club is soon to have a swimming night at the Baths. The club officials are conferring with the managers of the Baths, and expect a favorable report soon.

Swimming has been very popular among the club members. Every Sunday afternoon finds Professor Rittler and a big bunch of club fellows at the Baths. Between Rittler and "Frenchie" almost everyone receives a 'ducking."

"Lightning" Reese took last Sunday off and went swimming and removed the glue from his shoes. Ask Reese about the glue story, or why he is called "The Gum-shoe Kid"?

Stewart and Ruth will sure run a great mile at Marysville. It's not likely two men were ever better matched. But you just watch Charley bring home the bacon.

Dixon is a sure winner in the pole vault, and Rice of Chico had better look out in the shot-put, for Dixon, Elliott and Tharp make a hard combination to beat.

Tommy Burns is going to pay half of the club's telephone bill after this, because he uses it over one-half the time telephoning to her.

"One-Round" Joe Erickson

Hodson Photo

The sprints look like three places for Sacramento, and the broad jump is a dream with men like Gates, Stevens and Holt looking out for our interests.

When Professor Rittler was asked about our chances at the meet, he said: "We have a hard meet, because, besides competing against organized teams, we have unattached men to look out for. I have all the confidence in the world in my team, and can see nothing but victory."

To Hold a Handicap Meet.

In the near future a club handicap meet will be held some place in the city. The handicapping, most likely, will be in local hands, so everyone will be equally matched, and the meet should be a great success.

Local handicap meets should be held oftener, as it gives to the poorer athletes a chance, thereby giving them an opportunity for keeping up their interest, whereas scratch events do not give them a chance with the better men.

A great story is told on Busher Gallup, who has lately been working with a surveying party up the Sacramento River. The Busher always likes to be singing some popular air. He has a good (?) voice, but he never likes to change the song.

His latest hobby is, "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" He sang it in the morning, he sang it while he ate, he sang it in the afternoon, he sang it in the evening; and they say he sang it while he slept.

Well, anyway, his comrades were tired of hearing of Kelly's troubles, so they changed it to the same air as, "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?"

"Has anybody here seen Gallup—
Gallup, with his bunch of "bull?"
His voice is strong,
He likes his drink,
He's a winner—I don't think!"

They thought by singing this that he would get next, but, much to their surprise, he changed the original words to theirs, and now goes around singing what his friends thought would insult him, and therefore be the death of "Kelly."

Day and Daniels look good in the 10-mile race. Day will grab first place, because he has the habit and can't get rid of it.

ATHLETIC TEAM IS BACK IN FIELD FOR GAMES

SAC. BEE. 7-7-10

After a couple of weeks of inactivity the fast team representing the Sacramento Athletic Club will again enter the field under the leadership of Leaguer Clark, the former manager of the Wingards.

The Athletics form the fastest strictly amateur team in the city and can give any team in the country a worthy game.

Though the club team has several dates ahead, they are still able to accommodate any team wishing a fast game.

S.A.C. WILL TAKE UP RUGBY

SAC. STAR 7-8-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will take up rugby football this season and as the game is new in this part of the state it should prove interesting.

Prof. Rittler will coach the team and as there is much available material, he has hopes of turning out a fast team. He will start practice about the 1st of August.

Hart, formerly of U. C.; Steele of British Columbia, who played the game in England; Dickson, who played with St. Mary's and was picked to play wing and three-quarters on the All-California team; Walker, late of St. Mary's; Evers, who played the game in Ausaralia, all old-timers, will be seen under the club's colors in the coming season. Eames, Palm, Putman, Tate and Burr, who played the old game, will all turn out.

ATHLETICS AND YOLOS CLASH TO-MORROW

SAC. BEE 7-9-10

The Athletics and the All-Yolos will clash to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the McKinley Park diamond. The All-Yolos, under the management of Harry Foley, have won fifteen out of sixteen games played, and are considered a hard bunch to beat. The Athletics have not been playing for some time, but have been working this week and expect to bring home the bacon.

Manager Clark will send Lefty Johnson or Grady in to do the mound work for the club team, against "Wild Bill" Spiker, who will twirl for the boys across the bridge. The following players will represent the club: Godt, Tate, Burr, Greenlaw, Householder, Groshky, Foy, Wheat, Burns, Johnson, Grady, Reese, Sprague.

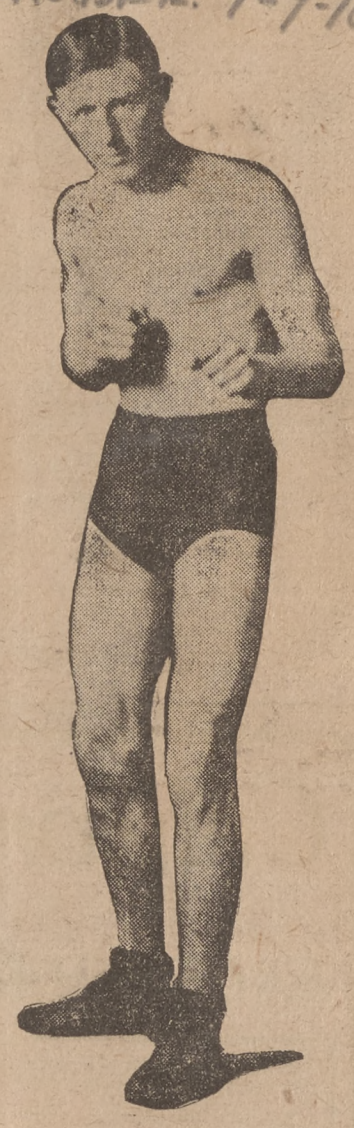
HOFFMAN MATCHING BOXERS FOR NEXT S. A. C. CARD

SAC. BEE. 7-7-10



WILLIAM GORE,
Who will meet young Wallace.
(Hodson photo.)

Many are Joining Club to Get to See Bouts Each Month

Ancil Hoffman, Boxing Commissioner of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has started to make up the card for the July bouts to be held at the club rooms on Wednesday evening, July 20th. Hoffman expects to have about ten matches, making up the program with the best amateurs obtainable.

Erickson wants to meet McAllister of the Olympic Club of San Francisco who outboxed him some time ago. The one-round kid believes he lost on a fluke before and can surely dispose of the more clever boxer next time.

Kid Sceiner, who was knocked out in short order by Erickson, would like to take on the club champion, saying he can make a better showing by careful training for the bout. Erickson, however, prefers to meet McAllister.

Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club will meet Salvador of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Burns is said to be a good match for the whirlwind local boy.

Billy Gore and Young Wallace, who were matched last month but did not come on, will appear this time.

Hoffman will announce the entire card as soon as it is completed.

The monthly bouts are attracting wide attention, especially since the club initiation fee was reduced from $10 to $1.50. Many fans from points up the Valley have taken an interest in the affairs and will become members in order to get the monthly boxing feast.

BOXING CARD FOR S. A. C.

SAC. STAR. 7-9-10

July 20 is the date chosen for the next boxing card to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club. Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman hopes to put on at least five good events. "One Round" Joe Erickson wants the club to bring McAllister from San Francisco to box him, as McAllister had the best of the last bout.

Local boxers who wish to try their hands at the game will be matched if they leave their names with Hoffman and give promise of a performance worth seeing.

S.A.C. BOXING CARD SET FOR JULY 20

"One Round" Joe Erickson Asks for Return With McAllister —Other Bouts Scheduled.

SAC. UN. 7-9-10

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic club has selected July 20th as the date for the club's next boxing night. Five to ten-round bouts will be arranged and Hoffman guarantees that the goes will be up to the usual high standard.

Local boxers who wish to try out their ability will be put on providing they show any class at all. Those wishing to enter must leave their names with Hoffman at the club and he will give them further instructions upon application. A club medal is awarded the winner of each event.

"One Round" Erickson, pride of the club, says he will not box unless the club brings McAllister from San Francisco for him. Erickson was outboxed by McAllister several weeks ago and his defeat, which has been the first in many days, has been a source of worry to him ever since. He just wants to get another crack at McAllister and then if he loses or wins he will be satisfied. Hoffman says he will try and induce McAllister to come to Sacramento for the return match.

Burns, the clever Stockton Athletic club boxer, will meet Salvador of the S. A. C. These boys are considered strong, clever wielders of the mitts and a go between them is looked upon with favor on all sides.

Billy Gore, the club marvel, and Young Wallace will probably tangle. Gore can always be depended upon for a good exhibition and Wallace is regarded as his peer.

Several other bouts will be arranged in the near future.

Track Team Wins Meet at Marysville on the Fourth.

The Sacramento Athletic Club's track team, with but nine athletes, defeated the entire field at the Marysville meet by a score of 81 to 62.

The meet was held before one of the largest crowds that ever attended a track meet in that part of the State.

Every event was interesting, and although the weather was a little cool, and the track very poor, fairly good time was made in all the races.

A beautiful silver cup was offered for the winning team. Another handsome loving-cup was presented for the fastest relay team of five men, and a cup was also offered to the winner of the Marathon and to the man scoring the greater number of individual points. Gold medals were offered for first places, and silver ones for second.

Sacramento won all the cups, except the Marathon, and most of the medals.

Our champion little Marathon runner, Day, put up a great race, although he finished third. Two days before the race one of his toes had to be lanced on account of blood poisoning, but notwithstanding this and the protests of his friends, he entered, and ran a game race. Johnson of the Swedish-American Club kept Day boxed-up so that his own teammate could get a lap ahead, and Day could not make this up, as his foot was hurting him, so he had to be content with third place.

His former time of 61 minutes was not equalled, and as he made it on the same track when a stiff breeze was blowing against him, his club friends are all anxious for another meeting with the Swedish-American men, to show them that we have their master.

Dixon nosed his club-mate Gates out by three points for the individual cup. Dixon made nineteen points, and Gates sixteen. Dixon proved himself to be one of the best all-round athletes the club has ever had, and one of the best pole-vaulters and shot-putters that has ever been seen in this part of the State.

A great deal of disappointment was experienced because Rice of Chico was not at the meet. Dixon defeated him last year at the Sacramento Day meet in the shot-put, and as Rice has advanced a great deal since then his backers believe the pair would make an even match.

Elliott is a great addition to the team in the weights, and easily took first place in the hammer-throw.

Holt showed his same good form in the high jump, capturing first place with ease, and Sparks, Stewart and Frazer all showed class in the mile and middle distance races. Shoemake proved his ability as a pole-vaulter by capturing third with perfect ease.

The summary of events is as follows:

Hammer throw—Elliott (S. A. C.) first, Watterson (Chico) second, Beckett (S. A. C.) third. Distance, 116 feet.

Quarter-mile dash—Gates (S. A. C.) first, Sparks (S. A. C.) second, Shoemake (S. A. C.) third. Time, 55 seconds.

One hundred yard dash—Gannon (unattached) first, Dickson (S. A. C.) second, Havens (Olympic) third. Time, 11 seconds.

Half-mile run—Jamison (Chico) first, Stewart (S. A. C.) second, Sparks (S. A. C.) third. Time, 2:19.

Shotput—Dickson first, Elliott second, Watterson (Chico) third. Distance, 47½ feet.

Pole vault—Dickson first, Abrams second, Shoemake (S. A. C.) third. Height 10 feet 1 inch.

Broad jump—Dickson first, Gates second, Gannon third. Distance 20½ feet.

High jump—Holt first, Gates second, Dickson third. Height, 5½ feet.

Ten-mile Marathon — Gustafson (Swedish-American club) first, Johnson (Swedish-American) second, Day (S. A. C.) third. Time, 63 minutes.

A Hard Worker.

A great deal of credit for the success of the Marysville track meet is due to the hard and untiring work of Gates.

The meet was a success, and everything went off with a dash from start to finish. This was the second meet he has managed in Marysville this year, and all the members of the club, as well as those of the track team, wish to thank him for the excellent way in which he has managed the meets, and the interest he has shown in track affairs, thereby establishing them permanently as a sport in Marysville.

—o—

Another Boxing Night.

The Club's next regular boxing night will be Wednesday, July 20th. Matchmaker Hoffman is aiming at making this the greatest card of the season. He will have a number of speedy out-of-town boys here, and already has a number of fast ones on the list.

Superintendent Galleher is going to be strict about the dues being paid up, and everyone will have to have his July ticket on hand, or his chances for seeing the boxing matches will be small.

—o—

Men Must Hereafter Represent Club.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors they made a rule that prohibits any member of any Sacramento Athletic Club team from competing against any other club team. It hardly seems possible that such action should be necessary, but of late a great deal of trouble and hard feeling has been caused on account of the absence of such a regulation.

—o—

Get the Habit.

Swimming is getting more popular every day among the clubmen. Hardly an evening goes by but a number of men leave the club to go swimming.

Professor Rittler has set aside Wednesday night of every week for the regular club swim. Last Wednesday there were fully thirty clubmen at the Baths. They had a thirty-yards swimming race, in which Thayer came first, Charlie Wahlander second, "Jess" Childs third, and P. Schlosser third.

Club Chat.

There were twenty-nine S. A. C. men in Marysville on Sunday, and they took possession of the town. In some cases the town took possession of them, and some of the "boys" dallied a few days.

Richard Shoemake received a severe dose of heart trouble while in Marysville. It is feared his dusky friend has lost out. They say they seemed to like one another.

Frank Mantell has changed his mind about Australia, so will try the boxing game in New York City. All hate to see him go, as he always was a popular man, and a willing helper.

A big bunch of club men went to Reno last week. and they all claim they enjoyed themselves, but did they?

Harry Tharp has a new barber, and he is a close figurer when it comes to cutting hair.

Erickson and Rittler were special "cops" in Reno during the fight, so no wonder our bunch was not arrested.

Shoemake—Wasn't that too bad about Fred Galleher getting arrested in Marysville?

Knight—Why? Was he arrested for impersonating Harry Tharp?

"Sandy" was there with the little ivory bones in Reno.

Cowie is going to illustrate a few of Jack Johnson's favorites during his next boxing match. He has not been seen in fighting togs for some time, owing to mishaps to men he was to have met, so all are waiting anxiously to see the speedy little boy perform.

Palm and Strachen like Marysville, and there is something in Marysville that likes them, also. They'll always have a happy home there from now on.

"Doc" Williams did not like the way the acrobat performed on the trapeze in Marysville, so he showed him up in great style by giving a free exhibition of his skill.

Palm and Strachen did not have much to do one afternoon while they were in Marysville, so they thought they would have a little fun with Palm's camera and pose as photographers.

They went up to a lady's house and inquired if she wished to be photographed. The lady asked, "Do you take children's pictures?"

Palm—Yes, madam.

The Lady—How much do you charge?

Strachen—Three dollars a dozen to you, lady.

The Lady—I am very sorry and I will have to see you later on. I've only got eleven.

"Nothing succeeds like excess," was the slogan of the bunch during the Fourth of July.

A return match between Raymond and Furth is very likely for the next boxing night. They are very evenly matched and will put up a classy bout.

Ancil Hoffman had a black cloud following him all the way back from Reno.

The following men will likely be seen in action on the 20th: Bill Gore, Burns, Wallace, Raymond, Cowie, Furth, and Salvador.

All of these men are good, and there are a number of out-of-town men who will likely be on deck.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT YOLO AGGREGATION

SAC BEE 7-11-10

After laying off for three Sundays the Athletics yesterday returned to the McKinley Park diamond and trounced the Yolos to the tune of 4 to 1. Neither team scored until the sixth, when the Athletics chased one man over.

In the eighth with three men on and two down, Bill Greenlaw drove one of Spiker's pets to the centerfield fence, scoring three runs. In the first half of the ninth Yolo chased over one run. Johnson replaced Grady in the box when the Yolos had three on and one down. Johnson struck out the next two men who faced him.

C.'s crack Marathoner, will be conceded places in the events they have entered.

MARYSVILLE MEET DRAWING GOOD ATHLETES

SAC BEE, 6-27-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), June 27. The field meet to be held at West Side Park next Sunday, July 3d, in connection with Marysville's big Fourth of July celebration promises to be the occasion for a gathering of the State's most noted athletes. Thirty-five from the section around San Francisco Bay have already entered, with others to be heard from before the entries close next Thursday. The Sacramento Athletic Club and Woodland club will also send along some first-class talent to try for the cups and other prizes hung up by the Celebration Committee.

The entries include such men as Martin and Dixon of St. Mary's, San Francisco, noted as vaulters and sprinters, and Woodland's prize sprinters, Stephens, Kincheloe and Hollingsworth. Marysville and Sutter County will be represented by "Shorty" Dunn, Joseph Peters, Grover Bedeau, George McIntosh, Ralph Jones and others.

The event that probably will excite the most interest will be the ten-mile Marathon, for which Howden, a Coast champion, James Magee of San Francisco and Day of Sacramento have entered. Howden and Magee have an old grudge to take out on Day, who has defeated them for big honors, and this of itself assures a warm contest.

S. A. C. ROWERS RACE.

[illegible] double-oared skiffs, constituting the Mosquito fleet of the Sacramento Athletic Club, held the first race yesterday over schedulte by the club. The winning team was R. Kilgore and J. F. Didion in the lover. R. M. Watkins and J. Morris in the Fluke were second, and G. B. McDonough and A. Delano took third honors by tailing behind. The course was from First Bannon Slough to Second Bannon Slough and return, approximately a mile. Twenty minutes was the time made by the winning team. Ammon C[illegible] and Dr. C. Todd acted as stakemen, timers, starters and judges; in fact, they were the whole official staff.

WRECK OF THE FRANCES

ADVERTISING ROW; SHORT, UGLY WORD

C. Vere Hodge Says A. L. Crane Had Millionaire Ideas; Lie, Declares Crane.

The board of supervisors yesterday awarded an advertising contract to the Peck-Judah company for space in the Pacific Coast Homeseeker, and thereby hangs a tale.

The Pacific Homeseeker is a monthly publication, and C. Vere Hodge is the advertising manager. Hodge appeared before the supervisors last week and indicated a desire to sell a page of the publication to the county for one year at $25 a month. At that time the board was in doubt as to its financial ability to undertake the scheme, and then time was wanted to look into the proposition. Hodge went his way, promising to be back yesterday. He kept his promise.

And Hodge was mildly excited. He said that he had told Supervisor Thisby that he had been given the double-cross. This made the supervisors curious. Callahan wanted to know about it. So did the other members. Each of them was willing to depose that he had had nothing to do with giving a double-cross to the advertising man. Hodge told all about it.

He said that he had gone to Secretary A. L. Crane of the local chamber of commerce and that Crane told him that if he saw any of the members of the board before he (Hodge) did, he would knock his plan.

Hodge also said Crane told him that he did not propose to do a cent's worth of publicity work until he had $20,000 on hand, and Hodge figured that it might take Crane some time to get $20,000 together, and that therefore it might be some time before the county benefited from advertising in his magazine. He volunteered the information that he was a fighter, and that if Crane or anybody was looking for a fight they would please him.

Now the board thought the matter over, looked at the publication and decided to put $25 a month into it for a year. Hodge left, and a few minutes thereafter Crane arrived.

Crane did not mince matters. He said flatly that Hodge was a liar; that Hodge had come to him and asked the chamber of commerce to take up his plan and make it its own, and that he turned it down. He said that he said nothing about raising $20,000 or any other sum before expending anything for advertising, but said that he told Hodge all about the proposition of the Sacramento Valley Development association and that that body did not propose to do any advertising until it had a lot of money on hand. Crane reiterated that Hodge was several sundry kinds of a liar.

ATHLETES SPEND JOLLY DAY

SAC. STAR. 7-12-10

A jolly bunch of young athletes from the Sacramento Athletic Club got together Saturday night and took a trip up the river to camp over night and spend a day's outing.

They landed opposite Bright's where they camped for the night. Sunday they enjoyed a big "mulligan," invented for the occasion, and spent the morning in fishing and swimming, returning about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a tired but happy crowd.

In the party were Albert Hart, the basket ball shark; Louie Day, the crack marathoner; Harry Duke, center of the lightweights of '10; Dick Cowie, and "Sally" Salvador, two of the club's cleverest young boxers; Lee O'Connor, champion wrestler; Jess Childs, a distance runner, and Ralph Payne, a miler.

SWIMMERS MAY RACE

SAC. STAR. 7-16-10

Ralph Eames of the Sacramento Athletic Club, former champion of the navy, has challenged Daniels, who claims to be a brother of Daniels, the famous swimmer. Eames wants to race Daniels ten miles for money, or for fun. Daniels is instructor at the Y. M. C. A. at present.

The outcome of this challenge is causing much interest, and if the challenge is taken up the race will be witnessed by a large gathering of S. A. C. men.

LAUNCH OWNERS CORRECT ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION

TO THE PUBLIC.

We the undersigned wish to correct the erroneous and misleading statement which has been published in some other newspapers in regard to the accident and burning of the motorboat Frances on the river Saturday night.

It has been published that we wished to conceal our identity. We had no reason to do such a thing as there was nothing to conceal. The boat belonged to us and it was not borrowed.

The fire was not due to carelessness but from leaking oil. This might have happened to the most careful during a dark night.

The Star is the only paper that had the article right and we therefore wish to make this correction in The Star.

SAC. STAR 7-12-10

J. G. CHILDS,
F. HART,
RALPH PAYNE.

The young men, who as told last night in The Star, had a thrilling escape from death when their launch caught fire Saturday night on the river, desired in justice to themselves to have the above correction made.

The impression was given that they destroyed a borrowed boat when in fact the craft belonged to them. They feel naturally that they have the right to burn, dynamite or otherwise destroy their own property if they want to.

But in this case of course they didn't want to. As related in The Star last night the destruction was an accident and they were lucky to escape with their lives.

FOURTEEN BOUTS FOR S. A. C. CARD

SAC. BEE. 7-15-10

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club is getting together a card of three-round amateur bouts for the July boxing fest that would look tempting to even the enemies of the biff-and-bang game. Fourteen bouts are to be given, and all but two of these have been made up. An opponent has not been found for "One-Round" Erickson or for Kuntz.

The card of bouts is as follows:
Wier vs. Salman, 133 pounds.
Billy Gore vs. Wallace, 130 pounds.
Burns vs. Salvadore, 125 pounds.
Hicks vs. Raymond, 150 pounds.
Smith vs. Muskrat, 118 pounds.
Noble vs. Martinez, 124 pounds.
Cowie vs. Harry Estal, 125 pounds.
Azevedo vs. Lawrence, 115 pounds.
Amacker vs. Bertogni, 118 pounds.
Zipp vs. Kid Greene, 125 pounds.
Murray vs. Pericido, 110 pounds.

No Opponent for Erickson.

Hoffman is trying hard to land an opponent for Joe Erickson. Joe wants to fight Bobby Wallace of San Francisco again as he is confident he can trim Wallace in a return match. Kid Seiner is anxious for a return match with Erickson, and says he can make a better showing than he did on their first meeting.

CLASSY ENTRY IN GAELIC CLUB'S TRACK MEET

S. F. EX. 7-17-10

Twelve Events on Programme of Athletics at Shell Mound Park Field.

The annual games of the Original Gaelic Dancing Club will be held this afternoon at Shellmound Park, starting at 1:30 o'clock and as is usual with this club a large number of athletes have sent in their names for the various events. A dozen items compose the list of events and some keen competition is likely to result, as the handicaps have been well arranged and the quality of the entries is high.

Great interest is being taken in the relay race open to hurling and football clubs in which the O'Connells, Parnells and Young Irelands have entered teams. The members of these organizations are keen rivals on the football and hurling fields and their rivalry extends to the running path on which each of them figures on scoring a victory. The Parnells and the O'Connells are each credited with a victory in a relay race during the present summer and they will strive hard to take the odd race at to-day's games.

A classy field of runners will compete in the one-mile handicap in which the scratch mark will be occupied by Elliott Craig, the Olympic Club star, who finished second in the national championships at Seattle last summer. Craig has been asked to give away generous start to a number of crack men and he will have to be at his best to overcome the distances alloted to some of his competitors. Sullivan, of the Visitacion Valley Club, has been given fifty yards in spite of his victory in the Thistle Club's handicap, and Dan Riordan, with 60 yards, should prove a factor in the final result. McGregor, the Standard athlete, Magee of the Irish Americans and Hoburg, the Olympic Club's lanky runner, should prove the best of the back-markers.

Alva Gates of Sacramento, who has been a consistently good performer at the various games held around the bay this spring and summer, has been placed on the scratch mark in the quarter-mile handicap, which promises to be a keenly-contested affair. The Olympic Club is well represented with Joy, Donohue and Moss. Claudius and McNamara of the University of California, are two of the men who have been alloted short starts from the scratch man.

There will be several field events, including a high jump, three standing jumps and a running hop, step and jump, and the tossing of the 56-pound weight for height should produce a good performance from Pat Donovan, who is the local champion at this game, but who will have to be at his best to overcome the handicaps allowed his competitors to-day.

Besides the relay race for the hurling and football clubs there will be relays for the 80 and 115 pound classes of the Catholic Schools Athletic League and also an open relay in which the Irish-Amrican, Olympic, Parnell, Pastime and St. Joseph's Athletic Clubs have entered teams.

S. A. C. PLANS GOOD CARD OF BOXING

SAC. STAR. 7-15-10

The next amateur boxing night of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held Wednesday, July 20. Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman and Professor Rittler believe they will be able to offer one of the best cards that the club members have ever seen.

The card for the coming exhibitions contains some of the best of the amateurs, and the matches undoubtedly will prove attractions. The matchmakers have been careful to get boxers who are as equal as possible in weight, science and skill, and as a consequence the goes will be hard ones.

Joe Erickson, "One-round Joe," will meet Goulard, a local boy, at 145. Erickson wanted a return bout with McAllister of San Francisco, but on account of going away on a vacation, he will not be able to meet Erickson this month.

"Sally" Salvadore will meet Burns of Stockton at 124 and it is expected to be the cleverest bout of the evening. Burns has boxed before the club a few times already and the members are looking forward with pleasure to the coming event.

Martinez of the S. A. C. will meet Noble of the Acme Club of Oakland in a return match at 122. Noble recently got a decision after a four-round bout, although Martinez floored him. This bout is expected to prove one of the classiest of the evening.

William Gore of the S. A. C. will meet Jack Wallace, a local boy, who is billed to keep him busy.

Hicks of the S. A. C. will box Young Raymond of the S. A. C., and as Raymond has been proving a "Waterloo" to quite a few boys, Hicks will try hard to break his streak. This will be the heaviest bout of the evening. The boxers will weigh 155.

Lee Muskrat will meet Smith at 118; Weir and Salhman will box at 133; Joe Azevedo will box Lawrence at 115. Last month Azevedo put up one of the cleverest bouts of the evening and is expected to do the same again.

Amaker will meet Bertagno at 118, and as both men are fast, a good exhibition will be given. H. Zip will meet Kid Green at 120.

SAC. STAR. 7-17-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will stage fourteen three-round bouts in its July boxing card, to be given on the 20th inst. Boxing Commissioner Ancel Hoffman has secured the cream of the local amateurs for the occasion. It is the intention of the Club in the future to provide two boxing nights each months for its member. As the aspirants in the manly art become more accustomed to the sport and gain experience, these events will take on added interest. While one or two of the events have not been fully decided, the bouts will be as follows:

Wier vs. Salman, 133 pounds.
Billy Gore vs. Wallace, 130 pounds.
Burns vs. Salvadore, 125 pounds.
Hicks vs. Raymond, 150 pounds.
Smith vs. Muskrat, 118 pounds.
Noble vs. Martinez, 124 pounds.
Cowie vs. Harry Estal, 125 pounds.
Azevedo vs. Lawrence, 115 pounds.
Amacker vs. Bertogni, 118 pounds.
Zipp vs. Kid Greene, 125 pounds.
Murray vs. Pericido, 110 pounds.

DOZEN BOUTS ON S.A.C. BOXING CARD

Erickson Has Been Matched at Last, and All Is Ready for July 20.

SAC. UN. 7-17-10

One dozen fast three-round bouts, with well-matched physically perfect boxers participating, will be the offering of the Sacramento Athletic club next Wednesday night, July 20th at the regular monthly night at the ringside. Not only is the card one of the biggest ever arranged for the local club, but each bout gives promise of some lively milling. Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman has spread himself in this instance and looks for the most successful bouts ever staged by the S. A. C.

McAllister was away on his vacation and so could not sign up for a return match with "One Round" Erickson. However, an appointment of no mean ability has been found for him in Walter Goulard. The boy was given a try-out Friday night and made good. Whether or not Erickson will live up to his one-round record in this case is a matter of much dispute among club members.

With the withdrawal of Martinez in the 124-pound go with Noble, Cowie has been substituted and Estae placed with Weir in the 133-pound event. The complete card is:

Kuntz, S. A. C., vs. Holman, S. A. C., 133 pounds.

Raymond, S. A. C., vs. Hicks, S. A. C., 155 pounds.

Azeveda, unattached, vs. Lawrence, unattached, 115 pounds.

Zysp, unattached, vs. Red Green, unattached, 125 pounds.

Red Murray, S. A. C., vs. Tony Precio.

SAC. WEEKLY 7-16-10

Marysville Trophies Arrive.

The cup for the winning team, Dickson's individual point-winner cup, and Day's gold medal arrived from Marysville this week.

The Relay cup has not yet put in appearance, but Professor Rittler expects it, as it was offered for the winning relay team, and as he had a team on deck, and no other team put in an appearance he claims it by default.

—o—

Marathoners to Go It Alone.

To judge by what happened at the recent annual meeting of the International Olympic Committee at Luxemburg, the Swedish program when finally arranged will be remarkable for a lot of changes and innovations. Only the rough draft of the program has yet seen the light, but with almost two years to work out the details, still more complicated events may be introduced.

The event to come in for considerable attention was the Marathon race, and at Sweden it will be an out and out contest of endurance. That is, there will be a clear course from start to finish and the runners will not be allowed attendants, nor shall they take refreshments or receive aid from anybody along the route under penalty of disqualification. Neither will autos, motorcycles, bicycles or conveyances of any kind be allowed on the course.

—o—

Galleher as a Doctor.

"Greyhound" Galleher and castor oil are in line for a Carnegie medal. On Tuesday Weir was performing on the horse in the gym, and at the same time holding his locker-key in his mouth, so he could not lose it, and he swallowed the key.

He ran to the office crying, "I'm going to die! I'm going to die!" After a while Galleher quieted him enough to learn what was the trouble, and he immediately sent a boy to a drugstore for a bottle of castor oil. On the arrival of the oil Galleher grabbed Weir by the nose, opened his mouth and made him swallow the entire contents of the bottle, and then "Doc" Galleher smiled and said, "That key will not bother you, son."

Weir is all right again—so is the key.

A "Bike" Team.

A notice has been posted on the bulletin-board asking all men interested in bicycle racing to sign their names. For some time the members of the club have expressed a desire for bicycling to be a branch of the club's sport.

The club has enough members so that it can represent every branch of sport, if desired, and as bicycle racing is once more coming into prominence Club Captain Delano thought the club might as well be represented in that line of sport.

—o—

Boxer Billy Gore.

Billy Gore is one of the club's best boxers. He has fought three fights and won all of them, two on decisions and one on a knockout. Every man he has boxed with has been a top-notcher. He received the decision over Jack Hallan and Scribe Barr,

Undefeated Boxer, Billy Gore

and Baker took the count. Barr, Hallan, and Baker have met many of the best men around the Bay, and also in the valley.

On the coming boxing night he will meet Wallace, "the fighting fireman," for a side bet of $100. This will probably be one of the best bouts the clubmen ever witnessed, for both men are clever and in good condition.

Athletics Defeat Yolo Giants.

In a game full of spectacular playing the Yolo Giants tumbled down to defeat before the hard-hitting Athletics on Sunday by a score of 4 to 1. Neither team scored until the sixth inning, when Clark knocked a pretty single, scoring Burns, who was on third.

Greenlaw started things in the eighth, when his two-bagger scored Godt, Grady, and Burr.

The Yolo aggregation has lost only one game out of fifteen played.

All of the Athletics played good ball, and promise fair to win all of their games in the future. The score.

Athletes Will Have To Compete Within the Club.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors the following rule was made:

"The participation by members of the club in meets that are unattached, and competing against club members therein, will not be tolerated."

Offenses of this kind will be investigated by the Board of Directors and very strenuous efforts made to create a spirit which will not countenance such procedure by club members.

—o—

Lockers Must Be Paid For.

On August 1st the contents of each locker for which rent has not been paid for the year from April 1, 1910, to March 30, 1911, will be taken out and stored at the risk of the owners and held as security for rent dues.

All had better pay up before August if they value their outfits.

—o—

Buffalo Park in View.

Director Inman has been in communication with Ed. Kripp, trying to get a lease of the Buffalo Park grounds, during the time the Sacramento Coast League team is not playing there.

If the club can get the grounds they will put in a first-class running track and hold field meets and baseball games there. As the Pacific Athletic Association has named Sacramento as the place for its next annual track meet, it is up to the club to obtain a good place for it.

Manager Clark of the Athletics.

"Dusty" Clark has taken hold of the managing end of the Athletics, and by the looks of things he is putting a lot of "pep" into the team.

Charles Clark, Manager Baseball Team

He has assigned a regular practice night, and has a good many good trips in sight. He has also signed up a bunch of new men, who will strengthen the team wonderfully.

Some Choice Events.

Matchmaker Hoffman has arranged one of the best boxing cards the club has ever seen for the coming boxing night. All of the men are very evenly matched and it looks as if there will be something doing every minute. These boxing evenings will be held monthly throughout the summer. The following men have been signed:

Weir, S. A. C., vs. Holman, S. A. C. 133 pounds.

Burns, Stockton A. C., vs. Salvador, S. A. C., 125 pounds.

Raymond, S. A. C., vs. Hicks, S. A. C., 155 pounds.

Cowie, S. A. C., vs. Estae, Unattached, 125 pounds.

Azevedo, Unattached, vs. Lawrence, Unattached, 115 pounds.

Zysp, Unattached, vs. Red Green, Unattached, 125 pounds.

Red Murray, S. A. C., vs. Tony Precio.

Kuntz and Erickson are not as yet matched.

—o—

Club Chat.

The Athletics made a great showing after being out of the game for three weeks. They are greatly handicapped about getting games, for it is rather late in the season, and most schedules are already made out, but leave it to "Dusty" Clark—he is a hustler.

Billy Gore, the boxing demon, will put up the fight of his life for those hundred "bobbies."

Jack Inman, Chief Announcer, will dance his famous skirt dance Wednesday night. This will be his first appearance on the stage in America.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk has set Sunday, July the 24th, as the date when the final four handball games between Gray and Green must be played. If either fails to appear by 10:30 o'clock he shall forfeit all claim to the heavyweight championship.

As a special attraction Wednesday night those two boxing wonders, Judge Newman and Eddie Dalton, will go three rounds. Ed. Kay will referee the bout, and Champion Gray will handle the towels.

Superintendent Galleher refuses to longer take the blame of stealing peanuts at Marysville. He did it only out of sympathy for the real thief, "Dutch" Whitaker. As Marysville was Dutch's first trip away from the fold, Galleher wanted to protect him, so when the Dutchman stole the peanuts Galleher assumed the blame,, so that Whitaker could take a trip with the "boys" again, but it became too hot for Galleher, so he had to tell who was the real thief.

The coming boxing night menu looks good. There are sure some live scrappers matched.

Don't forget that the dues must be paid, and you must have the yellow paper, also.

Give a look! Heine Goldenfinger will be seen fanning his crew of boxers Wednesday night to victory.

All individual bets on the outcome of the Gray-Green match were declared off Wednesday. Gray and Green were seen playing together in the early part of the morning and a good many of the followers of the game are looking wise, so nearly all who had placed bets with Stakeholder Rittler have withdrawn their money.

The Athletics will not play tomorrow, but the following Sunday they will journey to Willows to meet that fast aggregation.

SAC. WEEKLY 7-16-10

The Sacramento Athletics will mix it with the Willows Giants Sunday, and one of the hottest games of the season is predicted. The Willows won a game earlier in the season from the Athletics by a 1 to 0 score and on this trip the Athletics expect to even up things. Either Thode or Rossi will do the twirling for Willows, while French will be on the receiving end. Grady will be in the box for the Athletics and Godt will be there with the basket. SAC. OPPONENT FOUND FOR JOSEPH ERICKSON

SAC. BEE. 7-19-10

By finding an opponent for "One-Round" Joe Erickson in Walter Goulard, a promising local youth, Boxing Commissioner Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club completed the card for the amateur night to be held Wednesday. Goulard in his work-outs has shown considerable class and he is figured to give Erickson an argument that will last longer than the usual one round.

The Athletic Club enjoys the distinction of being the only organization which is able to put on boxing bouts since Governor Gillett kicked the "prize fighters" out of the arena and these amateur nights are held out as an inducement to outsiders to join the club.

The following list of bouts will be held to-morrow night:

Erickson, S. A. C., vs. Goulard, unattached.

Cowie, S. A. C., vs. Noble, Acme Club of Oakland, 125 pounds.

Kuntz, S. A. C., vs. Holman, S. A. C., 133 pounds.

Raymond, S. A. C., vs. Hicks, S. A. C., 155 pounds.

BERTAGNI DECLARES HE WAS FOULED

SAC. BEE. 7-12-10

E. Bertagni, who was counted out in his bout with Amacker at the Sacramento Athletic Club Wednesday night, declares he can produce the certificates of two physicians to prove that he was fouled. In view of the doubt which prevails over the bout Amacker and Bertagni will fight again next month before the S. A. C.

By H. R. H. G.

Miss Gladys Sloan, known as the Belle of Yolo, and a maiden whose courage and strength has been tested to advantage upon several occasions, rowed a remarkable race for a woman yesterday in the eighth event of the Sacramento and Washington Boat club's regatta and crossed the line first, winning easily from three other young women who had entered in the race. Not alone did Miss Sloan show remarkable dexterity with the oars, but she displayed a strength of stroke, the evenness of which was surprising and set many of the knowing spectators to commenting. Miss Anna Heilbron in the Fly should have had second place, but she broke her stroke twenty yards from the finish and allowed Miss Travers to nose into second place. Miss Ruth Ditzsky, the fourth contestant in the event, injured herself at the start and made no effort to continue the race. She wrenched her arm and had to be assisted from the boat. The course was from a point immediately below J. W. Russick's boathouse to a line drawn from the center of the Sacramento Boat club ark directly across the river to amidships of a Southern Pacific steamer.

HASTILY PREPARED.

The regatta committee had no entries for the ladies' event until noon yesterday, and the short notice gave the contestants no opportunity to train. The race was the first in the history of the two prominent boat clubs where women have ever had an opportunity to demonstrate their skill in aquatic sports. It is probable that the success of yesterday's event will act as an incentive on committees of meets in the future, and that women's races will henceforth be a regular thing in regattas.

Hardly a breath was stirring along the river and the torrid heat of the sun poured down upon the water and unprotected places, rendering them almost unbearable. This uncomfortable condition kept many that otherwise would have attended the event at home but at the same time it is a consistent estimate to place the total attendance at one thousand. Even the Sacramento club ark, which is always a popular rendezvous for spectators, was hardly occupied, comparatively speaking, but the shade trees on the sandy banks served as canopies for the bulk of the crowd.

As a whole the races turned out better than even the committee of arrangements had anticipated. The season is late and many are away on vacations, and these facts were expected to influence the success of the affair in no small measure. The affair had its drawbacks like any other regatta, but the good nature of the contestants and spectators served as a balm for the hot temperature, and many forgot to scowl and complain when a witty saying was passed along the line or something comical occurred in the water. There were not as many entries as the committee would have liked and there was some fault in the classification, but as a whole no complaint was registered and the affair went off in the usual smooth manner that usually characterizes regattas on the Sacramento.

THE FEATURES.

The cruiser race, the men and women's rowing events and the speed race were the features of the card and practically the only events in which the finishes were all close.

The Possum had everything its way in the semi-speed event and won by three hundred yards more or less from the Milton, which was once the old P. N. B., minus the engine. The Union cup was awarded the Possum, and a case of wine from the California Winery went to the Milton for second place.

The cruiser race was the closest of the day, and was the one upon which a majority of the sportsmen wagered wind bets. The Jenny O. was beaten, and beaten badly, and the defeat settled for all time the dispute which arose at Colusa as to which of the local cruisers was the fastest. The Buffalo had some difficulty in starting, and the other boats gained a slight advantage which perhaps influenced the outcome. The Louise, living up to its former record, slipped into the lead at the start and maintained it throughout the race, finishing a few yards ahead of the Pankost II, which, considering the start, ran a great race. The first prize for this race is the Klune & Floberg cup and the second prize is a case of wine donated by the Sacramento Valley Winery.

The R. S. easily won the under ten-mile event, and led the Cheyenne and Next Best over the entire course. First prize is a Kimbrough kalaxon horn and second Crombach volt meter.

EVENT CALLED OFF.

The Aristo hesitated too long in the under eighteen-mile event, and after a parley with Starter E. F. Mitchell the race was declared off. The Emily was the only other contestant in this race, as Pankost had withdrawn his No. 20. The committee later announced that the event would be run off some Sunday in the near future. The prizes will stand until the event is declared.

The Pankost 24 had everything its own way in the under fifteen-mile class, and beat the Melga several length. In turn, the Melga defeated the El Capitol. First prize for this event was the Elkus cup, and second prize was a case of Buffalo beer.

Morsehead and Whalander of the Dolphin Rowing club demonstrated their superiority with the oars yesterday, winning from the Fly and Rover by several yards. Rittler and Barnes, in the Wasp, hoped to take the event, but were outclassed and had to be satisfied with fourth place. Silver smoker set for first prize, and second prize to be selected from collection by winner.

Alfred Dalton Jr., local attorney and sportsman when near water, had all sorts of trouble yesterday in getting started in his Hazel D. in the special under seven-mile event, and was forced to indulge the good-nature of Starter Mitchell for a minute additional time in which to prepare for the start. Dalton counted on winning the event, and so selected a nice pair of lights, a thing he does not possess, as first prize in the event. Had he chosen the lights for second prize he might have stood some show. Just at the time when the race was called Dalton could not find his boat. Look as he would, it was nowhere in sight. He hopped about on one foot, and fumed, and finally discovered it snugly tucked in beneath the Boat Club ark.

DALTON'S QUANDARY.

The Millport beat him easily. When he came back to the judges' stand he was presented with his prize by a committee that had been especially appointed for the occasion. The honorable attorney was given a bottle of Ruhstaller (empty of beer, but full of water), decorated with the national colors at the neck. He thanked the committee and seemed well pleased—until he pulled the cork.

Little Tom Barry and A. Fourness paddled their eggshell-like canoe to victory in the canoe race. They were opposed only by G. Dutche and E. Van Linda. Noack silver cup was first prize for this event, and second prize will be selected by winner.

Much to the surprise of many the Azores was easily beaten by the feather-like little craft that carries the name of Pankost 23. It was twenty-three for somebody yesterday in the speed event, and it was not Pankost who was crowned with the number, either. The Nemesis did not figure much. The silver cup donated by the Bee went for first prize in this event, and five gallons of cylinder oil from the Ritchie Automobile shop was awarded for second place.

The officials were: W. R. Russell, judge; W. Floberg and J. Vladyka, timers; E. Forrest Mitchell, starter; Miss Russell, clerk of the course.

PANKOST NO. 23 WINS THE BEE'S SPEEDBOAT CUP

Womens' Rowing Event Is Feature of Racing on the River

The Results.

Semi-speed, four miles—Possum (Morrissey and Thiele) first, Milton (W. Milton) second. Time—14:52.

Cruiser race, two miles—Louise (O. L. Brainard) first, Pankost No. 2 (S. P. Pankost) second, Buffalo third. Time—14:03 1-5.

Under ten miles, two miles—R. S. (R. Stevens) first, Cheyenne (L. Chambers) second, Next Best (De Merritt and Smith) third. Time—14:38 2-5.

Under fifteen miles, two miles—Pankost 24 (S. P. Pankost) first, Melga (Shadinger) second. Time—11:06 2-5.

Rowing race, three-fourths mile—Dix (J. W. Morsehead and C. Wahlander) first, Fly (Lobner and Thayer) second, Rover (Littlefield and Elliott) third, Wasp (Rittler and Barnes) fourth. Time—4:37.

Special event, two miles—Millport (P. Anderson) first, Hazel D. (A. Dalton, Jr.) second. Time—11:08.

Canoe race, three-fourths mile—T. Berry and A. Fourness first, G. Deutche and E. Van Linder second. Time—5:35.

Speed race, four miles—Pankost 23 (S. P. Pankost) first, Azores (Dr. M. Silva) second, Nemesis (Brainard) third. Time—11:50 2-5, 12:17 2-5, 13:04 3-5.

With three features—cruiser race, speed boat event and women's rowing race—and several other good numbers on the card yesterday, the power boat, rowing and canoe races held under the auspices of the Sacramento Boat Club and the Washington Motorboat Club, proved a greater success than has been looked for. In the women's rowing race—the first ever held on the river—Miss Gladys Sloan finished the eighth of a mile first, shooting her light skiff through the water with astonishing speed. Miss Ollie Travers finished second, and Miss Anna Heilbron was third.

Pankost Wins Bee Cup.

The solid silver, gold-lined cup presented by The Bee for the fastest boat on the Sacramento River was won by S. P. Pankost in his Pankost No. 23, a new boat with the old engine from the racer P. N. B. There were three entries, Pankost No. 23, Nemesis (Brainard) and Azores (Dr. M. S. Silva). The race was over a four-mile course, and Pankost finished, without pushing his boat to its fullest speed, in 11 minutes, 50 2-5 seconds.

It was a dandy race for the first two miles, Pankost being pushed closely by Azores. Pankost made the first two miles in 6 minutes, 1 1-5 seconds. The Azores pulled up at the finish, having made the run in 12 minutes, 17 2-5 seconds, and the Nemesis finished in 13 minutes, 4 3-5 seconds.

Louise, Fastest Cruiser.

In the cruiser race a long standing speed dispute was settled by the Louise (O. L. Brainard), the other entries being the Buffalo (W. J. Russic) Pankost No. 2 (S. P. Pankost) and the Jennie O. (Odbert). This was an exciting event, and the boats ran with only a short space between the leaders. The Louise took the lead on the first quarter and maintained it throughout. The Pankost No. 2 finished second, and the Buffalo third, with the Jenny O. trailing along for fourth place in the far rear.

Semi-Speed Race Tame.

The semi-speed event, which is almost always one of the most exciting in a powerboat meet, proved to be a tame affair, the Possum (Thiele & Morrissey) hopelessly outclassing the Milton (W. Milton). The Possum made four miles in 14 minutes and 52 seconds without speeding. The race is no record for the speed the Possum can make.

R. S. Is Winner.

Going two miles in 14 minutes 38 2-5 seconds the R. S. (R. Stevens) carried away the trophy for boats under ten miles an hour. The other contenders were the Cheyenne (L. Chambers) and Next Best (De Merritt & Smith), and they finished in the order given.

Race Called Off.

Because the Aristo (Butler) did not come up in time, Starter E. Forrest Mitchell called the race off for boats under eighteen miles an hour. There were two other entries, the Emily (O. Eberhardt) and Pankost No. 20 (S. P. Pankost). The Committee decided to hold the race on some Sunday in the near future and award the trophies at that time.

Morshead and Wahlander First.

J. W. Morshead and C. Wahlander captured the rowing race for men, defeating three other teams by several lengths. The race was an exciting one, starting from the Sacramento Boat Club's Ark, going to the railroad bridge and return—three-quarters of a mile.

Morshead and Wahlander in the Dix made the distance in 4 minutes 37 seconds, Lobner and Thayer in the Fly finished second in 4 minutes 42 seconds, Littlefield and Elliott in the Rover came in third and Barnes and Rittler in the Wasp finished last.

That Special Race.

The special race for boats which have never been known to run faster than seven miles per hour was won by the Millport (Porter Anderson)), defeating the Hazel D. (Alfred Dalton Jr.). The Millport made the two miles in 11 minutes 8 seconds. The finish was close and quite exciting.

Double Canoe Race.

The canoe race—three-fourths of a mile—went to T. Berry and A. Fourness in 5 minutes, 35 seconds. G. Deutche and E. Van Linder crossed the line second in 5 minutes and 50 seconds.

Yolo Woman Wins.

More interest was taken in the women's rowing race than in any other event, and the winner, Miss Gladys Sloan, of Yolo, handled the oars with surprising strength and accuracy. She demonstrated her ability as an oarswoman by keeping to the shore line, avoiding the swift current of the stream. This was the first time in the history of racing in this city that a women's race has been held, and it proved to be a great success. Hereafter Regatta Committees in making race programs will always include that event, for it contains more real interest than anything outside championship speed events.

Crowds See Events.

While old Sol beat his hot rays down with more than necessary severity yesterday, and it was broiling hot in the sun, hundreds of persons watched the races from shady spots along the river bank, from steamer decks and from the Southern Pacific bridge. The officers having the affair in charge—representing the Sacramento Club and the Washington Club—handled it in excellent shape, calling the boats to the line promptly and keeping the races going without much delay. The officials were E. Forrest Mitchell, starter; William Russell, judge; W. Floberg and Del Cook, timers, and Miss Russell, clerk of the course. Del Cook, representing the Sacramento Boat Club Regatta Committee, and Alfred Dalton, Jr., representing the Washington Motorboat Club Regatta Committee, and the men who arranged the events, gave the races their personal attention, and assisted the officials to keep the races moving along.

While no championship events were run, the races provided great sport and much excitement. The afternoon's program was a success in every way.

S.A.C. BOXING CARD TONIGHT

SAC. STAR. 7-20-10

In this evening's program the Sacramento Athletic Club will stage one of the best amateur boxing nights recently presented, and gives promise of having a large attendance.

The club for the last few nights has been the scene of activity, and some of the try-outs were almost as good as regular bouts.

There will be twelve bouts, and as Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman and Professor Rittler have used the greatest of care in matching, each event should prove a feature.

Cowie of the S. A. C. will meet Noble of the Acme Club of Oakland at 125. This should prove a live bout, as both men are fast.

Another fast go will be the match between Burns of Stockton and Salvadore of the S. A. C., which will undoubtedly be an exhibition of cleverness.

Joe Erickson will meet Walter Goulard, a local boy, who is reckoned to make Joe be rather watchful.

Gore of the S. A. C. and Wallace, unattached are expected to put on one of the best goes of the evening.

Raymond will meet Hicks, both of the S. A. C. This will be the heaviest bout put on. It is at 155 pounds.

The following will fill the card:

Weir, S. A. C., vs. Estae, unattached, 133 pounds.

Kuntz, S. A. C., vs. Holman, S. A. C., 133 pounds.

Azevedo vs. Lawrence, 115 pounds, both unattached.

Kid Zip vs. Kid Green, 125, both unattached.

LOCAL ATHLETES MAY BE PUT UNDER BAN FOR BREAKING RULES

S.F. CHRONICLE 7-20-10

There will be some housecleaning at the regular weekly meeting of the registration committee of the Pacific Association tomorrow. A number of well known athletes from this city and about the bay are due to appear with an explanation for their non-appearance at the Original Gaelic games at Shell Mound Park last Sunday. For some time the amateur aspirants have been having things their own way at the various sets of games, until the abuse of certain situations has necessitated the officials taking some action to protect the public and the clubs conducting the events.

Handicap field days have proven the main cause of trouble, many of the athletes failing to show up after regularly entering certain events. Repeated warnings for this breach have been issued at intervals by the registration committee, until suspension seems the only means of obtaining a desirable condition of affairs. At last Sunday's meet, some thirty athletes who sent in their names to the game committee as starters in the various handicap events, failed to show when the time for the contests arrived. Some of them were on the grounds at the time, but not in athletic costume.

The committee considers this sort of misrepresentation a detriment to good sport and unless those who were absent last Sunday can give a good excuse after tomorrow's meeting, they will probably be missed from the ranks of competition for a period.

Among those who are in danger of being punished are James Magee of the Irish-American Club, Cecil Caldwell of the Olympic Club and E. A. McGregor and Charles Morris of Stanford. On the Fourth of July several athletes in the Pacific Association entered two meets on the same day and failed to compete at either.

Sacramento Expects to Attract Track Men From Every Part of Country.

S.F. CHRONICLE 7-24-10

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Athletes representing every city on the Pacific Coast, every athletic club in the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, will be invited to compete at the State Fair next September for valuable medals and trophies to be offered by the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold committee. The trophies will cost several hundred dollars.

Arrangements for the big field day meet were completed today. It has been announced that the meet will take place on Saturday, September 3d, or Sunday, September 4th, the opening days of the State Fair.

This meet will be a big gathering of athletes. It was secured through the efforts of H. M. MacGregor, chairman of the association for Northern California. He will go to San Francisco tomorrow to make arrangements for the meet with the head officials of the association.

Fete day at the State Fair will be given over to this athletic feature and aviation meet combined.

THE SACRAMENTO UNION, THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1910.

Big Crowd Attends Athletic Club Evening at the Ringside and Are Pleased With Exhibitions—Erickson and Muskrat Are Again Winners Over Clever Men in Bouts.

By H. R. H. G.

None of the brutality and viciousness common to the prize ring entered into the bouts at the Sacramento Athletic club last night Boxing, with all its sportsmanlike characteristics, characterized the events from beginning to end. There were eight goes on the card and the high standard of exhibition reflects credit upon the club and upon Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman in particular, for a betterlo t of matched boxers have probably never entered a ring in Sacramento. The crowd was large and orderly and Announcer J. M. Inman's appeal for respectable treatment of the boxers was observed throughout the evening, with but one or two instances.

Three of the bouts ended in knockouts, that is near knockouts. No one was knocked cold or injured severely, but according to the rules of the game Goulard, who fought Erickson, Bertagne who faced Amacker, and Smith, who tangledwith Lee Muskrat, have knockouts credited against them.

ACCREDITED KNOCKOUTS

The fourth event between Amacker and Pertagni ended rather sudden. It was a grudge meet and the boys mixed it in a manner that clearly showed there was something more than a medal in it. After lambasting one another about the ring for two minutes they went into a clench. In the break Amacker shot in a short right to the stomach and Bertagni went to the mat groaning and writhing as if a thousand daggers were coursing through his body. He was counted out and Amacker declared the victor. Bertagni declared that he had been fouled, but a majority of ringsiders declared that the blow was legal and so he had to be satisfied with defeat.

Only in one instance was a decision rendered that met with the disapproval of the audience. This was in the Burns vs. Salvadore event and the general opinion was that Salvadore should have had another round. The boys went to it hot foot and honors were pretty well stacked in Salvadore's corner until the third round when Burns (Stockton Athletic club), rallied and banged to the end in a whirwind finish.

Salvadore fought hard and did practically all the forcing. Burns was the cleverest, but not the strongest as the wrestling—there was much of it—clearly showed At the end both were tired and their blows had lost steam. Salvadore should at least have been given another round.

ERICKSON AGAIN.

One Round Joe Erickson, pride of the athletic club, fooled several wise ones last night when he won a decision over Walter Goulard, a butcher boy, in three rounds and a third. Goulard's seconds threw up the sponge in the early part of the fourth when their man was tottering. He had been picked to trim Erickson, but in turn was trimmed himself and very well at that.

Erickson did not put Goulard away in one round, as has been his previous habit, because he was up against a bigger man. The butcher boy was game and clever, but Joe was cleverer and a harder hitter, and he won in every point of the game. In the first round Erickson suddenly shifted with his left and brought over his left on Goulard's jaw. The latter staggered backwards and slipped to his knees. In the second, a right hook sent him sprawling, and Referee Scholenberg leaned over to give him the count, but he came back, but went to his knees again as the gong sounded. In the third he hunted clinches, and fought entirely on the defensive. During the progress of the three rounds he landed several good blows on Erickson, but none of them hurt a great deal. The gong saved him from the count, and. much to the disgust of many, the judges called for another round. This was hardly necessary, as the few minutes of the fourth showed. Erickson's one wish now is to again meet Bob McAllister.

DAY IS SURPRISE.

Day, the Marathoner, a novice with the gloves, surprised his fellow athletes by earning a decision over Wier, a veteran of the ring—so called. Day went into the go at a minute's notice, and, for a green one, showed up in remarkable style. He has a good left, but was weak with the right. A little practice will undoubtedly make a good boxer out of him. Wier boxed a good bout. The boys went four rounds.

Lee Muskrat showed remarkable improvement, and pulled off some new ones on the boys. He used his arms with more ease than before, and won fairly from Smith.

Cowie won a decision over Estol, who took Noble's place. Estol put up a good fight, but he was outclassed. Both boys had shaved their heads, and looked like real fighters when they entered the ring.

Azevedo and Lawrence pummeled each other for three rounds in as unsisterlike a manner as was witnessed during the evening. Both were anxious to win, and Azevedo gained the colors. He was the strongest, though he had to fight for the win.

The Yellow Kid shared honors with Krutosick and Myrick in the fifth event. The Kid was in Myrick's corner, and gained the distinction of an introduction to the crowd by Announcer J. M. Inman (Billy Jordan). The boys went in at 110 pounds, and were so tired at the finish of the second round that the referee called the bout off. Krutosick was given a hairline decision.

The timers were Jim W. Gray and G. W. Surgeson. Judges—O. Heilbron and Arthur Delano. Referees—C. Scholenberg and Frank Mayfield. Announcer, J. M. Inman (Billy Jordan).

LIVELY BOXING BOUTS ARE STAGED BY ATHLETIC CLUB

Burns and Salvadore Put Up Fast Mill—Joe Erickson Adds Another Scalp to His Belt

SAC. BEE. 7-21-10

The popularity of any kind of a boxing bout since Governor Gillett put over a haymaker on the fight game was attested last night at the Sacramento Athletic Club, when fully 400 to 500 members gathered to witness eight amateur bouts that were staged on the regular monthly boxing card prepared by Matchmaker Hoffman. They saw boxing of all kinds and descriptions, but in every event the boys were trying their hardest to win.

By far the best number on the card was the bout between Burns of Stockton and Salvadore of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The boys put up a clever exhibition in the first round, and in the second Salvadore looked to be an easy winner. He punished Burns severely in the clinches and by the time the gong sounded at the end of the second had the Stockton boy groggy and bleeding. Burns got his second wind in the third round and came back strong. He had Salvadore worried, and his showing caused the judges to give him the decision. Both boys were tired at the end of the third and the advantage was so small that they should have been sent over a fourth round.

Erickson Beats Goulard.

Joe Erickson did not live up to his reputation of "One-Round Joe" in his bout with W. Goulard, although he practically put Goulard out in the fourth round. Goulard was a larger man than Erickson and had some cleverness. He gave Erickson about all the trouble Joe could stand in the first two rounds. Joe became somewhat discouraged when he was unable to land on his opponent with a left lead in the early stages. Goulard, however, was in poor physical condition and was about played out in the third round. He was put down for the count of five just as the bell rang. In the fourth round he was all in and his seconds tossed up the sponge. With proper conditioning Goulard would be more than a match for Erickson.

Three bouts on the card were not fought. Billy Gore was unable to go on with Wallace in the special event owing to an injury to his eye. The Red Murray-Precio, Raymond-Hicks and Zipp-Greene bouts were not held.

The first number was between Wier and Day. Day's showing was quite a surprise to his friends and he won the decision through his aggressiveness, the bout going four rounds. Azevedo and Lawrence furnished a lively go at 115 pounds. Azevedo was the stronger of the two and in the third round had Lawrence going.

Muskrat Makes Smith Quit.

Lee Muskrat was too clever for Smith in the third bout and hit the latter so often that he wanted to quit, but did not know how. He tried to go to the mat on the south side of the ring, but, being unsuccessful, ran to his corner, and, emulating the ostrich, who thinks he is hidden because his head is in a hole in the ground, ducked his head to the mat and refused to fight any longer.

Cowie and Estay put up three rounds of lively milling, the former winning at the end of the third. A good part of the audience would liked to have seen the judges call for another round.

Bertagni did not last long with Amacker. In the second round he fell to the floor, claiming a foul. As neither the referee or the judges saw a foul committed Bertagni was counted out.

The tea party between Myrick and Krutosick was a bit too tame for Referee Swollenberg and when Myrick appeared to be too tired to hit back the bout was stopped and the decision given to his opponent.

Arthur Delano and O. Heilbron were the judges; J. M. Inman, the announcer; J. W. Gray and Surgerson, timers; C. Swollenberg and Frank Mayfield, referees.

GOOD BOUTS PUT ON LAST NIGHT BY S.A.C

7-21-10 SAC. STAR.

The large crowd of club members which witnessed the boxing events at the Sacramento Athletic Club last night were not disappointed in the exhibitions which were put on. Each bout showed the care that had been taken in matching the boxers.

Frank Mayfield refereed the first bout, which was between Weir and Day, both of the S. A. C. Day won a four-round decision. It was Day's first appearance and he shows the making of a clever boxer. Jack Burke refereed the balance of the bouts.

Azevedo, who lost a decision to Lawrence last month, evened things up last night by getting the decision. These boys put up one of the best goes of the evening.

Muskrat of the S. A. C. scored a knockdown over Smith of the S. A. C. in the third round. Muskrat easily outclassed his opponent.

Amaker, unattached, floored Bertagni of the S. A. C. in the first round. After they broke from a clinch Amaker slipped in a short uppercut to the body which set Bertagni to gasping and he was counted out.

Taurosik got Myrick's goat in three rounds in which the boys were pretty evenly matched. Both were badly winded and had no steam at the end of three rounds.

Cowie of the S. A. C. and Estae, unattached, looked very much alike in the ring, being of the same build. Cowie won the decision.

The bout between Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club and Salvadore of the S. A. C. was one of the classiest bouts of the evening, Burns getting the decision in three rounds. Salvadore had his man all in when Burns surprised him with a flash of speed that won for him the decision.

The main event of the evening was between Joe Erickson and Walter Goulard, a local boy who stayed for three rounds and in the fourth was all in and his seconds threw up the sponge. In the third round Joe floored Goulard but the gong saved him.

The timers were Jim Gray and G. Surgeson; judges, Arthur Delano and O. Heilbron; referee, Jack Burke and announcer, Jack Inman.

Coast Athletic Meet Assured.

Director MacGregor, Chairman of the Sacramento Commission of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, has secured from the Dawn of Gold Fiesta Committee an appropriation of $500 toward the holding of a great State athletic meet in Sacramento during the State Fair.

Director MacGregor informed the committee of the desire of the Pacific Athletic Association to hold such a meet here, which would be the chief athletic event of the year and bring to the city all the best athletes of the coast. He stated that about $500 would be required to provide trophies for the winners of the several events, and subsequently the committee voted that sum.

Such a meet as that planned by the P. A. A. will be not only the event of the year in athletic circles, but probably the greatest of the kind ever held on the coast. There is little doubt that many State records will be smashed, and Sacramento will get more advertising abroad than could otherwise be obtained by the expenditure of the sum named.

The date for the field day will be either Saturday, September 3d, or Sunday, the 4th. The Sacramento Athletic Club, which represents the Pacific Athletic Association in Northern California, will have the direct management of the meet.

Director MacGregor went to San Francisco this week to take the matter up with the officers of the P. A. A., and immediate steps will be taken to round-up the athletes of the coast for preparation for the big event.

The athlete making the most points at the big meet will receive a cup trophy valued at $150. The medals will be of gold, silver and bronze—the most valuable ever given on the coast.

There will be a meeting of the S. A. C. Directors on Monday next to arrange some of the details of the program.

Athletics Off to Willows.

"Dusty" Clark and his bunch of ball-tossers will journey to Willows on tomorrow morning's train to try and wipe out the old 1 to 0 defeat they suffered some time ago at the hands of the Giants.

A number of new men will be seen in Athletic uniforms on Sunday. They will be a great addition to the team. as they are all good ones. Dunnigan, who played with the St. Mary's second team, will hold down the second bag, and Hausman, former star of the Sacramento High School's championship team, will play third.

Zarick, of the St. Mary's team, will play right field. He is considered one of the best ball-players around the bay, and will be a great addition to the team.

Overhouse, formerly of the Wingards, will be seen in the left garden. He is one of the greatest terrors to local amateur pitchers.

Bill Greenlaw, the University of California Captain and first baseman, will captain the team, which will comprise the following players:

Johnson and Grady, pitchers; [illegible] catcher; Greenlaw, first; Dunnigan, second; Burns, shortstop; Hausman, third; Overhouse, left field; Groshky, center; Zarick, right field; Foy, extra; Russell, scorer, and "Dusty" Clark, Manager and entertainer.

That Gray-Green Match.

The people will get color-blind reading about when that Gray-Green handball championship series is to be held. Commissioner Yoerk has notified both Gray and Green that if they fail to make an appearance by 1-0:30 a. m. July 24, A. D. 1910, the match will be declared forfeited, and the money for the dinner returned. If one of the contestants shows up, and the other fails to make an appearance, the person who is on deck in gym. clothes will dine at his opponent's expense.

An Up-River Outing.

Boating Commissioner J. W. Morsehead has under preparation an up-river trip for the club members. He plans to start in the early evening and row to some point where boat races will be held.

A great deal of rivalry exists between the oarsmen of the club and some spirited races are sure to be held. As yet no definite date has been set for the outing, but more than likely it will be held some time in the latter part of next week.

—o—

One of the largest and most enthusiastic crowds that has yet gathered at the gymnasium witnessed the best boxing card that the club has staged since its reorganization. All the bouts were evenly matched, and the men put up battles royal to show their supremacy.

Announcer Inman started things moving at 8:30 o'clock by making his usual little speech and asking that personal rooting be suppressed, as the boxers were boxing for the club's amusement, as well as their own.

ONLY THREE KNOCKOUTS.

Three men are credited as taking the count—Goulard, who fought Erickson, and Smith, who fought Muskrat. Although they did not actually take the count, they were called out because they were in such a bad state that their seconds threw up the sponge. Bertagni was the only man who was stretched on the floor for ten seconds during the evening's amusement.

ERICKSON WINS MAIN EVENT.

Although Erickson did not put Goulard away in the usual one round, he did not have much trouble with him after the first round. Nearly everyone at the ringside thought, after the first round, that Erickson had tackled a man that was too clever for him, because Goulard showed a great deal of class, as far as cleverness was concerned. In the first round Joe tried everything he had on Goulard, but to no avail, for every time he hit at the butcher-boy he was not there. In the second round Joe found Goulard for a couple of stiff punches, and he weakened considerably before a storm of left and righ hooks to the jaw, and went to his corner in bad shape. During this round Erickson received a bad punch on the nose, which drew the first claret the Swede had ever spilt on the local canvas. The Swede came up the stronger of the two in the third, and began wading in with lefts to the jaw. He put Goulard to his knees three times in this round, and the gong saved Goulard from a knockout.

Erickson had won the bout easily, but the judges disagreed, so another round was started, but Goulard was so weak that Erickson hit him at will, and Goulard's seconds saw that their man was fast going, so they threw up tne sponge.

SPECIAL EVENT OFF.

Much disappointment was shown by the fans when it was announced that the special event between Gore and Wallace was called off until next month. Gore had a piece of glass in his eye, and his doctor would not allow him to go on. Both men were in the best of condition.

NO REFEREE.

Announcer Jack Inman introduced Kid Wier and Marathoner Day as the first number on the program, and said, "Let 'er go!" The two shook hands and had exchanged a few blows when someone shouted, "Where is the referee?" All were so eager to see the boxing match they had forgotten that a referee was necessary. Inman then introduced Frank Mayfield as the referee for the first bout.

NOT A RUNNING RACE.

Day showed by his performance that he was as good a boxer as he is a Marathon runner. Day and Wier were evenly matched, and fought an even fight up to the third round, so another round was called for, and in this Day showed his class by punching Wier at will with left jabs to the face, while Wier swung at the body without effect. Day was given the decision, to the satisfaction of everyone.

AZEVEDO BEATS DEL LAWRENCE.

It took three rounds of fast and furious fighting for Kid Azevedo to show that he had the sign on Del. The go was fast and full of stiff slugging. Both the boys are tough and evidently there is not much love lost between them. Azevedo won on a decision.

SMITH A GAME BOY.

Although Smith did not land more than three or four clean blows in the whole fight, he stayed two rounds, and would have tried to last the third out if his seconds had permitted.

Muskrat again showed that he is the goods. He exhibited a greater variety of punches than any two men on Wednesday night, and illustrated almost every punch known to the fistic game. He did not have any time with Smith and won an easy decision. Smith was clever, but lacked aggressiveness.

BIFF! BING! BANG!

"Ruben" Amacker and Bertagni shook hand and then started to swing, chasing one another around the ring. Then they clinched and exchanged a couple of blows, and Bertagni fell to the floor, rolled over, rubbed his stomach with one hand and held on to the rope with the other, and yelled "Water!" and "Foul!" in the same breath. The referee counted him out.

STOPS BOUT.

Krutosick and Myreick fought for two rounds. Both boys were in, but Krutosick looked a little fresher and finished the stronger, so was given the honors at the end of the second round.

COWIE CELEBRATES HIS RETURN.

The bout between Cowie and Estoe was a good one. The men were very evenly matched, and fought hard all of the time. In the second round each swung and hit simultaneously. Both blows were stiff ones, with the consequence that both men were floored. The oldest of fight followers cannot remember ever seeing such an occurrence.

In the third round Cowie had Estoe almost out, but could not finish him. Cowie received a well-earned decision.

THE SPECIAL EVENT.

Probably the best bout of the evening was between Salvador, S. A. C., and Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club. They boxed three hard rounds. Salvador had the first round, and a shade in the second, but Burns outboxed him in the third, and received the decision.

If another match is granted Salvador will probably have no trouble in disposing of Burns.

Burns was the cleverer of the two, but Salvador has an awful stiff punch. The reason that Salvador lost the decision was probably due to the fact that he wrestled too much in the second round.

—o—

Club Chat.

Everyone was glad to see Cowie back in the ring once more. He has not been boxing for some time and it looked like we would not see him box this time, as Noble did not arrive.

Jack Morsehead has launched his new racing shell, and the christening proved good.

A great many thought Joe was not going to come through, but Joe was there all right.

Tate is playing short-stop for the Galt team. Galt boasts of having one of the best country teams around here.

Day certainly put up a good bout for the first time, and he is the makings of a clever boxer.

Barnes and Rittler are there when it comes to rowing. The way they cut through the water on Sunday was awful.

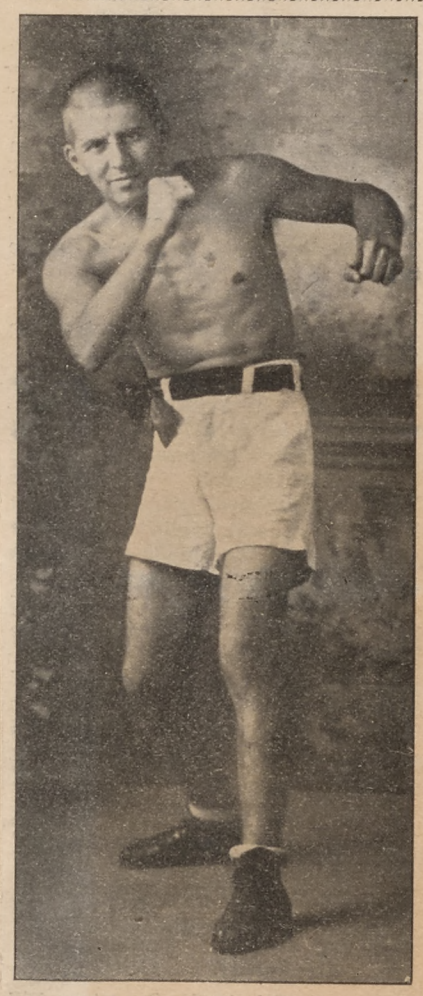
All have to hand it to "Schlitz" Hoffman for the last boxing card. It was the best that has ever been held here. He has set a pace that is hard to beat.

The track team will make a great old try for that big cup at the P. A. A. meet.

Muskrat is there when it comes to the boxing game. He sure is a comer. His rate of improvement is fast. This was his fourth bout, and he can show some of the old boys a few things already.

All of the Gray and Green boys should be on deck Sunday at 10:30 if they want to see a good game of handball.

Jack Inman has Billy Jordan backed off the board, as a boxing announcer.



Fighting Dick Cowie.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman is going away for a two weeks' outing at Echo Lake, and expects to do a great deal of rowing, eating, swimming and resting. When he returns he expects to be in such perfect physical condition that he will challenge any 133-pound man in the State.

Pop Marston's bunch and the Athletics were to have fought it out at McKinley Park on Sunday, but Pop's aggregation failed to materialize, so the game was called off.

Already preparations are being made for another boxing night, and one of the leading features promises to be a much-desired go betwen Gustavus Day and Sandy Eberhardt. Both men are out for the bacon, so the go should be an interesting one. Day is training on the dictionary, and Sandy on his favorite beverage.

Prof. Rittler has received a letter from Bob McAllister, stating that he was very sorry that he could not come to Sacramento to box, as his position would not allow him to be absent for more than a day at a time, so if he was to box Joe Erickson it would have to be in San Francisco or Oakland.

Jack Morsehead and Charlie Wahlander carried off the rowing honors very easily last Sunday. They showed a great deal of skill, and by their superior class show they are the best on the river.

Billy Johnson and wife left last Saturday for the mountains for a two weeks' outing.

The Greeks, captained by Prof. Rittler, won from the Irish, captained by De Rosa, in the last class night volleyball game. Large class nights have been a feature so far, during the summer months.

Anyone who drops around a week before the regular boxing night will be treated to a number of good slambang goes. The boys that are working out indulge in some great bouts to test their powers in punching, as well as endurance.

Hot weather did not keep the people from attending the boxing bouts, and the hot weather does not make much difference to the afternoon gym classes. Come around and see Prof. Rittler on Thursday afternoon, and he will build you up.

Raymond was called away to San Francisco Tuesday evening, so it was impossible for him to meet Hicks. They will probably be matched next month.

As a ring second Sollars is there. He knows the game, and is a great help to young boxers.

Everyone missed Billy Johnson's smiling face behind the club boys, but it was his boxers that felt his absence most, for Billy's advice is always right.

Prof. Rittler received a letter from Prof. Schenck, former Instructor of the club, stating they had just opened their act in Fargo, North Dakota, and had met with a great deal of success.

SAC. WEEKLY. 7-23-10.

Those who attended the boxing night given under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club were delighted with the entertainment. So popular have these short bouts become that the Club management now propose to stage them at least twice a month.

SAC. SUNDAY NEWS

Those who claim to know the inside points on local boxing affairs are laughing at a bunch of down-town sports in connection with the Erickson-Goulard bout. It is claimed that the down-town bunch dug up Goulard, who, it is claimed, has had several professional bouts, with expectation that he would make Erickson look like a bad dream. Goulard was not in the best of condition, but he had all the advantage of weight. He looked a winner for two rounds because Erickson could not land on him. In the third, however, the plucky amateur took the measure of his opponent and laid him on the mat, finishing him in the fourth, to the deep disgust of the sports who had looked for him to bring home the bacon.

JULY. 24-10

Lee Muskrat, that gritty little fighter who is stuck on the game, proved a surprise to his opponent, Smith. In the third round the latter took to the mat and refused to come back for any more punishment. Heretofore Muskrat has always had the wrong end of his battles, because he had to go against heavier boys. The best bout of the evening was between Burns of Stockton and Salvadore. Burns was given the decision, although many thought there should have been an extra round.

MANTELL MATCHED WITH DIXIE KID

Pawtucket Boy Has Secured Match With Clever Colored Fighter.

SAC. UN. — 7-25-10

Frank Mantell, who fought Denver Johnny O'Keefe here a few weeks ago and departed for the East to pick up matches where the iron hand of the law does not lay so heavily, has at last "caught on," and around the 1st of August he will face the Dixie Kid, who has been cleaning things up in the East in a remarkable manner.

The Dixie Kid appeared in San Francisco a year or so ago, and gave a good account of himself. He is recognized as one of the best middleweight colored boxers in the country. Mantell feels that he has a hard fight before him and is endeavoring to get in the best of condition.

Mantell expected to meet Jim Smith, who was knocked out by Stanley Ketchel in New York recently, but Smith injured his arm while sparring, and thus was forced to sidstep for the time being.

S. A. C. OUTLAWS ARE BEATEN BY YOLOS

The Washington-Yolo baseball team defeated the second team of the Sacramento Athletic club Sunday morning at Oak Park 7 to 4. The game was cinched by the Yoloites in the first inning, when they bombarded Marston for five hits and four runs.

The Athletics also scored in the first inning, when Phillips dropped a fly and made a wild throw to third base allowing two runs to score. Both teams played fast ball after the first inning.

NATIONAL BODY INTERESTED IN FAIR FIELD DAY

SAC. BEE. — 7-26-10

Big Athletic Meet for the Coast Teams to Open State Fair

While the Wild West Show of cowboys and champion rideres will be running all week at the State Fair, the Paine's Fireworks will be on every night during the Fair, Charles K. Hamilton, aviator of international reputation, will fly every day, and others will make flights, the first day of the State Fair will be one of the most important, for on Saturday, September 3d, the great field day meet under the auspices of the Pacific Association of Amateur Athletic Union of the United States will be held.

National Athletic Meet.

The athletic meet at the State Fair in Sacramento will be a national event, for negotiations are under way to have the National Association take an interest in it. The Pacific Association officials at San Francisco are now in touch with officials in the East, and expecet the National Association's sanction. That will place the meet on the program of the big events in athletic circles throughout the United States, and will direct attention to the California State Fair on the opening day of the Fair.

Big Features for Fair.

The Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold, to be given in conjunction with the State Fair, is still growing, new sprouts shooting up from the program of features at every meeting of the General Committee. Last night the Committee considered propositions to add biplane flights by local aviators, and flights by a dirigible balloon. If the present plans of the Committee are carried out, a great part of the State Fair entertainment will be held in the air. And so far as the aviation meet is concerned, it bids fair to be a big one, headed by Charles K. Hamilton, manbird of world-wide reputation.

Local Men to Fly.

Sacramento aviators who have never aviated, but who are preparing to make a try at it, appeared last night and asked to be given a chance to show what they can do. They are building a biplane at 520 I Street, and as soon as the engine is installed they promise to demonstrate to the Dawn of Gold Committee that they can fly. "No flights, no money," is the way they put it.

O. T. Jacobson and E. R. Drake, representing the Sacramento Aerial Company, appeared before the Committee and made the proposition. They said that T. A. Miller, an experienced aviator, will operate the machine, which is built on the same lines as that used by Glenn H. Curtiss.

Will Use Dirigible.

Professor L. L. Hill, who has what he claims to be the largest dirigible in the United States, wants to make a flight every other day. He promises to make turns and twists in the air, and says his machine is the greatest thing going. It is built something like the one Count Zeppelin worked in Germany.

But all aviation matters will be left for future consideration awaiting reply from professional aviators in the East. As soon as a contract is closed with Hamilton, the details of providing other aeroplane and dirigible features will be considered.

Stockton in Line.

The Earlstone Lambert Biplane Company of Stockton also wants to get an opportunity to fly at the State Fair. In a communication to the Committee it asks to be considered before the contracts are closed. The Stockton company will undoubtedly be given a chance to show what it can do in the flying business.

The Finance Committee of the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold will get out after pledges to the fund for holding the fiesta in connection with the State Fair. This fund is to be in the nature of a guarantee only, a portion of the Fair proceeds going to pay up the cost of the big amusement features. As has been already announced, $52,000 will be pledged by business, financial and other interests of this city to make the State Fair a success.

ATHLETICS WILL SEEK REVENGE IN WILLOWS

The Athletics will journey to Willows Sunday to meet the Willows Giants of that city. These two teams have met before this season, Willows winning out by a score of 1 to 0. The Athletics have been practicing hard this week and expect to even up matters Sunday.

Lefty Johnson or "Suithall" Grady will be on the mound for the Athletics, while "Stubby" Godt will do the receiving. Manager Deacon will send in Rossier Thode to shoot them over for the Giants, while "Leaguer" French will be behind the bat. The Atuletics' infield will be strengthened with Householder on second. Burns will be sent from third to short, while Housnan will look after the third station. Greenlaw will cover first.

S. A. C. WATERMELON FEED AND ROWING IS FAILURE

SAC. UN. — 7-25-10

The Sacramento Athletic club watermelon feed and rowboat excursion, scheduled for last night, was a fizz, so speaking. There was no watermelon, no crowd, and no rowboats—save two. The Dix and Wiz were the only ones that showed up, and five athletes in all made the trip that was to be a hum-dinger. A conflicting attraction, a trip to the swimming baths, is said by the rowing enthusiasts, to be the cause of the slim attendance at the rowing fiasco.

About forty members of the club—that were to have gone rowing—made the trips to the baths instead. The promoters of boating were greatly disappointed last night, and will probably not endeavor to hold a watermelon feed and rowing outing again this year.

LOCAL RUNNERS TO ENTER DIPSEA RACE

SAC. BEE. — 7-29-10

Long-distance runners in the Sacramento Athletic Club are planning to enter the annual Dipsea race to be held in Mill Valley in September. Stewart, Childs, Sparks and Day have signified their intention of competing. Day and Sparks have been in the race before, Day once finishing seventeenth and Sparks twelfth.

The course leads over rugged country for seven miles and a half. In order to get the hill climbing practice, it has been suggested that the local athletes try running up and down the stairs in the Capitol.

Valuable cups and medals are offered as prizes. Some of these are awarded to those making best time over certain parts of the course which gives many an opportunity to gather laurels.

S.A.C. TO ENTER IN D.PSEA RACE

SAC. UN. — 7-31-10

Sacramento Is to Be Represented for First Time in Famous Cross-Country Run.

For the first time in the history of Sacramento an athletic club of this city will be represented in the famous Dipsea race which will be held two weeks after the State Fair this year in Mill Valley. The Sacramento Athletic club will enter a number of men and Professor Otto Rittler fully expects his men to figure some in the great athletic event.

Stewart, Childs, Sparks and Day have already been signed up and others will be entered later. The men will be trained under rigid rules and a run up the stairs of the Capitol every day or so will undoubtedly put them in shape to run over the hills of Mill Valley. Day finished seventeenth in the race once and Sparks came in twefth upon two occasions. The course is from Mill Valley over the mountains to what is known as Willow Creek, a distance of seven and one-quarter miles.

There are ten prizes offered for the event. Five cups and trophies for those finishing first and still five other time-trophies. Every runner that finishes the course in a certain prescribed time is awarded with a Dipsea bar, a medal that many athletes exhibit with pride. The entry last year numbered 154 of the best long distance men in the West.

It looks a whole lot like Billy Howden of San Francisco will finish first this year. Howden has been near the front every year and with the elimination of last year's winners he has as good a chance as anybody and a much better one than many.

ELK GROVE BOYS DEFEAT ATHLETICS

SAC. BEE. — 8-1-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

ELK GROVE, August 1.—The speedy Sacramento Athletic Club team was defeated yesterday in one of the best games of the season when the local aggregation nosed them out 3 to 2. Harris, who pitched for the home team, won his own game with a nice two-bagger. Barber and Hausman were features in the fielding for the visitors and Clark and Hart with the stick.

Score:	R.	H.	E.

Elk Grove	3	3	3

Batteries—Grady and Godt; Harris and Gibson.

FAIR TRACK MEET TO BE BIG EVENT

SAC. STAR. 7-28-10

The State Fair track and field meet which will be held at Agriculture Park September 3d promises to be one of the largest and best meets ever held here.

The Dawn of Gold committee has appropriated $500 for trophies and medals and a $150 cup will be given to the team making the most number of points.

Last year's championship meet was held at Los Angeles, during the Elks carnival, and the committee in charge of this meet is trying to make it eclipse the one held at Los Angeles.

This meet is the annual P. A. A. meet, but representative of the P. A. A. from the Sacramento Athletic Club, Mr. McGregor, with the assistance of the athletic association, are trying to make it a national event.

Track Captain Charlie Stewart and Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club will endeavor to put the best team out that has ever represented any Sacramento club.

The S. A. C. has had a clean sweep this year, winning three meets and eight cups, and judging from past performances, stand a good chance of taking the coming meet. Already quite a few of the track team have started to get into condition.

THE WEEKLY has a bit of welcome news today for the baseball fans of Sacramento in general, and of the S. A. C. in particular. Through the efforts of Director J. M. Inman the club has secured from Ed. Kripp, owner of the Buffalo Park ball grounds, a five-year's lease thereof for its own use at such times as the local Coast League team plays away from home. It will have full charge of the Park the year round, except under the conditions mentioned.

Director Inman, who has long been closely identified with local baseball interests and is the legal counselor both of the S. A. C. and Manager Graham of the Coast League team, has been working for some time to bring this proposition to a head. The success that has crowned his efforts means a great deal to all lovers of high-class baseball and other branches of athletics.

It means that the Sacramento Athletic Club will place in the field next season a ball team of the best amateur talent that can be developed from among its members. It has a large field from which to recruit a team, and will go outside for talent when necessary. Hence, when the Coast League team is away from home the club team will be seen in action at Buffalo park against the cream of the State amateur teams, which will insure the public high-class contests during the Coast League intervals.

As soon as the present Coast season ends Mr. Kripp will have the park planted to grass, so that by next season it will be the finest ball-ground in the State.

The S. A. C. will also construct a first-class cinder track—or one of perhaps better material—on which to hold track meets. This will insure the holding of frequent athletic contests in Sacramento, something that has not been heretofore possible because of the lack of suitable grounds.

The completion of the deal between the club, owner Kripp and Manager Graham, through the zeal and "get-there" spirit of Director Inman is the most important event in the club's history since its reorganization. It is something, too, in which the sport-loving public is deeply concerned.

A Misunderstanding.

Some time ago an appeal was made to the club members not to lag behind in their dues, as the salaries of the club officials and the general expenses went on just the same in the summer time as during the winter months.

A number of members are of the impression that the word "officials" meant the President, Secretary, Treasurer and other officers of the club, but they are mistaken, as these men, as well a Directors and Commissioners give their valuable time gratis to the interests of the club and welfare. The Instructors the Superintendent and the porter are the only men who receive salaries.

—o—

Athletics Off to Elk Grove.

The Athletics will try their luck with the hard-hitting Elk Grove bunch tomorrow. The Athletics have been playing in hard luck lately but they are due to win, and are going to try hard to shake off the "jinks" that has been following them for the last couple of weeks.

The following men will journey to Elk Grove: Grady, pitcher; Godt, catcher; Greenlaw, first base; Dunnigan, second base; Burns, short stop; Hausman, third base; Overhouse, left field; Fay, center; and Groshky, right field. "Dusty" Clark will accompany the team to see that no one misses the train.

Earl Sparks.

Earl Sparks has, since the organization of the club, been one of its most active and valuable athletes. He was a member of the Olympic Club before the San Francisco fire, but did not do much athletic work at that time. Upon his arrival in Sacramento, however, he became interested in track athletics and has followed them ever since.

Hodson Photo

He was a member of last year's team and never failed to place in a meet throughout the entire season. He has been a valuable man to this year's team and has run the 880, 400 and the 220 yards dash, and has placed in every meet. It is his intention to go to the Dipsea race and enter for the club. In the P. A. A. meet he will show his class as a runner.

—o—

Coast Championship Boxing Here.

It is more than likely that Pacific Coast Championship Boxing tournament will be held in Sacramento this year, and under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

If it is held here it will be pulled off some time next month, and the cleverest boxers of the coast will be seen competing for the championships of their respective classes.

P. A. A. Representative MacGregor and Club Captain Delano are doing all in their power to have the bouts held in Sacramento, and if they are successful local fans will see the best boxing exhibition that has ever been held on the coast, because at the present time most of the classy men are amateurs.

—o—

SAC. WEEKLY. 7-30-10.

Lack of Spirit.

On account of the hot weather, and a lag in club spirit the up river excursion Wednesday night was not the success that Boating Commissioner Morsehead had hoped for.

In the near future another outing will be held, when races will be a leading feature, and it is the desire of the men who give up their time in the planning of these afafirs that the members show a little spirit and make these outings a success by coming along and having a good time with the rest of the bunch.

Better Than the Last.

Impossible! Yet Matchmaker Hoffman says so. How under any reasoning he can figure that the club can stage a better bunch of boxing bouts than the last is difficult to see, for they eclipsed any previous affairs and every man was a top notcher, but "Schlitz" says so and he always speaks the truth. He has the card almost completed and by the looks of things it is not going to be so very slow.

Billy Gore and Wallace are to tangle for sure this time. Gore's eye is well and he intends starting in training soon. They will probably put up as great a bout as has been seen here for some time.

Erickson is the only man unmatched and to match him is about the hardest job that an expert would want. His one ambition it to meet McAllister, but it seems that McAllister's one ambition is just the other way about.

—o—

Athletics Play in Hard Luck.

Some of the Athletics arrived home Sunday, and the rest arrived Monday from a trip that will long be remembered by them.

The baseball game was disastrous to the Athletics' "rep" as they were defeated by the score of 11 to 1, which does not harmonize with the previous score of 1 to 0.

Ten hits were made off of Grady's delivery, and the team assisted him by making ten errors. Greenlaw was the only infield man that showed any class in fielding his position.

Ex-State Leaguer Rube Morton pitched for Willows and allowed but 5 hits in the nine innings of misery. Burns made two hits for the Athletics and the only run was made by Overhouse, who reached second on an error and scored on Housman's two-bagger.

Outside of the game, the boys had a great time and found the people of Willows to be very hospitable. The trip from Marysville to Willows was made in two machines. All of the team enjoyed the sixty mile journey and had a great deal of fun both going and in coming.

When but two miles out of Colusa the machine that Kinky Clark, Speed Marvel Grady, Eddie Foy and Babe Hart were in ran out of gasolene and they were delayed so that they could not make Marysville in time to catch the last train for Sacramento, so they had to stay over night.

Gymnasium Tournament.

Classes have been so large lately that Professor Rittler has decided to hold the gymnasium tournament that was postponed on account of the warm weather. It will be held some time during the early part of next month.

The class nights are Tuesdays and Fridays and as there is a chance to win a medal in the coming gymnasium tournament many are showing up to get in trim.

Everyone who has been coming regularly to the classes has shown a great interest in apparatus work. This is something out of the ordinary, as most people are afraid to risk themselves at trying hard stunts. It will be but a short time until the club will have an apparatus team that will make the spectators sit up and take notice.

—o—

Dick Burr, Collector.

Dick Burr is attending to the collection of dues while Superintendent Galleher is on his vacation. Burr is somewhat handicapped by a lack of wide acquaintance among the members, and the latter are asked to help out as much as they can by calling on him and ponying up, instead of waiting for him to come around.

Because of Galleher's sudden illness, he was unable to make a comprehensive report before being sent away by his physicians. This has caused some little unavoidable confusion and Burr reports that in some cases he has approached members who have already paid up in advance. Happily these members have realized the situation, and have taken no offense.

SAC. WEEKLY. 7-30-10.

Fred Galleher's Illness.

The sudden and serious illness of Superintendent Fred Galleher caused a decided gloom about the club house, when the news became general, but the certainty of his recovery to health in the not distant future, has dispelled the clouds. Galleher has had a big hand in organizing the association and is one of the most popular of its employes.

For several weeks past he has been feeling rather under the weather, but his sudden attack of illness on the evening of the last boxing show, came as a complete surprise. For some time his condition was alarming, but he has sufficiently recovered to undertake a trip to the mountains where he will remain at least a month, for rest and recuperation.

He carries with him the sympathy and best wishes of every member of the club.

—o—

Club in Dipsea Race.

The club will be represented by a large number of long distance runners at the Dipsea race to be held at Mount Hamilton in the latter part of September.

Day, Childs, Stewart and Sparks have all made up their minds to go to San Francisco and enter the race. Day, Stewart and Sparks have all been placed in the Dipsea races before, and Childs has shown up well in long distance running, so Sacramento will be well represented. All the men will be in the best of condition, because they are going to train hard for the coming P. A. A. meet during the Fair time, and as this will be held a week later they will still be right on edge.

Professor Rittler will accompany the club men, and as he has had a wide experience in Dipsea racing and studied the best methods he will be a great help to the runners. He wants a large number of club men to accompany the boys to the Bay. It is his idea to place these men at intervals along the course, and when a Sacramento man makes an appearance to run with him and supply him with water. This plan has won many a Dipsea race for the Acme Club boys of Oakland.

Chat.

Although the Athletics hit the toboggan hard last Sunday, they are not discouraged. They intend to promptly jump off the slide and land in a nice, soft place, where victories are. Meanwhile the club members are loyally supporting the baseball boys and have cut out all "crabbing."

Sandy Eberhart made his appearance at the Club this week with an eye in mourning. He disdainfully declined to go into particulars, but mysteriously hinted at the dreadful condition of the unidentified other fellow.

Who was the joke on when the big machine on that part of the baseball bunch were riding in broke down near Colusa?

Burns thought that collecting for the club was like running a Marathon race, and as leather has gone up he decided to stop working.

Club Captain Delano has offered a club medal for the best all-around showing made at the baths. This not only includes swimming but also diving. Professor Rittler will be the judge, and the swimming night will be held in the near future, so if you are going to compete, better get into shape.

Burns is sure a hitting demon with the willow, but he should have that hole in his glove sewed up.

Basket Ball Activity.

Basket Ball Commissioner Palm is planning to get the prospective basket ball men together some time next week to talk over the chances of another championship team. He also wants to show the boys what a basket ball looks like after being four months in the safe.

The Sacramento Athletic Club's outlook for a team this year is brighter than ever. Many old basket ball men have joined the club and with most all of last year's men back again another championship team looks like a probability.

of. He came here from the Reliance Club of Oakland and was one of their star distance runners, and wrestlers. He now holds the lightweight wrestling championship of Northern California, and will compete for the coast championship this Fall at San Francisco.

Probably he will be one of the chief contenders for the first prize in the coming gymnasium tournament, as he is a gymnast of marked ability.

Russell and O'Connor will be very evenly matched in the coming gym. tournament. Both men are clever in every branch of the work.

Young Tommy Burns of the Stockton A. C. has moved to Sacramento and has joined the club. He will be a great addition to the club's staff of boxers.

George Russell, one of the Reliance Club of Oakland's best apparatus men, has joined the club and is getting into shape for the coming tournament.

Raymond has not yet arrived home from San Francisco, but will be here in time for the next boxing bout.

About fifteen men were swimming Wednesday night. A big bunch is expected next Wednesday, because the exhibition to show who's who will soon be held, and as there is a medal in it, a little practice will be necessary.

Billy Johnson and his wife arrived home from a delightful outing at Richard Springs. Everyone is glad that Billy is again on deck to show the art of self defence.

Where was Heine Goldenfinger when Sandy's eye was being decorated?

The Yolo Giants took a kink out of Pop Marston's hair Sunday, but then he will get them yet if he lives long enough.

SAC. WEEKLY
7-30-10

Over night excursions up the river are getting to be quite a fad especially amongst club members.

Saturday evening Leo O'Connor, Jess Childs, Ralph Paine, James Wheat, Grand Duke, Young Stracken, Dick Cowie, and Salvador left in rowboats for an all night up-river trip. They rowed several miles and camped for the night. Duke was the chef, and his dishes proved disastrous to Stracken, Paine and Wheat, as they returned home a little under the weather. The boys had a good time and a fine outing, which they are going to repeat soon.

Another match between "Sally" Salvador and Young Tommy Burns? What?

For a long while it has been a mystery as to who was the person that was the real instigator of the Gray-Green handball match, which was to have decided the champion of heavy weight. Superintendent Sheridan of the Southern Pacific Company has come forward and confessed that he is the man. The Gray-Green match has caused more talk than any athletic event of the season. When the final game was to be held last Sunday Georgie Green was found to have left on a trip to Reno. So what are you going to do, and who is the best man?

IN order to safeguard all boats against possible collisions at night, the Dolphin and Crescent Rowing Clubs have ordered lights carried on all skiffs. Ordinary lanterns will be hung in the bows of the boats in such way as to show their presence and yet not confuse the crews of boats approaching.

J. Morsehead and Roy Wahlander, who have been trying to work up interest in shell-racing, had their shell in the water last Sunday, but owing to the extreme heat of the preceding week it was found to be not wholly water-tight. It has been undergoing an overhauling during the week, and will be seen shooting through the water tomorrow.

A party composed of J. R. Hughes, Walter Lusk, Felix Nelson and Jack Morsehead on Sunday paid a visit to Treichler's ark up the river. Many others also visited the ark, and all were entertained in a most hospitable manner. It was a most congenial party that spent the day as guests of the Treichler arkhold. Motor-boat and skiff crews passed back and forth between the various house-boats and camps on the river banks, and merry times were enjoyed.

On Saturday night the members of the Crescent and Dolphin Rowing Clubs made their customary weekly trip to their camp up the river, near the Monument, where they spent the night. On Sunday they enjoyed themselves with baseball, rowing, swimming and other pastimes.

The recent regatta managed by the Sacramento Boat Club and the Washington Motor-Boat Club was such a pleasure-giving and successful affair that the members of these clubs are considering the advisability of having frequent regattas, if on a smaller scale, with now and then one similar to the last.

The idea is to have four or five events on an afternoon—say two double-oar and two single-oar races. The rowing spirit is growing, and before the season closes there will probably be many accessions to the ranks of scullers.

Dipsea Race to Be Run September 18th

The sixth annual Dipsea race from Mill Valley to Willow Camp, originally scheduled for Sunday, September 4th, has been postponed two weeks, and will not take place until Sunday, September 18th.

This announcement was made yesterday by T. I. Fitzpatrick, big chief of the famous Dipsea Indians. Owing to the decision of the field day committee of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union to conduct the annual championships at Sacramento on Saturday, September 3d, Fitzpatrick concluded that the athletic enthusiasts would not be able to take advantage of both events.

The following week, September 10th, is the date of the Native Sons' meet at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park, which would not permit of the Dipsea race during that period. The postponement will give the aspirants for honors in the long race additional time for preparation, which will also assure a larger entry list.

The field day will be held either on Saturday, the 3d of September, or on Sunday the 4th, and it will be held under the auspices of the Pacific Association of Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

Championship Competitions.

Teams representing athletic clubs from all over the Coast, and especially the most important clubs in the State of California, will compete for championship honors. One entire afternoon will be devoted to the field day meet and crack athletes will enter for the prizes.

While details of the program or the medals and trophies have not been worked out, it was decided to offer a large, solid silver cup as the trophy for the team winning the most points. Then there will be medals for athletes breaking records.

Will List Big Clubs.

The decision to include the field day feature among the other special events at the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold was taken after details of the proposition had been explained by H. M. MacGregor, Chairman of the Association for Northern California. MacGregor leaves for San Francisco to-day to take up the matter with the head officers of the association, and no time will be lost in getting the clubs into action.

This meet will be the biggest affair of the kind held on the Pacific Coast this year, the officers of the Association announcing that if the meeting is held at the State Fair no effort will be made to hold any other general meet.

Cut Curtiss Strings.

Glenn H. Curtiss has attached strings to his agreement to come to Sacramento and make flights in his aeroplane at the State Fair and the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold. And the Fiesta Committee this morning sent him an answer cutting those strings. Here is the message Edgar Sheehan, Secretary of the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold Committee, received from Jerome Fanciulli, Manager of Aviators Curtiss, Hamilton and Mars:

Wants Substitutes.

"Curtiss only accepts proposition if he is permitted to substitute Hamilton or Mars for $10,000 with racing machine, in event that international meet elimination trial or Court matters require his presence in East. Will go if possible."

Sheehan was directed by the Program Committee to wire a reply informing Curtiss that no further delay in closing up the contract would be tolerated; that a definite answer must be received immediately, and that no substitutes would be allowed. The Committee will take action to secure another aviator if Curtiss does not answer promptly.

There will be aeroplane exhibitions at the State Fair and the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold Committee can secure the services of man-birds of international fame to do the flying.

The citizens of Sacramento are going to spend $52,000 to make the State Fair and the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold to be held at the Fair grounds the biggest thing ever held in the West.

The Sacramento Athletics were defeated by Elk Grove Sunday in a close game, in which the Athletics failed to hit when hits were needed. Grady only allowed three hits, while Harris was touched up for eight hits. Each team made three errors. The score was, Elk Grove 3, S. A. C. 2. The batteries were, Harris and Gibson for Elk Grove, and Grady and Godt for the S. A. C. SAC. STAR.

The S. A. C. Outlaws lost an exciting game yesterday to the Camelia City Camera Club by the score of 8 to 4. Marston was hit very freely. Walthers kept his hits well scattered. Walthers and Pappa composed the battery for the C. C. C. C., and Marston and Folch worked for the Outlaws. 8-2-10

S. A. C. TRYING TO GET BIG BOXING TOURNAMENT

SAC. BEE. 8-2-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club is now endeavoring to bring the big boxing turnament of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union to this city some time next Fall, when a boxing feast, such as never before held in the city, will be given. This event will attract probably as wide attention to Sacramento as an athletic center as the big field and track meet to be held here by the same association on September 3rd.

The annual boxing tournament usually goes to one of the northern cities. Portland and Seattle have figured prominently as tournament headquarters, while San Francisco has been favored. The Sacramento Athletic Club, since becoming part of the P. A. A., is not overlooking any opportunity to get its share of the sports.

These boxing tournaments usually last for three or four days. Each athletic club on the Coast belonging to the association sends its very best amateurs of the respective classes to battle for honors. The various weights are pitted against each other and those who win in the preliminary matches are paired off for the finals. These bouts give all the classes a chance to weed out the defeated ones and let the victors come together to see who is entitled to the highest honors. It is necessary sometimes for the same boxer to mix a couple of bouts an evening in order to go through the mill.

The efforts of the athletic club members are only beginning, but with everybody boosting for the tournament it is likely that Sacramento will be the chosen city.

RITTLER WILL MATCH BOXERS THIS MONTH

SAC BEE, 8-2-10

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club will leave this week for an outing to Echo Lake, to be gone for two weeks, so amateur boxers who want to get on the club's monthly boxing card can make arrangements with Physical Director Rittler at the club rooms.

Hoffman plans to have the bouts held on Friday evening, August 26th. He says he will feel in fine trim when he comes back from the lakes and will match himself to the best amateur in the game.

OLYMPICS TO SEND TWENTY MEN HERE

SAC. BEE. 8-7-10

SAN FRANCISCO, August 5.—Directors of the Olympic Club at their monthly meeting last night decided to send a team of twenty athletes to the Pacific Athletic Association track and field meet, which will be held at Sacramento Saturday, September 3d. With a team of this size the Winged O athletes should undoubtedly sweep everything before them.

No announcement has been made as to who will comprise the team, but the mainstays will undoubtedly be Ralph Rose in the weights, Pete Gerhardt and Ollie Snediger in the sprints, Herbert Cheek and Edward Beeson in the hurdles, Elliott P. Craig in the mile, William Garvin in the two miles, Frank Bressi and Dave Martin in the high jump, Ollie Snediger in the running broad and javelin.

The Directors also decided to send a team to the National championship at New Orleans in October.

The Sacramento Athletic Club is losing no time in getting a team into shape which it expects to use in coming out on top.

S. A. C. GETS LEASE ON BASEBALL GROUNDS

SAC. BEE 1-30-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club has secured a five-year lease on Buffalo Recreation Park which will entitle it to use the ball grounds when the Coast League team is away from home. The contract was signed up through the efforts of Attorney J. M. Inman, who is the Financial Secretary and Treasurer of the club. Inman made the arrangements with Ed Kripp, owner of the grounds. The deal was entirely satisfactory to the Sacramento Coast League Club, of which Inman is also Secretary.

The ground will be planted to grass this Fall by Kripp, and next season the diamond will be one of the best in the West. The Athletic Club will have a cinder track circling the grounds, and will plan for other field and track conditions that will not interfere with the baseball diamond.

By having these grounds the club will be in a better position to invite other athletic organizations to this city for fast field and track meets.

ATHLETICS TO ENTER FAIR WHEEL RACE

SAC. STAR 8/3/10

The Sacramento Athletic Club is organizing a bicycle team which will race in the track and field meet held during the State Fair.

This race will be one of the features of the meet, and it is given for the purpose of reviving interest in bicycle races. All local talent are invited to participate in this race. De Panga will ride under the S. A. C., and as there is quite a lot of available material already signed up, the prospects for turning out a fast team are good.

Special railroad rates will be arranged for all athletes who desire to make the trip to Sacramento on the occasion of the championships.

S. A. C. BOXING BOUTS TO BE KEENLY CONTESTED

Although the members of the Sacramento Athletic club have witnessed some interesting boxing at the recent tournaments of the club, the exhibitions to be given during the latter part of the month promise to be the best yet staged. At the present time there are about fifteen ambitious youngsters in training and all anxious for the tap of the gong. Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman is away on a vacation trip and will not match the boys until his return. Before leaving, Hoffman made a brace of matches which will interest the club members. Billy Gore will meet Young Wallace and Joe Erickson will hook up with McAllister Several months ago McAllister, who is from Oakland, got a decision over Erickson, and the fans are more than anxious to see these boys box again. Among the boys who are training and shape up well are Salvatore, Muskrat, Bertagni, Graham and Sollars.

ATHLETICS WIN FROM WOODBRIDGE, 13 TO 5

SAC. BEE. 8-8-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club boys broke their losing streak Sunday by defeating the fast Woodbridge Greens by the score of 13 to 5. Although the score was large the game was interesting from start to finish. Many clever plays were pulled off. The one hand stab by Yellar Burns of the Athletics, when the bases were loaded in the sixth inning was easily one of the features of the game. Kinky Clark was the star hitter of the day, gleaning three healthy bingles out of four times at bat. Speed Grady of the Athletics pitched good ball, allowing but five scattered hits. For Woodbridge De Pauli, formerly of the Oakland Staters, and Garrison played brilliant ball. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Athletics	13	12	5
Woodbridge	5	5	6

BIG CIRCUS ACT AT THE WAUKEGAN

THE DAILY NEWS.

Schenk Family With Six People Is One of the Greatest Acrobatic Acts That Ever Visited This City

8-2-10

Very seldom does vaudeville see an acrobatic act of six people, for the large tented organizations import such acts and pay them fabulous salaries. WAUKEGAN

The new Waukegan theater is able to present, these three days, the famous Schenk family, mother and five sons, direct from their great eastern success, and the act will no doubt be the cause of much talk before this day is entirely over.

The management desired to retain the act for all week, but found it impossible. ILL.

The Schenks occupy the stage but ten minutes each performance and are the liveliest sextette of tumblers in that short time that one is able to see anywhere in the world. The act was imported by the Wallace circus at a thousand dollars per week salary; the troupe, however, found that they could secure work winter and summer in vaudeville and asked to be released from circus life. The act is booked up solid for three years in America, when they will have enough money to retire in the old vaterland. Other acts, pictures, and songs will be seen for the three days. The Rathskeller trio, funniest three boys in vaudeville, will be the stellar acts on Thursday for four days. According to the Milwaukee papers, the act is a scream from beginning to end and the cartoonists of the Cream City dailies have depicted the trio in many ludicrous positions, singing, dancing and at the piano. Souvenir silver tea spoons are to be presented to each lady attending the Thursday matinee. Seats can be ordered over the telephone for the first evening performance.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN NEW ORLEANS

Clubmen Will Also Have Team at Sacramento for P. A. Games, September 3d.

S.F. CHRONICLE. 8-5-10.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The Olympic Club will be represented at the Pacific Association track and field championships to be held at Sacramento on Saturday, September 3d, and at the national championships to be held at New Orleans on October 14th and 15th. At a meeting of the board of directors held on Wednesday evening, on the recommendation of the athletic commitee it was decided to enter both events. Twenty members of the track team will aspire for honors in the games at Sacramento, the names of the competitors to be announced later. The team to go to the Amateur Athletic Union games at New Orleans will consist of ten athletes, the selection to be made after the field day of September 10th, which will take place at the stadium in Golden Gate Park under the auspices of the Native Sons.

In the hurdle events, the team will be particularly strong, with Herbert Cheek, Edward Beeson and James Donahue. Donahue, who has recently joined the ranks of the club, is already a junior champion. Beeson has improved rapidly since he has competed for the club.

In addition to the star hurdlers, Olie Snedigar, who holds the American record in the javelin, will probably show his skill in the big meet. Snedigar has not yet announced his intention of making the trip, but will do so if he can arrange to leave here at that time. Lee Scot, holder of the world's record in the pole vault, who attended Stanford last year, will be with the club team, as will Ralph Rose, Edward Macauley, Al Plaw and Will Garvin.

The squad which will compete at Sacramento will be made known after the dual meet with the Pastime Athletic Club on Sunday, August 21st. This set of games is scheduled to take place on the Presidio athletic grounds, and promises to prove an interesting programme of sport. The recently organized Pastime Club is anxious to win from the Olympic team, and in view of the victory over the Irish-American team last Sunday, the Pastime boys feel equal to the task. Harold Maundrell, the Winged "O" runner, who has been enjoying a long rest, will reappear on this occasion. Maundrell will enter the half-mile.

Club Buttons Arrive.

Director J. M. Inman received a large consignment of club buttons this week and they can be obtained from Professor Rittler for 75 cents apiece.

Every member of the club is asked to show his spirit and wear a club emblem.

—o—

Locker Rents Are Due.

Those members who have not paid up their locker rent for the coming year are to be dealt with sternly—that is, if they value their gym. outfit. The rents must be paid, or the contents of the lockers whose owners are in arrears will be taken out and stored in the attic at the owner's risk.

The locker rent can be paid at any time, as there is always an official in the office.

—o—

Trouble Makers at Work

For the past two weeks some unidentified club members have been careless around the building, cutting the wood work and marking the scrap book in which are kept all of the newspaper clippings and pictures concerning the club.

Professor Rittler has taken great pride in the appearance of this book and it is due largely to his energetic work that a correct file is kept, and when an idle meddler comes along and ornaments the athletes' faces with whiskers and moustaches and writes in the book, he gets pretty angry. If the trouble makers want to continue to be members of the club, they had best mend their ways.

—o—

Basketball Material.

Twenty men responded to Basketball Commissioner Palm's signal for limbering up practice last Monday night.

A good many of last year's men showed up and besides the veterans there were several new men, who are going to make warm basketball players next winter.

Probably in the history of any athletic club the outlook for championship basketball teams in the different weight classes has never looked as favorable as it does at the present time in the case of the S. A. C.

In addition to all of the last year's men who are again going to play this season, there are some good college basketball men and former high school men, who intend to try out for a berth in one of the club's teams. Several have moved here during the year, and were members of other clubs. They will make the vets hustle.

Professor Rittler intends this year to put out four teams, weighing 120 pounds, 130 pounds, 140 pounds, and a heavyweight team, whose weight will be unlimited.

Last year there were but two teams, a lightweight and a heavyweight.

For the 145-pound team such men as Hart, former U. C. basketball captain; Shaw and Elliott of last year's championship heavyweight team, Donald and Doc. Hart of last year's Loyal Sons' team, and Oscar Amick, who captained last year's high school team, have signified their desire to get in condition and try for the P. A. A. championship.

Every member of the club who wants to try out for a team should get in the game now, and not hold back because he thinks the other fellow has the start on him. Because basketball is a game in which the secret of success is practice, and some of the best men in the game are made in a season.

The next "warming up" will be held in the basketball court on August 15, and all the new men, as well as the "vets," are asked to be around and get into the game.

—o—

Meet Arousing Much Interest.

Now that Sacramento has been chosen as the place where the P. A. A. will hold its big field meet, and the State Fair Committee has appropriated $500, Commissioner MacGregor is having his hands full answering letters from men who wish to enter the races, and others who wish to become members of the P. A. A.

MacGregor has partly decided on a design of medals that will surpass anything that has ever been presented to athletes on the Coast. The design is taken from a medal he won when he broke the record for the hundred yard dash in competition at the Pacific Northwestern meet.

The medals will be alike in design, but there will be a gold medal for first place, a silver medal for second, and a bronze medal for third.

The medal hangs on two bars, on the first of which is to be engraved the name of the event, and on the second the name of the winner.

Club members who are in the jewelry business are invited to confer with Mr. MacGregor. These medals will be the best yet, and along with the beautiful $150 cup that is to be given to the winning team, will offer a big inducement to Coast athletes.

Track Men Start To Train.

Most all of the track men have started light training, and by the looks of things the club will figure pretty strong when it comes to putting up a fight for the first place in the P. A. A. meet.

Word comes from Marysville that Gates is running the half mile under 2 minutes, and as the meet is quite distance off he has a great deal of time to get into better condition.

Louis Day will start in to train in a few days, and Sparks and Holt are fast rounding into condition. Stewart leaves for the coast next week, where he will do light training, and Dickson will start work the first of next week. With all of these men in good condition there will surely be something doing.

—o—

To Mix With Beer Tossers.

Tomorrow morning Pop Marston is going to take his Outlaws for a car ride to Oak Park, where he expects to bottle up the Bohemians.

He has a nice bunch of children this trip and they look like winners.

The Bohemians have a speedy team, but Pop's crowd is hoping to do many things to them. The Outlaws will line up as follows: Holten, first base; Berges, second base; McNeeley, shortstop; Burns, third base; Folk, left field; Sprague, center field; Gill, right field; Marston, pitcher, and Paine, catcher.

—o—

Boxing Night Settled.

The next regular boxing night will be Friday, the 26th. Almost all of the members will have then returned from their vacations and a record crowd will undoubtedly witness the bouts.

Matchmaker Hoffman is still keeping the wires between Sacramento and the Olympic Club busy trying to land McAllister, but Mac does not seem to want to be landed. Joe is willing, but McAllister will not.

The coming card will be one of the best cards the club has ever offered. Some of the fastest men who have ever been seen here will be in action on the 26th.

—o—

Track Captain Stewart.

Track Captain Stewart is one of the club's most valuable men. He has already led his team to victory three times this year.

He is entered in the Dipsea meet and as he was a great ten-mile runner before he came to Sacramento, everyone expects that he will make the best of them hustle. The next two weeks he will put in training at Santa Cruz and he expects the sea breezes to put him right.

—o—

Catcher Godt of the Athletics.

Les. Godt, the Athletic's speedy catcher, has had a great deal of experience. He started in his baseball career when he was a member of the Sacramento High School, and caught for them when they won the Sacramento Valley championship in 1907. Last year he managed the speedy Pioneer Fruit Company's team. He has always shown his class with the stick and has proved himself to be a valuable man to the club team.

—o—

Swimming Exhibition Wednesday.

Next Wednesday evening a swimming exhibition will be held at the Sacramento Swimming Baths.. The man who does the best all-round work will be presented with a medal by Club Captain Delano.

A large number have already signed up for the exhibition, and a club swimming team is probably not very far off.

Every Wednesday night many club men are seen at the Baths, and as the season advances it is hoped that all the members will get the Wednesday night habit.

The events that the men will have to compete in to qualify for a showing next Wednesday are diving, fetching, and a race the length of the tank. Professor Rittler will be the starter, and will also judge who does the best all-round work.

—o—

Athletics Again Taste Defeat.

The Athletics were defeated last Sunday by the Elk Grove team by the score of 3 to 2. Grady's pitching was the feature of the game. He allowed but three hits, while the Athletics touched up Elk Grove for seven, but they could not win even at that. The umpire was a wonder, and it was due principally to him that the Athletics lost.

Babe Hart, Clark, Hausman, and Godt all hit the ball at a lively clip.

—o—

Chat.

Robert Howden, the Marathon man of the Acme Athletic Club, dropped in to see his old friends when he was passing through here on his way to Oakland. Both he and his brother Will are entered in the coming Dipsea race. His brother started training some time ago, and has already been over the course a number of times.

Cap. Stewart is going to Santa Cruz next week where he expects to put himself in condition for the coming State Fair meet. His chances for training are good, for "Schlitz" is a scarce article there.

Prof. Rittler has thought of a good way to train his men for the steep hill in the coming Dipsea race. He is going to take those who are training for it to the Capitol and have them run up to the Dome two or three times a day, thereby putting their climbing muscles in good shape.

Gee! but it seems good to hear the fellows talking about basket ball once more.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen: A handsome man, who disappeared from the club rooms shortly after last Sunday's baseball game. He is known by many as "Pop" Marston, is a baseball man, and it is feared that he might have jumped into the big brush, or that Dusty Clark may have him in hiding so that when he takes his near lightning aggregation into the woods again he will spring a surprise on the rubes and bring back a few scalps.

Grady pitched great ball Sunday, but the luck is sure against the bunch. Dusty ought to get busy and find the jinks.

If Professor Rittler can carry out the plans he has under way the club will be represented in the A. A. U. meet at New Orleans this year, provided the club's team makes a good showing at the Fair meet. He will enter them in the junior championship division. This will not place them in competition with such men as Ralph Rose, Pete Gerhardt, of the Olympic Club, who has won more one hundred yard dashes than any other man on the Coast; and Donohue, the latest addition to the Olympic Club, one of the best high hurdlers on the Coast, but will give them a chance with men who are their equals. Get busy, track men, while you have the chance. Sacramento can put out as good track men as any other city, and as the climatic conditions are better here for training than at the Bay cities, there is no reason for not putting out a championship team.

As yet there is no arrangement for bicycle racing during the State Fair, but Commissioner MacGregor is hard at work trying to start something.

McNeeley of the Outlaws received a bad cut from a freak bounce of a speedy ball in last Sunday's game, and showed extreme gameness by insisting upon staying in the game until the end.

Dick Burr will leave for college on the 15th of this month. He has been doing great work as collector, and the directors, as well as his friends, hate to see him leave.

Oh, you Twenty-sixth!

Punk Thilen and Kelley of necktie fame, have challenged Prof. Rittler and Gray to a limberger match for the near gold limberger cup now held by Rittler, Galleher and Gray.

The directors will hold their regular meeting Monday night. A good many important things are going to be discussed.

Club Captain Delano has under advisement a proposition by which the Athletics will become a member of the Tokay League. The teams now in this league are Lodi, Stockton and Elk Grove.

Already communications have been received from the Olympic Club, Stanford, and California, stating that they will send men to compete in the coming State Fair meet.

E. Horton, a new member, will be a strong contender in the all-around swimming contest to be held next Wednesday night.

The Outlaws went down to defeat before the fast Camellia City Camera Club last Sunday, to the tune of 8 to 4.

Phil Knight, whether asleep or playing cards, says, "Going up, sir?"

The Club was represented in Marysville last Sunday by Dick Shoemake, but he did not go there to compete.

The directors had a successful meeting last Wednesday night. They looked over a number of bills and everything looks good for a prosperous year.

SOME ROWBOAT-OLOGY.

These warm evenings offer ideal opportunities for several hours of keen enjoyment on the river. A lunch, or watermelon, and several congenial friends stowed away in a rowboat is just about the right thing, and with reasonable care no danger need be feared.

This rowing craze is growing with leaps and bounds. In the past four or five years pleasure rowing on the Sacramento River has developed from not more than twenty boats to several hundred. Renting a boat is the first stage, renting one oftener the second, and owning and practically living in one the third stage. It lures nearly all who have a taste of it.

Don't go out on the river at night, particularly when it is not moonlight, without a light of some sort. This precaution should be observed by all occupants of row boats, as well as of motor-boats, as the extent of the sandbars in several instances forces all boats into a common channel, but when lights are carried the risk is reduced to the minimum.

Lights on rowboats need not be placed upon the bows, where the rays will reflect in the eyes of the rower, thus obstructing his view, but down in the bow of the boat, a reflection without the light itself exposed being sufficient to be seen by others, which is the real essential.

Next season will no doubt see several new racing shells in singles, doubles and fouroared boats, and Stockton enthusiasts may have an opportunity of testing their ability against Sacramento oarsmen, as rumor has it they are eager to do.

Wouldn't there be some crowd gather on that bridge and the banks of the old Sacramento to see an eight-oared barge race with Stockton, the Olympia Club of San Francisco, Berkeley, Stanford and Sacramento competing for laurels? Such a situation is quite probable, even in the near future, as rowing conditions are now shaping themselves.

"It's beginning to look like old times, again," says Romeo Barry, one of the greatest oarsmen and enthusiasts that these parts over had. Romeo was standing on the bridge last Sunday morning when about a dozen skiffs were carrying as many merry parties up the river for a day's outing.

What you boating fans should do is to get a few shells and have some races pulled off, and then the people of this neck of the woods will see some real river sport in the speed possibilities of these little boats.

The Dolphins have a big Sunday picnic planned for the near future, where their wives—and perhaps will-be's—are to be on the job.

Don't be afraid of the river. Before starting see that your oars and oarlocks are in good shape and your boat not leaking, and with a little care, and no carelessness, you will be quite safe and will enjoy your trip.

Select the upper river for your rows, as every condition in rowing favors this section, particularly at the present stage of the water.

Many take sufficient provisions to stay all night Saturday and all of Sunday camping, fishing and swimming, and it's a splendid short outing.

Keep close to the Yolo shore whenever possible. The current is not only not so strong, thus making rowing easier, but rowboats are out of the path of motor-boats. This should be observed coming down stream as well.

Don't put too heavy a load in a rowboat until thoroughly efficient with the oars, as the heavier the load the harder the boat is to control. Practice steering, as well as rowing. It's equally necessary, and the method is simple.

Rowing is splendid exercise. It develops both the chest and back and leg muscles, as well as a ravenous appetite, and when followed with any degree of faithfulness will not only materially aid one's physical condition, but will afford a fund of keen enjoyment.

RITTLER RUSTLES

HAS LOTS OF CONFIDENCE IN HIS YOUNG ATHLETES WINNING HONORS.

SAC. SUNDAY

WILL PIT THEM AGAINST THE BEST OPPONENTS ON THE COAST.

NEWS. 8-7-10

CLAIMS THEY WILL SHOW IN BIG ATHLETIC MEET DURING THE STATE FAIR.

The best investment that the Sacramento Athletic Club ever made was the retaining of the services of Prof. Rittler, as under his efficient instruction a class of youthful athletes are being brought forward who are earning honors for the institution and whose success notify the athletic world that Sacramento is on the map. The past year the track team won honors in every event it has entered and has added materially to the handsome collection of cups in the cabinets of the club.

While many of the older members of the club are of the opinion that it will be useless to enter a team in the P. A. N. A. meet to be held during the coming State Fair, owing to the fact, that the boys will be obliged to compete against the athletes of the leading clubs of the State who have been in training for years, Prof. Rittler has so much faith in his lads that he will not only enter them, but claims that they have more than a fair chance to capture the $100 cup that will be presented to the team making the best score, despite the fact they will have to go up against the flower of the Olympic, Acme, Pastimes, Western, Mount Talmapas, Reliance and other club athletes.

In consequence he has started his lads training for the five mile, the mile, the half mile races and the various dashes, jumps and like events that will be on the program and is claiming that if they are beaten, their opponents will know that they have had competition.

He will also enter a team for the first time, in the Annual Depsea races at the Bay. A race that tries out the endurance of athletes, more than any other event of the year. Starting from Mills Valley the lads have to run up and down hill to the sea, a distance of seven and a quarter miles. For this event he will enter Stewart, Childs, Day, and Sparks. Two of these have made the race before and are familiar with the route.

Present indications are that there will be a material change in the standing of the handball players before the fall play begins. So many of the new beginners at this grand sport are showing good form that the older players will have to extend themselves to hold their own. Those showing marked improvement are H. Bronson, W. Pugh, E. Donnell, Hank Theilan, R. Mansfield, L. Day, H. Holton, H. Russell and there are others. This feature of the club is under the leadership of George Yoerk who will divide the players into three classes A, B and C for the fall tournaments and will develop them as rapidly as possible. Trainer & Blake are still the champion players but there are several of the younger men who will give them a close rub for honors and who are rapidly improving at the game.

Prof. Rittler is busy at work completing another boxing card that will be presented about the 26th of August. This promises to be one of the best exhibitions that has been given under the auspices of the club. Interest in this branch of athletes is rapidly increasing and new timber is constantly developing.

The business class is becoming more and more popular and it is a common thing to find thirty or more of the leading businessmen of the city performing their work under the personal supervision of Prof. Rittler. It means a new lease of life to enter under his instruction, a building up of the muscles and the tissues of the body that can be obtained in no other manner. In consequence it is a feature of the club work that should be taken advantage of by every businessman who is paying his dues and has his name on the club roister.

SAC. WEEKLY 8-6-10.

ATHLETICS TO MEET WOODBRIDGE CRACKS

SAC. UNION 8-9-10

The Athletics and Woodbridge teams wil meet Sunday on the latter's diamond. The Woodbridge team has been playing good ball of late, but the Athletics are determined to come out on top. Grady, who held the hard-hitting Elk Grove bunch to three hits, will serve the benders, while he will be opposed by Lefty Covell. The Athletics have been playing in hard luck of late, losing their games by close scores, but expect to lose the "jinks" today and bring home the bacon.

A few new faces will be seen in the Athletic's club line-up. Burns, formerly of the Crown Flours, and Barbour, who has been playing with the Wingards, will be on the job. Greenlaw will hold down first; Barbour, second; Yellar Burns, short; and Hausman at third. Overhouse, Kinke Clark and Babe Hart will take care of the high ones out in the outfield. Bigle Foy will do the utility stunt.

SWIMMING RACES WEDNESDAY NIGHT

SAC. BEE, 8-8-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will hold swimming races at the Sacramento Baths next Wednesday evening. One of the events will be a swimming contest for a number of ducks to be loosed upon the tank. Whoever catches a duck keeps it. Another stunt will be that of walking the length of a greased pole to be extended along the surface of the water. The first to make his way to the end of it will win the prize of a season ticket. The other events will be a fifty-yard dash, fancy diving and swimming under water. The one who makes most points in all three of these events will receive a medal.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS GOOD AQUATIC EVENTS

SAC. STAR, 8-10-10.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in nearly every branch of athletics at the Sacramento Athletic Club. During the hot weather aquatic sports are foremost in favor.

Commencing with Wednesday night the athletic club will give a series of exhibitions. These will be for club members and their friends. Captain Delano and Director Rittler have arranged an interesting program for the coming Wednesday.

A new feature will be introduced. This will be known as a duck race. Ducks will be placed in the water and the swimmers will try and catch them. Every swimmer catching a duck will be given the bird. Watch the feathers fly.

The management of the baths will present a season ticket to any one who can walk the greased pole and take the American flag off the end. This stunt gives promise of being a fun producer.

An interesting series of races has been arranged for the week following. Medals will be presented to the persons making the most points in the races for that evening. A blindfolded race and an obstacle race will be features of the evening.

Among the track athletes every one is busy preparing for the big state fair meet. The Sacramento Athletic Club will enter a strong team. Those that can make a good showing will be given a change to enter for the Panama Exposition meet. These athletes will be entered in the junior try-outs. They will not be pitted against men like Ralph Rose and other champions, but will be given an even break in the junior entries.

Handball, basketball, rowing, bicycling, and many other branches are all well patronized.

GREAT WATER SPORT

8-10-10 STAR, SAC.

The officials for the aquatic sports tonight at the Sacramento Swimming Baths on Riverside road, were announced today by Physical Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Adjectives fail to depict the sport that will be had tonight. There will be enough compressed in one evening to talk about for days.

Following are the officials: A. J. Delano, referee; J. M. Inman, announcer; J. Morshead, E. Traxler and J. Gray, judges; J. Shanahan, starter; L. Palm, J. Prixley and J. McGregor, timers.

The sports commence at 8 o'clock. One of the funniest sights will be that of competitors trying to walk the greased pole. A pole will extend out fifteen feet over the water and four feet above it. The man who walks to the end will get a season ticket for the baths.

Then the duck race will be a hummer. Those who catch the ducks will be permitted to keep them. There will be swimming races, fancy diving and pyramid building by club members. As the grand finale there will be a fire dive by J. Beardsly.

S.A.C. NEXT CARD

SAC. STAR 8-11-10

Director Rittler has arranged what appears to be a very attractive card for the regular Sacramento Athletic Club boxing show. Some of the club's best boxers will be seen in action on the 26th of this month. The following have been matched up to date:

W. Gore and B. Wallace, 133 pounds.

Cowie and U. Noble (Acme Club, Oakland), 125 pounds.

C. Burns (Stockton) and Salvador, 124 pounds.

L. Muskrat and Estic, 120 pounds.

Amacker and Bertogni, 117 pounds.

Raymond and Hicks, 150 pounds.

Azevedo and Walters (Oakland).

Eames and Shrek, 150 pounds.

These matches should prove good ones. Nearly all of the boys are experienced scrappers, and should put up rattling good contests. Gore and Wallace are slated for the main event of the evening. Burns and Salvador are carded as a special event. This is the fourth time these two have met. The honors are a shade in Burns' favor.

Cowie states that it will be different at the end of their next meeting.

There are several of the club's boxers yet to be matched. Among them are Smith, Errickson, Goulard, Weir, Sellars and Hoffman. The club is anxious to get a match for Hoffman and Sellars. These are two clever 133-pound men. Any amateur wishing to be given a trial should report to Director Rittler at the club rooms.

MANY ENTERTAINED BY WATER SPORTS

The Sacramento Athletic Club held a unique entertainment at the swimming baths last night. Various aquatic contests were held, and a large crowd enjoyed the fun. Some of the contests were laugh-provoking, while others were serious efforts to complete in water events.

R. Beardslee gave a fire dive, which was the feature of the evening. Following were the winners of the events:

Fancy diving, Charles Wahlander, first; E. Hicks, second, and C. Slosser, third. Barrel contest, Oley Erickson, first; E. Hicks, second. Duck chasing contest won by Charley Lauser and Jim Beatty. Forty-yard race: First, Charley Wahlander; second, Dick Cowie; third, E. Hicks. Blindfolded race: First, Charley Luke; second, R. Beardslee.

Sacramento Club Planning for Track Meet and Weekly Swimming Races.

Track and swimming enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athletic club are busy making preparations for the events of the next few weeks. The track athletes are centering their attention on the coast meet of the Pacific Athletic association, which will be held at the Agricultural park grounds September 3d, and the committees in charge of the swimming activities of the club are working to assure the success of the weekly swimming races which open under the auspices of the club at the swimming baths tomorrow night.

Upwards of 150 athletes from the universities and all of the athletic clubs of the coast are expected to be on hand here for the athletic meet under the auspices of the Pacific association, and the local athletes are planning to prove themselves worthy hosts.

The coast meet will have added interest because of the fact that the men who make the best showing will undoubtedly be picked to compete in the national meet which will be held in New Orleans some time during the month of October.

From fifteen to twenty-five members of the Sacramento club will compete in the September meet. Tryouts to determine the local entries will be held during the next few weeks, although the final selection of the local competitors will be subject to the decision of Track Captain Charles Stewart.

The series of weekly swimming races which opens tomorrow night is also attracting considerable attention among the members and friends of the local club. These events will be held every Wednesday night at the swimming baths, and special feature programs will be prepared for each week.

Among the features for tomorrow night's program will be an exhibition of diving through fire by Ray Beardsley, a greased pole contest, duck-catching contests and special swimming races.

The special races will be a fifty-yard dash, swimming under water and a fancy diving contest. The contestant making the best score in these three events will be awarded a special medal by the club.

The greased pole contest also promises to afford considerable amusement. The pole will be fifteen feet in length and will be extended four feet over the water. At the end will be an American flag, and the first contestant to walk the pole and return with the flag will be awarded a season ticket to the baths.

Boy Whose Pitching Is Fast Bringing Him Into the Limelight.

Who has the fastest team in Sacramento?

Here is a question that fans and players alike argue about just as sure as the season rolls around, and there never seems to be any way of settling the question other than the teams playing it out and deciding the question on merit.

A few weeks ago one of the fastest games seen on local grounds was played between the Brooke Realties and the Wiley B. Allens, the Boosters winning by a 3 to 2 score.

Next Sunday the classy Wingards, recognized as being one of the fastest teams in the state, will oppose the Brookes on the Oak Park diamond, and so confident are they that the Boosters will be forced to take the little end of the score that they are betting their gloves and shoes on the result.

In Buckingham the Wingards have a southpaw twirler who is said to be a second Byram, the Grass Valley phenom, and his work will be watched with interest. Buckingham is a big fellow with a world of speed, a complete assortment of curves, and good control, and his large string of victories over the leading teams is the best proof of his ability.

OFFICIALS CHOSEN FOR P. A. A. MEET

SAC. BEE, 8-10-10

Officials to be in charge of the Pacific Athletic Association's field day championship meet at Agricultural Park on September 3d were named yesterday afternoon at San Francisco by the Committee of the Association which is in charge of the meet. It was also decided to send Walter Christie here next week to oversee and survey the track, for the purpose of having it properly fitted for the championship events.

Fred W. Koch, the veteran University of California athlete, now a teacher at Lowell High School, was selected as referee; George James, of the Olympic Club, starter; Walter Christie, of the University of California, and Charles Minto, of the Pastime Athletic Club, head timers; Major Sidney S. Peixotto judge of finish; Robert W. Dodd, of Cogswell School, head field judge; Joseph R. Hickey, clerk of track events; Frank Boek, of Oakland High School, clerk of field events.

Entry blanks are being distributed and the list closes on Saturday, August 27th, at 158 Geary Street, San Francisco.

Prizes consisting of gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded in all events for first, second and third prizes. More than $500 subscribed by the citizens of Sacramento will be expended in the purchase of these medals, which is a guarantee that artistic designs will be offered for this purpose. A silk banner, to cost not less than $100, will be awarded to the winning team.

GOOD CARD BEING PREPARED FOR S. A. C. BOUTS

SAC. BEE. 8-11-10

Otto Ritter, Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, is matching up a good bunch of three-round bouts for the monthly boxing card of the Sacramento Athletic Club, to be held on Friday evening, August 26th.

Eight matches have been completed, but a couple more will be arranged before the night of the entertainment. Several good ones are still unmatched, says Rittler, and will give any amateur boxers a good opportunity to break into the game. The unmatched are: Smith, 115 pounds; Weir, 132; Sallors, 130; Erickson, 145; Goulard, 145, and Hoffman, 133.

Ancil Hoffman, Boxing Commissioner of the Club, will be back soon from an outing to the lakes and says he will be in fine condition to take on the best of them.

Goulard and Kid Seiner are anxious for a match with Joe Erickson. He has defeated both of them and says now that he will box the winner, should they fight it out among themselves.

The bouts arranged to date and the weights of the boxers are as follows: Gore vs. Wallace, 133; Cowie vs. Noble, 125 (Noble is from the Acme Club, Oakland, and beat Martinez here in four rounds a few months ago); Burns vs. Salvador, 124; L. Muskrat vs. Estie, 120; Amacker vs. Bertagni, 117; Raymond, vs. Hicks, 152; Emes vs. Schrenck, 150.

Azeveta, 120, will probably box Walters of the Acme Club. Nesbit, a 110-pounder, will be pitted against some youngster his size.

Rivalry is close between Amacker and Bertagni. Bertagni was fouled by Amacker in the last bouts, but the judges did not allow it, Amacker having been declared the winner. Bertagni's injury, however, showed that he had been fouled, so the club gave him a medal and arranged a return match.

S. A. C. WILL REVIVE GRAND ANNUAL MASK BALL TONIGHT

ATHLETES TO SHOW

Thousands Will Be at Club's Birthday.

The Sacramento Athletic club's first annual celebration in commemoration of the reorganization of the club, will be the occasion of high revelry this evening at the Old Pavilion, Sixth and M streets. It is expected that fully three thousand people will crowd the massive hall and enjoy and participate in the festival. The entire membership of the club, which is 1100, has purchased tickets, and a crowd of 2200 is the smallest those in charge can figure the crowd will total.

A grand athletic show, embracing trapeze work, boxing, wrestling, tumbling, acrobatic stunts, pyramids, bag punching, gymnastic drills, fancy rope skipping, heavy weights lifting and feats of abnormal strength, roller skating, statuary poses, and all other forms of gymnastic pursuits will make up a program never before witnessed in this city.

The athletic parade will be one of the most novel in the history of the city, and distinct divisions will be made up to represent every form of sports. From the football hero to the ping-pong enthusiast—all will be there and many more features not recorded will come as great surprises to the spectators. Every minute of the evening will be occupied with some interesting performance, and Professor Otto Rittler has woven enough burlesque into his acts to make them interesting and laughter provoking for all.

When the athletic show is dispensed with the maskers will have full rights to the floor. None but those in masks will be allowed to dance until after midnight, when all may enjoy themselves until 3 a. m. The hall has been beautifully decorated. One end of the hall is occupied by a throne and the other by a small stage. The musicians will be seated on the stage. An orchestra of twelve pieces has been engaged.

Prizes aggregating $250 will be offered in different sums for those sustaining the best characters and most novel get-ups. Refreshments will be sold. The athletic show program is as follows:

Single trapeze, Doc Williams; slack wire artist, J. Gimberling; heavyweight lifting, bending sixty-penny nails and breaking horseshoes, Charles T. Hintze; wrestling, L. O'Connors vs. J. Phillips, Emes vs. Prof. Dyreborg; acrobatic act, Gimberling and Rittler; novelty juggling, Ben Durning; Chinese pyramids, Fat Gray, Bah-can, Pearl, Ah Knight, Sprahgua, Er Way, Hoot Man, Hintz Pickles, Bee Dee, Co-Wey, Beard-Slee, McCulloch, also a Chinaman, Saw Bar-Ber, Kro-mer, More-Stung, O'Connor, Prof. Ritt-Ler, and the Royal Imperial Chinese band; fancy bag-punching, Gus Storez; Indian-club passing race, S. MIKE PAPPA HURT DURING BALL GAME

During the game at Oak Park yesterday morning between two teams of the Sacramento Athletic Club, Mike Pappa, brother of the star pitcher of the Brooke Realties, was injured in a collision at second base which practically knocked him out for about an hour.

A ball had been hit to first base and the runner started to second. Pappa, who was covering the keystone cushion, collided with the runner, resulting in his being injured. The game broke up at this point.

S. A. C. CLUB TRACK TEAM VICTORIOUS

Local Athletes Win Northern California Field Meet.

MARATHON IS WON BY DAY

Woodland Athletes Furnish Big Surprise in Hurdles.

YUBA CITY, April 10.—Although losing out in the hurdle events and dashes, the well-balanced team of the Sacramento Athletic club piled up enough points in the other events to win the field meet held at West Side Park here this afternoon by a score of 63 to 45.

The meet resulted in many closely contested events, the All-Star team from Northern California proving worthy rivals of the team from the Sacramento Athletic club. Woodland men won all the first places in the short dashes and hurdles, but the Sacramento men landed points in these events and firsts in the other events in sufficient number to bring them out on top.

In the 100-yard dash considerable rivalry existed among the starters, and they furnished some rare excitement, Hollingsworth, Gannon and Elliot finishing only a few inches apart. Peters of Yuba City led till near the finish in the 220-yard event, but as he neared the tape he turned to look at his opponents, taking a nasty fall and losing to Kinnshloe of Woodland.

Stewart for the Sacramento Athletic club did not have to exert himself in either the mile or half-mile runs, winning both events in easy manner against a large field of entries.

Woodland again came to the front in the hurdles, McFessell and Jacobs springing a surprise in defeating the S. A. C. cracks, Elliot and Gannon, in the 220 hurdles. Holt, although a new man, got away with ten points for his team, winning the high hurdles and high jump in good form.

Day of the Sacramento club finished the marathon race at his own pace, but the early miles of this event furnished the most exciting sport of the day. Among the entries were such men as Robert and Will Howden, C. Walters of the Acme Athletic club, Oakland; Walter Magee, Irish American Athletic club, champion of the Pacific coast; Tom Larson, Irish American club; Russell of Stockton, and Harris and Day of the Sacramento Athletic club.

Magee, Robert Howden and Day alternated in the lead for the first eight miles, and in the ninth mile commenced a battle royal for first place. Day sprinted a lap and gained a lap on Magee, whereupon the champion gave up the fight, leaving Howden and Day to battle for the lead. Another lap with Day setting a fast pace proved too much for Howden and he, too, withdrew, leaving Day to finish the race and win at his own pace, none of the rest of the field finishing close enough to be dangerous.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Hollingsworth, Woodland; Gannon (S. A. C.), Elliott (S. A. C.) Time, 10 1-5.

220-yard dash—Kinnscheloe, Woodland; Elliot (S. A. C.), Sparks (S. A. C.). Time 25 2-5.

880-yard run—Stewart (S. A. C.), Eleston, Woodland, Sparks (S. A. C.) Time, 2.10.

One-mile run—Stewart (S. A. C.), Eleston, Woodland, Shaw (S. A. C.) Time 5.10 2-5.

120 high hurdles—Holt (S. A. C.), Davidson, Yuba City; Eich, Oregon House. Time, 18.3½.

220 low hurdles—McFessell, Woodland; Jacobs, Woodland; Gannon (S. A. C.) Time, 26.33.

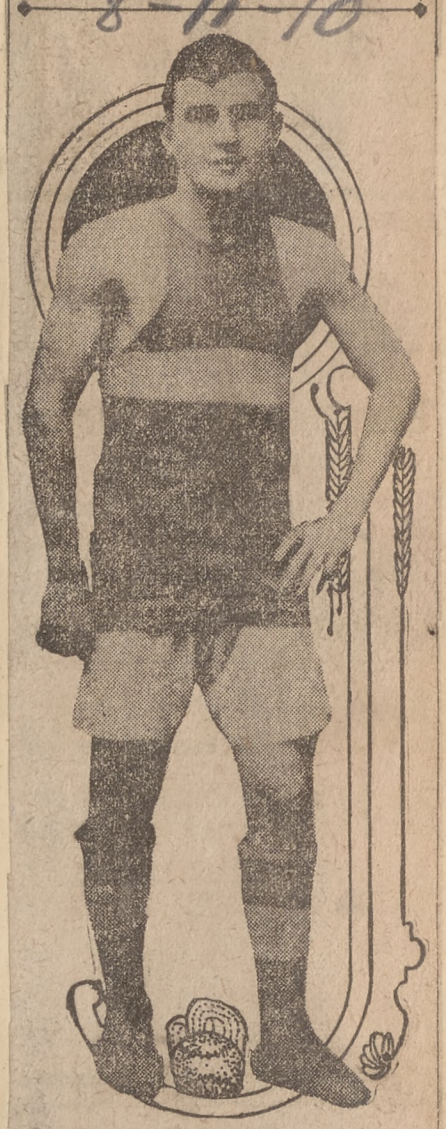
Getting Ready for Basketball Season

8-11-10



PAUL AMICK,

Captain of High School team last year, who will play forward for Athletic Club this year.

Sacramento Athletic Club Players Will Try for Honors This Year

Basketball season is approaching now and the players at the Sacramento Athletic Club are fast rounding into shape. Most of last year's team are ready for another trial at the pennant. Besides these are a few boys from collegs who are making their home here and will try for the team.

Physical Director Otto Rittler expects to have one of the fastest teams in the Valley this year, providing the boys give faithful practice when it is necessary.

Members of the club say there will be no such wrangling this year in regard to leagues in town because there will be no Sacramento city league. Several of last year's High School boys will make a strong bid for the team. Among them will be Paul Amick, who captained the High School and had a very successful year last season. At the last of the season he made the S. A. C. team.

Rittler will pit his team against any in the State this year after fully deciding on the five regular men and the substitutes.

Last year the S. A. C. won the championship of the Sacramento League, both in the lightweight and heavyweight division. They expect to meet many teams from the Bay this year that hold championship honors of the State. The club boys want everybody to come to the first game of the season in order to get interested in the others.

SWIMMING RACES FURNISH SPORT

The Sacramento Athletic Club boys enjoyed a water carnival last evening at the swimming baths, participating in various sorts of races and diving stunts. The races were close and full of fun, affording much amusement for the crowd of spectators which filled the balcony.

The spectacular event of the evening was the fire dive by Roy Beardslee. The youth stuck cotton to his back, saturated it with alcohol and plunged into the water a mass of flames. The lights were extinguished when he made the dive, giving the streak of fire the appearance of a comet. He was so tardy in starting that many of the spectators had left without seeing it.

The duck races and attempts to ride a barrel were among the most amusing. The winners of the events were as follows: Fancy diving, Charley Wahlander, first; E. Hicks, second, and C. Slosser, third. Barrel contest, Oley Erickson, first; E. Hicks, second. Duck chasing contest won by Charley Lauser, and Jim Beatty. Forty-yard race: First, Charley Wahleander; second, Dick Cowie; third, E. Hicks. Blindfolded race: First, Charley Luke; second, R. Beardslee.

About 400 friends of the athletes crowded the balcony and lower floor of the baths and keenly enjoyed the various events. The feature of the evening was the fire dive by R. Beardslee.

Folowing is a summary of the events: Fancy diving, Charley Wahlender, first; E. Hicks, second, and C. Slosser, third. Barrel contest, Oley Erickson, first; E. Hicks, second. Many Athletes to Compete in Dawn of Gold Meet at State Fair.

Athletes of Sacramento and Northern California are anticipating with a great deal of pleasure the field day of the Pacific Coast Athletic association, to be held at Agricultural park in connection with the Feast of the Dawn of Gold, on September 3, 1910.

There is a movement on foot in the Sacramento Athletic club to send a team of ten men to the national meet at New Orleans in October. The athletes chosen to make the trip will be those who make the best showing in the meet at Agricultural park.

The Olympic club of San Francisco, several clubs in the northern and southern sections of the state, and Stanford and Berkeley universities will send teams of athletes to the National meet.

ENTRIES FOR MEET.

Those who are entered from the Sacramento Athletic club in the events to take place at the Feast of the Dawn of Gold are: Track Captain Charles Stewart, one mile; Jess Childs, half mile; S. Dickson, pole vault, shot-put, javelin throw, broad and high jump; J. Hall, shot-put, hammer throw, and javelin; D. Elliott, 100 and 220-yards; E. Sparks, one-quarter, one-half mile and 220 yards; Holt, broad and high jump and low hurdles; P. Kidder, high jump; H. Thorp, hammer throw, shot-put and javelin throw; R. R. Kenyon, 100 and 220 yards; A. Gates, one-quarter, one-half mile and broad jump; R. Shoemake, 220 and 440 yards; L. Day, five miles; P. Hollingsworth, 100 and 220 yards; Z. B. Kinshloe, low hurdles and 220 yards; McKillican, hammer throw, javelin throw and shot-put; E. Martin, 220 and 440 yards; P. Purinton, 440 and 880 yards; W. McNeilly, one mile; M. West, high and broad jump; J. Knox, pole vault and broad jump; F. Mecfessel, high and low hurdles; G. Elston, one mile; J. Stevens, 100 yards and broad jump; M. Salvador, one mile; S. Littlefield, one mile.

In obtaining Buffalo park as a place to train and hold future track meets, new impetus is given to the athletic game, and many of the men who have been rather dismayed at the poor facilities for training have rounded around again and are rather enthusiastic on the future outlook.

One of the new rules of the P. A. A. which will be in force at the coming meet makes it imperative that all who enter must compete or lose their standing and membership in the association. This is done to eliminate entry stuffing, thus creating a false and unpleasant impression in the minds of patrons of the sport.

RITTLER HOPES TO SEE S. A. C. WIN HIGH HONORS

SAC. BEE 8-11-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club is putting up a strong track team to compete in the P. A. A. meet at the State Fair on September 3d. Otto Rittler, Physical Director of the Club, states that he has promising material and hopes to get away with a good many of the high points. The Olympics of San Francisco with their twenty athletes will be hard to master, but Rittler says he has boys in this section of the State who can be depended upon to come out on top. He is corresponding with athletes in different points of Superior California, asking them to come into the team.

Providing a good showing is made by the Sacramento athletes in this meet, endeavors will be made to send a team of about a dozen men to New Orleans in October to compete with teams from all sections of the United States. Victories at New Orleans would entitle the team to take a trip to New York and other Eastern centers for competitive meets.

Among the athletes already entered by Rittler are the following: Track Captain Charles Stewart, one mile; Jess Childs, half mile; S. Dickson, pole vault, shot-put, javelin throw, broad and high jump; J. Hall, shot-put, hammer throw, and javelin; D. Elliott, 100 and 220-yards; E. Sparks, one-quarter, one-half mile and 220 yards; Holt, broad and high jump and low hurdles; P. Kidder, high jump; H. Thorp, hammer throw, shot-put and javelin throw; R. R. Kenyon, 100 and 220 yards; A. Gates, one-quarter, one-half mile and broad jump; R. Shoemake, 220 and 440 yards; L. Day, five miles; P. Hollingsworth, 100 and 220 yards; Z. B. Kinshloe, low hurdles and 220 yards; McKillican, hammer throw, javelin throw and shot-put; E. Martin, 220 and 440 yards; P. Purinton, 440 and 880 yards; W. McNeilly, one mile; M. West, high and broad jumy; mile; M. West, high and broad jump; F. Mecfessel, high and low hurdles; G. Elston, one mile; J. Stevens, 100 yards and broad jump; M. Salvador, one mile; S. Littlefield, one mile.

OLYMPICS TO TRY OUT.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—The Directors of the Olympic Club having decided to send a team of athletes to compete in the Pacific Amateur Association's championships at Sacramento, and also to the National championships at New Orleans in October, Commissioner P. C. Gerhardt is getting busy with arrangements for trying out his men.

He will enter a team in a three-cornered meet with the athletes of the Pastime Athletic Club and the Irish-American Athletic Club, which is to be held at the Presidio Athletic Grounds on Sunday, August 21st. Ten days ago the Pastimes and the Irish-Americans engaged in a dual meet, which was won by the former by a narrow margin, and the two clubs are anxious to match their performers with the Olympians. An interesting meeting should be the result.

Team for New Orleans.

It is the desire of the club officers to be able to select a team of ten men, from among those who make a good showing at the State track meet, to go to New Orleans to participate in the junior class events at the National Tournament of the American Athletic Union, to be held in the southern city next October. This meet will bring together the greatest athletes of America. They will be divided into two classes—the seasoned men and the saplings, or seniors and juniors. The Olympic Club of San Francisco, the State and Stanford Universities and other California athletic organizations will doubtless send teams to the big tournament.

SAC. WEEKLY 8-13-10

THE securing of Buffalo Park by the club for future field and track meets, baseball, etc., under its auspices is about the most effective boost the organization has received since its organization. The lack of suitable grounds on which to hold athletic contests has been the greatest handicap the club has had to deal with, and—until Director Inman succeeded in making the deal with owner Kripp and Manager Graham of the Coast League club—there seemed to be no prospect of the S. A. C. securing any such grounds.

Henceforth it will be possible for the club to hold field and track events at all times of the year, where teams from other parts of the State may compete with the local athletes. When the home Coast ball team is absent, and during the many months intervening between the league seasons the public will have frequent games when the weather permits, with the prospect of often seeing league players in action.

State P. A. A. Field Meet.

The first active work for the Pacific Athletic Association's State championship track meet, to be held in Sacramento during the State Fair, was begun last Sunday morning. From this time forward there will be track practice each Wednesday, after 5 p. m., and at 9:30 on Sunday mornings. All club members who are to enter for the various events at the coming meet are directed by Physical Instructor Rittler to gather at the clubrooms on Sunday morning for practice.

There will be a run from the gymnasium to the Baths at Sutterville. The turnout last Sunday was disappointing to the club officials, who are working so hard to have the club make a good showing at their initial home meet in competition with athletes from other parts of the State. It is hoped that this was not due to a lack of club spirit, but whatever may have been the cause, it should not again occur. The time for training is now growing short, and every man who expects to enter the lists owes it to himself, to the club he represents, to the officers who are so solicitous for results, and to their home city, to spare no pains to get himself in proper condition for the big event.

This State meet is not going to be in the nature of a "picnic" for any athlete, or set of athletes. The best track men on the Coast will be seen in action there, and anyone who neglects his training will stand no chance of winning unless all his competitors take tumbles or break their limbs. This fact should not be lost sight of.

This State or Coast meet has been granted to Sacramento for the purpose of promoting the interests of athletic sports in this section of the State, and it is up to the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club—which represents the P. A. A. in Northern California—to see that it is conducted on a high plane; that every event will be as close a contest as possible for supremacy, so that when the meet is concluded the results will redound to the credit of the club and the city. If any slovenliness be displayed, or lack of interest shown, Sacramento will look in vain for another concession of such importance.

To be sure, every competing athlete cannot be a winner—that is not expected, because it is an impossibility, but every man who enters an event should see that he is in condition to give to the sport the best that is in him. If he does this, the meet will be a grand success.

Track Captain Stewart desires that any new men who believe themselves capable of making a good showing report at the earliest possible moment, in order that he may try them out and ascertain what they can do. He and the other officers of the club hope to see all who have pretensions to track ability on hand hereafter at the semi-weekly practice prepared to put themselves to the necessary tests.

Some Club Track Eligibles.

There is lots of good material in the club to furnish a reasonable number of winners in the various events at the coming State meet. Among them may be mentioned.

One mile race—C. Stewart, W. McNeilly, G. Elston, M. Salvador and E. Littlefield.

Half-mile race—J. Childs.

Pole-vault, shot-put, javelin throwing, and broad and high jumps—S. Dickson.

Shot-put, hammer-throwing and javelin—J. Hall, H. Tharpe and C. R. McKillican.

100 and 220-yard races—D. O. Elliott, P. Hollingsworth and E. Martin.

Broad and high jumps, and low hurdles—N. Holtz.

High jump—P. Kidder.

Broad jump and quarter and half-mile races—A. Gates.

220 and 440-yard races—R. Shoemake.

Five-mile running race—L. Day.

Low hurdles and 220-yard race—Z. B. Kinsheloe.

High and broad jumps—M. West.

Pole-vault and broad jump—J. Knox.

High and low hurdles—F. McFessel.

100-yard race and broad jump—J. Stevens.

It is thought the club will be able to send to the State meet about 40, comprising the strongest aggregation of athletic ability ever gotten together in the interior of the State, and one that it will take the best men on the Coast to defeat.

Marathoner Day.

Louis Day, one of the club's new track men, has proved himself a wonder. In the first Marysville meet Day won the ten-mile Marathon in sixty-one minutes, defeating Robert and

Will Howden, holders of the ten-mile record on the Pacific Coast, and McGee of the Irish-American Club, who is the holder of the fifteen-mile record on the Coast.

In the meet at Marysville on the 3d of July he finished third, owing to a bad foot.

In the coming P. A. A. meet Day will be in the pink of condition, and will make all of the long distance men hustle.

Men to Manage State Meet.

At a meeting of the field day championship committee of the Pacific Athletic Association, held in San Francisco this week, the leading officials to manage the State meet in Sacramento on September 3d were chosen.

Fred W. Koch, the veteran University of California athlete, now a teacher at Lowell High School, was selected as Referee; George James of the Olympic Club, Starter; Walter Christie of the University of California and Charles Minto of the Pastime Athletic Club, Head Timers; Major Sidney S. Peixotto, Judge of Finish; Robert W. Dodd of Cogswell School, Head Field Judge; Joseph R. Hickey, Clerk of Track Events; Frank Boek of Oakland High School, Clerk of Field Events.

Walter Christie will be sent to Sacramento next week to oversee the surveying of the track.

Entry blanks are being distributed and the list closes on Saturday, August 27, at 158 Geary street. The prizes will consist of gold medals for first, silver for second and bronze for third places.

The club making the largest number of points secures a handsome silver cup, and in addition the Sacramento Hotel Company offers a beautiful cup to go to the organization winning the annual championship three times.

Brooke Realties Will Meet Wingards

FOTO SHOP PHOTO

Baseball fans are looking for one of the best games in amateur circles that has been played this season when the Brooke Realties and Wingards meet tomorrow afternoon at Oak Park. The Brookes will present a strong line-up and in the ranks of the Wingards will be found some of the best amateur ball talent in the city. A picture of the Brookes is presented this morning. Reading from left to right the players are: Top row—Bacon, Pappa, Balsz, Williams and Silvey. Bottom row—Felix, Burke, Pearl, Keefe and Bowden.

Woodbridge Was Easy.

Last Sunday the Athletics went over to Woodbridge and gave the watermelon men a bad walloping. They chalked up 13 tallies while the Woodbridge lads were getting 5. But five hits were allowed by Grady, the Athletic twirler, while the visitors got twelve off Covell. Results:

Score:	R.	H.	E.
S. A. C.	13	12	5
Woodbridge	5	5	6

Batteries: S. A. C., Grady and Godt; Woodbridge, Covell and De Pau.

That Dipsea Race.

Club members are looking forward to the Dipsea race in San Francisco on the 18th of September with much interest. Physical Instructor Rittler expects to have a few of the club's distance runners in good condition for the race, and it need cause no surprise if the S. A. C. should have one or more men at the front when the long run is concluded. Otto Boeddiker, the Olympic Club's two-time winner of the Dipsea event and holder of the record over the Marin County course, may not be able to enter the seven-mile race. While working at his trade of pipe-fitter he recently met with an accident that may prevent him from training.

Toe the Scratch, or Quit.

It would be well for all who think of entering the P. A. A. meet to bear in mind a new rule which that organization intends to enforce in future. It is that all athletes who sign up for any event must either actually compete therein or lose their standing and membership in the Association. The purpose is to protect patrons from being misled as to starters and to insure the pulling off of scheduled events.

Athletics to Play Sugar Beet Team.

Tomorrow Manager Clark's Athletics will journey to Hammonton, the Colusa sugar beet metropolis, where they will line-up against the team of that place.

Johnson and Grady will do the twirling act, with Greenlaw at first base, and Barham, Burns and Hausman in the infield. On the outskirts Overhouse, Kirby, Clark and Babe Hart will look after any long drives that come their way, while Captain Godt will handle what the opposing batters fail to hit. The Athletics have a strong team, but—there are others.

World's Swimming Records.

Here are some records, made this week in England, that should be of interest to the club's swimmers who seek aquatic fame. Frank Beaurepaire of Australia broke the world's records for 200 meters, 300 yards, and 300 meters in, respectively, 2:30, 3:30 and 3:50 1-5.

S. A. C. BALLPLAYERS TO BATTLE TOMORROW

The S. A. C. first team will play the S. A. C. Outlaws at Oak Park Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

S. A. C.—Godt, catcher; Grady, pitcher; Greenlaw, first base; Dunnigan, second base; Burns, shortstop; Stewart, third base; Overhouse, left field; Clark, right field; Foy, center field.

New Practice Regulations.

Some new methods have been introduced by Professor Rittler for the regulation of gymnasium practice. He has found it necessary to place restraint on the disposition of members to do things in a ragged or go-as-you-please manner when at their indoor work on class nights.

Members are now required to put some system into their methods, by forming in line and taking regular turns at the bars, rings, horses, etc.

The new way of doing things is a great improvement on the old one. Its effect will be particularly noticeable at future indoor meets and exhibtions.

Clubroom Chat.

R. R. Henyon, a recent arrival from the East, is the latest acquisition to the ranks of the club's field team. Mr. Henyon has taken up his residence in Sacramento, and will represent the S. A. C. in future 100 and 200-yard competitions. He has a 100-yard record of 10.1 seconds, and will be seen at the State meet.

Track Captain Stewart has had his prospective vacation cut out. His presence was deemed so necessary, in view of the near approach of the P. A. A. State meet, that the club's Athletic Commissioners couldn't see their way to let him off. He had intended going into the mountains to train for the Dipsea race in San Francisco.

Rob. Shorrock is taking all kinds of privileges with the trout at Echo Lake.

Mr. Toomey, a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club, was a visitor at the club's gymnasium one night this week.

Great Boxing-fest on the 26th.

In the absence of Boxing Commissioner Hoffman, who is enjoying a camping trip in the mountains, Professor Rittler is looking after the details of the next boxing night, which will be on Friday, the 26th of this month. While the card has not been completed, Professor Rittler has succeeded in signing up boxers for a number of bouts, and is negotiating with several other aspirants for ring honors. He expects to be able to present a number of new faces in the ring on the 26th.

There is a good prospect of Walters of the Oakland Acme Club taking on Azevedo, the S. A. C. 120-pound artist. The latter is training faithfully and has made considerable improvement in the matter of cleverness.

Paul Noble, another Acme idol, in the 125-pound class, has been signed to box Cowie, S. A. C. Noble writes that he is in fine shape for the bout, and promises to give the local boxer all he can take. Club members think this will prove to be a great bout. Noble says he hopes to be able to induce two other Acme men to take part in the evening's events.

As usual difficulty is found in getting someone to face Joe Erickson, the club's crack welter-weight. There is something about Joe's way of handing out love-taps that outside boxers don't like. Goulard, his club-mate, is willing to take on Erickson, but the latter prefers that Goulard and Kid Seimer first settle the question of superiority, as between them, and then he will meet the winner.

Professor Rittler hopes to find opponents for Eames, Hoffman, Sollars, Weir, Smith and Childs. It is expected that Hoffman will return from the mountains as hard as nails, and if Ancil "comes back" to the form he displayed in the old club's days it would take the best boxing talent any of the bay clubs can dig up to make him extend himself.

Raymond and Hicks, at 125 pounds, have been signed.

Amaker and Bertagni will be seen in a return match at 117 pounds. Their last bout was not quite satisfactory. The decision went to Amaker, but Bertagni was disabled by an accidental foul blow. He believes he can stop Amaker.

C. Burns and Young Salvadore, the 124-pounders who put up such a cracking bout last month, will again be seen in action. Salvadore says he's surely going to win this time.

Lee Muskrat will hook up with Estie at 122 pounds, and this means there will be something doing all the time from the sound of the gong.

What is regarded as likely to be the piece de resistance at the coming boxing feast will be the set-to between Billy Gore and W. Wallace, the 133-pounders. Each aspires to the title of the club's lightweight champion and is out for victory.

Captain Delano a Live Wire.

Club Captain Arthur J. Delano is proving himself to be just the man to infuse ginger and snap into the work of the club athletes. Since his election as Club Captain he has worked up a lively interest in many branches of athletic sports, and is bending his energies to the task of adding others to the list.

He is now developing plans for organizing a bicycle section, having in view the production of a team of wheelmen able to compete with any in the State. There seems to be a sentiment abroad in favor of a revival of wheel riding, and of racing contests, with a prospect of a return of much of the interest in bicycling that existed among all classes a few years ago. Some of the most exciting wheel contests seen on the coast have taken place in Sacramento, and it is not unlikely that by another season more of the same kind and quality will again be witnessed here.

Captain Delano has infused much energy into those engaged in gymnasium work generally, and through his and Professor Rittler's efforts the club is developing a class of athletes second to none in the State. Before long they will be prepared to announce an indoor evening's entertainment that promises to be a suprrise to many and an interesting event to all fortunate enough to get on the invitation list.

Ancil Hoffman, the club's Boxing Commissioner, is still at Echo Lake in the Sierras, where he and his family are enjoying a delightful vacation. Incidentally, Ancil is getting himself in fine form for the next boxing night, bnt as yet no opponent has been found to meet him in the ring.

Charley Schwallenberg is having trouble of his own just now. He is very hoarse, and the members of the Schlitz circle are wondering how they are going to get that frog loose.

Alfred Putnam, the club scribe, is down at the sea coast trying to make out what the wild waves are saying. If the wild waves get the best of "Put" in a talkfest to a finish they can win all the ducats the club members can scare up.

Charley Wahlander has returned from his trip to the north, and feels as fine as the proverbial fiddle.

"Dad" Pearl, also Wiz. Pappa, Frank Bacon, and Messrs. Silvey, Boden and Felix, who are putting up such a fine quality of ball on the Brooke Realties team, are all S. A. C. men. Perhaps that's why the Brookes are setting such a championship pace in amateur baseball.

After the P. A. A. track meet the next important event in athletic circles will be the State boxing tournament. Keep an eye on the S. A. C. mitt-wearers.

Director and P. A. A. Commissioner MacGregor is receiving a deluge of compliments for his effective work in bringing about the State meet at the coming Fair. The club is justly proud of its representative.

Now, wouldn't it be a big feather in the club's cap if, from the team selected by Professor Rittler to compete in the State events there should come forth a bunch of athletes fit to go to the national meet at New Orleans next October? Yet that's just what is likely to happen.

First Swimming Night.

The first S. A. C. swimming tournament at the Sacramento Baths, held on Wednesday evening, was a big success. There was an immense crowd of spectators to witness the various aquatic contests, which were not only interesting and exciting, but in some instances decidedly provocative of humor.

The ludicrous attempts made by the most expert water performers to ride the floating barrel provoked the wildest hilarity among the big crowd of onlookers. Men and women who hadn't for months allowed a smile to illumine their faces forgot their grouches, and almost their dignity, and roared with laughter at the antics of the swimmers.

It was the same in the duck-pursuit race. The efforts of the men to overtake and lay hands on the elusive quacker were mirth-provoking in the extreme.

Roy Beardslee's fire-dive was a novel stunt. With his back covered with blazing cotton, and the lights turned off, he shot down the long slide into the water like a meteor coming down out of the sky on a dark night. It was spectacular in the extreme. Following are the results in the several events:

Diving contest—C. Wahlander won, E. Hicks second, R. Beardslee third.

Riding the barrel—J. Erickson winner.

Season tickets to the Bath privileges were awarded in the following order: C. Wahlander, 100 per cent; E. Hicks, 80 per cent; D. Cowie, 60 per cent; C. Luke, 40 per cent; J. Erickson, 20 per cent.

The members of the club who took part in the contests were Messrs. Hicks, Folk, Beardslee, Schlosser, Erickson, Compton, La Rosa, R. Wahlander, C. Wahlander, Henley, Diebold, Shipley, Lausser, Lincke, Stewart, Drake, Marston, Luke, Beede, Childs and Payne.

The affair was conducted under the supervision of these officials: Referee, Captain Arthur J. Delano; Announcer, Director J. M. Inman; Judges, J. Morshead, E. Traxler and J. Gray; Starter, J. Shanahan; Timers, L. Palm, J. Prixley and J. M. MacGregor.

TRIANGULAR MEET HAS BEEN POSTPONED TO SUNDAY WEEK

Conflicting Dates Causes Delay by Pastimes, Olympics and Irish-Americans.

SAC. POST 8-16-10

The three-club track meet which was to have been held at the Presidio athletic grounds Sunday afternoon between the Olympics, Pastimes and Irish-Americans has been postponed to allow the Irish-American athletes to take part in the Hibernian conclave to be held in San Jose. Also the meet conflicted with the cross-country run of the Swedish-American Club. The event has been set back on the calendar for one week, but the same list of events will be held and all arrangements made will hold.

Entry blanks for the Admission Day field meet, to be held at the Park Stadium, are now out and must be filled before Saturday, September 3, at Spalding's. This meet will include competition in the regular thirteen events.

Considerable interest is shown in the Pacific Coast championships, which will be decided at Sacramento, September 3. Word has been received from C. A. MacGregor, the Stanford half-miler, who holds the half-mile championship, that he will defend his title. MacGregor is now in Bakersfield, but will train and be on hand. He will have to compete against such speed burners as Harold Maundrell, his old teammate at college, who has not been running for a year, and Mervyn Joy, the crack athlete of the Olympic Club. This race should be one of the best events on the card.

The results of these meets within the next three weeks will give the Olympic Club officials an excellent opportunity to pick the best talent in this vicinity to be entered in the national championships in New Orleans during the October meet.

U. of C. Expert Says Track Is Speedy and That Records Should Be Made.

"I think the athletes of the Pacific Coast will have one of the best meets ever held since the establishment of the association on this coast," said Trainer Walter Christy of the University of California yesterday in discussing the possibilities of the P. A. A. meet to be held at Agricultural park in conjunction with the State Fair next month.

Mr. Christy, accompanied by Chairman H. A. MacGregor of the local commission of the Pacific Athletic association and Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club, visited Agricultural park yesterday afternoon and measured off the distances and arranged minor details of the meet as relating especially to the track.

"The track is one of the fastest I have ever seen," said Mr. Christy, who is an expert on such matters. "I am glad Sacramento secured the meet as I think such an exhibition will tend to develop much material that is now only awaiting a chance to show itself. I am satisfied with conditions and think the accommodations will be better than we have received in some places where they ought to have been better. I look for new time in many events."

The events will be run off directly in front of the grand stands. The finish line will be stretched west of the starters and timers' stands so that everybody may see the finishes which are always the most sensational part of the event.

As a feature never before witnessed in a track meet in California, a javeline throwing contest has been arranged. No less a person than Snedicar, United States champion, is scheduled to contest. Telephone connection will be available with the dressing rooms and athletes may remain there until time for their event when a call boy will inform them of the approach of their event. Over two hundred athletes, including many champions, are expected to take part in the meet. The S. A. C. will enter at least 40 men.

Commissioner Gene Palm Has His Cohorts Practicing for Approaching Struggle.

Baseball Commissioner Gene Palm of the Sacramento Athletic club has spread the news broadcast at the local muscle developing establishment that there will be something doing this year in his line, and that there will be no room for nonsense. Anyone that wants to make the team will have to work for it, and mighty hard at that. There will be no one month practice dolls lolling along on the line-up this year, and as a reward for his efforts Palm sees a number of championships awaiting his men.

One of the things that Palm wants to do this year is to take the California championship in the 130-pound class. Every member of last year's team in that class is ready for business again this season. A valuable addition in Day, formerly captain of the champion Swasticas of San Francisco, moves Palm to the belief that his team will be the fastest in the state. The 145-pound team will be strengthened greatly by Captain Hart, who two years ago played forward for the University of California.

There will be four teams this year Organization will be effected the last of September or the first of October. Already a number of the boys are getting into form. Practice is called once every two weeks, and after September 1st practice will be held every week, and after organization practice will be nightly.

In the 130-pound class and also in the other three the members must weigh exactly the limit or under. Hitherto it has been the practice to make the team average 130, but this year every man must be that weight or

NEW FACES TO BE SEEN AT RINGSIDE

Emes and Fisher to Appear in S. A. C. Boxing Bouts August 26th.

SAC. UN. 8-16-10

Two new faces will be seen at the ringside in the Sacramento Athletic club Friday night, August 26, when the regular amateur night of boxing will be staged. Ralph Emes, the wrestler, and Fisher are scheduled to make their first appearance on that evening with the mitts. Emes has already something of a reputation as a wrestler, and his friends say that if he proves as proficient with the gloves he will be a champion. He will face Raymond, a tough boy who has slashed into previous opponents in a manner not common to novices.

There will be nine or ten events on the card, including a main event between Joe Erickson and Goulard and two special events, one between Billy Gore and B. Wallace, and the other between Burns of Stockton and Salvadore.

Muckrat Lee has been matched with Amaker. Cowie will undoubtedly get his from Noble of the Acme club, Oakland. Aveveta and Bertagni will also tangle. Estie and Wier will probably meet. "Schlitz" Sollors is scheduled to introduce Fisher into the local ring.

Ancil Hoffman, boxing commissioner, has informed Otto Rittler that he would like to take a hand this month and show the boys how to do things. Ancil is away in the mountains conditioning and expects to put it all over some clever boy at 133 pounds on the evening of August 26. So if anybody knows of a good boy at 133 inform Professor Otto, who will gladly sign him for Hoffman. Only demons need apply, for Hoffman is a fast one.

SWIMMING TOURNEY

SAC. STAR 8-18-10

A great many of the Sacramento Athletic Club swimming squad practiced at the Sacramento Swimming Baths last night. The squad is preparing for a tournament to be held next Wednesday night. A number of prizes have been offered to the winners of the various events. A blindfolded race will be one of the features of the coming tournament.

Lots of Basketball Material.

Basketball Commissioner Gene Palm has lately been engaged in rounding up material for that branch of sport, and hopes to be able to organize four good teams for the opening of the season. The next practice night will be on the 29th of this month, but after that the players will be called together for more frequent work. Commissioner Palm has secured the Pavilion at Sixth and M streets for use during the fall and winter. It is just what was needed, and the members of the basketball division are happy as the proverbial clam at high tide.

Much new material has been secured for the coming season, including Tate, Strachan, Thayer, Morris, Shorrock, Horton, Williams, Hart, Knight, Day and others.

Duke, Captain of last season's lightweight team, is showing up in good form, also Shaw, who captained the 145-pounders; Duke, last season's lightweight center; Lobner, who was guard; Bacon, Sprague and others.

Day, the Marathoner, who played with the champions of San Francisco last year, is expected to prove a valuable addition.

Knight, McNeily and Hart, all of last year's Royal Sons' team, will be seen this season in S. A. C. uniforms.

Lovech, who has had experience in the East, also on the local High School team, will again be with the club.

Williams, a new man, promises to be a good one at center, and Commissioner Palm is banking on Hart (No. 2), captain of the State University team of '07, who will be seen in the S. A. C. ranks the coming season.

Eames, who played with the 145-pound team last season, is on deck and ready for business, also Warren of the same team.

Burns, late of the Stockton Athletic Club but now a Sacramentan, is expected to prove a valuable acquisition.

The new teams will comprise the 120-pound, the 130-pound and the 145-pound classes, also one of any and all weights. The first tournament will not be held until the weather gets cooler—say about October—but it is Commissioner Palm's intention to have the players keep in practice so they will be in perfect form when the season opens.

AMATEUR ATHLETES GET IN TROUBLE BY REFUSING TO ATTEND

S.F. POST 7-26-10

Entrants to Events Held Under Sanction of P. A. A. Must Compete or Take Penalty.

SEVERAL DELINQUENTS NOTIFIED TO EXPLAIN

Enforcing Strict Rules Regarding Failure or Refusal to Contest.

Instances of entrants to athletic contests failing or refusing to compete in events in which they have declared themselves as contestants are becoming so numerous of late that the Pacific Athletic Association is taking steps to prevent future delinquencies by issuing a timely warning and by going ahead with disciplinary measures directed at those who already have been found guilty of this violation of the rules of the association. Several entrants to events at Shell Mound Park July 17, when the Original Gaelic Dancing Club held a track and field meet, failed to show up and they were reported to the registration committee of the association for action. These delinquents have been notified to appear at the committee rooms, 603 Merchants Exchange building, next Thursday morning and explain their conduct or file a written statement in explanation on the penalty of severe disciplinary action by the committee. It must be shown that failure to compete was unavoidable in order to escape the penalty.

In order to inform all amateur athletes of the rules governing entries to events at sanctioned meetings and to acquaint them with the general rules governing contests under the jurisdiction of the association, a circular directed to the members of the association has been issued as follows:

To the Members of the P. A. A.:

The registration committee of the P. A. A. calls your attention to the following rules of the A. A. U., of the P. A. A. and of the committee itself, all of which will be rigidly enforced:

1—Contestants will be excluded from all open events under P. A. A. sanction or auspices unless provided with an unexpired registration card.

2—Likewise, contestants will be excluded unless their entry blanks contain the number of an unexpired registration card belonging to each particular contestant. Clubs holding events under P. A. A. auspices must insist that registration numbers be put in the entry blanks and printed in the program for the event, a copy of which should be mailed forthwith to the committee, at the addresses herein mentioned.

3—The registration committee will meet at noon every Thursday at 603 Merchants' Exchange Building. Applications for sanction and for registration will be considered only at these meetings. Applications presented after noon of any Thursday must wait until the next meeting of the committee.

4—For the convenience of athletes application blanks may be secured, and may be left, after being filled out, at A. G. Spaulding & Brothers' store, 158 Geary street, San Francisco, Cal. Each application must be accompanied by the fee of 25c. Applications should be in by Thursday noon of each week in order that the committee may act on them without delay.

5—In the case of renewals of cards, a new application should be signed, giving applicant's new address. This should then be turned in with the 25c fee and the old card, whereupon a new card will be issued at the next meeting of the committe.

6—The committee will deal severely with the following classes of persons:

(a) Persons entering events and without excuse failing to compete.

(b) Persons entering two or more events the same day.

(c) Persons appearing on the field in dirty or improper attire.

(d) Persons competing in unsanctioned games, or against unregistered athletes.

(e) Persons in any way violating amateur rules or misleading the handicapping committee as to their performances.

7—Registration cards for the athletes and sanctions for the meets or events are required in all cases of open meets or events, i. e., meets or events where persons from other clubs than the one giving the meet or event may compete, whether these open meets or events are under the auspices of a P. A. A. member or not.

8—Cash must be paid for registrations and for sanctions. Sanctions for members of the P. A. A. will be issued without charge.

9—Every member is required to see that its members live up to the rules.

Value of Club Cards.

Membership cards are honored by all clubs in the State, and every member should have his card with him when away from home. An S. A. C. card will secure for its holder the privileges of other clubs' gymnasiums, as well as the personal recognition of their members. Therefore a club card is a valuable thing to have with you when you visit other cities. But to obtain a card a member must be in good standing, with all dues paid up. If you already haven't your card, you'd better step up to the Superintendent's office and get it.

Boxing Card Not Complete.

There are no additions to be made to the list of bouts published last week for the next boxing night. Commissioner Hoffman is certain, however, that some of those he is negotiating with will come through, and that the card will be one of the best the club has presented.

FAMOUS NEW YORK ATHLETES MAY RACE HERE.

S.F. CHRONICLE

Matt Halpin Arranging for a Meet With Local Clubs Next October.

7-26-10

By JOE R. HICKEY.

A FIELD meet in which the crack New York Athletic Club track team will figure in competition with the local athletes appears to be one of the attractions with which this city will be favored during the month of October. Matt Halpin, captain and manager of the New York team, who successfully cared for the Olympic team to London two years ago, is at present negotiating with the local athletic officials in an effort to bring the New York team here this fall.

The Winged Foot runners and jumpers of New York will participate in the national championships to be held at New Orleans on October 14th and 15th. Following these games, Halpin is anxious to bring the New York team on to this city for a field day with the athletes of this city.

Last year the New York and Chicago teams both arrived from Seattle after the American championships had been held there, and participated in a three-cornered contest with the Olympic Club at the stadium in Golden Gate Park. The occasion was memorable in the history of local athletics, and attracted considerable attention throughout the country. Talk of a return meet was voiced at that time, the local enthusiasts expecting that the Portola

The Gotham team this season includes Billy Paul, the intercollegiate mile champion of America, besides Matt McGrath and Harry Gissing. The latter was defeated by J. O. Miller of the Olympic Club when the team was here last August, but he has improved to the extent of pressing Mel Sheppard on several occasions.

ATHLETES ARE WARNED

The registration committee of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union issued a circular yesterday to all amateur athletes in this district, including instructions which will bring about many desired improvements in the athletic situation about the bay. Aspirants for honors on the track and field are warned not to enter any set of games without including the number of their registration card on the entry blank sent to the games committee. Clubs holding events under the auspices of the Pacific Association must insist that the registration numbers be included on the entry blanks and printed in the programme for the occasion.

In the future the committee will be inclined to deal severely with athletes who enter events and, without a good excuse, fail to compete, or who enter two or more meets on the same day. Athletes who compete in unsanctioned games or against unregistered athletes will be in danger of suspension. Misleading the handicapping committee has been frequent of late, and will no longer be tolerated. Finally, the amateur officials are out with an edict against untidy uniforms on the field of competition. Some of the running suits worn by athletes in field days this season have been anything but a credit to the wearers, and in order that competitors may hereafter make a presentable appearance, the officials intend to enforce the rule covering the situation. The clerk, of course, at all meets has the authority to exclude from competition any athlete not in proper attire.

A second circular sent out by the committee yesterday was directed to all those athletes who failed to compete in the original Gaelic games after the handicaps were announced. The committee expects an explanation from each one of the violators at the meeting on Thursday.

Eastern Athletes May Come.

Track performers of the New York Athletic Club may be seen in California in October in competition with coast athletes. Captain Matt. Halpin of the Gotham team has been in correspondence with the Pacific Coast Athletic Association on the subject, and it is not unlikely a meeting, or series of track events, will be agreed on. At the close of the Seattle meet last year the New York and Chicago Athletic Club teams visited San Francisco, where an interesting meet took place between them and the Olympic Club track team.

—o—

Handball Tournament.

Handball Commissioner George Yoerk expects to soon begin to lay out the schedule for a handball tournament to be held the latter part of September. Members have been putting in hard practice in the club court of late, and by the time the tournament takes place there will be a number of eligibles.

—o—

Application Blanks.

A new regulation has been put in force. It requires all applications for membership in the club to be made on printed blanks. Heretofore members verbally presented the names of friends applying for membership, but this custom has been condemned, and henceforth the regular blanks will be used.

Says Meet Will Be a Great One.

Walter Christy, trainer of the California University track team, paid a visit to Sacramento this week, and discussed with Professor Rittler, Captain Delano and other club officials matters relating to the coming Pacific Athletic Association's championship meet in this city during the State Fair next month.

In company with Professor Rittler and Athletic Commissioner H. M. MacGregor he went out to Agricultural Park and established the distance-marks for the running events and made a general inspection of the track regarding its fitness for carrying out the elaborate program.

Mr. Christy was more than pleased with the grounds, and declared the track to be the fastest and best he had seen for a meet of that description. He expressed his belief that new coast records will be hung up at the coming meet.

"Wide interest is being taken in this meet," said Mr. Christy on his return from the track, "and it looks as if it may bring to Sacramento two hundred or more of the best athletes of the coast, including the holders of many present championships. There is plenty of first-class athletic talent in California, and it needs only competitions of this kind to develop it. Heretofore interest in athletic sports has been confined too closely to the cities about the bay, but the Sacramento Athletic Club is doing much toward getting the young men of the interior interested in clean, manly sports. I find the officials of your club wide-awake, progressive men, enthusiastic in their work and in the success of the club. I wish the State had more such clubs.

"Yes, the whole thing looks good to me, and I will have only pleasant things to report on my return to the Bay."

—o—

Runners Are Too Modest.

What's the matter with the long-distance fellows? The time is drawing near for the big meet, and you should be getting in condition for it. The club officials are becoming anxious about the distance men. For some reason they have been shy about applying for entrance.

There are upward of a thousand club members, and it should not be left to Professor Rittler, or Captain Delano, or any other official to sort over such a big list in the search for material for the long-distance races. Those who have confidence in their ability to go long distances, and having speed, should come forward and announce themselves.

The club will have about forty men in the several events at the coming meet, but it could have more if the over-modest men would come to the front.

Basketball Season Coming On.

There is going to be a strenuous effort made the coming season to place the club at the head of the list of basketball teams in this State. Though the club teams did very good work last season, they got started too late to place them on a footing with the leading teams. This season it will be different. The club has the material from which to recruit teams in the several classes, and only steady, plodding practice will be required to place them on a level with the best.

Commissioner Gene Palm, under whose guidance the teams will be organized and trained, declares that there must be no nonsense this time—that whoever enrolls himself on the basketball list will have to work or make way for someone who will. There will be new blood in some of the teams, and Palm looks for fast, snappy work.

He especially looks for the 130-pounders to capture the State championship. Day, who formerly captained the Swasticas of San Francisco, will be a great aid to the team, as he has few equals at the game.

Captain Hart, who was the California University's Forward in the 140-pound team two years ago, but is now a resident of this city and a member of the S. A. C., will also be a valuable addition to the club's team in that class.

Before the expiration of the present month Commissioner Palm hopes to have four teams organized and at practice. For a while weekly practice games will be played, but later they will take place nightly. In organizing the teams no one will be allowed to weight beyond the limit of his class. There will be no averag-

Next Week's Swimming Tourney.

Things will go off with more snap at next Wednesday's swimming tournament at the Baths. They were a bit slow last week, but that was the season's initial tournament. The swimmers now understand what to do, and when to do it, and Professor Rittler believes there will be no more unpleasant delays.

More aquatic novelties will be introduced at next Wednesday night's tournament. One will be the climbing of a greased pole, another a relay race, and others will consist of 100-yard and 220-yard races, fancy diving, an optical race, etc.

The latter consists of a string of alternating life-preservers, headless and bottomless barrels and nets. The swimmer must dive, come up through the first life-preserver, swim through the open barrel, dive over the netting, and continue as before. It is something new here, and Professor Rittler says it makes as much fun as the proverbial barrel of monkeys.

Ray Beardslee is practicing a new fire-diving stunt that is promised to be very spectacular and thrilling.

These swimming nights should bring out large turnouts of members, who ought to get into the swim and have some of the fun that is going to waste. Bring your wives and other members of the family and show them what you can do in the big tank.

—o—

Pay Your Dues Promptly.

Roy Cothrin is now looking after the matter of collecting club revenues. Members should not make it necessary for him to call more than once in making collections. In fact, they should keep their dues paid up promptly every month.

It costs money to pay rent and salaries and to meet the club's obligations in a business-like way, and members ought to bear this fact in mind and come through promptly with their small monthly stipends. It is easier to pay dues monthly than to go down in your pockets to make up several months' delinquencies, and when the managers know just what they can safely count on having each month they can better gauge the club's needs.

Therefore don't hang back with your dues and make life miserable for the club officials.

Clubroom Chat.

Word comes from Santa Cruz that Charles Stewart and Jimmy Childs, who are taking a vacation there, are not unmindful of the coming State meet. They are on the beach every day working out for the mile and half-mile events, and are keeping in good trim.

As the days and weeks go by the number of S. A. C. bathing suits seen in the Baths is noticably increased. These suits are evidently very popular, and the Winged "S" promises to become a very conspicuous object as the season advances.

There ought to be enough club spirit to induce every member to wear the club button on the lappel of his coat. These buttons are supplied by the Superintendent at a trifling figure, but if all the members wore them the aggregate sum would amount to considerable to the club. Besides, the wearing of a thousand or more of the buttons would attract attention to the club among non-members.

Everybody wants to see Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman in action on the next boxing night. In the days of the old club Ancil was very handy with his dukes, and though he has been out of the game for a long time he is confident of his ability to come back to his old form.

Rob Shorrock has been appointed Swimming Commissioner, and will henceforth look after aquatic sports.

There is to be no more whistling nor shouting from the windows or [illegible] they will be in the soup. If they do pay it—well, perhaps.

Moved and seconded that the "sand hogs" be enjoined against exhausting the gold deposit beneath the river-bed until the Dawn-of-Gold Fiesta opens up. If there is to be a demonstration of early-day mining methods, jumping of claims, a man for breakfast, and such like pastimes, for goodness sake hold off a few weeks. Isn't the Fiesta Committee overlooking its hand?

TOWN BUILT IN A DAY DESERTED IN A NIGHT

There is talk of building a road direct from Donner Lake to the once-famous Meadow Lake gold mining district and of opening up the rich ledges there. For some forty years these mines have been practically abandoned, chiefly because no method had ever been discovered by which their rebellious ores could be profitably worked. Hundreds of experts have tried it, from time to time, and all failed. Possibly some new way of treating the ores has been found. If not, it would be useless to expend money in opening a new and shorter route to the mines.

The Meadow Lake ores are known to be fabulously rich. They were discovered during the height of the Comstock excitement, and there was a stampede from the Washoe country to the new mines. As if by magic a little city sprang into existence within a few months. Brick buildings were erected, streets paved, sidewalks laid, and a lighting system installed. The people were gold-crazy. Before mills could be erected for crushing the ores the little city nestling in the heart of the Sierra Nevada, thousands of feet above the sea, even beyond the snow-line, boasted of its stock exchange where shares were bought and sold daily, just as in the larger cities.

Fine homes were built by wealthy miners and speculators, furnished as sumptuously as any in the country, notwithstanding the fact that everything had to be taken in by pack trains. Meadow Lake became in one season a miniature city set down in a lonely forest amid towering cliffs covered with perpetual snow.

Twelve months later Meadow Lake was only a memory. Mountain lions, bears and coyotes sneaked through its silent streets in the moonlight, its only inhabitants. The people that had for several months thronged its busy streets were gone. Pestilence had not visited the late busy hive of humanity, nor had a horde of savages descended from the cliffs and slaughtered the people.

The simple story is easily told—not a pound of gold had been extracted from the thousands of tons of rich ores that were piled in great heaps, ready for the crushers. The ores could not be worked by any known process.

Then came the exodus. Winter was coming on, and the inhabitants did not relish the idea of being snowed in for months, with nothing [illegible] and no hope of relief.

All the track men are feeling fine and are waiting for September 3d.

Entry blanks have arrived for the P. A. A. championships on September 3d, also for the junior and senior championships of America on October 14th and 15th, at New Orleans. They can be filled out by applying at the club office.

Professor Rittler requests that whenever a member has, or imagines he has, a grievance, he will report it at the office. Usually such things can readily be straightened out and bickering avoided.

Everybody is talking handball tournament these days. Watch some of the wise ones. W. Pugh is wearing a handball smile. Maybe he has something up his sleeve.

THE DANGER LINE.

Dr. William Lee Howard in an article on "The Physiology of Strength and Endurance" clearly shows how physiological laws govern muscle and nerve activity:

"The human body is a wonderful piece of mechanism which not only renews itself constantly, but whose strength and endurance and capacity for more work increases with increased use up to the point at which use becomes abuse.

"At what time and under what pressure this danger line is reached depends upon the individual. However, the approach to this danger line is governed by fixed and immutable physiologic laws.

"Capital (energy) must not be expended at a greater rate than it can be replaced; if it is expended at a greater rate fatigue commences and a continuance of this expenditure results in physical bankruptcy. The muscle is continually undergoing change of material. The minute substances which make up the muscle and whose very action keep it alive are being continually cast off, fresh substances taking their place. The cast-off material is the fatigue poison. Without muscle rest, this dead poisonous detritus cannot be replaced fast enough by new products and the result is an impoverished capital of potential elements.

"The energy products of the food are delivered up to the muscle by the blood, and this fluid picks up and carries away the cast-off dead substances of the muscle. These latter, the fatigue products, are gradually eliminated from the blood.

"Of the substances supplied to the muscle by the blood, oxygen is one the want of which is soonest felt.

"The muscle's activity is dependent to a great extent on the character and force of the blood through the muscle It must be clear of waste products, as well as containing sufficient oxygen to keep up continually a renewal of energy."

Rowboating.

"Doc" Todd and Ammon Clay, of the rowboat Owl fame, returned on Wednesday from a two weeks' stay at Lake Tahoe, where, it is rumored, they have been doing a great deal of "practice" rowing, especially Todd.

The Dolphins had a day of it last Sunday, when their wives and young lady friends took a very active part in the day's sport. Swimming, wading and rowing were in evidence all day, except at meal times. Those who were there were Mrs. Otto Rittler, Mrs. Clovis La Grave, Mrs. Bert Robinson, Miss Brown of San Francisco, the Misses Emma Deschler, Ernestine Doyle, Gertrude Loothammer, Clara Van Walbeck, Miss Trippett; and Ralph Kilgore, Jack Morshead, Chas. Wahlander, Gene Palm, Otto Rittler, John Laureen, Jeff Montgomery, C. La Grave, Bert Robinson, Bruce McDonough and Felix Nelson.

The Crescent Club's houseboat, that received such a ducking at the hands of the old Sacramento a couple of weeks ago, is again back in its former location, and at a casual glance offers little evidence of its submersion.

Many of the oarsmen who are members of the Dolphin and Crescent Rowing Clubs are following the orders of their respective organizations relative to carrying lights, and it is to be hoped that all who go out into the night will do likewise thus reducing the risk of accident to the minimum.

It is noticeable that quite frequently novice oarsmen have their oars so adjusted as to make a great deal more work than is necessary. With an oarsman setting in his seat with his oars straight out on either side, the ends or handles should not only nearly touch, but it is far better if they were to lap, even up to four or five inches. In this way a greater degree of leverage is available, thus making the stroke easier and with greater force. But a few moments' rowing will accustom anyone to such a condition.

Keep near the Yolo shore, where the sandbars do not interfere, as rowing along this route is much easier in every way.

Ralph Jost and Bob Shorrock have returned from Lake Tahoe, and although they rowed a great deal, Bob says there is no place like the old Sacramento for rowing, and no boat like the Zip to row in.

The Dolphins have their regular monthly trip to the Monument in view for tonight, and it is thought that quite a number of both Dolphins and Crescents will make the trip.

The Dix has been on the ways for a week, receiving a coat of paint and general cleaning up, and from now until the end of the season will show a bit of class on dress parades.

Quite a number of Sacramento Athletic Club members are breaking into the rowing game, and it looks very encouraging for the organization of an auxilliary in late winter or early spring..

If signs count for anything, skiff racing next season will more or less give way to the more speedy and less laborious shell, giving a new impetus to the sport and elevating it very materially. Then just how much speed those over Stockton way can come through with will be made clear.

BOXING GAME CLAIMS STILL ANOTHER VICTIM

SAC. UN. 8-21-10

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—Another death was added to the list of fatal boxing bouts in this city when Frederick Castor, 20 years old, died in a hospital after participating in a six-round contest here last night at the Frankford Athletic club with Frank ("Spike") Sullivan of this city.

Sullivan has been committed to the county prison to await the action of the coroner's jury. The managers of the club, promoters of the bout and seconds of the two principals, nine in all, were held on bail as witnesses.

Testimony given before a police magistrate today tended to show that Castor was defeating his opponent, and in the last round, while trying for a knockout, suddenly fell unconscious. The cause of death has not yet been determined.

Allens and P. M. I.'s Are Evenly Matched in Every Detail of the Game.

There will be a Class A game this afternoon at Buffalo park when the Wiley B. Allens and the Panama Murphy Independents meet to decide who is the stronger club for the 1910 season.

These two clubs have been putting up some clever ball this season and to try and dope out the winner of this contest is too much for even the managers themselves.

The Allens have a team of fast baserunners and fielders and have gathered their share of bingles off all the leading twirlers.

Dan Wright, the Allen's sterling twirler, will oppose the Murphys, while Smith, the ironman backstop, will receive him.

The Murphys have not given out who will be on the firing line for them, but it looks as if Rooney will be the twirler, as Kock, the big southpaw, worked last Sunday, when he defeated Dixon, 2 to 0.

The teams will line up as follows:

S. A. C. SWIMMERS TO CONTEST WEDNESDAY

SAC. UN. 8-21-10

Next Wednesday night the aquatic inclined members of the Sacramento Athletic club will contest in an interclub meet at the Sacramento Swimming baths. The management will give some suitable trophy for each event. The 100-yard dash, 220, walk up a greased pole, fancy diving, tug of war, and relay race will be the events. Anyone wishing to enter the meet should communicate with Bob Shorrock at the club.

The officials chosen for the event are: Judges, D. Butler, J. Morsehead and G. Palm; timer, D. Johnson; starter, R. P. Shorrock; referee, A. J. Delano.

The Sacramento Athletic club has put in a bid for the California championship boxing tournament, which will take place in November. JOE WILLIAMS.

Dixon Will Bring Strong Team to Sacramento Today to Beat the Brookes.

The time, 2:30 p. m.; the place, Oak Park; the event, one of the greatest that has been presented to Sacramento fans in many months.

The doings at Oak Park this afternoon are so far above the ordinary that any one of the many features offered would be acceptable, but everything goes as one, and not a single thing has been left undone to make this the real big event of the season.

Dixon seems intent on taking the game hands down, and from their lineup it would appear that the Brookes are going up against the real thing.

Tracy and Ollie Hoag, well known to local fans as two of the fastest players in the now defunct State league, will be with Dixon, as will Bill Hoy, McDonald, Groves, Ferguson, Madden and Hans and Ed Rohrer.

Nearly 200 fans will accompany the team, and there will be some genuine, good, old-time rooting. The Dixon band will also be in evidence, and will furnish music throughout the game.

The real magnet will doubtless be the beautiful Tahoe Vista lot which is to be given to some fortunate fan during the progress of the game.

P, J, Twenty-first and M-street cars will run direct to Oak Park, and the game will be called at the usual time. There will be no extra charges, a single admission being good for all attractions.

Dryeborg has been appearing in wrestling bouts in the North since leaving here a few months ago. The Japanese has made successful tours of this country, teaching and exhibiting the Oriental manner of exerting superiority on the mat.

The articles of agreement were signed up last evening.

To Meet Jui Jitsu Champ

SAC. UN. 8-22-10

GIANT WRESTLERS TO CONTEST HERE

Former Sacramento Athletic Club Instructor to Meet Japanese Sept. 5.

Shosha Yokoyama, champion jui jitsu wrestler of the world, and Walter Dyreborg, former director of wrestling at the Sacramento Athletic club, will wrestle for the championship of Northern California in the old Pavilion Monday night, September 5th (Labor Day). Yokoyama and Dyreborg are now in the city and will commence immediately to condition themselves for the match. Dyreborg will train in the athletic club gymnasium and Yokoyama will condition in the old Pavilion. S. Miyoski, a prominent local Japanese, is promoting the match.

Articles for the meeting were signed last night and were witnessed by a friend of Yokoyama and Joe Erickson for Dyreborg.

Dyreborg left this city three months ago to appear in Portland and the Northwest in wrestling exhibitions. He was instructor at the Sacramento Athletic club and may resume his duties with the club after the meeting with the Japanese giant. Dyreborg met and won from Frank Ribley in Tacoma and Jack Crum in Pocatello. He fully expects to defeat Yokoyama.

The Japanese claims the title of the world and so far no one has been found that could successfully dispute it. He has been in the United States four years, and has wrestled in Canada and all parts of the United States. In his four years here he has met and thrown twenty-eight men. Some of them have been high in their profession. He met McLaughlin in San Jose, George Born and many others. Yokoyama has the distinction of once being a tutor to no less a person that ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, whom he instructed in the art of jiu jitsu. He was professor of wrestling in the Western Texas Academic college in San Antonio and at present has a class of forty-two local Japanese in Sacramento.

The referee for the match has not been chosen, but Eddie Cox will undoubtedly be the official, as he is wanted by Dyreborg and is not objectionable to Yokoyama.

CHIEF AHERN FROWNS ON THE BOXING GAME.

Declares He Will Not Allow Any Scrapping Where Money Is Paid to Gain Admittance.

Joe Richardson, matchmaker for the Buffalo Athletic Club, had a long interview with Chief of Police Ahern last night in a vain attempt to persuade that official that four and six-round boxing matches are within the State law. He cited the bouts pulled off in Oakland and San Francisco as illustrations.

Richardson's arguments failed to appeal to Chief Ahern, who flatly declared that he did not care what the authorities at the Bay allowed. If Richardson provided the Sacramento public with a series of short-round bouts, he was not doing it for his health but for the monetary profit involved, said the Chief, and in his opinion any fighting at which an admission is charged is prize fighting. Such bouts will not be allowed here. The result of the argument is that the Sacramento public will not be permitted to view even the short-round game.

ATHLETES WILL COMPETE FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS AT SACRAMENTO

Sunday 8/28/10

THE entries for the annual track and field championships of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union closed with the championship committee last night. The games are to be held on the track at the State Fair grounds at Sacramento next Saturday afternoon, and promise to be one of the most successful athletic carnivals ever held under the auspices of the A. A. U. branch.

Athletes from all of the important athletic clubs will be on the mark in the different events, as well as a representative aggregation from Stanford and the University of California. The Olympic Club and the Pastime Athletic Club are both sending teams from this city, the former with a delegation of about twenty aspirants for championship honors. Captain Sam Bellah of the Stanford track team will head a squad from the cardinal institution, including McGregor of Stanford, who won the half-mile championship title at Los Angeles last year.

No matter what the outcome of the five-mile race at the Presidio grounds today shows, Garvin, Magee and Lee will meet again at Sacramento. The Olympic team will include Ollie Snedigar, Ed Beeson, Herbert Cheek, James Donahue, Dave Martin, Pete Gerhardt, Frank Bressi, Ed Macauley, Al Plaw, Ralph Rose and Mervyn Joy.

The track for the occasion has been put in the best condition, and every opportunity for excellent performances is offered the athletes who will start in the different events. The committee has purchased gold, silver and bronze medals to be awarded to the successful performers.

The prizes are the best that have ever been offered in the Pacific Association meets, and will prove a welcome prize in each instance. They are of artistic design, and will be distributed to the winners of first, second and third places.

IRISH-AMERICAN CLUB IS SUSPENDED BY P. A. A. U. OFFICIALS

Chronicle 8/27/10

By JOE R. HICKEY.

Action was taken at the regular weekly meeting of the registration committee of the Pacific Association yesterday in the matter of disciplining several prominent athletes and the Irish-American Club. The latter organization was suspended from the ranks of the Amateur Athletic Union until such time as the club officials make an explanation relative to the games held under its auspices at Fairfax Park on the Fourth of July last. According to the members of the registration committee, the Irish-American Club issued entry blanks announcing amateur events to be held in connection with the Hibernian picnic at Fairfax on July 4th, without obtaining a sanction from the Pacific Association.

At the meeting yesterday the Irish-American Club was expected to make an explanation, but there was none forthcoming.

William Minnehan, delegate to the Pacific Association from the suspended club, was present, but did not appear to champion the case of the club he represented. Minnehan clearly showed that he disapproved of the breach made by the club in question. The suspension of the Irish-American Club will interfere with the three-cornered meet announced for Sunday at the Presidio Athletic grounds, in which the Irish-American athletes are to compete with the Olympic and Pastime teams. The action taken by the amateur officials yesterday will prevent the members of the club from participating and the events on Sunday will be contested by the remaining two clubs unless the difficulty is settled before the games.

For the first time in the history of local athletics seven athletes were punished for failing to compete after regularly entering sanctioned events and for sending their names to two sets of games on the same day. Two Olympic Club athletes, Cecil Caldwell and E. F. McNamara, came under the ban of the committee. McNamara failed to put in an appearance at the games of the Original Gaelic Club after sending in his entry blank, and when asked for an excuse failed to reply. Caldwell entered two sets of games on the Fourth of July and was absent from both. He also failed to explain to the committee. Dan Reiser, John Sullivan, Eddie Mulherr, H. M. Acton and V. Sabris were also included in the list suspended for this breach of the rules.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, is planning a big handball tournament for next month. The handball players of the club will be divided into classes and play for the championship of the club. There are a great many enthusiasts in this line of sport belonging to the club. Those making a good showing will be sent to play the champs of other cities.

Practice has commenced with a rush. Green, Blake, Trainor, Tate and others of the club's experts will all be back in the game. Medals will be presented to the winning team and individual champions.

SWEDISH-AMERICAN RUN IS WON BY JAMES MAGEE

Visitacion Valley Club Carries Off the Honors for the Winning Team.

James Magee of the Irish-American Club proved a rather easy winner of the Swedish-American Club's cross-country run yesterday, and the Visitacion Valley Athletic Club took the team honors in the race by sending the first five men across the line. The winning runner took the lead right from the start of the race at the life-saving station on the ocean beach, and was never headed, finishing at the club's headquarters on Sixteenth street with a good seventy-five-yard lead on Johnson of the Swedish-American Club, who took second place.

The winning club scored a total of 38 points, and the Swedish Club took the second place by making 47 points, the points being counted on a system of the lowest number deciding the winner. The Irish-American Club, with a total of 51 to its credit, took the third place in the race.

The official time made by the winner, 1h., 1m., 7s., was very slow for the distance, and caused much comment among the runners and the spectators, as members of the contesting clubs have gone over the course in practice in as low as 52m. The Visitacion Club's men were pretty well bunched at the finish, Salmi, the first to cross the line, finishing in the fourth position, with Gorse fifth, Paulson seventh, Erickson eighth and Vulkovich fourteenth.

Thirty-nine runners started in the race, and all but three managed to stick to the finish. Wagner of the Humboldt Evening School was the first runner in the colors of the unplaced club to cross the line, coming in tenth.

The Visitacion Valley Club carried off the silver loving cup offered by the Swedish-American Club, and the second place team was rewarded with the Larsen trophy. Magee won a loving cup offered by the Swedish-American Club, and the next four runners to finish were given cups. Medals were given to the members of the winning team. All the prizes were distributed at the dance given by the Swedish Club at the clubrooms in the evening.

The runners finished as follows:

Magee (I. A. A. C.), Johnson (S. A. A. C.), Gustafson (S. A. A. C.), Salmi (V. V. A. C.), Gorse (V. V. A. C.), Rohstien (S. A. A. C.), Paulson (V. V. A. C.), Erickson (V. V. A. C.), George (I. A. A. IRISH CLUB UNDER BAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Failing to explain its action in issuing entry blanks for games on the Fourth of July without permission from the Pacific Athletic Association, the Irish American Club today is under the official ban of the coast athletes. It has been suspended from membership and will not be allowed to participate in any meets until the demanded explanation is forthcoming.

It is asserted by the members of the registration committee of the Pacific Athletic Association that entry blanks were issued by the Irish American Club for games to be held at the Hibernian picnic held at Fairfax Park on July 4th. No sanction was given this action by the Amateur Union or the committee in charge of such matters. SAC. STAR 8-29-10

DIXON AND GATES MAY NOT COMPETE SATURDAY

Dixon and Gates, two of the Sacramento Athletic club's strongest men in the athletic department, are at present ill, and it is probable that they will not be able to compete in the meet Saturday. This will cripple the team greatly, and may spoil Sacramento's chances for the individual trophy. SAC. UN. 9-1-10

CRACK ATHLETES TO COMPETE HERE

Olympic Club Will Be Well Represented by Captain Gerhardt.

Probably for the first time in its history Sacramento will see the best amateur athletes in the state congregated together in competition for records and trophies September 6th at Agricultural Park in conjunction with the State Fair and the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold. It will not be a gathering of grammar or high school athletes or of college students, but it will be a meeting between men of muscle and brain, who have battled against the experts of the world in field and upon track and have always been able to carry home the olive branch for the stars and stripes.

Such a congregation of athletes will exhibit their skill at Agricultural Park in the competitive meet to be held under the auspices of the Sacramento commission.

The Olympic club of San Francisco will be well represented and one of their best men will be their captain, Peter Gerhardt. He is a crack man in the sprints and has a record of 22 seconds for the 220. He gained the right to be classed as a senior champion of the United States in the athletic games at the world's fair held in Jamestown in 1907. He has been a member of the Olympic club for eight years and this year received the honor of the captaincy. He succeeded A. Glarner. Gerhardt will defend his colors in the sprints in the coming meet.

The Sacramento Athletic club will be well represented in the meet. A partial list of the club's entries follow: Clenn F. Dunn, five miles; C. Stewart, one mile, 880 run; J. Childs, one mile, 880 run; J. Hall, putting shot, hammer, javelin; S. Dickson, shot, pole vault, H. J. B. S. javelin; S. Day, five miles; P. Kidder, high jump; George Papas, one mile; A. F. Gates, 880, 440, 220, H. J. B. S.; M. E. Sparks, 440, 880, one mile, H. J. B. S.; R. Payne, 880, one mile; P. Holt, H. J. broad jump, 120 hurdles; H. D. Finch, 440, 220; A. P. Overhouse, 440, 220; P. Hollingsworth, 100, 220; W. McNeely, one mile; J. B. Kinsheloe, 120, 220, 440-yard run; R. Emes, 880 yards, broad jump; D. Williams, 880 yards.

S.F. BULLETIN

Entries for the annual field and track championships of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union were announced by the championship committee yesterday. The field day is scheduled to be held on the track at the State Fair Grounds in Sacramento on next Saturday afternoon commencing at 2 o'clock. Three local athletic clubs will have teams in the field, in addition to the competitors entered from Stanford University and the University of California.

AMATEUR ATHLETES GET SUSPENSION AX FOR VIOLATIONS OF RULES

Evening Post 8/26/10

Registration Committee of P. A. A. Disposes of Numerous Cases on Its Docket.

IRISH-AMERICAN CLUB TEMPORARILY OUT OF IT

Contesting With Professionals and in Meets Not Sanctioned Are Worst of Offenses.

Wholesale slaughtering of amateur athletes was the pastime of the registration committee of the Pacific Athletic Association last night and before the curtain was rung down the Irish Athletic Club, University of California athletes, Olympic Club members and other local clubmen were placed on the suspended list temporarily or for good. It was a busy night.

Irish-Americans went to the block first. For failure to explain their action in scheduling games at the Hibernian reunion of July Fourth without the sanction of the P. A. A., the organization, individually and collectively, was booted into the cold. Not satisfied with this general edict, P. J. Hallisey of the same organization was singled out for the other barrel and suspended for participation in professional games at Shell Mound Park. He gets another hearing in one week.

University of California Athlete and Olympic Club Runner F. E. MacNamara, was placed on suspension for failure to contest in events for which he had registered. Others who were shown the might of the registration committee are Cecil Caldwell of the Olympic Club, John Sullivan of St. Joseph's School, H. M. Acton of the Pastimes and Dan Reise, Eddie Mulherr and V. A. Fabris. None of these athletes competed in the Gaelic games after signifying their intention.

After clearing the board of faulty athletes, the P. A. A. committee granted the Western club of this city the right to hold the state wrestling contest in October, awarded Sacramento the boxing bouts and decided to allow Larkspur to hold a track meet on September 5.

GOOD CARD FOR S. A. C. BOUTS

SAC. BEE 8-30-10

Billy Gore, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Young Wallace, unattached, have been matched for the main event of the club's three-round boxing bouts Friday evening. These 133-pound youngsters were lined up at the last couple of meets, but for some reason the match was cancelled, so this time they will go at it with a vim.

The monthly bouts for August, which were postponed from last Friday night until next, have indications of class. Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman to-day announced the following complete card:

RELIANCE CLUB GOES TO THE WALL

OAKLAND, August 30.—The Reliance Athletic Club has closed its doors at Thirteenth and Alice Streets. The organization, which has produced world famous athletes, held Coast football championships, and ranked at times among the leading athletic clubs of the country, will be dissolved because of bankruptcy.

The deciding blow came when a contractor sued the individual members for $2,300. He had not been able to collect from the club, as the treasury was empty, and the club was in arrears to Jack Stewart, its Superintendent, for $600 salary.

ATHLETICS TO MEET OROVILLE.

WRESTLING MATCH DATE IS CHANGED

Dyreborg and Yokoyama to Meet September 4th in Jiu Jitsu Contest.

The date for the jiu jitsu wrestling match between Shosha Yokoyama, light heavyweight champion of the world, and Walter Dyreborg, wrestling instructor of the Sacramento Athletic club, has been changed to Sunday night, September 4th, instead of the 5th, as previously announced. Interest is growing in the match every day, and Dyreborg hopes to place wrestling upon the same footing that was occupied by boxing some weeks ago. The sports of the Japanese colony are greatly interested in the bout, as Yokoyama is a great favorite with his countrymen.

The Japanese is undoubtedly one of the best men at 180 pounds at jiu jitsu in the world. His record shows his ability as a wrestler, and up to the present no one has been found capable of wresting his honors from him Yokoyama has had sixteen contests in the East and Canada and met such men as George Hackensmith and Engine Williams. He beat them both at the game of his country, but whether or not he would have done so well with the American game is another question.

Dyreborg has engaged in thirteen professional matches and has been fairly successful. In his early career he met and beat Joe Lassell, light heavyweight champion of Canada. Dyreborg came to Sacramento to become wrestling instructor of the Sacramento Athletic club and has occupied that position continuously save for two mouths' absence in the north. During his absence in the north he took a bride and has now a Mrs. Dyreborg to help him win his battles.

The Japanese and whites will not mix at the exhibition. Separate seats will be arranged for the Japanese in a different section of the hall.

CHICO ATHLETE CAN NOW WEAR BLUE AND GOLD

SAC. BEE 8-30-10

SAN FRANCISCO, August 30.—Floyd Rice, the Chico High School track and football star, has matriculated at the affiliated Colleges, where he is registered in the department of dentistry. As the colleges are affiliated with the University of California, the former Chico High athlete will be eligible to represent the blue and gold both on the football field and cinder path. Previous to his entering the Affiliated Colleges it was thought that Rice would enter Stanford University and rumors were also in circulation that he would go East to college.

In Rice the University of California has secured one of the greatest prep. schools' athletes ever developed in the High Schools of the Pacific Coast. Rice is best known in the interscholastic world as a weight thrower.

In the Stanford interscholastic track and field meet last Spring the Chico strong man won the shot put with a record throw of 49 feet 6 inches, and then wound up his splendid performance by throwing the hammer for a new Pacific Coast Interscholastic record.

Those who saw Rice perform pronounced him on par with Ralph Rose in his High School days. Rice is a big fellow, over six feet tall and weighs about 195 pounds. At football he was a star. He played fullback for three years on the Chico High School team, and when the Berkeley High eleven went north for a post-season game with Chico High, Rice astonished the college town boys by his power at smashing the line.

Rice has announced that he will try for the Freshmen Rugby team at the University of California, and in the Spring will go out for the track team.

SEVENTEEN ATHLETES OFF FOR SACRAMENTO

S.F. Post 9-2-10

Seventeen athletes and a trainer left this afternoon for the championship games at Sacramento. This group will represent the Olympic Club, while other star performers from the respective clubs of the city are expected to be on hand for the games. The Olympic team is the strongest in some time and includes such men as Ralph Rose, Ollie Snedigar, Al Plaw, Herbert Cheek, James Donahue, Edward Macauley, Elliott Craig, Harold Maundrell, Herbert Williams, William Garvin, Frank Bressi, William Hoburg, Raleigh Kelly, Mervyn Joy, Orval Baumbaugh, Dave Martin and Rodney Kendrick.

ALVA GATES MAY NOT BE IN MEET

BEE

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), August 1. Alva Gates, a member of the Sacramento Athletic Club and one of the fastest track men on the Coast, is ill with a severe cold and in all probability will not be in condition to participate in the big P. A. A. field meet to be held in Sacramento Saturday.

8-30-10

This comes as disappointing news to the local club, which counted on Gates as a high point winner.

Physical Director Otto Rittler, of the S. A. C., has hopes of getting away with the big meet at Agricultural Park Saturday. He says he has a better balanced team than any of the contestants and unless the Olympics of San Francisco make a better showing than they did in a meet at the Bay Sunday, Rittler says they will not be a hard problem to solve.

STATE BOXING CARNIVAL TO BE HELD HERE

P. A. A. Committee Grants Request of Sacramento Athletic Club

8-30-10

The annual boxing carnival for the amateur championship of California in all classes has been landed by Sacramento, and will be held here in the latter part of October or the first of November. Physical Instructor Otto Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, to-day received a letter from the Registration Committee of the Pacific Athletic Association stating that Sacramento had been decided upon as the place for holding the bouts.

The letter follows:

San Francisco, August 29th.

Sacramento Athletic Club: Gentlemen—At the last meeting of the Registration Committee of the P. A. A., held Thursday, August 25th, your club was awarded the boxing championship bouts for 1910 per your request of August 21, 1910. Yours,

REGISTRATION COMMITTEE.

Per George Schlitter, Chairman.

This award means that the Sacramento Athletic Club has landed the second big event of the P. A. A., the first being the annual field and track meet to be held Monday. The boxing tournament will bring to this city the best amateur fighters in the State, and the winners of the bouts will meet the best amateurs in the north for the championship of the Coast. The tournament will last three days, and will be a big thing in amateur sports. Otto Rittler stated to-day that the local club will enter from two to three boxers in every event, and the local boys stood a good chance of carrying off honors.

A meeting of the Commissioners of the S. A. C. will be called to take steps toward preparing for the carnival. Last year the tournament was held in Los Angeles during the Elks' week.

ATHLETIC MEET TO BE FEATURE OF STATE FAIR

SAC. BEE 8-29-10

Some two hundred of the most prominent athletes of the Pacific Coast are scheduled to enter the P. A. A. meet to be held at the State Fair grounds on September 3d. Indications are that the meet will be one of the greatest in the history of athletics on the Pacific Coast, for most of the men who have always stood out prominently as record holders and point winners have entered their names among those who will contest.

The Sacramento Athletic Club is not least on the entry list, no less than forty local athletes having announced that they would try for prizes. The complete entry list as announced follows:

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The entries for the annual track and field championships of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union were announced by the championship committee yesterday, and include one of the most representative aggregation of athletes ever entered in these games. The field day is scheduled to be held on the track in the State fair grounds at Sacramento next Saturday afternoon commencing at 2 o'clock. Three athletic clubs from this city will have teams in the meet, in addition to the competitors entered from Stanford and the University of California.

The Olympic Club team will be made up of eighteen aspirants for championship honors. The Irish-American and Pastime clubs will also send a delegation, while the Sacramento Athletic Club will have one of the strongest teams ever gathered from that section of the State.

Preparations for the occasion have been carried on for some time, and the officials in charge of the track have put everything in first-class shape for the meet. Athletes from All the Prominent Clubs in Northern California to Compete on Saturday.

The annual P. A. A. championships will be held next Saturday afternoon, at Sacramento. S. A. C. GIVES A GOOD MONTHLY BOXING CARD

SAC. STAR 9-3-10

The regular monthly boxng card of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night proved to be one of the best carsd ever staged by the club. But two of the bouts were accordng to schedule, but taken as a whole, the card was given the decision.

Oscar Jones and G. Pappas started the card. These fought at 145 pounds. The go was very rough. Jones showed better head work and was given the decision.

Harry Esta won from P. Valdez in the second argument. Valdez put up a very clever scrap, but his opponent was stroger and cleverer.

It took four rounds to settle the difficulty between Bertagni and Azevedo. This was one of the best mills of the evening. Azevedo wore his man down and got the decision.

From a standpoint of scientific boxing and cleverness, the exhibiton of Paul Noble, of the Acme Club, Oakland, and "Spltz" Sollars, of the S. A. C. would have been hard to beat. Their cleverness would have made the bout a feature at any boxing show. Sollars out-pointed the Bay City boy in the fourth and was given the decision.

In a rough and tumble go "Slitz" Hoffman, match-maker for the club, dropped Fisher with a right across to the chin. This occurred in the second round after a round of rough-house fighting. Fisher landed on his head, rolled over, got up and started after his fat opponent. Four knock-downs finally subdued the blonde scrapper from Bakersfield. Fisher, under other names, has fought in professional fights. He appeared as an amateur last night.

Lee Muskrat won from Amacker. These two youngsters put up a fast go and for a time honors were even. Repeated body punches landed by Muskrat gave him the advantage over Amacker.

The main event between Billie Gore, the club's undefeated light-weight, and Wallace was the best go. It took four rounds to decide matters. Each scored a knockdown in the first. Both boys hammered away, and each was in a way where one well-directed punch would have ended matters. In the fourth Gore successfully and repeatedly stabbed Wallace with a straight left. He was given the decision.

All of the bouts were free from questionable features. The boxers all acted like gentlemen. The matchmaker is to be complimented on arranging so entertainng a card.

GAME CALLED OFF.

The game arranged for Sunday between Panama Murphy's Independents and the S. A. C. team has been postponed indefinitely. The proceeds were to go to the Portuguese church.

FISTIC TOURNEY TO BE HELD HERE

Sacramento Athletic Club Secures Boxing Event of West From P. A. A.

SAC. UN. — 9-1-10

In a letter received yesterday by Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club from Chairman George Schlitter of the registration committee of the Pacific Athletic association boxing department, it was stated that the 1910 amateur goxing tournament had been awarded to this city, and would take place upon the 2d, 3d and 4th of November. This means that amateur boxers from all parts of the West will flock to Sacramento upon those dates and contest for the three days for various prizes and trophies that will be offered by the association.

Professor Rittler and other officials of the club have been working with the P. A. A. officials for some time, and, through untiring efforts, backed by a good proposition, they have secured the tourney. As the athletic club gymnasium is not large enough, the tournament will probably take place in the old pavilion. The local club will enter two or three men in each event.

The fistic carnival will bring to this city some of the best boxers in the West, and the heavyweight, lightweight and middleweight championships will be decided. Arrangements for the entertaining of the boxers will be made later. The letter acquainting Rittler of the award of the tournament follows:

"San Francisco, August 29.

"Sacramento Athletic Club—Gentlemen: At the last meeting of the registration committee of the P. A. A., held Thursday, August 15, your club was awarded the boxing championship bouts for 1910, per your request of August 21, 1910. Yours,

"REGISTRATION COMMITTEE,
"Per George Schlitter, Chairman."

HOFFMAN SCORES ONLY KNOCKOUT

S. A. C. Matchmaker Proves He Can Come Back—Gore Wins From Wallace.

SAC. UN. — 9-3-10

James J. Jeffries may not have been able to come back, but that is no sign the remaining members of the white race are unable to do so, according to the demonstration at the Sacramento Athletic club monthly boxing fest last night, when Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman, veteran of many ring frays and as clever an amateur boxer as ever saw Sacramento, scored the only knockout on the card in the second round of a scheduled three-round bout with Fisher.

Hoffman donned the mitts after an absence of many months and the flesh hung in rolls over the waist line of his tights. But that made no difference to the Schlitz twin and he showed the fans that he has yet one good fight left in him. Fisher was put to the mat five times, but displayed considerable gameness in returning each time for more. He got it, and on the fifth down was counted out.

THE BEST GO.

By far the best go of the evening was the main event between Wallace and Billy Gore. Honors remained even up to the fourth round, when Gore sent in a straight left to the chin that dazed Wallace. From that time on the fight was all Gore's. Wallace scored a knockdown in the first round, but Gore was not hurt, and braced up until the third, when it looked as if Wallace would win. The straight left in the fourth turned the tide of battle and made Gore once again a champion.

The seven-event card was an excellent one, all the bouts being marked by gentlemanly conduct and clean boxing. Although there were several near knockouts, only one was scored, and none of the athletes were injured more than a scratch or bruise. Schlitz Sollars wears a jab on his forehead and it, he says, bears evidence that the bout was no fake.

Sollars is a wonderfully fast boxer and did he possesss sufficient stamina he would be hard to beat. His opponent, Noble of the Oakland Acme club, is a good boxer and put up a fine go. Schlitz outpointed Noble and won the decision in four rounds, honors being so even at the third that it necessitated an extra session to determine the winner. Even then there was room for argument.

LEE MUSKRAT WINS.

Lee Muskrat came in for another victory and an additional medal when he won from Amaker Sr. The boys put up a hot set-to, but Lee came in too fast and too heavy for Amacker, who, though he was game and clever, was outpointed.

Harry Esta took the go from P. Valdez after three rounds of stiff milling. Valdez put up an unusually clever scrap, but could not stand against Esta's strength and cleverness.

G. Jones and G. Pappas kept Referee Schoenbacklar busy tearing them apart, and at times the bout looked for all the world like a three-cornered affair. Pappas fought desperately and did not use his head, Jones took things cool and steadily fought his way to victory. Had Pappas done likewise the result might have been different for as a boxer he is not inferior to Jones.

It took Azevedo just four rounds to wear Bertagni down to where he was almost powerless, but when that time had arrived he was so weak himself he could not deliver the knockout punch and had to be satisfied with a win by decision.

The other scheduled matches had to be canceled because of absence from town and illness. Cowie has a broken hand and Burns is handicapped with a weak heart.

ATHLETICS TO MEET THE GOLDEN POPPIES

SAC. BEE. 9-3-10

The Athletics, who have been taking a rest for several weeks, will meet the Golden Poppies of this city in what promises to be a snappy game of baseball to-morrow morning at Buffalo Park. Johnson and Grady are both available as pitchers for the Athletics, and will probably give some of the great Poppy sluggers the time of their lives. Godt is billed to do the catching. Others who will play for the locals are Wakefield on second, Hoy on first, Burns on short, and Hausman on third. In the outfield are Overhouse, Clark and Koster. Gage and Toben make up the battery for the Golden Poppies.

AMATEUR ATHLETES HOLD THE STAGE

Athletes representing many organizations under jurisdiction of the Pacific Athletic Association gathered at Agricultural Park this afternoon to compete in the events of the track and field meet under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The first event was to be held at 2 o'clock and for the remainder of the afternoon the athletes contested hard for every honor on the program.

There are many prizes for the successful contestants, as well as the honor to be obtained by the teams and the individuals. The meeting is the first that the P. A. A. has sanctioned for Sacramento, and accordingly much interest centers in it. The meeting is, in fact, one of the most important of the year on the Pacific Coast. The results will be in The Star's sport extra tonight.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has many entries for the various events. Otto Rittler, physical instructor for the club, has worked hard to get the athletes in shape for the meet and will be disappointed if they do not carry off many honors. The Olympic Club of San Francisco has sent a strong team and other organizations are also represented.

Altogether there will be forty-two medals and cups given to the winners. Each club can have any number of entries, but one athlete can contest in only a certain number of contests.

The following officials were announced for the meet:

Championship committee, John Elliott, George James and J. R. Hickey, San Francisco; referee, Fred Kock, San Francisco; inspectors, Harry Gimbal, J. N. Inman, J. W. Shanahan and A. Hoffman, Sacramento; starter, George James, San Francisco; judges at finish, Sidney S. Peixotto, San Francsco, David Brown, S. Upson and A. J. Delano, Sacramento; field judges, R. W. STATE FAIR AT SACRAMENTO OPENS TO-DAY

S.F. Ex. 9-3-10

Thousands Gather for What Is Expected to Be Best Occasion of the Kind.

THE FEATURES ARE LEGION

Wild West Riders and Aviators Will Furnish a Great Entertainment.

SACRAMENTO, September 2.—California's greatest Fair and Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold will begin to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, when the gates of Agricultural Park will be thrown open to welcome the thousands who are gathered in Sacramento to-night to view the myriad of exhibits from every section of the State and to participate in the pleasures afforded by the splendid fiesta program.

This fair, which is planned to eclipse anything of the kind before held in this State or on the coast, will, with the fiesta, represent an expenditure of more than $100,000, of which $75,000 has been raised by the citizens of this city for the fiesta alone.

Charles K. Hamilton, the famous New York aviator, is on the ground with his two aeroplanes. The Frontier Days show from Cheyenne, which bears the enthusiastic endorsement of former President Roosevelt as the greatest Wild West show in existence, arrived by special train this morning, and is housed on the fair grounds.

The exhibits, comprising everything raised or produced in California, are practically in place, occupying every available floor foot of ground within the great enclosure. The executive committe of the fiesta, which has had charge of all the preparations for the fiesta, made a special trip to Agricultural Park to-night to make a final inspection and to satisfy themselves that everything is in readiness for the opening of the big show to-morrow morning.

The directors of the State Agricultural Society have expended several thousand dollars in providing additional space for exhibits and in enlarging the capacity of the grandstands so as to seat 15,000 spectators. The exhibits occupy the four main buildings and in addition fifty tents have been erected. Approximately $25,000 will be awarded in prizes to the owners of the exhibits and in prizes for the harness meets.

For the evening programme at which Hamilton's night flights and Pain's fireworks will be the features, a large number of arc lights and several thousand incandescents have been installed.

Eleven cars made up the special train which conveyed the Frontier Days show from Cheyenne to this city. The aggregation comprises bronco busters, ropers, Wild West wild horse riders and experts in all kinds of Wild West sports, both men and women. It also includes a band of Sioux and Shoshone Indians, forty in number.

Bucking Horses.

The Wild West show has ordered a carload of steers from Miller and Lux, but the performers have their own cow ponies and bucking horses, including the notorious "Steamboat." This show will give its first full performance Tuesday afternoon, but the fiesta committee will try to have arranged for a brief appearance of several of the cowboy celebrities to-morrow afternoon.

Hamilton will make his first flight Monday morning at 10 o'clock. In his repertoire he includes his famous "Hamilton glide," in which, after rising to an altitude of 1,000 feet, he shuts off his engines, and drops directly to the ground, alighting as lightly as a feather in front of the grand stand. Four professors, scientists of the University of California, G. B. Dillingham, C. E. Kelsey, H. H. Harphon and W. S. Schroeder, have come to this city to check the altitudes which Hamilton in his aeroplane and Hill in his dirigible will reach in their efforts to break records.

L. L. Hill, in his monster dirigible balloon, will try to break the world's record at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning for altitude reached by dirigibles. Miss Ivy Jodoin of Sacramento has agreed to be a passenger in one of his flights.

Blondin, "the fearless," a protege of the famous Niagara tight-rope walker, will perform at 1 o'clock.

Programme at State Fair

Events of Opening Day

The following is the Sacramento Fair programme, opening day, Saturday, September 3d:

10 a. m.—Industrial and live-stock exhibits thrown open. Hill makes flight in dirigible balloon in attempt to beat world's altitude record.

1 p. m.—Blondin's tight-wire exhibition. Pacific Association, A. A. U., annual athletic meet.

8 p. m.—Pain's pyrotechnic tableau of Golden Days of '49.

ALL READY FOR GREAT MEET HERE TOMORROW

SAC. STAR 9-2-10

Final preparations for the big State Fair track and field meet to be held at Agricultural Park tomorrow afternoon, are almost complete. The track has been measured and is pronounced in excellent condition by competent judges. The officials have been instructed as to their respective duties and everything is waiting for the starter's gun. The crack of his pistol will commence the biggest meet ever held in Sacramento and possibly in the state.

Well known and prominent athletes from all over the state will be on hand to participate. All of the leading athletic clubs are sending teams and representatives. Several athletes from the state of Nevada are entered.

Many valuable prizes are offered. To the team making the greatest number of points a handsome cup will be presented. This cup is one of the best ever presented to any team. It stands 24 inches high and is of silver. It is decorated with elks' horns. A place for the names of the members of the team is on the cup.

Walter Christie, the well-known University of California coach and starter, has been selected as starter for the State Fair meet. Christie is recognized as one of the best athletic authorities on the coast. The starter is considered one of the most important of the officials. Every athlete competing is assured of a square deal when Christie is an official.

The Olympic Club of San Francisco will send a strong team. The Bay City athletes are after the big cup, all of the medals, prizes and records they can get. Snedigar and other well-known athletes will represent them. Other clubs of prominence throughout the state are sending strong teams.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will enter one of the best teams ever gotten together. Despite the fact that the best athletes in California are to compete the local club feels confident of being second to none. Gates, the well-known middle distance runner, and Dunn, the long distance runner, will wear S. A. C. colors.

Over 160 athletes are entered for the meet. The events will start at 1:30. No one but officials will be allowed on the track. There is seating capacity for 8000 people.

Medals will be given for first, second and third places. A gold for first, silver for second and bronze for third.

P. A. A. CHAMPIONSHIPS AT SACRAMENTO TO-DAY

S.F.EX. 9-3-10.

Olympic Club Will Have Strong Representation and Should Score Most Points.

The annual track and field championships of the Pacific Athletic Association will be held this afternoon at Sacramento, when the usual list of events will be contested on the track at the State Fair grounds. A large number of athletes have entered for the various events and some keen competition is assured.

The clubs from this city will be well represented. The Olympic Club has sent a team of seventeen men to compete. The Pastime and Irish-American Clubs have also sent teams, although they are not so strong numerically as the Olympic aggregation.

In the 100 yards Olie Snedigar looks to be the most likely winner, his race last Sunday at the Presidio grounds having shown that the former University of California star is in good trim and as fast as ever. Russell Rogers of the Pastime Club, and Meding of the same club are considered the most dangerous of Snedigar's opponents. The Olympic Club looks to have the best chance in the 220 yards also, with Macaulay, Gerhardt and Joy as its representatives. Starrett of the rish-Americans, Gates of Sacramento and Rogers of the Pastimes should be the contenders in this event.

Macaulay in Quarter.

In the quarter-mile Ed Macaulay, who is the present holder of the championship, has an excellent chance to retain the title. Last Sunday he ran the distance at the Presidio grounds with a strong wind blowing in :50 4-5, and he is likely to improve on this time at Sacramento. There are no other competitors in the race who have shown as fast time as this.

E. A. McGregor, the former Stanford half-miler, is entered unattached in the half-mile. McGregor is the present champion, and he will make a strong effort to defend his title. Raleigh Kelly proved the best of the half-milers entered in the triangular meet at the Presidio last Sunday, and on his showing on that day he holds the balance of the field, including Riordan and Joy, safe.

Craig of the Olympic Club won the mile last year, but the clever miler is not running in good form at present and may not be able to win from the strong field that will compete to-day. The Olympics have plenty of good reserve men in case Craig is not up to his form, and the club is likely to furnish the winner in either Williams or Maundrell.

Fred Koch Referee.

The five-mile race is likely to be a contest between Garvin of the Olympics and Lee of the Pastimes. These two ran within a yard of each other last Sunday, Garvin winning, and both of them were so far ahead of McGee of the Irish-Americans that he can hardly be figured in this afternoon's race. Howden is also entered, and although he is an excellent long distance runner, he hardly has enough speed to beat Garvin or Lee.

The hurdle races look to be victories for the Olympics. Cheek is said to be in good form, and if he is he should experience little difficulty in annexing first place in both the high and the low hurdles. Beeson and Donahue will also represent the club and they figure to be Cheek's most dangerous opponents.

Snedigar, Gates and Starrett look to be the best of the broad jumpers, and in the high jump Dave Martin, if in form, should prove the winner. Ralph Rose should be an easy winner in the shot put, and there will probably be some keen competition in the hammer throw, in which Rose, Al Plaw and Mahoney are entered. Ballah of Stanford University should be an easy winner in the pole vault and Rose and Snedigar look to be the best of the entrants in the javelin throw.

The meet will be under the direction of the championship committee of the association, consisting of John Elliott, Joseph R. Hickey and George James, of California track man, will be and Fred Koch, the former University referee.

S. A. C. PLANS COUNTRY RUNS

SAC. STAR 9-1-10

As soon as the State Fair track meet and others are completed the cross-country runs by the Sacramento Athletic Club will probably again be commenced. These, while they were held, proved very popular. Many members of the track team will keep in form by the week-end jog across the fields.

CLEM DUNN TO RUN FOR SACRAMENTO SATURDAY

SAC. UN 9-2-10

He will run under the colors of the Sacramento Athletic club and will compete against racers from the University of California, Olympic club and other clubs and schools noted for their athletes. The race is for the championship of the Pacific coast.

LOCAL BOXERS MEET TONIGHT

Goulard and Erickson Not to Appear—New Faces to Be Seen in Ring.

SAC. UN— 9-2-10

Goularl and Erickson (One Round Joe) will not appear in the Sacramento Athletic Club's monthly night at the ringside tonight. Two new faces will be seen within the ropes and providing they make good as their friends think they will two places on the team that will wear Sacramento's colors in the P. A. A. championships tourney here in November are already cinched. Eames and Sollars are the men. Ten good bouts are down on the card, but it is likely that only seven of them will be held. Several of the entries are doubtful and may back out at the last minute. Erickson and Goulard will not mix it this time owing to Erickson's injured nose. The husky Northlander does not care to run the risk of having his "soup scenter" injured too severely, and so will lay off this month at least. The worthy boxing commissioner. Ancil Hoffman, will himself add to the features of the ring.

Another out-of-town boxer, Nesbit, of the Acme club of Oaklanl, will make his bow before Sacramento fans against Young J. Amacker. Paul Noble, who is to meet Cowie also hails from the Oakland club. The card follows:

Billy Gore (S. A. C.) vs. Young Wallace (unattached), 133 pounds, main event; Charles Burns (S. A. C.) vs. Salvador (S. A. C.), 122 pounds, special event; Cowie (S. A. C.) vs. Paul Noble (Acme Club, Oakland), 125 pounds, special event; Azevedo (unattached) vs. Bertagni (S. A. C.), 118 pounds; Lee Muskrat (S. A. C.) vs. Amacker (unattached), 118 pounds; Schlitz Sollars (S. A. C.) 160 pounds; (unattached), 133 pounds; Raymond (S. A. C.) vs. Eames (S. A. C.) 160 pounds; Young Scherck (S. A. C.) vs. G. Pappas (S. A. C.) 150 pounds; Nesbit vs. J. Amacker; Gorman vs. Farland.

He has entered the 220-yard, 440-yard, 880-yard and running broad jump. In the 440-yard dash he will meet Clarence Edmundsen, the speedy Seattle runner. Edmundsen has a record of 1:57, while Gates has covered the distance in 1:59 in practice.

CLASSY BOXING PUT UP IN S. A. C. BOUTS

SAC. BEE 9-3-10

RESULTS OF BOUTS.

Winners.	Weights.	Losers.
Oscar Jones,	145	G. Pappas
Harry Esta,	125	Paul Valdez
Joe Azevedo,	118	E. Bertagni
"Schlitz" Sollars,	133	Paul Noble
Ancil Hoffman,	142	Kid Fisher
Lee Muskrat,	118	Amacker Sr.
Billy Gore,	135	Young Wallace

The Sacramento Athletic Club amateur boxing bouts last night averaged 1,000 per cent for class. Every one of the seven contests was good. Three had to go four rounds before the judges could decide which was the victor, while only one ended by the knockout route. The only disappointing feature of the entire card was the decision given "Schlitz" Sollars (S. A. C.) over Paul Noble (Acme Club, Oakland), in four rounds of the fourth bout. The verdict of Judges Arthur Delano and Frank Pendergast was at first applauded, but quickly brought forth the opposite opinion.

The main event which was won by Billy Gore over Young Wallace in four rounds of fast work, and the terrific hammering Ancil Hoffman gave Kid Fisher, knocking him out in the second round, proved some of the hottest spice of the fistic menu.

Speedy from the Start.

The bouts started a little late, the first not being called until nearly 9 o'clock, but when they started it was with a vim. Pappa (S. A. C.) looked like a winner the way he started out, but Oscar Jones (unattached and not the baseball pitcher) proved the better as the bout aged, and won the decision.

Harry Esta and Paul Valdez, both unattached, went at it hammer and tongs, making it hot for each other whenever they clashed. Valdez was poked in the nose, causing it to bleed. Both boys were tough propositions, but Esta earned the popular decision.

It took four rounds of hard work to decide the third bout, in which Jose Azevedo (unattached) won over E. Berlagni (S. A. C.). Berlagni started out the best, but the little fellow was there with a stiff wallop in the last couple rounds.

The four rounds in which Paul Noble of the Acme Club of Oakland and Schlitz Sollars of the S. A. C. were the mixers was the most scientific of the evening. Both fellows boxed elegantly and treated each other with marked pleasantries. Noble did the most work throughout and cut Sollars over the left eye. Sollars, however, raised a welt on the youngster's right cheek. The points were apparently in the Oaklander's favor, yet Sollars was given the medal.

Ancil Hoffman the Hero.

The fifth affair in which Ancil Hoffman, boxing commissioner of the club, went against Kid Fisher (S. A. C) came the nearest to looking like a prize fight. Hoffman went in without training, merely to fill the bill. Fisher started out to give Hoffman some sincere regrets, but Ancil came back in the second round with wicked punches. Fisher went hard to the floor three times and each time it looked like it was over, but he staggered to his feet and took some more of the medicine. On the fourth occasion the sponges flew thick and fast across the ring and the blonde boy rolled prone on the mat. Hoffman was roundly cheered.

Lee Muskrat (S. A. C.) and Amaker Sr. (unattached) fought like tigers, slugging with terrific fliers. Muskrat was easily the best but was forced to go some to earn the decision over the game little kid he had to dispose of.

Gore Bests Wallace.

The main event was forced to go four rounds because Young Wallace (unattached) gave Billy Gore (S. A. C.) such rushes that he nearly had his opponent going south. In the second round Gore found an opening and hammered Wallace in the face, giving him a hard drubbing. Wallace, however, had scored a knockdown in the first, so this evened up matters. In the third Wallace worked the straight left to advantage with telling effect, but before the bell sounded Gore had responded so vigorously that there was no room for a decision. Gore landed the left with considerable force in the last. He knocked Wallace down, but the kid was up and a coming. When the last bell tapped the boys were hugging each other—tired out. Gore earned the decision with his good work.

The Burns-Salvador bout had to be called off because Burns' heart would not pass the doctor.

GATES RAN FASTER THAN TIME STATED

SAC. BEE. 9-7-10

Announcement comes from San Francisco that a mistake was made in giving out the time of the 880-yard run at the P. A. A. track and field meet at the State Fair Saturday in which A. F. Gates of the Sacramento Athletic Club was the winner. The actual time was 2:03 3-5 instead of 3:33 as announced by the timers at the end of the race.

Gates took the pace from the start, leading such runners as Kelly of the Olympic Club and point winner in the last Stanford-California dual meet, and Riordan of the Irish-American Club. That Gates might have covered the distance in less time had he been free from an annoying cold was thought probable because of his practice runs.

OLYMPIC CLUB IS VICTOR AT FAIR

S. F. EX. 9-3-10

[Special Dispatch to "The Examiner."]

SACRAMENTO, September 3.—The crack athletes of the Olympic Club of San Francisco swept the field before them in the annual meet held under the auspices of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union at the State Fair grounds to-day. As a result of their showing the bay men take with them the fine trophy cup awarded by the fiesta of the Dawn of Gold committee to the winning club, as well as fourteen individual medals of gold, silver and bronze.

The total number of points scored by the Olympic Club was 50, while the Sacramento Athletic Club was second with 25 and the Pastime Athletic Club was third with 19. The Irish American Athletic Club annexed 11 points, with 20 more scattered among other contestants.

Edward MacAuley of the Olympic Club was responsible for breaking the only record of the day. At the head of a fast pack he came down, crossed the tape at the end of the 440-yard dash in 49 4-5 seconds, thus breaking the coast record. E. B. Giffen of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School carried or first place in the pole vault, reaching the height of crossing the bar at 11 feet 10⅜ inches.

The Olympic Club boys bent their efforts toward taking the higher point winning places, and as a result the final score showed that they had taken six firsts, six seconds and two thirds. The Sacramento Athletic Club and the Pastime Athletic Club each took two firsts, while the Irish-American Athletic club annexed one first. Rose, Garvin, Craig, MacAuley, Snedigar and Kendrick were the best point winners for the Olympics. For the Pastime Athletic club Mending, Rogers, Lee and Egler made excellent showings. The special honors for the Sacramento Athletic club were divided among Gates, Holt, Kinsheloe and Dickson.

In the running high jump Wing of the University of California and Holt of the Sacramento Athletic club both failed to reach six feet and on the first try at 5 feet, 11 inches, Holt spiked his finger on the drop. He continued gamely and won the event.

The hundred-yard dash was made in the comparatively fast time of one-fifth. Snedigar qualified in the trial heat, but failed to get off in the final.

The five-mile run was one of the most interesting events of the day. It was won by W. Garvin of the Olympic club, who had the race well in hand from the start, gradually distancing the entire field. Lee of the Pastime Athletic club, who did not hear the call for the event, arrived at the scratch after the runners had been sent away, but plugged along and at the end of the third mile was second, which position he maintained until the finish.

Athletic history will be made today at Agricultural park, when nearly 200 representatives of California's biggest athletic clubs will gather, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club, in competition in the Pacific Athletic association's annual track and field meet. For the first time in the history of Northern California an annual meet of the P. A. A. will be held in this city. No event is more important in organized athletics, and the granting of the meet to Sacramento was a signal honor to the Sacramento Athletic club and its backers, who have done more for amateur athletics in Northern California than any other faction in the entire West. The meet will commence at 2 p. m..

HEAVY LOCAL ENTRY.

The fact that the Sacramento Athletic club is able to enter nearly one-fourth the entire entries points to a career of success in developing track and field men, and to Otto Rittler, physical instructor of the club, more than to anyone else belongs the chedit; Captain Arthur Delano, and last but not least by any means, Charles Stewart, distance runner and team captain, who brought out the fine points of the team, and made it possible for his men to compete with the best athletes in the state without fear of overwhelming defeat.

Sacramento's chances for the team championship are to be counted among the best. Only the Olympic club Sacramento has to fear. So long established and so well trained are the Olympians that the locals should feel no chagrin should they lose to the blue ribbon organization of the West. It is predicted that if Sacramento does not win, it will be second. That place should be occupied with a feeling of pride by the local organization, should fate see fit to place it there, for the Olympians are the peers of the athletic [illegible] to them is an

GATES TO COMPETE.

As to the individual events, Sacramento will undoubtedly figure conspicuously in every one. Gates, who was ill, has recovered sufficiently to participate today. He should be good for several points, and he is probably the one man more than any of the others that the Olympic club men fear.

Sparks in the mile, Day in the five-mile run, Childs in the mile and 880, are all sure placers. Dickson (who may not contest, owing to bad health), has a place cinched in the field events. Those who will represent Sacramento are as follows:

R. H. Elliott, 100 and 220 yards; George Knox, pole vault; Milton West, high jump, broad jump; Fred Meckfessell, 120 hurdles and 220 hurdles; Ralph Emes, 880-yard run; broad jump; Clenn Dunn, 5 miles; L. Hollingsworth, 100 yards and 220 yards; A. P. Overhouse, 440 yards and 220 yards; H. D. Finch, 220 yards and 440 yards; P. Holt, high jump, broad jump and 120 hurdles; R. MACAULEY WINS A FAST QUARTER-MILE DASH

9-3-10
S.F. CHRONICLE

Pastime Club Strong in Sprints and Lands Third, With the Irish-Americans Fourth.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, September 3.—The Olympic Club of San Francisco won the annual track and field championship of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, held on the State Fair grounds this afternoon, with a total of 50 points. The Sacramento Athletic Club was second with a total of 25 points, the Pastime Athletic Club of San Francisco third with 19, and the Irish-American Club of San Francisco fourth with 11 points.

One Coast record and several high-class performances were recorded during the afternoon's sport, including Edward Macauley's attainment in the quarter-mile dash, when he covered the distance in 0:49 4-5. The sprints were both annexed by the Pastime athletes, who appeared with a strong squad of short-distance men. Olie Snedigar won his heat in the hundred-yard dash, but in the final trial the balance of the field, headed by Meding of the Pastime aggregation stole a lead on Starter George James, and Snedigar was left on the mark.

In the 220-yard dash, Gerhardt of the Winged "O" team gave way to Rogers, Meding and Smeltzer, all of the Pastime Club. The finish of this race was one of the sensations of the day, a difference of inches deciding the positions at the tape. Rogers' time was 0:22 4-5.

The home talent came to the front in the half-mile run, when Gates of the Sacramento Athletic Club won from the field of visitors headed by Raleigh Kelley of the Olympic Club. Kelly, Gates and Dan Riordan of the Irish-American Club struggled over the last quarter of the distance.

HEAT BOTHERS RUNNERS.

The athletes plainly showed the effect of the intense heat, which made the task of the distance runners a severe one. It was a game finish on the part of the Sacramento boy, who beat Kelly to the line in the final spurt. The time was slow, but the race was none the less interesting.

Three Olympic Club runners—Craig, Maundrell and Williams—captured the medals in this race, finishing in the order named with the watches announcing 4:39. Craig's victory was quite a surprise, in view of his defeat at the hands of Maundrell at the Presidio last week. There were eight starters in this event, Maundrell taking the lead and setting a fast pace for the first three-quarters of the distance. Coming into the stretch he was passed by his rival, who completed the distance in creditable time. Williams of the Olympic team did not show the form displayed during his race of a week ago. Bill Garvin had no trouble winning the five-mile run from a field of five starters. Lee of the Pastime Club was second, after a start well to the rear of his competitors. He was not on the mark when the signal was given by George James, but tok up the race on his late arrival from the dressing-rooms.

The field events brought excellent results in all but the broad jump. Ralph Rose tossed the sixteen-pound hammer 164 feet 6 4-5 inches, and hurled the sixteen-pound shot forty-seven feet, ten and one-half inches. Al Plaw was second in the hammer throw and Mahoney, of the Irish-American Club, was third.

Olie Snedigar lived up to his reputation with the javelin by sending the spear 152 feet. Kendrick of the Olympic Club, was second in this spectacular contest, with Scott of the University of California third. Scott, in one of his preliminary tosses, pierced an electric light globe, the incident causing considerable excitement among the spectators. Giffen, a freshman from Stanford, won the pole vault with a leap of eleven feet ten and three-eighths inches. It looked for a while that the former Los Angeles High School boy would clear twelve feet, but he failed on his last trial to make a new record. Kendrick of the Olympic Club was second and Spencer Dickson of the Sacramento Athletic Club third.

Dickson was a decided favorite in this event, but was not up to his usual form today.

The high jump went to Holt of the Sacramento Athletic Club, with Wing of the University of California second. In the broad jump, Starrett of the Irish-American Club took the lead, with Dickson second. Snedigar of the Olympic Club did not compete in this, his favorite event. Morris, the former varsity hurdler from Stanford University, had no difficulty winning both high and low hurdles. Summaries:

S. A. C. Men in Today's Meet.

Today marks the initiation of the Sacramento Athletic Club's track team into the annual P. A. A. competitions. It is a very unusual occurrence for a team, upon its entrance into the P. A. A., to take the annual track meet, and a great deal of credit is due to local management for the way in which they have handled the preparations for the meet. The cup for the winning team, and the medals for first, second and third places, are propably the best that have ever been offered on the Coast.

Professor Rittler has all the club boys in the pink of condition, and he expects great things of them today. The men have all trained faithfully for the meet, and they are all going to try to bring home the bacon. Although this is their first participation in a P. A. A. meet, they are already discussing their chances for winning most of the events.

The strongest team in the field will undoubtedly be that of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, and will be the stumbling stone for the local boys, unless outside competition is strong enough to hold them down. In such event the S. A. C. boys would have a great chance for first, and unless outside competition is strong the local men will finish a close second to their friends from around the bay.

After a hard siege of training and try-outs, Professor Rittler and Track Captain Stewart have chosen the following men to represent the winged "S" in the club's initial appearance as a member of the P. A. A.:

In the hundred-yard dash Sacramento will be well represented by Henyan, Gannon, Elliott, Hollingsworth and Lewis.

Gannon and Elliott have represented the club throughout the season, and have never failed to be placed. Both men are strong and look good in this race. Henyan, Hollingsworth and Lewis are new men in the club. Henyan comes here from an Eastern university with a record of 10 1-5, and Hollingsworth is one of the speediest High School men the S. V. I. A. L. has ever put out.

In the 220-yard dash Lewis, Overhouse, Elliott, Hollingsworth, Gates and Finch are depended on to uphold the club's reputation. They are all fast men, and Gates, Hollingsworth and Elliott have made the best of them hustle in the past.

In the 440-yard run the club has two star men in Gates and Kinshloe, and they will certainly come through with a few eye-openers this afternoon. Sparks and Gannon are both good men in this race, and Finch and Overhouse are dark horses, but if they can trot it off around the 50 mark, they will be very much on the white horse order.

There are more S. A. C. men entered in the one-mile race than in any other event. Stewart, Gates, Sparks and Childs have represented the club before, while Purington, Swain, Reese, Williams, Brule, Paine and Eames are all going to take a chance at showing the old boys up. In the mile, Stewart, Williams, Papas, McNeeley, Paine and Childs are all going out for honors in the distant trot. Captain Stewart is in the best condition that he has been in this season, and when he is in condition it takes a good man, and then some, to beat him.

Kinchloe and Meckfessel represent the club in both the 120-yard and 220-yard hurdle races. They both showed their class as hurdlers in the Arbuckle meet.

—o—

Louis Day and C. F. Gunn are going to make things hot for some one in the five-mile race. Both men are game little runners, and wherever Gunn shows he proves a sensation, as he is but five feet tall.

In field events the club is stronger than it has ever been. Gannon, Hope, Gates, Sparks, Holt, Kidder, Dickson and West are all going to take care of the high jump, also the broad jump honors.

Dickson and Knox are down for the pole-vault, and from Dickson's practice results he looks like a sure thing in that event.

Hope, Dickson and Hall are going to do the weight work for the club. A couple of places in the shot and hammer events would help the club considerably.

The javelin-throw, a new event to Sacramentans, will be looked after by Dickson and Hall.

—o—

Too Much Gage.

Gage, the Golden Poppies' twirler, had too many twisters up his sleeve last Sunday for the Outlaws. A no-hit-no-run game is not an everyday occurrence with pitchers, but Gage walked away with it as if he had a habit of doing such stunts.

The Outlaws were strengthened by some of the Athletics' star players, but they failed to shine. Before the Outlaws could figure out what Gage had, the Poppies had sent six men around the bags. The line-up was:

Outlaws — Johnson, pitcher and third base; Godt, catcher; McNeeley, short; Foy, first base; Bowden, second; Donald, pitcher; Marston, right field: McLomond, left field; Perague, center field.

Golden Poppies — Gage, pitcher; Toben, catcher; Reese, short; Crouch, first base; C. McNeeley, second base; Harper, third base; Ferguson, left field; Pappa, center field; Wonderly, right field.

Athletes On a Sandbar.

The big sandbar beyond Second Bannon Slough was the scene of considerable athletic activity on Sunday, when a party of Sacramento Athletic Club members rowed up in the early morning for a dip. After enjoying a swim the bunch engaged in a variety of athletic stunts. Those who tried-out were Captain Delano, Morshead, Shorrock (Swimming Commissioner), Reedy, Palm (of basketball fame), Wahlander the idol of aquatic fans, Kilgore the rowing-sticks champion, Johnston the time-keeper at boxing bouts, and Didion. There was quite a crowd of spectators to witness the try-outs.

Jack Morshead captured the 220-yards dash by a length (more or less), Reedy in the place, and Palm showing.

In the 440-yards race Kilgore distinguished himself by nosing-out Johnston, in a burst of speed, despite the fact that the latter is regarded as considerable of a sprinter. Didion was third.

In the shot-put Reedy was the surprise of the day, heaving the lump of metal farther than any with Palm second, and Delano third.

Throwing the discus went to Captain Delano by an easy margin. As this was a new brand of outdoor work, he had much the advantage, having had experience in that line in the days of the old club. Didion was second, and Palm third.

Chas. H. Stewart

In hurling the javelin Morshead threw the spear two feet farther than Delano, Wahlander third.

In the 440-yards relay race Shorrock's team, composed of himself, Morshead, Kilgore and Palm, beat Delano's team, in which were the genial captain, Johnston, his crack finisher, Reedy and Didion. It was an exciting finish, and the result was in doubt for several seconds, but Kilgore, who finished for his team, gradually forged ahead, winning in grand style.

After the events had all been pulled off, there was another dip in the river, and a free-for-all swimming race of 100 yards, which Reedy won, Morshead second, Delano third, Wahlander fourth, and Shorrock fifth.

Following the swim, all adjourned to the "feed-spread" upon the sand, and the way that bunch went at those sandwiches, olives and dill-pickles would make Brother Robinson cry with joy. But when it came to the liquids—well, Palm said he forgot and they all had to drink (those who were real thirsty) of the old Sacramento. Though sandy, it was wet.

On the up-trip Morshead went up in the shell belonging to Smith, Wahlander and himself, and besides these having a chance at it, a number of the crowd climbed in for a trial. Palm showed the most class for a beginner, although when well out in the choppy water he let go both oars and prepared for a dive rather than a dump-out, but he finally succeeded in having the frail craft right itself and all was well.

Professor Rittler should get Kilgore out at the track and hold the watch on him. On a real fast track this dark horse is going to surprise some of the wise ones.

Tomorrow there will be a repetition of the whole affair, many challenges having been issued that evening for return matches. Much enthusiasm and lots of fast work is expected. In the meantime Palm has been taking a correspondence school course in memorizing lunch essentials.

—o—

Gates and Dickson Will Compete.

There have been rumors that Gates and Dickson would not be able to appear at today's games on account of sickness. Both are well and feeling in great shape, and will be principal figures in the meet.

In the early part of the week Gates had a cold which settled on his lungs, but he has fully recovered. When you see Dickson climbing over the pole around eleven feet you will never think his hip is a little to the bad.

—o—

We Get Boxing Tournament.

During the early part of the week P. A. A. Representative MacGregor received a communication from the P. A. A. Board of Commissioners in San Francisco stating that they had decided on Sacramento as the place for holding their boxing tournament to determine the Coast amateur champions.

The tournament will be held during the second, third, and fourth of November, and almost every city of any size in the State will send its best amateur boxers.

Sacramento amateur athletes are getting every chance in the world to show what they are worth, but they will never make good unless they show more spirit and compete in the inter-club affairs.

It is almost impossible to get a man to box, swim, run, or appear in an athletic performance unless he is begged, coaxed, and babied along. Of course, there are those members who are always willing to help out, but the majority will start in as green men. The instructor will teach the pupil, then a match will come along which he is very eager to enter. He enters, wins, and thinks it is great. He keeps on entering and winning until he gets the big head and then it is curtains.

It is this anti-club spirit that will ruin any club. So come on, fellows, get together in all branches of sports and send the old winged "S' to the top in every branch of sport.

—o—

Athletics to Play Oroville.

The Athletics will take their first after-vacation trip tomorrow to Oroville.

Maybe a rest has done the boys some good and now that the slate is again clean they will start something.

The team will miss Greenlaw on first, but anything that can get through Foy you can have.

Dusty Clark has returned home from an extended trip around the Bay cities, and has a great many chances to spread the dust around about his great little team.

Captain Godt has chosen the following men to go to Oroville:

Johnson and Grady, pitchers; Godt, catcher; Foy, first base; Wakefield, second; Hausman, third; Burns, short stop; Overhouse, left field; Reeves, center field; Hart, right field; Dusty Clark, chief eloqutionist.

—o—

Club Chat.

When the dust clears away after the 880-yard run there will probably be a few surprised people from the Bay. Alva Gates is regarded as a sure winner, and look out for a Coast record going to pieces. They will also have to go some to win the broad jump, and Starrett, of the Irish Americans, will have to do better than 21 feet 9 inches to win.

Everyone is glad to see Chet Gannon back again in the ranks of regulars, and hope he will show the Olympics how easy it is to win the hundred-yard dash.

Basketball interest is growing each day, and Commissioner Palm is having his hands full trying to keep the men from killing themselves with practice before the season begins.

Holt looks like a sure winner in the high jump today. If 5 feet 10 inches wins, why he will be there with bells when it comes time to gather.

Professor Rittler certainly has the boys in the greatest kind of condition, and if they do not win it will not be on the amount of lack of training and good coaching.

Swimming Commissioner Rob Shorrock has something pretty nice up his sleeve in the line of a swimming novelty for the boys. He is going to spring it pretty soon.

SAC.

From the standpoint of "who is who?" the five-mile race will be the most interesting to those who have followed the last three long-distance races held in Northern California.

Day defeated Robert Howden, then of the Acme Club, and McGee of the Irish-American Club. They are considered the best men around the bay, and naturally it was a pretty hard pill for them to swallow, especially when it was but a young kid who had administered it to them.

Last Sunday, in the Three-Club meet at San Francisco, Garvin of the Olympic Club and Lee of the Pastime Club ran a neck-and-neck race for the entire five miles, Garvin winning in the last hundred yards by taking a sprint when Lee weakened. McGee finished a close third. All of those men will be in the race today, and with the addition of Howden and Day the result should prove who is the Coast 5-mile champion.

—o—

Everyone is very sorry to hear that Charlie Burns, the noted little boxer from the Slough City, who has lately moved to Sacramento and joined the club, will not be able to participate in athletics for some time, on account of weak heart.

He was a great addition to the boxing department as well as the baseball team.

The Evers brothers, Dick Cowie and Luke wish to challenge Charlie Wahlander's bunch of water dogs for a supper. The race can be held at any time Commissioner Shorrock decides.

This match will certainly be interesting, for both teams are very evenly matched.

Jess Childs has been doing great work in the half and he is very liable to slip one over on the old boy today.

Pompadour McDonough and Archie Stracken are the two new wonders whom Gene Palm has recruited as possibles for the heavyweight basketball team. They certainly looked good when they made their first appearance last Monday along with some of the old-timers.

Pop Marston is also taking a chance at the game, and he is almost as fast as lightning.

Look for Sparks today in that quarter. He is sure of a place, and is in fine condition.

Captain Stewart is in perfect condition, and deserves a great deal of credit for the way he has helped the boys out in the coming meet.

He will place in the mile without a doubt, and if you knew at what the stop-watch caught him the other night when he was taking his regular evening jog, you would give him first without thinking twice.

In practice the other evening Dukson bruised his hip badly and it is rather probable that this will hinder him a little in the pole vault, but then Dick is as game as they make them, so if there is any possible chance he will be on deck.

"Sleeps" Reese and "Doc" Williams have a great old time trying to beat one another around the track in the half mile race.

Tommy Burns is back at short and is a demon there. Grady and Johnson look good in the pitcher's box for Sunday, and with Les Godt gathering in behind the stick our chances look good.

Charlie Wahlander is training so hard for the coming swimming match that all of his friends are getting anxious about him. He is not seen out of the house after eight o'clock at night, and does not even trust himself to walk past a cigar store for fear that he will get a smell of the weed.

Wednesday evening Progessor Rittler and Club Captain Delano read the P. A. A. rules to the men who are going to act as officials, and Mr. MacGregor gave out the badges.

The Athletics will play for the benefit of the Portugal church later on in the season.

Howard Adams, one time Coast 115-pound champion, has returned to Sacramento, and again joined the club. He was surprised to see how rapidly it had advanced. He will be a great addition to the boxing department and is aagin going out after featherweight honors. He will try for the Coast championship in November.

One record was broken and good time was made in the sprints and weights at Agricultural park yesterday in the Pacific Athletic association's annual track and field meet held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club. A big crowd, probably 2000 people, gathered in the grandstand and on the bleachers and witnessed the event. The Olympic club of San Francisco, as had been predicted, captured the meet with a total of 50 points. The Sacramento Athletic club, crippled by the absence of several of its best men and a not too good condition of those competing, took second place with 25 points. The Pastime Athletic club finished third with 19 points, while the unattached and Irish-Americans tied with 11 marks each for fourth position. The Los Angeles Polytechnic and University of California finished with 5 and 4 points respectively.

RECORD BROKEN.

Edward MacCauley, entered by the Olympic club, covered the 440 yards in 49 4-5 seconds, which is one second faster than the P. A. A. record. The coast record was nearly touched in the hundred-yard dash by G. H. Mednig and Olie Snediger who crossed the tape in 10:1.

Taken as a whole the meet was a success. The events were run off in a systematic manner that was generally satisfactory. Under the guidance of the experts from San Francisco, the local officials worked effectively and gained much knowledge from the experience, which will help them in the future to conduct their own meets. A brass band helped things along immensely, and served to enliven interest when the activities on the track eased up a bit.

There were no sensational races except in the five-mile, the majority of the events being only ordinary. In that event, R. H. Lee of the Pastime club did not start until his opponents were fully three hundred yards in the lead. He sprinted steadily along a hundred yards or so in the rear until the third mile, when he crept up to second. In that position he finished close to W. Garvin of the Olympic club.

WHAT ROSE DID.

Snedigar allowed Spence Dickson to best him in the sixteen-pound shot put, hurling the leaden sphere 41 feet and 11 inches, against Dickson's 42 feet and 2 inches. Ralph Rose, of course, took first place, reaching 47 feet, 10½ inches with the shot.

The Javelin throwing event afforded Snedigar an opportunity to show his ability, and he beat the other entries over 10 feet. He hurled the shaft 152 feet, 8½ inches, as against a second best by Hendrick, with 139 feet, 6½ inches. Scott of California broke up the Olympic club's little game in this instance, and nosed out Ralph Rose in the third position.

In the sixteen-pound hammer throw Dan Mahoney, entered for the Irish-Americans, withdrew at the advise of Referee Fred Koch, when it was learned that a rule provides that a competitor must be a resident of the section in which he competes at least six months before the time of competition. Mahoney has only resided in San Francisco five months and two days. He was informed of the rule by the referee and withdrew from competition immediately, saying that he did not wish to put the officials of the league to the trouble of taking up his case should he be protested by some other entry in the meet.

Mr. Mahoney came from New York and was entered in the hammer throw. He was a likely placer.

Once in the hammer throw Ralph Rose came near starting a stampede when the hammer slipped from his hand and flew back of him among the spectators lined up on the fence to the east of the bleachers. No one was hurt, but for a time it brought the trembles to those in safe grounds.

The Sacramento Athletic club deserves much credit for its ability to capture second. To H. A. MacGregor, who managed the meet, belongs all the credit for the perfect manner in which it was run off. Professor Otto Rittler and Charles Stewart of the track team are responsible for the team's excellent showing.

Gates and Dixon, the two S. A. C. men who made the most individual points, were both in poor physical condition, but, despite that handicap, Gates finished first in the 880 and Dickson finished second to Ralph Rose in the shot-put.

M. E. Sparks, the distance man upon whom Sacramento counted for several points, and J. Childs could not compete. Charley Stewart did not show up in the mile as he was expected to do, but was up against a hard field and has a good excuse to offer. McNeeley, Pappas and Williams also failed to show up.

Dickson was the only man for the Athletics that made any showing whatever in the weights. The local club is weak in that division, but under the circumstances did remarkably well.

OLYMPIC CLUB IS VICTORIOUS IN P. A. A. MEET

SAC. BEE 9-5-10

The Olympic Club of San Francisco carried off the high honors at the annual field and track championship meet of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union at Agricultural Park Saturday afternoon. The champs totalled 50 points, with the Sacramento Athletic Club second by 25 points. The Pastime Athletic Club of San Francisco was third with 19, Irish-American Athletic Club of San Francisco fourth with 12; unattached athletes, 10; Los Angeles Polytechnic, 5; and University of California, 4.

The meet, while shy more than half of the 200 entries, was entirely satisfactory and considered a success, especially in view of the good performances. Edward McCauley, of the Olympic Club, broke the State record in the 440-yard dash when he covered the distance in :49 4-5, which is one-fifth of a second better than the previous State record, and within a fifth of a second of the Pacific Coast record.

The Olympic Club was all to the better with the number of men entered. The Sacramento Athletic Club's team was a little crippled, but went at the tasks with a vim that deserved great commendation. A. F. Gates and Palmer Holt, of the local club, were the high-point winners of the S. A. C., taking first place in the 880-yard run and running high jump, respectively.

Spectators Applaud.

The couple thousand spectators loudly applauded the local boys when they won gold medal places. Gates was forced to sprint some in reaching the tape first in the half-mile event, coming in ahead of J. R. Kelly, of the Olympics, and Dan Riordan, of the Irish-Americans.

Holt's splendid victory in the running high jump was accomplished with the athlete suffering much pain from a wounded finger on the right hand. He fell with his hand under him during one of the trials, and ran the long spike through the end of his finger. The digit bled profusely for a time and caused him considerable pain, but he continued his clever leaps as soon as a bandage was placed about the wound.

Ralph Rose, the giant City Attorney of Healdsburg, who carries world's records, was one of the attractions of the meet. Rose, who belongs to the Olympics, and Charles S. Morris, unattached, were the highest point winners for individuals, each making ten points. Morris executed the two hurdle events for first plcae, while Rose won the sixteen-pound shot put and sixteen-pound hammer throw.

Rose created a great stir in the audience when the hammer got away from him in the wrong direction and headed for a few hundred spectators lined up against the fence. Everybody scattered so quickly that there was no great danger.

Dickson Next to Rose.

Spence Dickson, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, made a good showing in the shot put, coming second to Ralph Rose, and beating Ollie Snedigar of the Olympics. Rose placed the shot 47 feet 10½ inches, Dickson 42 feet and 2 inches, and Snedigar 41 feet and 11 inches.

The javelin throwing, which was new to Sacramento, proved spectacular, especially when one of the long spears scattered a small crowd sitting on the fence rail. Another throw smashed the globe on an arc light.

Track Captain Charles Stewart, of the local club, came in fourth in the mile run against a hard field.

R. H. Lee, of the Pastime Club, was in his dressing room when the five mile run was started, so was a couple hundred yards behind in getting under way, yet finished second.

Summary of events:

100-yard dash—First heat—Snedigar (O.) first, Mendig (P. A. C.) second, Gannon (S. A. C.) third. Time, 1 3-5.

JAPANESE BESTS WALTER DYREBORG

Shosha Yokoyama Successfully Defends Title Against Local Athlete.

SAC. UN. 9-5-10

Before a crowd of probably 300 spectators, a majority of which were Japanese, Shosha Yokoyama, light heavyweight jiu-jitsu champion, successfully defended his title against Walter Dyraborg of Sacramento last night, defeating the wrestling instructor two downs out of three rounds. Dyreborg put up a game match, and had he been as well versed in the tricks of the game as his opponent, undoubtedly the result would have been much different.

Yokoyama secured the first fall in exactly six minutes. In the second round Dyreborg wrestled the Japanese to a standstill, and the round was a draw. The Japanese became incensed in the last go because he could not throw Dyreborg and, summing up his entire strength and cunning, he flung the white man to the mat. Over and over they went, first one on top and then another. Yokoyama finally secured a single arm strangle hold and, strengthening it with a thumb in the throat, strangled the white man into submission. The fall was secured in seven minutes.

THREE ROUNDS.

The match consisted of three twenty-minute rounds. Only the second round went the limit, as Yokoyama secured the necessary falls before time. In jiu jitsu a fall is counted when one of the wrestler strikes with his hand three times on the mat. It is the sign of distress, and the one giving it acknowledges that he is down. Eddie Cox was referee.

Yokoyama played continually for the strangle hold and secured it constantly. Dyreborg's strength offset, to a certain degree, the Japanese's cunning, and he was saved through that means from defeat in shorter order. Shortly after the men fell in the first round Yokoyama secured the strangle hold, and very nearly had Dyreborg. The latter broke it and gained an advantage, but could not keep it, and yielded to the Japanese.

Dyreborg scored on points in the second round, and his work was encouraging to his friends. He outwrestled the Japanese through every degree of the twenty minutes, and was picked for a winner in the next round.

He secured a good hold on the left arm and attempted to force it back of the Japanese's neck, but the round ended before he could succeed in the attempt.

The men remained on their feet for fully four minutes, neither being able to throw the other. Finally they went down and Dyreborg landed on top. He endeavored to get a strangle hold on the Japanese, but could not bring the jacket together around the neck. Yokoyama rolled Dyreborg over and securing a single arm strangle forced him to cry for quarter.

THE PRELIMINARIES.

Two jiu jitsu matches, one two-round boxing bout, one catch-as-catch-can match and two fencing matches preceded the main event. In the jiu jitsu matches Kawata defeated Eshima and Yamaguchi bested Kataokan. In the fencing bout Kawata defeated Eshima on points.

The old pavilion heard the thud of the mitts for the first time last night since the ban was placed on the game by Governor Gillett. There was no disputing the announcement by Walter Henley that the go would be a boxing match. Ketchum and F. Kenney furnished the exhibition. Instead of a fistic battle it was a comedy of fists in which the stars endeavored to caress the minor support and the minor support endeavored to carress the stars.

Phil Burns of Denver and F. Kenney exhibited the American style of wrestling. Kenny threw Burns in the first go in one and one-half minutes, and Burns secured the third round in thirty-five seconds. The second bout was a draw. Kenney was awarded the decision on account of cleverness.

ATHLETICS TO CLASH WITH ALL-PLACERS

SAC. BEE. 9-15-10

Manager Clark and his speedy bunch of Athletics will journey to Lincoln next Sunday morning to meet Dr. Blemmer's All-Placer team in a double-header.

These two teams met last Sunday on the Loomis diamond and each took a game. In the morning game Grady will be opposed by Hack. The latter won his game last Sunday morning, but the Athletics are so confident of winning from him next Sunday morning that they have wagered $25 and the gate receipts on the game.

In the afternoon Lefty Johnson will again face "Wiz" Pappa. Johnson won from Pappa last Sunday by a score of 5 to 2. Godt will catch both games for the Athletics, while Lohman will work for the All-Placers.

Al Hellman and "Babe" Hart will do the umpiring at both games.

SPEEDY MEN TO TRY CONCLUSIONS IN THE SPRINT

Many Interesting Contests Are Scheduled for Stadium Athletic Meet.

S.F. CHRONICLE

By JOE R. HICKEY.

THE athletic feature of the Admission day festival is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park, when the fourteen events announced by the games committee will be contested by a formidable aggregation of athletes. Not since the Portola games of a year ago has the local athletic world been offered such an attractive programme on the track and field, while it has been predicted by many that the competition will surpass that of last October. All of the events include starters of the first class with the sprints, quarter-mile dash, the weights and the hurdles indicating the likelihood of new marks.

With a continuance of the present weather conditions, the spectators at the games in the Stadium should be treated to sensational performances throughout the afternoon. The line-up in the hundred and 220-yard dashes is one of the strongest that has ever been presented on the Park track, and it is doubtful if such a strong squad of sprinters has appeared in this vicinity since the day that Snedigar, Abadie and Cadogan covered the hundred on the Berkeley oval in 1904. The latter occasion was probably the highest attainment in Snedigar's career, for on that day he defeated the two California sprinters in 0:10. Although he has performed in high-class company many times since then, tomorrow's race will be an excellent test of the Olympian's ability after six years of competition.

FAST SPRINTERS TO MEET.

Foremost in the list of sprinters to appear at the Stadium are the Seattle Athletic Club members, Jack Nelson and William Martin. Both of these boys have established national reputations, the former as winner of the 100 and 220 yard dashes in the Western Conference meet held in June at Champaigne, Ill., when he covered the distances in 0:10 1-5 and 0:22 2-5 respectively. Martin is the present holder of the American championship in the 100 yards at 0:10 1-5, which title he earned at the last Amateur Athletic Union games held in Seattle. The visiting sprinters will be opposed by Meding, Rogers and Smeltzer of the Pastime Club and Dwight Wood of the University of California, in addition to the Olympic runners, Snedigar and Gerhardt.

The quarter-mile dash will bring out Edward Macauley, who covered the distance at Sacramento last week in 0:49 4-5 during the Pacific Association championships. Macauley has been the sensation of the present season. With a reputation of being the best high-school quarter miler hereabouts for several seasons, he now appears to be in line for taking the honors from collegians as well. Since he has been competing as a member of the Olympic Club his improvement has been twofold, which was demonstrated in the recent championships and on the occasion of the Olympic-Pastime-Irish-American games. Jack Nelson, the Seattle sprinter, and Harold Chase of the University of California, are entered in this event, also, a guarantee of a speedy chase around the Stadium oval.

In the mile run Elliott Craig, the local distance runner, is to oppose Harry Risden of the Seattle Club. The visitor has a record of 4:30, while Craig has trimmed the best of the milers about the bay, in spite of his occasional reverses. This race, together with the half mile, in which Maundrell and Kelly will endeavor to turn the tables on Gates of Sacramento, promises some interesting sport.

LINCOLN FANS TO HAVE BIG FEAST

SAC. BEE. 9-17-10

(The Bee's Special Service.)

LINCOLN (Placer Co.), September 17.—Every one is talking baseball, and great enthusiasm prevails over the big double-header that is to be played to-morrow between the fast All-Placer team and the Athletics of Sacramento. These teams at Loomis last Sunday split a double-header, and the Lincoln fans are ready to wager their coin on the All-Placers. Doc Blemmer, of Loomis, who manages the Placers, has picked the following team to defend the championship of Placer County:

Lomond, c.; Hack and "Wiz" Pappa, p.; Colwell, 1b; Mitchell, 2b; Hamilton, ss.; Hebuck, 3b; M. Pappa, l. f.; Kirkland, c. f.; L. Pappa, r. f.

The morning game will be called at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon game at 2 o'clock. Al Hellman, of Lincoln, and Babe Hart, of Sacramento, will umpire.

SACRAMENTO BOYS OUT FOR BOXING LAURELS

SAC BEE. 9-9-10

The decision of the P. A. A. to hold the annual boxing tournament in Sacramento about November 4th has brought out a big class of pupils in the boxing class at the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Instructor Billy Johnson is doing his best to produce from this bunch a couple of winners. the first class meeting was held last Tuesday, the work having been abandoned for a month or so owing to the illness of Instructor Johnson.

The necessary approval for holding the carnival has been received from the local authorities who were convinced that amateur bouts conducted strictly along amateur lines were not violations of the prize-fight law put into force by Governor Gillett. Otto Rittler, Physical Instructor at the club, left on his vacation yesterday and while at the bay will interest the clubs there in the tournament and seek to have a large delegation of boxers represent the bay clubs.

The merchants are falling in line to boost the tournament and already several offers of handsome trophies have been made. By the opening day of the tourhament it is believed a fine collection of cups and trophies will be hung up.

100 Yards in 9 Seconds Flat? A. A. U. Doubts

SAC. STAR. 9-8-10

RICHARD P. WILLIAMS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A hundred yards in nine seconds flat! This is the feat timers and witnesses say Richard Perry Williams, physical director and coach of the Berkeley School, New York, accomplished at New Lyme, Mass., late in August.

A hundred yards in nine seconds! If Williams actually sprinted the distance in that time he reached a goal which clenched fists, pounding hearts, bursting lungs, spring steel muscles and iron determinations have struggled for in vain since the days of the Greeks.

Williams clipped three-fifths of a second off the official A. A. U. 100-yard sprint record made by Dan J. Kelly at Spokane, Wash., June 23, 1906.

Three-fifths of a second! What is that? The quiver of an eyelash, the twinkling of a star, a heart beat, the flutter of a bird's wing. But it's a great deal.

Let Williams and Kelly race 1000 yards, each running the distance in his own best time, Kelly in 9 3-5 seconds, Williams in 9 flat. Both runners leap into the air at the crack of the pistol. They come down the stretch blurred by their speed.

But Williams breaks the tape when Kelly has still 18 feet 9 inches to go—half the width of a city lot. That's what a heart-beat, three-fifths of a second, is in the 100-yard dash.

Williams had to cross 33 feet 4 inches each time a watch's second hand moved.

Williams made the record in the presence of a small gallery of Pine Grove, Mass., summer residents on the track at the state camp grounds. Two men with stop watches caught the time at 9 seconds flat. The watches agreed. The track is straight and level. No wind was blowing.

The A. A. U. will not accept the record, made unofficially as it was. Later, at some of the authorized meets, Williams will be given the opportunity to run an official 100 yards. He is confident of making the official record, for he claims to have run the hundred in 9 1-5 several times in practice. Williams claims to have lowered other sprinting and jumping records in unofficial trials. He is 36 years old, 5 feet 10½ inches tall, and weighs 165 pounds. This summer he was physical director of the New London vacation schools.

Capture Field Meet From All-Star Athletes From Various Clubs on the Pacific Coast

NOW that the Olympic Club has demonstrated its superiority over all Coast athletes, the chances are that the team will make the invasion of the East that was talked about some time back.

The Olympic Club team had comparatively little trouble winning the meet at the Stadium last Saturday. In the early part of the meet it looked as though the Seattle boys would turn the trick, as they showed the best in the running events.

Martin, a Seattle athlete, won both heats in the 100-yard dash, and Harry Risden, his slender team mate, took both the half-mile and mile events. Eddie Beeson, however, inspired the Winged O men by annexing both hurdle events, and Ralph Rose helped along by winning both the weight events.

The records in all the track events, with the exception of the half-mile, were excellent, but this was rather slow.

In the hundred-yard Martin won easily in even time, the wind helping him considerably. He repeated the performance in the furlong.

The quarter-mile furnished considerable excitement. Eddie Macauley, the local star, annexed this event. Macauley won with considerable ease and had he been pressed he could have bettered his time.

Harry Risden was all the class in the half and mile, winning both events with pretty finishes in the final sprint down the stretch.

Harry Woods, the University of California distance man, had an easy time winning this event. Fenton of St. Ignatius secured second honors by a narrow margin from Lee of the Pastimes.

Rose had little trouble in the weights, but Snedigar was beaten out in the javelin by Evans of Seattle.

In the running broad jump Frank Friesell, the Nevada man, wearing the colors of the Western Club of this city, won.

Horine, the Stanford jumper, was an easy winner in the high jumps, while McGee, a California man, took the pole vault.

The Olympic Club could not gather a team together for the relay race and the California team had an easy victory over the Pastime runners.

The final score was: Olympic 51, Seattle 29, University of California 20, Pastimes 7, Irish-American 7, Western Club 5, Sacramento 3, St. Ignatius 3, unattached 4.

S. A. C. BASKETBALL MEN ARE GETTING BUSY

SAC. UN. 9-21-10

Basketball Commissioner Gene Palm of the Sacramento Athletic club has awakened interest in the game and every Monday night the eligible material is put through a course of training and instructed in various phases of the sport. Last night ten players appeared in the gymnasium and were put through routine practices. After an hour at the work the boys formed two teams and engaged in a friendly game.

Practically all the members of last year's team have returned. The club should put a strong team into the field this year. Among those who showed up last night are:

Joe Blake, Gene Palm, Dee Hart, Lovich, Salvadore, Duke, Loraine, Erway, Wickham, and Brandon.

A meeting will be held at the club this evening for the purpose of talking over the various branches of winter athletics.

OLYMPICS WIN TRACK MEET AT PARK

Seattle Athletes Make a Good Showing and Take Second Honors From U. C.

RISDEN STARS IN MILE

Martin of Seattle Captures the Hundred and Two-Twenty in Fast Time.

The Olympic Club athletes won the Admission Day meet at the Stadium yesterday with a grand total of 51 points, the stalwart runners from the Seattle club finishing second with 29 points, while the University of California athletes won third honors with 20 points to their credit.

Though no records were broken during the afternoon, many of the performances were highly creditable, especially so in the sprint events, for the runners in the longer distances were handicapped by a heavy wind that was blowing on the backstretch.

The best race of the afternoon was the mile run, which was won by Harry Risden of the Seattle Athletic Club. Craig, the Olympic Club miler, started to set the pace, and though he did not hold it, he was well up among the leaders. Risden remained in the last position until the last lap and then gradually mowed down his field one by one until, at the head of the stretch, he was within a yard or so of being on even terms with the fleet-footed Olympian. Then came the grand struggle for a hundred yards, when the runners were running neck and neck. Risden, however, with a final spurt, passed Craig and won by five yards. The time, 4 minutes and 45 seconds, was good, considering the wind.

Martin is Fast.

The individual honors, however, were divided with Risden by his team mate, W. C. Martin, who captured both of the sprint events in fast time. In the hundred the watches caught him at 10 seconds, while he stepped the furlong off in 22 seconds.

Although he does not get started as soon as some of his opponents, Martin more than makes up for it when he hits his stride. In both his heat and final in the hundred he was hardly on even terms until the seventy-five-yard mark, when he passed the other contestants in easy fashion. In the final of this race Snedigar put up a hard fight, and looked all over the victor until he was passed by the Seattle man.

Ed Beeson of the Olympic Club proved an easy winner in both of the hurdle events, and was caught in 15:2 seconds over the high sticks. Herbert Cheek, who for many years was invincible over both hurdles, finished second to the Healdsburg boy in the shorter race.

McCauley in Quarter.

Ed Macauley continued to race in fine form and defeated Nelson from Seattle in the quarter mile in 51 seconds. The Seattle man went to the front from the start with a wonderful burst of speed, and before the runners had raced half way around the track he had gained a lead of ten yards. Macauley soon overtook him and finished ten yards ahead of his rival.

Wood of the University of California gave a good exhibition of long distance running when in the two-mile event he won by nearly a hundred yards, in 10 minutes and 20 seconds. For three-quarters of the way he, like Risden in the mile event, kept to the rear, but when he let himself out the race was as good as over. The crowd gave him a hearty cheer when he ran down the main stretch for the last time.

The Western Club turned out a winner, Freisell, in the broad jump, who leaped 21 feet 9¼ inches. He takes off well and with a speedy start sails through the air in a jaunty fashion.

Ralph Rose, as usual, captured both the hammerthrow and the shotput. His performances in both events were not up to his usual mark, and he just did win the hammerthrow in his last turn, when he beat Mahoney of the Irish-American Club by 15 inches.

The Results:

The score and results of the meet were: Olympic Club, 51; Seattle Club, 29; U. C., 20; Pastime Club, 7; Irish A. A. C., 7; Stanford, 5; Western Club, 5; St. Ignatius, 3; Sacramento Athletic Club, 3.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES IN POOR FORM DESPITE THEIR VICTORY SATURDAY

S.F. POST. 9-12-10

Time Made in Various Events Indcates That They Are Far From Best Form.

While the Olympic Club men were not pressed very closely for first place in the field and track meet held at the Golden Gate Park stadium on Saturday, the showing of the Seattle team has raised the question of the possibilities of the athletes of this city in the national championships to be held at New Orleans next month. From the performances of the athletes Saturday, this would be hard to venture. The best that can be said for the local men is that they were not up to best form in the majority of events and the times they made can be bettered, while the time for distances in the field events were only of average excellence.

Unless training works a great improvement, Martin of Seattle should have little trouble in disposing of any of the local sprinters. Snedigar, Gerhardt and Meding or Rogers did not seriously enter the race for first place in either century or furlong. Ed Macauley ran a pretty quarter-mile and has a good record for the distance, which would lead one to expect him at least to place in the New Orleans championships.

The half-mile was run in ridiculously slow time on Saturday, in spite of the wind. With John O. Miller out of the running, it looks as if this event will be left undefended as far as this city is concerned. It is doubtful, however, if any one on the coast or in the country can beat Edmunson of Seattle, the national champion of last year. Edmunson failed to show up Saturday and caused some little disappointment among those who expected to see the crack compete. Risden of Seattle is a good distance man and could do the half mile in far better time than he showed Saturday if he had not been saving himself for the mile. His time in the mile was not fast, but he has shown he can do much better.

It was too bad that Martin, the sprinter, fell down in the low-hurdle event. It would have been interesting to see what he could do over the sticks opposed to the local talent. Beeson did all that could be expected of him. He won both events in comparatively easy style from such an old-time crack as Check and the remainder of a good field. This boy should be a strong contender for national honors and will be one of the best locals entered.

In the field events little can be said at this time. All of the locals need training. Ralph Rose showed the effects of too much parading and will benefit by some strict training to reduce. He should be able to make a national showing if he seriously contemplates the matter.

Taken as a whole, the San Francisco team has good promise if the requisite amount of work is done. Seattle can boast of a good, strong outfit, although the northerners would not shave many points from the local score, but rather would aid us by putting down Easterners who excel where we are weak.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL HAVE RUGBY TEAM

SAC. STAR, 9-8-10

Within a week after the opening of school next Monday activities in football circles will commence. Football in high school circles will see a complete reformation this year: Instead of the old-style, bone-breaking game, the skilfull and scientific game of Rugby will be played in the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic League.

Though school opening is a week off yet and practice will not start for a week after that, a great deal of football talk is being heard among the students. Just what chances Sacramento high has of capturing the pennant is a much-mooted question. In the old style game, where muscle and brawn were the chief requirements, the local school did not make much of a showing. Year after year they put in the field a light, fast team. This team would be torn to pieces by heavier and stronger teams from towns up the valley.

As speed and cleverness is one of the best acquisitions of the new game, Sacramento's chances look bright this year. The school had a pennant-winning basketball team and for years their baseball team has been second to none. There is no reason why they should not do as well at football.

The new game is all in their favor. Nearly all of the basketball men and many of the track and baseball men should make good football material. They have an instructor who is thoroughly familiar with the game of Rugby. They have good grounds and many other things in their favor. In addition to this they have several members of last year's football team as a start for this year's team. Men like Gay, Putnam, Eddinger, Diggs and Chan are as good a foundation for a team as any instructor could desire.

Entering this year will be a host of good material. Already Woodland, Chico and other schools in the league are making plans for the football season. These schools have been foremost in football circles in the past several years. As the time is past when several huskies form a battering ram and attempt to break each other's bones, they should not prove so formidable. The local high school should win the 1911 pennant with ease.

Not in the high school alone is football being talked of. At the Sacramento Athletic Club football is a prominent topic of conversation. Director Rittler is a Rugby entusiast. He will introduce Rugby at the club this winter. If enough interest is shown he will form a Sacramento football league. Teams from the Capital City Wheelmen, Turners, Company E and the Y. M. C. A. would all probably enter.

ATHLETES WIN AND LOSE GAME

Loomis Fruit Pickers Take First Game but Are Outplayed in Afternoon.

SAC UN.—9-12-10

The Athletics journeyed to Loomis yesterday and played two scorching games with the fruit pickers. The morning game had to be called in the sixth inning, when the Loomis team was on the top, score 4 to 1. Grady pitched good ball, allowing five hits, but was hit at times when hits meant runs. "Chip" Hach, the old-time warhorse, was in fine form, holding the Athletics' stickers down to three hits. In the first inning Loomis scored two runs when Grady passed Hebuck, and was scored on M. Pappa's scorching three-bagger in center field, Pappa scoring when Lomond grounded to Wakefield, who threw high to the plate. Two more runs were scored in the second inning, when O'Clair singled, Hamilton bunted and Grady threw the ball away at first, sending both men to second and third. M. Pappa again came through with a single, scoring both men.

The Athletics scored their lone run in the first inning when with two outs, Johnson singled, stole second and scored on Overhouse's single.

The afternoon game proved a pitchers' battle between "Wig" Pappa and "Lefty" Johnson, which resulted in Johnson coming out on top. Johnson was hit harder than Pappa, but he kept his hits well scattered, while Pappa was landed upon at opportune times by the Athletics. Thirteen were sent to the bench by Pappa while Johnson had nine. The Athletics started scoring right off the reel. With one down, Wakefield was safe on the shortstop's error and stole second; Johnson singled, sending Wakefield to third and both men scored on Hausman's two-bagger to deep left. Burns popped out to short ending the inning. Loomis sent one over in the second on an error. They tied the score in the third, when they sent over another. The Athletics cinched the game in the fifth, when they scored 3 runs on as many hits, and after that the result was never in doubt as Johnson had the Loomis hitters at his mercy.

The Scores:

To Oppose All-Placers for S.A.C.

SAC. UN. 9-15-10

Athletics to Meet All-Placers in Series of Games to Start Sunday.

The Athletics will again meet the All-Placers Sunday in a double-header, which will be played on the Lincoln diamond. A series of games will be played between the All-Placers and the Athletics on different diamonds, both teams having won a game so far. The Athletics are going after both games this time, and if confidence counts for anything, they will not be disappointed.

The fruit-pickers have a fast team; such men as "Wiz" Pappa, Pete Lomond and "Mike" Pappa can always be depended upon to give a good account of themselves. Grady, for the Athletics, will twirl the morning game and will be opposed by "Chip" Hack. Johnson will work against Pappa in the afternoon. Much credit can be given Johnson for his pitching, as he is always in the game and never lets up until the last batter is out. The playing of Wakefield, on second, is always a feature, while Hausman, at the difficult corner, has been hitting the ball in big league fashion.

St. Mary's Defeats Oakland High School

S.F.EX.—9-15-10

The St. Mary's College football team downed the Oakland High School fifteen yesterday on the college campus by the score of 9 to 0. Considering the fact that the collegians have had but one week of practice, they put up a surprisingly good game against the high school lads, being on the aggressive during the entire contest and doing some good work in passing the ball. The men in the back field were especially in good form, Oakland having but few chances to score.

St. Mary's did all the scoring in the first half of the game. Ten minutes after the start, with the ball near the Oakland twenty-five yard line, "Honey" Hughes suddenly made a splendid drop-kick that dropped the ball between the goal posts for four points. Just a few minutes before the whistle blew for half time Starret made a twenty-five yard run into the Oakland territory and passed the ball to Faulkner, who made the try; Diavala kicked the goal.

Hughes, Diavala and Starret were the star players on the St. Mary's team, while McElrath and Stroud played well for the high school team. The veterans on the St. Mary's line-up were Leonhardt, Cann, Jones, Starrett, Clinton, McCarthy, Greeley and Diavala. Twenty-minute halves were played. The teams lined up as follows:

St. Mary's.	Position.	Oakland High.
Lenhardt	Fullback	Hamlin
Starrett	Three-quarters	Motten
Tognazzini	Three-quarters	Stroud
French	Three-quarters	Hermley
Scott	Five-eighths	Hatch
Faulkner	Five-eighths	Holden
Diavala (Capt.)	Halfback	Quayle
J. Roth	Forward	Hooper
H. Roth	Forward	McDonald
Cannon	Forward	Tooper
Jones, Fitzimmons	Forward	Jackson
Clinton	Forward	McElrath (Capt.)
Hatt, McCarthy	Forward	Leeds
Greeley	Forward	Defleffson

RITTLER BOOSTS TOURNEY AT BAY

Clubs Promise to Send Men to Boxing Matches Here in November.

SAC. UN.—9-17-10

Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club is spending his vacation in the cities about the bay and has been putting his time in to advantage for the club. Every athletic organization of any prominence has been visited by Rittler and the big boxing tournament to be held here in November has been the topic of conversation most dwelt upon. Rittler has endeavored to boost the affair with the bay clubs and exacted promises from several of the secretaries and managers that they would send men to the tourney.

The Acme club of Oakland promised him five men. Nick Prendergast of the Olympic said he would send a man for each event if possible. This will insure a meeting between McAllister and Erickson. Rittler also visited the University of California, the Siaplamates Indian institute, Stanford university and the Western club. He will probably visit Stockton on his way home and invite the athletic club of that town to send over a few entries.

Rittler says that Rugby is all the go at the bay and that he is going to start it off in the right way in this city when he returns. He visited St. Mary's college, Oakland high school and asked for games this winter.

Rittler says in a letter that the Olympic handball experts are anxious to meet G. Green in a contest as they regard him as a demon. Green, it seems, played a few games in the Olympic club and thereby gained a deep-rooted reputation.

JAPANESE WRESTLER PROVES MASTER OF HIS GAME

Walter Dyreborg, former westling instructor of the Sacramento Athletic Club, lost the jiu jitsu wrestling match last night to Shosha Yokoyama, champion middle weight of the world, in two out of three falls because he was not as proficient in the game as the Japanese athlete. Had it been catch-as-catch-can wrestling, Dyreborg would undoubtedly have won an easy victory.

The match was held in the Old Pavilion before a crowd of a few hundred people, principally Japanese. Two jiu jitsu matches between Japanese, a wrestling bout between white men, a Japanese fencing bout and a two-round boxing exhibition made up the preliminaries.

Dyreborg made the Japanese champion squirm on the mat in the first round, but the latter sprang loose and caught his opponent with a strangle hold about the neck, forcing him to acknowledge his defeat by slapping his hand on the mat. The fall was accomplished in six minutes.

White Man Has Advantage.

The second round went the full 20 minute limit, with nobody scoring a fall. For the last several minutes Dyreborg held the Japanese pinned to the floor with his left arm tightly locked. He was unable to twist Yokoyama sufficiently to make him give up. Although Dyreborg did not score a fall on the Japanese in this round, the honors were with him on points.

The men danced around with arms locked in the third round, until Yokoyama let forth a terrific bellow and fairly whirled his man around like a sack. They fell in a heap and rolled over and over. Catching a vice-like grip on the neck of the white man's blouse or jacket, the Japanese twisted it with a strangle hold until Dyreborg was once more forced to surrender. This fall gave the victory to Yokoyama.

Ed Cox refereed the match.

Japanese Fencing Is Spectacular.

The Japanese fencing bout proved one of the most interesting affairs on the program. Kawata won on points over Eshima. The combatants were clad in a coat of mail, with wire mask over their heads.

Kawata also defeated Eshima in a preliminary jiu jitsu bout and Jamaguchi beat Kheayama at the same game.

Phil Burns and F. Kenny held an American wrestling bout before the main event. Kenny threw Burns in the first round, the second was a draw and Burns won the third. He was awarded the decision on account of his aggressiveness and clever work.

Kenny and Ketchum sent a thrill through the crowd when they entered the ring and donned boxing gloves. Walyer Henley, who officiated as announcer, stated that the two athletes would pull off a special event known as "the manly art of self-defense, according to the American way."

The men were not stripped for action, so there was no evidence of a prizefight. They boxed two rounds with thickly padded gloves.

S. A. C. HAS GOOD BOXERS TO ENTER P. A. A. TOURNEY

"One-Round" Joe Erickson (top) and Salvador (bottom), who will enter tournament.

Erickson and Salvador Will Stand Good Chance With the Best of Them

Among the boxers of the Sacramento Athletic Club who stand a good chance of downing the best boys of the Coast at the coming P. A. A. Boxing Tournament to be held in this city are Joe Erickson and Salvador.

Erickson has won for himself the title of "One-Round Joe," having disposed of most of his opponents in the first round of the monthly boxing bouts held by the club.

Salvador is a comer, too, having successfully outpointed most of the boys who have run up against him within the past few months.

The tournament will be strictly for amateurs, and it may be necessary for some of the winners to box a couple of bouts a day in order to sift down to the finals.

FRANK BOWDEN

Athletics Have Strengthened Line-up for Game With All-Placers Today.

The Athletics have strengthened their line-up greatly since the last meeting with the All-Placers and when they meet that array today in Lincoln the best team the S. A. C. could possibly turn out will be in the field. Frank Bowden, who achieved considerable fame with the champion Brooke Realties, has been added to the line-up, and will assume the duties of "Tucker" Burns at short when Burns leaves for school at St. Mary's. Wakefield will not be in today's game, owing to an injury to his foot sustained in the last game, and Hart, the husky outfielder, is also on the sick list. Both men will make the trip to Lincoln today, but will not participate. Today's line-up will be:

Grady and Johnson, pitchers; Godt, catcher; Eddie Foy, first; "Scotchy" Bowden, second; Truck Hausman, third; "Yellar" Burns, shortstop; "Ovie" Overhouse, left; Clark, centerfield; Koster, right.

FOOTBALL RULES ARE INTERPRETED BY STAGG

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Coach A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago and Coach Harry Williams of the University of Minnesota officiated at a clinic over the new football rules at a meeting of fifty "big eight" coaches and officials yesterday.

Ball shall not be considered in possession of either side unless in the actual grasp of the players, and no penalty shall be inflicted until the ball actually leaves the hands of the passer.

In relation to the restrictions of the forward pass, it was decided that the pass must be made five yards back of the line of scrimmage, and cannot go twenty yards beyond the line of scrimmage, but need not cross it.

Regarding the "flying tackle," it was interpreted that the rules governing the tackle shall not prevent the defensive players from diving into the interference, but on the other hand a player throwing himself against an unprotected player in the open makes a diving tackle.

AMATEUR GAMES

The Athletics had an even break with the All-Placers in the double-header played at Lincoln yesterday. The morning game went to the All-Placers by a 4 to 3 score. Grady, for the locals, pitched a good game but his team-mates could not squeeze over the winning run. The afternoon game was taken by a 4 to 2 score. Johnson hurled for the Athletes. He had one bad inning, the seventh. In this game he was touched for four hits and two runs. The deciding game will be played at Buffalo Park today. SAC. STAR 9-19-10

HIGH SCHOOL TO TAKE UP RUGBY

Students Secure Coach and Will Start Practice Monday.

SAC. UN. — 9-18-10

Rugby football will be introduced to the students of the local high school Monday afternoon on the campus directly back of the school at Eighteenth and R streets. A coach in the person of Professor Twitchell, late of the University of California, will explain the various phases of the game to the athletes and will assist them through the season. About thirty eligible players have signed up for practice Monday, and at that time available material will be assorted and assigned to competition for the different positions. Those who played the old game but who will embrace the new are: Valentine, Ted Gay, Bedee, Simmermacher, Eldred, Dillman, M. Johnson, Hasahi, Breuner and Longbotham. Alfred Putnam and Frankie Fay, who were counted on as two strong members of the squad, have left school, and so others will have to be found for their positions.

The regular semi-annual election of the High School Athletic association will take place Tuesday. So far as is known there will be little or no competition. Factions have been practically destroyed by the school board's action in abolishing fraternities, and the graduation from school of old leaders has also done much to eradicate competition for office.

Some one will probably have to be persuaded to accept the office of president of the A. A. A. F. Nordman is a likely winner of the secretaryship, and the treasurer is still in doubt. Ted Gay, because of familiarity and exercise in athletics, will undoubtedly be elected league delegate. Earl Chapman is said to be the only fit candidate for the executive committee. Valentine is a probable winner for the football captaincy. The athletes will endeavor to have election in this office postponed for a time until the boys learn the game. Then a suitable leader will be chosen.

Will Sitton and Jack Ebner will undoubtedly battle for track leader. Simmermacher will undoubtedly get the basketball captaincy. A. E. Gruhler and R. Byee, it is understood, will run for the office of basketball manager.

In the absence of Alfred Putnam from school F. Nordman will undoubtedly preside as president of the association until a new president is elected.

The high school team will play a series of games with the Sacramento Athletic Club team during the winter.

S. A. C. RUGBY BOYS GETTING IN SHAPE

SAC. UN. 9-21-10

The first practice of the rugby team of the Sacramento Athletic club will be held Sunday morning. Professor Otto Rittler, who is handling the team, will endeavor to make arrangements with Secretary of State Curry to allow the team to practice on the capitol grounds, and if these grounds cannot be obtained, the boys will practice at McKinley park. Many promising players have shown up for practice and Professor Rittler expects to develop a strong team. Commencing next week the players aspiring for the team will practice three times a week. The first game of the S. A. C. boys will be contested with the Sacramento high school team.

ALL PLACERS WILL CLASH WITH S. A. C. BOYS

SAC. UN. 9-21-10

Everything is in readiness for the ball game Sunday afternoon at Buffalo Park, when the fast Athletics meet the All-Placers. These two teams have been playing a series of games, which has resulted so far in neither team beating the other, the Athletics having won two and the All-Placers doing likewise. As this will be the deciding game, there will, undoubtedly, be some excellent playing. In the different towns where these two teams have played, the fans have been more than satisfied with the brand of ball that has been put up.

A large delegation of Placer fans will accompany the team Sunday, and there promises to be something doing in the rooting line. The Sacramento Athletic club members will turn out in force, this giving them a chance to size up the fast little team that represents that organization.

UNKNOWN RUNNER WINS IN ANNUAL DIPSEA RACE

S.F.Ex. — 9-19-10

By Douglas Erskine

Once more a runner unknown to fame has captured the honors of the Dipsea race, the classic cross-country event of the local athletic world. Yesterday Oliver Millard, starting from the six-minute mark, was the first of a field of eighty finishers to reach the tape at Willow Camp after the strenuous seven mile grind over the Marin county hills from Mill Valley to the beach.

For the past three years the Siaplamat Indians, an aggregation of out-of-doors enthusiasts, had furnished the winner, and this year the Tamalpais Athletic Club, successor to the defunct Indians, was expected to have another surprise ready to spring on the waiting followers of the sport. The first place, however, went to an unattached runner, as Millard has no club affiliations and his training has all bee done without outside direction.

The winner of the rsce has not been seen in competition before. A year ago he harbored a desire to take part in the Dipsea race, but an injury to his foot a few days before the date of the contest forced him to forego the attempt. This year he started several weeks ago to get into shape for the arduous run, and his determined finish yesterday showed that he had put himself in fine condition.

First Two Men Close.

The last half-mile of the long road was the scene of a struggle between Millard and Mason Hartwell, the Olympic Club runner, who is so well known to followers of athletics as an Academic Athletic League champion at a mile and a former star of the Oakland High School track team. Hartwell had a handicap of three and a half minutes and he had caught all the runners in the race except Millard while he was still two miles from the finish. When the two leaders first appeared to the view of the spectators at the finishing line Millard was less than a hundred yards ahead of his speedy rival. The experts predicted that Hartwell's speed would enable him to catch his opponent, as Hartwell has a record of 4:35 for the mile, but apparently Millard had more left than his pursuer, for he maintained his lead to the end, crossing the line 13 seconds ahead of Hartwell.

Although he failed to capture first place, Hartwell made a great run, and when the entire field had reached the goal and the times had been figured out it was found that he had captured the prize for the best time over the course. He made the journey in 52 minutes and 43 seconds.

Third place in the race was won by Walter Andres of the Tamalpais Athletic Club, who reached the line 47 seconds behind Hartwell. He was followed in by George Hartwell, a brother of Mason, who started from the 5½-minute mark and showed that he possessed a goodly portion of the family speed. The next runner to arrive was Harold Young, a student of the Fremont High School of Fruitvale, who was the first high school boy to arrive and thus qualified for the Van Vleit Cup.

Hartwell Makes Best Time.

After Albert Gustafson had come in sixth James McGee, one of the back markers, reached the finish, and he was followed over the line by Willie Howden, who had started with half a minute's allowance. Al Jung, another Tamalpais runner, took ninth place, and as it turned out ended the list of prize winners which, by a strange coincidence, went to the first nine runners to complete the journey.

Under the rules of the race no runner is allowed to take two prizes. Mason Hartwell's fast time gave him the Olympic Club cup for the fastest time. Howden won the second time prize, and the prize for the third best time went to McGee, the Irish-American Athletic Club's representative. With the cup for the first high school runner going to Young, the remaining prizes were apportioned to Millard, first; Andres, second; George Hartwell, third; Gustafson, fourth, and Jung, fifth.

Otto Boediker, who won the time prize in the last three races, did not appear to be up to his usual standard yesterday. He finished in twenty-sixth place, and his time was more than five minutes slower than his record of last year.

There were no untoward incidents connected with the running of the race. The weather was perfect, and not a single one of the runners showed the slighiest sign of overexertion when they reached Willow camp. The contestants crossed the line, went to the dressing room, exchanging their duty running costumes for bathing suits and took a dip in the ocean, partook of the repast provided by the Dipsea Indians and then cheerfully started to "hoof" it back over the course to Mill Valley.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE WILL BE FACTOR IN THE FOOTBALL FIELD

S.F. CHRONICLE

OAKLAND, September 19.—That the Rugby team of St. Mary's College is bound to be recognized among the leading contending fifteens of the State for football honors during the coming three months is assured by the fact that never before in the history of the English game at the local college has such interest or enthusiasm been evidenced. Although but two weeks have elapsed since the local team made its debut on the practice field, and during which time fully seventy-five students have donned uniforms.

Despite the fact that but five of the original fifteen of last season's team have returned to college, there is no dearth of new material, and they have been showing up to good advantage both in practice and actual contests. Among the most promising of these are Scott, late of Visalia High School; Tognazzini of Ukiah, French of Sacred Heart College baseball fame and the two Roth brothers. All of these men were utilized in the initial game of the season against Oakland High School last Wednesday, and, although they have but recently learned the rudiments of the game, displayed a surprising amount of ability, both at kicking and passing the pigskin.

At the full-back position Leonhardt will undoubtedly be used throughout the season and Diavila, captain of the fifteen, will retain his old position at halfback, while Cann, Clinton and Greeley will play the forward ranks for a part of the season at least. Starrett, last year's captain, has not decided as yet whether he will return to college or not, as he graduated last June, but there is a strong liklihood that the popular five-eighths man will register in the post-graduate department. Starrett has been playing great fooball for the Barbarians and Olympics in the ante-season games and once more on the local squad should prove a veritable tower of strength.

The loss of Spencer Dickson will be keenly felt by the St. Maryites in the coming schedule of games. It was through the heady and aggressive playing of Dickson that St. Mary's scored their only touch down in the Santa Clara College game last Thanksgiving, which won for the local players the Catholic championship of the State. Sheehy, Smith and Donnelly will also be missed from the St. Mary's fifteen this year.

The annual trip to Reno, where St. Maryites will engage the university players, has been definitely decided upon for Saturday, October 8th.

UNKNOWN ATHLETE SURPRISES IN THE DIPSEA RACE

Closest Finishes Among Hundred Runners in History of the Seven-Mile Run.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

UNKNOWN in the world of athletics and claiming no affiliation with a club or association, Oliver Millard, an unattached runner, won the sixth annual Dipsea race held yesterday on the famous trail from Mill Valley to Willow Camp. Millard completed the distance in fifty-five minutes, leaving the starting point six minutes ahead of the scratch runner and two minutes to the rear of the competitors who enjoyed the limit of the handicapping, eight minutes. No emblem decorated the breast of the lanky runner as he traveled the course on the Marin hills, the figure in black running upper and white knickers presenting a mysterious appearance to the many enthusiasts along the route who endeavored to establish his identity.

The glory of making yesterday's event the most noteworthy in the history of the Dipsea race was the distinction attributed to Mason Hartwell, the sturdy Olympic Club aspirant, who left Mill Valley two and a half minutes later than Millard, and only failed to overtake the winner at the tape by a few yards, in one of the most sensational finishes witnessed since the inception of the novel race. Hartwell's effort to pass Millard, whom he trailed for the last half mile, produced the fastest time recorded in the race, 52:43 being announced as the best performance for the day.

Unlike the strange form of the winner, Hartwell was recognized as he appeared on the hill above Willow Camp, and as the two runners found their way over the winding road to the finish cheers from those who welcomed the Winged "O" were opposed by the shouts of unbiased spectators who were inspired at the sight of the unknown showing the way to the tape.

Close on the heels of Hartwell, the judges recorded Walter Andres of the Tamalpais Club, who, with a handicap of seven minutes, made a creditable showing, although he was pressed for his position by George Hartwell of the Golden City Wheelmen and a brother of the Olympic Club prize winner. Harold Young of the Fremont High School was the fifth contestant to arrive at the end of the long journey, and will be the recipient of a special prize offered to the first schoolboy to finish in the race. A. Gustafson of the Swedish-American Club fell into sixth position, while James McGee of the Irish-American Club and William Howden of the Olympic Club allowed but half a minute to regulate their positions for the second and third time prizes. The Olympian's time was 53 minutes, while McGee's was announced as 53 minutes and 33 seconds.

Otto Boeddiker of the Olympic Club, three times winner of the time prize in past races, and the only scratch entry in yesterday's race, suffered his first disappointment in being unable to perform up to expectations. Boeddiker set out to accomplish the task of passing the balance of the field with every indication of being among the prize winners. After covering three miles of the course and on approaching the steep grade out of Redwood canyon he became distressed. Realizing the hopelessness of his position, he fell to a slow pace and finished in twenty-sixth position, displaying no ill effects, however. Insufficient preparation, due to the recent accident which he suffered, no doubt effected the Olympian's efforts in yesterday's contest.

Of the hundred runners who started in the annual race eighty were included in the list of those who finished among the competitors, while the balance found their way to the end of the route in time to enoy the festivities offered by the Dipsea Indians. Although the sun's rays proved rather uncomfortable for those not in light attire, all of the runners arrived at the finish in first-class condition, the notable absence of fatigue causing considerable comment. Hartwell, who went over the trail faster than the balance of the field and sprinted the last quarter mile, was a picture of comfort when he stopped running and returned over the trail shortly after. He began to overtake the handicap runners shortly after leaving Mill Valley, and with the exception of Millard, had passed the entire aggregation at the Lone Pine Tree, or three miles from the finish.

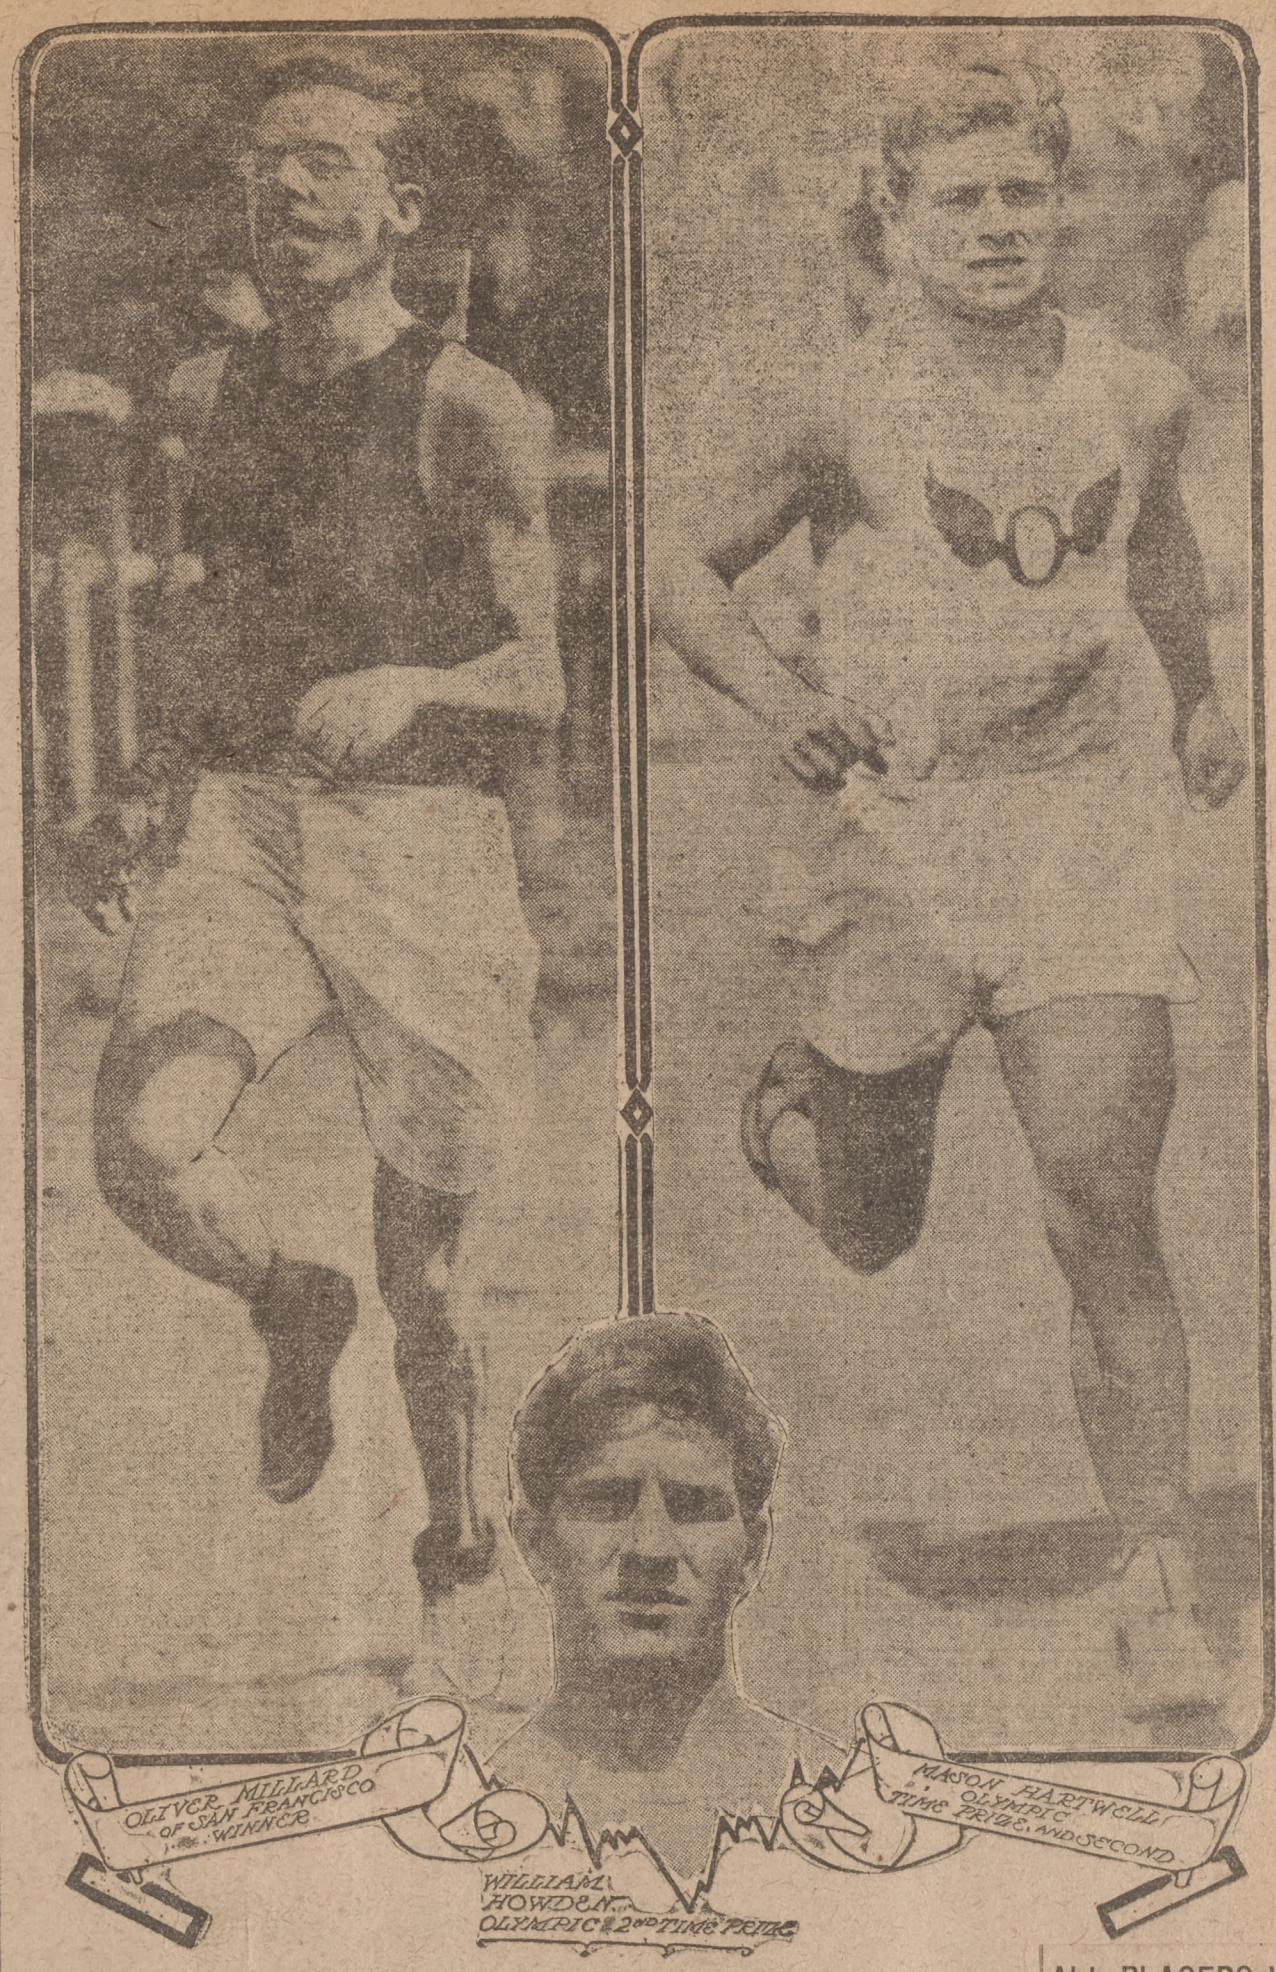
S.F. CHRON. 9-19-10



WILL PRACTICE RUGBY THREE TIMES A WEEK

Rugby football practice will be taken up three times a week just as soon as the Sacramento Athletic Club players get situated on a field where they can play. Otto Rittler will endeavor to get Capitol Park. Otherwise McKinley Park will probably be used. The first practice will be held Sunday at McKinley Park.

A meeting was held at the club Monday evening, at which the boys seemed to take quite an interest in the new game, as explained by Rittler. The boys will try to put up a good team for a trip to Reno, as well as being able to invite the Barbarians and Olympics here from San Francisco.

The suits will be black stockings, white pants, black jerseys, with yellow stripes on the arm and the club emblem over the heart.

PEIXOTTO ELECTED HEAD OF P. A. A.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 21.—At the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Pacific Amateur Athletic Association Monday evening, Sidney S. Peixotto was re-elected as President. For the only time in three years there was a candidate nominated against Peixotto. Joseph R. Hickey was named by Harry McKenzie, but Peixotto won out in the balloting—14 to 12.

The Tamalpias Athletic Club was admitted to membership, while the Reliance and California Clubs were dropped. The Metropolitan Club, which is leaving the athletic field, handed in its resignation.

A resolution was passed forbidding any of the Association members from holding the so-called amateur boxing bouts.

President Peixotto presented the A. A. U. perpetual track and field trophy to the Olympic Club, which won the right to hold the beautiful prize for the ensuing year, having cinched this year's championship at Sacramento.

Following are the officers who were elected to serve during the coming year:

President, Sidney S. Peixotto.
Vice President, A. J. Cloud.
Secretary-Treasurer, Herbert Hauser.
Registration Committee—Geo. James, Alfred Skaife, and George Schlitter.

ALL PLACERS WILL CLASH WITH S. A. C. BOYS

Everything is in readiness for the ball game Sunday afternoon at Buffalo Park, when the fast Athletics meet the All-Placers. These two teams have been playing a series of games, which has resulted so far in neither team beating the other, the Athletics having won two and the All-Placers doing likewise. As this will be the deciding game, there will, undoubtedly, be some excellent playing. In the different towns where these two teams have played, the fans have been more than satisfied with the brand of ball that has been put up.

A large delegation of Placer fans will accompany the team Sunday, and there promises to be something doing in the rooting line. The Sacramento Athletic club members will turn out in force, this giving them a chance to size up the fast little team that represents that organization.

S. A. C. RUGBY BOYS GETTING IN SHAPE

The first practice of the rugby team of the Sacramento Athletic club will be held Sunday morning. Professor Otto Rittler, who is handling the team, will endeavor to make arrangements with Secretary of State Curry to allow the team to practice on the capitol grounds, and if these grounds cannot be obtained, the boys will practice at McKinley park. Many promising players have shown up for practice, Professor Rittler expects to develop a strong team. Commencing next week the players aspiring for honors will practice three times a week. The first game of the S. A. C. season will be contested with the Sacramento high school team.

ATHLETES AGAIN LOSE AND WIN

SAC. UN. 9-19-10

Strengthened by Good Lunch They Go After All-Placers and Win Easily.

The Athletics repeated the performance of last Sunday, defeating the All-Placers in one game and losing the other at Lincoln yesterday. Both games were exhibitions of snappy baseball, being anybody's game until the last man was out. In the morning game the Athletics were in the lead, 3 to 2, until the last inning, when "Mike" Pappa knocked a screaming three-bagger, which scored Hebuck and Kirtlan. Grady pitched good ball, but the odds were against him.

In the afternoon game the Athletics started scoring right off the reel, sending over three runs in the first and one in the fifth. Johnson pitched fine ball with the exception of the seventh inning, when the All-Placers scored 2 runs on four hits.

For the Athletics, Bowden, Koster, Overhouse, Johnson and Hausman, were there with the stick and showed up well in the field. Hamilton, Hebuck and Hartley played a star game for the All-Placers.

Next Sunday the Athletics will meet the All-Placers on the Buffalo park diamond to play off the deciding game. The scores:

5000 SEE FEATS AT VOLUNTEERS OF IRELAND PICNIC

S.F. Exam. 9-20-10

Military Display at Shell Mound Park Is Spectacular One.

IRISH-AMERICAN CLUB WINS TEAM TROPHY

Athletics Under Pacific Association Auspices Prove Big Success.

The eighteenth annual picnic of Company A of the Irish Volunteers was held yesterday at Shell Mound Park and was celebrated by a spectacular sham battle from which the gallant members of the organization are recovering today.

A few sore shoulders and several sets of sore feet represent the total damage done in the battle, and although five or six men were seen to fall on the field of action they simply raised false hopes in an undertaker who viewed the fray and showed a characteristic Irish power of recuperation.

More than 5000 persons attended the celebration, the main feature of which was the battle. However, the athletic games which followed, held under the auspices of the Pacific Amateur Athletic Association, drew as big a crowd, and much enthusiasm was displayed at the speed and skill shown.

While the military contingent showed no signs of piking and burnt plenty of powder, the athletes spared no physical effort to make good records to commemorate Gaelic prowess.

WIN CABANISS TROPHY.

The Irish-American Club won the trophy offered by Judge George H. Cabaniss for the team winning the most points. The representatives of this organization took fifty-two points against their nearest contenders, the Pastime Club, which finished second with eleven points.

Mahoney and O'Connor won two firsts for the Irish-American Club and Smith and Martin of the same team won an event each. The relay race was taken by the Irishmen, who finished in fast time, with the Olympic Club second and the Pastimes a close third.

Dancing and athletic events were all hotly contested.

Exhibitions of Irish and Scotch dancing were given, and Mayor McCarthy presented the prizes to winners. The results were:

Cabaniss trophy to club scoring most points—Irish-Americans.

Murasky trophy to winners of relay race—Irish-Americans.

Running high jump: O'Connor, Irish-American Club, first; Sahlander, San Francisco Turn Verein, second. Height, 5 feet 5 inches.

OPEN RELAY RACE.

COLLECTOR SHORT IN ACCOUNTS

Fred Galleher's Peculations Cripple Local Organization

DIRECTORS SEEK TO HUSH SCANDAL

Left Affairs of Sacramento Athletic Club in Bad Shape

Fred Galleher, former collector for the Sacramento Athletic Club, left this city with a shortage of probably several hundred dollars in his accounts, although by destroying records and receipts he left his affairs so badly involved that the directors have been unable to discover the exact amount of his stealings.

Rather than have a scandal that might do injury to the club, the directors refrained from prosecuting Galleher on a charge of embezzlement, and made efforts to hush up the matter. Galleher's absence from his position has been referred to in the official organ of the club as being due to a serious illness.

Galleher made a practice of collecting back dues from members whom he approached on the street or in their places of business without giving receipts, using the excuse that he wanted to look up the number of months the member was in arrears. Sums he collected under these circumstances he often pocketed in part or in whole. Another of his methods was to give receipts when demanded, but to keep the money himself and to destroy the stubs of the receipt book wherein the collection was recorded.

Club Crippled by Loss.

While it is hard to estimate the aggregate amount of his embezzlements, it is known that the result has been to cripple the club financially. The worst of it is that the books are so tangled and involved that it is difficult to ascertain how much a given member may owe in dues. It is probable that the dues lost by the club in consequence of the confusion of the books may nearly equal the sum which was filched outright by the Collector.

Galleher admitted that he had been guilty of a breach of trust, and said for himself that he had needed more money than he was receiving in salary for the care of his sick wife. This and other considerations dissuaded the Directors from taking legal steps to bring him to justice and induced them to keep the matter quiet.

Since leaving town, following the discovery of his shortage, Collector Galleher has returned and is residing in Oak Park at 2811 Stockton Avenue.

ON THE RIVER

ALTHOUGH the weather is still ideal for boating, the season on the Sacramento River is apparently coming to a close. Just why an arbitrary date should put an end to festivities, regardless of climatic and water conditions, is not clear, but the fact remains that many motor boats have already gone out of commission for the winter, and other owners are preparing to get their craft out of the water.

All-Placers Will Bring Initial Sack Wonder to Play Against Athletics.

Special to the Union.

NEWCASTLE (Cal.), Sept. 21.—When the All-Placers face the Sacramento Athletic club team at Buffalo park in Sacramento Sunday afternoon there will be one among their number who is regarded by practically all the baseball authorities in Northern California as the premier first baseman of the entire valley. His name is Ira Colwell, and he is a protege of Dr. Blemer.

Not only does Colwell's record back him in his claim for infield honors, but the fans of this city say they will gladly refund the admission of any fans who attend the game Sunday who does not say Colwell's work on the initial sack is marvelous—considering.

S. A. C. Crippled But Takes Second.

The Olympic Club of San Francisco won the annual P. A. A. meet with a neat margin of twenty-five points to spare. The Sacramento Athletic Club was second, with twenty-five points. The Pastime Club of San Francisco finished third with nineteen points, with the Irish-American Club and the unattached men fighting for fourth, with eleven points each.

The Los Angeles Polytechnic made five points, and the University of California four points.

440 Record Broken.

Edward MacCauley of the Olympic Club covered the 440-yard dash in the remarkable time of 49 4-5 seconds, which lowers the coast amateur record one second. Gates was unable to enter this race on account of his lungs troubling him after the half-mile race.

Kinsheloe was a close second, with six points. He took second in the high and low hurdles, and as this was his first appearance with the club it shows him to be a valuable man. He did not enter the 220-yard dash, on account of not being in condition. The club men look for great things from this little man next year.

Holt and Gates each took a first place. Holt took first in the high jump, in great style, and showed that he had trained faithfully and improved his spare time.

Gates was an easy winner in the half-mile, and considering his late illness his winning was quite a feat.

Gannon took third place in the 220-yard hurdle race, and Hope was placed third in the high jump.

Meet Ends Chain of Mishaps.

From the beginning of training until the end there has been nothing but one accident after another. To begin, Track Captain Stewart, who up to a week before the meet was in perfect condition and had never felt better in his life, contracted a very bad cold, which hampered him in his training and interfered with his breathing during the race.

Earl Sparks was unable to compete in the quarter or the half-mile races on account of the death of his father. He was a sure thing for a place in both of these races, as he had trained faithfully throughout the season.

Hollingsworth qualified in the 220-yard dash heat, but did not urn in the final race because he had just returned from his vacation and was not in condition, and Purrington did not compete for the same reason.

The rest of the S. A. C. men who did not show up suffered from stage fright and hid themselves in the remote corners of the grand stand, so that Professor Rittler could not get his eye on them.

Hall was also unable to participate on account of a death in his family. He would have been a gerat help in the weights.

In the five-mile race Day failed to get a place, and his old rival, Robert Howden, finished third. Lee of the Pastime Club was in his dressing-room receiving a rub-down when the race started, and when he arrived on the track the first man had just rounded the 440-yard mark, but he sprinted until he reached them, and finished an easy second.

In the hundred-yard finals Olie Snediger was left at his mark. He was picked for a sure winner, and with him in it the finish would have been sensational, as Mednig finished in 10:1, barely beating Gerhardt.

The results:

One hundred-yard dash—G. H. Mednig (P. A. C.) first, P. C. Gerhardt (O. C.) second, Russell Rogers (P. A. C.) third. Time, 10:1.

Two hundred and twenty-yard dash—Russell Rogers (P. A. C.) first, G. H. Mednig (P. A. C.) second, W. G. Smeltzer (P. A. C.) third. Time, 22:4.

One hundred and twenty-yard hurdle—Charles S. Morris (Un.) first, A. B. Kinsheloe (S. A. C.) second.. Time, 17 seconds.

Four hundred and forty-yard run—Ed. MacCauley (O. C.) first, F. A. Smith (I. A. A. C.) second, Ed. Martin (I. A. A. C.) third. Time, 49 4-5 seconds. Breaks P. A. A. record of 50 4-5 seconds.

Eight hundred and eighty-yard run—A. F. Gates (S. A. C.) first, J. R. Kelly (O. C.) second, Dan Riordan (I. A. A. C.) third. Time, 2:03 3-5.

Two hundred and twenty-yard hurdle—Charles S. Morris (Un.) first, A. B. Kinsheloe (S. A. C.) second, C. F. Gannon (S. A. C.) third. Time, 26 2-5 seconds.

One mile run—E. P. Craig (O. C..) first, H. H. Maundrell (O. C.) second, H. M. Williams (O. C.) third. Time, 4:39.

Boxers Make Great Showing.

The seven bouts that Matchmaker Hoffman offered to the club members last Friday were certainly all hair-raisers.

There was only one knock-out, but there were two or three near ones. These short round bouts are fast becoming popular with the boxing fans on account of the speed and cleverness required to gain a decision in three rounds.

The Schlitz Twins Come Back.

Once and for all, the argument around the club—whether an athlete can come back—was settled by the Schlitz twins. They were pitted against strong, clever, game, young fellows.

Schlitz Hoffman boxed with Blonde Fisher. The blonde kid is some when it comes to mixing it, and he is also very clever. A good many of Schlitz's friends were a bit dubious as to the outcome at the end of the first round, as the blonde kid was wading in at a terrific gait, and the fat on Schlitz's abdomen was wobbling a trifle, but in the second round Schlitz proved that his beverage had the fighting stuff in it by knocking Fisher down five times and putting him asleep on his fifth descent to the canvas pillow.

Schlitz Sollars earned a well-deserved decision over Paul Noble of the Oakland Acme Club. It took four rounds of fast and clever boxing for Sollars to prove that he was not a has-been, and he showed the boys that he was there and could teach some of the young cubs the game yet.

Muskrat Still At It.

Muskrat has the winning habit and can't loes it. He defeated Kid Amaker in a hot argument, but it took a bunch of tough punches to put the can on Amaker. Amaker is a smaller man than Muskrat, and appears to be lighter, but he gave his man a good run for his money.

Gates Under Full Headway.

Azevedo won the honors from Bertagni in a clever four-round go. Both boys boxed desperately, and Azevedo wore Bertagni down until he almost had him out, and then his own strength gave out and he could not put on the finishing touches.

Referee Burke Gets the Worst.

In the Jones-Pappas go Referee Burke was kept busy tearing them apart and every once in a while, which was quite often, a stray bullet would hit Burke.

Jones won the bout on account of his ring generalship. He was able to stay behind Jack Burke in the clinches and leave Pappas to tire himself out by hitting at Jones and hitting Burke.

Esta won from Valdez in three rounds of fast and furious boxing.

Main Event a Hummer.

The Gore-Wallace go was one of the best main events the club members have ever witnessed. For the first three rounds it was either man's bout, and a lucky punch would have finished either one.

Early in the first round Wallace dazed Gore by a stiff punch that sent him to the mat and everything seemed to be coming Wallace's way, but in the next two rounds Gore seemed to strengthen up enough to make it an even bout, necessitating an extra round, in which Gore did all of the aggressive work and received a hard-earned decision.

Athletics Defeat Golden Poppies.

Gage, that no-hit no-run marvel, took an awful tumble last Sunday when Dusty Clark's bunch trimmed him to the tune of seven to one.

All of the Athletics played great ball, and Johnson's and Grady's pitching was a feature of the game.

Foy astonished the natives by knocking out a real, live two-bagger. The Athletics seem to be in better condition after their vacation.

The batteries for the Athletics were Johnson and Grady pitchers, Lee Godt catcher.

The Golden Poppies, Gage picher, and Broady catcher.

Professor Rittler Off For a Rest.

Professor Rittler left with his family Friday on a ten days' trip. He will go to San Francisco and Oakland, and while there will boost the coming boxing tournament, and get some men signed up for the coming club bout.

This is the first vacation he has had since his connection with the club and it is much needed and well deserved for he has not alone been in charge of the physical work, but has lately had charge of the building. Throughout the preparatory track work he was very busy training his men.

All of the members wish him a pleasant vacation and are already looking forward to his return.

—o—

In the coming gymnasium tournament, which will be held shortly after Professor Rittler's return, "Doc" Williams will be one of the foremost contestants.

"Doc" is an all-around "gym" man and one of the club's foremost trapeze performers. He is also fast in distance races but, as he is of a bashful nature, he does not often compete.

—o—

Boxing Lessons Start Again.

Boxing Instructor Billy Johnson has been ill for the past month, so there have been no boxing classes, but from now on there will be, as Billy is again in good working order.

He is very anxious that all of the men show up regularly who are thinking of competing in the coming tournament.

Sacramento has some of the best amateur boxers on the Coast and there is no reason why they should not prove it to the people in the coming tournament.

It will take a lot of hard training and careful instruction, but it is worth while.

Drop around on the boxing instruction evening and see Billy.

—o—

Athletics Play Freeport.

The Athletics will hook up with the fast Freeport aggregation tomorrow morning, at 10 o'clock, at Oak Park. This will be a great game and everybody should help the Athletics to win by donating their presence as well as their coin.

Those two old-time leaguers, Johnson and Grady, will twist the sphere over, and Godt will hook onto them.

Foy, the boy with the batting average, will stop everything at first, and that speedy brunette, Burns, will gather in the drives at shortstop.

—o—

New Physical Director.

William H. Cockran of Harrisburg, Penn., who succeeds Joseph Reisner as Physical Instructor for the Young Men's Christian Association, is expected to arrive next week.

Chat.

It was hard luck that Gates could not enter the 440 and the broad jump. He was good for a place in each.

Josef Erickson's nose is getting better, and if he does not do too much manual labor before the coming tournament he should be able to grab the colors.

Leo O'Connor has returned after a trip to Carmel, Pacific Grove, and Del Monte. He is looking great and is in search of a good man with whom to wrestle.

Lee Muskrat has the winning habit and can't lose it. He will figure in the coming tournament, and at the rate he is improving some great things will be expected of him.

Lack of training and working nights told on our little five-mile runner, Day, Saturday. He has beaten the time that was made Saturday, when he was in condition.

The basket ball bug has gotten hold of all the boys lately and they are going at it strong. There is a great deal of new material developing fast, and by the looks of things there will be a few surprises this season.

"Doc." Williams.

SEP. 10-10.

SAC. WEEKLY SEP. 10-10.

SAC. WEEKLY SEP. 10-10.

Charlie Wahlander has made a new discovery which he does not want anyone to know. He rubs himself down every night before retiring, with cocoanut butter, so that when he gets into the water he will cut right through it.

Baron Jimmy Barnes has applied to the club directors for permission to teach dancing every Wednesday evening in the basketball court. Professor Thielen's swinette orchestra is to furnish the music. The Baron is some instructor, and the boys ought to patronize home industry.

Dusty Clark's bowleggedness was proved once and for all last Sunday when that drive into center found the gap.

"Doc" Turner, "Sleeps" Chenoweth and Roy Cothrin went to Lincoln Sunday to hunt. They rambled through the hills all day in quest of the feathered stuff but returned to Sacramento declaring that the quail in the woods around the Plaza were good enough for them.

"Schlitz" Sollars is a member of the third house during the special session. He has the honor of being the only present member who was also a member of the special session that was held after the San Francisco disaster.

All of the club boxers should come around now to get in shape for the coming tournament. Billy Johnson is back and is feeling great and has lots of good stuff for the old men, as well as the new.

Tommy Burns is there when it comes to stealing bases, and swatting the hide. His little journey to the Coast improved his eye.

"Rube" Amaker is a clever little boxer and everybody would like to see him matched with someone his size. The feathers would sure fly.

"Pat" Holt is a high jumper with some class, and he can place anywhere he competes.

Twenty-five points behind the Olympic Club. What do you think of that for a new club? Just wait and watch. We'll get there soon.

The next boxing night looks like a hummer, but it will have to be to keep up with the pace the previous bouts have set.

"Barb" Loveich is at his old time game during the Fair. He is barking for a man who is "touted" as having twelve fingers.

ON THE RIVER

Sandbar Athletics.

The sandbar squad of athletes of the S. A. C. assembled last Sunday for their regular Sunday morning work-out, and the host of previous week entries, so much touted, did not materialize.

Reedy tried to beat his record for the hundred-yard dash in the swim, but just succeeded in equalling it, though in splendid form.

Kilgore ran a marvelously fast 220. There was some question as to the actual time, so it was not recorded and brought back to town.

Wahlander posed several times for a photo in the shell, but was so unsteady in the little craft that each effort was blurred and will have to await a more peaceful condition of the water.

Delano tuned up on the discus, and is beginning to show some class in rolling this metal circle.

He of the pompadour locks, Mr. McDonough, sent as an excuse a fruit punch engagement, and couldn't be there.

Dave Johnston, by his defeat in his hundred-yard dash hobby by Shorrock, also wasn't there to defend his title, though rumor has it he was not well.

In making a sharp turn around the stake-boat in a shell, Morshead took a heave into the briny, while the tiny craft continued on its way as if nothing had happened.

The hamper was complete, the lunch a bountiful success, and as a consequence, with a more-as-plenty for all, the bunch stuck around until nearly 4 p. m. before they returned to the clubhouse and street clothes.

Tell Hodingson to show you some of the photos that Palm took of him on the way home. Those specimens that Delano and Wahlander also-ran may be worth while, too.

A bathing suit is hardly the proper costume for a flirtation. Even Mr. Charles Percival Wahlander will admit that—he knows. Sunday was a glaring example. Ask him.

There's going to be a great deal of explaining when George Knox exhibits that bunch of film reproductions taken from Drury Butler's camera. They will have a location and a certain class all to themselves.

The principal places of interest were visited before returning home, and in the evening it was a chicken spread for nine, Bud Reedy officiating most of the time as master of ceremonies and other things. See log, page 23, 11 p. m.

Reedy can do other things than swim fast. He's there when it comes to peeling chicken bones, spreading mayonaise, or slicing dills.

Palm surprised everybody, even himself, when he rendered "Asleep In The Deep," Hodingson officiating at the piano. By this effort he is entitled to the basso section of Prof. Rittler's chorus, to be organized early this winter.

With music and song the festivities, lasting all day and most of the evening, came to a close with threats to make next Sunday even a bigger and more glorious success, when more events in the athletic section will be pulled off.

To Arrange Plans for Carnival of Boxing.

Tonight the Directors and members of the athletic commission will meet to perfect plans for the coming P. A. A. boxing tournament.

Professor Rittler is doing great work in the city by boosting the tournament, and has already seen a good many crack boxers who have promised to be on deck.

Boxing fans will for once get enough boxing, since the tournament will last for three days, and they will see in action some of the best boys on the coast.

The great advantage that three-round boxing contests have over professional fighting, such as has been seen in the past in Sacramento, is that to gain a decision in three rounds the man must box from the sound of the gong and keep right at it if he expects to get a decision, and if the bout is a draw another round of four minutes is allowed and the decision is rendered on the outcome of this round alone.

The club's regular monthly card is being fast made up by "Schlitz" Hoffman and will be pulled off some time around the last of this month.

—o—

Rittler Much Encouraged.

Professor Rittler, the club's athletic head, now on a well-earned vacation, writes most encouragingly from San San Francisco, where he is combining rest and activity.

"There is no place on the Pacific Coast better located than Sacramento for ideal track and field sports," he writes, "and the climate is just right. As soon as we can get a good track, our athletes will climb to the same footing with the crack athletes around the bay. The Pacific championship brought out many things of which our boys should take advantage. For example, they only get worked up a week or two before a meet, while they should work every once in awhile during the whole season, to fit themselves.

"And the club spirit should be brought out better, by every member. When this has been accomplished, it will be of vast help to the coach in developing team work. If we had had more team work and less bad luck through illness, we would have won more points at the September 3 meet. But team work is bound to come in time, and then we will be on a par with the Olympic Club. Next season may turn the trick. With such men as Holt, Sparks, Gates, Stewart, Childs, Gannon, Hope, Dickson, Hollingsworth, Kinschloe, Purington, Day and Elliott, and with a track of our own, we ought to make a fine showing. Let us hope we will have the Buffalo Park track and a nice, clean clubhouse right on the grounds, next season. It will help a lot.

"Speaking of team work, if the boys who didn't show up at the big meet, had only made their appearance, it would have encouraged those who did compete. We would have had a place in the 100 yards, if Elliott had run, for he is very fast. We threw a point away in the high hurdle and hammer throw, as there were only two entries in these events. The boys are afraid of Rose, because he is a world's champion. But Rose has off days, such as at the September 10 meet of the Native Sons, when he threw the 16 pound shot only 153 feet, 1½ inches. Dickson should pass this mark next year. Holt would surely have taken a place at the Native Son meet, and next year he will go over 6 feet, for he has only just taken up jumping. It takes a good man to beat our Gates at the half-mile. He lost to Ricken, of Seattle, on the tenth, through poor judgment, and everybody who saw the race could tell he was the better man.

"Comparing the time at the Coast Champion meet with that of the Natives, it is plainly to be seen that the conditions in Sacramento are better than at the bay for athletics.

"Several clubs have promised to send their boys up to the boxing tournament in November. Football will be ripe when I get back to Sacramento and I hope that the boys will respond to the first call for practice. I have seen several games this year, and will have some new plays, which the American team learned in Australia during their trip. In this sport, of course, like every other, we must learn the game, first. Next year should see the S. A. C. competing with the best of them. In basketball the boys will show a big improvement this winter and I look for the club to win the State championship.

"I was invited to attend a meeting of the Acme Club of Oakland, last Monday, and gave them a talk on purely amateur clubs, of which you don't see many around the bay. The Acme will have some of its best boxers entered in the tournament. I will also visit the Olympic and Western clubs this week."

—o—

S. A. C. Men in San Francisco.

During the past week quite a number of the boys journeyed to the Bay for a quiet time, which, from all reports and stories, they must have had.

Thayer, Delano, Beckley, and Kilgore under the direction of Professor Rittler were shown the big city, in a classy manner. They also took in the Seattle-Olympic club track meet, and enjoyed it to the uttermost.

Nason, Carson, Nichols, Ernest Raffetto, and Elwood Greer were chaperoned by Sandy Eberhardt, who tried to keep them from buying the city and wiping it off of the map. From all reports they had a glorious time, and hated to leave.

A good many of the boys paraded in the big porcession of Friday and a number didn't, but Chet Gannon stuck with it, as he claims it will keep him in condition for the inter-club meet.

—o—

Happy Bob Shorrock.

The latest sport that the club has added to its already large list is swimming, and when the directors came to choose a swimming commissioner they were lucky enough to obtain the services of Bob Shorrock, who is the right man in the right place. He is alive all of the time, has plenty of good ideas and is a good promoter.

Already quite a number of promising swimmers have developed in the club membership, and it is Commissioner Shorrock's plan, as soon as the men are in racing trim, to write to the Bay and get a few of the prominent swimmers there to come and compete, thereby planting the racing fever here.

Athletics Broke Even Sunday.

The Athletics lost the morning game and won the afternoon game at Loomis Sunday. The games were about the best exhibitions of the national pastime that the Loomis fans have seen this season.

In the morning game Grady allowed but five hits but they came in a bunch and the result was fatal. "Chip" Hatch allowed the Athletics but three scattered hits. The game was stopped at the end of sixth inning and the score was 4 to 1 in favor of Loomis. The Athletics' lone tally was made by Johnson in the first inning when with two down he singled to right, stole second and came home on Overhouse's pretty single to center.

In the afternoon game Johnson proved his ability as a pitcher by outpitching "Whiz" Pappa. Johnson allowed ten hits while Pappa only let seven men in on what he had. Johnson kept his hits well scattered, however, and so they did not do any damage.

Hausman came through with two of the longest hits of the day and showed that he is a comer. Johnson and Hausman did the most hitting and Wakefield, the Athletic's new second baseman, is a great find.

Inter-Club Track Meet.

An inter-club track meet some time around the last of this month will end the track season in this city. This year's season has been more than prosperous for the local club and athletes. The team won all of the meets it entered but one, and the cups and medals won have greatly increased the value of the cup case.

SAC. WEEKLY. SEP. 10-10
SAC. WEEKLY. SEP. 10-10.
SAC. WEEKLY. SEP. 17-10
SAC. WEEKLY. SEPT-17-10.
SAC. WEEKLY-SEP. 17-10

The coming meet will be to settle who are the best men in the club. There will be a large entry list and a great deal of rivalry will exist among the competing athletes.

Club medals will be given to the men who are successful in qualifying for a place. This meet wil give all the men who would like to run a chance to compete, for in the past a good many have kept out of the races on account of being afraid to enter against outside competition.

Professor Rittler, Club Captain Delano, and Track Captain Stewart will have charge of the meet, and promise that they will see to it that this prosperous track season ends with some class.

—o—

Gates Gets Second.

In the Seattle-Olympic club meet Alva Gates, our speedy little half-mile and 440 man, finished second in the middle distance run.

The Seattle man, Harry Ricken, who came with the "rep" as a world-beater in the 880, barely beat Gates in a final sprint of twenty-five yards. Gates up to this time was an easy first, but his opponent out guessed him and kept a spurt for the finish.

Gates was the only club entry. The results of the meet were: Olympic Club, 51; Seattle Club, 29; U. C., 20; Pastime Athletic Club, 7; Irish A. A. Club, 7; Sacramento Athletic Club, 3; and St. Ignatius, 3.

—o—

Basket Ball Interest Increasing.

Every Monday at the basketball practice there appear new faces and the new men are already showing skill in tossing the ball.

Prospects for good teams this year look brighter than ever before. Louis Day is getting names for a 120-pound team, which, if formed, he expects to win the 120-pound championship. By the looks of things S. A. C. will put a team in every weight class this year.

Basketball Commissioner Palm requests all men who want to try out for the team to come around every Monday evening. There will be practice games on those evenings, and Palm is already planning for a little practice game trip in the early part of November.

There will be no stalling this year, and past reputations won't go.

—o—

Another bunch of club members went up to the sandbar Sunday, and enjoyed a pleasant outing.

The party was composed of Bud Ready, Towhead Wahlander, brother to the famous Cholie Wahlander; Gene Palm, Walt Hotchingson, and Toleand.

In the near hundred-yard dash a new world's record was made by Towhead Wahlander, who covered the distance in nine flat. Ex-champ Ready was left at the mark. Considering that this time was made on sand, it is almost wonderful.

The afternoon ended with a lively game of baseball, after which the boys took a dip, then rowed to the boat club and walked thence to the French restaurant.

Charlie Wahlander was not present on account of not being able to break training rules.

—o—

Club Chat.

All of the club pictures that appear in The Weekly are for sale at Hodson's, so if any one wishes any extra pictures they may obtain them there.

Professor Rittler is expected back Monday and as soon as he returns he is going to start making arrangements for a Rugby team. With such men as Dickson, Burr, Tate and O'Connor he will be able to start something in that line for their are a great bunch of huskies around the club and also a great many old football men.

Roy Cothrin is more than getting in the cash. If his work had started in earlier in the season we might be in a new building now.

Josef Erickson and "Slim" Chenoworth are going to take a chance at Rugby. White, the last year High School center, will also try-out.

Jack Ebner recently ran a piece of glass in his foot while helping to put up the ring. The glass cut into the tendon, but luckily did not sever it. He is walking around on crutches.

"Whiz" Pappa, the Brooke Realties' classy pitcher, and Danny Long's new find, was found to be easy pickings by the Athletics Sunday. What they did not do to his benders is not worth telling, and Left Johnson quite outclassed the Wizard.

Arch. Starken is still showing class at the center position in the basketball practice.

Hausman's two two-baggers in the afternoon game were certainly there. He is all the class in the world and the by bush will grab him when he is a little older, for he can show some of the old timers up right now.

Dusty Clark has not yet pasted up that bow-legged spot, as another nice one found its way through Sunday.

Young Wahlander is advised to wear leather trousers after this when he goes out on the river. While dining in the French restaurant after the boat trip last Sunday, he sat in a chair that had a nail in it, which proved disastrous. He obtained a needle and thread from the waiter, but as a seamstress he is a joke. He made it to Sixth and K streets without mishap, but then something slipped and —well, he was the same as he was before. Now, maybe Stewart, Sparks and Gates can run the half, but if they can beat the Towhead from Sixth and K to the club rooms with a slit in his trousers leg, they will have to go some. He waited around the club rooms for three hours until some kind man offered to take him home in his automobile.

Joe Blake, the ex-Y. M. C. A. basketball star, has joined the club, and will be a great help to the 125 pound team, as he is a demon forward.

Tommy Burns is a crack when it comes to stealing bases. Everyone will miss him when he goes back to the house of learning, but then Thomas feels that he needs more education, so let it be so.

Barb Loveich showed up Monday for practice. He is still in good working order.

TWENTY-FIVE years or more ago the Sacramento River at this city was the scene of many a hard fought race in all branches of sculling, and among those who followed the game at that time were some of the best men of the Coast.

Fourth of July was regatta day then, when almost the entire population of the city would journey down to the river to the races. There was an abundance of enthusiasm and a program as ample as it was interesting.

There were races of all kinds. Single and double sculls, four and eight oared barge crews, each struggling for first over the line, as well as skiff and tub races and an occasional sailing event.

There are still among us many of those of the old Undine Club of this city and the Washington Club, of what is now known as Broderick, who pulled in the singles, in double, fours and eights, and who still hold vivid recollections of the great sport of those rowing days, both for the participants and the onlookers, and these wonder why boat racing has been left to sink into oblivion without a trace of what it formally was, with the exception of a few of the old barges stored in barns in Broderick, in the last stages of decay. Particularly do they wonder why such is the case when in communities where conditions will permit it to gain a foothold, it still remains in a thriving condition.

Such was rowing racing in those days, and its restoration will be attempted by a new band who will seek to place it upon an even better and broader plane, so that clubs from Stockton—which, by the way, has a flourishing organization—San Francisco, Alameda, Berkeley and Stanford will come here to compete, thus giving to most Sacramentans a new brand of sport, with pleasure to the participants and a well defined benefit to the city in general.

Several racing boats are at present in possession of 'ocal rowing enthusiasts and more will follow before the opening of next season, but a matter of quarters, and a larger type of boats or barges offer a barrier that at present seems difficult to surmount, but which it is thought will be overcome before next season.

While there are in existence at present two more or less active rowing clubs, their limited membership, made necessary by the lack of larger accommodations, apparently makes this plan unpracticable, unless it be attempted on a larger and more comprehensive scale, insuring more funds as well as more rowing material.

A plan that has been considered most feasable is that of an organization for the procuring of suitable quarters and the purchase of equipment by popular subscription.

Inasmuch as the sport in any event must by its very nature be a public one, and all subscriptions would be final, it must be granted that the city and public would be the recipients of much for the outlay of sufficient funds to but start the enterprise.

Along these lines preliminary steps by interested oarsmen regarding location and quarters have been taken, and during the winter months final action of organization will be attempted. By the opening of the season next May Sacramento will probably have a rowing club that will be in a position to consider at least some of the challenges the present clubs have been receiving from outside organizations, unable to accept from lack of proper equipment.

Board Offers Reward.

The Board of Directors will pay five dollars to any member who reports to the official in charge the name of any one who is destroying club property.

Already two members have been given a leave of absence for a number of months, and there are a few more who are liable to find their way to the door before long, if they do not mend their ways.

Things have reached such a stage that it is not safe to leave the books with the newspaper clippings on the table, but they have to be locked up, for fear that some one will tear out a leaf or "decorate" some of the pictures.

If members really were interested in the welfare of the club they could stop these mischief makers very easily.

Some very old club pictures have been torn out of the picture album lately and as tney can't be duplicated their loss is irreparable.

It is the duty of members to report such happenings as these, for the quicker the club gets rid of this element the sooner it will accomplish big things.

Rugby Training Starts.

Tomorrow morning Professor Rittler will have the Rugby squad out for the first time. He is very jubilant over the prospects of a good team and says he has fine material from which to develop Rugby men.

Already he is getting some good trips in line, and has under way the plans for a Reno trip. The adoption of Rugby by the local school will make practicing easy, for it is more than likely that the two teams will play practice games at least once a week.

A game with Woodland or Chico High schools will probably start the season, and later on a series of games will be played with the Olympic Club, and Barbarian fifteen.

In addition to a large number of men who have played the old intercollegiate game there are several old Rugby men who will try out for the team.

Spencer Dickson is probably one of the best center three-quarter men in the State, and will occupy this place in the club's fifteen. He has had a great deal of experience in the game and it was due principally to his heady and aggressive playing that St Mary's won from St. Clara college last year.

Franklyn B. Morse, who is the best Rugby authority in San Francisco and who picked the All California team after the close of the season last year, picked Dickson as one of the back field men. In his statement to the papers he said, "Dickson, the captain of St. Mary's team, is a strong runner and a powerful man that any team would be glad to have among its members. Like Cerf, whom I have also picked, Dickson is liable to be rated a rough player, when in reality they are hard players.

"His 165 pounds fit him beautifully and from the physical standpoint of two men who were able to impress on me the fact that there was something doing I would not want two better men than Dickson and Cerf."

H. Evers, who will try out for five-eighths, is also an old hand at the game, having played extensively in Australia.

"Mucka" McClatchy played on St. Mary's second team, not being able to play on the first on account of being the yell leader at the big game. He will make a good man in any back field position on account of his speed.

The new men at the game, but old stars in intercollegiate football, who are going to try for back field positions are Tate, one of the speediest quarter-backs that Belmont ever had; John Johnson, for two years half-back on the Sacramento High School's speedy eleven when he was always a big ground gainer; Dick Burr, who was Belmont's star half-back when they won the championship in '08 and one of the most dangerous men in the open field that Belmont ever had; and March Valentine, who was an old High School star half-back, is going to try for Rugby honors.

Other men who will try for back field positions are Stewart, Gannon, Palm and Putnam.

In the scrum there will be more rivalry than almost any other place. Walter Dyebon played for the Reliance Club in the forward rank and was considered one of the most powerful and dangerous forwards around the bay.

O'Connor is the only other man who is trying out for a rank position, who has played Rugby.

Ralph Eames is out strong for the front rank, and as he has a great deal of intercollegiate football experience, and is a big huskie, he will make some one hunstle.

Gene Palm, Spike Carson, Irving Nason, Arthur Delano, Dick Shoemake, "Bud" Fisher, Archie Stracken, "Pank" Thielan, Harry Thayer, Jimmy Barnes, Irva Blake, Beede, Jess Childs, Frank White, Chet. Gannon, Schlosser, Osie Elliott, and Dick Wickam are all out for honors and as it only takes fifteen men to make the team it looks as though competition will be strong and there will be no trouble in getting practice teams.

The first Rugby practice will be held tomorrow morning at McKinley Park. And every one who wants to take a chance at the new game should show up. Every one has to learn the game, so green men have as good a chance as any one, and weight does not count in this game as it did in the old game.

The boys are to meet at the club at 9:30 o'clock sharp, and may wear either football or gym. suits.

Athletics and All Placers Again Split Even.

The Athletics again tried to win two games from the All Placers last Sunday but fell down on the morning game. The Athletics lost the game when they had it tied up in a bag and all there was to do was to go to lunch.

The score was three to one up to the seventh inning when Grady walked two men and Kirtlan hit and scored Hebuck, making the tally three to two.

All went well until the ninth when with two men on bases and two down and two strikes Mike Pappa lost the ball in the right garden for three bases, and ending the agony.

SAC. WEEKLY — SEP. 24-10

The Athletics had a number of chances to score before the seventh inning, but they were too sure of the game and failed to play the bags safe.

The afternoon game was attended by a large crowd and was even throughout. The Athletics won by the score of 4 to 2.

X. Hack pitched a good game after the first inning, when he was touched for four hits and three runs.

Lefty Johnson allowed but two hits up to the seventh when he slowed up and they trimmed him for two runs off four singles.

Smoker and High Jinks Soon.

Matchmaker Schlitz Hoffman has a good time in store for the boxing fans this month. The coming card will be one of the strongest the club has yet put on. All of the prospective boxers who are going to enter the P. A. A. tournament for court honors will be seen in action.

In addition to the boxing bouts there will be a smoker and general good time for everybody. It is the plan of the directors to make this evening the opening night of the winter season of sports and activities, and as the membership is increasing rapidly it will also be an evening in which the new members will be shown the advantages of belonging to a live club.

The boxing card will be exceptionally good. All of the men are training hard under Professor Johnson's instructions, and some of them are advancing so fast that the professor thinks they can land a couple of championships here this year. He also desires that all men who are contemplating entering the tourney will show up regularly from now on.

Athletics at Buffalo Park.

The Athletics will clash with the fast All Placer aggregation tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Buffalo Park grounds. It promises to be one of the most warmly and evenly contested amateur games Sacramento fans have seen in some time.

Dr. Blemer has gathered together the pick of Placer County and also a few speedy ones from Sacramento County. He is going to try to pick the laurels before the season is over.

The club has one of the fastest amateur teams in Sacramento and it has been greatly strengthened in the last few weeks by the addition of Demon Bowden, Koster, and Wakefield.

Manager Clark hopes to have this game prove a great success and will put in Left Johnson to try and baffle the All Placers' batting eyes. Godt will stop every thing that the batter doesn't and Foy will play first.

Wakefield, provided his foot will permit, will be seen holding down second. Dusty Clark will take care of the center garden and show the boys the way to bunt.

"Ovey" Overhouse will keep the All Placers from hitting the score board in more ways than one. Overhouse has struck a gait that is hard to beat. Koster and Hausman will both be seen in action. These two men are finds and they made some of the Lincolnites sit up and take notice last Sunday. Tommy Burns will make his farewell appearance before going back to the house of learning.

Delinquent Members Suffer.

The locker clearing-out has commenced and all members who have not paid up their locker dues will find their clothes missing.

Prof. Rittler and Roy Cothrin started the ball Thursday afternoon and will keep it up until all the unpaid for lockers are cleaned out. The contents will be kept a reasonable length of time by the janitor.

The club directors will send out letters to all members whose dues are in arrears some time during the next week, stating that unless dues are paid up their name will be dropped from the club.

Attention is called to the following extract from the Constitution and By-Laws of the club:

Article XI; Section 1; "When a member becomes two months in arrears for dues it shall be the duty of the Financial Secretary to notify such member in writing and unless such indebtedness is paid within fifteen days the Financial Secretary will post the names of such delinquents upon the bulletin board where it shall remain until such indebtedness is paid, unless the Board of Directors have previously ordered otherwise."

Sec. 2; "Any member while posted aforesaid may, at the discretion of the Board of Directors, be suspended from the privileges of the club."

Sec. 3; "If a member fails to pay dues within thirty days of the date his name was posted upon the bulletin board, he shall by that failure, cease to be a member, and the Board of Directors, at their next regular meeting, and upon the report of the Financial Secretary, in writing, declare him suspended and strike his name from the list of members: PROVIDED, that by a two-thirds (2-3) vote the Board of Directors shall have the power to reinstate such suspended member upon payment of all indebtedness at the time of suspension if application for such reinstatement is made within sixty days."

Charles Clark, Manager of the Athletics

Club Chat.

Prof. Rittler is back from his trip to the bay cities and has all kinds of ideas in his dome which he is going to let out soon.

Overhouse is a demon in the left field garden. In last Sunday's morning game he caught a fly that would be good for a hit in any game. He is meeting the ball at a lively clip and is the only Athletic who took more than one cushion on a hit.

All the friends of Bill Howden were glad to hear that he finished in second time in the Dipsea race. Bill was thought to be a sure winner, but an unknown jumped in ahead of him.

George Green has been training every day lately. He must be hungry for he is going to lay the finals of the once-famous Gray-Green match, which has almost been forgotten. The dinner is still at stake so the big boys ought to get busy and find a winner.

"Dusty" Clark uses his head all the time in the game; and bunts and sacrifices like a veteran.

Hard luck is still with Grady. He practically had the game won when the jinx showed up and queered the score.

"Scotty" Bowden is all the class at second or short stop. He played a great game Sunday and shows that if he only had a little more weight he would make a few of the big bushers look sick.

After another careful examination by the doctors Young Burns was informed that it was not so much heart trouble that was affecting him as it was a general break-down. He will leave shortly for a trip to the mountains, where he expects to get in good condition for the coming boxing tournament.

The game at Buffalo Park will be some class tomorrow. Lefty Johnson will twirl for the club. Demon Godt is going to catch and if he lives up to his name, the All Placers will have to hustle.

"Schlitz" Hoffman is in training and will enter the boxing tournament. He promises to make things hum.

"Schlitz" Sollars is working hard every day and will soon be in good condition providing there are no more celebrations in San Francisco.

Hausman got away with some hard chances at the third cushion Sunday. He is a comer and all there with the stick.

—o—

Joe Erickson is busy these days building a fence around the Big Lake Gun Club's grounds to keep the ducks in so that J. M. Inman and Ad. Dalton can get a shot at them. Josef goes around all day in a duck boat with nothing on but a pair of trunks and a smile. He is training hard for the coming tournament. McAllister will probably box him for honors, and his main ambition is to get the lanky boy. A little tule weed has started to grow on Joe's upper lip.

Louis Day has resigned from the club on account of not being able to find enough data. All will miss his smilng face, and his rich line of talk, and hope that just as soon as his work slacks up he will be one of us again.

Dr. Blemer is going to make a great try to grab that game tomorrow, so be on deck to root the boys on to victory.

"Doc" Hart lost a tooth while practicing basketball Monday evening. The boys are fast getting into shape and are entering into the game pretty hard for so early in the season.

Swimming Commissioner Shorrock is planning for a swimming night in about two weeks' time. There will be races and diving, and the long-disputed relay race will be held to determine the championship.

Everyone has the Rugby bug and by the looks of things there will be several squads out tomorrow. Rittler says, "The more the merrier."

The Sand Bar bunch enjoyed another pleasant outing Sunday. These outings are becoming very popular and although the season is a little advanced they are still well attended, and next year they will be one of the club's leading features.

Demon Stark is going to pitch tomorrow for the All-Placers, and Lomond will play on the receiving end.

Dusty Clark and Spitball Grady are on the water wagon. This comes as quite a shock to their many friends. Ask Dusty about his Chinese friend. It is a rich one.

In the near future there will be a handball tournament between the Stockton Athletic Club and the S. A. C. Handball enthusiasm is growing in the club and there will be a good many entries for the club team tryouts.

SAC. WEEKLY SEP. 24-10.

ALL-PLACERS HOPE TO BEAT S. A. C.

SAC. UN. SEP. 23-10

Placer County League Stars Will Be Here Sunday to Trim Godt's Boys.

When the All-Placers hook up with the Sacramento Athletics at Buffalo Park Sunday, the fans will undoubtedly be treated to some real live baseball. The All-Placer team is composed of stars from the various teams representing the Placer County league and in this way they have gathered together as fast a bunch of amateur ball players as there is in Northern California. While the All-Placers will invade Sacramento with a strong lineup, still the Athletics cannot figure how they are going to come out on the short end. The club team is composed mostly of young players, which accounts for their gingery work. Their infield is composed of Foy, Wakefield, Bowden and Hausman and this quartet is hard to beat.

In Earl Hausman, the Athletics have a guardian of the difficult corner to be proud of. While yet in his 'teens, he is playing as good ball as the best of them, his fielding and throwing worries the pitchers he faces and it is not an unusual occurrence to see him break up a game with a two-bagger or a triple. If he keeps on improving as of late it will only be a matter of time before he will land in the big brush. Bowden, on short, is a hard man to beat in fielding and he is there when it comes to stealing bases. Dr. Wakefield, on the middle cushion, is a player of much experience, having played on the fastest teams in this part of the country.

The All-Placers think they have an easy thing, but there is liable to be a different story when they meet the bunch that Captain Godt has gathered together.

Sacramento Athletes Going to Big Meet

S. F. CHRONICLE. 9-25-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will be represented at the American junior and senior track and field championships to be held at New Orleans on October 14th and 15th. Four athletes will be sent to the national games according to the announcement made by the club's representative, Harry McGregor. This will be the first time in the history of athletics in the Capital City that a team has participated in the Amateur Athletic Union games, which is the result of the recent activity in that part of the State.

Three of the Sacramento athletes selected to make the trip include Spencer Dickson, the pole vaulter; Holt, in the high jump, and Gates, the middle-distance runner. The fourth member of the squad is to be selected later. A fund to defray the expense of this trip is being raised by the citizens of Sacramento.

RUGBYS TO PRACTICE.

Rugby football practice in the Sacramento Athletic Club will commence at McKinley Park Sunday morning. R. Plataneaur has donated his services as coach. Mr. Plataneaur played the game in the old country in his boyhood days. He understands it thoroughly. Platanaeur, together with Director Rittler, should put a good S. A. C. team into the field.

Plays in Field For S.A.C. Today

Athletics and All-Placers Battle Today in Deciding Contest.

When the umpire yells "play ball" this afternoon at Buffalo park the fans will be treated to some real live baseball, for both the All-Placers and the Athletics are going after the deciding game with a vim. This will undoubtedly be one of the most evenly and warmly contested games that the fans will see for some time.

Doc Blemer has gathered together a bunch of fast ones, and besides today's game, will play some of the other Sacramento teams, both in this city and in the Placer towns. The Athletics have one of the fastest teams in Sacramento and it has been greatly strengthened in the last few weeks by the addition of Bowden, Koster and Wakefield.

"Lefty" Johnson will serve the shoots for the Athletics today, while Godt will receive. Foy will be on first, Wakefield will be seen at second, Hausman on third and Bowden will handle things at short. In the field there will be Overhouse, Clark, Koster and Hart. Grady will be the extra pitcher.

Following is the line-up of the All-Placers.

Hamilton, second base; Hebuck, short stop; Kirtlan, center field; M. Pappa, left field; Lomond, catcher; Hack, pitcher; Machus, third base; Colwell first base; Hartley, right field; Mitchell, extra.

All-Placers Meet S. A. C. To-morrow

SAC. BEE. 9-24-10.

Both Teams Have Won Two, So Series Will Be Decided

The deciding game of a series of five will be held to-morrow afternoon between the All-Placers and the Sacramento Athletic Club players. The game will be called at Buffalo Recreation Park at 2:15 o'clock.

The previous games of the series have been played at Lincoln, doubleheaders being held on both occasions, with the teams splitting even. The Athletics will be on the home ground, and, with a bunch of rooters to enliven the game, they expect to get away with the victory, which means considerable.

The All-Placers are the best players of the late Placer County League. They have been practicing hard to beat the Athletics and will come here prepared to carry out their intentions.

RUGBY PLAYERS OF S.A.C. PRACTICE

Director Rittler Has His Men at Work—No Place for Them to Train.

SAC. UN. — 9-26-10

First steps toward the foundation of an independent Rugby football team in this city were taken yesterday by Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club at McKinley park. Contrary to expectations, quite a number of prospective players turned out and took up the preliminary work with considerable enthusiasm.

The athletic club is facing a problem. McKinley park is too far away and is used every Sunday morning by soccer football players. Secretary of State Curry has refused to permit the boys to practice in Capitol park, and there is no other place in which they can practice. Feeling is strong in the matter and the athletes are piqued at the seeming indifference of the city officials to help them out.

Rittler called next practice for Tuesday evening in the gymnasium. Tripling, passing, scrum work and a little tackling on the mats will be the order of the evening. Wednesday and Friday nights will also be devoted to practice in the gym, while Sunday morning from 9 a. m. to 12 m. out-of-doors practice will be held. Practice games will be played with the local high school and teams in such towns in Northern California as will be willing to meet the Athletics.

There will undoubtedly be a hard fight for the forward positions. In practice yesterday the temporary forwards packed nicely and showed remarkable skill for novices. Shoemake, J. Blake, F. Ferguson, E. Palm, S. Carson, A. Hart and J. Sears, all made a good showing and are contending for places in the front rank.

H. Evers, because of his knowledge of the game, looks like a cinch for some coveted position. At halfback Tate will be given a chance and should make Harris extend himself in the race for that position. The backs are all good men, and with a little practice will form a strong attack. Dicks Dickson and John Johnson will try for center three-quarters. Dickson played for St. Mary's last year, but Johnson is a crack intercollegiate player and figures many points. By their ability to kick, Gannon and Stewart are likely competitors at fullback. There are about five men trying for this position and a pretty fight should ensue. There is yet time for new material to secure positions on the team, as no one has been appointed to any position as yet.

ATHLETICS EASILY BEAT ALL-PLACERS

Visitors Fail to Solve John Johnson's Curves and Lose 5 to 1.

SAC. ON. — 9-26-10

The Athletics had very little trouble in beating the All-Placers yesterday in the third game of a series at Buffalo park. The score was 5 to 1. Johnson held the visitors down in the first and second innings, but was touched for a run in the third. He took vengeance, however, in the remaining frames, and while he was hit four times no tallies were registered.

The Athletics started scoring in the second inning, when Hausman singled, stole second and crossed the rubber when Hack threw Wakefield's bunt into the bleachers. The seventh proved a great batting rally for the Athletics. Johnson and Godt tore off singles and both scored when "Eddie" Foy drove to the centerfield fence and scored a moment later on Bowden's single. Johnson was a puzzle to the All-Placers, and they failed to reach him effectively but once during the entire contest. The score:

S. A. C. RUGBY SQUAD OUT FOR FIRST PRACTICE

SAC. BEE. — 9-26-10

Following the initial meeting held last week for the organization of a Rugby team, some thirty members of the Sacramento Athletic Club turned out yesterday for practice at McKinley Park under the direction of Physical Director Otto Rittler. Present plans call for practice Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights in the club's gymnasium, while outdoor practice will be had each Sunday morning.

Rugby is new to Sacramento, but indications are that the club will be able to turn out a first-class team. Rittler, who will be in charge, has had considerable experience with Rugby. He was with St. Mary's College last year and was instrumental in developing one of the strongest teams on the coast.

He has gool material to work with here. Among the players who showed up prominently yesterday were Shoemake, J. Blake, F. Furgeson, E. Palm, S. Carson, A. Hart and J. Sears who are trying for places among the forwards, and H. Evers, Tate, Harris, Dickson, Johnson, Gannon and Stewart who are among the candidates for the back positions. Several of the men have had experience on college and High School teams.

Rittler states that no positions have been assigned as yet and there is still a chance for any one with Rugby knowledge to win a place. Prospects for several good games are among the incentives offered the players. The first games will be played with the Sacramento High School team, which is adopting Rugby this year for the first time. Negotiations are also under way for a game with the University of Nevada to be played at Reno in about a month.

It is likely, too, that games will be arranged with the Olympic Club and Barbarians of San Francisco. Sacramento is eligible to contest with these clubs for the club championship of the Coast.

On account of the Reliance Club of Oakland having gone under, the championship series this year promises to prove uninteresting unless Sacramento or some other new club enters to give the Bay City players some good lively contests.

ATHLETICS GATHER SERIES FROM ALL-PLACERS

SAC. BEE. 9-26-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club players won the deciding game of the series with the All-Placers yesterday afternoon at Buffalo Recreation Park, taking the up-country boys into camp by a score of 5 to 1.

Johnson heaved nice ball for the Athletics. He was hit to advantage only in the third inning, when the visitors put over their only tally.

Hack was no puzzle to the locals, who began their run-making in the second inning, when Hausman found a neat hit and purloined second. Hack threw Wakefield's bunt away into the first-base bleachers, letting the first run over.

The fifth and seventh were the other innings in which Hack was found to the credit of the Athletics. One run was registered in the fifth, while the seventh inning rally with Johnson, Godt and Foy the stickers, resulted in three more. Score:

ATHLETIC CLUB ORGANIZES TEAMS

Rittler and Palm Pick Temporary Basketball Teams to Set Season Going.

SAC. UN. — 9-27-10

Basketball for the fall season of 1910 was set upon its feet last night at the Sacramento Athletic club when Prof. Otto Rittler and Commissioner Eugene Palm picked two teams, a lightweight and a heavyweight team, to represent the club temporarily in contests this winter. Two additional lightweight teams will be formed in the near future and also a heavyweight team. The teams are formed and are ready for play.

The members of the two teams chosen last night and their respective positions are as follows:

The Brooke Realties will clash with the Athletics at Oak Park Sunday afternoon. The game will be in the form of a tournament. Before the game is called there will be several novel baseball events. Running around bases, field throwing and 100-yard dash will be some of the events.

Johnson and Gody will perform for the Athletics, while Pappa and Burke will do the stunt for the Brookes.

ATHLETICS AND BROOKES WILL TEST ABILITIES

SAC. BEE. — 9-27-10

When the Brooke Realties and Sacramento Athletic Club ball teams meet at Oak Park Sunday afternoon it will resemble a track and field meet as well as a baseball match.

Before the game is pulled off there will be exhibitions of fast base running, a 100-yard dash, fungo hitting, and the like. The boys of both teams will enter the events to see who is the fastest getting to first and who can come all the way round in the best time. There are some speedy boys on both teams, so this attraction should prove as interesting as the game itself.

The Athletics have been cleaning up the country teams as well as the Brooke Realties. The All-Placers, who lost a series to the Athletics, had been defying all teams in Superior California to the championship of this part of the State. They met defeat, so now their victors will hang up with the Brookes. This has been a most successful season for the Boosters, so they will go on the field Sunday to check the climbing Athletics.

Johnson and Godt will serve the Athletics battery and Pappa and Burke for the Brookes.

BEGIN BASKET BALL

Preparatory to the winter basketball season, Physical Director Rittler and Commissioner Palm picked two temporary lightweight basket-ball teams to represent the club last night. Two more teams will be formed, and from these teams the club lightweight team will be chosen. A heavyweight team will also be formed. The teams picked last night are as follows:

130-pound class—C. Luke and S. Lovich, forwards; H. Duke, center; J. Blake and M. Salvadore, guards.

SELECT BASKETBALL TEAMS.

Two basketball teams were selected last evening at the Secramento Athletic Club to represent the heavy and light-weight divisions until better players are developed, should such be the case. The line-ups for the present, at least, are as follows:

130-pound class—C. Luke and S. Lovich, forwards; H. Duke, center; J. Blake and M. Salvadore, guards.

145-pound class—F. Bacon, I. Azevedo and E. Palm, guards; S. Carson, center; P. Amick and P. Knight, forwards.

BASEBALL FIELD DAY FOR OAK PARK SUNDAY

SAC. BEE.— 9-28-10

A ball game and baseball field day, the first of the kind ever held on local grounds, will be pulled off on the Oak Park diamond Sunday afternoon between the Brooke Realties and the Sacramento Athletic Club.

This affair promises to be one of the most interesting presented to the fans in a long time, and the various contests—running the bases, fungo hitting, long distance throwing, etc.—will cause intense rivalry between the two teams.

The ball game, too, is causing the fans to sit up and take notice, for the manner the Athletics have been going of late is causing no little amount of attention. Their line-up is made up of the fastest among local amateurs, and what they do to the Boosters will likely cause a big stir in local circles.

BASEBALL FIELD MEET PROMISES NOVEL CONTESTS

SAC. BEE.— 9-30-10

An event out of the ordinary will be presented to the fans Sunday afternoon, when the Brooke Realties and the Sacramento Athletic Club meet on the Oak Park grounds in a baseball field meet and ball game.

Aside from being the first event of this kind ever pulled off on local grounds, the interest and keen rivalry existing between the two teams promises to bring about some hotly contested numbers in the field events.

To size up the talent, it is hard to figure out how the club can lose in circling the bases, getting down to first and in the special 100-yard dash, because in Bowden and Wakefield the club doubtless has two of the fastest men in the city.

The other events, throwing the ball for distance, fungo hitting and accurate throwing, will be warmly contested, and it would be difficult at present to try and name the winner.

The ball game, too, is attracting unusual attention, as the club is putting their best against the Boosters, and have every confidence of checking the winning stride of the realty bunch.

Jack Johnson, who has been twirling marvelous ball for the club team, will be put against the Brookes, while the Boosters will depend upon Wiz Pappa to lead them to victory.

John Johnson, Pitcher of the Athletics.

ATHLETICS EXPECT GREAT GAME WITH BROOKES

SAC. BEE.— 9-29-10

When the Sacramento Athletics and the Brooke Realties meet on the Oak Park diamond next Sunday afternoon, the fans will undoubtedly be treated to one of the best exhibitions of amateur baseball played in this city during the present season.

The Athletics, under the able management of Charles Clark, have been steadily coming into the limelight and at the present time are recognized as one of the fastest teams in the city. Manager Clark did not take hold of the team until nearly the middle of the season, but things started to hum when he did get started, which was very much in evidence last Sunday when the Athletics snowed the All-Placer stars under by the score of 5 to 1, thereby winning the series from them. The fans were more than pleased with the brand of ball that was put up last Sunday, and only want to see more of the gingery little players representing the Sacramento Athletic club.

Many things are expected of Johnson, the club's clever twirler, as up to the present time he has not lost a game.

Nothing need be said of the playing qualities of the Brookes, but they know that they will not have as easy picking with the Athletics are with the other teams they have played. However, Sunday's game will tell.

In addition to the ball game Sunday there will be a baseball field meet between the two teams, such as races, beating out bunts, accurate throwing, etc.

Athletics vs. Brookes Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the Athletics and the Brooke Realties will battle for baseball honors on the Oak Park diamond, at 2:30 o'clock sharp. This will be one of the most warmly contested games of the season, for the Athletics have been improving with every game and the Brookes have a "rep" that would do a big league team credit.

The Athletics are meeting the ball at a lively clip, and as they have already had a good chance to see what Pappa has, their chance of winning is fairly good.

Manager Bacon of the Brookes has offered to let the S. A. C. Club keep the gate receipts. If he, as a member of the club, is willing to do this, the other members should have enough spirit to go to the game.

The teams will line up as follows:

Athletics: Johnson, pitcher; Godt, catcher; Eddie Foy, first base; Wakefield, second; Scotty Bowden, shortstop; Hausman, third base; "Ovy" Overhouse, left field; Dusty Clark, center; Koster, right field.

The Brookes: Pappa, pitcher; Burke, catcher; Joe Williams, first; "Muzzy" Williams, 2d base; Lohman, third base; Bacon, shortstop; Silvey, left field; Norris, center field; Felix, right field.

The Directors Meet.

At the regular meeting of the Directors Tuesday evening a schedule of prices for the coming boxing tournament was made, and a committee was appointed by the President to act on the Ways and Means Committee, which is to present a plan whereby the present indebtedness of the club may be wiped out.

One member was reprimanded for his behavior around the club, and two others were summoned for the next meeting.

The following list of prices are to be charged to everyone who wishes to see the boxing tournament:

Single admission to the Pavilion, $1.

Single admission to ringside, 50c.

Ticket good for three admissions to Pavilion, $2.25.

Ticket good for three admissions and ringside seats, $3.50.

—o—

Smoker and Boxing Night Soon.

On the fourteenth of this month the club members will be given something new and out of the ordinary. It will be in the line of a smoker and general jinks, when the rooms will be thrown open and a general good time will prevail.

Boxing Commissioner Schlitz Hoffman has plans under way for a number of boxing bouts and a little wrestling. There will also be singing and lots of other stunts to please the different tastes. All club members are invited and it is hoped that they will also bring prospective new members along.

—o—

Pete Muldoon to Represent the Club.

Pete Muldoon, present holder of the middleweight championship of the Coast, has joined the Sacramento Athletic Club and will represent it in the middleweight class during the coming boxing tournament.

He won the championship in the Seattle tournament last year and is considered to be one of the niftiest boxers on the Coast. He has started to train, and says he means business and expects to retain the championship this year.

—o—

Basketball Night Changed.

Owing to the fact that Monday seems to be everybody's busy night, the Basketball Commissioner has changed the time of practice to Thursday evening. A great deal of interest has been shown in this winter sport and before long the teams will start in to take trips to the different towns where basketball is played.

From now on, as fast as men sign up for practice they will be assigned to a team. The idea of this is to give them good, practical instruction.

The following men have already been assigned to teams:

130-pound class:

H. Luke, forward; H. Duke, center; S. Loveich, forward; J. Blake, guard; R. Kulper, guard;

Dick Cowie, forward; Archie Strackan, forward; Chester Brandon, center; Ben Envoy, guard; H. Sprague, guard; Will McNeeley, guard.

145-pound class:

Frank Bacon, guard; Eugene Palm, guard; Phil Knight, forward; Paul Amick, forward; Clarence Shaw, forward; Joe Azevedo, guard; Spike Corson, center.

Albert Hart, forward; L. Lobner, guard; P. Purington, guard; C. Griffith, center; J. Barnes, forward; R. Eames, center and guard.

A few more teams will be added to this list as soon as the team list is completed.

There is lots of room for more men. The more the better and everybody has a chance to show what he can do, for by the arranging of teams all hands have an even chance.

—o—

Arranging for Boxing Tournament.

The coming boxing tournament is taking up most of the Directors' and Commissioners' attention at the present time. As this will be the largest and best boxing contest that Sacramento fans have ever seen, its success will greatly depend on the way the crowd is handled and where the bouts are held.

The Old Pavilion has been secured and as the seating capacity is large there will be no trouble in seeing the bouts.

There will be two medals awarded in each weight class. The first to be valued at not less than $35, and the second at not less than $25.

Through the kindenss of Tim Haggerty, Ed Kay and W. F. Gormley the club will not have to furnish three of the first place medals, as these gentlemen have offered prizes for certain weight classes. All of the medals will have the official P. A. A. stamp.

There will be about twelve bouts each night, which means about forty rounds of boxing. The Olympic and Acme Clubs are going to send their best men to compete for the Coast championships, and as a number of other clubs will also be represented, there promises to be many lively bouts.

—o—

Athletics Take a Scalp.

The Athletics trimmed the All-Placer crowd to the tune of 5 to 1 last Sunday in a very interesting fest of the national pastime.

Lefty Johnson again showed that he had all the class in the world. He allowed but four scattered hits and took two hits and as many runs himself.

Hausman started the scoring in the second inning when he singled, stole second and scored when Hack lost Wakefield's bunt in the bleachers.

The lucky seventh again started things for the Godt boys. Godt and Johnson both singled and then walked home when Eddie Foy increased his batting average by hitting to the left field fence for a couple of cushions.

Scotty Bowden sent Foy home on a pretty single over short. Scotty ended the fine work by an unsuccessful steal to second.

Rugby Team Starts Practice.

A fairly large squad of Rugby men showed up at McKinley Park Sunday for practice. From the present outlook the club will have a team able to figure with any of the best and oldest organized clubs on the coast. The team was shown the fine points of the game by Professor Rittler. It will have an exceptionally heavy and aggressive scrum this year.

Walter Dyeborg, who played on the Reliance team, Eames, Spike Corson, Dick Cowie, Gene Palm, Punk Thielan, Irving Nason, Solly Salvador, Bud Fisher, Ferguson, Joe Blake, and Azevedo, have all showed up well in the scrum in the past two practices.

In the back field there is a great deal of competition. Tate, Harris, and MacGregor are trying out for half back. They are all speedy and old intercollegiate men, so they are likely to make good in the new game.

John Johnson, Spencer Dickson and Kennedy are out for the three-quarter position. Dickson and Kennedy are vets at the game, while Johnson was a good half back in the old game.

Stewart, Gannon and Fisher are trying out for positions on the wings. As yet no one is out for full back, but probably one of the back field men will be shifted to this position.

Tuesday evening Prof. Rittler had the candidates in the "gym" doing light work. He showed the scrum how easy it is to dribble, and kept the backs passing the ball and doing tackling practice on the mats.

From tomorrow on the Rugby team will practice every Sunday morning and Tuesday and Friday evening in the gym.

Two teams will be chosen Sunday to play against each other for practice.

SAC. MAKING READY FOR BIG BOXING TOURNEY

SAC. BEE.— 9-28-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club is busy in its preparations for the P. A. A. boxing tournament to be held in this city on the evenings of November 2d, 3d and 4th. Correspondence is now being carried on between the various clubs in the Association.

The Olympic Club of San Francisco and Acme Club of Oakland have responded with the information that each will send a team of the best amateurs. Other clubs have been invited to take part and will undoubtedly have a crew of boxers here for the big fest.

The Sacramento Athletic Club's list of fighters has been strengthened by the acquisition of Mickey Muldoon, a middleweight of note who has won two tournaments in the Northwest. Among the other promising medal boxers will be Salvador, Cowie, Muskrat and Erickson.

About nine or ten bouts will be held each evening. They will go three rounds and if no decision can be based on the showing another round will be had and a verdict must be given then. The entire affair will be under strict amateur regulations. It will be held in the Old Pavilion.

HANBALL TOURNEY

10-5-10 SAC STAR.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk is preparing a handball tournament for the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The players will be divided into classes. The schedule soon to be arranged will run throughout the winter months. Many of the best players of the club are already in training for the coming tournament.

SAC. WEEKLY. OCT. 1 — 10

Sand Bar Athletes.

Tomorrow will in all likelihood see the last big time of the season with the bunch from the Sacramento Athletic Club that have gathered on the big sand bar near Bright's Bend every Sunday morning during this summer to indulge in athletic games.

Quite a lot of interest for the meet is in the air and tomorrow's results will no doubt settle all disputes—determine who are in the class section and entitled to recognition and who are not.

Refreshments will be provided as is customary, after the games, and no doubt there will be a larger representation than ever if the verbal entries up to date are any index to the situation.

Those who are listed to be there are Bud Reedy, Bill Warren, Walter Hodgkinson, Gene Palm, R. German Kilgore, Bob Shorrock, Jack Morshead, Grove Beckley, C. Percival Wahlander, Track Captain C. I. S. Stewart, Jess Childs, George Wenzel and Cap't. Delano.

While there are ten trophies of questionable value to be contested for, the five that are creating the most interest and for which the entries will be the largest are the javelin and discus throws, which, by the way, have become very popular, the 100-yard swim and the 220 and 100-yard sprints.

At present the championship for the 100-yard sprint is held by Kilgore and that of the 220 by Shorrock, while the swim went to Reedy and he seems to have a cinch for the rest of the season, while Delano, whom many think has the discus throw in his pocket, will undoubtedly be hard pressed by Childs, Beckley, Warren and Walter Hodgkinson.

In the javelin throw there seems to be a dark horse coming to the front. Since Gene Palm has seen so much practice in basketball he is showing up much stronger in heaving the spear and in all likelihood will make Wahlander, who seemed for a while invincible, get down to the sand and hustle.

—o—

Membership Growing.

Forty new men have joined the club this week. Everything around the club is taking on a lively aspect. The parlors are crowded every evening with people playing cards or reading, and the handball courts and gym. are also getting their share of attention.

—o—

Club Chat.

The way the Athletics cleaned up on the All-Placers was a sin and a shame. Johnson has the winning habit and can't lose it.

Solly Salvador and Dick Cowie are putting in some hard days of training these days. And every night they dream of those championships they hope will soon be theirs.

By the looks of things the club is going to have a great Rugby team.

Those old-time handball sharks, Chollie Wahlander and Slicker Tate, tumbled down to defeat Tuesday evening. Baron Barnes and Pompadour McDonough beat them handily. The news came as quite a shock to Wahlander's many admirers, as it was thought that the blonde boy was there in that game.

Tomorrow's game will be interesting in more ways than one. Better come out and se Lefty Johnson and Pappa fight it out for honors.

Three more of the club members were shown to the door this week for acting in a way unbecoming to gentlemen.

Azevedo will make it hot for some one in the coming boxing tournament. He is also going to box at the smoker.

Oh where! Oh where was Charlie Stewart last Tuesday evening. Everyone wanted to see him at the directors' meeting to tell about the interclub meet, but Charles was not there. A good many of the bunch also would like to know what Charlie is doing with the dimes he is collecting. Maybe he has started to save up for that bungalow.

The boys certainly had the Indian sign on Hack, Sunday. He was easy pickings for them all.

Don't forget that tomorrow's game is at Oak Park at 2:30 sharp. Be there and bring your friends and their friends.

Joe Erickson has nearly all of the ducks anchored down with sinkers now and is only awaiting the opening of the season to see Jack Inman pop them over in one, two, three order.

The Sand Bar Athletes.
Top row—Gene Palm, R. G. Kilgore, C. Wahlander, "Bud" Reidy
Bottom row—Arthur Delano, Robert Shorrock, C. Hutchinson, J. W. Morshead

Gene Palm and "Doc" Fay leave today for Camp Atascadero for a two weeks' outing. They are both members of the Hospital Corps, N. G. C.

R. Greenbaum, who joined the club two months ago to see if regular morning exercise would help his stomach trouble, has found that in the past two months he has gained weight and his trouble is rapidly disappearing. He comes up to the club every morning before breakfast, works out for half an hour and has a good rub-down. He has kept this up regularly for the past month and is feeling like a new man.

"Bud" Fisher is using the telephone so much that he must either pay half the bill or he will not be permitted to try out for the Rugby team.

A letter has been received from A. P. Deacon of Willows, asking for a boxing match between M. French of Willows and Billy Gore of the S. A. C. The match will probably be granted if French becomes a member of the P. A. A.

"Sally" Salvador found a position with a surveying party. He bought a nice outfit and showed up in the morning to find out that they did not want him. Now he has a good pair of five dollar shoes that he will sell at $3.50 while they last.

One of the principal contestants for middleweight honors in the coming tournament will be McAllister of the Olympic Club. He has started training and expects soon to go into the mountains to spend a month on finishing touches.

Gene Palm is kept busy these days writing to every city and village in the northern part of California for basketball games. He will soon have a schedule completed that will make a good many sit up and take notice.

Eames, Dyeborg, Palm and Corson are big men and they will make fine scrum players. Kennedy, who was a former Y. M. C. A. basketball star, has joined the club. He is an old Rugby man and will be a great help in the back field.

Don't forget Oak Park tomorrow, at 2:30 sharp. The game of the season.

The club smoker is a good idea and should be well attended, for it will be one of the greatest evenings the organization has yet had.

Sid Root and Harry Tharp may go out for Rugby before long. These big fellows will cause some lively hustling when they start in.

There will be some lively basketball games in Sacramento this year. The club is going to put some teams that look like "champs."

Hausman is one demon on third base, and Bowden is playing great ball at short. They are certainly a good pair.

BOXING TOURNAMENT.

SAC. SUN. NEWS.

Fighters From all Over the Coast to Come Here in November.

What promises to be the greatest amateur boxing tournament ever held on the coast will take place under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club in this city on November 2, 3 and 4. Trophies will be offered for championships of the Pacific Coast in the various weights.

Entry blanks are now being printed and will be forwarded to every athletic club on the coast from Vancouver south. The local management has been assured that every club will be represented by its best talent. Sacramento boxers are in constant training and expect to make a good showing against the cracks from the other clubs. The hopes of the club center on Joe Erickson who has lots of grit and a punch in either mit. 10-2-10

Prof Rittler is preparing for a gentleman's night on October 14, at which a varied program will be presented.

BROOKES EXPECT GREAT TIME WITH ATHLETICS

SAC. UN. 10-1-10

Some good baseball, with a few exciting sprints thrown in, are promised the fans when the Sacramento Athletic club and the Brooke Realties meet at Oak Park tomorrow.

There will be a special 100-yard dash, with about six entries; also circling the bases, making best time to first base, throwing for distance, accuracy, and fungo hitting.

Many fast men are to be found in each team, and the events will be hotly contested. The Athletics will depend on Bowden, Wakefield and Overhouse to cop the victories, while Silvey, Pappa [illegible] upon [illegible] The [illegible] from [illegible] have [illegible] the cl[illegible] right [illegible] The f[illegible] and t[illegible]

ATHLETES MEET BROOKES TODAY

Rival Sacramento Teams to Engage in Novel Contest at Oak Park.

SAC. UN. 10-2-10

The Athletics expect a hard game today when they meet the Brookes on the Oak Park diamond, and they have strengthened their outfield by securing the services of Eddie Carrigan, who will hold center. He has been out of the game since the early part of the season owing to an injured ankle, but he will be on the job today, and much is expected of his batting. He is a good base runner, and when it comes to fielding his position he is hard to beat. Hard-hitting Overhouse will be in the left, and "Yaller" Koster will be seen at his old position in right. Bowden, Hausman, Wakefield and Foy woll make up the infield. Lefty Johnson will be on the mound, and Godt will hold down his position behind the plate.

As this game will be for the championship of Northern California, the fans will most likely be treated to one of the best games seen in amateur circles this season.

Before the game a sort of tournament will be held. There will be base running, accurate throwing, 100-yard dash and other baseball sports. The affair promises to be interesting.

BASEBALL FIELD MEET PROMISES NOVEL CONTESTS

SAC. BEE.

An event out of the ordinary will be presented to the fans Sunday afternoon, when the Brooke Realties and the Sacramento Athletic Club meet on the Oak Park grounds in a baseball field meet and ball game.

Aside from being the first event of this kind ever pulled off on local grounds, the interest and keen rivalry existing between the two teams promises to bring about some hotly contested numbers in the field events.

To size up the talent, it is hard to figure out how the club can lose in circling the bases, getting down to first and in the special 100-yard dash, because in Bowden and Wakefield the club doubtless has two of the fastest men in the city.

The other events, throwing the ball for distance, fungo hitting and accurate throwing, will be warmly contested, and it would be difficult at present to try and name the winner.

The ball game, too, is attracting unusual attention, as the club is putting their best against the Boosters, and have every confidence of checking the winning stride of the realty bunch.

Jack Johnson, who has been twirling marvelous ball for the club team, will be put against the Brookes, while the Boosters will depend upon Wiz Pappa to lead them to victory.

RENOITES DEFEAT LOCAL RUGBY TEAM

Athletics Put Up Spectacular Game Against Nevada College Boys.

Special to the Union.

RENO (Nev.), Sept. 23.—Nevada university defeated the Sacramento Athletic club in one of the most spectacular games ever witnessed on the Mackey field here today by a score of 14 to 3. Nevada's condition, combined with football luck, scored three tries, one of which was a penalty kick.

The university town of Reno was thrown wide open to the visiting Sacramento Athletic club tonight. On the whole it was the cleanest and most exciting game ever played in Nevada.

All of Sacramento's scoring was done in the first half, and Nevada made 11 of her 14 points in the first half. One Nevada player was slighily injured during the game. Tonight the Sacramento plawers were entertained by the university at a dance.

RITTLER WORKING FOR S. A. C. SMOKER OCT. 14

Physical Director Otto Riter of the Sacramento Athletic club, is hard at work making arrangements for the smoker and good time which is scheduled to take place at the club on the evening of October 14.

On that evening the members of the club in good standing will gather in the parlors of the club and smoke the hours away while the more talented members will shout a few coon songs, and the athletic inclined will cavort on parallel bars and tumble about on mats. SAC. UN. 10-8-10

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WILL WIN, SAYS RITTLER

SAC. UN. 10-13-10

The high school rugby football team is rounding into shape nicely for its initial struggle with Woodland Saturday afternoon at Oak park. A few members of the Sacramento Athletic club team showed up yesterday at McKinley park and assisted the boys in practice plays. Physical Instructor Otto Rittler of the Athletics had the following to say yesterday about the high school team:

"I think the high school boys will win the pennant this year. Never in my career have I seen green players take to the game as the high school boys do. They are a little weak in the scrum, but in the back field they can hardly be beat. They have passing and rushing down to a T, and with a little more coaching by Fred Twitchell they will be excellent players."

RUGBY PLAYERS HAVE THE IDEA

High School and Athletic Club Introduce New Sport in Practice Game.

Rugby football was formally introduced to Sacramento yesterday afternoon at McKinley park by the teams of the Sacramento high school and the Sacramento Athletic club. No attempt was made to adhere to the strict letter of the game, the players paying more attention to the coaching of Otto Rittler, Coach Twitchell of the high school and R. Platnauer, who played the game in the old country years ago. Scores were disregarded generally and by mutual agreement the game was called a tie—6 to 6—at conclusion of the two thirty-minute halves.

The high school had the advantage of the athletes, as all of the former and but about half of the latter were present on the field. Members of the athletic club team are forced to spend much of their time at work, and it was only those members who had an afternoon off or were not working that were able to show up yesterday.

The high school team, though it has much to learn concerning the sport, shows remarkable promise of developing into a fast, powerful line-up. In the scrum the boys show tact. No matter what may be the standard of ball the team will be able to put up it will without doubt be the fastest team in the Svial. Practically every member seems to have grasped the rudiments of the game, and with a little more of Coach Twitchell's grilling they will undoubtedly come out better than is expected.

The most apparent weak spot in the team is in the passing of the ball. Team work will probably eradicate this, but it will take much practice and much attention to Coach Twitchell's instructions.

One of the most essential things in Rugby is passing the ball. In order to pass the ball with success the members must know where the one who is to receive the ball will be. The great success of the Rugby teams in Europe lies particularly in their ability to carry the ball over the field. This necessitates headwork which can only be perfected with much faithful practice.

Individually the members of the team line up in much the same manner. They know so little about the sport as yet that it is impossible to discuss them separately and the matter may well be dismissed with the simple comment—they have the idea. Eldrid, however, stands out above the others.

Coach Twitchell understands the game thoroughly, having played two seasons with California. Otto Rittler has become familiar with the game through contact with it at different times during his career as a physical instructor. He expects to sacrifice his team to the high school this year so that the Svial pennant may be a Sacramento trophy.

Those who played yesterday were as follows:

ATHLETICS MEET STUDENTS TODAY

Local Teams to Engage in Practice Game at McKinley Park at 3 p. m.

SAC. UN—10-8-10

The first rugby football game (though it will be only a practice affair) ever played in this city will take place this afternoon at McKinley park between the local high school and the Sacramento Athletic club. Aside from minor instruction neither the Athletics or the Collegians have any knowledge of the game, but their physical fitness, declares Coach Twitchell, is an assurance that they will do well with the new sport.

The opening of the official season will not take place until October 29, when a game will be played with Auburn in this city. In the meantime the Collegians will practice with the Athletics and in that way fit themselves for the league struggles. The first game ever played in the Sacramento Valley was played in Auburn recently and the Placer county high school team defeated the Grass Valley team easily, though neither team was overly familiar with the game.

Those who will appear on the Athletic club line-up today are:

Forwards—Doc Williams, C. Curl, W. Dearborn, S. Carson, A. Forbes, M. Salvadore, J. Furgeson, B. Shoemake.
Halfback—Kennedy.
Five-eighth—H. Evers.
Outside wing—H. Horton.
Left wing—Joe Blake.
Fullback—Chet Gannon.
Center three-quarters—S. Dickson.
Wing forward—D. Wickham.

Aspirants for positions on the high school team and those who will play today are as follows:

Forwards — Leslie Hammil, Darwin, Smith, Charles Sellinger, Ralph Bybee, George Hicks, Louis Bruener, Crawford Cox, Maridian, J. Longbotham, Rudolph Cole, Ben Logan, Dean Dillman, Clifton Ernst.
Half-back — Elmer Simmermacher, Herbert Chan.
Five-eighth—Ted Gay, Alfred Putnam.

GREEN TO MEET GRAY AT S. A. C. SMOKER

SAC. BEE. 10-13-10

One of the star features on the program of the Sacramento Athletic Club smoker to be held next Wednesday night, at which members of the club and their friends are invited, will be a final play of the champion heavyweight handball contest started several months ago between George Green and J. M. Gray.

Gray was the victor on the former occasion. Green complained that he was not in form, so this time he has prepared himself for the meet and promises to be on hand with a burst of speed that will leave Gray in the hole.

The smoker promises to be one of the most interesting events pulled off at the club in many months. A good program is being arranged, with musical and vocal numbers in addition to some fast boxing and wrestling bouts which Professor Rittler is now arranging.

POSTPONE CLUB SMOKER.

The Sacramento Athletic Club smoker planned for Friday evening has been postponed to a week from to-night in order to allow more time to arrange an extensive program. A Committee consisting of Jack Morsehead, B. Shorrock and C. Whalender has been appointed by Club Captain Arthur Delano to arrange a program. Otto Rittler will have a good showing of wrestling and boxing bouts.

Directors Meet.

The Directors had a lively meeting Tuesday evening, during which many important details were straightened out.

Red Murray was reinstated upon recommendation of Professor Rittler. Murray promised to become a star worker for the cause.

Earl Tolley was also asked to make an appearance and explain his side of a difficulty, but he failed to make an appearance and was dropped from the club.

Fred Galleher made an application for re-instatement. After much debate the Directors decided to lay the matter over for two weeks, and during this time if Galleher could disprove the charges made against him by the members of the club, his application would be considered.

There is very little likelihood, in view of his past unpleasant notoriety, that Mr. Galleher will be allowed to again connect himself with the club in any capacity, but, never-the-less, he will be given every chance possible to prove that he is innocent of the charges against him.

Director J. M. Inman reported that 342 members had paid dues up to September 30th, and that 177 members had paid up dues to August 31st, and that 130 members had paid to July 31st. This makes a total of 649 members. On October 9th the names of all members who have not paid their dues will be posted for 30 days and then if they are still in arrears they will be dropped from the club's books.

A membership committee is also to be formed. Their duties will be to see why members are back in dues and to investigate the eligibility of men whose applications are before the club.

The coming boxing tournament was discussed and it was found that a Japanese society had the Pavilion rented for the 3d, 4th and 5th, so probably the dates will be changed.

—o—

Practice Game Today.

The first Rugby practice game will be held at McKinley Park this afternoon at three o'clock sharp. The club will line up against a team composed of High School men and enthusiasts of the English game. It will be purely a practice game, and the coaches will follow up all the plays, stopping the men and explaining the points of the game as they go along. This mode of practice will be followed by Professor Rittler and Mr. Twitchell of the High School until their boys know the game thoroughly.

A suitable place to play Rugby is a scarce article in Sacramento, but before the season is much farther advanced there is hope of getting hold of a good field.

Professor Rittler is anxious that every man who wants to play the game appear this afternoon with a football suit, ready to work hard.

He has chosen the following team to play: Doc Williams, C. Curl, W. Deerburn, I. Nason, S. Carson, A. Folck, M. Salvador and Furgeson, forwards; Kennedy, half back; H. Evers and Dick Shoemake, five-eighths; Spence Dickson, three-quarters; Horton and Johnson, on the wings, and Chet Gannon, full back.

—o—

Boxing on the Fourteenth.

Next Friday evening the gym and club rooms will receive their initiation for the coming season of activities. All tastes will be served, for there will be a little of everything from singing to boxing.

Professor Rittler, Ancil Hoffman and Arthur Delano have gotten together a program that will be hard to beat. President Bassett will start things rolling with a speech of welcome. There will be four fast boxing bouts and two wrestling matches by popular men. Russell and Holten are going to do a club juggling stunt. Billy Johnson and Morris will sing, and Fred West will give selections on the piano. Basketball will receive its impetus and there will also be handball. Refreshments will be served and corncobs and tobacco will be supplied to all hands.

Athletics to Take Auto Trip.

The Athletics, chaperoned by Dusty Clark, will take an auto trip to Jackson to-morrow to play a game of ball. Jackson is making great preparations for this game, which will be the last of the season. They are going to have a parade on the arrival of the Sacramento aggregation, led by the famous Jackson band. A general good time will prevail. The Jackson people are doing a great deal of advertising and will run a special excursion from all points of the county.

The Athletics will have a team that will sure give the natives a treat. They will line up as follows: Lefty Johnson and Spitball Grady, pitchers; Demon Godt, catcher; Eddie Foy, first base; Shorty Wakefield, second base; Scotty Bowden, late of the champion Brookes' short stop; Housman, third base; "Ovy" Overhouse, John House's cousin, left field; Dusty Clark and Ting Carrigan will take turns in center, and Koster, the Wingards' heavy slugger, will watch out for the right field. Young Murphy will accompany the company.

Club Chat.

Rumor has it that a number of the club members are going to form an independent basketball team. They think they can get more out of town games this way, but it is a bad mistake, for a team can't take trips without bringing visiting teams to Sacramento once in a while, and without financial backing this will be impossible. It might also be well to keep in mind the rule that the Directors passed some time ago that any member who competed against a club team was liable to suspension.

That smoker will be some class, and there is to be a lot of nifty fistic work and other amusement, so don't forget the date.

The club will have a couple of basketball teams to be proud of this year. A few championships will not hurt us in the least.

The Athletics were away off their feed Sunday, but they are going to even things up tomorrow at Jackson.

The Rugby team will have an exceptionally heavy scrum and a very fast back field this season.

A tip to the Rugby men: Look out when you are playing and don't touch Doc Williams. He has one awful temper and when he is angry, why some one is going to get the worst of it.

What is the matter, Otto? We thought you could play handball. You have lost the eight last games played, and are almost as bad as little Georgie Green.

H. Evers is showing up well in the five-eighths position. He is fast and a good passer.

Don't forget the fourteenth. One big time. Something doing to satisfy everyone.

A puzzle: What is to become of our little blonde pompadour, Jess Childs? Is he going to be a parlor athlete or a real athlete?

Arthur Delano has some nice trips for the Rugby boys as soon as the team is in good condition to go on the road and meet the speedy teams around the sage brushes as well as the bay cities. Reno wants the club to play in a couple of weeks, but Professor Rittler does not think his huskies will be in shape, so he is going to wait a little before he takes the Reno boys.

That long looked for first game of basketball will be here next Friday evening. The club and a High School team are to try for honors on the night of the big doings.

The house committee is still waiting for Stewart's picture. The janitor has even gone so far as to make a space on the wall.

The "gym" classes are growing at each session and the men are doing great work. The handball courts are always occupied and the club rooms are taking on their old-time activity

The club officials were disappointed that they could not send Leo O'Connor to the wrestling tournament which was held at the Western Club in San Francisco. His wrist is still in a bad condition and he is likely to be out of the game for some time.

SAC. WEEKLY 10-8-10

Everybody seems to have George Yoerk's goat when it comes to playing handball, but there is a tournament in sight and maybe he is laying low.

That left-handed demon, John Johnson, must have looked good to Doc Blemer, for he grabbed him to bend the twisters at Loomis tomorrow for the All-Placer bunch.

Next Friday evening will see the first game of basketball held this season. It will be between a team selected by Professor Rittler and a picked High School team. All of the boys are waiting for the old familiar sound of the whistle.

Joe Erickson, Raymond, Sally Salvador, Schlitz Hoffman, Dick Wickham, Lee Muskrat and Red Murray will furnish the amusement next Friday evening for the boxing fans. They are all fast men, and as there are medals up, watch them go to it.

Roy Cothrin is again in hard luck. He was arrested Thursday afternoon for speeding on his bicycle without a bell. Rittler was phoned for and furnished the five dollars bail money, so Roy did not have to go behind the bars.

Harry Thorp is all the class when he is on that swell motorcycle. He is a second Barney Oldfield, and if he dosen't look out he is liable to get pinched for speeding.

Dusty Clark should have developed some good pitchers Sunday, because every one had a chance at the horse hide.

Sid Root is again getting into condition to trim anybody who thinks he can trim him. He will also play in the coming handball tournament.

Professor Rittler is taking care of the basket ball champs. while Gene Palm is being a soldier.

Arthur Delano is getting into shape for handball.

"Pop" Marston is thinking of starting a checker tournament, and that old-time wonder, Dad Pearl, is going to start an old maid's card club for the winter evenings.

Athletics Suffer a Slump.

Bacon's boys took home the bacon Sunday, while the Athletics were left at the post in a cloud of dust.

The Athletics suffered a severe slump and a bad case of stage fright, and did not put up their usual good class of ball, and although they found Pappa for eight bingles they could not make the gong ring. After two hours of misery the struggle ended 27 to 0 in favor of the Brookes. The Athletics attributed their defeat to—but what's the use. The score:

NOTED ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN NEW ORLEANS MEET

SAN. F. CHRON.

Olympic Team Will Represent This City in the Championships Next Friday.

10-14-10

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The departure of the Olympic Club track team for New Orleans, where the winged O athletes will participate in the annual national track and field championships on Saturday is attracting the interest of local enthusiasts. Although the Olympic team consists of six aspirants for honors in the games to be held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, it is hardly expected that victory in the big meet will fall to the competitors from this city. Originally the athletic officials at the Olympic Club counted high in the honors to be annexed by the team which was to be sent from here. The failure, however, of Olie Snedigar, Edward Beeson and Herbert Cheek to depart for the scene of competition has greatly lessened the chances of the Post-street organization. These three athletes have had their plans interfered with by business engagements and whatever glory returns to the Olympic Club will be through the efforts of Ralph Rose, Pete Gerhardt, Edward Macauley, William Garvin, Lee Scott and James Donahue.

While the list of entries for the games at New Orleans has not been issued, the indications point to a great contest for first place honors. Owing to the fact that New Orleans and vicinity will only be represented by individuals and that there will be no home team of unusual numbers to swamp the visiting athletes, the big clubs will be on an even basis throughout the different events.

The New York Athletic Club, Chicago Athletic Association and the Irish-American Club are each sending a team of ten athletes. Seattle will be represented by Martin in the sprints, Los Angeles will have two entries, Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago two, St. Louis four, Philadelphia four, Baltimore and Washington four, Boston two, San Antonio, Tex., one, and unattached from New York will be four.

This city, with the six Olympians, is well represented, as all of these boys will be in the point winning.

NOTED ATHLETES ENTERED.

The wide distribution of points which is expected to follow from the usual number of clubs entered is the occasion of many predictions as to the outcome, while it is generally stated that world's records are destined to go by in several events. In the sprints, middle distances and the weights the best athletes in the country are entered. Not much is known of the athletes eligible for the junior meet which takes place on Friday as none of the present high class performers are entitled to take part in junior events. The first day, however, generally serves to throw some light on the likely contenders for the senior championship, and high class performances are not exceptional among the less experienced athletes.

Of the Olympic Club team Ralph Rose is the most formidable athlete. Rose is entered in the shot put, hammer throw, javelin, discus and the fifty-six pound weight. Last year when the national games were held at Seattle, the big fellow totaled 21 points in this same schedule. With such opponents this year as Matt McGrath, Martin Sheridan, Lee Talbott and Platt Adams the Olympian will have to extend himself to equal his showing of a year ago. Rose confidently expects to win the shot-put and the javelin, and will take points in the remaining events as well.

Lee Scott, the former Stanford pole vaulter and holder of the world's record in that event, is another point winner from the Olympic Club. Edward Macauley, William Garvin and James Donahue are appearing for the first time at a senior championship meeting and their work at New Orleans will do much to encourage local athletes.

S. A .C. SMOKER TO BE BANNER EVENT

10-12-10 SAC. UN.

The Sacramento Athletic club smoker, scheduled for next Friday night, has been postponed until Wednesday night of next week, owing to difficulties in getting the program arranged. Several singers and others who were to appear on the program had other engagements for Friday night, and as the club wishes to make the smoker a banner event, the postponement was ordered.

Club Captain Arthur Delano has appointed B. Shorrock, C. Whalender and J. Morsehead a committee of arrangements to perfect the plans. Athletic Director Rittler has arranged to stage a number of boxing and wrestling bouts and other attractions.

A number of the Athletic club football players will assist the high school team in practice today.

M. Muldoon, the 158-pound welterweight amateur champion of the world, has arrived in the city and has registered as a member of the club. He will enter the P. A. A. championship tournament to be held here in November.

ATHLETICS MEET YOLOS TODAY.

The All-Yolo and the Sacramento Athletic club team will wind up the season today in this city. The Yolo-ites are considered some players in amateur baseballdom and as the Athletics ran a close second to the Brookes this year an interesting contest promises to take place.

Spiker and Fournier will form the battery for the Yolos, while Grady, Johnson and Godt will perform for the Athletics

ATHLETICS COME BACK AND BLANK JACKSON

SAC. UN.

Determined to show that they can come back, the Athletics took a trip into the foothills Sunday, and what they didn't do to the Jackson team isn't worth telling. Aside from the perfect fielding of the Athletics and the pitching of Rooney and Grady, the game was featureless. The club team started scoring right off the reel, running six men over the plate in the first inning, three more in the sixth, and a brace in the ninth. Rooney had little trouble in blanking the miners, and was never in danger of being scored upon. He allowed four hits and walked one. In the seventh, owing to an injury, he had to give way to Grady, who held the Jacksonites to but one hit. 10-11-10

The fielding of the Athletics caused the Jackson fans to open their eyes. Gallup, Carrigan, Hausman, Rooney and Clark were dangerous batters. The playing of Gallup on first was a feature of the contest. The score:

Athletics	11	14	0

PETE MULDOON

MULDOON WILL ENTER IN TOURNEY

Middleweight Champion Will Help Local Club in P. A. A. Tournament.

The Sacramento Athletic club's chances for heavy scoring in the P. A. A. boxing championships to be held in this city next month have been increased to a great extent by the acquisition of Pete Muldoon, middleweight amateur champion of the Pacific coast. Muldoon has taken up his residence in this city and is an enthusiastic member of the Athletic club. He is a boxer of considerable repute and will no doubt be able to secure one if not two titles for Sacramento in the coming tournament.

While Muldoon claims only the middleweight coast title he has by rights a just claim to the heavyweight title also, for he defeated the heavyweight champion, Frank Westerman, of Seattle this year and obtained a draw with that same gentleman in December of the year previous. A strange feature of Muldoon's career is that while he holds the middleweight title he has only fought one middleweight, the other twenty-two opponents all being members of the heavyweight division. His title was annexed in the P. A. A. tourney held under the auspices of the Ballard Athletic club of Seattle last year. Last year he also held the heavyweight title of the northwest, having won it in a contest with Wicks in Vancouver.

Muldoon has battled in twenty-three contests. He lost only one, fought draws in two, has eleven knockouts to his credit and participated in nine decisions. The single lost match was obtained by Dick Allen, but as Muldoon gave him seventy-seven pounds his defeat was not looked upon as humiliating.

Muldoon will enter both the middleweight and heavyweight classes in the coming tourney. Members of the club will have an opportunity to get a line on his ability next Wednesday night when he meets Joe Erickson in an exhibition bout.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS TWO HARD GAMES SATURDAY

SAC. STAR. 10-13-10

Teams representing the Sacramento High School will defend the school colors for the first time this season Saturday. The girls' basketball team will journey to Woodland to play the high school team of that city. The football team of Woodland High School will play the Sacramento team in this city.

The girls' team has not yet been announced and it is quite probable that the main part of the squad will be taken to the Yolo county metropolis. The local girls have been practicing diligently and should put a winning team into the field this year. Several members of last year's team are back to strengthen the team and to whip into shape the new material.

That the local football team should win the pennant is the opinion of several Rugby experts. The squad is a fast one and takes to the game like chickens to a wheat bin. Physical Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club states that he has never seen a squad take to a new game and make as much progress as has the local bunch. Prof Twitchell, a former member of the University of California team, who is coaching the boys, is very enthusiastic over the outlook.

The practice game with the Woodland team will show the weak spots of the team. Woodland has won several championships in the Valley League and is reported to have a fast team this year. If the local boys make a strong showing against Woodland they should have but little trouble with the rest of the league teams.

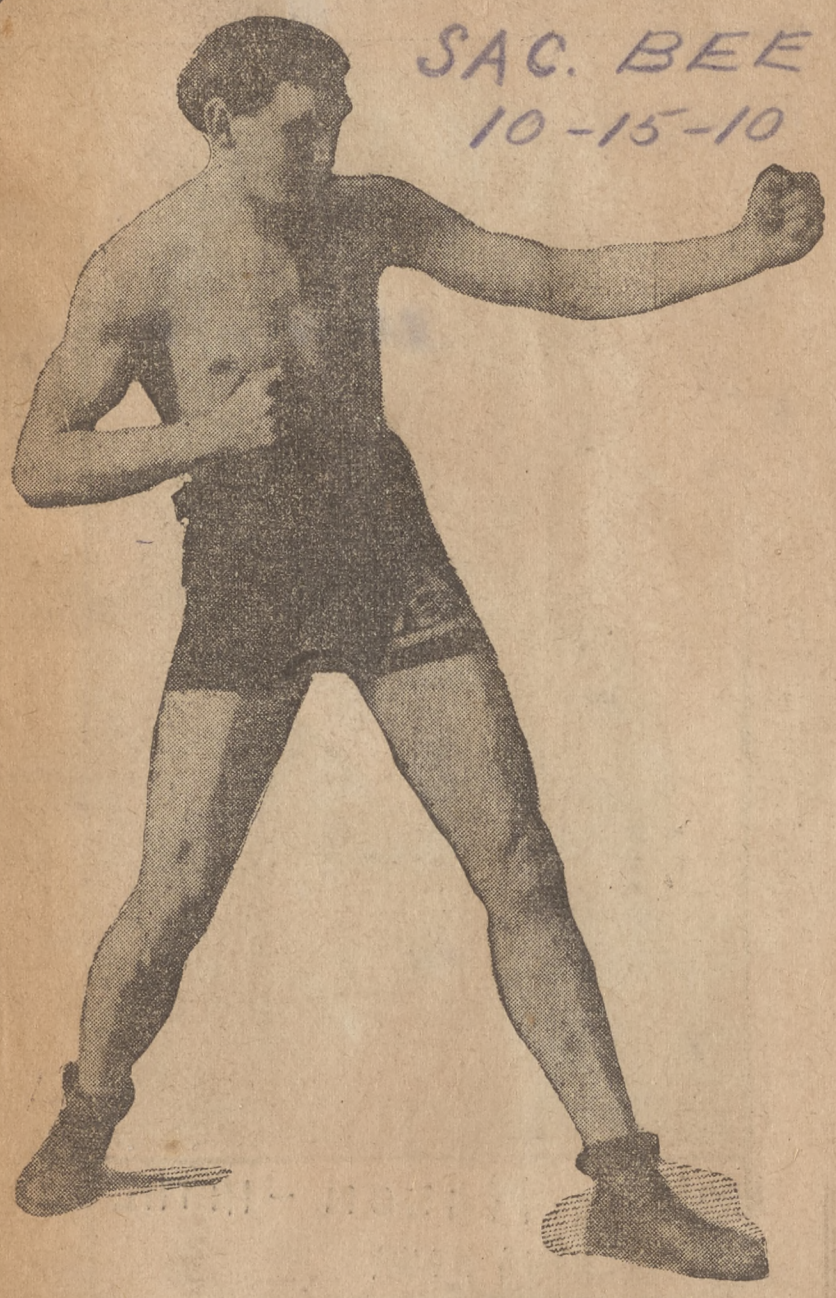
GREEN TRIMS BRO. RITTLER

SAC. STAR. 10-11-10

Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club is the target of many witticisms now being hurled at him by club members. Rittler prides himself on his ability as a handball player. Likewise does George Green, special agent for the Southern Pacific. Both players are equally matched and the game for the supremacy was arranged. Rittler, to be certain that he would get his just dues, got the club secretary, Roy Cothrin, to keep score for him and had several members root for him. Green beautifully trimmed him two out of three games and now the laugh is on Rittler.

S. A. C. Looks for Title Winner in Pete Muldoon at Coming P. A. A. Boxing Bouts

SAC. BEE 10-15-10



PETE MULDOON, CHAMPION AMATEUR BOXER.

Middle and Heavyweight Carries Championships of Northwest and Canada—To Appear at Smoker With Other Good Talent—Club to Have a Ladies' Night Soon

In having Pete Muldoon join the Sacramento Athletic Club the local organization will bid strong to bring the middleweight and heavyweight amateur boxing honors to Sacramento in the big P. A. A. boxing tournament to be held in this city on the three evenings of November 2d, 3d and 4th.

Muldoon, who carries the championships of the Northwest and Canada, will be in fine fettle for the tournament. He has started to work out at the Sacramento Athletic Club gym and will give an initial appearance at the smoker to be held next Wednesday evening. It is planned to have "One Round" Joe Erickson run up against him. Erickson is smaller and nowhere within Muldoon's reach, but being the only likely opponent he will be asked to go three rounds.

Muldoon has had twenty-three bouts, winning eleven with knockouts, nine decisions and two draws. The only time he lost was with Allen of Los Angeles to whom he gave seventy-seven pounds, the latter going in the ring at 237. Westerman, 210 pounds, who won from Allen was in turn beaten by Muldoon in three rounds.

The new boxer has a great reach on him for a boy of his size, stretching 76½ inches from tip to tip.

From all accounts Muldoon is one of the best amateurs in the West. He ought to have things pretty much his own way in his class in the coming tournament, but in Cliff Reuman of Los Angeles he expects a hard tussle. Reuman is a clever boy and has good speed.

From what little he has seen of the local boxers, Muldoon picks Salvador as a whirlwind in the 115 class. He believes Salvador will get away with the boys his size who are sent here from the other clubs on the coast.

S. A. C. Plans Ladies' Night.

Following the club smoker Wednesday evening, the Sacramento Athletic Club will hold a Ladies' Night in the near future which will give the women friends of the club members an opportunity to inspect the inside of the cosy quarters on Ninth Street as well as spend a social evening dancing. Club Captain Arthur Delona is now planning for the affair.

The smoker for Wednesday, which will be the first of a series of Winter events for the club members and their friends, promises to have class from all sorts of entertainment. The Committee in charge of the affair is gathering talent from all directions. The introduction of Muldoon will be a star feature. Ancil Hoffman and Billy Gore figure on making up another boxing bout. There will be four bouts in all. Two wrestling matches are scheduled.

Superintendent Rittler will have some of his classes on display. There will be club swinging by a class of eight, barrels and bars and acrobatic work by Horton and Beatee.

A basketball game between the lightweights of the club and the High School will be one of the big attractions. The championship heavyweight handball match between Green and Gray will surely be a topliner.

Among the other affairs on the program will be remarks from W. W. Bassett, President of the Club; piano solo by Fred Went; vocal solo by Billy Johnson, and stories by Dr. W. J. Hanna.

TO PICK BASKETBALL TEAMS.

Basketball Commissioner Eugene Palm and Superintendent Otto Rittler of the Sacrameto Athletic Club will select the basketball teams of the different divisions to-night. The lightweight teams will play against each

WOODLAND TAKES FIRST RUGBY CONTEST FROM LOCALS 3 TO 0

New Game Fails to Create Favorable Impression Upon Spectators at Oak Park—Visitors' Team Work Is Good but Locals are Speediest.

SAC. UN. 10-16-10

By HARRY R. GIMBAL.

In the first regular Rugby football game ever played in Sacramento the local high school team went down to defeat yesterday at Oak Park before the Woodland high school aggregation by a score of 3 to 0. The game was also the first practice game of the season between members of the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic league. Next Saturday at Woodland the local high school will endeavor to regain lost honors in a return game. Ott Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club refereed the contest.

Rugby did not take well yesterday with the three hundred or more students and interested citiezns who journeyed to the park to view the exhibition and on many sides were heard loving allusions to the "old game" that flourished so profusely upon the same grounds but a year ago. Probably it was because the teams were green and did not exhibit the fine points of the sport, then again it may have been because the spectators did not understand the complicated play, but whatever the season, sure it is that Rugby failed to score and still the "old game" lives, a memory to be spoken of lovingly and with longing.

GOOD PLAYERS.

Woodland won yesterday's contest because the players are better players than those who wore Sacramento's colors. They are not so very much better than the local boys, but they were just enough better to win, and from a sportsman's viewpoint, that is quite sufficient. In team work the visitors absolutely outclassed Sacramento and in tackling they were also on the long end. In passing and rushing they were not so much superior, if any at all, but effective team work brought them to the surface and pushed the locals to the rear. Again, in weight Woodland had the advantage, but in speed they were outclassed, but this advantage did not avail much, as the blue boys were downed before they had much of an opportunity to make way with the ball.

As a whole, the game was an exhibition of green teams, few if any of the inside plays being attempted. There is excuse for this, as Rugby is an entirely new game in the valley, and the players cannot be expected to have much practical knowledge of the game. At times it appeared as if the players had forgotten they were playing Rugby and were back again on the intercollegiate field. The "vets" tore into the tackles in a fashion that did one's heart good. It was just a flicker of the spirit that characterized the "old game." Rugby has just enough roughness in it to be interesting, and is just sane enough to escape the condemnation of the humanitarians. However, in its mildest form it is no sport for the parlor athlete.

Time and again Sacramento failed to take advantage of openings for a score. Once, in the first half, Sacramento had Woodland ten yards from the line, with the ball in their possession. The forward signaled a pass, and the wing caught the ball. Instead of carrying it through the line for a try, he passed it directly into the hands of a Woodland man, who very kindly carried the ball back into the field again by the around field route.

DROP KICK NOT USED.

Again Sacramento made a fatal mistake in not trying a drop kick for goal. Several times the opportunity was ripe for such a play, but the players seemed to disregard it entirely. Whether they did not know, or were afraid to take a chance, is food for gossip. Had they taken a chance the score might have been 4 to 3, instead of 3 to 0.

Coach Fred Twitchell has excellent material for a Rugby team, and he has already developed them to an unusual extent in everything but team work and tackling. It was noticeable that in the scrums Sacramento got the ball twice to Woodland's once, but after they had it they were not able to make the proper headway. Again, Woodland, when they secured the ball in the scrum, lined out quickly, and four men were in place like magic to receive the pigskin. On the other hand, Sacramento was slow getting to place, and half the time the players would bump into one another when they should have been running at the same angle. The fact that Sacramento secured the ball most frequently in the scrum is a big point in their favor, and indicates excellent Rugby material.

Hill, one of Woodland's husky forwards, is a tower of strength. He was retired, however, early in the second half for endeavoring to stop a near riot that started when Kinchloe ran Cole over the line and tackled him and several busybodies on the side line endeavored to start a fight. Cole and Kinchloe made several passes at one another and Cole was also retired. Long was substituted for Hill and Johnson took Cole's place. Referee Rittler showed good judgment in ejecting the boys from the game, though he made a slight mistake. He had no time to argue the question to find out the exact cause of the row.

Stephens, Woodland's right wing, made the "try," scoring three points for his side in the first half. The goal was missed. Eldred of the Sacramentos played a good consistent game and Chan's playing would be much better if he would pass the ball instead of trying to run with it himself. Eldred also has a slight fault in this direction. The line-up:

Woodland.	Position.	Sacramento.
G. Hollingsworth	fullback	McLaughlin
Giguere	three-quarter	Cole
Stephens	three-quarter	Valentine
P Hollingsworth	three-quarter	Eldred

MULDOON AND ERICKSON ON BILL FOR S. A. C. SMOKER

SAC. STAR 10-14-10

Pete Muldoon, amateur welter and middle-weight champion of the Pacific Coast for two different championship tournaments, and One-Round Joe Erickson, the Norwegian cyclone welter-weight champion of the Sacramento Athletic Club, will furnish a three-round boxing exhibition as the main event of the Sacramento Athletic Club's smoker and entertainment next Wednesday night. Ancel Hoffman, matchmaker for the club, and Billy Gore, the club's undefeated light-weight, will go on an exhibition bout.

These two bouts alone will prove a whole evening's entertainment. In addition to this there will be several wrestling matches and other bouts. O'Connor, Coombs and others of the club's good wrestlers will probably be on the program. Several singers and entertainers will be on the program. The club management is sparing no pains to make the affair a success. The smoker and entertainment is for club members and their invited friends.

Boxing Night Postponed.

Owing to the fact that most of the talent could not perform last evening on account of counter attractions, the committee decided to postpone the smoker until Wednesday, the 19th.

As a special feature the committee has matched George Green and J. W. Green to play the finals of that much disputed championship handball game for a dinner.

The program will be long and varied, and while singing and wrestling are going on in the gym., Arthur Delano and Sid Root will be trying to defeat Ed. Morris and Fred Yoerk at handball, in the courts, and right next door the S. A. C. basketball team will be playing the Sacramento High School.

President Bassett will start the affair with an address, and Billy Johnson will render one of his favorite songs. Fred West is going to liven things up with a piano solo, and Professor Rittler's class will do some club swinging.

Beede and Horton are to do a tumbling act, and Russell and Holton will juggle with clubs.

There will be five boxing bouts which look like hummers. Muldoon will make his first appearance in this city and Joe Erickson is coming to town to loosen up. Sally Salvador, Dick Wickham, Red Murray, The Muskrat and Azevedo will all be on deck to amuse the fans, and as the tournament is not so far off the boys have already started to do night training, so lively bouts are expected.

There will be two wrestling matches of a high order. There will be plenty of corn cobs and tobacco. Refreshments will be served.

—o—

George Barr Joins the Club.

George Barr, the popular little Marysville boxer, has joined the club and will represent S. A. C. in the 125-pound class. He has always been a local favorite and his many friends are glad to see him a member. He has started light training and good results are promised, as he is a very clever and aggressive boxer.

—o—

Ladies' Night Soon.

Some time during the latter part of this month there will be a ladies' night. All of the club members are going to get together and give the ladies a grand athletic surprise. The plans are being well guarded by all except Arthur Delano, and the only thing he lets out is that there will be dancing and a lot of other good things.

Ladies' nights have met with a great deal of success in other clubs, and it is the plan of the Directors to make them a feature of the coming winter season.

—o—

Rugby Makes Good.

Last Saturday afternoon, before a small but enthusiastic crowd, Rugby made its initial appearance in Sacramento, at the McKinley Park grounds.

Owing to the fact that most of the members trying out for the club's team work, there were but seven men present. Professor Rittler substituted his backs by filling the vacancies with extra High School men. The Club's scrum showed Professor Rittler's careful training, as they had but little trouble in getting away with the ball, but the back field were cripples when it came to handling the ball.

As it was the High School made only two tries in sixty minutes of playing.

Coach Rittler was very well pleased with the game his seven boys put up, and looks for a very even game when the two teams meet in their regular games this winter.

Dyeborg, "Doc." Williams and "Spike" Corson showed up well in the front rank, and "Sally" Salvador claims it's good training and that he will substitute Rugby for road work.

The men who played Saturday are:

Athletic Club:

Forwards, "Doc." Williams, "Spike" Corson, "Sally" Salvador, Walt. Dyeborg, Folk, J. Furgeson and Geo. Hicks; scrum half, Kennedy; five-eights, Cole and Bybee; outside wing, Riddion; left wing, Joe Blake; full back, Gannon; center three-quarters, Leslie; wing forward, Dick Wickham.

High School:

Forwards, Kazuma, Darwin, Smith, Charlie Sellinger, Louis Breuner, Crawford Cox, Jack Longbotham and Clif. Ernst; scrum half, Elmer Simmermacher; five-eighths, Ted Gay, H. Chan; outside wing, Tom Valentine; left wing, Arthur Rivett; full back, Porter McLaughlin; center three-quarters, Ross Eldred; wing forward, Markham Johnson.

Captains Soon to Be Chosen.

Basketball is advancing more rapidly this year than ever before, and by the looks of things the club will make a great record this year.

Next Wednesday evening the opening game of the season will be played in the club's basketball court. One of the club's best teams will be pitted against one of the High School's speedy teams. The club men have been practicing hard and deserve all the credit they get for their work.

There promises to be a great deal of competition for the positions of captaincy of the different teams. Every man has a player whom he thinks is better than anybody else.

On account of the wrangling and dissatisfaction in the last basketball league, it is more than likely that another winter league will not be tried.

Pete Muldoon Arrives.

Pete Muldoon, ex-champion amateur middle and heavy weight boxer of the Coast, arrived in Sacramento Tuesday, and has started in training for the coming championship boxing carnival.

Muldoon has been in twenty-three contests, won eleven by knockouts, nine on decisions and fought two draws and lost to Allan of the Los Angeles Club in the semi-finals of the heavyweight championship. In the contest with Allan he was outweighed by seventy-three pounds. In the heavyweight finals Allan was defeated by Westerman, who was challenged for a match by Muldoon. The match was granted and a month later, in Seattle, Muldoon put Westerman to sleep in three rounds of boxing, thereby making Muldoon holder of the middleweight and heavyweight championships. In the coming tournament he will represent the club in both of these weight classes.

Local fans will get their first chance to see him in action at the club smoker next Wednesday evening, when he will be matched with one of the club's live ones.

Club Chat.

To-day at noon a number of the boys who went to Atascadero will return home. Letters from them show that they had a fine time. Gene. Palm, "Doc" Fay, James Barnes and Lewellyn Reese are members of the hospital corps. They had lots of fun at the expense of some of their comrades. Lewellyn Reese, who is one of the new members of the corps, was treated rather hard during his initiation into camp life. First he was tossed in a blanket and then spent two long days and nights hunting for red oil for the red hospital corps before he became "wise."

The Athletics showed the Jacksonites the game of baseball last Sunday, and the Jackson bunch also showed the S. A. C. boys a good time.

Mucka McClatchy and Spike Corson hit the pike Wednesday to become surveyors. They were rather heavily laden as some kind member of the club placed a number of large cobblestones in their blankets. Spike hates to leave, for he does love that game of Rugby, and he was fast developing into a good forward.

Professor Rittler is disappointed in the Rugby turnout, as the boys do not show up regularly for practice. Everybody be out to McKinley Park t[o]morrow morning and get in the game. There are a number of good trips in sight, and he is going to carry twenty men on the team.

Don't forget Wednesday evening for that big time. There will be lots doing, and also some classy goes.

Doc Williams plays a good game in the front rank, and his wind is getting better each time.

Every time the Rugby teams made a mistake Saturday the game was stopped and the coaches explained the reasons why and wherefore.

Fred Gallerher withdrew his application for reinstatement early this week, as he has accepted a position on the Central Traction Company's cars.

Director Inman and Theo. Shore killed so many ducks last Saturday that the weight of the game was too great for the boat and they had to throw all of it overboard, returning home at five in the morning with but two ducks apiece.

Busher Gallup helped the Athletics butcher the Jackson bunch Sunday. The old boy still has his eagle eye.

There will be some boxing next Wednesday evening. It seems a long while since there have been any bouts and twenty-five rounds of the real, live stuff will go nicely.

Georgie Green has been defeating Eddie Morris and Otto Rittler at handball right along, and the dopesters claim the big boy looks good to gather in Wednesday night. Come on, you Georgie!

Judge Post and Roy Cothrin went out hunting last night, hoping to catch more t[h]an a cold this time.

Professor Rittler will referee the Rugby game between the Woodland and Sacramento High Schools tomorrow. ¼

Kennedy will make a good five-eighths with a little more practice.

The club won from the Jackson team by a score of 13 to 0. This was quite a shock to the community, as the Jacksonites thought they had the game won before they started. The team was treated royally and the machine trip was great, although one of the machines did not arrive home until five in the morning.

There is lots of room for good men in the back field of the Rugby team. Where are all of those sprinters?

There is a big list of members whose dues are in arrears, posted on the bulletin board. If yours is there get it off, for it does not look well.

Frank White is some Rugby sharp. The fat boy will make a hummer if he runs three or four miles a day and loses a little weight.

Oh! what a time there will be at the smoker. Something to amuse everybody. Come and bring your friends and all the prospective members you can get hold of.

SAC. BEE. 10-19-10

The opening of the Winter season at the Sacramento Athletic Club starts this evening with the first of a series of smokers. A lively program has been arranged by Club Captain Arthur Delano for the event, which includes boxing, wrestling, singing, music, class athletics and story telling.

The principal feature of the boxing card will be the appearance of Pete Muldoon, the new champion amateur boxer on the club's staff. He will go three rounds with Joe Erickson. Ancil Hoffman and Billy Gore will also box. The other two bouts will be between Salvador and Azevedo, and Hallahan and Wickham.

Dyreborg and R. Eams will give a wrestling match. Two other matches will be taken from the wrestling class. Beede and Horton will do some acrobatic work.

The handball game between Green and Gray is off because Gray says he could not train down to proper condition. Others will give exhibitions of handball. A couple of basketball games have been arranged.

Among the other features of the program are: Vocal selections by J. Kennedy and William Johnson; piano and mandolin, Nellis Matthews on the piano and Arch Strachan and D. Fay with the string instruments; stories, Dr. W. J. Hanna and J. Gianelli will relate interesting stories.

Club members and their friends have been invited to take part in the enjoyment.

MATHEWSON AGAIN

S. A. C. HAS GOOD RUGBY FIFTEEN

SAC. BEE. 10-17-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby players were out strong for practice yesterday, getting in shape for the game at Woodland next Sunday, when the locals will meet Company F of that place. Most of the Woodland players are members of the High School fifteen, but assume the name of the militia company to play Sunday games. The students are also guardsmen.

Otto Rittler says he has great material on hand for the Rugby team. The back field men are all fast track team athletes, each having a record for speed in the sprints. The team will also be strengthened somewhat if Twitchell, the local High School coach, and Haffey, former 'Varsity Captain at California, get in the game as they figure on doing. They will play in the forwards.

The forwards as they now line up are: Deerborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Azevedo, Folck, Schlosser asd Corson. Sherwin, Kennedy and A. Evers are fighting for half-back positions. The five-eighths are H. Evers and Holmes, while Swinney and Perrington are the wings. With Gannon and Dickson at three-quarters, there are two swift men hard to beat. Ferguson is a swift man at full-back, being placed there because he has a wonderful kick.

Dickson, the former St. Mary's star, will likely be elected Captain.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday night the players will get practice in the gym, and be ready for the battle Sunday, which will be their first game.

The Woodland militia-football men will give a dance Saturday evening in honor of the Sacramentans.

FIRST RUGBY GAME WON BY WOODLAND

Rugby was initiated into Sacramento Saturday afternoon at Oak Park when the Woodland High School fifteen defeated the boys of the local High by the score of 3 to 0. The game was only a practice affair, so the defeat does not cost Sacramento anything in the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic League race.

While this was the first time the rival High Schools have had an opportunity to face each other in the new game, they played with a frankness that showed they were quickly acquiring the points of Rugby, and will readily be in shape to put up as good battles as was formerly the case with American football. Rugby took a popular place with the students, and, although the field was laid out far from the grandstand, the few hundred cheering students were able to grasp the spectacular plays and root their favorites along with round after round of school yells.

The forward pass seemed a little awkward to master with skill. The Woodland boys were more accurate with the pass, but lacked the speed that the locals possessed. Sacramento managed to get the ball out of the scrum with greater ease than Woodland, but unlike the Yolo players, they could not get the required formations to make the successful charges down the field. The ball was dangerously near the respective goals on several occasions, but each time carried back.

The try was scored by Kinchloe in the first half with a run of several yards. Kicking was not as frequent as desired by some of the students, and those who did the punting were not strong for distance or accuracy. Eldred showed the best class of the speedy men on the Sacramento team. Coach Fred Twitchell was well pleased with his boys, and the work of the Woodlanders ought to be gratifying to Sterling Peart, the University of California boy, who has been giving his former schoolmates some instructions. As a whole, the Yolo crowd had it on the locals for size, but not in speed.

Otto Rittler had his hands full refereeing, and was obliged to put Cole and Hill out of the game for letting their tempers get the better of them in a little mix-up during the second half.

The teams lined up as follows:

Woodland.	Position.	Sacramento.
G. Hollingsworth	Fullback	McLaughlin
P. Hollingsworth	Center three-quarters	Eldred
Giguere	Wing three-quarters	Valentine
Stephens	Wing three-quarters	*Cole and Johnston
Kinchloe	Five-eighths	Gay
Wraith	Five-eighths	Chan
Murray	Halfback	Simmermacher

SAC. BEE

ERICKSON IS FAITHFUL SCOUT.

"One Round" Joe Erickson will be entitled to the honors of "Faithful Joe" in view of his performance last evening in getting to the Sacramento Athletic Club smoker, where he boxed with Pete Muldoon in the main event of the evening.

Erickson is working at the Big Lake Gun Club down the river. He missed the boat for Sacramento, so had to walk. He hiked the fifteen miles to town, carrying a suitcase full of butter and eggs. He arrived just in time to take a little rest before going on at the smoker. 10-20-10

S. A. C.'S SMOKER TONIGHT

10-19-10

SAC. NEWS.

Final preparations for the Sacramento Athletic Club smoker and entertainment to be given in the club rooms tonight are complete. A varied program of athletic feats, boxing and wrestling matches, together with some songs and recitations has been prepared by Capt. Delano.

One of the best numbers of the card will be the boxing match between "One Round" Joe Erickson, the Swedish cyclone of the squared ring, and Pete Muldoon, two-time amateur champion of the Pacific coast, middle and heavyweight divisions. Gore, the club's undefeated lightweight, will go an exhibition bout with Ancil Hoffman. Salvador will meet Azavedo and Hallahan will meet Wickham. Several other numbers will complete what appears to be a very interesting program.

PRACTICE DAYS.

Basket ball practice at the Sacramento Athletic Club is held every Thursday evening. Rugby football practice is held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The date for field and track practice is Sunday morning.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS GOOD HOST AT SMOKER

SAC. BEE. 10-20-10

That the Sacramento Athletic Club boys know how to be good entertainers was demonstrated last evening at the first of a series of Winter smokers where club members and their friends puffed corncob pipes while witnessing athletic events and listening to music, songs and stories. The "gym" was well filled by an enthusiastic set of spectators, who lingered until the late hours to see every event on the card.

After everybody had filled their pipes and settled back to be entertained, W. W. Bassett, President of the club, started the evening with a few welcoming words, saying that he felt all those present who were not members of the club should join the S. A. C. ranks.

H. M. McGregor, P. A. A. Commissioner, made a short talk in which he told about the success Sacramento has had so far with the Association, in view of the fact that a championship track and field meet was recently held here, and a championship boxing tournament will take place next month.

Change Tournament Date.

He also announced that the date for the tournament had been changed from November 2d, 3d and 4th to the 21st, 22d and 23d, on account of being unable to get the Old Pavilion for three dates in a row any earlier.

Offers were made last evening to the club by Coroner W. F. Gormley, County Tax Collector C. E. Trainor and County Assessor Ed Kay to give medals in the championship events. These medals will be known by the names of the respective donors, and independent of the P. A. A. honors.

Eddie Murray and Bob Ferris boxed three rounds for the opening number of the athletic events. The youngsters were pretty well tired out at the end of the scrap.

Eames and Dyreborg wrestled for a bout without a fall. Next in order on the program were: J. J. Nash, with piano selections; Otto Rittler and class on the horizontal bars; Tommy Clifton, vocal solo; three fast rounds of boxing between Azevedo and Salvador; stories by J. Gianelli; clever acrobatic work by Beede and Horton; vocal solo by Billy Johnson; fancy bag punching by Gus Storz; a fast three rounds of boxing by Ancil Hoffman and Billy Gore; stories by Dr. W. J. Hanna.

Muldoon Looks Good.

The Pete Muldoon-Joe Erickson three-round bout was next on the boards. The northern champion had it on the local wonder for reach and size, so just toyed around with him, not taking advantages which prevailed quite frequently. Muldoon made quite a hit in the way in which he handled himself. Erickson was not daunted by the reputation of his opponent, and mixed matters with a will.

After this bout the visitors adjourned to the handball and basketball courts, where games were played. The lightweights beat the heavyweights at basketball 35 to 19. C. Wahlander and D. McDonough lost in handball to R. Shrock and C. Morris, 23-3 and 21-5. W. Pugh and H. Doval took two out of three matches from H. Tate and J. Barnes.

SMOKY TIME AT S.A.C. IS SUCCESS

Arkansas Yarns and Boxing Are Features of Annual Smoker at Athletic Club.

SAC. UN. 10-22-10

Arkansas yarns vied with boxing for first place in the appreciation of the big crowd of members and friends of the Sacramento Athletic club that gathered in the gymnasium last night at the annual smoker. By a slight margin the yarns, or stories as they were labeled on the program, won out and for the first time in months boxing was given a solar plexus blow and laid on the mat for the count.

Whether it was due to the fact that the last evening at the ringside was two months ago and the fans were hungry for the bang of the mitts, or to the particularly attractive program that caused so big a crowd to turn out, is hard to say, but the crowd was there all the same and the gymnasium, spacious as it is, was none too big to accommodate the spectators.

Real old Missouri corn cobs were passed around, "hop" was supplied and it was not long after the program started before the upper section of the gym was hidden behind a cloud of blue smoke.

The boxing exhibition between One Round Joe Erickson and Pete Muldoon, Pacific coast middleweight champion, was the feature of the evening and ran Dr. Hanna's stories and poems of mirth a close race for first prize. Muldoon is a big fellow and has met practically only heavyweights. Erickson was unable to reach him, for the champ towered above him a good head and shoulders. No effort was made to do damage to one another, and the three rounds were distinctly an exhibition. It was Muldoon's first appearance before the club, and to say he made a good impression is but poorly describing the "hit" he really made. He will be seen in the P. A. A. championships here next month. Erickson will also be entered.

The dates for the championship tournament were announced officially as November 21, 22 and 23. Medals were donated without solicitation by Eddy Kay, William Gormley and C. E. Trainor. Each of these aspirants for political office gave Commissioner H. A. MacGregor a check for $35. That amount is the biggest the P. A. A. will allow to be expended for a single medal or trophy. The three medals will be set up for some event next month.

President Walter Bassett of the club made the opening remarks and introduced Commissioner H. A. MacGregor who made a talk on the tournament to be held here next month. The program, proper opened with a three-round bout between Eddy Morris and Bob Ferris. In none of the bouts were decisions given, as the goes were strictly exhibition and not for blood.

Ralph Emes and Walter Dyreborg gave a very good exhibition of wrestling. Emes was the under dog, but Dyreborg could not throw him. The boys were loudly aplauded. D. O'Connor acted as referee.

Leland Lash favored the audience with several ragtime selections on the piano. Tommy Clifton sang "Some Day When Dreams Come True." Boxing Instructor Billy Johnson also favored the "boys" with a couple of melodies.

Professor Dyreborg's class in gymnastics exhibited their skill on the parallel bars. Salvadore and Azevedo were sandwiched in here for a three-round go. Horton and Bedee went through an acrobatic stunt that was well received. Gus Stores punched his numerous bags with his old time skill. Ancil Hoffman, the old-time one who has partly come back, gave Never-defeated Billy Gore all he could handle for three lively rounds. Dr. W. J. Hanna here sprung his "yarns." They are copyrighted, so it is impossible to publish them in connection with this story.

J. Giaurelli was Doc Hanna's only rival in the story telling division and his yarn about the little bird that was devoured by a cruel hawk provoked the highest enthusiasm the spectators had to offer.

COAST WRESTLERS TO DECIDE TITLES AT OLYMPIC CLUB

S.F. POST. 10-21-10

Pacific Coast championship wrestling bouts will be held under the auspices of the Olympic Club instead of the Western Athletic Club, as originally decided. At a meeting of the Pacific Athletic Association last night, the failure of the Western Club to make arrangements for the bouts was deemed sufficient cause to turn the events over to the Olympics, who announced themselves ready to rush the affair along.

Other action taken by the P. A. A. officials provided for the establishment of a basketball committee of Robert Dodd, Charles Minto and George Schlitter, while William T. Reid was elected delegate to represent the coast athletes at the annual gathering of the Amateur Athletic Union in New York on November 19. Sidney S. Peixotto, A. J. Cloud and Herbert Houser were elected delegates to the Amateur Athletic Union board of governors.

The application of the soccer football men was tabled pending an investigation, while the delegates from the Sunday School League was heard and the announcement made that this group of athletes probably will be taken in at a near date.

OVER 100 AMATEURS WILL BOX

10-26-10

SAC. STAR.

More than 100 amateur boxers will be here during the P. A. A. tournament on Nov. 21, 22 and 23, according to the information received by H. A. McGregor of the Sacramento Athletic Club who is the local commissioner of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Information received shows that the following clubs will send their best boxers here to compete for the championship honors: Olympic Club, San Francisco; Acme Club, Oakland; Los Angeles Athletic Club; Multonomah Athletic Club, Portland; Seattle Athletic Club; Columbia Park Boys' Club, San Francisco; Barbarians, San Francisco; Irish-American Club, San Francisco; Swedish-American Club, San Francisco; Siamplat Indians, San Francisco; Pastime Athletic Club, San Francisco; Stockton Athletic Club Association; Western Club, San Francisco; Young Men's Hebrew Association, San Francisco.

The different classes for the tournament are scheduled as follows and open to all registered amateurs: Bantam weight, 105 pounds and under; featherweight, 115 pounds and under; special weight, 125 pounds and under; lightweight, 135 pounds and under; welterweight, 145 pounds and under; middleweight, 158 pounds and over; heavyweight, 158 pounds and over.

S. A. C. BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATS Y. M. C. A. 21 TO 9

SAC. UN. 10-28-10

By a score of 21 to 9 the heavyweight team of the Sacramento Athletic club defeated a mixed Y. M. C. A. team last night at the Y. M. C. A. in an exhibition contest. During the interval between the ten-minute halves Prof. Walter Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic club and Instructor J. P. Colley gave an exhibition of catch-as-catch-can wrestling.

The Athletic club had a walkover and easily scored on the Y. M. C. A. At the end of the second half the score stood 10 to 1. The Y. M. C. A. team played much better in the second half, but was still outclassed. The line-ups:

S. A. C.—Brandon and Luke, forwards; Sweeny, center; Blake and Salvadore, guards.

Y. M. C. A.—Knight and Holmes, forwards; Duke, center; Azevedo and Warren, guards.

Gene Palm was the referee and Dr. Rodda umpired.

LARGE ENTRY LIST FOR TOURNAMENT OF BOXING

SAC. BEE. 10-26-10

All the athletic clubs on the Pacific Coast have been invited to participate in the boxing tournament which will be held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club on November 21st, 22d and 23d. Already a number of entries have been received by Professor Oscar Rittler of the local club, and he with H. A. McGregor, representative of the Amateur Athletic Union looks for an unusually large representation.

Of the clubs that will participate are the Olympic Club of San Francisco; Acme Club, Oakland; Los Angeles Athletic Club; Multnomah Athletic Club, Portland; Seattle Athletic Club; Columbia Park Boys' Club, San Francisco; Barbarians, San Francisco; Irish-American Club, San Francisco; Swedish-American Club, San Francisco; Siamplat Indians, San Francisco; Pastime Athletic Club, San Francisco; Stockton Athletic Club Association; Western Club, San Francisco; Young and Hebrew Association, San Francisco.

All told about 100 amateurs are expected to participate in the contests. To the winner of each weight will be given a gold medal, and to the next best a silver medal. All recognized amateurs are eligible to compete. The following weights are open:

Bantam weight, 105 pounds and under; feather weight, 115 pounds and under; special weight, 125 pounds and under; light weight, 135 pounds and under; welter weight, 145 pounds and under; middle weight, 158 pounds and under; heavy weight, 158 pounds and over.

The Boys Hit the Pipe.

Last Wednesday evening one of the largest crowds that has yet shown up at club doings, attended the annual smoker. There were plenty of corncobs and good tobacco for the boys, and something doing every minute, from President Bassett's talk to the basketball game, so the large crowd was kept amused and entertained throughout the evening.

President Bassett made the opening remarks of welcome and introduced P. A. A. representative MacGregor, who explained the way in which the coming boxing tournament was to be conducted. He also praised the spirit that Ed. Kay, William Gormley and C. E. Trainor had shown by sending checks for $35 apiece to pay for three first place medals.

The ruling of the P. A. A. does not allow more than this amount to be expended on a first place medal.

Boxing was started by an even three-round go between Red Murray and Bob Ferris. All of the bouts were no decision affairs and merely exhibitions of skill minus the blood.

Wrestling instructor Walter Dyeborg and Ralph Eames struggled for mat honors, but the men were evenly matched and the event went to a draw, neither getting a fall.

That old-time vaudeville artist, Leland Lash, rattled off some comedy stuff in a way that kept his audience cheerful.

Tommy Clifton and iBlly Johnson divided the singing honors, and in each case the referee called for an extra round. Professor Rittler's gymnasium class performed on the parallel bars and did very creditable and clever work.

Sally Salvadore and Young Azevedo put up three rounds of about as clever boxing as one would wish to see. Both boys were fast and are rapidly getting in condition for the coming boxing festivities.

Horton and Beede made their debut in an acrobatic stunt that took with the audience.

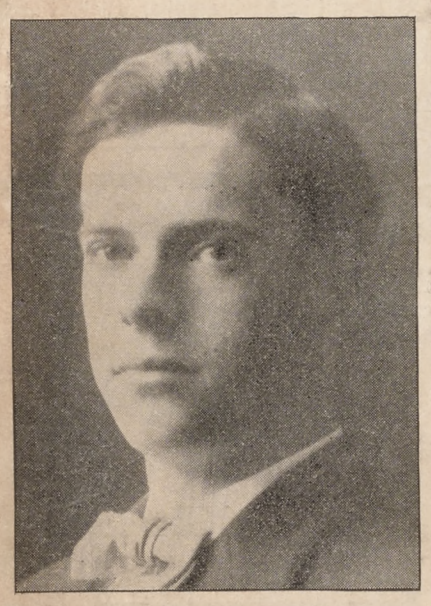
The best exhibition of the gentle pastime was between Pete Muldoon, holder of the Pacific Coast amateur middleweight title, and the pride of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Josef Erickson. When they shook hands it looked as if Kolb and Dill were once more together.

Muldoon was given a hearty reception when he entered the ring and his adoption party was a howling success. Both men put up a good exhibition of boxing, although the one-round wonder is built too close to the ground to reach Muldoon's upper works. In the pair the club has two men who are going to win honors in the coming tournament.

After this bout Gus Stortz showed how easy it is to punch seven bags at the same time and still wear a smile.

Schlitz Hoffman and Billy Gore went the limit in a lively contest And Father Schlitz made the little champion hike even at that.

Doc. Hanna and A. J. Giamelli sprung some stories that they had been keeping on ice, and they were the real comedy hits of the evening.



Eugene Palm.

Among those who were conspicuous by their absence was one Georgie Green, handball marvel, ping pong shark, pedro player and present holder of the disputed heavyweight handball championship. The Gray-Green final match was to have been the star attraction but the star failed to show, so the performance was called off, much to the disappointment of the crowd.

Wahlander and McDonough played Morris and Shorrock in the absence of the big performers and each took a series.

The evening ended with one of the fastest basketball games that has yet been played so early in the season. The lightweights won from a team chosen from the heavyweights and the 145-pounders. The lightweights did most of their scoring in the last half when they walked away from the heavy boys. All of the men showed up well and both teams demonstrated lots of class. When they get going there is going to be something doing. The final score was: Lightweights, 35; Heavyweights, 19.

The teams:

Lightweights.		Heavyweights.
Luke	forward	Azevedo
Lovich	forward	Holmes
Brandon	forward	Blake
Duke	center	Sweeney
Wickham	guard	Shaw
Donald	guard	Bacon

Summary of points:

Lightweights—Luke 8 points, Lovich (captain) 4 points, Duke 8 points, Donald 4 points, Brandon 11 points.

Heavyweights—Joe Blake 4 points, Holmes 6 points, Sweeney 8 points, Shaw (captain) 1 point.

Referee—Gene Palm.

Basket Ball Men and Captains Selected

Last Monday evening Basketball Commissioner Palm and Professor Rittler selected the men who are to represent the club in the various weight classes in the coming basketball season. They selected the men who had worked hardest and who had showed up the best in the try-outs. It is not too late yet to make a team, as no one has a place cinched, and any recruit who shows he has the stuff in him will have a good chance, for the club wants the best men on the teams.

After the men had been assigned to their dieffrent teams a lively election followed.

In the 130-pound class Barb Lovich nosed Chester Brandon out by one vote for captaincy. In the other teams everything was framed before the election, so the candidates did not have any opposition. The 120-pound class elected Coper and the 145-pound team chose Shaw, who was last year's forward. The heavyweights elected Paul Amick, ex-High School star, forward.

The midgets, or 120-pound team, are going to be a fast proposition, for on its line-up are some of the speediest boys in the club.

The lightweights, or 130-pound class, are all players on the last year's championship lightweight team, and when they are in shape they will make a strong bid for P. A. A. honors this year in San Francisco.

In Barb. Loveich they have a captain and forward who is hard to beat. Brandon and Luke are also playing great ball in the forward position, and both are goal men. Donald and Luke are out for the center position. Both are speedy and heady players, and will give the best of them a rub. Wilkham and Erway are a hard pair of workers at guard.

In the 145-pounders Shaw, Joe Blake and Warren are playing forwards, and as all three have had lots of experience they will make them all hustle when it comes to throwing baskets. Beede is making good at the center position, notwithstanding that this is his first year. Bacon and Lobner are both vets and as perfect guards as have ever played in Sacramento. Last year there were but few men who scored while they were guarding. Azevedo is a new boy at the game and is giving the vets a good rub.

The heavyweights, or unlimited class, outlook is better this year than ever before. Amick, Knight and Barnes are all hitting the basket accurately and on account of their previous experience are valuable men. Eames and Palm are still on the center job, and as both played class A ball last year they will be all the more dangerous this winter.

Purrington, Sweeney and Irva Blake are all out for a guard position, and although this is the first time they have been on a club line-up, they have played on other teams.

Following are the members of the different teams:

120-pound team — Shinn, Coper (captain), Campbell, McDonough and Beardslee.

Unlimited—Holmes, Eames, Purrington, Amick (captain), Knight, Palm, Sweeney, Barnes and I. Blake.

Boxing Tournament Postponed.

Because the sons of the Mikado are going to celebrate his majesty's birth in the Old Pavilion on the same evenings the members of the P. A. A. boxing tournament wished to determine the Amateur champion boxers of the coast, the date has been changed to November 21, 22 and 23.

Entries are coming in from all of the prominent Coast clubs and it promises to be one of the best amateur boxing contests ever held on the Coast.

All of the S. A. C. boys are getting into condition rapidly and every afternoon and evening the punching bags are kept busy by prospective champs, who are pounding away their dreams and air castles.

The largest squad that has as yet showed up made its appearance last Sunday at McKinley Park, in Rugby clothes. Professor Rittler put the boys through a hard grind of practice, and they went to it like veterans.

The squad numbered 25 and every time Rittler counted them over he smiled and thought of that Rugby championship that they were going to win a little later on in the year. The team will average at least 160 pounds, as there are a number of big men on it, while small men are in the minority. There is a great deal of competition between all of the men for the different choice positions, and no one really has his job cinched.

In the scrum Deerborn, Curl, Doc. Williams, Gene Palm, Azevedo, Folck, Slossen, Spike Corson, Sally Salvador, Dick Wickham and Shoemake are all showing lots of class.

For scrum half Sherwood, A. Evers, Kennedy and Tate are running neck and neck.

H. Evers and Holmes are playing the five-eighths position in great style.

Purrington and Sweeney are both fast and look good for a wing position.

Spencer Dickson and Chet. Gannon are after the center three-quarter job, and Ferguson is holding down the full back position.

—o—

First Game of Rugby.

The club will play its first game of Rugby football tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the Oak Park grounds.

They will meet an all star aggregation which is composed of men from the local High School and old players who participated in the game across the Atlantic.

Coach Rittler is going to give all of his huskies a good try-out and expects to develop a great deal of new material. Both teams will be in the pink of condition, and the game promises to be a lively contest, since there is a great deal of rivalry existing between the two teams.

All of the club members should show up and root for the boys and also get acquainted with a game that for enjoyment has almost any other sport backed off the board.

—o—

Indoor Baseball.

Dad Pearl has the indoor baseball bug in his bonnet, and as soon as the outdoor baseball season is over he is going to start something that will make the natives sit up and take notice.

The club has a lot of good indoor material, and as the game is an interesting winter sport it is more than likely that it will have a big following. All men who are interested can sign up with Pop and he will be glad to explain the plans and the proposed games.

—o—

Club Chat.

Dusty Clark's speedy, champion, amateur, athletic baseball team has quietly put its bats, suits, honors and reputation in the safe deposit vault for safe keeping until next year.

You missed a treat if you were not out at McKinley Park last Sunday to see the club's Rugby team at work. The way they go to the English game would do any real live man across the canal credit.

Purrington, who was one of the star members of Woodland's speedy High School basketball team when it won the S. V. I. A. L. basketball championship, is now living in Sacramento, has joined the club and is bidding strong for a guard position with the heavyweights. He is also out for Rugby honors.

Sherwood, A. Evers, Kennedy and Tate are having a grand time trying out for scrum half. Tate has made the best showing so far in that he is sporting a black optic.

Pete Muldoon works out every afternoon in the gym., and it is a treat to see him train. He knows the game and is as good looking man in fighting togs as you would want to see.

Arthur Delano, Otto Rittler, Bob Shorrock, Gene Palm and Charles Wahlander arranged the program of the smoker, and they are also going to have a ladies' night the latter part of this month. Watch for the date.

Judge Post, Theodore Shore and Roy Cothrin. returned home Sunday evening after a prosperous day's hunting. They were hunting at Latrobe on the Placerville road. They brought home a fine string of quail and saw a number of deer and wild pigeons.

Brother Tharp is hard to get the best of. Although a number of gentlemen tried to get him with their gas wagons he was there with the cannon and they soon stopped.

Don't forget the P. A. A. tournament. It will be the greatest boxing treat Sacramento people have ever had.

Mr. Green has been receiving considerable notoriety through the newspapers of late. He asserts that he has beaten such champs as Otto Rittler and Eddie Morris, but it is claimed by many men who have been following the game of late that little Sally Salvador beat him three games straight Tuesday, without half trying. How about it, Georgie?

Duke and Luke are hitting baskets in a lively way and are fast rounding into shape.

It was a sight worth seeing when that old warhorse Bacon hit the high spots Wednesday evening. When the ball or the man gets away from him there will be something doing.

All of the members are well supplied with a stock of pipes for the coming winter season, and the lucky ones hooked enough of the weed so that they won't be bothered by buying any for some time to come.

Pete Muldoon.

There are so many good men out for Rugby that for once in his life Coach Rittler is up against it when it comes to deciding who is going to make the team. So come on out and show him that you are the greatest Rugby man that ever happened.

When Spence Dickson starts to hit the pike in a game he is a most dangerous looking Rugby proposition.

Muldoon is a great boxer and the man who bests him will have to get up rather early in the morning.

Joe Blake made two pretty long shots in the basketball game Wednesday evening.

Joe Erickson has taken on a great deal of weight since he has been up in the tules. He has had his mustache removed on the advice of a friend who claimed it marred his beauty.

The smoker was a success and the committee in charge are certainly there when it comes to arranging a good time.

Now for the ladies' night and let's make it a big success by all getting together and boosting.

SAC. WEEKLY — OCT. 22-10

The lightweight basketball team is to have an interpreter appointed so that when Barb. Lovich, their captain, gets excited on the field and starts to tell the referee how to run the game, he can be understood.

Donald is playing great ball this year, and has started a pace that is hard to beat. He has had a great deal of experience and will be a great help to the lightweights.

Dr. Hanna is there when it comes to telling a good story. He kept last Wednesday's crowd in a roar of laughter.

Schlitz Hoffmann is still getting off weight, and by the time the tournament is here the old boy will be in shape to run away with a couple of medals.

SAC. WEEKLY
OCT. 22-10.

AMATEURS TO BOX AT S. A. C. CLUB

SAC. UN. 10-26-10

Amateur Athletic Union to Hold Contests Here in November.

Sacramento will be the mecca for the amateur boxers of the Pacific coast on November 21, 22 and 23. On the evenings of these three dates the Sacramento Athletic club will conduct the boxing championships of the Pacific coast under the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic union. It is expected that over 100 amateurs will take part in the contests.

Bantam weight, 105 pounds and under; feather weight, 115 pounds and under; special weight, 125 pounds and under; light weight, 135 pounds and under; welter weight, 145 pounds and under; middle weight, 158 pounds and under; heavy weight, 158 pounds and over.

A gold medal, emblematic of the championship of the Pacific association, will be given to the winner of each weight, and silver medal to the second of all weights for which there are five or more entries.

CLUBS SEND ENTRIES.

H. A. McGregor, representative of the Amateur Athletic union and a member of the Sacramento Athletic club, has charge of the tournament, and announces that members of the following clubs will participate in the contests: Olympic club, San Francisco; Acme club, Oakland; Los Angeles Athletic club; Multonomah Athletic club, Portland; Seattle Athletic club; Columbia Park Boys' club, San Francisco; Barbarians, San Francisco; Irish-American club, San Francisco; Swedish-American club, San Francisco; Siamplat Indians, San Francisco; Pastime Athletic club, San Francisco; Stockton Athletic Club association; Western club, San Francisco; Young and Hebrew association, San Francisco.

An amateur athlete in good standing is eligible to enter the tournament. Already a number of entries have been received from unattached boxers who will be admitted to the tournament if they possess amateur athletic cards. Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club and H. A. McGregor look for a large entry list of unattached boxers from Sacramento, there being a number of clever wielders of the padded mitts in this city.

The following letter has been sent by H. A. McGregor to ever athletic club on the Pacific coast, inviting them to take part in the tournament:

"SACRAMENTO, Cal., October 18, 1910.—The Secretary—Dear Sir: Enclosed find entry forms for the Pacific coast boxing contest to be held in the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic club November 21, 22 and 23, 1910, at 8 p. m.

"Will you kindly bring same to the notice of your members and in doing so, please notify them that this will be a strictly amateur tournament, and under no circumstances will an entry be accepted unless the entrant's registration number is plainly stated on the entry form.

"Ample accommodations with hot and cold showers and rubdown tables will be provided for competitors, and our committee will do everything possible to make your members comfortable during the contests.

"I trust you will induce as many of your members as possible to compete, and so make the 1910 championship truly representative of the best amateur boxing talent in this district. Yours truly, H. A. McGREGOR,

"Sacramento Athletic Club."

RITTLER OFF TO SAN FRANCISCO.

Physical Instructor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club, will leave for San Francisco today for the purpose of securing additional entries for the P. A. A. boxing championships which will take place here November 21, 22 and 23. Rittler will "jack" the Bay clubs up a bit and remind them that entries should be in early. He will return in time to accompany the football team to Grass Valley for the game with the All-Stars.

SACRAMENTO WILL HOLD THE P. A. A. BOXING CHAMPIONSHIPS

10/26
S.F. CHRON. 10

The annual boxing championships of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will take place at Sacramento on the evenings of November 21st, 22d and 23d, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club, according to the announcement issued by the athletic officials yesterday. Entry blanks have been received by the local clubs inviting participants in seven different classes, for which a gold medal emblematic of the championship of the Pacific Association will be given to the winner of each class and a silver medal to the second best competitor.

Permission to conduct the boxing tournament was awarded to the Sacramento Athletic Club at a recent meeting of the board of managers of the Pacific Association, and the date of the matches was originally set for November 5th, 6th and 7th. Requests from many of the aspirants occasioned the choice of a later date, however. The annual wrestling championships of the Pacific Association will take place at the St. Francis Hotel on the night of November 22d, but it is not expected that the mat contests will interfere with the boxing bouts, as none of the athletes aspire to take part in both tournaments.

The entries for the boxing matches will close on November 15th, with Harry M. McGregor of the Sacramento Athletic Club and all competitors must be registered amateurs, giving number of registration card on entry blank. The following are the classes in which championship honors will be awarded: Bantam-weight, 105 pounds; feather-weight, 115 pounds; special weight, 125 pounds; lightweight, 135 pounds; welter-weight, 145 pounds; middle-weight, 158 pounds, and heavy-weight, 158 pounds and over.

MILE RECORD MARK HAS STOOD FOR 15 YEARS

Tommy Conneff's Time of 4:15 3-5 Has Been in Danger but Few Times.

S.F.EX. 10-26-10

A chunky, well built chap with the tanned face of a soldier always exposed to the semi-trophical sun of Southern California and wearing the chevrons of a sergeant on his khaki—this is the figure of Tommy Conneff, who once held the mile run at the mercy of his fleet and muscular legs.

There is the item of a memorable day in 1895 when the mile yielded gracefully to an assault by this same little chap to the extent of a brand new record for amateurs, a record never before or since equaled, of 4:15 3-5.

There came a time when he hung up his spiked shoes for good and all and linked his fortune with the army of Uncle Samuel. He has an unusual mental endowment, and can write brilliantly, but the army life has a fascination for him. He has been in the army ten years, has been in the Philippines, and in the farthest north army post, St. Michaels, a bleak chunk of Alaska's top-most corner. At present his regiment is stationed in Southern California.

Conneff made his world's amateur figure at Travers island, New York, on August 28, 1895. The event was carefully prepared for. Handicaps assuring perfect pacing, together with ideal weather and track conditions gave him the chance of a lifetime. It is a matter of athletic history that he took a good, solid advantage of the opportunity, as his mark has collected dust for nearly fifteen years.

It is the rare amateur, and for that matter professional, who has cast a threatening shadow over the figures. There was J. Binks, the English crack, who made the nearest amateur approach to Conneff's mark. The former set an English record of 4:16 4-5 on July 5, 1902.

On this side of the water Wilton Paull of the University of Pennsylvania gave the Conneff mark its worst scare, when he made the big intercollegiate field of milers appear like selling platers in the meet of 1909 at the Harvard stadium and tacked up a new intercollegiate record of 4:17 4-5.

With Paull to help sustain the role of would-be demolisher of Conneff's mark there is also Melvin Sheppard of New York. Sheppard is no new figure in the record book. His class shines forth from a hundred and more brilliant performances. At the present writing Sheppard looms big as the man to splinter the world's mile record—if possible, bigger than Paull. There is, however, the item that there are two men capable of making the attempt with more than a fair chance of success. The condition is unprecedented in athletics. Sheppard is in the prime of condition for an attempt now, as his smashing of the record for the 1,000-yard run recently betrayed. Whether Paull is in shape for such a strenuous task is to be regarded as likely to be answered in the affirmative, judging also from his recent work.

Sheppard has defeated Paull running from the same scratch mark, and he is regarded as the latter's better by close followers of running. With the same conditions as those with which Conneff was blessed when he made his record it is figured that Sheppard will not only turn the present mark out in the cold but will come very close to putting a crimp in the world's professional mile record held by W. G. George of 4:12¾. On the face of it this may appear like romancing of the athletic order, but wise old track owls have their reasons for adhering to it.

COFFROTH WILL TRY TO MATCH BAT NELSON WITH OWEN MORAN

Amateur Championships Will Be Held at State Capital This Year; Sacramento Athletic Club Comes to Front Fast

OAKLAND TRIBUNE OCTOBER 21—1910

By EDDIE SMITH.

JIMMY COFFROTH has taken up the job of making a match wherein Battling Nelson will appear as one of the principals. Coffroth has started his wires out for a suitable opponent and at this time it looks as if the hard-fighting Dane may yet be one of the attractions in the November professional show. Owen Moran, who has been shouting for a match with Nelson for the past two years, has been offered the chance to try the sturdy Battler out, but as yet he has not been heard from. Lew Powell has also been offered the match and unless he is tied up in the East with other engagements there is a chance that he may be the trial horse for the ex-champion.

The scarcity of first-class lightweights makes it a hard matter to make a match with Nelson, for he is not at all willing to take on men with whom he will not draw big money and the guarantees he demands forbids the promoter taking any chances with the younger set of pugilists. Moran and Nelson would prove a card that would draw a good house, although judging by the showing made by Moran in the contest with Frankie Burns it would seem that the Britisher is not the man he was a year back. Nelson has agreed with Coffroth to lay over in San Francisco for a few days in order that the promoter may have ample time in which to secure a man for him, and in the meantime he will stick to his training at Millett's training resort.

SACRAMENTO GETS AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The amateur championships of the Pacific coast will be held this year at Sacramento, under the supervision of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The date for the contests will be announced within the next few days, but it is expected that it will be some time during the middle of next month. The Sacramento Athletic Club has come to the front with the championshid in broad jumps among the athletic clubs of the coast during the last year, its stride into the limelight of amateur athletics being exceedingly noticeable.

The club held the amateur field and track championships earlier in the year and proved their right to the boxing tournament by the manner in which the events were handled. About eighteen months ago the Sacramento Athletic Club imported Otto Rittler, a product of the Oakland Athletic Clubs, to handle their classes and attend to their athletic meets. Ever since Rittler has had charge of the club things have been going with a hum and there is not the slightest doubt but that the boxing tournament will be as great a success as was the athletic meet.

With the great number of good amateur boxers that Oakland boasts it is hoped that we will be well represented in the championship trials. The weights will run from the bantam to the heavy weight class, so there will be a chance for all. Those desiring information regarding the bouts can get it by writing Otto Rittler at the Sacramento Athletic Club.

YOUNG CORBETT BADLY BEATEN.

As was expected, Young Corbett, one time champion of the world in the feather-weight division, was badly beaten last night at New York by Willie Beecher. It is a shame and a disgrace to the boxing game to match men in the condition of Corbett with any sort of a boxer, and the promoters who staged the show at New York should be severely censured by the press and boxing enthusiasts. Corbett has been unfit for the ring for the past three or four years and why he should be dragged out of retirement and given a little money for taking a beating is more than most any of us can understand.

MacGREGOR'S STARS TO MEET RITTLER'S COLTS

SAC. UN. 10-28-10

MacGregor's All-Star Rugby football team of the Sacramento Athletic club and Rittler's Colts, also of the Athletic club, will meet Sunday morning at Oak Park in the second practice game of the season. The two teams are composed of aspirants for positions on the S. A. C. team. The following players will participate Sunday:

All-Stars—Lewis, Leland, Fox, Bedee, Carson, Salvadore, Folck and Luke, forwards; Scherwin, half; Simmermacher, five-eighths; Putnam and H. Every, wings; MacGregor (captain) and Stehr, center three-quarters.

Colts—Dearborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Schlosser, Azevedo, Sweeney, Blake, forwards; A. Evers, half; Kennedy, five-eighths; Purrington and Gannon, wings; Holmes and Dickson, three-quarters; Ferguson, fullback; Frazier, Lobner and Ebner, extras.

S. A. C. TO PLAY RUGBY AGAINST THE BARBARIANS

SAC. STAR, 11-1-10

Plans for a Rugby game of football between the Sacramento athletic club and the Barbarians, of San Francisco, to be played at Oak Park Thanksgiving day, are under wal. The S. A. C. team is one of the fastest in Northern California and is experiencing difficulty in getting games. Communications have been sent to nearly every town in Northern California in hopes of getting a game but teams and games appear to be scarce. The University Farm at Davis wil probably play the S. A. C. a practice game in the near future.

Rittle's Colts defeated McGregor's Stars by a score of 6 to 0 Sunday morning despite the fact that Rittler played with McGregor's team. Dickson made two tries. The two teams lined up as follows: Rittler's Colts: Forwards, Reerborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Slosser, Azavedo, Swinney Blake, 1-2 A. Evers, 5-8 Kennedy, Wing Forwards, Purington, H. Evers, Center 3-4 Holmes, Full, Dickson, Ferguson. McGregor's Stars: FForwards, Lewis, Stehr, Hart, Beddee, Corson, Salvador, FFolck, Luke, 1-2 Sherwin, 5-8 Simmemacher Wing Forwards, Gannon, Rittler, Center 3-4 Leland, Full, McGregor, Lawlor.

MacGREGOR'S STARS ARE STAMPED ON BY COLTS

SAC. UN. 10-31-10

Harry MacGregor's All-Stars refused to be earth beings yesterday at Oak Park and lost to Rittler Colts 6 to 0. The Stars were so starry they soared above the earth and when they did return from their aerial tour they found it was too late, for the Colts had romped away and left them at the post. MacGregor, leader of the Stars, was the most peeved man in the bunch. He expected a walkover and instead was walked all over.

CLOSE RIVALRY FOR POSITIONS ON RUGBY TEAM

SAC. BEE, OCT. 27-10

ELMER SIMMERMACHER
Who Is Trying for Wing Forward.

The first S. V. I. A. L. game and practically first regular game of Rugby will be played at Oak Park Saturday afternoon, by the Sacramento and Auburn High teams.

Auburn has a very fast team, having played six games and lost two by small scores. They are being coached by Barnicoctt, who played on U. C. team when Coach Twitchell of Sacramento did. A great deal of rivalry exists between Sacramento and Auburn.

If Sacramento wins it will play Chico High here on November 6th.

A referee is to be imported from San Francisco to take charge of the game. He is from the Barbarians.

Rugby is a popular game and the crowd that witnessed the last game was the largest that has ever turned out to see a football game here in some years.

Rivalry for Positions.

Never before in the local High School has such rivalry existed for places on the team. The squad that has shown up for practice is larger than of any previous year. The smallest number of recruits showing up for practice any day being thirty-two.

For the two front-rankers of the season Charlie Selinger, George Hicks, Clif Ernst and Hazzuma are fighting hard for a position on the team. Louis Bruener, Hamill, and Longbotham are out for the back job and all are showing up well. For the two side-rank positions there are more men trying out than for any other position. They are all playing good and are fast and aggressive. The men who are showing up good as side-rankers are Crawford Cox, Jack Ebner, G. Leslie, Riddim and Bybee. Robinson, Rooney, Bedell, Darwin Smith and Wendt are after rear-rank positions.

Wing forward will be taken care of by H. Chan or M. Johnson. At scrum half Elmer Simmermacher and Dean Dillman are trying hard for honors. Ted Gay, Miller, McBride and R. Cole are trying out for the two places at five-eighths. Ross Eldred and Riddim are trying out for the center-three-quarters position, and Tom Valentine, Arthur Rivett, and Alfred Putnam are after the wing three-quarter position. Porter McLaughlin and Robinson are after the full-back position.

ATHLETICS BEAT Y.M.C.A. 29 TO 9 AT BASKETBALL

SAC. STAR. 10-28-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club team easily won the basketball game last evening from the Young Men's Christian Association team by the score of 21 to 9. Between the halves Walter Dyreborg and J. P. Colley, the new physical director, gave an exhibition of wresiling for ten minutes.

The basketball teams lined up as follows:

S. A. C.—Brandon and Luke, forwards; Sweeny, center; Blake and Salvadore, guards.

Y. M. C. A.—Knight and Holmes, forwards; Duke, center; Azevedo and Warren, guards.

Boxing Card Well Under Way.

Professor Rittler and Commissioner MacGregor have been busy all week sending out entry blanks for the coming boxing tournament.

They have sent blanks to the P. A. A. representatives at the following places, and have also invited all amateurs to participate:

Olympic Club, San Francisco, Acme Club, Oakland; Los Angeles Athletic Club; Multonomah Athletic Club, Portland; Seattle Athletic Club; Columbia Park Boys' Club, San Francisco; Barbarians, San Francisco; Irish-American Club, San Francisco; Swedish-American Club, San Francisco; Siamplat Indians, San Francisco; Pastime Athletic Club, San Francisco; Stockton Athletic Club Association; Western Club, San Francisco; Young Men's Hebrew Association, San Francisco, and athletic clubs of British Columbia.

Elaborate P. A. A. medals will be given to the first place men in all of the events, and where there are more than five entries in an event a silver medal will be given for second place.

Billy Johnson has all of the local boys working hard and looks for good results from the club's entries. Joe Erickson is entered in the welterweight class and is already in good condition. He is a little heavy, but a week's hard work will put the minus sign on that. Sally Salvador is entered in the featherweight class. He is improving with every week's work, and is looked for to bring home the featherweight championship.

Pete Muldoon is going to enter both the middle and heavyweight classes. His matches will be interesting, for he will again meet some of his old rivals from Los Angeles, who still think they are better than Pete. He is down to weight and is working well. He is a sure thing in the middleweight class, and will try hard to bring the heavyweight championship to Sacramento.

Geo. Barr will mix things for some one in the lightweight class. Word comes from Marysville that he is hard at work and getting into good shape.

There will be many more entries from Sacramento, as all amateurs are invited to enter the tournament.

All weights are open to all registered amateurs under the ruling that the entries must reach H. M. MacGregor, Sacramento Athletic Club, 910 Ninth street, by November 15. No entry will be accepted unless the registration number of the competitor is given.

Each competitor must fill out a blank, in signing which he certifies that he is a registered amateur according to the laws of the A. A. U. of the United States. The right to reject or strike out entries is reserved.

SAC. WEEKLY OCT. 29-10.

Sam Loveich.

different teams will be expected to be on deck to play.

Coach Rittler will start inside work, trick plays and team work Monday evening, and as cleverness is one of the main features when it comes to counting up the score, a full attendance is looked for.

—o—

The Stars vs. The Colts.

MacGregor's stars will tangle up with Rittler's colts tomorrow morning, at Oak Park, for Rugby honors.

Boxing Instructor Billy Johnson.

Both men have strong teams and a lively contest is looked for.

Professor Rittler has been disappointed in the slim turn-out and lack of Rugby spirit, so he has refused to accept any out-of-town games until the squad gets down to business and work together. He has devised a plan by which the men will get interested in the work, and he is going to spring it Sunday. He wants all of the men to be at the club rooms at 9:30 a. m. sharp, so that they can all go out together. Everyone is invited to put on a suit and come.

The following is the line-up:

Rittler's Colts.	Position.	MacGregor's Stars.
Deerborn	forward	Lewis
Curl	forward	Ebner
Williams	forward	Hart
Palm	forward	Beede
Azevedo	forward	Corson
Sweeney	forward	Salvador
Blake	forward	Folk
Wickham	forward	Luke
A. Evers	scrum half	Sherwin
Kennedy	five-eighths	Simmermacher
Cannon	wing	Putnam
Purrington	wing	Evers
Holmes	three-quarters	Sturn
Dickson	three-quarters	MacGregor
Furgerson	Fullback	Johnson

Handball Tournament.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk has perfected plans for a tournament to determine the championships in the different classes. He will have the entry blanks out by this afternoon, and all those who are interested in the game are asked to sign up.

The players will be divided into classes, called the A division, B division and the Junior division. The first two divisions will play doubles, while the Junior, which will be composed of the younger members of the club, will play for single championships.

Gold medals will be given to the winners of the contests and silver medals to those who finish recond.

This tournament promises to be one of the most warmly contested the club has ever had. It will last throughout the winter and will be figured on the percentage basis, so every team will have to play every other team entered at least once, and teams failing to appear for their games will forfeit to their opponents.

Already a number of the sharks are at work trimming off the rough edges, and from the way the talk runs there will be many hard fought battles this winter.

—o—

To Give the Ladies a Treat.

The exact date for the coming Ladies' Night has not as yet been fixed, but it will be somewhere around the middle of November.

Work has already been started on the all star program, and some fine acts have been signed up.

There will be a number of solos by prominent local singers, several acrobatic acts, and Ed Kay has promised to put on a minstrel act. A number of games in the handball tournament will be played and there will also be a basketball game between the local High School team and a picked team of club players.

An orchestra will render selections and at the completion of the program the gym. floor will be cleared and dancing will be started.

—o—

Athletics and All Stars Play Rugby.

Last Sunday Oak Park was the scene of one of the fastest Rugby games of the season. At the end of the second half the game was tied with a score of 3 to 3, and as the huskies were hungry, Coach Rittler called time. Both teams were composed of Athletic Club members and the class of ball they put up was very encouraging to the coaches.

The Athletics bid fair to have one of the fastest teams in this part of the State. All of the men showed up in good shape. Spence Dickson was on hand to play center three-quarters for the Athletics. He is a bit out of condition on account of his long absence from athletic work, but a little gym. work will make him the same dangerous man of old. Doc Williams showed up well in the scrum and played a hard game all the time. Joe Blake made the Athletics try.

MacGregor, after an absence of more than 20 years from his national game, came out and showed the young ones how easy it is to star. He and Simmermacher, Kennedy and Evers played great ball for the All Stars, and by their good work kept the regulars guessing.

Coach Rittler was well pleased with the results of the game and said that the men were getting into the swing of it more rapidly than he had expected, and that before long they would be ready to meet all comers.

Mr. Platnauer refereed the contest, and is more than delighted with the way the boys are taking to the game.

—o—

Club Chat.

Be on deck tomorrow morning at Oak Park, if you want to make the Rugby team, because Rittler has his pen and pencil working and he is going to pick the team soon.

Green and Gray are entered in the handball tournament, but not on the same team.

"Sally" Salvador is going to put in an awful strong bid for the featherweight title in the boxing tournament.

Archie Stracken, Doc Fay, and Nellis Matthews were down for a tune at the smoker. They were booked under the title of "The Imperial Trio," but when their act was announced all that could be heard was the sound of feet beating a fast retreat down the front stairs.

Billy Johnson says, "When it comes to figuring up the champs in the coming scrap fest, our boys will be pretty near the top, and a number of them will be richer by a gold medal and a championship."

Bob Shorrock ate so much while in Stockton that on his return he did not eat anything for two days. That gives the Stockton natives a good rep. for feeders.

Brother Morsehead also did not care very much about getting around at meal time.

Horton and Beede are hard at work perfecting new stunts for the coming Ladies' Night program. They are improving fast and before long will have an act that will be hard to beat.

While in Stockton, Bud Reidy signed up with a noted dancing teacher of that town for a series of lessons instructing him in a few fancy steps.

Maybe Jefferies did not come back, but MacGregor, after laying Rugby on the shelf for 20 years came back and showed up a good many of the young brows last Sunday. There is certainly a great deal of class to his playing.

This afternoon at the Auburn-Sacramento game, a number of the club members will be playing with the local High School line-up. All of the members should be out to give them a hand and help them land the pennant here.

All of the Rugby men are going to use the gymnasium from now on so their wind will be improved. Where men only play every Sunday, it is hard to keep in condition.

Roy Cothrin arrived home with a nice string of quail last Sunday. He never fails to get a few birds when he goes away.

Ralph Eames, our clever wrestler, will probably represent the club in the annual P. A. A. wrestling championships, which will be held at the Olympic Club in San Francisco, on November 27. The Club Captain will take the matter up with the Athletic Commission at the next meeting.

Punk Thielen also went to Stockton, but he stayed until the next day at noon. He must have sold a bunch of insurance to those Stocktonians, to take a whole night and day, especially when times are so strenuous right here.

Entry blanks for the coming handball tournament may be obtained from Professor Rittler or Commissioner Yoerk.

The Athletic Committee has appointed MacGregor as a committee of one to select and purchase the boxing medals. Just leave it to Mac. They will be some class.

Why can't the S. A. C. bunch start something up Marysville or over Woodland way, like that trip the Natives took? The transportation company will gladly meet them in the middle. Why not start in some Saturday night, have a dance and the next day play a game of baseball or football? It would be a big boost for the club.

Those of the club members who went to Stockton with their jaunty red hats and returned minus them were: Admiral Reidy, P. N., who was as usual in command of the coast cruise; Sir Leo Lobner, who acted as commander-in-chief; Soft Pedal Delano, Punk Thielen, Morsehead of red hat fame, Bobbie Shorrock, and the crowd was chaperoned by Chollie Wahlander.

Club Captain Delano is busy these days answering letters and writing for games of all kinds. He has a number of good football trips planned as soon as the boys get into shape.

Be sure to see the game tomorrow, and put your money on MacGregor's Stars, for they are a fast bunch.

Gymnasium classes are so large that Professor Rittler has divided the class into two sections, and has appointed Beede and Dyeborg class leaders. Both of these men are doing fine work and are a great help to the instructor.

Basketball Commissioner Palm is receiving letters every day, asking for games, and already he has trips fixed to Woodland and Stockton.

FOOTBALL GAME ASSURED.

SUN. NEWS. 11-2-10

Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night received a letter from the St. Mary's College, in Oakland, announcing positively that the football team would be here on Thanksgiving Day to meet the local team. The St. Mary's College has a fast rugby team, and as they are around the Bay where they can learn all the tricks of the contest, they can be expected to put up a lively contest against the locals.

CHAMPION ATHLETE REFUSES TO BE SERIOUS AND THAT'S WHY HE IS CHAMPION, HE SAYS

FRED THOMSON

Special Correspondence.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28—Few people know that Fred Thompson, the all-round amateur champion of the U. S., is just a big boy in spirit, and that this is probably why he has made a great record in athletics. Thomson refuses to take anything seriously, he never worries about the events he will participate in, consequently he goes in believing that he can win if he wants to and nearly always lives up to his expectations. If the other man beats him, all right.

Thomson has the satisfaction of knowning that he is the best man in the United States in track events, taken all together, and so shakes hands with the victor and congratulates him, but determines at the same time to win the next contest, and he almost does it.

At a banquet in Chicago the champion set an example to the whole assemblage by refusing to smoke or drink. None of the other guests smoked or drank, out of deference to Freddie and when he was asked after the dinner why he refused to drink and smoke, he replied that his abstinence from both these habits had been largely instrumental in his capturing the championship and he owed too much to himself and to his friends to begin indulging in them.

OLYMPIANS CHANGE DATE TO HELP S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 11-1-10.

That the bay clubs are doing their utmost to make a success of the State boxing tournament to be held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club here this month is evident from the generous action of the Olympic Club of San Francisco in postponing its wrestling tournament so that it would not conflict with the Sacramento event.

The wrestling tourney was to have been held by the Olympic Club on November 22d, but upon learning that the boxing championships were scheduled for November 21st, 22d and 23d in Sacramento the date was postponed until November 29th. This postponement will enable many bay amateur boxers to attend the tournament in Sacramento. Quite a number of the boxers had enlisted in the wrestling bouts and were not coming to Sacramento, but now that non-conflicting dates have been arranged they will compete in this city.

The Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club intend to make the boxing tournament one of the largest of its kind held in the State, and realizing that it affords an excellent chance for the club to make a name for itself they will boost strong for it. The present indications are that from fifty to seventy-five exponents of the fistic game will compete in the tournament, prominent among these being a group from the local club.

Sacramento Athletic Club to Meet St. Mary's Here on Thanksgiving Day.

Professor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club is planning to have his team meet the Rugby football team of St. Mary's college at Buffalo Park in this city Thanksgiving day. The team has not formally accepted the invitation as yet, but it is understood it will unless something unforeseen arises. In case the St. Mary's team cannot show up the Barbarians will probably come.

The Sacramento Athletic Rugby team organized with the commencement of the season and has played with the high school. The proposed contest with the collegians Thanksgiving will be the club's first regular game.

Among the players on the S. A. C. team is Theodore Schlosser, who used to play intercollegiate, but who likes Rugby and wants to play more of it.

ATHLETIC ACTIVITY WILL BE SHOWN THIS MONTH

S.F. CHRONICLE

Olympic Club Plans a Cross-Country Walk, Football and Swimming Events.

11-1-10.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The month of November promises an active period for the members of the Olympic Club, according to the schedule of events announced during the last few days by the leaders in the various branches of athletics. Next Sunday the winged O members will participate in a cross-country walk to the Big lagoon in Marin county. Commissioner Jack Settle has given notice that the outing party will leave on the 8:45 A. M. boat from the Sausalito ferry for Manzanita, from which station the journey over the Marin hills will cover a distance of four miles.

On Sunday, November 13th, the annual handball tournament for the championship of the club in the different classes will be inaugurated. Entries for the doubles are now being received, and the affair this year is expected to prove more popular than ever. The club now possesses two large handball courts, while the series last winter was conducted in a single court, which permitted of less play. Nick Prendergast is perfecting the details for the big tournament and an announcement of the schedule and prizes to be awarded will be made shortly. Games will also be played in the singles, with honors to be awarded in the four different classes as in the doubles divisions.

OLYMPICS VS. BARBS.

One week following the commencement of the handball tournament, the annual football game between the winged "O" fifteen and the Barbarian Club will be contested on the Presidio Athletic Grounds, Sunday, November 20th.

This will be the third meeting of the two club teams, the Olympic Rugby players having won the last two games with the rival team. This game was originally dated for Saturday, November 19th, one week following the Stanford-California match, but in view of the decision of St. Mary's and Santa Clara colleges to play on that day the club representatives are considering Sunday for this game.

The wrestling tournament announced to take place at the St. Francis Hotel on the evening of November 21st has been postponed until the 29th in order not to interfere with the Pacific Association boxing tournament at Sacramento on the 21st, 22d and 23d of this month. Several of the Olympic wrestlers are anxious to try conclusions in both tournaments, for which reason it has been decided to change the date of the wrestling matches. The latter events will be to decide the Pacific Association championships and will take place in the Colonial ballroom of the big hotel.

During the last week of the month Commissioner Stewart will conduct a series of swimming races in the club tank on Post street. First mention of aquatics in the small tank now enjoyed by the club members was not taken seriously, but the skill with which many of the first-class swimmers are negotiating the laps for the various distances has developed unusual rivalry, and a series of events will be announced for the latter part of November.

TO NAME BOXING JUDGES FOR TOURNEY

SAC. BEE.

MEETING AT S. A. C.—SWOLLENBERG LIKELY TO REFEREE.

11-5-10

Commissioners of the Sacramento Athletic Club will meet to-night to decide upon final arrangements for the championship boxing tourney of the Pacific Coast, that will be held at the old Pavilion, Sixth and M Streets, November 21st, 22d and 23d. One of the important questions to come up is the submission of judges and the referee, although it is practically certain that Charley Swollenberg will be chosen for this post.

The matter of judges will be a different proposition, as, while several local men are likely to be appointed, it may be that the A. A. U. will wish to put an official in that position. Notices will be sent out to various clubs throughout the Coast that the entries must all be in by November 15th. Although a big entry list is expected, Commissioner Ancil Hoffman thinks that the contests will finally resolve themselves down to eight bouts each night for three nights.

From the tenor of letters received by Hoffman, it is clear that a large array of talent will be on hand, especially from Los Angeles and San Francisco.

ENTRIES COME IN FAST FOR P. A. A. BOXING BOUTS

SAC. STAR 11-1-10

The entries for the championship boxing tournament of the Pacific Amateur Athletic Associaton to be held in Sacramento November 21st, 22nd and 23rd, are coming in fast. About fifteen clubs will be represented Some of the fastest and most clever boxers on the coast will participate in these championship bouts.

All of the bay city clubs will send up their best men. The Olympic, Pastime, Irish American, Reliance, Acme and other clubs are to send the cream of their fighters. Members of the Multonomah club of Portland and Seattle Athletic clubs will participate Los Angeles will send representatives. In all there will be over 100 boxers all trying to win the championship of their class.

The Sacramento Athletic club will have a strong entry. Pete Muldoon, two-time champion of the Northwest, middle and heavyweight, will represent the S. A. C. in these divisions. Muldoon is practically conceded the championshipp of these two weights. Several boxers who have fallen before the mighty wallop of this shifty miller have written the champ asking their chances in the coming tournament. The one important question to them is "Are you going to enter?" Muldoon has advised them to come and has also stated that he is going to enter.

Billie Gore, Salvador, Errickson and others of the local clubs boxers will be seen at the tournament.

There will be on an average of ten to twelve bouts of an evening. The first night commences the elimination process. The second night will be the semi-finals and the third night will be the championships. There will be five classes. The 117 pound class, light weight, welter weight, middle and heavy weight.

Single admisson to the bouts, whch will be held at the Civic Pavilion, will be $1.00. Reserved seats will be $1.50. Season tickets will be $2.25 and a reserved season ticket will be $3.50. Club members will be 50 cents and 50 cents for reserved seats.

The bouts will be three round and a fourth round if necessary. All of the boxing will be under strict P. A. A. rules. Judges will decide the winner. Competent referees will be selected.

Sacramento High Rugby Team Plays Old Rival Saturday

The Rugby team of the Sacramento High School expects to start a new epoch in school athletics this year by winning the pennant in the S. V. I. A. L. games, the first of which will be played to-morrow with the clever Auburn team.

For years it has been Sacramento High's main ambition to defeat Auburn. It has been successful in all lines of sport but football, and up to now the school is even in the number of football games won and lost. Last year the Auburn team won.

For the past month Coach Twitchell has been coaching the boys every afternoon, and now he has a team which he is sure will bring the championship of the S. V. I. A. L. to the school. Tom Valentine was chosen captain, and in him the team has a good leader.

Coach Fred Twitchell says: "I realize that when the boys go on the field to-morrow they will have to fight hard for victory, but I am perfectly confident that the boys I have selected to represent Sacramento are a bunch of hard-fighting players, and will do their school credit. All of the squad will be in suits to-morrow, as I have not chosen any regular substitutes."

The fifteen men that will play to-morrow are: Hicks and Hayashi, in the front rank; Hammil, Riddion and Cox, as side rankers; D. Smith and Leslie, in back ranks.

All of the men in the scrum are new men in the football game, except Wing Forward Chan, who played on last year's intercollegiate team. Elmer Zimmermacher will play scrum half; Richie Cole, a new recruit, and Ted Gay, last year's intercollegiate star and captain, will play the two five-eighths positions; Ross Eldred will play center three-quarters; Putnam and Captain Valentine will look out for the wing positions, and Porter McLaughlin will play the full-back position.

To Wrestle For Club in Tourney

SAC. UN. 11-4-10

EMES - O

Sacramento Athletic Club to Enter Men in P. A. A. Event Nov. 29.

Ralph Eames, the Sacramento Athletic club star wrestler, will represent the Sacramento club in the Pacific Athletic association's wrestling championship tournament at the St. Francis hotel November 29, in San Francisco. Evmes is one of the best wrestlers in this section of the state, and is a pupil of Wrestling Instructor Walter Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic club. He has been a devotee of the sport for many years, and is looked upon as an easy winner in the 158-pound class.

The wrestling championships were at first granted to the Western Athletic club, but irregularities in the conduct of the club caused the P. A. A. to revoke its grant and award it to the Olympic club, under whose auspices the events will be conducted.

One or two other men may be sent to San Francisco for the event, but so far no one else has been named.

Entries for the handball tournament which will commence this months will close on the 13th. George Koerk, handball commissioner, has decided to divide the contestants into three classes —A, B and C. In this way the athletes will only meet players they stand some chance with. Up to date fifteen entries have been received.

The athletic commissioners will meet at the club Saturday night for the purpose of making further plans for the P. A. A. boxing championships to be held here November 21, 22 and 23. No entries outside of those from the Sacramento Athletic club have been received, but it is yet early in the month and other California clubs have plenty of time yet. The big clubs around San Francisco bay have all promised to enter men in all the events.

The members who are conditioning for the championships will go on a cross-country hike Sunday, starting from the clubrooms in the morning.

RITTLER KEPT BUSY

SUN. NEWS

LIVELY TIMES AHEAD AT SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB.

11-6-10

Boxing Tournament On the 21st, 22nd and 23rd Will Bring Best Amateurs in the State Together.

Professor Rittler, athletic instructor of the Sacramento Athletic Club, is the busiest individual in the entire city at the present time. In the first place he has a big class of handball players getting in shape for the coming tournament. Then he is rustling for all he knows how to find rugby teams to go against his aggregation so it will be in prime condition for a big game with St. Mary's College which he proposes to pull off at Oak Park on Thanksgiving Day. If he completes arrangements for the contest it promises to be one of the most interesting on the coast. In addition to this, he is kept on the jump completing arrangements for the amateur boxing tournament to be held in Armory Hall on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd, at which the leading amateur boxers of the entire coast will be in attendance.

The local club will have a husky lot of exponents of the art of self defense on hand to meet all comers and each evening there will be from ten to twelve three-round bouts.

The clubs to be represented will be the Los Angeles Club, the Olympic, Seattle, Portland, Acme of Oakland, Pastime, Irish-American and the Swedish-American, with perhaps a few others.

The local club will be represented in the heavyweight class by Pete Muldoon, in the 145 class by Joe Erickson, Noyes and Goulard; in the 135 pound class by Barr, Gore, Wallace, Fisher, Sollers and Hoffman; in the 125 pound class by Wickham, Muskrat and others; in the 115 pound class by Salvidore, Azavedo and Bertagno, and in the 110 pound class by Red Murry and McCulloch.

Entries in the coming handball tournament will close on the 13th when the players will be separated into three classes, A B and C, according to their abilities and a schedule of games and class rules will be adopted. Up to date the following teams have entered: H. Duval and W. Pugh, L. Lobner and A. Strachan, R. Sellers and R. Emes, D. McCullough and J. Barnes, C. Wahlander and R. Thorrock, G. Zimmermacher and A. Payne, H. Bronson and D. Gallup, W. Rose and J. Ross, Fens and Mattson, Geo. Yoerk and R. Mansfield. There are a score or more of other crack players who will enter before the time expires so the tournament should be one of the best ever given in this city.

TEAMS ARE DRAWN FOR TOURNAMENT

SAC. UN. 11-12-10

Annual S. A. C. Handball Event Will Start at Club Sunday Morning.

Handball Commissioner George Yoerk of the Sacramento Athletic club held the drawings yesterday for the teams to start the annual tournament Sunday morning. Eight teams in the first class were drawn and also eight in the second class. These teams will contest in four sets commencing at 9 a. m. and continuing until 11 a. m. Both courts will be used exclusively by the contesting teams entered in the tournament during the two hours of play.

Commissioner Yoerk wants it understood that the teams must show up on time scheduled for them, otherwise the games will be declared forfeited. Yoerk says he will tolerate no foolishness this year and will insist that the teams obey the rules. Following are the teams drawn last night and the hours when they are supposed to start play:

First Class.

9 a. m.—Ducal and Pugh vs Delano and Tate.

9:30—Root and Shaw vs McCulloch and Warren.

10—Bronson and Gallup vs Mansfield and Yoerk.

10:30—Lobner and Strachan vs Bacon and Gray.

Second Class.

9:30—Toland and Wahlander vs Senf and Watson.

10.—Scollars and Emes vs Rose and Ross.

10:30—Clark and Sprague vs Payne and Shannon.

V. Marston has been elected referee and will officiate in all the games.

S. A. C. TO PLAY ST. MARY'S THANKSGIVING

SAC. UN. 11-6-10

The Sacramento Athletic Club will furnish the sporting event of Thanksgiving day this year in a game of Rugby football with the St Mary's college team. Professor Otto Rittler of the S. A. C. yesterday received a letter of acceptance to his request for a game from Brother Joseph of St. Mary's. Brother Joseph said that he would bring the best players to Sacramento with him, and expected to put up a good game. Rittler will also use his best players. The game will be played at Buffalo park.

The athletic club team will practice this morning at McKinley park. The All Stars will meet the Rittler Colts.

All of the teams are getting into shape and Commissioner Palm is writing letters for games. He has already written to Woodland, Gridley, Stockton, Chico, Lodi, Oroville, Elk Grove, Grass Valley and Auburn, and although the season is a little early as yet, he has received good news from almost all of his letters.

Last Thursday's game at the Y. M. C. A. proved that he has a husky bunch of men and that they know the game. Their team work is excellent, considering the little practice they have had.

Monday the heavyweights and the 145-pound team will practice and next Thursday the lightweights and the 120-pound team will meet. The teams will alternate practice nights each week. This has to be done because all of the teams wish to practice on Monday evenings, and as the squads are large, two might have to be used, so each team will get Monday every other week.

Next week the heavyweight team will play the fast Y. M. C. A. team, and the lightweights are going to meet the High School team next Friday or Saturday evening.

Donate Medals.

Through the kindness of Tim Haggerty, William Gormley, Ed. Kay and C. E. Trainor, the Athletic Committee has been relieved of the responsibility of obtaining medals for four of the winners of the coming boxing tournament.

These gentlemen are all members of the Athletic Club and have shown a generous spirit in offering medals. Each of these will have the name of the giver and the bout will be known by his name.

A number of prominent Sacramento men will undoubtedly furnish the rest of the first-place medals.

—o—

Athletes to Hike.

Billy Johnson is going to take all of the men who are preparing for the coming boxing tournament for a walk tomorrow morning. Every one who wishes a little exercise will be welcome to join the bunch. These little jaunts will be taken every Sunday from now on to the date of the big event. This is an excellent way to help the boys' wind and a few of the trips will do a world of good.

The crowd will probably go down the Riverside Road and will make a stop at the baths on their return trip.

—o—

Commission Meets Tonight.

The Board of Athletic Commissioners will meet tonight in the Directors' room to settle a number of important matters. Plans for the coming boxing tournament will be discussed and the coming Thanksgiving Rugby games plans will be settled.

Commissioner MacGregor will display a number of cuts of medals for the approval of the Commission, which is to decide which one they like the best.

There are several minor matters pertaining to the coming bouts that have to be settled, and they will all be threshed over tonight.

—o—

A Thanksgiving Game.

The Athletics Rugby team will probably play their first match game of Rugby on Thanksgiving day, when they will either meet the fast St. Mary's team or the Barbarians from San Francisco, at the Buffalo Park grounds.

Professor Rittler has been in communication with the managers of these squads for some time, and unless some unforeseen obstacle presents itself the Sacramento Rugby fans will see one of the fastest games that was ever played in Sacramento.

The club boys are fast rounding into shape and team work is all that is lacking. A few more Sundays at Oak Park under Coach Rittler's eye will fix that.

The club will play the local High School before Thanksgiving, if it is possible to arrange a date with the students.

The club's Rugby sweaters arrived last Saturday and they are all the class in the world. They are made of black worsted and have a V-shaped neck. They are very light in weight and the yellow-winged S on the left side shows up great.

—o—

Wrestling Tournament Postponed.

A large number of the Bay athletes who were signed up to compete in the coming boxing tournament, also so wished to take a chance in the wrestling tournament which was to be held by the P. A. A. at the Olympic Club on November 22, so the commissioners of the Olympic Club changed the date to November 29.

This will come as very gratifying news to the local club commission, as the changing of dates will mean a larger number of boxing entries. They intend to make this one of the biggest athletic features ever held in Sacramento, or in the State, and this will help them to a great extent.

—o—

The Boxing Tournament.

Already a large number of speedy men from San Francisco are signed up for the boxing tournament and entries are being received every day from all parts of the State. It is expected that there will be fully one hundred boxers signed up before November 21, when the tournament opens.

All of the Sacramento boys are showing a marked improvement and there is no reason why they should not win a number of the championships. They have all started training, and when it is time to compete they will be in better condition than they have been in any previous matches.

The tickets for the boxing tournament, which is to take up three days, can be obtained from Professor Rittler or Roy Cothrin at the following prices:

Single admission to the pavilion, $1.
Single admission to ringside, 50c.
Ticket good for three admissions to pavilion, $2.25.
Ticket good for three admissions and ringside seats, $3.50.

—o—

Handball Tournament.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk is receiving entries every day for the coming handball tournament. It will be the largest tournament that Sacramento has ever seen. The list of entries will close Sunday, November 13, and the first game will be played the following Sunday morning.

The junior class as yet has no entries, and if the younger men of the club do not start something soon their class will be dropped. The Commission, at their next meeting, will arrange the game schedule, select the referee, timers and scorers, and will also frame up a set of rules.

Pugh and Doval were the first team to sign up, and the other teams thus far secured are Leo Lobner and Strachen; Wahlander and Shorrock; J. Simmermacher and Paine, and Sollars and Eames.

Men who have signed up but have not selected partners are: George Green, Busher Gallup, Jim Gray, Bronson, McColloch, MacGregor, Earl Donald, Sid Root, Clarence Shaw, Marston, Pursell, Holten, Maston, I. Blake, Trainor, Luke, Cox, Brandon, Lovich, Salvador, Tate, and Gus Wenzel.

The following shows the places that the leading teams held in last year's championship handball games.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Tate and Wenzel	18	2	.900
Arcega and Morris	17	4	.810
Baron and Shorrock	8	7	.533
Barnes and Trayer	8	7	.533
Nathan and Doval	9	9	.500
Stracken and Burns	7	8	.467
Bronson and Lucy	6	9	.400

In the final series for the championship, Tate and Wenzel defeated Arcega and Morris two games by the score of 21-7:21-3, and lost the last, 17-21.

—o—

Colts Win by a Nose.

Rittler's Colts defeated MacGregor's All-Star Rugby aggregation last Sunday at Oak Park by the score of 6 to 3. The game was very even throughout and both teams showed a decided improvement over their previous practice games this season.

A number of the All-Stars were not on deck Sunday, so Macgregor had to put in new men. Coach Rittler played a wing for the All-Stars, and MacGregor attributes his loss to this, as he claims Rittler is a jinx to his men.

If the fellows continue their good work it will be but a short time before they start to take trips around to the different cities where the English game is played.

Club Chat.

Be on deck at 8:30, Sunday, if you want to take a stroll with Billy Johnson. You will have a good time.

The Rugby team is having a hard time getting games. Letters have been written to Chico, Grass Valley, Marysville, Nevada City and Woodland, but none of these towns seem to want to play the club.

Yoerk and Green play some hot old handball games every day during the noon hour. Green wears a very pretty gray swimming suit, while Yoerk is attired in a jersey of a delicate blue.

Hurrah! Sally Salvador has a position, and will no longer be one of the Knights of rest. He is pasting up signs and is stuck on the job.

Playing cards for money in the club rooms has been given the death sign by the Board of Directors, and from now on any member who is seen receiving or paying money over or near a card table will be liable to suspension. So if you have any money matters to settle, keep out of the card room.

Billy Gormley, Ed. Kay, Tim Haggerty and Charles Trainor all think their medals are going to stay right here in Sacramento, and they come pretty near being right.

Boost for the big Thanksgiving game. St. Mary's will most likely play the club.

November is a good month as far as athletics are concerned. There is not a week that something isn't doing.

Nothing will be done about the ladies' night until after the boxing tournament.

Get all of your friends lined up for the Thanksgiving game. It will be great.

Pap. Pearl would like to know why Schlitz Sollars sat in the front row of the Grand when the aeroplane girl was there.

Grady wants to know if anyone has seen a loose watch. Some one touched him while he was at Loomis.

Gene Palm is planning a little Thanksgiving tour for his basketball boys. He has a couple of good trips in sight, but has as yet not decided on anything definite.

The coming handball tournament promises to be a hot one. There are some good players signed up.

Spence Dickson is fast getting into good shape and by the 24th he will be in the pink of condition.

Spike Corson has a debate every night with himself. He is trying to decide whether he likes Rugby or not. On one side he argues that it is a good, lively game, while on the other side he thinks principally of his poor skinned shins.

Eddie Morris is getting into shape for the handball tournament. He figures on doing something great this year, and says, "That gold medal looks good to me."

MacGregor's knee was not working right Sunday, so he could not get into the game as he wanted to, but even at that he made a number of the colts paw the dust.

Russell and Holten have started in to work up some new stunts for their club swinging act for ladies' night. Already their act is above the average professional stunt, and the club members are always glad to see them on the program.

By the way, the Schlitz twins, Sollars and Hoffman, are fast losing their avoirdupois and are thinking of winding up for the big fest. Their knowledge of the game will be a stumbling block for some of the young ones who think they know all the tricks.

Even if Rittler was playing against his own team, he did good work, for he dumped a number of his huskies pretty hard, last Sunday.

Gray and Green have suspended road work on account of the chilliness of the morning atmosphere.

Purrington has hit his gait at wing j b. He takes to Rugby like Sollars takes to Schlitz, and he promises to be a fast man at wing.

Pompadour MacDonough is going after handball honors. It is understood that he and Chollie Wahlander are entered in the junior class. Some of the Rah! Rah! boys will sure lose out if the two ex-collegians ever get started.

Club Captain Delano is signed up for the handball tournament, and is taking advantage of all his spare moments to work up all the fine points of the game, so that when Commissioner Yoerk starts things he will be near the head of the procession.

If the cold weather keeps up, Bob Shorrock is going to start an ice skating section in the club. What kind of ice he is going to use is a mystery.

Josef Erickson is still bothered with those nightmares of his. The latest is that he is now, owing to the death of Stanley Ketchel, the undisputed middleweight champion of the world.

New members are joining the club every day and the outlook for a big winter is good. People are learning that a little gym. work makes them feel a hundred per cent better.

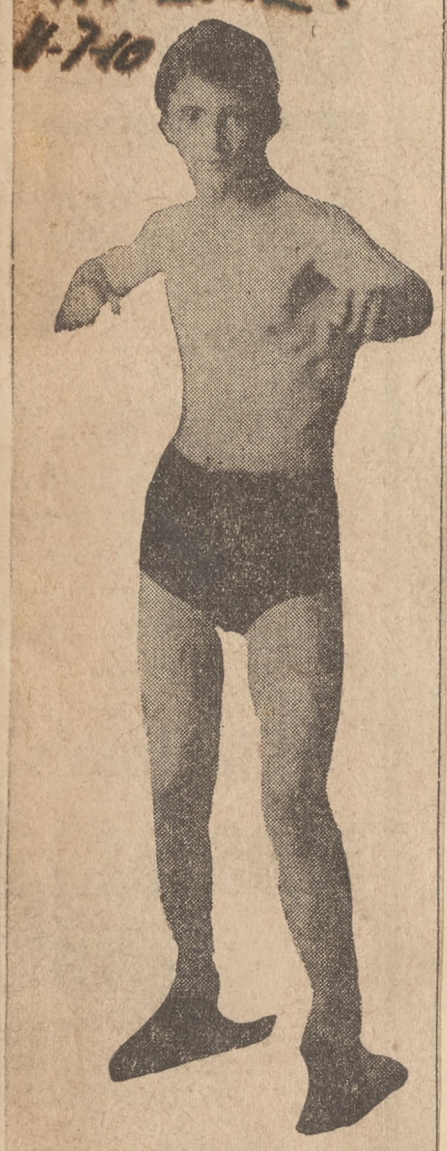
BIG RUGBY MATCH IS ARRANGED BY S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 11-7-10



AZEVEDO,
One of the S. A. C.'s Boxers and Football Players.

What promises to be one of the best Rugby games ever seen here has been arranged between the Sacramento Athletic Club squad and the St. Mary's team of Oakland for Thanksgiving Day. This is the first time one of the teams from that section has come to this city. Brother Joseph, athletic moderator for St. Mary's, closed the deal with Otto Ritler of the S. A. C.

Ritler has a good squad to draw on, including one former St. Mary's player—this is Dixon—who captained the St. Mary's squad last year, playing center 3-4. Deerborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Schlosser, Azevedo, Swinney, Parington, Hart, Corsan, Cox and one or two others will furnish material for the forwards. E. Simmermacher, Sherwin and A. Evers are half-back material. Holmes, Dickson, Luke and McGregor may play 3-4. Blake will be tried on wing and H. Evers, Putnam and Gannon will also be worked out there. Ferguson and Gannon will be tried at fullback.

Many School Players.

Many school players are in the squad. Parington, Holmes and Swinney came from Woodland High; Zummermach was half on Sacramento High. Evers and Kennedy played formerly in Australia. McGregor, one of the veterans of the team, played in Canada. Hart, Cox, Smith and Putnam are all Sacramento High players. Sherwin played on Berkeley High and Boone's Academy. They may be tried at 5-8.

Woodland, Chico and Marysville, and possibly Auburn, may be played before meeting St. Mary's.

Basketball Grows Active.

Basketball squads are getting into lively action at the club. The lightweights have changed their names to the Spartans. This team made a strong bid for the cup in the P. A. C. tourney. Sam Lovich is captain. A squad of nine is practising and they are open for games with teams under 130. They may be addressed through George Palm, handball director at the S. A. C.

The Unlimiteds of the club will play the Y. M. C. A. team at the Y. M. C. A. this week. The S. A. C.'s will also play the Sacramento High at the club. Paul Amick will captain the club team.

George Yorke, handball commissioner, announces that entries for the tournament will close November 13th. A Committee will put the players in four classes. They will draft rules and appoint an umpire. The first game probably will be played November 20th. Teams already entered are H. Davis and W. Pugh, Leo Lobner and Arch Stracher, R. Sallars and E. Emes, B. McDonough and J. Barnes, C. Wahlender and R. Sharrock, C. Zimmermacher and A. Payne, Bronson and Gallup, Rose and Ross, Senf and Matson, Toland and Wahlender, Carson and Doc Williams, George York and R. Mansfield.

Swollenberg to Referee.

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman presided over a meeting at which Charley Swollenberg was picked as referee for the tournament of November 21st to 23d. Judges will be chosen when the A. A. U. is heard from. George McCloud will represent the club in the 135 and 145 pound classes at San Francisco November 29th, in the Olympic Club tourney.

It was decided to postpone Ladies' Night at the club until November 29th.

LISTEN TO RITTLER AND HIS CHALLENGE

SAC. STAR. 11-8-10.

Physical Director Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has his war paint on and his trusty scalping knife in one hand, two axes, a revolver and a large defi in the other, is on the trail of a mysterious "All-Star" football team. This team, according to members of the athletic club, is managed by A. Putnam, former full back for the Sacramento high school team, and G. Clarke, former manager of several baseball teams and promoter of sports.

"Announce for me that the Sacramento Athletic club team will play them any time and any place and give the proceeds to an orphan home or to some other deserving cause," said Rittler in discussing the but little known of and obscure team.

"For several weeks I have been trying in every way to get a football game."

"This so-called 'All-Star' team has been in existence for quite a while if I have been informed right. If they would talk less and do something I would not care, but all this talk and no action don't go with me."

"If they are really anxious for a game they know very well where they can get it."

Both Putnam and Clarke are members of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

S.A.C. HAS A FINE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK NOW

SAC. STAR. 11-8-10.

The final arrangements for a football game between St. Mary's college and the Sacramento Athletic Club for Thanksgiving day at Buffalo Park are completed. The game will be played in the afternoon and all is in readiness for a gridiron struggle.

Director Rittler has had considerable difficulty in securing a game but at last completed arrangements with the college team. For some weeks the athletic club squad has been practicing and is now in shape to play the game of their lives.

At present there are about 30 on the squad. Many of them are experienced footballers and under the guidance of Director Rittler, a fast Rugby team will be developed. None of the positions have as yet been decided. Squad practice daily is the order. The men show up regularly and in practice have got team work down to a fine point.

All indications are that the Sacramento Athletic Club will have one of the fastest teams in the state. At the club is material enough. Belonging to the club are several hundred of the best athletes in Northern California. Many of them are runners and football players of ability. On the squad these men have all been placed and each and every one is working hard for his position. From this bunch of material a really invincible team should be picked.

Following are the names of a few who are making a fine showing on the squad and who are probable candidates for the S. A. C. team:

Reerborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Slosser, Azavedo, Swinney, Blake, Evers, Kennedy, Purington, H. Evers, Holmes, Full, Dickson, Ferguson, Lewis, Stehr, Hart, Beddee, Corson, Salvador, Flock, Luke, Sherwin, Simmermacher, Gannon, Leland, McGregor, Lawlor.

In the St. Mary's team the Athletic club will meet a fast aggregation. The college team recently lost a close game to Stanford and played the University of Nevada off of their feet. They are planning to give the athletic club a run for the game and have gone into training for the game.

SAC. BEE. 11-8-10

St. Mary's Squad Is Working Hard for Sacramento

OAKLAND, November 8.—St. Mary's team is hard at work getting into shape for the games with Santa Clara and the Sacramento Athletic Club. The first game is that with Santa Clara, November 19th. Thomas Horan has been appointed leader of the songs and yell for the crowd which will accompany the team on both games. Raymond Miller has been named as his assistant. They have prepared a song entitled "St. Mary's for Mine," to be sung at Sacramento.

Coach Faulkner is giving his men putting and passing work and putting them through scrum formations. In order to prevent the men from getting stale after the Santa Clara game he is giving them light gymnasium work. He believes this prevents the players from becoming stiff or muscle-bound, and makes them less liable to injury in games. Cecil Martin is handling this end of training in the Alumni gymnasium.

SACRAMENTO CLUB TO HOLD BOXING TOURNAMENT

S.F. CHRONICLE

Pacific Association Championships Will B Decided in the Capital City.

11-9-10

The annual boxing championships of the Pacific Athletic Association will be held this year under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club in its gymnasium on the evenings of November 21st, 22d and 23d.

The Sacramento Club has sent out entry blanks to the various clubs included in the membership of the association and also to clugs in the Northwest Association and the Southern California Association.

H. A. McGregor, who has charge of the arrangements for the contests, is making elaborate preparations to make the tournament a success. and he promises all visiting boxers that the Sacramento Club will do everything possible to make tnem comfortable in the Capital City during their stay there.

The club holding the tournament has a number of clever aspirants for championship honors, and it is probable that several members of the Olympic Club will take part in the matches. A number of boxers who have not been given much opportunity to show their skill through the lack of tournaments for strictly amateur boxers, will be seen in this tournament and some good competition is assured.

The entries close on Tuesday, November 15th, with H. A. McGregor, at the Sacramento Athletic Club, 910 Ninth street, Sacramento, and no entry will be accepted unless the competitor is a properly registered amateur.

A gold medal emblematic of the chabmpionship of the Pacific Association will be awarded to the winner in each class, and a silver medal will be given in each class where the number of entries is five or more.

The following are the classes into which entries will be divided:

Bantam weight, 105 pounds and under; feather weight, 115 pounds and under; special weight, 125 pounds and under; light weight, 135 pounds and under; welter weight, 145 pounds and under; middle weight, 158 pounds and under; heavy weight, 158 pounds and over.

BOXING ENTRIES TO CLOSE NEXT TUESDAY

S.F. POST 11-9-10

Arrangements for the Pacific Coast amateur boxing championships at Sacramento have been completed. The entries will close Tuesday of next week. The events will be held at the Capitol City November 21 to 23. The boxers must accompany their applications for entrance in the tournament by full amateur credentials. ATHLETIC TEAM MEETS GRASS VALLEY NOV. 13

SAC. BEE. 11-10-10

The Sacramento Athletic club Rugby team will meet the Grass Valley fifteen in that city November 13 and a return game will be given the Grass Valley players in this city December 4. The Grass Valley team wanted to come here November 27, but on account of the game with St. Mary's college on Thanksgiving day it was decided to postpone the meeting until December 4.

BASKETBALL WORK NOW IN FULL BLAST

SAC. BEE. 11-8-10

Basketball practice was taken up in lively style at the S. A. C. last night, and Commissioner Eugene Palm is watching the boys to see that they get into the proper physical trim. Two squads were at work in the gymnasium, and particular attention was paid to practice at field goals.

Captain Amick, of the Unlimiteds, had nine men at work. They were Eames, center; Purrington, center; Swinney, center; Helems, forward; Knight, forward; Azevedo, guard; Narren, guard, and Blake, center. The men were made up into teams and alternated in positions. The 120-pounders and the Spartans were also out. Captain Lovich had Luke, forward; Duke, center; Brandon, forward; Donald, center and guard; Cowie, guard, and Sprague, guard, in an informal workout, playing five at a time.

Season Ends February.

The season here will continue until the latter part of February. The Unlimiteds expect to play Gridley, Oroville, Woodland, Chico and Stockton. Several games are expected with the Y. M. C. A. and the High School. A return match with the U. S. independents is also offered if that team wishes it.

Much interest has been aroused in the football game with St. Mary's team. St. Mary's has twice defeated the freshmen of the University of California, and lost its first game of the season to Stanford by the score of 3 to 0. The local men are hard at work for the event. Brother Joseph, of St. Mary's, writes that his men are also in good trim.

Boxers Look Promising.

Billy Johnson, boxing instructor of the local squad, says his men are in such shape that he has hopes of taking a large majority of the bouts, or possibly making a clean sweep, no matter what teams come here for the tourney commencing November 21st. Some of the men working out for the various classes are 105 pounds, Murray and McCullough; 115 pounds, Azevedo, Salvador and Muskrat; 135 pounds, Billy Gore, Hopman, Sollars; 145 pounds, Noyes, Erickson, Lord; 158 pounds, Muldoon.

Ralph Eames and McCloud, who will represent the club at the Olympic meet in San Francisco, were hard at work in the gymnasium last night tugging and hauling each other about the mat. Both are in first-class shape.

Pacific Association Championships Will B Decided in the Capital City.

The annual boxing championships of the Pacific Athletic Association will be held this year under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club in its gymnasium on the evenings of November 21st, 22d and 23d.

The Sacramento Club has sent out entry blanks to the various clubs included in the membership of the association and also to clugs in the Northwest Association and the Southern California Association.

H. A. McGregor, who has charge of the arrangements for the contests, is making elaborate preparations to make the tournament a success, and he promises all visiting boxers that the Sacramento Club will do everything possible to make tnem comfortable in the Capital City during their stay there.

The club holding the tournament has a number of clever aspirants for championship honors, and it is probable that several members of the Olympic Club will take part in the matches. A number of boxers who have not been given much opportunity to show their skill through the lack of tournaments for strictly amateur boxers, will be seen in this tournament and some good competition is assured.

The entries close on Tuesday, November 15th, with H. A. McGregor, at the Sacramento Athletic Club, 910 Ninth street, Sacramento, and no entry will be accepted unless the competitor is a properly registered amateur.

A gold medal emblematic of the chabmpionship of the Pacific Association will be awarded to the winner in each class, and a silver medal will be given in each class where the number of entries is five or more.

The following are the classes into which entries will be divided:

Bantam weight, 105 pounds and under; feather weight, 115 pounds and under; special weight, 125 pounds and under; light weight, 135 pounds and under; welter weight, 145 pounds and under; middle weight, 158 pounds and under; heavy weight, 158 pounds and

SAC. STAR.
IS CLARKE'S COME-BACK

"Brother Rittler is in the right church but in the wrong pew," said C. Clarke, former manager of the Sacramento Athletic Club Baseball team, in reference to an article published in the Star yesterday about an "All Star" football team said to be managed by Putnam and Clarke, of the Sacramento Athletic club.

"We know nothing of any 'All Star' football team, do not manage it, do not want to, and have nothing to do with any football team.

"Mr. Rittler's little speech about his team is very nice. In fact it is fine.

"Tell Mr. Rittler that we think that he has one of the finest teams in Northern California.

"That he has so fine a team that we will bet him $50 that St. Mary's beats them on Thanksgiving Day.

"As for that 'All Star' team, Brother Rittler got a big start on the wrong foot.

"We are sorry that we have no 'All Star' team to play Rittler's aggregation with.

"The proceeds would do some charitable organization a great deal of good but Rittler has another guess about that team."

"If he has so much confidence in his team we have $50 that talks. We will post it with the 'Star.' Beyond this we have nothing else to say."

Championship Tourney at Sacramento Will Attract Many Classy Ring Artists

S.F. — CALL

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 9.—The amateur boxing championships of the various divisions, from the bantam to the heavyweight, will be held in this city on the nights of November 21, 22 and 23, under the auspices of the Sacramento athletic club and with the sanction of the Pacific amateur association.

This will be the first real bonafide amateur boxing carnival that has been held in the state for more than two years. The program is a very complete one, and, judging from the list of entries, the northern part of the state will be very well represented, especially San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. Entries are also expected from the south.

The classification is the same as that used by the Olympic club in all its tournaments held in the past and the scale is as follows: Bantams, 115 pounds and under; featherweights, 122 pounds and under; special, 125 pounds and under; lightweights, 135 pounds and under; welterweights, 145 pounds and under; middleweights, 158 pounds and under; heavyweights, all over 158 pounds.

H. A. McGregor, athletic director of the Sacramento club and one of the best known amateur sporting authorities in the state, will act as referee for all the contests, which will be the regulation three round affairs, with an additional round, should the judges so order.

Up to the present time, more than 50 boxes of various weights and sizes have entered. Included among these are men from the Sacramento, Olympic, Pastime, United Railroad and Mission clubs. Sacramento will pin its faith to Pete Muldon, a welterweight who has managed to dispose of all comers in the capital city.

The merchants of the city are taking a lively interest in the affair and have donated handsome silver loving cups, gold, silver and bronze medals, which will be awarded to the winners in each class. The entries for the tournament will close on November 15 and all inspiring amateur boxers who wish to compete should send in their names, rating, amateur standing and the like to H. A. McGregor, in care of the Sacramento athletic club.

HERE'S WHAT RITTLER SAYS TO CLARK
SAC STAR. 11-10-10

Charles Clarke is fibbing when he says that he knows nothing about an All-Star football team," said Physical Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club in reference to an article in The Star of last night. "Clarke is also a four-flusher and is passing the buck. I have conclusive evidence that Clarke and Putnam had a team and furthermore, they tried to get several of the players on my team to play with them. When they deny all knowledge of the so-called All-Star team they are not telling the truth.

"I gave them challenge after challenge, which they declined to accept and paid no attention to. When I say that my team will play them for the championship of Sacramento and the proceeds will go to an orphan home they come back with this: 'We will bet you $50 that St. Mary's beats you on Thanksgiving Day.'

"The St. Mary's game had not been mentioned at all. When the direct evidence that Clarkeand Putnam had diately commence to talk about something elseand went to bet $50 on another game.

"The proposition is a game between this All-Star team run by Clarke and Putnam and not a St. Mary's game. We will play Clarke's collection of football stars any time and any place. In additionto this we will probably take that $50 bet. In my estimation Clarke is a grand hot air merchant and I know it to be a fact that he is lying about his team."

TEAMS READY FOR THE BIG BATTLE GRASS — VALLEY

All Stars and Sacramentans Will Fight for Rugby Supremacy Today.

UNION — 11-13-10

The big battle will be fought today. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the All Star rugby team of this city and the rugby team that is to represent the Sacramento Athletic club will go onto the field and will wage terrific warfare for rugby supremacy.

The recent rains have placed Glenbrook Park gridiron in excellent condition and the game this afternoon should be exciting from the beginning to its close. The All Star team is composed of men who come from England. They learned the game in their native land and are thoroughly conversant with all the fine points. The visitors on the other hand are composed of college and high school veterans and they have played with some of the fastest university teams in the west.

The visitors will arrive on the early train this morning. Putnan, the famous Sacramento high school rugby player, will be among them and he will no doubt give a good account of himself in today's struggle. To accommodate the crowds a special car will leave this city at 2 o'clock and will get the spectators at the grounds in time to witness the kick off.

An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged to the grounds. The All Stars will line up as follows: Full back, J. Northey; three-quarters, Charles Rowe, William Gilbert, S. Tregaskis and J. Hoskings; wing forward, D. Jenkins; forwards, W. Merfield, H. Gibson, J. Richards, T. Chaunce, L. Goodman and Frank Gibson; reserves, F. Green, W. Harris and Worthy D. Deeble.

S.A.C. TEAM BEATS ALL-STAR MINERS
SAC. UN. — 11-14-10

Hard Battle in Grass Valley Is Won by Locals by Score of 9 to 5.

Special to the Union.

GRASS VALLEY, Nov. 13.—Fighting every inch of ground like tigers battling in the jungles the All-Star Rugby football team of this city was finally forced to yield to the Sacramento Athletic club team by a score of 9 to 5 in an exhibition game here today before one of the biggest crowds that ever attended an athletic performance. All credit should go to the visitors because they won fairly and proved themselves sportsmen in every sense of the word.

The teams were evenly matched and after the first half victory belonged to neither side. But superior coaching and practice stood the visitors in hand and they succeeded in getting the ball behind the goal posts three times.

Dickson, Gannon and Blake were responsible for the tries for Sacramento. They played exceptionally good ball.

A return game will be played in Sacramento on December 4.

S.A.C. TEAM PLAYS ALL-STARS SUNDAY
SAC. UN. — 11-11-10

Athletics Change Date of Meeting and Will Travel to Grass Valley for Game.

The Sacramento Athletic club Rugby team will go up against the All-Stars of Grass Valley Sunday at the latter place in an exhibition game of ball instead of waiting until November 27 as at first intended. The All-Stars are composed of miners and others who played the game in England and Scotland and they are said to be able to put up a very scientific game. The All-Stars are big strong players and will undoubtedly make the locals dig to hold them down. The Athletics will leave this city at 7 a. m. and return the same night. Physical Director Rittler and Captain A. J. Delano of the club will accompany the team. A return game will be played in this city December 4.

The twenty men that Rittler and Delano have picked to make the trip are:

Dearborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Azevedo, Schlosser, Sweeney, Purrington, Hart, Corsan—forwards.

A. Evers—halfback.

Kennedy—five-eighths.

Holmes, Dickson and Blake—three-quarters.

H. Evers, Putnam, Gannon—wings.

Ferguson—fullback.

George Insell, a former member of the Berkeley team, is coming to Sacramento and will probably be made a member of the S. A. C. team. Insell is a demon tackler and is a marvelous kicker. He will either be tried out for the fullback position or assigned to one of the wings.

CATHOLIC COLLEGE ANNUAL GAME COMES NEXT
S.F. EXAMINER

St. Mary's and Santa Clara to Clash at Berkeley on Saturday Afternoon.

11-13-10

St. Mary's College and Santa Clara College will strive for mastery at Rugby football on next Saturday at the Berkeley field. The contest will mark the second meeting of the rival Catholic institutions at the Rugby game, and from all indications the match will be every bit as close and exciting as last year's struggle, in which the wearers of the red and blue of the Oakland College were victorious after a grueling match by the score of 5 to 0. For one thing, next Saturday's fight will be more in the open, faster and more spectacular than was the game last year, when the St. Mary's forwards after the team had established a lead closed up on the Santa Clara players in the latter portion of the game and contented themselves with holding the opposing aggregation at bay.

The St. Mary's College team has finished its work in preparation for the game, and with the exception of light practice and lineups against the second team to keep the players in condition will not be on the field again until Saturday. Coach George Faulkner has had the assistance of Cecil Martin, former physical instructor at St. Mary's, in keeping the players in condition during the past week, and the men that will compose the squad have confined their activities to road work and gymnasium workouts. The team that will oppose the Santa Clara fifteen on Saturday is practically picked, although the official lineup for the game will not be announced until late in the week.

Nine Veterans in Line.

The St. Mary's team will present a far more formidable line-up on next Saturday than when the teams clashed last November. There will be nine veterans on the team that will oppose Santa Clara. St. Mary's will be much stronger in the back field and, although much faster, will be lighter in the forward positions. Spencer Dickson, Bonnetti and Pantowsky represent practically the entire strength of the victorious team of last year that will be absent from the line-up, and it is certain that outside of the positions occupied by these men the red and blue warriors will be stronger in every department. Dickson was captain and five-eighths on the St. Mary's team, while Bonnetti and Pantowsky filled forward positions, the weight of both players proving most effective in the scrum.

Hatt, Cann and Bell will fill the positions in the front rank of the St. Mary's team on next Saturday. Bell and Cann both had the chance to prove their ability of the team of last year and did effective work in the field, while Hatt, who is a product of St. Mary's second team, has shown such splendid form in the games already played this season that he is certain of his position.

In the middle rank the positions are still in doubt. Malloy, Greeley, Glavenich and Tognazzini are the players that stand in line for the honor of filling these positions, with the chances favoring the appearance of the two former players in the contest.

Diavila at Half.

The rear rank will find two positions filled by Fieberling and Walker, veterans who have done yeoman service on the team. The third position will be occupied by Jim Roth, should he be in condition to play, which is at present doubtful. Roth, who is a new man on the squad this year and one of the fastest forwards ever developed at St. Mary's, has proved a tower of strength to the team in the games already played, but is at present confined to the hospital with a lame leg, due to injuries received in one of the earlier scrimmages of the season, and of which little was thought until a week ago. Roth was operated on last week for blood poisoning, and it is yet a problem whether or not he will be able to get into shape for the contest. Guptil, Harold Roth and French will be ready to jump into his position should he be unable to fill the place on Saturday.

Captain Diavila will again be seen in the halfback position, while "Honey" Hughes, conceded to be one of the fastest men filling the position on the Coast teams, will be in the first five-eighths position. It is probable that Harry Simpson will be shifted from the position at second five-eighths to give way to Scott, and will fall back to one of the three-quarter positions. "Pete" Stoltz and Starrett will share the work with Simpson at three-quarters. Starrett, who has been putting up a spectacular game for St. Mary's all season, is a veteran of last year's aggregation, while Stoltz is a former second team man who had shown his ability on several occasions. "Tiny" Leonhardt will round up the team fullback and make the ninth veteran of the fifteen.

Presley May Referee.

Tickets for the game were put on sale last week at Spalding's in this city and Lancaster's in Oakland and reports of the advance sale indicate that an unusually large crowd will witness the match.

Both teams will be supported by strong rooting sections. The St. Mary's students nuder the yell leadership of Thomas Horan and Raymond Miller have been putting in the last two weeks to the practice of yells and songs.

Just who will act as referee of the game is not yet definitely decided, but it is more than probable that Coach George Presley of the Stanford team will fill the position. The time keepers will be John Brady and James Heffernon, and Jay Dwiggins and Bell Pemberton have been selected to act as touch judges.

THIS RUGBY FOOTBALL TEAM WILL PLAY SACRAMENTO A. C. SQUAD THAKSGIVING

SAC. BEE. ST. MARY'S SPEEDY REPRESENTATIVES. 11-11-10

Members of the St. Mary's football team are expected to give the Sacramento A. C. men a hard battle Thanksgiving Day. The game was arranged recently, and bids fair to be one of the best seen locally. Both first and second teams at St. Mary's have shown high class work, the St. Mary seconds tieing with the Santa Clara second team last Thursday in a scoreless game.

Bottom row—H. Roth, Hatt, Dlavila (captain), Simpson, Malloy.

The twenty men from among whom the Sacramento players probably will be chosen are: Dearborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Azevedo, Schlosser, Sweeney, Purrington, Hart, Corsan, forwards; A. Evers, halfback; Kennedy, five-eighths; Holmes, Dickson and Blake, three-quarters; H. Evers, Putnam and Gannon, wings; Ferguson, fullback. George Insell, fullback or wing.

PRINCIPAL RUGBY RULES

POINTERS FOR BIG GAME

SF. EXAMINER 11-12-10

FOR the benefit of those who are not thoroughly acquainted with the rules of Rugby football, and to whom many of the stoppages of the game by the referee's whistle are not clear, the following resume of the principal rules are submitted in the hope that some of the plays not gnerally understood may be made plain:

OFF SIDE.

A player can be placed off-side if he enters a scrum from his opponents' side, or if the ball has been kicked, touched or is being run with by one of his own side behind him.

A player is placed on-side when an opponent has run five yards with the ball, when the ball has been kicked, or has been touched by an opponent, when one of his side has run in front of him with the ball, or when one of his side has run in front of him, having kicked the ball when behind him.

The penalty for off-side play is a free kick, except where the off-side is unintentional. In that case a scrummage is formed at the place where the offense took place.

By a special agreement between California and Stanford any player who is over ten yards away from an opponent who is playing the ball is on-side.

FREE KICKS.

The most frequent causes of free kicks being awarded are:

Handling the ball in the scrum.

Failure to put the ball down immediately on being held.

Failure to get up immediately from the ground while playing the ball.

Illegal tackling, charging or obstructing an opponent.

Willfully holding an opponent who has not got the ball.

Hacking or tripping.

Willfully putting the ball unfairly into the scrum, or returning it to the scrum with hand or foot after it has come out.

Lifting a foot from the ground before the ball has been put into the scrum.

In all cases where a free kick is awarded, the opposite side may choose to have a scrum formed at the place where the ball was last played before the infringement.

BALL IN TOUCH.

When the ball goes into touch it belongs to the side opposite to the one that last played it, except where the ball is carried in, in which case it belongs to the side carrying it into touch.

When the ball is not thrown in at right angles to the touch line a scrum is formed ten yards from the side line.

The ball being thrown in at right angles gives a side which can kick long distances into touch the opportunity to gain a lot of ground and retain it, which accounts for the numerous kicks into the touch area.

KNOCK-ON OR FORWARD PASS.

A knock-on or a throw forward is illegal, and when any player impels the ball in the direction of the opposite goal with his hands or arms, a scrum is formed at the place where the infringement took place.

MODE OF SCORING.

The following is the mode of scoring:

A try equals three points.

A goal from a try (in which case the try shall not count) equals five points.

A goal made by a drop-kick (except from a mark or a penalty) equals four points.

When a goal is scored the ball is kicked off from the center of the field. When a try is scored and the goal kick is unsuccessful the ball is kicked off from the 25-yard line.

A try is scored when a player puts his hand on the ball on the ground behind his opponent's goal line. California and Stanford have an agreement whereby a try is scored by the attacking side if the ball is held in the opponents' goal area, any part of the ball being on or over the goal line.

TIME AND SUBSTITUTES.

The game is divided into two periods of forty minutes each.

By agreement between the two colleges each side is allowed to use three substitutes and no more.

GRASS VALLEY TO FURNISH TRIAL FOR S. A. C.

LOCAL RUGBY TEAM WILL HAVE WORKOUT NEXT SUNDAY.

SAC. BEE. 11-9-10

As a workout for the game with St. Mary's, the S. A. C. Rugby team probably will play Grass Valley's All Stars November 13th in Grass Valley and will meet the same team here Saturday, December 5th in a return match.

Otto Riter of the club has come out with the announcement that he would like to play a team here, the Sacramento All Stars. He said that C. Clark and A. Putnam, representing the All Stars, have been trying to get games but have not come to definite arrangements as yet. He announces he would like to meet them for the championsihp of Sacramento with the S. A. C. Rugby team.

He says his club will not play for a side bet, but will insist that the entire gate receipts go to some orphans' home. He also issues a challenge to any team in the Sacramento Valley or Northern California for a Rugby game.

Two Boxers Entered.

Two more entries were secured for the boxing tournament yesterday when R. Emes entered the 158 and heavyweight classes, and when McCloud entered the 135 and 145-pound classes. Many outside boxers are writing about the tourney. A. J. Delano has been sending letters to various organizations throughout the State, informing them of arrangements made for the tourney and inviting them to enter.

Local Men Doing Well.

Some of the local boxers have been doing extremely well in their practice at the club. M. Salvador, in the 115-pounds, has worked down nearly to weight and is showing great speed. Dick Wickham has done well in the 125-pound practice. Billy Gore will be a dependence of the club at 133 pounds. Charley Burns at 122 pounds, is expected to give any of the visitors a run for their money, while two undoubtedly classy candidates loom up in Muskrat and Bertagni.

Just what heavyweight material will visit here is doubtful. None of the oustide clubs have sent in word about their heavier material, although it is known that they are strong in the lighter classes. Boxing Instructor Billy Johnson thinks he has a good man in Sollars at 160 pounds and in Raymond at about the same figure. Young Scherck ought to give some of the middleweights a lot of difficulty at 150 pounds.

Muldoon Counted Upon.

Pete Muldoon at 158 will also enter the heavyweight class. He is a hard hitter and good boxer and the club counts on him making a good showing. He was out of training for some time, but has started work again and is said to be rounding into shape.

Club officials have no fears of the outcome with the mass of material on their hands. They can pick at least four men at almost any weight and the only thing that is causing Boxing Commissioner Hoffman anxiety is the question as to whether they will be in good trim. Some of them have been out of training for a long time and he is working to get them back into form.

The elimination process at the Sacramento Athletic Club for the purpose of ascertaining who are the best handballers of the club will begin Sunday morning when the club courts will be the scene of struggling bouncers clinging on for dear life to gain top places on the roll of champions for this year.

Handball Commissioner Yoerk has a good lively crowd on hand this year, so expects to have no trouble getting the best handball outt ever assembled in the S. A. C.

The fifteen teams already in line are made up of the following:

H. Doval and W. Pugh.
L. Lobner and A. Strachan.

SEVEN HANDBALL GAMES PLAYED

Lobner and Strachan Put Up Best Game of Opening Day in S. A. C. Tourney.

SAC. UN—11-14-10

The annual handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club started out with a vigor and vim yesterday never before witnessed in a local athletic club and gives promise of a hot race for first place at the end of the tourney. Three of the sets in the first class were played and the scheduled four sets in the second class took place. Gray and Root failed to show up for the first class and were declared out of the tournament. New players were substituted. Jack Inman could not appar on account of pressing business, but Morgan showed up in his place and was allowed to play The other two men failed to send alternates and so, according to the rules of the league, forfeited their entries.

One noticeable feature of the opening day's play was that all of the victorious teams won their sets in straight games. Bacon and Shaw and Lobner and Strachan put up the best game of the day. The losers only lost by two points in the first game and one point in the second.

Pugh and Duval walked all over Tate and Delano. Barnes and McDonough had little trouble in puting MacGregor and Morgan where they belonged. Inman was MacGregor's partner and the absence of his "side-kicker" is said to have been responsible for the overwhelming score.

Results:

FIRST CLASS.

Yoerk and Mansfield beat McCullogh and Warren—21-15, 21-11.

Pugh and Duval beat Delano and Tate—21-6, 21-5.

SECOND CLASS.

Barnes and McDonough beat MacGregor and Morgan—21-3, 21-7.

Toland and R. Wahlander beat Senf and Mattison—21-17, 21-10.

Rose and Ross beat Sollars and Emes—21-12, 21-3.

RUGBY GAME OF LOCAL INTEREST

SAC. BEE. 11-9-10

SAN FRANCISCO, November 9.—What is expected to give a line on the playing qualities of the St. Mary's Rugby team will be a game played at Oakland to-day, when the second team of that institution will meet the Santa Clara seconds. Both teams include players who have tried for the first squads, some of them barely missing appointment.

The match will be of interest in Sacramento, where St. Mary's squad is scheduled to oppose the Sacramento Athletic Club. Some of the men figuring in the game to-day may oppose the S. A. C. team in case changes are made. Starrett and Simpson are both back in the game for St. Mary's.

Sacramento Merchants Hang Up Rich Cups and Trophies for the Winners

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12.—The commissioners of the Sacramento athletic club are completing arrangements for the Pacific athletic association boxing tournament to be held here November 21, 22 and 23. They have been assured from outside clubs that fully 50 to 75 amateur boxers will be sent here for the tournament and so have arranged to stage the bouts in the old pavilion, the scene of the prize fights here before Governor Gillett ruled against them. Ten bouts will be fought each night down to the finals and the Sacramento merchants have hung up enough cups and trophies to make it worth while for the winners.

The Sacramento athletic club is to have a group of warm contenders for state honors in the tournament and a likely bunch of young fighters has gone into training. Joe Erickson, who has gained the name of "One Round Joe" because of the sudden manner in which he has been disposing of his opponents, is prominent among the locals. Billy Gore, a clever lightweight, is considered a likely winner. Everett A. Barr, the fighting scribe from Marysville, is another strong entry.

The cleverest boxer of the Sacramento bunch is young Salvador, who fights at 125 pounds. He is a fast, aggressive little fighter and is improving right along. Young Wallace, 145 pounds, and Azevedo, 125 pounds, have also entered. Pete Muldoon, the amateur lightweight champion of the coast, has joined the local club and is conceded to be a sure winner.

Physical director Otto Rittler has gone to San Francisco to interest the bay clubs in the event and induce them to get their entries in early.

HANDBALL TEAMS OUT FOR HONORS

SAC. STAR 11-14-10

An enthusiastic crowd was on hand to witness the opening of the annual handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday. Nearly all of the sets were well contested. Gray and Root, scheduled in the first class, did not show and were declared out of the tournament. Jack Inman could not appear but Morgan was substituted.

The results of yesterday's games were:

First Class—Yoerk and Mansfield beat McCullogh and Warren, 21-16, 21-11; Bacon and Shaw beat Lobner and Strachan, 21-19, 21-20; Pugh and Duval beat Delano and Tate, 21-6, 21-5.

Second Class—Payne and Shannon beat G. McDonough and Sprague, 21-11, 21-18; Barnes and McDonough beat MacGregor and Morgan, 21-3, 21-7; Toland and R. Wahlander beat Senf and Mattison, 21-17, 21-10; Rose and Ross beat Sollars and Emes, 21-12, 21-3.

DISTANCE WALKS FOR THE S. A. C.

SAC. BEE 11-15-10

Cross country "hiking" is to be taken up by the S. A. C. members who believe in pedestrianism. The first start was made last Sunday when Ralph Payne, J. Childs and Reo O'Connor walked to Folsom in less than six hours. They figure the distance covered at about twenty-two miles.

Next Sunday it is planned to have a squad of fifteen take a similar walk and it is thought that regular performances of the sort can be inaugurated for each successive Sunday.

ASKS FOR MEETING WITH Y. M. C. A. MAT MEN

SAC. BEE 11-15-10

Otto Ritler of the Sacramento Athletic Club has suggested to Physical Director Joseph P. Colley of the Y. M. C. A. that wrestling bouts between members of the institutions be sandwiched in between the boxing contests at the tourney of November 21st to 23d. He has worked several of the S. A. C. men into shape and all are doing well in practice.

P. E. Bedee is in shape for a match at 145 pounds. Phillips can make the same weight, McLeod can go in at 135 and Ralph Emes at 158. It is not known whether Director Colley will be able to get the Y. M. C. A. men into shape, as they have just started their work.

Light Teams at Work.

All the lightweight basket ball teams were at practice last night at the S. A. C., Captain Sam Lovich putting the Spartans through signal work. It is possible that the Elk Grove basket ball team may be played at Pythian Castle, November 18th or 19th. Basket ball Commissioner Eugene Palm is trying to close arrangements for such a game.

George York, the handball commissioner, will make the drawings for the first round of the handball tourney and arrange rules to-night. Vernon Marston is likely to be chosen umpire. The games will start Sunday, November 13th. Two additional teams that have entered the tourney are Blake and Trainor and Tate and Bacon. All are getting in shape. After the tourney York would like to take up a challenge recently sent in by Stockton.

A. J. Delano, who is handling entries for the boxing tournament, has received entries from three San Francisco men. Joe Erickson of the S. A. C. is especially anxious to meet McAllister of the Olympic Club in this tournament, as they have boxed once before.

Alzevado Is Reducing.

Alzevado, who boxes at 115 pounds, is still a few pounds above weight. He expects to get down to 118 by Sunday night.

Several local boxers, who are unattached, have expressed a desire to enter the tournament. For the benefit of these men, Ritler states that any unattached man of good standing can enter and that it is not necessary for him to belong to a club. It is necessary to get an A. A. U. card, however, and an application can be turned in to either the A. A. U. or to Ritler himself, who will attend to the matter.

It has been decided to play the game with Grass Valley Sunday instead of at a later date. The players are expected to assemble at the club at 6:30 or to be at the train at 7 a. m.

HANDBALL PLAY STARTS SUNDAY

SAC. WEEKLY 11-12-10

Fifteen Teams Will Soon Commence Race For Titles in S. A. C. Tourney.

The annual handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club will commence Sunday morning with a brace of games between four teams to be selected this week. Saturday night the athletic commissioners of the club will meet and formulate a set of rules to govern the contest, select an umpire and arrange a schedule. Commissioner George Yoerk will have supervision over the tourney and will see that all rules are obeyed and that each team gets the number of points due it.

Handball is the favorite sport with the members of the Athletic club. Last year the tourney was closely and stubbornly contested and it was only after hard matches that the victors secured their titles. Root and Shaw finished first. Medals will be awarded to the teams finishing first and second. Medals may be given to the team finishing third. The commissioners will decide these matters, however, Saturday night.

Fifteen teams have entered in the tournament up to date, but by the elimination process the race will be narrowed down until but two teams are left. Then the finals will take place and the 1910-11 winners decided.

Following are the fifteen teams:

H. Doval and W. Pugh.
L. Lobner and A. Strachan.
A. Sollars and R. Emes.
B. McDonough and J. Barnes.
C. W. Wahlander and R. Shorrock.
E. Simmermacher and A. Payne.
H. Bronson and B. Gallup.
Rose and Ross.
Senf and Mattson.
Toland and R. Wahlander.
S. Carson and Doc Williams.
H. McCollock and Warren.
S. Root and Shaw.
Mansfield and Yoerk.
E. Morris and E. Donald.

For the Good of the Club.

It has been decided by the Board of Directors that the admission to the fight tournament be placed at the same figure for members as for non-members. This has been done for the following reason:

The club is in debt to the merchants of this city to the extent of about $5,000, which the Board of Directors is anxious to pay. The club is being run for the common good of all the members thereof. The Board of Directors have labored hard for the advancement of the club, and no individual member thereof has ever received one cent of pay therefor, or has desired it. No privilege denied to the most humble member has been taken, granted or asked by a member of the Board, but, on the contrary, the members of the Board have become liable upon their individual note for the sum of $1,500. Further, the Board, as individuals, have paid their dues many months in advance in order to provide funds for the running expenses. For all this the Board asks neither favors nor gratitude from the members; all that it desires is the advancement of the club.

The membership fell off during the summer to a large extent. The collectors have failed to collect more than enough to pay the running expenses, which amount to about $700 per month. All this means that we must have funds from some other source than the dues collected. Either the members must assist by paying value received from these entertainments or the debts must remain unpaid. This the members certainly do not desire.

Attention is called to the fact that those members who were in the habit of visiting prize fights in the past cheerfully dug up one or two dollars to see two "coffee-and-sinkers" fighters go through the previously practiced motions of a fight. Why, therefore, should they hesitate to pay to see thirty, forty or fifty rounds of fast clean fighting? This especially when they are simply transferring the money from one pocket to another, as is the case in this instance. The same argument applies to all entertainments, past and future.

The members of the club should cease to look upon the work of the officers of the club as a sinecure, but should work shoulder to shoulder with them to advance the cause of the club. In this manner and this alone can success be assured; and the moment that the members as individuals become imbued with the idea that this is their club, and is not being run in the interest of any set, clique or individual, then and then only will the club prove the success that it should.

Remark has often been made by strangers and visitors on the lack of club spirit. It has been remarked that the members seem to feel that somebody is bound to furnish them with about two dollars worth of amusement for each dollar paid in. This is not true, and nobody knows it better than the members of the club, but the impression remains.

Let each member feel that every act in connection with the club is either for its good or its detriment. Let each member feel that when he is using the club rooms that it is, for the time being at least, his club. Let him realize that when he feels called upon to spit on the floor or walls, or to otherwise damage the club property that he is damaging his property, and that nobody is being damaged more than he himself. Whenever that time arrives such actions will cease. The assumption is that every member of this club is a gentleman, and he so remains until the contrary appears. Do not think that by knocking the club or otherwise damaging it you are taking a whack at the Board of Directors. You are taking a whack at yourself.

And now for a new club spirit. If each member will put his shoulder to the wheel the Sacramento Athletic Club will prove a power in the athletic and social world and every member thereof will be proud of his flying "S."

Athletics Journey to Grass Valley.

Professor Rittler has chosen twenty of his huskies to go to Grass Valley tomorrow morning to play the All-Stars, a team composed of men who have played in England and Australia.

The boys will leave on the 7 o'clock train, arriving in Grass Valley at 11 o'clock, and returning home the same evening. They expect a lively tussle, as Grass Valley has the reputation of having a speedy fifteen.

Professor Rittler has chosen the following men to make the trip:

Forwards—Dearborn, Cush, Williams, Palm, Azevedo, Schlosser, Sweeney, Purrington, Hart, Corson; half-back—A. Evers; five-eighths—Kennedy; three-quarters — Spence, Dickson, Holmes and Blake; wings—H. Evers, Putnam and Gannon; full-back—Ferguson.

Club Captain Delano will accompany the team on the trip.

—o—

Boxing Tournament.

With the Pacific Amateur Athletic Union's boxing tournament but a week off the local boxers and fans are waiting in suspense for the first sound of the gong, which, they hope, will open a tournament that will bring home a number of c..ampionships. All of the Sacramento boxers have been training faithfully and the tournament will find them in fine condition.

Billy Johnson is working hard with his men, and thinks that they are a bunch of sure winners.

P. A. A. Representative MacGregor has ordered the medals. They far surpass anything that the P. A. A. has offered before. He also states that there will be more men entered in this tournament than in any other previous meet, so the local fans have the promise of seeing some of the best men in the State at work.

There will probably be five or more bouts held each evening, and a number of wrestling matches will be given to make the program continuous.

The club will be represented by Red Murray and McCollough in the 105-pound class.

Azevedo, Sally Salvador and Lee Muskrat are a hard trio to beat at 115 pounds.

Pete Muldoon and Joe Erickson are entered at 158, while Muldoon is the only man from the club who is entered in the heavy-weight class.

In addition to these there are a large number of local men who are ...ing to enter under the club colors

Another Hike.

Last Saturday eight members took advantage of the long hike led by Arthur Delano. They journeyed down the Riverside road as far as the baths and after a plunge hiked to the club rooms, where they were given a good rub down. Those who went on the run were Club Captain Delano, Azevedo, Salvador, O'Connor, Jess Childs, Sollars, Cothrin and Wickham.

—o—

Basket Ball.

With a number of trips in sight the basket ball men are all working hard, and already they are beginning to show a good deal of class.

Captain Lovich's Spartans form a fast bunch of players. They have started signal practice and inside work and are taking to it like vets. Luke, Duke, Brandon and Lovich are all showing class in the forward position, while Donald is playing a great game in center. Donald has always been considered one of the best centers in Sacramento, and this year he is in better form than in any previous season. Wickham and Sprague are a hard pair to beat at guard. They are both hard players and did not have many baskets scored on them last year.

The heavy-weights are also fast getting into playing shape, and in a few more weeks of practice they should be in condition to meet all comers.

Captain Amick has had a large squad out practicing, and several recruits will be added to the list as the season advances. Amick, Holmes and Knight are playing in the forward positions, and Punington, Sweeney and Eames are out for the center job, while the guard position is being looked after by Azevedo, Warren and Blake.

The 145-pound team has practiced a number of times and promises to be a speedy bunch. Captain Shaw, Lobner and Beede are trying a forward berth, and Barnes is after the center job. Brown and Palm are playing a great game at guard.

It is more than likely that before the season is over the heavy-weights and the 145-pound team will be made into one team, the best men being selected and formed to represent the club in the local and out-of-town games where heavy-weight teams are used.

Commissioner Palm has been kept busy communicating with the different teams in this part of the State and San Francisco, but as there are but few boys' teams that have come forward as yet, games are a scarce article.

Probably one of the first games will be at Mare Island when the heavy-weights will meet the U. S. S. Independent's speedy five. Woodland High School, Gridley High School, the local Y. M. C. A. and the Sacramento High School are all slated to play a number of early season games. It is more than likely that Woodland will play the club a series in both the heavy-weight and lightweight class. Later on in the season Chico, Ione, Lodi and Stockton will be played, and it is more than likely that the season of 1910-1911 will be one of the greatest in local basket ball history.

SAC. WEEKLY 11-12-10

Athletes vs. St. Mary's College.

Professor Rittler is kept busy these days making preparations for the coming Thanksgiving Rugby game, which promises to be one of the best contests ever held in Sacramento. Both teams have been hard at work, and will put up the game of their lives. St. Mary's has a reputation that is not equalled by any of the bay teams. They have suffered but one defeat, which was administered by the Stanford Babies by a score of 3-0. St. Mary's went into this game in a crippled condition and in a return match proved their superiority by defeating Stanford to the tune of 13-0. They also won from the California freshmen by a score of 8-0.

The Athletics go into the game with a team of men who have trained hard and although the majority are new at the game they are rapidly adapting themselves. All of the men are hard fighters and will give the St. Mary's team a good run.

Spence Dickson, a former St. Mary's player, will play center three-quarters and will captain the Athletes. He is a hard player and will be a big stumbling block when St. Mary's start a passing rush. The team will also be strengthened by Incell, the former Berkeley High School boy, who is coming here to live. He is considered to be one of the best punters on the coast.

Deerbourn, Williams, A. Evers, Kennedy, H. Evers and MacGregor have all played the game before and their experience will help their team to victory.

Professor Rittler cut his squad down considerably and will have the following men representing the club on Thanksgiving:

S. A. C.	Position.	St. Mary's.
Deerbourn	forward	Hyatt
Curl	forward	Cann
Williams	forward	Jones
Cox	forward	Masterson
Hart	forward	Tognozini
Palm	forward	Glavenich
Slosser	forward	Roth
Sweeney	forward	Bell
Azevedo	forward
Blake, Corson	forward
A. Evers	scrum-half	Diavilo
Sherwin	scrum-half	Cooney
Kennedy	five-eights	Hughes
Simmermacher	five-eights	O'Connell
Purrington	wing	Fieberling
Gannon	wing	Scott
Putnam	wing	Anderson
MacGregor	wing	Stanett
H. Evers	wing	Roth
Dickson	cen. three-quarters	Stoltz
Ferguson	full back	Leonhardt

Club Chat.

Eames and McCloud are sure to start something in the coming wrestling tournament. They are both in fairly good condition now, and by the 29th they will be in excellent shape.

Make the St. Mary's-S. A. C. Rugby game go down in history for attendance. Bring your friends, mothers, sisters, brothers and everybody you know or ought to know. The game will be great. So boost.

S. A. C. athletes always win, no matter what they are in. Billy Gormley, Ed Kay, C. E. Trainor and Tim Haggerty received the congratulations of the club members on their victory at the recent election.

SAC. WEEKLY 11-12-10

Pete Muldoon is in perfect condition, and all he has to do from now on is light work so that he can keep his present weight. Say, but he is some boxer and sure winner.

Be around tomorrow morning and watch the handball men get into action. Now that the weather is getting bad a little indoor amusement goes well, so sign up for the handball tournament and enjoy a good winter amusement.

Mucka McClatchy is going to take a party down to see the St. Mary's-Santa Clara game in his machine. McClatchy, although now retired from athletics, is still an ardent follower of the game.

Sally Salvador, Muskrat and Azevedo look good in the 115-pound clss. Some one will have to ramble to beat these boys out. They are game and good mixers and don't know what stop means.

St. Mary's will bring a big crowd of rooters with them, and they promise to make the first S. A. C.-St. Mary's game one long to be remembered by local enthusiasts.

Jack Landfalls, a clever boy who hails from San Francisco, has moved to Sacramento and joined the club. He is entered in the 125-145-pound class in the coming tournament. He will be a fine addition to the local aggregation.

In addition to the boxing bouts a number of wrestling matches will be held at the tournament. Eames and McCloud will meet some Y. M. C. A. men, and Phillips and Beede are going to wrestle. This will also help put our boys in shape for the wrestling tournament later on.

Diavilo, who captains the St. Mary's team, is a great little player, and has the reputation of being one of the fastest scrum halfs around the bay.

St. Mary's team is noted for its great scrum which has won many of the games for them. All of the men in the scrum are vets.

From now on the heavy-weight basket ball team will practice every Monday night and the lightweights every Wednesday evening. The 145-pound team will practice with the heavy-weights and the 125-pound class with the lightweights.

Mr. Colley, the new physical director of the Y. M. C. A., is quite an enthusiast over wrestling and basket ball, and Prof. Rittler and he are going to arrange a series of athletic events for the coming winter.

SAC. WEEKLY 11-12-10

George Incell will be a fine addition to the local Rugby team, as he was slated for a position on the U. C. Babies, but liked intercollegiate too well and the coach dropped him from the squad. As there are no intercollegiate teams here he will play Rugby rather than nothing, so we are lucky.

Jack Jargstroff, one of the cleverest and hard hitting amateurs on the coast, will arrive here next Saturday to try for the heavy-weight laurels. He weighs 198 pounds and is considered to be one of the most dangerougs huskies in the amateur ranks.

Westerman has entered from San Francisco, unattached. He and Pete Muldoon are old rivals and if they meet they should give one another a good time.

The Athletics' Rugby squad have a number of trips in store. The Grass Valley All-Stars are going to bring them to Grass Valley and the Grass Valley High School will bring them on December 17.

SAC. WEEKLY 11-12-10.

Handball Tournament.

Everything is in readiness for the big handball tournament which will start tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock sharp. Both courts will be used and four teams will play two games apiece.

The Athletic Commission will meet tonight to draw up a set of rules and appoint an umpire and scorer. They have already given Commissioner Yoerk full charge of the tournament, and plans have been perfected rapidly under his management.

The men have improved much since last year. The class of ball they are playing now is top-notch and it is impossible to pick a winning team at this stage of the proceedings.

The tournament will be worked on the percentage basis, and every team will have to play against every other team at least twice.

A gold medal will be given to the winning team and a silver medal to the one finishing second. Up to date sixteen teams have entered and they are all made up of strong players. Following are the sixteen teams:

H. Doval and W Pugh.
L. Lobner and A. Strachan.
A. Sollars and R. Eames.
B. McDonough and J. Barnes.
C. W. Wahlander and R. Shorrock.
E. Simmermacher and A. Payne.
H. Bronson and B. Gallup.
Rose and Ross.
Senf and Mattson.
Toltand and R. Wahlander.
S. Carson and Doc Williams.
H. McCollock and Warren.
S. Root and Shaw.
Mansfield and Yoerk.
E. Morris and E. Donald.
I. Blake and Trainor.

The St. Mary's left wing, Starrett, is well known to the Sacramento athletes, as he has participated here in a number of track meets. He won the broad jump in the P. A. A. meet this year.

Clif Reuman is another man from the south who wants the middleweight championship. He is fast and clever and one of the most dangerous opponents Muldoon will have.

Charlie Boscha is going after the 135-pound title. He will probably be one of the most dangerous visitors.

Trainor and Blake were the last men to sign up for the handball tournament. They are both strong players and should figure rather near the top of the percentage column at the end of the season.

Tennis is to be added to the list of sports. There are several good tennis players in the club, and if the game is started several local cracks will probably join. The McClatchy boys will get into shape to represent the club.

Rugby Exhibition Was Interesting From Start to Finish; Score 9-5.

GILBERT'S PLAYING FEATURE OF GAME

UNION.

Kicking and Playing of Spence Dickon Brings Cheers From Crowd.

The All Star rugby team of this city went down to defeat at Glenbrook Park Sunday afternoon at the hands of the Sacramento Athletics by a score of 9 to 5. It was a whirlwind game from start to finish, and until the middle of the second half, when the All Stars seemed to fag out, it was hard to name the winners.

The contest resembled an exhibition of the old game for many the time did Spence Dickon, captain of the Athletics, make many long runs carrying two or three of the men from the opposing side on his back. Dickon is without doubt the best football player ever seen in the county. A few years ago he was captain of the football team of St. Mary's college, and since leaving that institution he has played on many of the best teams in the State.

The All Stars won the toss-up and Sacramento kicked off sending the pigskin deep into their opponent's territory. They soon kicked the ball to touch and then the team of this city started the fireworks. They gained possession of the ball and with a series of passes and a couple good kicks, they carried the ball over the line for a try. Merrifield was called on to kick the goal. It was a difficult angle, but Merrifield booted a nice one midway between the two goal posts. He was cheered for his work as it was probably the best kick that was ever made on the Glenbrook gridiron.

After the first try Sacramento made two trys in quick succession. Dixon made the first one after running thirty yards with members of the All Star teams on both sides of him, but the big fellow had too much of a start and too much "beef," for all fell in front of him and he carried the ball and placed it right over the line. Dickon also aided greatly when the second try was made. Sacramento failed to convert either time. For the remainder of the half the pigskin was seesawed up and down the center of the field.

Before the second half was through there was plenty of blood flying. The weight of the Sacramentans was beginning to tell on the All Stars. Sacramento made another try but again failed to convert. Towards the latter part of the half the Athletics threatened to make a try at different times but the superior playing of Gilbert of the All Stars saved his team from having a greater score piled up against them. The game ended with the score standing 9-5 in Sacramento's favor.

If there is any man that should be singled out in Sunday's playing for his superior playing, that man is William Gilbert. His playing was great from beginning to end and his tackling saved many a try from being chalked up against the All Stars. Trevaskis and Frank Gibson also showed up well.

Dickon's kicking was a feature of the game. Towards the latter part of the second half he had his jersey torn from his back and five of the All Star men had to get a hold of him to stop him from making a try.

The All Star team played good from start to finish. They were greatly handicapped by the weight of their opponents. The two teams will probably meet in another contest the first Sunday in December at Sacramento.

St. Mary's Rugby Team To Play Sacramento

S. F. EX. — 11-23-10

The St. Mary's College Rugby football team will wind up its season tomorrow when the Oakland college fifteen will meet the aggregation from the Sacramento Athletic Club at Sacramento. The St. Mary's team will not be represented by its full strength in the contest, but the lineup will consist of a combination of second-team men and varsity players. Leonhardt, the big fullback, and Hatt, who was responsible for the points scored against Santa Clara, will both be out of the game.

To-morrow's game is rated as the big contest of the season for the Sacramento players, and they should give the collegians a hard fight for the victory. Spencer Dickson, formerly captain of the St. Mary's team, will be in the Sacramento lineup against his former team-mates.

WRESTLING TITLES TO BE SETTLED THIS MONTH

S. F. EX. — 11-20-10

Tournament Will Be Held at St. Francis on Evening of November 29th.

The wrestling tournament to be held Tuesday evening, November 29th, under the auspices of the Olympic Club in the colonial ballroom of the Hotel St. Francis promises to be the greatest amateur wrestling affair ever held on the Coast. The Pacific athletic championships will be decided, and as the Pacific Northwest Association, which controls the States of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, has given permission for the events to be called Coast championships, the winners in the various classes will have the right to dub themselves Coast champions.

The wrestlers will be divided into six weight classes, namely, 115 pounds, 125 pounds, 135 pounds, 145 pounds, 158 pounds and heavyweight, and the finals in each class will be decided at the evening entertainment in the St. Francis. The preliminary bouts will be held in the afternoon or on the evening before, according to the number of entries, and the bouts necessary to bring each class down to the final.

Tickets for the entertainment will be sold at $1 each to members of the Olympic Club and their friends up to noon on Friday, November 25th, after which time the tickets remaining will be placed on sale for the general public.

Ladies Are Invited.

Commissioner Pfaff of the athletic committee of the club has arranged an interesting programme for the evening. Besides the wrestling finals, which will be six-minute affairs, in case neither contestant scores a fall, there will be boxing matches between the members of the Olympic Club boxing team which is now in Sacramento to take part in the boxing championships which open to-morrow evening. The Armento brothers, Arabian acrobats, will give an exhibition, which will be their first appearance in America. Wellish, the comedy juggler, will also appear, and there will be an exhibition of the moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson boxing contest at Reno.

It will be a ladies' night, and the members are urged to bring their lady friends, the programme having been arranged especially with a view to their entertainment.

The local clubs will be well represented in the championship tournament. The Olympic Club will have ten entries and the Western Club also expects to put ten men in the various classes. There are a number of good performers at the University of California and it is expected that at least three of the students will take part in the competition. Carl Thias, 145 pounds, will represent the San Francisco Turn Verein.

Many Outside Men.

From outside clubs there will be a number of entrants. The Vancouver Athletic Club of British Columbia will send down George Walker, a middleweight, and Fred Smith, a lightweight. Chester McIntyre, the instructor of the club, is confident that his men can carry off the gold medals in their classes. Los Angeles will be represented by J. J. Heumerich, who will contest in both the 125 and the 135 pound classes.

The Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland has notified Commissioner Pfaff that there are twelve men trying for the team to represent the club, and that four of them at least will be sent south. The club will hold a series of tryouts, so that Portland will have its best wrestlers in the tourney. The Seattle Athletic Club intends to send two men to the contests, but has not as yet definitely selected the pair.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will have a full team, and Instructor Otto Rittler is confident that the capital city boys will be able to corral some of the honors.

Oakland and San Francisco Clubs Represented by Large Squads in the Events of Next Week— Marathon Race Is Planned

SAC. BEE. 11-15-10

Entries are continuing to come in for the boxing tournament at the Sacramento A. C., starting next Monday, and four were received in one letter yesterday from the Redwood Club of Oakland. They are Manuel Agrella, 135 pounds; Henry Hispey, 105 pounds; Eddie Smith, 115 pounds; M. Viera, 115 pounds.

This abundance of lighter men now in the tournament is gratifying both to Otto Ritler, who is handling the tourney, and to Boxing Commissioner Hoffman. The local club has some good men in the lighter classes, and M. Salvador, who has worked very near to his weight of 115 pounds, will have some hustling to do when he is paired against the visitors. The lighter weights are always popular with spectators on account of their speed, and the 115 division should afford an array of speedy matches.

Olympic to Send Squad.

Eight men have already entered from the Olympic Club of San Francisco, and three from the Pastime Club. The Sacramento A. C. probably will depend largely upon Pete Muldoon in the middle and heavy weight classes Robert Noone has been showing well at 158 pounds. Sollars seems to be in first-class shape at 135. Several of the men worked out in the gymnasium last night, and nearly all are down to the weight of their class.

Although the club officials are hoping that Billy Gore will be a contestant, he has not yet definitely stated whether he will appear.

One of the bouts expected to be of interest is that between Bob McAllister, of the Olympic Club, and Joe Erickson. McAllister is the only man who ever got the verdict over Erickson, and the S. A. C. boxer is anxious to return the compliment. A fast match is looked for when they get together.

Heavyweight Is Entered.

One entry that has aroused considerable interest is that of a heavyweight named Long, from the Olympic Club. He is said to be a fast man in his division. Charles Burns, of Stockton, is also a candidate who is viewed with respect by the 125-pounders. It is said he has shown rapid work in his own class, and he is expected to give the home candidates a hard run.

Mellin Pfaff, boxing director of the Olympic Club, has written to the S. A. C. asking about arrangements for his men while in this city. The boxing commissioner has sent him a list of available hotels where the squad can be quartered.

Otto Ritler is well pleased with the outcome of the game at Grass Valley, Sunday, when the S. A. C. bunch won, 9 to 5.

Miners Appear Speedy.

"The miners have a pretty speedy lot of players," he said, "and they had practiced until their team work was perfect. The game was a bit rough, but we didn't care for that, as it worked up the fighting spirit in our men. Our team played remarkably well. Some of the referee's verdicts were a bit off color, too, but they didn't hurt us much. For instance, he should use his judgment about a knock-on. If the opposing team benefits by it, no action should be taken. But he seemed a bit tangled on the point.

"When the miners come to this city December 4th I think we can give them a run for their money. The local team has the making of a first-class squad for next year. This year we want to challenge the winners of the S. V. I. A. L. We would like to play Woodland, Chico or Auburn. Tickets are out for the game of Thanksgiving Day at Buffalo Park. The officials will be announced in a couple of days.

Marathon Race Planned.

Charles Stewart, track commissioner of the club, is arranging for a Marathon race he believes will be of interest here. He intends to card the event for January. The design is to have the race over the full course of twenty-six miles and 385 yards. The idea is to have the start on the Stockton road and the wind-up at the club, where the runners can be rubbed down and properly cared for. An outdoor meeting probably will be held prior to the race to key the boys up to the contest. Long-distance events will be featured at this meet. No boys under 17 will be allowed to enter the distance race.

Stewart has written to other clubs, asking if outside entries could be obtained, and immediately received a reply that an entry would be made from San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO WINS AT GRASS VALLEY

SAC. BEE 11-14-10

Sacramento A. C. Club Rugby players returned to the city early this morning after a trip to Grass Valley yesterday, where they defeated the team of that place 9 to 5. Superior coaching and better team work are credited with being the cause of victory for Sacramento boys.

Dickson, Gannon and Blake made the tries for Sacramento. The men say that the opposing team was made up largely of miners and that some excellent players were in the number.

CROWD SEES HANDBALL

A big crowd was on hand to witness the second series of handball games in the tournament, being played at the Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday morning. The surprise of the day was when Lobner and Strachan nosed out Yoerk and Mansfield. The Blake brothers easily won their sets. The scores of the games are as follows:

First class—Bacon and Shaw beat McCullough and Warren 21:14, 21:19.

Lobner and Strachan beat Yoerk and Mansfield 21:16, 21:16.

I. Blake and J. Blake beat Pugh and Duval 21:15, 21:10.

Second class—Toland and Wahlander beat Carson and Williams 21:16, 21:10.

Senf and Mattison beat McDonough and Sprague 21:10, 21:10.

Barnes and B. McDonough beat Rose and Ross 21:14, 21:16.

BOXING OFFICIALS SELECTED FOR NEXT WEEK'S TOURNAMENT

SAC. BEE 11-16-10

Five Names Are Accepted for Judgeships and Three Will Be Chosen From This Number— S. A. C. Gets New Entries

Timekeepers and judges for the opens at the Sacramento A. C. next ing of the club's commissioners last Hoffman suggested the names of J. and they were approved.

Five men were named as judges, from whom three will be chosen. The quintet selected are H. W. Sheridan, Carl Strobel, J. M. Pendergast, Otto Heilbron and V. S. McClatchy. Charles Swollenberg has already been selected as the referee.

Pacific Coast boxing tourney, that Monday night, were named at a meet- evening. Boxing Commissioner Ancil W. Gray and E. Cox as timekeepers,

With the selection of the officials, arrangements are now complete for the largest amateur ring tourney this city has ever witnessed. What is especially pleasing to Commissioner Delano and to Otto Ritler, who have details of the three-day meet in charge, is the fact that entries continue to come in from outside clubs.

Six new names were sent in by the Olympic Club of San Francisco yesterday. They were Roy Nolan, 125 pounds; Matt Toomey, 125; C. L. Stokes, 145; R. McAllister, 145-158; J. O. Long, heavyweight; Charles Bascha, 135.

The Redwood Club of Oakland has entered Ted Rheino, 125; M. Viera, 115; M. Agrella, 135; H. Hickey, 105, and Eddie Smith, 115.

J. F. Lanfall, of the S. A. C., has entered the 125-pound division. Frank Westerman has entered the heavyweight division. In the letter from the Olympic Club announcement was made that two more entries probably would be sent. They should reach the club to-day.

Joe Erickson is well pleased at the entry of McAllister, as he has wanted a return match since their last meeting. The fact that McAllister has entered two classes shows that he is growing heavier, and it may be that the tournament will see a meeting between Pete Muldoon and the visitor.

Ole Erickson has done some of the hardest training for the meeting of any man in the S. A. C. squad. He has combined road work with his boxing, and runs in from a ranch, fourteen miles from this city, jogging part of the way and walking briskly for the balance of the time. He boxes in the afternoon.

Prices for guests at the tournament were fixed at $1, with members at 50 cents. Reserved seats will be $2.

CRUEL! THEY ASKED FOR BREAD AND GOT A BRICK

SAC. STAR. 11-15-10

Long hikes are becoming popular among the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club. At an early hour Sunday morning three of the club's husky athletes braved the chilly air and, togged and booted for the occasion, set out for a tramp "over the hills and far away" along the M street road.

Their lunch was put into a lunch basket and taken along. The hikers were so interested in stories told by each other and chewing celery and grapes presented (?) to them by gardeners along the road that noon approached before the strollers were aware of it. With one accord, they decided to eat the lunch brought along. Accordingly, Ralph Payne, Jess Childs and Les O'Connor sat down to eat their lunch.

Before leaving the club rooms the walkers had carelessly let the lunch get out of their possession for a few minutes. Brother club members did the rest. On opening the basket a large genuine brick stared them in the face. Very crestfallen the three had to continue on to Folsom and eat at the hotel. They returned on the evening motor. Despite the fact that an accident happened to their lunch the trio are boosting cross-country hikes and are getting up a party to go next Sunday.

MANY LOSE LIVES IN FOOTBALL GAMES

New Rules Fail to Lessen the Number of Accidents on the Gridiron.

Special to the Union.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The American football players' annual contest with death is now drawing near to its close, and the score up to date indicates clearly that death will be victorious again this year, just as he has been in the 10 years beginning with 1901. Last year the number of players killed on the football field, or dying later after a lingering illness from injuries received on the field, totaled thirty. This year the number of dead is twenty.

It would seem from these figures that the inauguration of the new rules had made the game one-third less dangerous than it was a year ago. But comparison of the number of deaths in the two years is not conclusive on this point. A comparison of the number injured this year shows a total of 499. Last year the number of injured was only 216. The number of maimed and bruised and broken football players for the year 1910 exceeds by more than 100 the injured of any year since 1901.

From these figures it is apparent that the new rules and dividing of the game into quarters instead of halves has not had the effect of reducing the dangers that was sought for. On the contrary, the game of football seems, under the present rules, to be dangerous to more people than it ever has been before. The big Thanksgiving day games are yet to come, and Thanksgiving day game can always be relied upon to add materially to the list of killed and badly hurt.

BOXING TOURNAMENT

AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED IN THIS CITY.

Ambitious Fighters From All Sections of State Come Here to Try For Honors.

Probably the most important athletic event to take place in this city this year will be the P. A. A. boxing championships which begin at the Old Pavilion to-morrow evening. While there are not as man clubs represented as at first expected, there will be plenty of ambitious boxers on hand to keep the cards full and as the general public is admitted it is expected that packed houses will be the result.

Although the entries were to have closed last Friday evening the fact that a number of clubs in other parts of the State have announced that they have boxers who desire to take part in the contests, the lists have been reopened. There will be eight events each evening and the fans will be given a chance to view the work of some of the cleverest amateurs on the Coast.

While the State has been purged of prize-fighting, the authorities in San Francisco have been able to do but little to defeat the sport there. Boxing is rapidly reaching its old status by a system of graduation. At first four-round bouts were staged, then eight-round, then ten-round, then fifteen-round and now a genuine old-time battle is announced between Battling Nelson and English Owen Moran, to go twenty rounds. Both men are in strict training for the event, as it will give the victor a chance at Adolph Wolgast, the lightweight king of the arena.

FOOTBALL THURSDAY

ATHLETIC CLUB TO PLAY FAST ST. MARY'S TEAM.

Sacramento Boys Will Line Up in Rugby Contest Against Crack Oakland Team.

Thursday afternoon promptly at 3 o'clock the Sacramento Athletic Club and St. Mary's College rugby football teams will line up at Oak Park for their annual contest. While the Sacramento boys will be outweighed by their opponents by two pounds, to a man tney are confident of victory. They have been carefully trained by Professor Rittler, who in the past has made his pupils winners on many a hard-fought athletic field.

The lineup of the Sacramento team will not be finally known until after to-day's practice at Buffalo Park. Professor Rittler attended the St. Marys-Santa Clara contest at the Bay yesterday and studied the playing of the lads his boys will have to confront. He will arrange his talent to the best advantage, and in accordance with the showing they make in their practice to-day.

Those who will practice to-day and from whom the team will be selected are as follows: Bearborn 180, Blake 155, Williams 160, Palm 158, Schlosser 160, Gannon 160, Swinney 180, Purington 165, A. Evers 135, Kennedy 145, Dickson 160, Holmes 165, H. Evers 140, Sherwin 125, Ferguson 135, Curl 127, Hart 160, Lobner 150, Azevedo 145, and Luke 125.

In all probability Twitchell will be selected as referee, McGregor as touch judge and Wahlder as timekeeper.

ENTRIES FOR P.A.A. TOURNEY CLOSED

Boxing Championships of Pacific Coast Start Here Monday Night.

TO HAVE 8 BOUTS NIGHTLY

Charley Schwalenberger Will Officiate as Referee in Important Bouts.

Entries have closed for the P. A. A. boxing championships to be held in this city, November 21, 22 and 23, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club. Saturday night the commissioners of the club will perfect arrangements and be ready Monday evening for the opening card.

There will be about 8 three-round bouts on each of the three cards and figuring the extra rounds, it is safe to estimate that there will be 30 rounds of boxing each evening.

The committee will endeavor to get a good portion of the best boxers on the first evening so as to create a good impression. The lightweight, special and welter classes will probably be staged Monday night. The classes, however, will be decided upon Saturday night.

An admission of 50 cents will be charged members of the club and outsiders will be admitted for $1. Reserved seats will be $1 extra. Season tickets will come at $3.50.

Charley Schwalenberger, who was known extensively in the ring some years ago, will act as official referee. Charley was the unanimous choice of all the commissioners, and when his name was mentioned the committee decided upon him immediately. He not only understands the game, but has the ability to be impartial and it was for these reasons that he was chosen for the important position.

Entries received up to date are as follows:

Special Boxing Medals Offered in S. A. C. Meet

SAC BEE 11-19-10

Three special medals have been donated to the Sacramento Athletic Club for the boxing tournament which opens Monday. One is known as the Gormley medal and was donated by the Coroner for the 145-pound class. Tax Collector Trainor has given a medal in the 125 pound division and Ned Kay has donated one in the 135-pound class.

Prizes for the tourney will soon be placed on exhibition in Brown and Doyle's window at Eighth and K Streets. Announcement is made that each medal will be of the full value allowed by the A. A. U. —$35.

Although entries closed last night, Otto Ritler of the Club was notified that several had been received by the Olympic Club at San Francisco and would be held for him. He went to San Francisco this morning to see the game between Santa Clara and St. Mary's.

At present there are three entries in the 105-pound class, eight in the 115-pound class, seven at 125 pounds, five at 135 pounds, five at 145 pounds, four at 158 and four in the heavyweight division.

Rittler Goes to San Francisco to Arrange for Additional Entries in P. A. A. Events.

SAC. UN. 11-19-10

Kid Schlitz (Ancil Hoffman), as he was known to the boxing game several years ago, will essay the task of coming back next week in the P. A. A. tournament, and he is regarded as an important entry by the Sacramento Athletic club in the 135-pound class. The only difficult part of the matter is that Hoffman is having a hard time to get down to weight. Electric blankets, dieting and cross-country runs are not telling rapidly on Kid Schlitz, and he fears that he will not be able to enter the class he is classified with, but he is going to try mighty hard all the same.

Physical Instructor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club will leave this morning for San Francisco to attend the St. Mary's-Santa Clara college football game, and incidentally to receive several additional entries to those already sent in for the big P. A. A. boxing championships which commence here Monday night under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club. Rittler received word yesterday from several of the clubs about the bay that they had a few late entries they would like very much to get in, and so he decided to kill two birds with one stone.

Three additional entries were received at the club last night. E. Schreck entered in the 158-pound class. Moyes entered in the 145-pound class and Fisher cast his lot with the 145-pound class.

Although the entries were supposed to close Friday the desire of several of the clubs to enter more men led to the decision to hold the entries open until tonight.

The athletic club will probably secure two or three more men before the time comes to permanently close the entries.

Although it is rather late in the day the club has decided to wage a vigorous advertising campaign during the remaining days. Yesterday attractive display cards were posted about town.

The Rugby team will turn out Sunday morning at Buffalo park for a little preliminary brushing up for the game with St. Mary's Thanksgiving day. Director Rittler will put the boys through signals, scrum work, passing and tackling. The team will devote considerable time next week to practice for the struggle Thursday.

SAC-BEE 11-18-10

LAST MAN TO ENTER BOXING TOURNAMENT IS 105 POUNDER

Ed Hooker Has Decided to Go in Lightest Class at S. A. C. and Will Meet H. Hickey of Redwood Club of Oakland—Handball Thrives

Just before the entries closed yesterday for the P. A. A. boxing championships, another name was added in the 105-pound class, Commissioner Hoffman receiving a letter asking him to enter Ed Hooker's name of this city. Until his entry was received there had been only one entry in this division, that of H. Hickey, of the Redwood Club, of Oakland. Boxing Instructor Johnson, of the Sacramento A. C., had been hurriedly getting some of his lighter men into shape so that Hickey would not have a walk-over in the class, but Hooker says he is sure to compete.

One of the visiting amateurs who is said to be a clever boxer is C. Viera, who has sent his entry in the 115-pound class from East Oak, Cal. He is a member of the Redwood Club. Those who have seen him box say that he has shown speed in his work and is in good condition for the tournament.

Landfield Works Hard.

Jack Landfield has been doing some hard work lately to get into trim in the 125-pound division. He has some good bouts to his credit, having knocked out Cliff Dwyer, who claimed the amateur championship of the Northwest, in the fourth round, the extra session having been ordered by the judges. He has not yet been defeated, and has entered the 135-pound class as well as his own.

George York, the handball commissioner, has issued the drawings for the game of next Sunday. In games played to date, York and Mansfield, Bacon and Shaw, Pugh and Duval, have each won two games in the first class. McCullough and Warren, Lobner and Strachen and Delano and Tate have not yet entered the percentage column in this class.

In the second division, Payne and Shannon, Barnes and McDonough, Toland and Wahlander, and Rose and Ross have each won twice. McDonough and Sprague, McGregor and Morgan, Senf and Mattison, and Sellars and Eames still have zero marks in percentage.

Drawing at Handball.

Drawings for Sunday are: McCullough and Warren meet Bacon and Shaw; Delano and Tate play Lobner and Strachen; Ben Gallup, Jr., and Marsten meet York and Mansfield. The Blake brothers play Pugh and Duval. In the second division Carson and Williams meet Toland and Wahlander, Payne and Shannon oppose McGregor and Morgan. In the third class, C. McDonough and Sprague play Senf and Matttison, and Harris and McDonough meet Rose and Ross.

Arrangements are now on foot for the billiard play of the Winter. Details are in the hands of Commissioner W. H. Pugh.

STOKES ENTERED IN BOXING MEET

SAC. BEE. 11-17-10

Larry Stokes of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, formerly of the Reliance Club of Oakland, was one of those whose entry was received at the S. A. C. yesterday for the tournament of next week. Stokes entered the 158-pound class.

Stokes was in hard luck last year and hopes to do better this season. In the first night of the tournament last season his nose was broken but he won his bout. The second night he was beaten by Brown of Spokane, who kept jabbing at the injured organ.

Joe Erickson and Landsfield of the S. A. C. team did some fast work in the gymnasium yesterday. Erickson's work is arousing considerable approval from the spectators and from Boxing Instructor Johnson. Erickson is a good deal of a mixer and the fast way in which he keeps on crowding in on his opponents is thought likely to be of great advantage to him in the tournament. Pete Muldoon also did some boxing in the gymnasium but his work is more on the scientific order. His style is not unlike that shown by Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

C. Borschka of the Olympic Club sent in his entry yesterday. He was formerly of the Los Angeles Club and won the 135-pound championship at Portola last year. He is thought to be a dangerous man in his division, as some of the 135-pound men at the local club started their training rather late.

Now that the entries are beginning to come in rapidly, a good array of contests is promised. It is likely that the original plan of holding wrestling meetings between the bouts will be abandoned. Before the matches start, Referee Swollenberg will hold a talk with the contestants and explain just how he wishes them to act in the ring.

BOAT CLUB PLANING BIG EVENT FOR FEBRUARY 22d

SAC. UN. 11-18-10

University of California and Stanford Crews May Be Seen in Rowing Contest Here Against Locals on Washington's Birthday—Will Have Motor Races.

The rowing crews of the University of California and Stanford will be seen in contest with a crew composed of the best oarsmen on the Sacramento river in this city Washington's birthday, February 22, if the plans of the Sacramento Boat club materialize. E. Forrest Mitchell's peerless speed boat Fighting Bob II may be pitted against Nunes Brothers' Flyer and numerous smaller boats will be entered in competition against one another in one of the biggest racing events ever held on the Sacramento river at this city, providing the Sacramento Boat club, with the aid of the Washington, Dolphin and Crescent clubs, is able to arrange with Stanford and the University of California for a meeting in this city on that date.

COMMITTEE WORKING.

Secretly a committee composed of A. Bonnheim, T. W. Madeley, John Morsehead and others have been working on the proposition and have received much encouragement from members of the University of California crew, though the matter has not as yet been broached to President Wheeler. The race would mean practically a contest between California and Stanford and would attract the attention of the students of both universities. Hundreds of students would undoubtedly accompany the crews, and for once in its life Sacramento would be the scene of an intercollegiate struggle of hither unknown proportions.

There is no shell on the Sacramento river capable of carrying a crew of six and cockswain, and as that is the regulation crew of both colleges one would have to be procured. This will be no easy matter, as a six-oar shell costs in the neighborhood of $1000.

The committee hopes, however, to be able to rent one from some club, either in San Francisco or in Los Angeles, and there may be a chance that one of the colleges will be able to loan one for the occasion.

The crew which will represent Sacramento will be picked from the best oarsmen on the river, and trials will undoubtedly be held for the purpose of determining the most skilled rowers. The Dolphin and Crescent clubs will make high bids for membership in the crew, but it is understood that the members will be chosen by competition.

It is also being planned to run a big excursion on the river from San Francisco for the California and Stanford students who will wish to accompany the crew. A. Bonnheim, acting as a committee of one, communicated with the California Transportation company a few days ago about a boat, and the company agreed to substitute another boat for the Capital City on that day and turn the palatial steamer over to the students. The boat is capable of accommodating nearly two thousand persons. It is the plan to bring the visitors to Sacramento for the races and return them to San Francisco the same day, hotel accommodations to be available on the boat. Mr. Bonnheim is of the opinion that a very enjoyable time could be arranged, as many of the students have never seen the capital of California or been on the biggest river in the state. He is sure the matter will meet with the approval of both universities.

MOTOR BOAT RACES.

While it was not figured in the original plans, it is understood that motor boat races will also be arranged. Nunes brothers and E. Forrest Mitchell have been warm for a meeting for a long time, and it is thought they would seize the opportunity to test their boats against one another. There are any number of other boats that are great rivals, notably R. D. Finney's Elizabeth, Hugh Maulden's Amethyst and Albert Elkus' Red Raven. Cups and other trophies will be offered for the motor boat events, and in all probability a valuable prize will be set up for the rowing event.

For a number of years—that is, ever since motor boating gained favor with the residents of this city—devotees of rowing have been trying to arrange a meeting between the rival university crews, but never before have they received more encouragement.

Members of the three clubs will meet in a few days and lay plans for the carrying out of the ideas.

McAllister Leads in Welter Weight Class

S.F.EX. 11-22-10

SACRAMENTO, November 21.—Bob McAllister of the Olympic Club gained a decisive lead in the welterweight division of the P. A. A. championships here to-night in the opening bouts. He easily outpointed Joe Erickson of the Sacramento Athletic Club and was the winner before the event had gone two rounds, although the judges decided that Erickson should have the advantage of the limit.

Qualifying rounds were held in the bantam, feather, special, welter and middle weight divisions. The final in the bantam class was awarded to Henry Hickey of the Redwood Club, Oakland.

Eddie Smith of Oakland qualified in the feather-weight class. Muskrat of the Sacramento Athletic Club was successful in the special 125-pound class.

A good chowd was present and the bouts wer staged in good order. Owing to the inability of a number of the contestants to make the weights the finals will be held Tuesday night, and the championships terminated with two days instead of three days of contesting. The heavyweight bouts will be the feather to-morrow night.

TRICK PLAYS WILL WIN FOR S. A. C.

Local Rugby Players Show Fine Form in Final Practice Games.

Confidence in the Rugby team to beat St. Mary's in Thursday afternoon's contest was the football keynote yesterday at the Sacramento Athletic club. The last hard signal drill of the season brought out the speediest all-around work of the past few weeks, and moved Coach Rittler to make his closest approach to a victorious prediction. Barring accidents, the S. A. C. boys should wind up their first appearance against big company with success, according to the coach.

The practice session was enough to convince veteran players of the efficiency of the trick plays that are to be shown against the St. Mary boys. The S. A. C. boys affirm that unless the Oakland boys are stronger on the defense than in their previous games, victory will surely perch on the local banner.

OLYMPIC CLUB BOXERS ARRIVE

Commissioner Paffe Is in Charge of Party of Six Who Will Enter.

SAC. UN. 11-20-10

Six Olympic boxers entered in the P. A. A. boxing championships to be held in this city commencing Monday night at the old pavilion, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club, arrived in Sacramento last night and registered at Hotel Sacramento. The boys are in charge of Boxing Commissioned Paffe and Manager Leonard, who will get back of his men during the three days of the contests.

In the party are: Matt Tooney, Ray Nola, C. Roscha, R. McAllister, C. L. Stokes and J. Long. Although the contest does not start until tomorrow night the boxers decided to come on ahead and look over the ground. They were welcomed at the Sacramento Athletic club last night.

Everett Barr of Marysville and Schlitz Sollars are the only men entered who will not appear in the tourney. They worked hard conditioning, but conditions over which they had no control arose and they were forced to change their plans.

Interest in the tourney has developed remarkably during the last three days and inquiries for tickets have come in by the hundreds though the committee had not yesterday any to offer for sale. Club members will be charged fifty cents and $1 extra for reserved seats. Outsiders may witness the bouts by putting up $1 for admission and $1 more for reserved seats if they so desire.

AMATEUR BOXERS WAITING FOR TOURNEY

S.F. CHRONICLE

P. A. A. Annual Championships Will Start To-Night at Sacramento.

11-21-10

[Special Dispatch to "The Examiner."]

SACRAMENTO, November 20.—With ofrty amateur boxers, some of them the best in the State, awaiting anxiously for the clang of the gong that will send them upon their way for records and for medals, the Pacific Athletic Association's annual boxing championships of the Pacific coast will commence at the Old Pavilion to-morrow night at 8:30 under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

The local club numbers among its entries some promising young amateurs who can always be relied upon to furnish good boxing. The unattached list, especially those from San Francisco, gives promise of some terrific mitt slinging.

This afternoon the local club paraded the boxers down the principal streets in automobiles.

Pet Muldoon, present holder of the middleweight title of the Pacific cost, should brnig home the middleweight bacon. He is also entered in the heavyweight division and stands a good chance.

McAllister of the Olympic Club will, in all probability, oppose Muldoon and it is needless to say that there will be some sparks flying when these two get together.

"One-Round" Edicksen also wants a crack at McAllister. Everett Barr of Marysville should do something in the 135-pound class as he has had more experience than any of the other amateurs, with the exception of Ericksen and Muldoon and Hoffman.

Lee Muskrat, the messenger boy, is looked upon as an easy winner in the 115 class. Lee began his career in the Sacramento Athletic Club and has slashed everything to ribbons that has faced him. Azovedo is also a shifty boy who should make good.

Long of the Olympic Club is a big, well-built fellow who should make things crack in the heavyweight division. He will be opposed by Muldoon, Westerman of San Francisco and Noone of the S. A. C.

Those who will appear in to-morrow afternoon's bouts will be named in the drawings at the club in the afternoon. It is thought, however, that the lighter divisions will be given the preference.

The entries received up to date, which are subject to change, are as follows:

Bantam, 105-pound class—H. Hickey, R. C.; E. Hooker, S. A. C.; R. Ferris, S. A. C.

Featherweight, 115-pound class—M. Vieira, R. C.; E. Smith, R. C.; M. Salvadore, S. A. C.; S. Roacher, unattached; E. Hooker, S. A. C.; L. Muskrat, S. A. C.; J. Azevedo, S. A. C.; E. Murray, S. A. C.

Special, 125-pound class—Ray Nola, O. C.; Matt Toomey, O. C.; T. Rheino, R. C.; J. T. Langfall, unattached; L. Muskrat, S. A. C.; J. Azevdo, S. A. C.; E. Holland, S. A. C.

Lightweight, 135-pound class—C. Roscha, O. C.; M. Agrella, R. C.; J. T. Langfall, unattached; E. Barr, S. A. C.; A. Hoffman, S. A. C.

Welterweight, 145-pound class—R. McAllister, O. C.; E. L. Stokes, O. C.; J. Erickson, S. A. C.; E. Barr, S. A. C.; A. Hoffman, S. A. C.; R. Moyes, S. A. C.

Middleweight, 158-pound class—R. McAllister, O. C.; Pet Muldoon, S. A. C.; R. Noone, S. A. C.; T. Schreckengost, S. A. C.

Heavyweight, over 158 pounds—J. Long, O. C.; F. K. Westerman, unattached; P. Muldoon, S. A. C.; R. Noone, Sacramento.

Referee—Charley Schwalenberged.

Judges—H. W. Sheridan and J. M. Pendergast.

Timers—J. W. Grany and E. Cox.

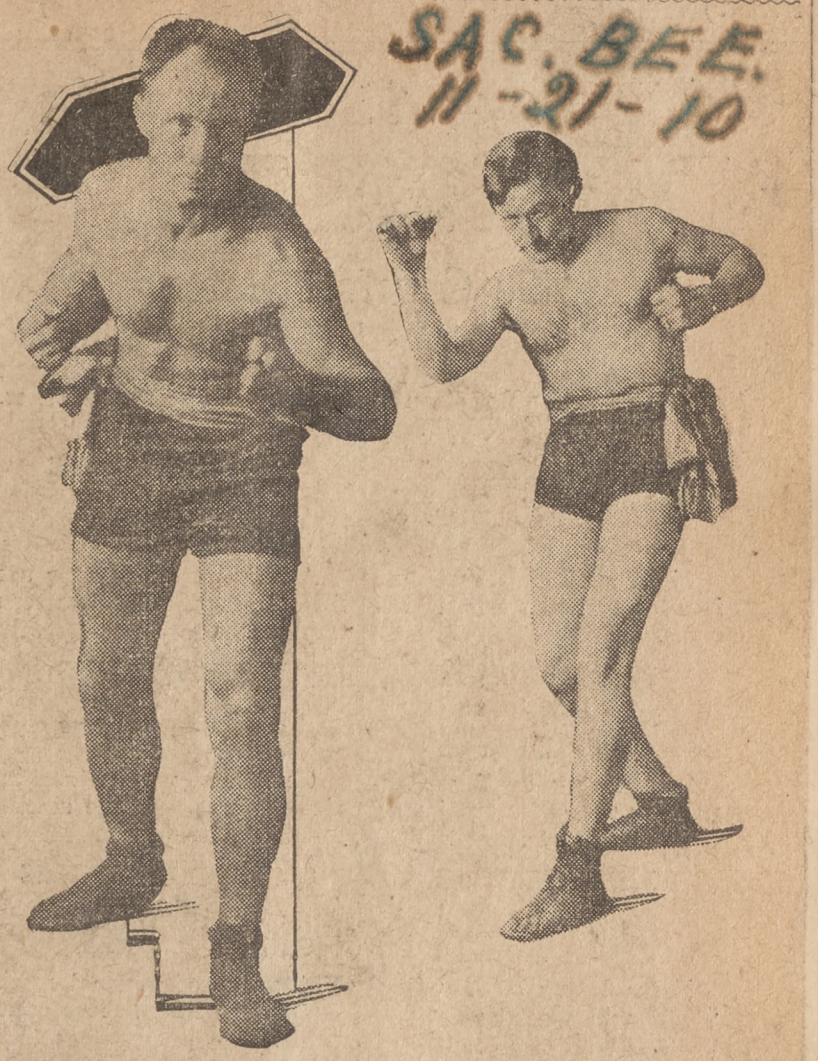
QUALIFYING BOUTS TO-NIGHT IN PACIFIC BOXING TOURNEY

SAC. BEE. 11-21-10



JOE ERICKSON AND ANCIL HOFFMAN.

More than 40 of the best amateur boxers in this region will meet in the annual tournament of the Pacific Athletic Association, which is to start under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club this evening. The bouts will be held in the Old Pavilion at Sixth and M Streets.

Local boxers are strongly represented. Under the direction of Instructor Billy Johnson, the home squad has developed to a high pitch of efficiency. In spite of the arrival of visitors from San Francisco and Oakland, it is thought that the chances are in favor of the local delegation carrying off honors in nearly every class.

Sacramento is especially strong in the lighter class. In the 115-pound division, the home club is well represented. Three clubs have entries in the tourney. These are the Sacramento Athletic Club, the Redwood Club of Oakland and the Olympic Club of San Francisco.

Muldoon Counted On.

In the heavy weight class, Pete Muldoon is expected to turn the trick for the locals. Several unattached boxers have entered. The drawings and weighing-in will be held at the Sacramento Club at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The bouts of to-night will be the qualifying rounds in the tournament.

Otto Ritler returned from San Francisco yesterday, bringing some additional entries and a squad of the San Francisco boxers with him. He has quartered them at a downtown hotel. The Olympic Club delegates are an especially hardy looking bunch.

Much attention has been paid to getting prizes as representative as possible. The $35 margin allowed by the A. A. U. rules has been reached in every case. The emblems are said to be the handsomest trophies ever given here in a boxing meet.

Hoffman May Compete.

Boxing Commissioner Hoffman is expected to enter the 135-pound class in person. He has been working hard to get down to weight, and says he is in good shape. He is still a trifle over the scale, but hopes to get back to weight in time.

Joe Anderson has been appointed official announcer. While some of the new entries may be added to the list, the following are prominent candidates for honors this evening:

Bantam, 105-pound class—H. Hickey, R. C.; E. Hooker, S. A. C.; R. Ferris, S. A. C.

Special, 125-pound class—Ray Nola, O. C.; J. T. Langfall, unattached; L. Muskrat, S. A. C.; J. Azevedo, S. A. C.; E. Holland, S. A. C.

Welter weight, 145-pound class—R. McAllister, O. C.; E. L. Stokes, O. C.; J. Erickson, S. A. C.; E. Barr, S. A. C.; A. Hoffman, S. A. C.; R. Moyes, S. A. C.

Heavy weight, over 158 pounds—J. Long, O. C.; F. K. Westerman, unattached; P. Muldoon, S. A. C.; R. Noone, S. A. C.

BIG RUGBY TOMORROW

The Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby football team will clash with the St. Mary's fifteen at Buffalo Park tomorrow afternoon. The local squad, under the direction of Prof. Rittler, has rounded into fine form and is in readiness for the game of their lives.

The Oakland team is recognized as one of the fastest in the State, despite the fact that they were recently defeated by Santa Clara. They are ready to play their best and are expecting to defeat the local team by a large score. The Athletics think otherwise. A good game should result.

more games there than at Santa Maria. McCredie also wants a couple of games with the Boston Americans, who will train at Sacramento during the spring.

AHERN WON'T DECIDE FIGHT QUESTION NOW

On the action of Gov. Gillett and District Attorney Fickert in regard to prizefighting in the state, will depend Chief of Police Ahern's action in regard to the petition of Phil Simmons for permission to hold boxing bouts in Sacrament on Dec. 22d, which was referred to the chief last night by the Board of City Trustees.

"For the present," said Chief Ahern this morning, "I shall take no action in the matter, but will act according to the decision of Fickert or the Governor." SAC. STAR 11-30-10

ST. MARY'S TEAM ABLE TO GIVE FAST GAME

SAC. BEE. 11-21-10

"St. Mary's College is going to give us a hard bout in spite of its defeat by Santa Clara."

This was the way the game of Saturday was sized up by Otto Ritler of the Sacramento A. C., who went to San Francisco to see St. Mary's defeated 7 to 3 by the Santa Clara team on California field.

"The St. Mary's team put up a fast game," said Ritler, "and the Captain of Santa Clara, Barry, said that it was only faithful training that gave the victory to his team. The real winning points were scored by Ybbarando, who dropped a goal from the field. As far as field play was concerned, the St. Mary's squad was nearly equal to their opponents.

"Starrett of St. Mary's lost the ball once when he was within easy reach of the Santa Clara goal. A rush down the field to the St. Mary territory followed and a goal was kicked from the field. Ybbarando kicked his goal a few minutes before play ended. The St. Mary's boys did well and I know they will give us a hard struggle here Thanksgiving Day. Brother Joseph of St. Mary's said the game was fairly played and that he did not regret having made an annual arrangement with Santa Clara.

"Captain Diavala of St. Mary's played a great game. Ybbarando kicked his goal in the second half. Tramutolo was very aggressive in his work but was penalized several times.

"All the St. Mary's boys played well. Leonhardt, Stolz and Simpson showed particular form. Diavala is a very speedy player. Walker and Fieberling also showed form. Malloy, Greeley and Bell did good work.

"Prospects are for a hard battle at Buffalo Park on Thanksgiving Day. McGregor is going to be one of our touch judges.

"I want to say one thing—that Diavala's defense was perfect. His ability at stopping rushes was remarkable. We are going to have a pretty fast match Thanksgiving."

SOME OF THE ST. MARY'S RUGBY PLAYERS WHO MEET FORCES OF THE SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB TO-DAY

SAC. BEE. 11-24-10

FIVE OF THE VISITING TEAM.

Sacramento Athletic Club followers of Rugby will have a chance to see their candidates in action to-day when the local talent opposes the team from St. Mary's at Buffalo Park. Although slightly outweighed by the visitors, the home team and its coach believe it has a first class chance of victory.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 and Dickson, who formerly played at St. Mary's, will captain the local squad. He meets Diavola in the leadership end of the game, the latter having shown great form in the contest with Santa Clara last Saturday.

W. Unmack of San Francisco, the well known sporting writer, will serve as referee. Unmack is widely known as an authority on the game. Harry McGregor will be touch judge from the Sacramento Athletic Club and C. Russell of St. Mary's will serve in the same capacity for his team.

In the picture above, Diavola, the captain of St. Mary's, is seated in the center. To his right is Starrett and to his left Giavanich. The pictures above, left to right, are Bell and Lognazini.

Coach Ritler of the S. A. C. and Coach Faulkner of the St. Mary's team both say their men are in first class shape and predict victory for their respective squads. Timers will be C. Wahlender and Beal.

The line-up of the teams probably will be as follows:

Sacramento.	Position.	St. Mary's.
Williams	Forward	Cann
Blake	Forward	Greeley
Dearborn	Forward	Malloy
Schlosser	Forward	Roth
Parrington	Forward	Lognazini
Sweeney	Forward	Walter

FINAL PRACTICE FOR ST. MARY'S AT S. A. C.

Final practice is being held by Otto Ritler's Club from the S. A. C. to prepare for the struggle with the St. Mary's Rugby team to-morrow. All the local men have been doing well in their work and the club Commissioners are well satisfied with the prospect.

Ritler states that the game at Grass Valley woke up the team thoroughly and that it has developed faster teamwork among his men. He viewed the clash between St. Mary's and Santa Clara last Saturday and thinks that the home squad will more than hold its own with the visitors.

"I'm getting the boys into shape so they can meet some of the speedier players of St. Mary's," said Ritler yesterday. "There is Starrett of the visitors, for instance. He is a good, rapid worker and has to be watched. Captain Diavala of St. Mary's is as good a man as you can see at this branch of the game. Leonhardt and Stolz are also speedy workers. Simpson, Walker, Malloy and Greeley were men whose play I noted especially last Saturday in the game with Santa Clara.

"There ought to be a good crowd here. When St. Mary's played Santa Clara there were at least 7,000 in the stands. We are having a good sale of tickets already for the game and I think that the event will prove popular. Our boys are doing nicely and we will schedule some other games for them as soon as we are through with this one."

OLYMPIC CLUB BOXERS TAKE FOUR STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS

S.F. CHRON. 11-23-10

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, November 22.—The Olympic Club boxers of San Francisco carried off four State championships at the Pacific Amateur Association tournament, which came to a close here tonight. Through the disbarring of Pete Muldoon of Seattle from the Coast middle and welter weight championship, Bobbie McAllister won both the events. J. O. Long won the heavy-weight honors, and Charles Roscha took the lightweight event by default.

The heavy-weight battle between Long and F. K. Westerman of San Francisco was a slugging bee, and knockdowns were the rule rather than the exception. The bout terminated in the second round, when Westerman was knocked out of the ring and into the press box.

M. Veiera of the Redwood Club of Oakland won the championship in the feather-weight bout by beating Eddie Smith of the same club. Veiera in turn was beaten by M. Salvador in a special event.

Lee Muskrat won the title in the 125-pound class by winning a game fight from Matt Toomay of the Olympic Club.

As Muldoon is charged with professionalism by the Olympic Club he could not compete.

FAST GAME OF RUGBY IS PROMISED

SAC STAR. 11-24-10

With both teams confident of victory, indications were that this afternoon's game between the St. Mary's College of Oakland and the Sacramento Athletic Club would be one of the finest games of Rugby ever played in Northern California. Both teams had trained faithfully for the game, which was to be played at Buffalo Park.

The St. Mary's team is the more experienced of thetwoandis considered one of the best Rugby teams in the State, despite the fact that they were defeated by Santa Clara. Under the direction of Director Rittler, the Athletics have developed into a fast, clever team. A good game is looked for. The teams will line up as follows:

Sacramento	Position	St. Mary's
Williams	Forward	Cann
Blake	Forward	Greeley
Dearborn	Forward	Mailoy
Schlosser	Forward	Roth
Parrington	Forward	Fiberling
Sweeney	Forward	Walter
Gammon	Forward	Hatt
Palm	Forward	Bell
A. Evers	Half	Diarola
Kennedy	Five-eighths	Hughes
Dickson	Five-eighths	Scott
H. Evers	Three-quarters	Simpson
Holmes	Three-quarters	Starrett
Sherwin	Three-quarters	Stolz
Ferguson	Full	Leonhardt

Substitutes—Curl, Hart, Azevedo, Lobner, Luke, Putnam.

S. A. C. WON ONE CHAMPIONSHIP; NEAR-FATALITY

SAC. STAR. 11-23-10

Seven slashing bouts, one of which came near being a fatality, wound up the boxing tournament for the championships of the Pacific coast under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Old Pavilion last night. The Sacramento Athletic Club won one championship; the Redwood club of Oakland won two, and the Olympic club of San Francisco four.

The best bout of the evening was between Bobby McAllister of the Olympic club and R. Moyes of the Sacramento Athletic Club, for the welterweight championship. These two fought like tigers from start to finish. Moyes showed all manner of gameness and fought for all there was in him despite the fact that McAllister was pounding him to a pulp. Moyes is a new man at the game and deserves a great deal of credit for the showing he made against his more experienced opponent. The two slugged all through the last round. McAllister earned a popular decision and the welterweight title.

J. A. Long of San Francisco knocked out F. K. Westerman of San Francisco and won the heavyweight championship. Neither boxer displayed any great amount of class but both had haymakers that they landed on each other with frequency. Westerman had the better part of the first two rounds. He knocked Long, a much larger man, all over the ring and scored two knockdowns. In the third honors were about even until Long put his man out of the ring with a right-hand smash to the head. Westerman staggered the Olympic Club heavy in a rush but was again put out of the ring with a smash to the chin. He struck his head on the floor and lay there completely out. It required 20 minutes of hard work to revive him.

M. Viera, of the Redwood club, defeated Eddy Smith of the same club for the featherweight title. The bout was a good one but Smith was outpointed by his stronger opponent. Stomach punches told on Smith who was game but outclassed.

Later in the evening Salvador, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, was given the decision over Viera for a special prize. Salvador clearly outpointed the Oakland lad and could have, by extending himself the night before, won the championship.

In one of the fastest goes of the evening Lee Muskrat, the fighting messenger boy from the Sacramento Athletic Club, brought home the bacon in the special weight. Muskrat defeated Matt Toomey, of the Olympic Club for the 125-pound championship in a fast three rounds. Toomey led off like a winner but "the rat" outfought him in the last round and scored three knockdowns.

Jack McFadden and Pete Muldoon went an exhibition go which was as good as a vaudeville show. The two kidded and pulled off some comedy stunts the like of which has not been seen in the ring for some time.

Shreckengost quit cold in the first round of an exhibition go with Raymond of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Raymond carelessly tapped the doughnut reservoir of the long-named and that gentleman cried cease.

There being no opponents in the 135-pound or lightweight class this event went to Charles Roscha of the Olympic club by default. Roscha was last year's champion.

Several of the title-holders will be seen in action at the regular monthly show of the Athletic club next month. Hickey and Hooker will tangle. Eddy Smith and Salvador have an argument to settle. Pete Muldoon will meet McAllister. Muldoon's entry was protested by the Seattle club.

Bantamweight, Henry Hickey, R. C., Oakland; featherweight, M. Vieira, R. C., Oakland.

Special weight, L. Muskrat, S. A. C., Sacramento.

Middleweight, R. McAllister, O. C., San Francisco.

Lightweight, Charles Roscha, O. C., San Francisco (by default.)

Welterweight, R. McAllister, O. C., San Francisco.

Heavyweight, J. Long, O. C., San Francisco.

SLASHING BATTLES IN FINALS OF P. A. A. CHAMPIONSHIPS

SAC. UN. 11-23-10

Westernman Koncked Through Ropes by Long Remaining Unconscious for Some Time. Lee Muskrat Wins Special Class After Hard Battle.

CHAMPION AMATEUR BOXERS OF THE PACIFIC COAST

Bantamweight, 105 pounds—Henry Hickey, Redwood club.
Featherweight, 115 pounds—M. Vieira, Redwood club.
Special class, 125 pounds—L. Muskrat, Sacramento Athletic.
Lightweight, 135 pounds—Charles Roscha, Olympic club, by default.
Welterweight, 145 pounds—R. McAllister, Olympic club.
Middleweight, 158 pounds—R. McAllister, Olympic club.
Heavyweight—J. O. Long, Olympic club.

Seven bouts, each prolific of clever, snappy fighting, brought the P. A. A. boxing championship tournament, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club, to a successful close at the old pavilion last night.

The boxers from the Olympic club carried off the lion's share of the honors, the boys wearing the winged doughnut taking home four championships. Lee Muskrat of the S. A. C. brought home the championship in the special class and the Redwood club boys took two firsts.

The heavyweight bout between J. A. Long of the Olympic club and F. K. Westerman of the unattached of San Francisco, nearly resulted in a fatality. Westerman being knocked through the ropes to the floor of the pavilion in the third round, striking his head on the press stand in his fall, being rendered unconscious for twenty minutes. He was carried to the dressing room by his handlers, where he was revived, and then taken to his hotel. Westerman will feel no effects from his fall.

WESTERMAN IS HURT.

It was a hard, scrappy contest in which Westerman was beaten and he deserves a great deal of credit for his showing. Up to the time he was sent crashing through the ropes the fight was an even break with both men battling like demons. At the opening of the fight Long appeared confident and whipped his left into Westerman's midriff repeatedly. In the second round Westerman came back strong and had Long tottering like a rocking chair from a left hook to the jaw which he ripped over repeatedly. At the opening of the third round both men rushed to the scratch and began to hammer one another all over the ring, the tide of battle drifting from one to the other. Long sent Westerman flying through the ropes on top of the timers with a right swing to the head and Westerman was practically out. Lanhall, one of his seconds, jumped into the ring and pulled him to his feet, the battle being resumed.

REFEREE LOSES HEAD

Referee Schwallenberger was derelict in his duty at this point, as Westerman should have been disqualified when his second jumped into the ring. He allowed the fight to go and Long, ripping in several uppercuts to Westerman's chin, had him groggy and tottering. With a well directed right to the jaw Long sent his opponent staggering and from sheer weight Westerman fell through the ropes, striking his head on the press stand and then falling to tht floor.

EDDIE SMITH BEATEN.

M. Vieira of the Redwood club had little trouble in beating Eddie Smith, a fellow club member, for the featherweight championship. Vieira was much more rugged than his opponent and used his left, which he snaps in from any angle with clocklike precision on his opponent's face. Smith was poor on defensive and his opponent was able to get inside his guard, using both hands to the stomach with telling effect. Although Smith was game, Vieira won all the way.

Later in the night Vieira took on M. Salvadore of the S. A. C. in a special bout and was outpointed in the last round. For the first two rounds the bout was even, but Salvadore scored heavily in the last round, being given the decision. Salvadore will get a special prize from the Sacramento Athletic club.

LEE MUSKRAT GATHERS.

In the battle for the championship of the special class, Lee Muskrat put up one of the prettiest fights of his career and beat Matt Toomey of the Olympic club, who fought him all the way. In the first round Toomey jumped into the lead, fighting craftily and feeling his opponent out, pecking Muskrat repeatedly on the nose. In the second round Muskrat rallied and started to rough it with his opponent, using his right advantageously and getting a lead. In the third round Toomey's wind failed him and although he obeyed Eddie Leonard's orders from his corner to lead, Muskrat counfered heavily and dropped his opponent to the mat three times. Muskrat was declared the winner at the end of the third round and was loudly cheered by his clubmates as he left the ring.

R. McAllister of the Olympic club proved himself to be a classy fighter by beating R. Moyes of the S. A. C. for the welter-weight championship. McAllister has taken away two championships, winning the middle-weight championship on Monday night. Moyes, who is a new man as a beginner in the fight game, proved himself to be a good, game, tough boy. He stood the gaff in a remarkable fashion, taking a terrific lacing in every round and coming back for more. Only McAllister's ring generalship and cleverness saved him as Moyes was going strong at the end. In the last round of the bout the boys stood in the middle of the ring, shoulder to shoulder and slugged like a pair of gladiators.

McAllister earned a good decision and was heartily cheered. His opponent, who comes from Yolo, was given a great reception as he left the ring.

MULDOON IN BURLESQUE.

Pete Muldoon and Jack McFadden furnished the burlesque bout of the evening. McFadden was carrying weight for age, rolls of averdupois overlapping his tights which were cut in the latest hobble fashion. The boys kidded along for three rounds, Muldoon swinging a towel for his opponent during intervals between rounds.

Schreckengost and Raymond, a brace of middle-weights, were then sent on for an exhibition bout. About the middle of the first round Raymond slammed "Schreck" in the porch and the gentleman with the tongue twisting name positively refused to continue although the audience nearly cheered him loudly.

M'ALLISTER WINS BOTH BOXING BOUTS

S. F. Post. 11-23-10

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22. — Visiting boxers have so far been the winners in the majority of the bouts held in the annual Pacific Coast amateur championships. In four of the six bouts last evening the visitors were accorded the decisions.

The judges have been criticised for some of their rulings. Bobby McAllister of the Olympic Club of San Francisco beat Joe Erickson in the welterweight class and then took the decision over R. Noone in the middleweight. M. Salvador was the general favorite in the featherweight class, but Eddie Smith of the Redwood Club was given the decision. Lee Muskrat of this city got the decision over J. T. Lanfall of San Francisco. E. Hooker and R. Ferris fought the preliminary bout in the bantamweight division and Henry Hickey of the Redwood Club beat Hooker for the championship.

Sacramento Defeated By St. Mary's College

S. F. EX. 11-25-10

SACRAMENTO, November 24.—In a drizzling rain that began shortly after the kick-off and continued throughout the contest, St. Mary's College Rugby team defeated the Sacramento Athletic Club fifteen here to-day by a score of 21 to 3.

It was the walkover St. Mary's expected, still the score tells but poorly the tale of Sacramento's earnest efforts against opponents that have had all the advantages of expert coaching and constant practice.

Sacramento kicked off and in three minutes the home team scored its only try. It looked for a time as if the locals would hold the visitors down, but it was only for a short period, for Diavila of St. Mary's went through for a try, making it 3 to 3. It was easy after that for the college team and they closed the half on the long end of a 10 to 3 score.

In the second half St. Mary's added 11 points to its score.

Simpson at three-quarters was the star of the day. He made four of the five tries credited to St. Mary's. Diavila converted three times.

Sacramento possessed the fighting spirit and gave battle constantly, but St. Mary's superior knowledge of the new game enabled them to win easily.

Jay Dwiggins, captain of the University of California, refereed the game. Although the day was disagreeable, there was a good attendance. The line-ups:

St. Mary's.	Position.	Sacto. Ath. Club.
Cann	Forward	Williams

Greeley	Forward	Dearborn
Tegazzini	Forward	Schlosser
Fiberling	Forward	Purrington

LOCAL WRESTLERS DO NICELY IN TOURNAMENT

SAC. BEE 11-30-10

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club are well pleased over the showing made by both George McLeod and "Bob" Emes at the Pacific Coast wrestling tournament, in spite of the fact that both men were defeated. In each case it was necessary for the winners to have a final bout before the award was made.

McLeod lost to Duncan because Referee William Smith, after ordering the extra bout, which was without a fall, thought the Olympic Club man had the better of the grips. George Walker of the Vancouver Club threw Emes in 5:32 with a half Nelson and crotch hold.

As the Sacramento men had trained but a short time for the contests, and as their opponents were evidently in the best of trim, their work is regarded as good.

ATHLETIC CLUB CLASHES WITH ST. MARY'S AT BUFFALO PARK TODAY

SAC UN. 11-24-10

Coach Rittler of the Athletics Expects His Team to Win Easily.

Football Battle Should Be the Best of the Season—Players Are Anxious.

BY COACH RITTLER

The Sacramento team will surprise many followers of the game when they go on the field on Thanksgiving day. Every man is in the best of shape and will fight from start to the finish. Our pack is very active and will have the advantage of the scrum. I look for a hard game with my team on top when the final whistle blows.

BY COACH FAULKNER

We have a fast set of backs who are capable of scoring on Thanksgiving day, and I am sure that the forwards will be able to get the ball out so that we can force the offensive. Every man is in good shape and the team should win.

What is expected to be the most hotly contested, most scientific Rugby football struggle of the year in Northern California, will take place this afternoon at Buffalo park—near the cemetery—between the teams of St. Mary's college and the Sacramento Athletic club. The kick-off will take place promptly at 2:30 p. m.

The Athletic club team is confident of victory and the five or six hundred backers of the winged aggregation are banking heavily on their side to come out victorious. It is true that St. Mary's has a good team despite its failure in San Francisco against Santa Clara last week. Of the two teams St. Mary's will have the advantage of a few pounds, especially in the scrum, for the weights there run, 135-173; 140-156, etc. Dickson, who was once a St. Mary's player, will strengthen the local line-up greatly as outside five-eighths. He is also captain and in his hands the Athletics should give the collegians all they can handle.

Dearborn, one of the forwards, will undoubtedly prove a world of strength in that position. He is a big strong fellow, and has the advantage of several years' experience as he played in the north. J. Blake will furnish the speed needed for the scrum. The important position of fullback will be occupied by Ferguson, while A. Evers will be held responsible for half. The wings are H. Evers and Sherwin.

W. Unmack, the sport writer and picker of the All-American Rugby team, will act as referee. Harry McGregor will be touch judge for the Athletics and C. Russel of St. Mary's will officiate for his team. The timers will be C. Wahlander for the S. A. C. and Beal for the collegians.

An auto parade is scheduled to precede the contest.

The line-ups:

Sacramento.	Position	St. Mary's
Williams	Forward	Cann
Blake	Forward	Greeley
Dearborn	Forward	Mailoy
Schlosser	Forward	Roth
Parrington	Forward	Fiberling
Sweeney	Forward	Walter
Gammon	Forward	Hatt
Palm	Forward	Bell
A. Evers	Half	Diarola
Kennedy	Five-eighths	Hughes
Dickson	Five-eighths	Scott
H. Evers	Three-quarters	Simpson
Holmes	Three-quarters	Starrett
Sherwin	Three-quarters	Stolz
Ferguson	Full	Leonhardt

Substitutes—Curl, Hart, Azevedo, Lobner, Luke, Putnam.

WEARERS OF THE WINGED S.

From top to bottom the players are Evers, Purrington, Sherwin, Kennedy, Gannon, Ferguson, Azevedo, Schlosser, Hart, Holmes, Putnam, Williams, Blake, Sweeney and Dickson in the circle.

BLAKES HAVE EASY VICTORY AT HANDBALL

The Blake brothers easily defeated their opponents in the handball tournament at the Sacramento athletic club yesterday. Several of the speedy players moved up several pegs in the percentage column as the result of yesterday's series. Nearly all the games in both divisions were fast and hotly contested. 11-28-10

Results in both divisions:

Class A—I. Blake and J. Blake defeated Shaw and Bacon 21:11, 21:14. Donald and Morris beat Strachan and Lobner 21:8, 21:4. Pugh and Duval beat Warren and McCullough 21:19, 21:16. SAC. STAR.

Class B—Shorrock and Wahlander tied Simmermacher and Cox 21:20, 20:21. Barnes and McDonough beat Mattison and Senf 21:20, 21:6. Rose and Ross beat Toland and Wahlander 21:20, 21:12. Sollars and Emes beat Morgan and MacGregor 21:20, 21:0.

LOCAL BOYS OUTCLASSED BY THE ST. MARY'S TEAM

Superior weight, team work and experience won the Rugby football game for the St. Mary's College from the Sacramento Athletic Club at Buffalo Park by a score of 21 to 3 yesterday afternoon. The Athletics were outclassed by the red and white team, who have played together for three seasons.

Despite the fact that they were playing together for practically the first time, were all new at the game, and had not had sufficient training, the local fifteen fought hard and made a good showing against the fast Oakland boys.

The Athletic team made the first try when Purrington after a scrum play, scored. Rittler went in at this point and advanced the ball well into St. Mary's territory.

The Oakland lads rallied and from that time ran up point after point. The locals seemed unable to hold the more experienced team. Time after time the Sacramento team had advantages which, through ignorance of the game, they allowed to slip by. The teams lined up as follows:

St. Mary's	Pos.	Sacramento
Cann	Forward	Williams
Hatt	Forward	Blake
Greeley	Forward	Dearborn
Tognazzini	Forward	Schlosser
Fiberling	Forward	Purrington
Walker	Forward	Sweeney
Clinton	Forward	Gannon

GRASS VALLEY NEXT SUNDAY NEW.

S. A. C. RUGBY TEAM TO MEET MINERS DECEMBER 5th.

11-27-10

Local Players Are Rapidly Learning the Game and Give Promise of Becoming a Star Aggregation.

Although the boys of the Sacramento Athletic Club were decisively defeated on Thanksgiving Day by the Rugby football players from St. Mary's College, they are in no way disheartened. The real truth of the matter is that only five on the team had ever seen a game of Rugby, let alone play one, and in consequence they were not in it for a minute. In fact it is wonderful, under the circumstances, that they were able to score at all. Another great handicap they have labored under was the fact that they could not get experts to meet in practice games. However, they are looking for all the games they can get this year in search for experience, hoping to be able to turn out a top-notch team next year.

Their next game with the stalwart miners from Grass Valley will be played on December 5th, and the boys hope to make a bettter showing. They are also endeavoring to get a game with the champion team of Woodland as soon as possible.

From a spectator's standpoint Rugby is a decided success and surpasses the old style of playing football. The plays are more open, the ball is in sight most of the time and the kicking adds interest to the play. As soon as the public becomes conversant with the rules the game should create almost as much interest as baseball.

In the Thanksgiving Day game none of the players were injured with the exception of a few minor bruises and, of course, they amount to nothing when there is sport in sight.

HANDBALL TOURNAMENT.

Good Games Promised at Athletic Club This Morning.

The handball tournament now being played at the Sacramento Athletic Club draws a big attendance every Sunday morning and competition is keen. In the Second class, beginning at the same hour, the drawings are as follows: Wahlander and Shorrock vs. Simmermacher and Cox; McDonough and Sprague vs. Carson and Williams; Barnes and McDonough vs. Senf and Mattison; Toland and Wahlander vs. Rose and Rose; Sollors and Emes vs. McGregor and Morgan.

ST. MARY'S RUGBY SQUAD DECISIVELY BEATS SACRAMENTO

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, November 24.—The St. Mary's Rugby team played rings around the forces of the Sacramento Athletic Club here today in a hard fought game at Buffalo Park. The score was 21 to 3 in favor of the visitors. The local players put up a determined game, but lack of coaching and team work was evident, and the St. Mary's players had things their own way.

Simpson and Deavola were the crack players of the St. Mary's team and did all the star work of the game. A large Thanksgiving crowd witnessed the game, notwithstanding a slight drizzle of rain that began to fall early in the afternoon. The line-up of the teams follows:

Sacramento — Forwards, Williams, Blake, Dearborn, Schlosser, Farrington, Sweeny, Gammon, Palm; half, A. Evers; five-eighths, Kennedy, Dickson; three-quarters, H. Evers, Holmes, Sherwin; full, Ferguson.

St. Mary's—Forward, Cann, Greeley, Mailoy, Roth, Lognazini, Walter, Hatt, Bell; half, Deavola; five-eighths, Hughes, Scott; three-quarters, Simpson, Starrett, Stolz; full, Leonhardt.

BOXERS OF THE OLYMPIC CLUB CAPTURE THE P. A. A. TOURNEY

Four Bouts Go to Visitors From San Francisco, Lee Muskrat Being Sole Local Victor.

Lee Muskrat upheld last night the honors of the Sacramento Athletic Club, as he won the only championship which comes to the local boxers in the P. A. A. ring tourney. By defeating Matt Toomey of the Olympic Club of San Francisco at the Old Pavilion, Muskrat becomes amateur champion of the Coast at 125 pounds.

It is the Olympic Club that carries off honors in the tournament, however. Four titles go to that organization and, although one is by default, those who battled did fast work for the colors they carry.

To Robert McAllister, who has figured prominently in the tourney, goes most credit for the San Franciscan victory. He defeated Schreckengast by default and Moyes of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who boxed in the welter division last night. Although Moyes put up a hard battle, the visitor proved himself superior. McAllister boxed throughout in as clean cut fashion as any man who appeared in the ring.

"Heavies" in Hard Bout.

Although the bout itself was rather slow, the dramatic part of the entertainment came in the heavyweight match, the closing feature of the evening's program, where John A. Long of the Olympic Club won from Frank Westerman, unattached, of San Francisco.

Starting in rather sluggish fashion, on the principle of large bodies moving slowly, the boxers did not show particular speed during the first round. Long's blows, delivered with little snap, but with the weight of a massive body behind them, shook up Westerman badly in the first round. At one stage it seemed as if the affair would terminate by a knockout in that period.

Westerman covered up and was badly staggered by the force with which Long's punches came in during the opener and, although he countered gamely enough, seemed hopelessly beaten. Then, under advice from his seconds, he changed his defensive style in the next round.

Instead of simply trying to block, he lashed out fiercely whenever Long led and soon had his opponent perplexed and worried. The spectators commenced to cheer wildly at this shift in the appearance of the match and Westerman stuck doggedly to his work. The second round ended with Westerman's face showing the effects of Long's punches.

Both Men Exhausted.

The third round was as fast as two exhausted men could make it. Both were fairly staggering at the end. They reeled into clinches and missed frequently. Each had scored a knockdown in the second round and both were badly shaken.

Then, after a mixup in the center of the ring, Long rushed Westerman to the ropes and knocked him through. One of the boxer's seconds pulled him back into the ring and entered with him, to shove him to the front. Referee Swallenberg promptly grasped the intruder and forced him out. He could have disqualified Westerman had he so chosen, but he allowed the bout to proceed.

A moment later, when Westerman had made a rally and seemed to be holding his own in spite of exhaustion, Long sent in a blow to the stomach. He followed this up with a punch to the jaw, which fairly knocked Westerman off his feet. It was the ponderous weight behind the blow, more than anything else, that turned the trick.

Knocked Out of Ring.

Westerman doubled up limply, rolled backward through the ropes, and fell with a crash on the press stand, beside the ring. His seconds dashed a bucket of water over him, but it did no good. He rolled limply to the floor with another thud, and lay senseless for ten minutes before he could be carried to his dressing room.

This was the fourth score for the Olympic Club in the tournament. Ancil Hoffman had been unable to make weight, and Charles Roscha, of the Olympic squad, won the 135-pound class by default.

M. Viera, of the Redwood Club, who won the title at 115 pounds, met defeat later in the evening when he agreed to give an exhibition with M. Salvador, of the Sacramento A. C. The bout was unofficial, however, and did not affect the outcome of the tournament.

Muskrat's victory over Toomey, of the Olympic Club, was well deserved. The visiting boxer had a clean-cut left and a wicked right which he used with effect during the first round. But it seemed impossible for him to hurt Muskrat, and the latter would come up smiling after blows that made him reel. This was in the first round. Then, in spite of the punishment he had received, Muskrat commenced to wade in, first with counters to the face, and then with leads. Both men were thoroughly worn out at the end, but Muskrat was adjudged the victor.

Redwood Men Score.

Viera, of the Redwood Club, easily beat his teammate, Eddie Smith, for the 115-pound title. Hickey, of the same club, had won the bantam title at 105 pounds Monday night. R. Moyes, of the S. A. C., gave McAllister a lot of trouble in the 145-pound division. Although smeared with blood drawn from his nose, Moyes came back again and again and gave McAllister the hardest contest he has encountered here.

Pete Muldoon put up a burlesque exhibition bout with Jack McFadden in the heavyweight class. Announcement was made from the ringside that McAllister would meet Muldoon in the contests scheduled here next month, in case Muldoon is reinstated. Challenges in the lighter divisions were also made, when the various boxing champions were being announced.

The briefest bout of the evening was in the middleweight division, wherein Schreckengast, of the S. A. C., was doubled up by a blow in the stomach in an exhibition with Raymond, the punch ending the go.

Tourney Is Wound Up.

Last night's matches ended the tournament. Some fast boxing was seen, the bouts of last evening being better by far than those of the opening night.

Credit should have been given in yesterday's Bee to Bert Hodson, of the Hodson Studio, who produced the photograph of Referee Swallenberg for this paper.

Boxers Who Won Various Titles in P. A. A. Meet

Lee Muskrat was the only S. A. C. man to score a championship, winning the 125-pound class medal.

M. Viera of the Redwood Club won at 115 pounds.

Charles Roscha, Olympic Club, won 135 pound medal by default.

R. McAllister, Olympic Club, won championships at 145 and 158 pounds.

J. O. Long, Olympic Club, won heavyweight championship.

ATHLETICS TRY HARD BUT ARE BEATEN BY ST. MARY'S FIFTEEN

SAC. UN. 11-25-10

Well-Trained Collegians Walk Away With Exhibition Rugby Contest at Buffalo Park in Drizzling Rain Before Big Crowd, With 21 to 3 Score—Dwiggings Referees.

Battling in every minute of the game with a determination that under ordinary circumstances would have won for them an overwhelming victory, the Sacramento Athletic club fifteen yesterday lost to St. Mary's college team at Buffalo park by a score of 21 to 3. It was a good contest, despite the one-sided score, and it was no walk-over for the collegians, despite the points they were credited with at the finish. Every one of the 21 points made by the visitors were fought for—and fought for hard and not a one was yielded until it was taken by force. Sacramento's defeat can be attributed to one thing and to one thing only, and fought for hard and not one was Rugby.

A thick drizzle began shortly after the kickoff and continued throughout the contest, increasing at intervals until a real Sacramento winter storm was raging. Still the Athletes struggled on and the six hundred or more spectators, who had braved the dark clouds and stiff breeze that threatened to release the rain at any minute, cheered whenever a good play was enacted. The crowd came late but stayed until the finish and never for a minute seemed to lose interest, though many did not understand the exhibition that was for the first time taking place before their eyes.

The Athletics were strong in the scrum and fairly good at passing, but they were poor at tackling and could not kick at all. On the other hand the St. Mary's players tackled perfectly and Diavila's ability to convert Simpson's tries established the standard of the team in that department. Coached to perfection and practiced to a fine point the visitors outclassed the locals, though no particular credit is due them for the one-sided victory.

Sacramento's lack of knowledge of the game was its greatest handicap. Many times the ball was in their possession at advantage points, when, from utter ignorance, they allowed St. Mary's to work out of dangerous positions to safety. They played a loose, unscientific game against well schooled opponents and could expect no other result under the circumstances. Still they deserve a great deal of credit, for no team could have lost trying harder and their defeat cannot be attributed to a lack of effort.

Captain Jay Dwiggins of the University of California football team refereed the game, and in discussing it afterward, he said:

"There is excellent material in the local team, but what they need is to learn the game. The players, as a whole, tried hard, but they didn't know what to do at the right minute and, of course, were beaten by superior instructed men. They should not take their defeat to heart, but go ahead and practice, hard and often, and they will be hard to beat one of these days."

SIMPSON IS STAR.

Simpson, one of St. Mary's three-quarters, was the hero of the day. He made four of the five tries and was otherwise very effective. Diavila, the halfback, also played a good game, converting three of Simpson's tries and scoring the fifth try himself. Purrington of the Athletics has the credit of making the S. A. C.'s only try. Dickson, captain of the locals, Schlosser, Gannon, Rittler and last, but not least by any means, Sherwin, all played a good game. "Brick," as Sherwin is called, is a little fellow, only weighing 127 pounds, but he tackled the big fellows with as much unconcern as did Sweeney, Dearborn and Rittler and he was always to be found where trouble was brewing.

Sacramento secured the kickoff and Dickson dropped the ball on St. Mary's twenty-five-yard line. Excellent scrum work proved effective here and Purrington was sent through for a try. The first and only score for the locals was made in just two and three-quarter minutes after the kickoff. Dickson failed to kick. St. Mary's found itself here and carried the ball right up to Sacramento's goal. In a scrum on the line Kennedy went out and two minutes time-out was taken. Schlosser secured the ball from Simpson and kicked it to the half line. Rittler, who had taken Evers' place, received the ball and made a masterly run well into St Mary's territory. The ball was sent back into Sacramento land from a scrum, and after a dribbling rush Diavila went through for a try, tieing the score. He kicked straight through the posts and advanced the score two points. A try and a goal closed the half with St. Mary's 10 to the good and Sacramento still 3.

SECOND HALF.

The second half was even easier than the first for St. Mary's. The locals were a little exhausted and could not hold the visitors down. Simpson and Diavila worked their clever tricks a few times, and the contest ended 21 to 3. Had not Chet Gannon grabbed Simpson by the sleeve on the five-yard line ten minutes before time the score would undoubtedly have been 23 to 3 instead fo 21 to 3. The line-up:

VICTORY IS EASY FOR ST. MARY'S SQUAD

SAC. BEE. 11-25-10

Straight team work made the game at Buffalo Park yesterday easy for the St. Mary's visitors, who won from the Sacramento A. C. squad by the score of 23 to 3. Simpson of the visiting team was hero of the occasion, as he made four of the five tries, the last being made by Diavala, captain of St. Mary's. Diavala kicked three goals in the course of play.

Sacramento had a big score piled against it largely through lack of team work. It was a case of individual players facing a well organized corporation. St. Mary's played as a team, Sacramento singly. And that is the whole story of the game.

For one brief moment, individual work told. This was when Purrington, in the first few moments of play, went across the opposing line for a try. Captain Dickson failed to kick goal and from that time on the tallying was done by the strangers.

All through the game it was a case of individual against team play.

Otto Ritler, coach of the S. A. C. team, went in early in the game. Conspicuous in an orange colored jersey, he made himself a prominent figure for several plays. Then the effects of frequent tackles on the field, which rain was rapidly converting into mud, changed his wearing apparel to the same dingy hue as that of the rest of his team and he became lost in the general shuffle. Faulkner, Coach of St. Mary's, played with his team.

Lobner, Luke, Hart, Curl and Azevedo were sent in as substitutes for Sacramento in rapid succession. But they could not stop the visitors. The halves were thirty minutes. About five hundred spectators witnessed the match and remained in spite of adverse weather conditions, the roof of the stand still being in a state of disrepair.

Captain Jay Dwiggins of the University of California team referred. The line-up:

HANDBALL GAMES ARE WON EASILY

SAC. UNION

Blake Brothers Are Again Winners—Second-Class Teams Tie.

11-28-10.

There was little room left for doubt as to the superiority of the winners among yesterday's contestants in the first division of the handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic club. The winners won easily and by big scores. The Blake brothers, Donald and Morris and Pugh and Duval scored heavily and thus took a step upward in the race for titles. Only three sets were played in this division as one of the the teams forfeited.

In the second division some of the games were close. Shorrock and Wahlander won 21:20 in the first game and were beaten in the second by Simmermacher and Cox 21:20. Sollars and Emes won the first game from Morgan and MacGregor 21:20 and the second 21:0.

Results in both divisions:

Class A—I. Blake and J. Blake defeated Shaw and Bacon 21:11, 21:14. Donald and Morris beat Strachan and Lobner 21:8, 21:4. Pugh and Duval beat Warren and McCullough 21:19, 21:16.

Class B—Shorrock and Wahlander tied Simmermacher and Cox 21:20, 20:21. Barnes and McDonough beat Mattison and Senf 21:20, 21:6. Rose and Ross beat Toland and Wahlander 21:20, 21:12. Sollars and Emes beat Morgan and MacGregor 21:20, 21:0.

COAST CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS ARE OVER

The amateur wrestling championships of the Pacific Coast came to a close at San Francisco last night. One of the hardest contests of the tournament was the one between George McLeod, of the Sacramento Athletic Club and Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club for the welterweight title. These two were so evenly matched that it required three trials to decide the match. As Duncan had secured several good holds the decision was given to him by a shade. SAC. STAR. 11-30-10

135-pound class—F. B. Smith, Vancouver.

145-pound class—Herbert Duncan, Olympic Club.

158-pound class—James Crawford, Western Club.

Heavy—Otto Wallfisch, Olympic Club.

WOODLAND TO MEET DAVIS ON GRIDIRON

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), October 21. The initial game of Rugby football will be played in this city Saturday afternoon between the Woodland High School team an dthe team from the State Farm at Davis.

Little or nothing is known about the respective merits of the two teams. Woodland has played but one game, that of last Saturday, when the team defeated the Sacramento High School by the score of 3 to 0.

Evening Class Hours.

Tuesdays and Fridays, 8 to 10 p. m.

Tournament Starts Monday.

Everybody is awaiting eagerly for the sound of the gong Monday evening at the Old Pavilion, when Sacramento boxing fans will witness their first amateur boxing tournament. That it will be a success is needless to say, because the class of the men entered assures that. The tournament will continue on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Entries are coming in every hour and by this evening the program will be more than full. There will be at least eight bouts each evening, which will equal at least thirty rounds of milling and in which some of the cleverest boys of the Coast will be seen.

The Olympic Club has the largest number of out-of-town men entered thus far and the Redwood Club of Oakland is a close second. San Francisco has sent a number of unattached men who look like good ones.

The only local men who will not be seen in action are George Barr and Schlitz Sollars. They both looked good in their events, but unforeseen conditions arose and they will not be able to appear.

Hooker and Red Murray are entered in the 105-pound class. Hooker looks good for a medal, and if the unexpected does not show up Red will win.

Sally Salvadour, Lee Muskrat, Joe Azevedo, McColloch and Spider Roache all promise to make a showing for the club in the 115-pound entries. This division has a good bunch of S. A. C. boys looking after it and we ought to grab something.

Charlie Burns and Wallace are out after the 135-pound scalps while Joe Erickson and Wallace are going out after the welter-weight championships.

Pete Muldoon and Young Schreck are out for the middle-weight class and Muldoon is going to try and land the heavy-weight championship.

The Olympic Club will send Ray Nolan, Mat Tooney and Charlie Boscha in the 125 and 135 pound classes. C. L. Stokes and McAllister are after the welter and middle weight honors, while J. Long is entered in the heavy-weight class.

The Redwood Club of Oakland has entered M. Vierra and Eddie Smith in the 115-pound class. Henry Hickey in the 105-pound class and M. Argrella in the 135-pound class.

Jack Landfall has entered unattached from San Francisco in the 125 and 135 pound class and Westerman has entered the heavy-weight class unattached.

Officials Are Chosen.

The Athletic Commission has selected Charlie Swollenberg as the referee of the coming boxing tournament. Swollenberg has shown by his past performances that he is one of the best at the job, and the directors did not even take time to think over a list of names before selecting him. At the suggestion of Boxing Commissioner Hoffman, J. W. Gray and E. Cox were chosen as time-keepers. They are good with the watch and have had lots of experience.

H. W. Sheridan, Carl Strobel, J. M. Pendergast, Otto Heilbron and V. S. McClatchy were all named as judges. Three will be chosen tonight at the meeting. P. A. A. Representative MacGregor reported that the medals would be here by Saturday. They are the most beautiful that have ever been given in any tournament on the Coast.

The Athletic Commission also decided that the price to be charged to members should be 50 cents for admission per night and 50 cents for ringside seats. Visitors are to pay single admission to pavilion $1, single admission to ringside 50 cents, tickets good for three admissions to pavilion $2.25 and tickets good for three admissions and ringside $3.50. Tickets can be had at Brown & Doyle's, Eighth and K Streets; Schlitz Hoffman's Cabin, 712 K Street; Kimball & Upson's, the clubrooms and from J. M. Inman.

Rittler Wants Autos.

Members with automobiles are invited to report to Professor Rittler.

Before the game next Thursday there will be a parade up and down the principal streets to let the visitors know that there is going to be a real live game of Rugby. Already quite a number of automobiles have been promised, but there is room for a few more.

Several local merchants are going to decorate their show windows in the Club and St. Mary's colors after the custom of the San Francisco merchants.

—o—

Don't Miss the Big Game.

The Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby team will play its first game before a Sacramento crowd on next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Buffalo Park, with the fast St. Mary aggregation. The game will be a speedy one and, judging from the records of both teams, it will be mostly a forward game. The St. Marys will come here with a big reputation and a good rooting section to help their team to victory. The club team is composed of a fast, hard-fighting bunch of huskies who are mostly novices at the game. There are a few men who have played before. The Sacramento Club members are going to astonish the natives by their rooting, which will be a new feature to local fans and players.

The team has not been picked yet by Coach Rittler and it is more than likely that he will have the entire squad show up at the grounds.

Spence Dickson, the former St. Mary's star and now star player of the club aggregation, will play inside five-eighths. He did by far the best backfield work in last Sunday's game with the Miners.

Ferguson and Lobner are battling it out for the fullback position, but it is more than likely that Ferguson will hold down the job, while Lobner will be kept for a reserve back.

A. Evers, thus far, has a walk-over for scrum half, but there is a rumor that Red Limmermarher has left the institution of learning to go to work, and if this is true he will have a hard man trying out for his position.

Ed Kennedy will play the outside five-eighths. His short punts to touch when his team was in a difficult position last Sunday practically cinched his chances for the team.

Holmes, a former Woodland star, will play center three-quarters. He is a good ground gainer and a hard man to tackle. H. Evers and Sherwin will look after the wing three-quarters job. They have been showing up for the past season.

The club has a hard-working scrum which can give any team a good tussle. In the front rank Dearborn and Doc Williams are sure of a berth, but Blake and Curl are running an even race for the odd place. Palm and Schlosser have the middle rank cinched, while Sweeney, Purrington and Gannon are taking care of the back rank.

Azevedo, Spike Corson, Luke, H. Evers and Doc Hart will be kept in reserve by Coach Rittler.

The two teams will line up about as follows:

S. A. C.	Wt.	Position.	Wt.	St. Mary's.
Ferguson	135	Fullback	173	Leonhardt
H. Evers	140	Wing.	156	Stolz
Sherwin	125	Wing.	143	Stanett
Holmes	165	Wing	145	Simpson
Kennedy	145	Wing	155	Scott
Dickson	160	Three-quarters	172	Hughes
A. Evers	135	Five-eighths	141	Diavila
Deerborn	180	Five-eighths	164	Bell
Williams	160	Half	155	Hatt
Curl	127	Forward	177	Cann
Palm	158	Forward	167	Greeley
Schlosser	160	Forward	175	Malloy
Sweeney	180	Forward	175	Roth
Purington	165	Forward	167	Fiberling
Gannon	160	Forward	180	Walter
Blake	147	Forward

Handball Starts.

Last Sunday both courts were busy with men struggling for a good start in the handball tournament. The men all showed a marked improvement over last year's playing and there promises to be some hard-fought games before the season is over.

All of the seven sets played were won in two games, thereby showing that the men are taking no chances by losing one of the first two games and winning the third.

By far the best exhibition of the day was put up by Bacon and Shaw when they defeated Lobner and Strachan in the closest game of the opening series.

Commissioner Yoerk canceled Gray and Root from the tournament for failing to appear. He means business and when a team fails to show without presenting a good excuse at least two days before the match he is going to declare the team out of it. The teams that were chosen to play the opening day were:

First class.—9 a. m.: Ducal and Pugh vs. Delano and Tate.

9:30: Root and Shaw vs. McCulloch and Warren.

10: Bronson and Gallup vs. Mansfield and Yoerk.

10:30: Lobner and Strachan vs. Bacon and Gray.

Second class—9 a. m.: Inman and MacGregor vs. McDonald and Barnes.

9:30: Toland and Wahlander vs. Senf and Watson.

10: Scollars and Emes vs. Rose and Ross.

10:30: Clark and Sprague vs. Payne and Shannon.

V. Marston has been elected referee and will officiate in all the games.

The results of the first day of playing:

First class—Yoerk and Mansfield beat McCulloch and Warren, 21—15, 21—11.

Bacon and Shaw beat Lobner and Strachan, 21—19, 21—20.

Barnes and MacDonough beat MacGregor and Morgan, 21—3, 21—7.

Toland and R. Wahlander beat Senf and Mattison, 21—17, 21—10.

Rose and Ross beat Sollars and Emes, 21—12, 21—3.

10 A. M.—Delano and Tate vs. Lobner and Strachan.

10:30 A. M.—Gallup and Marston vs. Yoerk and Mansfield.

Rugby Team Wins First Game.

The S. A. C. Rugby team, believing that a good start is the easiest road to success, slipped into Grass Valley Sunday afternoon and took the husky All-Star aggregation, composed principally of miners, into camp by a score of 9 to 5. The game was one of the most warmly contested that has ever been played in this part of the State. There were fully three hundred rooters on deck, but the club boys came in for their share of encouragement, for most all of the Nevada City people were giving the boys a hand.

It was a forward game throughout, with the club's scrum doing the best work. There was but one passing rush in the game, and that was when Gannon scored a try in the second half. Spence Dickson played a great game and made a try in the first half after a pretty run, dodging through a scattered field for thirty-five yards. Joe Blake also served a try in the first half. He picked the ball out of a dribbling rush and lost everybody in a pretty forty-yard goal run.

The S. A. C. forwards showed up well, and it was owing to their work that the husky miners were kept in hand. Doc Williams, Dearbourn and Palm all fought hard, and Curl, Sweeney and Azevedo started a number of good dribbling rushes. Corson and Blake were always on the ball, and scrum half Evers never allowed the enemy to start a dribbling rush. Kennedy, Holmes and Dickson showed their ability and by hard and consistent work advanced the ball for big gains. The wing three-quarters was taken care of on the left by Chet Gannon and on the right by Evers, while Ferguson caught everything the team missed.

The S. A. C. team lined up as follows: Curl, Doc Williams and Dearbourn formed the front row of the scrum and Sweeney and Schlossar played in the second row. The back row of the scrum was composed of Palm, Corson and Blake, and Azevedo was kept in reserve. Scrum half, E. Evers; five-eighths, Kennedy and Holmes; center three-quarters, Spence Dickson; wing three-quarters, Chet Gannon and H. Evers; full back, Ferguson.

Otto Rittler accompanied the team and saw that they were treated right and looked after the bruised spots, and Roy Cothrin was the master of ceremonies and formed the entire S. A. C. rooting section. The miners had their hands full trying to outroot him.

—o—

Spartans Issue Challenge.

The Spartans, better known to local basket ball teams as the lightweight team, are out after scalps. They are in the best of condition and are hungry to mix it with some live teams, so they have sent out a challenge to any team in the State.

The Spartans are made up of vets, and as they put up a game fight for the championship last year great things are expected of them. Prof. Rittler has the boys on signal work, and they are advancing very rapidly. They will give any team that wishes to play them a good tussle for honors.

—o—

A Rooting Section.

One of the features of next Thursday's Rugby game will be a rooting section which will help cheer Sacramento on to victory. This will be something new to Sacramento people as uniform rooting has been seen here only in High School games, and the club men do not know much about it.

The club is fortunate in having Mucka McClatchy, old St. Mary's College yell leader, who will lead the S. A. C. rooting section. When McClatchy was yell leader at St. Mary's his rooters never cheered a losing team, St. Mary's being victorious in every line of sport during his leadership. Bud Reidy, a former All-Star athlete, will be McClatchy's partner, and his presence will be sure to inspire fight in the huskies. Already they are at work forming yells and songs to be sung, and the spirit that prevails at this game will undoubtedly eclipse all previous records.

Club Chat.

A victory and the first game of the season looks encouraging for the future of the S. A. C. Rugby men. They are a bunch of fighters from the scrum to the wings, and although outweighted in the last game they outplayed their opponents.

Joe Erickson's one ambition is to meet McAllister with the gloves, and if they hook up this time the terrible Swede promises to show the bunch that he has the stuff in him to make the lanky boy take the count.

St. Mary's College meets Santa Clara College today in their annual Rugby encounter, and the club's chances in the coming game with St. Mary's will depend greatly on the outcome of this match.

Next Wednesday when the High School basket ball team journeys to Ione, Bart Lovich will be on deck to fill the forward position for the school team. Barb has hit a gait that has never been surpassed by any forward, and promises to be one of the star basket ball forwards in this winter's season.

Red Murray may wake the natives up at the coming boxing fest. He is getting faster every day, and as there is likely to battle his way to a championship.

Doc Williams is a hard worker in the scrum, and he had all of the Cousin Jacks backing water Sunday.

Bud Reidy graduated from Anheuser College in the late nineties, but he still has a number of good kicks in him, so he will more than let things loose Thursday.

The handball tournament is bringing around a number of the old champs who are going to try to get back the eye that they tell about these cold night when everybody is hugging the stove.

Kennedy did some very nice kicking in last Sunday's game. His short boots into touch were perfect, and he is a good ground gainer when the ball is passed to him.

Prof. Rittler saw the California-Stanford game Saturday, and also renewed acquaintances around St. Mary's. Saturday he will be one of the touch judges in the St. Mary's-Santa Clara game.

Ferguson made quite a hit with the fair sex of Grass Valley. The remark was often heard on side line: "Oh! isn't he just cute." In fact, the whole team made a good impression, for they received a very urgent invitation from all to stay until the next day, but the married men thought they had better keep moving, so they took the train to Colfax and stayed there until 2 in the morning, thereby missing a good time.

George Barr will be in Sacramento the early part of next week to put in the finishing touches at the gym. He is down to weight and feeling fine.

Tickets for the Thursday game are selling like hot cakes, so get in line and make the natives set up and take notice that football will draw a larger crowd than any other branch of sport.

The Capital Hotel will be decorated for the coming game. The St. Mary's bunch is going to make it its headquarters while in Sacramento.

If you have a machine, be on deck for the big parade next Thursday.

The Recent Boxing Tournament.

The "Event of Events" has arrived and gone since the last issue of The Weekly. The great boxing tournament of the year is a thing of the past, and in passing let us see what has been accomplished.

In the first place it is hoped and believed that this event in the club life has cemented the good fellowship of the membership and aroused a spirit of club pride which, while perhaps not wholly lacking in the past, has usually been conspicuous by its absence. Events such as this will either tend to add to or detract from the confidence and respect of the community at large. We hope that the former is the case, and we believe that it will.

Those having the management of the affair are only human and may, and perhaps did, make mistakes. But they did the very best possible to make it a success, and it remains for those present to say whether or not their efforts were of avail.

While the entries from the club may not have carried off the lion's share of the glory, they deserve, as a rule, the sincere thanks and appreciation of the members for their valiant efforts. It could not be expected that the boys from this new club could successfully compete with clubs such as the Olympic and Redwood, but with a little patience and forbearance the S. A. C. will be able, in the very near future, to make its mark in the boxing game, for no club has better material upon which to build.

And now for the future. The management expects to put before the club some time during the next month a card superior to anything that has gone before. A near acquaintance with the boxers from the bay has been of great benefit, and it will prove much easier to make good matches in the future. It is hoped at the next attraction to match such sterling boxers as Muldoon (whom it is confidently expected will be reinstated immediately) with McAllister, who has expressed his faith in his ability to defeat him, or with Long, the winner of the heavy-weight championship. M. Vieira, the winner of the feather-weight championship, is anxious for another chance at Salvadore, who defeated him during the tournament. Eddie Smith is anxious for another try at the winner in this class, and will be accommodated, and it is also hoped to match our own Lee Muskrate with some good boy of his own weight. And so it appears that a card of high class will be arranged for next month.

The interpretation of the law relating to boxing by the officials leaves the field clear for the legitimate amateur clubs, and this want the Sacramento Athletic Club proposes to fill in this community. The officers of the club have received assurances that these monthly bouts, so long as they are kept clean and clear of the taint of professionalism, will not only be permitted, but will be encouraged in every possible way, for it is recognized by all that no sport is so well qualified to make better and manlier men of the rising generation than that of boxing, and that a man is a better citizen and less likely to be a breaker of the laws if an adept in the art of self-defense.

The Directors thank those who kindly participated in the recent tournament and those citizens who so kindly assisted by their presence and otherwise, and desire to especially thank W. F. Gormley, Eddie Kay and C. E. Trainor, who donated medals. They take this opportunity to commend the boxers, their managers and assistants. No more gentlemanly or courteous boys have ever participated in a sporting event held under the auspices of this club, and their sportsmanlike conduct will go far to cement the friendship heretofore existing between this club and the Olympic, Redwood and other clubs.

Tournament Details.

The Sacramento Athletic Club held the P. A. A. boxing championship on Monday and Tuesday last at the Old Pavilion.

On Monday one championship was decided and six boxers qualified for the finals. A crowded house greeted the first bout between Hooker of Sacramento and Ferris, also a S. A. S. boy. Hooker landed a knockout punch in the first round. Ferris evidently had a bad case of stage fright.

In the second match Eddie Smith, of the Redwood Club, was awarded the decision over Salvador, one of the club's cleverst boxers, after three rounds of fast fighting. There were many present who thought that Salvador should at least have had another round.

Lee Muskrate, S. A. C., was awarded a well earned decision over Lanfall after an extra round had been fought. Lanfall had the best of the first two rounds, but Muskrate's work in the final rounds won him the verdict.

"One Round" Joe Erickson, the club's pride, again met defeat at the hands of Bobby McAllister, of the Olympic Club. He was outfought and outpointed all the way, and never had a chance to win.

Hooker and Hickey then went on for the bantam championship. Hickey was too clever for the local boy, who seemed weakened by his other fight earlier in the evening. Hooker was game, sticking to the end, although he was floored five times in the third round.

McAllister won from Noone, S. A. C., in the closing bout of the evening. Noone did not seem to be in condition.

A wrestling match was introduced during the evening to relieve the monotony. Bedee defeated Wheat after losing the first fall.

During the course of the evening it was announced that Pete Muldoon, the crack middle-weight of the S. A. C., would not compete owing to the claim of the N. W. A. A. that he was professionalized. He says that this is only spite work of the Seattle club.

Owing to the fact that a number of entries withdrew on account of being over weight the program was ended Tuesday instead of Wednesday, as was originally intended.

Seven fast bouts brought the championships to a successful close.

The Olympic Club won four firsts. S. A. C. one and the Redwood Club two.

The last fight of the evening, between Long, of the Olympic Club, and Westerman, unattached, resulted in a victory for the former. Westerman was knocked clear through the ropes in the third round and rendered unconscious for twenty minutes.

M. Viera, of the Redwood Club, had little trouble in beating his teammate, Eddie Smith. He outpointed him all the way. Later Viera took on Salvador of the S. A. C., who was defeated by Smith Monday evening in a special bout. Salvador was declared winner after three rounds of fast fighting. He will get a special medal from the club.

Lee Muskrate put up a great fight against Matt Toomey of the Olympic Club. The first round was even, but in the second Muskrate took the lead, outfighting his opponent all the way. Toomey appeared exhausted in the last round, being floored three times. Muskrate was cheered loudly by the crowd as he left the ring.

Noyes, S. A. C., a beginner, put up a great fight against McAllister, of the Olympic Club. He was fighting strong at the end, and the only thing that saved the San Francisco star was his cleverness and ring generalship. McAllister earned a good decision, and was cheered by the crowd for winning two championships.

Muldoon and McFadden put up an exhibition bout that was more like a pink tea than a boxing contest.

Raymond and Shreck went on for the next bout, but Shreck said "never again" when he received a hard right in the solar plexus in the first round.

Some Possible Football Games.

Professor Rittler intends challenging the winners of the Chico High-Woodland Rugby game for the championship of the Valley, and should he win this game he will probably bring the loser of the Olympic-Barbarion game to Sacramento, either Christmas or New Years.

The team has shown up so well for the first year that early next season a long schedule of games with the fast teams about the bay will be arranged, and with this season's experience and the competent coaching of Professor Rittler the Sacramento Athletic Club ought to give a good account of itself in football.

—o—

The next football game on the programe will be a return game with Grass Valley, to be played at Buffalo Park Sunday, December 4. The boys should have a rather easy time of it, as they are playing on their home grounds, and will have the added experience of having met St. Mary's College in the meantime. The line-up of the Miners is as follows:

Full, J. Northey; three-quarters, C. Rowe, W. Gilbert, S. Tregaskes, J. Hoskings; wing forward, D. Jenkins; forwards, W. Merfield, H. Gibson, J. Richards, T. Channee, L. Goodman, F. Gibson.

The Sacramento Athletic Club heartily thanks the merchants of this city for the interest they have shown in the big football game. A number of them decorated their windows, advertising the game, and all of them showed that they want a live club in the city by their help in making the institution one of the strongest in Northern California.

St. Mary's 21, S. A. C. 3.

In the second game of the season the Sacramento Athletic Club was defeated by St. Mary's College on Thanksgiving day at Buffalo Park by a score of 21-3. The club boys were not so completely outclassed as indicated by the score. They fought hard all the way and were scored on only through lack of knowledge of the new game in critical places. Had they been more experienced in Rugby the result might have been different.

The first play looked like a sure victory for the club. Dickson kicked off to St. Mary's twenty-yard line, where the scrum worked Purrington over the line for a try. The goal was missed by Dickson. St. Mary's then rushed the ball into Sacramento territory, but an excellent run by Rittler, who took A. Evers' place, brought the ball back to the center of the field. But good scrum work and cross kicks by St. Mary's sent both Diavialo and Faulkner across the line for trys. Both were converted by Diavialo. The first half ended with St. Mary's 10, S. A. C. 3.

A drizzling rain which had begun early in the first period made the play much slower in the second half, as the field was becoming soggy and the boys were fast becoming exhausted.

Starret, Simpson and Diavialo all played cleverly for St. Mary's in this half, each making a try, one of which was converted and ended the game with the final score: St. Marys 21, S. A. C. 3.

Basket-Ball.

The basket-ball boys are showing up for practice reguarly. Both the unlimited and lightweights are playing good ball, and should make a fine showing in the P. A. A. championships as well as against the various teams in this section of the State. Manager Palm has a number of good trips in sight for the boys. Among them is Woodland, Stockton, Vallejo and Lodi. Handball, basket-ball and football all work in together, and the squads are improving and increasing in numbers every day.

Guess Professor Herr Rittler wasn't hep to those inshots that the manager of the Olympia boxing team was passing around. But he was.

Get behind football and boost the game at every hand. It looms up like it will be a money maker to S. A. C. in the future.

It is to be regretted that four of the club's eleven boxers—Hoffman, Azevedo, Murray and Barr—could not compete on account of being overweight. If these boys had started training soon enough or had entered a heavier class they would probably have given a good account of themselves.

Joe Erickson says that making 145 pounds so weakened him that he was unable to land one of his famous rights on McAllister. He wants another chance at the lanky lad from the Olympic Club at catch weights.

The Rugby team has been considerably weakened by the loss of Spike Corson. His parents have objected to his playing because of the fact that he broke one of his shoe strings at Grass Valley while trying to catch one of the cousin Jack's long punts.

St. Mary's lost to Santa Clara in their annual struggle last Saturday by a score of 7 to 3. Professor Rittler, who attended the game, says that the St. Marys boys were weak on the defense and fumbled frequently.

Hurrah! Chet Gannon has found a job at last. He has deserted the ranks of the never-works and is laboring industriously at his newly found position.

Red Murray backed out of the tournament at the last minute. He says he could not make the weight.

Every one was sorry that Muldoon was not allowed to fight. He was barred at the last moment, but will probably be reinstated and a match with McAllister arranged for at one of the club's future boxing entertainments.

McGregor is going to make all the handball players take notice soon. He is fast getting into shape with his partner, Morgan. He has lost two games thus far, but this is only because he did not start to train soon enough.

Hooker made a mistake in fighting twice in one evening on account of being weak from making weight. The boys all hope he will be in better shape next time.

Lovich, who went to Ione with the High School team this week, has arranged a game between the lightweight and Ione High School basketball teams, to take place about Christmas time.

Manager Palm hopes to see all the basket-ball candidates out regularly. The heavy-weights Mondays and the lightweights Wednesdays.

SAC. WEEKLY 11-26-10

Henry Hickey of Oakland Wins the Bantamweight Amateur Championship

11-22-10.

OAKLAND ENQUIRER

By Bob Shand

THE Oakland delegation of boxers at the championship contests at Sacramento got off to a flying start last night when Henry Hickey cantered off with the honors in the bantamweight class. There were three entrants in this class and Hickey polished off the winner of the preliminary round, Hooker, of Sacramento, in workmanlike fashion. This youngster will bear watching. He is only a kid of about fifteen, and has never received any instruction in the gentle art of slamming the other party. However, he is an enthusiastic little chap and spends his every spare moment in the company of a muscle developing machine. He is as strong as a lightweight and has never been floored or lost a decision. Hickey is a member of the ancient and noble order of copy rushers. He is employed in the Enquirer editorial rooms. When the little fellow goes into training for a bout it is necessary to renew the other office boys periodically, as the kid has a little way of practicing on them.

THE other Oakland boxers taking part in the Sacramento tournament are Vierra and Eddie Smith. Smith won his preliminary last night and Vierra will start tonight for the first time. Both are nifty youngsters and expect to emulate Hickey's example and bring home the medals. Bob McAllister of the Olympic club was the real hero of the opening night's sport, winning two trials in the welterweight and middleweight divisions. In the lighter class he outpointed Erickson, the highly touted Sacramento scrapper, and in the middleweight division he easily gathered in the honors from Robert Noone, also of Sacramento. McAllister looks like a sure winner of both classes, as he is one of the cleverest boxers ever developed in the Olympic club. Of the six events decided last night visiting boxers captured four. The Oakland boxers are in charge of T. Dameral, the East Oakland instructor.

HENRY HICKEY,
The Oakland youngster, bantamweight champion of the Pacific Coast.

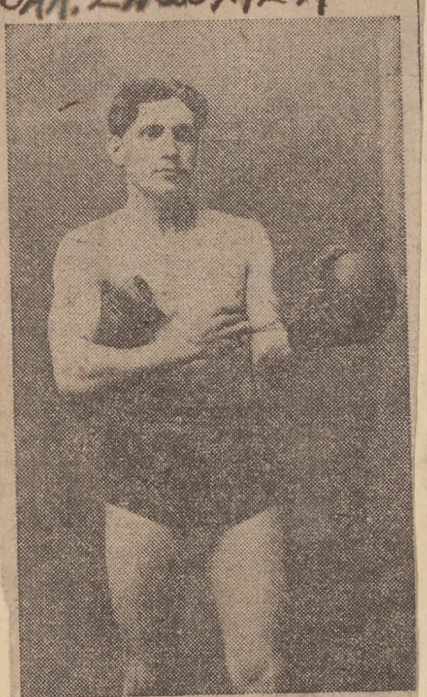
OAK. ENQUIRER



ANOTHER Oakland lad, M. Vierra, has brought back a championship from Sacramento and the only reason the only other Oakland entrant did not do some good for himself was because he had to meet his fellow club member in the final. Vierra captured the honors in the featherweight class last night by winning from Eddie Smith. Henry Hickey, won the championship of the bantamweight class Monday night. According to the Sacramento papers, Eddie Smith is a relative of the other Eddie Smith who does the refereeing. Such is fame. T. Dameral the East Oakland enthusiast, who took the three local lads to Sacramento is deserving of a great deal of credit as without his aid this city would not have been represented in the championships. The Oakland delegation will arrive home today. Bob McAllist of the Olmypic club won the welter and middleweight championships and Long, of the same club, captured the honors in the heavyweight division. Charles Boscha, also of the Olympic club, won the lightweight title by default.

WRESTLING CHAMPION MUST FACE CHARGE OF INELIGIBILITY

S.F. POST 11-30-10

Vancouver Club Asks Investigation Into Amateur Standing of Crawford.

Aftermath of the successful wrestling championships, held by the Olympic Club on Tuesday night at the St. Francis Hotel, may affect the title of one winner and cause a close investigation into the record of another, a visiting competitor. Crawford of the Western Club, winner of the 158-pound class title, who made such a sensational disposal of Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club, is charged with being a professional wrestler. Chester McIntyre of the Vancouver Club demands an investigation to determine the status of the Western Club wrestler. The circumstances surrounding the entry of Crawford are peculiar, and while one investigation by the registration committee of the P. A. A. has been held, without finding any proof against the winner, a second and more thorough investigation will be made into the previous competition of the crack matman.

It seems that Crawford was entered by the Western Club at the last minute, the wrestler coming from Bakersfield unheralded and making it known at the Western Club that he could wrestle. The club officials, accordingly, entered him in the championship affairs, and he worked his way to the top, and, in the final round, won from Walker in a decisive manner. His work at that time was so businesslike and rapid that the wrestlers present wondered why more had not been heard of the entrant, since Walker of Vancouver is one of the best-known matmen in the Northwest.

McLeod of the Sacramento Club, while not a championship holder, got to the finals and was only beaten to the decision by Duncan of the Olympic Club in the 145-pound class. This entrant is now under investigation also. It is claimed that he has been wrestling in the North under an assumed name, and, furthermore, has been accepting a salary as a gym instructor at the Sacramento Athletic Club.

PRELIMINARY BOUTS OF COAST WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS END TODAY

S.F. POST. 11-29-10

Semi-Finals in Various Divisions Being Conducted at Olympic Club.

FINALS SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT AT ST. FRANCIS

Large Crowds in Attendance and Mat Men Are Showing Expected Class.

That interest is keen in the wrestling game was evidenced last night by the big crowd of enthusiasts that attended the preliminary bouts of the Pacific Coast championship wrestling tournament held at the Olympic Club. The large list of entries from points distant from this city was in evidence, the wrestlers being truly representative of the best on the coast.

Bert Kerrigan of the Olympic Club refereed the matches, in which only one fall was necessary.

WRESTLERS MEET IN PRELIMINARY MATCHES

Finals of Coast Championship Tourney Will Be Contested at St. Francis Tonight.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The preliminary bouts in the Pacific Association wrestling tournament were held at the Olympic Club last night, and resulted in a series of interesting matches, which decided the eligible entries in the finals of the championship schedule to be contested at the St. Francis Hotel tonight. Of the visiting athletes, O. E. Franzke of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland won from Henry Miller of the Olympic Club in the 135-pound class, and will meet Brownell of the Winged O organization in the semi-finals today at 1 o'clock. Brownell last night defeated Basch of the Western Athletic Club in quick order, and displayed considerable class in his tactics on the mat. Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club drew a bye in the 158-pound class, and will oppose Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club tonight.

Considerable enthusiasm was displayed at the elimination trials last night, the entire seating capacity at the Olympic Club being taxed to its limit during the entire evening. In the 135-pound division J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club disposed of Will Fletcher of the Western Athletic Club in 2 minutes and 37 seconds. Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club won from C. Wells of the University of California in the 145-pound class after a tussle of 1 minute and 5 seconds and later defeated E. Baraty, his teammate, in a close contest which lasted 5 minutes and 22 seconds. R. Crawford of the Western Athletic Club won from Carl Ricks of the Olympic Club in the 158-pound class in 3 minutes and 22 seconds. The winged "O" supporters received another set-back in the same division when Thias of the Western Club won from Kolb in 2 minutes and 49 seconds.

Otto Wallfisch of the Olympic Club ran up against a hard proposition in R. Barber of the Pastime Athletic Club in the heavy-weight class and only won the decision after six minutes' close competition. Later in the evening Wallfisch won from Berger of the Western Club in the heavy-weight class, being timed in 2 minutes and 20 seconds. Berger had previously won from Read of the University of California in 1 minute and 32 seconds. In the same class R. M. Scott of the University of California won from Mattson of the Western Club in 6 minutes.

R. Juvenal of the Western Athletic Club defeated R. Illing of the Olympic Club in the 125-pound class in 5 minutes and 20 seconds. E. Henio of the Western Athletic Club had the best of the bout with Will Fletcher of the same club in less than half a minute.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the semi-finals will be contested at the Olympic Club, in which F. B. Smith of Vancouver will oppose George McLeod of the Sacramento Athletic Club in the 135-pound class, H. Henio against J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club, and George Walker of Vancouver against Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club in the 158-pound class, and E. F. Baraty of the local organization against R. W. Emes of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

The only match in the 115-pound class will take place at the St. Francis tonight, when George Chapman of the Western Club meets Lundon of the same club for the championship title. All of the deciding matches will be contested commencing at 8 o'clock.

Wrestlers from the north who will compete in Coast Championships, which begin tonight at the St. Francis Hotel. Reading from left to right: (Standing) F. A. Brownwell, Olympics, 135 pounds; C. A. McIntyre, Vancouver, trainer; E. D. O'Connell, Multnomah Club, Portland, trainer; J. M. Hughesm, Multnomah Club, Portland, 125 pounds. (Kneeling) J. A. Bradt, Multnomah Portland, 158 pounds; F. SAN FRANCISCO, November 30. Contests for the amateur wrestling championships of the Pacific Coast were held here yesterday and last evening. The 115-pound and one hundred and twenty-five pound events were won by George Chapman of the Western Club, San Francisco. Fred Smith, of Vancouver, won the 135-pound contest, defeating O. G. Franzke, Portland, in the semi-final, and J. P. Parker, Olympic Club, San Francisco, in the final. The time for the former match was 30 minutes 30 seconds, and the latter 1:20.

The hardest battle of the day was in the final of the 145-pound event, in which Herbert Duncan, Olympic, beat George McLeod, Sacramento. Twice the pair wrestled the full six minutes without the referee being able to give a decision, before, after three minutes in the third, Duncan gained a fall.

In the final of the 145-pound class, R. R. Crawford, Western Club, defeated Walker, Vancouver, in 32 seconds. In the heavyweight final Otto Walfisch, Olympic Club, beat R. M. Scott, University of California.

CHIEF AHERN PUTS BAN ON FIGHTING

SAC. UNION. 11-30-10

Local Fight Clubs Will Have to Change Tactics in Order to Promote Contests.

Chief of Police William Ahern in an emphatic manner yesterday put the crusher on the prize-fight promoters of Sacramento, who are making an attempt to open up the game in this city under the cloak of amateurism. They will have to show Ahern. Sacramento's chief of police said that after conferences with Governor Gillett and several well-known attorneys, that he was confident that he knew what a prize-fight was, and, notwithstanding the fact that the game has opened up in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Ahern will not permit fighting to be indulged in in Sacramento, at least not while he is chief of police. Ahern says that if prize-fighting was against the law when Governor Gillett stopped the Jeffries-Johnson fight, it is against the law now, and he is going to uphold the law.

AMATEUR BOUTS PERMITTED.

Ahern will permit three or four-round goes, such as are conducted by the Sacramento Athletic club, which is domestically incorporated. He will not allow the Central, Capital or Buffalo clubs to promote prize-fights unless they can show him where they have club rooms and a club roster that contains the names of a number of members. No clubs which are merely incorporated by two or three promoters will be allowed to promote fights. Ahern is emphatic on this point. If the Central, Buffalo, or Capital clubs can show Chief Ahern a club room equipped with gymnasium apparatus and a membership roll, they will be permitted to promote boxing contests. Otherwise, these clubs are out of the running.

LAW IS VIOLATED.

Chief Ahern is also of the opinion that the Sacramento Athletic club, which is a duly domestically incorporated club, violates the law regarding prize-fights at every exhibition of the club. Chief Ahern says that when the contestants enter the ring and try to incapacitate one another, the contest is nothing more nor less than a prize-fight. When one of the contestants is knocked out, the bout is purely a prize-fight, in the opinion of Chief Ahern, and he is backed by the Governor in his opinion and by the district attorney of Los Angeles.

At the last exhibition of the Sacramento Athletic club several boxers were knocked out, and Chief Ahern says that the contests were prize-fights. "I don't like myself to go to a contest and witness a couple of boys box one another with pillows encased about their hands, but the law must be obeyed, and I am going to see that it is," said Ahern. Continuing, the chief said that he would request all applicants for fight permits who were looked upon favorably by the board of trustees, to show him the roster of their club and their club room, fully equipped.

S. A. C. LIGHTWEIGHTS PLAY HEAVYWEIGHTS A TIE

SAC. UN. 11-3-10

The lightweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic club played the heavyweights to a standstill last night in a practice game, and as it was impossible for either team to score the winning goal the game was called, the score being 27 to 27.

The heavyweights lined up as follows:

J. Blake and Holmes, forwards; Sweeney, center; Palm and Azevedo, guards.

The lightweight team was:

Lovich and Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Kennedy, Sprague and Curl, guards.

The S. A. C. teams have something doing almost every evening next week. They will be occupied as follows:

Tuesday, December 6—Heavyweights practice in S. A. C. gymnasium.

Wednesday, December 7 — Lightweights play Boys, Brotherhood.

Thursday, December 8 — Heavyweights play Y. M. C. A. team.

Friday, December 9 — Lightweights meet Elk Grove at the Armory. Heavyweights play high school team in S A. C. gym.

Sturmer the jeweler has donated a beautiful silver loving cup for the best individual player of the Sacramento Athletic club. Every member of the two teams will try for the cup.

S. A. C. TO MEET IONE DEC. 9.

Basketball Director Palm of the Sacramento Athletic club has secured a game with the Elk Grove team for next Friday. The game will be played in the Armory at Sixth and M streets.

Physical Director Rittler is endeavoring to get a game of Rugby with the football team of the University of California farm at Davis. No acceptance or refusal of the challenge has been received as yet, but it is thought the game will be arranged in the near future.

On December 11 the Athletics will meet the Grass Valley All-Stars in a return game in this city. The local team won the first game, which took place in Grass Valley three weeks ago.

RE PRACTICING TO BEAT THE MINERS

Every available minute is being used for practice by the Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby football team who will clash with the Grass Valley Miners Dec. 11. The Athletics took the measure of the pick and shovel handlers in a fast game several weeks ago. The Miners want another chance at the Athletics so a meeting has been arranged. The Athletic Club team is in fine form and is expecting to walk away from the Nevada County team.

LOOK FOR FAST GAME.

A fast game of basketball is looked for when the Y. M. C. A. and Sacramento Athletic Club teams play at the association gymnasium Thursday night. Both teams are evenly matched and great rivalry eixsts. The Athletic Club has had a little more practice than the Y. M. C. A. five but the association men are all in good trim and expect to make the Athletics hustle to keep even with them.

Hooker made a mistake in fighting twice in one evening on account of being weak from making weight. The boys all hope he will be in better shape next time.

Lovich, who went to Ione with the High School team this week, has arranged a game between the lightweight and Ione High School basketball teams, to take place about Christmas time.

Manager Palm hopes to see all the basket-ball candidates out regularly. The heavy-weights Mondays and the lightweights Wednesdays.

11-22-10.

OAKLAND By Bob Shand ENQUIRER

THE Oakland delegation of boxers at the championship contests at Sacramento got off to a flying start last night when Henry Hickey cantered off with the honors in the bantamweight class. There were three entrants in this class and Hickey polished off the winner of the preliminary round, Hooker, of Sacramento, in workmanlike fashion. This youngster will bear watching. He is only a kid of about fifteen, and has never received any instruction in the gentle art of slamming the other party. However, he is an enthusiastic little chap and spends his every spare moment in the company of a muscle developing machine. He is as strong as a lightweight and has never been floored or lost a decision. Hickey is a member of the ancient and noble order of copy rushers. He is employed in the Enquirer editorial rooms. When the little fellow goes into training for a bout it is necessary to renew the other office boys periodically, as the kid has a little way of practicing on them.

THE other Oakland boxers taking part in the Sacramento tournament are Vierra and Eddie Smith. Smith won his preliminary last night and Vierra will start tonight for the first time. Both are nifty youngsters and expect to emulate Hickey's example and bring home the medals. Bob McAllister of the Olympic club was the real hero of the opening night's sport, winning two trials in the welterweight and middleweight divisions. In the lighter class he outpointed Erickson, the highly touted Sacramento scrapper, and in the middleweight division he easily gathered in the honors from Robert Noone, also of Sacramento. McAllister looks like a sure winner of both classes, as he is one of the cleverest boxers ever developed in the Olympic club. Of the six events decided last night visiting boxers captured four. The Oakland boxers are in charge of T. Dameral, the East Oakland instructor.

ANOTHER Oakland lad, M. Vierra, has brought back a championship from Sacramento and the only reason the only other Oakland entrant did not do some good for himself was because he had to meet his fellow club member in the final. Vierra captured the honors in the featherweight class last night by winning from Eddie Smith. Henry Hickey, won the championship of the bantamweight class Monday night. According to the Sacramento papers, Eddie Smith is a relative of the other Eddie Smith who does the refereeing. Such is fame. T. Dameral the East Oakland enthusiast, who took the three local lads to Sacramento is deserving of a great deal of credit as without his aid this city would not have been represented in the championships. The Oakland delegation will arrive home today. Bob McAllist of the Olmypic club won the welter and middleweight championships and Long, of the same club, captured the honors in the heavyweight division. Charles Boscha, also of the Olympic club, won the lightweight title by default.

Vancouver Club Asks Investigation Into Amateur Standing of Crawford.

Aftermath of the successful wrestling championships, held by the Olympic Club on Tuesday night at the St. Francis Hotel, may affect the title of one winner and cause a close investigation into the record of another, a visiting competitor. Crawford of the Western Club, winner of the 158-pound class title, who made such a sensational disposal of Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club, is charged with being a professional wrestler. Chester McIntyre of the Vancouver Club demands an investigation to determine the status of the Western Club wrestler. The circumstances surrounding the entry of Crawford are peculiar, and while one investigation by the registration committee of the P. A. A. has been held, without finding any proof against the winner, a second and more thorough investigation will be made into the previous competition of the crack matman.

It seems that Crawford was entered by the Western Club at the last minute, the wrestler coming from Bakersfield unheralded and making it known at the Western Club that he could wrestle. The club officials, accordingly, entered him in the championship affairs, and he worked his way to the top, and, in the final round, won from Walker in a decisive manner. His work at that time was so businesslike and rapid that the wrestlers present wondered why more had not been heard of the entrant, since Walker of Vancouver is one of the best-known matmen in the Northwest.

McLeod of the Sacramento Club, while not a championship holder, got to the finals and was only beaten to the decision by Duncan of the Olympic Club in the 145-pound class. This entrant is now under investigation also. It is claimed that he has been wrestling in the North under an assumed name, and, furthermore, has been accepting a salary as a gym instructor at the Sacramento Athletic Club.

CHIEF AHERN PUTS BAN ON FIGHTING

SAC. UNION.

Local Fight Clubs Will Have to Change Tactics in Order to Promote Contests.

11-30-10

Chief of Police William Ahern in an emphatic manner yesterday put the crusher on the prize-fight promoters of Sacramento, who are making an attempt to open up the game in this city under the cloak of amateurism. They will have to show Ahern. Sacramento's chief of police said that after conferences with Governor Gillett and several well-known attorneys, that he was confident that he knew what a prize-fight was, and, notwithstanding the fact that the game has opened up in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Ahern will not permit fighting to be indulged in in Sacramento, at least not while he is chief of police. Ahern says that if prize-fighting was against the law when Governor Gillett stopped the Jeffries-Johnson fight, it is against the law now, and he is going to uphold the law.

AMATEUR BOUTS PERMITTED.

Ahern will permit three or four-round goes, such as are conducted by the Sacramento Athletic club, which is domestically incorporated. He will not allow the Central, Capital or Buffalo clubs to promote prize-fights unless they can show him where they have club rooms and a club roster that contains the names of a number of members. No clubs which are merely incorporated by two or three promoters will be allowed to promote fights. Ahern is emphatic on this point. If the Central, Buffalo, or Capital clubs can show Chief Ahern a club room equipped with gymnasium apparatus and a membership roll, they will be permitted to promote boxing contests. Otherwise, these clubs are out of the running.

LAW IS VIOLATED.

Chief Ahern is also of the opinion that the Sacramento Athletic club, which is a duly domestically incorporated club, violates the law regarding prize-fights at every exhibition of the club. Chief Ahern says that when the contestants enter the ring and try to incapacitate one another, the contest is nothing more nor less than a prize-fight. When one of the contestants is knocked out, the bout is purely a prize-fight, in the opinion of Chief Ahern, and he is backed by the Governor in his opinion and by the district attorney of Los Angeles.

At the last exhibition of the Sacramento Athletic club several boxers were knocked out, and Chief Ahern says that the contests were prize-fights. "I don't like myself to go to a contest and witness a couple of boys box one another with pillows encased about their hands, but the law must be obeyed, and I am going to see that it is," said Ahern. Continuing, the chief said that he would request all applicants for fight permits who were looked upon favorably by the board of trustees, to show him the roster of their club and their club room, fully equipped.

S. A. C. LIGHTWEIGHTS PLAY HEAVYWEIGHTS A TIE

SAC. UN. 11-3-10

The heavyweights lined up as follows:

J. Blake and Holmes, forwards; Sweeney, center; Palm and Azevedo, guards.

The lightweight team was:

On December 11 the Athletics will meet the Grass Valley All-Stars in a return game in this city. The local team won the first game, which took place in Grass Valley three weeks ago.

RE PRACTICING TO BEAT THE MINERS

Every available minute is being used for practice by the Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby football team who will clash with the Grass Valley Miners Dec. 11. The Athletics took the measure of the pick and shovel handlers in a fast game several weeks ago. The Miners want another chance at the Athletics so a meeting has been arranged. The Athletic Club team is in fine form and is expecting to walk away from the Nevada County team.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 30. Contests for the amateur wrestling championships of the Pacific Coast were held here yesterday and last evening. The 115-pound and one hundred and twenty-five pound events were won by George Chapman of the Western Club, San Francisco. Fred Smith, of Vancouver, won the 135-pound contest, defeating O. G. Franzke, Portland, in the semi-final, and J. P. Parker, Olympic Club, San Francisco, in the final. The time for the former match was 30 minutes 30 seconds, and the latter 1:30.

The hardest battle of the day was in the final of the 145-pound event, in which Herbert Duncan, Olympic, beat George McLeod, Sacramento. Twice the pair wrestled the full six minutes without the referee being able to give a decision, before, after three minutes in the third, Duncan gained a fall.

In the final of the 145-pound class, R. R. Crawford, Western Club, defeated Walker, Vancouver, in 32 seconds. In the heavyweight final Otto Walfisch, Olympic Club, beat R. M. Scott, University of California.

Some Possible Football Games.

Professor Rittler intends challenging the winners of the Chico High-Woodland Rugby game for the championship of the Valley, and should he win this game he will probably bring the loser of the Olympic-Barbarion game to Sacramento, either Christmas or New Years.

The team has shown up so well for the first year that early next season a long schedule of games with the fast teams about the bay will be arranged, and with this season's experience and the competent coaching of Professor Rittler the Sacramento Athletic Club ought to give a good account of itself in football.

—o—

The next football game on the programe will be a return game with Grass Valley, to be played at Buffalo Park Sunday, December 4. The boys should have a rather easy time of it, as they are playing on their home grounds, and will have the added experience of having met St. Mary's College in the meantime. The line-up of the Miners is as follows:

Full, J. Northey; three-quarters, C. Rowe, W. Gilbert, S. Tregaskes, J. Hoskings; wing forward, D. Jenkins; forwards, W. Merfield, H. Gibson, J. Richards, T. Channee, L. Goodman, F. Gibson.

—o—

The Sacramento Athletic Club heartily thanks the merchants of this city for the interest they have shown in the big football game. A number of them decorated their windows, advertising the game, and all of them showed that they want a live club in the city by their help in making the institution one of the strongest in Northern California.

—o—

St. Mary's 21, S. A. C. 3.

In the second game of the season the Sacramento Athletic Club was defeated by St. Mary's College on Thanksgiving day at Buffalo Park by a score of 21-3. The club boys were not so completely outclassed as indicated by the score. They fought hard all the way and were scored on only through lack of knowledge of the new game in critical places. Had they been more experienced in Rugby the result might have been different.

The first play looked like a sure victory for the club. Dickson kicked off to St. Mary's twenty-yard line, where the scrum worked Purrington over the line for a try. The goal was missed by Dickson. St. Mary's then rushed the ball into Sacramento territory, but an excellent run by Rittler, who took A. Evers' place, brought the ball back to the center of the field. But good scrum work and cross kicks by St. Mary's sent both Diavialo and Faulkner across the line for trys. Both were converted by Diavialo. The first half ended with St. Mary's 10, S. A. C. 3.

A drizzling rain which had begun early in the first period made the play much slower in the second half, as the field was becoming soggy and the boys were fast becoming exhausted.

Starret, Simpson and Diavialo all played cleverly for St. Mary's in this half, each making a try, one of which was converted and ended the game with the final score: St. Marys 21, S. A. C. 3.

—o—

Basket-Ball.

The basket-ball boys are showing up for practice reguarly. Both the unlimited and lightweights are playing good ball, and should make a fine showing in the P. A. A. championships as well as against the various teams in this section of the State. Manager Palm has a number of good trips in sight for the boys. Among them is Woodland, Stockton, Vallejo and Lodi. The line-up of the two teams is as follows:

Heavies.		Lightweight.
Amick (c)	forward	(c) Lovich
Knight	forward	(c) Luke
Holmes	forward	Brandon
Blake	center	Duke
Sweeney	center
Purrington	guard	Donald
Bacon	guard	Salvador

Feather-weight, 115 pounds—M. Viera, Redwood Club.

Special class, 125 pounds—Lee Muskrate, Sacramento Athletic Club.

Welter-weight, 145 pounds—R. McAllister, Olympic Club.

Heavy-weight, over 158 pounds, J. O. Long, Olympic Club.

Club Chat.

We have a brand new idol in the club. You sure must doff your hat to one Mr. Lee Muskrate.

For our next boxing night there seems to be plenty of material in sight. It's up to Aueil Percival Hoffman to get right busy.

One of the most popular men that ever came to this city to compete in anything is Bob McAllister. He seems at all times and upon all topics to do the square stunt, and is the type of man that should be welcomed.

One of the most noticeable things about the recent tournament was the team work—that stick-together policy—of the Olympic Club members. It's the way to go after things, large or otherwise.

Sally Salvador proved himself to be a great little mixer, and very much of a gentleman at that.

Handball, basket-ball and football all work in together, and the squads are improving and increasing in numbers every day.

Guess Professor Herr Rittler wasn't hep to those inshots that the manager of the Olympia boxing team was passing around. But he was.

Get behind football and boost the game at every hand. It looms up like it will be a money maker to S. A. C. in the future.

It is to be regretted that four of the club's eleven boxers—Hoffman, Azevedo, Murray and Barr—could not compete on account of being overweight. If these boys had started training soon enough or had entered a heavier class they would probably have given a good account of themselves.

Joe Erickson says that making 145 pounds so weakened him that he was unable to land one of his famous rights on McAllister. He wants another chance at the lanky lad from the Olympic Club at catch weights.

The Rugby team has been considerably weakened by the loss of Spike Corson. His parents have objected to his playing because of the fact that he broke one of his shoe strings at Grass Valley while trying to catch one of the cousin Jack's long punts.

St. Mary's lost to Santa Clara in their annual struggle last Saturday by a score of 7 to 3. Professor Rittler, who attended the game, says that the St. Marys boys were weak on the defense and fumbled frequently.

Hurrah! Chet Gannon has found a job at last. He has deserted the ranks of the never-works and is laboring industriously at his newly found position.

Red Murray backed out of the tournament at the last minute. He says he could not make the weight.

Every one was sorry that Muldoon was not allowed to fight. He was barred at the last moment, but will probably be reinstated and a match with McAllister arranged for at one of the club's future boxing entertainments.

McGregor is going to make all the handball players take notice soon. He is fast getting into shape with his partner, Morgan. He has lost two games thus far, but this is only because he did not start to train soon enough.

Hooker made a mistake in fighting twice in one evening on account of being weak from making weight. The boys all hope he will be in better shape next time.

Lovich, who went to Ione with the High School team this week, has arranged a game between the lightweight and Ione High School basketball teams, to take place about Christmas time.

Manager Palm hopes to see all the basket-ball candidates out regularly. The heavy-weights Mondays and the lightweights Wednesdays.

Semi-Finals in Various Divisions Being Conducted at Olympic Club.

FINALS SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT AT ST. FRANCIS

That interest is keen in the wrestling game was evidenced last night by the big crowd of enthusiasts that attended the preliminary bouts of the Pacific Coast championship wrestling tournament held at the Olympic Club. The large list of entries from points distant from this city was in evidence, the wrestlers being truly representative of the best on the coast.

Bert Kerrigan of the Olympic Club refereed the matches, in which only one fall was necessary to disqualify a wrestler in the preliminaries. The majority of the bouts were easy of decision, the falls being clean and the better man thus shown, but several of the contests went the time limit and Referee Kerrigan was forced to pick the winner. This gave general satisfaction, save in one case. The fans present generally murmured when Kerrigan picked Scott of the University of California over Matson of the Western Club in the heavyweight class. Scott had the better of the first few holds, but many thought he had been outpointed in the latter part of the bout. Kerrigan, however, was sustained and is to be congratulated on the clean-cut manner in which he handled the affair as a whole.

R. Juvinall of the Western Club started the evening for his club by throwing R. Illing of the Olympic Club in 5:20 in the 125-pound class. In the 135-pound class, another Western Club man came out on top, defeating a fellow club member. E. Heine was the winner over William Fletcher in 38 seconds.

O. E. Franzke of the Multnomah Club of Portland met H. G. Miller of the Olympic Club in the 135-pound class, and the bout was a strenuous one, going to 4:57 before the visiting athlete could get the successful hold. Miller won the plaudits of the galleries by the clever manner in which he slipped from holds, but was finally worn down by the northern husky.

F. A. Brownell of the Olympic Club put R. Rasch of the Western Club to the mat in short order, only 28 seconds being required. Penny Parker, in this same class—the 135-pound division—wrestling for the Winged "O," put William Fletcher on the mat after a brisk little tustle of 2:37.

In the 145-pound class, H. F. Duncan, the premier Olympic wrestler, won two hard matches. He first defeated C. E. Wells of the University of California, and then was pitted against E. F. Baratz, throwing his fellow clubman after a stubborn resistance lasting 5:22.

R. Crawford of the Western Club was successful in the 158-pound class. He threw Carl Ricks of the Olympic Club in 3:22. Carl Thais, another Western Club man, threw Harry F. Kolb of the Olympics in this same class in 2:49. George Walker of Vancouver, H. F. Duncan and R. W. Eames of Sacramento drew byes.

Otto Wallfisch of the Olympics was the favorite in the heavyweight class, winning two bouts. He defeated Rudolph Barber of the Army Y. M. C. A., who is also a member of the Pastime Athletic Club, on decision, and threw E. Berger of the Western Club in 2:20.

E. Berger, prior to his fall from Wallfisch, won from Irving M. Read of the University of California in 1:32. R. M. Scott was awarded the decision over N. Matson of the Western Club. Scott is a University of California man.

Following the completion of the preliminaries, it was announced that the semi-finals would be held this afternoon, with the finals tonight. The finals will be held in the colonial ballroom at the St. Francis Hotel. The men were matched and wrestled as follows this afternoon at the Olympic Club:

135-pound class—Franschke of Multnomah vs. Brownell, Olympic Club; P. Parker of the Olympic Club vs. E. Heine of the Western Club; Smith of Vancouver vs. Hennerich, Los Angeles Club.

158 pounds—Duncan, Olympic Club, vs. Walker of Vancouver; Baraty, Olympic, vs. Eames, Sacramento Club; Thais, Western, vs. Crawford, Western.

WRESTLERS MEET IN PRELIMINARY MATCHES

Finals of Coast Championship Tourney Will Be Contested at St. Francis Tonight.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

The preliminary bouts in the Pacific Association wrestling tournament were held at the Olympic Club last night, and resulted in a series of interesting matches, which decided the eligible entries in the finals of the championship schedule to be contested at the St. Francis Hotel tonight. Of the visiting athletes, O. E. Franzke of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland won from Henry Miller of the Olympic Club in the 135-pound class, and will meet Brownell of the Winged O organization in the semi-finals today at 1 o'clock. Brownell last night defeated Basch of the Western Athletic Club in quick order, and displayed considerable class in his tactics on the mat. Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club drew a bye in the 158-pound class, and will oppose Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club tonight.

Considerable enthusiasm was displayed at the elimination trials last night, the entire seating capacity at the Olympic Club being taxed to its limit during the entire evening. In the 135-pound division J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club disposed of Will Fletcher of the Western Athletic Club in 2 minutes and 37 seconds. Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club won from C. Wells of the University of California in the 145-pound class after a tussle of 1 minute and 5 seconds and later defeated E. Baraty, his teammate, in a close contest which lasted 5 minutes and 22 seconds. R. Crawford of the Western Athletic Club won from Carl Ricks of the Olympic Club in the 158-pound class in 3 minutes and 22 seconds. The winged "O" supporters received another set-back in the same division when Thias of the Western Club won from Kolb in 2 minutes and 49 seconds.

Otto Wallfisch of the Olympic Club ran up against a hard proposition in R. Barber of the Pastime Athletic Club in the heavy-weight class and only won the decision after six minutes' close competition. Later in the evening Wallfisch won from Berger of the Western Club in the heavy-weight class, being timed in 2 minutes and 20 seconds. Berger had previously won from Read of the University of California in 1 minute and 32 seconds. In the same class R. M. Scott of the University of California won from Mattson of the Western Club in 6 minutes.

R. Juvenal of the Western Athletic Club defeated R. Illing of the Olympic Club in the 125-pound class in 5 minutes and 20 seconds. E. Henio of the Western Athletic Club had the best of the bout with Will Fletcher of the same club in less than half a minute.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock the semi-finals will be contested at the Olympic Club, in which F. B. Smith of Vancouver will oppose George McLeod of the Sacramento Athletic Club in the 135-pound class, H. Henio against J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club, and George Walker of Vancouver against Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club in the 158-pound class, and E. F. Baraty of the local organization against R. W. Emes of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

The only match in the 115-pound class will take place at the St. Francis tonight, when George Chapman of the Western Club meets Lundon of the same club for the championship title. All of the deciding matches will be contested commencing at 8 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 30. Contests for the amateur wrestling championships of the Pacific Coast were held here yesterday and last evening. The 115-pound and one hundred and twenty-five pound events were won by George Chapman of the Western Club, San Francisco. Fred Smith, of Vancouver, won the 135-pound contest, defeating O. G. Franzke, Portland, in the semi-final, and J. P. Parker, Olympic Club, San Francisco, in the final. The time for the former match was 30 minutes 30 seconds, and the latter 1:30.

The hardest battle of the day was in the final of the 145-pound event, in which Herbert Duncan, Olympic, beat George McLeod, Sacramento. Twice the pair wrestled the full six minutes without the referee being able to give a decision, before, after three minutes in the third, Duncan gained a fall.

In the final of the 145-pound class, R. R. Crawford, Western Club, defeated Walker, Vancouver, in 32 seconds. In the heavyweight final Otto Walfisch, Olympic Club, beat R. M. Scott, University of California.

CHIEF AHERN PUTS BAN ON FIGHTING

SAC. UNION.

Local Fight Clubs Will Have to Change Tactics in Order to Promote Contests.

11-30-10

Chief of Police William Ahern in an emphatic manner yesterday put the crusher on the prize-fight promoters of Sacramento, who are making an attempt to open up the game in this city under the cloak of amateurism. They will have to show Ahern. Sacramento's chief of police said that after conferences with Governor Gillett and several well-known attorneys, that he was confident that he knew what a prize-fight was, and, notwithstanding the fact that the game has opened up in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Ahern will not permit fighting to be indulged in in Sacramento, at least not while he is chief of police. Ahern says that if prize-fighting was against the law when Governor Gillett stopped the Jeffries-Johnson fight, it is against the law now, and he is going to uphold the law.

AMATEUR BOUTS PERMITTED.

Ahern will permit three or four-round goes, such as are conducted by the Sacramento Athletic club, which is domestically incorporated. He will not allow the Central, Capital or Buffalo clubs to promote prize-fights unless they can show him where they have club rooms and a club roster that contains the names of a number of members. No clubs which are merely incorporated by two or three promoters will be allowed to promote fights. Ahern is emphatic on this point. If the Central, Buffalo, or Capital clubs can show Chief Ahern a club room equipped with gymnasium apparatus and a membership roll, they will be permitted to promote boxing contests. Otherwise, these clubs are out of the running.

LAW IS VIOLATED.

Chief Ahern is also of the opinion that the Sacramento Athletic club, which is a duly domestically incorporated club, violates the law regarding prize-fights at every exhibition of the club. Chief Ahern says that when the contestants enter the ring and try to incapacitate one another, the contest is nothing more nor less than a prize-fight. When one of the contestants is knocked out, the bout is purely a prize-fight, in the opinion of Chief Ahern, and he is backed by the Governor in his opinion and by the district attorney of Los Angeles.

At the last exhibition of the Sacramento Athletic club several boxers were knocked out, and Chief Ahern says that the contests were prize-fights. "I don't like myself to go to a contest and witness a couple of boys box one another with pillows encased about their hands, but the law must be obeyed, and I am going to see that it is," said Ahern. Continuing, the chief said that he would request all applicants for fight permits who were looked upon favorably by the board of trustees, to show him the roster of their club and their club room, fully equipped.

S. A. C. LIGHTWEIGHTS PLAY HEAVYWEIGHTS A TIE

SAC. UN. 11-5-10

The lightweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic club played the heavyweights to a standstill last night in a practice game, and as it was impossible for either team to score the winning goal the game was called, the score being 27 to 27.

The heavyweights lined up as follows:

J. Blake and Holmes, forwards; Sweeney, center; Palm and Azevedo, guards.

The lightweight team was:

Lovich and Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Kennedy, Sprague and Curl, guards.

The S. A. C. teams have something doing almost every evening next week. They will be occupied as follows:

Tuesday, December 6—Heavyweights practice in S. A. C. gymnasium.

S. A. C. TO MEET IONE DEC. 9.

Basketball Director Palm of the Sacramento Athletic club has secured a game with the Elk Grove team for next Friday. The game will be played in the Armory at Sixth and M streets.

Physical Director Rittler is endeavoring to get a game of Rugby with the football team of the University of California farm at Davis. No acceptance or refusal of the challenge has been received as yet, but it is thought the game will be arranged in the near future.

On December 11 the Athletics will meet the Grass Valley All-Stars in a return game in this city. The local team won the first game, which took place in Grass Valley three weeks ago.

RE PRACTICING TO BEAT THE MINERS

Every available minute is being used for practice by the Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby football team who will clash with the Grass Valley Miners Dec. 11. The Athletics took the measure of the pick and shovel handlers in a fast game several weeks ago. The Miners want another chance at the Athletics so a meeting has been arranged. The Athletic Club team is in fine form and is expecting to walk away from the Nevada County team.

LOOK FOR FAST GAME.

A fast game of basketball is looked for when the Y. M. C. A. and Sacramento Athletic Club teams play at the association gymnasium Thursday night. Both teams are evenly matched and great rivalry eixsts. The Athletic Club has had a little more practice than the Y. M. C. A. five but the association men are all in good trim and expect to make the Athletics hustle to keep even with them.

LARGE LIST GUARANTEES EXCELLENT SPORT IN TOURNEY

Portland, Sacramento Los Angeles and Berkeley Send Representatives.

WHAT should prove the most interesting set of wrestling matches pulled off in San Francisco in recent years are to be staged by the Olympic Club in the handball courts of that organization tonight. Justice of the Peace William H. Smith will referee the bouts and satisfaction is thus assured, as Smith knows the game thoroughly and was one time a champion wrestler himself.

The preliminary bouts will be held tonight. Each contestant will be required to be on hand at 6 o'clock tonight to weigh in and at 7 o'clock the drawing for the first round will be held.

All bouts will be held in the handball courts and the man making the best showing at the end of six minutes in the bouts where no fall is secured will be awarded the decision.

Tomorrow afternoon the classes in which there are large entries will be reduced in numbers by a series of second rounds and semi-finals, so that the number of bouts to be held at the evening entertainment at the St. Francis will be just sufficient to provide about an hour and a half of wrestling. All the finals will be contested on Tuesday evening.

The entries, which have seen sent in by the Western Club of this city, the Sacramento Athletic Club and the University of California, insure excellent sport. The visiting wrestlers from Los Angeles and Potrland are expected here some time today and the Sacramento delegation will arrive tomorrow. The Vancouver delegation will get in late today or early tomorrow. It is likely that the British Columbians will have to be given a bye in the first round in case they do not arrive in time for this evening's bouts.

The demand for seats for tomorrow evening's entertainment has exceeded the expectations of the Olympic Club and a crowded house is expected.

FIRST WRESTLING BOUTS PROVE EXCITING

S.F. Ex. 11-29-10

Every Match of the Whirlwind Order and the Big Gallery Grows Enthusiastic.

The preliminary bouts of the wrestling championships of the coast held last night at the Olympic Club were just as exciting as any boxing tournament ever offered for the amusement of the big athletic club. Every bout was of the whirlwind order and the clever work of the contestants roused the big gallery, which filled the improvised bleachers to an uproar.

There was some disappointment among the members of thec lub when Roy Juvinall of the Western Club threw Illing, a Wing O representative, in five minutes. The Olympians came back with cheers in the contest for the 135-pound men, in which Brownell picked up Rasch of the Western Club bodily and pulled off a flying fall, the sight so dear to all followers of the wrestling game. When Penny Parker, the club pet, threw Fletcher in 2 mintues and 7 seconds the joy of the onlookers knew no bounds.

The first outside wrestler to take part in the tournament was Otto Franzke of the Multnomah Club of Portland. He was drawn against Miller of the Olympic Club and won handily. Franzke is a husky and when he had Miller pinned underneath him he did not give the Olympic man a chance. In 4 minutes and 57 seconds he had the local man with both his shoulders on the mat.

Duncan, the Olympic Club's premier wrestler, won two falls in the 145-pound class, and is now in the final with George McLeod of Sacramento. Duncan is also an entrant in the middleweight class and the members of the club are looking for him to annex two championships.

There was considerable excitement when Otto Wallfisch, the Olympic Club's crack heavyweight werstler, met Ernest Berger, an entrant from the Western Club, who has won many bouts around the bay and who, it was said, entered the tournament for the specific purpose of downing Wallfisch. The two gladiators fussed aronud for a hold for about two minutes, and then they went to the mat. Berger almost got Wallfisch on his back, but the Olympian squirmed out of the bad place and at once grabbed Berger with a hold from which he could not escape.

The finals of the tournament will be held this evening in the colonial ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel, when the club will put on an entertainment which will include musical and acrobatic numbers.

This afternoon the semi-finals in the lightweight and middleweight classes will be held at the club. The following wrestlers will participate:

135-pound class—Fred Smith, Vancouver vs. Geo. McLeod, Sacramento; O. E. Franzke, Multonomah vs. F. A. Brownell, Olympic; H. Henio, Western A. C. vs. J. P. Parker, Olympic.

Last night's results:

One-hundred-and-twenty-five-pound class—R. Juvinall, Western A. C., defeated R. Illing, Olympic Club. Time, 5:20.

One-hundred-and-thirty-five-pound class—E. Heino, Western A. C., defeated William Fletcher, Western A. C. Time, 38 seconds.

O. E. Franzke, Multnomah A. C., defeated H. G. Miller, Olympic Club. Time, 4:57.

F. A. Brownell, Olympic Club, defeated R. Rasch, Western A. C. Time, 28 seconds.

J. P. Parker, Olympic Club, defeated William Fletcher, Western A. C. Time, 2:37.

One-hundred-and-forty-five-pound class—H. F. Duncan defeated C. E. Wells, University of California. Time, 1:35.

H. F. Duncan defeated E. F. Baratz, Olympic Club. Time, 5:22.

George McLeod, Sacramento A. C., a bye.

One-hundred-and-fifty-eight-pound class — R. Crawford, Western A. C., defeated Carl Ricks, Olympic Club. Time, 3:22.

Sacramento Against Holding Boxing Goes

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, November 29.—The Capital Athletic Club's application for a permit to hold a boxing bout in the old pavilion on December 22d will be disapproved by Chief of Police Ahern, to whom it was referred by the City Trustees. He says matches held by the Sacramento Athletic Club in the past have been in many instances violations of the law, because the fighters tried to and sometimes did knock each other out.

Chief Ahern has several opinions by Governor Gillett on which he bases his refusal to approve of boxing contests where admission fee is charged, where prizes are offered or where compensation of any kind is given fighters, or where they inflict bodily punishment on each other. Action of the authorities in San Francisco and Los Angeles in allowing bouts to be pulled off there will not influence him, he says.

LOCAL WRESTLERS CARRY OFF HONORS IN COAST TOURNEY

COAST WRESTLING CHAMPIONS.

Special weight (125 pounds)—George Chapman, Western Club.

Lightweight (135 pounds) — Fred Smith, Vancouver Club.

Welter-weight (145 pounds)—Herbert Duncan, Olympic Club.

Heavy-weight (158 pounds and over) —Otto Wallfisch, Olympic Club.

Six amateur wrestling titles were decided at the St. Francis Hotel last night as a result of the Pacific Association tournament held under the auspices of the Olympic Club in the Colonial ballroom. Honors in the scheduled events were divided between the Western Athletic Club and the Olympic Club of this city and the Vancouver Athletic Club. The Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland and the Sacramento Athletic Club were shut out in the semi-final matches after stubbornly contesting the right to remain in the deciding bouts. Five events were programmed in the semi-final series, and the competition was of high-class order, with the prospects of the local lads rather dubious. The elimination of Franzke from the Multnomah Club in the 135-pound class and Emes of the Sacramento Club in the 158-pound class brightened the hopes of the rival contenders, however, and the deciding contests resulted in the championships being well distributed.

The final matches were all interesting, some for the reason that they were closely contested, while others ended in sensational fashion after a few seconds' competition. Herbert Duncan of the Olympia Club and George McLeod of the Sacramento Athletic Club provided the longest match of the evening, two extra periods being ordered by the referee before a decision was announced. Duncan was unable to throw his husky opponent, but displayed unusual aggressiveness and clever tactics in his efforts to annex the championship title. An additional six-minute period, followed by a three-minute session, proved necessary to settle the supremacy in this class.

George Chapman of the Western Athletic Club proved the double title holder of the occasion, winning the championship in both the 115 and 125 pound classes. In the feather-weight class he threw H. Lundon of the same club in 2:34, while in the special-weight class he won from Roy Juvinall, also of the Western Club, in 1:22.

In the lightweight class, J. P. Parker of the Olympic Club was thrown by Fred Smith of the Vancouver Athletic Club in 1:52, after having all the best of the match in the beginning. Smith, however, proved a very fast worker, and took advantage of Parker's first weakness.

Otto Wallfisch of the Winged "O" organization brought home the second title to the Olympic Club when he tossed R. M. Scott of the University of California in the final bout of the heavy-weight class. Scott proved willing and strong, but lacked sufficient knowledge of the game. Wallfisch won in 0:32.

R. Crawford of the Western Club sprung the surprise of the meeting by tossing George Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club in the middle-weight class in thirty-two seconds. Walker, by his demonstration in the try-outs, displayed exceptional class and was believed to have the 158-pound division at will.

The attendance at the matches last night was made up to a considerable extent of women, and the audience was a fashionable assembly. In addition to the championship events, the programme included a burlesque boxing bout between Thomas H. Williams Jr. and William Leonard of the Olympic Club, the youthful aspirant flooring his elder opponent in knock-out style after a novel exhibition.

SEMI-FINAL RESULTS.

The semi-final contests in the Pacific Association tournament, which were held at the Olympic Club in the afternoon, developed some good competition. Immediately following the noon hour the aspirants for championship honors who had qualified in the preliminary trials the night before assembled in the club gymnasium to determine who should appear later in the day at the St. Francis Hotel.

To the visiting athletes, Smith and Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club, fell the honors of the semi-final matches. In the 135-pound class Smith defeated Frank Brownell of the Olympic Club after a bitter contest on the mat. The Vancouver boy displayed wonderful strength and cleverness, his victory over the local lad being the surprise of the trial bouts.

Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club went out of his class to meet Walker of Vancouver in the middle-weight division, and lost to the visitor after three minutes and twenty-eight seconds of interesting grappling. Walker proved too strong for Duncan, which, in addition to his knowledge of the wrestling game, proved a handicap to the winged "O" representative.

Ed Baraty of the Olympic Club met a worthy opponent in Emes of the Sacramento Athletic Club, the latter winning the decision after an extra three-minute contest. This match was in the 158-pound class. Crawford of the Western Club won from his teammate, Thias, in the middle-weight class in one minute and thirteen seconds.

Athletic Club to Stage Bout on the 22nd of December. 12-4-10

December 22nd has been selected by the Sacramento Athletic Club as the date of its next amateur boxing tournament. For the main event the Club has matched Pete Muldoon with Bob McAllister of the Olympic Club of San Francisco. McAllister is the clever lad who defeated fighting Joe Erickson. There will be six or seven other short bouts. The card will be staged in the club's gymnasium.

Sacramentans will have another chance to witness rugby football next Sunday when the All-Stars will play the Sacramento Athletic Club team. The Athletics have been practicing steadily for the contest and should make a creditable showing.

Two Sacramento Men to Wrestle This Afternoon

SAC. BEE 11-29-10

Two Sacramento wrestlers are in the semi-finals of the champions now being held at the Olympic Club in San Francisco, and both are conceded a strong chance for victory. They will go on this afternoon, the club having set some bouts for the earlier hours so that the men can compete again, if necessary, at night.

George McLeod, of the S. A. C., is to meet F. B. Smith, of Vancouver, to-day, and R. W. Emes, of the S. A. C., will oppose E. F. Barraty. In case the men win their bouts they will be in line for the finals. San Francisco writers comment favorably upon the appearance of the pair, and say that they seem in first-class shape.

Tired With Waiting for Reinstatement, S. A. C. Boxer Ready to Turn.

Although Pete Muldoon, the Sacramento Athletic Club champion middleweight, who was barred from competing in the recent P. A. A. championships held in this city, has appealed repeatedly to the amateur association for reinstatement, he has received no answer to his prayers, and, although he does not want to depart from the ranks of amateurs, he is tempted to accept an offer made to him by a boxing club in Tacoma to form one party to a Christmas card.

The man the Tacoma club has picked out for Muldoon is Jack Lester, who is being touted by Tommy Burns as a coming champion. The purse offered is a big one, and Muldoon is half inclined to accept if his reinstatement in the P. A. A. is not forthcoming shortly.

Muldoon declares that his disfranchisement from the P. A. A. was unjust. He says that he was disqualified because he competed for the Ballard Athletic Club of Seattle with Waterman, who was knocked out in the heavyweight bout by Long of the Olympic club in this city recently, and he does not see why he should be kept from competing in amateur events when Westerman, who was equally as guilty, was not disqualified. The Ballard Athletic club at the time of the bout had been suspended from the P. A. A., but neither Muldoon nor Westerman knew anything of this, and were not officially notified not to compete.

Should Muldoon accept the offer of the Tacoma club, the amateur ranks will lose a clever boxer. Muldoon could have gone professional many times, but hesitated because he likes the class of men to be met in amateur circles better than those he would be associated with in pugdom. If Muldoon turns professional he will leave for the north in a few days, and resign from the Sacramento Athletic club.

AMATEUR STANDING OF CRAWFORD TO BE INVESTIGATED

McIntyre of Vancouver Intimates Western Club Champion May Be a "Pro."

Although the wrestling tournament held at the St. Francis Hotel on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Olympic Club was one of the most successful championship affairs ever given by the Pacific Association, the athletic officials have been participating in a quiet investigation since that time which may result in the disqualification of at least one new champion.

On the night of the final contests held in the Colonial ballroom rumors were started among the many aspirants and their instructors to the effect that Crawford of the Western Club was a professional. The charge that the Western Club athlete was not eligible to compete in the amateur ranks has been made by Chester McIntyre of the Vancouver Athletic Club, who, with the amateur officials, is seeking evidence to prove that the middle-weight champion is a professional.

Crawford entered the tournament under rather peculiar circumstances, arriving here from Bakesfield just a few days before the matches took place. Previous to that time he had not been a familiar figure about the Western Club. It is claimed that he boasted of his ability as a wrestler during his conversation with other competitors. He is further alleged by McIntyre to have competed under an assumed name and expressed a willingness to make a match with several well-known professionals.

Crawford was summoned before the registration committee of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union on Thursday at noon and subjected to an examination in which he was closely questioned as to his past record. Nothing was revealed to substantiate the claims made that he was a professional and the Western Club athlete was dismissed.

Yesterday, however, the matter of Crawford's standing was again taken up by the dissatisfied parties and more stringent methods adopted to settle the protest which has developed since awarding the championship title to the local club's representative. Crawford earned his title in the final match of the middle-weight class from Walker of the Vancouver Athletic Club, after a very close and sensational contest. If sufficient evidence should be forthcoming to prove that Crawford is not an amateur his prize will be retained and the honors in the middle-weight division awarded to the Vancouver boy.

Crawford is not alone in the present inquiry, as accusations have been made concerning McLeod of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who also competed in the middle-weight division. McLeod has been accused of competing in the Northwest against a professional and under an assumed name. It is further stated that he has been paid for instructing wrestling at the Sacramento Athletic Club.

The Olympic Club and Pacific Association officials have taken up the present investigation of the claims made by several athletes who competed in the recent tournament. What foundation there may be for the many reports as to the questionable standing of the two wrestlers will be determined during the next few days. No opportunity to prove or disprove the present circumstances will be overlooked, as the officials in charge of the tournament are very anxious to have all the interested parties satisfied, particularly the visiting contestants.

TO BOOST SPORTS AT S. A. C. IS PLAN

SAC. BEE 12-3-10

Sacramento will send more of its athletes out on the warpath in the future. This has been decided upon by Otto Ritler of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

Ritler thinks that it will be a good thing for the club to have its men known throughout the country. In the last wrestling tourney only two men were sent to compete against the Olympic and other clubs around the Bay. These were McLeod and Eames. He thinks that, with more representation, the local club would stand a better chance.

"The whole thing is to get the name of the club known so that we will be recognized as a factor in sport on the Coast," said Ritler. "The name of the club will soon commence to draw attendance and we will take our proper place in the athletic situation here.

"We have good men in every branch of sport. Our football team is to get busy next week and we have arranged a series of games with the Y. M. C. A. for indoor contests. Athletics will be built up in this city in the near future."

Eugene Palm, director of basket ball at the club, will have a game with the Elk Grove team next Friday at the Armory, Sixth and M Streets. The local Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby team has been named the "Athletics" and they will play Grass Valley December 11th. This will be a return game, as the local men won the first match two weeks ago.

Indoor track meets will be a feature of the coming Winter. Billiards and swimming are also to be made a specialty. The various Directors of these sports will take up the matter immediately.

WESTERNS TAKE THREE AND OLYMPICS TWO OF TITLES AFTER HARD BOUTS

George Chapman Survives the Tests in Feather and Special Weight Events.

VANCOUVER CLUBMAN IS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP

Duncan and Wallfisch Are Successful Winged O Candidates for Honors.

COAST WRESTLING CHAMPIONS.

Featherweight (115 pounds)—George Chapman, Western Club.

Special weight (125 pounds)—George Chapman, Western Club.

Lightweight (135 pounds) — Fred Smith, Vancouver Club.

Welterweight (145 pounds)—Herbert Duncan, Olympic Club.

Middleweight (158 pounds)—R. Crawford, Western Club.

Heavyweight (158 pounds and over) —Otto Wallfisch, Olympic Club.

By DAVID H. WALKER Jr.

It was a novel transformation, but at that a pleasing one which was worked in the Colonial ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel last evening. Under the auspices of the Olympic Club, the Pacific Coast wrestling championships were decided, while the members of the local clubs with their lady friends made the occasion as much of a social as an athletic event. It was a happy combination and the excellent manner in which the big championship meet was run off speaks well for the clubmen who had the affair in charge.

In not a single of the semi-final or final bouts did interest lag. Several of the falls were scored after whirlwind tussels and others came following good grips, which gradually bore the losers to the mat. Of the six championships decided, five were won by local clubmen and one by a visiting representative. The Western Club may claim title to the two lightest events and the middleweight, while the Vancouver Club has the regulation lightweight championship and the Olympics the welter and heavyweight.

The bouts were wrestled in a padded twenty-four-foot ring, roped and raised several feet above the floor and occupying the center of the big room. Ranged about the platform were rows of chairs occupied by society folk and members of the Olympic Club, while in the boxes about the improvised arena were people well known and prominent in civic as well as club affairs. The affair was very similar to the ladies, nights of the club before the fire.

CHAPMAN TAKES TWO.

George H. Chapman opened up the fun of the evening by throwing his teammate, H. Lundon of the Western Club, in the featherweight division. A well-used half Nelson won him the medal and title. Penny Parker of the Olympics next put E. Haino of the Western Club to the mat in the semi-finals of the lightweight, or 135-pound, class. Parker got the decision.

The other semi-final in the 135-pound division was won by Fred Smith of the Vancouver Athletic Club, who managed to get a lightning fall from E. Franzke of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland, who looked to be the favorite in this bout. The fall looked like a piece of good luck for Smith, but his later performances showed this to be due to his lightning ability to take advantage of his opponents.

R. W. Eames of the Sacramento Club was put to the mat in the 158-pound class semi-finals by George Walker of Vancouver. It took 5 minutes and 32 seconds. J. A. Brandt of the Multnomah Club met a similar fate at the hands of Crawford, the ultimate championship winner.

A break in the program to allow the wrestlers to get their wind before the final bouts was used to advantage by Olympic Club boxers. Thomas H. Williams Jr., a wee boxer of some 50 or 60 pounds, floored Professor William Leonard, the Olympic Club boxing instructor, while Mat Toomey and Roy Nolan boxed a fast bout to show the ladies what the mitmen could do. The Armonto brothers, in tumbling stunts, proved interesting.

WRESTLE FIFTEEN MINUTES.

It required fifteen minutes of wrestling to decide the welterweight championship. Duncan of the Olympic Club wrestled with McLeod of the Sacramento Athletic Club for six minutes without any appreciable advantage. Referee Kerrigan called for another bout of six minutes. After a rest, the men again went to the mat. This time the full limit was used without a fall. It was apparent that McLeod had more strength, but less skill, than the Olympic man. The referee was unwilling to make a decision, and requested that a third bout of three minutes be called to determine the championship. In the last three minutes, the men jockeyed for advantage, and McLeod was several times fairly caught, but broke his opponent's grips. Duncan was given the decision and McLeod showed a sportsmanlike appreciation of the situation, which won him as much applause as was given the victor.

It required only one minute and twenty-two seconds for George Chapman, the clever little Western featherweight champ, to add another medal and title in the 125-pound class. He floored Roy A. Juvinall of his own club.

SMITH SPRINGS SURPRISE.

Fred Smith rolled Penny Parker in the lightweight event in one minute and fifty-two seconds. The fall came as a surprise, as Penny, the Olympic favorite, had all of the better of it until the Vancouver man pulled off a fast turn when Parker had opened his guard for a moment.

R. Crawford of the Western Club won the 158-pound title in a clean-cut and sensational manner, putting George Walker, the Vancouver crack, to the mat in thirty-two seconds.

Otto Wallfisch, the huskiest of them all, equaled the record in the 158-pound division when it came to his bout with Raymond Scott of the University of California, a heavyweight from across the bay. The collegian went to the mat with a crash in thirty-two seconds.

WESTERN CLUB BOYS PROVE STARS AT WRESTLING

S.F. BULLETIN.

11-30-10

Six amateur wrestling titles were won and lost at the St. Francis Hotel last night as a result of the Pacific Association tournament held under the auspices of the Olympic Club in the colonial ballroom. Honors were divided between the Olympic and Western Clubs of this city.

Five events were put on in the semi-final series, and the competition was of the keenest. The elimination of Frank of the Multnomah Athletic Club in the 135-pound class and Emes of the Sacramento Club in the 158-pound class divided the hopes of the contenders, and the result was that the honors were nicely distributed.

The final bouts all proved of keenest interest. Herbert Duncan of the Olympic Club and George McLeod of the Sacramento Club proved the longest bout of the evening, two extra periods being ordered by the reefree before the decision was announced.

Duncan was unable to down his husky opponent, and an extra six-minute period, followed by an additional three-minute period proved necessary before Duncan secured the decision.

George Chapman of the Western Club proved the double title-holder, winning the championships in both the 115- and 125-pound classes. In the featherweight class he downed H. Lundon, a clubmate, while in the special event class he won from Roy Juvenall.

Fred Smith of the Vancouver Athletic Club proved too much for Parker of the Olympics, and he won his fall in 1:52.

Otto Wallfisch proved the master of R. M. Scott of the University of California.

R. Crawford of the Western Club sprung the surprise of the evening by tossing George Walker of the Vancouver Club.

Quite a few women were at the bouts.

CHIEF FROWNS ON AMATEUR BOXING

Ahern Will Refuse Permit Asked by Phil Simmons of Capital Club

SAC. BEE. 11-29-10

The application of the Capital Club represented by Phil Simmons, for permission to hold a number of amateur boxing bouts at the Old Pavilion on December 22d, will receive the disapproval of Chief of Police Ahern, to whom the matter was referred by the City Trustees last night.

At the time the Mantell-Thomas fight was billed to take place in this city, shortly after the Jeffries-Johnson fight, Chief of Police Ahern went over the laws governing boxing very thoroughly with Governor Gillett. Chief Ahern now has in his possession two or three opinions on the subject rendered by the Governor. They are all absolutely prohibitive of boxing contests of any kind where admission is charged, where a prize is offered, where the contestants receive compensation of any kind, or where they seek to inflict bodily punishment upon one another.

Under a strict interpretation of the law, Chief of Police Ahern states that the matches held by the Sacramento Athletic Club in the past have in many instances been in violation of the law because the fighters have tried to knock each other out and have sometimes succeeded.

The Chief has been thrown into a quandary by the action of the authorities of San Francisco and Los Angeles, in suffering prizefights to be held there. Ahern, however, declares that he does not intend to jump the fence both ways, even though he has the precedence of the officials in the larger cities.

SPARTANS SEEKING BASKETBALL TITLE

SAC. BEE. R-10-10

VICTORY OF LAST NIGHT CAUSES COACH TO BECOME AMIBITIOUS.

As the result of the double victory of his basketball teams in the games at the Old Pavilion last evening, Coach Rittler of the S. A. C. intends to groom the lightweight division into shape for the championship of this section of the country. The Spartans, as the lightweights are known, defeated the Elk Grove team, score 34 to 22.

The heavyweights had an easier time with the Sacramento High School. The S. A. C. team won 18 to 5. The spectators probably numbered about 150 and the club at least paid expenses for the hall by the games.

Luke, Sprague, Donald and Cowie all did good work for the Spartans. Blake captained the heavyweight team and the squad also had some good men on the side lines, Handball Commissioner Palm standing ready to go into the game.

The new league, which is to include the Boys' Brotherhood, Y. M. C. A. and other local teams, is now said to be practically assured.

BOXING PLANNED THIS MONTH BY S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 12-2-10

Members of the Sacramento Athletic Club will card another boxing tournament for this month regardless of the fact that matches under the auspices of the Capital Club have been denied a license by the authorities. Otto Ritler, who is handling affairs for the S. A. C., says that his club is fully authorized to hold amateur bouts under the State laws and that he thinks there will be a good attendance if the meeting is pulled off.

Several of the contestants in the recent Pacific Coast amateur bouts were willing to challenge again for another appearance here and it is thought a good card can be arranged.

Two Directors Namtd.

Two more Directors have been added to the list of the S. A. C. As a result two more Commissioners have been put on the Directorate. Charles Wahlender has been given charge of swimming and Leo Lobner has been placed in charge of bowling.

Robert Shorrock and Morse Head have been appointed Directors of the club.

Basketball is commencing to develop rapidly. Eugene Palm, who is Commissioner of the sport, has arranged for two trips for both teams of the institution. A special cup has been offered by S. Sturmer for the best individual player on the teams of the club. The trophy is to be awarded to the man who not only plays the best, but who reports faithfully for practice and follows the instructions of the coach most closely.

Basketball Teams Busy.

Several games are carded for the basketball teams. One of these is to be to-night, when the lightweights of the club, with Sam Lovich as Captain, meet the Christian Brothers' team. Another game is set for next Wednesday, December 7th, and a third for December 8th. On that occasion the Unlimiteds of the club meet the Y. M. C. A. team.

On Friday, December 9th, the lightweights will oppose the Elk Grove team at Armory Hall. The Unlimiteds will tie up with the High School the same night.

Drawings for the handball play of next Sunday have been completed. Lobner and Strachan meet Marsten and Delano; McCullough and Warren oppose Donald and Morris; Bacon and Shaw meet Dival and Pugh; Blake and Blake play Mansfield and George York, in the first class. In the second class matches are: Payne and Shannon versus Barnes and McDonough; Mcdonough and Sprague versus Shorrock and Wahlander; Serf and Mattison versus Sollars and Eames; Cox and Simmermacher versus Rose and Ross.

Boxing Tourney Set.

It is planned to hold the boxing tournament some time around December 20th or 22d. The Commissioners will hold a meeting to-morrow night to map out the program.

The Rugby team is keeping up its training and expects to play the State Farm team to-morrow if a contest can be arranged.

Five Wrestling Champions From San Francisco Clubs

Western Club Men Win Three Titles and Two Go to Olympics; Smith of Vancouver a Victor.

S.F. EXAMINER 11-30-10

By Douglas Erskine

The sport of wrestling was revived in no uncertain manner at the St. Francis Hotel last evening when the Olympic Club completed the tournament for the championships of the coast before an assemblage that filled the Colonial ballroom to its capacity. Every bout was filled with action and there were numerous occasions when the wrough-up spectators rose from their chairs to get a better view of the struggling athletes on the raised arena in the middle of the room.

Five of the championships decided remained in this city. The other went to Vancauver, British Columbia. The Western Club carried off three championships through the fine work of Chapman and Crawford. The Olympic Club annexed two titles, Wallfisch being successful in the heavyweight and Duncan in the welterweight classes. The only visitor to g et away with a gold medal was Fred Smith of Vancouver, who was the best of the lightweight division.

Four bouts in the preliminary rounds were held in the afternoon at the Olympic Club and the gathering of members witnessed some high-class wrestling. Curiosity as to the ability of the visiting men was soon satisfied, as all of the men from the outside cities won the afternoon contests.

Smith of Vancouver was drawn against Brownell of the Olympic Club, and the visitor from the north astonished the clubmen by gaining a well-executed fall from the Olympic crack. Emes of Sacramento had to go an extra three minutes before he was awarded the decision over Baraty of the Olympic Club, and then Walker of Vancouver downed Duncan in the middleweight class after a spirited contest. Duncan, who had trained down to the welterweight limit, had all the worst of the weights and could not stand off the powerful boy from the British province.

Crawford of the Western Club, after taking off a pound and a half in the steam room to get down to the middleweight limit, gave some indication of his strength and skill by easily winning from his teammate, Thais.

In the evening the proceedings opened with the little fellows. Chapman won his first championship by disposing of Lundon in short order. Later in the evening Chapman came back and made himself the individual feature of the evening by annexing the first place in the 125-pound class by throwing his opponent, R. Juvinall, in 1 minute and 32 seconds.

There was a lot of fast wrestling in the leightweigth division. Pennie Parker was given the decision over E. Henio of the Western Club in the first semi-final after six minutes' wrestling, Parker got his opponent with a head, scissors and hammerlock hold in the middle of the bout and held Henio helpless for the balance of the time.

The match between Franzke of Portland and Smith of Vancouver provided a sensation. Franzke got the upper hold as soon as the ment went to the mat and for over three minutes he did all the work, Smith being on the defensive. The Vancouver man was alert, however, and when the opportunity offered he rolled Franzke as neatly as could be desired and scored a fall on his first attacking movement.

The final in this class again showed Smith to be a resourceful and cunning wrestler. After allowing Parker to set the pace for nearly two minutes he landed the Olympic wrestler on his shoulders with a flying fall that was executed so quickly that the spectators were taken by surprise.

Duncan and McLeod had a fifteen-minute session before the referee could award the title in the welterweight class. The first six minutes was so even that the official ordered the men to take a rest and then come back for another six-minute tussle. After that was over another spell of three minutes was ordered and Duncan was awarded the decision.

Walker, the clever mat man from Vancouver, had to work his hardest for 5 minutes and 32 seconds to get the better of Emes of Sacramento in the first semi-final of the middleweight class. Crawford took a flying fall out of Bradt of Portland in 37 seconds. The final was a surprise. Walker was the favorite for the honors, but Crawford picked up the British Columbia man before they had been wrestling half a minute and slammed Walker on his back with a flying fall that jarred the northerner.

Otto Wallfisch won the heavyweight class from Scott of the University of California in 32 seconds. Scott is a novice at the game and Wallfisch took advantage of his opponent's inexperience to get an early lead, and he soon landed the big student on his back.

The Results.

The following are the results of the evening's wrestling:

ONE OF BEST MALLARD SCORES THAT HAS BEEN ROLLED UP HERE

SAC. BEE, 12-9-10

JACK INMAN AND DR. HUNGER.

Rain of the early days of last week scattered the ducks somewhat on certain club grounds, but hunters who went out to the Gridley Club this week report shooting out there as of high quality. According to the majority of them, the work has been better in the rain than has ever prevailed before under similar conditions.

Dave Ruhstaller got back yesterday with a good bag, although the misty and damp weather of early morning made the game a bit uncertain. The ducks were a trifle scattered, but the mallards were thick. In fact, this seems to be a record-breaking season for this kind of duck at Gridley.

In the photo above, Jack Inman and Dr. Hunger are shown with the bag they made a few days ago, when they let all varieties pass except mallard, and each killed the limit on those. Frank Newbert will be one of a party going up to the club Saturday, reports of the shooting there having decided him to form one of a party.

PLAYERS WORK FOR TROPHY

The members of the Sacramento Athletic club basketball teams are practicing hard for there is a trophy cup offered by S. Sturmer, a local jeweler, to the player making the best individual showing. This includes attendance at practice. The cup is a fine one and all of the players on the various teams are trying for it. A committee will decide the winner.

Crack Center of S. A. C. Team

SAC. ON. 12-8-10

Football enthusiasts are eagrly looking forward to Sunday afternoon when the All-Star team of miners from Nevada county meets the Sacramento Athletic club team at Buffalo Park. In a game recently played by the teams at Grass Valley the S. A. C. boys won out after an exciting contest and their opponents from the mountains are coming here determned to avenge their defeat.

The Grass Valley boys claim that they were outweighed by their opponents in the last game and have taken on some new material—said material being some husky miners who threaten to make the locals hustle. Under the tutelage of Coach Otto Rittler, the local boys have been practicing nightly and are confident of repeating their victory. Dickson, a former St. Mary's crack player, will be seen in the S. A. C. lineup and will strengthen the team materially. Special rates will be made between Grass Valley, Nevada City and Sacramento and a number of rooters are expected to accompany the Nevada county All-Star team.

S.A.C. BASKETBALL TEAM AGAIN WINS

Boys' Brotherhood Team Plays Pluckily, but Is Outclassed.

There is no stopping the lightweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic club. Last night the boys bowled over the Boys' Brotherhood team in jig time, the lightweights winning, 60 to 25.

At the close of the first half the score stood 29 to 12 in favor of the lightweights, and in the second half they just breezed to victory, the final score being 60 to 25.

Lovich and Luke, the lightweight forwards, played an excellent game, and Sprague and Donald worked well as guards. Duke at center put up his usual steady game.

For the Boys' Brotherhood team, Hicks at forward and Blair at center did the bulk of the work, saving their team from a bad beating.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. heavyweight team will play the Sacramento Athletic club heavyweight team at the Sacramento Athletic club gymnasium.

Tomorrow night will be a banner one in basketball circles, two excellent matches being scheduled at the old pavilion. The Sacramento high school team will play the Sacramento Athletic club heavyweights and the Spartans of the S. A. C. will meet the crack Elk Grove team.

The teams playing last night lined up as follows: Boys' Brotherhood—Forwards, Watwood, Anderson, Oniel and Hicks, captain; center, Blair; guards, Asselene, Haggerty and Rutledge. S. A. C. Lightweights—Forwards, Lovich, Luke; center, Duke; guards, Sprague, Donald, Cowie and Salvatore.

S. A. C. BEATS Y. M. C. A. 27-25

One of the fastest games of basketball ever played in Sacramento and one that was in doubt up to the last was the one between the Sacramento Athletic club heavyweight and Y. M. C. A. teams at the Athletic club gymnasium last night.

12-9-10

The Athletic club team scored a goal in the last minute of play and won the game by a score of 27 to 25.

The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 15 in favor of the Association team. The two teams both made rallies in the second half and ran the score up to 25 to 25. A minute before time was to be called Knight, of the S. A. C., scored a field goal and won the game. The Sacramento Athletic club had expected an easy victory and were greatly surprised at the showing made by the Association team. The teams lined up as follows:

Handball Tournament Under Way, Basketball Booming, With Boxing Bouts on Tap for Latter Part of Month— Elk Grove Plays Here Tonight.

Indoor athletics are undergoing a boom at the Sacramento Athletic club. Two high-class basketball teams are trimming all of the teams met, an excellent football squad is being schooled into shape, an exciting handball tournament is under way and the thud of the padded mitt resounds through the gym nightly, where a squad of clever boxers are training for the glove tournament which takes place shortly after Christmas.

HEAVYWEIGHTS AGAIN WIN.

In the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, the heavyweight team of the S. A. C. took the Y. M. C. A. heavyweight team into camp by a score of 27 to 25. The game was by far the most exciting of the winter, and was not decided until the last minute of play, when Knight, one of the S. A. C. forwards, threw a basket goal. At the end of the first half the score stood 17 to 15 in favor of the Y. M. C. A. team, but the S. A. C. boys got together and pulled the game out of the fire, the final score being 27 to 25. The members of the Y. M. C. A. played a strong game and threw a surprise into their opponents, who expected an easy victory. The teams lined up as follows:

S. A. C. Heavies—Forwards, Blake, captain, Knight and Holmes; center, Sweeney; guards, Purrington and Bacon.

Y. M. C. A. Heavies—Forwards, McNulty, Reuter; center, Eckstrom; guards, Harris and McFarland. Referee, Kennedy.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT.

Tonight at the Old Pavilion, the basketball teams of the club will engage in matches with outside teams. CRACK ATHLETE JOINS CLUB.

R. Starrett, the crack athlete, formerly of St. Mary's college has taken a position in Sacramento and has joined the S. A. C. club. He will play wing in the S. A. C. team against the All-Star Nevada county team on Sunday. Starrett has a 10.1 mark in the 100 yards and made 22.2 feet in the broad jump at the recent meet at Agricultural park. Starrett will prove a tower of strength to the club track team.

BASKETBALL MEDAL.

S. Sturmer has offered a cup for the best all-round basketball player in the S. A. C. club and the prize is being hard fought for. To win the cup a player is not only required to make a good showing in play, but must also have a perfect score in coming to the gym on practice nights.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

In the near future a basketball tournament is to be started with the following teams entered: Sacramento High School, Boys' Brotherhood, Christian Brothers School, Company E, National Guard, Y. M. C. A. and Spartans of the S. A. C.

Touch judges will be John Sonden of the All-Stars and E. Simmermacher of the S. A. C. F. Twitchell will be referee. F. Chalmers of the All-Stars and C. McClatchy of the S. A. C. are to be timers.

The delegation from Grass Valley is expected to arrive about 11 a. m. to-morrow and a Committee from the club will be appointed to receive them.

There are plenty of reserves on both squads, so the game is likely to be a fast one. The All-Stars are bringing with them F. Chaunce, R. Richards, W. Lymans and J. Lymans. The S. A. C. will have on the side lines Hart, Evers, Blake and Azevedo.

Coach Rittler will play halfback in to-morrow's game with the locals. L. Gerguson, R. Starrett and Sheridan will play wing positions. Holmes and Dickson (Captain) will be at three-quarter posts. CONCLUDING WORK FOR RUGBY GAME

SAC. BEE. 12-9-10

Final practice for the Rugby football game of Sunday between the S. A. C. team and the Grass Valley squad, known as the Nevada County All-stars, was held in the gymnasium of the S. A. C. last night. Captain Dickson had charge of signal work and some fast passing of the ball was done. Several trick plays are promised for the occasion.

The Grass Valley team is expected to reach this city early Sunday morning. The local men will be allowed to rest up Saturday, only the lightest kind of work being carded.

L. DAY.

After last night's practice, Coach Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club football team said that his boys were on edge for the game with the All-Star Nevada county team, which takes place at Buffalo park, Sunday afternoon. The team practiced signals and perfected trick plays, which will be used to baffle their opponents. Word received from Nevada City is to the effect that the visitors are coming prepared to carry away a victory and on their showing against the S. A. C. boys in the last game played, have an undeniable chance to score a win. The lineup of both teams will be decided on Saturday, by the respective coaches.

Both Basketball Teams of S. A. C. Busy To-night

SAC. BEE, 12-9-10

One of the hardest tryouts the Sacramento basketball teams will have will come to-night when both Spartans, the lightweights of the instittuion, and the Unlimiteds will meet at the Old Pavilion, playing against the Elk Grove team and the Sacramento High School respectively.

The Spartan line-up will be Lovich, Luke, Duke, Donald, Cowle and Salvador and the heavyweights will have Knight, Sweeney, Palm, Holmes, Bacon, Purrington and several others to draw from.

The Unlimiteds of the club defeated the Y. M. C. A. team in a match at the latter's gymnasium last evening by the score of 27 to 25. It is planned to form a regular basketball league with the Sacramento High School, Boys' Brotherhood, Christian Brothers' School, the Y. M. C. A. and Company E of the National Guard as members.

Some fast players have been developed by the Boys' Brotherhood. In the game of Wednesday, Hicks, the forward and Captain, showed particular form. Watwood, the forward and Blair, the center, also did good work. Assaliana, Haggerty, Rutledge, O'Neil, and one or two of the substitutes did good work. It is planned to have basketball worked up among the Brotherhood members and other teams will likely be put in the field. Hicks and Blair were stars of the game Wednesday.

MULDOON CASE STILL HANGS FIRE

SAC. BEE 12-9-10

BOXER READY TO TURN "PRO" UNLESS ACTION IS TAKEN.

Pete Muldoon's case is still hanging fire so far as his suspension is concerned. A telegram received yesterday by A. J. Delano of the S. A. C. from F. J. Carver, Secretary of the P. N. A., notified Delano that Muldoon was still under suspension. A letter to Muldoon a couple of days ago contained the same information.

In Carver's letter he told Muldoon that talk of challenges with professionals might possibly prejudice his case. Muldoon, however, says that unless he can know definitely whether there is hope of reinstatement he will take on one of the professional bouts offered at Seattle.

Seattle promoters have offered Muldoon a match for January 21st, while another bout has been offered to him with Jack Lester, January 1st, at Seattle. He would like to accept one of these bouts if not replaced in good standing. Otherwise, he says he would like to remain here and box as an amateur.

The bout over which the trouble arose was one before the Ballard A. C. of Seattle, when he knocked out Frank Westerman in the third round. Muldoon was penalized for meeting an unregistered athlete.

"I will give $100 to any one who can show that I ever boxed a professional, though," said Muldoon this morning.

HEAVIES OF TWO TEAMS CLASH TONIGHT

SAC. STAR. 12-8-10

Basketball is one of the principal sports in the Capital city at the present time. Tonight the Sacramento Athletic club heavyweight team will clash with the Y. M. C. A. five in the S. A. C. gymnasium. This promises to be one of the fastest and most hotly contested games of the season as both teams are evenly matched and are rivals of long standing.

Two fast games are scheduled for tomorrow night when the High school will play the S. A. C. heavies and the Spartans, or Athletic club lightweight team, will play Elk Grove. The proceeds of the game will go towards buying suits for the heavies.

Last night the S. A. C. lightweights defeated the Boys' Brotherhood by a score of 60 to 25. Despite the unevenness of the score the game was an interesting one. The teams lined up as follows:

Boys' Brotherhood—Forwards, Watwood, Anderson, Oniel and Hicks, captain; center, Blair; guards, Asselene, Haggerty and Rutledge. S. A. C. Lightweights— Forwards, Lovich, Luke; center, Duke; guards, Sprague, Donald, Cowie and Salvatore.

STARRETT VALUABLE S. A. C. ACQUISITION

The Sacramento Athletic Club has enlisted a new member who is an all-round athlete. In R. Starrett, the club has a sure point winner. Starrett is a former St. Mary's man. He does the hundred in 10.1; broad jumps at 22.2, is a good football player and an all-round athlete. S. STAR 12-9-10

Indoor Football Practice Given the S. A. C. Team

SAC BEE, 12-9-10

Indoor football was taken up by the S. A. C. players in their gymnasium last evening and brisk practice was given to the team, especially to the backs. The men were sent through trick plays and signal work by Coach Rittler.

Among the backs who went through the trial were Dickson, Sherwin, Kennedy, Holmes, Starrett and Ferguson. Rapid passing of the ball was made a feature and it is thought the team work of the organization has greatly improved since the last game. The match with Grass Valley is expected to be a speedy contest.

Two basket ball games were played in the course of the evening, the Unlimiteds winning the first, 29 to 17, while the Spartans, the lightweights of the club, defeated the Unlimiteds in the return match 51 to 43. O'Connor served as referee.

The Unlimiteds played for most of the evening with Holmes, Palm, Sweeney, Blake and Purrington in their lineup. The lightweights had a makeup of Kennedy, Lovich, Salvador, Luke and Sherwin, the latter putting in an active evening on the football squad as well.

Dickson, who will captain the S. A. C. football team, was captain of St. Mary's College last year. He says the majority of the men are doing excellent work, among them Kennedy, the Australian player. Holmes of Sparta, Cal., is also doing well. Sherwin played both at Berkeley High and Boone Academy and has shown great form in the signal work. Starrett is a St. Mary's boy and is doing nicely.

Although the handball end of the Winter program is in full blast billiards have not yet been started. It is expected that the Commissioners will announce their program shortly.

TWO BASKETBALL GAMES AWAIT S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 12-8-10

Unlimiteds and Lightweights Ready for Clashes of To-morrow Night

Two basketball games will be played at the Old Pavilion to-morrow night, one being between the Spartans, of the S. A. C., and the Elk Grove team, the other between the High School and the S. A. C. unlimiteds. This match is expected to arouse general interest, as it will give a good line on the performance of the High School men.

Practice games have been kept up at the S. A. C., and Commissioner Palm is keeping the men at work each night in the handball court. When no outside teams are available, the lightweights meet the Unlimiteds. Last night, with Sam Lovich as Captain, the lightweights defeated the Boys' Brotherhoood team by the score of 60 to 25.

There was some change of position among the club lightweights so as to try out all the men. The Boys' Brotherhood was composed of Watwood, Anderson, O'Neil, Hicks and Blair. Others who went in for portions of play were Rutledge, Haggerty and Asselene.

More indoor work was given in the gymnasium to the football team by Coach Rittler, to prepare for the meeting with Grass Valley Sunday afternoon. The Miners are said to have kept up practice steadily, and to have developed team work to a high degree. This was lacking in both teams, to some extent, when they met before, and improved condition is counted on by each.

LOOK FOR FAST RUGBY GAME

A fast exhibition of rugby football is looked for when the Sacramento Athletic Club fifteen tangles with the All-Star Miners, from Nevada County, at Buffalo Park Sunday afternoon. In a close and exciting game played at Grass Valley several weeks ago the Athletics nosed out on the Miners, winning the game by a small margin. The pick and shovel men are determined to even matters and are coming to do or die Sunday. S. STAR.

The Grass Valley crew claim that the S. A. C. team outweighed them in the last game. Since that time they have strengthened their line-up and have been practicing hard for the fray.

The Athletic squad has been practicing every night and is in fine condition. They are fully confidant that they will again defeat the Miners. Dickson, a former St. Mary's player, will be in the game and will strengthen the local line up a great deal. Special rates will be made between Grass Valley and Sacramento and it is expected that the Grass Valley team will be accompanied by a large section of rooters. 12-8-10

PUGH AND DUVAL LOSE TWO GAMES

SAC. UN. — 12-5-10

Team Doubles in S. A. C. Handball Tourney—MacGregor and Morgan Also Win.

Pugh and Duval doubled up yesterday in the handball tourney at the Sacramento Athletic club, and went up against two different teams, being defeated each time. The games in the first division were not close, the winners taking their matches with ease. Pugh and Duval put up the best opposition in the second game with Lobner and Strachan.

In the second division MacGregor and Morgan surprised themselves by beating Sprague and McDonough. The victory is the first they have scored this season, or at least one of the first. Rose and Ross split the set with Cox and Simmermacher.

Following is the results in both classes:

First class—

Donald and Morris beat Pugh and Duval 21:5, 21:6.

Lobner and Strachan beat Pugh and Duval, 21:15, 21:9.

Marsten and Delano were defeated by McCullough and Warren, 21:5, 21:18.

Second class—

Senf and Mattison beat Gray and Curl 21:4, 21:13.

Shorrock and C. Wahlander beat Toland and Simmermacher 21:13, 19:21.

S. F. Ex. 12-11-10

WOODLAND, December 10—The Rugby football team representing the Woodland High School won the championship of the S. V. I. A. L., playing the final game with the Chico High School team.

For several consecutive years Woodland High School won the league championship at the American game. In 1909 the Rugby game was adopted. Woodland put no team in the field that season on account of the death from an injury sustained by a Woodland boy in a practice American game.

In five games played this season no team has ever scored a point against the Woodland. Four of these five games they have won by a score of 3 to 0.

They have won from the Sacramento and Chico teams and twice defeated the team from the University of California State Farm.

Their only coach has been the Rev. W. E. Bobbett, who has played the American game, but knew nothing about Rugby when he began to coach. He was assisted by Captain C. W. Thomas, who had some experience on the Harvard Law School squad.

In the back field are four men all of whom have "prep" school records considerably better than 11 seconds.

The speed of the back field and the weight of the forwards entitle the team to rank with the best high school teams in the State.

Amateur Officials Now Discussing Muldoon's Case

SAC. BEE, 12-8-10

There seems to be little hope of Pete Muldoon's reinstatement by the A. A. U. Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman of the S. A. C. returned last night from San Francisco, where he interviewed the Coast amateur officials on the point but with no result.

"They tell me that they have absolute proof that Muldoon appeared in a professional bout up North," said Hoffman, "and they say that settles it. There may be a possible chance for reinstatement but I think Pete will have to turn professional.

"There may be a change in the date of the tournament at the club this month. I talked with several of the boxers and while all were ready to come up here again, after our recent tourney, they objected to coming in the Holidays. So the date proposed for December 22 may be held over a bit longer.

"I saw little Hickey down there, the 105 pounder. He is especially anxious to come up here again. McAllister would be willing to come back again if we could get Muldoon for him as an opponent. He is still keeping in shape and was working out in great style at his club."

Albert C. Skaise, representing ing the Pacific A. C., is in the city just now consulting with the Sac. ramento A. C. about the Muldoon case.

BASKETBALL SERIES ARE BEING ARRANGED

S. F. POST. 12-5-10

Plans and arrangements for the championship basketball tournaments of the P. A. A. will be formulated at a meeting of the committee this evening. The committee consists of Charles Minto, George Schlitter and Robert Dodd. The games which are decisive will be played in this city at the courts of the Young Men's Hebrew Association on Page street, but the preliminary contests will be held at different points in the state. The teams will be of the following averages: One hundred and ten, 120, 130, 145 pounds and unlimited. This year the teams will be taken for weight individually, every player being forced to make the average of his team.

TWO FAST GAMES FOR TONIGHT

SAC. STAR 12-9-10

Two fast games of basket ball will be played at the Old Pavilion tonight. The Sacramento Athletic club heavies will play the High School team and the lightweight basket ball team of the Athletic club will tangle with the crack Elk Grove five. The proceeds of the game will go towards buying suits for the heavyweight team. The following S. A. C. men will play tonight:

Lovich, Luke, Donald, Cowie, Salvadore, Blake, Knights Sweeney, Purrington, Bacon, Palm and Holmes.

HOFFMAN GOES TO GET TALENT FOR DEC. CARD

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club left last night for San Francisco in an endeavor to round up some boxing material for the December card of the athletic club. Hoffman is planning to make this show a banner event. Several of the Olympic Club boxers and other boexrs of clubs around the bay will participate. SAC. STAR.

One of the bouts looked forward to is the McAllister and Muldoon argument. Bobby McAllister won the welterweight and middleweight titles at the recent P. A. A. championship bouts. Muldoon was to have met the Olympic Club man but was barred from entering the tournament. Muldoon is a great favorite with the local club members who think that he can trim McAllister with ease. If a match cannot be arranged between McAllister and Muldoon, Long, the winged "O" heavy, will be asked to try conclusions with Pete. Muldoon is of the opinion that he can take Long's measure. 12-6-10

Boxers from the Redwood Club will be invited to participate in the next card which is at present scheduled for the 22nd. Hicks and Hooker will probably be brought together.

Prepare for P. A. A. Basket-Ball Tourney

S. F. CHRON. 12-5-10

Members of the basket-ball committee of the Pacific Athletic Association, which consists of Robert Dodd, George Schlitter and Charles Minto, will meet this afternoon at the Southside playgrounds to make arrangements for the annual basket-ball tournament of the Association. The committee will issue circular letters for the event this week.

According to present plans, the tourney will start on February 1st and will be conducted in the Young Men's Hebrew Association court. One decided change over last year's tournament will be made in the matter of the weighing in of the contesting teams. In last year's contests the weight of the team was taken by the average of the players. This year each player contesting on a team will be required to make the weight of his division. As in last year's tourney, there will be five divisions, the 110, 120, 130, 145 and unlimited classes. Games outside of San Francisco will be conducted in Oakland, San Jose, Sacramento and Santa Cruz, but all finals will be played in this city.

SPARTAS MEET ELK GROVE SATURDAY

SAC. STAR. 12-7-10

Two fast games of basketball are scheduled to be played at the Old Pavilion Friday night. The first game will be between the Elk Grove High School and the Spartas, or Sacramento Athletic Club lightweight teams. The Elk Grove team is a good one and expects to give the fast Athletic Club team a run for their money.

The main event game will be between the Sacramento High School team and the Sacramento Athletic Club heavies. This gives promise of being a hotly contested game as both teams are very fast. The proceeds will be used to buy suits for the heavyweight team.

HEAVIES ARE TO CLASH

Some Class-A basketball is expected when the Y. M. C. A. and Sacramento Athletic Club heavy-weight basketball teams clash in an exhibition game at the association gymnasium Thursday night. These two teams are evenly matched and a good game should result. Both teams have been practicing hard for the contest and both are expecting a hotly contested game.

The Athletics and the association teams have been rivals for some time. Some of the former association men are with the Athletic Club and some of the S. A. C. men are now with the Y. M. C. A. The players on both teams are all experienced and thoroughly understand the game. The game will be a practice one.

P. A. A. BASKETBALL TO START FEBRUARY FIRST

SAC. EX. 12-11-10

Entry blanks for the Pacific Athletic Association basketball tournament, which starts on February 1st will be sent out to the various organizations next Tuesday by the basketball committee, which consists of Robert W. Dodd, president; George Schlitter and Charles Minto.

Entries will close on January 15th with members of the committee. The games will be contested at the Southside playgrounds.

The various divisions are as follows 110 pounds, 120 pounds, 130 pounds 145 pounds and the unlimited.

Games outside of San Francisco will be played in Oakland, San Jose, Sacramento and Santa Cruz, but all final will be played in this city.

MULDOON TO BE SENT AGAINST JACK LESTER

SAC. BEE, 12-31-10

Pete Muldoon, who came to this city to take part in the recent amateur boxing tournament, and was barred from participating by an arbitrary ruling placing him as a professional, is to have a crack at Jack Lester, Tommy Burns' "hope." Burns is quoted in a dispatch as saying he will give Muldoon the next chance at Hagen. The bout will probably take place at Tacoma.

Lester fought at Tacoma last night against Ed Hagen. In the ninth round Lester caught Hagen with a right uppercut on the jaw while coming out of a clinch, and the contest was over. Lester weighed 175 pounds and Hagen 196.

MULDOON TO MEET HESTER AT SEATTLE

Pete Muldoon, the well known Sacramento Athletic Club middle-weight and champion middle and heavy amateur of the Northwest, will meet Jack Lester in a professional bout at Seattle tomorrow night. Muldoon recently was disqualified as an amateur by the P. A. A. As he has not been reinstated, Pete turned professional. Lester is a protege of Tommy Burns, an ex-heavy-weight champion. Pete has several matches around Seattle.

DONALD AND MORRIS FALL AT HANDBALL

Donald andd Morris were dropped several pegs in the percentage column of the S. A. C. handball tournament when Mansfield and Yoerk defeated them two straight Sunday. The games were all fast. Due to the fact that there are many other things scheduled for Christmas and New Year's, the games will be continued until after the first of the year. The defeat of Donald and Morris leaves several tied for first place. The results of Sunday's play in both classes were as follows:

Mansfield and Yoerk beat Donald and Morris, 21:16, 21:16. Bacon and Shaw beat Morrison and Delano, 21:6, 21:19.

In the second class Shorrock and Wahlander beat Rose and Ross 21:16, 21:16. Payne and Shaw split even with Rose and Ross in the second contest in this department, 21:17, 17:21.

S.A.C RUGBY TEAM DEFEAT ALL STARS

SAC. UN. 12-12-10

Nevada County Boys Outclassed in Game Full of Hard, Snappy Playing.

After skating around in the mud at Buffalo park yesterday afternoon until their heads resembled door mats, the Rugby team of the Sacramento Athletic club easily defeated the All Stars Nevada county team by a score of 26 to 0. The local players outclassed their opponents, but the game was a good one from a scrappy standpoint, all hands taking a crack at one another when the teams piled up on the ball. In the first half Starret, the S. A. C. halfback, slipped in an uppercut on Tregaskis, the All Star halfback, and the All Star boys quit the field. They were induced to get back into the game and then made it interesting to a little "roughhouse" playting to a little 'roughhouse" play themselves. In the second half Will Gilbert, one of the All Star halfbacks, was knocked down and an S. A. C. boy kindly stepped on his neck. Gilbert was carried off the field and responded to the first aid to the injured treatment given him. Nevertheless, Rugby is a nice, gentlemanly game.

ALL STARS OUTCLASSED.

The S. A. C. boys clearly outclassed their opponents, Dixon ripping through the line for a gain every time he got hold of the ball, while Starrett, Purrington and Sherman broke up all kinds of plays and sprinted across the line for touchdowns. Blake's kicking was good, he making four goals out of seven shots.

Dixon made three trys, while Starrett, Purrington and Sherman made a try each. The game was very poorly attended, hardly a handful of people being seated in the grandstands.

The officials of the game were: Touch judges, John Sonden of the All Stars and Ed. Simmermacher of the S. A. C.; referee, F. Twitchell, and timers, Jim McClatchy of the S. A. C. and F. Chalmers of the All Stars.

The line-up of the local team was: Rittler, halfback; Ferguson, Starrett and Sheridan, wings; Holmes and Captain Dixon, three-quarters; Kennedy, five-eighths, and Dearborn, Curl, Williams, Palm, Schlosser, Purrington, Swinney and Gannon, forwards.

The Grass Valley miners lined up as follows: F. Gibson, H. Gibson, Merifield, J. Richards, Mitchell, Briggs and Goodman, forwards; Jenkins, wing forward; Sugg and D. Richards, halfbacks; Captain Rowe, Gilbert, Tregaskis and Green, three-quarters, and Northey, fullback.

DATE FOR BOXING NOT YET SETTLED

SAC. BEE. 12-9-10

There is some uncertainty at the S. A. C. over the date of the boxing tourney which was planned for this month. Coach Rittler still wants to hold the bouts December 22d. On the other hand, the Commissioners of the club wish to defer the date. A meeting of the Commissioners will be held before the end of the week to decide the point.

Little attention is paid in this city or in San Francisco, among sporting men, to the telegram from Cadillac saying that Ad Wolgast's arm was still knitting and that he would not be able to box again until March or possibly May.

Boxers who are working out at the S. A. C. gave derisive smiles this morning when told of the account. It seems to be the general belief that Manager Tom Jones is simply trying to keep from putting Wolgast in the ring as long as possible.

Grass Valley to Have a Return Game With S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 12-6-10

Grass Valley's football team will have a return match with the Sacramento Athletic Club brigade next Sunday at Buffalo Park and a strong contest is expected.. By making his men pay more attention to team work, Coach Rittler says that he expects to make a greatly improved showing over the game with St. Mary's.

"It was inexperiance and lack of team work that made the boys actually score for St. Mary's," said Rittler, "they would get the ball into positions where the opposition had all the chance in the world to score—and they did it. This is our first year at Rugby and I am not disappointed at the conditions.

"Next Saturday I am going to referee at Woodland.. I saw an article in The Bee saying Woodland would like to challenge other teams.. We are perfectly willing to play them."

Basketball is to be boomed at the club from now on. The Unlimiteds of the club play the Sacramento High School at the Old Pavilion, Friday, December 9. The Spartans of the club will meet Elk Grove this week.. Sam Lovich will handle the lighter team and Blake will captain the heavyweights. The heavyweights team will be made up from the following squad: Sweeney, center; Blake, forward; Shaw, forward and guard; Purrington, Lobner, Bacon and Eugene Palm, forwards and guards.

The football squad to figure in the game with Grass Valley will be made up of Purrington, Williams, Dearborn, Earl, Palm, Schlosser, Sweeney, Holmes, A. Evitts, Kennedy, Dickson, Rittler, Sherwin, Starrett, Ferguson, Hunt, Blake, Coy and Garrison. Dickson will captain the team and Coach Rittler will take part in the contest.

Several members of the All Star team will represent Stockton in the national championship basketball tournament. The Sacramento Athletic club team is in good condition and expects to make a good showing against the Slough City Store.

PETE MULDOON IS IN BAD WITH P.N.A.

12-12-10

A. J. Delano Sacramento representative of the Pacific Athletic association, a branch of the Amateur Union of America last night received word from F. J. Carver, representative of the Pacific Northwest association, to the effect that Pete Muldoon, who was disqualified from the recent boxing tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club, through a protest of the Seattle Athletic club was undoubtedly guilty of a violation of the rules o the A. U. A.

Westerman, who participated in the S. A. C. tournament also stands suspended. Carver, in a wire, says that according to information given him, Muldoon deliberately and with knowledge violated amateur rules. Carver further states that Muldoon was suspended once before and reinstated.

Although the members of the Olympic club did not protest Westerman, whom they knew to be suspended, it is thought that a protest would have been entered had Westerman beaten Long, the big Olympic club boxer, who luckily knocked Westerman out of the ring, winning the bout. From the tenor of Carver's message, Muldoon has little chance of being reinstated, despite the efforts being made by Delano and other members of the S. A. C. to have him placed within the good graces of the P. N. A.

Koening has a world of friends throughout California who will extend their sincere congratulations to him upon hearing of his coming marriage. He is a brother of Patrolman Ted Koening of the Sacramento police force.

ANNUAL RACE TO BEGIN S. A. C. TRACK SEASON

Star 1-6-11

The annual race around the Capital Park January 29th will begin the track season for 1911 at the Sacramento Athletic Club. Already there are 30 entries for this event, which is looked forward to by the members of the club.

This race always marks the commencement of track season. Though the race marking the commencement has not been run and for the first time is being announced, many of the boys are in good condition and it will take but a week or so of training to place them in excellent trim for the season.

There are many rivals for places in the race, which is a mile and an eighth in length. All three winners of last year's race will compete and a hotly contested race is expected.

Stewart, the winner of last year's race, is in fine fettle and announces that he will walk away with the event this year. He states that he is hard as nails and that the rest will run until their ankles smoke before they catch him.

Donald, who was second to Stewart, says that no one will nose out on him this year. Donald is in fine trim and his hand-ball playing has given him the wind.

Sparks says that he will not be third this year. There will be two men behind him and none ahead at the finish of the race, is his prediction. He is in good shape and ready to run the breath out of the rest of the squad.

In Day all of the runners are looking for a dark horse. Day is a five-mile runner and a good one. Day might speed up for a mile or so and annex first place.

The 1911 track outlook for the S. A. C. never was better. The material on hand has the making of a championship team. All of the members of the team which took second place to the Olympic Club with the addition of several other good men are on hand. In Dixon, Starrett, Day, Gates, Hollingsworth and others the club has sure point winners in any meet.

Trac kis going to be foremost in the spring athletics and dual meets with the Olympic and other clubs are planned.

GOT BAD DEAL FROM WOODLAND SAYS RITTLER

Star 1-4-11

"If we had been given any kind of a square deal the score would never have been 3 to 0. Their judges were either blind or showing partiality. On two occasions our men crossed the goal but they would not allow it. None of the decisions were anywhere near being fair.

"Another thing, I had a crippled team. But that has got nothing to do with the defeat. We beat them at football and thier judges beat us out of the game. This game was to have been the first of a series of three for the championship of Northern California. I challenged Woodland time after time and they would not listen to it. At the 11th hour they say they will play. With half of my men out of town I scraped together a team and took them over. With this team I beat them, or that is, they beat us out of the decision.

"Then they send dispatches to the Sacramento papers that the Sacramento team was a bunch of fighters and a lot of rot and in addition that they won the game.

"You can say for me that it was the Woodland team that did the fighting. They outweighed us about 15 pounds to the man. We want to play them again and our only hope is that they will come. I will have my team all here and then we will play. Recognized authorities will be selected for officials. We want to play Woodland just once, that is all. We hope they will come over and play us."

DRAWINGS FOR S.A.C. HANDBALL

The following drawings were made for the regular play of the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament which will be continued Sunday after two weeks delay because of the holidays. Those failing to show up Sunday morning will lose their places in the tournament. At present several teams are tied for first place and some exciting contests are expected. WOODLAND RUGBY TEAM DEFEATS LOCAL

S. A. C. NOTES

SAC. UN. 12-6-10.

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic club left last night for San Francisco to arrange for a bout between Bob McAllister of the Olympic club and Pete Muldoon of the local club in this city, probably on the evening of December 22. McAllister and Muldoon were to have clashed here during the P. A. A. tournaments, but the local boy was protested and so the bout never took place.

It has been decided by the club to hold the next bouts on the evening of December 22, but that date may be changed.

Joy abounded unbridled at the Sacramento Athletic club when it was learned that McLeod, the wrestler, had been awarded second place in the 145-pound class in the P. A. A. wrestling championships in San Francisco last week. The boy was presented with a $25 merchandise prize.

A Christmas tree is being planned for Christmas eve. Every member of the club who attends will be expected to put on something and the Santa Claus—there will be one certainly—will pass the joke presents to the lucky ones.

Jack Inman has agreed to go out and kill enough geese to furnish a goose dinner for the club. He has not said when he is going out, so the dinner, and mostly the geese, are still a hope to hang temptingly in the future.

SACRAMENTO BOXERS WILL MAKE TRIP TO OAKLAND

Murray, Salvadore, Ahern and Muskrat to Fight

Bee 1-5-11

The next boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held the evening of January 20th or 27th. The exact date will be determined the first of next week.

Prior to that date, Director Rittler is to take four of the best of the local boxers to Oakland and pit them against members of the Redwood Club. The delegation will include Murray, Salvadore, Ahern and Muskrat.

At the last show, Murray went against Young Hickie and Salvadore met Eddie Smith. Hickie and Smith are members of the Redwood Club and doubtless will be the opponents of the local boys at the Oakland show.

Ahern came to this city from Grass Valley. He made his first local appearance at the last show, going against Azevedo, and he put up a classy scrap. Ahern is a natural fighter and with proper handling should beat many of the boys at his weight.

Muskrat is very popular locally and can always be relied upon to give a good account of himself.

Return Game Sought by the Athletic Club Team

Not satisfied with the result of the Rugby game played at Woodland last Monday, Director Rittler, of the Athletic Club, has written asking for a return game to be played on the Sacramento grounds January 15th. Rittler assures the Woodlandites that if they come here they will be treated nicely and shown every courtesy.

Incidentally, Rittler included in his letter a severe criticism for Rev. Bobbitt, who acted as referee at Woodland. He declares Bobbitt deliberately and persistently ruled in favor of Woodland, penalized Sacramento at the least provocation, and carefully overlooked all infractions of the home team. Rittler charges that Sacramento actually made three goals, but was deprived of them by the arbitrary ruling of the referee.

S.A.C. BOXERS MAKING GOOD

Star 1-4-11

Some of the best of the Sacramento Athletic Club boxers may participate in the regular monthly tournament of Oakland Athletic Club to be given the latter part of this month. The Sacramento boxers are making fine reputations. Several of the best of the bay city boys have been defeated by local boxers.

Tom Ahearn, who made a clever showing against Azevedo(will be one of the S. A. C. boys on the local card. Ahearn is from Grass Valley. He recently joined the S. A. C. and is a fast and clever lad.

Salvador is another of the local boxers who will represent the black and gold. Salvador is as fast as chain lightning and is very clever. He will probably be matched with Eddy Smith, the amateur 118-pound champion of the coast. Salvador has two decisions over Smith.

Lee Muskrat, the 125-pound champion, will be sent to defend his title. Muskrat is a tough and husky lad. He can take and give all manner of punishment.

Beats Heavyweight in Round After Whirlwind Start—Is Matched With Lester.

Pete Muldoon, the clever welterweight, who recently left Sacramento, is keeping up his reputation as a slashing battler. At Seattle Wednesday night Muldoon beat Joe Hauser, a husky heavyweight tipping the scales at 200 pounds, in a round. From the tap of the gong Muldoon tore into his man, and punished him so severely that the referee stopped the go at the end of the first round, in order to prevent a fatality. On January 16 Muldoon will fight Jack Lester at Tacoma. Lester is a protege of Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion, and is said to be a good man. Muldoon has been trying for some time to get a crack at Lester, but the terms made by Burns were so prohibitive that he held off on the match.

In order to get a chance at Lester, however, he had to agree to the terms made by Burns, and will start training tomorrow for the match. Muldoon, in a letter to the sporting editor of the Union, states that he will be in good shape for the battle with Lester, and should be returned a winner.

Muldoon's recent victories in the north stamp him as a comer. He has never been tried out against a real top-notcher, and there is no telling how good the boy is. While in Sacramento Muldoon made good, and there are a number of good judges of the boxing game here who think that within a short time Pete will be pitted against some of the best boxers in the business.

Pope-Hartford Headquarters in This City Will Be Enlarged.

Among the local automobile firms which are preparing for an increased trade this coming season is the Consolidated Motor Car Company, local representatives for Pope-Hartford cars. By taking the building which adjoins their present location to the south and which was formerly occupied by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, the Consolidated concern has very materially increased their available floor space. With their new arrangement they will easily have one of the most spacious establishments in the Western motor car trade.

Speaking of their extended quarters, G. A. Boyer says:

"Growing business is our principal reason for this addition. In view of the present Pope-Hartford trade we find our former quarters too cramped for adequate care of our customers. With the addition of the new space we will install a parts department of the most complete character, which will enable us to supply any part of any car of Pope-Hartford make from the earliest to the present model."

HAYNES CARS PERFECT.

In the Chicago reliability run, held under the auspices of the Chicago Motor Club, the two Haynes entries, driven by Wagner and Williams, respectively, finished with perfect scores, winning the Goodrich and Stewart and Clark trophies. The run, which covered a fraction over 1030 miles, was finished after five continuous days of traveling.

Because of recent rains the roads were in anything but good condition and the schedule called for twenty miles an hour throughout over this strenuous going. Many of the highest powered contender were forced to abandon all hope of reaching controls on time, but the Haynes entries hung doggedly to their task plowing through mud and bumping through ruts, but reaching every control on the second. It is concededly the most remarkable endurance performance ever pulled off in the v... Chicago.

Pete Muldoon, the shifty middleweight of the Sacramento Athletic Club, in the past year and one-half has taken part in 23 bouts, losing but one. He has won 21 and lost one. Eleven of these were by knock-out, ten were wins, one draw. At the amateur championship bouts held at Seattle in 1909, Muldoon went out of his class and defeated Frank Westerman who weighed 21(lbs., for the Amateur Heavyweigh championship of the Pacific Coast He has had a hard time getting mei of his weight to box with him, an it was in this way that he lost the only fight. He lost the one fight to Allen who entered the ring weighing 237 lbs. This fight is no discredit to him because at that time he weighed in at 162 lbs. The giving away of 75 pounds and fighting a man so far out of his class shows he has the nerve.

Later in the year of 1909 he went to Canada and defeated Wicks for the middleweight championship of that country.

He was barred from participating in the Coast championship bouts this year held in this city last month, because he boxed a member from a club which at that time was not in good standing in the Pacific Amateur Association. The club has since been reinstated and the Sacramento Athletic Club has hopes that it will be able to get his standing back in time for December bouts, when it will match him with McAllister, who is now the middle-weight champion of the Coast.

This will prove a big attraction for the club as a bout between these two would settle any doubt as to who is entitled to the title. Let us hope they succeed.

SPARTANS WIN CLASSY GAME FROM ELK GROVE

SAC. BEE. 12-27-10

By the close score of 29 to 25 the Spartans, the crack 135-pound basket ball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club, defeated the Elk Grove High School five yesterday afternoon. The game was played at Elk Grove.

The Spartans did their best work in the first half, winning that division 18 to 12. In the second half the Elk Grove players scored 13 to 11.

The teams lined up as follows:

Elk Grove—Dickson and Owens, forwards; Hogaboom, center; Coons, Meese and Gibson, guards.

Spartans—Lovich and Day, forwards; Duke, center; Salvadore, Luke and Donald, guards.

MULDOON, LOCAL PUG, KNOCKS OUT A HEAVY

Pete Muldoon, the Sacramento middleweight, is taking a whirlwind campaign in the State of Washington. Pete got careless the other night and in a fight dumped a heavyweight in one round. Joe Hauser, a 200 pounder, was the lad. He got in the road of one of Pete's swings and then it happened. Pete will be matched with Jack Lester, the protege of Tommy Burns, ex-heavyweight champ. SCHRECK WANTS RETURN MATCH

One of the features of the monthly boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be the return match between Young Schreck and Pappa. These two furnished a very entertaining match at the last show, at which time Pappa was given the decision. As Schreck comes from a "fighting family" he is not satisfied and wants a return match. He promises to knock out Pappa. Pappa promises to do likewise to Schreckengast. The match is causing a great deal of interest and will be one of the features of next month's show.

The card, although not yet arranged, has promises of being a classy one. One of the events will be a return between Azevedo and Ahearn. Hickey may tangle with his rival, Hooker. Eddy Smith and Salvador may have a fourth argument. Other likely bouts are planned.

The Romero brothers, better known as the "knock out" kids, will be seen in action if opponents can be found for them. Star 1-6-11

To Give Boxing Show.

On the evening of either the 20th or the 27th instant, the Sacramento Athletic Club will have a boxing entertainment. In the meantime Director Rittler is to take four of the best of the local boxers to Oakland and pit them against members of the Redwood Club. The delegation will include Murray, Salvadore, Ahern and Muskrat. Bee 1-7-11

Going to Highlands.

If suitable arrangements can be made, the Sacramento Athletic Club will promote an excursion to Truckee February 18. The railroad has agreed to grant low rates if 125 passengers make the trip. Director Rittler, of the Athletic Club, believes this number can be secured, and he will probably make definite announcement in a few days concerning the plans. It is planned that if the trip is made the arrangements shall provide for sleighrides over the snow, skiing, and in the evening there will be a dance.

The Sacramento Athletic Club is to give a minstrel show the evening of February 3d. The show will be at the Clunie theatre. Otto Rittler is to direct the athletics, while Harry White handles the musical features.

S. A. S. ALL AGOG OVER COMING BOXING FEST

SAC. STAR. 12-13-10

Great is the excitement at the Sacramento Athletic club. All are looking forward to the monthly boxing bout to be held December 282nd. At this time one of the greatest amateur glove contests of the history of the ring, according to members of the club, will take place. Two championships are at stake—one the heavyweight title of Northern California and the other the heavyweight championship of the club and of Sacramento.

G. L. Davenport has issued a sweeping defy to his beefy rival, H. Tharp. Both are members of the Sacramento Athletic club. The matter has been put in the hands of Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman and arrangements for a settlement of the disputed question of supremacy are being made. Tharp has stated on several occasions that he is doubtful if there is a man at the club that can take his measure. Davenport offers to do several hard tasks such as rolling a peanut up and down K street with a tooth pick if he cannot best Tharp in three rounds.

Matchmaker Hoffman has decided to make the bout the main event of next month's card. Both Davenport and Tharp are well known in Sacrramento and have been rivals for some time.

The match is the talk of the Athletic club. The members can think of nothing else. The hotly contested handball tournament, the basketball games, football and all else is forgotten. All one can hear is wait till Davenport and Tharp get into the ring.

Harry Tharp is a member of the local police force. He weighs 225 pounds. He is an all-around athlete being a particularly good shotputter. He is a baseball, handball, football player, as well as boxer. Thary hails from Plymouth, Cal.

Davenport has agreed to make 215 pounds. He is known as the "Gravel Kid" and is considered a hard pebble with the gloves. He is in training and has selected Swallenberg as one of his aides de camp. The only thing Davenport is afraid of is that Tharp will back out at the last minute. Tharp has never been known to show the white feather so all of the club members are joyous over the coming bout.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETES EXPECTED TO MAKE RECORDS ON COAST

SAC. BEE. 12-14-10.

LOCAL MEN DOING NICELY IN BOXING AND FOOTBALL AND BASKET BALL TEAM MAY WIN TITLE —RITER WRITES OF PROSPECTIVE HONORS.

That the Sacramento Athletic Club has a strong chance to win championships in several branches of sport on the Pacific Coast is the belief of Coach Otto Ritler, who has worked the material of the institution into shape. He thinks that the lightweight basket ball team has a strong chance to capture premier honors in this part of the country and he believes that the boxing squad is going to be a body of great promise.

On this point Ritler writes:

"Sacramento is going to be put on the athletic map in big figures soon. We have as good a boxing squad as one could ask, although we are in need of heavy men. Our lightweight basketball team is also doing first class work.

"The football team is doing wonderfully well considering the short time it has had for training. On this account I want to issue a challenge to Woodland. This team beat the Sacramento High, the Marysville team and the Chico High, among others. It has the championship of the S. V. I. L. I would like to send our men against the squad for a tryout.

"Now we have beaten the All Stars of Grass Valley twice, and the All Stars have beaten the Auburn High team, the Grass Valley High and the Nevada City High teams. We lost to St. Mary's, but that was at a time when the boys had not practiced up on team work at all.

"We would like to propose a series of three games. One to be played in Woodland, one in Sacramento and a third, if necessary to make the best two out of three, in the city whose team has made the greatest number of points. Two games will decide the matter if won by the same team, and we are willing to provide a cup for such a series.

"More interest is being shown in sports here than ever before, and I think every team from this city will be a factor in the near future. We have organized a Membership Committee and put the work in charge of captains. These include Day, Gannon, Bacon, Maloney, Hollander, Watkins, Blake, Foley, Horton and Ferguson.

"We probably will hold another boxing tourney December 30th, for local talent, so that the people of Sacramento can see just what material can be produced here. Later on, we expect to schedule another boxing tournament and bring up contestants from San Francisco and Oakland.

"The club is preparing an entertainment in the gymnasium for December 28th. There will be music and an athletic entertainment. The Committees having the affair in charge include C. Wahlander, R. Shorrock, Dr. Turner, B. McDonough, J. Moreshead, O. Ritler, E. Cox. R. Cothrin, E. Palm, B. Reedy, A. J. Delano, A. Strachan, L. Lobner, F. Fay. James Barnes will play Santa Claus and Bob Shank will give a monologue.

"We are ready to meet any of the local teams that wish games at football or basket ball, and we have teams of a weight to meet any challenge, in case some of the lighter squads would like a game.

"Interest in athletics seems to be awakening all through the city. I think we are going to have as prosperous a year as we have ever experienced."

RITLER HOPEFUL OVER S. A. C. OUTLOOK

SAC. BEE. 12-20-10

Coach Thinks Local Athletes Can Be Made Formidable Organization

According to Otto Ritler, coach at the Sacramento Athletic Club, it will be only a short time before material has been developed here that can make the S. A. C. formidable, so far as Coast events are concerned. His first step has been taken with the lightweight basket ball team, which, he thinks, can win the Coast title, but he also expects to go out after other honors in various branches of sport.

The boxers of the club did well in the recent tourney, considering the short time they had for preparation. Lee Muskrat was the only winner of a championship, but the club had no entries in the heavier classes. Moreover, Salvador beat Viera, a title holder, in a special bout.

This leads Ritler to believe that his men, with proper preparation, can score in almost any kind of sport. The football team did well with little preparation and a track meet for next Spring is now talked of. A "Marathon" run of ten miles is to be carded for the early Spring.

S. A. C. LIGHTWEIGHTS TO TRY FOR P. A. A. TITLE

SAC. UNION 12-20-10

Physical Instructor Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club has entered the lightweight basketball team in the Pacific Athletic association's annual championships, and fully expects them to carry off the title. The team has been doing excellent work since the beginning of the basketball season and should have no trouble in making away with the championship. The lightweights have beaten everything in Sacramento of their weight, and have been exceedingly successful in the heavyweight division.

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman is busily engaged arranging bouts to be staged on the evening of December 31 as a sort of New Year's celebration.

SAC. STAR. 12-20-10

LIGHTWEIGHTS FOR P. A. A. MEET

Physical Director Otto Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has announced that the S. A. C. light-weight team will be entered in the P. A. A. championships. Rittler expects this team to win the title, as it is a very fast one and all have been playing together for some time. The lightweight team has defeated nearly every team they have played thus far and have a victory over the fast S. A. C. heavy-weight team. The team lines up as follows: Forwards, Lovich and Luke; center, Donald; guards, Cowie and Salvador.

Great Time Planned at the Club for Dec. 28—Who Will Be Santa Claus?

SAC. UNION - 12-20-10

Grizzled old Santa Claus is to visit a new family of children this year. He is to climb down a new chimney and bring joy to the hearts of the little ones waiting around the glittering Christmas tree for him. On the evening of December 28 Santa Claus will make his first visit to Sacramento and the members of the Sacramento Athletic club will welcome him in the gymnasium of the club with royal good fellowship and cheer.

The gym will be cleared and a big tree beautifully decorated will be brought in and installed in the center of the room. Only those who are preparing the tree will be allowed to see it before the scheduled time. It will be a real old-fashioned Christmas. The fellows will sit around, eat candy and nuts and get presents.

One great thing that is bothering a majority of the members is—who will be Santa Claus? On account of his naturally fatherly nature John Morsehead is making a high bid for the job, but he is rivaled by Archibald Strachan, who is rapidly gaining favor and may finally be selected. Bud Ready will act as Santa Claus' assistant. In fact, he has second place cinched.

The boys will give each other presents and some of them promise to be screams. Nursing bottles, nipples, rattles, dolls, hobble skirts, corsets and all manner of outlandish articles will undoubtedly find their way to the branches of the tall pine.

Oh, yes, I forgot to say—there'll be lemonade and hop, too, so I guess you'll all be there.

DONALD AND MORRIS ARE WINNERS AT HANDBALL

The handball enthusiasts of the Sacramento Athltic club got in the annual Sunday for four games in the annual tournament Mansfield and Yoerk slipped a surprise over on Donald and Morris and took the set 21:16, 21:16. Bacon and Shaw beat Morrison and Delano, 21:6 and 21:19

In the second class Shorrock and Wahlander beat Rose and Ross 21:16, 21:16. Payne and Shaw split even with Rose and Ross in the second contest in this department, 21:17, 17:21.

Owing to the press of Christmas business it was impossible for many of the boys to show up for the games Sunday. There will be a slight lull in the handball tournament until after the first of the new year.

S. A. C. ARRANGES PROMISING CARD

SAC. STAR. 12-29-10

What promises to be an excellent card is the one arranged for the regular monthly boxing tournament of the Sacramento Athletic Club to be given at the club rooms tomorrow night. Two coast amateur champions will be seen in action. Matchmaker Hoffman and Physical Director Rittler have arranged the following card:

Murray versus Kelly. Eddy Smith vs. Salvador, Lee Muskrat vs. Ammicker, Azevedo vs. Ahern, Moyes vs. Sharkey, Pappa vs. Schreck, Goulard vs. Errickson, Hickey vs. Cooper.

Several of the bouts have the promise of being very fast ones. The go between Smith and Salvador has promises of being anything but a pink tea affair. Salvador lost the championship to Smith and then defeated him in a special match. He is of the opinion that he can beat him with ease.

Lee Muskrat will have his hands full with Ammicker. Ammicker has made Muskrat extend himself and he is of the opinion that he can defeat the champion.

The match between Goulard and Errickson will be a fast affair. Both are rivals and hard hitters. This will be the last appearance of "One Round" Joe as he departs for the east in a few days. The club will lose a game and tough fighter. He has many friends and is well-known in Sacramento.

MEMBERS OF ATHLETIC CLUB HAVE JOLLY TIME

SAC BEE. 12-29-10

350 Gather Around Christmas Tree and Enjoy Excellent Program

The Christmas tree and jinks of the Sacramento Athletic Club were enjoyed last night by 350 members of the Club. The program was excellent and there was a general feeling of jollity prevalent.

The Christmas tree was the big attraction of the evening. It was gay with tinsel and loaded with presents. There was a gift for every person present, and then some. Charles Phillips wore the garb of Santa Claus and he was a genial old fellow with a wealth of good humor as well as presents.

Songs were rendered by Walter Leitch, Tommy Burns, Tommy Clifton and Will Johnson. Each song was liberally applauded and there was a constant demand for more.

J. Giamelli scored a hit with a monologue and Dr. Hanna brought many a laugh with a bunch of humorous stories.

Neilis Matthews, Lowry Fay and A. Strachan formed an instrumental trio that furnished several excellent selections.

The Club Band made its official debut and it was given a royal welcome. The band has made a good start and will probably be a permanent feature of the club's activities in the future.

There was also a Chinese Band, at least that is what it was called. As a laugh-maker the Celestial offering was a success. Nothing need be said about the music.

A liberal supply of punch kept the throats of the club members wet and corn-cob pipes and an abundance of tobacco produced the required atmosphere.

The entertainment was arranged by Eugene Reedy, Leo Lobner and Ray Cathrin and to them much credit is due.

The next affair on the club's program is an amateur boxing show to be given Friday night. Young Hickey, Leo Vierra and Young Sharkey, clever boxers of San Francisco, are coming up to take part in the show. They will be pitted against local boys.

Otto Rittler is arranging a card of about eight bouts. Charley Schwallenberg will preside as referee.

HIGH JINKS AT THE S.A.C.

That Christmas tree shindig at the Sacramento Athletic club was a "humdinger." Everythink from soup to nuts was all to the confectionary and the comedy that was pulled off would make Sullivan and Considine and their vaudeville trust green with envy. The boys had one Class A time and those who were absent over-looked their hands. Bud Reedy, master of ceremonies, is to be congratulated on fixing up such a live time.

The following program started the evening's run: SAC. STAR.

Part One—Miss Hortense Loblier will discourse a few live ones; Overture, Selected, Potts Ready to Wear Band; Great Gobs of Angel Cake, Sir J. Giemalli, Let It Go at That; Song, "Fountain of Joy," Mlle. Joey Kennedy, This is Madness, Casius; Pianissmo, The Long Hairs Parade, Sig. R. Stevens, All Those, Pease Rise; Where the Cabbage and Raviollas Twine, Our Tea Burns, Without, Antonio, While the Door is Ajar; "Pot Full more that Overture," Potts Band, 'Keep Your Seats, Everyone; Mandolin, Guitar, Piano, A Giovanny Scratchen, Any Even Fay, Herr Neverless Matthewss, Fellows, This Isn't the Worst. 12-29-10

Part Two—Bran New Dope on Overtures, Chuck Luck Sueys, Serenaders, these you are privileged to slam with anything; Echoes from Conland, Mossierre Dr. J. Hannah, Weel See Who's Here; Pianoissmo Wonder Who's Kidding Me Now, R. Percival Mallet, Don't Hammer, It's Only Mallet; last Overture in Pot, Pott's Band Limited.

Santa Claus then did a flip-flap and gracefully did a cut-away from the rings and was on the job to distribute the presents to the some 300 club members who were there to celebrate.

Oh! those presents. Never has the like of them been seen before and never will again. From the gold

SANTA CLAUS TO BE AT S. A. C. CLUB TONIGHT

SAC. UNION - 12-25-10

Dear old Santa Claus will be on hand at the Sacramento Athletic club tonight. Every member of the club will receive a token from the old boy, and "believe me mister," if you were about last night and saw some of the packages being prepared, why you would cuddle around that old tree tonight and pipe the fireworks. Who is going to act as Santa Claus? Well, that's a dark secret, but take it from "Bud" Reedey, he's a bear cat. That's all.

For the last several weeks indoor sports have had a great boon at the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. The physical culture class has been augmented by a number of athletes, who are taking advantage of the excellent opportunities offered by the Y. M. C. A. for the muscular development of the body.

Basketball is the principal sport indulged in by the members of the association at the present time, several good teams having been developed. The crack team of the association, which will engage a number of outside teams in several games to be announced later, has been practicing regularly, and is in excellent form.

SPARTANS OF S.A.C. BEAT ELK GROVE

SAC. UNION 12-21-10

Superior Goal Sohoting Enables Locals to Score 29 to 25 Victory

After staring defeat full in the face the Spartans, the Sacramento Athletic club's crack 135-pound basketball team, turned the tables on Elk Grove high school at Elk Grove yesterday and won out by a score of 29 to 25. Sacramento twice saw defeat entering their camp; first, in the early stages of the first half, and again toward the end of the second half, but by superior goal shooting they pulled through with Elk Grove four points in the rear.

Elk Grove displayed good team work, but the players were poor goal shooters, and it was this fault that lost them the game. However, they would have had no cinch with the Spartans even had they been better at goaling. Day, Lovich and Duke played excellent games and were responsible for the victory. Save for the forwards on the Elk Grove team being weak at goal shooting the team worked perfectly. At the end of the first half the score stood 18 to 12 for Sacramento and in the last half it was 13 to 11 in favor of Elk Grove.

The line-up:

Spartans—Lovich and Day, forwards; Duke, center; Salvadore, Luke and Donald, guards.

Basketball Commissioner Eugene Palm accompanied the team.

LOCAL RUGBY TEAM TO PLAY WOODLAND MONDAY

SAC. BEE

Athletics Accept Challenge for Holiday Game

12-30-10

The Athletic Club's Rugby team is to play at Woodland Monday afternoon against the fast team of that town. It is expected a big delegation of rooters will accompany the team from this city.

There has been talk of a game between Woodland and Sacramento for several weeks, but definite arrangements could not be concluded. Recently the Sacramento team disbanded and then Woodland came through with a definite challenge for a game January 2d. The team is now being reorganized and it will go prepared to give Woodland a sound trouncing.

The full line-up has not been selected and will not be until after the practice Sunday. The practice will be held at McKinley Park.

The team and rooters will take the 10 o'clock train from this city for Woodland Monday morning.

TO PLAY WOODLAND.

It is a mighty hard thing to shake the confidence of Professor Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club in his athletes. Rittler is proud of the band of athletes who follow his lead and believes that he has material back of him capable of winning any old athletic event that may crop up. This was plainly demonstrated by the promptitude with which he accepted the challenge of the Woodland Rugby Football Team to try conclusions with them on Monday. SUNDAY NEWS

The local team which represents the Sacramento Athletic Club had endeavored in vain to obtain a game with the Woodland team which holds the championship of Northern California without success, so it disbanded for the season. 1-1-11

Suddenly the Woodland team thought they would give the locals a tryout and their offer was accepted by Professor Rittler who while expecting a hard struggle believes that his bunch of athletes can do the business, and he will gather his cohorts and give the Woodland champs a run for their money. He disires all of his players to gather in the club this morning for signal work and while the time for preparation is brief he has great expectations.

In February the club will give a minstrel show that promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season.

ATHLETIC CLUB FIVE TO PLAY STOCKTON CHAMPIONS

SAC. BEE. 12-30-10

The basketball team of the Athletic Club is to journey to Stockton to-morrow night and give battle to the All-Stars, champions of California. The local boys will leave here at 4:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

It is reasonable to expect that the Sacramento bunch will come out on the short end of the score, but the Stocktonians will know they have been in a game.

Erickson vs. Goulard, 145 pounds.

There promises to be some classy boxing at the Sacramento Athletic Club to-night, when a bunch of clever amateurs meet. Young Hickie, Sharkey and Ed Smith are coming up from San Francisco to meet a trio of the local boys. They have made excellent showings in the short round bouts about the Bay and promise to give the local boys all they bargain for.

Ahern, the Grass Valley crack, is also on the card. He will go against Azevedo of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and their bout should be one of the best seen in this city for many days.

The bouts will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Altogether, there will be 24 rounds of fighting, each of the eight bouts being limited to three rounds.

MEMBERS OF SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB TO RALLY AROUND CHRISTMAS TREE

SAC. BEE 12-26-10

The members of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and there are some 900 of them, are to have a Christmas tree in the club rooms Wednesday evening. According to the plans of Director Ritler and his Committee, it will be a monster tree and there will be a monster time.

On the tree there will be something for everyone present. No one is telling just what kind of presents are to be handed out, but they will be appropriate and there will be a jolly time while they are being displayed.

While the tree will be the big attraction of the night, there will be much else to make the evening pleasant. An excellent program is being arranged, new numbers being added every day. There will be monologues, songs, athletic stunts, and a boxing bout or two.

Director Ritler expects to announce in a few days a program of activities for the coming year. It is proposed to enlarge the scope of club, to take up new branches of sport and further develop the lines already being followed.

SACRAMENTO A. C. NOW CLAIMS THE FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

SAC. BEE. 12-22-10

Coach Ritler Makes Bid for Title on Account of the Refusal of Woodland to Meet the Lcal Men—Preparations for Track and Field Work Are On

On account of the refusal of the Woodland team to meet the S. A. C. Rugby squad in a decisive game, Coach Otto Ritler has laid claim to the championship of Northern California. His team has played all year, has been beaten but once, and he thinks honors should go to his men.

"Even if Woodland had not cared to play for the title it could have had a practice game with us," he said, "and it would have been a good workout for both of us. We are going to start the team earlier next season. We will open practice in July and have more practice work.

"We will try and keep the team together, and I think the outlook for next season is bright."

Track Work Progresses.

Work on track and field affairs has been progressing nicely. Dickson, Captain of the Rugby team, has prepared for the pole vault, shot put and broad jump. Starrett is working out in the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the broad jump. Holmes is to try for a place as quarter miler. Purrington is to work at the quarter and the half-mile. Stevens will try for the 100, 220 dashes and the broad jump. Hollinsworth is getting ready for both the 100 and 220 yard sprints. Kingslow is to try out at the hurdles and the quarter-mile run.

Gannon will be a sprinter and 100-yard man for the club. Stewart will be the dependence of the club in long-distance runs. Childs is to be worked out for the half-mile and mile. Day is to go over the mile and two mile runs. Simmermacher will compete in the hurdles. Schumate will be an entry at the quarter mile.

Beede in Pole Vault.

Beede is to try for the pole vault and broad jump. Lorraine and Williams are entered in the half-mile.

Ritler hopes that Martin, Captain of the St. Mary's team, will become a member of the club. He is a good man at the quarter and half mile. Holt, another St. Mary's man, is also expected here. Holt won the high jump in the P. A. A. tourney last year.

Several members of the local team have shown well in the Coast championships. Starrett has won the broad jump, Kingslow has been second in both the high and low hurdles, Dickson second in the broad jump and shot put, and third in the pole vault.

It is planned to meet the Olympic track team in a month or so. Ritler thinks it is the best chance the S. A. C. ever had in track and field, judging from the material on hand. He thinks his men can become leaders in this section of the country.

Another bout has been added to the list for December 30th. Lee Muskrat, the 125-pound champion, and Amicker are to spar. At the special Christmas festival for December 28th, two bands will compete and the choice will be left to the members of the club. The one receiving most applause will be chosen for all the events of the institution.

Will Play Elk Grove.

Elk Grove is to be played at basketball, December 26th. This game will be held at Elk Grove, and the Spartans, as the lightweights of the club are known, will be the competing team. Luke, Lovich and Day will be in the squad as forwards; Duke and Brandon will be centers; Donald, Sprague, Cowie and Salvador will be guards. Handball Commissioner Palm will go with them.

The heavyweight basketball team is to play the Stockton All-Star Y. M. C. A. squad at Stockton, December 31st. About sixty members will go up with the team. A special entertainment for the visitors is being prepared at Stockton. The team of the latter city has been champion in its part of the country for the last two years.

Rogers, a new man at the club, is expected to do well at center. Sweeney and Holmes will be away during the holidays, and their absence will be felt.

P. A. A. BASKETBALL ENTRIES CLOSE NEXT SUNDAY

S.F. EX. 1-8-11

Indications Point to the Most Successful Tournament Ever Held Here.

ENTRIES for the coming basketball tournament of the Pacific Athletic Association will close next Sunday, January 15th. From present indications the tournament promises to be the most successful ever held on the coast. There will be five divisions, including 110, 120, 130, 145-pound classes and an unlimited class. Each team will be allowed to enter ten players in the line-up and the weight of the team will be determined by the weight of each player and not on an average as was the case in the series which was conducted by the league last year.

This ruling will undoubtedly play havoc with the line-ups of a large number of teams that captured championships in last year's tournament and chances are that new champion aggregations will be developed in nearly every division. The association committee in charge of the running off of the tourney has decided to play the games on the court of the Tamalpais Athletic Club in which a large number of improvements have been made in anticipation of the event.

Among the local institutions that will be represented in the tournament will be St. Ignatius' College and Grammar School. St. Ignatius will have a team in every division of the tournament with the possible exception of the unlimited pounds class. Sacred Heart College and Grammar School will also have several teams entered and Wilmerding School and Cogswell College will each have teams represented in two divisions of the play.

The Olympic Club will be represented in the 145-pound class with a strong team and the Argonauts, a logical aggregation of all-star players recruited mostly from the Pony team of last year, which was forced to disband, will enter the competition with the express purpose of endeavoring to wrest the state championship from the Stockton All Star team.

Games will also be played in outside cities of the state, including Oakland, Santa Cruz and Sacramento.

The finals and semi-finals of the tournament will however be played on the local court. Entry blanks for the competition may be secured from the league headquarters at the Southside Playgrounds or from A. G. Spalding's.

With three football games scheduled to be played in Vallejo to-day the gridiron fans of the navy city should certainly have their wishes filled. All three contests promise to be well fought.

Reinforced by a number of new players, the Telegraph Juniors clash with the Black Mysteries of Napa. In a hard fought encounter some time ago the Napa eleven vanquished the Telegraphs by a score of 24 to 12. Previous to the game with the Black Mysteries of Napa the Telegraph Juniors had not lost.

The Juniors will be stronger for the contest than they were the last time the teams clashed. The backfield will be strengthened by the addition of Pat O'Hara. McInnis and McKenzie are the other backs, and the trio forms one of the fastest backfields in this section of the state.

The Gaudiums line up against the Western Club of this city. The Western Club has been putting up some good football during the past season.

The 110-pound football championship of Vallejo will be decided to-day at Cycodrome Park when the Parksides and the Beavers meet for the first time this season on the gridiron. Both teams have played so far this season without being defeated and a hard fought game is anticipated.

GOOD BOXING CARD.

Grass Valley Lad Earns Decision Over Local Fighter.

SUNDAY NEWS 1-1-11

The boxing card of the Sacramento Athletic Club as presented Friday evening drew a good attendance of the membership and was quite classy in several of the events. The best bout presented was between Ahern of Grass Valley and Azevedo of the local club. The visitor earned a well merited decision, showing good defensive work, with a willingness to mix it at all stages.

Although Kid Salvadore was given a decision over Eddie Smith of the Redwood Club, it was the opinion of many of those present that the visitor should have been accorded another round. As it was, the visitors carried off most of the honors. Young Hickey defeated Murry, Romero knocked out Kid Kelly in one round, Pappa defeated Young Schreck, Tom Romero knocked out Young Sandow with one blow and Joe Erickson was given a decision over Goulard.

Entertainment Proposed to Raise Money to Buy Craft

The Sacramento Athletic Club is to take up boating and if present plans are carried out, teams will be entered in the regattas of the coming season. Leo Lobner has been named as Boating Commissioner of the club.

There are many members of the club who are accomplished in all branches of boating and some of them belong to the boating clubs of the city. It is believed these would take an active interest in the boating affairs of the athletic club and aid in organizing strong crews.

It has been suggested that a benefit entertainment be given to raise money to assist in buying racing craft for the club.

S. A. C. BOXING RESULTS.

At the boxing bouts held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club last night, the results were as follows:

Young Hickey of the Redwood club obtained a decision over Young Murray of the S. A. C. after fighting an extra round; Kid Kelly lost to Romero in first round; Pappa, S. A. C., decision over Young Schreck; Ahern, Grass Valley, decision over Adzevedo; Tom Romero, S. A. C., knocked out Young Sandow after one second of fighting; Kid Salvadore, S. A. C., decision over Eddie Smith, Redwood club; Joe Erikson, decision over Gillard.

ATHLETICS ARE BEATEN BY STOCKTON ALL-STARS

SACRAMENTO BOYS EASY PREY FOR CALIFORNIA CHAMPIONS.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

STOCKTON (San Joaquin Co.), January 2.—The Sacramento Athletic Club basketball five proved easy prey for the Stockton Y. M. C. A. All Stars, champions of California, in the game played here New Year's Eve. The locals, owing to their splendid teamwork, the result of playing together as one team for the past five years, walked away with the visitors, who were much lighter, and won by a score of 101 to 24. In the second half, the Stars roughed it considerably.

The teams were composed as follows:

Sacramento—Blake and Brandon, forwards; Hill, center; and Bacon and Purington, guards.

Manager J. C. Rule of the Stars is endeavoring to arrange a schedule of games which will keep the local boys busy every Saturday night between now and February 5th. He is corresponding with the crack Gonzaga College team of Spokane, Washington, and may bring the northerners here within the coming month.

BUSY SEASON PLANNED FOR ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE. 1-7-11

The next few weeks promise to be busy ones for the Sacramento Athletic Club. There will be a series of basketball games, probably a Rugby game with Woodland January 15th, a boxing show the evening of January 20th, a minstrel show during the first week in February, and a big excursion to Truckee the latter part of that month.

In the meantime physical culture classes are to be organized, it being planned to have classes two afternoons every week and every evening. It is proposed to organize a baseball team, and within a few weeks a rowing crew will be put into practice.

Four of the best of the local boxers are to be taken to Oakland to participate in an amateur show there. The gymnasium will be kept busy with the classes, the boxers in training and the basketball players.

The Athletic Club is a very popular organization and it is the intention of the officers to make it still more of a favorite.

RITLER HOPEFUL OVER S. A. C. OUTLOOK

SAC. BEE. 12-20-10

Coach Thinks Local Athletes Can Be Made Formidable Organization

According to Otto Ritler, coach at the Sacramento Athletic Club, it will be only a short time before material has been developed here that can make the S. A. C. formidable, so far as Coast events are concerned. His first step has been taken with the lightweight basket ball team, which, he thinks, can win the Coast title, but he also expects to go out after other honors in various branches of sport.

The boxers of the club did well in the recent tourney, considering the short time they had for preparation. Lee Muskrat was the only winner of a championship, but the club had no entries in the heavier classes. Moreover, Salvador beat Viera, a title holder, in a special bout.

This leads Ritler to believe that his men, with proper preparation, can score in almost any kind of sport. The football team did well with little preparation and a track meet for next Spring is now talked of. A "Marathon" run of ten miles is to be carded for the early Spring.

Will Probably Enter Prize Ring

PETE MULDOON.

Pete Muldoon, the slashing light-heavyweight of the Sacramento Athletic club, is about to shake the dust of Sacramento from his shoes and will turn professional. The fans who have been eagerly awaiting the night when Muldoon would crawl through the ropes to hook up with Bob McAllister, the Olympic club crack, will have to console themselves with "mind bets." Pete is going to leave us. Yes, Clarice, he is going "awuh."

Muldoon will go to Seattle, where he will endeavor to be reinstated into good amateur standinf, and if the authorities refuse to reinstate him, he will turn professional. A Seattle fight promoter has offered Muldoon excellent inducements to enter the professional arena, and he will consider the offer, if he is not reinstated into good amateur standing.

Muldoon was to have participated in the recent boxing tournament given by the P. A. A., under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club, but a protest entered by the Seattle Athletic club put him out of the running. Muldoon was once before disbarred from the A. A. U. and then reinstated, and his chances of getting back are slim. He is a shifty fighter of the clean-cut type and will be missed by the Sacramento club If he does not obtain his amateur standing, a host of friends in this section wish him luck in the professional arena. Muldoon will spend a few days in San Francisco before leaving for the north.

CRACK AMATEUR BOXERS MATCHED BY S. A. C. CLUB

Salvadore, Hickey, Boscia, Muskrat and Other Clever Boys to Appear—Rugby Team Challenges Woodland—Minstrel Show on Tapis.

On Friday night, December 31, probably the finest card of boxing bouts ever presented in Sacrameneto will be staged at the Sacramento Athletic club. The best talent of the club will be pitted against boxers brought from clubs in adjoining cities and several bouts among club members will also be put on.

One of the best bouts of the evening should be the match between Salvadore, the crack 115-pound boy of the Sacramento Athletic club, and Tom Ahern of Grass Valley. Ahern is one of the fastest boys produced in Nevada county in years and has a host of admirers who think that he can take the measure of his opponent. Murray of the S. A. C. and Dominick of the Golden Poppy club are also expected to furnish an interesting go. Billy Gore, the hard-hitting lightweight will be matched with Boscia of the Olympic club, who holds the title of lightweight amateur champion of the Pacific coast. Lee Muskrat, champion 125-pound boy of the Pacific coast, who won his title at the recent tournament of the P. A. A. held at Armory hall, challenges any boy of his weight on the coast. Any youngster who wishes to hook up with Muskrat, should notify Otto Rittler or Ancil Hoffman at the Sacramento Athletic club.

Hickey, the 104-105-pound champion of the coast, has been matched with Hooker of the S. A. C. club. These boys met on the first night of the recent P. A. A. tournament and put up a rattling exhibition. Among the boys who will be matched for the show are Cowie and George Pappa.

Athletic Director Rittler has challenged the champion Rugby team of Woodland on behalf of the Sacramento Athletic club Rugby team. The Woodland boys have beaten Marysville, Chico Oroville, Sacramento high school and many other teams and should give the S. A. C. boys a tough contest. The team winning the game can rightfully lay claim to the championship of Northern California, as the S. A. C. boys have beaten every team that faced them. If the match is made the first game will be played at Woodland on January 2, the second game at Sacramento and if a third game is necessary, the team making the largest number of points in the two previous games, will have the right to choose the grounds.

The members of the Sacramento Athletic club have in contemplation, a minstrel show, which will probably be given in January. There is enough talent in the club to stage a first-class amateur minstrel show and a committee is now at work on the proposition.

BOXING BOUTS ARE ARRANGED FOR TOURNEY AT THE S. A. C.

SAC. BEE 12-15-10.

FOUR EVENTS CARDED FOR A SPECIAL MEETING OF DECEMBER 30TH, AND SOME GOOD MATCH ES ARE IN PROSPECT—COMMISSIONER TALKS OF VALUE OF BOXING AS AN EXERCISE.

Efforts to put the S. A. C. in the forefront as regards athletic affairs in this section of the country have led the Directors of the institution to definitely decide on the boxing tourney for December 30th, which was originally planned, but which it had been intended to postpone. It is thought that by getting the best local talent out for that occasion, a good card can be offered to the public and attention drawn to the matches.

Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hoffman, after consulting with the clubs at San Francisco and Oakland, finally decided on this move himself.

Three Bouts Arranged.

"We have three bouts already arranged," he said, "and we think we ought to get some good sport out of them. In one of them that little fellow Hickey, who did so well in the 105-pound division at the last tourney, will meet Hooker. The last named boy is a clever boxer, but his meeting with Hickey was only his second bout. Hickey will come up from Oakland to take part in this tourney.

"Salvador is to appear again. We tried to get M. Fieri up here to meet him, but he did not want to make the trip in the holidays. Ahern, of Grass Valley, is coming down instead. They will box at 115 pounds. Salvador has been keeping himself in first-class shape by basketball and other exercises, and I think he will put up a rattling good go.

Gore Back in Ring.

"Billy Gore is to get back into the ring. Bosha, the 133-pounder, one of the cracks of the Coast, will go against him. Then we have three other men we are trying to find opponents for. One is Muskrat, the 125-pound champion. He is willing to meet any man of his weight. Another is Moice, who can box at 145. Then Pete Noone is on hand, ready for a crack at anybody in the 158-pound division.

"Any local amateur, whether attached to a club or not, who wants to enter this tourney, can look me up. We have been trying to get Thorp, the policeman, and Davenport, 'the Gravel Kid,' together. We have not succeeded as yet, but this bout ought to be a corker if we do. They weigh about 240 each.

"What we are trying to do chiefly is to build up the boxing game here. We want good, clean amateur athletics, and we will try and keep the sport so. A great many persons outside who have never seen a bout think that the sport is a brutal one. In reality, it is as clean and healthy as any pastime that can be devised.

Gloves Do Not Injure.

"There is no danger of hurting a man with the gloves used in a tournament. A punch helps a man more than it hurts him. It gets the extra weight off of him, whether he is giving or receiving. It hardens the skin and it brings every muscle into play. Jim Corbett has always said that there were two really great exercises in the world—one was boxing and the other handball. He is about right, too. Nothing brings all parts of the body into action the way those games do. Every muscle is brought into play.

"I think if we can build up this club we will be doing a real service to the city. The people want some place to go where they can get wholesome exercise—and plenty of men could get those layers of fat off their ribs if they would work out for a time in a gymnasium. It isn't necessary to strain oneself, either.

Boxing Helps Condition.

"A brisk boxing bout keeps a man in shape and does not tire his muscles. There is a lot of misunderstanding about the sport, and I hope that the present tournament will clear up the public mind about it. We would be glad to see every one who thinks boxing is a brutal sport come and witness the bouts. They will go away well pleased with it as a healthy means of exercise."

FOUR HANDBALL TEAMS TO FIGHT FOR HONORS

SAC. BEE. 1-7-11

The handball tournament at the Athletic Club is drawing to a close and some lively games are in store for the lovers of this sport for to-morrow. Yoerk and Mansfield are tied with Morris and Donald for first place, with Shaw and Bacon and Blake brothers tied for second place; but the difference in their percentage is so small that it is a hard matter to pick the winners between these four teams. The public is invited to attend the games, which begin at 9:30 to-mororw morning.

S. A. C. ISSUES CHALLENGE TO WOODLANDERS

Physical Director Otto Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic club, has challenged the Rugby football team of the Woodland High School for a series of three gamess for the championship of the Sacramento valley high schools by defeating Sacramento, Marysville and Chico. The Sacramento Athletic team has twice defeated the Grass Valley Miners, who have defeated Auburn, Nevada City and Grass Valley high teams. The challenge is for the best two out of three games for the championship.

S. A. C. IS READY TO PLAY COLUSA

Coach Otto Ritler and Basket Ball Commissioner Palm are willing to accept a challenge said to be on its way from the reorganized team of Colusa. This team elected J. W. Maddux Manager at the last meeting and named Dolan Hurd as captain. A challenge from the Colusa County aggregation has also been sent to the Y. M. C. A.

Ritler states that any team wishing games can be obliged at his institution. While all of the Y. M. C. A. men are not in the best of shape, Physical Director Colley says he would be glad to discuss the matter of matches.

MULDOON TO BE A PROFESSIONAL

Pete Muldoon of the S. A. C. has practically decided to give up the chance of being reinstated by the P. N. A. as hopeless, and is ready to take up the professional game. He yesterday received a letter from Eddie Quinn of Seattle, the former baseball man, and has decided to accept an offer for a professional bout unless he hears from the Amateur Committee today.

Tommy Burns, the former champion, is strongly advocating a bout between Muldoon and a man of his own backing—Jack Lester. Quinn has made an offer to Muldoon of $500 for this bout, and it is likely that the latter will accept at once.

Muldoon started yesterday for San Francisco. If, on consultation with the officials, he finds he cannot be reinstated, he will become a "pro" at once.

Several bouts have been offered to him in the Northern country, and he thinks he can make a success at the professional end of the game. This will take him out of Sacramento and he expects to resign his position here. He had hoped to enter the local amateur tournament, but there is no chance for that at this date.

Muldoon Getting First Experience of High Finance

Pete Muldoon is getting a taste of "high finance" these days. He departed for Seattle yesterday to turn professional and meet Jack Lester early in anuary, and thereby hangs a tale.

Tommy Burns, once champion, arranged the match. And Tommy, as soon as articles were agreed upon, put in a claim for "his." He must have 10 per cent of the gross receipts, he wired.

Inasmuch as the promoter thinks that there will be a $3,(illegible) house, to judge from the message sent to Muldoon, Burns will profit nicely by a few minutes of work. He has lent his name to the enterprise and has said that Lester is his protege. For this he is to pull down a rake-off.

Burns has never been accused of overlooking his own end of the game when finances were concerned. When he met Jack Johnson in Australia Burns got about $30,000 in American money, while Johnson got £1,200 ($6,000). But Johnson won the title, which he has coined into gold since then.

Muldoon made a farewell trip around town, bidding good-by to his friends here.

"I would prefer to remain an amateur and would call off this match and another one offered to me if I could be reinstated," he said, "but I cannot get any definite answer from the P. N. A. It seems I will have to stay suspended. If that's the case, I'm not going to turn down offers for three bouts that mean at least $1,000 for my end."

GREAT SALMAGUNDI OF BOUTS AT S. A. C. PINK TEA LAST NIGHT

SAC. STAR. 12-31-10.

Seven fights of all descriptions, two of them knockouts, were on the regular monthly card at the Sacramento Athletic Club last night. There was scientific boxing, rough and tumble milling, a bout which was a vaudeville show, and two knockouts. Taken as a whole the card was one of the best yet staged by the club.

Red Murray of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and Young Hickey, 105-pound champion of the coast, were the first two on the program. These two were so evenly matched that an extra round had to be called in order to give a decision. As Hickey did the best hitting and had a shade the best of it he was given the decision.

Young Romero, a member of the South Side Club, jarred Kelly about 15 seconds after Kelly had gotten into the center of the ring. Kelly sat in the middle of the ring and thought it over. Before he had made up his mind the fatal ten had been counted.

Pappa and Young Schreck of the S. A. C. proved to be a comedy of errors. Schreck showed that he ought to be foreman of a glue factory from the way he hung on. He showed about as much ability to box as a good-sized turtle would as a 100-yard dasher. Pappa was willing enough but his husky ring champion showed too much of a fondness for him there by nearly choking him to death.

Easily the best bout of the evening was the one between Azevedo and Tom Ahern, of Grass Valley. Both showed all manner of cleverness and put up the best bout of the evening. Ahern was the better man and should not have been compelled to go an extra round. Ahern has all the appearances of an amateur champ.

Tom Romero kept up the reputotion of the South Side and followed the example set by his brother and knocked his man out in half a minute. Young Sandow, of the Redwood Club, was the unfortunate. Romero used an uppercut which he started from his ankle. Before it had hit the roof it hit Sandow on the chin and Sandow hit on the floor.

Eddie Smith and Salvador put up a slashing three-round go. The third meeting of the boys did not decide the superiority. Salvador was given the decision but the bout should have gone another round as he did not have lead enough to earn the dicision.

"One Round" Joe Errickson made his farewell appearance in the ring at Sacramento. Joe will depart for the East in a few days and is bidding good-bye to his many Sacramento friends.

Just before the gong rang for his farewell go with his old-time rival, Goulard, Joe was presented a gold watch by the members of the club. Jack Inman made a neat presentation speech as he handed the game little scrapper the token. Joe was taken by surprise and when called on for a speech he so forgot himself that he talked Swedish. Joe was given a popular decision over Goulard after three rounds of milling.

GOOD CARD FOR S. A. C. NEW YEARS

SAC. STAR 12-15-10.

The next regular boxing tournament of the Sacramento Athletic Club will take place in the club's rooms on New Years Eve. Matchmaker Hoffman has arranged a good card for this time and some fine boxing is expected. One of the champion boxers of the coast will be seen in action with his rival who won second place at the recent P. A. A. tournament. The card is not yet complete and Hoffman would like to hear from any amateurs who would like matches. He may be seen at the club rooms on Ninth street.

Following is a list of the bouts already arranged: Red Murray, vs. Domanic, 105 pounds; Hooker (Marysville) vs. Hickey, 105 championship; Salvador vs. O'Hearn (Grass Valley); Muskrat (125-pound champion) vs. Moyce; Billy Gore vs. Nune.

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR S. A. C.

The members of the Sacramento Athletic club will have a Christmas tree and entertainment at the club rooms on Wednesday night, December 28th. A musical program and literary entertainment is being arranged by the committee in charge. It is not the entertainment and smoker which will go with it that the members are looking forward to, but the "Joke Christmas Tree," is what is attracting the attention.

Comedy presents will be in order. All manner of comical stunts will be pulled off. Great mystery is in the air at the club. All sorts of rumors are being heard. The members stand about in groups and talk about what some other member is going to get on the tree. From all indications the affair will be better than a show. The entertainment is for club members and their friends. Already several ludicrous presents have been purchased. The following committee is arranging the affair: Entertainment, C. Wahlander, B. Shorrock and Dr. Turner. decorations, Bruce, McDonough, J. Morsehead, O. Rittler, E. Cox and R. Cothrin.

Program, E. Palm, B. Reedy and A. J. Delano.

Refreshments, A. Strachen, L. Lobner, F. Fay.

James (Cute) Barnes will act as announcer and will read off the names on the presents.

S. A. C. WILL TRY FOR COAST TITLE

The Lightweight Basketball Players of the Club Entered in P. A. A. Tourney

Sacramento athletes may have a State title to their credit, if the plans of Otto Ritler do not miscarry. He has entered the lightweight basketball team in the P. A. A. tournament at San Francisco in February, and thinks that he has a first class chance to carry off premier honors with the squad.

To get the men into shape he has arranged regular working days for both teams. The heavy weights, under the direction of Commissioner Palm, are to play at Stockton, December 31st. To get both squads in trim, Ritler has started a series of daily practice.

Trial Game Is Held.

A practice game was played between the teams yesterday, signal work being most featured. The lightweights held their own with the heavy weights throughout. The game was played in the handball courts of the Sacramento Athletic Club.

Sam Lovich, captain of the Spartans, as the lightweights are known, would like to arrange games with any teams under 130 pounds, especially with the Imps of San Francisco. The Smilers' Club of that city has a team about the same weight as the Spartans and he would like to match the local squad against them.

The squad, from which members of the team will be chosen to compete in the Coast tourney of February, consists of Luke, Day and Lovich, forwards; Duke and Brandon, centers; Wickham, Sprague, Donald and Salvador, guards. There is also plenty of new material.

Several Bouts Are Set.

Arrangements for the entertainment and boxing to be given the last day of the month, as a sort of New Year's celebration, are progressing. Commissioner Ancil Hoffman has arranged several good bouts for the occasion.

PETE POSSESSES THE PUNCH

SEATTLE, Dec. 22.—Pete Muldoon demonstrated that he has lost none of his old cleverness, for in the feature event of the Ballard Athletic club smoker last night he trimmed Bob Armstrong in easy fashion, getting the decision at the end of the third round. Armstrong outweighed Pete about forty pounds. Tacoma Tribune 12-22-10

Swift of Renton and Kelly of Ballard fought out a fiercely contested draw and had the fans on their feet all through the mixup.

Louie Hahn easily defeated Speck in two rounds, outclassing his opponent all the way.

SAC. BEE. 12-31-10

Clever Fighter Discovered in Tom Ahern of Grass Valley

Two knockouts and two extra round bouts were furnished the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night on the regular monthly card, and no fastidious appetite had to go unsatisfied after watching the seven bouts of good, bad and indifferent boxing. There was fisticuffs of all descriptions, from the tragic slaying of Kelley and young Sandow in one round to the comic production of Pappa and young Shreck.

Ahern Clever Lad.

The fourth bout on the card, which was also the best, uncovered a very clever lad in Tom Ahern, of Grass Valley, who met Azevedo, of the S. A. C. Ahern proved to be a good defensive fighter, and showed a willingness to mix with the stocky Azevedo at any time. He used a left lead to advantage in the second round, and in the third cut loose with the intention of knocking out the local boy. In this he was unsuccessful, as Azevedo proved a tough customer, but he punished him severely and should not have been required to go a fourth round to get a decision.

Judges Favor Salvadore.

One of the surprises of the evening was the defeat of Eddie Smith, of the Redwood Club of Oakland, by S. Salvadore, of the S. A. C., in three rounds. At the P. A. A. boxing tournament held in Sacramento last November, Salvadore lost the championship to Smith by grace of the judges' decisions after outpointing Smith most of the way. Last night conditions were about reversed, and Salvadore can congratulate himself upon winning so easily.

The bout was awarded to Salvadore because of his aggressive finish. The first round was even, but Smith took a lead in the second and sent Sanvadore to his corner bleeding from cheek and nose. Billy Johnson gave his protege orders to finish strong in the third, and Salvadore followed orders by carrying the fight to Smith. At that he had only an even break on three rounds, and should have been forced to go a fourth. The decision of Judges Hoffman and Cox was unpopular with the crowd and Smith, who immediately challenged Salvadore for a return match next month.

Hickey Defends Title.

Young Hickey, of the Redwood Club, defended his title as 105-pound champion of the State by getting a decision over Red Murray, of the local club, in four rounds. Both Hickey and Murray showed a willingness to stand off and slug, and as a result the fans witnessed a gingery bout. Murray earned a fourth round by his aggressiveness in the third. He could not stand up before the Oakland boy in the fourth, and the end of the round found him weak.

Doing the Grizzly Bear.

The club directors overlooked one very important matter when they brought Pappa and Young Schreck together in the third bout of the evening. There should have been an orchestra to strike up "Doing the Grizzly Bear" when Pappa and Schrock in loving embrace did the sway in the center of the ring, as they affectionately punched each other in the back.

There was no question about this bout being the popular one of the evening. The fans saw fancy blows unheard of until these two big fellows met. The inclination to do the turkey trot robbed the bout of much amusement, but enough was crowded in to keep the house roaring throughout. Pappa in the first round very rudely clipped Schreck a hard jolt on the ear, and thereafter Schreck had no desire to fight. He hugged Pappa from the ankles up, and defied Referee Schwollenberg to separate them. Pappa was given a hard-earned decision.

Joe Erickson celebrated his coming departure from the city by winning from Goulard. Goulard proved a hard target for Erickson to hit because of constant ducking. As he was satisfied to keep away from Joe without retaliating, there was no doubt as to whom the decision should go.

Kelley Had Enough.

The two knock-outs were short and sweet. Rumara hung a hard right on Kelley's jaw in the second, and down went Kelley. He got up, but on the first chance took to the mat again, where he sat in deep thought trying to recollect what had struck him while the referee counted him out.

The bout between Romara, of the South Side, and young Sandow, of Oakland, was even shorter. Romara tore into the visitor with a volley of trip-hammer blows that literally mowed down Sandow. Sandow stayed on the mat until Romara helped him to his corner.

Just before Joe Erickson started his bout with Goulard, Announcer Jack Inman, on behalf of the club, presented Joe with a watch in view of his intended departure from Sacramento.

It was announced that young Hickey and Murray will fight a return bout next month.

CHRISTMAS TREE AND JINKS AT S. A. C. TO-NIGHT

SAC. BEE, 12-28-10

The annual Christmas tree and jinks of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held to-night. There will be a gift for everyone and a program that will be varied and interesting. Details of the entertainment are being kept secret, but there is assurance something good will be offered.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS WILL PLAY IN CALIFORNIA

Wisconsin Players Will Arrive on Coast Soon After the Holidays to Meet the Local Clubs.

H. S. Rockwood, Advance Agent of Club, Now on the Ground Arranging a Schedule.

S.F. BULLETIN. 12-13-10

Basketball champions coming to coast to play local teams next month.

By F. J. MANNIX.

With the arrival of H. G. Rockwood, the advance agent of the Company F basketball team of Portage, Wis., the present champions of the United States, Saturday, the local basketball world was thrown into a fever of excitement and preparations are now being made by the best teams of the city for contests with the champions, whose arrival here has been announced as January 2.

The team left Portage on Monday last and journeyed direct to Jamestown, where a number of games are scheduled and which will in all probability keep the team in that vicinity until Wednesday next. From Jamestown the intention of the quintet is to go to Chicago, at which place the best teams of the vicinity will be taken on, after which the journey through St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Lincoln, Denver, Salt Lake City and finally to the Pacific Coast will be resumed. At all the principal towns on the above named route games have been arranged by Manager Rockwood with the understanding that all games scheduled must be played, cancellations being absolutely intolerable.

After a stay of a number of weeks on the Pacific Coast, which at the most will be seven, the plan is to return eastward through the Southern States and finish the season on the Atlantic Coast and between New York and Chicago. At Chicago the team will again enter the A. A. U. tournament, the capture of which last year elevated the team to the championship level and brought with it the title of champions of America.

It was at first thought that all games on the tour could be arranged previous to the departure of the victorious five, but later developments precluded any such possibility, and it was as the result of this preclusion that Manager Rockwood was therewith detailed to arrange the advance itinerary. Further than stating that all games arranged will positively be played, it is the desire of the management to lay stress upon the fact that the schedule at best will be tentative, that is, as regards the dates of the contests programmed. Teams desiring games during the stay of the team in this city should apply at once through the local Spalding agency for same, as Rockwood will make the Spalding store his headquarters during his brief stay in this city. Thus far no local games have been definitely scheduled, although a number of the more prominent teams of this vicinity have announced their intentions of hooking up with the champions. Conspicuous among those whose intentions have been thus announced are the University of California team, the St. Mary's College team, the Tamalpais Club team, the Olympic Club team and a number of other individual teams not playing under the colors of any institution.

In last year's contests the cadet team averaged a score of 39 against that of 16 averaged by their opponents, which comparison goes to show the excellence of the champions. Of twenty-six games played from the 25th of November until the 19th of March, of the present year, the Cadets were victorious in 24, and the two lost were by diversities in scores of five and two points respectively.

That the Company F team is composed of players whose like was seldom if ever before witnessed in the United States is a foregone conclusion. Gigantic in stature, the majority of the players have added to their natural resources a cleverness and a speed that is altogether wonderful. The best teams of the country have fallen prey to their prowess and enumerate many whose reputations were as noteworthy as their playing. The Illinois Athletic Club five, regarded as the best that Chicago could produce, and picked by many to win the A. A. U. tournament of last season, was totally unable to cope with the clever and efficient work of the Portage team and was defeated in the first game of the series by the score of 29-15. The second game of the series was won by a trifle tighter score, that of 32-22, while the third proved the hardest of the tournament, victory being attained on a 33-29 score. The last game, which was with the Premier Lodge of St. Louis, was captured by the Cadets with the easy score of 36-14. Not once were the Portage players defeated in the tournament, which had as participants the most noteworthy teams in America, and not once have they been defeated since.

An extract from the folder which has been forwarded to all cities which the team intends to visit best explains the caliber of the men on the team and reads as follows: "The young men who won the United States championship will play nothing but clean, classy basketball. Theirs are the highest ideals of amateur sportsmanship. There are no rough necks on this team and rowdyism is never tolerated."

For the beenfit of those whose acquaintance will later be made with the champion five, the following lineup of the team is given:

Frank A. Sheppard.....forward
Helmer Swenholt.....forward
George R. Ehert.....center
John C. Schneider.....guard
William Hewskle.....guard

In addition to the team making the tour, a worthy lot of substitutes are in the company, who are themselves experts at the game and who can be depended upon to fill ably any position on the team should circumstances require.

WILL HAVE S. A. C. MEN READY FOR TOURNEYS

Bee 12-9-11

OTTO RITLER TO HAVE REPRESENTATION IN ALL SPORTS.

According to Coach Otto Ritler the S. A. C. will be represented in every branch of sport before the next month. At the first of the year he intends to have a billiard and bowling team at work and to see that the colors of the club are borne in all available tournaments. He thinks this will be a good fashion in which to show the value of athletic training to persons who are not members of the club.

"We have appointed captains of various squads to work up the membership and get persons interested who do not already belong," he said, "and I think we will soon have Sacramento as a prominent figure on the athletic map.

"Our track team outlook is very bright. The field men are also doing well. Gannon has shown first class form in the shorter dashes and I intend to work out the men who are trying for the sprints in short distances across the gymnasium. At Harvard and Yale one of the features of the training season consists of short dashes across the gymnasium floor. This helps the men in starting and teaches them to get off their marks promptly. At Yale whole squads of men are kept busy practicing the crouching start.

"We intend to have some of these competitions at starting and in the short dashes. It will speed up the men. It is easy to practice pole vaulting in the gymnasium. Beede has been doing nicely at this form of work. We have two or three men who have done well in the Coast championships and I think the club will soon be making a showing.

BASKETBALL GAMES AT Y. M. C. A. COURT TO-NIGHT

SAC BEE 1-21-11

Two basketball games will be played to-night on the Y. M. C. A. courts, the opening contest being between the Sacramento Athletic Club heavyweight team and the Y. M. C. A. five. Following this there will be a contest between the Boys' Brotherhood and the Elk Grove teams.

Both games are expected to be interesting, as the teams are evenly matched.

STOCKTON DAILY INDEPENDENT,

BAND MUSIC AND SONGS FEATURES

NEW YEAR'S EVE ASSURED OF FITTING OBSERVANCE IN STOCKTON.

The boosters' committee met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening to discuss final arrangements for the Stockton Merchants' Association celebration on New Year's eve and New Year's day.

The finance committee reported about $1200 on hand to date, with $50 due.

The Stockton and Oakdale brass bands were arranged for and will participate in the evening's festivities.

L. H. Rodebaugh of the Central California Traction Company returned from Grass Valley and gave the committee a general idea of what the carol singers would do. Sunday while in Grass Valley Mr. Rodebaugh heard the full chorus practicing on the streets and is very enthusiastic over their visit to Stockton.

Bert Fithian of the Anteros Club reported a full oil can drum corps, a Chinese dragon, steam calliope, a Mexican bull and numerous banners calculated to amuse and entertain.

Yesterday the finance committee, composed of P. J. Lynch, Charles Yost and W. C. Wall, made the rounds and closed the financial end of the work for the important committee.

All factory managers have been interviewed and requested to blow their whistles sharp at midnight. The publicity committee is having printed for general distribution a handy program of events, giving to the public a general idea of all events occurring in Stockton New Year's week.

The Red Men will give a very interesting and pleasing stunt by appearing on a street float.

Bids for confetti, horns and fireworks will be received this morning at 11 o'clock by President H. W. Lewis. A full list of supplies needed will be furnished upon application.

WOODLAND RUGBY TEAM DEFEATS STATE FARM

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), October 24. The Woodland High School team was victorious in its second practice game of Rugby football, beating the State Farm team 9 to 0 Saturday afternoon.

Woodland kicked off and near the end of the first half Frank Durst, Woodland's speedy wing forward, secured a try which was in such a difficult position, however, that the goal could not be made. In the second half Hill, the giant of the left side rank, made another try which Woodland again failed to convert into a goal. Stephens failed on a drop kick from the field, but on a forward pass by the State Farm team got a free kick and made a difficult goal.

While all the Woodland team played a fast, snappy game, the speed of Hollingsworth, Stephens and Kinchloe robbed the visitors of a number of chances to score and contributed materially to the victory of the local team.

GRASS VALLEY ALL-STARS DEFEAT AUBURN TEAM

Special to the Union.

GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), Oct. 16.—Auburn was defeated again this morning on the Glenbrook field against the all-star Rugby team, composed of Englishmen employed in the mines of this city. On Saturday they met with defeat in the game with the local high school team by a score of 3 to 0. Both games brought out a large crowd and demonstrated that Rugby football is destined to be a very popular sport in this county.

In Saturday's game the Auburn high school team was overconfident, arising from their defeat of the Grass Valley high school team in their home city two weeks ago. In the first half the home team scored a "try," but failed to kick the goal. In the last half neither side scored.

This morning at 10 o'clock the field was crowded, and during the first half both sides scored a "try," making three points each, both sides failing to kick a goal. In the second half the All-Stars made another "try," or touchdown, and scored three more points, but again they failed to kick the goal. The Auburn team has promised the All-Stars another game next Sunday, as they come up to play the Nevada City high school on the same field on Saturday.

WRESTLING TITLES TO BE SETTLED IN THIS CITY

Coast Championship Tourney Scheduled for Nov. 29th at the St. Francis.

The wrestling tournament for the championship of the Pacific Coast, which is to be held this year under the auspices of the Olympic Club, will be held in the colonial ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel on the evening of November 29th, at 8 o'clock. The date originally fixed was November 22d, but the boxing championships of the Pacific Athletic Association having been set for the same date at Sacramento, the wrestling date has been changed.

Morris Dunne, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Northwest Association, in a letter to the Olympic Club, has given the sanction of his association to the tournament, so that it will really be a championship of the coast, as the consent of the Southern California Association is also expected. Last year the wrestling championships were held in Los Angeles and the southerners will doubtless agree to have the meet held here made a championship of the entire Pacific slope.

The circular letters sent out by M. G. Pfaff, wrestling commissioner of the club, have rbought forth a number of favorable replies from various clubs on the coast. Chester McIntyre, manager of the Vancouver Athletic Club, has wired that he will send two representatives, George Walker, a middleweight, and Fred Smith, a lightweight.

The Seattle Athletic Club will probably send four entries, and the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland has intimated that it will send two men, one of whom will probably be Frank, the present coast champion.

Even from Nevada there has come a a communication. T. J. Carter of Rawhide has written that the athletic club of the mining camp has a representative that the inhabitants of Rawhide think can throw any man of his weight on the Coast.

A gold medal emblematic of the championship of the Pacific Association will be given to the winner at each weight and a silver medal to the second at all weights for which there are three or more entries.

Entries close Thursday, November 24th, with M. G. Pfaff, Olympic club, San Francisco, Cal., and no entry will be accepted unless the registration number of the competitor is given.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—The boxing tournament for the Pacific athletic association championships commenced at the old pavilion tonight and the visiting boxers led in the first batch of five bouts fought. Bobby McAllister of the Olympic club won both his preliminary fights in the welter weight and middle weight classes. Henry Hickey of the Redwood club won the bantam weight championship and Eddie Smith of the same club won the preliminary bout in the featherweight class.

McAllister's fighting was easily the feature of the night. In the welter weight class he took on Joe Erickson, the pride of the Sacramento athletic club, and humbled him. He gave Erickson one of the worst beatings of his short career, and at that was forced to go four rounds by the judges before gaining the decision. In the middle weight bout he faced R. Noone, a local blacksmith. The smithy started to rough it when punished and was disqualified.

The work of the judges brought hoots from the big crowd in four of the bouts. M. Salvador of the local club was given the small end of the ruling after easily beating Smith.

Lee Muskrat on the other hand got a lucky decision over J. T. Lanfall in the 125 pound class.

MULDOON STILL HAS THAT OLD WALLOP

SEATTLE P.I 12-22-10

Shows Fans He Is Right There in Feature of Ballard Smoker

Pete Muldoon demonstrated that he has lost none of his old cleverness, for in the feature event of the Ballard Athletic Club smoker last night he trimmed Bob Armstrong in easy fashion, getting the decision at the end of the third round. Armstrong outweighed Pete about forty pounds.

Swift, of Renton, and Kelly, of Ballard, fought out a fiercely contested draw and had the fans on their feet all through the mixup.

Bennett and Sather also went to a no-conclusion ending in four rounds.

Wyard won from Fleury in four rounds.

BOXING AND WRESTLING SHOW CARDED FOR TO-NIGHT

SAC. BEE. 1-9-11

An amateur boxing and wrestling show is to be staged to-night by the Capital City Wheelmen, the bouts to be held in the clubrooms, Fifth and J Streets. Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club has been arranging the card and interesting sport is assured.

The feature bout of the evening will be between Salvador and Cowie, both of the Athletic Club. Rittler has also agreed to give Chapman, unattached, a start, and he will be sent against one of the best of the Athletic Club boxers. Altogether there will be five or six boxing bouts .

The wrestling bout will be between O'Connor and Bedel, both of the Athletic Club.

THREE TEAMS TIE FOR FIRST PLACE HONORS

Play in the handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday resulted in three teams being tied for first place, each with a percentage of 750. In the second class, Barnes and Macdonough suffered their first defeat.

In the first class Yoerk and Mansfield defeated Delano and Marsten two games, Lake Bros. defeated Strachan and Lobner two games and Morris and Donald defeated Shaw and Bacon two games.

In the second class Sharrock and Wahlander scored a tie, with Barnes and Macdonough, Toland and Wahlander defeated Curry and Gray two games and Cox and Simmermacher scored a tie with Payne and Shannon.

The tournament will be continued next Sunday and it is expected the winners will be determined that day.

SAC. UNION 1-10-11

WHEELMEN TO HOLD WHIST TOURNEY JAN. 1

The Capital City Wheelmen next Tuesday will hold a whist tournament in their club rooms over the Sacramento bank, Fifth and J streets. The members of the club teams who have agreed to enter the tournament are: W. Bentley-E. Kuchler, Sachs-Nehrless, Beard-Hubert, Watson-Loehr, Madely-Morten, Baltz-Pearl, Bowden-Hansen, J. Williams-W. Williams, W. H. Briggoman-R. A. Fraser, J. Huntoon-W. Huntoon.

The club also is holding a membership contest between two teams. The captains of the teams are C. Chimpson and Walter Smith, and a billiard tournament will also be held next week.

Many of the members did not appear at the club last night, on account of the rain, and the directors voted to have the entertainment postponed until better weather.

GOULARD AND MOYCE TO FURNISH MAIN EVENT

SAC. BEE 1-11-11

Card Being Arranged for the Athletic Club's Show

Goulard and Moyce are to furnish the main event at the amateur boxing show of the Athletic Club to be given on the evening of January 27th. They are 150 pound boys and willing scrapers.

Red Murray, who made such an excellent showing against Young Hickey last month, is to be sent against Louie Day and their bout should prove one of the most attractive of the evening. Schreck and Pappa wil have another of their inimitable arguments.

The balance of the card has not been arranged, but Ritler is planning to introduce some new faces and some new favorites may be uncovered.

GOOSE MULLIGAN FOR ATHLETIC CLUB MEMBERS

A goose mulligan is to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club, January 28th. Jack Inman and Vernon Morrison have been appointed to arrange for the big stew, and they are now dickering for the geese and fixings.

The place for the outing has not yet been determined, but will be announced in a few days. It is expected the mulligan will prove sufficiently attractive to bring out a large crowd.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS EXCURSION TO TRUCKEE

SAC. BEE 1-11-11

Sacramentans Will Enjoy Winter Sports in Snow and Ice

What will probably be one of the most enjoyable affairs in the history of the Sacramento Athletic Club is being planned for the middle of February and, in brief, will consist of an excurison to Truckee. It is proposed to leave Sacramento at 10:40 o'clock the evening of Saturday, February 18th. Truckee will be reached at 8 o'clock the next morning.

The annual Winter carnival at Truckee will be in progress at that time and it is expected the snow will be deep, the ice thick and the conditions for a program of Winter sports excellent.

Romps in Snow.

Immediately upon arrival at Truckee it is proposed to go to the hotel and there have breakfast. After that there will be sleighing, skiing and ice skating. This will be the program until noon.

The feature of the afternoon will be a snow fight. Tim Gray and George Green have been appointed to captain the opposing teams of snow fighters. They will announce their teams immediately after the train reaches Truckee.

The battle will be divided into two halves, each of twenty minutes. Certain rules will be prescribed and the struggle will be pulled off with all the eclat of a football game.

Banquet and Dance.

A banquet is to be served in the evening and later there will be dancing.

It is proposed to take a band along and the band will be kept busy. During the trip up, the band will give concerts in all cars except the sleepers. Those who wish quiet and slumber, will be able to find it in the Pullmans, but it is proposed to have amusement for the owls.

Arthur Delano is the chief generalissimo in charge of arrangements for the outing. He has appointed C. E. Phillips, Bud Reedy, H. Bronson, L. Lobner, Roy Cothrin, Frank Bacon and Otto Ritler as his assistants.

Public Invited.

The trip is not be confined to Athletic Club members, but will include all friends of the members, their families and invited guests. To secure low excursion rates it will be necessary to have 125 in the party, but it is expected the outing will appeal so strongly to the people in general, that there will be 200 or more on the train. The round trip railroad rate will be $4.45 and Delano is now communicating with the Truckee hotel people to secure special rates.

SET DATE FOR ATHLETIC CLUB BOXING SHOW

SAC. BEE. 1-10-11

The next boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held the evening of Friday, January 27th. President Hoffman is now making the matches and expects to announce the card within a few days.

One bout has already been arranged, a return match between Schreck and Pappa. They met at the last show and the fans enjoyed their performance. Their bout will assuredly be a drawing card. Schreck is in deadly earnest and says he is going to fight all the time.

S.A.C. GOOSE DINNER NEXT

The unexpected is going to happen. The much heralded event will take place. For three months it has been talked of and the series of postponements were regarded as the preliminary steps towards the dropping of the whole proposition. The goose dinner promised to the members of the Sacramento Athletic club will take place at the club rooms Saturday night.

Some little time ago Jack Inmann promised the members of the club a goose dinner. Other promises followed but no dinner. At last Jack set the date and on Saturday night Inmann will be the host at the dinner. The members are in training for the feed and expect to make excellent showings.

JACK LESTER KNOCKS OUT MULDOON IN FOUR ROUNDS

SAC. BEE. 1-18-11

Former Amateur Sent to Mat Twelve Times Before He Takes Count

TACOMA (Wash.), January 18.—Jack Lester, the promising heavyweight managed by Tommy Burns, last night knocked out Pete Muldoon of Seattle in the fourth of a scheduled ten-round bout before the largest crowd that ever saw a contest in this city.

The gong saved Muldoon in the second and third rounds when he was knocked down twelve times.

Lester is to meet Denver Ed Smith here January 31st.

Muldoon made a mistake by going out of his class to meet Lester. Pete fights in the middleweight division, being at his best at 158 pounds. Lester is a legitimate heavyweight and weighed 187 pounds when he stepped into the ring last night.

Tommy Burns believes that with experience Lester will develop into championship form. He is young and adding weight every day, and under Burns' coaching is quickly acquiring the fine points of the fighting game.

HOFFMAN ARRANGES TO TAKE BOXERS TO OAKLAND

SAC. BEE. 1-13-11

President Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club returned yesterday from Oakland, where he went the first of the week to arrange for the appearance of four local boxers before the Redwood Club. Arrangements for the trip were completed, except as regards the date and this will be determined in a few days.

Hoffman says there are many amateur boxers in Oakland and all are willing to try their luck in Sacramento at any time matches can be made for them. Several Oakland boys have fought here in past months and they have returned with stories of being treated well and of being awarded desirable prizes.

NO GOOSE MULLIGAN FOR ATHLETICS TO-NIGHT

SAC BEE. 1-21-11

The goose mulligan, scheduled to be an attraction at the rooms of the Sacramento Athletic Club to-night, has been indefinitely postponed. This has been necessitated by a lack of goose.

The weather recently has been proverbially good for ducks, but it has not been very attractive for hunters. Jack Inman, who was in charge of the arrangemnts, planned to go out with Ancil Hoffman last Wednesday and gather sufficient geese for the big feed. But it rained very hard Wednesday and Inman and Hoffman stayed at home.

Perhaps it was good weather in more ways than one for the geese, but the athletic club members will regret being compelled to forego the big feed.

Sacramento Athletic Club Football Summary.

Prof. Ritter is entirely satisfied with the showing made by the football boys. Their defeat by St. Mary's cannot be considered against them, as this is their first year at the new game. Probably only three or four of the players ever saw a game of Rugby before this season. So, the fact that they scored on the experienced collegians shows that they are learning the game fast, and in another year they can give the best teams on the coast a good rub.

From the spectators' standpoint Rugby is a much better game than American intercollegiate football. The play is more open and spectacular, while the kicking adds interest.

For the benefit of those who will attend the Grass Valley game who are not generally conversant with rules of Rugby, and to whom the many stoppages by the referee's whistle are not clear, the following summary of the principal rules should make the plays and penalties understood.

A player can be placed off-side if he enters a scrum from his opponent's side, or if the ball has been kicked, touched, or is being run by one of his own side behind him.

A player is placed on-side when his opponent has run five yards with the ball, when the ball has been kicked or touched by an opponent, or when one of his side has run in front of him with the ball, or when one of his side, who has kicked the ball runs in front of him.

The penalty for off-side is a free kick, except where the off-side is unintentional. In that case a scrum is formed in the spot where the offense took place.

The most frequent causes of free kicks being awarded are:

Handling the ball in the scrum.

Failing to put the ball down immediately in being held.

Failure to get up from the ground immediately while playing the ball.

Illegal tackling, charging or blocking an opponent.

Willfully holding an opponent who has not the ball.

Hacking or tripping.

Willfully putting the ball unfairly into the scrum, or returning it into the scrum by hand or foot after it has come out.

Lifting a foot from the ground before the ball has been put in the scrum.

In all cases where a free kick is awarded, the opposite side may choose to have a scrum formed at the place where the ball was last played before the infringement.

When the ball goes into touch—that is, across the side lines—it belongs to the side opposite to the one that last played it, except where the ball is carried out, in which case it belongs to the side carrying it in touch.

Where the ball is not thrown in at right angles to the side lines a scrum is formed ten yards from the touch line.

The side in possession of the ball may call for a scrum, in lieu of throwing, ten yards from the side line.

The ball, being thrown in at right angles, gives the side that can kick long distances into touch the opportunity to gain a lot of ground and retain it, which accounts for the numerous kicks into the touch area.

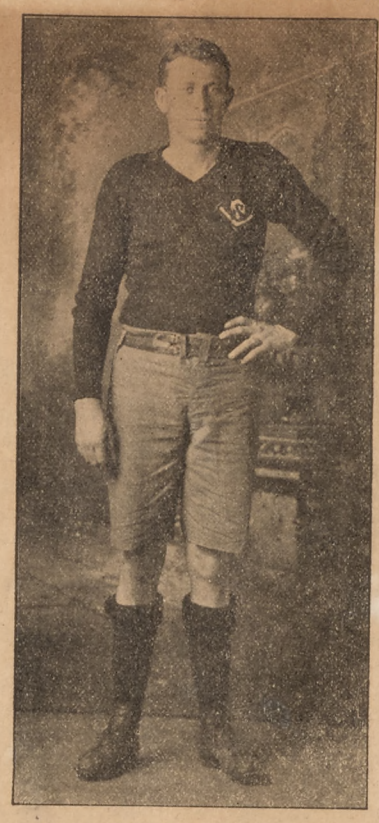
A knock on, or a throw forward is illegal and, when a player impels the ball toward his opponent's goal line with his hands or arms a scrum is formed where the infringement took place.

The following is the mode of scoring:

A try equals three points. A goal from a try (in which case the try does not count) equals five points.

A goal from field (except from marks or penalty) equals four points.

SAC. WEEKLY
DEC. 3-10



James Purrington, Forward.
Hodson Photo.

A goal from a mark or penalty equals three points.

When a goal is scored, the ball is kicked-off from the center of the field. When a try is made and the goal is unsuccessful the ball is drop-kicked from the twenty-five yard line.

The time of the halves are forty minutes.

Return Rugby Match.

On December 11 the Club Rugby team will play a return match with the Grass Valley Miners at Buffalo Park. The game was originally scheduled for to-morrow, but as arrangements for the grounds could not be completed, Prof. Rittler was obliged to postpone the date for a week. Everyone interested in football should be on hand, as a great game is expected.

Since meeting us, the Stars have defeated both Nevada City and Grass Valley High by large scores, and they should give us a hard rub.

—o—

The Handball Tournament.

The handball games last Sunday brought few surprises, especially so in the games between Lobner and Strachan and Morris and Donald, as the latter team, who had not played before, were not considered very strong. But by their showing Sunday they will surely figure some in the percentage column. The serving of Morris was about the best seen in this tournament and had Lobner completely baffled. Blake brothers won their two games quite handily, and still have a clean score. Shaw did not play his usual strong game, and Bacon was rather weak on the returns. A little practice on serving would make Shaw and Bacon a hard team to beat, even by Blake brothers. Two teams were dropped from the tournament Sunday. Gallup and Marston and Delano and Tate failed to appear for two consecutive Sundays, and according to the rules are dropped. Delano and Marston are willing to play together so as to make eight teams in the first class, and if there are no objections from the other teams they will play next Sunday.

In the second class another dark horse sprung quite a surprise, for Simmermacher and Cox split even with Shorrock and Wallander, who are considered one of the strongest teams in the second class. Both scores were 21-20. McGregor and Morgan forfeited both games to Carson and Williams by failing to appear. Score 21-0.

The games tomorrow promise to be very interesting, and as all the teams are on their mettle and getting in all the practice they can during the week, an improvement will be shown as the tournament progresses.

The Olympic Club now has a handball tournament on and an effort will probably be made to match the winners of each tournament in a series of games to be played before both clubs.

The entries for tomorrow's games are as follows:

First Class.

9:30—Lobner and Strachan vs. Martin and Delano.

10:00—Melolough and Warren vs. Donald and Morris.

10:30—Bacon and Schaw vs. Duval and Pugh.

Basket-Ball.

The athletic commissioners have seen fit, for the good of the heavyweight basket-ball team, to appoint Joe Blake Captain. A number of new men have come out for this division, and every one wishing a chance on the team should show up for practice on Monday evening.

As soon as football is over the basket-ball boys will start practice in earnest on Monday and Wednesday evenings and Sunday morning. A New Year's trip is being arranged to Stockton, where two games will be played, one with the Stockton Y. M. C. A and the other with the High School. And the boys must soon start conditioning for the P. A. A. tournament, where the S. A. C. should win at least one championship.

—o—

Next Week's Basketball.

There are some good basketball games on the program for next week. On Wednesday night the Lightweights play the Christian Brothers' College; on Thursday night the Heavyweights play the Y. M. C. A., and on Friday Manager Palm will bring the fast Elk Grove team down to play the Lightweights at the old Pavilion, and, as both teams are in fine shape, a fast game is looked for. The lineup of the club is as follows:

Lovich, Captain; Luke and Brandon, forwards; Donald and Sprague, guards.

—o—

Our Wrestlers.

The wonderful showing made by Eames and McLeod, the S. A. C. entries in the P. A. A. wrestling tournament in San Francisco last Monday, caused considerable surprise among the club members.

Eames defeated Paraty, the Olympic Club's champion, after an extra three-minute bout, but in some manner he injured his back and was unable to do his best against Walker, of Vancouver, who defeated him, only after a hard struggle.

The match between McLeod, S. A. C., and Duncan, of the Olympic Club, was the best of the tournament. Duncan was awarded the decision by the judges after two extra rounds had been called, although there were many who thought the plucky S. A. C. entry had the best of the argument. The Olympic Club officials have awarded McLeod a special medal in recognition of his clever performance.

—o—

Two New Directors.

Two new directors were elected by the Board on Tuesday evening—R. R. Shorrock and J. W. Morsehead. George Lobner was appointed swimming commissioner in place of Shorrock, and C. Wahlander, rowing commissioner, in place of Morsehead.

Louis Day Coming Back.

Louis Day, star basketball player and Marathoner, will soon be seen at the club again. He has signified his intention of rejoining, and should prove a valuable addition to both the track and lightweight basketball teams.

—o—

Club Chat.

The Blake brothers are playing an excellent game in the handball tournament. They are sure to be near the top of the percentage column after the final match is played. Their only real rivals are Morgan and McGregor, who will make them extend themselves to win.

Harry Ferguson, Fullback.
Hodson Photo.

Barb Lovich must have won a home in Ione. He was seen talking to a beautiful young lady before the game, and seems very anxious to arrange a basket-ball game for the club lightweight team.

Deerborn plays a hard game in the scrum. Something is bound to give when he once gets started with the ball.

"Red" Sherwin is in the game all the time. Although he is small the St. Mary's boys always stopped and hit the ground hard when Red tackled them.

There was class to that picture of the football team. It made a great hit with the fans.

If "Pete" Muldoon, star middleweight, is reinstated in time for the next boxing night, which will probably be the case, according to P. A. A. Commissioner McGregor, a match with Long or McAllister of the Olympic Club will be arranged.

George Green is quite a handball shark. He mentioned recently that he had defeated George Yoerk, but he forgot to tell the bunch that he was spotted 18 points.

Otto Ritter has just received a letter from Gimberly, the former S. A. C. tumbler, who is in Williamsport, Pa. He reads The Weekly regularly, as he is very much interested in the club activities. He says he hopes to be back with the S. A. C. in the near future.

CLOSING GAMES AT HANDBALL

SAC. BEE 1-21-11

Blake brothers are in the lead for the championship of the Athletic Club in the handball tournament. Last Sunday's games resulted in an easy victory for them when they played York and Mansfield. J. Blake played the best game ever seen in the club, and is without a doubt in a class by himself locally. Sunday will see the end of the tournament, when the Blakes will play two teams.

In the second class, Cox and Simmermacher, who are mere youngsters, surprised the natives by taking a game from Barnes and McDonough and losing the other by one point.

If Senf and Mattison can win from Rose and Ross to-morrow, they will be tied with Barnes and McDonough for first place, and the games will have to be played off, to decide the championship in the second class. The games to be played to-morrow are as follows:

First class—Blake brothers vs. McColloch and Warren; Shaw and Bacon vs. Pugh and Duval; Blake brothers vs. Delano and Marsten; Donald and Morris vs. Delano and Marsten.

Second class—Rose and Ross vs. Senf and Mattison.

Y. M. C. A. BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY STOCKTON

The Y. M. C. A. last night organized a lightweight basketball team which will play the Stockton lightweight team on next Monday at the Slough City. The line-up for the locals is Cooper (captain), Watwood, O'Neil, Rutledge, Titus and Assalena. They are to play at 130 pounds. Also the Y. M. C. A. lightweight team is seeking a match with any team in or around Sacramento. The heavyweight team will play Lodi at Lodi next Friday night.

THE SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB

By J. M. Inman, Financial Secretary and Treasurer.

The Sacramento Athletic Club was organized originally on the 1st day of August, 1889, flourished for a time and was finally disbanded because of the impossibility of securing quarters. The club, during its first existence, numbered among its members nearly every prominent man, both in business, social and athletic pursuits, in the city of Sacramento, and was a power and source of pride in the community.

For a number of years the club remained dormant, but on the 2d day of February, 1909, a number of the old members got together, with a number of new men, and reorganized the club. Quarters were secured in the Meister building on Ninth Street, and the club commenced a new lease of life. Members poured in faster than the officials of the club could register them, and it was estimated that at one time the roster of the club showed in the neighborhood of eleven hundred names, included among which were the very best blood of the community.

Of course this enthusiasm soon died out to some extent. It was impossible to keep a club membership of that proportion fully interested, and again some dissentions arose and, as is usual in clubs, especially of that size, some dissatisfaction arose with the management, so also the club was unfortunate in securing some of its servants, some proving inefficient and some worse. Hard times came upon the club, the expense being tremendous and large numbers of the members dropping out from the causes previously stated, together with others.

But the Sacramento Athletic Club is here to stay, for it is a much needed institution and its power for good is great. If the present management fails to make good, another will not; if the present membership fails to respond to the present necessitites others will take their places.

To attempt to recount the triumphs and progress of the club since its reorganization would fill a volume. Suffice it to say that such has been our progress in the world of sports that the flying "S" is known and respected throughout the State, and no club has a better name nor insures the respect of the general public more than the Sacramento Athletic Club; and no greater calamity could fall upon the social community of this city than the disruption and death of this club.

It has filled a want that no other institution can fill; it has met the needs of the younger element better and to a fuller extent than any other institution in the city; and whether it succumbs to its trials, or whether it goes on to a higher, better and brighter future depends upon the community and to the members of the club, and no petty feeling of jealousy, pique or temper should drive away a member who has the good of the community at heart.

There never has existed a body of persons, banded together for any purpose, whom any man or set of men could wholly satisfy or please; and this club is especially unfortunate in that it has enrolled among its members many men and boys who secure no direct benefit from it. And again the membership to a large extent is made up of young fellows to whom the dues look pretty large.

But, as before stated, this club, so far as Sacramento is concerned, will survive its troubles, and once again grow and prosper and be a power in the community, and the button in the lapel bearing the "Flying S" will be a source of pride and satisfaction to the wearer.

—o—

Handball.

Owing to their inability to play tomorrow, Pugh and Duval played two games in the handball tournament last Sunday and were defeated in both, although they gave Lobner and Strachan a hard fight.

McCollough and Warren were in good shape, defeating Delano and Marston easily in both games.

In the second division Morgan and McGregor surprised every one including themselves, by getting the best of Sprague and McDonough in both games. This is the first victory scored by them this season.

Ross and Rose broke even with Cox and Simmermacher, each winning a game. These were the hardest fought games of the day's play.

The results in detail:

First class—

Donald and Morris beat Pugh and Duval 21-5, 21-6.

Lobner and Strachan beat Pugh and Duval 21-15, 21-9.

McCollough and Warren beat Delano and Marston 21-5, 21-18.

Second class—

Senf and Mattison beat Gray and Curl 21-4, 21-13.

Shorrock and C. Wahlander beat Toland and R. Wahlander 21-6, 21-7.

Ross and Rose tied Cox and Simmermacher 21-13, 19-21.

McGregor and Morgan beat McDonough and Sprague 21-16, 21-17.

—o—

Basket-Ball.

Basket-ball has started in in earnest. Games are being played twice a week, and there are some good trips in sight.

On Tuesday evening the lightweights beat the heavies by a score of 51-43. This was a practice match for the S. A. C.-Brothers' College game which took place Wednesday. Lovich, Luke and Duke played fine ball for the lightweights, while Purrington, Sweeney and Blake played exceptionally well for the heavies. The lineup was as follows:

Lights.	Position.	Heavies.
Luke	forward	Holmes
Lovich	forward	Blake
Brandon	forward	Knight
Duke	center	Sweeney
Salvadore	guard	Palm
Sprague	guard	Purrington
Donald	guard	Kennedy

—o—

Boys' Brotherhood Beaten.

On Wednesdav evening the club-lightweights easily defeated the Boys' Brotherhood, 60-25. Lovich and Luke, the S. A. C. forwards, had little trouble in scoring baskets after their teammates, Duke, at center, and Sprague and Erway, at guards, had passed the ball to them.

The lineup:

Spartans.		Brotherhood.
Lovich	forward	Watwood
Luke	forward	Hicks
Duke	center	Blair
Sprague	guard	Assalena
Donald	guard	Hagerty

The following baskets were scored: Lovichs, 6 field and nine free throws; Luke, 7 field and 2 free; Duke, 11 field and 4 free; Donald, 3 field and 1 free; Hicks, 5 field and 6 free; Blair, 2 field and 1 free.

Manager Palmer has arranged a game for New Year's eve, with the

S. Lovich, captain of the S. A. C. lightweight basket-ball team.

Stockton Stars, unlimited State champions of 1909.

A special train will be chartered and about sixty S. A. C. members will accompany the team to Stockton.

—o—

A Membership Contest.

The Board of Directors at its last meeting decided, among other things, to have a membership contest. Leaders will be selected who will in turn select their teams and a scramble for new members will ensue.

No trouble is expected in securing new members, the captains being confident of doubling the membership, owing to the inducements, among others, of the boxing contests to be staged during the winter. None but members will be permitted to witness these bouts. Those who love the game of "biff," "duck" and get away" will have no other means of satisfying their taste, as the city officials have forcefully put their feet down upon the so-called amateur clubs who would stage short "goes."

At the completion of the contest, at a time to be agreed upon, one of the greatest jollifications in the history of the club will take place. Director Jack Inman has agreed to furnish enough geese for a feed for all, to be washed down with copious drafts of coffee, garnished with some of the "goodies."

Some good old time boxing, wrestling, etc., will top off an evening of good time, which promises to prove a get-to-gether meeting of par excellence.

—o—

Boxing Night Soon.

The next boxing night will probably be the 20th or 22d of this month. Commissioner Ancil Hoffman went down to the bay early this week for the purpose of arranging several bouts with Olympic Club and other boxers who were in the P. A. A. tournament and want another chance. Either Long or McAllister of the Olympics will be matched with "Pete" Muldoon, the club's crack middle-weight. Salvador and Lee Muskrat, the 135-pound P. A. A. champion, will also be matched against some of the best Redwood Club boxers. Eddie Smith and Hickey of Oakland will both be present, the former fighting Salvador, the latter Hooker. These matches should be very interesting, as the boxers finished some fast bouts in the P. A. A. contests last month.

Dominick and Red Murray, two local lads, have been matched. Hoffman has not found opponents for Azevedo, Erickson, Noone or Noyes as yet, but he hopes to have them fight several good boxers from San Francisco.

Chief of Police Ahern's edict against fighting will not affect the Sacramento Athletic Club, as we have club rooms, a membership roll and all the boxers are registered and in good standing with the Amateur Athletic Union.

—o—

On Christmas Eve.

A committee headed by "Bud" Reidy has arranged for a comedy Christmas tree on Christmas eve, or thereabouts. Presents will be given by Santa Claus, and there will be vocal and instrumental selections, and story telling around the fireside. The members are busy preparing an elaborate program, the details of which will be announced later.

The following are in charge of the affair: "Bud" Reidy, Morhsehead, Lobner, Strachan and Barnes.

Cash Ahead.

After the smoke of our last football game with St. Mary's had cleared away the club found it was about fifty dollars ahead, enough to have one of the billiard tables fixed. The organization will probably clear up more than this on to-morrow's game, because the weather conditions, as forecasted by the government observer, will be much more favorable than on Thanksgiving.

Every member of the club should do all he can to push the big game along. Spirit is what is needed to make the game both a financial and an athletic success.

—o—

S. A. C. vs. Grass Valley Tomorrow.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at Buffalo Park, the Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby team and the Grass Valley Stars will meet in a return match. The recent rains have put the grounds in excellent condition, so a hard game is looked for. The All-Star team is composed of Englishmen, who have learned the game in their native land, and who are thoroughly conversant with the finer points of Rugby, while the club team is made up of former intercollegiate football players who are just getting acquainted wtih the new game.

Although S. A. C. defeated Grass Valley at their last meeting it was by no means a walkover, the club winning out only after the hardest kind of a fight. The miners are a husky bunch, are in the game all the time, and, with their experience in Rugby, should make the club team hustle to win out, even if the S. A. C. boys outweigh them a few pounds.

The team picked by Coach Rittler will be practically the same as the one that faced St. Marys on Thanksgiving. With Dickson at outside five and Rittler and Sherwin on the wings, but few miners should get through the goal line if they carry the ball past the forwards. A. Evers or Rittler will play scrum half, with Ferguson at full. In the first game with the miners "Fergie" watched the game from the rear, not having a single chance during the whole play, but it will be different this time, as the "Cousin Jacks" are in great shape, having recently defeated both Grass Valley and Nevada City High Schools.

Beautiful Cup.

Mr. S. Sturmer, the jeweler, has donated a beautiful loving cup, fourteen inches high, to the S. A. C. This will be presented at the close of the basketball season to the player who, in the estimation of the athletic commissioners, has made the best all around showing.

This does not mean the player who makes the most baskets or shows streaks of individual play, but the one who plays team work and helps his team score, no matter if some one else scores the baskets.

This cup, along with the others won by former S. A. C. basketball teams, is on exhibition at the club cigar store.

—o—

Club Chat.

"Spike" Corson is going home next week. He will be back, however, in a month or two.

Don't forget 2 p. m. tomorrow, Buffalo Park, rain or shine. Get your tickets from Philip's cigar store at Eighth and J Streets, at the Club, 812 K, or at Brown & Doyle's. These merchants have shown fine spirit in helping the club out in all its athletic events.

Purrington sure had his eye on the basket Tuesday. He scored four or five goals in rapid succession.

Oh, you Woodland! New Year's for the championship of the valley if we beat Grass Valley tomorrow.

Professor Rittler wants all the club members with autos who can to be at the club at 1:30 tomorrow to take the teams to the grounds.

Donald and Morris are the surprise of the handball tournament. They are going to make a strong bid for the championship.

Handball Commissioner George Yoerk will probably pick the two best players in the tournament to play the winners of the Olympic Club games.

Sweeney, besides being an important factor in the scrum, is some basketball player—he makes them all hustle to guard him.

The new captain of the heavyweights, Joe Blake, has instilled new life into the bunch. They played like "vets" Tuesday, their passing and goal throwing in the second half surprising Coach Rittler and Manager Palm.

Second row—H. Evers, Blake, Ferguson, Dickson (captain), Holmes and Curl.
Bottom row—Luke, Azevedo, Kennedy and Hart.

McLeod has been awarded second place in the P. A. A. wrestling tournament; also a special medal, by the Olympic Club.

"Marathoner" Day is some handball shark. He defeated George Green three out of four games last Monday.

Sihlosser is back at the club, his black eye being entirely well. He will be seen in the game next Sunday.

Salvador hurt his arm in the basketball court Tuesday, but says it will be well by next boxing night.

The Miners will have to look out for Dickson in the game to-morrow. At Grass Valley, at times, he advanced the ball with half their team on his back.

Salvador found a new job, but resigned as soon as he found out he would have to go to work at 2 a. m.

There was no gym work last night, owing to the game with Elk Grove at the Old Pavilion.

The pool and billiard tables will be fixed and a tournament arranged for the winter months. There are several crack cue artists with the club at the present time, so some good games should be seen.

Duke, Wheat and Harris went duck shooting last Sunday and all returned with good bags.

The addition of Day, former captain of the P. A. A. 130-pound champions, greatly strengthens the lightweight team.

Basket ball practice will be held every Sunday as soon as football is over. At present the heavies play Monday and the lightweights Wednesday.

Gray and Curl entered the handball tournament Friday in place of Williams and Corson. Although they were defeated in their first game, they are expected to make a good showing after they do a little practicing.

"Bud" Reidy and McClatchy have their rooting gang together for the big game to-morrow.

Dickson and "Doc" have been very happy the last few days. They must expect some of the ladies of Grass Valley.

We all extend our heartiest congratulations to Henry Duval. We wish him many future years of happiness.

Joe Blake, Captain of the Heavyweight Basketball Team.

Harry Duke, Center, Lightweight Basketball Team.

"Bud" Reidy, C. Wahlander, O. Rittler, E. Cox, R. Cothrin, E. Palm, A. J. Delano, A. Strachan, L. Lobner and F. Fay have the affair in charge and promise to give every one an all round good time.

Boxing.

Friday evening, December 30th, has been set for the next club boxing night, and Commissioner Ancil Hofman has announced that he will stage one of the classiest cards ever held since boxing night was established. He has just returned from San Francisco, where he secured a number of good boxers to compete against the star S. A. C. boxers.

Ahern, a new arrival from Grass Valley, who has won a number of contests in his home town, and who is reported to be quite a clever boxer, has been matched with Salvadore, the crack 115-pounder of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Ahern will have a hard match, as Salvadore has lots of speed, is very clever and takes the lead at all times. He has won nearly all his matches, among the two bouts with Lee Muskrat, the 125-pound P. A. A. champion; Martin, of the Olympic Club, and Viera of the Redwood Club, who won the coast title in the 115-pound division.

"Red" Murray will box Dominick, and Billy Gore, the fast S. A. C. lightweight, will meet Champion Boscia, of the Olympic Club. This match should prove very interesting, as both boys are hard hitters and have the reputation of being cleverer than the ordinary boxer.

As yet Lee Muskrat, the only club boy to win a coast championship at the recent tournament, has not been matched. He issues a sweeping challenge, however, to any one his weight on the coast. Any one wishing a chance with him should notify Prof. Rittler or Boxing Commissioner Ancil Hofman.

Hickey, of the Redwood Club of San Francisco, has been matched with Hooker, of the local club. These lads furnished one of the fastest bouts of the evening when they met last month, and the decision was awarded to Hickey only by a narrow margin.

Azevedo, Erickson, Pappa and Cowie have not been matched as yet, but Prof. Rittler will journey to the bay around Christmas to secure boxers to go against them.

Pete Muldoon left Thursday for Seattle, where he will endeavor to get reinstated by the Amateur Athletic Union. He is a very clean, clever boxer, besides being a gentleman, and should the N. W. A. A. refuse to place him in good standing the amateur ranks would lose one of its most desirable athletes.

Handball.

By defeating the Blake Brothers in both games last Sunday, Morris and Donald took the lead in the first division after the fifth Sunday of play. Both games were very close, and it was only after the hardest kind of a fight that they were decided. The results in the first class:

Basketball.

A double-header was played at the Old Pavilion on Friday, Dec. 9, before a good crowd. In the first game the club's unlimited team defeated the local High School team by a score of 19-5. The High School did not have their regular team present, so could not make a good showing against the fast team-work and accurate goal-throwing of the well-trained club organization.

The second game, between Elk Grove and the Sacramento Athletic Club Spartans, resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 32-22.

The coaching of Prof. Rittler showed itself in the play of the lightweights, their team work and signals being a feature. Day, Duke and Donald all played a fine game. The line-up of the players:

Unlimited.		S. H. S.
Holmes, Blake	forward	Potter
Knight	forward	W. Palm
Sweeney	center	Birch
E. Palm, Bacon	guard	Simmermacher
Purrington	guard	Lamb

Duke	center	Hogoeboom Owen
Donald	guard	Coons
Sprague, S-l'v'd'r	guard	Meese

to the manner born, and made his way to the window of Bob Grahame's room. His skin had not the yellow of a Chinaman, but the black of a negro.

After a busy minute or two the window was noiselessly raised a few inches, and the thief peered within; when his eyes grew accustomed to the gloom he saw that the inmate was sleeping soundly. The window went up, moving imperceptibly, and the man crawled in, carefully feeling all around for strings or alarm springs, which his fingers would find instinctively.

city and help celebrate the New Year as well as root for the S. A. C. to win.

There was to have been a match between Lodi and the S. A. C. Spartans next week, but on account of a full schedule the Lodi management has postponed the game until some time in February.

The cup donated by Mr. Sturmer will be awarded immediately after the P. A. A. basketball tournament, which is to be held the first week in February. The following points will be taken into consideration by the athletic commissioners in awarding the cup to the best all-around basketball player: First, teamwork; second, regular attendance at practice; third, gentlemanly conduct on the field of play; fourth, obedience to the orders of the coach, manager and captain.

P. A. A. Basketball.

Entry blanks have been received by Prof. Rittler for the third annual basketball tournament of the Pacific Athletic Association. The series of games will begin February 1st, and all entries must be in by January 1st.

SAC. WEEKLY DEC. 17-10

Preliminary games will be played in Sacramento, Oakland and San Jose, with all the finals for the various championships, held in San Francisco.

The S. A. C. will play all teams in this section of the county who enter the tournament, the winner journeying to San Francisco to play in the finals.

The games will be divided into five weight divisions, including the midget, light, junior, senior and the unlimited. The weights will be 110, 120, 130 and 145 pounds, while there will be no restrictions in the unlimited division. A handsome trophy representative of the championship of the Pacific Coast will be presented to the winning team in each division.

Each player in every team must be under the weight of the class in which he is entered. This is much different than previous tournaments, when only the average weight of the contestants was taken into consideration. In this way individual stars were allowed to play, although they were far above the weight in their division. All players on each team must be weighed in uniform immediately preceding the game.

—o—

All-Stars Downed.

The Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby team easily defeated the Grass Valley All-Stars at Buffalo Park last Sunday by a score of 26-0.

The visitors seemed a little out of condition, owing, probably, to the long train ride, while, on the other hand, the local boys, strengthened by the addition of Starritt, the crack St. Mary's player, and being much faster on account of the experience of playing against St. Mary's College, were in better form than when they met the winners before.

Sherwin scored the first try immediately after the kickoff, and after that the Athletics were never headed. The forwards worked very well together, getting the ball out of the scrum nearly every time. Kennedy and Dickson, at five-eighths, both played good ball, Dickson making three tries and advancing the ball many yards. Starritt and Sherwill, on the wings, played their usual consistent game, taking advantage of all opportunities offered. Holmes, at center three, did some good tackling, while Ferguson, at full, had very little to do, as the Cousin Jacks seldom got past our forwards.

Tries were made as follows: Dickson three, Starritt, Sherwin and Purrington. Joe Blake converted four of the six tries.

The officials were: Twitchell, referee; Simmermacher, S. A. C., touch judge; London, All-Stars, touch judge; McClatchy, S. A. C., timer; Chalmers, All-Stars, timer.

—o—

Woodland Challenged.

Manager Rittler of the club Rugby team has challenged Woodland High School, champions of the S. V. I. A. L. The Woodland boys have beaten Sacramento High, Chico, Oroville, Marysville and the University of California team, while the Sacramento Athletic Club team have beaten Grass Valley, who in turn have defeated Auburn High, Grass Valley High and Nevada City High, so the winning team can lay claim to the championship of Northern California.

The present plans, if Woodland accepts, are to play the first game in Woodlawn, the second in Sacramento and if a third is necessary the team making the largest number of points will decide where it shall be played.

—o—

Membership Contest.

The Membership Committee has selected the following leaders of teams to contest in getting new members: Gannon, Day, Bacon, Maloney, C. Wahlander, Watkins, I. Blake, Foley, Horton and Ferguson.

These captains are selecting their teams, and in a few days a scramble for new members will begin. No trouble is anticipated in signing up the candidates immediately, as the Board of Directors have signified their intention of establishing an initiation fee beginning the 1st of February. As soon as applications are filled out they will be passed upon by the Membership Committee, composed of Delano, Traxler and Otto Rittler.

Club Chat.

Salvador and Red Murray have both deserted the ranks of the "never works." Prof. Rittler has secured them positions delivering groceries.

Dixon was very much surprised that his Grass Valley friend did not come down to the game. He was down at the depot bright and early, but was disappointed when the train arrived.

Regis Starritt will prove a valuable addition to both the Rugby and track teams. He will be in Sacramento permanently, and should aid in securing many track trophies for the club.

The heavyweight basketball practice night has been changed to Thursday on account of the inability of several members of the team to be present on Wednesday.

Commencing to-morrow, both the lightweights and heavies will practice Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock.

Spence Dixon will leave next Friday for Santa Rosa, where he will spend the Christmas holidays with his parents.

Strumer's basketball cup is now on exhibition at the club rooms.

Donald and Morris are playing a fast game in the handball tournament. Their playing against the Blake Brothers on Sunday was the best that has been seen around the club for some time.

Starritt and Dickson advanced the ball many yards against the miners last Sunday. The cousin Jacks seemed unable to stop their rushes.

If you wish to go to Stockton on the 31st, hand your name to Manager Palm immediately. A great time is assured.

Day had his eye on the basket in the Elk Grove game; he seldom missed a throw.

Chet Gannon is enjoying himself immensely. He has a fine position working in a coal mine. Ask him about it.

The High School basketball team plays Ione today. Although the local boys were defeated at Ione on Thanksgiving, they will make a better showing to-day as the team has been greatly strengthened.

Roy Cothrin went out today in search of a Christmas tree. Hope he has better luck in bagging a bunch of greens and berries than when he goes hunting quail.

Ahern, a clever boxer from Grass Valley, has joined the club. He weighs 115 pounds and has a good record.

Gannon is going to try out for the basket-ball team. He should make a good player.

Which Band Wins?

Naturally the greatest thing on the card in the musical section for the S. A. C. program on the night of December 28 will be the competive band music, when the club, as a body, will judge of the relative merits of two rival windjamming organizations. Rittler, as well as pulling off a side line to his physical building-up staff in the gym, has got a real live musical bug in his bonnet, and through his clever gum-shoe work in the past few months has gotten together two full-fledged bands that will render real music at alternating periods during the evening, and those selected as winners by vote of the members gathered in the family circle around the tree will receive a cup. Never mind what kind of a cup. This much is known: It will be a good one, and appropriate.

No names or information about the leaders and instrumentalists will be given out before Wednesday. When the names were read off to the committee at their meeting Monday night, much surprise was manifested at the splendid array of talent that had signified their intention of giving their night's work to the club gratis.

—o—

Who is Santa Claus?

Another question is agitating the minds of all.

Aside from the music by the two bands, there will be songs by at least five soloists and three monologists will vie with each other in the art of verbal hypnotism at next Wednesday's Christmas tree. Piano solos, violin solos, string quartet of mandolin, banjo and guitar will be in order.

The program will be long and interesting, so every club member should be on the job. Don't look too serious, either, should you feel that way, because when your name is read off to come hither for your present the laugh may be on you.

The tree is going to be very large, so don't be afraid that the present you have bought for the other fellow will occupy too much room.

The tree will be for all the members with equal privileges and not any one set or clan, so help the thing along and put something on the tree with someone's name attached to it. Those things that cost a nickel or even less are just as good and as welcome as one of John D.'s or Carnegie's favorite tokens.

It won't be Sadie Tucker who will dance, but it will be a fitting rival who will make his first appearance in a dancing stunt.

The program is so long and yet so exceedingly interesting that the committee is at its wits end as to just how to pull off all the various stunts in one evening.

Now, a moment on the punch subject. Some say there will be five gallons and some have boosted the amount to twenty-five gallons, but suffice to say, there will be more than plenty for all—and it will be all to the good, not costing the club a postage stamp, as it was donated by one of the members.

Every club man who can absent himself from his fireside for this one evening should show up. Why? Just to do his share to keep the club spirit intact and build up the institution to the standing that an enterprise of its calibre deserves in a place like Sacramento.

The committee has worked hard and earnestly in shaping this affair, giving it a great deal of their time at this busy holiday season, so it is sure to be a success, and will be a bigger one if everybody is there and helps. So, don't hesitate, save that evening, the 28th, and be on the job with your noisy clothes on.

—o—

Handball.

Morris and Donald, the leaders in the handball tournament, showed a reversal of form last Sunday, and were defeated by Mansfield and Yoerk in both games.

On account of the holidays there will be no matches tomorrow, but on New Year's morning a return match between Green and Gray will be played. Green says he was a little off color in their last game, but is in fine trim at the present time and will give Gray a hard fight.

Sunday's results:

First Class.

Mansfield and Yoerk beat Morris and Donald 21-16, 21-6.

Bacon and Lehan beat Delano and Marston 21-6, 21-19.

Second Class.

Shorrock and Wahlander beat Rose and Ross 21-16, 21-16.

Payne and Shaw split with Rose and Ross 21-17, 17-21.

The standing of the teams in both classes, including the games played last Sunday, is as follows:

First Class—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Donald and Morris	6	2	.750
Shaw and Bacon	7	3	.700
Blake and Blake	4	2	.667
Mansfield and Yoerk	5	3	.625
Lobner and Strachan	6	4	.600
Duval and Pugh	4	6	.400
McCollogh and Warren	2	8	.200
Delano and Marston	0	4	.000

Second Class—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Barnes and McDonough	10	0	1.000
Senf and Mattison	8	2	.800
Shorrock and Wahlander	6	2	.750
Payne and Shannon	6	4	.600
Rose and Ross	8	6	.571
Corson and Williams	2	2	.500
Sollars and Eames	2	2	.500
Cox and Simmermaher	2	4	.333
Toland and Wahlander	2	8	.200
McGregor and Morgan	2	8	.200
Curly and Gray	0	4	.000
McDonough and Sprague	0	6	.000

The next play in the tournament will be held the Sunday after New Years the drawings for which will be announced later.

SAC. WEEKLY DEC. 24-10

Basket-Ball.

Both the heavy and lightweight basket-ball teams are practicing hard for the games to be held next week. On Monday, the day after Christmas, the S. A. C. Spartans will journey to Elk Grove to play a return match with the team of that place. As these teams put up a fast, close game at their last meeting, a hard contest is looked for. The team to make the trip will be selected from the following men: Lovich (c), Lake, Day, forwards; Duke, Brandon, center; Sprague, Salvadore, Donald, guards.

Saturday evening, the 31st, the heavies, accompanied by about sixty rooters, will play the Stockton All-Stars, champions of the State for two years, at Stockton. A good game is looked for. Although the club team will be weakened by the absence of Swinney, they hope to make a good showing. If you want to go on this trip, hand your name to Manager Palm, who will charter a special car if enough signify their intention of going.

The line up of the teams is to be as follows:

S. A. C.		All-Stars.
Blake	forward	Conklin
Knight	forward	Inglis
Swinney	center	Broderick
Palm	guard	Reyner
Purrington	guard	Musser

—o—

Membership Contest.

The membership contest will be launched the night of the jinks. The captains are busy picking club members for their teams, and on Wednesday the scramble for new material will begin.

Getting a member will be easy on account of the large number of boxing bouts to be held monthly this season.

As the city officials have put the ban on professional fights the only place for a lover of the manly art to see boxing contests will be at the Sacramento Athletic Club, where the bouts held will be only between registered amateurs.

—o—

Next Boxing Bout.

The club officials desire to build up clean amateur boxing. The sport is not at all brutal, as some persons think, but it is as wholesome and upbuilding as any pastime that can be devised.

There is no danger of being hurt, as soft gloves are used. Nearly every muscle in the body is developed, the skin is toughened and one who boxes is always in fine physical condition.

The bouts arranged for next Friday by Commissioner Hofman are as follows:

Salvadore (S. A. C.) vs. Ahern (S. A. C.).

Hooker (S. A. C.) vs. Hickey (Redwood Club).

"Red" Murray (S. A. C.) vs. Dominick (unattached).

"Bill" Gore (S. A. C.) vs. Bosha (unattached).

The three other men who have not been matched are Noone, Lee Muskrat and Moice. Prof. Rittler will endeavor to arrange matches for these boxers when he goes to San Francisco today.

—o—

Club Chat.

Coal Miner Gannon is going to try out for basketball next week. He thinks he can make the heavyweight team.

Wonder when Charly Stewart is going to frame that picture? He ought to have enough dimes collected by this time to frame a half dozen.

One Round Joe Erikson, the pride of the club, will soon leave us for Washington, D. C., where he is going to work with a former friend who is connected with a manufacturing enterprise.

Sally Salvador, president of the "never works," has resigned his new position after a three-day term of service.

Roy Cothrin went quail hunting last week. He got the limit, but they were so heavy that he had to throw all but two of them away before he reached home.

"Pete" Muldoon left for Seattle last Sunday, where he will turn professional. He is matched with Leister, a protege of Tommy Burns.

Wonder where "Barb" Lovich has been lately? No one around the club has seen him for some time.

SAC. WEEKLY DEC. 24-10

SAC. WEEKLY DEC. 24 - 10

Professor Rittler will journey to Oakland today to sign up more boxers for the next boxing night, and, incidently, to spend Christmas with his relatives.

George Green thinks he can beat Gray on New Year's. He is in good condition, having won ten straight games last week.

Oh you band! The Jinks committee say they are going to have one. All will be present to hear the music.

The next event in handball will be a singles tournament to commence immediately after the completion of the present set of games.

Earl Donald is busy these days making weight for the 130-pound basketball team in the P. A. A. tournament.

Immediately after the holidays Prof. Rittler will post a list of training rules for the basketball players.

The proposed football games between Woodland and Sacramento have been called off, owing to the disbandment of the Woodland team.

Coach Rittler, on behalf of the Sacramento Athletic Club, now claims the Rugby championship of Northern California.

About the second week in January the Rugby team will hold its annual banquet, celebrating the winning of the championship, and electing a captain for next year's team.

Rogers, of Nevada City, will try out for the heavyweight basketball team. He formerly played on the Nevada City High School team.

Members who have not settled for their football tickets are requested to do so immediately.

That Handball Commissioner George Yoerk is the right man for the position has been shown in his clever management of the present tournament. It has been run off as smoothly as any event ever held under the auspices of the club.

If you want to see some fun be around next Wednesday evening when Barb Lovich receives his present. It is going to be a dandy.

"Sally" Salvadore would appreciate it very much if some one would leave a job for him on the Christmas tree.

Spike Corson left Sunday for Seattle to spend Christmas with his family. He will return the last of January.

The Olympic Club held their Christmas jinks last Thursday evening. The program was on the same order as that which will be held at the S. A. C. next Wednesday.

Don't forget to be on hand Saturday to take the trip to Stockton. There is to be a special New Year's celebration, and all who go are guaranteed a good time.

Boost in the membership contest. Get all the new members you can. The individual winner as well as the winning team will receive a beautiful trophy well worth the trouble.

The next event on the program in club activities will be a grand minstrel show, to be held next month. The committee has been selected and will announce the details soon.

The S. A. C. basket-ball team was challenged by Colusa through one of the daily papers. Manager Palm accepts and will take his team to Colusa any time a game can be arranged.

Nason and Amick lost their overcoats at the club rooms Wednesday night. It is thought some one came in from the street and took them.

Roy Cothrin had poor luck with the ducks yesterday, but bagged a fine Christmas tree and a bunch of berries for the jinks next week.

"Sleepy" Miller is playing janitor this week in place of Walter, who is sick.

"Doc" Williams is delighted with this Christmas weather.

DeLong and McMahon, club favorites, have left for San Francisco, where they will reside permanently.

"Cute" Dickson left for Santa Rosa, his home town, yesterday. It is thought the girls will be glad to see him back again.

With the winter months, gym work has started actively. Prof. Rittler has a large class, including several old members, every Tuesday and Friday evenings.

"Smiling" Joe Erickson is back from the duck pond. He is training at the club for a bout on the next boxing night if an opponent can be found for him.

If you can't think of a good present leave six months' dues on the tree for the collector.

All the basketball players are working hard for that cup.

There was some talk about indoor baseball this winter, but nothing definite has been heard about it.

The last smoker was such a success that the directors are thinking of having another in the near future. They are also planning a ladies' night.

Some class to that goose feed. There won't be room left for a sardine after the boys arrive.

It is rumored that George Yoerk will be Santa Claus at the Christmas tree. He requests the bunch to please refrain from pulling his whiskers.

Gray and Green will play three handball games New Years, for the Championship. Green says he was not in condition last time they met. He will commence training immediately, as he thinks he can win if he is in form.

The outlook for the track next Spring is exceedingly bright, as nearly all last year's men have signified their intention of coming out, along with some promising new material.

Red Murray has at last consented to box. He is sure to appear as he has posted a forfeit with Prof. Rittler.

Captain Lovich plays a hard game at forward. It takes a clever guard to keep him from scoring baskets.

Putnam says he has a new job. Wonder where? as he is still sticking around the club.

Ferguson is a fine tackler. He hits low and hard, stopping every play that comes near him. He is also a fine drop-kicker.

Just the Same.

"It is a terrible thing," said the prisoner, "to be known by a number instead of a name, and to feel that all my life I shall be an object of suspicion among the police."

"But you will not be alone, my friend," replied the philanthropic visitor; "the same thing happens to people who own automobiles."—Washington Star.

On Wednesday evening last the S. A. C. members gathered around a giant Christmas tree in the club gymnasium and were entertained right up to the hilt with songs, stories, pipes and punch. The feature of the evening was the distribution of "josh" presents to the prominent members. The more popular and prominent the recipient the more outrageous was the gift, and Santa Claus Phillips helped things along with words of good advice to his dear "children."

The program included songs by Thomas Clifton, Walter Leitch, Billy Johnson, Tom Burns and other talented club vocalists, and during the festivities speeches were made by Professor Otto Rittler and Director Traxler. It was unanimously resolved to hustle for new members, to train hard for track and field events and, above all, to wallop the tar out of the Olympic Club at the next meet.

A brand new brass band filled in intervals with what was solemnly declared to be music. It was highly appreciated and the shouted encouragements of the audience spurred the players on to fine bursts of noise.

The jinks were a howling success.

Rehearsing Minstrel Show.

Active preparatory work has begun for the S. A. C. minstrel show, which is to be given at the Clunie Theater about February 3, and the proceeds of which will go toward paying bills held by local merchants. Stage Director Henry White has gone through the club with a fine tooth comb, looking for talent, and has copped out a bunch of thirty or more singers, comedians and athletes, who are now going into hard training and who promise to be as fit as fiddles when they toe the scratch three weeks hence. Just who will take part is a profound secret, but the promise is made that the show will be a revelation to the public.

Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the singing contingent will meet at Mr. White's residence, 814 Twenty-fifth street, for rehearsal. Everybody is expected to be on hand. The end men and interlocutor have already started rehearsing and are so tickled with the jokes they have to spring, that they can hardly get them off without laughing themselves to death.

Woodland 3, S. A. C. Nothin'.

The club Rugby team went to Woodland, minus three of its heaviest stars, on Tuesday, and tackled the Woodland town team, which weighed fifteen pounds per man more than the visitors. The score was 3 to 0, with Sacramento on the short end, but the returning gladiators blame it all on the referee, who, although a clergyman, robbed them of three tries, they claim, and allowed the Woodland try on a forward pass, which is contrary to the Constitution of the United States, the Pure Food law and the Interstate Commerce act, as every Rugbyite knows. The three club stars who couldn't go were Starritt, Dearborn and Sweeny.

It was a pretty rough game, but this is because the Reverend Bobbitt forgot he had a whistle, and didn't blow it until about twenty-two players were piled up in a heap.

Coach Rittler has asked that a return match be played in Sacramento about January 15, and that, if the locals are winners, a third game be had to decide the championship.

—o—

Boxing.

At the boxing show given Friday of last week, the two Romero brothers came to the front strong. Tom Romero put out his antagonist, Kelly, unattached, in one round, and James Romero did the same trick with Sharkey, Redwood A. C., as the victim. The other bouts resulted as follows:

Hickey, Redwood, beat Murray, S. A. C.; Pappa, S. A. C., beat Schreck, S. A. C.; Ahern, S. A. C., beat Azevedo, S. A. C.; Salvador, S. A. C., beat Ed Smith, Redwood; Erickson, S. A. C., beat Goulard, S. A. C.

The next boxing night will be held about February 20, when Pappa and Schreck will again clash, Schreck being dissatisfied with the result of the last bout. Professor Rittler and Boxing Commissioner Hoffman have almost completed a cracking good card.

—o—

Oakland Wants S. A. C. Talent.

The Oakland Athletic Club has written asking that S. A. C. boxers try their prowess at the next Oakland show. Murray, Salvador, Ahern, Muskrat and Erickson are willing to make the trip, and Professor Rittler has so informed the Bay City organization.

—o—

No More Fooling.

Athletic Instructor Rittler announces that he will stand no more fooling in the basketball ranks. The P. A. A. tournament will commence next month, and the S. A. C. is in position to win honors, if its basketball cracks will only attend to business from now on, and get into the game with bells on. So the slogan has gone forth that the players must show up and work hard or get out and let others in. It is the intention of the club to enter two teams, in the 130 pound class and either in the 145 or unlimited class.

SAC. WEEKLY 1-7-11

—o—

New Classes.

The Tuesday and Friday night gymnasium classes are filling up rapidly. It is the intention to shortly hold a gymnasium tournament, from the winners of which will be picked teams to compete with the Y. M. C. A. and Turners. Rittler is also looking for talent for the next big masquerade ball, which will be held late in March or early in April. A business men's class is being organized for Wednesday afternoons, from 3 to 6, and several have signified their intention of joining.

—o—

Many New Members.

On December 30 a race began for new members. On that date the membership committee, comprising Traxler, Lobner, Rittler, Delano and Wahlander, appointed as captains for a membership campaign, Blake, Bacon, Ferguson, Day, Malloney and Hallahan. These captains selected teams and the contest began. Up to Thursday of this week 32 applications for membership had been received, and more are coming every day. These applications are under the charter, which permits new members to come in on payment of one month's dues, but the club is seriously considering closing the charter list next month, after which all new members must pay an initiation fee of $10, as well as dues. The lucky ones who join while the charter list is still open, will get a big bargain, for in addition to the monthly boxing shows, which are easily worth $1.50, the monthly dues, they will have the privileges of the finely equipped gymnasium, together with expert instruction in athletics, gymnastics and whatever games they choose to adopt, as well as the use of the billiard and pool tables and the library.

—o—

Handball.

The drawings for tomorrow's handball games in the club tournament have been made as follows:

9:30 a. m.—Blake & Blake vs. Lobner & Strackan.

10 a. m.—Yoerk & Mansfield vs. Delano & Marsden.

10.30 a. m.—Donald & Morris vs. McCollock & Warren.

11 a. m.—Shaw & Bacon vs. Duval & Pugh.

Second Class.

Payne & Shannon vs. Toland & Wahlander.

MacDonough & Barnes vs. Shorrock & Wahlander.

MacDonough & Sprague vs. Rose & Ross.

Senf & Mattison vs. McGregor & Morgan.

Corson & Williams vs. Curly & Gray.

Sollars & Eames vs. Cox & Simmermacher.

Notice is given by Handball Commissioner George Yoerk, that any player not showing up tomorrow to play his schedule will be dropped from the tournament, without any further formality.

—o—

Notes.

Club Captain Delano is planning a track meet to be held by grammar school boys, with a view to developing new material for the club. He is also arranging for a relay race between the club, the Y. M. C. A. and the high school.

W. Pugh has been made Billiard Commissioner, and is looking around for talent with which to inaugurate a billiard tournament in the near future.

The Directors extend their thanks, for materials sent in to the Christmas Tree jinks, to Brown & Doyle, Maloney & O'Brien, Masler & Abrams, Maloney & Douglas, and the Messrs. Loughlin, Ferguson, Brayton, Hoffman and Ah Wing. The latter supplied the instruments for the Chinese Band.

ARRANGING TRIP FOR FOUR LOCAL BOXERS

SAC. BEE-1-10-11

President A. Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club left last night for Oakland to make arrangements for the appearance there of four young boxers of the local club. It is proposed to pit the Sacramento lads against boys of the Redwood Club of Oakland. Hoffman expects to make definite arrangements for the contests before he returns to this city.

The quartet it is planned to send to Oakland will include Murray, Salvadore, Ahern and Muskrat.

S.F. CHRON. 1-17-11

Annual Championship of P. A. A. U. Promises Some Interesting Play About Bay.

The annual championship basket-ball tournament of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, scheduled to commence on February 1st, promises to be the most successful affair of the kind ever conducted under the auspices of the organization. At a meeting of the committee in charge of the tournament, which was held yesterday afternoon, it was announced that forty-four teams had entered in the five different weight divisions. This is an increase of five over the number that participated last year, and while the additional teams are not so numerous, the proportion is greater when it is considered that the Pacific Association tournament is an open meet and that it will be conducted at the same time as the Academic Athletic, Catholic Schools League and the Public Schools League tournaments.

No further entries will be received, as the time for sending in the blanks with the names of the players on all aspiring teams expired yesterday afternoon. The committee, consisting of Robert Dodd, George Schlitter and Charles Minto, immediately set to work arranging the schedule for the long series of games which will be played in this city on the courts of the Irish-American and the Tamalpais clubs in the Mission. There are many teams entered from Oakland and Berkeley, and the committee intends, wherever possible, to have the teams across the bay compete on the other side, only coming to San Francisco to play in the final schedule.

Honors are to be decided in five classes in the approaching tournament, including the 110-pound class, 120-pound class, 130-pound class, 145-pound class and the unlimited class. Teams have been entered from all of the high schools, branches of the Young Men's Christian Association, Catholic colleges and the many athletic clubs. Altogether over 300 athletes will participate in the tournament, the mixture of the various institutions establishing one of the most desirable atmospheres in amateur athletics.

130-POUND TEAMS IN FIELD.

The 130-pound division has attracted the largest number of teams, as thirteen organizations in all have entered fives in this class. In the unlimited class there are seven teams, including the Stockton All Stars, Olympic Club and the University of California of last year's list of teams. Of the high schools about the bay, Oakland, Cogswell, Oakland Polytechnic and Lick are represented. The competition between the teams from the Catholic colleges will be spirited in view of the entry of St. Mary's, St. Ignatius' and Sacred Heart in the majority of the different classes. St. Ignatius has entered all but the 110-pound class, while St. Mary's has teams in all but the unlimited division. Oakland High School enters three teams, as does the Columbia Park Boys' Club. The University of California will be represented with two teams, one in the 145-pound class and the unlimited class. The entries in their different classes are as follows:

110-pound class — Oakland High School, St. Mary's College, Cogswell Polytechnic College, San Leandro Athletic Club, St. Peter's School, Sparks Juniors, Columbia Park Boys' Club.

120-pound class — Oakland High School, St. Mary's College, Cogswell Polytechnic College, Telegraph Juniors, Lick Tigers, Columbia Park Boys' Club, Berkeley Y. M. C. A., St. Ignatius' College.

130-pound class—Smilers Juniors, Sacred Heart Juniors, Oakland Y. M. C. A., Stockton Y. M. C. A., First Congregational Cadets of Oakland, Swastikas of the San Francisco Y. M. C. A., St. Ignatius' College, St. Peter's Alumni, Petaluma, Ggeetti, Tamalpais Athletic Club, Columbia Park Boys' Club, St. Mary's College.

145-pound class—Telegraphs, Oakland Seniors, University of California, Berkeley Y. M. C. A., Lone Stars, St. Ignatius' College, Columbia Park Boys' Club, St. Mary's College.

Unlimited class—Olympic Club, University of California, St. Ignatius' College, Argonauts, Berkeley Y. M. C. A., Sacred Heart College, Stockton Y. M. C. A. (All Stars), University of California.

The schedule of games will be published by the basket-ball committee this week, with the time and place where each game is to be contested. Officials for the games are yet to be selected, the choice of a referee to be made from the list of well-known basket-ball experts in this vicinity.

Sacramento Five Enters A. A. Tourney

S.F. CHRON. 1-20-11

The entry list for the annual basket-ball tournament of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union was reopened at the monthly meeting of the board of managers on Wednesday to admit the 135-pound team from the Sacramento Athletic Club. Through some oversight on the part of the committee the Sacramento Club failed to receive an official entry blank for the tournament. After delegate Otto Rittler had explained the facts relative to the club's position the committee decided to eliminate the rule concerning the entries to the extent that it did not affect the Sacramento Club's representation.

Two prospective new members were reported considering joining the association at the next meeting. The membership committee announced that the applications of the Oakland Young Men's Christian Association and the League of the Cross Cadets would be presented at the next assembly of the board of managers.

The Columbia Athletic Club, the Mission organization which has been making an effort to foster amateur boxing during the past two years sent in its resignation. No reason is given for the withdrawal of the organization.

EXCURSION TO TRUCKEE IS NOW A CERTAINITY

SAC. BEE. 1-21-11

Believed Between 200 and 300 Will Make Trip to Mountain Town

The excursion to Truckee being promoted by the Sacramento Athletic Club is a certainty. More than 80 applications for tickets for the trip have already been received and it is evident between 200 and 300 persons will make the trip.

The excursion is not designed solely for members of the Athletic Club. All friends of the Club will be welcomed and all will have the same treatment.

The popular plan now is to organize little private parties. One party, including seventeen girls with chaperones, has already been organized. Another group includes twenty, a majority of them married.

The start from here will probably be made the evening of February 18th, returning early Monday morning. The Southern Pacific has agreed to run a special train and low rates have been guaranteed. Before another week has passed definite announcement will be made as to all details of the excursion, including the exact time of leaving, the returning time, the cost and the accommodations.

Immediately after these arrangements are completed, the Committee in charge will arrange a program of activities for the day at Truckee. It is proposed to send delegations in advance to complete these details.

The tentative program includes skating, sleighing, skeing, a snow fight, banquet and a dance in the evening.

It may be a tired and sleepy crowd that returns Monday morning, but it is about certain all will feel well repaid for the exertion.

TOKAY LEAGUE PLANS TO INVADE THIS CITY

SAC. BEE. 1-21-11

Arrangements to Be Made for a Six-Team Circuit

Representatives and managers of baseball teams will gather at Stockton, to-morrow with the aim in view to extend the territory of the Tokay League, or organize a league for the season of 1911 that will include teams from Sacramento, Stockton, Galt, Lodi and possibly other interior cities, the evident intention being to give Stockton and other points continuous ball on all Sundays, and fill the open Sunday dates at Buffalo Park, when the Sacramento Coast League team is away from home.

For months preliminary work toward that end has been going on. Present indications now are that Sacramento will have two teams in the league, the Panama Murphys and Sacramento Athletic Club. Galt will have one team, to be managed by Jack Herne of last season's Wiley B. Allens, who later, for Galt with the same team, gave the leaders in the Tokay League more than they bargained for in the race for the championship which would mean three teams composed of ball players from the ranks in this city.

Stockton would be represented by two teams: Lodi another, forming a six-team circuit.

Both Panama Murphy and Herne, when spoken to on the subject, would say nothing, further than to acknowledge they had planned a trip to Stockton to-morrow, but whether on business pertaining to baseball they would smilingly neither affirm nor deny.

RIVAL TEAMS' EVEN BREAK

SAC. BEE. 1-23-11

Basketball teams representing the Y. M. C. A. and the Sacramento Athletic Club split even in a double-header played at the S. A. C. club-rooms last night. The heavyweight team of the Association defeated the Athletics by a score of 39 to 17 and the lightweights lost to the S. A. C. team by a score of 34 to 17. A good sized crowd witnessed the games.

REHEARSING PARTS FOR BIG MINSTREL SHOW

Athletic Club Arranging Affair for Next Month

Rehearsals are progressing satisfactorily for the minstrel show to be given at the Clunie Theater the evening of Friday, February 3d, by the Sacramento Athletic Club. The program, as being arranged, will be divided into two parts, one of music and dialogue, the other of athletic feats, with perhaps a sketch in between.

The special feature of the musical section of the program will be furnished by a chorus of thirty, fifteen young women and fifteen men. There will also be numerous solos, some of the best vocal talent of the city having volunteered for the occasion.

Dr. Lloyd B. Waggoner has consented to preside as interlocutor and his ready wit and excellent delivery well fits him for the position.

33 NEW MEMBERS AND 35 APPLICATIONS FOR S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 1-20-11

Thirty-three new members enrolled and thirty-five additional aplications for membership on file is the record to date of the membership campaign of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The campaign was started the first of the month. Before it is concluded, it is expected 200 new members will have been enrolled.

The Directors, at their last meeting, extended membership in the club to the following:

H. C. West, J. Marks, E. Fields, Jesse Felleman, M. Jacinto, Orll V. Calleway, C. Rothwell, A. E. Santos, W. M. Fisher, J. Corrie, M. Cantete, A. A. Fouts, Jack Jansen, H. W. Ogg, M. Marks, J. Pappa, W. J. Hunt, E. Pierini, Ed Meyers, M. Fertancef, G. H. Cave, G. A. Anderson, R. J. Miller, Vincent Siemas, N. Kerson, J. E. Mahaney, T. R. Quaas, L. B. Murphy, J. H. Williams, F. A. Jones, W. J. Criswell, A. D. La Vigne, A. C. Rosenberg.

The Membership Committee is composed of J. Blake, F. Bacon, E. Horton, L. Ferguson, I. Hallanan, J. Maloney and C. Phillips. Each is a captain and has four or five assistants of his own selection.

The thirty-five applications for membership, together with the others that will come in within the next few days, will be acted upon by the Directors of the S. A. C. at their meeting next week.

GOOD CARD ARRANGED FOR ATHLETIC SHOW

SAC. BEE. 1-21-11

Goulard and Moyce Are Matched for Main Event

Five bouts have been arranged for the boxing show to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club next Friday evening. These bouts are :

Moyce versus Goulard, 145 pounds.
Azevedo versus Ahern, 122 pounds.
Murray versus Day, 118 pounds.
Schreck versus Pappa, 150 pounds.
Muskrat versus Romero, 125 pounds.

Boxing Commissioner Hoffman expects to complete the card the first of the week. As material he has Raymond, 150 pounds; Salvadore, 118; Romero, 126; Nevis, 118, and Bowman, 126. If outside opponents are not secured for these boys, Romero and Bowman will be sent together and Salvadore and Nevis will exchange wallops.

Moyce and Goulard are to supply the main event. They have demonstrated their willingness to put up a gruelling scrap, and it is milling of this kind that appeals to the fans.

Azevedo and Ahern are on for a special event place. They met last month and put up one of the prettiest scraps seen in this city for a long time. They are quick, willing and apparently very evenly matched.

The return bout between Schreck and Pappa will undoubtedly prove a drawing card. The club members appreciated the affair of last month and more of the same will be worth the price of admission.

Muskrat is going up against a tough proposition in Romero. What Romero did to his opponent last month took only about 30 cents and then a count of ten to tell. Muskrat believes things will be different this time, but then Romero has a dangerous wallop and it will take all of Muskrat's reputed cleverness to avoid his whirlwind rushes.

SACRAMENTO ENTRY IS ACCEPTED BY P. A. A.

Team Will Compete in Big Basketball Tourney

Otto Rittler, Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, returned from San Francisco last night after having completed arrangements for the appearance of the 135-pound basket-ball team of the club in the P. A. A. basketball series.

Through some oversight on the part of the P. A. A. Committee, entry blanks were not mailed to the Sacramento Club and the entries were declared closed before Sacramento had a chance to act. Rittler immediately went to San Francisco and conferred with the delegates to the P. A. A.

The slight to Sacramento was explained and it was voted to lay aside the rules and accept the Sacramento entry.

GRIDLEY HIGH TO PLAY S. A. C. AT BASKETBALL

SAC. UN. 1-23-11

GRIDLEY (Butte Co.), Jan. 25.—The next event in the sporting line here is a basketball game Saturday evening, the 28th, between the Sacramento Athletic club team and the Gridley high school boys.

The present Gridley team recently defeated the Gridley high school alumni team which in 1909 captured the pennant in the N. C. H. S. A. L. series. As a consequence the present team is considered of championship material and much is expected from it in the coming series.

GOOD BOXING CARD.

Athletic Club to Entertain next Friday Evening.

1-22-11

The regular monthly boxing bouts of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be held next Friday at the club's gymnasium. Only members in good standing will be admitted. Jack Burke will referee.

SUNDAY NEWS

The main event will be between Goulard and Mayce. Ancil Hofman and Professor Otto Rittler had to refuse to match a few anxious amateurs this month on account of the classy card to be presented. S. Day, S. A. C., and E. Murry, S. A. C., at 118 pounds will be first to dance the twostep. Other numbers will be Kenny, S. A. C., vs. Bowen, Oakland, 128 pounds; Salvadore vs. J. Romero, 118 pounds; T. Ahern, S. A. C., vs. Azevedo, S. A. C.

Goulard and Moyce in the main bout will weigh 145 pounds and should put up a slashing go. Each is anxious to fight R. McAllister of the Olympic Club. Hoofman has matched these two boys in order to find out who will represent the S. A. C. against the sturdy Pacific Coast champion next month.

SERIES OF GAMES FOR BASKETBALL TEAMS

SAC. BEE. 1-18-11

Contests To-night, Thursday and Monday Nights

The lightweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club will meet the Boys' Brotherhood team at the Y. M. C. A. court this evening. The same two teams played Monday night, and the Athletics were victorious, the final score being 58 to 30.

The Brotherhood team has improved remarkably during the last two weeks, and from now on will give the Athletic lightweights a severe fight. The game to-night promises to be interesting, and it is a safe prediction the score will be close.

The teams will line up as follows:

Athletics—Lovich (captain); Day or Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Sprague, Salvadore, guards.

Brotherhood—O'Neil, Rubridge, forwards; Anderson, center; Hicks, Haggerdy, guards.

Thursday evening the heavy weight team of the Athletic Club will go against the crack five of the Y. M. C. A., the game to be played at the Y. M. C. A. court.

Monday night of next week the Athletic heavies will stack up against the High School team. This game will be played at the Sacramento Athletic Club court.

Simon Sturmer has offered a cup for the best individual basketball player in the Athletic Club and the rivalry for the cup is now becoming keen. The cup will be awarded at the close of the P. A. A. basketball series.

FORTY TEAMS IN BASKETBALL TOURNEY

P. A. A. Championship Games Are Scheduled to Start on February 1st.

S.F. EX. —— 1-17-11

ENTRIES for the Pacific Athletic Association basketball tournament were announced yesterday afternoon by the basketball committee, consisting of George Schlitter, as chairman, Charles Minto and R. W. Dodd. Over forty teams will take part in the tourney and the event promises to be one of the largest ever held on this Coast.

The games will start on February 1st, and the committee hopes to be able to match the fives in such a manner that all the weaker teams will be eliminated. The registration committee will meet to-morrow afternoon and the amateur standing of the contestants will be considered.

The courts have not been fully decided on, though there is every possibility of all the matches being played in the Tamalpais or Irish-American Clubs' gymnasiums.

The Columbia Park Boys' Club and St. Mary's College have entered four teams each in the tourney and both organizations are expected to make a hard bid for several of the championships. The famous All-Star team of Stockton has sent in its entry and the long looked for match between them and the newly-formed Argonaut Star team is already being looked forward to. Several of the local high schools will also be represented in the lighter classes.

The entries are:

130-pound Class—Sacred Heart Juniors, Stockton Y. M. C. A., Congregational Cadets, Y. M. C. A. Swastikas, St. Ignatius College, St. Peters Alumni, Petaluma, Tamalpais Club "Imps", St. Mary's College, Columbia Park Boys' Club, Smilers' Jrs., Oakland Y. M. C. A.

Unlimited Class—St. Ignatius College, Argonauts, Berkeley Y. M. C. A., Sacred Heart College, Stockton All Stars, University of California, Olympic Club.

ELK GROVE TO MEET BROTHERHOOD

SAC. ON. —— 1-21-11

Well Matched Basketball Fives to Meet at Y M. C. A. Tonight.

Basketball enthusiasts will witness some interesting playing at Y. M. C. A. hall tonight, when the well-matched teams of Elk Grove and the Boys' Brotherhood clash. Previous to this game the Spartans and the Y. M. C. A. boys will play a match.

In spite of the fact that the Elk Grove five beat the Boys' Brotherhood in December on the Elk Grove court, the brotherhood team expects to carry away a hard-fought victory. The brotherhood team has been considerably strengthened and improved in team work. Following is the lineup of the Boys' Brotherhood team: Forwards, Watwood and O'Neil; center, Anderson; guards, Hicks and Assaoe Assalenea; substitutes, Haggerty and Rutledge.

HANDBALL CONTEST CLOSE.

With three teams tied for first place, the race for the handball championship at the Sacramento Athletic Club is engrossing the attention of the members. Blake Brothers, Mansfield and Yoerk and Morris and Donald all stand at .750 per cent. The big games to-day will be between Blake Brothers and Mansfield and Yoerk and will practically decide the contest. If the teams split even, Morris and Donald will have a chance for the championship. Should Blake Bros. win both games, the medal will probably go to them. Expecting a hard game, the Blakes have been practicing all week.

In the second class, Barnes and McDonough suffered their first defeat last Sunday at the hands of Shorrock and Wahlander. They still have a good lead, however, and are looked upon as the winners. SAC. SUNDAY NEWS

The drawings for to-day are as follows: 1-15-11

First Class.

Blake Bros. vs. Yoerk and Mansfield.

Bacon and Shaw vs. Duval and Pugh.

Swimming is to be taken up immediately by the Capital City Wheelmen. Captain Bentley is now organizing a team. Bentley believes it will be possible to organize a strong team within a few weeks, and the Sacramento water experts will then be ready to compete with any of the teams on the Coast.

A whist tournament is to be commenced by the Wheelmen Monday night. It will start immediately after the business meeting. Following the tournament, an active campaign for new members is to be inaugurated.

SAC. STAR

Eight fast amateur boxing bouts are on the program of the Sacramento Athletic Club for their regular monthly tournament tonight.

From all appearances Matchmaker Hoffman has arranged a very attractive card. Several of the matches promise to be whirlwind affairs. Some of the boys have knockout punches and are desirous of using them. Some lively milling is expected.

The card follows: Day vs. Murray, 118 pounds; Nevis vs. Bowen, 120 pounds; Salvadore vs. Romero, 118 pounds; Pappa vs. Schreck, 150 pounds; Ahern vs. Azevedo, 120 pounds; Muskrat vs. Romero, 125 pounds; Erickson vs. West, 155 pounds; Goulard vs. Moyce, 145 pounds.

CHAMPIONS LAST YEAR SORELY PRESSED BY NEWCOMERS

Some Lost Their Laurels, While Others Experienced Narrowest of Escapes.

Sporting activity in America during the year that has just come to an end showed an increase of interest in practically every branch. Herewith is presented portraits of the champions in almost every branch of sport. There was scarcely a competition of any nature that did not bring out newcomers in the entry lists, and that the old champions were forced to their limit to retain their laurels was evident from the number of new records made. While all those who held premier positions in their specialties at the close of 1909 did not maintain their prestige, those who deposed them proved worthy successors. In the main, though, the figures that stood out as the leaders a year ago held on well to the prizes they had earned.

Among the many that stand at the top now, in their particular lines of sport there are several who by repeating victories appear to be in a class practically by themselves, and, looking ahead, it seems hardly possible that the new year will see any one developed to supplant them.

The one figure that appears to be most securely intrenched in a championship niche is Charles M. Daniels, the great New York A. C. swimmer. He did not compete as much as usual last year, but nearly every time he swam a new record was established.

"Jack" Johnson, the heavyweight boxing champion, is another whose reign looks safe for another year at least, while "Willie" Hoppe, billiard champion in two classes, played such a wonderful game all year that no one appears in sight who is able to threaten him seriously.

Other champions who retain their titles and are head and shoulders above every one else are Edmund Lamy, the leading ice skater Miss Dorothy Campbell, who for the second time won the women's golf championship, and Jay Gould, the best court tennis player.

Some of the others who maintained their prestige, but whose hold is not so secure as those mentioned, are Frank Kramer, bicyclist; "Ty" Cobb, leading batter; W. A. Larned, tennis champion; Cornell, first in rowing, and Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, the woman tennis champion, with Miss May Sutton out of the game, though the last naned is practically in a class by herself.

Despite the extremely dangerous nature of the sport of aviation, Ralph Johnstone was the only American aeroplane pilot whose life had been sacrificed to aerial navigation until the sad news of the death of John B. Moisant and Arch Hoxsey was flashed over the world. There were no more daring spirits than these three, and no American aviators who had been more brilliantly successful. Taking into consideration that thirty aviators lost their lives throughout the world in 1910, America's percentage of fatalities is not excessively high.

TRIP OF LOCAL BOXERS POSTPONED FOR A MONTH

SAC. BEE. 1-14-11

The proposed trip of a quartet of local boxers to Oakland will not be made until next month. Director Rittler of the Athletic Club received word yesterday that the Redwood Club, the Oakland organization before which the local boys are to appear, has not yet had its application for membership in the Pacific Association acted upon. It must be admitted to the P. A. A. before the local boys, who are amateurs, can compete before it.

THIRTY NEW MEMBERS FOR ATHLETIC CLUB

Thirty new members since the first of the year is the record made by the Sacramento Athletic Club. There has been no active organized campaign for members, but the Club's popularity is rapidly increasing and many are realizing the advantages it offers.

Encouraged by this increase, the Directors are now planning to go out with a dragnet and keep the good work up. It is believed the membership can easily be increased a hundred.

HANDBALL FOR SUNDAY

Sunday morning at 10 a. m., the handball enthusiasts will witness a hard fought battle between two teams who are tied for Sacramento Athletic Club.

Blake brothers will play Yoerg and Mansfield and if they can win both games will practically cinch their lead. SAC. STAR.

I. Blake is a fine player and can hit the ball with great force and accuracy but to offset this Yoerk's long expreience in the court. He is always cool and collective and it is almost impossible to rattle him, therefore a great game is expected and those who witness this game will see one of the best games of the tournament.

Following are the drawings for Sunday games: 1-14-11

First class—Blake and Blake, vs. Mansfield and Yoerk; Shaw and Bacon vs. Duval and Pugh; Lobner and Strachan vs. Marsten and Delano.

Second class—Payne and Shannon, vs. Toland and Wahlander; Barnes and McDonough, vs. Cox and Simmermacher; Genf and Mattison vs. Sharrock and Wahlander; Rose and Ross vs. McDonough and Pprague.

SIX TEAMS NOW IN TOKAY LEAGUE

Reorganization Includes Two Crack Teams of Sacramento.

SAC. UN. —— 1-23-11

At a meeting held in Stockton yesterday the Tokay league was reorganized, now being composed of six teams. The Tokay league has invaded Sacramento, two teams from this city having joined the organization. Sacramento will be represented in the league by the Panama Murphy Independents and the Sacramento Athletic club teams. The other teams of the league are Tully and Byrnes and Phonos' Braves of Stockton, with Lodi and Galt represented. The strengthening of the league through the invasion of Sacramento county will make the organization one of the strongest amateur leagues in the state, and the fans should witness a keen struggle for the pennant. Last season a warm battle was fought in the league for the pennant and this year's play should be even more exciting.

Through the reorganization of the Tokay league the plans of several promoters who were endeavoring to form an amateur league, including Sacramento and several bay cities, will probably fall through.

The league which was to have been formed intended playing in Sacramento on dates when the Coast league teams were here, and the same plan will be adhered to by the Tokay leageu directors, their schedule being arranged so as not to conflict with the Coast league schedule.

PLANS ARE LAID FOR A SWEDISH-AMERICAN MARATHON

SAC. HRON. 1-22-11

Although the Swedish-American Athletic Club has not yet applied to the registration committee of the Pacific Association for a sanction to hold a Marathon race as previously announced, such a request will be favorably granted in spite of opposition from individuals who desire to discourage this kind of sport.

The Swedish-American Club in scheduling the proposed race has in mind the development of long-distance runners who might aspire to compete in the great Marathon race to be held at the Olympic games in Sweden during the summer of 1912. On this occasion more than ever the United States will need the best athletes in the country, and every effort will be made from now until next year to increase the strength of all possibilities over the Marathon distance.

Originally the local club intended to hold the Marathon race on February 29th, but it was stated yesterday that the race will most likely take place on March 19th, in order to give the aspiring runners more time to prepare for the event. As the Pacific Association's annual cross-country run will be contested on March 12th, just one week before the long race, the athletes will be in first-class condition. On March 4th the Academic Athletic League will conduct the annual cross-country run for the high school athletes, which event will also prove a preliminary to the Marathon race.

While few of the details in connection with the Swedish club's race have been made public, a member of the committee stated yesterday that the race will be held in the afternoon of the day selected, and the start will be made at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park. From the Stadium the course will be along the streets to the Ocean Shore grounds at Twelfth and Mission streets, where the remainder of the distance will be covered on the track, so that the greater part of the run will be witnessed by the spectators.

It is further proposed to limit the entries to probably five from each club or less. The idea of the club officials is not to have more than thirty competitors in the run, which will prevent confusion on the track. No athlete under 18 years of age will be allowed to take part in the Marathon race. The Amateur Athletic Union rules that in races of five miles or more 16 years shall be the age limit. Following the discussion at the recent meeting of the Pacific Association delegates it was decided to add two years to the age requirement, which was done on the advice of the Swedish-American officials.

The Sacramento Athletic Club has entered a team in the Pacific Athletic Association handball tournament. SUNDAY NEWS 1-23-11

TO SPEND DAY AT TRUCKEE.

Sacramento Athletic Club Plans Unique Excursion.

What promises to be one of the most enjoyable of all the Winter pleasures put forth by the Sacramento Athletic Club this season will be an excursion to Truckee on February 18th. It is expected that at least 400 or 500 Sacramentans will avail themselves of the excursion to pay a visit to snow covered towns in the heart of the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The train will leave this city at 10:40 p. m. and arrive in Truckee early the next morning. Returning, it will leave Truckee at 8 p. m. and arrive here at 5 a. m. Monday morning.

The entire day Sunday will be spent enjoying sports of various kinds that are common to cold countries but which are rare to native Sacramentans. Skating on the ice, snow shoeing and sleigh riding will all be on the program.

PREPARE FOR MINSTREL SHOW.

Judging from the rehearsals that have already been held, the next Sacramento Athletic Club is going to put on a cracker-jack minstrel show at the Clunie Theater on Friday evening, February 3d. The talent is being trained for the show by Henry White.

Among those who will take part are the following: C. Clark, Captain Stewart, I. L. Nason, A. M. Strachin, Joseph Moloney, Reg Mallett, Roy Wahlander, S. J. Dickson, E. B. Horton, E. M. Bayless, J. M. Gray, E. H. Jordan, W H. Jackson, W. H. Hodgkinson, P. Knight, B. Morgan and I. O'Connor.

FIRST GET THE GOOSE.

The Sacramento Athletic Club was to have held its goose dinner last night, but owing to the rainy weather that prevailed during the week none the club's marksmen were able to out to bag the game, so it has been decided to get the goose first, and then the dinner.

P. A. A. Cross-Country Race Set for March

THE regular monthly meeting of the Board of Managers of the Pacific Athletic Association was held last evening. Twenty representatives were on hand.

The principal business was the awarding of the cross-country championship race to the Visitacion Valley Athletic Association, and the race will probably be held over a course selected by this club in the neighborhood of South San Francisco. A committee of three from the association consisting of C. L. Medlicott, Louis McChrystle and A. Soderman, was appointed to cooperate with the Visitacion Valley Club in the conduct of the race. The championship will probably be held during the first week or second week of March.

The basketball committee reported that the preliminary games in which transbay clubs participated would be played on the courts of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. or on the cadets court,

HONORS DIVIDED BY THE ATHLETICS AND Y. M. C. A.

SAC. BEE 1-27-11

Rival lightweight and heavyweight basketball teams from the Y. M. C. A. and the Sacramento Athletic Club contested last night at the Athletic Club court and honors were divided evenly.

The Athletic lightweights defeated the Y. M. C. A. lightweights by a score of 36 to 14. The heavies of the Y. M. C. A. defeated the Athletic heavies 37 to 19.

The heavyweight game was a surprise, as heretofore the Athletics had consistently beaten the Association players.

George Hicks presided as referee and gave his decisions clearly and decisively.

Only Kidnaper of Ball League

SAC. UNI. 1-24-11

Sacramento's Famous Manager of Ball Clubs in New Role.

J. Panama Murphy has been caught with the goods. Yes, he booked a bloomer at Stockton last Sunday when he kidnaped the Tokay league, and the Stocktonians have slipped the rollers under the old fox and his aide de camp, Dooling of Galt. While Panama failed to get away with the Pat Crowe stuff, it must be amusing to him when he thinks of the manner in which he whirled it over on the chiefs of the Tokay league.

Last Sunday, Murphy and Dooling, as fine a pair of harps as ever climbed a porch, rolled into Stockton on one of the Southern Pacific rattlers and were welcomed by the Tokay magnates.

The Stockton boys were chloroformed after a few minutes' conversation, the anesthetic that was used being known in medical circles as Murphy's salve. When the Stockton boys woke up they found that a meeting of the Tokay league had been held and that J. Panama Murphy had been elected Director General and that two Sacramento teams had been injected into the organization.

STOCKTON FANS PEEVED.

Nix! Not! No! howled the Stockton fans when they learned that their dear Tokay league had been kidnaped by the brace of Celtic safecrackers. They were very much peeved and took the matter up with the managers of the two Stockton and the Lodi teams. The managers of the Tully and Byrnes, Phone Braves and Lodi teams promptly withdrew from Pirate Murphy's league and the organization is disrupted.

The original Tokay league will be in the running next season, and should they dish up the classy artilcle of ball that was presented last season, will have a successful year. In the meantime the only J. Panama is booking dates with up-valley teams and smiles and smiles when puzzled as to his Pat Crowe adventure.

Cross-Country Race Of P. A. A. March 12

S.F. EX. 1-24-11

The annual cross country championship race of the Pacific Athletic Association will be held on Sunday, March 12th. The course will be in the foothills surrounding Visitacion Valley. On Sunday last the committee appointed at the last meeting of the association visited the Visitacion Valley Athletic Association's quarters and mapped out the route that will be followed by the runners.

The distance to be traversed is approximately nine miles and includes all the styles of cross country running that are supposed to be included in a championship race. Starting at Raymond avenue and San Bruno road the runners will hike over the turnpike to the Five Mile House and then turn to the left toward the reservior. From this point they will travel two and a half miles in full view of the spectators at the finishing point while following the flue of the Spring Valley Water Company through the Guadaloupe ranch. The finishing mile and a half will be on the road.

While the championship candidates will be placed in the order of the actual time made over the course, the race will be a handicap affair and the starts will be arranged by John Elliott and Herbert Hauser, whose long experience in allotting handicaps for cross country runs insures a good race and a close finish.

Entries Limited in Swedish A. C. Race

Marathon to Be Held February 26th; Will Finish at Twelfth and Mission.

S.F. Ex. 1-27-11

The Swedish-American Athletic Club is busy making arrangements for the Marathon race which will be held by the club on February 26th. It will be the first race held over the classic distance for several years. The club is planning to limit the entries from each club to five and keep the total number of starters down to thirty.

It is the present intention of the club management to start the race in the Golden Gate Park Stadium and have the runners traverse the driveways of the park to Oak street, and then down that thoroughfare to Market street. From there they will continue to the Ocean Shore Grounds at Twelfth and Mission streets, and complete the long grind of 26 miles and 385 yards on a specially laid-out track on the inclosure.

The club will not accept entries from runners under eighteen years of age. At least ten prizes will be ordered, and it is almost a certainty that the best distance runners of the local amateur organizations will all compete in the Swedish-American club's race.

The local Swedish athletes, like their fellow countrymen in all parts of the world, are busy preparing for the Olympic games which are to be held in Stockholm next year. The prospect of a trip to their native land and a chance to compete in the championship Marathon race of the world is spurring on the natives of the land where the games are to be held, and many others who do not come from Sweden are anxious to make a good enough showing to get them a place on the American team.

A. Soderman, whose address is 2184 Fifteenth street, is in charge of the race and will be glad to answer inquiries from runners who intend to participate in the race of February 26th.

GOULARD AND MOYCE IN MAIN EVENT TO-NIGHT

Sacramento Athletic Club Has Classy Card For Boxing Show

SAC. BEE. 1-27-11

The monthly boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be given to-night and good sport is assured. Eight bouts have been carded by Boxing Commissioner Hoffman.

Goulard is to go against Moyce in the main event. Both have been training faithfully and they will enter the ring in good condition. Goulard made good at the show last month and intends to keep up his winning streak. Moyce, in training, appears good and he may prove a surprise to-night.

The return bout between Ahern and Azevedo promises to be the classy event of the evening. They put up a clever bout last month, Ahern winning after an extra round had been called. Ahern should win again to-night, but he will have to extend himself, as Azevedo is determined to wipe out the defeat of a month ago.

Much interest has centered on the return match between Pappa and Schreck. The fans enjoyed their exhibition at the last show and there will be a warm reception for them when they step into the ring to-night. Schreck says he is going to win, Pappa is equally confident, and real fun is assured.

The first bout will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Winged O athletes won the honors at the annual indoor athletic meet held under the auspices of the Olympic Club at the Auditorium last night, scoring 28 points, while Berkeley, which finished second, was making 22. The contest for first honors quickly developed into a three-cornered fight between the Olympics, Berkeley and Stanford, and only for the fact that Bellah of Stanford fell on one of the turns in the relay race it would have been a most exciting finish all around.

At the start of the relay race the Olympics were only one point in the lead and Stanford could have taken first place by winning that race. The fall sustained by Bellah caused him to lose the advantage gained by the runner whom he succeeded and the Olympics took the event.

Following are the complete results in all the events:

75-yard dash, first heat—First, R. P. Geissler, Stanford; second, P. Gerhardt, Olympic Club; third, A. Gares, Sacramento Athetic Club; time 0:08. Second heat—First, H. W. Dawson, Stanford; second, W. G. Smeltzer, Pastime Club; third, W. D. Kant, University of California; time 0:08⅕.

PANAMA MURPHY KIDNAPS LEAGUE

Stockton Fans and Amateur Ball Players Resent Losing of Tokay League.

There is sadness in amateur baseball circles in Stockton. The cause of all the grief is J. Panama Murphy of Sacramento. He of the large hat made eighty feet under water and the whimsical smile quietly slipped one over on the Stocktonians at the meeting of the Tokay league held last Sunday. J. Panama not only stole a base, but pilfered a baseball league.

The Tokay league was born in Stockton, and at the reorganization meeting J. Panama was elected president of the board of directors, and two Sacramento teams were injected into the league. The Stocktonians are a bit peeved over the fact that J. Panama slipped in and kidnaped their league, and are not backward in saying so. As a result of the reorganization of the league the Stockton Athletic club team and the Holt and Woodbridge teams were voted out of the league. The friends of both these teams are indignant at the action taken by those reorganizing the league and claim that the success of the league last year was due to the good work of the teams voted out.

S.A.C. CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL RACE

Athletes in Training for Run Around Capitol Next Sunday.

Thirteen athletes, members of the Sacramento Athletic club, are diligently training for the annual race of the club around Capitol park, which will be held next Sunday. Track Commissioner C. C. Stewart of the club will keep the entry list for the race open until Saturday night. Those making the best showing in Sunday's race will be chosen to represent the club at Stockton Washington's birthday, when a twenty-five-mile Marathon race is to be held. The course around Capitol park is one mile and an eighth and was negotiated in 5.14 last year by Stewart, winner of the race. Those who finished behind Stewart last year were McNeely with a 5.16 mark and Sparks in 5.17. Day is expected to finish close up Sunday, and Childs, who has been in training for some time will make a good showing. A. Sherwin, formerly of the Berkeley high school, has entered the race and may be the surprise. Following are the entries to date:

C. C. Stewart, S. Day, J. Childs, D. Wickham, A. Hart, M. Salrader, H. Holmes, H. Sprague, Williams, L. E. Ferguson, H. Jackson, B. Bedee, A. Sherwin.

All Aboard for Truckee.

If you can't get a board get a shovel, for you may need it, as there will be lots of snow in Truckee when the club special gets there.

Arthur Delano has asked the following committee to make the final arrangements for the one big time: C. E. Philips, B. Reidy, A. Delano, H. Bronson, O. Rittler, L. Lobner, R. Cothrin and F. Bacon. The boys have already made up a rough program. It is the desire of the committee to get as many of the members and their friends, mothers and sweethearts, as possible to make this trip, as there is a jolly time in store for every one going.

The special train will leave Sacramento on or about February 19th at 10:40 p. m. in order to give all the boys that work in the stores a chance to get in the sport. This is the first time that the club has undertaken anything of this kind, and if it is a success it will no doubt be an annual affair. The Olympic club goes each year to the Yosemite for their winter outing and bring out several hundred people every time. As the Sacramento Athletic Club has a big membership our excursion should be as popular as theirs, for it will be much cheaper to go to Truckee than to the Yosemite.

The committee will have something doing every minute between the time we leave Sacramento. The famous Wingards band will be on board, and C. E. Philips, the entertainer, will give a few songs. Then our own Billy Johnson, the sweet tenor soloist, will render a few selections.

On arriving in Truckee in the morning breakfast will be served. Then the fun begins. Snow shoe skating and sleighing will hold sway in the morning. In the afternoon a snow ball fight will be the feautre. J. Gray and George Green will be captains and will choose up sides. One side will wear blue and the other will have red bandana handkerchiefs around their necks. Gray and his army will be known as the blues and Green's men as the reds. A real battle will be fought. A referee will have charge of the combat and two timers will see that it will go the limit—20-minute halves and 10-minute rests in between.

There will be a tired bunch when the whistle blows for the homeward journey, but every one will surely vote it one of the best times they ever had.

—o—

Membership.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Directors the following were elected as new members of the S. A. C.:

H. C. West, J. Marks, E. Fields, Jesse Felleman, M. Jacinto, Oril V. Calleway, C. Rothwell, A. E. Santos, W. M. Fisher, J. Corrie, M. Cantete, A. A. Fouts, Jack Jansen, H. W. Ogg, M. Marks, J. Pappa, W. J. Hunt, E. Pierini, Ed Meyers, M. Fertancef, G. H. Cave, G. A. Anderson, R. J. Miller, Vincent Siemas, N. Kerson, J. E. Mahaney, T. R. Quaas, L. B. Murphy, J. H. Williams, F. A. Jones, W. J. Criswell, A. D. La Vigne and A. C. Rosenberg.

This is a very good showing for a four days' session, as the membership contest only started then. The Membership Committee has appointed J. Blake, F. Bacon, E. Horton, L. Ferguson, I. Hallanan, J. Maloney, C. Philips to act as captains, and from the looks of their work the club will have two hundred or more new members before the month is over. The club never had a brighter future. The athletic commissioners are keeping the boys going in football, basketball, handball, track and field, boxing, wrestling, gymnastic and apparatus work, and have arranged some good sport.

There will be a billiard or pool tournament in about two weeks. W. Pugh will have charge of this favored pastime. Henry White is hard at work with the boys, working up the big Minstrel Show, and rehearsals are progressing nicely. The next singing rehearsal will be held next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock sharp, at St. Paul's Parish House, Fifteenth and J streets.

That Minstrel Show.

Rehearsals are in full swing for the S. A. C. Minstrel Show, which is to be given at the Clunie Theater on the evening of February 3. The semicircle of the first part will contain some thirty singers and comedians and the end men report that their jokes are horribly funny. Dr. Lloyd B. Waggoner has consented to act as interlocutor, and his dignity and gravity in the part are said to be monumental. The olio is to wind up with a musical finale which will engage the services of fifteen young men and fifteen ladies. This feature is under the direction of George A. Cummings, who is a club member and a leading actor in the Camellians.

Tickets for the show will be ready early next week and the Directors will start a campaign of hustling, aided by the full membership. It is expected that the house will be sold out solidly long before the date of the show.

—o—

Handball.

George Yoerk, Handball Comsioner, has demonstrated that handball is one of the most popular sports of the present time. As Commissioner he has certainly made good. If the club had a few more like Mr. Yoerk, it would soon be up with the leading athletic organizations of the country. Few words and a lot of hard work for the club is his motto.

Tomorrow will practically decide the championship, as the Blake Brothers will play Mansfield and Yoerk. Three teams are tied for first place, and this game will change things around a little and should bring out a lot of the members.

Donald and Morris, the other team tied, will not be seen in action this Sunday. In the second class, Barnes and McDonough have everything their own way.

1st Class.

Day and Murray are down for a few love taps, and Moyce and Goulard are slated for the main event. Then there are the Romero twins, who will appear.

A return match is on between Pappy and Schreck. Prof. Johnson is seen every class night working out with the boys and is kept busy. There are lots of new faces to be shown at the next entertainment. Erickson, Salvador, Ahern and Azevedo may be called upon to waltz around with the new ones.

Club Gossip

The first big minstrel show of the Sacramento Athletic Club will take place at the Clunie Theater on Friday evening, February 3. The boys are rehearsing faithfully and frequently, under the direction of Henry White, and promise to give a bright, snappy show, into which, it is solemnly asserted, not one single aged jest will be allowed to creep. The first part will introduce four end men, in W. Craig Walker, Leo Lobner, Ralph McClatchy and George A. Cummings, while the interlocutor will be Dr. Lloyd B. Waggoner. Ballads will be sung by Billy Johnson, Walter Leitch, Walter Longbotham and Tommy Clifton, supported by a chorus of over twenty trained voices. The finale of the first part will be a surprise, concerning which nothing can be divulged except that Master Van Horton will have a prominent part in it.

The olio will bring out the full athletic, as well as the comedy abilities of the club. There will be a club juggling act, a Roman statuary stunt and an acrobatic specialty, and other numbers will consist of a brand new monologue by J. S. Butler and a negro sketch in which Walker, White, Waggoner and McClatchy will take part. Those who have seen the rehearsals say that Craig Walker makes an awfully cute colored girl. This sketch will introduce certain allusions, it is said, which will make the members lampooned sit up and tear their hair.

The finale of the show will introduce a company of thirty, including fifteen young ladies who have volunteered to help out the boys. It will be a musical sketch introducing some of the very latest song hits from Broadway and much is expected of it.

Among the members who have signed up for the show and are now in active training are C. Clark, Captain Stewart, I. L. Nason, A. M. Strachin, Joseph Moloney, Reg Mallett, Roy Wahlander, S. J. Dickson, E. B. Horton, E. M. Bayless, J. M. Gray, E. H. Jordan, W. H. Jackson, W. H. Hodgkinson, P. Knight, B. Morgan and I. O'Connor, and these are not all.

Tickets for the show will be placed on sale today. Each of the Directors will go out hustling, aided by the members, and the prediction is made that the last ticket will be sold long before the date of the show.

The Goose Feed.

Tonight is the time set for the big goose feed. The geese have been secured by Jack Inman and some other Nimrods of the club, and there will be plenty of light meat, dark meat, drumsticks and wishbones for all hands. Those who like wild goose will have the time of their lives. And everybody in the club likes wild goose.

Race Around the Capitol.

The second annual race around the Capitol will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The course is one and one-eighth miles, and should bring out a big entry list. This race will open the track season. Also it will give Track Commissioner C. It is hoped that every member who is going to try out for the track this year will take advantage of this race. Club Captain Arthur Delano has offered three medals for the winners. The following boys had signed up for the race when the Weekly went to press: C. C. Stewart, L. Day, J. Childs, D. Wickham, A. Hart, M. Salvador, J. Holmes, H. Sprague, Doc Williams, L. E. Minstrels Next Friday.

On Friday evening next, February 3d, the Sacramento Athletic Club will give its first big minstrel show at the Clunie Theater. With a membership of nearly a thousand bright young men from which to pick talent, ample material has been found to give what promises to be easily the best amateur show of its kind ever presented in Sacramento.

The show will be strong musically, as well as in athletic and comedy features. Billy Johnson, Walter Leitch, Tommy Clifton and Walter Longbotham are too well known as soloists to need boosting at this late date. They will all appear in the first part, backed up by a strong chorus of thirty male voices and accompanied by a large orchestra. On the ends will be W. Craig Walker, Leo Lobner, George Cummings and Ralph McClatchy, jesters of experience, and there will be a surprise of a comedy nature in this part contributed by Charley Phillips, who used to be a professional until he married and settled down. Dr. L. B. Waggoner will give due dignity to the job of interlocutor. As a finale to the first part—but that will be another surprise, and the nature of it must not even be hinted at.

The olio will offer an elaborate Roman statuary posing act, under the personal direction of Professor Rittler; a quartet number, with saxaphone solos by H. F. Curlee; a monologue by C. E. Phillips; a farcical negro sketch, "The Darktown Police Court," in which Dr. Waggoner, W. Craig Walker, Ralph McClatchy, E. H. Jordan and Henry White will take part; a spectacular club juggling act and a grand finale in which Mr. Cummings and Miss Willa Lobner will be accompanied by thirty young ladies and gentlemen, introducing new songs and effective dances.

A strikingly original feature of this show will be the fact that there won't be a "deadhead" in the house. The re-

The Membership Contest.

The S. A. C. membership contest now on between regularly organized teams of hustlers, is proving to be a greater success even than was originally expected. The boys report that getting new members is a comparatively easy matter, owing to the fact that there are no initiation fees to pay, and that the candidate becomes a full-fledged member as soon as he is passed by the committee, on payment of $1.50—one month's dues.

The benefits to be derived are fully equal to those obtainable in any athletic club on the Pacific Coast, and for a much smaller amount. The gymnasium is fully equipped, and members have the advantage of an expert athletic teacher and trainer in Professor Otto Rittler. There are free shower baths for use after exercise, and the non-athletic member will find comfort and entertainment in the billiard and reading rooms. Once a month amateur boxing shows are put on exclusively for the members, and these alone are worth the amount of the monthly dues. The boys are usually evenly matched, but where one contestant is outclassed the referee promptly stops the proceedings and there is no danger of actual injury.

There is no reason why the present campaign should not see the membership of the club doubled.

Fast Basket-Ball.

In a double-header played at the S. A. C. gym Thursday night the Athletics and Y. M. C. A. teams each won a game.

The first game between the Spartans, as the S. A. C. lightweights are called, and the Y. M. C. A. 130-pound team was a clean-cut exhibition of the popular winter pastime. While the Spartans won 36 to 14, the score by no means tells the story of the game, which was a fast affair throughout. Playing fifteen-minute halves the boys went after everything in a spirited manner, and kept the spectators on edge every minute. The first half ended with the score 12 to 4 in favor of the club team, and in the second period they managed to roll up 24 points, while the association team was netting 10. Watwood and Anderson were the stars of the Y. M. C. A., while Sprague and Luke were in the limelight for the Spartans.

The heavy-weight game was in some measure a slugfest. Being short two of their best men, the club team were handicaped because they could not work their signals and were in consequence defeated by the Y. M. C. A. boys for the first time. But at that the association boys played a great game and deserve full credit for their splendid showing.

The past few games played by the Spartans have convinced Prof. Rittler that with a little more conscientious practice they have the chance of a lifetime to annex a championship for the club. The boys are all in good shape, and only lack that all-essential team work, which is the best and most necessary part of every basketball team. Rittler declares by all that is good that they will practice, too, if they want to represent the club, as the S. A. C. must have a crack team in the P. A. A. meet or none at all. The boys are all there with the head work and have their eye on the basket.

The peculiar part of the games played Thursday night was the reversal of form shown by all the teams that played. Last week the Spartans beat the Y. M. C. A. heavy-weight team 24 to 14, and then the Y. M. C. A. heavy-weights turn right around and won from the club heavy-weight team. But then the Spartans are some team, anyway. They have not lost a game this year yet, and according to Captain "Barb" Lovich they won't lose any, either.

The heavy-weight team leaves for Gridley today at 4 p. m. and expects to add another scalp to its belt.

CAPITOL PARK RACE SUNDAY

SAC. STAR. 1-26-11

The annual race around the Capitol Park, which marks the commencement of the Sacramento Athletic Club track season, will take place Sunday morning. Great interest is being shown in this race, for which a large squad of athletes have been training diligently for some time. Track Commissioner Stewart announces that those making the best showing will be sent to Stockton to represent the club in the races to be held in the Slough City on Washington's birthday.

The course around Capitol Park is a mile and an eight. Stewart, who won last year, made the run in 5:44, and was followed by McNeely, who covered the distance in 5:46. Sparks followed with 5:47.

In all there are 13 men entered in the race. Following are the entries to date:

C. C. Stewart, S. Day, J. Childs, D. Wickham, A. Hart, MM. Salvador, H. Holmes, H. Sprague, Williams, L. E. Ferguson, H. Jackson, B. Bedee, A. Sherwin.

NO CONUNDRUMS AT THE S.A.C, MINSTRELS;---WONDERFUL!

SAC. STAR. 1-28-11

The startling announcement is made that there will not be a single conundrum propounded at the minstrel show of the Sacramento Athletic Club, which is to take place next Friday evening, Feb. 3, at the Clunie Theater. There will, however, be all the other minstrel essentials, such as old-time ballads, a few modern ones, a whole raft of jokes for the end men, including some gags; and choruses galore. There will be 30 male voices in the first part, supporting the balladists, Walter Leitch, Walter Longbotham, Billy Johnson and Tommy Clifton. The element of comedy, aside from the efforts of the bones and tambourine virtuosoes, will be found in a negro sketch which will enlist the services of Dr. L. B. Waggoner, E. H. Jordan, W. Craig Walker, Henry White and Ralph McClatchy; a monologue by C. E. Phillips and a musical afterpiece in which George A. Cummings and Miss Willa Lobner will be assisted by 15 young women and 15 young men. The olio will also include a Roman statuary act, by Prof. Otto Rittler and six of his athletic pupils; a vocal and instrumental quartet made up of Billy Johnson, E. H. Jordan, H. F. Curlee and F. C. Schuler, and a club juggling act.

The tickets for the show are selling rapidly at the hands of the special committee organized to dispose of them and a crowded house is assured. Tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at the Clunie box office on the morning of next Friday.

Annual Race of Athletes.

Several members of the Sacramento Athletic club are training for the annual race of the club around Capitol park, which will be held tomorrow. The entry list for the race will be kept open until tonight. Those making the best showing in tomorrow's race will be chosen to represent the club at Stockton on Washington's birthday, when a twenty-five-mile Marathon race is to be held. The course around Capitol park is one mile and an eighth and was negotiated in 5.44 last year by Stewart, winner of the race. Those who finished behind Stewart last year were McNeely with a 546 mark and Sparks in 5.47. Day is expected to finish close up tomorrow and Childs, who has been in training for some time, will make a good showing. A. Sherwin, formerly of the Berkeley high school, has entered the race and may be the surprise.

Athletes in Minstrelsy.

Friday evening, February 3rd, is set for the date of the Sacramento Athletic Club minstrel show at the Clunie theatre. The first part will introduce nearly thirty burnt-corked singers and comedians, including W. Craig Walker, Leo Lobner, Ralph McClatchy and George Cummings as end men and Walter Longbotham, Billy Johnson, Walter Leitch and Tommy Clifton as balladists. Dr. L B. Waggoner will act as interlocutor. Olio features will include a negro sketch in which will appear Henry White, W. Craig Walker, Dr. Waggoner and Ralph McClatchy; a Roman statuary poising act, some club juggling, and an acrobatic specialty. For a finale, fifteen young women and an equal number of young men will appear in a musical melange.

WILLIAM M. HALLANAN.

Excellent Showing Made by W. M. Hallanan Before Committee of City Trustees.

WILLIAM M. HALLANAN, candidate for a position on the police force, last night passed with flying colors the trying physical examination given him under the direction of the board of trustees. While the result of his examination has not yet been made official, those present were satisfied with the athletic performances of the candidate.

Trustee Carraghar and Murphy were the committee before whom Hallanan had his try-out and City Physician Lindsay was in charge. Boxing, jumping, sprinting and tests of strength were among the requirements. While no official time for the hundred-yard dash has been given out, it is said to have been accomplished well under the 15-second limit prescribed.

Dr. Lindsay stated last night that he considered Hallanan, who is a molder in the Southern Pacific shops, to be in good condition.

Special to the Union.

AUGUST (Maine), Feb. 8.—Frank Mantell of Pawtucket, R. I., outfought and nearly knocked out Joe Thomas of San Francisco Tuesday evening at Augusta city hall before a large number of spectators. These two men were matched to fight in California three different times, and always something prevented, but directly across the continent from sunny California to Maine these boys have traveled, anxious to meet each other. Not once did Thomas show any signs of superiority, and in the tenth round took the count of nine, struggling to his feet with the same gameness as when he fought Ketchell and Papke. Mantell shows great improvement and will now stand up against any in his class. After the fight Tuesday evening Mantell stated that it was his intention to return to Sacramento to [illegible]

THREE TEAMS ARE OUT IN P. A. A. TOURNEY OF BASKET-BALL

S.F. Chron. 2-5-11

RESULTS OF LAST NIGHT'S GAMES.

Argonauts 71, Olympic Club 15 (145-pound class).

Cogswell Juniors 31, Telegraph Boys' Club 8 (120-pound class). Game declared forfeit.

Three more teams were eliminated from the competition in the Pacific Athletic Association basket-ball tournament last night on the Tamalpais Club court. The evening's play proved the most exciting in the tournament thus far, beginning with the ruling of Spingola, a player on the Telegraph Hill Club team, off the floor for attempting to give an exhibition of the art of Queensberry, and winding up with the rather easy defeat of the crack Olympic Club team by the Argonaut aggregation.

Sandwiched in between the first and third games the St. Peters and Sacred Heart teams fought it out in the closest and most keenly contested game yet pulled off in the tourney.

With the addition of Gilbert, the center the all-star Argonaut aggregation proved far too strong for the Olympic Club team.

The teams:

Argonauts—G. Tyler and Kemp, forwards; Gilbert, center; Massle and O. Tyler, guards.

Olympic Club—Palmer and Cohen, forwards; Maher, center; McKeever and Lunt, guards.

Field goals—Argonauts 31, Olympic Club 4.

Foul goals—Argonauts 9, Olympic Club 7.

Individual scores—Field goals, Gilbert 11, Palmer 5, Kemp 12, Massle 4, G. Tyler 4, Lunt 1, Maher 2.

Fighting every inch of the way, the St. Peter's Alumni Association team went down to defeat before the Sacred Heart College team in the hardest-fought game yet played in the tournament. The score was 15 to 14 in favor of the Sacred Heart team at half time, and the winners scored just enough points over their opponents in the second half to make the win decisive.

The teams:

Sacred Heart—Crowell and Cummins, forwards; Hunt, center; Flood and Bean, guards.

St. Peters—McKeon and Merrill, forwards; Moriarity, center; Stack and Ryan, guards.

Foul goals—Sacred Heart 8, St. Peters 8.

Individual scores, field goals—Hunt 11, Crowell 1, Cummins 1, McKeon 2, Merrill 5, Moriarity 4. Foul goals—McKeon 4, Merrill 3, Cummins 6. Referee—Raphael.

The Cogswell Midget team would have had very little difficulty in gathering the honors from the Telegraph Hill club. The teams:

Field goals—Cogswell 10, Telegraphs 3.

Foul goals—Cogswell 11, Telegraphs 2.

California and Stanford Are Closely Bunched Behind the Winners.

The annual indoor games of the Olympic Club, held at the Auditorium last night, developed some of the most interesting competition witnessed since the inauguration of this programme several years ago. Although the Winged "O" athletes managed to annex the majority of points, it was a three-cornered fight from the start, with Stanford and the University of California pressing the local team at all times.

Had Captain Bellah of the cardinal team kept his feet on the first turn of the one-mile relay race it is very likely that Stanford would have won the meet. Not being used to the indoor turns, Bellah fell and lost the advantage given him by his teammate. He recovered quickly, however, amid the applause of the enthusiastic crowd and made up much of the distance. The Olympic Club was only one point in the lead at the time of starting the relay race and the five points would have been sufficient to place the Stanford team at the head of the column.

By winning all the three places in the final of the twelve-pound shot, California took second place from Stanford with an advantage of three points. Rice, Scott and Hale all qualified. Dole and Olmstead of Stanford were nosed out in the second round of the preliminary trials. Stanford came to the front in the 300-yard dash, when Campbell took the lead from a large field of starters and won from Cohn of the Olympic Club, who was disqualified for cutting on the turns. Martin of St. Mary's was third, and Joy of the Olympic Club fourth. In the seventy-five yard dash Ted Geissler of Stanford lived up to expectations and won the event from a formidable field of competitors.

Morris, the former Stanford hurdler, running unattached, won the high hurdles from Beeson and Donald of California. This was one of the surprises of the evening, as the blue and gold athletes were figured to have a cinch on the hurdles. Beeson took the low event, however, with Donald second.

Kelley of the Olympic Club just managed to win from his teammate, Craig, in the 600-yard dash, while Burke of the winged "O" team annexed the two-mile run in the creditable time of 10:26. The special 75-yard dash between John Cunningham and Steve Cassidy, veteran runners of the Olympic Club, was won by Cunningham in a very close contest. The winner had the best of the start, Cassidy gaining all the way. Cunningham was equal to a final effort, however, and breasted the tape a yard to the good. The results are as follows:

First heat, 75-yard dash—Won by Geissler (S.), Gerhardt (O. C.) second, Gates (S. A. C.) third; time, 0:08. Second heat won by Dawson (S.), Smeltzer (P. A. C.) second, Kant (O. C.) third; time, 0:08 1-5. Final heat won by Geissler (S.), Gerhardt (O. C.) second, Dawson (S.) third; time, 0:08.

Two-mile run—Won by Burke (O. C.), Vluglet (St. Mary's) second, Gustafson (S. A. C.) third; time, 10:26.

600-yard dash—Won by Kelley (O. C.), Craig (O. C.) second, Smith (unattached) third; time, 1:19 4-5.

High jump—Won by Morrison (S.), Templeton (unattached) second, Taylor (U. C.) third; height, 5 feet 6 inches.

Three standing jumps—Won by Baumbaugh (O. C.), O'Connor (I. A. C.) second, Littlepage (O. C.) third; distance, 28 feet 9½ inches.

One-mile relay race—Won by Olympic Club, Stanford second, Santa Clara third; time, 3:37.

One-mile relay, high schools—Won by Lick, Lowell second, Mission third; time, 3:45.

Seventy-yard low hurdles—First heat won by Beeson, U. C., Morris, unattached, second; time, 0:09. Second heat won by Donald, U. C., Wallace, U. C., second; time, 0:09. Final heat won by Beeson, Donald, U. C., second, Morris, unattached, third; time, 0:08 3-5.

Three-hundred-yard dash—Won by Campbell, S., Martin, St. Mary's, second, and Joy, O. C., third; time, 0:35 3-5.

Seventy-yard high hurdles—Won by Morris, unattached, Beeson, U. C., second, and Wallace, U. C., third; time, 0:09 3-5.

America Will Again Emerge Victor in Next Olympiad, Predicts James E. Sullivan

SAC. UN. 2-5-11

Secretary-Treasurer of A. A. U. and Noted Authority on Amateur Athletics Picks United States Athletes to Carry Off Laurels in 1912 Stockholm Classic — Team Will Be Chosen Solely Upon Present Ability of Performers—President Taft Accepts Honorary Presidency—Interest Is World-Wide.

By JAMES E. SULLIVAN.

Secretary-Treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union and Recognized as the Stanchest Supporter of Amateur Athletics.

NOW that the organization has been perfected, and the Amateur Athletic Union has contributed $1000 toward the expenses of taking a team of American atheletes to Sweden next year for the fifth Olympic games, the question that will from now on be naturally discussed is, What will the character of the team be and who will comprise the team? It looks to experts as though many of the men that made the team of 1908, and who are now figuring quite prominently in the athletic events of this country, will fall by the wayside when the final tests are held that will enable the committee to make the selection, and that simply because, in this country, we are rapidly going forward in matters athletic. Friendships, "pulls," past athletic records will amount to very little in the making up of the 1912 team that will represent America.

If Baron Pierre de Coubertin never did anything else for the cause of theletics then organizing the International Olympic committee and suggesting the revival of the Olympic games, he has accomplished something that will live long after he has died. His committee have in their possession a weapon that will stand for the peace of the world; there is no question about that, because if there is anything that will force the countries to show their hands, and men to show their true calibre, it is athletic competition, for the games must be played fairly and manly; if it is not, the thing dissolves of its own accord.

President Taft is included in the list of officials, having accepted the honorary presidency of the Olympic committee.

GAMES AN INCENTIVE TO YOUTHS.

Again, what an incentive the Olympic games is to the youth of the land! The boys that are attending preparatory schools and high schools at present will be the champions of the next Olympiad. The records of the events, performances of the men and their doings while abroad are watched minutely by every schoolboy lover of athletics, and it is no wonder that the youth of our land train themselves so that when the time comes they may be selected for the Olympic team.

A great deal of the popularity that amateur athletics enjoy in this country can be traced directly to the representation of the United States in former Olympic games. It has created enthusiasm and kept alive interest in track and field athletics and other sports, and one Olympiad is hardly over before the youths of the land are looking forward to the next, and what is true of the situation today will be true of the situation twenty-five years from now. The Olympic games are here to stay; it is a fixture, and, instead of two or three countries striving for the honor of holding these games, the time is not far distant when there will be a dozen countries in competition to hold this classic.

Americans—those who go from the United States to take part in the track and field athletics, and that is, of course with the Americans the important feauture of the Olympic games—have been victorious in all Olympic games, and by a very large majority. At Paris, St. Louis and London the victory in the track and field portion of the Olympic games was very pronounced, and from the calibre of the young men we are producing today in our clubs and schools, and, judging from the reports from other countries, it looks as though the United States will have no trouble in again winning at Stockholm in 1912, because it is well-nigh impossible to produce record-holders in a short space of time; they must be prepared a long while for the final grand performance. We seldom find champion weight-throwers or shot-putters or sprinters developed in a short period. It takes years of hard and conscientious work, so the records of today favor the athletes that will go from the United States.

SHOULD HOLD COMPETITION IN OLPMPIC EVENTS.

It is the intention of the American committee to suggest to each association of the Amateur Athletic Union that during the next season they have competitions in the events that will comprise the official program at Stockholm. This will include one or two events that have never before been contested in this country, such as throwing the discus with both hands, throwing the javelin with both hands, the pentathlon, comprising in the following order, broad jump, discus (free style), 200-meter run, javelin (best hand,) running 1500 meters—points to score according to each event and lowest points to win. There should be at least three or four of these pentathlon contests in each district, to bring forward at once a champion at this kind of what might be termed "all-round" athletics

The question of finances will from now on be all important, and it is to be hoped that the leading clubs, colleges and patrons of American sport will at once forward contributions to Treasurer Julian W. Curtiss, and it is the duty of each association of the Amateur Athletic Union, from the metropolitan to the Hawaiian association, to contribute its share toward raising this fund which will enable the United States to be properly represented.

From the dinner which was held at the home of Mr. Gustavus T. Kirby last week it became evident that the United States will likely have representations in nearly aill sections of the next Olympic games. The athletic end of the program will be well taken care of. Dr. Sayre has promised a revolver team; Dr. Graeme Hammond, of the Fencers' League, announces that the Fencers' League will be represented, and Colonel Thurston, who will have charge of the rifle end of the United States representation, will see that the American delegation is as good as if not better, than that of 1908. Representative Kelsey is keenly interested in the bicycling end of the game, so we must all feel it is going to be the kind of a representation that will enthuse Americans.

There is enthusiasm here because all feel that the games of 1912 will be the type of games to increase friendly relations.

BASKET-BALL TOURNEY OF OAKLAND P. A. A. IS STARTED

S.F. CHRON 2-10-11

OAKLAND, February 9.—The Oakland branch of the P. A. A. basket-ball tournament opened last evening in the gymnasium of St. Mary's College, with three teams entered.

In the opening game the St. Mary's lightweights won handily by a score of 45 to 18.

Ford and Kelley for the collegians played heady games, both negotiating field goals with accuracy, connecting with twenty-eight points jointly. Barrett proved the best player for the losers, who were handicapped by the loss of one of their players. The players:

St. Mary's—Ford and Porter, forwards; Kelley, center; Maher, Cecil and Henneberg, guards.

Oakland Polytechnic—Barrett and Durand, forwards; Hendricks, center; Cannond, guard.

The second game of the evening brought forth considerable fast playing, although the San Leandro five were the short enders on an 18-8 score. Bradley and Fowler displayed the greatest skill for Oakland. The teams:

Oakland High—Harrington, Stewart and Bradley, forwards; Fowler and Jordan, centers; Blote, Garthwaite and Hill, guards.

San Leandro—Matthews, Smith and Clive, forwards; De Mont, center; Hodge and Smith, guards.

The final game of the evening between the St. Mary's 120-pounders and the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. was the best game played from a point of aggressiveness and defense. The final score was 21 to 9 in favor of St. Mary's.

The teams—St. Mary's: Davie and Winsby, forwards; Gaul, center; Young, Weber and Gochuico, guards.

Berkeley Y. M. C. A.: Newton and Lonsburger, forwards; Brigden, center; Irbine and McFarland, guards.

As a result of these games, the three defeated quintets are dropped from the race.

Play in the Oakland branch of the tourney will be continued Friday evening, when the 110-pound team of Oakland High meet the St. Mary's five. The game will be contested at the Cadet Armory, Twelfth and Market streets. Next Monday evening at the St. Mary's gymnasium the 145-pound team of Oakland Polytechnic seniors will clash with the San Leandro Athletic Club quintet. The University of California players are also slated to appear in competition with the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. In the unlimited class the U. C. team will play the Y. M. C. A. five.

OROVILLE BEATS S. A. C. BY SCORE OF 40 TO 11

SAC UN. 2-11-11

Special to the Union.

OROVILLE (Butte Co.), Feb. 10.—In a hotly contested basketball game, which developed the bitterest play seen in this city in several seasons, the Sacramento Athletic club's heavyweight team was defeated tonight by the Oroville high school by a score of 40 to 11. Peters, the big guard of the Sacramento team, and James, the heavy center of the locals mixed in a fierce wrangle in the midst of the game, and the officials and the other players had to be called on to separate the two men. Both were disqualified, but the two teams refused to continue play without their teammates, and the men were permitted to get back into the game. Oroville's speed swept the Athletic team off their feet.

S. A. C. MINSTREL SHOW AT THE CLUNIE TONIGHT

SAC. UN. 2-3-11

The Sacramento Athletic Club Minstrel company has crossed the Rubicon. The last rehearsal has been held, the tickets have been largely sold and the minstrel show at the Clunie theater tonight will tell the story. Some of the boys deny that they are scared, but are just the same. Some of the others are holding little personal and private rehearsals of their own, in odd corners, repeating their gags to themselves and humming snatches of melody. All of them will be on hand bright and early to have their faces polished with burnt cork and to array themselves in glad and gaudy raiment. After that all they will have to do is to go on and score a hit. It is very simple. If they turn pale nobody will know it. If they blush the kindly cork will conceal the distressing fact.

Everything points to a smooth and effective performance. The rehearsals have been vigorous and thorough, and every manjack knows exactly what he is expected to do, and has already done it a dozen times or so, in practice.

S. A. C. MINSTRELS MAKE BIG HIT

Replete with catchy musical numbers, live jokes and graceful dances, the minstrel show given by the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Clunie Theater last night was quite enjoyable and showed talent of no mean order.

It was ably directed by Henry White and George Cummings. While all were good, especial mention should be made of Miss Willo Lobner and George Cummings in singing and dancing.

Those who performed were:

First Part—Dr. Lloyd B. Waggoner, W. Craig Walker, Ralph McClatchy, George A. Cummings, Leo Lobner, L. L. Nason, Walter Longbotham, E. B. Horton, A. M. Strachin, C. C. Stewart, C. Clark, B. Schuler, Bert Fisher, Victor Marston, Elwyn Henderson, L. O'Connor, J. Childs, P. B. Morgan, Mr. Sherwin, Roger Williams, H. F. Curlee, L. G. Fay and Master Van Guelder Horton.

Second Part—Prof. Otto Rittler, Frank Bacon, E. H. Horton, B. D. Beedy, C. Hintz, Billy Johnson, E. H. Jordan, H. F. Curlee, F. C. Schuler, Mr. Curlee, Henry White, W. Craig Walker, Dr. L. B. BEST AMATEURS TO COMPETE OVER A LONG COURSE

Young Athletes Are in Hard Training for the Coming Marathon Race.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

Preparations for the several long-distance races and cross-country runs which have been scheduled for the balance of this month and the first two weeks in March are at present constituting the period of activity in the athletic world. Contests over routes varying from two to twenty-six miles will be included in the programme announced for the next few weeks, with the Swedish-American Marathon race the feature event of the numerous attractions for the amateur athletes.

The local club which has gained considerable prominence since its organization is about to inaugurate the first of a series of Marathon races in anticipation of developing aspirants for the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, next year. In order to popularize this branch of sport several conditions have been introduced which will place Marathon running before the public on the afternoon of February 26th in a different arrangement than has heretofore been witnessed.

No competitor under 18 years of age will be allowed to start in this race, and all of the runners who qualify must pass a doctor's examination to prove eligible for the contest. The start of the race will be made from the Stadium in Golden Gate Park, from which location the entries will follow the south drive through the Panhandle to Baker street. From Baker street the runners will proceed to Fulton street and along this right of way to Divisadero street; to Golden Gate avenue; to Van Ness; to Market street; to Eighth street. The race will conclude by the balance of the distance being contested in the arena at Eighth and Howard streets. A specially constructed track of ten laps to the mile has been laid out at the arena, where the runners will finish the long run in full view of the spectators.

Each organization will be allowed to enter but five runners, the Swedish-American Club itself having a full representation for the occasion. At least ten prizes will be awarded ranging in value from $65 and less. This privilege has been granted by special sanction of the registration committee of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. The Swedish Consul, William Matson, has donated a handsome trophy for the occasion. All entries for the Marathon race must be received by the officials of the Swedish-American Club not later than next Saturday, and the competitors shall be registered amateurs.

In addition to the Swedish-American athletes, the Irish-American Athletic Club will have several runners in the long race, including James Magee, Otto Boeddiker, holder of the local amateur Marathon record and winner of the time prize in the Dipsea race on two occasions, is considering the idea of starting in the Marathon race. Boeddiker has not run since the last Dipsea event, and will only start in the Swedish-American Club attraction, if in condition.

Gates of Marysville.

YESTERDAY NEVADA DAY AT THE SPORTS

Hordes of Reno Residents Visit California Town and Disport.

Special to the Union.

TRUCKEE (Nevada Co.), Feb. 5.—Shouts of Reno's fair contingent mingled with the guffaws of Reno men at the Winter carnival today. It was Reno day. Scores of the citizens of the Nevada town were guests of Truckee's residents.

A light snow fell during the day. The toboggan slide is in excellent condition. It was the scene of many laughable attempts on the part of Reno women to safely pilot the long skis.

Although every Sunday is a big day, it is expected that Sunday, two weeks from today, will be one of the biggest days of the carnival. On that day hundreds of Sacramento and valley residents will attend.

ALL ABOARD FOR TRUCKEE AND ICE

Preparations for the S. A. C. excursion to the Truckee Ice carnival, Sunday, February 19, are well under way.

"Wind and weather permitting," the foot-race around Capitol Park, which was postponed last Sunday by members of the Sacramento Athletic Club on account of the unfavorable weather, will take place at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 5, says Secretary Rittler of that organization. The race will be under the management of Charles Stewart, track commissioner, who will have charge of the affair. It promises to be a success as a large number will participate.

The membership contest during the month of January has been very successful, 143 new members having joined.

It was conducted by Capts. Frank Bacon, Charles Phillips, Joseph Black, L. Ferguson, J. Hallanan and E. Horton.

TICKETS TO TRUCKEE MUST BE TAKEN AT ONCE

Athletic Club Must Close Deal With the Railroad

SAC. BEE. 2-11-11

Reservations for the Sacramento Athletic Club's excursion to Truckee should be made not later than Tuesday night. The club, under its contract with the Southern Pacific for the special excursion train, must deposit with the company Wednesday morning sufficient money for at least 125 tickets.

Many requests for reservations have been received, but in only a few instances has the actual money for the tickets been put up. It is certain there will be 125 take advantage of the excursion and the Athletic Club is anxious to get on hand the money to cover this amount. Those intending to make the trip should telephone to the Athletic Club without delay.

There is every assurance there will be an abundance of snow at Truckee to delight the Sacramento excursionists. Although the sun is shining here, it has been snowing steadily at Truckee. A report from there this morning says the snow is more than 17 feet deep and it may be deeper than that by February 19th.

The excursion train will leave Sacramento at 10:40 o'clock the evening of Saturday, February 18th, arrive at Truckee at 7 o'clock the following morning, leave Truckee for the return trip late Sunday evening, and arrive here at 7 o'clock Monday morning. OROVILLE FIVE WINS FROM LOCAL TEAM

(The Bee's Special Service.)

OROVILLE (Butte Co.), February 11. Oroville High School easily defeated the team of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night in a loosely-played game by a score of 40 to 11. Toward the end of the first half Peters, the Sacramento guard, floored James, the big center of the locals. James came up fighting and the two were merrily mixing it when they were separated. Three Oroville men, who were spectators at the game, piled upon Peters and were unmercifully pummeling him when they were pulled off by other spectators and the police.

Referee Kennedy, of Sacramento, disqualified both men, but after five minutes of wranging both were permitted to play and the game went on. The score at the end of the first half was 17 to 3, and the score for the second half was 23 to 8.

The Oroville team lined up as follows: Nisbit and Martin, forwards; James, center; Nelson and Thunen guards. The Sacramento men played as follows: Blake and Shaw, forwards; Holmes, center; Peters and Bacon, guards.

TOKAY LEAGUE PLACES TWO TEAMS IN THIS CITY

SAC. BEE. 1-23-11

Continuous Sunday Baseball Assured for Coming Season

The Tokay League was reorganized and its territory expanded at a meeting held at Stockton yesterday, the expansion resulting in the placing of two teams in Sacramento, guaranteeing for this city continuous Sunday baseball. There will be six teams in the League. They are:

Panama Murphys and Sacramento Athletic Club nines of Sacramento; Tully & Byrnes and Rohono Braves of Stockton; Galt and Lodi teams.

J. P. Murphy, of this city, was elected President of the League, and T. Dooling of Galt named as Assistant Manager and Secretary. The other Directors are:

Arthur Delano, Sacramento Athletic Club; James Whittaker, Galt; D. Friedburg, Lodi; C. A. Hoover, Tully & Byrnes, G. Albrecht, Rohono Braves.

A meeting to perfect the plans of the League and outline the schedule of games will be held in this city Sunday, February 5th.

The old Wiley B. Allen team will fly the colors of Galt this year, so Sacramento will virtually have three teams in the League, and will be a big end of the organization.

Stockton and Lodi will have continuous baseball. Games will be played in Sacramento on Sundays when the Coast League Senators are on the road. The schedule under contemplation will give Galt a liberal share of home games.

The magnates met first as the old Tokay League, disbanded, and organized for the new season under the old name. There was a hot fight when it came to making a decision on the clubs to be admitted.

Last year Stockton maintained four clubs in the League—the Pohono Braves, the Holts, the Athletics and Tully & Byrnes. It was the unanimous verdict that Stockton could not well support more than two teams. Each of the four clubs made a fight to retain a franchise. A. J. Sharpe, representing the Woodbridge team, was also present seeking admission, but was not given consideration. When the showdown came, the Pohono Braves and Tully & Byrnes received the preference.

The following were present at the meeting: La Plata Davis, President of last year's League; J. Panama Murphy of Sacramento, representing his own team and holding the proxy of the Sacramento Athletic Club; M. J. Dooling and Jack Herne, representing Galt; James Prentice and Lauren Wilkinson, representing Lodi; C. B. Smith and James Russell, representing the Stockton Athletics; Gus Altenhoff, representing the Pohono Braves; Carl Tremaine, representing the Holts; Charles A. Hoover, Elmer Tully and Edward Byrnes, representing the Tully & Byrnes, and A. J. Sharpe, representing Woodbridge.

HEAVYWEIGHTS PLAY AT GRIDLEY TO-NIGHT

SAC. BEE. 1-28-11

The heavyweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club is to go to Gridley to-night to play the High School team of that town. The athletic team will be:

Blake (Captain), forward; Shaw, forward; Holmes, center; Peters, Bacon, guards; Palm, Knight, Kennedy, substitutes.

GRUELLING BOUTS FEATURE ATHLETIC CLUB'S SHOW

SAC. BEE. 1-28-11

Moyse, Erickson, Ahern, Murray, and Pappa Are Winners

Young Moyse won from Joe Goulard, four rounds.

Joe Erickson knocked out Billy West, second round.

Tommy Ahern won from Joe Azevedo, four rounds.

Red Murray won from Louie Day, three rounds.

Young Pappa knocked out Mike Schreck, second round.

Happy Gosha won from Young Cole, four rounds.

Eight bouts, six of them gruelling affairs, the seventh a clever exhibition of boxing and the eighth a miserable attempt at a fake, were pulled off by the Sacramento Athletic Club last night before one of the largest crowds that has gathered in the Club's gymnasium for many months. The show started promptly and every detail was well handled.

The Main Event.

Young Moyse and Joe Goulard went four fast and furious rounds in the main event. They were fighting hard from the first tap of the gong until the finish. Goulard's cheek was scratched in the opening round and the claret began to flow from Moyse's nose. The gore continued throughout the four rounds, getting a little worse each time.

In the third round, Moyse went to the mat and a second later Goulard was down. During the minute that followed, Moyse accepted a rain of blows to the face, but he stood them without flinching. He landed a good right swing to Goulard's jaw and for a brief time had Goulard in distress.

The judges called for an extra round and Moyse and Goulard went at it willingly. When it was over, Moyse was accorded the winner. It was a close decision, but justified.

Erickson Wins.

Joe Erickson found another victim in Billy West, but Joe knew he had been in a fight. The bout ended in the second round after West had been knocked down six times. This chap West is game and willing, but Erickson was too good for him at all stages.

West hit the mat first in the opening round. It was a right swing that sent him down. He got up at the count of nine and clinched. Erickson sent in a volley of short jolts to the face, and West went down again. He got up at nine and then the gong rang.

West came back strong in the second and made a whirlwind flash that started the fans cheering. He was trying hard, but it was useless. He left his jaw exposed and Joe caught him with a right. After resting during nine counts, West got up and was put down again with a straight left poke in the face.

West got up again and started to mix it fiercely. Twice more Joe sent him to the mat, and then the referee wisely stopped the bout. West should have a chance at some man of less ability than Erickson. He would make a good go with Goulard.

Classy Bout.

Tommy Ahern and Joe Azevedo furnished another of the feature bouts of the evening. It went an extra round and Ahern was given the decision. It was a close verdict, but on the last round Ahern was clearly entitled to it.

This is the second time Ahern has defeated Azevedo and both times the defeats have been narrow margins. Azevedo did his best work last night in the third round, when he practically knocked Ahern down. The Grass Valley boy was on the mat only a second and he went back into the milling with such fierceness it was evident Azevedo's blow had not hurt him.

Azevedo was handicapped by poor advice from his corner. He is a good boy and with proper handling will make it interesting for any of the 122-pound youngsters.

Murray Beat Day.

Red Murray won the decision from Louie Day in three rounds. Day would have been entitled to an extra round if he had extended himself a little bit, but he held back.

In the first round Day made excellent use of an upper cut, but Murray solved that blow in the second and after that Day did not show to the best advantage. Murray did all the leading and in the third round was on top of his man all the time. He is an aggressive little scrapper and should be sent along.

Day has a good punch an a long reach. With a little more experience he will make good in the game. Last night's defeat should teach him to at times take the aggressive.

Schreck Put Out.

The Pappa-Schreck argument was definitely settled, Schreck being knocked out in the second round. There was no joke about the fight. Last month they did the grizzly bear dance instead of supplying an exhibition of boxing, but last night they stood off and fought, Schreck getting the worst of it from the start.

Pappa was on the aggressive all the time. Schreck tried repeatedly to land, but his blows were very wild. He got in one good left jolt, but that was his only effective blow.

In the middle of the second round, Pappa caught Schreck with a swing to the head and he went down for the count of nine. He got up gamely, but ran into a right to the jaw and he dropped prone to the floor. Just as the referee said ten, Schreck got up. He was willing to go on and as far as the count goes, was probably entitled to, but he was groggy and it was well for him the referee stopped the scrap.

Minor Affairs.

Dick Cowie and Sally Salvadore supplied a three round exhibition. It was a clean specimen of nice boxing.

Kid Garcia and Spider Jones thought themselves wise enough to pull off a fake, but the referee nipped their stall. The bout was stopped after two minutes of nothing and the alleged fighters ordered out of the ring.

The prearranged card was shifted considerably because of the failure of the Romero brothers to put in an appearance. One was to have fought Bowen and the other was to go against Muskrat. 'Cold feet" is the only known explanation of their absence.

FINAL DETAILS FOR THE EXCURSION TO TRUCKEE

Athletic Club Guarantees 125 Will Make the Trip

Final arrangements for the Sacramento Athletic Club's excursion to Truckee were made last night, the Committee receiving reports from various sub-Committees and combining them into definite shape.

The excursion train will leave Sacramento at 10:40 o'clock the evening of Saturday, February 18th. This late hour was decided upon so as to allow those who have to work until 8 or 9 o'clock at night an opportunity to catch the train. The train will be composed of Pullman sleepers, with one smoking car. The round trip rate, including a berth for two nights, will be $7.

The train will arrive at Truckee at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Headquarters will be maintained at the hotel and special provision will be made at the hotel for the feeding of the Sacramento visitors. Sleighs, skates and skis will be at the disposal of the visitors without charge.

A feature of the entertainment during the day will be a basketball game between the team of the Reno High School and the lightweights of the S. A. C. There will also be a big snow fight. In the evening there will be a moonlight sleighing trip.

The Athletic Club to secure the special low excursion rate, has guaranteed there will be at least 125 excursionists. Reservations should be made immediately. Tickets can be secured from any member of the Committee or from Otto Rittler and Roy Cothrin at the Athletic Club. The Committee includes A. J. Delano, E. E. Reedy, Leo Lobner, Frank Bacon and Howard Bronson.

That there will be more than 125 people in the party appears certain. A request for thirty tickets has been received from the Automobile Club of Dixon. Ed. Whyte, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly, has organized a party at the Capitol and requested twenty-five tickets. The Capital City Wheelmen have asked for twenty reservations and the Hermitage Club want a car to themselves. The clerks at Weinstock, Lubin & Company's store are organizing a party and it is expected fifteen or twenty will make the trip. Another private party includes eighteen young ladies, with their chaperones. It is expected at least fifty members of the Athletic club will be in the party.

Chairman Delano of the Committee of Arrangements desires that those intending to make the trip file their requests for tickets immediately.

The winner of the contest will go to San Francisco to compete in the finals. The game will be played about March 1st.

DESCRIBES BOUT BETWEEN LESTER AND PETE MULDOON

SAC. BEE 1-29-11

Tacoma Ledger Gives Account of Battle

The Tacoma Ledger gives the following account of the recent fight between Muldoon and Lester:

Jack Lester of Cle Elum last night retained his title as heavyweight boxing champion of the Northwest, and came further into prominence as one of the potential "hopes of the white race" by beating clever Pete Muldoon of Seattle in less than three rounds at Dreamland rink. After Lester had knocked Muldoon down seven times in the second and third rounds, the Seattle man's seconds threw up the sponge.

Referee Jack Grant promptly awarded the decision to Lester, and big Jack grabbed Muldoon in his arms and carried him to his corner as easily as he would a child.

Lester Too Strong.

Lester was altogether too strong for the Seattle lad, and made the bout one-sided. In fact, after watching Lester's work last night, Tacoma fans are inclined to believe that he is as strong as any 200-pound man in the boxing business. Muldoon's cleverness and shiftiness counted for just one round—that was the first. In the first three minutes of boxing Muldoon had it all over the Cle Elum lad, landing a dozen light blows where Lester failed to get in a punch. At the end of this round it looked as if Muldoon might stay the limit and ultimately win on points. He was given a tremendous ovation when he went back to his corner after the opening round.

But the aspect of things changed suddenly at the beginning of the second period. Springing from his corner at the tap of the gong, Lester swung and missed a terrific right, went into a clinch, and upon breaking away threw Muldoon clear across the ring on to his knees. Lester then rushed Muldoon through the ropes and bored in again as soon as they were separated. Here Muldoon got in the best blow of the match, a right cross that caught Lester on the jaw.

Gong Saves Muldoon.

Lester then waded in viciously and caught Muldoon with a powerful left uppercut that sent the Seattle man to the mat for the count of seven. Muldoon got up cool enough, but he was promptly floored by another uppercut, and this time the referee counted eight. A second after he scrambled to his feet Lester planted another uppercut on his jaw, and Muldoon sprawled on the floor. It looked like curtains for Muldoon, and the crowd got up to leave. But just as the referee counted one the gong sounded, ending the round, and Muldoon was carried to his corner and revived.

Muldoon came back strong for the third round, but Lester went at it all the harder. Lester rushed his opponent into the ropes and on the floor, and a second later threw Muldoon down again.

Here Muldoon showed a flash of strength, and, catching Lester off guard, jumped into him with a straight left and partly knocked and partly pushed him clear out of the ring. Lester was boosted back by his seconds, and immediately landed a terrific right to the neck that sent Muldoon to the mat. In quick succession Lester landed three uppercuts, every one of which floored Muldoon.

The Knockout.

The last blow, a cross between an uppercut and a left swing, caught Muldoon on the jaw and might have proved a knockout had not his seconds thrown up the sponge and the referee given Lester the decision without delay.

Muldoon recovered as soon as he was taken to his corner. He was not cut up, but he said his head ached from the blows he stopped with his jaw. Lester bore no marks of the contest.

MULDOON'S OWN STORY

Here is Pete Muldoon's explanation of his defeat at Tacoma by Jack Lester:

"He was too big and strong for me, that's all there is to it. Believe me, every time Lester hits you, no matter where the blow lands, it hurts and you feel it. I'm satisfied to go back to the 158-pound class. Lester was not rough, nor did he use unfair tactics, and I have no kick to make. When he starts he can't stop until he beats his man."

SAC. BEE. 1-30-11

Expected 300 Will Make Trip From Here February 18

Two hundred sleighs will be placed at the disposal of the Sacramento excursionists when they arrive at Truckee the morning of February 19th and no charge will be made for their use. The excursion is being promoted by the Sacramento Athletic Club, and it is certain between 250 and 300 people will make the trip.

There is a toboggan slide of 200 feet at Truckee and this will also be at the disposal of the Sacramentans. There is a donkey engine in connection with the slide and after the sleds have made the wild rush down the incline, the engine kindly draws the sled and passengers back to the top again. Skis and ice skates will also be placed at the disposal of the excursionists.

Many requests for reservations on the excursion train have already been received, some from individuals, others from clubs or parties of friends. The Dixon Automobile Club, the Capital City Wheelmen and the Hermitage Club each want a car of their own. The clerks of Weinstock, Lubin & Company are also organizing a party and will probably ask for a private car. Two other parties, one of twenty and the other of eighteen, have been organized and seats reserved for them.

The start from Sacramento will be made the evening of February 18th, arriving at Truckee early the next morning. Returning, the train will leave in the evening, arriving here at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

PROMISE TO PUT UP GRUELLING FIGHT

Schreck Hopes to Land Knockout on Young Pappa

Cyclone Schreck, a cousin of Mike Schreck of more or less pugilistic fame, has started out to become a boxer. He is to fight Pappa before the Athletic Club to-morrow night, and Schreck says he is going to win.

Schreck says he is going to fight from the tap of the gong until the bout is concluded. He hopes for a knockout.

Goulard and Moyce, who are to furnish the main event of to-morrow night's show, are in good condition. They are making 145 pounds and in every way appear to be evenly matched.

Ahern and Romero are down for the special event. Romero scored a knockout in the first round at the last show and he hopes to do the same this time.

There are five other bouts on the card and the sport promises to be good.

UNKNOWN WILLING TO MEET ERICKSON IN RING

SAC. BEE. 2-9-11.

Hoffman Has Opponent for Athletic Club Favorite

Several new faces will be introduced at the Athletic Club's boxing show the evening of Friday, February 24th and incidentlly there will be an unknown starter, who belives he can put it over Joe Erickson. This unknown answers to the name of Hanson. He looks like a fighter, acts like one and he is not afraid of a little training work. He says he has fought "some," and he is willing to take his chances with Erickson at any time.

Another new starter will be Kid Cody, a 150-pound chap, who will go against Raymond. Matchmaker Hoffman also has a youngster, Kid Rueford by name, 135 pounds, on hand and he will probably be sent against one of the local boys.

Hoffman has already matched Ahern and Salvadore, Muskrat and Amiker, Souza and Cliff Luke, Young Gosha and Young Pappa, and Goulard and West. If a suitable opponent can be found for Rueford the card will be complete.

BASEBALL TEAM BEING FORMED BY S. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 1-30-11

The Athletic Club is soon to put a baseball team in the field. Arthur Delano is organizing the team. He says he does not know just what the team will do, or whether it will be in a league or not, but he believes there will be plenty of opportunities for games.

The S. A. C. was originally slated to be in the Tokay League, but the withdrawal of the two Stockton teams and the Lodi nine from the League leaves it in a wobbly condition.

ONLY ONE BRASS NOTE IN CLUB'S MINSTREL SHOW

SAC BEE. 2-4-11

End Men and Others Have Shade on Some of the Old-time Burnt Corkers

A man who wandered in with what is unscientifically called a "bun" concealed about his person was the only brass note in the Sacramento Athletic Club's minstrel show at the Clunie last night. Until two extra large policemen suspended him by the collar and guided him through the labyrinthian way to the street he was the fifth end man.

The remaining four held up their ends as end men should, even to the extent of a dash of that mystical quality known as "class." Ralph McClatchy and W. Craig Walker, with the bones, had more than a shade on Lew Dockstadder as jokesmiths, and ole Billy Emerson of the palmy days of yore, could he have seen the tamborines, Leo Lobner and George A. Cummings, up to his old tricks, would have gone daffy with envy. Cummings could not disguise his Anglicisms, even under a thick coating of burnt cork, ne'ertheless they did not mar the persimmon-like pungency of his witticisms. Dr. Lloyd B. Waggoner's naive remarks as interlocutor gave him carte blanche to high favor in the estimation of the big audience.

The chorus was a rich and harmonious blending of voices that gave the soloists fine vocal—and moral—support. Tommy Clifton pleaded with some one to "Meet Me To-night in Dreamland" most appealingly. Walter Leitch sang "I'll Turn the Thorns to Roses," and did what he promised without getting a scratch. Bill Johnson's "To the End of the World With You" was an indication that he can sing as well as box. The song down the aisle by Master Van Guelder Horton scored a hit for that youngster.

The Roman statuary poses by club members under Otto Ritler were both dignified and graceful. Owing to a misunderstanding with the orchestra the club's quartet became unconsciously humorous, but it wouldn't come back for an encore. H. F. Curlee, who soloed on the saxophone, was not so modest. The Indian club work by Harry Russell and Harold Holten was like a lesson in calisthenics.

A sketch with a sequel in the Darktown Police Court was funny owing to what happened to an effigy of Ralph McClatchy, a cul'lud gen'l'man, whose vaudeville attentions aroused the ire of two wash ladies. Henry White, as one of the zealous pair, got everybody laughing by his wit and ungainliness. The speechlessness of E. H. Jordan, a cop, may be taken to typify the inactivity of the local police.

"An Athletic Girl" was a pretty conceit in which two dozen college boys and girls came together for a singing and romping bee. Miss Willa Lobner was quite natural and fluent in song and dialogue. This was also true of Mr. Cummings, who achieved the triumph of his long and conspicuous amateur stage career.

The Willows baseball team has invited the principals of last night's show to assist at a minstrel performance to be given at Willows.

Handball Games To-morrow at Athletic Club

To definitely determine the question of supremacy between the Blake brothers and Donald and Morris at handball, they will meet in a series of matched games at the Sacramento Athletic Club's gymnasium to-morrow morning.

The Blakes won the recent handball tournament. Donald and Morris were a close second, having lost only one more game than did the leaders. During the tournament, the only defeat scored against the Blakes was administered by Donald and Morris. Since then the rivalry has been keen and the games to-morrow promise to be very interesting.

Irving Blake, the taller of the two brothers, is admitted to be the best handball player in Sacramento. He plays the whole court and seldom makes a mistake.

Another interesting contest to-morrow morning will be between Barnes and McDonald and Senf and Mattison. They tied for first place in the second division of the recent handball tourney and to-morrow's games have been arranged to settle the championship question.

The play will begin at 9 o'clock.

George Yoerk, who has charge of the handball activities of the S. A. C., is arranging a singles tournament. He plans to start it within the next two weeks.

HOFFMAN SETS DATE FOR BOXNG SHOW

SAC. BEE. 2-4-11

The date for the monthly boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club has been set for Friday, February 24th. Matchmaker Hoffman is now arranging the card.

Several boxers from Oakland have written to Hoffman asking for bouts here, but Hoffman is undecided whether to grant the requests or not. If satisfactory bouts can be arranged between local boys, it is probable the local talent will be favored. The show last month was purely a local affair and it was admittedly one of the best the Athletic Club has staked in many months.

BASKETBALL GAMES AT ATHLETIC CLUB TO-NIGHT

SAC BEE. 2-9-11

Two basketball games will be played to-night at the Sacramento Athletic Club. In the first game, the lightweights of the S. A. C. will meet the Boys' Brotherhood five and in the second the club heavyweights will oppose the Y. M. C. A. heavies.

CLEAR WINS ANNUAL RACE AROUND CAPITOL

SAC BEE. 2-13-11

Fourteen Athletic Club Members Compete in Event

C. Clear won the Sacramento Athletic Club's race around the Capitol grounds yesterday, covering the one and one-eighth miles in 5 minutes, 45 seconds.

It was the second annual event of the kind pulled off by the athletic club. Last year the best time was made by C. Stewart, track captain, his record being 5 minutes, 44 seconds. At that time there were sixteen starters. Yesterday fourteen competed. The race brought out many new runners and it is certain the 1911 track team wearing the Winged S. A. C. will be a good one.

Clear should do excellently in the mile. Stewart's ability is known. Holmes, Sherwin, Childs, Kennedy and Williams can also be rated as speedy men. Following is the way they finished and their times:

C. Clear, 5:45; C. Stewart, 5:45:2; R. Sherwin, 5:50; H. Holmes, 5:54; G. Childs, 5:57; T. Kennedy, 6; R. Williams, 6:1; W. Noyce, 6:1½; J. Raymond, 6:2; S. Chinn, 6:33; L. Ferguson, 6:45; W. Boon, 6:47; E. Kennedy, 6:48; F. Ruth, 6:50; F. Peters also ran.

The officials: Starter, E. H. Traxler; Clerk of Course, L. K. Lobner; Timer, Prof. O. Rittler; Judges, H. J. Thielen, C. G. Wahlander, F. Peters.

Track Commissioner Stewart announced that the next event of the kind will be a two-mile race around the Capitol grounds.

S. A. C. ENTHUSIASTIC OVER TRUCKEE TRIP

SAC. BEE. 2-14-11

Interest in the excursion to the Truckee Ice Carnival, Sunday, February 19, being promoted by the S. A. C. is greatly increasing and arrangements for the affair are practically completed.

Round trip tickets are $5.00 while sleeping car berths are $1.25 for lower and $1.50 for upper in the Pullman and $1.00 for both upper and lower in the tourist, one way.

There is a big call for tickets, and it is believed there will be no trouble in disposing of all of them.

The train is scheduled to leave Sacramento at 10:40 p. m. Saturday, February 18, and is due at Truckee the following morning at 7 o'clock.

In addition to a baseball game to be played between the Capital City Wheelmen and the Sacramento team of this city, there will be many other diversions, including sleighing, skating, snow fights and a basket ball game between the Spartans and the Piutes of Reno, Nev.

The party will arrive in Sacramento early Monday morning in time for the day's duties.

Club Captain Arthur Delano is laid up with water on the knee, and may not be able to make the trip.

Sacramentans to Enjoy Sport at Truckee

S. F. EX. 2-14-11

Arrangements have been made for a special train of Pullman sleepers, and it is expected at least 300 will make the trip. While the Athletic Club is promoting the outing several other organizations have become interested, including the Automobile Club of Dixon, the Hermitage Club of Sacramento and the Capital City Wheelmen. Ed Whyte, sergeant-at-arms of the Assembly, has organized a party of twenty-five legislators.

At Truckee there will be a series of winter sports, including skating, skiing, tobogganning, sleighing and a snow battle. In the evening there will be a basket-ball game between the Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic Club and the team of the Reno High School.

O'Neil and Anderson did the best work for the Brotherhood team, while Duke and Lovich scored a majority of the points for the Athletics.

The Athletic lightweights are to play the team of the Davis State Farm to-night. The Athletic heavies will go to Oroville for a game with the High School team of that city.

CRACK BOXERS TO CLASH AT S. A. C.

SAC. UN. 2-22-11

Classiest Card of Season Has Been Arranged for Friday Night.

One of the classiest coterie of boxers that have exchanged swats in the Sacramento Athletic club since that organization instituted its monthly boxing program, will get together in the club gymnasium Friday night to reel off the program arranged by Otto Rittler, official matchmaker of the club. The program is a varied one, ranging from boys in the paperweight class to those who box around the 150 notch. In the main event, West and Goulard meet at 150 pounds. Both boys have been training earnestly for their contest and are in rattling good shape to go the route. Amiker and Lee Muskrat will meet in the special event at 125 pounds, and a keen contest is looked for. Muskrat is one of the best boys at his weight now boxing in the amateur ranks and is in nice shape to defend his title of champion 125-pound box boy of Sacramento, which he won at the recent boxing tournament of the P. A. A. held in the old pavilion.

Amiker has shown considerable improvement in his last few matches, and will give Muskrat a tough battle.

Matchmaker Ritter is endeavoring to arrange matches for Erickson, Azevedo, Salvadore, Ahern and Papa and will probably hook some of these boys up with boxers from other clubs. The program for Friday night as arranged up to date is as follows:

Sharkey vs. Souza, 110 pounds; Cole vs. Garcia, 108; Sanderson vs. Luke, 118; Murray vs. Perenti, 118; Raymond vs. Cory, 158; Hanson vs. Rufe, 140; Amiker vs. Muskrat, 125; West vs. Goulard, 150.

Jack Swallenberg will referee all events, which will be judged by Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron.

Winning Basketball Played by Sacramento High School

The above is a picture of the speedy and consistent basketball team of the Sacramento High school. Reading from left to right the members are Manager Potter, who has ably looked after the interests of the team, and Players Hicks, Eldred, Lovich, Simmermacher and Lamb.

THE victory of the Sacramento high school basketball team over the Woodland high in the semi-finals of the S. V. I. A. L. at Woodland Saturday night is exceedingly gratifying to the students of the local high school, who are confident that the boys representing the school will capture the championship of the league. Manager Potter of the Sacramento high, who has devoted all of his time to whipping a crack team into line, is well satisfied with the showing made by the local boys, and predicts the mowing down of all teams that face his team.

Every member of the Sacramento team played an excellent game. At the conclusion of the first half the score was against the Sacramento boys, but they went in during the second half and played a fast, gritty game which gave them a victory. The Woodland boys played an exceedingly fast game, and took their defeat in a manful manner, giving full credit to the five that defeated them. George Hicks was the star player for the Sacramento team. Hicks stopped Bradley Stephens' every attempt at dribbling. Captain Simmermacher of the Sacramento team held Durst down to three baskets, blocking nearly every attempt at a goal. Lovich, without a doubt the cleverest dribbler in the Sacramento Valley, brought the ball down the hall to his team time after time, and his teammate, Eldred, placed the ball in the basket, taking many throws under difficult circumstances.

Frank Lamb secured the first basket for Sacramento, and played a good all-around game. The Woodland boys, although realizing that they were outclassed and outplayed, tried their very best to score in the last ten minutes' play, but were unable to break through the ranks of their opponents. Both Captain Simmermacher and Manager Potter of the Sacramento nigh school five are confident of winning the championship of the S. V. I. A. L. The teams lined up as follows:

Woodland—Forwards, Stephens and Durst; center, Hollingsworth; guards, Wraith, Elston and Ruberts.

Sacramento—Forwards, Lovich and Eldred; center, Lamb; guards, Hicks and Simmermacher.

Sacramentans Will Frolic In Snow Drifts at Truckee

SAC. UN. 2 19 11.

WITH 150 snow-loving pleasure-seekers aboard, the special train of the Sacramento Athletic club rolled out of the Southern Pacific depot last night, destined for Truckee.

Accompanying the members of the Athletic club was a delegation of twenty members from the Capital City Wheelmen and a number of Sacramentans who took advantage of the excursion rate obtained for the trip. One of the features of the trip will be a basketball game in the snow between the Spartans of the S. A. C. and the Piutes of the Reno high school, and a baseball game between the S. A. C. and the Capital City Wheelmen teams.

In addition to the basketball and baseball games, those making the trip will engage in a snow fight, skiing and tobogganing. In the evening dancing will be enjoyed until 10 o'clock, when the train will leave for Sacramento, arriving here Monday morning at 7 o'clock.

S. A. C. SPARTANS BEAT FARM TEAM

SAC. STAR. 2-13-11

Covering themselves with glory, the Spartans, the S. A. C. lightweight basket ball team, defeated the University farm team Friday night at a score of 36 to 30.

Though the Spartans average only 125 pounds apiece, against about 155 of the latter, they won the game in spite of all odds.

The boys deserve great credit for their victory, which entitles them to play the semi-finals at Stockton with the latter, and should they win there they will play the finals at San Francisco during the latter part of March.

Luke of the Spartans made 13 baskets, while Lovich and Duke did fine teamwork, to which much credit is due for the victory. Some splendid guarding was done by Cowie and Salvador.

A silver cup for each of the best individual player of the Spartans and the S. A. C. heavyheights will be given after the finals by Simon Sturmer.

"Y" BASKET BALL

SAC STAR. 2-21-11

The heavyweights of the Y. M. C. A. and the Sacramento Athletic Club will play a game of basketball Wednesday afternoon, February 22, at the old Pavillion.

The Y. M. C. A. team will also play some other team Saturday at the local "gym" Saturday night, but it has not yet been decided what team it will be.

COUNTRY CLUB READY TO START GOLF TOURNEY

SAC BEE

Play Will Commence on the Local Links To-morrow

2-21-11

The annual tournament of the Sacramento Country Club for the club championship and possession of the Kimball-Upson trophy will start to-morrow morning at 10:30 with a qualifying round of 18 holes, medal play, the best sixteen scores to qualify should eighteen or more start; otherwise eight qualify. The first match play round will be played in the afternoon. The second and semi-final rounds, over eighteen holes, match play, will be held Sunday, February 26th. The final round, over thirty-six holes, will be played Sunday, March 5th.

Considerable interest is being taken in the event this year because of doubt as to the possible winner, any one of six players, R. R. Flint, W. B. Schaw, Dr. R. B. Giffin, H. J. McClatchy, V. T. Chambers and A. H. Smith being conceded good chances of winning. George W. Lane, who is the annual runner-up, will not be able to compete.

PROGRAM FOR DAY AT TRUCKEE IS ARRANGED

Interesting Series of Events Promised for Visitors

SAC. BEE. 2-15-11

The tentative program for the Sacramento excursionists at Truckee next Sunday has been announced. The train, which will leave this city Saturday night, will arrive at Truckee at 7 o'clock Sunday morning. Breakfast will be served at the hotel.

After breakfast there will be sleigh riding, and the visitors will be shown the surrounding country. Next there will be a series of races in the snow, tobogganing and skiing. This will take up the morning.

After lunch there will be a baseball game on snow between teams of the Capital City Wheelmen and the Sacramento Athletic Club; then a big snow fight, and then dinner.

In the evening there will be a basketball game between the Spartans of the S. A. C. and the Piutes of the Reno High School. A dance will also be held in the evening.

The start home will be made at about 11 o'clock Sunday night, and the train is due to arrive here at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

A complete schedule of the railroad rates for the trip has been announced by the Committee. The round trip fare, not including a berth for the two nights, will be $5; including tourist berth, $7; including Pullman berth, $8; including stateroom, $10; including drawing room, $12.

Secretary Cothran or Professor Rittler, at the Sacramento Athletic Club, can give other required details.

BASEBALL GAME ON SNOW TO BE PLAYED AT TRUCKEE

SAC. BEE. 2-14-11

Interesting Program Being Arranged for Entertainment of S. A. C. Excursionists

The first baseball game ever played on snow in California will be one of the features of the entertainment to be provided the Sacramentans who take advantage of the Sacramento Athletic Club's excursion to Truckee. The excursion train will leave Sacramento Saturday night and the baseball game will be played at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The game will be between teams from the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Capital City Wheelmen. "Father" Pearl will lead the Athletics and R. B. Fraser will be captain of the Wheelmen. The diamond will be marked out on the snow with red confetti. All rules of the usual baseball game will be adhered to, with the exception that a ball such as is used in indoor baseball games will be used.

Another feature of the entertainment to be provided the visitors will be a basketball game between the Piutes of the Reno High School and the Spartans of the S. A. C. The Plutes hold the championship of Nevada, and it will be a big feather in the cap of the locals if they win the game. From Reno comes word that a big delegation will accompany the Piutes to Truckee.

A snow fight will be held early in the afternoon and every excursionist will be asked to compete in it. It is proposed to form two large teams and have a battle royal. Skiing, skating, sleighing and tobogganing will complete the program. The toboggan run is 2,000 feet long, 70 feet wide, and has a fall of 150 feet from the top of the hill to the flat. To make the sport a real pleasure, a power house has been erected and machinery installed to haul the people up to the top of the hill. There will be no charge for the use of the toboggans, skiis or skates.

A. J. Delano, who is Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, expects to close the deal with the Southern Pacific to-morrow morning for the special train. To secure the rate of $7 for the round trip, including berths for two nights, Delano has guaranteed at least 125 will make the trip and he will pay for this number of reservations to-morrow.

Delano desires that all those intending to make the trip communicate with the athletic club immediately, secure their tickets and pay them.

WOODLAND TO WITNESS TWO BASKETBALL GAMES

SAC. BEE, 2-15-11

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WOODLAND, February 15.—Two basketball games between four of the best teams in the northern part of the State are to be played in Woodland Friday night. The Rumsey champions will clash with the Woodland High School team and Company's F team will meet an all-star team from Sacramento.

The High School boys are undismayed by their recent defeat by Sacramento High, and will give Rumsey the hardest game that club ever had.

Company F will have their first hard game when they meet the All Stars of Sacramento. This team is composed of th ebest players in Sacramento, and will keep the husky company boys moving every minute in the game.

Company F and Woodland High will have the same line-ups that they have played in the past, while Rumsey will be represented by the Morrin brothers, Ruberts and Shell.

The All Stars are composed of Day, the Captain of last year's champion Swastika team of the P. A. A., Hart and Brandon of the Loyal Sons, who defeated the Carlton Club last year, and Zimmermacher and Hicks, the stars of the Sacramento High basketball team.

LOCAL TEAMS IN BASKETBALL DOUBLEHEADER

SAC, UN. 2-22-11

Basketball enthusiasts of Sacramento will witness a double-header at the old pavilion, Sixth and M streets, this afternoon when the Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic club meet the Dwarfs of the Y. M. C. A. of Stockton and the Heavyweights of the S. A. C. clash with the Heavyweights of the local Y. M. C. A. The game between the Spartans and the Dwarfs is the preliminary contest in the P. A. A. basketball tournament. The game between the Spartans and Dwarfs will be keenly contested, the members of both organizations being anxious to go to San Francisco and clash with some of the clubs about the bay.

The teams will line up as follows:

Spartans—Lovich, Luke, forwards; Duke, center; Sprague, Cowie, Salvadore, guards.

Dwarfs—Ferguson, Martin, forwards; Thresher, center; Burgess, Comfort, guards.

S. A. C. Heavyweights—Blake, Shaw, Knight, forwards; Holmes, center; Bacon, Peters, guards.

Y. M. C. A. Heavyweights—Reuter, McNeely, forwards; Eckstrom, center; Harris, McFarland, guards.

TWO FAST BASKETBALL GAMES PLAYED AT WOODLAND

SAC. BEE, 2-21-11

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), February 20.—The largest crowd that has assembled during the basketball season saw Woodland teams win a double-header in New Armory Hall Friday evening.

The first game was an exhibition between Company F's team and the Vampires of Sacramento. The latter team was made up principally of the Sacramento High School players, who defeated the Woodland team in the S. V. I. A. L. championship series a week ago.

The two teams tied in the first half on nine points. Company F won the second half by a score of 13 to 8, making the final score 22 to 17. For Sacramento, Druhler and Zimmermacher were the principal point winners. For Company F, Stoll was the star performer, scoring 12 points, all field goals.

The line-up was as follows:

Company F—Stoll and Striplin, forwards; Hill, center; W. Richler and A. Richter, guards.

Vampires—Druhler and Eldred (first half) and Druhler and Brandon (second half), forwards; Hart, center; Hicks and Zimmermacher, guards.

McNeely and Whitehead alternated as referee and umpire.

The second game was the semi-finals in the Yolo County Athletic League between the Woodland High School team and the Rumsey team. The Woodland team surprised its most ardent admirers by playing the most brilliant game seen here this season. For Woodland, Stephens made seventeen points and Durst ten. For Rumsey, H. Morrin made twelve points, E. Morrin five, Travers four and Ruberts one. The final score was 27 to 22. Woodland won the first half, 17 to 10, and Rumsey the second half, 12 to 10.

The line-up was as follows:

Woodland—Stephens and Durst, forwards; Hollingsworth, center; Ruberts and Wraith, guards.

Rumsey—H. Morrin and Travers, forwards; E. Morrin, center; Rubert and Kellogg (first half) and Rupert and Willis (second half), guards.

Rodney Hill and L. Whitehead alternated as referee and umpire.

Company F and Woodland High School teams will meet in the finals of the Yolo County Athletic League series.

SPARTANS AND STOCKTON TO PLAY

A basket ball game to decide the semi-finals will be played between the "Stockton Dwarfs" and the Spartans, the light weights of the Sacramento Athletic Club, at the Armory in this city next Wednesday, Feb. 22, either during the afternoon or evening. The exact time not being set as yet.

TRUCKEE EXCURSION PROVES SUCCESS

In the baseball game between the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Capital City Wheelmen of this city, played at Truckee Sunday, the former won with a score of 9 to 3. The game was played in the snow.

Besides the Sacramentans at the Truckee Ice Carnival, large parties from San Francisco and Oakland were visiting there, and the time not spent in the ball games was devoted to sleighing, skieing, snow fights, etc.

TRUCKEE PEOPLE PLAN TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Sacramento Excursionists Promised Good Time

SAC. BEE, 2-16-11

"It is snowing at Truckee," was the message received by Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night and this makes it certain there will be ample opportunity for Winter sports when the Sacramento excursionists reach Truckee next Sunday morning. The snow is approximately 15 feet deep and lack of rain, together with the continued cold, has made it hard.

W. H. M. Smith, of Truckee, in a letter telling of the arrangements being made at Truckee to entertain the visitors, says:

"We can give them a sleigh ride in the morning and then tobogganing and skiing any time they choose, as the games will be kept running all the time. The tobogganing and skiing can be carried on as much as they choose and any other source of entertainment desired can be arranged."

Smith says arrangements have been made to hold the basketball game between the Piutes of the Reno High School and the Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic Club at Masonic Temple. The game will be held in the evening. Smith writes:

"The Piute team from Reno will be here for the match in the evening. They will bring quite a number of boosters with them. They claim in their letter that I received to-day that their team will average 150 pounds. As to their speed I cannot say."

Arrangements for the special excursion train were concluded yesterday, sufficient tickets to warrant the success of the outing already having been sold. The ticket sale will continue up until Saturday evening, but those delaying until that time will have to take what is left in the way of berths.

BASKET-BALL TOURNEY GAME.

SACRAMENTO, February 19.—The Sacramento Athletic Club has been notified by the Pacific Athletic Association officials that the basket-ball game between the Spartans of the local club and the Dwarfs of the Young Men's Christian Association of Stockton will be played in this city. The date has been fixed for February 22d, but it may be changed. Both teams are entered in the Pacific Athletic Association basket-ball tourney and the winner will compete at San Francisco in the final rounds.

PIUTES DEFEAT S. A. C.

SAC STAR, 2-24-11

Outclassed as to weight, the heavyweight basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club, was defeated by the Piutes, at Truckee last Sunday with a score of 54 to 9.

Though the local team played good ball, the members averaged about 40 pounds per man less than the Piutes, who are nearly all six-footers.

Instead of playing the Piutes, who are the Nevada State University champions, the local organization expected to play the Reno "Hi" team, much nearer its own weight.

S A C DIRECTORS MEET

To appoint a committee to arrange for their annual masquerade ball, to be held about April 1, and transact other business, the board of directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club will hold a meeting at the club rooms tonight.

SACRAMENTO A. C. TO PLAY RENO AT TRUCKEE

S.F.EX. 2-19-11

SACRAMENTO, February 18.—Two hundred Sacramentans will go to Truckee to-night on the Sacramento Athletic Club special excursion train, leaving here at 10 o'clock to-night. The chief event in which the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club are interested is the basketball game which will be played between that club and a Reno team.

The line-up of the two teams will be as follows:

Sacramento—Center, Duke; forwards Lovich (captain), Luke; guards, Salvador, Sprague; substitutes, Lindenburg, Cowle; referee, O. Rittler.

Reno—Center, Wentworth; forwards, Crews (captain), Went; guards, Charles, Butler; substitutes, Fletcher, May; referee, S. Ross.

There will also be a baseball game in the snow. Other sports in which the Sacramentans will engage will be sleighing, racing, tobogganing and a big snow fight.

MANY NEW MEMBERS FOR S. A. C.

STAR, 3-28-11

Sixty-five new members have been secured by the Sacramento Athletic Club during the recent campaign and more applications for membership are steadily coming in.

Preparations for the annual masquerade ball, April 25, given by the club are now being made and a pleasant time is anticipated.

TRAINING FOR MARATHON RACE

SAC. BEE, 3-4-11

Charles Stewart, of the Athletic Club, has taken up active training for long distance races, his intention being to gradually work up to the Marathon distance. In the past he has shown speed and endurance. Stewart may represent the local Club in the cross-country run of the P. A. A., to be held at San Francisco next Saturday.

Excursion Train Will Carry 200 People to the Mountains

All aboard for Truckee!

At 10 o'clock to-night the special excursion train of the Sacramento Athletic Club will pull out of the Southern Pacific depot and close to 200 people will be off on what promises to be one of the most enjoyable excursions ever run from this city.

At seven o'clock to-morrow morning the train will arrive at Truckee and the Sacramentans will step off the cars into deep snow. It will be a decided change from the bright sunshiny weather now being enjoyed in the city. Briefly the program for the day will be as follows:

Breakfast at hotel.
Sleigh riding through the surrounding country.
Races on the snow, tobogganing, skiing, skating.
Dinner at the hotel.
Baseball game on the snow.
Monster snow fight.
Supper at the hotel.
Basketball game between the Spartans of the S. A. C. and the Piutes of the Reno High School.
Dancing until 10 o'clock.
Board the train for home. Adios to Truckee and its snow.
Arrive at Sacramento at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

While the formal program provides for skiing and tobogganing only in the morning, those sports can be enjoyed at any time and all times during the day. The skis and toboggans are furnished without charge.

It is certain at least 200 Sacramentans will take advantage of the excursion as that number of tickets have already been sold and the ticket sale has not yet been closed. The excursion train as at present made up includes two Pullman sleepers, two tourist sleepers, two chair cars and a smoker. The Athletic Club band will accompany the excursion and do some playing in the smoking car.

TO PLAY ASSOCIATION TOURNEY GAME HERE

The Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Dwarfs of the Y. M. C. A. of Stockton will meet in this city in their first game in the basketball tournament of the Pacific Athletic Association. The date has not been definitely settled, but the game will probably be played February 22d. The winner of the contest will go to San Francisco to compete against the P. A. A. teams there.

S. A. C. READY FOR BALL

SAC. STAR.

There seems to be no lack of available baseball material in the Sacramento Athletic Club, 25 applicants having already signed for the coming season. 3-28-11

Practice work will soon begin and from the enthusiasm shown, some good playing should be done.

The midwinter games will soon be inaugurated and later in the season, the pick of the bunch will become a team in the Tokay League.

SAC. SUNDAY NEWS

Some Athletic Club Boxers Apparently Got Cold Feet. 2-26-11

In spite of the fact that several boxers failed to show up and substitutions had to be made, several good bouts were witnessed Friday night at the monthly boxing night of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The best fight of the evening was between Hanson of the Western Athletic Club and Rufe of the Modoc Club. It was so evenly contested that an extra round was called for and in the end Rufe was given the decision.

Snider Fay of Reno and Marshal of Oakland furnished two rounds of amusing fighting and then Fay declared he was fouled and quit. Referee Schwallenberg, who did not see the foul, gave the fight to Marshal.

The bout between Salvador and Watson was stopped in the second round when Watson was taking a terrific beating and it was apparent that he was outclassed. Azevedo and Sanderson boxed three exhibition rounds. Cole won from Garcia and Brassil won from Sousa.

Charles Schwallenberg, who has devoted much of his time to teaching boxing to the members of the club, was presented with a handsome gold fob, suitably inscribed.

SLEIGHING WILL BE FEATURE FOR VISITORS

Truckee People Prepare to Receive Large Number of Guests

(The Bee's Special Service.)

TRUCKEE (Nevada Co.), February 18.—Truckee is ready for the large crowd of visitors that will be here to-morrow for the snow carnival and athletic sports. Four hundred visitors are expected and they will be given the time of their lives from the moment they step from the train until they leave.

The weather is fine. The sky is clear and there is five feet of good snow on the ground. It is in excellent condition for sleighing and tobogganing.

The local band will furnish music, and in addition there will be music by an orchestra at the Hotel Whitney, where a reception will be given to the guests.

As soon as the excursionists from Sacramento, Reno and other points arrive the local Committees will take them in hand and give them a sleigh-ride. This will be followed by turns at tobogganing and skiing. In the afternoon there will be a general snow fight, at which two armies will line up in opposition.

A baseball game on snow is a feature being planned and two professional ski jumpers will endeavor to break records.

This evening there will be a basketball game in Masonic Hall between the Piutes of Reno and the Sargeants of Sacramento. Following the game the hall will be cleared and dancing will continue until the trains arrive.

TOP OF TOBOGGAN AT TRUCKEE SNOW CARNIVAL

Five Hundred Visitors Enjoy Sleigh Rides and Skiing in Mountain Town

Special to the Union.

TRUCKEE (Nev. Co.), Feb. 19.—On a glittering diamond of snow, two teams, one from Sacramento the other from Reno, this afternoon played the first snow-field baseball game in the history of California winter sports, before the largest crowd that ever attended one of Truckee's far-famed ice carnivals.

More than 500 visitors partook of the holiday hospitality of the little mountain town, which sparkled in its five-foot coat of snow beneath a mellow California sun. Aside from the unique baseball contest, on a specially prepared field in the packed snow at the base of a sleek toboggan slide, in which the nine of the Sacramento Athletic club and a picked Reno team reveled in a hit-and-miss game, the visitors enjoyed sleighing, skiing, skating and the numerous allied sports of the winter-bound Sierras.

More than 200 persons came by special train from Sacramento, an equal number from Reno, and a hundred more from nearby towns. The hotels and restaurants were taxed to capacity to accommodate the unusual demands of visitors, but the local committee of arrangements saw that all were well supplied with edibles and had ample opportunity for recreation.

The toboggan slide was at its best, the sleds fleeting down a slippery surface at express-train speed; sleighing and skiing were at their best; the sun shone the greater part of the day, only occasional clouds obscuring it. The visitors all declared their admiration for Truckee—and the business men of the town who planned the carnival are elated.

A general snow-fight this afternoon was followed tonight by a basketball game in Masonic hall in which the Sacramento Athletic club and Reno Piute teams contested.

GOETHE AND RITTLER WORK FOR PLAYGROUNDS

SAC. STAR. 3-28-11

Playgrounds and track meets for the boys of the grammar schools are now receiving the undivided and enthusiastic attention of C. M. Goethe, in charge of the playgrounds of the city, and Professor Rittler, physical director and secretary of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who are working hard and faithfully for the benefit of the youth of the city.

According to Professor Rittler, who is endeavoring to organize meets among the boys of the grammar schools, only 44 of them will be taken from each school, and only those sufficiently advanced in their studies will be admitted, that their school work may not be neglected.

Each boy will be eligible in only one meet, thus giving all a chance to compete.

FOUGHT WITH SNOW BALLS ON HILLS OF TRUCKEE

Baseball and Other Sports Enjoyed by Hundreds of Visitors

(The Bee's Special Service.)

Truckee and its snow yesterday welcomed more than 200 sunshine-laden residents of Sacramento.

There were two invading Sacramento parties, one of 200 directed by the Sacramento Athletic Club, the other of thirty directed by Ed Whyte, Sergeant at Arms of the Assembly.

In the larger party there were many members of the Athletic Club, members of the Capital City Wheelmen, of the Hermitage Club, the Dixon Automobile Club, a delegation from Marysville, and wives and sisters of the excursionists.

Whyte's party included several Senators and Assemblymen and attaches of the Legislature and their families.

Out for Frolic.

They left Sacramento at diferent times Saturday night, the Whyte party making the trip on one of the regular Southern Pacific trains, the Athletic Club party occupying a special train of six cars.

Once at Truckee, with its snowy welcome, all were one; they were out for a good frolic, and joined hands in enjoying it. Some zest was added by the arrival of a delegation of more than fifty from Reno.

On Toboggans.

Men, women and children went hurtling down the steep toboggan slide, clinging for their sweet lives to narrow straps, holding the flimsy sleds very, very tight, sometimes until the sled stopped its mad flight for scientific reasons relating only to momentum, ofttimes letting go quickly and giving a frantic scream as the sled buried its turned-up nose into undesired soft snow and sent its occupants pelting forward, arms and legs awry, coats and skirts flying, burying all beneath the frozen beautiful.

On Tricksome Ski.

Many of the adventurous tried the tricksome ski, found it easy for a few feet, and then stopped abruptly to pick themselves up after an awkward fall. No man, nor woman, can tumble unexpectedly and do it gracefully, and it is worse when perched on skiis. Artificial pedal extremities, eight feet long, are not conducive to anything approaching grace, except when the wearer occupies an upright position. Many Sacramentans in the coming days tell how nicely they "did it," referring to skiing, but the second party to the conversation should not be convinced. Admittedly one or two "did it," referring again to the skiis, but 100 or more did not "do it," again referring.

Toboggan Race.

But the visitors cared sufficiently for tobogganing and skiing to keep the mountainside busy from early in th emorning until late in the evening. the morning until late in the evening. some spectacular, all humorous, none serious, for falling into snow doesn't hurt.

O. H. Cope and Dr. Nielsen arranged a match toboggan race late in the afternoon. They started at the same time, and both covered the slide of 2,000 feet in thirty seconds, honors being even.

Other Features.

There were other features of the day's enjoyment, notably a snowball fight, a baseball game in the snow, the first exhibition of the kind ever given in California; sleighing, a basketball game and a dance.

The snowball fight occupied a place on the official program, but it began without premeditation. One or two snowballs, hurled while a crowd was in front of the New Whitney Hotel, started the affray. In five minutes 100 were engaged in the battle and for twenty minutes the snow was kept flying.

Baseball on Snow.

The unique baseball game was played between teams representing the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Capital City Wheelmen, with Otto Rittler as umpire. An indoor baseball was used and often it was buried beneath the snow and had to be dug out. The diamond was marked out with red confetti, the snow underneath being seven feet deep. Bacon and Dixon formed the battery for the Athletic Club and Bowden and Smith the battery for the Wheelmen. The Athletics won, the score being 9 to 8. Only five innings were played.

Sleighing was enjoyed throughout the day, the most popular trip being to Donner. On their return the visitors walked up the steep hill to the museum, where many relics of the famous Donner party are on display.

Basketball Game.

The basketball game was played in the evening. It was between the Spartans of the S. A. C. and the Piutes of Reno, champions of Nevada. The Reno boys were altogether too heavy for the Sacramentans and won easily, the score being 54 to 9. After the game a few minutes of dancing was enjoyed.

The people of Truckee were cordial in their welcome to the visitors. There was nothing in the nature of a reception, but on all sides was the smile of welcome, and the townspeople, used as they are to the attractions the little mountain town has to offer, entered cordially into the spirit of the occasion and exchanged jest for jest, snowball for snowball, and a "we are glad you are here" for a "we are mighty glad to be here."

SACRAMENTANS ENJOYING DAY OF SNOW SPORTS AT TRUCKEE

4—Otto Rittler, H. I. Sprague, Ancil Hoffman and Fred Bowden, of Sacramento Athletic Club, completing a successful slide.

Homeward Trip.

It was a tired crowd that boarded the train for home at 10 o'clock. There was a farewell cheer for Truckee and its warm-hearted people, a fond last look at the snow that has enveloped the picturesque town in its mantel of beauty, and then drowsy heads dropped upon the soft pillows.

Awakening, there was sunshine; drooping eyelids were rapidly rubbed, for here was Sacramento and its sunshine again.

Evening Class Hours.

Tuesdays and Fridays, 8 to 10 p. m.

Next Boxing Night.

On Friday, February 24, Ancil Hoffman and Prof. Otto Rittler will stage the next monthly boxing bouts and will try to outdo last month's show. Of course, as every member knows, this will be a hard job, as the January card was the best for a long time; but with such boys to pick from as Pappa vs. Garcia, Souza vs. Luke, Sanderson vs. Murry, Bowen vs. Pappa, Amiker vs. Muskrat, West vs. Goulard, Cody vs. Raymond, Erickson vs. Hanson, and with Azevedo, Perinti, Salvadore and Ahern yet to be matched, the club members will certainly be treated to some real fighting. Hoffman is anxious to get new men to go on and wishes all those who want to box at any of the shows to report to Professor Otto Rittler.

—o—

Swimming.

The club is now forming a swimming team to represent it in all branches of aquatic sports. Tomorrow morning there will be a large number at the baths to get into shape for the coming tournament which will be held in the near future between the local clubs for prizes and medals.

All those who desire to try out for the swimming team should show up at the baths tomorrow morning.

Any member desiring to learn to swim will be taught if he makes his wishes known to Professor Rittler or to the Swimming Commissioner, as on class days there will be plenty of skilled members who will be pleased to teach them.

Swimming is the one exercise that every man, woman or child should deem it a duty to know, as there is no sport so healthful and more effective in building the body on graceful lines.

The Swimming Commissioner intends, in the near future, to name regular practice nights, but Sunday morning will be the starter.

—o—

Handball.

The team handball tournament came to a close this week, when Senf and Mattison played off their tie with Barnes and McDonough and won two straight games.

The final standing of the teams was as follows:

First Class.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Blake & Blake	12	2	.857
Donald & Morris	11	3	.786
Shaw & Bacon	10	4	.714
Yoerk & Mansfield	9	5	.643
Lobner & Strachan	8	6	.572
Duval & Pugh	4	10	.286
McCulloch & Warren	2	12	.143
Delano & Marston	0	14	.000

Second Class.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Senf & Mattison	14	2	.875
Barnes & McDonough	12	4	.750
Shorrock & Wahlander	7	5	.583
Cox & Simmermacher	6	6	.500
Rose & Ross	8	8	.500
Toland & Wahlander	4	10	.286

Commissioner Yoerk will start a handball tournament for singles in about two weeks.

Boating.

Boating will be one of the most important sports the S. A. C. will undertake this year. Although this is a line of sport in which the club has been somewhat lax in the past, there are a great many members who will welcome boating with enthusiasm and who will strive earnestly to place the Athletic Club on a par with other Coast organizations, in this particular branch of sport.

WEST AND GOULARD ARE SIGNED FOR MAIN EVENT

SAC. BEE. 2-20-11

Willing Scrappers Are to Feature S. A. C. Show

West and Goulard are to furnish the main event of the boxing show to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club next Friday evening. Originally it had been intended to give Erickson and Hanson main event position, but as Erickson is expecting any day to leave for the East, it was necessary to cancel the bout. Hanson will go against Rufe in the special event. There will be two specials, the second being furnished by Amiker and Muskrat.

West and Goulard can be relied upon to put up a gruelling fight. West won the commendation of the fans last month when he made such a game showing against Erickson. He claims he was not in good condition that night, but since then he has been taking care of himself and doing some active training work.

Amiker and Muskrat put up a classy bout three months ago, Muskrat winning a very close decision. Ever since that time Amiker has been asking for another chance, and Matchmaker Hoffman has finally decided to give it to him.

The other bouts on the card: Starks vs. Souza, Cole vs. Garcia, Sanderson vs. Luke, Murray vs. Perinti, and Raymond vs. Cory.

Whist Tournament.

Six challenging teams have developed for the club whist tournament, each expressing a blithe confidence in its own ability to "lift" the cup. Emes and Pugh have backed up their claim of superiority by winning a series of sixteen boards from the present champions, Pixley and Sollars, by two points. The following teams are participating in the tournament:

Arcega and Fisher, Corson and Ross, Emes and Pugh, Knight and Nason, McClatchy and Wahlander, Morris and Turner, Pixley and Sollers.

The $1,000 Contest.

The club, as every member knows, is entered in the Bee's circulation contest for the $1,000 purse, and expects every member who has the club at heart to get in and give its support. The club can use the money very handily in fixing up the rooms. Part of the money would go toward buying music for the orchestra the club is to have in another week. We are at present in third place, but will soon be back at the head of the procession, but it needs a lot of hard work and everybody's help is needed. So get behind this scheme and make a grandstand finish by nosing out all rivals.

—o—

Basketball Team.

The Spartans, one of the best teams Sacramento ever produced in the line of basketball, are going to take one of the longest trips yet taken by any Sacramento basketball team. In the line-up Duke at center is a tower of strength and a wonder at shooting clubs in town, have offered their services for the advancement of the sport in the club.

The boys are very often recalling the great time they had last year at the outing up the river. The barbacue, the ball game, the field events and the wrestling in the tall grass all made a big hit with the members. If the members will support the boating commission this year, there will certainly be many enjoyable hours spent in aquatic sports.

—o—

S. A. C. Orchestra.

Next Friday Professor Rittler will call a meeting of all club boys who are interested in forming an orchestra. Several boys who have talent in that line will get together and make arrangements for practice nights. A leader will be secured to arrange the music and keep the boys together.

Already nine boys have signed their names to the list and at the next ladies' night the club's orchestra will make its bow. The Directors will board up a room in the attic so the boys won't be disturbed by anyone while practicing. If any member wishes to join the orchestra, show up at the club Friday night, or inquire of Professor Rittler.

baskets. Sprague and Salvador are very clever in guarding their opponents; Luke is a difficult man to guard, and the fame of Captain Lovich is known, so there is no use to dwell on his ability. Coach Rittler thinks with this team he will beat any on the Coast. The boys are open for games with any team on the Coast under 130 pounds. The Spartans will soon have to play in San Francisco in the P. A. A. tournament.

Alvin Gates' Hard Luck.

Alvin F. Gates, the club's half-miler, and one of the best athletes on the Coast, also holder of the half-mile Pacific Coast championship, was the club's only entry in the Olympic indoor meet in San Francisco, and would certainly have had a few medals to his credit but for some bad luck. Alvin finished third in his heat and qualified for the finals, but while finishing the 75-yard dash he ran into a bunch of chairs at the end of the hall and sprained his ankle, which kept him from entering any more races that night. He would have won the 600-yard race but for the mishap.

New Members.

The Board of Directors started a membership contest, December 27 last, at the Christmas jinks by electing J. Blake, F. Bacon, E. Horten, L. Ferguson, J. Hallanan, C. Phillips, captains, and offered a prize for the team that got the most members into the club during the month of January. They selected the right captains, judging from the way the new members came in. One hundred and fifty-one applications were passed upon during January, all good material and a credit to the club.

For a while F. Bacon and C. Phillips ran neck and neck for the prize, but Phillips got sick and could not get around. When he got on his feet again, Frank was so far ahead of him that it was a hard job to catch up, but he showed his club spirit by bringing in new members right along.

The following score shows how the boys worked: F. Bacon, 51; C. Phillips, 42; J. Blake, 20; L. Ferguson, 16; J. Hallanan, 15; E. Horton, 7.

The new members are H. West, J. Marks, J. Tilleman, M. Jacinto, O. Challeway, C. Rothwell, A. Santos, W. Fisher, J. Corrie, M. Contente, J. Jansen, E. Fields, H. Ogg, J. Smith, A. Drew, B. The Minstrel Show.

Last Friday evening's minstrel show at the Clunie Theater developed much hitherto unexpected talent among the members. The show was a complete success from every point of view and the boys are considering invitations to repeat it for the benefit of charities and lodges in other cities. The singing chorus in the first part was a revelation, and the end men all made good, while the Roman posing, the club juggling and the sketches in the olio scored big hits.

Club Chat.

The Spartans, as the club lightweight basketball five are called, narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of the Boys' Brotherhood on Thursday night, nosing out by the narrow margin of 31 to 30.

Tickets for the Truckee trip next Saturday night are ready and for sale at the club, or at either of the S. P. ticket offices. The rate of $5 for the round trip has been made. The train will leave at 10:40 Saturday night, reaching Truckee the following morning.

The billiard tournament started Thursday evening and play will be continued every Wednesday evening.

The club's annual race around Capitol Park will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Some surprises are looked for, as several of the comparatively new members have developed much strength as middle distance runners.

It has been decided to keep the charter open until the close of February, so new members may still come in without the payment of initiation fees.

All Aboard for Truckee.

Latest reports from Truckee, received last night, were to the effect that snow is six feet deep there, with clear weather and a thermometer that is just hovering around zero.

The big S. A. C. excursion to that chilly village will leave the Southern Pacific depot at 10 o'clock tonight, reaching Truckee early tomorrow morning. It is estimated that five hundred Sacramentans will take possession of the mountain town tomorrow, just about doubling its population. Everything is in readiness for their reception, including free sleighs, free toboggans and free skiis. One feature of the snow carnival will be a game of baseball between the Capital City Wheelmen and the S. A. C. team, which will be played on the hard crust. Also there will be a basketball game between the club lightweight team and a Reno team. Over one hundred Reno residents will be on hand to cheer their favorites.

Tickets for the excursion may be had at the depot tonight, from the S. A. C. committee, members of which will be on hand early.

SAC. WEEKLY 2-18-11

Day in the Dark.

Louis Day has "got in" wrong again by resigning from the club, for reasons unknown. But Louis did say a thing or two before he left that leads most of the boys to believe that he was not "made over" enough. "Smiley" may be a star, but this last baby act will cause him a lot of trouble. In the first place Day registered with the Spartans to play in the P. A. A. tournament, and this makes it impossible for him to play with any other team for six months. And, furthermore, any team he plays on or with, or any members of such team is liable to suspension, according to the P. A. A. rules. That means that no registered amateur can play in any game in which Day takes part this season.

—o—

Basketball Brevities.

"Barb" Lovich has his Spartans all primed for that Truckee trip, and says that they will bring home the Piutes' scalps or else know the reason why.

The heavyweights lost last week at Oroville—score, 40 to 11—but then the Oroville bunch are some players.

The Spartans came through in fine style at Davis last week and beat the State Farm team by a score of 36 to 30. And the score only begins to tell what the boys did. Although outweighed at least twenty-five pounds to the man, and being several inches shorter than their opponents, the Spartans went into the game with their usual rush and played the "Farm" team off their feet. Cliff Luke was the star of the S. A. C. boys, scoring at least two-thirds of their points. "Cap." Lovich had a lot of work mapped out for him the next day, and was content to let his team-mates do the heavy work, otherwise the score would have been much larger, as all know what the "Bart" can do when he really starts. Watch him at Truckee and Stockton. Cowie and Salvador played a brilliant game at guard, while Harry Duke was in many of the plays, as usual.

Joe Blake is figuring on a few new stunts for his team.

Oh you P. A. A. tournament.

BASEBALL PLAYERS OF ATHLETIC CLUB ACTIVE

SAC. BEE. 3-4-11

Baseball players of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be given a tryout at McKinley Park Sunday, if the weather permits. The candidate roll has been open for several days and already a score of prospective players have signed. To-night the baseball commissioners of the club are to meet and map out plans for the future.

If a likely looking team can be put in the field, efforts will be made to arrange a practive game with the Senators. The S. A. C. played against the local Coast League bunch last season and gave them a hard rub, being nosed out by one run.

OAKLAND BOXERS ASK FOR BOUTS HERE

The boxing show of the S. A. C. has been set for the evening of Friday, March 24th. Letters were received yesterday from George Nesbit and Ted Rhino, both of Oakland, asking for matches, and it is probable they will be accommodated. They appeared here during the recent tournament and made good.

Nesbit weighs 122 pounds and may be given a chance at Ahern, the tough little scrapper from Grass Valley. Rhino weighs 125 pounds and may be started with Salvadore.

WALTER LEITCH LEADS IN DISTRICT 1; S. A. C. NEW ORGANIZATION LEADER

SAC. BEE. 2-14-11

Your Name Will Not Be Published After To-day Unless You Have Over 5,000 Votes—Competition for Specials Brings Out Large Vote by Heretofore Inactive Candidates—No One in To-day's Published List Is Eligible for Vacation Trips Announced on Another Page to Be Given New Candidates on March 4—Keep Busy!

All candidates who have not more than 5,000 votes in to-day's published list should turn in some votes at once as those who have cast no more than the nomination vote of 5,000 up to next Friday will be dropped from the published list until such time as they cast more ballots. There are a number of candidates to whom ballots heve been issued but who have not cast them. By all means send or bring in these ballots before noon next Friday.

Walter Leitch, of 1610 Second Street, has again gained the lead over all District 1 candidates in to-day's publication, having increased his vote from 55,684 to 90,292. He now stands first for the Tour of the World, Mrs. Lillie Nyrop having dropped to second place.

The Sacramento Athletic Club, which has been in third place, has taken the lead among the organizations for the $1,000 in gold by a very small margin. The Maccabee Degree Team dropped to second place and the Camellia Club to third. Competition among the organizations is becoming very close and exciting.

Below is the published standing of all candidates in The Bee's Great $11,000 Voting Campaign up to noon yesterday. There are a large number of changes in the list especially in District Two which furnished the principal excitement of the Campaign last week. Competition for the Special Awards given last Saturday was very strenuous among the outside candidates.

In District One several new candidates entered the race with substantial votes.

The vote for the leaders for the more valuable Awards is still so small that the opportunity for new candidates is as good if not better than on the first day of the Campaign. The candidates who have already polled a considerable vote have had to exhaust a great deal of their vote getting power in order to do it. They have seen their friends. If you have not begun an active campaign for votes you have yet to touch the large vote getting strength which your many friends and acquaintances give you.

Get into the Campaign with the determination of winning. Make an active effort for votes and get them every day.

Elsewhere in to-day's Bee you will find a list of Attractive Special Awards to be given next Saturday, February 18th and also four Vacation Trips to be given March 4th. You have the opportunity of winning one or the other of these as well as a Big Award at the close of the Campaign.

WESTERLUND FIRST IN SWEDISH A. C. MARATHON

S.F.Ex. 2-27-11

THE WINNERS.

P. Westerlund, S. A. A. C. 2:59:12 3-5
J. Larsen, S. A. A. C. 3:14:43
James McGee, Unatt. 3:17:30
P. McHugh, Unatta. 3:27:15

The Swedish American Athletic Club supplied the winner of the Marathon race which it promoted yesterday in the person of P. Westerlund, a new star among local long distance runners. The race was a twenty-five mile affair, starting at the stadium in Golden Gate Park, from which the runners came by way of the park drives, Baker street, Fulton street, Devisadero street and Golden Gate avenue to Market and Eighth. They entered the arena at the corner of Eighth and Howard and then ran nineteen miles on a nine-lap track laid around the enclosure where Promoter Blot planned to hold many fights and really did hold one.

Seventeen runners faced the starter in the park, and of these four completed the full distance and six more were still toiling at the weary grind when the officials mercifully called the race off and awarded the prizes in accordance with the positions occupied by the men at the time the halt was called. Besides Westerlund, who won by a mile and three-quarters, the ones to complete the distance were Larsen, McGee and McHugh.

When the race was stopped Basil Spurr had covered 24 miles and 3 laps, Haavind 24 miles and 2 laps, Rothstein 23 miles, Fallehy 22 miles and 8 laps, Manning 22 miles and 4 laps and Barnes 18 miles and 1 lap.

Johnson, who was looked upon as a probable winner, held the lead at fifteen miles, after running just behind Rothstein all the way in from the park to the arena. At this time his shoes had blistered his feet so badly that he was compelled to drop out of the race, Westerlund having passed him just before he stopped. Westerlund kept up an even gait to the finish, apparently feeling first rate all the time, and he gradually opened up the lead on the others during the last ten miles until he had an advantage of nearly two miles. Larsen, the second man, was fifteen minutes behind and McGee came to the last round three minutes after Larsen. When McHugh got over the line ten minutes later, the spectators and officials had had enough and the others were called off the track.

Considerable interest had been taken in the appearance of a Swiss runner, who was widely advertised as another Dorando. He started with the others and astounded the officials, who were following the runners in autos, by stopping after going less than a quarter of a mile.

ROSEVILLE ATHLETIC BOARD WANTS HOTEL

Special to the Union.

ROSEVILLE (Placer Co.), Feb. 28.—The board of directors of the Roseville athletic association went to Sacramento last night as guests of the Sacramento athletic club, for the purpose of getting as many ideas as possible regarding the management of the club. They also met with H. W. Sheridan, division superintendent of the Southern Pacific, in an endeavor to lease from the company the Roseville hotel building on Vernon street.

If the negotiations are successful, they will install the club here and not only will have an athletic club but a social club as well.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL LEAGUE WILL BENEFIT STUDENTS

SAC. BEE. 3-4-11

Athletic Club Expects Cooperation of Board of Education in Project

"I believe several hundred school children of Sacramento will join the Interscholastic League when it first starts and that they will take great interest in the field meets," declared Otto Rittler yesterday. Rittler is the athletic instructor of the Sacramento Athletic Club and a member of the committee, of which Arthur Delano is Chairman, appointed to confer with the Board of Education regarding the formation of a League to include all the Grammar Schools of the city.

"The Athletic Club is not expecting to gain anything by this move," continued Rittler, "but we do believe the school children will be benefited. The Club will furnish coaches for every school and no charge will be made for their services. We will help the children train, will see that they do not do too much and will teach them how best to exercise."

Chairman Delano expects to bring the matter before the Board of Education at its next meeting and it is practically certain the proposal of the Athletic Club will be very favorably received. Similar leagues have been formed in other cities and the athletic training, properly directed, has proved of great benefit to the youngsters. In New York City last season 50,000 school children competed in field meets.

Rittler has given careful study to the matter and is prepared to lay all details before the Education Board. The students will be classified according to their weight, not according to their grade in school, their age, nor their heighth. Eighty-five pound boys will compete with lads of a similar weight, or not over that and there will be similar weight divisions until the unlimited class, which will probably be 115 pounds and over, is reached.

The most strenuous events common to field anod track meets will be eliminated and every care taken the boys do not overdo. There will be no race for more than 440 yards and there will be no hammer throw nor shot put. Short dashes, 50 yards, 100 yards, and short hurdle races will be encouraged; broad jumping and high jumping will be taught and so will pole vaulting. Relay races with teams from the different weight divisions of each school will be features of the field meets.

Delano believes that by canvassing among the business men of the city, or by simply letting them know something of the kind is desired, sufficient funds can be secured to purchase medals and a few cups. It is quite probable some of the larger merchants of the city will offer a cup for competition.

"We are ready to go ahead at any time we are assured of the co-operation of the Board of Education," said Rittler, and it is likely that co-operation will soon be had.

LOCAL RUNNERS ASKED TO JOIN

SAC. BEE. 3-28-11

The Visitacion Valley Athletic Association of San Francisco has issued a special invitation to the Sacramento Athletic Club to participate in the annual P. A. A. cross-country race to be held under the auspices of that organization on March 12th.

Ruitler will take the matter up before the Athletic Committee of the local club and hopes to be able to send at least three or four of the local club's best long-distance runners to the Bay City to uphold the honor of the Sacramento organization.

The race this year will take place at Visitacion Valley in San Francisco. The course extends into San Mateo County over the San Bruno Mountains. It is seven and a half miles long, and all kinds of going are to be found along this run.

The race should be interesting to spectators, as the runners may be followed by a field glass two-thirds of the entire distance. The final stretch will be on a smooth county road, and may be viewed for a mile from the finishing point.

Each runner who enters will be given a handicap by the Handicapping Committee of the P. A. A. The winner of the race will not only win the championship, but also a valuable cup thirteen inches in hight donated by the Visitacion Valley Improvement Association. The trophy is one of the handsomest ever offered in these events. There will be three place prizes and three time prizes, besides special prizes for schoolboys. The Committee will give each runner finishing within a certain specified time a bronze bar. The race is open to all registered amateurs in the State of California over 16 years of age. Entries close on March 6th.

Will Again Manage Golden Poppies

SAC. UN. 3-5-11

L. E. FERGUSON.

Squad of Ball Tossers Trying for Places on Speedy Amateur Club.

"Bob" Ferguson was elected manager of the Golden Poppy baseball club at the regular monthly meeting of the organization held Friday night. For the past two years Ferguson has managed the team, and has always kept the club up in the running, which insures teams clashing with the Poppies this season a hard tussle.

The boys trying for the team are practicing on the Tom Fox diamond, at Ninth and T streets, and some clever talent is being developed. Among those trying for the team are Ed Hubert, Wright, Deardoff, Crouch, Hausmyer, Wonderly, O'Neil, Glacken, Lorain, Schmidt, Stocker, Mellow, Mickellic, Hellerge, Kattenhorn, and Curlee. The team will be in shape for games about April 1.

In addition to their ball team, the members of the club are taking a great deal of interest in athletics, wrestling and boxing, some excellent boxing and wrestling matches having been arranged for Wednesday night, when the club will stage a show in their gymnasium at Nineteenth and K streets. Henry Kattenhorn, champion wrestler of the club, will defend his title against Ed Hubert, who has challenged, and several boxing bouts will be put on.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS A BUSY CALENDAR FOR MONTH

SAC. BEE. 3-3-11

Many Affairs Planned for Members of Organization

An active schedule is planned by the Sacramento Athletic Club for this month. The feature events will be a ladies' night the evening of Wednesday, March 15th, and a boxing show the night of Friday, March 24th.

For the ladies' night a vaudeville program is being arranged. The club's orchestra will furnish music and there will be a series of vocal numbers, together with monolgues and an athletic number or two.

Just as soon as the weather clears active baseball practice is to be commenced. Four teams, composed of members of the Club, are to be organized, and they will play a series of games. After this series, the team to represent the S. A. C. during the season will be organized.

A singles handball tournament is to be started the middle of the month. In the meantime there is a whist tournament in progress and also a billiard tournament.

Basketball games are being arranged with the Dwarfs of Stockton and the Lodi team. During the latter part of the month a field meet will be held with the Davis State Farm.

Basketball Season Has Been Greatest in the History of Game on Coast.

With the winning of the State basketball championship by the Stockton All Stars for the eighth time one of the greatest seasons in the history of the game was completed on this coast. Over a hundred fives sported colors in this city alone, which is a wonderful increase over former years.

The game played was also an improvement over the style which has predominated in the past. Many of the teams played in championship form, and the majority employed combination plays and team work which was far ahead of anything used here before.

The Stockton All Stars are still too strong for any of the local fives, and though the University of California put up a hard fight for first honors, the up-country players were handicapped by the strict interpretation of the rules by the referee. The All Stars rely a good deal on their aggressiveness to pull them through, and when an official holds them down they are baffled.

It did look for awhile that this city would at last turn out a winning aggregation in the Argonauts, which is composed of many of last season's stars. The local team showed fine form, and when they looked like contenders their center failed to put in an appearance in the semi-final match, with the result that they were beaten after a wonderful showing with four men against the University of California. The local players have arranged a series of three games against the All Stars and some great basketball should be witnessed.

The All Stars lacked their usual fire in their game here and many are of the opinion that they are far below their form of last year when they seemed invincible. Their team work was still noticeable, but their goal-throwing was badly lacking.

The Swastikas, champions of the 130-pound division, showed more speed and team work than any other five in the tourney. The Y. M. C. A. boys not only played a clean, fast game, but can take care of themselves in any kind of going. In their opening match against the Smiler Jrs. they were hustled to all corners of the gymnasium, but held their ground gamely and won after a hard fight. The local team works its signals with clock-like precision, and their good condition was always in their favor.

The surprise of the tourney was furnished by the Cogswell school, which won two championships, first honors in the 110 and 120 pound classes. The green and black institution had a great basketball year and three championships were carried away by them. Their 110-pound team won what was the greatest lightweight game that has ever been seen on a local court when they defeated the St. Peter's School in the championship match by two points, the winning scores being made less than a minute before the final whistle.

The 120-pound five won from Oakland High School, and the transbay players who had chalked up two P. A. A. championships the previous year had to be content with second honors. The blue and white five complained about the local playing ground, claiming that the baskets and floor would not allow them to show their best form.

In the 145-pound division the University of California champions had an easy time. They took part in only two games. In the final match they lined up against the Columbia Park Boys' Club team, but the local players, who are badly out of form, proved easy victims. The U. C. players are a strong lot and showed good team work and aggressiveness.

The local committee, which is composed of Robert Dodd as chairman, George A. Schlitter and Charles Minto, did some good work and there were no complaints from any angle relative to the fairness of the tourney.

VAUDEVILLE FOR S. A. C. LADIES

STAR SAC.

Preparations for a vaudeville performance to be followed by a dance in honor of their friends, are being made by the Sacramento Athletic Club for ladies' night, March 15.

Considerable interest is being taken in the entertainmet and nothing is being left undone to make the affair a success. 2-27-11

WILL NOMINATE NEW OFFICERS FOR S. A. C.

SAC-BEE. 3-4-11

A Committee to nominate officers for the Sacramento Athletic Club for the coming season has been appointed. It includes W. L. Ross, Charles Stewart, George Newbert, William Pugh and L. Nickell.

The annual meeting of the club will be held April 15th. Prior to that time the Nominating Committee will select the prospective officers and the members will be given a chance to ballot on them.

PROGRAM FOR LADIES' NIGHT

An interesting program to include several vaudeville numbers and a dance is being arranged for the ladies' night to be given by the Athletic Club the evening of Wednesday, March 15th. It is proposed to make it the most pleasant affair of the kind ever given by the Club.

SACRAMENTO DOING ITS TRAINING IN GYMNASIUM

O'Rourke, New Captain, Lays Down Rules to Senators for Coming Season.

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Aside from laying down a few training rules and putting his men through a few gymnasium stunts, Captain O'Rourke has so far been able to do very little with the Senate squad. O'Rourke was prompt to accept the invitation of the Sacramento Athletic Club to make free use of the club's gymnasium, and it is there the ball players have spent the greater part of their time. The pitchers have been able to warm up a little, but for the fielders there has been little chance to do anything. They have loosened up their joints by playing handball, but for real baseball practice there has been none of it.

O'Rourke has made a series of training rules. They stipulate that every player must be out of bed and dressed by 8 o'clock in the morning and must be in bed by midnight; every player must be in uniform and at the baseball grounds at 10 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, though the rain has prevented this rule becoming operative. During the course of practice no player is to leave the grounds without permission; every player must refrain from excessive drinking and no liquor must be imbibed before a game.

The pitching staff for Sacramento is much of an unknown quantity. Pape, Dale and Arrellanes were expected to be with the Senators, but all three are still with the Red Sox and may go East with the team. Taylor of the Boston team has ordered Pitcher Hassler to report to Sacramento and Bedient has also been ordered here. Bedient was with Fall River in the New England League last season. He won .591 of his games and fielded .943 on a team that finished a bad fifth.

Captain O'Rourke has announced that if the weather permits, the Senate squad will be divided into two teams Sunday afternoon and a game played at Buffalo Park. They will be known as the Dulins and the O'Rourkes, which should be sufficient to create a fight.

The first game between the Senators and the Red Sox is scheduled for next Tuesday, and it will be known locally as Harry Hooper day, in honor of the clever outfielder of that name who is with the Boston bunch. Hooper made his start in professional ball in this city.

The schedule allots ninety-one games to Sacramento, with three holiday dates: Labor day, September 4th; Admission day, September 9th, and Discovery day, October 12th.

HANSEN NOT SATISFIED WITH DECISION FOR RUFE

SAC. BEE 3-1-11

Al Hansen, who lost a decision to Rufe before the Sacramento Athletic Club last Friday night, is not satisfied with the result of the fight. He wants another crack at Rufe, but wants it over a longer route than four rounds.

Jack Campbell is looking after Hansen's interests and says that if a ffiteen or twenty-round bout can be arranged he will back his man with a good side bet. The amateur limit of three rounds, with possibly one round added, he says is not sufficient to show what Hansen can do.

BASEBALL SQUAD TRAINING AT ATHLETIC CLUB'S GYM

Senators Offered Use of Rooms of Local Organization—Cameron Is Peevish

SAC. BEE 3-1-11

The Sacramento squad of baseball recruits has certainly had a bad run of luck in drawing training weather. Active work-outs were to have started last Monday, but three days have gone without the players being able to get more than ordinary fielding practice and some running, so moisty has been the weather. The result accomplished by these poor weather conditions is the chasing of the ball players from Buffalo Park to the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic Club, where they have been generously tendered the use of the club's fine equipment to get the kinks out of the stale muscles.

The invitation of the Athletic Club will be of great assistance to the players during the rainy days. Several of them are keen handball players and will take this opportunity of conditioning themselves.

The first clear day is to find the Dulin and O'Rourke clans in a pitched battle. Intense rivalry has developed between these two teams and is only awaiting an outlet. What a merry struggle would ensue were the Dulins and O'Rourkes to play on St. Patrick's Day. Woora! Woora!

Cameron Refuses to Report.

Grammar School Athletic League

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—A league to include the schools of the city, and perhaps of the county, is being promoted by the Sacramento Athletic Club for the purpose of interesting the youngsters in athletics. Arthur Delano, Otto Rittler and Charles Stewart have been appointed to go before the Board of Education and secure the consent and co-operation of the Board in the plan.

Delano is prepared to lay before the educators a plan for a field and track meet in which it is expected several hundred school children will compete. The athletic club is prepared to furnish coaches for all schools, and with the assistance of the merchants of the city will offer medals and cups for the various events.

Accept Challenge of Farm Students

Special Dispatch to the "Chronicle."

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—The State Farm students at Davis have accepted the challenge of the Sacramento Athletic Club for a field and track meet. It will be held the latter part of March. The athletic club will this week put four baseball teams into the field. A series of games will be played and the players making the best showing will be selected to form the team to represent the club during the season.

A ladies' night, with a vaudeville progrmme as a feature, will be given by the athletic club the night of March 15th.

SAC. STAR.

S. A. C. MASQUE TO BE AN EVENT

What promises to be one of the best social and amateur vaudeville events of the season is the vaudeville show and masquerade ball to be given by the Sacramento Athletic club on April 1. The board of directors of that organization will meet at the club's rooms tonight to make arrangements for the occasion. 3-2-11

Though the club's previous efforts in that line will long be remembered with pleasure, the coming entertainment promises to eclipse any of their former attempts in that direction.

Fully sixty people will participate, and nothing will be left undone to make the affair a complete success.

S. A. C. STARTS PRACTICE

A call for members of the Sacramento Athletic club to practice baseball next Sunday morning at McKinley Park, has just been issued by Arthur Delano of that organization.

If the weather is favorable a large attendance is expected as quite a number have signified their willingness to join the team.

RITTLER QUITS S. A. C. JOB

SAC. STAR 3-10-11

Otto Rittler, secretary and physical director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has resigned his position and will leave for Oakland early in April, where he will take a short rest. Beyond stating that later he expected to join an acrobatic troupe, he had but little to say of his future plans. His successor will be selected at the next meeting of the board of directors. The program for Ladies' night, which was intended to be given tonight, has been postponed until next week.

CLUB DIRECTORS ASK RITTLER TO STAY

SAC. BEE 3-1-11

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night the resignation of the physical director, Prof. Otto Rittler, which was sent in about a week ago, was rejected, and a Committee appointed to confer with Rittler to see if some arrangement could not be made whereby his services could be retained.

The officers of the club expressed themselves as anxious to do everything in their power to continue his relationship with the club, in the capacity of manager and physical director.

Rittler will be seen some time today or to-morrow by the Committee, and it is possible he may be induced to change his original decision.

S. A. C. LADIES NIGHT

SAC. STAR.

Quite a varied and interesting program is being prepared by the Sacramento Athletic Club for ladies' night at the club rooms, next Wednesday evening. 3-10-11

It will consist of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, the latter being furnished by the club's orchestra, acrobatic performances, boxing and wrestling matches.

This will be the first appearance of the orchestra which was recently organized. It is composed of eight pieces and contains musical talent of no mean order.

HANDBALL TOURNEY FOR THE S. A. C.

Handball seems to be coming in for its share of attention at the Sacramento Athletic club at present, and the winners of the first class doubles will soon be given their medals.

A tournament for singles will be held next week, and quite a number of netrants are expected.

Boys' Brotherhood Five Victorious at Basketball

SAC. UN. 3-11-11

BOYS BROTHERHOOD BASKETBALL TEAM.

The members of the Boys' Brotherhood basketball team, who defeated the Elk Grove five last night, are the best lightweight team in Sacramento, and under the leadership of Captain Fred Watwood, have won a number of hard-fought victories. Above is presented a picture of the team with J. P. Colley, manager, standing to the extreme left, and G. Ellingwood Joy, advisor of the Boys' Brotherhood, on the right. The members of the team are: Top row, left to right—Assalena, Anderson, Hagerty. Bottom row—Titus, Watwood, Hicks.

AFTER a spirited contest, the Boys' Brotherhood five defeated the Elk Grove basketball team last night by a score of 24 to 13. The game, which was played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, was well attended, friends of the members of both teams crowding the gymnasium gallery and rooting hard for their favorites. In the first half, the superior team work of the Boys' Brotherhood five told, and the five jumped out into the lead, increasing their score materially in the second half. The members of both teams showed great skill in throwing baskets, many difficult goals being made. The teams line up as follows:

Elk Grove.	Position.	Brotherhood.
A. Meese	F	Anderson
Dixon	F	Watwood, Capt.
Hogaboom	C	Hicks
Schoech	G	Hagerty
G. Meese, Capt.	G	Assalena

HANSEN NOT SATISFIED WITH DECISION FOR RUFE

GOOD S. A. C. BOUTS ON 23D

One of the best boxing bouts yet given by the Sacramento Athletic club is promised for the next monthly contest, March 23.

There will be eight bouts.

Weighing in at 120 pounds, the Romero twins will be matched with Salvedo and Azavedo.

Medals for the winners will be given.

MANY AFFAIRS PLANNED BY SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB

Ladies' Night Next Tuesday—Gymnasium Contests—Nominate Officers

SAC. BEE. 3-17-11

The whist tournament started two weeks ago under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has just been completed. Pixley and Sollars won the championship, with a total net gain over all competitors of 28 points. They will retain possession of the cup for this year, or until the next official contest, and as a result of their skill with the cards, earned a free feed at the expense of the losers.

The full score stands as follows:

Pixley-Sollars vs. Corson-Ross, 10-1, 12-5, 4-3; total gain, 17.

Pixley-Sollars vs. Emes-Warren, 13-7, 8-7, 7-4; total gain, 10.

Pixley-Sollars vs. Morris-Turner, 7-4, 8-6, 6-10; total gain, 1.

Emes-Warren vs. Corson-Ross, 6-6, 13-2; total gain, 11.

Emes-Warren vs. Morris-Turner, 13-8, 9-8, 6-2; total gain, 15.

Morris-Turner vs. Corson-Ross, 10-4, total gain, 6.

Ladies' Night.

Ladies night, which was postponed from Wednesday last to next Tuesday night, promises to be an enjoyable evening. In connection with a program of music and song there will be special gymnastic exhibitions, including boxing and wrestling. The program follows:

Overture, S. A. C. Orchestra; wrestling; song, Harry Horton; parallel bars, first division gymnasium class; mandolin and piano, The Trio, composed of L. Fay, A. Strachan and N. Mathews; boxing, blackened gloves; Hebrew dialects, C. Phillips; acrobatic acts, Rittler and Schenck; S. A. C. Quartette.

This will be the first appearance of the S. A. C. Orchestra, which, although newly formed, has been practicing conscientiously for the occasion.

One of the specially interesting features of Ladies' Night will be the presentation of a silver cup to the best individual all-around basketball player. The cup was presented by S. Sturmer and was won by Sam Lovich, the basis on which the decision was reached being team work, following director's instructions, obedience to rules, and general practice, as well as ability in point-winning.

Athletic Meet.

Preparations are now under way for a big athletic meet at the time of the Oak Park carnival. The athletic part of the program is in the hand of Harry Snook, A. L. Gould, Club Captain Delano and the Physical Director, Otto Rittler. The Oak Park business men will donate cups and medals, there being three prizes, gold, silver and bronze for each event.

Gould has already started the ball rolling by donating the first cup. Only registered athletes with up-to-date cards will be allowed to compete.

The field day will probably be held on the 29th, although the carnival will extend over three days, April 29th and 30th, and May 1st. The events will be a relay race for the S. V. I. L. High Schools, a relay for the athletic clubs and colleges, 50-yard dash for grammar school boys under 115 pounds, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, the 440, 880 and mile runs, 220-yard low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole-vault and shot-put. There may also be a relay race for grammar schools.

Gymnasium Honors.

In the contest Tuesday night for the honors of the gymnasium, Beede got the medal among the first division, and is therefore now eligible to the leader's class, which is open to winners of the various gymnasium try-outs only. Points were counted in this first event on the basis of general efficiency and ability in execution, of exercises on the horse, on horizontal and parallel bars, and with dumb-bells. On next Friday night, the tryouts will be among the second division, on the parallel bars, bar bells, high jump and rope climbing against time. At least forty contestants are expected, and all club members are invited to be present.

The relative scores made by the various contestants are indicated as follows: Beede 77, Horton 75, Wheat 73, Ed Kennedy 61, Donald 59, Rothwell 53, Cole 50, Bradway 50, Ferguson 47, Bird 46, Henley 45, Harris 45, and T. Kennedy 41.

One of the ideas of these contests is the weeding out of material to form a leader's class. The S. A. C. gymnasium squad is in such condition that it can hold its own against rivals, in almost every department.

Swimming Team.

Next Sunday, Swimming Commissioner Charles Wahlander has announced that swimming practice will be held, preparatory to a contest in the early part of April with the Capital City Wheelmen, and also a water carnival of sport to be held about the first of May. The Athletic Club team will also compete with the Olympic and Western Athletic Club of San Francisco.

For New Officers.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday night, the Nominating Committee made its report, by selecting a club ticket to be voted upon at the annual election to be held April 15th. The Committee, composed of George W. Newbert, W. L. Rose, L. W. Nickell and W. H. Pugh, recommended the following as the officers for the new year: G. P. Yoerk, President; W. F. Germley, Vice President; W. W. Bassett, Financial Secretary and Treasurer; E. Morris, Recording Secretary; A. J. Delano, Captain; L. K. Lobner, C. S. Pixley, F. E. Bacon, J. Morsehead, J. Watkins and J. Palm, for the Board of Directors.

SINGLES TOURNEY AT HANDBALL FOR THIS MONTH

SAC BEE, 3-7-11

George Yoerk, who guides the destiny of handball affairs at the Sacramento Athletic Club, has anonunced that a singles handball tournament will be started immediately after March 15th. The entry list will be opened the latter part of this week.

A doubles tournament was recently held at the club and it aroused much interest. Blake brothers won the championship, but it failed to determine the best individual player. Irving Blake is probably the best individual player in the club, but there are several willing to compete with him, and the question of second best is very much disputed.

POOL TABLE REPAIRED AND TOURNAMENT WILL START

In preparation for a pool tournament the pool table at the Sacramento Athletic Club has been re-covered and put in excellent condition. For several months the table has been in such wretched condition it could not be used and pool-playing at the club became a dead issue. Now that the table is again in shape, it has been proposed to revive interest in the game with a tournament. There has also been some talk of acquiring another pool table, but to find a place for it in the clubrooms would be a difficult task.

HOFFMAN WOULD START AMBITIOUS PUGS

SAC. BEE 3-17-11

The monthly boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club is to be given Friday evening of next week and by Monday night Matchmaker Hoffman expects to be able to announce the complete card. Hoffman already has several good bouts in sight, but he is anxious to start some new talent and if there are any ambitious pugs in the city, Hoffman would like to get in communication with them.

So far one of the best bouts in sight will be between Hansen and West, good hitters, game and willing. The two Romero boys are in training and opponents will be found for them. Ahern and Salvadore are also slated to appear.

PLAN ATHLETIC MEET WITH STATE FARM

SAC BEE, 2-25-11

Arrangements are being made for a track meet between the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Davis State Farm. It will be held the latter part of March.

Previous to the contests with Davis, the Athletic Club plans to hold a series of inter-club contests, medals to be awarded the winners, and those making the best showing to compose the team for the contest with the State Farm.

S. A. C. MONTHLY BOUTS GOOD SPORT

SAC. STAR, 2-25-11

Owing to the non-appearance of several of the participants only six of the nine scheduled events of the monthly boxing bouts of the Sacramento Athletic Club were given last night.

The best bout of the entire program was between Hanson of the Western and Rufe of the Modoc Clubs, who were so evenly matched that four rounds were necessary to reach the decision when it was given to Rufe. The first three rounds were in Hanson's favor.

Second on the list was the bout between Garcia, the scrapping newsy of the Southside, and Cole, who was considerably taller. In the second round Garcia received a hard blow on the nose which slightly dazed him, when the decision was given to Cole.

In the event between Souza and Brassil, the former came out victorious.

A foul put Fahey of the Reno Athletic Club out of commission in the second round of the go with Marshall f the Oakland Athletic Club.

It was at first believed that the former was faking, but an examination by physicians proved otherwise.

Owing to the one-sided affair between Azevedo and Sanderson in which the former had things his own way, the judges shortened the rounds to one minute each.

In the substitution of Salvadore and Watson for Goulard and West in the principal event the former won in the second round.

RUFE AND HANSON FURNISH ONLY GOOD BOUT OF NIGHT

SAC. BEE. 2-25-11

MANY DISAPPOINTMENTS AT BOXING SHOW

For the first time in many months the Sacramento Athletic Club last night gave a boxing show that was scarcely worth attending. Out of nine bouts carded, only six were staged and one of these was an exhibition. One bout had an unfortunate ending, one of the fighters claiming a foul, and two others were stopped in the second round to save one of the fighters from useless punishment. There was only one good bout.

As the program was originally arranged there was every reason to expect good sport. But fighters who had promised to put in an appearance did not show and bouts had to be cancelled. Muskrat was the worst offender, for this is the second time he has broken his promise to be on hand. He agreed to fight Amiker last month and made the same promise for this month. He did a lot of preliminary talking, but both times has failed to appear at the club the night the fight was to be held. The only logical conclusion is that Muskrat is afraid to get into the ring with Amiker.

Raymond also favored the fans with absent treatment and he should from this time on be relegated to the "cold feet class." Goulard, who was to meet West in the main event, did not show, but because of his good work in the past he should be given an opportunity to explain.

The best bout of the night was furnished by Hanson of the Western Club and Rufe of Modoc. It went four rounds and Rufe was given the decision. Hanson held his own during the first three rounds, in fact, seemed to have a slight advantage. In the fourth, Rufe landed a terrific wallop and that turned the tide of battle in his favor.

They put up a fast bout, giving and taking without flinching, and they will be a good drawing card in the future.

In the opening event Brassil was awarded a very close decision over Souza. It would have been better to call it a draw and ask for an extra round.

Cole was too heavy for Garcia in the second event and the referee stopped the bout in the second round and gave the decision to Cole. Garcia was very willing to fight and he did most of the rushing. The mistake was in asking him to go against such a heavy boy.

Azevedo and Sanderson were started on an exhibition bout and thankfully it was cut short. Sanderson was outclassed.

Marshal was accorded the victory over Fahey after two rounds of fighting. Fahey claimed a foul in the second round and when the gong sounded for the third, he refused to leave his corner.

Salvadore of the S. A. C. and Watson of the South Side Club started in the final affair. Watson asked the referee to stop the bout in the second round and his request was granted. Watson was in no condition to fight and was extremely foolish to enter the ring. Salvadore was easily the best of the two.

An appreciated feature of the evening was the presentation to Referee Schwalenberg of a handsome watch fob. He has been a hard worker in the interests of the club and the fob was a slight token of the appreciation of the club members for his good work.

GEORGE HANSON,
Who Gave Best Bout With Rufe.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS GOOD BOXING CARD

SAC BEE, 2-23-11

Hanson and Rufe Will Put Up a Fast Bout

Two newcomers are expected to furnish one of the best bouts on the card of the Sacramento Athletic Club's boxing show for to-morrow night, namely, Hanson and Rufe. They are 140-pound scrappers, have had considerable experience in the ring and shape up like hard and willing fighters.

West and Goulard are scheduled to meet in the main event, but there has been some talk about Goulard drawing out of the engagement. West is ready for the affray and Goulard may be on hand, but there is doubt about it. Matchmaker Hoffman has another man he can put on in Goulard's place should such action prove necessary.

Muskrat and Amiker are slated to put up the classy fight of the night. It will be their second meeting, Muskrat having won their first fight by a narrow margin. Amiker is in excellent condition and Muskrat will have to extend himself to carry away the victory again.

Murray and Perinti, 118 pound boys, can be relied upon for a fast and attractive bout. Altogether there will be eight bouts on the card and the sport promises to be good.

STOCKTON DWARFS TOO FAST FOR THE SPARTANS

The Dwarfs of the Stockton Y. M. C. A. proved too fast for the Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic Club and won the basketball game at the Old Pavilion yesterday by a score of 24 to 17. The first half ended with a score of 14 to 14. In the second half the Dwarfs played remarkably good ball, while the Spartans became a little wild.

The result of this game eliminates the Spartans from the P. A. A. basketball contest and entitles the Dwarfs to play at San Francisco in the semi-finals. The teams lined up as follows:

Spartans—Forwards, Lovich and Luke; center, Duke; guards, Sprague and Salvadore.

Dwarfs—Forwards, Martin and Chalky; center, Thresher; guards, Burgess and Comfort.

Previous to the league game, the heavyweights of the S. A. C. played against the heavyweights of the Y. M. C. A. of this city. The Athletics won by a score of 32 to 12. The line-up:

S. A. C. Heavyweights—Blake, Shaw, Knight, forwards; Holmes, center; Bacon, Peters, guards.

Y. M. C. A. Heavyweights—Reuter, McNeely, forwards; Eckstrom, center; Harris, McFarland, guards.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO ENTERTAIN

SAC. BEE, 2-25-11

Arthur Delano and Otto Rittler have been appointed by the Sacramento Athletic Club to arrange for a ladies' night to be given the evening of March 15th. A series of vaudeville stunts will be offered.

EVERYBODY HAS "CARNIVALITIS"

SUBURBAN CITIZENS BOOSTING BIG MAY FESTIVAL.

OAK PARK WIDE AWAKE

A Wide Variety of Entertainment To Be Provided For the Three Days of the Great Gathering.

A conflagration of enthusiasm started as if by spontaneous combustion has swept Oak Park during the past week since the announcement was made by a committee of the community's leading business men that a carnival is being planned for the opening of the Summer at Oak Park.

As after every conflagration an epidemic has set in and the germ of carnivalitis has infected even the most serious among the suburban merchants to such an extent that they are already talking of throwing confetti, and indulging in other hilarious pranks. Such is the diagnosis of the condition of Oak Park made by a Free Press reporter, and he further announces that he expects no change until after the first day of May.

Up And Doing.

The various committees appointed to carry on the work leading up to the carnival are down to a steady grind. Each committee has suggested so many novel ideas and so many good ones too that at this writing it is almost impossible to say just exactly what attractions will be adopted by the committee. At the meeting held last night and on last week the executive committee which consists of the chairmen of all the sub-committees outlined a general plan for the festival.

Big Things In Sight.

The tenative plan agreed upon by the committee is: The carnival will open at noon on Saturday, April 29. During the afternoon a Field Day will be held under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Field meets will be arranged between grammar schools, high schools and athletic clubs. Notices of the meet will be sent to every school and athletic club in Central and Northern California. A baby show will also be held one afternoon, providing that the committee in the meanwhile is able to get a few gentlemen to act as judges.

Ho For The Big Night!

On Saturday evening a Mardi Gras is planned, a parade the like of which has never been seen before in Sacramento. A monster masque ball will follow and the music will never stop until the last dancer is gone. The "horribles and terribles" will be in the parade and when they meet the spectators will be treated to a rare sight. Bands and drum corps with red fire and fireworks will add to the evening's entertainment of real good natured fun. Many cash prizes will be offered for the most unique displays entered by lodges and societies, and there will be individual and group prizes. All masqueraders who wish to contest for prizes will enter the big street parade.

A Feast of Music.

For Sunday attractions the committee has planned features which will be in keeping with the day. A baseball game in the morning is proposed between the business men of Oak Park and the business men of Sacramento. If the "night before" is taken into consideration the public may be able to form some idea as to the class of ball to be expected. Perhaps the biggest feature of the Carnival will be the contest between the country bands which will take place on Sunday afternoon. Large cash prizes will be offered by the committee for the winners of the contest. This will be one of the many free open air attractions during the carnival.

A ball game between the two best teams which can be secured will be among the attractions on Sunday afternoon. The athletic committee will announce next week which teams will play.

There will be a band concert on Sunday night and a fireworks display.

Children Have a Day.

Monday, May Day, will be turned over entirely to the children. The crowning of the May Queen and the reception to follow will be the first number of Monday's program. The dance of the May Pole and the other children's exercises will be under the direction of the school teachers of Oak Park. An invitation will be extended to all the school children of Sacramento to witness the affair and to join in the afternoon fun, which will include a basket picnic. All kinds of races and games are planned for the children. Many beautiful prizes will be awarded to the winners.

The three-day festival will close with a grand ball on Monday night to which the governor, the mayor, and trustees of Sacramento and the county officers and other high officials and prominent persons will be invited.

GOOD BOXING CARD OFFERED SACRAMENTO FANS TO-NIGHT

SAC. BEE, 2-24-11

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

Bouts Are to Be Furnished by Bruising Fighters

The monthly boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club to-night will be featured with a double main event, one being furnished by Goulard and West, the other by Hanson and Rufe. They will fight at 145 pounds.

Both Goulard and West are bruising scrappers and they will certainly put up a rattling good bout. West made a game showing last month against Joe Erickson and Goulard gave Erickson about all he wanted the month before. They are 140-pound scrappers.

Hanson and Ruef are newcomers, but in their workouts they show up mighty well. Matchmaker Hoffman is inclined to believe they will furnish the best bout of the night. Both have had considerable experience and are anxious to make good.

Two other big fellows will come together when Raymond and Cody clash. They will weigh about 155 pounds. Each has a haymaker that may produce sleep for one or the other before the scheduled length of the bout has been reached.

Fahey, a lightweight who is to meet Marshall, has been doing some very active training and is confident of his ability to win from the clever local boy. Fahey is fast and not afraid of punishment.

The balance of the card will be made up as follows: Murray versus Perinti, 118 pounds; Amiker versus Muskrat, 120 pounds; Sanderson versus Luke, 118 pounds; Stark versus Souza, 118 pounds and Cole versus Gosha, 110 pounds.

Out of this long list of bouts it is certain some good sport will develop. Every effort is to be made to start the first bout promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS OF CITY TO HAVE LEAGUE

SAC. BEE, 2-25-11

Athletic Club to Promote Series of Local Games

Arthur Delano, Otto Rittler and Charles Stewart have been appointed by the Sacramento Athletic Club to appear before the Board of Education and secure consent for the organization of athletic teams in the various Grammar Schools of the city and vicinity. It is proposed to promote a large interscholastic meet, the athletic club to have general charge of the affair and to furnish coaches for the different schools.

According to present plans the different students will be divided into classes according to their weight, 80 pounds, 95 pounds, 115 pounds and unlimited. The program will provide for a general series of athletic contests, but no dash for more than 440 yards, it being deemed best to limit the boys to short races.

A feature will be a relay race with a team from each school representing each weight classification.

Merchants and business men of the city will be asked to contribute for medals and cups.

FOUR BASEBALL TEAMS FOR ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE, 2-25-11

Beginning with the first of March, four baseball teams are to be organized from among members of the Sacramento Athletic Club. A series of games will be played, and from the showing made by the different players in these games, will be selected the team to represent the Club during the season.

DWARFS OUTPLAY S.A.C. SPARTANS

Stockton Boys Play Masterly Basketball in Preliminary of P. A. A.

SAC. UN. 2-23-11

Snappy team work coupled with slashing playing gave the Dwarfs of the Stockton Y. M. C. A. a victory over the Spartan basketball five of the S. A. C. at the Old Pavilion yesterday afternoon. It took the visitors a few minutes in the first half to find the floor but when they located their positions, their team work was all that could be desired. The first half was extremely exciting, the score being tied several times during the half which ended in a tie score of 14 to 14.

In the second half, the Sacramento boys played a bit wild, this being due to the fact that they practice in a small court. The game was close up to the middle of the second half when the Dwarfs gradually drew away, winning by a margin of seven points. Ferguson, who was to have played forward for the Dwarfs, was four pounds overweight and his place was taken by Chalky.

Thresher at center played a good game for the Dwarfs, outjumping Duke of the Spartans, who is much taller than the Stockton boy. Cowie, forward of the Spartans, sprained his ankle Tuesday night and his place was filled by Salvadore, who played a good game.

LOVICH THREW WELL.

Sam Lovich played a star game for the locals, his long shot from the center of the field being one of the prettiest baskets seen her. Martin took all of the free throws for the Dwarfs and proved himself a good pegger.

Through the winning of the game, the Dwarfs are entitled to contest with the San Francisco teams in the semi-finals of the P. A. A. basketball tournament. In a preliminary game the S. A. C. heavyweights won from the Y. M. C. A. heavyweights by a score of 20 to 9. Following is the line-up of the teams: Spartans—Forwards, Lovich and Luke; center, Duke; guards, Sprague and Salvadore. Dwarfs—Forwards, Martin and Chalky; center, Thresher; guards, Burgess and Comfort.

S. A. C. Heavyweights—Blake, Shaw, Knight, forwards; Holmes, center; Bacon, Peters, guards.

ESTEEMED REFEREE OF S. A. C. PRESENTED WITH A WATCH FOB

In recognition of his unselfish support of the Sacramento Athletic club, and as a token of esteem, the club last night presented Charles Schwalenberg with a beautiful gold watch fob. On one side of the locket of the fob was the emblem of the club, and on the other was an inscription reading: "Presented to Charles Schwalenberg by the Sacramento Athletic Club, February 24, '11."

J. M. Inman made the presentation and Schwalenberg bowed his appreciation. The crowd shouted for a speech, but Charley prayed to be excused. He authorized the Union to say for him that he was deeply gratified at the show of appreciation and would cherish the fob as a sign of the friendship and regard of ever member of the club.

Charley has given his services gratis as referee of all the amateur bouts held before the club. Many times he has left home tired and weary with a hard day's work to help the athletes in their sport. He is ever careful to do only that which will benefit the club and the good discipline maintained at the boxing bouts is in a large measure due to him.

SOUTHSIDE BOYS HOLD THEIR OWN

Card of Nine Bouts at S. A. C. Is Cut to Six When Boxers Fail to Appear.

But six of the scheduled nine events at the Sacramento Athletic club's monthly boxing bout panned out last night. Muskrat, who was scheduled to appear with Amaker, Goulard, who was to meet West, and Cody, who was scheduled to oppose Raymond, failed to appear for some reason or other, and consequently the card was terminated sooner than planned.

Hanson of the Western club and Rufe of the Modoc club put up the best bout of the evening. It took four rounds to decide the contest and Rufe was given the decision. Had it been possible for the judges to award a draw it certainly would have been just to both parties concerned, for the men fought blow for blow and a choice between them was merely a matter of opinion.

Hanson held his own easily up to the third round, and had he followed up advantages he would undoubtedly have won. His defeat was more the result of poor generalship than incompetency. Rufe followed up advantages and rushed the milling continually, hence his victory.

Garcia, the fighting newsboy, who was fully half a foot shorter than his opponent, won honor for the South side in the first round of his bout with Cole, but in the second a stiff clout on the nose dazed him and Cole was awarded the decision to have a knockout.

Souza of the South side won fame and envy for his section of the city by beating Brassil. Souza fought hard and easily outpointed Brassil. The latter was poor in judgment and landed few effective blows.

Fay of the Reno Athletic club was fouled in the second round of his go with Marshal of the Oakland Athletic club, and so the battle terminated in that round. Fay was accused of faking when he complained of being fouled, but upon examination by physicians it was found that he had been struck below the belt.

Azevedo toyed with Sanderson for a few minutes and out of courtesy to the spectators the judges shortened the rounds to a minute each and ended the exhibition.

Salvadore and Watson substituted for Goulard and West in the main event. Salvadore butchered Watson, who claimed to be out of condition, and won in the second.

These last two bouts were poor exhibitions.

PARTNERS SHIFT IN S. A. C. WHIST TOURNEY

SAC. BEE, 3-2-11

The aspect of the whist tourney at the Sacramento Athletic Club has been materially changed since its beginning, some weeks ago. The wishdrawal of three players, McClatchy, Pugh and Knight, necessitates the reorganization of several teams and cancels a number of games played. At present the club champions, Pixley and Sollars, are well in the lead and are quietly telling their friends that they do not expect to lose a single game during the tourney. This team has played in every game thus far and has been uniformly victorious, winning against Arcega and Fisher 1 game, 6 points; Corson and Koss, 3 games by 6 points; Emes and Warren, 1 game, 6 points; Morris and Turner, 2 games by 3 and 2 points.

Nason and Wahlander are expected to combine to form a sixth team, the first partners of each having withdrawn. Additional interest attaches to the tourney by reason of a dinner for the twelve players being dependent on the result.

GOOD BOUTS AT S. A. C. FRIDAY

SAC. STAR. 2-22-11

An interesting amateur boxing contest, consisting of bouts ranging from the paperweight class to those around the 150-pound weight, will be pulled off at the Sacramento Athletic Club rooms on Friday night, Feb. 24.

The program has been arranged by Otto Rittler, official matchmaker of the club.

The main event will be that of West and Goulard, who are in the 150-pound class. Both men are in good shape and should be able to do some good work.

Lee Muskrat and Amiker, who will weigh in at 125 pounds, also promise an interesting exhibition. Muskrat won the championship in the recent tournament in the Old Pavilion under the auspices of the P. A. A.

Amiker also shows improvement since some of his recent matches.

Matches are also being arranged for Erickson, Azevedo, Salvadore, Ahern and Pappa.

The program for the coming event is as follows:

Sharkey vs. Souza, 110 pounds; Cole vs. Garcia, 108; Sanderson vs. Luke, 118; Murray vs. Perenti, 118; Raymond vs. Cory, 158; Hanson vs. Rufe, 140; Amiker vs. Muskrat, 125; West vs. Goulard, 150.

Jack Swallenberg will referee all events, which will be judged by Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron.

S. A. C. BEATS THE Y. M. C. A.

In the basket ball game between the Heavyweights of the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Y. M. C. A. team at the Old Pavilion yesterday afternoon, the former won with a score of 20 to 9.

While the game was fairly good and the two squads were evenly matched in other respects, the latter was slightly deficient in team work. The lineup:

Y. M. C. A.—McNeely, Eckstrom, forwards; Holland, center; McFarland and Harris, guards.

S. A. C.—Blake, Peters, forwards; Holmes, center; Bacon and Zimmermacher, guards. SAC. STAR.

SPARTANS LOSE TO DWARFS

3-23-11

The Spartans were defeated by the Stockton Dwarfs in the basket ball game at the Old Pavilion yesterday afternoon with a score of 24 to 17. It was a fast game and was well played from start to finish.

During the first half the score was a tie, 14 to 14. In the fore part of the second half the score was pretty even, when the Dwarfs began to gain and finally won. The lineup:

Spartans — Forwards, Lovis and Luke; center, Duke; guards, Sprague and Salvadore.

Dwarfs — Forwards, Martin and Chalky; center, Thresher; guards, Burgess and Comfort.

The first big track meet to be held in Sacramento during the coming season will be that which is planned at Oak Park, April 30, under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club. The meet will be the chief feature of a three-day carnival, April 29, 30 and May 1, which is being arranged by Oak Park citizens.

Preparations are being made by local owners of canoes to organize a canoe club this season. A meeting will be held at the rooms of the Ellingwood club, Twelfth and L streets, next Monday night. G. Faber, A. Putnam, F. C. Osborn and Ed Chapin are back of the movement.

The Cyclones and the Stars of East Sacramento will play ball today at the Fox diamond.

One of the best cards of the monthly bout staged by the Sacramento Athletic club is promised for next Friday evening. Salvador and Azevedo will furnish the main event on the program and a series of other fast bouts will be staged, assuring the fight followers of the club some fast sport.

SPARTAN FIVE AGAIN TO PLAY WITH DWARFS

SAC. BEE. 3-2-11

The Spartans of the Sacramento Athletic Club are to have a return game with the Dwarfs of the Stockkton Y. M. C. A. This much has been determined, but the date has not been fixed. The Dwarfs recently defeated the Spartans in a very fast basketball game. A game with Lodi is also being arranged for the Spartans.

Rivalry between the members of the S. A. C. for the cup for the best individual basketball player is keen. Luke and Lovich are conceded to be in the lead and the final selection will probably lay between them.

SENATORS WORK OUT AT S. A. C. GYM

SAC. STAR 3-1-11

Though it was impossible to practice baseball today, the "Senators," engaged the Sacramento Athletic Club's "gym," where they spent the time in playing hand-ball and other exercises to get in condition for the season's games, said Manager Graham to The Star.

If the weather is favorable next Sunday, the game arranged between the "Dulins" and the "O'Rourkes," the two divisions of the team temporarily organized for practice, will play at Buffalo Park as was previously announced.

Considerable good-natured joshing is being done by the two organizations as to each other's ability to play.

The schedule for the coming season's work is now being arranged and will be announced within a few days.

S.A.C. HAS GOOD JANUARY CARD

SAC. STAR.

The January card of the Sacramento Athletic Club's monthly boxing tournament has promises of being a good one. Matchmaker Hoffman has matched Moyce and Goulard for the main event. These two scrappers will meet at 145 pounds. The bouts will take place Jan. 27.

The Muskrat-Romera go, at 128 pounds, has promises of being a whirlwind affair. Romera at his last appearance knocked his opponent out in jig time. He is the terror of the south side and claims to have Muskrat's number. Muskrat is not worried and thinks that he will not have any trouble defending his title.

What will surely be a good bout will be the return match between Azevedo and Ahern. These two boys put up a rattling fast go at their last meeting. Azevedo is of the opinion that he will demonstrate his superiority at their next meeting.

The return match between Pappa and Schreck will be a classy affair. Those who witnessed their first love feast will guarantee this.

The card has not been completed at present but it is expected that it will be shortly. Several members of the Redwood Club of Oakland are desirous of appearing and bouts will probably be arranged for them. Hickey would like a return with Murray and Vieara would like to meet either Muskrat or Ahern.

WHIST CHAMPS LEAD S.A.C. TOURNEY

Results of the week's play in the S. A. C. whist tourney show the club champions, Pixley and Sollars, still in the lead. W. H. Pugh has found it necessary to withdraw from the whist contest owing to pressure of other business which left him too little time to play the required games. His place is taken by R. A. Warren, who will finish the contest with Ralph Emes. This cancels all games played by the Emes-Pugh team, and causes various changes in the percentage column. Corson and Ross finished strong against the champion team, losing the third game by only one point.

The revised score, to date, is as follows: SAC. STAR 3-23-11

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Arcega and Fisher.....	..	1	.000
Corson and Ross.....	..	4	.000
Emes and Warren.....	..	1	.000

WOODLAND THE WINNER

Jan 8. 1911.

SACRAMENTO BEATEN IN ROUGH GAME OF FOOTBALL.

Pugilistic Opponents Taught Wholesome Lesson. Score 3 to 0.

You should have been out to Recreation park yesterday afternoon. It was supposed to be Rugby, but turned out to be good old fashioned American football. The game was a free-for-all affair.

Woodland wired and phoned Sacramento not to come, but to their surprise when the train pulled in the Sacramento boys alighted. The Woodland players got busy and gathered a line-up such as will not be duplicated soon again. Captain Thomas was approved and after commenting on the fact that his waist line was about four inches beyond normal, grinned and went in. Then Whitehead was nailed and after the mental panorama of being an old married man and his schoolmaster stunts flitted by, he was too let in.

Roy Clover was then pulled off a gang plow and stuck in at the lock. Clay Smith was taken from behind his ribbon counter and joined the heroic band. Christie McDonald was home from Stanford and after telling of the mince pie and turkey he had demolished, finally said, "here goes." Amasa Craig, after telling of the great mental and muscular stamnia he had developed during his singing stunts, got into the lockstep. Then the high school bunch was called and the lineup was ready to do or die.

This was the "frameup" Coach Rittler of Sacramento made such a "holler" over. Rev Bobbitt was pressed into service as referee and in the language of Powers, he says "never again."

To report the game is impossible. There was some Rugby—not much. It stuck out in spots, but the spots were few and far between. There was lots of the old game—the old timers said they just simply couldn't help it. It was a delight to the old fans to see Whitehead and Thomas go in. Craig let out a warwhoop and tackled as in days of old. Oh! it was surely great!!!

It was a muscular medley. Football, jiu-jitsu, pugilism, wrestling, all were practiced in rapid succession, and the bunch presented a veritable kaleidescope of arms and legs.

Craig has a beautiful black eye, thanks to Captain Dixon. George Hollingsworth received a right uppercut which put him down for the count from the same source. Captain Thomas then grew dangerously businesslike. He hugged Dixon in a grip of iron and manhandled him until he bawled like a sheep. (A leather medal is in course of preparation for the Captain for giving this unsolicited lesson in good manners. He certainly earned it.) The whole bunch finally got mad at the ball and sailed in in a way that was glorious to behold. The score was 3 to 0 in Woodland's favor. The price of admission was two bits and it was worth more.

The Sacramento lineup was as follows: Forwards—Cure, Hart Schlosser, Palm, Cannon, Blake, Purington, Williams; half—Ritler; five-eights, Kennedy, Dixon; center quarter—Holmes; wings—Zimmermacher, Sherwin, Full, Ferguson.

All in all the game was a "peach" and those who saw it got all they expected.

Woodland is certainly the goods. Our teams seem unconquerable.

Mention should be made of a little fellow from Canada named Hooper, who said he had played Canadian football. He did valiant service.

C. C. W. LOSE TO S. A. C. PLAYERS

SAC. BEE, 3-27-11

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball players proved that they were to be counted on by other local teams, when it comes to picking out the season's best, by defeating the Capital City Wheelmen in a practice game yesterday, by the score of 10 to 7, in a seven inning game. Balsz of the Wheelmen allowed ten hits and ten runs, the S. A. C. team scoring five two-baggers and a triple. The Wheelmen scored two doubles and a triple, but got only one hit and one run off Johnny Wright, who pitched the first four innings for the Athletics. Both teams have plenty of good material, out of which two first class teams should be developed.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO ADJUST AFFAIRS

Creditors Asked to Meet With Directors Friday Night

SAC. BEE. 4-6-11

For the purpose of concluding arrangements by which the Sacramento Athletic Club will be able to meet the claims of all its creditors and continue its commendable activities in this city, letters have been mailed to all the Club's creditors, asking them to meet with the Directors at 8 o'clock Friday evening. These notices are being sent out by Will A. Newcum, Recording Secretary of the S. A. C.

The Athletic Club was organized April 1, 1909, and during the last two years has taken an active part in the affairs of the city. Its membership has grown until now approximately 900 members are enrolled, but the income, despite the large membership, has not been equal to the expenses necessary for the starting of the club, the proper equipment of its gymnasium and clubrooms, and the general conduct of the affairs of the organization.

The chief expenses of the club during the two years have been: Repairs to building, $4,732.27; furniture and equipment, $1,398.51; interest, $151; rent, $2,741.50;; supplies, including coal, lights, etc., $3,991.04; general expenses, including costs of various affairs, laundry, etc., $1,511,09; salaries paid to custodian, janitor, collector and physical instructor, $7,648.36; total, $22,174.42.

The Directors are hopeful they will be able to make satisfactory arrangements with the creditors to guarantee the future welfare of the club. Two of the largest expenditures of the last two years—repairs to building and furniture and equipment—will not be included in the budget for this year, an dit is believed the club can gradually work its way out of the hole.

The club includes in its membership some of the most progressive men of the city. It has been conducted on a high plane, excellent physical instruction has been given and it has been a popular meeting place for the young men of the city. Such an organization is needed in the city and every effort will be made to keep it alive.

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT STOCKTON

STOCKTON, April 6.—A new organization in the realm of sports was formally launched in this city to-day when the Hub City Athletic Association filed articles of incorporation. Organization was perfected at a recent meeting and C. L. Six, Joseph M. Campodonico, George F. Thompson, Ernest Kemp and C. E. Hall, all prominent business men of the community, were elected directors to serve for one year.

It is the intention of the club to become a real exponent of clean sport in the city and no expense will be spared in equipping a gymnasium and accessory rooms.

The activities of the new organization will begin at once. On next Monday evening a housewarming will be given. On next Wednesday evening the new organization will stage one of the biggest athletic features ever seen in California. Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world, will throw two men or forfeit $1,000. Gotch will appear in only a few California cities, and his coming here is due to the alertness and enterprise of the Hub City Athletic Club.

STOCKTON NATIVES ARE MADE AT HOME

SAC. UN. — 4-7-11

Sacramento and Sunset Parlors Give Visitors Enthusiastic Greeting.

It was 9:15 o'clock last night when more than a hundred members of Stockton parlor, No. 7, Native Sons of the Golden West, arrived in this city via the Central California Traction line, and were met at Eighth and J streets by 400 members of the local parlors, Sacramento and Sunset. It was merely an affair in the nature of a fraternal visit to the local parlors—a sort of return visit made by the locals to the Stockton parlors a month or so ago—the object being to keep well alive the spirit of friendship, loyalty and charity upon which the Native Sons of the Golden West organization is founded.

There was a brass band to welcome the visitors, who came armed with banners on which such startling announcements were made as: "We Come to Get Acquainted; We Like Your Style;" "We Won't Go Home Till Morning;" "Stockton Celebration, 1912, Help Us Boost," and finally, and irrelevantly: "We Have Our Wife, But Oh, You Native Daughter." And there was a parade. From Eighth street to J, J to Fifth, Fifth to K, K to Tenth, Tenth to J, and down J to Ninth, and thence into Elks' hall, where the social evening was to be, and was, passed.

JUDGE POST IN HAPPY VEIN.

Superior Judge C. N. Post was master of ceremonies, and he was up to his usual happy form. The judge welcomed that Stockton band with a few homely words, good to hear, and of the right kind, in which he recalled the purpose of the Native Sons' order, and said that it came nearest to the friendliness which prevailed in the days of '49, and that it, more than other orders, reproduced the generous customs which prevailed among the Argonauts. He wanted every Stockton man to act and feel at home and cast formality to the winds. They responded.

President Fitzgerald of Stockton parlor responded in the same vein, and Past President Straub, who was hidden away in the gallery, arose to the occasion and made some happy remarks when called upon.

Then came the serious part of the evening—the entertainment. The local parlors had procured the best to be had; of that there was no doubt. Robinson and Cole were put on for three rounds of boxing, but before the first round was over Robinson was in trouble deep and dire and Cole played along until the end. The bout was not at all exciting, but the Natives cheered just the same.

THAT VARIED PROGRAM.

But the three-round bout between Kid Salvatore and Young Ahern. That was another matter. The boys were not dealing in love taps. They are clever lads, and jabs and hooks and swings and uppercuts and clinches and kidney wallops and other things usual, and some unusual in prize rings, were displayed lavishly. If Salvatore had a shade or two on the husky Ahern the crowd did not notice it. The auditors cheered the husky boy because of his insistence in coming back for more.

After this the professionals came on with their acts and it is safe to say that the applause they received was not all coutresy. The Male Melba, loaned by the Grand theater, pleased with his "River Shannon," and his imitation of the Swiss warblers in "Roll on Silvery Moon," and Jack Dempsey from the Pantages in "Why Girls Leave Home," made a decided hit with the boys.

Altogether the entertainment was high class and was enjoyed by the local people as much as by the visitors.

After the show came the festivities. The social hours which followed gave room for the display of fellowship for which the order is noted. Members of the local parlors donned white aprons, and piled the tables at which guests and visitors were seated with good things to eat and coffee to wash it down. Cigars were lighted and fellowship of the good old kind was evident everywhere. There were some more speeches and it was long after midnight when the visitors started for home. The evening was a decided success.

S. A. C. PLAY ELK GROVE.

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball team will open the season at Elk Grove next Sunday, when they play the fast team of that place. Manager Hughson announces that his men are in the pink of condition at present, and will go into the game with the determination to win the first battle. Every man on the team is a player of ability, and in addition to this they have developed a fighting spirit which means that they will fight to the last ditch. SAC. UN.

The Athletics will line up in this manner: Acunia and Tobin, catchers; J. Wright and Doyle, pitchers; Stober, first base; "Monk" Davis, second base; Donald, shortstop; Hamilton, third base; Hughson, G. Wright, Sprague and Wheat will cavort in the pastures. 4-9-11

The Elk Grove team has secured such well-known players as Star Harris, Walt Smith, "Doc" Wakefield, and several other fast men.

INTEREST REVIVED IN ATHLETIC CLUB

Business Men Renew Allegiance to S. A. C. in Effort to Restore Treasury.

SAC. UN. — 4-8-11

New interest in the support of the Sacramento Athletic club was aroused at an important meeting of the members last night and arrangements were made with the local creditors of the club whereby it is hoped that the existence of the organization will be continued and the club put on a sound business basis.

Many of the members who had allowed their interest in the club to lag during the last few months responded last night with assurances of support in the future. A new spirit was a business men's organization supported by the business interests of the city. The business men who responded to the appeal for a more active membership last night went on record as believing in the club as an advertisement for the city as well as because of the advantages to be derived by its members.

A committee was named from the creditors of the club to arrange for the meeting of present obligations and it is expected that there will be no difficulty in bringing the finances of the organization to a satisfactory basis. The committee is made up as follows: L. S. Upson, chairman; E. A. Meister and L. G. Siller.

The financial proposition with which the club has been coping is shown by the following statement showing the disbursements (all of which have been made to local business interests) from the treasury for the last two years, from April 1 to March 31:

S. A. C. YANNIGANS ARE DEFEATED BY REGULARS

The regulars and Yannigans of the S. A. C. baseball squad lined up at Oak Park yesterday, the former winning by the score of 6 to 0, in a seven-inning game. "Johnny" Wright starred on the slab, holding the Yanns to one scratch hit. Doyle twirled a nice game for the Yannigans, allowing only five hits, but several errors behind him allowed the score to pile up.

Manager Hughson will announce the line-up of the S. A. C. team in a few days. At present he is trying to arrange for a game for next Sunday, and preference will be given to an out-of-town team. He is confident that his team will rank with the best in the city. SAC. UN. 4-3-11

ANNUAL ELECTION AT S. A. C. SET FOR APRIL 15

Politics are already stirring at the Sacramento Athletic club. The annual meeting and election takes place on the evening of April 15, and the factions that want their candidates to get the several offices are already busy electioneering. SAC. UN. 4-6-11

So far only one ticket has entered the field. That is the work of the regular nominating committee. A number of changes are made in the old board of directors. The ticket is as follows:

G. P. Yoerk, president; W. F. Gormley, vice-president; W. W. Bassett, financial secretary; A. Morris, corresponding secretary; A. J. Delano, captain; L. K. Lobner, C. S. Pixley, F. E. Bacon, J. Morehead, J. Watkins and J. Palm.

APRIL 28 IS DATE FOR BOXING CARD

S. A. C. Commissioners Set Time for Next Ring Event—Good Bouts Promised.

SAC. UN. — 4-4-11

The boxing commissioners of the Sacramento Athletic club have set April 28 as the date for the next boxing card. Commissioner Ancil Hoffman has a number of speedy boys who he thin will turn out some fast milling. He expects this card to be one of the best given at the club this year.

The main event will probably be between Salvadore and Romera. These boys were matched some time ago, but did not come together. Now they will get at it sure. The long-looked-for bout between Mickel and Corey, for which Root and Smith have offered a special trophy, will come off. Others who will box are: Azevedo, Ahern and Erickson.

HERE ARE THE REGULATIONS TO GOVERN CLOSE OF THE CAMPAIGN

All Subscriptions, Money and Ballots Must Be Put Into Sealed Envelopes—In Ballot Box or Mailed by 4 P. M.—Keep This for Reference So You Will Make No Mistake

SAC. BEE. 3-27-11

Next Friday night at 9 p. m. The Bee's Big 1911 Campaign will close. Up to Thursday night subscriptions to count for votes will be accepted in the usual way and ballots may be cast as usual. All day Friday—the last day of the Campaign—however, the following regulations regarding subscriptions and ballots will be strictly followed.

All subscriptions and payments to cover as well as uncast ballots must be turned in in sealed envelopes which will be either deposited in the ballot box at The Bee office or mailed on or before 9 p. m. March 31, 1911.

If deposited in the ballot box, it must be done before the clock in the business office of The Bee marks the hour of nine. If mailed the envelopes must be plainly postmarked before 9 p. m. One minute later in either case will not do. The Campaign will positively close on the minute and you could not cast one or a million votes after that hour.

Out of town Candidates should see the postmaster and request that their envelopes be plainly stamped. Often the postmark is blurred through the haste of a clerk. In this case the envelopes will be retained as part of the Campaign records to show that the votes were properly deposited in the mails.

Envelopes containing votes should have nothing outside to indicate in any way how many subscriptions or votes were enclosed.

As soon as the Campaign closes the envelopes turned in will be placed in a safe and on Saturday morning the work of counting and verifying will begin. The tentative list of winners will be published as soon as possible consistent with an accurate count.

Should any subscriptions turned in as new be verified as old Candidates will be notified so that the reason for counting it new can be learned and thus any errors of verification avoided.

Candidates may verify subscriptions as to whether new or old in advance as far as possible. In case any turned in as new prove to be old no substitution of another new subscription will be allowed. Each subscription turned in will count for votes in accordance with the correct verification.

No information regarding winners will be given out until the tentative publication in The Bee. Should any Candidate be in doubt as to the accuracy of the count The Bee will gladly assist him in an examination of the Campaign books. The final announcement of winners will be properly certified to by an expert accountant who will have made complete and thorough examination of every Campaign transaction.

All candidates are invited to be present on the last night of the Campaign.

If there is anything about the above you do not understand be sure and ask the Campaign Department in plenty of time so that you will make no mistakes on the last day. Indications point to an avalanche of votes next Friday and you do not want yours thrown out because of some error in turning them in.

Be sure your subscriptions are for the right amounts, properly verified and that there is the right amount of money to cover.

In just four more days the end will be reached.

Can you realize it?

You may not believe it, but it is a fact nevetheless that the competition for all of the Awards is so close that a hard week's work by any one of a dozen Candidates in either District might win any one of the Awards. This is based on the total votes issued—not the published vote.

Among the Organizations there are more close competitors than there are Awards.

Who will be the winners? The work done during the next four days will decide.

You can.

Will you.

STRUGGLING TO KEEP S. A. C. TOGETHER

SAC. STAR. 4-6-11

That a desperate effort will have to be made to keep the Sacramento Athletic Club from going defunct is today admitted by a number of the club's directors and active members in reply to questions based on the significance of a letter sent out to all the club's crediters for a meeting to be held tomorrow (Friday) night, at the association rooms to discuss matters of finance.

The letter which was sent out today reads as follows:

"The Board of Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club invites, urges and requests that each and every one of its creditors meet with the board at a special meeting to be held in the club rooms at 8 o'clock Friday evening, April 7, 1911, at which time financial matters will be discussed.

"If you cannot attend kindly send a representative.

"Very respectfully yours,

"W. A. NEWCUM, Rec. Sec."

The directors are no longer attempting to conceal the fact that the club is on its last legs and unless new blood of membership and a rapidly collected fund for current expenses and debts already contracted, is injected into the organization it will go to pieces.

Although the situation is discouraging, enthusiasm for a new beginning, for the launching of a new membership campaign, is not lacking and every effort will be made to keep the club together.

The athletic club has since its organization depended for support entirely upon the monthly membership dues of $1.50 per member, and has had no endowment or reserve fund upon which to draw.

At first everything went along swimmingly and the membership grew to almost the 1000 mark. At that time the club directors spent considerable money in furnishings and equipment and contracted a number of debts which have since become lodestones. Latterly the membership has dwindled to a bare 500, and many of these have been laggard in paying their dues. At present the coffers of the organization are practically empty.

Plans for reorganization and for putting a better financial foundation under the club will be offered and probably acted upon at tomorrow night's meeting of the directors and creditors.

DEVISE MEANS TO AID THE ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE 4-8-11

Creditors Hold Meeting With Directors of the Organization

The meeting of the creditors of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night with the Board of Directors of the club proved encouraging both to the creditors and the Club as an organization. The matter of the liabalities of the Club, which amount to approximately $5,000, was brought squarely before the creditors, and ways and means discussed of liquidating the debt.

George W. Pelcher of the California National Bank, one of the largest creditors, spoke very enthusiastically about the Club, its benefit, and its value to the city as an advertisement. He said he believed the public would be glad to support an organization of this kind, and that the business men would also do all they could to put it where it belonged, on a sound business basis.

Nearly every organization of the kind has gone through some such period of despondency, such as the Olympic Club of San Francisco, Multonomah Club of Portland. The Sacramento Athletic Club is a good clean organization, he said, well managed, and there is no reason why it should not again take its place on a basis of equalitiy with the best.

A committee chosen from the creditors was appointed, to go over the liabilities, and make the necessary arrangements for re-organizing the finances of the Club. The Committee is composed of L. S. Upson, Chairman; E. A. Meister and L. G. Siller. Some of the larger creditors which they represent, are the California National Bank, which holds a note on the Club for $1,000, the Waterman-Davis Co., the John Breuner Co., the Siller Co., and Kimball-Upson's. The Club spends annually from ten to fifteen thousand dollars in cash, among local business firms, and in salaries.

WINGED "S" BOYS WIN AT ELK GROVE

Sacramento Athletic Club Opens the Season by Winning in Pitchers' Battle.

SAC. UN. 4-10-11

Special to the Union.

ELK GROVE (Sacramento Co.), April 9.—The S. A. C. baseball team took home the "bacon" in the first game of the season today, winning from the fast Elk Grove team in a fast and exciting game, by the score of 2 to 1. It was a pitchers' battle. "Johnny" Wright, the young phenom of the Athletics, had the country boys at his mercy, allowing only two hits and one walk. Star Harris pitched a fine game for Elk Grove, holding the Athletics to four hits and fanning nine batters.

"Monk" Danis was the brightest star of the game, accepting seven chances without a bobble, and he also slammed out two doubles. Tobin played a great game behind the bat for the club team.

The Athletics scored their two runs in the third. With two down, Wheat was safe on Allen's miscue. Danis doubled down the right field line, and Donald scored both with a single past short. Elk Grove secured their only run in the sixth on "Rube" Johnson's two-base knock, Harris' walk and Wright's wild pitch.

"Pop" Vernon Marston umpired in a satisfactory manner. Roseville will meet the S. A. C. next Sunday at the railroad town. The score:

The powers that control the destiny of the devctees of the manly art promise another bout at the Sacramento Athletic club on April 28. Indications point to an excellent card on this date, well up to the S. A. C.'s high standard.

The bout between Salvadore and Romera is looked forward to by the local fight fans as the main event. Next in importance will be the match between Nickel and Corey. Others will also box.

BUSY PROGRAM THIS MONTH FOR POPULAR ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC BEE 4-5-11

Ladies Night, Boxing Show, Field Meet, Baseball and Annual Meeting Carded

The Sacramento Atheltic Club is planning many actiivties for the month of April. In the social line the club will hold another ladies' night about the 20th of the month, as the last affair of the kind, held March 31st, proved so successful that all the members want another.

On the 28th a boxing show will be presented. This evening is for members only, and if the success of the last one be any criterion by which one can judge, there will be no doubt as to the interest the proposed boxing evening will arouse. Michel & Brock will be the main event, as it has been a long-hoped-for match. The men weigh in at about 142. Matchmaker Hoffman hopes to secure some boxer from San Francisco to match against Smith, the local heavyweight. It has been almost impossible to get a man willing to meet Smith, and if Hoffman is successful in pulling off this event a good bout will be assured.

The S. A. C. baseball nine will play Elk Grove Sunday, April 9th; Roseville April 16th and Arbuckle April 23d. Willows will be played some time in May. The exact line-up will not be announced before Saturday, but Manager Hughson has given out the following men from whom the regular line-up will be chosen: Catchers, Acunia and Tobin; pitchers, J. Wright and Doyle; infield, Stober, Danis, Donald, Hamilton, Feeney; outfield, Reese, Wheat, Wright, Hughson, Sprague. The battery for Elk Grove will be Star Harris and W. Smith, both Sacramento players.

The club will have an unusually strong track team to enter the Oak Park Carnival the 29th of the month. Many of the best athletes of the club will take part in the open tournament and expect to carry off trophies in several of the events. Teams from San Francisco and universities will be entered, as the meet is open to anybody whose name is registered in good standing with the P. A. A. Any desiring to take part, who have not already taken out their membership cards but wishing to do so, may hand in their applications to Physical Director Otto Rittler, or to H. M. McGregor. The following are some of the entries:

A letter has been received from Edgar Frank of the Multnomah Athletic Club, Portland, Ore., asking the support of the local club in the National wrestling championships, which will be held at Portland, the preliminaries May 18th and the finals May 19th.

The Board of Directors met last night to wind up the business of the past year, as this is the last meeting of the old Board of Directors. The new Board will be elected and take office at the next regular meeting of the club, April 15th. The present Board is as follows: W. W. Bassett, President; W. F. Gormley, Vice-President; J. M. DEVELOPMENT OF ATHLETES IN U. S. RAPID

No Country in World Boasts of Such Progress From the Year 1876 to Date.

NEW YORK, April 10.—No country in the world can boast of a faster, but at the same time, more consistent development of amateur athletics than the United States during the period from 1876 to date. The honor of initiating the movement belongs pretty evenly to the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletics of America and a number of pioneer athletic clubs like the New York A. C., the Staten Island A. C. and the old M. C. A. These organizations sprang into prominence at about the same time the I. C. A. A. A. A. began to develop athletics in the colleges. Fortunately for the sport the leaders in the clubs and college association worked together from the start, and the two still have a working agreement.

Of all the individuals who deserve credit for fostering amateur athletics William B. Curtis, whom everybody knew as "Father Bill," comes first. Not only did Mr. Curtis take a prominent part in booming these sports, but he was the guardian of the records and before he allowed new marks had to be shown that the record made was bona fide.

First Meet in 1857.

As a referee Mr. Curtis was one of the best we ever had. In fact, no big amateur or college meet was complete unless Curtis was in charge. He has a very good successor in James E. Sullivan, and if officials throughout the country would make as careful an inspection of new records as Sullivan does there would be less complaint made about the genuineness of some marks that have been allowed within the last few years. Of course the athletic field is now so wide that it is a physical impossibility for one man to oversee all the performances. But too much emphasis cannot be laid on the necessity of using the utmost care in allowing new marks.

The I. C. A. A. A. A. has probably done more than any other organization to put this country's athletics on a sound footing. The first intercollegiate championship meet was held in 1857 in New York City. It was followed the next year by the organization of the I. C. A. A. A. A. This association has been holding meets every year since then, and the games are not surpassed by any contests held in the world. This statement is proven by the number of world records that have been made at these games. The I. C. A. A. A. A. has been a very great stimulus to the athletic clubs, and many of these organizations would not be as important as they are but for the fact that they have been so largely recruited from the ranks of the college men.

Since the organization of the I. C. A. A. A. A. and the rise of the Amateur Athletic Union there came into existence the present definition of the amateur. Thirty years ago people rarely heard of such persons as "amateurs." In those days if a town had a good runner he would be matched to run the best man from some rival place. To refuse a challenge in those days for a money prize was considered as much of a disgrace as for a Frenchman to refuse to fight a duel over a question of honor.

ATHLETIC CLUB RALLIES; BUSINESS MEN PROMISE AID TO MAKE IT A GO

SAC. STAR 4-8-11

Assurance is given today that the Sacramento Athletic Club will overcome all obligations and relieve itself of the financial entanglements which have threatened its existence.

An encouraging feature of last night's meeting, which was held for the purpose of discussing ways and means of liquidating the club's debts, was the renewed interest manifested on the part of members who have been rather lax in this respect in the past. In the future, the support of many leading business men is assured, inasmuch as the organization will give wider publicity to the city and its enterprises.

Immediate arrangements were made for cancelling the obligations of the association, a committee being appointed from the club's creditors, as follows: L. S. Upson, chairman; E. A. Meister and L. G. Siller. Money will be paid out to the creditors on a pro rata basis, each creditor to receive payment in proportion to the amount of the club's indebtedness to him until the debts are wiped out.

That the club has been facing a financial problem of no mean proportions will be readily seen by glancing over the following list of disbursements:

From April 1 to March 31, 1910, $4732.27 was paid out for building and repairs; for furniture and equipment, $1398.51; for general expenses, such as expenses of meet, laundry, lights, etc., $863.09; this expense item for 1911 was $639.00; interest on note, for 1910, $61.40; for 1911, $90; rent for 1910, $1331.50; for 1911, $1410.00; salaries, for 1910, $3517.61; for 1911, $4130.75; supplies, such as printing, ice, coal, etc., for 1910, $1679.45; for 1911 $2311.72. Total disbursements for 1910 were $13,583.83; for 1911, $8581.47, making a grand total of $22,165.30.

OTTO RITTLER PERSUADED TO STAY WITH ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE. 3-30-11

The Board of Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club has prevailed upon Professor Otto Rittler to stay with the club in his capacity as Physical Director and Manager. The Directors felt that, in view of the many activities in which the club was at present engaged, and of the many more which are contemplated, that they could not afford to lose a man who was in such close contact with affairs at this critical time.

So "ladies' night" to-morrow, instead of being a farewell reception, will merely be the beginning of new and increased activity on the part of every member. Rittler has sacrificed considerable to remain with the club, and now that arrangements have been made whereby he will continue his services he deserves the support of every member and of the people of Sacramnto as well.

DOLPHIN ROWING CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

SAC. BEE. 3-18-11

To Take Five-year Lease on Rocky Point Site

The members of the Dolphin Rowing Club met last night for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year, and discussing plans for the club's future. It was decided to build a three-room house, and a float 10x60 feet in size, for the accomodation and convenience of its members. It was definitely decided to take up a five-years' lease on the Yolo side of the river, near Rocky Point, on a stretch of about 80 foot frontage.

Eleven new members were elected to membership, and the following officers, conforming to the accepted standard of boat club organizations, were declared elected:

J. W. Morsehead, President; Lee Lobner, Vice-President; Ray Lewis, Recording Secretary; Felix Nelson, Financial Secretary and Treasurer; A. J. Delano, Port-Captain, and A. M. Cahler and Robert Shorrock, Directors.

SAC. UN. 3-28-11

The vaudeville talent of the Sacramento Athletic club will tonight assist the members of Rebekah lodge No. 232 in their minstrel show, which is to be given in Fraternity hall, Odd Fellows' temple.

The athletes will make up the second part of the program. The Rebekahs will devote the first part entirely to a minstrel show in which the women will take part—black face.

The Athletic club portion of the program will be as follows:

C. Hintz, strong man stunts; Russell and Holton, fancy club circling; Master Van Gilder Horton, song; Gus Story, bag punching; Rittler and Schenk, acrobatic acts; T. Clifton, song; F. Bacon, B. Bedee, E. Horton, C. Hintz, statuary poses.

"LADIES' NIGHT" REVIVAL GREAT SUCCESS AT S. A. C.

The revival of the time-honored "Ladies' night" at the Sacramento Athletic club last night proved to be a greater success than was expected, even by the most optimistic of the club members. Several hundred members and their friends enjoyed the program which had been prepared, a social dance following the musical, literary and athletic program. SAC. UN.

As a special feature of the program Sam Loverich was presented by Spencer Dixon with a special silver trophy cup, the cup being awarded to Loverich as the best all-round basketball player of the club. The program of the evening was as follows: 4-1-11

Overture, Sacramento Athletic orchestra; address, W. A. Newcum, recording secretary; boxing, blackened gloves, T. Salvatore vs. Hogan; parallel bars, M. Newbert, C. Strober, E. Kennedy, C. Schenk, J. Wheat, J. De Panger, B. D. Bedee, E. Horton; song, Master Van Guelder Horton; boxing, M. Salvatore vs. T. Ahearn, J. Erricson vs. W. Goulard; Irish dances, James Foley and Jeremiah Hayes; acrobatic turn, Professor Rittler and R. Schenk; selections, Sacramento Athletic Club quartet; wrestling, Bedee vs. Wheat; Eams vs. Professor Colley of the Y. M. C. A.

"LADIES" NIGHT" AT S. A. C. WILL BE JUBILEE AFFAIR

Members of the Sacramento Athletic club and their friends will meet at the club rooms, Ninth street, between I and J, this evening, and enjoy a "ladies' night" program that has been arranged for the special benefit of the members and their friends.

Instead of being a farewell to Professor Otto Rittler, the affair will be a sort of jubilation, for the popular instructor has been prevailed upon to continue his valued services with the club, and with the assistance of the members will continue to hold the S. A. C. in the ranks with the best.

The evening's program which follows will be concluded with a social dance.

Overture, Sacramento Athletic orchestra; address, W. W. Bassett; boxing, blackened gloves, T. Salvatore vs. Hogan; parallel bars, M. Newbert, C. Strober, E. Kennedy, C. Schenk, J. Wheat, J. De Panger, B. D. Bedee, E. Horton; song, Master Van Guelder Horton; bag punching, Gus Storz; boxing, M. Salvatore vs. T. Ahearn, J. Erricson vs. W. Goulard; Irish dances, James Foley and Jeremiah Hayes; acrobatic turn, Professor Rittler and R. S. A. C. PLANS TRACK MEET

SAC. BEE. 4-13-11

Professor Otto Rittler, the Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has appointed C. Gannon and J. Childs to choose two track teams to compete in an interclub meet to be held Sunday, April 23d. The uniforms of the Childs team will be all black, whereas the Gannonites will wear yellow. At least thirty have already signed up to take part.

BENEFIT GAME FOR OAK PARK'S FETE

SAC. UN. 4-13-11

Y. M. I. Will Play K. of C. During the Carnival—Brookes Will Meet Willows.

As a special feature of the Oak Park carnival, April 29, 30 and May 1, in addition to the amateur track meet of west coast athletes, a double-header will be offered baseball fans Sunday, April 30, between the fastest teams in their class in this part of the state. In the morning the Knights of Columbus team will meet the team from the Young Men's Institute, both of Sacramento; and in the afternoon the Brooke Realties will be matched against their old rivals, the Giants of Willows.

The offering of this double-header as a feature of the carnival is largely due to the readiness of the Y. M. I. to co-operate and make the carnival a success. The Y. M. I. team had a prior claim on the Oak Park diamond for the afternoon of Sunday, April 30, but yielded to the carnival committee, and not only gave up its option on the grounds for Sunday afternoon, but offered to play the Knights of Columbus in the morning for the benefit of the carnival, the entire gate receipts to be turned into the carnival funds.

By releasing their claim to the grounds for the afternoon the Y. M. I. boys also cleared the way for the special game between the Brookes and the Giants, a game which has been looked forward to by local fans ever since the opening of the season on account of these two teams having lined up in seasons past as the strongest in the valley. The morning game will be called at 11 o'clock and the afternoon game at 2:30, the afternoon game to be followed by other special events which have been arranged by the program committee.

OAK PARK TRACK MEET PROMISES TO BE SUCCESS

SAC. BEE. 4-11-11

Many Entries Already In and Keen Competition Is Assured

Preparations are going ahead fast for the track meet to be held as one of the attractions at the Oak Park Carnival, April 29th. The meet is open to any athlete or club registered in the P. A. A. Any one not already so registered can make application with Professor Otto Rittler, Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, who has charge of the meet.

Good competition is promised. The entries for the Athletic Club were announced last week, and they of course expect to make a good showing. Woodland will enter a High School team in the relay, at least, and several other High Schools, such as Marysville, Oroville and Chico are considering the matter. After the S. V. I. L. track meet has been held at Marysville next Saturday some new material may show up to give the local teams a hard race. There are also several good prospective entries for the Grammar School relay.

Clubs Interested.

Among the local clubs which expect to enter in all or some of the events are the Y. M. C. A, the C C. W., Elk Grove, and perhaps the Golden Poppies, the Christian Brothers' College and the Boys' Brotherhood. The following are the men from whom a High School team will be chosen to participate: 100-yard dash, Eldred, Noack and Sitton; 220-yard, Eldred, Noack, Sitton and Simmermacher; 440, Simmermacher, Zoller and Gay; 880, Simmermacher, Potter, Brock, Bergan, Zoller and Ebner; mile, Cox, Bergman and Bovey; relay Eldred, Noack, Sitton and Simmermacher; shot-put, Simmermacher and Lamb; high jump, Brown and Sitton;; broad jump, Brown and Gay; pole vault, Hulse, Rivett and Rutledge.

The Y. M. C. A. will also have a good team in some of the events at least: Hart in the 100 and 220-yard dashes; McNeely in the mile; Assalena in the 880, and McCauley in the shot-put. Ed Banks, McFarland and Watwood may also be persuaded to take part in some of the events for the Association.

E. M. Sparks is trying to get some entries for the C. C. W. They have very good material and ought to make a good showing if the men will get in and train for the events in which they expect to enter.

In the case of the Golden Poppies the matter seems to hinge largely on whether or not the boys will be able to get off from work for that particular afternoon. The Golden Poppies have not done very much in this line heretofore, so it is a rather new experience for them, but if any arrangement can be made whereby some of their best men can get off for the afternoon there is no question they will make a good showing in most of the events.

The Boys' Brotherhood and Christian Brothers' College are as yet undecided, as there are so many other activities in which they are at present engaged. Elk Grove, however, will be sure to send a lively bunch to uphold its honor.

Entries Close April 26th.

Entries for the meet close April 26th, so there is plenty of time yet. The meet will be held at the Oak Park grounds, 2:30 p. m., Saturday, April 29th. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given in each event, and cups will be presented to the teams winning the relay races and also to the team making the highest score.

Cooley, Physical Director of the Y. M. C. A., speaking of the meet, said it was a fine thing for athletes in that it provided good experience, plenty of exercise and fun, an opportunity to get acquainted with other men and to meet them in competition. Even if the men could not all win, it was an opportunity for them to do something which might bring them success later on. In his opinion, every athlete in the City of Sacramento should get his track clothes on and go into the meet for all he was worth.

The events will be: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard dash, one-mile run, shot-put, high jump, broad jump and pole vault. Relay races will be as follows: 880 yards for Grammar Schools, four runners; 880 yards for High Schools, four runners; 880 yards for clubs or colleges, four runners.

MINSTRELS MAKE MERRY FOR CLUB AND LODGE

Several hundred interested auditors listened last night to the local quips and jibes of a number of merry minstrel men who held sway at the Odd Fellows' temple for the benefit of the Sacramento Rebekah lodge No. 232, and of the Sacramento Athletic club. The members of the latter organization, for the most part made up the black-face circle, and Messrs. Bones and Tambo exchanged the customary comedy. SAC. UN. 4-27-11

In the olio were a number of features interesting as vaudeville acts. C. Hintz, the strong man, lifted weights and juggled gaily with hefty bars. Russell and Holton gave an exhibition of club-swinging; Master Van Gilder Horton sang sweetly, and Gus Story put over hay-makers on an unresisting punching bag. Rittler and Schenk excelled with novel acrobatic feats, T. Clifton pleased with a song, and F. Bacon, B. Bedee, E. Horton and C. Hintz, in statuary poses, excited applause.

The entertainment was also a success financially.

THIS IS THE LATEST PICTURE OF THE SPEEDY SENATORS OF 1911

Reading from left to right the players standing are: Lerchen, shortstop; Zamlock, pitcher; Nourse, pitcher; Baum, pitcher; Billy Burke, trainer; Thornton, outfielder, McLeod, pitcher; Byram, pitcher. Seated from left to right: Dulin, infielder; Thomas, catcher; Fitzgerald, pitcher; Heister, outfielder; O'Rourke, captain and second base; La Longe, catcher; Ferrell, right field; Shinn, third base.

MANY RUMORS ADD TO UNCERTAINTY OF CLOSING DAYS OF CAMPAIGN

SAC. BEE. 3-28-11

Hot Fight During Next Three Days—Campaign Closes Friday at 9 P. M.—Everyone Hustling, and Few Votes Being Turned in Means a Full Ballot Box Last Day

BY THE CAMPAIGN MANAGER.

Rumors!

R-U-M-O-R-S!!

Honestly I never heard so many of them.

I've seen but one Candidate who seemed to be discouraged and that didn't amount to much. She was discouraged because she hadn't realized her opportunities earlier in the Campaign.

Candidates and friends of Candidates without exception seem to be very sanguine of success. That means a fierce battle of ballots from now on because—there I almost told something.

One candidate questioned one of my statements in Saturday's paper when I said, in effect, that upon the work done during the remaining days of the Campaign would decide who the winners would be. Let me show you what I meant.

Suppose up to the present time Candidates A, B and C are a tie. I don't mean that they have exactly the same number of votes, but that they are within, say, 5,000 of one another. That means that the work of the past few weeks leaves them right where they started and the one who does the best work and secures the most votes between now and the closing hour will certainly win the best Award. There are so many instances where 10,000 votes would change things that it is impossible to even guess at the winners of the various Awards.

Now the thing for you to do, Mrs. Candidate or Miss Candidate or Mr. Candidate or Mr. Organization is to "play safe." Say to yourself.

"I may be only 5,000 votes ahead of the other fellow or he may be only 5,000 votes ahead of me. I cannot figure that I am the only one who wants that Valuable Award. So it's up to me to make myself hard to catch. Watch me!"

Do the very best you can and the result will take care of itself. But if you lose an Award because of something you could have done but didn't you will be "sore" at yourself forever.

I have had several Candidates ask me what I thought the winner's vote (referring to a certain Award) would be. I cannot tell. I have no way of knowing and if I did know wouldn't tell. But it isn't conceivable to me that anyone will rest on his or her present vote.

I know that some Candidates are underestimating the strength of their opponents. I believe that everyone is inclined that way rather than to an over estimate.

Now paste this in your hat—

IF YOU WANT TO WIN YOU HAVE TO TURN IN MORE VOTES—THE MORE THE BETTER.

And here is another tip—true as Truth, itself:

NO CANDIDATE, CITY OR COUNTRY OR ORGANIZATION, HAS ENOUGH OF A LEAD OVER COMPETITORS TO BE SAFE FOR THE AWARD FOR WHICH THE PRESENT VOTE PLACES HIM.

Below is repeated the regulations governing the closing day of the Campaign. Until Thursday night business will be accepted in the usual way but on Friday the following will be strictly observed:

All subscriptions and payments to cover as well as uncast ballots must be turned in in sealed envelopes which will be either deposited in the ballot box at The Bee office or mailed on or before 9 p. m. March 31, 1911.

If deposited in the ballot box, it must be done before the clock in the business office of The Bee marks the hour of nine. If mailed the envelopes must be plainly postmarked before 9 p. m. One minute later in either case will not do. The Campaign will positively close on the minute and you could not cast one or a million votes after that hour.

Out of town Candidates should see the postmaster and request that their envelopes be plainly stamped.. Often the postmark is blurred through the haste of a clerk. In this case the envelopes will be retained as part of the Campaign records to show that the votes were properly deposited in the mails.

Envelopes containing votes should have nothing outside to indicate in any way how many subscriptions or votes were enclosed.

As soon as the Campaign closes the envelopes turned in will be placed in a safe and on Saturday morning the work of counting and verifying will begin. The tentative list of winners will be published as soon as possible consistent with an accurate count.

Should any subscriptions turned in as new be verified as old Candidates will be notified so that the reason for counting it old can be learned and thus any errors of verification avoided.

Candidates may verify subscriptions as to whether new or old in advance as far as possible.. In case any turned in as new prove to be old no substitution of another new subscription will be allowed. Each subscription turned in will count for votes in accordance with the correct verification.

No information regarding winners will be given out until the tentative publication in The Bee. Should any Candidate be in doubt as to the accuracy of the count The Bee will gladly assist him in an examination of the Campaign books.. The final announcement of winners will be properly certified to by an expert accountant who will have made complete and thorough examination of every Campaign transaction.

All candidates are invited to be present on the last night of the Campaign.

Correction.

In yesterday's Bee, by a typographical error the head lines of the Campaign announcement were made to read that the ballot box and this Campaign closed at 4 p. m., March 31st. It should have read 9 p. m., as stated in the foregoing article. Also, in the sixth paragraph set in black face type, the same as above, the word "old" by a similar error was made to read "new." It is corrected to-day.

MANY ACTIVITIES FOR THE ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE. 3-28-11

The Athletic Club has made arrangements to take part in the minstrel show to be given to-night by Rebekah Lodge No. 232 at Fraternity Hall. The following "stunts" have been arranged: Strong man, C. Hintz; fancy club circling, Russell and Holton; song, Master Van Gilder Horton; acrobatic acts, Rittler and Schnek; bag punching, Gus Story; song, T. Clifton; statuary poses, F. Bacon, B. Bedee, E. Horton and C. Hintz.

The Athletic Club baseball team will play one of the first games of the season out of the city, when they meet Roseville April 16. The S. A. C. has a fast team, and is open to challenges from any other team in the city or nearby towns. Challenges may be written to Manager Houghson, care of the Athletic Club.

Ladies' night, March 31, promises to become an important social event, as well as an evening of amusement. An exceptionally good program has been arranged. The occasion will also be important, being the last official appearance of Prof. Otto Rittler, the physical director, before he leaves the city to return to his home in Oakland.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES FOR WHEELMEN

SAC. BEE. 4-11-11

Plenty of Entertainment Is Planned for Club Members

Many activities will be taken part in by the Capital City Wheelmen during the next few weeks. At the weekly meeting last night it was decided to hold a boxing exhibtion this coming Monday night for members and their friends. Three bouts will be staged, and a lively time will be the program for the evening. The business meeting and social held some time ago at which a very interesting boxing bout was held proved such a success that it was decided to make these bouts a part of the entertainment for other evenings.

A week from Sunday the club will hold a tally-ho ride for all members. Within the next two or three weeks a vaudeville entertainment will be given for the public; arrangements are already under way to secure some local vaudeville house for the second show, and a Committee has charge of the program which will be staged.

The first week in May the annual "Landlubbers' Expedition" will take place. A hike will be made probably to Bright's Dairy, about three miles up the river, just beyond the turn. Something in the nature of a barbecue and a good old social time will be held. This is one of the annual events always looked forward to with interest by every member of the club.

Some time in May, it is also planned to charter a steamer on the river, and make an excursion and picnic out of the day for the club members and their friends.

Every Sunday some of the members practice for the swimming team which Captain Bentley expects to enter in a quadrangular meet it is proposed to hold the first part of May. This meet will include the Y. M. C. A., the S. A. C., the High School and the C. C. W. and will be something of an event in the season's aquatic sports.

The wheelmen are now considering putting a track team in the Oak Park Carnival to be held the 29th of this month. They have some very good material and although they might not be able to put in a full team, could undoubtedly give a good account of themselves in the events which they might enter. M. E. Sparks has charge of entries for this track meet.

As the C. C. W. baseball team, under the captaincy of Gus Rice, won the first baseball game of the season, playing against the Golden Poppies Sunday, an order was put through last night for ten new club uniforms for the players. This order was conditioned somewhat on the showing the team made in the first game, as the boys did not feel like spending $60 on any second-class nine. However, as they showed up very promising, the club decided to go into the season for all they are worth and try to finish with the championship pennant flying from their club headquarters.

The following was their line-up Sunday when they defeated the Golden Poppies 20 to 13: Shaw, catcher; McLain, pitcher; Wirtz, 1st base; Kuchler, 2d base; Bowden, 3d base; Oates, shortstop; Rice, left field; Moose, center; O'Hara and Doyle, right field. Carpenter, their crack shortstop, did not play with them Sunday, but instead accompanied the Cascades to Lodi.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS TO GIVE PUBLIC BOXING SHOW

SAC BEE. 4-13-11

Bouts to Be Staged At Old Pavilion Night of Friday, April 28th

At the Old Pavilion, the 28th of the month, the Sacramento Athletic Club will stage a public exhibition of boxing bouts. Some of the best amateur boxers that have yet been seen in Sacramento have already been signed, and the ten bouts which will be pulled off promise plenty of action.

For the first time in the history of the club a heavy-weight boxing match has been arranged, between Smith, a local man, and Vance, from Stockton. The men will weigh in at about 180, and certainly will give a good account of themselves.

Brock and Michel, at 142 pounds, will be the main event of the evening. McAllister will probably meet Erickson in a third and last match, this time at catch weights. McAllister has already won two decisions over Erickson, who claims he was too much handicapped in having to weigh in at 145. This time it will be no such handicap, and if Erickson loses he will have no further complaint.

The performance will be free to club members, but the public will have to pay a small amount. The public has not had an opportunity heretofore of seeing what kind of matches the S. A. C. has been holding at their club headquarters, as all previous affairs have been for club members only.

The proceeds of the coming show will help the club to pay its debts and put it in a position for more aggressive work. The club annually spends thousands of dollars in the city, and is undoubtedly of great benefit to the young men and the business men of the city, as well as being a big advertisement for the city as a whore. On the 28th, the public will have the opportunity and the privilege of giving the Association the support it deserves.

Five Knockouts Contribute to Success of Fast S. A. C. Card

SAC. UN. 3-25-11

There was some fighting at the Sacramento Athletic club's regular monthly boxing card last night. Five knockouts—all of them clean and snappy—and two bouts which went extra rounds. All of the boys were willing fighters last night. There was not a quitter in the bunch, and Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman deserves considerable credit for having put on the prettiest card which has made its appearance before the club.

In the main event Goulard went four rounds before he could convince the judges of his superiority over Raymond—both boys being of the Sacramento Athletic club. This fight was the main event of the card, and easily proved its merit to such distinction. Raymond started out strong, but failed to follow up his vantage points after he had sent Goulard to his knees in the second round. And Goulard came back strong in the third. He should have had the decision at the end of the third, but the judges disagreed, and an extra round was necessary. In the extra period Goulard removed all doubt which might have existed and, with a slashing right and a heavy body blow, set a pace which Raymond couldn't follow. The decision went to Goulard.

AZEVEDO WINS A FIGHT.

Perhaps the prettiest fight of the evening was that of J. Romero of the South Side Athletic club and Azevedo of the Sacramento Athletic club. Romero had a strong left, but could not work it to advantage on his doughty opponent. Azevedo depended largely on his right to the head, and showed some of the cleverest work of the card. The fight went an extra round, and when the decision went to Azevedo there was slight evidence of dissatisfaction, but the fight was easily Azevedo's, for Romero, while putting up a plucky and heady fight, failed to land an effective blow in the four rounds.

As a special event Hansen entered the ring, bearing the somewhat weighty title of champion of Denmark. But the title didn't feaze Brock of the S. A. C. in the least. Brock proceeded to show Hansen a few things which he in his wrestling experience had not come across. Hansen showed a willingness to mix things—too great a willingness. For whenever he sailed [illegible] he S. A. C. boy he found a [illegible]t arm waiting for him which [illegible]y wore out the blonde boy and won Brock the decision.

Two strangers from a foreign clime went just about twenty seconds and contributed the prettiest knockout of the evening. Marshall of the Oakland Athletic club and Dunn of the Hawthorn A. C. of San Francisco were the principals in this event. Dunn proceeded to bore into Marshall from the tap of the gong, and at the end of fifteen seconds caught his Oakland opponent with a fierce tap under the heart. Marshall tottered and in falling swung directly onto Dunn's shoulder, which caught him in the solar plexus and sent hiw down for the count. Dunn showed himself a fast and able fighter and should be matched with some one in his class for the entertainment of the local followers of the game.

NOTHING EASY FOR FAHEY.

Hallanan of the S. A. C. found a comparatively easy victim in Fahey of the Reno A. C. Fahey was on deck at the last card of the local club and won on a foul. But there was nothing as easy as that floating around for Fahey last night. Hallanan rushed him from the first round and had the blood spurting from under Fahey's eye before the end of the first, and despite the attempts of the sagebrush boy to snow bursts of speed the Sacramento favorite had him going all the way and won a well-earned decision.

But the first four fights of the evening were a card by themselves—all of them brought knockouts. Garsha of the south side knocked out Jack Hogan of the south side in the first, and thereby won the newsboys' championship title. Souza and Burns, also both of the south side, also contributed a knockout, Souza sending Burns down twice and then nailing him for the count as he attempted to come up the second time.

Lowrey won another knockout for the south side when he sent Cole of the S. A. C. down for the count in the eighth. The gong saved Cole from taking the full count, but he had had enough and it went as a knockout.

Mikel of the San Francisco Athletic club gained a clean knockout over Corey of the S. A. C. with a right uppercut. Mikel showed himself to be a fast and experienced fighter and merely waited an opportune moment for his decisive blow as Corey attempted to mix things.

And Otto Rittler, the physical instructor of the S. A. C., furnished no small amount of amusement for the crowd with his free-for-all battle royal of eight newsboys. It was a great go while it lasted and blood flowed freely while the newsies proceeded to show their ideas of how boxing contests should be conducetd.

Ancil Hoffman was presented with an appropriate club emblem as a token of the members' appreciation of his work as matchmaker during the evening's bouts, and the remembrance was well merited by last night's card to say nothing of the other successful affairs which Hoffman has staged.

As a special feature for next month's card Mikel of San Francisco and Brock of Sacramento will fight for a special trophy, and from the showing of both men last night it should be one of the prettiest bouts seen at the local club in recent months.

Romero and Salvadore; another interesting event will be the bout between Garcia and Hogan, newsboys.

FIVE KNOCKOUTS FEATURE SHOW AT ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE. 3-25-11

Gruelling Bouts and Newsboys Battle Royal Enthuse Fight Fans

The series of boxing bouts held last night under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic Club, resulted in five clean knock-outs, and altogether gave the spectators an exhibition of some of the best boxing ever seen in local rings. Two bouts went extra rounds, all the boys proved fighters, and it was only fitting to the occasion that Matchmaker Hoffman was presented with an appropriate emblem as a token of esteem for his services.

The principal event of the evening was the go between Goulard and Raymond. Both are members of the S. A. C., and weighed in at 150 pounds. Goulard started out strong, and had the advantage as far as the second round. But he failed to follow up all the opportunities he had, and Raymond showed best in the third round, and won the decision in the fourth.

The fight between J. Romero, of the South Side Athletic Club, and Azevedo of the S. A. C. proved one of the most interesting and spectacular of the vening. Romero was not able to make much use of his strong left, and Azevedo, by his clever head-work and telling right hand punches, seemed to the Judges to have slightly the best of the fight. It was, however, one of the closest and most hotly contested fights pulled off last night.

Hansen ran across some surprises in his encounter with Brock. Hansen's tactics consisted larely of rushing, but Brock was able not only to meet them solidly, but to take advantage of them, much to the chagrin of the boy from Denmark.

Marshall of the Oakland Athletic Club, and Dunn of the Hawthorne Club, contributed one of the shortest bouts on record, Marshall was knocked out in three seconds.

Fahey, of Reno,, lost to Hallanan the local S. A. C. favorite, but it was a very close decision.

Every one of the first four fights of the evening resulted in clean knock-outs. Garcia of the South Side won the newsboys championship title by a knock-out over Jack Hogan, also of the South Side. Souza defeated Burns and Lowry defeated Cole.

A right upper-cut won the decision for Mikel of the San Francisco Athletic Club, over Corey of the S. A. C. Mikel showed good head work, and the skill of an experienced fighter. He merely waited his time to land the right blow at the right time.

The free for all newsboys battle, in which eight boys took part, was one of the special events put on by Prof. Rittler, the Physical Director of the club. It proved the most exciting of the evening, and while it lasted the newsboys had all they could do to look after each of the other seven and himself at the same time.

Announcements of the games and players should be sent in not later than Thursday of each week, and the results should reach The Bee office before 9 o'clock Monday morning, in order that a prompt and accurate record may be kept. Several other teams have played inter-club ball teams, and a few games have been strictly practice games, which are not listed here. There may also be some games which have been played, but are not shown in this table. In such case, a notice to that effect should be sent in.

ATHLETIC CLUB MAY PLAY WHEELMEN TO-MORROW

Interest in baseball at the Athletic Club has been aroused by the announcement that a practice game and tryout will be held at McKinley Park to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The Capital City Wheelmen will probably be the opposing team.

A. B. Hughson will guide the destinies of the S. A. C. team this year, and will have one of the fastest teams in this part of the State. Donald, Foy, Wheat, Acunia, Wright, Hughson, Sprague, Reese, Feeny, Rooney, Felix and many others have signed up for practice.

A schedule is now being arranged, and country managers desiring to book games can do so by addressing the manager in care of the S. A. C. It is desired to start the regular season April 2d.

Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento athletic club will bid farewell to that organization on the evening of March 31 and will go back to Oakland and resume charge of the gymnastic department of St. Mary's college. The members of the club will tender Rittler a farewell reception on March 31 at a ladies' night.

Rittler has been with the club for more than a year, and during that time has brought the standard of athletics up to a high mark. He has practically managed the club since the movement to cut down expenses was inaugurated. He received a better offer from the Oakland college and accepted. He left St. Mary's to come to Sacramento.

The reception Friday, March 31, will consist of gymnastics, wrestling, boxing, music and dancing.

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball team will play the fast Roseville team in the railroad town next Sunday. Both teams have been considerably strengthened during the last week and a fast game is expected.

The line-up of the S. A. C. team will be as follows: Acunia and Tobin, catchers; J. Wright and Doyle, pitchers; Stover, first base; Danis, second base; Donald, shortstop; Hamilton, third base; Hughson, G. Wright, Wheat and Sprague, outfielders, and Folk, utility.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS WINNER IN PLACER

SAC. UN. 4-17-11

Sacramento Boys Take Game From Roseville — Wright Fans Three in Last Frame.

Special to the Union.

ROSEVILLE (Placer Co.), April 16.—The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team kept up its winning streak today, by winning from the hard-hitting Roseville team by the score of 4 to 3. The game was one of the most exciting of the season. The Athletics rang the gong twice in the opening round on Snook's error, which gave Davis a life, and hits by Hamilton and Hughson. Snook's single and Carpenter's double caused a Roseville run in the same frame.

Roseville went into the lead in the sixth, when McCreary, McGee and Guptill hit safely, and Hughson dropped a long fly. The Athletics cinched the game in the eighth. Davis was given a pass, and Donald singled, scoring Wheat. Hamilton's long fly to Shuler scored Davis.

"Bill" Hamilton of the club team was the star of the game. He had ten hard chances, accepting nine, and secured two hits. Davis kept up his batting streak, and stole two bases. Wright and Tobin as a battery, worked like a clock, the former winding up the game in the ninth by fanning McCreery, McGee, and Phillips in succession. McCreery, the big southpaw, twirled a nice game for Roseville.

The S. A. C. will tackle the fast Arbuckle team next Sunday. Score:

S. A. C. PLANS TRACK MEET

SAC. BEE. 4-13-11

Professor Otto Rittler, the Physical Director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has appointed C. Gannon and J. Childs to choose two track teams to compete in an interclub meet to be held Sunday, April 23d. The uniforms of the Childs team will be all black, whereas the Gannonites will wear yellow. At least thirty have already signed up to take part.

S. A. C. BOUTS ARE STRONG IN ACTION

SAC. STAR. 3-25-11

The monthly boxing matches of the Sacramento Athletic Club held last night were a credit to the ability of Matchmaker Hoffman. The members were treated to plenty of action and a well-balanced card.

Referee John Burke and the judges, Eddie Cox and Otto Heilbron, had several hair-line decisions to render, but got away with all of them very nicely. In two cases an extra round had to be ordered before a winner could be picked.

The main event betwen Raymond and Goulard, 150-pound boys, both of the Sacramento Club, was too close at the end of the third round for the judges to reach any conclusion. So they went another, in which Goulard managed to show that his blows were more cleanly landed. Raymond did some marvelous ducking in the first two with the result that Goulard made up for his errors and took the decision home with him.

Garcia and Jack Hogan started the affair, weighing in at 105 pounds. There was little science to the match, but Garcia was too strong for his fellow club member, putting him down for the count at the end of the first round. Burns and Souza, 108 pounders came next and further showed that these southside boys are willing mixers and full of fight. Burns started out like a winner, but blew up in the middle of the first round and was finished by the K. O. route.

The crowd was shown some high class slugging and missing by Lowrey (Southside) and Cole (S. A. C.) The going was very indiscriminate until the second round, when Lowrey connected with Cole's jaw and put him out.

Mikel (S. F. A. C.) and Corey (S. A. C.) came in at 140 pounds and stayed only long enough for Mikel to show his cleverness. He gave evidence of ability and went after his man in a workmanlike manner. Before the first round was over Corey stepped into a right uppercut. Curtain for Corey.

Fahey (Reno A. C.) and Hale (S. A. C.) were evenly matched at 130 pounds. Fahey started well but couldn't remember his lines. First he would crouch, then try to stand up and fight at long distance. Finally he got his hair mussed, which upset him so much that Hale jumped in and got the decision. At that, a draw would not have been out of place.

The liveliest go of the evening was furnished by the 118-pound boys, Azevedo (S. A. C.) and Romero (Southside). They put up a rattling bout and provided plenty of excitement. Romero displayed a good straight left, which he used to advantage, but not enough to convince the judges. They ordered an extra round in which Azevedo finished with a rush. He had a shade the best of it and got the decision.

In the 145-pound class Brock (S. A. C.) came from behind and outpointed Hansen, unattached. Brock can now call himself champion of Denmark, as that is the title Hansen claimed.

Marshall (O. A. C.) and Dunn (Hawthorne A. C.) were in the ring only long enough to show that they were both willing to mix it. But it lasted quick. After about 15 seconds Dunn landed a wild swing on Marshall's solar plexus and wafted him to dreamland.

"Gus" Rittler staged the comedy feature of the evening by putting on a battle royal between eight newsboys. They stayed only long enough to start their noses to bleeding and furnish the members a good laugh, after which they picked up the coins showered on them and departed.

Between bouts the club members, through the announcer, Jack Inman presented a token to "Schlitz" Hoffman as a mark of their appreciation of his work as matchmaker.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS TO GIVE PUBLIC BOXING SHOW

Bouts to Be Staged At Old Pavilion Night of Friday, April 28th

SAC. BEE 4-13-11

At the Old Pavilion, the 28th of the month, the Sacramento Athletic Club will stage a public exhibition of boxing bouts. Some of the best amateur boxers that have yet been seen in Sacramento have already been signed, and the ten bouts which will be pulled off promise plenty of action.

For the first time in the history of the club a heavy-weight boxing match has been arranged, between Smith, a local man, and Vance, from Stockton. The men will weigh in at about 180, and certainly will give a good account of themselves.

Brock and Michel, at 142 pounds, will be the main event of the evening. McAllister will probably meet Erickson in a third and last match, this time at catch weights. McAllister has already won two decisions over Erickson, who claims he was too much handicapped in having to weigh in at 145. This time it will be no such handicap, and if Erickson loses he will have no further complaint.

The performance will be free to club members, but the public will have to pay a small amount. The public has not had an opportunity heretofore of seeing what kind of matches the S. A. C. has been holding at their club headquarters, as all previous affairs have been for club members only.

The proceeds of the coming show will help the club to pay its debts and put it in a position for more aggressive work. The club annually spends thousands of dollars in the city, and is undoubtedly of great benefit to the young men and the business men of the city, as well as being a big advertisement for the city as a whole. On the 28th, the public will have the opportunity and the privilege of giving the Association the support it deserves.

GOULARD AND RAYMOND TO FIGHT IN THE MAIN EVENT

SAC. BEE. 3-21-11

Strong Card Arranged for Athletic Club's Show

Matchmaker Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club has made one or two shifts in the boxing card for Friday night's show. He has cancelled the bout between Hansen and Goulard and will send Goulard in against Raymond. Goulard was a little too heavy for Hansen and for this reason the change was made. The Raymond-Goulard bout will be the main event of the show and it should be a good argument. They are 150 pound boys and willing and game scrappers.

Hansen will go against Brock in the special event. They tip the scales at 145 pounds and appear very evenly matched in every way.

The Romero brothers, Joe and Tom, are in training for their respective bouts. Joe is to meet Azeveda and Tom is to go against Salvadore and they should put up the real scientific bouts of the night.

The balance of the card will be: Burns vs. Perinti, Luke vs. Sanderson, Cole vs. Loughrey and Marshall vs. Dunn.

Hoffman still has Souza, Garcia and Ahern awaiting matches and opponents may be found for them before the night of the show.

NEWSIES TO FIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

SAC. UN. 3-24-11

Card of Fast Bouts Prepared for Tonight's Regular Monthly S. A. C. Boxing.

The newsboys' boxing championship now disputed between Garcia of the afternoon newsies' corps and Jack Hogan of the morning deliverers will be settled tonight before the Sacramento Athletic club, the two boys having been matched to meet at 105 pounds in one of the bouts of the club's regular monthly boxing cards. Eleven other bouts are scheduled on the evening's card, which promises to be one of the fastest of the many held before the club.

Ramon and Goulard at 145 will be the main event of the evening. Hansen and Brock at 145 pounds, and T. Romero and Salvadore at 118 will be the special preliminary events, and the other preliminaries scheduled on the card are as follows:

Garcia versus Jack Hogan, 105; Sanderson versus Luke, 120; Burns versus Pappa, 120; Lowrey versus Cole, 115; Carey versus Mikel, 140; Fohey versus Hale, 133; Ahern versus Amaker, 122; J. Romero versus Azavedo, 118; and Marshall versus Dunn, 128.

LODGE NO. 33 POSTPONES BUSINESS TILL NEXT MEETING.

ALLIED PRINTING TRADES UNION LABEL COUNCIL SACRAMENTO

Posttponing all business till the next regular meeting, Machinists' Lodge No. 33 last night entertained the Delegates to the biennial convention in royal style. W. H. Hugo arranged the following program:

Vocal solo, J. Kennedy; vocal duet, Messrs. Wassman and Watson; accordion and guitar duet, Frey Brothers; three-round boxing bout between Happy Garcia of The Bee newsboys and Kid Cole of the Sacramento Athletic Club, resulting in a draw; Gus Storz gave a clever exhibition of bag punching; a battle royal, participated in by the following six boys, was much enjoyed, Frank Orazzalie, Joe Delnero, G. Pardi, Frank Pardi, P. Michell and C. O'Brien; three-round boxing bout between M. Salvator and Walter Dunn proved very exciting and ended in a draw; a three-round boxing match between J. Smith and George Pappas was declared a draw; Professor Rittler acted as referee. Carl Brown, in the guise of a hobo, entertained with humorous pencil sketches, concluding with a burlesque reception to Teddy Roosevelt, whom he styled "the greatest hobo of them all."

RITTLER DEFINITELY DECIDES TO RESIGN

Professor Otto Rittler has definitely decided to resign as Manager of the Sacramento Athletic Club and to accept an offer from St. Mary's College, in Oakland, and will leave Sacramento March 31st.

The ladies' night, which was to have been held to-night by the Athletic Club, has been postponed until then, so that the event will be a farewell reception to the physical director.

Rittler has been here more than a year, and during that time has proved one of the most efficient and well-liked managers the S. A. C. has ever had. Speaking at the Capital City Wheelmen's banquet last night, he said he had always tried to promote cooperation and manly, honest competition among the various athletic organizations of the city.

The officers and members of the Athletic Club, as well as his many friends, will be sorry to know that he has decided to leave, and will wish him much sucess in his new efforts.

Rittler's home is in Oakland.

DUTCH LUNCH IS ENJOYED BY C. C. W.

Members Who Lost Membership Campaign Pay for the Feed—Picnic Planned.

Seventy-five members of the Capital City Wheelmen gathered around the banquet board in the club rooms over the Sacramento bank at Fifth and J streets last night and enjoyed a Dutch lunch, which was provided by the committee of ten which lost in the recent membership campaign.

Good old-fashioned Dutch cheese, crackers, sauerkraut and hot "dogs" with coffee to wash it down greeted the cyclists as they entered the banquet hall. It is needless to say they fell to and did justice to the feed. W. Smith, leader of the losing side and one of the members who put up for the feed, ate heartily despite the fact that all the other members were eating "on" him.

Clarence Herndon acted as toastmaster, and called upon a number of the members for speeches. Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club was present and spoke on athletics. He urged the club to put a track team into the field and to take an active part in the field day at Oak Park next month.

Others who spoke were W. Bentley, secretary; W. Smith, Dr. Turner, F. Pearl.

The Azevedo brothers gave a four-round boxing exhibition, which was greatly appreciated.

Forty members have been added to the roll as the result of the campaign. Eleven additional were received last night.

The club decided to give a big picnic in Fair Oaks April 9. A whist tournament will commence at the club next week.

PUBLIC TOURNAMENT.

Sacramento Athletic Club's Next Card to Be Open to All.

So popular have been the boxing turnaments given every month by the Sacramento Athletic Club, the management has decided to hold the next exhibition in the Old Pavilion and open the doors to be public. Heretofore the fights have been for the entertainment of club members only. By opening the doors to the public, a double purpose will be served—the fight fans who are not members of the club will be given an opportunity of seeing some classy bouts and the club's financial condition will be bettered because a small admission fee will be charged.

All of the bouts given by the club in the past have been well worth witnessing and the program for the next exhibition promises to be no exception.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman will endeavor to put on eight or nine fast three-round goes. The club has developed several classy young boxers and the fights are usually fast and interesting.

TO HONOR PROF. RITTLER

The program to have been given this evening in honor of Otto Rittler, who has resigned his position of physical director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, will be postponed until Friday, March 31. Although a good program was arranged for tonight, the delay will be utilized in lengthening it. Prof. Rittler has accepted a similar position with St. Mary's College at Oakland. SAC. STAR 3-21-11

The program: Overture, Sacramento Athletic Club orchestra; wrestling, Bedie and Wheat; wrestling, Emes and Conardson; song, Master Van Guelder Horton; piano and mandolin, S. Fay and A. Hayes; acrobatic act, Rittler and Schenk; song, Sacramento Athletic Club quartette; boxing, M. Salvadore and T. Ohern; J. Erickson and T. Goulard.

S. A. C. TO PLAY WHEELMEN IN PRACTICE GAME TODAY

Baseball is booming at the S. A. C. just now, a manager for the coming season having been secured in A. B. Hughson. The first practice game of the season will be played at McKinley park this morning, when the Capital City Wheelmen team will oppose the S. A. C.

From present indications there will be a hard fight on for positions on the S. A. C. team, as a large number of candidates have signed up to try out. Among these are: Wheat, Foy, Sprague, Hughson, Reese, Wright, Donald, Rooney, Felix, Acunia, Stober, Feeny and many others. Manager Hughson promises to have an aggregation that will play any team in Northern California to a standstill.

A schedule is now being arranged and the regular season will probably start on April 2. Any country managers desirous of booking games can do so by addressing the manager in care of the S. A. C.

SACRAMENTO CLUB OFFICERS.

Athletic Club Has Good Card for Next Friday Night. SUNDAY NEWS

The Sacramento Athletic Club's monthly boxing entertainment will be held in the club rooms next Friday night. A good card will be put on. The main event of the evening will be a three-round go between Salvador and T. Romero. Both of these youngsters are comers and like the sport. They are clever and not afraid to fight. The go should be a close and interesting one. Matchmaker Hoffman promises one of the best cards yet staged.

Among the other bouts will be the following: Cole (S. A. C.) vs. Lowry (South Side Club), 118 pounds; Burns vs. Sanderson, 115 pounds; Marshal (S. A. C.) vs. Dunn (S. A. C.), 128 pounds; Hanson (unattached) vs. Goulard (S. A. C.), 148 pounds

Two of the matches already arranged are between Azevedo and Romero at 115 pounds and Salvadore and Romero's twin brother at 118 pounds. Other good bouts will also be scheduled.

S. A. C. WINS TRACK MEET

SAC. STAR. 5-1-11

Through the non-appearance of athletes who were entered in the various events, the track meet at Oak Park Saturday afternoon was a fizzle. Athletic Director Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club, who was in charge of the meet had received a number of entries from members of various athletic organizations throughout the Sacramento valley but very few of those entered, appeared. The meet was a romp for the Sacramento Athletic club athletes who rolled up 48 points. Their nearest rival, the Sacramento High School, made 29 points. Oroville high scored 4 points.

The following are the five teams who at present are making the hardest fight for the championship of Superior California:

Roseville	4	0	1.000
Dixon	4	0	1.000
Galt	4	0	1.000
Colusa	3	0	1.000

There are many other well known teams who will undoubtedly defeat some of the teams mentioned above. The Brooke Realties, Willows Giants, Panama Murphy Independents and many others, would hate to consider themselves out of the running so early in the season, although their averages so far are not as good as the five given above. The teams playing on regular leagues or High Schools are not considered in this class.

When it comes to the question of the standing of all the other amateur and semi-professional teams, there are so many of them that it is impossible to classify them according to any particular standing. The effort is to pick out the best known amateur and semi-professional teams in Sacramento and Superior California, as well as those having the highest averages, of those who have played more than one game, and classify them together. Then as the season advances, other teams that show a good average, and give evidence of having as good teams as any of the other amateur teams in the valley can be included.

Dust From The Diamond

THE ARBUCKLE AMERICAN 4-29-11

It is a shame to be each week writing up the defeats of Arbuckle and this week the sporting editor absolutely refused to do the job and it was turned over to the "devil."

His highness scratched his head, figuring how he was to do it and his speculation finally brought him to wondering why his Sunday school teacher objected so strenuously to his going to the baseball game when the bible had so much to say about baseball. He forgot about last Sunday's game and probably prepared an argument for the benefit of his teacher, for when he handed in his copy to the city editor it read something like this:

"Adam and Eve retired on the first double play. Adam was the first man up, Noah on deck. Abel made the first sacrifice. Noah issued the first rain checks. A dove was the first fowl out. The ark was the first pitcher. It pitched and tossed. Eve displayed the first curve. The prodigal son walked home. Pharaoh's daughter discovered the original phenom in the long grass. Reuben was caught stealing by Joseph. Samson was the original slugger. Jonah was tossed out. Benjamin was the first southpaw. Jonah was the original jinx."

However, Scorer Patton saw the game as follows:

WHITEWASH BRUSH FOR WILLIAMS TEAM

Sacramento Athletic Club Winner Despite Twirler Imported From Capital City.

SAC. UN. 4-30-11

Special to the Union.

WILLIAMS (Colusa Co.), April 30.—The undefeated S. A. C. baseball team administered the first coat of white wash to the Williams team here today to the tune of 3 to 0.

Doyle started on the mound for the Athletics, fanning seven men in less than four innings. He was very wild on account of a sore finger, and was relieved in the fourth inning by "Johny" Wright, who allowed no hits for the rest of the game, and fanned six. Koch, the big Sacramento southpaw, twirled a fine game for Williams, allowing five hits and fanning fourteen.

The Athletics scored once in the third, when Danis was hit by pitcher, stole second and came home on Hamilton's hit. Two more runs were made in the sixth. Danis singled, stole second and went to third on Hamilton's sacrifice, on which Price erred. Ham stole second and both men scored on Guy Wright's slashing single to right. Williams was dangerous at several times in the early innings, but after the fourth they could do nothing. G. Wright's grandstand catch in left and Ted Culverson's throwing were the fielding features.

Dixon and the S. A. C. will clash next Sunday.

LADIES' NIGHT AGAIN PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

SAC. BEE 4-30-11

Over two hundred members and friends of the Sacramento Athletic Club enjoyed an evening of pleasure and amusement at the club headquarters last night. The success of the first ladies' night, given about a month ago, was such that the success of the second one, held last night was to be expected. A very interesting program was rendered, after which the floor was cleared for dancing and a general good time.

The feature of the evening was a battle royal, the third one of its kind since Professor Otto Rittler, the physical director, introduced the sport into Sacramento circles. Six newsboys of The Sacramento Bee took part, and the entertainment was further increased by the use of blackened gloves. The boys who took part were H. Garcia, D. Orzalli, P. Salvadora, C. O'Brien, T. Paris and J. M. Levia.

All the other features were good, and several of the performances received hearty encores. Although the orchestra has been organized only a few months, it gave a very good account of itself. H. Davidson is leader of the S. A. C. orchestra. John Hall, James Coyle, Gus Zimmermacher, William Heberlie and Tom Ryan are the members.

The program was as follows: Overture, S. A. C. orchestra; fancy bag punching, Gus Stork; wrestling, Bedee and Wheat, lightweights; duet, Wasserman and Mattson; boxing, Ahern and Salvador, 120 pounds; musical duet, Fry Brothers; boxing, Smith and Pappas, 170 pounds; battle royal, Bee newsboys.

MAY DAY CARNIVAL AND FIESTA BEGINS IN CHARMING SUBURB THIS AFTERNOON— MASKS AND WIGS SUPPLANT SOMBER GARB

SAC. BEE. 4-29-11.

A GLIMPSE DOWN THIRTY-FIFTH STREET, OAK PARK, SHOWING THE TRIUMPHAL ARCH AND SOME OF THE STREET DECORATIONS. THIS AVENUE LEADS DIRECTLY INTO THE PARK ITSELF WHERE HUNDREDS OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF AMUSEMENTS ARE TO BE FOUND.

CARE-FREE THOUSANDS WEND THEIR WAY TO OAK PARK'S GATES THIS GLAD MAY DAY

WELL, boys and girls, to-night's the night!

In fact, even while this story is being written, and set into type and sent out to the waiting world by the big buzzing presses—it's happening!

What's happening?

Why, don't you know? Just go up and take a look at the cars running out toward Oak Park! Board one of them if you can—and I don't believe you can—and run out to the charming suburb. Then you'll know! You bet!

However, in case you cannot arrange to get away from the office to-day, and are still consumed with a desire to know what wonderful events is coming off this afternoon and evening, we'll let you into a secret!

THIS IS CARNIVAL DAY AT OAK PARK!

Yes, indeed—to-day and to-night, to-morrow and to-morrow night, Monday morning, afternoon and night! And anybody who tells you that things aren't "doing" in the southeast corner of Sacramento this afternoon—well, he's talking through his new straw sky-piece!

First place, just to show you that Oak Park has a fine regard for the sport-loving contingent in this neck of the woods, they have a red-hot athletic meet in progress at the old Coast League grounds and from all accounts its a crackerjack. The S. A. C. has the meet in charge—which insures that there will be plenty of class!

To-night, starting at 7 bells, there is to be a monstrous parade, held beneath thousands of vari-colored electric lights and a kaleidoscope of waving flags. After that comes the big masquerade ball—which is booked to last all night, and after that?— O well, what's the use! There's something scheduled for every minute until midnight chimes on Monday.

Baseball, baby shows, peanuts, confetti, pretty girls, dances, band concerts, fireworks—everything to make the heart of the carnival-lover glad—and all for practically nothing! All the Oak Park people want to do is to get you interested in their suburb—and they have all worked like Trojans to accomplish it.

Oak Park never looked as beautiful as she does this afternoon—and will to-night! Practically every street is a mass of flags and bunting, with electric lights hanging over them awaiting the magic fluid which will turn them into a dazzling, brilliant embroglio of color. The streets have all been clean swept and freshly sanded—so that the young women need have no fears for their pet organdies and lawn, while the swains may wear their "yaller" shoes and lavender socks without a chance of having them soiled or smeared. May Day in Oak Park means go as far as you like!

The Carnival Committee extends through the columns of The Bee a cordial invitation to attend the three-day carnival and hopes that the people of Sacramento and vicinity will take advantage of the many attractions and features which are being offered for their amusement.

ATHLETICS ARE VICTORS.

STAR

The S. A. C. baseball team goose-egged the Williams aggregation at the latter place yesterday by piling up three tallies. Doyle, the S. A. C.'s twirler, succeeded in fanning seven of the opposing players up to the fourth inning, when he was relieved by "Johnny" Wright, on account of a sore finger. No hits were chalked up against Wright and he struck out six men. Koch, Sacramento's burly port side flinger performed on the mound in an entirely satisfactory manner, striking out 14 and allowing only five swats.

A game is scheduled for next Sunday between Dixon and the S. A. C.

OPENING FOR CLASSY BOXERS OF THIS CITY

SAC. BEE. 4-22-11

Matchmaker Hoffman is completing the card for the boxing show to be given by the Sacramento Athletic Club next Friday evening. Hoffman says that if there are any ambitious pugilists in the city, he would like to get in touch with them and possibly bouts can be arranged for this month.

The show is to be given at the Old Pavilion, and for the first time the general public will be admitted, shows in the past having been given exclusively for the entertainment of club members. It is now necessary for the club to raise money, and hence the public show.

Hoffman promises the best card that has ever been offered by the S. A. C. It will include several fighters from San Francisco and Oakland, as well as the best from this city and surrounding towns.

S. A. C. NINE TO MEE[illegible] CRACK ARBUCKLE TEAM

SAC. UN. 4-[illegible]-11

The undefeated S. A. C. boys, with three victories to their credit, will go up against the crack Arbuckle team next Sunday at that place. Arbuckle has such well-known players on its line-up as "Joe" Williams, "Muzzy" Williams, Forderbau, Hust, and others. The S. A. C. boys will present their usual strong line-up, and are confident of winning. "Johnny" Wright and Tobin will form the athletic club's battery.

SPEEDY BOUTS ARE CARDED FOR S. A. C.

SAC. UN. 4-21-11

Brock-Michel Match Should Be Best Seen Here for Many Months Past.

All arrangements have been completed for the benefit boxing bouts to be given by the Sacramento Athletic club at the Old Pavilion tomorrow night. The bout between Brock of the local athletic club and Michel of the Hawthorne A. C. of San Francisco, 145 pounds, will be the main attraction of the evening and promises to be one of the best bouts seen in this city in many a day.

Michel fought before the Athletic club here at last month's regular boxing card and made such a good impression that the suggestion was made at the ringside that he be matched with Brock for the next card. Matchmaker Hoffman was prompt to see the merit of such a match and at once set to work to match the men as the special attraction for this month's card.

But there will be several other attractions of considerable merit in themselves. The local heavyweight, Smith, who nas outclassed all the opponents whom he has faced in this city thus far, promises to be given a worthy opponent in Jurgenson, the 175-pound fighter from the Seattle A. C. Salvadore, another of the fast local boys, will meet Burns of the Stockton A. C. in a return match, Burns having taken the first match between the two men when they met before the Sacramento club last month.

Other bouts which are scheduled as features of tomorrow night's big card are: Azavedo, S. A. C., vs. Eddie Smith, Redwood A. C., Oakland; Nevius vs. Ahern, for the local lightweight championship honors; Corey, S. A. C., vs. Shamrock, San Jose, 138 pounds; Dunn, S. A. C., vs. Rymer, Woodland, 130 pounds; Cole, S. A. C., vs. Chalmers, Southerside A. C., 115 pounds. Other matches will be arranged today in which Pappas, Goulard and Hale will be matched with other well known speedy boxers.

The proceeds of the boxing bouts will be devoted to the treasury of the Sacramento Athletic club and local sport lovers will be given an opportunity to show their allegiance to the club by giving the bouts their support.

CLASSY CARD BEING ARRANGED FOR S. A. C. SHOW

SAC. BEE. 4-20-11

Public Will Have Chance to See Fast Boxing Bouts

The Sacramento Athletic Club is making extensive preparations for the boxing show to be held in the Old Pavilion the evening of the 28th of this month. Several good matches have already been arranged, and one of the most interesting series of bouts ever pulled off in Sacramento is certain.

The main event of the evening will be a go between Brock, S. A. C., and Mickel, Hawthorn Club, San Francisco, at 145 pounds. Both are in active training and boxing enthusiasts are assured of a snappy bout.

Smith and Williams, both S. A. C. men, will be matched in the heavyweight class. Smith is a fast heavyweight, who has been having a hard time to get a good match with local men.

The purpose of holding the public boxing show is twko-fold: First, it is intended as an exhibition of what the members of the Athletic Club enjoy on their own monthly cards, which are limited to the club membership, and in the second place, to provide a benefit for the club itself. The Board of Directors has done everything it could to promote the interests of the club, and now the public will be given an opportunity to help by paying admission to a show that will certainly be worth the money.

The following card has been arranged so far, although not all the men have yet been matched:

Salvador, S. A. C., vs. Burns, Stockton Athletic Club.

Ahearn, S. A. C., vs. Nevius, S. A. C., 120.

Corey, S. A. C., vs. Shamrock, San Jose, 138.

Smith, S. A. C., vs. Williams, S. A. S., heavyweight.

Dunn, S. A. C., vs. Rymer, Woodland, 130.

Cole, S. A. C., vs. Chalmers, South Side A. C, 115.

Brock, S A. C., vs. Mickel, Hawthorn Club, San Francisco, 145.

Azevedo, S. A. C., 122; Pappas, S. A. C., 145; Goulard, S. A. C., 145; and Hale, S. A. C., 130, will take part, but have not yet been matched.

PUBLIC TO GET FIRST FIGHTS IN LONG TIME

SAC. STAR 4-21-11.

For the first time since ex-Governor James N. Gillett put the ban on boxing in Sacramento, the fight fans of the city are to be given a dish of their favorite sport on next Friday night when the Sacramento Athletic Club will put on ten amateur bouts.

In the past, the boxing events given by the club were limited to club members only, but this rule has bee nabolished and the public is cordially invited to attend the bouts which will be held in the Old Pavilion at Sixth and M streets.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman has already signed up seven bouts and will make three more matches this week. They are for three rounds each.

The card to date is as follows: Salvarode (S. A. C.) vs. Burns (Stockton Athletic club), at 122 pounds; Ahern (S. A. C.) vs. Nevis (San Francisco Athletic club), 120; Smith (S. A. C.) vs. George Williams (unattached), 180; Carey (S. A. C.) vs. Shamrock (unattached), 130; Dunn (S. A. C.), vs. Ryman (Woodland), 133; Cole (S. A. C. vs. Chalmers (South Side), 122; Brock (S. A. C.) vs. Mitchell (S. A. C.), 145 pounds.

WOMEN ENJOY EVENING AS GUESTS OF S. A. C.

SAC. STAR 4-[illegible]-11

At the entertainment given last last night to women friends of the Sacramento Athletic club, the most amusing part of the program was the battle royal, in which eight newsboys took part.

Although there was not a very large crowd in attendance, those present had a very enjoyable time.

The first part of the program consisted of music, boxing, wrestling and bag punching. After that a dance was given.

The first number on the program was an exhibition was an exhibition wrestling bout. Gus Storz gave an exhibition of bag punching. A duet was sung by Wasserman and Mattson. Boxing bouts were given by Salvadoro and Ahern, and by Smith and Pappas. The last two are in the 170 pound class, and their three round bout furnished much amusement. A musical selection furnished by the Fry Brothers, scored quite a hit. Music was also given by the club orchestra, under the direction of H. Davidson.

The eight newsies engaging in the battle royal were: H. Garcia, D. Orzalli, P. Salvador, C. O'Brien, T. Parisi, T. Pasi, J. M. Levia.

The Sacramento Athletic Club whitewashed the Williams team Sunday, running up the score if 3 to 0. Doyle and J. Wright pitched for the Athletics, and together fanned thirteen, and allowed only three base hits. Koch, the big Sacramento southpaw, fanned fourteen and allowed five hits. Williams almost scored several times during the first four innings, but after that had no chance. Score by innings:

CLEVER BOXERS WILL CLASH AT OLD PAVILLION TO-NIGHT

Sacramento Athletic Club Will Stage First Public Fight Show

MANUEL VIEIRA,
Classy Oakland Boxer Who Will Meet Azevedo in Special Event.

The Sacramento Athletic Club's boxing show will be given to-night at the Old Pavilion, and not at the club headquarters, where these boxing matches are usually held. The show will be open to the public, not to members only. Members of the club will be admitted free.

There are to be ten events on the evening's program, five preliminaries and five special matches, including the main event. The best of the local boxers will take part and meet clever fighters from other representative clubs.

There will be two heavy weight bouts, one between Neves of Stockton and Williams of Yolo, the other between Smith of the Athletic Club and Jurgenson of the Seattle Club. Azevedo will box Vieira in the 120 pound match, instead of Eddie Smith, as formerly announced. This is the only important change in the card. The complete program is as follows, the events taking place in the order named:

Happy Young (South Side) vs. Joe Young (North Side), weight 105 pounds.

Cole (S. A. C.) vs. Chalmers (S. A. C.) 110 pounds.

Dunn (S. A. C.) vs. Chalmers (Woodland), 130 pounds.

Corey (S. A. C.) vs. Shamrock (San Jose), 138 pounds.

Neves (Stockton) vs. Williams (Yolo) heavy weight.

Azevedo (S. A. C.) vs. Vieira (Redwood Club, Oakland), weight 120.

Smith (S. A. C.) vs. Jurgenson (Seattle Athletic Club), heavy weight; special match.

WILLOWS. —— 5-14-11

GAME WILL BE CALLED AT 1:30 SHARP

Athletics Will Take Afternoon Train Back to Sacramento and Play Must Begin Early to Get Through

No game yet played on the local diamond this season has created the interest that has been aroused by the appearance of the Sacramento Athletics this afternoon. This team comes to Willows with the enviable record of having played eight games this year and winning every one of them, and that against some of the fastest nines in this part of the State.

That is a pretty good record but it doesn't seem to feaze the giants a little bit. The local team has been strengthened up a little but that was to even things up anyway and not because the Athletics are to be here. Those who have seen Benson on first say he is all the candy, and Haverstick in the right garden is all right. The boys are on their mettle and will give the visitors something to talk about going home no matter how the game goes.

The sporting editor of Progress is holding stakes on one bet that the first Willows man to the bat does not strike out. Tom Ajax takes this end of the bet, and as Terry McCafferty is the first man up it ought to be a safe bet for the popular tailor. As an inducement to some of the home men to outdo themselves in the batting line the tailors in Ajax's establishment, namely, W. J. Richardson and Ping Bode, have offered a pair of $10 pants for the first home run made by a Willows man. Mr. Ajax was so deeply moved at this generous offer that he volunteered to cut the panties out and furnish a high-grade of lining at his own expense. So when you see a Giant spit on his hands and look fierce you can tell that he is thinking of those pants.

The hour of calling the game is somewhat unfortunate, but unavoidable, as the visitors have to take the 4:10 motor home. They came down last night so that there might be no delay in starting the game promptly at 1:30 o'clock, and that is the time the bell will ring for play. All other hours for starting are erroneous.

S. A. C. AT WILLOWS.

The baseball team of the Sacramento Athletic Club which has not been defeated this season, will leave for Willows tonight where they will cross bats with the Willows Giants tomorrow afternoon. Owing to the sickness of Wright and Doyle, Koch will probably twirl for the Athletics, Tobin will hold him down. The Willows battery will consist of Rossi and French.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will play Willows at Willows to-morrow. The battery for Willows will be Rossi and French; for the Sacramento Athletic Club, Koch, Wright and Doyle; Tobin, catcher. The Athletics have added a new pitcher to their list.

S. A. C. AT MARYSVILLE

A game is scheduled for next Sunday between the Sacramento Athletic club baseball team and the Marysville baseball aggregation at the later place. Marysville has a strong line-up and promises to put a stiff game. The S. A. C. battery consists of Doyle, Wright and Tobin.

ATHLETIC WINNERS

In yesterday's game at Arbuckle between the S. A. C. and the Arbuckle Tigers, the score was 9 to 5 in favor of the S. A. C. Hamilton and "Monk" Davis played in their usual form. Wright, the Athletics tw'irler, fanned ten of his striped opponents, and West, of the Tigers, was swatted fourteen times.

The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team will play at Williams tomorrow with the usual line-up, including Tobin catcher and J. Wright and Doyle as pitchers. Williams has strengthened its team by the addition of Koch, the big southpaw, and Ted Culverson, both of Sacramento. "Joe" McCarty, the sensational short-stop, formerly of the State League, will be seen at short on the Williams side.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS TO GIVE PUBLIC BOXING SHOW

SAC. BEE. 4-13-11

Bouts to Be Staged At Old Pavilion Night of Friday, April 28th

At the Old Pavilion, the 28th of the month, the Sacramento Athletic Club will stage a public exhibition of boxing bouts. Some of the best amateur boxers that have yet been seen in Sacramento have already been signed, and the ten bouts which will be pulled off promise plenty of action.

For the first time in the history of the club a heavy-weight boxing match has been arranged, between Smith, a local man, and Vance, from Stockton. The men will weigh in at about 180, and certainly will give a good account of themselves.

Brock and Michel, at 142 pounds, will be the main event of the evening. McAllister will probably meet Erickson in a third and last match, this time at catch weights. McAllister has already won two decisions over Erickson, who claims he was too much handicapped in having to weigh in at 145. This time it will be no such handicap, and if Erickson loses he will have no further complaint.

The performance will be free to club members, but the public will have to pay a small amount. The public has not had an opportunity heretofore of seeing what kind of matches the S. A. C. has been holding at their club headquarters, as all previous affairs have been for club members only.

The proceeds of the coming show will help the club to pay its debts and put it in a position for more aggressrve work. The club annually spends thousands of dollars in the city, and is undoubtedly of great benefit to the young men and the business men of the city, as well as being a big advertisement for the city as a whole. On the 28th, the public will have the opportunity and the privilege of giving the Association the support it deserves.

ROWING RACE PLANNED FOR COMING REGATTA ON RIVER

Local Enthusiasts are Guest of South End Club at San Francisco

SAC. BEE, 4-24-11

J. W. Morsehead and Captain Delano were the guests of Otto Wallfish, President of the South End Rowing Club of San Francisco, yesterday at a rowing exhibition held in the afternoon by the members of the club. Following the rowing matches a baseball game was held, the loser having to pay for a spaghetti feed for the whole party.

The South End Rowing Club is a very strong and successful rowing association, and the members have expressed a desire to do what they can to help out rowing on the river, and particularly to encourage the Dolphin Rowing Club. The Dolphin Club now has an active membership of thirty-three, which is all that can be accommodated in the present quarters.

As the Crescent, an old rowing club, is out of existence, the Dolphin has the field to itself, and must therefore take the responsibility of keeping up the interest in rowing on the river. Morsehead, who has had consisderable experience in rowing circles, declares there is no finer site for rowing and aquatic sports connected with rowing, anywhere in the Weset, than the stretch above the bridge on the Sacramento River.

The South End Club of San Francisco has some very interesting features which make rowing under its auspices both safe and pleasant. For instance, a log book is kept of every boat that leaves the club headquarters, its occupants, probable destination, and time of leaving. On its return the time is marked, and "all safe" checked off, so that at the end of the month the report shows not only the interest taken in the activities of the club, but the accidents and missing boats, if any, and every interesting feature of the month. If no report is made, the man in charge is heavily fined.

In a party of two or more the oldest is always the captain, and the boat is considered under his direction. The Dolphin Club expects to incorporate several of these features into its local organization.

The Dolphin Club has applied to the Regatta Committee of the Sacramento Boat Club for permission to have a singles race in connection with the regatta May 14th. The San Francisco Club has volunteered to send two single shells to take part if arrangements can be made. The matter has not yet been definitely decided, although such a race would certainly be an interesting feature of the motor boat regatta. The matter of holding a quadrangular meet between San Francisco, Stockton, Vallejo and Sacramento rowing clubs is also under consideration, and if sufficient enthusiassm can be aroused in the different cities to justify the venture, it will probably be held later in the season.

Crippled Pitchers of Sacramento Team Unable to Stop Willows Giants.

Special to the Union.

WILLOWS (Glenn Co.), May 14.—After winning their first six games in championship style, the S. A. C. baseball team was defeated at Willows today by the Giants. Koch went into the game with an injured leg, Wright was suffering from an injury to his eye, and Doyle had a split finger. Despite this handicap, the Athletics played a gingery game from start to finish and were only defeated because the Giants had the best luck in placing their hits, the most of which were dinky Texas leaguers. Rossi pitched a heady game for Willows and was saved several times by sensational support.

The Athletics are confident that they could beat the Giants in a return game, and intend to make up for this defeat next Sunday, when they play the crack Marysville team at the Hub City. The score:

WILLOWS (Glenn Co.), May 15.—The Willows Giants defeated the Sacramento Athletic Club team yesterday afternoon on the local diamond by a score of 10 to 2. This is the first defeat for the Athletics this season. Kock was heavily batted, the home team taking fourteen hits off him in seven innings. Wright was substituted in the last frame, and was touched for three bingles. The visitors got six hits off Rossi. This makes six games won out of eight played for the Giants, a percentage of .750.

S. A. C. WILL COMPETE IN MEMORIAL DAY MEET

Professor Otto Rittler, physical director of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has received word from Herbert Hauser, Secretary of the Pacific Atheltic Association, that the following events are open to any athlete registered in the P. A. A.

Sunday, May 21. Irish-American Athletic Club meet, Presidio grounds, San Francisco.

Tuesday, May 30. Caledonian Club, Shell Mound Park, Oakland.

Sunday, June 4. Knights of Red Branch, Shell Mound Park.

Wednesday, June 14. Butcher's Day, Shell Mound Park.

Sunday, July 2. Letter Carriers, Shell Mound Park.

July 4. Thistle Club, Shell Mound Park.

Big prizes and cups will be given away at all of these meets, especially that given under the auspices of the Caledonian Club.

Five or six S. A. C. athletes will take part in this meet. The events will be a 1-5 mile race, ½ mile race, 2 mile race, and pole vault, all handicaps. There will also be the running high jump, ½ mile relay for High Schools, silver trophy, and the ½ mile relay for Grammar Schools, silver cup. The special Caledonian Club Annual Trophy event will be the half mile relay, for five men teams. Application blanks may be obtained from Otto Rittler.

STRONG CARD BEING ARRANGED BY S. A. C.

Bee Sports 5/25/11

The card for the boxing show to be staged the night of Friday, June 2, by the Sacramento Athletic Club is now being arranged by Match Maker Hoffman. Five bouts have already been signed. They are:

Goulard vs. Moyce, 145 pounds.
Brock vs. Riley, 140 pounds.
Pappa vs. Watkins, 140 pounds.
Corey vs. Steele, 140 pounds.
Wickham vs. Azevedo, 122 pounds.

Smith, the heavy weight scrapper, has informed Hoffman he is ready to go against any amateur, but he prefers a bout with Williams and they will probably be matched. Bouts are also to be arranged for Ahern and Salvadore.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will play Davis at Davis to-morrow afternoon. The batteries for the Club will be Wright and Doyle and Tobin; for the Davis team the Hoag brothers will perform. A close game is expected.

SALVADOR AND BURNS PUT UP CLASSY BOXING BOUT

SAC. BEE, 4-29-11

Old Pavilion Resounds With Cheers of Fight Fans---Newsboys in Battle Royal

It seemed like old times at the Pavilion last night, with the gloves flying, the crowds cheering, and the timekeeper's gong clanging merrily at three-minute intervals. For, be it known, there was a boxing show at the Old Pavilion last night—the first that has been pulled off there since former Governor Gillett issued his famous "stop-order" which sent the Jeffries-Johnson and several other neat little quarrels a-flying over into the State of Nevada and back to "deah old New York."

Yes, boys, there was a goodly show at the Old Pavilion—and the way the crowd turned out (it was only an amateur tournament) showed that boxing is far from a dead sport in Sacramento. Furthermore, it showed that the people of Sacramento want to see the Sacramento Athletic Club take a new lease on life and "come back (not like Jimma da Jeff, but like a real champion).

The show last night was staged by the Athletic Club under purely P. A. A. rules, except that this was "benefit night" and the general public was admitted to the exhibition. Nine bouts were on the program, and while three of them fizzed out at the last minute the club management secured substitutes for two and managed to give the crowd a full evening of sport.

The evening opened with a preliminary, devoid of class, between Garcia and Jaung. These 105-pounders whaled away at each other for three rounds, Garcia winning the judge's decision by reason of his willingness to mix. Bout number two, between Souza and Sanders, went to the former for the same reason. Sanders evidently knew twice as much about boxing as his opponent, but lacked heart.

"Shamrock" of San Jose took an awful lacing at the hands of Corey (S. A. C.) and welcomed the sight of the towel which his seconds tossed into the ring during the second period. Hanson and Moyes, who followed, were woefully out of condition, but managed to stall out the three rounds. Moyes won the decision, though a draw would have suited a larger majority of the fans.

After seemingly getting the worst of the first session, Ahern (S. A. C.) came back at Nevius (S. A. C.) like a young tiger and was soon flaying him heartily. Nevius didn't like the medicine and curled up in a corner, from which all efforts on the part of his seconds failed to dislodge him.

Vierra (said to be a P. A. A. champ) won a four-round decision over Azevedo (S. A. C.) after putting up a tiresome exhibition and being warned by Referee Burke to "quit stalling or get out of the ring!"

The best bout of the evening was the featherweight battle between Salvador (S. A. C.) and Burns, of Stockton. These lads not only showed considerable knowledge of boxing, but they were willing, game and evenly matched. In the first round Burns established a good lead over the local boy, which he improved slightly in the second. Coming out of his corner in the third, however, Salvador went after the Stockton lad with both hands, and soon had Burns turning flip-flops to get out of his way. The finish was so close that the judges demanded another round, in which Salvador had things all his own way. He flayed Burns with rights and lefts to face and body until the latter was glad to hang on and wait for the gong.

In the wind-up Mr. Brock of Sacramento met Mr. Rymer of Woodland, presumably for a three-round tilt.

"How d'ye do?" said Mr. Brock, offering his hand.

"Good evenin'," replied Mr. Rymer, shaking it.

"Bam!" said Mr. Brock's right fist.

"Good night!" said Mr. Rymer.

That's all!

(Oh, no, I forgot—eight newsboys fought a "battle royal" during the evening, which was a lot of fun—for the spectators. No Donnybrook like that for me!)

SPEEDY BOUTS FOR THIS MONTH'S CARD

SAC. UNION 5-12-11

Sacramento Athletic Club Boxing Program Will Be Featured by Fast Fights.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman and Physical Director Otto Rittler of the Sacramento Athletic club are working for the staging of a fast card of bouts at the regular monthly boxing program of the club Friday evening, May 26. Already four matches have been scheduled, all of which promise to be fast from start to finish, but there are still several local amateurs who have signified their willingness to appear on the card if matches can be arranged for them. Any local amateurs desiring to appear may communicate with Hoffman or Rittler at the Athletic club.

The bouts which have already been carded for the evening are headed by that of Erickson of the S. A. C. and McAllister of the Olympic club, San Francisco. Erickson holds the P. A. A. middle and welterweight championship, and the bout should be full of snap. Another speedy bout will be that between two heavyweights who were carded last month, but were not in shape to appear. They are Smith of the S. A. C. and Williams of Yolo.

Azavedo and Nevius, two local scrappers who have lost to Ahearn of the S. A. C. and appear to be well matched, will appear on this month's card. Siemas and Coras, two more local boys, will also put on the gloves together.

Among those who are as yet unmached for this month and for whom Hoffman and Rittler are seeking bouts are Pappa, Papas, Salvador, Ahearn, Mayee and Brock, all of the S. A. C. and Vierra of Oakland.

No decision has been reached as yet as to whether the club will hold this month's card at the old pavilion as last month, or in the club gymnasium. If the bouts are held at the club, bleachers will be built around the ring and the accommodations for spectators materially improved.

S. A. C. TO PLAY AT MARYSVILLE

SAC. BEE, 5-20-11

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), May 20.—The Sacramento Athletic Club will play at West Side Park against the Marysville team to-morrow. Pappa and Danny Wright are announced as the battery for the Sacramentos. The line-up for Marysville will be: Buckley, catcher; Bossen, pitcher; Baker, first base; Collins, second base; Cain, third base; Iverson, shortstop; Hopkins, left field; Davidson, center field; Spillman, right field, and Engasser, Galligan and Hall, extra.

JONES OF CORNELL BREAKS WORLD'S MILE RECORD

S.F.EX., 5-28-11

Cuts a Fifth of a Second From Tom Conneff's Time, Made in 1895.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.), May 27.—The thirty-sixth annual intercollegiate track meet passed into history's pages to-day, hailed as probably the most interesting athletic gathering the college clans have ever held.

Cornell finished in the van with 30½ points. Pennsylvania dropped to fourth with 18 2-3 points, Yale being second with 24½ points, just one-half a point ahead of Michigan. The other teams finished as follows:

Dartmouth, 9; Princeton, 8; Harvard, 6; Amherst, 5; Columbia, 5; Williams, 3; Massachusetts Tech., 3 1-3; Rutgers, 2; Pennsylvania State, 2; Brown, 1.

Five intercollegiate records, including one world's amateur record, were tumbled over, and three more were equalled. The new records were hung up for the 800-yard run, the mile and the two-mile, the shot put and the pole vault.

Cornell captured three firsts and four seconds; Yale led three times and trailed the leader thrice. Michigan took the three places allotted them as per schedule.

The star of the carnival was John Paul Jones of Cornell. Jones, after distancing such fleet-footde rivals as Jacques of Harvard and Bedley of Pennsylvania, and hanging up a new record of 1 minute 54 4-5 seconds for the half mile, captured the mile in a furious contest in 4 minutes 15 2-5 seconds, breaking the world's amateur record of 4:15 3-5 made by Tommy Conneff in 1895.

ONE HUNDRED ATHLETES ENTER CALEDONIAN LISTS

SAC. BULLETIN 5-25-11

Entries for the Caledonian games, which will be held at Shell Mound Park on next Tuesday afternoon, closed last night, and one hundred athletes will participate in the eight events. Among the star athletes who will participate are Elliot Craig, the Olympic Club miler; R. H. Lee, the well-known Pastime two-miler; A. F. Gates, the Sacramento Athletic Club star; R. L. Morton, the speedy Mountain View High School lad who won the Pacific Athletic Association cross-country handicap race early this season; Will Lambert and Fred Pedersen, the two star high school pole vaulters of Santa Rosa. In the grammar school relay race the Crocker and State Normal of this city will contest against the Washington School of Oakland, while Lowell and Oakland Polytechnic relay teams are favorites for the high school event. The Eagle Athletic Club will make its initial appearance in the club relay, its members being stars from the various Oakland high schools.

CALIFORNIA'S HOPES CENTER IN BEESON

S.F. Bulletin

Beeson, California's wonderful high jumper, caught in action.

5-9-11

Healdsburg Athlete Will Be Depended Upon to Score the Most Points at Minneapolis.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, May 9.—Eddie Beeson of the University of California is certain to be the star performer of the quartet of athletes that goes back to the Middle West Conference meet to be held in Minneapolis in June, and unless the dope goes radically wrong he will be the big point winner at the games.

For many years California and the Pacific Coast have been made famous by the high-class athletes that are turned out. Billy Edwards, Ralph Rose, Dan Kelley and Lee Scott are a few of the men who have broken into the world champion class. However good these men have been in their respective events it is safe to say that there has never been an athlete in this part of the country who has made such a remarkable showing as Eddie Beeson for his first year in fast company. When competing for the University of California against Stanford and in the Pacific Coast Conference games he easily demonstrated the fact that he is the best hurdler on the coast and second to none in the high jump. His time for the high hurdles was 15 2-5 seconds, while in the 220 timber topping contest he cut 1-5 second off the record when he won in 25 seconds flat. Although he tied with Horine of Stanford in the high jump at 6 feet 3 inches, it was after he had made his fast time over the sticks.

It must be taken into account that Beeson is only twenty years of age and is only rounding to his true form. His style in the hurdles is similar to that used by Kranzlein when he set up his world marks. He is exactly six feet tall and before competing in college athletics he made interscholastic marks representing Healdsburg high school.

Back at the Conference meet Beeson will have an opportunity to compete against some of the best men in the country and his backers look for him to win all three of his events, since Horine will not be back to compete in the high jump. With Fred Allen jumping over 25 feet in the broad jump and Harry Woods to take points in both the mile and two-mile races, California has an excellent chance to win from the colleges in the East that will be represented by full teams.

SALVADOR COLTS GET REVENGE.

The Salvador Colts got their revenge on the Hallanan Stars in the S. A. C. gymnasium when they won their return match of volley ball by taking two out of three games. The first game went to the Colts, 21 to 9; the Stars took the second, 21 to 8, and the Colts pulled through on top in the third game 21 to 8.

The first match series was won by the Stars and this week's match evens things up. The lineup of the two teams in the two series has been as follows: Star, Hallanan, Rittler Wickiam, Brock, Billy Johnson and Shoemake; Colts, Salvador, Ahern, Pappa, Curl, Smith and Rothwell.

SALVADOR GETS BURNS IN MAIN EVENT OF ATHLETIC CLUB'S GOOD BOXING SHOW

Six interesting bouts and a battle royal between eight news boys were dished up for the fight fans at the boxing contests held by the Sacramento Athletic Club in the Old Pavilion last night.

Salvadore, the slashing 118 pounder of the Sacramento Athletic Club and Danny Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club furnished the main event, the decision going to Salvadore after an extra round had been boxed.

The boys were evenly matched and put up a corking go. In the first two rounds, honors were even, Burns using a right hook with telling effect, while Salvadore was content to cover up and then slash out with both hands coming out of the clinches, scoring often. In the third and fourth rounds, Salvadore was coming strong and battered his opponent all about the ring. The decision given by Referee Swallenberg was hissed by some of the spectators, but Salvadore won a mile.

Vierra, of the Redwood Athletic Club of Oakland, who beat Salvadore at the P. A. A. boxing tournament held in Sacramento several months ago, went three tame rounds with Adzevedo. Vierra was Azdevedo's guest at his home and the boys evidently framed up a loving match, while dallying with the spaghetti at the supper table, as Vierra stalled all the way.

In the "Battle royal" between the eight newsies, some ludicrous boxing was witnessed. The kids whaled away at one another and were dropping all over the ring within a few seconds after the gong sounded. The boys who participated in the battle royal were: Phillip Michello, Red Sanderson, Fritz Kozminski, John Breslan, Christy O'Brien, Vincent Donahue and Dan and Frank Ozalli.

SAC. STAR.

The joke bout of the night was furnished by Rymer of Woodland and Brock of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Reymer just had time to put up his hands when Brock feinted him out and whipping over a right hook dropped his opponent in the corner of the ring. Rymer gazed at Referee Swallenberg in a dazed manner and the referee seeing that he was outclassed stopped the battle and gave the decision to Brock.

Ahearn and Nevius of the Sacramento Athletic Club went three fast rounds, the decision going to Ahearn. Both boys were willing and mixed from the tap of the gong. Ahearn was much cleverer than his opponent who is a good willing boy. Ahearn used his right effectively on Nevius' jaw but did not have the steam behind the wallop to score a knockout, although he had Nevius wobbling several times.

H. Garcia of the South Side got a decision over Jaung of the North Side; Sousa obtained a decision over Chalmers and Corey of the S. A. C. knocked out Shamrock of San Jose in the second round.

The club plans to give the next monthly card for the general public. A good-sized crowd attended last night.

CORNELL SCORES A BRILLIANT VICTORY

S.F. CHRON. 5-28-11

Five Records Lowered, Three Equaled in Memorable Meeting.

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.), May 27.—The runners of Cornell today captured the intercollegiate track and field championships in the Harvard stadium for the fourth time in eleven years.

The meeting was made historic by the breaking of five intercollegiate records, and the equaling of three others. One of the new marks, that for the mile run, made by J. P. Jones of Cornell, stands for the world's amateur record. His time, 4 minutes, 15 2-5 seconds, is one-fifth of a second better than the record of Tommy Conneff, that has stood for sixteen years.

Other events in which former efforts were surpassed were the half-mile and two-mile, the shot put and pole vault, while those equaled were the two dashes and the quarter-mile.

There was a grand fight for honors between Cornell, Yale, Michigan and Pennsylvania, but the first two colleges left the others behind.

The colleges finished as follows:

Cornell, 30½; Yale, 24½; Michigan, 24; Pennsylvania, 19 2-3; Dartmouth, 9; Princeton, 8; Harvard, 6; Amherst and Columbia, 5 each; M. I. T., 3 1-3; Williams, 3; Rutgers and Pennsylvania State 2 each, and Brown 1.

In the shot put Joseph Horner Jr. of Michigan threw 46 feet 7⅛ inches, beating the record of 46 feet 5½ inches. In the mile run Jones allowed Paull of Pennsylvania, holder of the record of 4:17 4-5, to take the pace for three-quarters of the distance. In the last lap Jones dashed ahead and finished fresh, twenty yards to the good, setting new figures for the event.

In the two-mile Berna of Cornell led from the start. The stadium was thrilled by the announcement of a new time of 9:25 1-5, compared with that of 9:27 3-5 two years ago.

In the half-mile there was another grand effort by Jones, who broke the tape in 1:54 4-5, beating the old record of 1:56.

Meanwhile Babcock of Columbia and Gardner of Yale were having a vaulting duel. After both had surpassed Nelson's previous record effort of 12 feet 4⅜ inches the bar was pushed up to 12 feet 8⅜ inches, a height which Babcock cleared and which Gardner could not accomplish.

Cornell has now four legs in the intercollegiate cup and needs only one more to obtain possession.

Pole vault—Babcock (Columbia) won, Gardner (Yale) second, Byers (Yale) and D'Autremont (Cornell) tied for third place. Height, 12 ft. 8⅜ in.

220-yard hurdles, finals—Chisholm (Yale) first, Stibolt (Cornell) second, Cummings (Harvard) third, Haydock (Pennsylvania) fourth. Time, 0:24 3-5.

Broad jump—Holden (Yale) won, Mercer (Pennsylvania) second, Mathers (Pennsylvania State) third, La Flamme (Pennsylvania) fourth. Distance, 22 ft. 3⅝ in.

220-yard dash, finals—Craig (Michigan) won, Ford (Cornell) second, Cooke (Princeton) third, Ross (Michigan) fourth. Time, 0:21 1-5.

440-yard dash—Young (Amherst) first, Sawyer (Princeton) second, Gamble (Michigan) third, Haff (Michigan) fourth. Time, 0:48 3-5; tied record.

120-yard hurdles, finals—Chisholm (Yale) won, Stibolt (Cornell) second, Havens (Rutgers) third; no fourth place. Time, 0:15 2-5.

100-yard dash, final—Craig (Michigan) won, Mindis (Pennsylvania) second, Cook (Princeton) third, Thomas (Princeton) fourth. Time, 0:09 4-5.

Two-mile run—Berna (Cornell) won; Newton (Williams) second, Hambaugh (Michigan) third, Withington (Harvard) fourth. Time, 9:25 1-5; a new American record.

880-yard run—Jones (Cornell) won, Putnam (Cornell) second, Jacques (Harvard) third, Bobley (Pennsylvania) fourth. Time, 1:54 4-5; a new record.

Running high jump—Dalrimple (M. I. T.) won, Burdick and Farrier (Pennsylvania) tied at six feet, Enright (Dartmouth) fourth.

Hammer throw—Tilley (Dartmouth) won; Madden (Dartmouth) second, Childs (Yale) third, Murphy (Pennsylvania) fourth. Distance, 145 ft. 1½ in.

Mile run—Jones (Cornell) won, Hanavan (Michigan) second, Paull (Pennsylvania) third, Lawless (Harvard) fourth. Time 4:15 2-5; a new world's record for amateurs.

Shot put—Horner (Michigan) won, Kilpatrick (Yale) second, Kanzeler (Cornell) third, Bartlett (Brown) fourth. Distance, 46 ft. 7 1-5 in.; a new record.

TRIO OF SPEEDY BROOKE PLAYERS

OLYMPICS WILL LAY CORNER STONE TOMORROW

S.F. CHRON. 6-5-11

The laying of the corner stone of the new Olympic Club building on Post street will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the programme for the occasion to consist of placing the historic block in position by William F. Humphrey, president of the club, together with an address by the leader of the Winged "O" organization. Numerous replies to the many invitations sent to all parts of the world have been received at the office of the club, together with souvenirs of the respective organizations, which will be placed in the treasure box of the corner stone.

The official emblems of the different athletic organizations throughout the United States have been forwarded to the Olympic Club, some of which are metal and others cloth designs of the adopted color arrangements. Included in the number of buttons and pennants received are those of the New York Athletic Club, Chicago Athletic Association, Seattle Athletic Club, Multnomah Athletic Club, Pittsburg Athletic Club, Spokane Athletic Club, Missouri Athletic Club, Milwaukee Athletic Club and the Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago.

President Taft has forwarded his regrets at being unable to participate in the festivities connected with the laying of the corner stone, as have many members of Congress, who are personally acquainted with the membership of the club. From the well wishes received by the board of directors, the affair tomorrow will mark one of the most memorable incidents in the history of the pioneer athletic organization in the United States. Work on the new home of the Olympic Club has already advanced past that period when corner stones are usually laid, considerable progress having been accomplished during the last sixty days. It is now confidently expected that the building will be ready for occupancy by January.

Following the programme announced for tomorrow afternoon, a banquet of the club members will take place at the St. Francis Hotel at 7 o'clock, for which close to 400 members have made reservations. In connection with the dinner there will be a musical and vocal programme and several "short speeches" by the members of the board of directors, the features to be inaugurated with an overture. Baritone solo, by Harold Pracht; toast, "California," by Judge H. A. Melvin; selections by William Nelson, Harry A. McKenzie and August Aguirre, accompanied by William Humphrey. Words of welcome will be voiced by President William Humphrey, William H. Crocker, Dr. E. G. McConnell, R. H. Postlethwaite and Secretary Fred M. Fenwick.

Following the banquet tomorrow night there will be a series of week-end outings for the members of the club. On Sunday, May 7th, there will be a hike from Sausalito to Kentfield, where a ball game with the members of the board of directors included in the line-up of the rival nines will be played. Saturday and Sunday, May 20th and 21st, there will be an automobile run to Sonoma county.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO PLAY KEIO TEAM

SAC. BEE. 6-6-11

The Keio nine, from the university of that name in Japan, has closed arrangements with the local Sacramento Athletic Club to play at the Buffalo Park grounds Sunday morning, June 25th.

The Japanese players have been touring in the East. They played at Ann Arbor Saturday and left there shortly after the game on their Western tour. They will sail for the Orient June 28th, three days after the local game has been played.

The Keio players are the champions of Japan, having defeated all contestants in the championship series. They are reported to be extraordinarily efficient in handling the sphere and the mitt.

The athletic club team, though a strong aggregation, will have all it can do to defeat the Japanese nine. The team comes here under the auspices of the University of Chicago.

S.A.C. HOLDS 8 GOODS BOUTS IN FAST TIME

SAC. STAR 6-3-11

Eight bouts, swift, fast, slow and otherwise were staged at the Old Pavilion last night by the Sacramento Athletic Club before a good-sized house. The milling in some of the bouts was terrific and furious while it lasted. Two of them had to go over the specified three-round limit before a decision could be reached, while two saw knockouts in the first round.

The Brock-Riley go, scheduled for the main event, lasted two rounds, it taking that long for the Sacramento Athletic Club husky to dispose of the Oakland lad with a stiff bang in the nose.

Williams, the Marysville 'bus driver, went out by the knockout route from Smith (S. A C.), in the first round of their heavyweight tussle. Smith looked like a "white hope," having the size of a well-developed baby elephant. Williams, being of the beanpole variety, had little chance against the local giant.

Young Ahern (S. A. C.) got the decision at the end of four lively rounds with Azevedo, also of the athletic club. These lads went at it hammer and tongs and it was hard to tell which was the victor, but the amateur rules insist on a decision, so Azevedo had to be the victim.

Goulard of the local club and Willie Walkcott (not related to Chauncey) lost on a decision to the San Francisco welterweight after four rounds of slashing upper cuts and wild swings. Either one would have knocked the other into the middle of next week and some of the misdirected clouts landed on the spots at which they were aimed.

Cowie of the S. A. C. and Noble of the Oakland club put up one of the neatest mills of the evening, Noble getting the decision at the end of the third. He is a classy little scrapper with a fine physique and gave Cowie a stiff beating which the kid took gamely.

Salvadore fought in his usual good style with Billy Ben of the Western Club, getting the verdict after three sensational rounds.

Pappa of the S. A. C. found Watkins of Folsom in the first round, stretching the lanky boy out on the mat.

Shamrock handed a K. O. to Hassell of the Western Club with the second blow in their argument. Billy Burke, the third man in the ring, handled the boys well. Eddie Cox and Ancil Hoffman were the judges, giving well received opinions.

STANDING OF MANY TEAMS IN VALLEY

SAC. BEE. 5-26-11

There have been several important changes since the standing of the clubs in Superior California was last published. One of the most important is in regard to the championship team. Three weeks ago Colusa, Galt and the Sacramento Athletic Club stood tied at 6 won, 0 lost, heading the list. Two weeks ago, Colusa lost its first game, and Galt and the Sacramento Athletic Club stood tied for first honors. Since then, Colusa has lost one more game, and the Sacramento Athletic Club has lost both of the last two games it has played, leaving Galt alone at the head of the list, with 8 won, and 0 lost to its credit. Galt has undobutedly an excellent team, due in no small portion, to its battery, Press Martin, the star twirler, in particular, and to Hern, the manager. The following is the official standing of the various teams in the valley, made up from the latest reports received:

ATHLETIC CLUB TRIUMPHS IN TRACK MEET

SAC. UN. — 4-30-11

Featureless Events at Oak Park Go to Wearers of Winged "S" With No Opposition.

HIGH SCHOOL POOR SECOND

Failure of Promised Entries to Appear Offsets Creditable Efforts to Stage Meet.

Whatever there was of satisfaction in winning a track meet in which their entries outnumbered those of all other opponents almost five to one went to the Sacramento Athletic club at Oak Park yesterday afternoon at what was to have been a field and track meet of competitors from all parts of the Sacramento valley. The meet fizzled out on the non-appearance of many of the entries, and left the Sacramento Athletic club opposed by eight entries from the Sacramento high school, one from Oroville, one from Elk Grove high school, and one youngster from the Brittan grammar school of Sutter county.

When the "meet" had been finally ended it left behind a score which looked something like this: Sacramento Athletic club, 48; Sacramento high school, 29; Oroville high school, 4. There was never any chance for the athletic club to lose, and the meet lost all interest which it might have held before the first two events had been called.

But although the meet lacked interest, that is no reflection on those who were promoting the affair. Otto Rittler and the other athletic club officials who have been working for the last three weeks to make the meet a success deserve all kinds of praise for their efforts. The fact that the meet fizzled out is due to the failure of athletes throughout the northern part of the state to abide by their promises.

PROMISES ARE BROKEN.

Many clubs had assured Rittler that they would enter teams, and their entries were not forthcoming. The local Y. M. C. A. was without an entry; the Golden Poppies of Sacramento were not represented; the Capital City Wheelmen failed to enter any competitors in the various events, none of their men being in condition. The Stockton high school and athletic club had assured the local officials that they would enter individual contestants, as well as relay teams, and these did not appear. The Penryn Athletic club also failed to abide by its promise to enter individuals or a relay team, and as a result the scheduled relay races in which the local high school and athletic club were to compete with out-of-town teams were held in the form of match races between teams selected from the local athletes altogether.

As a natural result of this lack of competition there were no records broken. There probably would have been none broke anyway on the Oak Park track, but with closer competition there might at least have been some better times recorded than the summaries of the events show.

The relay race between grammar schools, won by the Brittan grammar school of Sutter county, served to bring into the limelight young Hoff, who gives promise of being one of the fastest runners in the valley within the next few seasons. He finished the relay for Sutter, and literally ran away from his nearest opponent. And Hoff went into the broad jump and 100-yard dash, and although he was outclassed by his older and more experienced opponents, he showed that he has the makings of an athlete who will be reckoned with in the meets of the coming years.

But except for this, the meet was not productive of anything other than what for politeness' sake must be called a victory for the Sacramento Athletic club over the Sacramento high school. Cannon, the negro runner from Oroville, scored the only points which were scored by any team from out of town, taking second in the 440-yard dash, and third in the 220-yard dash.

STEWART IS EASY WINNER.

Stewart and Dickson, both of the Athletic club, were the leading point winners, each taking two first places. Stewart had everything his own way in the mile and half-mile, and was not forced to exert himself at any time to win both events. Dickson took the pole vault and shot put, and was in line for more points, but bruised his foot in the shot put, and was forced to withdraw.

For the local high school boys, Eldred was the particular shining light. Eldred took first place in the 100-yard dash, and second in the 220. Brown, the negro of the local high school track team, scored a similar number of points, taking first in the high jump with no difficulty, and second in the broad jump.

The summary:

Mile run—Won by Stewart, S. A. C.; Bovey, S. H. S., second; Clear, S. A. C., third. Time, 5 minutes 7 seconds.

Pole vault—Won by Dickson, S. A. C.; Walker, S. A. C., second; Bedee, S. A. C., third. Height, 10 feet 6 inches.

Time for quarter mile, 1 minute 35 4-5 seconds.

TO WRESTLE AT PORTLAND

SAC. BEE. 5-4-11

Word has been received from Edgar Frank, in charge of the national wrestling championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, which will be held at Portland, May 18th and 19th, under the auspices of the Multnomah Athletic Club of that city, that six entries have already been received from the Olympic Club of San Francisco, and three from the Athletic Club of Los Angeles, Cal. The Committee in charge of the championship matches expressed the desire to have California well represented, and the hope that the Sacramento Athletic Club would find it possible to send representatives to take part. Ralph Eames, middleweight wrestler, is the most likely candidate for upholding the prestige of Sacramento.

JOE ERICKSON BEGINS TRAINING IN FOOTHILLS

6-5-11 SAC. UN.

Special to the Union.

GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), June 4.—Joe Erickson has arrived and looks fit to start in immediately for his battle with Dick Trounce of this city, which is scheduled to take place before the Athletic club on June 9th. Erickson will train in Nevada City and in that way an interest will be created in both cities, as this is Trounce's home and he has the sympathy of the people in the bout.

Erickson is a husky fellow who is touted to "eat Trounce up," but the doughty young Cornishman has a right that when brought into effective action makes his opponent wince. Trounce is going through a severe grilling in his attempt to get into condition and says that right now he is as hard as a rock and fit as a fiddle. The hall will be crowded and the interest of the fight fans is already at fever pitch.

The Sacramento Athletic Club took the game from the Rio Vista boys yesterday by the score of 11 to 4. Fourteen hits were made off Goodman, the Rio Vista twirler, six of them being two-baggers. The pitching of Doyle, and the work of Hamilton, Tobin and Gerick were the shining features of the game on the Athletic side, while Eldred and Keegan did the spectacular work for the Rio Vistans. Ryan and Koening Given Promotion on Police Force

SAC. UN. 6-1-11.

THEODORE KOENING.

ONE IS SERGEANT, OTHER DETECTIVE

Captain of Police Pennish to Take New Place Today—June Beat Schedule.

With the promotion of Patrol Sergeant Martin Pennish to be captain of police, Chief of Police Ahern last night announced the appointment of Detective Arthur Ryan to succeed Pennish and the advancement of Patrolman Ted Koening to be detective, succeeding Ryan.

These changes in the police department take effect today when the new members of the force go on duty.

Also effective today is the new law under which all four detectives in the department will receive a salary of $110 a month. Heretofore only two of the four detectives have received this pay, the other two drawing $100, the salary of patrolmen.

The promotion of Detective Ryan and Patrolman Koening comes as a reward for faithful service. It is conceded at the police station that the appointments will meet with general approval. Both officers are exceedingly popular with their fellow members of the police department and the public at large.

Assignment of the newly appointed patrolmen for June was made last night. Pearl will patrol from Twelfth street to Thirty-first, north of K; Gorman from Twelfth to Thirty-first, south of K.

THE BIG BARBECUE

PREPARATIONS FOR MONSTER JOLLIFICATION ON HAGGIN GRANT THURSDAY.

SUNDAY NEWS

ATHLETES WILL COMPETE FOR VALUABLE PRIZES CONTRIBUTED BY REALTY MEN.

5-7-11

EVERYBODY IS INVITED TO ATTEND AND JOIN IN THE MERRYMAKING.

Amateur athletes of Sacramento will have an opportunity of competing for some valuable merchandise prizes at the picnic to be held next Thursday on the Rancho del Paso by the fifteen real estate firms of the city who are subdividing Haggin Grant tracts. The athletic contests are to be conducted under the direction of Professor Otto Rittler, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, and E. H. Traxler, a member of the Board of Directors of the Athletic Club. Amateur rules will govern all contests and the prizes to be offered will be merchandise.

The picnic will probably be the largest attended of any to be held in Sacramento and vicinity this year. It will be on the new City Park, and will give Sacramentans their first opportunity of enjoying an outing at their new pleasure grounds. Arrangements have been made with the Southern Pacific Company so that ample transportation facilities will be afforded. The price of the round trip will be 25 cents. The first train will leave the depot at 10 o'clock. Later trains will leave as the crowds demand.

Soon after the picnickers arrive upon the ground lunch will be served. There will be plenty of barbecued beef and mutton, cold meats, pickles, bread and butter, and all other good things that go to make up a picnic lunch.

The athletic events will take place in the afternoon. A course for the races will be laid out Wednesday by the athletic committee. The sum of $100 has been appropriated for prizes. It was proposed by the real estate firms giving the picnic that cash prizes be awarded, but the athletes who are to compete prefer merchandise. If they accept cash, or participate in a meet where cash is paid in prizes, they lose their amateur standing, and would be barred from future contests under amateur rules.

A baseball game between nines composed of real estate men and members of the Sacramento Athletic Club will be one of the amusing numbers of the program. The game will be played with a large indoor baseball, and promises to provide fun for everybody. If the athletic club wins it will be awarded a handsome silver cup. If the real estate team wins, each member will receive a box of cigars.

The athletic events will be as follows:

Mile run—free for all.
Fat men's race. Entries must weigh over 250 pounds.
Fat ladies' race.
100-yard dash—free for all.
Race for girls under 15 years.
Race for boys under 15 years.
220 yard dash—free for all.
Sack race—free for all.
Race for automboile owners.
Three-legged race.
Race for young ladies over 15 years of age. Athletic committee to judge ages of contestants.
Shotput—free for all.
Race for Sacramento "ad." men.

KEIO NINE MEETS S.A.C. TEAM JUNE 25

Champions of Japan Will Be Seen Here in Exhibition Contest.

SAC. UN. — 6-6-11

On June 25 the Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team will have an opportunity to test its metal against the ball team of the Keio University of Japan. The Japanese players have wired to this city for a game, and through the solicitations of a local promoter the affair has been arranged.

It will take place in Buffalo park on the morning of June 25. Arrangements have been made with the local club of the Coast league, and the morning attraction promises to be no less attractive than the afternoon struggle between the Coast leaguers.

The Keio players are the champions of Japan, and are reputed to be extraordinary handlers of the mitt and wielders of the sphere. The team was brought here by the University of Chicago. It played in Ann Arbor yesterday, and began the westward journey yesterday. The team will sail for the Orient on June 28.

CALEDONIAN GAMES AT SHELL MOUND PARK TODAY

S.F. CHRON. 5-30-11

Elaborate Preparations Made for Annual Picnic and Athletic Events.

The Caledonian Club will hold its forty-fifth annual picnic today at Shell Mound Park, and elaborate preparations have been made to make the event one of the most successful of the season. The picnic will be featured by an open track and field meet under the sanction of the Pacific Athletic Association, which has attracted some of the best of the local and transbay athletic stars.

Over forty men will toe the mark in the 352-yard race, the entrants being divided into four heats, with Gates of the Sacramento Athletic Club, Hoenisch of the Pastime Club and McNamara of the Olympic Club on the scratch mark.

Lee of the Pastime Club, and Morton, the Mountain View High School long-distance star, will be on the line against a field of over twenty starters in the two-mile race, which gives promise of being one of the most exciting events of the day. Vlught, the St. Mary's College star, will also be a starter in the event, having a handicap of forty yards.

In the 880-yard run, Gates of the Sacramento Club and Craig of the Olympic Club will be the scratch men. Oakland Polytechnic, St. Ignatius' High School and Lowell High School will send teams in for the high school relay race, while six teams will start in the grammar school relay race.

In addition to the athletic events there will be special prizes for dancing and other events.

OAK PARK CELEBRATES WITH POMP AND GLORY FOR THREE DAYS OF MAY CARNIVAL FUN

SA C. STAR 4-27-11

The main features of this afternoon's part of the Oak Park Carnival program will be the Madri Gras parade, and the amateur athletic track meet at the old baseball grounds. Tonight there will be a grand prize ball and a competitive drill of the Modern Woodmen, Knights of Maccabees, and Oak Park Eagles drill teams.

Tomorrow there will be two baseball games. In the morning the game between the Y. M. I. and the Knights of Columbus will be pulled off. In the afternoon the Brooke Realties and the Willows Giants will play. A band concert contest will take place between bands from Grass Valley, Davis, Fairfield and Roseville. In the evening "The Fall of Port Arthur," a great fire works display will be given.

Monday will be the closing day of the carnival and will be the best and busiest day of the three. In the morning the crowning of Queen Ruth will take place and the Baby Show will be given. The Carnival will close Monday night with a grand ball.

All public officials including the Governor have been invited to participate in the celebration.

The Sacramento Athletic Club added another victory to its string of five straight Sunday, when it defeated the fast Dixon team with a 1 to 0 score. Koch, who held down the mound for the Athletics, allowed only one hit and fanned eleven men. This makes twenty successive innings that the Athletic Club has played without a run being scored against them. J. Wright, the other pitcher which the club relies upon, was taken seriously ill at the last moment, but the battle between Harry Koch and Rohwer for the Dixonites was all that could be wished for. Rohwer allowed only three hits, and fanned eight. The only run of the game was scored in the sixth, when Hamilton singled with one down, stole second, and, after Donald had flied out, scored on a pretty single to right by "Pinch" Wright. The features on the Athletics' side were the fielding of Hamilton at third and Folk's great running catch in right. For Dixon, Hausman on third, and the Rohwer brothers in the field played the best ball. The S. A. C. will play the fast Willows Giants next Sunday.

OFFICIAL STANDING OF BASEBALL TEAMS IN SUPERIOR CALIFORNIA

In making up the standing of all the baseball teams in the Sacramento Valley, the difficulty, especially with boys' teams and with newly organized amateur teams, is that they either do not send in correct information, or, more likely, play only one or two games, and then disband. In order to eliminate those teams who disappear as fast as they are formed, the rule hereafter will be to give the standing of only those teams who have played two or more games. A record, however, will be kept of every game played, so that if there is any team which is not mentioned in this list, they may expect to find themselves listed as soon as they have played their second game. Teams which do not play for three consecutive weeks will be dropped from the list until they play again.

The Sacramento Athletic Club and the Galt team are still keeping up their winning streak. Both teams are fast and speedy, and bid fair to make a close race for the championship, though in all probability one or the other will lose their 1000 per cent standing before many weeks have gone by. Colusa was the first of these three to lose its perfect mark, due to the imported players which Arbuckle pitted against them. Among the other teams which still retain their 1000 per cent mark are Davis, the McClelland Club (formerly the Carnation Club), Boys' Brotherhood, Roseville Car Men, Sacramento High School and the Hammonton team. The same qualifications as last time hold good in determining the leaders in the Superior California championship, not less than five games played, and an average of .500 or over.

ATHLETICS BLANK FAST DIXON TEAM

Koch Holds Down Mound for Sacramento and Allows Only One Hit, Fanning 11.

SAC. UN. 5-8-11

Special to the Union.

DIXON (Solano Co.), May 7.—In the fastest and most exciting game of the season at Dixon, the undefeated Sacramento Athletic club baseball team won from the crack Dixon team by the score of 1 to 0, making twenty successive innings that the Athletics have played without a run being scored against them.

Wright was taken seriously ill last week, and Harry Koch occupied the mound in his place, for the Athletics. It was the best pitchers' battle of the season between the big southpaw and Rohwer for the Dixonites. Koch allowed only one hit and fanned eleven, while Rohwer held the bingles down to three and struck out eight.

The Athletics scored the only run of the game in the sixth. Hamilton singled with one down and stole second. Donald flied out, and "Pinch" Wright slammed a pretty single to right, scoring Ham.

The features on the Athletic's side were the fielding of Hamilton at third and Folk's great running catch in right. For Dixon, Hausman on third and the Rohwer brothers in the field played the best ball.

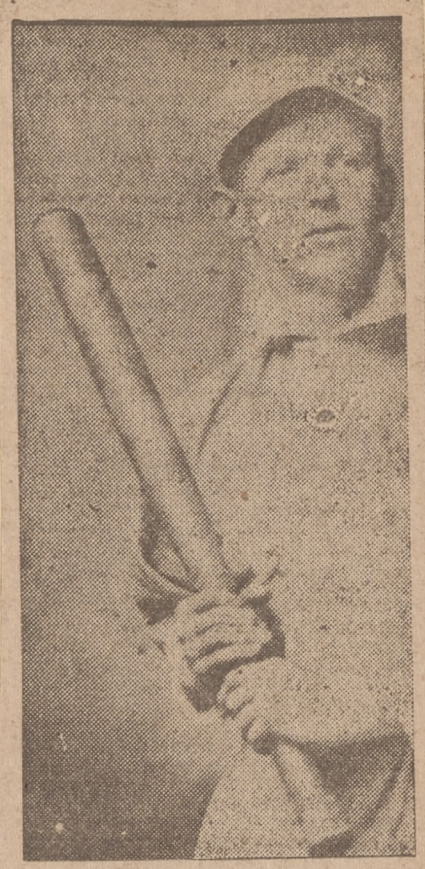
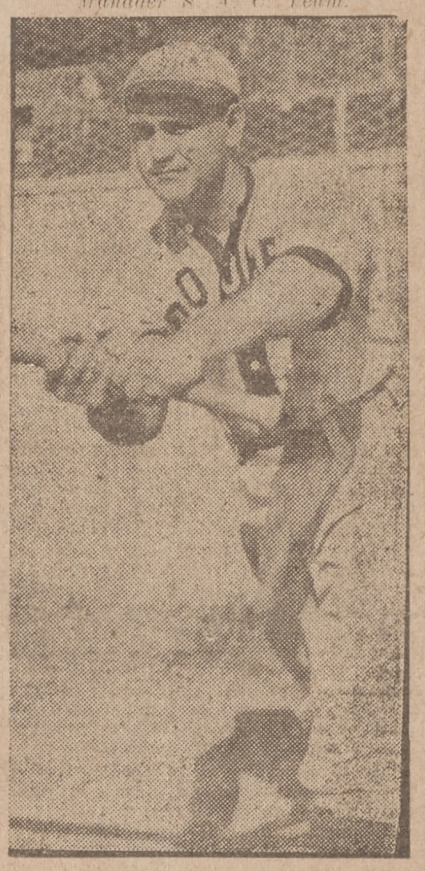
Local Boys Making Good With Teams in Champ. Races



FRED HUGHSON,
Manager S. A. C. Team.



JIMMIE BURKE,
Catcher, Brookes.

Athletic Club and Brooke Realties Look Like Survivors in Valley Contests.

As the baseball season progresses the fight for championship honors among the many local amateur and semi-professional teams is narrowing down till it will soon be a question of the survival of the fittest. And when it comes to that survival, the showing which the various teams of Sacramento have made would appear to point to the Brooke Realties and the Sacramento Athletic club teams.

The Sacramento Athletic club team has as yet met with no defeats this season and Manager and Outfielder Fred Hughson is deserving of considerable credit for the manner in which he rounded his team into a winning aggregation. The Athleics go to Willows today and play a return game with the Giants who defeated the Brookes at Oak Park.

The Brookes have not come through the first few weeks of the season with a clean slate, having met defeat at the hands of the Willows Giants and the fast Hammonton aggregation. But the Brookes are just as lively a bunch of hustlers as gathered in the honors last season and they are due to break something before the season is many weeks older.

Jimmie Burke is one of the mainstays of the Brookes' combination, the popular local boy gathering in everything that comes in the direction of the plate in masterly fashion. Burke plays a heady game and his catching has been the making of several of the pitchers who have achieved local fame in the ranks of the Boosters.

Last night's fights at the old Pavilion, under the patronage of the Sacramento Athletic Club, made up one of the best entertainments of the kind seen in the city for a number of years. All of the matches were interesting, while some of them were spirited and well contested. There was a good attendance, and the decisions were well received. Jack Burke was the referee and Ancil Hoffman and E. H. Cox were he judges. SUNDAY NEWS.

The eight features of the card resulted as follows: SAT. PRESS

Pappas, S. A. C., vs. Watkins of Folsom, 140 pounds. Watkins knocked out in first round. 6-3-11

Noble of Oakland vs. Wickham, S. A. C., 130 pounds. Decision to Wickham after third round.

Brock, S. A. C., vs. Riley, S. F. A. C., 140 pounds. Riley knocked out in two rounds.

Under the amateur rules no bout can go over four rounds at the utmost. None of the knockouts recorded were such in reality, but in each case it was simply a matter of the loser being disheartened by a stiff punch and taking the count rather than to face more of the same kind.

S. A. C. WINS AGAIN.

The baseball team of the Sacramento Athletic club, which has not been defeated yet this season, won the game from the fast Dixon team at that place yesterday afternoon. Official Standing of 190 Baseball Teams in Superior California

SAC. BEE. 5-3-11

There were several important changes in the standing of many of the local and Superior California ball teams, after the games of Saturday and Sunday. In the championship class, three teams are still tied for first with 1000 per cent to their credit, all claiming the right to the championship title. But there are other teams as well, who though they may have lost a game or so, are still very much in the running.

In trying to pick out those teams which could be considered as fairly in the race, we have set an arbitrary standard for the present, and have included in the thirteen teams who come first, only those who have played five or more games, and who have an average of 500 per cent or better. If there are any teams who conform to this standing, who are not included in the class, they will be included on receipt of information showing that such is the case. Also, if there are any teams listed in the championship class, now is the time to say whether or not they are seriously trying out for it, rather than wait until later in the season, when they may have been defeated so much that they are out of the race altogether. The following are the teams in the lead at the present time:

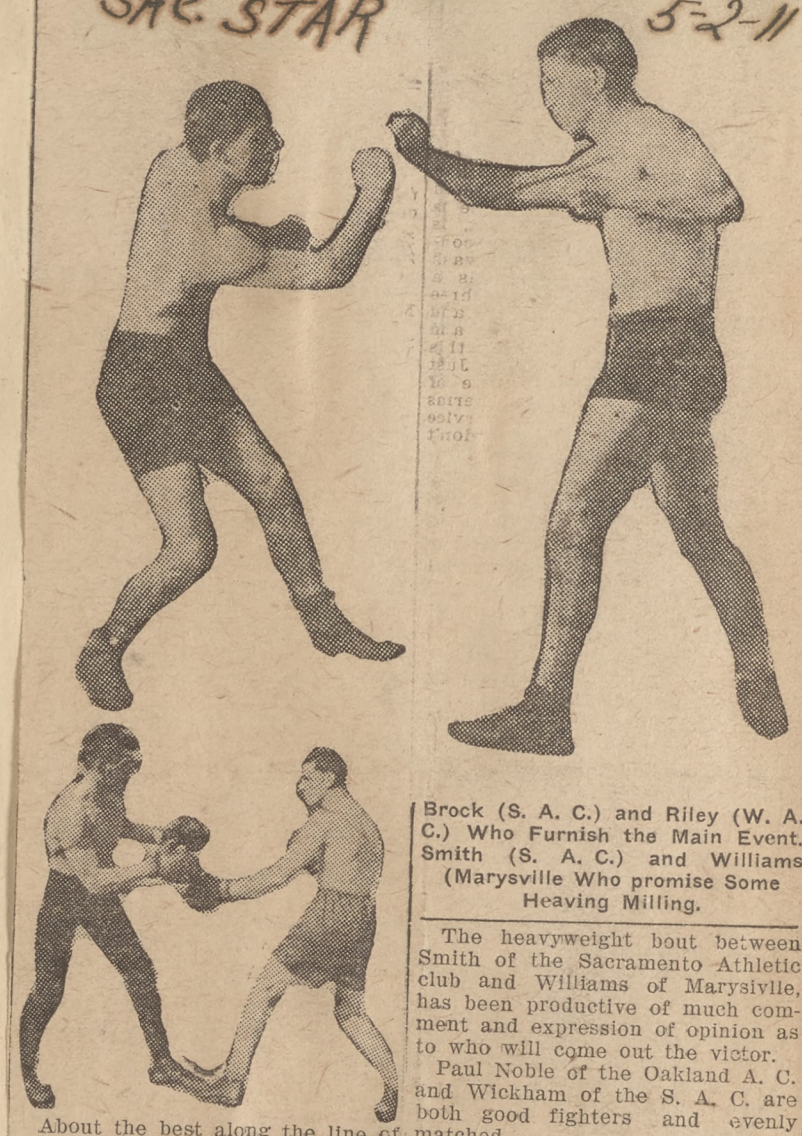
ATHLETIC CLUB HAS GOOD BOXING CARD ON TAP FOR TONIGHT AT OLD PAVILION

SAC. STAR 5-2-11



Brock (S. A. C.) and Riley (W. A. C.) Who Furnish the Main Event. Smith (S. A. C.) and Williams (Marysville Who promise Some Heaving Milling.

About the best along the line of glove matches, is what the local ringside fans have in store at the Old Pavilion tonight. The boys have all been working hard and are in splendid fighting condition for the Sacramento Athletic Club's monthly show.

The main event in tonight's entertainment will be the mill between Brock of the S. A. C. and Riley of the Western A. C., San Francisco. Both are game lads and ready mixers so this promises to be an exciting bout.

The heavyweight bout between Smith of the Sacramento Athletic club and Williams of Marysville, has been productive of much comment and expression of opinion as to who will come out the victor.

Paul Noble of the Oakland A. C. and Wickham of the S. A. C. are both good fighters and evenly matched.

Ahern and Azeveda who have fought close matches on two previous occasions will mix it again tonight.

Pappas of the S. A. C. and Watkins of Folsom will also face each other in the roped square. Some two dozen of the Folsom lead's admirers will be present to see their favorite perform.

Corey and Haskell of San Francisco will tangle at 138 pounds; Gore of Sacramento and Reynolds of San Jose, at 133; Salvadore of Sacramento and Wagner of Oakland, 120.

Four Fast Events Give Class to S. A. C. Eight-Bout Amateur Card

SAC. BEE. 4-3-11

With four of the fastest amateur bouts ever staged in Sacramento as half of an eight event program at the Old Pavilion last night, the Sacramento Athletic club climbed one notch higher in the popularity of the local fight fans. For in these four leading events the boys were well matched and there was sufficient class shown to more than offset the disparity in ability shown by the principals in the other quartet of events.

The bout between Goulard of the S. A. C. and Willie Walcott of San Francisco was perhaps the best event of the evening. Goulard had the advantage of experience, but Walcott was game all the way and had a happy faculty of checking Goulard's rushes with effective right and left swings. Goulard led in the opening two rounds, but the bay city boy came back strong in the third and for the greater part of the round kept Goulard on the defensive with swings to the head and face. The bout went an extra round and Walcott continued his aggressive tactics, winning the decision at the end of the fourth.

The only other event of the evening to go into an extra round was that betweeen Ahern and Azevedo, both of the S. A. C. Ahern had the class all the way, blocking Azevedo's swings, and landing the more telling blows. Azevedo showed his usual gameness and rallied in the third enough to send the fight into an extra round, but he could not keep up the pace, and Ahern gained the decision.

COWIE GAME ALL THE WAY.

Cowie of the S. A. C. lost the decision in three rounds to Noble of Oakland, but the local boy put up a game fight all the way and worked a straight left to the head at opportune times in the first round, weakening before Noble's hard right swings in the second and third.

Salvadore of the S. A. C. put up the best fight which he has ever shown in a local ring against Benn of San Francisco, and had a shade the better of the argument from the first. Salvadore strengthened in the second and third and had his bay city opponent up against the ropes time and again with effective jabs and a powerful right swing.

In what was slated as the main event of the evening it took Brock about three seconds to show Riley of Oakland that there are a few things about the fight game that every Oakland boy does not know. But it was not until the second round that Brock caught Riley a short left jab to the jaw as they broke from a clinch and weakened the Alameda boy enough to open the way for a knockout a few seconds later.

SHAMROCK NEVER HAS CHANCE.

Hassell of the Western club and Shamrock of the South Side Athletic club appeared on the program as a fill-in event, and it took Shamrock about one minute to decide that he had had his fill. Hassell went after him strong and when Shamrock failed to take advantage of Hassell's deliberate uncovering, the end was in sight. Hassell grazed one off Shamrock's chin and the South Side boy made the most of his opportunity and went down for the count.

A somewhat similar combination was presented in the first event of the evening when it took Pappa of the S. A. C. just about one minute to dispose of Watkins of Folsom by the knockout route. But it remained for the second special event, carded as between "heavyweights" to furnish the real comedy to relieve the situation.

HEAVYWEIGHTS ARE JOKE.

Smith of the S. A. C. is really a heavyweight—he's almost a whole lumber yard. Williams of Marysville, slated as his opponent, may be heavy, but he didn't show much sign of weight when he lined up against the local crowd. And to add to the humor of the situation, neither Williams nor Smith could fight. At least they didn't. They just trundled around the ring and hugged each other, an occasional shove through the ropes with Smith on the shoving end, and an occasional and generally accidental near-punch being the extent of their activities. Williams finally decided that Smith didn't fight the way they do up in Marysville, and when the might-be white hope chanced to hit him again Williams just naturally reclined on the mat and looked up at Referee Burke with a silent appeal to count faster. And Burke did, Smith gaining credit for a knockout.

LIVELY BOUTS ARE OFFERED TO FANS

Athletic Club to Stage Card of Eight Fast Matches at Old Pavilion Tonight.

Conditioning as if their every bout was a championship affair, the many contestants who are to take part in the amateur boxing show to be held under the auspices of the Sacramento athletic club at the Old Pavilion tonight are putting on the finishing touches for what is expected will be the greatest affair of its kind ever seen in Sacramento.

Special interest is being taken in the heavyweight go, in which Smith (S. A. C.) and Williams (Marysville) are the principals. Smith is a big husky fellow and has shown unusual class in every one of his workouts, and Williams, who has had considerable experience at the game, is a promising youngster and is ready to enter the race for white hopes.

The main event is the talk of the town, for in Brock (S. A. C.) and Riley (Western A. C. of San Francisco) the club has brought together as fast and as willing a pair of millers as the most exacting fan would care to see. Paul Noble (Oakland A. C.) is not unknown to local followers of the game, as he has shown here several times before and is considered to possess unusual class and a wallop that is a sleep-producer. But in Wickham (S. A. C.) he will meet his equal, and it would be a difficult task to pick the winner. Wickham in past bouts, especially with Burns of Stockton, displayed remarkable skill and endurance, and he is looked upon to give the Oakland mixer a whirlwind go.

A bout that promises to be the real goods is the Ahern-Azeveda go. These boys have met twice before, Ahern getting the hairline decision, which was very unsatisfactory to Azeveda and his folowers, and both boys declare that they will make this contest so decisive that there will be no room for a doubt.

Pappas (S. A. C.), the fighting bootblack, will endeavor to polish Watkins (Folsom) within the limit, but Watkins is so confident of victory that he has invited many of his home admirers to be in at the finish, and twenty or more Folsomites will be at the ringside.

Three other bouts on tonight's card are: Corey vs. Haskell of San Francisco, 138 pounds; Gore vs. Reynolds of San Jose, 133 pounds; Salvadore vs. Wagner of Oakland, 120 pounds.

ATHLETICS GO TO WILLOWS.

The undefeated Sacramento Athletic club baseball team will leave tonight for Willows to meet the fast Willows Giants tomorrow afternoon. Koch will probably be on the mound for the Athletics as Wright and Doyle are on the sick list. Tobin will be on the receiving end for the Sacramento boys.

Rossi and French will make up the battery for Willows, and other fast men who will be seen with the Giants are Terry McCaffrey, Doc Deacon, Haverstick, Bowden and Carman.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT FAST DAVIS BUNCH

Pound Former State League Twriler All Over Lot and Play Snappy Ball.

SAC. UN. — 5-29-11

Special to the Union.

DAVIS (Yolo Co.), May 28.—The Sacramento Athletics made it seven victories out of nine games here today, winning from the crack Davis team by the score of 5 to 3, in one of the most exciting games of the season.

Tracy Hoag, the former state leaguer, was hammered all over the lot by the Athletics, but wonderful fielding behind him kept the score close. "Johnny" Wright and Tobin worked in their usual steady manner, and led in hitting with three hits apiece.

The Athletics scored three times in the second. Guy Wright walked and scored on Hughson's double. Gerick went out, and Stober was hit by pitcher, Tobin doubled to left and J. Wright singled.

Although they had the bases full numerous times, the Athletics could not score again till the ninth. G. Wright opened with a two-bagger and went to third on an infield out and scored on Gerick's single. Tobin walked, J. Wright was safe on an error, "Bill" Hamilton was hit by pitcher, forcing in another run.

Davis got two men on in its half, but was cut off from scoring by fast fielding. Score:

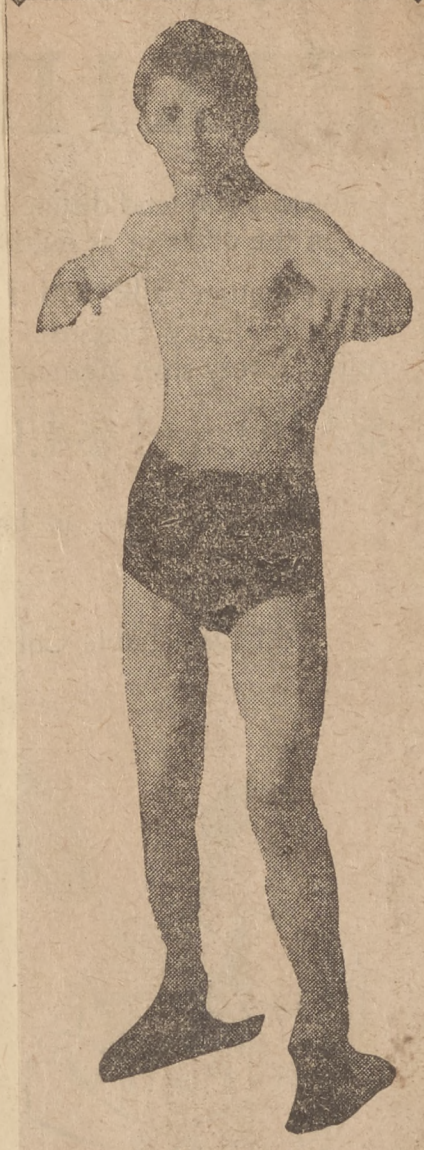
Clever Boys to Meet at Boxing Show



YOUNG AZEVEDO,
Who will box Ahern before the Sacramento Athletic Club to-morrow night.

SCRAPPERS READY FOR TO-MORROW NIGHT'S BOXING SHOW

Eight Bouts Carded, Including One Between Heavy-weights

Brock and Riley have been picked for the main event of the show to be staged at Old Pavilion to-morrow night by the Athletic Club, and they can be expected to put up a scrappy contest. They are 140-pound boys, are in good condition, and anxious to prove their worth with the gloves.

Altogether the card includes eight bouts, with the possibility of another being added. Matchmaker Hoffman says it is the best card he has ever arranged for the S. A. C., and certainly it shapes up well.

The two clever bouts of the evening will probably be supplied by Ahern and Azevedo, Salvador and Wagner. They are little fellows, but experienced, fast and willing. Ahern recently came here from Grass Valley and enrolled as a member of the Athletic Club. He quickly proved himself one of the cleverest mitt artists in the club, and he is recognized as hard to beat. Azevedo can be relied upon to give him an interesting time.

There will be five new faces in the ring, namely, Paul Noble of Oakland, who meets Cowie; Haskell of San Francisco, who meets Corey; Watkins of Folsom, who is to go against Pappa; Reynolds of San Jose, who will clash with Gore, and Williams, the Marysville heavyweight, who will meet Smith, the local 180-pound scrapper.

The heavyweight mill will be an innovation in local fight circles, but it will be a good one, for the fans always delight to see big fellows get into action. Williams says he is going to win with a knockout, and that he will land the telling wallop before the middle of the second round. That's his prediction and it is up to Smith to see whether he makes good the boast or not.

ATHLETICS BEAT DAVIS

The S. A. C. baseball team yesterday defeated the Davis nine on their own grounds by a score of 5 to 3. Tracey Hoag, is an ex-state leaguer, was easily found by the Athletics and all that prevented a large score on their part was the good support which Hoag had from the rest of the field. Wright and Tobin were in their usual good form and each had three hits chalked up to his credit.

City Trustees Instruct Police Chief to Investigate

The city will attempt to collect $25 from the Sacramento Athletic Club every time it puts on a series of boxing bouts to which admission is charged. Such was the decision reached last night when Chief of Police Ahern and City Collector Spaulding were instructed by the Trustees to investigate the boxing operations of the club.

Trustee Carraghar said that he understood the club was charging admission to bouts, and that, if such were true, the Sacramento Club belongs in the same category with strictly boxing clubs, which are compelled to obtain a permit from the Trustees and pay $25 for perimssion to put on a fight.

The Athletic Club staged a show last month, to which admission was charged, and plans to give a similar show next Friday night. Only amateur fighters take part. Ordinarily it is a violation of the amateur rules for a club to charge admission to its boxing shows, but the Athletic Club, because of its cramped financial condition, carried the matter before the governing amateur officials and secured special permission to put on an admission charge. Club members are admitted free, only outsiders being compelled to pay. The club has expected that with the aid of two or three admission shows it would be able to straighten out its financial troubles and return to a strictly amateur basis.

TRIO OF AMATEUR RECORDS BROKEN

Time Made Twenty-Two Years Ago at Berkeley Lowered By Texas Boy.

SAC. UN. — 5-31-11

NEW YORK, May 30.—Three new amateur athletic records were made at the track and field carnival of the Irish-American Athletic club at Celtic park today. Gwynn Henry of Eden, Texas, who ran unattached, won the special 125-yard scratch dash in 12 1-5 seconds. This is a new American record, the old figure being 12 2-5 seconds, made at Berkeley, Cal., twenty-two years ago by Charles A. Sherrill of Yale and the New York Athletic club.

John Eller of the Irish-American Athletic club, the champion hurdler, ran his trial and final heats in the 250-yard hurdle event in 29 1-5. The former world's record, 31 4-5 seconds, has stood since 1889, when George Schwegler of the New York Athletic club won at Staten Island.

The third record to go was the hop, step and jump, when the world's champion, Daniel F. Ahern, Irish-American Athletic club, beat his own figures twice, finally making 50 feet 11 inches. Just a year ago he made the old mark of 49 feet 7¾ inches.

Corey vs. Haskell of San Francisco, 138 pounds.

Pappa vs. Watkins of Folsom, 140 pounds.

Gwynn Henry of Eden, Tex., who ran unattached, won the special 125-yard scratch dash in 0:12 1-5. This is a new American record, the old figure being 0:12 2-5, made at Berkeley, Cal., twenty-two years ago by Charles A. Sherrill of Yale and the New York Athletic Club.

Daniel F. Ahearn of the Irish-American Athletic Club made a new world's record in the handicap hop-step-and-jump. His distance was 50 feet 11 inches. The previous record, made at Celtic Park a year ago today, was 49 feet 7¾ inches, also by Ahearn. First place went to another contestant by handicap.

John Eller of the Irish-American Athletic Club, the champion hurdler, ran his trial and final heats in the 250-yard hurdle event in 0:29 1-5. The former world's record, 0:31 4-5, has stood since 1889, when George Schwegler of the New York Athletic Club won at Staten island.

HEAVYWEIGHTS TO MEET BEFORE ATHLETIC CLUB

SAC. BEE. 5-30-11

Local fight fans are anxiously awaiting the sound of the gong that will mark the opening of the boxing show of the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Old Pavilion Friday night, for some of the best matches that have ever been made up by the local club are scheduled.

One of the events that has caught the eye of the fans is the special event, Smith vs. Williams, at 180 pounds. This is the first real heavyweight go that has been offered by the athletic club. As both men are experienced at the game, the bout should be rattling good.

The main event will be one of the niftiest affairs the followers of the game have had the pleasure of seeing in Sacramento. In staging Brock and Riley, the Athletic Club is presenting two of the most promising youngsters of the game. Brock, by his fast work in the past, has won a home with the fans, while Riley, who hails from San Jose, is touted as being one of the best in the 140-pound class.

GOOD BOUTS PROMISED BY S. A. C. FOR TONIGHT

SAC. STAR. 6-1-11

The Old Pavilion will be the scene of one of the finest boxing cards ever presented by the Sacramento Athletic Club tonight. The first event will start at 8:30 o'clock sharp. The bouts go for three rounds with a possible fourth in case the judges are unable to decide the winner. This is the first time the club has opened the doors to others than club members.

Erickson at 152 and Fahey (Reno A. C.) at 130 will mox if they can be matched by evening.

S. A. C. CARD FOR TONIGHT.

Brock (S. A. C.) and Mickle (Hawthorne A. C., San Francisco), at 145 pounds.

Salvadore (S. A. C.) and Burns (Hub Club, Stockton), at 118.

Smith (S. A. C.) and Jurgenson (Seattle), heavyweights.

Ahern S. A. C.) and Nevius (S. A. C.), at 120.

Azevedo (S. A. C.) and Viera (Redwood A. C., Oakland).

Corey (S. A. C.) and Shamrock (San Jose A. C.), at 138.

Dunn (S. A. C.) and Rymer (Woodland), at 130.

Cole (S. A. C.) and Chamier (South Side A. C.), at 115.

Neves of Stockton and Williams of Yolo, heavyweights.

CLUB BOUTS TOMORROW

At the Old Pavilion tomorrow night the Sacramento Athletic Club will stage eight or nine bouts which will give the fight fans a taste of fast boxing. SAC. STAR.

Smith and Williams, in the heavyweight class, are going to be a strong card, the big fellows tipping the scales at about 180 pounds and possessing more than ordinary skill and endurance. 6-1-11

Brock and Riley will furnish one of the fastest goes ever staged in this city, as every fan who has seen them knows that they are fast, willing and aggressive, and nothing but a corking good bout can result. Every other card is a feature, and for the remaining bouts it is a toss-up which is best, for they are all good.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS BEST OF THE TANGLE

SAC. BEE. 6-6-11

The City Collector has failed to collect $25 from the Sacramento Athletic Club, which held a boxing show recently without paying the regular city license fee, and the matter is now receiving the consideration of the Judiciary Committee of the Board of City Trustees.

City Collector Mike Spaulding, to whom the matter was referred, reported last night that he could not collect the $25 because he had not been informed that the City Trustees had granted a permit for the holding of the boxing exhibition.

The Trustees last night granted a permit to the Buffalo Club to hold a show on the night of June 20th.

GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), June 6.—Joe Erickson, the "Durable Dane," who is to fight Trounce on the evening of June 9th, arrived in Nevada City Saturday night to finish his training. The bout promises being one of the best ever pulled off in the county, and both participants are training hard.

NEWSBOYS IN BATTLE ROYAL.

In a battle royal between the newsboys of the city, held at the Machinists' Union meeting at the Labor Temple last week, eight boys took part, six of whom proved very equally matched. Professor Rittler of the athletic club acted as referee. Joseph Leiva and Happ Garcint also gave an exhibition bout with Kid Cole. The newsboys who were knocked out during the battle royal were Robert Donahue and Peter Bowa. It was declared a tie between Frank Orozzalie, Joe Delner, George Pardi, Frank Pardi, Philip Micheloe and Christy O'Brien.

SAC. BEE. 5-[illegible]-11

The Sacramento Athletics defeated the fast Davis bunch at the latter town yesterday, by a 5 to 3 score. Tracy Hoag, the former State Leaguer, was hammered all over the lot by the heavy hitting Athletics. Johnny Wright and Tobin worked in their usual steady manner, and led the hitting with three hits each. Score by innings:

HEAVYWEIGHTS TO CLASH BEFORE S. A. C. TO-NIGHT

SAC. BEE. 6-2-11

Best Card in Club's History to Be Staged

Classy Bouts Are Promised for the Local Fans

THE CARD.

Brock vs. Riley, 140 pounds.

Cowie vs. Noble, 125 pounds.

Corey vs. Haskell, 138 pounds.

Pappa vs. Watkins, 140 pounds.

Gore vs. Reynolds, 133 pounds.

Smith vs. Williams, heavyweights.

Ahern vs. Azevedo, 120 pounds.

Salvador vs. Wagner, 120 pounds.

The Sacramento Athletic Club will stage a seires of eight bouts at Old Pavilion to-night and it promises to be the best boxing show the club has ever offered. Every class, except one, from the bantam weight to the heavyweight, will be represented, and there should be sufficient milling to satisfy even the most rabid fan.

Williams, the 180-pound scrapper of Marysville, is to meet Smith, the local heavyweight. Both are reported in good condition and the big fellows promise to put up a merry scrap. Williams has come out with a statement that he will knock out his man before the middle of the second round; that he intends to force the fighting from the start and that Smith won't be able to stand up against him for more than a round and a half. All of which sounds interesting. But Smith may have something to say about the matter.

Brock will oppose Riley in the main event and they can be relied upon to furnish a snappy exhibition. They are the best boys of their weight in this locality and it will be no easy contest.

Interest has been added to most of the bouts by the bringing in of outside scrappers to face local men. Noble, who is to oppose Cowie, comes from Oakland and has a good reputation in that city. Haskell, who will exchange compliments with Corey, hails from the Western Club of San Francisco. Watkins, who says he is going to knock spots out of Pappa, is a Folsom boy, and a likely looking chap. Reynolds is here from San Jose for the engagement with Gore.

Ahern and Azevedo, clever bantams of the Athletic Club, will seek to settle their differences and it will be a nifty argument. Salvador, probably the most popular bantam in the S. A. C., will stack up against Wagner of Oakland. Sallie has often proved his class in local exhibitions, while Wagner is new here, but he comes nicely touted.

The bouts will start at 8:15, and the show will be open to the general public.

ATHLETICS LOSE TO FAST VALLEYITES

Costly Errors Offset Good Twirling and Marysville Wins From Sacramento Boys.

SAC. UN. 5-22-11

Special to the Union.

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), May 21.—The S. A. C. baseball team lost its second game out of eight at Marysvile today—7 to 0. The only excuse they have to offer is that of having an off day. Doyle twirled the first six innings for the Athletics, and if he had been supported by his teammates in their usual steady manner he would have won his game. He had the Marysville batters at his mercy, allowing only three singles.

Bossen pitched a good game for Marysville in the pinches. Twice the bags were filled, but great fielding behind him saved the situation. G. Wright made two star catches in left, and Doyle and Kane were the only men to secure two-base hits.

Included in the six games won by the Athletics are wins over Arbuckle, Dixon, Williams, and other fast teams, and they go to Davis next Sunday determined to shake the jinks that has pursued them in the last two games. Score:

At last night's meeting of the City Board of Trustees, Trustee Carraghar rminded the board that the Sacramento Athletic Club is charging admission to its boxing exhibitons, and that in his opinion, the club should be compelled to pay the city $25 for the privilege of giving exhibitions where admission is charged. SAC. UN. 5-11-11

Realty Men as Ball Players and Newspaper Men in 100-Yard Dash, Special Features

There should be some "real" baseball at the picnic at the new city park this afternoon. For the real estate men are backing their favorites to walk away with the Sacramento Athletic club team, and at the same time they are keeping the line-up of the real estate aggregation a dark, mysterious secret. Rumor has it that Morris Brooke is to pitch, E. H. Traxler to catch and H. J. McClelland to play the initial sack. And other prominent local realty men will also get out on the field and show their ideas of how the game should be played.

The Sacramento Athletic club will put the following line-up into the field: Rittler, first; Gerig, second; Wright, third; Dickson, catcher; Doyle, pitcher, Hughson, captain, left field; Hausman, center field, and Folck, right field. A special cup has been offered to the winning team.

Another special feature of the picnic athletics will be a hundred yard dash open only to newspaper men, a $5 hat being offered to the survivor. Merchandise prizes to the value of over $75 will be offered in the other athletic events of the day, which are announced as follows: Mile run, free for all; fat men's race, 50 yards; fat women's race, 50 yards; 100-yard dash, free-for-all; 50-yard race for girls under 15 years; 50-yard race for boys under 15 years; sack race, 50 yards; young women's race, 50 yards; 100-yard dash, for auto owners; three-legged race, 50 yards; advertising men's race, 100 yards running backwards; shot put, free-for-all; 220-yard dash, free-for-all.

The various athletic events will be started promptly at 1 o'clock under the direction of Otto Rittler, physical director of the S. A. C., and the races will be held in the order named above, the baseball game closing the afternoon program.

HALLANAN STARS PEEVED; RETURN MATCH TOMORROW

The Salvador Colts and the Hallanan Stars will clash in the Sacramento Athletic club gymnasium tomorrow night in a return match of volley ball in order to give Salvador and his braves a chance to get over the peeved feeling which they have had since their defeat Tuesday night. In Tuesday night's match Hallanan's team took two out of three by scores of 21-19, 14-21 and 21-18.

The teams will lineup as they lined up Tuesday night, as follows: Colts—Salvador, Ahern, Boone, Curl and Rothwell. Stars—Hallanan, Rittler, Wickham, Bedee and Shoemake.

Final Arrangements Made for Celebration of July 4

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), June 13.—A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens, who did not hold membership in the organization was held last evening in the Bank of Winters Hall for the purpose of raising funds for the insurance of payment of the expenses attending the arrangement of the Fourth of July celebration. The band gave an open-air concert before the meeting and rendered several selections during the session. D. O. Judy, President of the Chamber of Commerce, presided over the assemblage and briefly stated the purpose.

Representatives from Vacaville and Loomis were present and pledged support in the arrangements. Subscriptions to the amount of $627 were obtained at the meeting.

The various Committees having charge of the arrangements for the Fourth of July reported, the most interesting of the reports being that of the Committee on Sports, which has completed an elaborate program, including a baseball game between the Scheize team of San Francisco and the Sacramento Athletic Club team of Sacramento. Aquatic sports under charge of the Sacramento Athletic Club, a parade of decorated boats in the artificial lake, a fire dive, and grand pyrotechnical display in the evening on the lake and along its shores.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night the members of the Women's Improvement Club served a banquet.

English Mentality Falls Below That of America in Athletics

By RICHARD DAHLGREN.

Special to the Union.

LONDON, June 10.—That Englishmen are going backward in sports has long been known, and I have frequently called attention to the fact. They have the pluck and form, but their mental machinery is becoming rusty or rather they do not think until contests are over.

P. A. Vaile writes despairingly of English sports:

"There is nothing wrong with British sport but the brains thereof. I must admit that this is a somewhat important exception, and the annoying feature of the whole matter is that even the brains are right if the owners thereof would condescend to use them properly.

"We are great inventors of games. We have been the world's pioneer in athletic sports. We show them to other people, and those other people improve them, and then come and beat us at our own games, simply because we will not keep abreast of the modern developments. We will not use our brains.

"I would and could not believe that the wonderful ignorance of the science of sport which one sees in England today is due to defective mental power on the part of a nation such as we are—a nation in whose life sport, if anything, takes too large a part. I believe that in the vast majority of cases it is laziness."

Press Martin, the speedy Galt twirler, for the second time this season, struck out an even score of the opposing players, in the game with the Sacramento Athletic Club at Galt yesterday afternoon. The Athletics were allowed only two hits during the game, and succeeded in scoring only one run, as compared with four made by the Galt team in the first two innings.

After the first two innings, the Galt team was unable to score another run, but the lead they had was sufficient to win the game for them. The runs were made on a combination of two hits and a series of errors by the usually strong infield of the Athletics. The latter team scored its only run in the fifth, on a two-bagger by Doyle, and a couple of infield outs. Doyle pitched an excellent game for the S. A. C., allowing a total of but 6 hits. Tobin also played a heady catcher's game, throwing several men out on bases. The score by innings:

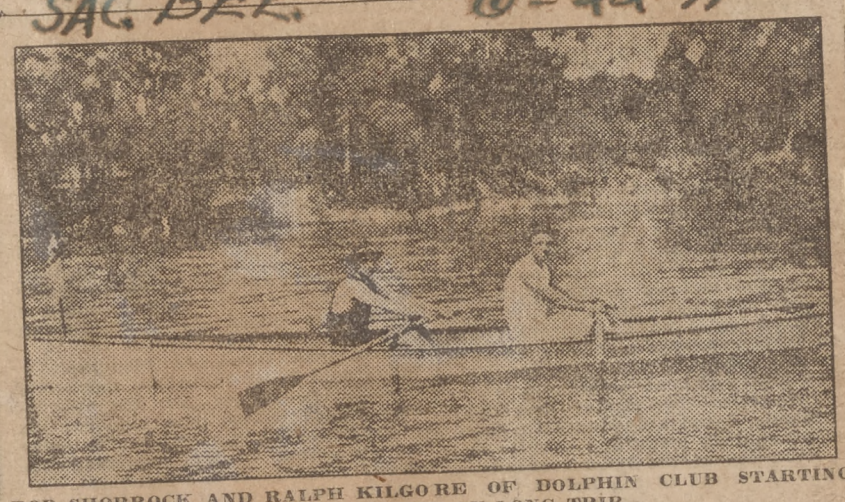
ROWING DOWN RIVER FROM RED BLUFF TO SACRAMENTO

SAC. BEE. 6-22-11



BOB SHORROCK AND RALPH KILGORE OF DOLPHIN CLUB STARTING FROM RED BLUFF ON LONG TRIP.

Drifting down the Sacramento River is not as much easy riding as one might at first imagine. At least so writes Bob Shorrock and Ralph Kilgore, members of the local Dolphin Club, who left Red Bluff for the down-river trip last Sunday. While making the rapids between Red Bluff and Tehama, the boat was caught among the rocks in some peculiar way, and had it not been for the dexterity of the oarsmen, the boat would in all probability have capsized.

The boys shipped their skiff to Red Bluff last week, and are taking this method of enjoying their vacation. Last night they had made a total of 80 miles, and to-night expect to reach Colusa.

TEN BOUTS CARDED FOR BOXING SHOW

Sacramento Athletic Club Promises Fans Excellent Show Night of July 7

SAC. BEE. 6-28-11

One of the best boxing cards that has ever been offered to local boxing enthusiasts has been arranged by Matchmaker Hoffman of the Sacramento Athletic Club for the club's show July 7th at the Old Pavilion. Some of the best known amateurs of the Pacific Coast will be seen in action.

Chris Hampton, formerly of the Reliance Club of Oakland and for many years fighting there in main events and winning from such men at Tat Reardon, Joe Davis and many other of the best amateurs around the Bay, will be seen in a special event against Young Smith, who won a bout before the local club last month. Smith is at present training at Red Bluff and he looks as if he will give Chris all he is looking for. They are heavyweights and will put up a good bout for the fans.

"Sally" Salvador of the S. A. C. will meet Malley of Vernon in another special event. Both boys will weigh 122. Salvador is a very popular local boy and has a large following. He is a hard and heady mixer.

For the main event Hoffman has matched two speedy welterweights in Brock of the S. A. C. and Welcott of the San Francisco Athletic Club. Both men have been seen here before and are popular mixers.

Young Ahern of the S. A. C. will meet Nesbit of the Oakland Athletic Club. Both men are good, clever boxers, and will probably put up the finest boxing exhibition of the evening.

Other clever boys will be seen in action. Kid Watkins of Folsom vs. Steel ex-amateur champion welterweight of Canada, who was defeated by Erickson in one of the hardest fights the "Swede" ever had. Souza of the South Side Club will meet Cole of the S. A. C. They are light boys, but speedy. Garcia, champion newsboy of Sacramento, will meet J. Jaung of the South Side. Cowie of the S. A. C. will meet Harris of the Oakland Club in what promises to be the slugging contest of the evening. Pappas, S. A. C., will meet Bogart of the S. A. C. at 145 pounds, and Goulard will be matched with Raymond. Both are S. A. C. boys and are big favorites. Riley and Hansen, two more club boys, have been matched, and there is plenty more good material if the matchmaker decides to have more than ten bouts.

One of the best features in the present card is that most of the bouts are between big men, with a few light men to furnish the boxing exhibitions of the evening.

Gates of the Sacramento Athletic Club is on the scratch mark, against a field of thirty starters. The entries are as follows:

Event I—176-yard dash (one lap), scratch, first in each heat and the two fastest seconds to qualify.

First heat—Ed S. Street, E. A. C.; H. Heckert, V. V. A. A.; O. L. Baumbaugh, O. C.; H. M. Acton, P. A. C.; A. J. Olson, I. A. A. C.

SAC. BEE. 6-19-11

After practically having the game won, the Sacramento Athletic Club handed it back again to the Hammonton team yesterday afternoon, as a result of errors at critical moments. The score stood 3 to 1 at the end of the second half, but ended up 7 to 4 in favor of Hammonton.

The features of the game were the strong hitting of Carpenter, Doyle and Gerick. Carpenter got one of the longest home run hits on record at the Dredger Town grounds. Gray, also of that town, got a triple, a double, two singles and five runs, out of five times at bat. Wasely saved the game for Hammonton by pulling down Hamilton's hard drive, when the bases were full. A large crowd enjoyed the game.

Score by innings:

Athletic Club Stages Best Card of Amateur Bouts Ever Seen Here

SAC. UN. 7-8-11

With four bouts going into the extra fourth round before a decision was possible, the amateur boxing staged at the Old Pavilion last night by the Sacramento Athletic club was by long odds the most successful event of its kind put on by amateurs in the history of the fight game in Sacramento. Eight bouts were on the evening's card, and of these, the heavyweight event was the only one to fizzle out.

A thing unusual in amateur boxing cards—the scheduled main event of the evening was the second best if not the best fight of the program. For it gave the local fight fans opportunity to see that the much heralded Brock of the Sacramento Athletic club was perhaps after all not invincible. In Wolcott of the San Francisco Athletic club he found a worthy opponent and it was only by the closest shade that the extra fourth round gave Brock the decision.

Wolcott started to wade into Brock in the first few seconds of the bout, but he was stopped early in the game and before the round closed he had changed his tactics and proceeded to take a terrible beating while awaiting his opportunity to land a knockout blow. With the blood streaming from his right eye Wolcott took his beating but rallied at just enough times to get an extra round when the process was repeated with Wolcott showing a trifle more signs of life. But it was a case of Wolcott's brute strength and ability to take terrible punishment against the more skillful and clever work of the local boy, and it was Brock's brainier work which won him a decision despite his inability to land a knockout blow on the crouching bay city boy.

AHERN LOSES TO BAY CITY LAD.

The honors went in the other direction in the other inter-city match which developed into one of the headliners. Harris, the Oakland newsboy, won a fourth round decision from Ahern of the Sacramento Athletic club. This was the fastest fight of the evening, Ahern doing most of the leading, but Harris landing many a telling blow as he broke away from the clinches.

The special event gave signs of being one of the best fights of the card. Salvadore of the Sacramento Athletic club and Jockey Malley, unattached, going through the first round and exchanging rights and lefts to the head like wildfire. But in the second round Malley was caught off his guard and Salvadore sent him down for a knockout and the fight early in the second with a right to the jaw.

Souza and Garcia of the South Side went four rounds before Souza gained a decision and then it was by a close margin. For while Souza had the advantage of height, weight and reach, he was facing a game and willing lad who was always on the jump and had the art of covering and ducking down to a science for such a youngster.

Sailor Hansen could not do better than gain a decision over Riley of the Oakland club in three rounds, but Riley was easily outclassed and only saved himself from a knockout in the third round by continual clinching.

PAPPA FAILS TO FOLLOW.

Pappa of the Sacramento Athletic club and Bogart of the South Side went four rounds before Pappa gained a decision. Pappa's failure to follow up his blows when Bogart left himself wide open and Bogart's failure to show a willingness to do any of the leading made this bout develop into an exhibition of dancing annd footracing.

The heavyweight bout between Mitchell of the San Francisco club and Red Smith, the local "almost" white hope, resulted in a victory for the bay city boy in the third, a left hook to the jaw sending Smith to the mat for what would have been a knockout had not the gong saved him. Smith had the advantage in weight by about twenty pounds, but the bay city lad fought him almost to a standstill all the way, and had it not been for Smith's hugging proclivities would have finished him much earlier in the game.

The only other bout which failed to produce the goods was the second of the evening in which Watkins of Folsom took about half of the first round to pummel Steele, heralded as the ex-amateur champion of Canada. Steele went to the mat on a right to the jaw, but came up at the count of nine only to meet another one and fall back into Referee Schwalenberg's arms.

But the card as a whole was the fastest amateur program ever staged in Sacramento and reflects all kinds of credit on Matchmaker Hoffman and the other club members who arranged the bouts.

HAZEL HOTCHKISS IS WINNER.

MOUNTAIN STATION (N. J.), July 7.—Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of California, national woman champion, defeated Miss E. M. Rotch in the final round of the Middle States lawn tennis championship singles here today by 6-0, 7-5, and will play Mrs. Edward Raymond in the challenge match tomorrow.

W. M. Hall won the men's singles, defeating R. A. Holden of Yale, 6-4, 7-5, 9-7.

COLLINS BACK IN GAME.

CLEVELAND (Ohio), July 7.—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Americans, announced today that Eddie Collins, second baseman, who has been on the hospital list, has fully recovered and will be back in the game when Philadelphia begins the Detroit series Tuesday.

ATHLETIC CLUB STAGES EXCELLENT BOXING SHOW

Seven Classy Bouts and One Joke Please the Fight Fans of Sacramento

SAC. BEE. 7-8-11

The fans who gathered at Old Pavilion last night to witness the series of eight bouts staged by the Sacramento Athletic Club, enjoyed the best boxing show Sacramento has seen in many months. The short bout shows always have one advantage over the long distance affairs, namely, there is always the certainty there will be one or two good bouts out of the seven or eight listed. Last night there were seven corking good bouts, the eighth being sufficiently a joke to be humorous.

Brock and Walcott met in the main event and they put up four fast and furious rounds. Walcott was sent to the mat in the first round with a mighty pretty left to the jaw, but he recovered quickly and went back into the going as though he thoroughly enjoyed it. Brock also had a shade in the second round, but in the third the San Francisco boy put up such a whirlwind fight that he was given a chance in an extra round.

At the start of the fourth round Walcott was a hurricane, but during the final minute he slackened and Brock took the lead. Brock was awarded the decision by Referee Burke. It was a close decision, a hard fight for Walcott to lose. A draw would have been far more satisfactory, but draws are not permissable in amateur affairs.

Brock put up the best fight of his career, proving his ability to hold his head when under fire.

Sally Salvadore met Jockey Malley of San Francisco in the special event. Salvadore put up a far different fight than he has at past shows. Heretofore he has been willing to make a nice little boxing exhibition of it, but last night Sally was there as a real fighter. He was clever, fast, used his head well and he hit true and hard. It was a surprise to find that Salvadore carried a knockout and he used it nicely, sending it over on Malley's jaw in the second round and the bout ended very abruptly.

The heavyweight event between Mitchell and Smith went two rounds, two minutes and 58 seconds. Just before the gong sounded for the end of the third round, Mitchell caught Smith with a swing to the jaw and he went down. Except for that one blow an extra round would undoubtedly have been askde for, as the big fellows were fighting evenly. Smith showed great improvement over his work of a month ago. He fought more carefully and consistently and hit with more accuracy. He won a month ago and lost last night, but last night's fight was the better of the two.

Pappa and Bogart slugged at each other for four rounds and Pappa got the decision. Bogart did not know how to hit, but he was not afraid of punishment.

Harry Harris won the decision from Tommy Ahern after four very classy rounds. It was a hard fight for Ahern to lose, but Harris had an edge and was entitled to the verdict.

Sailor Hansen put up his best fight since he has been in Sacramento and won from Riley of Oakland. Hansen did his best work with his left and made the Oakland lad look sick with repeated left jabs.

Watkins of Folsom and Steele, said to be from Canada, furnished the joke of the night. Steele was knocked out in the first round.

Souza won from Garcia after four rounds. Garcia was game and willing, but Souza was far too big for him.

JOE TO GO 20 ROUNDS

SAC. STAR 6-17-11

A bout is scheduled to take place between Joe Erickson and Pat Bradley, welterweights, on June 30, before the Mt. Shasta Athletic Club at Redding. It will be a 20-round go, and as the contestants are evenly matched a good mill is looked forward to by the fight fans.

DOLPHIN BOYS NEARLY LOSE BOAT IN RAPIDS

6-12-11

Bob Shorrock and Ralph Kilgore, members of the Dolphin Rowing club, who are drifting down the Sacramento river from Red Bluff, had quite an experience between Red Bluff and Tehama. In some manner the boat became unmanageable in the rapids, and it was only the dexterity of the oarsmen that saved their craft from being swamped, and probably themselves from a dip in the deep.

Shorrock writes that he has traveled eighty miles since Sunday, and expects to make Colusa today. The boys shipped their row boat to Red Bluff and started down stream Sunday.

Keio Victorious in Last of Games Here

S.F. EX. 6-28-11

The Keio University baseball team finished its tour of America yesterday, when the Japanese players defeated the Pensacola team of the United States Naval Training Station at Goat Island by the score of 6 to 3. The brown men played a much steadier game than their opponents and hit the ball harder, scoring a deserved victory.

The Japanese put all their runs across in two innings, sending a trio of tallies across in the first and fifth sessions. The first three runs were due to a walk, a fielder's choice and two timely bingles, while the second three runs came as the result of four errors and a two-base wallop.

Sugase, the crack pitcher of the Keio aggregation, started the game for the brown men, but retired in the second inning, complaining of a sore arm. He was replaced by Ishikawa, who twirled heady ball and was never in danger.

The Keio players leave to-day on the steamer Persia for Honolulu, where they will play a series of games lasting nearly a month. The team has played forty-six games in the United States and has won twenty-nine of these contests. The Keio players are due to arrive in Japan in August in time to resume their studies for the fall term in the university.

REFUSES TO SIGN AS PITCHER WITH SEATTLE

SAC. BEE. 7-7-11

JOHN JOHNSON.

John Johnson, pitcher of the Sacramento High School team in 1907 and 1908, winner of the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic League championship both years, and captain of the team for the year of 1908, was asked by Scout Van Haltren, who came to Sacramento to see Johnson Wednesday, to become a member of the Seattle Northwestern team. Johnson, who is connected with a local real estate firm, did not see where he was benefiting his position any, and refused to sign the contract Van Haltren offered him.

The contract was of the same kind that Lloyd Snook signed; if he did not make good, he was out of a position, and Johnson figured to let well enough alone.

Different teams have been in communication with Johnson, and it is only a question of time before some team will give him a long contract, and he will probably make good. He has never pitched with any good teams around Sacramento until this year, when he signed up with the Brookes, and will be seen in their line-up when they face the Arbuckle team here Sunday. Johnson is a southpaw and has worlds of speed and plenty of curve.

ATHLETIC EVENTS ON MOOSE PICNIC PROGRAM

SAC. BEE. 7-1-11

The Moose are to give their first picnic since organization on July 4th. They are to journey nine miles up the Sacramento River, and the leading features of the day will be the six event track meet, motor boat races and a baseball game. The events that are slated for the track meet are: The 100-yard dash; shot put; high and broad jump; and the 220-yard dash. This meet is open to any person who wishes to enter, and the meet will be pulled off directly after lunch. The Committee offers $50 worth of merchandise prizes for the winners of the track events, while $100 in prizes are offered the winners of the motor events. Boats are to leave Front and N Streets every hour from 7 up to 12 o'clock for the picnic grounds.

There will be a brass band in attendance.

ERICKSON LOSES TO PAT BRADLEY

SAC. UN. 7-1-11

Sacramento Boy Outclassed All the Way and Only Stays Limit by Clinching.

Special to the Union.

REDDING (Shasta Co.), June 30.—Before a record breaking crowd at the card staged by the Mammoth Athletic club here tonight, Pat Bradley of San Francisco gained a twenty-round decision over Joe Erickson of the Sacramento Athletic club. Erickson was outclassed all the way and was sent to the mat in the fourth and sixth. He came back strong until the seventeenth, but in the closing rounds Bradley had him bleeding at the mouth and hanging on in clinches time and again to save himself from a knockout.

In the preliminary Jim Boyd of Heroult gained a four-round decision over Hal Emery of San Francisco. Jack Clark refereed the bouts.

NINE BOUTS CARDED FOR ATHLETIC CLUB'S SHOW

SAC. BEE. 7-7-11.

CLASSY FIGHTS ON THE PROGRAM FOR TO-NIGHT

Hoffman Has Arranged Best Show in Club's History

Matchmaker Hofffman, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has a card to offer the public for to-night's show that has never been equaled before by the club. There are nine bouts on the card, and in addition to this, there are three men to be matched. This makes an unusually big card, and the fans should be treated to some unusually good ones.

For a main event, Brock, the popular middleweight, is matched with Walcott, of the San Francisco Athletic Club. Walcott is a big favorite in San Francisco, and as he is a good mixer, is very popular wherever he fights.

Mitchell, a heavyweight of the San Francisco club, is to meet Smith, of the local club. They are both 190-pounders, and will furnish the heavyweight go of the evening.

"Sally" Salvador and Malley will put up the special event of the evening, and will fight at 120 pounds. Both boys are well known here, and as Salvador is considered a comer of some class, he has a big following among the fight fans

Jauang and Garcia, of the South Side Club, will furnish the only bantamweight fight of the evening.

Watkins, of the Folsom Athletic Club, will meet Steel of the S. A. C. Steel was once amateur champion of Canada, and although he has been out of the game for some time, he promises to put up a great scrap with the Folsom lad.

Riley, of the Oakland Athletic Club, will meet Sailor Hansen, of the local club, at 145 pounds.

Ahern is to meet Harris, of the Oakland Athletic Club. This will be a good go, for both boys are fast and clever.

Pappa and Bogart are to meet at 145, and both are in the best of condition.

Goulard and Rayond, two old-time opponents, are to fight it out at 148.

The men that are as yet unmatched, and for whom Matchmaker Hoffman is looking for opponents, are: Souza, 110 pounds; Black, 145 pounds; and Sailor Elliot, 125 pounds.

ATHLETICS PLAY COLUSA SUNDAY

(The Bee's Special Service.)

COLUSA (Colusa Co.), July 7.—The Sacramento Athletic Club will play the local team in this city Sunday at the Webster Street Park. The Colusa team has lost only four games this season and is claiming the championship of the Sacramento Valley. The Athletic Club team is also claiming the honor and from indications the game will be one of the best of the season.

Manager Timothy Sullivan Jr., of the Colusa baseball team, has accepted the challenge of the Willows team to play a series of games for a purse of $400, each team to put up $200. A series of five games will be played, the first game to be held after the schedules of the two clubs have been fulfilled with other teams of the Valley.

TO COMPETE AT GAELIC MEET

SAC. BEE. 6-26-11

The Original Gaelic Dancing Club will hold its annual picnic at Shell Mound Park Sunday, July 16th, at 1:30 p. m. In conjunction with the picnic they always hold a number of track events. This year they will hold a handicap meet, which should interest Sacramento athletes. It is very likely that the local athletic organizations will send a number of men down to Shell Mound to participate. Entry blanks may be obtained from Professor Rittler, local P. A. A. reperesentative. The only qualification demanded to enter is that the entrant be a registered P. A. A. amateur and in good standing. The entries close Saturday, July 8th.

GUNBOAT SMITH HAS UNPLEASANT HALF HOUR

SAC. BEE. 6-26-11

Gunboat Smith arrived last night to prepare for his bout with Joe Willis, to be staged at Buffalo Park the afternoon of July 4th. Smith brought along Dave Mills, the big negro, who will act as his sparring partner.

Smith visited the Athletic Club last night. He was the last man to start to leave the club rooms and, not knowing the combination of the lock on the door, found himself locked in. He telephoned for assistance and, after half an hour's imprisonment, was released.

Smith is to do his training at Old Pavilion. Willis will train at the Athletic Club.

Nine Fast Amateur Bouts Slated for Tonight's Athletic Club Card

SAC. UN. 7-7-11

BROCK VS. WALCOTT IN THREE-ROUND MAIN EVENT

Ex-Canadian Champion and Several Bay City Scrappers on Old Pavilion Program.

With nine fast bouts carded for the Old Pavilion tonight, the Sacramento Athletic club's amateur boxing program promises to be one of the most successful events of its kind which have ever been held in Sacramento. Matchmaker Hoffman and his associates have gone to considerable trouble to get fast men for the card, and the principals in each bout appear to be so evenly matched as to assure plenty of entertainment for the most critical of the local fight fans.

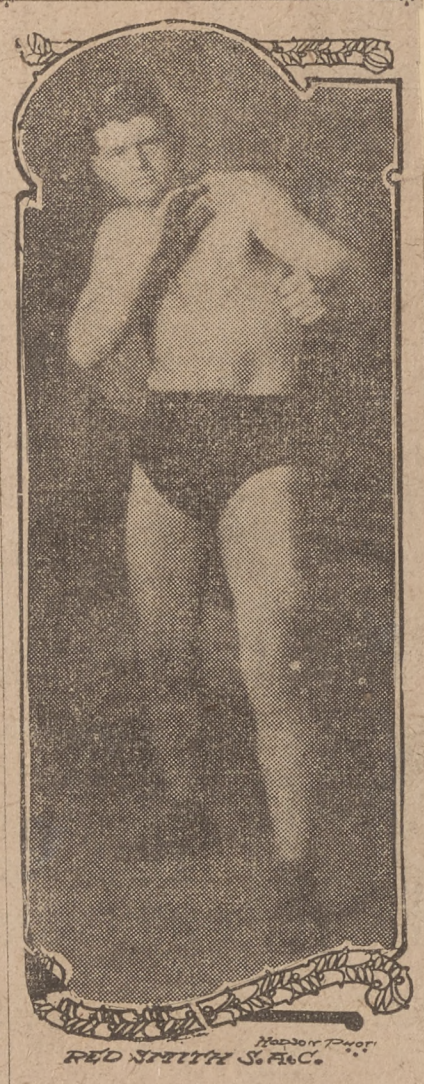
The main event promises to be the sensation of the evening. For several weeks an attempt has been made to match Brock of the Sacramento Athletic club with a man who would be able to show himself in the same class. But not until this month has the scrapper been found in amateur ranks who comes with a reputation strong enough to put him up as Brock's equal. In Walcott of San Francisco, however, the local clubmen believe they have found one who will give Brock a run for the honors, and the record which Walcott has made himself around the bay would appear to justify this belief.

The local matchmaker also went to San Francisco to find an opponent for the local amateur heavyweight, "Red" Smith. Mitchell of the bay city has been matched up with Smith and they appear to be able to put up a fast, clean scrap for heavyweights.

Salvadore of the Sacramento Athletic club will meet Jockey Malley, unattached, in a special event at 122 pounds, and the other events of the evening's card are as follows: Jaung, north side, vs. Garcia, south side, 105 pounds; Watkins, Folsom, vs. Steele, ex-amateur Canadian champion, 140 pounds; Sailor Hansen, S. A. C., vs. Riley, Oakland, 140 pounds; Harris, Oakland, vs. Ahern, S. A. C., 122 pounds; Pappa, S. A. C., vs. Bogart, south side, 140 pounds; Goulard, unattached, vs. Raymond, unattached, 150 pounds.

Each of the nine events are as usual carded for three rounds, with a fourth round in the event that the judges do not agree. Three extra men will be held in reserve to fill in the card in case of the failure of any of the principals to make an appearance. The extras are Black, 145 pounds; Sailor Elliott, 125, and Sousa, 110.

Local Heavyweight to Meet Mitchell



RED SMITH S. A. C.

ALL AGREE ATHLETIC CLUB BOUTS WERE BEST EVER

SAC. STAR. 6-8-11.

Sacramento fight fans were treated to a snappy exhibition of boxing last night at the monthly show of the Sacramento Athletic Club, held at the Old Pavilion. Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman used fine judgment in hooking up the boys, four of the bouts going into the extra rounds, and then hair-line decisions had to be rendered. "Red" Smith, the Sacramento "white hope," went down to defeat in the main event, Mitchell, a hopeful from San Francisco, beating his opponent, who stalled all during the battle. In the third round, Mitchell uncorked a left hook that landed flush on Smith's jaw, the gong saving the local boy. Smith failed to toe the scratch for the final round, and his opponent was declared the winner.

Brock of the S. A. C. and Wolcott of San Francisco furnished a torrid bout that went an extra round, Brock getting the decision. Wolcott was game as a pebble, and took a terrific lacing, but Brock showed the most cleverness and gained the decision.

Harris, the Oakland newsboy, showed himself to be a top notch boxer when he beat Ahern of the Sacramento Athletic Club. The boys put up a fast battle, first one carrying the milling, then the other putting up a spurt. Ahern had a shade on aggressiveness, but his opponent put up an excellent defense and scored heavy in the infighting.

Souza and Garcia put up a close battle, the decision going to the former. Sailor Hanson gained a decision over Riley of Oakland in a slow bout, and Pappa gained a close decision over Bogart. Watkins the Folsom whirlwind, made Steele, the ex-Canadian champion, look like an "ex." Watkins, after feeling his opponent out, whipped over a right to the jaw in the first round and Steele had dreams of that dear Montreal.

TROUNCE AND ERICKSON CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

SAC. UN. 6-9-11

Special to the Union.

GRASS VALLEY (Nevada Co.), June 8.—"Fighting Dick' Trounce rested tonight and will enter the ring of the Grass Valley Athletic club tomorrow evening fit for the fight of his life. He has no fears of losing to Joe Erickson, the husky young man who came up from Sacramento to meet him, and he hopes to walk away with the big end of the prize money.

Trounce has had many fights in his career, starting in Montana and fighting his way through Colorado and Arizona, finally winding up in this city, where he had any number of bouts. He is in condition both as to weight and spirits.

Erickson says but little, but he has confided to a number of his friends that there will be but little to the fight tomorrow evening. He thinks he knows Trounce's weak points and will play on these repeatedly until he has the long man going. He has announced, too, that this is his last fight in the county, and that win or lose he will not fight Trounce again.

ATHLETIC CLUB NOTES

SAC. BEE. 7-1-11

A few of the Sacramento Athletic Club's track men are to compete in the track meet that the Moose are to hold Tuesday. They have been training hard at the McKinley Park for the past week and expect to take a few places in the meet. Those that have been showing up for practice are Dick Shoemake, Spence Dickson, Chet Gannon and Starrett.

The club is trying to obtain permission from the Board of Education to use the High School campus for its members to train for field events, while they will train for the sprints and distances at McKinley Park.

Track meets this year have been a very scarce article, none of the small country towns having developed teams and the bright outlook that track activities took on last year has been swept away.

Joe Erickson, former pride of the Athletic Club's boxing contingent, met with defeat at the hands of Pat Bradley of San Francisco in a twenty-round go at Redding. He received a pretty hard beating at the hands of Bradley and was hanging on after the fifteenth round.

SNEDIGAR IS STAR FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

S.F. CHRON. 7-2-11

Breaks Record in the Javelin Throw and Is Third in Two Events---Other Records.

HOW OLYMPIC ATHLETES FIGURED.

Snedigar won and broke record in javelin throw.
Bellah third in pole vault.
Wyman third in 440 run.
Snedigar third in running broad jump.
Snedigar third in hop, step and jump.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Three senior records were broken and one equaled today in the second and final day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union championship games at Forbes field. This fact taken with the showing made yesterday by junior athletes, made the meeting one of the most successful in the history of the A. A. U. The records broken were in the 880-yard run, the mile run and the javelin throwing. The previous record for the 200-yard hurdles was equaled by the man who made it.

From every angle the contests were exceptionally good. It is estimated that 25,000 people witnessed the events. Counting the attendance yesterday, upward of 55,000 persons saw the meet.

Weather conditions were ideal. Toward the close of the day the intense heat affected many of the men, but the competitors and their trainers successfully guarded against prostrations.

Two of the records broken went to New York men, members of the Irish-American Athletic Club. The third honor of a broken record fell to the member of the Olympic Club of San Francisco. Eller of the Irish-American A. C. equaled his own A. A. U. record in the 220-yard hurdle.

In the 880-yard run, M. W. Shepperd, Irish-American A. C., made the fast time of 1:54 1-5, beating the previous American record by one second. In the mile run, A. R. Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., took the race in 4:19 3-5. The former American record was 4:22 4-5.

SNEDIGAR'S GREAT HURL.

O. F. Snedigar of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, hurled the javelin 165.21 feet, breaking the American record. The previous mark made by Brodd, Irish-American A. C., last year at New Orleans, was 163 feet 1 inch.

In the pole vault three men, R. T. Cooke Jr., Cleveland A. C.; H. Coyle, Chicago University, and S. Bellah, Olympic Club, San Francisco, cleared the mark at 12 feet 6 inches. Bars were then raised to 13 feet. Time after time they failed and when the bar was dropped to 12 feet 11 inches they again were unable to clear it. The men then tried for position. They tied with 12 feet 6 inches and could not break it. Finally the matter was decided by draw, Cook first, Coyle second and Bellah third.

A peculiar incident occurred in the running high jump. H. Grumpelt, New York A. C., was first with 6 feet 3 inches; Harry F. Porter, Irish-American A. C., second, 6 feet 1 inch, and H. J. Burdick, Pittsburg A. A., third, 6 feet 3 inches.

Grumpelt and Porter had tied for first place with 6 feet 3 inches. In the jump off Grumpelt again made this height, but Porter could jump only 6 feet 1 inch, putting him in second place. Four men had tied with 6 feet 1 inch, and to decide third position jumped again. At this juncture Burdick of Pittsburg cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches, equalling the first man and beating the second, but going into third place under the rules.

The points scored by clubs were:

Irish-American Athletic Club, 58; New York A. C., 28; Seattle A. C., 12; Olympic Club, 11; Boston A. A., 7; Cleveland A. C., 7; Kansas City A. C., 6; Chicago A. A., 6; Unattached (9), 5; P. A. A., 3; Brookline G. A. A., 3; Chicago University, 3; Aquinas A. C., 3; South Boston A. C., 1. Summary:

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS FOR BIG RIVER OUTING

SAC. UN. 7-8-11

The annual picnic of the Sacramento Athletic club is scheduled for Saturday, July 29, and arrangements are rapidly nearing completion for the outing. The picnic will be held up the river near Bryte's landing and arrangements will be made for adequate boat service to and from the picnic grounds. Eugene Palm is chairman of the committee which has the picnic in charge.

Boat races, track and field events, baseball games, open air boxing, dancing, and a barbecue are some of the features which are planned for the entertainment of club members and their friends.

JAPANESE TEAM TO PLAY ATHLETICS

Keio University Baseball Players Will Be Welcomed Here by Fellow Countrymen.

SAC. UN. 6-22-11

Local baseball fans will be given another opportunity to see baseball as it is played in the island empire of Japan Sunday morning, when the Keio university team which has been touring the country for the last two months, will meet the Sacramento Athletic club baseball team at Buffalo park. Early in the season the Waseda team from Japan played the Brooke Relties here and made a hit with the local fans, and the Keio boys promise to put up the same class of fast, snappy inside baseball.

The Japanese do not play the slugging American game, but they are right on the job when it comes to baseball stealing, inside playing and the game which requires brain instead of brawn. The Keio boys were defeated yesterday at Portland, and after games at Albany and Eugene they will come direct to Sacramento, arriving here Saturday night.

As on the occasion of the visit of the Wasedas here early in the season, the local Japanese colony proposes to extend a rousing welcome to their fellow countrymen. A large delegation will meet them at the train and entertain them Saturday night, and there will be Japanese rooters galore in the stands at Buffalo park when the game is called Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

S.A.C. AND JAPS PLAY

6-23-11

This morning at Buffalo Park Sacramento fans will be given an opportunity to witness the famous Japanese baseball club of the Keio University in action against the Sacramento Athletic Club nine.

The Keio boys, who come all the way from Tokio, are one of the fastest baseball organizations now touring the country. They have won a majority of their games throughout the East and play a nice article of inside ball.

Preparations are being made by the members of the local Japanese colony to receive their ball-playing countrymen and a reception will be given the team here on Saturday night. SAC. STAR.

Athletes Who Won Honors in Games at the Stadium.

S.F. CHRON. 6-5-11

ATHLETES COMPETE BEFORE CROWD AT STADIUM

Eleven Events Run Off as Part of Programme to Celebrate Independence Day.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

THE eleven events included in the programme of athletics conducted at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park yesterday as part of the Fourth of July celebration, proved an attractive card for the amateurs on the track and field. Competition in the various events was of close order, due to the handicapping, and the honors were well distributed among the local clubs. The Olympic Club, Sacramento Athletic Club, Pastime Athletic Club, Irish-American Club and the San Francisco Turn Verein all shared in the distribution of prizes. Conditions for running were not ideal, as an overcast sky and cold breeze from the ocean left the young athletes shivering in the immense playground.

In spite of the uninviting weather, there was a large turn out of enthusiasts, who lined the grassy banks of the Stadium and enjoyed the programme, conducted in recognition of the anniversary of Independence day. Heats in the hundred-yard dash inaugurated the meet at 10 o'clock and the entire set of games was completed before the noon hour.

The quarter-mile dash developed the real competition of the day. Hoenish of the Pastime Club made the race from the start, catching the limit runners at the first furlong. He continued his own pace and won from Acton by a decisive margin. Acton of the Pastime Club and Doran of the Irish-American Club put up a hot contest for second place, the advantage being in favor of the Pastime boy.

Wright of the Pastimes and Williams of the Olympic Club put up a hot finish in the two-mile run, the former winning by about four yards in a half-mile struggle. Kurtz of the Olympic Club, running from scratch in the half mile run, came through on the home stretch and won from Street handily. O'Connor was the star for the Irish-Americans, winning the hop, step and jump, and taking second in the shot-put. The results are as follows:

100-yard dash, handicap: First heat—Won by Lorange, unattached, 5 yards; Gates, S. A. C., 2 yards, second; Dickson, O. C., 3 yards, third. Time, 10 seconds. Second heat—Won by Hoenish, P. A. The judges were W. A. Kennedy of Winters, W. H. Gregory of Woodland and J. H. Rice of Dixon.

RACES ARE FEATURE OF THE MOOSE PICNIC

SAC. BEE. 6-5-11

The Moose held their first picnic at Smith's grove yesterday. The morning started out with a game of baseball between the Pickett-Atterbury team and the Central team, which ended by the Clothiers winning by the score of 16 to 1.

The boat races were very hard to keep track of because most of the spectators did not know when the races started.

There were $125 in prizes for the winning boats. The following were winners:

In the first race, which was over a course of eight miles, Pankost's No. 27 was a winner in 25 minutes, 8¾ seconds, defeating the Aristo, which finished a close second. The Possum started in the race, but developed engine trouble and did not finish.

In the second race the Fawn Second and the Annabelle were the only starters, the Fawn Second winning over an eight-mile course in 33 minutes and 20 seconds.

The third race had seven starters. John Denny's Opal won over a four-mile course in 28 minutes, 53¾ seconds. G. Souza's May finished second; L. Fouress' Helen D. third; C. A. Kipp's Indian fourth, and C. L. Jones' Tug W., F. Chittenden's Widgeon No. 3, and V. E. Laisne's unnamed boat finished in straggling positions.

The Committee from the two clubs which managed the races was made up of M. H. Shadinger, Chairman; T. W. Madeley, judge; C. V. Thomas, starter, and Fred Y. Madeley and A. Hammond, timers.

The Sacramento Athletic Club cleaned up all of the first places in the field day. Chet Gannon, of the Athletic Club, was the star performer of the meet, taking all four first places.

Results: 100-yard dash—Chet Gannon (S. A. C.), first; Dick Shoemate (S. A. C.), second. 220-yard dash—Gannon (S. A. C.), first; Dick Shoemate (S. A. C.), second; J. Williams, third. Shot-put—Gannon (S. A. C.), first; Chittenden, second; Martin, third. High jump—Gannon (S. A. C.), first; Dick Shoemate (S. A. C.), second; J. Martin, third. There was $40 in merchandise prizes offered in these races, $5 for the first place, $3 for the second place, $2 for the third place.

Winners at Moose Picnic.

One of the most exciting features of the picnic given by the Loyal Order of Moose at Smith's Mound Grove Tuesday was the motor-boat regatta, consisting of three events. The winners were Pankost's No. 27 against Aristo, time, 8 3-4 seconds; Fawn, second, over eight-mile course, defeated Annabelle, time 33 minutes 20 seconds; John Denny's Opal, over a four-mile course, time, 28 minutes 53 3-4 seconds; G. Souza's May, second; L. Fourness' Helen D, third; C. A. Kipp's Indian, fourth. C. L. Jones' tug, W. F. Chittenden's Widgeon No. 3, and V. E. Laisne's boat finished last. The chairman of the committee in charge of the race was M. H. Shadinger; judge, T. W. Madely; starter, C. V. Thomas; timers, Fred Y. Madely and A. Hammond.

In addition to the boat races a number of other athletic contests were pulled off, the results of which were as follows: Young women's race Miss E. FOUR RECORDS BROKEN BY JUNIOR ATHLETES

SAC. BEE. 7-1-11

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Junior Athletes of America made a remarkable showing yesterday at Forbes Field when four records were broken and several equaled in the first day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union junior and senior championship games.

The records to fall were the running high jump, pole vault, five-mile race and throwing of the discus. Some of the new marks are remarkable.

One of the surprises came when B. Wagener, of the Pittsburg A. A., competing in the pole vault, cleared the bar at 12 feet 5.64 inches, which is 5.64 inches better than the previous junior American record. Dukes, of the New York A. C., was second, with 12 feet in his first attempt, while Lambert, of Washington University, St. Louis, cleared the 12 feet in one attempt and under the rules went into third place.

O. Johnstone, Boston A. A., made a new record in the running high jump with 6 feet 6.10 inches, while in throwing the discus A. M. Muchs, of the Chicago A. A., broke the record with 123 feet 5 inches. Up to this time the discus record had been held by Bentz, of Seattle, Wash., with 122 feet 9 inches.

Probably the most exciting event was the five-mile race. It was won by G. A. Dull, of Pittsburg A. A., in the record time of 26:08 4-5, beating the junior American record of 26:23 1-5, which had been held by Driscoll, of New York.

P. A. A. MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAC. BEE. 6-30-11

At the meeting of the Pacific Amateur Association of California last week it was decided to hold the annual P. A. A. track meet at San Francisco on September 9, 1912, under the auspices of San Francisco Y. M. C. A.

By all indications Sacramento will be well represented at this meet. Besides the local athletic club, there are quite a number of High School boys registered in the P. A. A.

The P. A. A. meet was held here last year, and the Olympic Club of San Francisco won it by a wide margin. Professor Rittler of the Athletic Club is the P. A. A. representative here, and will have charge of the entry blanks, and of the registration of all local athletes.

WINTERS CARNIVAL DRAWS LARGE CROWDS FROM NEARBY TOWNS.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), July 4.—The big celebration opened here this morning at 9:45 with a display of day fireworks. It was a spectacular feature. At 10:50 the parade started and it was made up of scores of floats, autos and decorated rigs. The town is full of visitors.

The literary exercises were held immediately after the parade and the keys of the city were turned over by Mayor T. H. Fenley to Goddess of Liberty Mrs. T. A. Sparks. The Winters Band rendered music.

This afternoon the ball game between the Sacramento Athletic Club team and the Shreves of San Francisco is an attractive feature. The aquatic sports and races on Winters Lake begin at 3:30 and there are many entries. It is the first time the lake has been used for musement purposes. The aquatic ball game will be a big feature.

This evening there will be a Wild West performance, parade of horribles, concerts, free shows, display of fireworks and a ball.

Clever Boys to Meet in Ring Friday Night

Friday night, when the gong sounds at the Old Pavilion for the Athletic Club's boxing show, some lively fistic events will be staged. All of the men are in the best of condition and anxious to mix it.

Young Ahern is one of the boys who is advancing very rapidly in the boxing game, and promises to show up very well with Nesbit of the Oakland Athletic Club, who is rated as one of the best boys around the Bay. "Fighting" Dick Cowie will again be seen in the ring. He has not fought since his hard battle with Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club.

Young Smith has arrived from Redding, and is hard at work knocking the rough places off. He has a hard man to beat, but he is in the pink of condition and has made the statement that he will put Chris Hampton to the mat before the old boy knows what he is doing.

Salvadore is a favorite over Malley. Undoubetdly the largest crowd that has ever attended the Club's bouts will be present.

PASTIME ATHLETES WIN LETTER CARRIERS' PICNIC GAMES

SFECHRON. 6-3-11

The track and field meet that featured the annual picnic of the Golden Gate Branch of the Letter Carriers' Association yesterday at Shell Mound Park produced some of the most interesting athletic competition of the picnic season. The honors of the afternoon went to the members of the Pastime Athletic Club, who scored 16 points, with the Irish-American athletes in second place with 14 points. The men representing the Olympic Club did exceptionally well without the star athletes of the team, scoring 13 points.

Harris Bennesen, a Sacred Heart College student, running unattached, won the mile event after a hard run with Elliot Craig of the Olympic Club. Benneson had fifty yards, but Craig overtook the field in the seventh lap and maintained the lead until the final lap, when Benneson's superior staying powers allowed him to go to the front.

Hoenisch, of the Pastime Club, took the honors in the 440-yard run after Doran, of the Irish-American, had led the field from the first hundred yards. Hoenisch captured the event in the last three yards with a splendid spurt.

Kurtz, of the Olympic Club, took the 880-yard run from the scratch mark. O'Shea, of the Irish-American, was his closest competitor, but was never able to make himself dangerous after the Olympic men had passed him, although he appeared to be running in better condition.

Ed Martin of the Irish-American Club drew the inside track in the 176-yard race, and won after a hard tussle with Hoenisch. All the winners in the races received handsome cups and trophies, while the second and third-place men were presented with silver and bronze medals.

The results:

176-yard dash, scratch—Won by Martin, I. A. A. C.; Hoenisch, Pastime Club, second, and Noonan, Pastime Club, third. Time, 0:19 2-5.

One-mile run—Won by Benneson, unattached (50 yards); Craig, Olympic Club (scratch), second, and Wright, Pastime Club (18 yards), third. Time, 4:47 4-5.

BROOKES TO PLAY ATHLETICS TODAY

Club Team Is Out Determined to Win and Has Strengthened Lineup Considerably.

When arrangements were first made for the Brooke Realty-Sacramento Athletic Club game that is scheduled to take place at Oak Park this afternoon, the best of feeling toward each other seemed to exist, but as time for the contest drew near bitterness cropped in, and now the Athletics declare that they will not stop at anything to bring about the defeat of the Boosters.

To accomplish this end, they have raked through the best of the local talent, and will present as strong a team as ever entered a semi-pro contest on the Oak Park grounds.

Joe Williams, the clever first baseman; Danny Wright, the demon southpaw hurler; Happy Smith, one of the best-looking local catchers; McGee, a corking good infielder, and other players far above the average, will be with the Athletics, which shows beyond a doubt that they are going to have the Boosters on the run from the call of game.

The Boosters will present their regular line-up, and will go into the game with the same spirit that has put them to the front in many previous contests.

As has been the rule with the games at Oak Park, there will be no extra grandstand admission, and the big time will start at 3 p. m. sharp, with the teams lined up as follows:

Brooke Realtys—Johnson, p; Keefe, p; Burke, c; Rooney, 1b; Lomond, 2b; Smith, ss; Hausman, 3b; Norris, lf; Grohosky, cf; Pearl or Bacon, rf.

THREE RECORDS BROKEN BY AMATEURS

SAC. UN. — 6-2-11

National Meeting of Seniors and Juniors Most Successful in A. A. U. History.

TWO TITLES TO NEW YORK

Third Honor of Day Goes to Member of Olympic Club of San Francisco.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Three senior records were broken and one equated today in the second and final day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union championship games at Forbes field. This fact, taken with the showing made yesterday by junior athletes, made the meeting one of the most successful in the history of the A. A. U. The records broken were in the 880-yard run, the mile run, and the javelin throwing. The previous record for the 200-yard hurdles was equaled by the man who made it.

From every angle the contests were exceptionally good. It is estimated that 25,000 people witnessed the events.

Weather conditions were ideal. Toward the close of the day the intense heat affected many of the men, but the competitors and their trainers successfully guarded against prostrations.

Two of the records broken went to New York men, members of the Irish-American Athletic club. The third honor of a broken record fell to a member of the Olympic club of San Francisco. Eller of the Irish-American Athletic club equaled his own A. A. U. record in the 220-yard hurdle.

MILE LOWERED THREE SECONDS.

In the 880-yard run M. W. Shepherd, Irish-American A. C., made the fast time of 1:54 1-5, beating the previous American record by one second. In the mile run, A. R. Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., took the race in 4:19 3-5. The former American record was 4:22 4-5.

O. F. Snedigar of the Olympic club, San Francisco, hurled the javelin 165.21 feet, breaking the American record. The previous mark, made by Brodd, Irish-American A. C., last year at New Orleans, was 163 feet 1 inch.

As in the junior contests, the five-mile race was to the fore in interest. C. V. Bonhag, Irish-American A. C., took the lead and held it until the end. Bonhag had the satisfaction of being the victor over W. J. Kramer of the Long Island A. C., who last year took away his laurels. Kramer fell into fourth position in the second lap. Gradually he worked into third, with L. Scott, South Paterson A. C., second.

After several miles Scott was compelled to drop out, putting Kramer second. Bonhag slowly pulled away from the champion. Close to the fourth mile Bonhag's pace became too much for Kramer, and he slowed down. P. Laruna, Aquinas C. C. of Philadelphia, and E. F. E. Fitzgerald, New York A. C., passing him. Another lap found Kramer out of the race. Bonhag won the race easily in 25:50 2-5, with Laruna second, and Fitzgerald third.

HARD FIGHT FOR POLE VAULT.

In the pole vault three men, R. T. Cooke, Jr., Cleveland A. C.; H. Coyle, Chicago university, and S. Bellah, Olympic club, San Francisco, cleared the mark at 12 feet 6 inches. Bars were then raised to 13 feet. Time after time they failed and when the bar was dropped to 12 feet 11 inches they were again unable to clear it. The men then tried for position. They tied with 12 feet 6 inches and could not break it. Finally the matter was decided by draw, Cook first, Coyle second, Bellah third.

A peculiar incident occurred in the running high jump. H. Grumpelt, New York A. C., was first with 6 feet 3 inches. Harry F. Porter, Irish-American A. C., second, 6 feet 1 inch, and H. J. Burdick, Pittsburg A. A., third, 6 feet 3 inches.

Grumpelt and Porter had tied for first place with 6 feet 3 inches. In the jump off Grumpelt again made this height, but Porter could jump only 6 feet 1 inch, putting him in second place. Four men had tied with 6 feet 1 inch, and to decide third position, jumped again. At this juncture Burdick of Pittsburg cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches, equaling the first man and beating the second, but going into third place under the rules.

The points scored by clubs were: Irish-American A. C., 58; New York A. C., 28; Seattle A. C., 12; Olympic club, 11; Boston A. A., 7; Cleveland A. C., 7; Kansas City A. C., 6; Chicago A. A., 6; unattached (9), 5; Pittsburg A. A., 3; Brooklyn G. A. A., 3; Chicago university, 3; Aquinas A. C., 3; South Boston A. C., 1.

Summary:

One-mile run—Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., first; Pedlund, Brookline G. A. A., second; Baker, Cleveland A. C., third. Time, 4:19 3-5.

New A. A. U. record; old record, 4:22 4-5, held by Fred Rogers of New York.

16-pound shot put—McDonald, Irish-American A. C., first, 47 feet 9 inches; Talbot, Kansas City A. C., second, 45

Athletes Who Won Honors in Games at the Stadium.

S.F. CHRON. 6-5-11

ATHLETES COMPETE BEFORE CROWD AT STADIUM

Eleven Events Run Off as Part of Programme to Celebrate Independence Day.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

THE eleven events included in the programme of athletics conducted at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park yesterday as part of the Fourth of July celebration, proved an attractive card for the amateurs on the track and field. Competition in the various events was of close order, due to the handicapping, and the honors were well distributed among the local clubs. The Olympic Club, Sacramento Athletic Club, Pastime Athletic Club, Irish-American Club and the San Francisco Turn Verein all shared in the distribution of prizes. Conditions for running were not ideal, as an overcast sky and cold breeze from the ocean left the young athletes shivering in the immense playground.

In spite of the uninviting weather, there was a large turn out of enthusiasts, who lined the grassy banks of the Stadium and enjoyed the programme, conducted in recognition of the anniversary of Independence day. Heats in the hundred-yard dash inaugurated the meet at 10 o'clock and the entire set of games was completed before the noon hour.

The quarter-mile dash developed the real competition of the day. Hoenish of the Pastime Club made the race from the start, catching the limit runners at the first furlong. He continued his own pace and won from Acton by a decisive margin. Acton of the Pastime Club and Doran of the Irish-American Club put up a hot contest for second place, the advantage being in favor of the Pastime boy.

Wright of the Pastimes and Williams of the Olympic Club put up a hot finish in the two-mile run, the former winning by about four yards in a half-mile struggle. Kurtz of the Olympic Club, running from scratch in the half mile run, came through on the home stretch and won from Street handily. O'Connor was the star for the Irish-Americans, winning the hop, step and jump, and taking second in the shot-put. The results are as follows:

100-yard dash, handicap: First heat—Won by Lorange, unattached, 5 yards; Gates, S. A. C., 2 yards, second; Dickson, O. C., 3 yards, third. Time, 10 seconds. Second heat—Won by Hoenish, P. A. C., 1½ yards; Dunster, unattached, 3 yards, second; Acton, P. A. C., 3 yards, third. Time, 10 2-5 seconds. Final—Won by Gates, S. A. C., 2 yards; Best, unattached, second; Hoenish, P. A. C., 1½ yards, third. Time, 10 seconds.

RACES ARE FEATURE OF THE MOOSE PICNIC

SAC. BEE. 6-5-11

The Moose held their first picnic at Smith's grove yesterday. The morning started out with a game of baseball between the Pickett-Atterbury team and the Central team, which ended by the Clothiers winning by the score of 16 to 1.

The boat races were very hard to keep track of because most of the spectators did not know when the races started.

There were $125 in prizes for the winning boats. The following were winners:

In the first race, which was over a course of eight miles, Pankost's No. 27 was a winner in 25 minutes, 8¾ seconds, defeating the Aristo, which finished a close second. The Possum started in the race, but developed engine trouble and did not finish.

In the second race the Fawn Second and the Annabelle were the only starters, the Fawn Second winning over an eight-mile course in 33 minutes and 20 seconds.

The third race had seven starters. John Denny's Opal won over a four-mile course in 28 minutes, 53¾ seconds. G. Souza's May finished second; L. Fouress' Helen D. third; C. A. Kipp's Indian fourth, and C. L. Jones' Tug W., F. Chittenden's Widgeon No. 3, and V. E. Laisne's unnamed boat finished in straggling positions.

The Committee from the two clubs which managed the races was made up of M. H. Shadinger, Chairman; T. W. Madeley, judge; C. V. Thomas, starter, and Fred Y. Madeley and A. Hammond, timers.

The Sacramento Athletic Club cleaned up all of the first places in the field day. Chet Gannon, of the Athletic Club, was the star performer of the meet, taking all four first places.

FOUR RECORDS BROKEN BY JUNIOR ATHLETES

SAC. BEE. 7-1-11

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Junior Athletes of America made a remarkable showing yesterday at Forbes Field when four records were broken and several equaled in the first day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union junior and senior championship games.

The records to fall were the running high jump, pole vault, five-mile race and throwing of the discus. Some of the new marks are remarkable.

One of the surprises came when B. Wagener, of the Pittsburg A. A., competing in the pole vault, cleared the bar at 12 feet 5.64 inches, which is 5.64 inches better than the previous junior American record. Dukes, of the New York A. C., was second, with 12 feet in his first attempt, while Lambert, of Washington University, St. Louis, cleared the 12 feet in one attempt and under the rules went into third place.

O. Johnstone, Boston A. A., made a new record in the running high jump with 6 feet 6.10 inches, while in throwing the discus A. M. Muchs, of the Chicago A. A., broke the record with 123 feet 5 inches. Up to this time the discus record had been held by Bentz, of Seattle, Wash., with 122 feet 9 inches.

Probably the most exciting event was the five-mile race. It was won by G. A. Dull, of Pittsburg A. A., in the record time of 26:08 4-5, beating the junior American record of 26:23 1-5, which had been held by Driscoll, of New York.

P. A. A. MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAC. BEE. 6-30-11

At the meeting of the Pacific Amateur Association of California last week it was decided to hold the annual P. A. A. track meet at San Francisco on September 9, 1912, under the auspices of San Francisco Y. M. C. A.

By all indications Sacramento will be well represented at this meet. Besides the local athletic club, there are quite a number of High School boys registered in the P. A. A.

The P. A. A. meet was held here last year, and the Olympic Club of San Francisco won it by a wide margin. Professor Rittler of the Athletic Club is the P. A. A. representative here, and will have charge of the entry blanks, and of the registration of all local athletes.

WATER RACES AT TO-DAY'S CELEBRATION

WINTERS CARNIVAL DRAWS LARGE CROWDS FROM NEARBY TOWNS.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), July 4.—The big celebration opened here this morning at 9:45 with a display of day fireworks. It was a spectacular feature. At 10:50 the parade started and it was made up of scores of floats, autos and decorated rigs. The town is full of visitors.

The literary exercises were held immediately after the parade and the keys of the city were turned over by Mayor T. H. Fenley to Goddess of Liberty Mrs. T. A. Sparks. The Winters Band rendered music.

This afternoon the ball game between the Sacramento Athletic Club team and the Shreves of San Francisco is an attractive feature. The aquatic sports and races on Winters Lake begin at 3:30 and there are many entries. It is the first time the lake has been used for musement purposes. The aquatic ball game will be a big feature.

This evening there will be a Wild West performance, parade of horribles, concerts, free shows, display of fireworks and a ball.

ATHLETIC CLUB HAS NEXT BOXING SHOW

Clever Boys to Meet in Ring Friday Night

Friday night, when the gong sounds at the Old Pavilion for the Athletic Club's boxing show, some lively fistic events will be staged. All of the men are in the best of condition and anxious to mix it.

Young Ahern is one of the boys who is advancing very rapidly in the boxing game, and promises to show up very well with Nesbit of the Oakland Athletic Club, who is rated as one of the best boys around the Bay. "Fighting" Dick Cowle will again be seen in the ring. He has not fought since his hard battle with Burns of the Stockton Athletic Club.

Young Smith has arrived from Redding, and is hard at work knocking the rough places off. He has a hard man to beat, but he is in the pink of condition and has made the statement that he will put Chris Hampton to the mat before the old boy knows what he is doing.

Salvadore is a favorite over Malley. Undoubetdly the largest crowd that has ever attended the Club's bouts will be present.

PASTIME ATHLETES WIN LETTER CARRIERS' PICNIC GAMES

SF. CHRON. 6-3-11

The track and field meet that featured the annual picnic of the Golden Gate Branch of the Letter Carriers' Association yesterday at Shell Mound Park produced some of the most interesting athletic competition of the picnic season. The honors of the afternoon went to the members of the Pastime Athletic Club, who scored 16 points, with the Irish-American athletes in second place with 14 points. The men representing the Olympic Club did exceptionally well without the star athletes of the team, scoring 13 points.

Harris Bennesen, a Sacred Heart College student, running unattached, won the mile event after a hard run with Elliot Craig of the Olympic Club. Benneson had fifty yards, but Craig overtook the field in the seventh lap and maintained the lead until the final lap, when Benneson's superior staying powers allowed him to go to the front.

Hoenisch, of the Pastime Club, took the honors in the 440-yard run after Doran, of the Irish-American, had led the field from the first hundred yards. Hoenisch captured the event in the last three yards with a splendid spurt.

Kurtz, of the Olympic Club, took the 880-yard run from the scratch mark. O'Shea, of the Irish-American, was his closest competitor, but was never able to make himself dangerous after the Olympic men had passed him, although he appeared to be running in better condition.

Ed Martin of the Irish-American Club drew the inside track in the 176-yard race, and won after a hard tussle with Hoenisch. All the winners in the races received handsome cups and trophies, while the second and third-place men were presented with silver and bronze medals.

The results:

176-yard dash, scratch—Won by Martin, I. A. A. C.; Hoenisch, Pastime Club, second, and Noonan, Pastime Club, third. Time, 0:19 2-5.

THREE RECORDS BROKEN BY AMATEURS

SAC. UN. — 6-2-11

National Meeting of Seniors and Juniors Most Successful in A. A. U. History.

TWO TITLES TO NEW YORK

Third Honor of Day Goes to Member of Olympic Club of San Francisco.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Three senior records were broken and one equaled today in the second and final day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union championship games at Forbes field. This fact, taken with the showing made yesterday by junior athletes, made the meeting one of the most successful in the history of the A. A. U. The records broken were in the 880-yard run, the mile run, and the javelin throwing. The previous record for the 200-yard hurdles was equaled by the man who made it.

From every angle the contests were exceptionally good. It is estimated that 25,000 people witnessed the events.

Weather conditions were ideal. Toward the close of the day the intense heat affected many of the men, but the competitors and their trainers successfully guarded against prostrations.

Two of the records broken went to New York men, members of the Irish-American Athletic club. The third honor of a broken record fell to a member of the Olympic club of San Francisco. Eller of the Irish-American Athletic club equaled his own A. A. U. record in the 220-yard hurdle.

MILE LOWERED THREE SECONDS.

In the 880-yard run M. W. Shepherd, Irish-American A. C., made the fast time of 1:54 1-5, beating the previous American record by one second. In the mile run, A. R. Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., took the race in 4:19 3-5. The former American record was 4:22 4-5.

O. F. Snedigar of the Olympic club, San Francisco, hurled the javelin 165.21 feet, breaking the American record. The previous mark, made by Brodd, Irish-American A. C., last year at New Orleans, was 163 feet 1 inch.

As in the junior contests, the five-mile race was to the fore in interest. C. V. Bonhag, Irish-American A. C., took the lead and held it until the end. Bonhag had the satisfaction of being the victor over W. J. Kramer of the Long Island A. C., who last year took away his laurels. Kramer fell into fourth position in the second lap. Gradually he worked into third, with L. Scott, South Paterson A. C., second.

After several miles Scott was compelled to drop out, putting Kramer second. Bonhag slowly pulled away from the champion. Close to the fourth mile Bonhag's pace became too much for Kramer, and he slowed down. P. Laruna, Aquinas C. C. of Philadelphia, and E. F. E. Fitzgerald, New York A. C., passing him. Another lap found Kramer out of the race. Bonhag won the race easily in 25:50 2-5, with Laruna second, and Fitzgerald third.

HARD FIGHT FOR POLE VAULT.

In the pole vault three men, R. T. Cooke, Jr., Cleveland A. C.; H. Coyle, Chicago university, and S. Bellah, Olympic club, San Francisco, cleared the mark at 12 feet 6 inches. Bars were then raised to 13 feet. Time after time they failed and when the bar was dropped to 12 feet 11 inches they were again unable to clear it. The men then tried for position. They tied with 12 feet 6 inches and could not break it. Finally the matter was decided by draw, Cook first, Coyle second, Bellah third.

A peculiar incident occurred in the running high jump. H. Grumpelt, New York A. C., was first with 6 feet 3 inches. Harry F. Porter, Irish-American A. C., second, 6 feet 1 inch, and H. J. Burdick, Pittsburg A. A., third, 6 feet 3 inches.

Grumpelt and Porter had tied for first place with 6 feet 3 inches. In the jump off Grumpelt again made this height, but Porter could jump only 6 feet 1 inch, putting him in second place. Four men had tied with 6 feet 1 inch, and to decide third position, jumped again. At this juncture Burdick of Pittsburg cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches, equaling the first man and beating the second, but going into third place under the rules.

The points scored by clubs were: Irish-American A. C., 58; New York A. C., 28; Seattle A. C., 12; Olympic club, 11; Boston A. A., 7; Cleveland A. C., 7; Kansas City A. C., 6; Chicago A. A., 6; unattached (2), 5; Pittsburg A. A., 3; Brooklyn G. A. A., 3; Chicago university, 3; Aquinas A. C., 3; South Boston A. C., 1.

Summary:

One-mile run—Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., first; Pedlund, Brookline G. A. A., second; Baker, Cleveland A. C., third. Time, 4:19 3-5.

New A. A. U. record; old record, 4:22 4-5, held by Fred Rogers of New York.

16-pound shot put—McDonald, Irish-American A. C., first, 47 feet 9 inches; Talbot, Kansas City A. C., second, 45

Athletes Who Won Honors in Games at the Stadium.

S.F. CHRON. 6-5-11

ATHLETES COMPETE BEFORE CROWD AT STADIUM

Eleven Events Run Off as Part of Programme to Celebrate Independence Day.

By JOE R. HICKEY.

THE eleven events included in the programme of athletics conducted at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park yesterday as part of the Fourth of July celebration, proved an attractive card for the amateurs on the track and field. Competition in the various events was of close order, due to the handicapping, and the honors were well distributed among the local clubs. The Olympic Club, Sacramento Athletic Club, Pastime Athletic Club, Irish-American Club and the San Francisco Turn Verein all shared in the distribution of prizes. Conditions for running were not ideal, as an overcast sky and cold breeze from the ocean left the young athletes shivering in the immense playground.

In spite of the uninviting weather, there was a large turn out of enthusiasts, who lined the grassy banks of the Stadium and enjoyed the programme, conducted in recognition of the anniversary of Independence day. Heats in the hundred-yard dash inaugurated the meet at 10 o'clock and the entire set of games was completed before the noon hour.

The quarter-mile dash developed the real competition of the day. Hoenish of the Pastime Club made the race from the start, catching the limit runners at the first furlong. He continued his own pace and won from Acton by a decisive margin. Acton of the Pastime Club and Doran of the Irish-American Club put up a hot contest for second place, the advantage being in favor of the Pastime boy.

Wright of the Pastimes and Williams of the Olympic Club put up a hot finish in the two-mile run, the former winning by about four yards in a half-mile struggle. Kurtz of the Olympic Club, running from scratch in the half mile run, came through on the home stretch and won from Street handily. O'Connor was the star for the Irish-Americans, winning the hop, step and jump, and taking second in the shot-put. The results are as follows:

100-yard dash, handicap: First heat—Won by Lorange, unattached, 5 yards; Gates, S. A. C., 2 yards, second; Dickson, O. C., 3 yards, third. Time, 10 seconds. Second heat—Won by Hoenish, P. A. SAC. BEE. 6-5-11

The Moose held their first picnic at Smith's grove yesterday. The morning started out with a game of baseball between the Pickett-Atterbury team and the Central team, which ended by the clothiers winning by the score of 16 to 1.

The boat races were very hard to keep track of because most of the spectators did not know when the races started.

There were $125 in prizes for the winning boats. The following were winners:

In the first race, which was over a course of eight miles, Pankost's No. 27 was a winner in 25 minutes, 8¾ seconds, defeating the Aristo, which finished a close second. The Possum started in the race, but developed engine trouble and did not finish.

The Sacramento Athletic Club cleaned up all of the first places in the field day. Chet Gannon, of the Athletic Club, was the star performer of the meet, taking all four first places.

FOUR RECORDS BROKEN BY JUNIOR ATHLETES

SAC. BEE. 7-1-11

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Junior Athletes of America made a remarkable showing yesterday at Forbes Field when four records were broken and several equaled in the first day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union junior and senior championship games.

The records to fall were the running high jump, pole vault, five-mile race and throwing of the discus. Some of the new marks are remarkable.

One of the surprises came when B. Wagener, of the Pittsburg A. A., competing in the pole vault, cleared the bar at 12 feet 5.64 inches, which is 5.64 inches better than the previous junior American record. Dukes, of the New York A. C., was second, with 12 feet in his first attempt, while Lambert, of Washington University, St. Louis, cleared the 12 feet in one attempt and under the rules went into third place.

O. Johnstone, Boston A. A., made a new record in the running high jump with 6 feet 6.10 inches, while in throwing the discus A. M. Muchs, of the Chicago A. A., broke the record with 123 feet 5 inches. Up to this time the discus record had been held by Bentz, of Seattle, Wash., with 122 feet 9 inches.

Probably the most exciting event was the five-mile race. It was won by G. A. Dull, of Pittsburg A. A., in the record time of 26:08 4-5, beating the junior American record of 26:23 1-5, which had been held by Driscoll, of New York.

P. A. A. MEET AT SAN FRANCISCO

SAC. BEE. 6-30-11

At the meeting of the Pacific Amateur Association of California last week it was decided to hold the annual P. A. A. track meet at San Francisco on September 9, 1912, under the auspices of San Francisco Y. M. C. A.

By all indications Sacramento will be well represented at this meet. Besides the local athletic club, there are quite a number of High School boys registered in the P. A. A.

The P. A. A. meet was held here last year, and the Olympic Club of San Francisco won it by a wide margin. Professor Rittler of the Athletic Club is the P. A. A. representative here, and will have charge of the entry blanks, and of the registration of all local athletes.

WATER RACES AT TO-DAY'S CELEBRATION

WINTERS CARNIVAL DRAWS LARGE CROWDS FROM NEARBY TOWNS.

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WINTERS (Yolo Co.), July 4.—The big celebration opened here this morning at 9:45 with a display of day fireworks. It was a spectacular feature. At 10:50 the parade started and it was made up of scores of floats, autos and decorated rigs. The town is full of visitors.

The literary exercises were held immediately after the parade and the keys of the city were turned over by Mayor T. H. Fenley to Goddess of Liberty Mrs. T. A. Sparks. The Winters Band rendered music.

This afternoon the ball game between the Sacramento Athletic Club team and the Shreves of San Francisco is an attractive feature. The aquatic sports and races on Winters Lake begin at 3:30 and there are many entries. It is the first time the lake has been used for musement purposes. The aquatic ball game will be a big feature.

This evening there will be a Wild West performance, parade of horribles, concerts, free shows, display of fireworks and a ball.

PASTIME ATHLETES WIN LETTER CARRIERS' PICNIC GAMES

S.F. CHRON. 6-3-11

The track and field meet that featured the annual picnic of the Golden Gate Branch of the Letter Carriers' Association yesterday at Shell Mound Park produced some of the most interesting athletic competition of the picnic season. The honors of the afternoon went to the members of the Pastime Athletic Club, who scored 16 points, with the Irish-American athletes in second place with 14 points. The men representing the Olympic Club did exceptionally well without the star athletes of the team, scoring 13 points.

Harris Bennesen, a Sacred Heart College student, running unattached, won the mile event after a hard run with Elliot Craig of the Olympic Club. Benneson had fifty yards, but Craig overtook the field in the seventh lap and maintained the lead until the final lap, when Benneson's superior staying powers allowed him to go to the front.

Hoenisch, of the Pastime Club, took the honors in the 440-yard run after Doran, of the Irish-American, had led the field from the first hundred yards. Hoenisch captured the event in the last three yards with a splendid spurt.

Kurtz, of the Olympic Club, took the 880-yard run from the scratch mark. O'Shea, of the Irish-American, was his closest competitor, but was never able to make himself dangerous after the Olympic men had passed him, although he appeared to be running in better condition.

Ed Martin of the Irish-American Club drew the inside track in the 176-yard race, and won after a hard tussle with Hoenisch. All the winners in the races received handsome cups and trophies, while the second and third-place men were presented with silver and bronze medals.

The results:

176-yard dash, scratch—Won by Martin, I. A. A. C.; Hoenisch, Pastime Club, second, and Noonan, Pastime Club, third. Time, 0:19 2-5.

THREE RECORDS BROKEN BY AMATEURS

SAC. UN. — 6-2-11

National Meeting of Seniors and Juniors Most Successful in A. A. U. History.

TWO TITLES TO NEW YORK

Third Honor of Day Goes to Member of Olympic Club of San Francisco.

PITTSBURG, July 1.—Three senior records were broken and one equaled today in the second and final day's meet of the Amateur Athletic Union championship games at Forbes field. This fact, taken with the showing made yesterday by junior athletes, made the meeting one of the most successful in the history of the A. A. U. The records broken were in the 880-yard run, the mile run, and the javelin throwing. The previous record for the 200-yard hurdles was equaled by the man who made it.

From every angle the contests were exceptionally good. It is estimated that 25,000 people witnessed the events.

Weather conditions were ideal. Toward the close of the day the intense heat affected many of the men, but the competitors and their trainers successfully guarded against prostrations.

Two of the records broken went to New York men, members of the Irish-American Athletic club. The third honor of a broken record fell to a member of the Olympic club of San Francisco. Eller of the Irish-American Athletic club equaled his own A. A. U. record in the 220-yard hurdle.

MILE LOWERED THREE SECONDS.

In the 880-yard run M. W. Shepherd, Irish-American A. C., made the fast time of 1:54 1-5, beating the previous American record by one second. In the mile run, A. R. Kiviat, Irish-American A. C., took the race in 4:19 3-5. The former American record was 4:22 4-5.

O. F. Snedigar of the Olympic club, San Francisco, hurled the javelin 165.21 feet, breaking the American record. The previous mark, made by Brodd, Irish-American A. C., last year at New Orleans, was 163 feet 1 inch.

As in the junior contests, the five-mile race was to the fore in interest. C. V. Bonhag, Irish-American A. C., took the lead and held it until the end. Bonhag had the satisfaction of being the victor over W. J. Kramer of the Long Island A. C., who last year took away his laurels. Kramer fell into fourth position in the second lap. Gradually he worked into third, with L. Scott, South Paterson A. C., second.

After several miles Scott was compelled to drop out, putting Kramer second. Bonhag slowly pulled away from the champion. Close to the fourth mile Bonhag's pace became too much for Kramer, and he slowed down. P. Laruna, Aquinas C. C. of Philadelphia, and E. F. E. Fitzgerald, New York A. C., passing him. Another lap found Kramer out of the race. Bonhag won the race easily in 25:50 2-5, with Laruna second, and Fitzgerald third.

HARD FIGHT FOR POLE VAULT.

In the pole vault three men, R. T. Cooke, Jr., Cleveland A. C.; H. Coyle, Chicago university, and S. Bellah, Olympic club, San Francisco, cleared the mark at 12 feet 6 inches. Bars were then raised to 13 feet. Time after time they failed and when the bar was dropped to 12 feet 11 inches they were again unable to clear it. The men then tried for position. They tied with 12 feet 6 inches and could not break it. Finally the matter was decided by draw, Cook first, Coyle second, Bellah third.

A peculiar incident occurred in the running high jump. H. Grumpelt, New York A. C., was first with 6 feet 3 inches. Harry F. Porter, Irish-American A. C., second, 6 feet 1 inch, and H. J. Burdick, Pittsburg A. A., third, 6 feet 3 inches.

Grumpelt and Porter had tied for first place with 6 feet 3 inches. In the jump off Grumpelt again made this height, but Porter could jump only 6 feet 1 inch, putting him in second place. Four men had tied with 6 feet 1 inch, and to decide third position, jumped again. At this juncture Burdick of Pittsburg cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches, equaling the first man and beating the second, but going into third place under the rules.

The points scored by clubs were: Irish-American A. C., 58; New York A. C., 28; Seattle A. C., 12; Olympic club, 11; Boston A. A., 7; Cleveland A. C., 7; Kansas City A. C., 6; Chicago A. A., 6; unattached (9), 5; Pittsburg A. A., 3; Brooklyn G. A. A., 3; Chicago university, 3; Aquinas A. C., 3; South Boston A. C., 1.

Summary:

One-mile run—Keviat, Irish-American A. C., first; Pedlund, Brookline G. A. A., second; Baker, Cleveland A. C., third. Time, 4:19 3-5.

New A. A. U. record; old record, 4:22 4-5, held by Fred Rogers of New York.

16-pound shot put—McDonald, Irish-American A. C., first, 47 feet 9 inches; Talbot, Kansas City A. C., second, 45

S. A. C. WINS FROM JAPS

In yesterday morning's game played at Buffalo Park between the Keio University team of Japan, and the aggregation representing the Sacramento Athletic Club the local boys copped the long end of the 6 to 4 score.

The game was well attended, especially by the Japanese fans, who were more vociferous than usual in cheering their little brown countrymen on every good play.

In the first frame, Harry Koch, the giant portside gunner of the Athletics, hurt his ankle but occupied the mound in a very creditable manner despite this drawback. One of the features of the game was the snappy performance of the Japanese in fielding the ball as well as their ability as welders of the willow "Spider" Baum umpired with fair rulings.

ATHLETICS TAKE KEIOS INTO CAMP

Champions of Japan Put Up Fast Game but Fall Before Team From Local Club.

SAC. UN. 6-26-11

The crack Keio university team, champions of Japan, went down to defeat yesterday morning at Buffalo park, before the fast Sacramento Athletic club nine, by a score of 6 to 4.

Keio scored one run in the first frame, when Kanki walked with one down, went to second on a wild throw, and came home on Miyoki's single to left. The Athletics came back with five in their half, on hits by Hamilton, Gideon, Wright, errors by Sasaki and some fast base running, notably by Eldred. They added another in the second, and Keio made one in the third. The Athletics threatened several times, but could not score again.

The Japanese fans went wild with delight in the seventh when Keio rang the bell twice.

Harry Koch, the big southpaw, twirled a great game for the club team, although he was handicapped by turning his ankle in the first inning. His best work was in the fifth, when Keio filled the bags with none out. Koch tightened up and fanned the next three. The throwing and hitting of Guy Wright was a feature, as was the playing of Gideon on short.

The Japanese players proved that they are great fielders and they also showed fine form with the stick, discrediting the statement that all Japanese are weak hitters. The Athletics have good reason to feel elated over this victory, as Keio has defeated many of the crack college teams of the Middle West. The score:

SPECIAL FEATURES OFFERED BY MANAGEMENT SUNDAY AFTERNOONS.

RIVERSIDE, July 4.—Otto Rittler and Bob Schenks of the Sacramento Athletic club, together with other members of that organization, gave an excellent exhibition of fancy swimming and diving on Sunday afternoon. The spring-board diving, together with the high dives from the rafters of the building, were the features which brought forth great applause from the spectators.

The management of the bath-house is endeavoring to encourage attractions of the nature for Sunday afternoons, and all who attend the bath-house may expect to see some wonderful exhibitions in the art of swimming and diving from time to time.

Dan Healy, manager of the Riverside Swimming Baths, reports that by 10 o'clock this morning all the women's dressing rooms were filled and that there were so many other women who wished to swim that it was necessary to accommodate them in a section of the men's department.

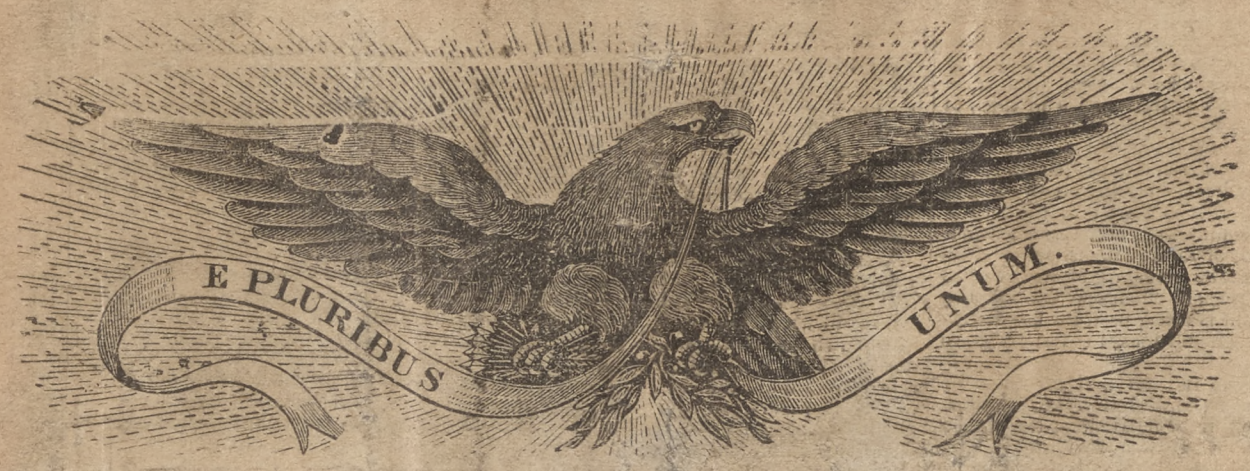
Let the Eagle Scream!!



All in Readiness for the Grand Lake Carnival and Fourth of July Celebration

Preparations are now complete for the grandest celebration Winters has ever had.

The program fills the day full and there is not a minute of time the visitor's attention will not be held by some manner of attraction.

The town is now in holiday attire. Stringing of street lights began Monday and the lighting system on the lake is also about completed. Winters will blaze in glory on the evening of the Natal Day.

Decorating of business houses began the first of this week and the business section is a mass of flags and bunting. Professional decorators have been busy all week and the results of their work is evident.

Many residences are also decorated; all will be before the Fourth. The whole town, residence as well as business sections, have entered into the spirit of the occasion that will make the day a memorable one in Winters.

Saturday night, during the concert by the band, the electricity will be turned on and the illumination scheme tried out. Only the finishing touches remain to complete the gala attire of the city and place it in readiness for its thousands of guests on the Fourth.

Marshal of the Day, Dr. J. H. Haile has the line of march picked out and has selected his aids from the neighboring towns. Most of the lodges have individual floats and other organizations and business establishments are busy in preparing attractive and interesting exhibitions for the parade.

The Wild West performance by the Redmen of Winters, Dixon and Vacaville assisted by the local lodge of Native Sons promises to be an interesting feature.

The Lake attractions are the leaders however and no end of entertainment is provided in the program by this feature.

With various rowing and swimming races, high diving, bathing and boating facilities for all, the fire dive, music, spring boards, slides and other aquatic games and sports this alone it would seem would more than furnish amusement for the whole day.

There will be band music a-plenty. The Dixon and Winters bands will be on tap all day and facilities for dancers will be provided both during the afternoon and evening.

The parade of horribles begins the evening's performance. A grand display of fireworks will be a feature of the early evening's program. This pyrotechnic display will be assised by the Japanese who have become famous for the quality of their pieces.

The base ball game in the afternoon will be high grade and hotly contested. The contesting teams are two of the best amateur teams in the state.

Rev. W. E. Bobbitt of Woodland has been secured as orator of the day which is itself a strong attraction and an assurance of a patriotic address of high quality.

And so on through the day, one thing of interest will follow another throughout.

The official program appears in another column.

"Tompkin's Hired Man"

Its a go this time. This long looked for show comes off sure tonight. All the actors and actresses are local talent and it will be interesting to see them perform.

The "Parliament of Servants" which the Women's Improvement Club have prepared will also be put on at this show. These two plays are good ones and will prove an entertainment well worth the money.

The funds go to the Fourth of July celebration fund.

Mrs. T. A. Sparks Goddess

The contest for the selection of the Goddess of Liberty for the Fourth of July celebration closed Saturday night. Towards the close the spirit livened and when the votes were counted Mrs. T. A. Sparks had won the honor by 2600 votes. Misses Grace Pleasants and Josie Brown being the next highest contestants were chosen as maids of honor.

Mrs. Sparks is one of the most beautiful ladies of Winters and the trio would loose none of their beauty if seated by the side of the prettiest. Mrs. Sparks will make a fine goddess and the selected maids of honor cannot be excelled.

The Women's Improvement Club will prepare the float in which the Goddess of Liberty will ride, which is an assurance that it will be a beautiful if not the most beautiful turn-out in the parade.

BUTCHERS HOLD EXCITING MEET

S.F. CALL. 6-15-11

Fat Men Prove Heroes in One Lap Race and Every One Loves Them

"Butchers' day" at Shell Mound park yesterday was pronounced by the officials of the gathering to be one of the most successful ever held by the San Francisco and Alameda county butchers. Several thousand members with their families and friends attended the affair, the main feature of which was the program of athletic sports conducted under the jurisdiction of the Pacific athletic association. Besides these games there were races for members of the Butchers' exchange, which proved to be the most exciting on the program.

The most amusing race of the day, and the one that caused the greatest interest among the butchers, was the fat men's race. To be eligible for this event the entrant had to tip the beam at 200 pounds or over. A large field lined up for the race, which was once around the track. At the gun J. J. Kerwin, a midget of 260 pounds, jumped into the lead. He held his place for the first 75 yards, but he was evidently not in form for the hard race A. Crowll gave him. Crowll weighs 220 pounds, and, being in better form than Kerwin, he took the pole and had an easy time for the rest of the race, running like a veteran and winning by five yards. A. Schnucker, a tiny man of 230 pounds, won third money.

The races held by the amateur athletes brought out large fields and the competition was keen. In the 176 yard event heats had to be run off, the first two men in each qualifying for the final. This race was a fight between Hoenisch of the Pastimes and Gerhardt of the Olympic club, with the honors finally going to the former. Hoenisch took the lead from the start and was never headed, though Gerhardt made a great effort to catch him in the final few yards.

In the mile run a field of 10 men faced the starter. The back markers set a good pace and were well up with the limit men in the sixth lap. At this stage Williams of the Olympic club, who had come up from the 40 yard mark, took the lead and held it for the rest of the race. He was challenged by Wright in the last lap, but easily shook him off and won.

The 352 yard handicap went to Martin of the Irish-American club. In this race there was considerable jostling, most of the men being mixed up in the affair.

In the 880 yard handicap the best race was for second place, between O'Shea and Hanford. Greer of the Pastimes won the event with ease, but it was left to O'Shea and Hanford to furnish the excitement, the St. Ignatius lad just getting the place by a few inches.

Both field events, the high and the broad jumps, were won by Gates, the Sacramento athletic club entry. He jumped in good style.

After the athletic events the crowd enjoyed dancing in the pavilion. Two orchestras furnished music in different sections of the park. Following is a summary of the athletic events:

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS FOR TRIP TO WINTERS

SAC. BEE, 6-27-11

"All aboard for Winters." is the slogan that adorns the club rooms of the Sacramento Athletic Club. Everyone is making preparations for a trip to Winters on the Fourth of July with the S. A. C. baseball team and the swimming team. The local Club will most likely have a special car, and Professor Rittler already has started a list of names of members who wish to reserve transportation.

At 2:30 the afternoon of the Fourth, the Athletics will play the Shreves of San Francisco baseball. This game will be of a great deal of interest, as both teams represent the best of their locality, and a good prize will be given to the winner.

Immediately after the ball game there will be a carnival of aquatic sports on the lake, which will include swimming, boat racing, high diving, aquatic baseball, tug of war and other fancy stunts, and novelties. The Club is to send a team of swimmers. Captain Wahlander and Professor Rittler on Wednesday evening will pick the team that will represent the Club at Winters. Try-outs will be held at the Swimming Baths.

The request of Otto Rittler on behalf of the Sacramento Athletic Club, that that organization be allowed to use the high school grounds for training purposes during the months of July and August, was granted by the school directors Thursday night. The Athletics have been training for the track meet to be held in San Francisco on September 9th. They have been working out on the McKinley Park grounds, but hae abandoned that place because the ground is too hard.

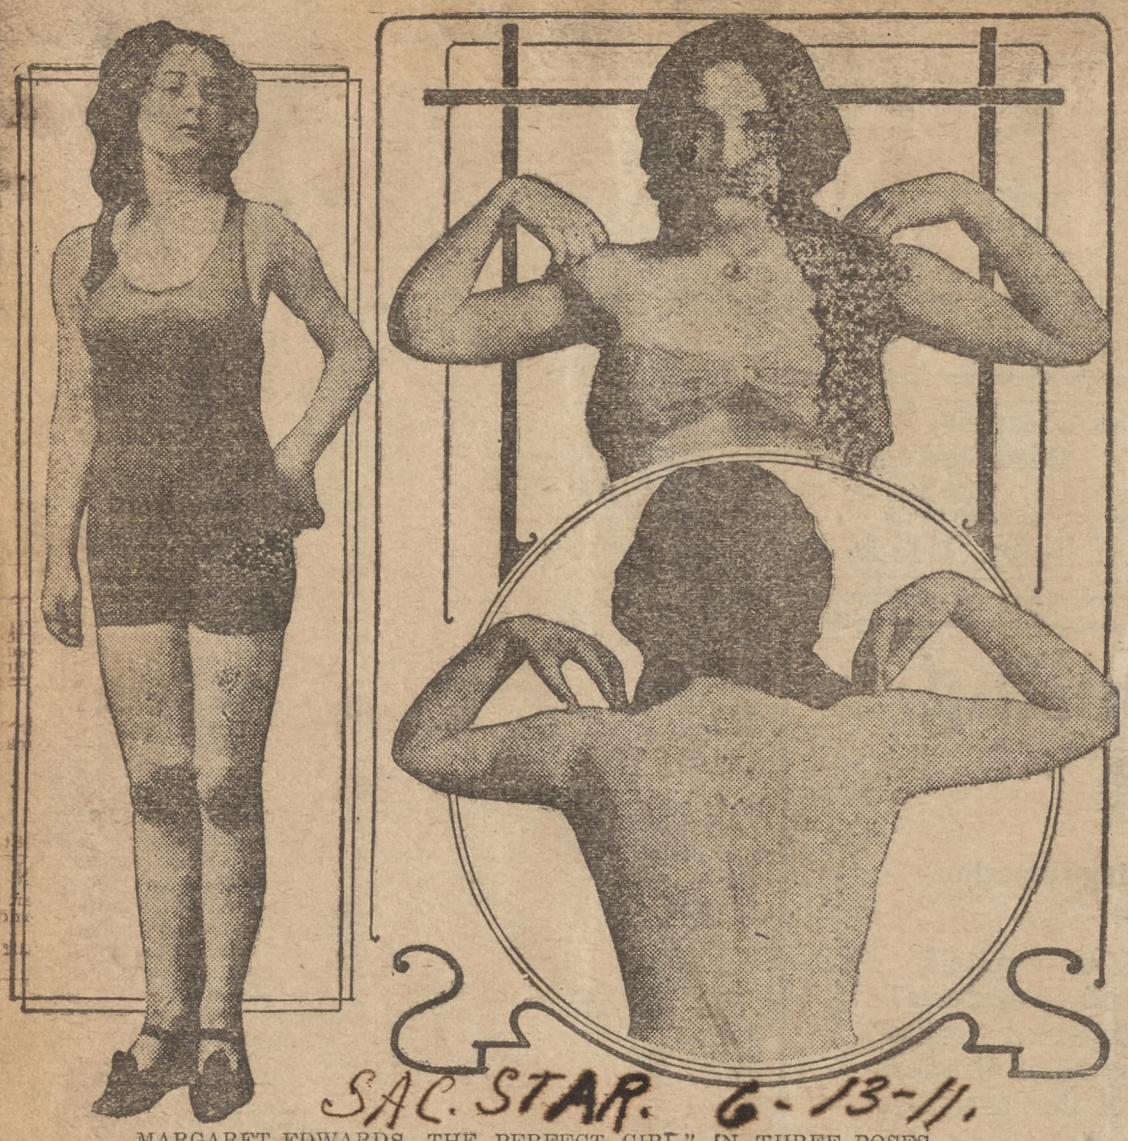
"PERFECT GIRL" NOW A TEACHER--ON THE STAGE



SAC. STAR. 6-13-11.

MARGARET EDWARDS, THE PERFECT GIRL," IN THREE POSES.

BERKELEY, June 13.—Margaret Edwards, "the perfect girl," has gone on the vaudeville stage to teach to the women of the land the exercises that rescued her from death when the doctors gave her up and that won for her a world's prize for physical beauty. She is now less than 14 years old, but her proportions are those of a perfectly developed woman.

When Margaret was four weeks old the doctors told her mother, Mrs. L. Edyth Edwards, that science could not save her. Then Mrs. Edwards went to work. By teaching right breathing, sane diet and scientifically chosen exercise, continued to this day, she not only saved the life of the little one, but made of her the "perfect girl." Two years ago, in a contest conducted by the Physical Culture Society, Margaret won the gold medal from over 2000 other contestants for being the most perfectly formed girl. Here are her measurements: Neck, 11½ inches; arm, 9; forearm, 8¾; wrist, 6; elbow, 8¾; chest, normal, 31; chest, contracted, 27; chest expanded, 32½; bust, 33; waist, 23; hips, 34; thigh 19; calf, 13.

Scientists at the University of California have several times taken Margaret's measurements, watching her growth and development with great interest. Her stage debut was planned by her mother in an effort to teach to others the secrets of Margaret's health and beauty.

"I want to impress upon every mother in the land," declares Mrs. Edwards in the speech in which she introduces Margaret to her audiences, "that they can do for their children what I have done for mine. They have but to know four cardinal principles to do so, and these are: Breathe with the muscles, walk with the muscles, sit with the muscles, stand with the muscles. Sane living will do the rest."

CRACK RUNNERS TO COMPETE AT PICNIC

S.R.C.F. 6-13-11

Many Entries for Athletic Events at Butchers' Celebration at Shellmound.

An interesting programme of athletic events is scheduled to take place at the butchers' picnic, which will be held at Shellmound Park to-morrow. The meet has been sanctioned by the Pacific Athletic Association and a large number of entries has been received.

In the 176-yard scratch race a number of fast sprinters have sent in their names and some close races should result in the various heats. As the track is circular and is unsuited for a big field in a short distance, the entries have been divided into numerous heats in this event so that not more than four or five runners will be in each.

Among the runners who will take part in this race are Campbell, Macaulay, Snedigar and Gerhardt of the Olympic Club, Gates of the Sacramento Athletic Club, Hoenisch of the Pastimes and Martin, the St. Mary's College runner.

The half-mile promises to be a good race, as the handicaps have been nicely arranged. Gates, Campbell and Macaulay have been placed on the scratch mark, and if these men can get through the field a close race should be assured. In the quarter-mile Campbell and Macaulay are again at scratch. Another good race should take place in the 352 yards, two laps, which has received a big entry. This will be run in heats.

Horine, the Stanford high jumper, who has cleared 6 feet 4 inches this spring, will give away liberal handicaps to a number of good performers in the high jump. In the broad jump Olie Snedigar is at scratch and Baumbaugh, who won several events at the Knights of the Red Branch games, is also entered.

The athletic events will begin at 1:30 o'clock and the programme consists of the following events:

176 yards, scratch; 352 yards, handicap; 440 yards, handicap; half-mile, handicap; one mile, handicap; running high jump and running broad jump.

Athletic Events at Thistle Club Picnic

SPEC. 6-11

Another of the successful picnic track and field games will be held at Shell Mound Park this afternoon, when a long list of well-known athletes will take part in the Scottish Thistle Club's games. The races will start at 2 o'clock. The greater number of the events are handicap affairs. The exception is the 176-yard dash, which is a scratch race. Aside from the straight programme a large number of impromptu races will be run, in which every one is eligible. Several well-known athletes from as far north as Sacramento will take part and some earnest competition should result. Many handsome prizes are to be given to the athletes finishing first, second and third, while loving cups will be given to the winner of the relay race.

S. A. C. 6, KEIO 4

SACRAMENTO, June 25.—The Japanese ball tossers from Keio university were beaten by the Sacramento athletic club team here today by a score of 6 to 4. The inability of the Keio batters to hit the offerings of Koch kept their score down, while the club team found Sugada, the Keio twirler, for 10 hits. Four of these were gleaned in the first inning and, with errors, netted five runs. The local Japanese banqueted the Keio team after the game.

All Teams
mento Athletic Club Contest Make Good Showing.

The gallery to the handball courts of the Sacramento Athletic club was packed yesterday by enthusiasts who witnessed some of the fastest and classiest play ever seen on the local courts. The teams all seem evenly matched, as is indicated by the scores, and it will be impossible to pick a winner in either division.

In the first division Pugh and Doval lost the second set of play to McCullough and Strachan after taking the first game in easy fashion.

The second set saw one of the hardest contests of the day, Marston and Bronson causing the Blake brothers—Joe and Irva—to extend themselves to gain a double victory.

Sherwin and Sherwin created a favorable impression by taking their set 21-15 and 21-13, while Elwood and Damm defeated Toland and Childs by a like score.

Palm and Boyer started strong after Rose and Reese, taking the first game by the top-heavy score of 21-3, and the losers caused some little stir by playing the come-back stunt in the second game and took the game 21-15.

Each team will play two games against every team entered in their respective class, the final result to be determined on the percentage basis.

Play will be continued Wednesday evening with many new teams in the running. How they stand:

TEN FAST SESSION'S START S. A. C.'S HANDBALL

The Sacramento Athletic Club's handball tourney was started on its way yesterday when ten fast matches were played in the first round of the soft ball tourney. A great deal of interest is being taken in the games by members of the clubs. The galleries in both courts were packed.

Joe and Irva Blake jumped into a lead among the first division players by winning twice from Marston and Bronson. The Blake brothers were not up to good form and were only saved from defeat by catching Marston and Bronson in the same condition. The standing:

S. A. C. Basketers Practice
Are Out for Big Honors

Athletics First to Start Season With Active Training

Now that the football season is about half over and the rain begins to fall, indoor games intrude into the spotlight. Basketball, the great Winter sport, again looms up.

The Sacramento Athletic Club is the only place where the basketers have begun to do any active work. This week saw the club's likely material hard at it under the careful eye of Captain Ted te Veltrop.

Last year's heavyweight team won the championship of The Bee League and was considered to be one of the best aggregations in Superior California. This year the boys are again going out after local and Superior California honors. They are also going to play the champions of Southern Oregon for the title.

Manager Harry Duke has many games lined up. He is not going to get the boys any engagements until after November 1st. The Lodi High School team has written for a Thanksgiving game. The locals will more than likely take the trip to the Tokay City.

Practice will be held in the Club gymnasium every Monday and all of the members who did not show up last week are expected to be on hand Monday evening. Bill McNeeley, the shifty little Captain of the last year State Champion Lightweight Team, is showing up great during practice.

DARK HORSES SLIP OVER SURPRISE IN HANDBALL PLAY

Favorites in Athletic Club Play Are Given Close Matches by Inexperienced Teams.

Exciting play with many surprises featured the sets in the handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday morning. Many looked upon as winners were sadly upset, while the dark horses came from behind and played classy ball. This prevailed generally in the second division, though Strachan and McCulloch threw a scare into the camp of Blake and Blake during the second game of their set that caused the champions a great deal of uneasiness, as the big crowd of enthusiasts were pulling hard for Strachan and McCulloch, who had an 8 to 0 lead. Their lead was short-lived, as Blakes were soon on even terms, and by hard play managed to pull through the set to a 21 to 11 victory.

The second division teams furnished the real thrillers of the day, and as the percentage now stands there is not a team which shows a perfect score, which indicate that there will be no runaway affair in this division and new champions will be declared.

The result of yesterday's play is as follows:

First Division—Blake and Blake beat Strachan and McCulloch 21-5 and 21-11; Yoerk and Bacon beat Pugh and Doval 21-11 and 21-2.

Second Division—Sherwin and Sherwin split with Mansfield and Gill 18-21 and 21-15; Elwood and Damm split with Palm and Boyer 21-20 and 10-21; Snyder and Payne beat Thayer and Morrissey 21-14 and 21-4; Wahlander and McDonough beat Dr. Gundrum and Dickson 21-14 and 21-14, and split with Rose and Reese 21-13 and 18-21.

SPORT BUBBLES

Strachan and McCullock triumphed over Simmermacher and Shaw yesterday in the hardest match of the Sacramento Athletic Club's tournament. The scores were 21-20, 21-10.

HARD-FOUGHT MATCH IS FEATURE OF HANDBALL

Winning two games, the first by a margin of only one point, and the second by two points, Strachan and McCullock jumped into the limelight last night as the winners of the hardest-fought match yet played in the Sacramento Athletic club's handball tournament. Simmermacher and Shaw were the defeated team in this match, these two teams being the only ones of the first division to meet last night, the scores being 21-20, 21-19.

Results of second division matches were as follows: Sherwin and Sherwin defeated Toland and Childs, 21-13, 21-19; Dr. Gundrum and Dixon defeated Elwood and Damm, 21-16, 21-10; Mansfield and Gill defeated Palm and Boyer, 21-11, 21-13; Snyder and Payne broke even with Wahlander and McDonough, 20-21, 21-16.

S. A. C. COURTS SCENE OF FAST CONTESTS

The Sacramento Athletic Club's handball courts were the scene of some lively play last evening. There was one game played among the first division men. It was the most warmly contested so far in the doubles tourney.

Archie Strachen and McColloch were the victors over Gus Simmermacher and Shaw in two games with 21 to 20 and 21 to 19 scores. Both games were hard fought, and the scores show how evenly matched the teams were.

Results of second division matches were as follows. Sherwin and Sherwin defeated Toland and J. Childs, 21-13, 21-19; Dr. Gundrum and S. Dixon defeated Elwood and Damm, 21-16, 21-10; Mansfield and Gill defeated Gene Palm and Boyer, 21-11, 21-13; Snyder and Payne broke even with Charles Wahlander and McDonough, 20-21, 21-16.

Prospects Bright for Clever Athletic Club Team

Interest among the basketball players of the Sacramento Athletic Club is growing. Twelve men showed up on the first evening's practice and fifteen on the last this week.

Harry te Veltrup, Captain and Coach of the Athletics, looks forward to one of the best teams that has represented the local club in a long while. The giant center is working hard with his men and they are getting into shape a great deal faster than he expected.

The new material is showing up particularly well. Most of the recruits are old players in Eastern school teams. A large number of the local Y. M. C. A. men also are wearing the Athletics' colors this year and are trying out.

Of the new men who are showing to a good advantage are A. Lowt and Philip Ash. Lowt played on the University of Mississippi team, while Ash was a guard on the Oxford University, Maine, five. He played two seasons on this team when it won the State Championship.

FAST MATCHES ON SLATE IN HANDBALL TOMORROW

Class play, resulting in the most interesting games ever seen in the courts of the Sacramento Athletic club, continues to feature the handball tournament now being conducted by the popular Ninth street organization, and interest will not lag tomorrow morning, judging from the sets.

At the present time it does not seem that Joe and Irva Blake are in danger of being ousted from first place, but there is always the possibility of a reversal of form, in which instance one of the supposedly weaker teams may show a flash and slip a game or two over on the leaders of the first division.

Tomorrow's games will be as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

Delano and Bronson; Blake and Blake.

Strachan and McCulloch; Marston and Russell.

Simmermacher and Shaw; Pugh and Doval.

Bacon and Yoerk; Lobner and Morris.

SECOND DIVISION.

Sherwin and Sherwin; Morrissey and Thayer.

Snyder and Payne; Rose and Reese

Dr. Gundrum and Dickson; Toland and Childs.

Green and Rotholz; Flammer and Flammer.

Morris and McGillican; Palm and Boyer.

Wahlander and McDonough; Elwood and Damm.

Mansfield and Gill; Ross and Corson.

Irva and Joe Blake won their games yesterday in the first division play of the double handball tourney in progress at the Sacramento Athletic Club. This puts the brothers well in front, with a total of six games won and none lost.

Sid Root and Will Trainor have entered the first division play. Root was Blake's partner last year when they won the Pacific Coast soft ball hand ball championship from McGurie and Hampton of the Olympic Club, San Francisco.

The following scores were made yesterday: First division—Blake and Blake defeated Delano and Bronson, 21—7, 21—8; Simmermacher and Schaw defeated Pugh and Doval, 21—3, 21—4.

Second division—Sherwin and Sherwin defeated Wheat and Bedee, 21—4, 21—0. Palm and Boyer defeated Morris and McKilliken, 21—14, 21—11. Payne and Snyder defeated Ross and Rose, 21—13, 21—13. Flammer and Flammer split the games with Green and Rothoz, 21—9 and 13—21.

The teams now stand:

ATHLETIC CLUB IS DEFEATED IN YOLO

Passed Ball in Ninth Inning Is Cause of Loss of First Game by the S. A. C. Outfit.

Special to the Union.

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), March 31.—The Sacramento Athletic club went down to a five to four defeat at the hands of the Woodland baseball team in the opening game of the season here this afternoon. The Athletics outhit the locals, 10 to 8, but a passed ball by Folck in the ninth inning allowed W. Baird to cross the rubber with winning run with two men out.

Neither team scored until the eighth inning, when the Athletics chased four runs across on four bunched singles, a couple of stolen bases and a sacrifice fly. The locals then proceeded to even things up by scoring a like number of runs on five hits and errors by Donald and Sheehan. Gerig's running one-handed catch of Pierce's long drive to right in the fourth was the fielding feature.

BASEBALL NEWS.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Sacramento Athletic Club and Woodland will play on the diamond at Recreation Park. The attendance last Sunday at the opening game showed that the fans are ready for baseball, and doubtless another big crowd will be in attendance tomorrow. The band will be among those present.

Several changes in the local line-up are expected to strengthen the team very materially, and now that the boys have had time to get over the first stage of nervousness doubtless they will make a better showing.

The teams will line up as follows:

HAMMONTON BEATS ATHLETICS.

Special to the Union.

HAMMONTON (Yuba Co.), May 19.—The Sacramento Athletic Club baseball team was beaten by Hammonton team today in one of the best games ever seen here. The final score, after nine innings of a light rain, stood 4 to 2 in favor of the locals. Each team made only four hits, but the club team gave its pitchers weak support compared with that dished up by Hammonton.

Doyle and Wright, pitching for the Athletics, twirled winning ball, fanning 12 men and allowing only four hits between them. But they were given weak support, and this brought defeat. The Sacramento infield pulled off some clever double plays, and cut off several runs. Donald's double off the Hammonton pitcher, Browning, was the batting feature. The game was played in the fast time of one hour and 15 minutes.

ATHLETICS WIN.

DIXON, July 1.—The local team went down to defeat before the Sacramento Athletics yesterday, 7 to 5, in a fast game. Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Dixon	0	0	5

Batteries: Doyle and Hockduffer; Huber, Rohrer and Eames.

SACRAMENTO ATHLETICS WIN FROM ROCKLIN

The Sacramento Athletics won from the crack team representing Rocklin, composed of the pick of Placer county, at Loomis yesterday, by the score of 6 to 4. The game was tied at 1 to 1 until the sixth frame, but the Athletics cinched the game in this inning with four hits and four runs.

Pappa's hitting and Sparhawk's and Sheehan's fielding featured the Athletics' playing. Hebuck pitched a fine game for Rocklin and stole third and home in the second frame. "Mike" Heilman was on the mound for the club boys, fanning ten, and was strong in the pinches.

Summary. Three base hits—H. Hebuck. Two base hits—Nixon. Sacrifice hits—C. Halonen. Bases on balls—Off Heilman, 6; off Hebuck, 2. Struck out—By Heilman, 10; by Hebuck, 13. Hit by pitcher—Hughson, Sheehan. Double plays—Pappa to Donald to Sparhawk. Wild pitches—Heilman, Hebuck. Time—1:45. Umpires — McDonald of Sacramento; Phosi of Loomis.

Elimination Tourney For Semi-Pros Is Prevented By Hold-Out Managers

Eight Weeks' Championship Series Will Be Arranged in August to Determine Possession of the Trophy Cup Offered by the Sacramento Union.

Semi-professional baseball managers of Northern California as a class are not yet matured to such a stage where they can see the advantages in a regularly organized and centrally conducted baseball tournament. The fans and players of the teams are ready and anxious for the tournament, but there are just enough of the managers who think more of their own purse strings than of the real needs of the game to make the proposed Northern California Baseball Tournament as originally suggested by the Union an impossibility for the season of 1912.

But the offer of a perpetual trophy cup made by the Sacramento Union to the champion semi-pro team of Northern California still holds good, and even though the tournament scheme will not go through this year the Union will conduct a championship series among eight or ten teams to be selected about the middle of August and the winner of this series will be awarded the cup. The team winning the cup this season will defend its possession of the trophy in a regularly organized tournament which the Union will conduct in the season of 1913. If the teams which held out this year still object to the tournament plan next year they will be left out in the cold, for already the plans have been indorsed by enough clubs to promise the holdout clubs a hard time getting games next season.

This season, however, the clubs will be allowed to play their own games, run their own risks of getting expenses on their trips away from home, and fact their own problems which will arise when players begin to desert the clubs whose managers never book and games away from their home grounds. The Union will render all possible assistance to team managers in booking games and in publishing reports of the results, and after the semi-pro teams have played their own schedules for four months, the Union will select eight or ten teams which have made the best showing and to these teams the proposition of a championship series for the Union championship trophy will be made.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES PLANNED.

The selection of the clubs which have made the best showing in these preliminary four months will be based upon the comparative scores made, and if any club should raise any objection because it is not rated as a championship possibility by the first of August, let the fans ask their manager whether by chance he was not one of those who held out on the tournament plan and thus deprived his club of a chance at the championship honors. All clubs will be treated without prejudice in making these selections for the championship series, and the views of their managers on the tournament will not affect the selection. But comparative scores where teams book their own games, some with weak teams and some with strong teams, must of necessity prove less satisfactory a basis of selection than the tournament plan would have offered.

The Union's columns are open to be of any possible assistance to semi-pro managers in arranging games, and Kimball-Upson company, the Sacramento sporting goods firm, has arranged to conduct a booking agency for the scheduling of games between semi-pro and amateur teams of Northern California.

The championship series for the Sacramento Union's championship trophy is proposed to start the last week in August and extend over a period of seven or eight weeks to the middle of October.

ATHLETICS POUND DIXON SLABSTERS

Sacramento Team Takes Kindly to Offerings of Huber and Rohrer and Win Game.

Special to the Union.

DIXON (Solano Co.), June 30.—The fast Sacramento Athletics completely routed the Dixon team today by the score of 7 to 5. The Athletics put up a fast, errorless game, and showed some of the fastest team work of the season. They batted Huber out of the box and treated Hans Rohwer harshly.

Hockduffer, the new catcher of the Athletics, showed up very strong, and Les Sheehan put up a brilliant game at first. Doyle fanned nine of the Dixonites, and Huber and Rohrer struck out four men apiece. Score:

HANDBALL LEADERS ARE UNCHANGED IN DAY'S PLAY

Six Matches Run Off and Plenty of Fast Playing Offered on Athletic Club Courts.

Six sets were run off in the handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday morning, and while some classy play was indulged in, there was no noticeable change in the standing of the various teams, Blake brothers' pulling further away from their nearest competitors in the first division, while play in the second division left the teams of Sherwin and Sherwin, Mansfield and Gill, Snyder and Payne, Wahlander and McDonough and Elwood and Damm closely bunched for first honors.

Flammer and Flammer and Green and Rotholz played their first set yesterday and give promise of being contenders all the way.

Sidney Root, formerly partner with Irva Blake of the 1911-12 championship team, has decided to enter the first division with Will Trainor. This will make a strong team, and will create additional interest in the first division.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS READY FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team under the direction of Manager Duke is fast rounding into shape for what promises to be the busiest season in its career. The season will probably be opened at Davis with the State Farm school team next week; the locals will go to Lodi for their Thanksgiving Day game, and other tentative dates are on the calendar up to the last of December. After that time the Athletic club team will be open to meet any team in this section of the state.

Players who reported for last night's practice at the club gymnasium were as follows: Anderson, Edmunds, Ash, Lott, te Veltrup, McNealy, Hill, Asselena, Donald, Chipman and Duke.

FAST HANDBALL SETS SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY

Many good handball sets are scheduled for play on the courts of the Sacramento Athletic Club to-morrow morning, and it is expected that many changes will take place in the standing of the teams, especially in the second class.

The first division is expected to bring forth many surprises, as the teams of Root and Trainor and Donald and Moore are real first-place contenders and should make a classy showing.

There are now fifty-two contestants entered in the tournament, which is the greatest ever held in Superior California.

HANDBALL TOURNEY ONLY SPORT EVENT

Indoor Athletics Will Hold Sway With Rain Keeping Golfers and Soccerites Idle.

With rain threatening to cancel the only local outdoor sports, soccer and golf, today, the handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club in the Ninth street gymnasium will have full sway and there should be a record breaking gallery when the teams line up this morning for a busy day's schedule. All of the teams have shown themselves well matched thus far and with several teams bunched near the top of the first and second division heaps there should be some fast scrambling for the honors in today's matches.

Thus far the leadership of the two divisions has developed into a family affair, with the Blake brothers leading the first division and the Sherwin brothers leading the second division. Each of these teams is slated for a hard match in today's schedule, which is as follows:

CRACK PLAYERS DEFEATED.

Two handball players of the first magnitude were stripped of honors last night by two players of a minor magnitude at the Sacramento Athletic club. The board of directors enjoyed the slaughter. Delano and Pugh, players of the first magnitude, who pride themselves on their prowess at the game, went down to defeat before Mansfield and Gill, players of lesser skill—presumably—in a special match game. The core was 21.4, 21.5.

WINGED 'S' BASKETERS HAVE STIFF GAME BOOKED

Good Material Turns Out; Season Will Open Next Saturday

Basketball is the great sport at the Sacramento Athletic Club these days. The largest training squad ever to turn out at the local club is hard at work three times a week.

The Athletics five will open the season next Saturday evening at Dixon against the fast Dixon team. Thanksgiving Day the boys will clash with one of the best teams north of San Francisco, where they meet the speedy Lodi basketers in a game that is being featured by the Tokay boys as the big game of the year.

Manager Harry Duke, of the Winged S five has games lined up with the University of Oregon and Nevada. He is also planning to arrange a game with the speedy team of the University of California during the latter part of the season.

Captain Harry Veltrop, who is playing center and has performed with some of the best Eastern college teams, stated this morning that he never had such a collection of good timber as is at the club this year.

Handball Tourney Now Center of Interest in Athletic Club Sports

By FRANK BACON.

UNIVERSAL activity in every line of athletics is making the Sacramento Athletic club a popular place these days, and it is considered a poor day when less than a hundred members fail to enter the gym or handball courts for the beneficial exercise hundreds of other men, young or old, should be taking regularly.

Every department of the club is receiving a full share of attention—gymnasium work, boxing, wrestling, bag-punching, the handball courts are never idle, a friendly game of pool or billiards is always on and even the parlor athletes are more active than usual.

Never before in the history of the club have so many aspirants for basketball honors come to the front, and those who are endeavoring to keep the club to the fore will be well rewarded, as many choice dates have already been closed, and from distant Eugene, Oregon, and Reno, Nevada, come requests that the club teams visit these cities during the coming season.

RUGBY GAME AT STOCKTON.

The Rugby squad will play their final game of the season at Stockton against the Stockton Athletic association team Thanksgiving day, and then it is quite likely that many members of the Ruggers will help organize a soccer team at the S. A. C., as an invitation has been extended by the local soccer league for the club to enter a team.

Physical Instructor Bedee has again undertaken the gym. classes and every Tuesday and Friday evening a marked increase is noted. These exercises, as taught scientifically, are wonderful helps to the upbuilding and preservation of the physical system, and it is really surprising to note with what ease and agility those who attend the classes regularly go through the seemingly impossible stunts.

Interest in the manly art of self-defense is increasing rapidily, and the directors are now considering several applications for a competent instructor, whose presence will be welcomed by a large portion of the club membership.

CLOSE HANDBALL RACE.

The one big affair now going on at the club is the annual handball tournament, and it has developed into the classiest race ever seen in the club's courts. In the first division the Blake brothers—Irva and Joe—appparently have things their own way for first place honors, but they have some stiff sets in their remaining games, and it would not be altogether surprising for the unexpected to happen and have one of the supposedly weaker teams slip in a game on them. Second place is hard to figure, for with the exception of Doval and Pugh, who are going poor to form, the remaining teams are playing with a dash which has showed an unusual amount of uncertainty and to pick the runners-up would be but a chance.

The real race is in the second division, and it is safe to venture the opinion that it will require the playoff of a tie to determine the winners.

As in the first division, the leadership is a brotherly affair—Sherwin and Sherwin being the guilty parties—and they have won the admiration of the entire handball following by their plucky stand. They are closely pressed by Mansfield and Gill, who are in turn closely followed by Snyder and Payne, and it takes but a single set to change the entire standing of the three teams.

How they play today:

FIRST DIVISION.

Blake and Blake vs. Simmermacher and Shaw.

Pugh and Doval vs. Morris and Lobner.

Delano and Bronson vs. Marston and Russell.

Yoerk and Bacon vs. Strachan and McCulloch.

SECOND DIVISION.

Elwood and Damm vs. Morrissey and Thayer.

Rose and Reese vs. Green and Rotholz.

Wheat and Bedee vs. Snyder and Payne.

Toland and Childs vs. Dr. Gundrum and Dickson.

Wahlander and McDonough vs. Sherwin and Sherwin.

Mansfield and Gill vs. Flammer and Flammer.

Morris and McKillican vs. Carson and Thomas.

Palm and Boyer to draw.

HANDBALL TOURNEY IS CRAMMED FULL OF SURPRISES

Blake Brothers Lose Their First Game—Sherwin Brothers Out of Second Division Lead.

Surprise upon surprise proved the big feature of the handball tournament at the courts of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday, and though but six sets were played, there was more genuine action in these six sets than is seen during the entire life of some tournaments.

The action started in the first game of the first division, when Yoerk and Bacon dropped from their perfect standing by losing to Strachan and McCulloch in a desperately played game by a 21 to 20 score. They came back strong enough in the second set to win by a score of 21 to 14. The second set proved a reversal of form of the second division leaders, for Wahlander and McDonough came through with a flash of their true form, and before Sherwin and Sherwin realized what had happened, they were toting the light end of a 21 to 7 score. Sherwin brothers managed to come back and reverse the score in the second game, but their first defeat shot them to second place, Mansfield and Gill forging to the front.

Then followed the one big and sensational surprise of the day—Blake brothers lost a game. And it was some game—one of those kind that thrills, and the largest crowd of enthusiasts that ever crowded the court galleries saw Shaw and Simmermacher turn the trick. With the winners of the first set showing all kinds of form, and the former champions a trifle off color, it for a while looked like a double win, but the Blakes came through strong in the second game and completely smothered their opponents.

Elwood and Damm continued their winning streak by taking both games, while veteran George Green and Midget Rotholz looked like first division stars when they rambled away from Corson and Thomas for two games.

Morris and Lobner entered the percentage column by breaking even with Pugh and Doval.

Shaw and Simmermacher did something yesterday that no other players done in the Sacramento Athletic Club's doubles handball tourney. They defeated the Blake Brothers.

Following are the results:

First Division.

Yoerk and Bacon split with Strachan and McCulloch, 20-21 and 21-14. Simmermacher and Shaw split with Blake and Blake, 21-13 and 3-21. Lobner and Morris and Pugh and Doval split 21-18 and 9-21.

Second Division.

Green and Rotholz won two sets from Corson and Thomas 21-5 and 21-12. Elwood and Damm won two sets from Morrisey and Thayer 21-14 and 21-10. Sherwin and Sherwin split with Wahlander and McDonough 7-21 and 21-7.

SAY TEST IS TOO SEVERE

APPLICANTS FOR PLACES ON FIRE DEPARTMENT REGISTER COMPLAINT.

Four men went through the test of strength and agility held by the civil service commission at the Sacramento Athletic Club yesterday, two for entrance and two for the uniform grade of the fire department.

All the prospective firemen claimed the test much too severe, but the commission asserts that the test can be passed if a man tries very hard. The rope-climbing test seemed to give the most trouble, and in the quarter-mile run the best time was 1:15.

All the applications for promotion to the uniform grade of the fire department must be in the hands of Secretary Merry by 5 o'clock tomorrow. Merry has decided to open his office from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 5 tomorrow.

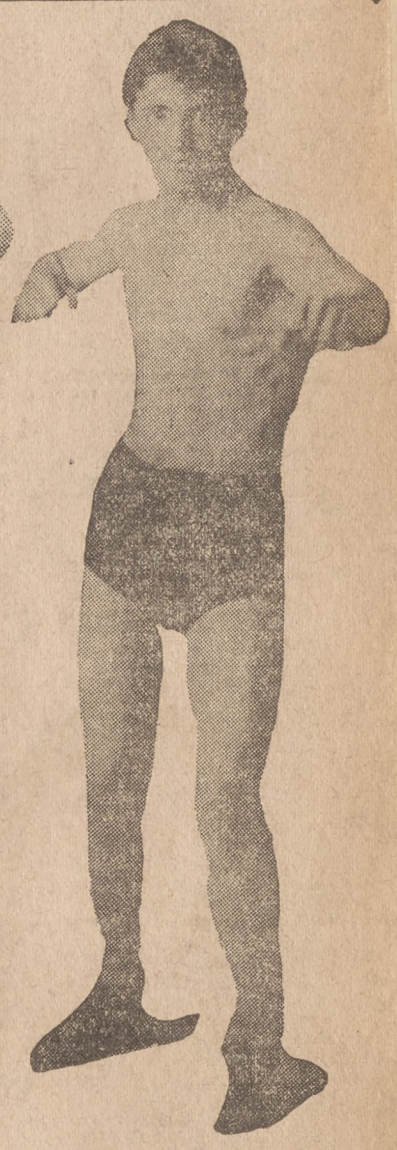
ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS HOME AT SEVENTH AND M

Following the relinquishment of the site at Eleventh and J Streets for the proposed Sacramento Club building and the abandonment of the athletic club project on an elaborate scale the enthusiastic workers in the organization started a movement today to raise funds with which to erect a building corner Seventh and M Streets.

A substantial structure with all modern athletic conveniences is proposed, but no expensive frills are planned.

Salvadore and Azevedo Are Matched for Twenty Rounds

Sally Salvadore.



Joe Azevedo.

Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman of the Capital Athletic Club revived the fight game here to-day when he signed Sally Salvadore and Joe Azevedo for a twenty-round fight at 135 pounds at the Theater Diepenbrock on Tuesday evening, Noevmber 26th.

This card brings together two of the best local boys developed here in a number of years past. Both fighters are graduates of Billy Johnson's Sacramento Athletic Club boxing classes and ever since they met there for their first evening's workout they have been bitter rivals.

Defi upon defi has been hurled back and forth between them, but they have never been brought together since they advanced to the class that makes the fight fan predict that they would make a good scrap.

Azevedo has been making a decided hit among the San Francisco fight followers. He has been matched against some of the best boys there, and has always showed up in a style that caused the promoters to match him again.

Salvadore put up one of the greatest battles seen here in many a day when he fought Frankie Conley twenty rounds to a standstill at Buffalo Park last Summer. He lost the decision, which was not of the popular variety. Salvadore has gained in weight since that time and his advance in poundage has placed him in Azevedo's weight class.

SEVEN FAST HANDBALL MATCHES FOR TONIGHT

With seven fast matches slated for the second division teams of the Sacramento Athletic club's handball tourney on the club courts tonight, there should be plenty of sport for the lovers of this branch of indoor sports. The second division race has taken the center of the stage since the Sherwin brothers were ousted from their leadership by Mansfield and Gill, who now hold the upper berth by a slim margin. The Sherwin brothers' hopes of recovering first place tonight lies in their match with Elwood and Damm, provided, of course, that the Flammer brothers do their duty in their scheduled match with Mansfield and Gill.

Other matches drawn for tonight are as follows: Morris and McKillican vs. Corson and Thomas; Morrissey and Thayer vs. Toland and Childs; Dickson and Gundrum vs. Rose and Reese. Green and Rothholz vs. Wahlander and McDonough; Palm and Boyer vs. Wheat and Bedee.

S. A. C. RUGGERS GIVE UP GHOST FOR SEASON

LACK of interest by the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club's Rugby team has caused the disbandment of the Winged S boys for the season. This decision has been reached after Captain Chet Gannon and Manager Frank Bacon unsuccessfully endeavored to get fifteen players together to make the trip to Stockton Thanksgiving Day to play the Stockton Athletic Club.

The St. Mary's College team wanted to make the trip here this Thanksgiving, but the local management was afraid that a good representative team could not be gotten together, or the game adequately advertised in such a short time. So it was also given up.

The Athletics were not the aggregation that they could have been this season had they trained more faithfully and played oftener. An abundance of good material is to be had among the clubmen, but the most of the star performers rested, with the consequence that the only players in condition with but few exceptions were the lesser lights.

SNAPPY HANDBALL ON ATHLETIC CLUB'S COURT

Good, snappy handball was the feature of last evening's second division play in the Sacramento Athletic Club's double handball tourney that has been running at the club courts for three weeks. Mansfield and Gill were pulled out of the top berth in the second division by Flamer and Flamer, who split with them 21-18 and 17-21.

One of the most exciting games of the evening's play was between George Green and Rotholz and Dr. Gundrum and Spencer Dickson. They also split the games. Gundrum-Dickson came from behind in the first game and beat the veterans out with a 21-13 score. The last game went with a 21-19 score.

Other results were as follows:

Elwood and Damn beat Wahlander and McDonough, 21-19, 21-14. The losers put up a stiff fight.

Morris and McKillican beat Corson and Thomas, 21-15, 21-11.

TWO SURPRISES SPRUNG IN HANDBALL TOURNEY

Two surprises occurred last night in the Sacramento Athletic Club handball tournament. The first was when Flammer and Flammer split with Mansfield and Gill 21-18, 17-21 and thereby reduced the two second division leaders to the standing of Sherwin and Sherwin.

The other surprise was in the second game of the match between Dr. Gundrum and Dixon and Breen and Rothholz. After beating Breen and Rothholz 21-13 in the first game Dr. Gundrum and Dixon came nearly losing to Breen and The Midget and barely took the game 21:19.

Other results were:

Elwood and Damn beat Wahlander and McDonough 21-19, 21-14.

Morris and McKillican beat Carson and Thomas 21-15, 21-11.

ATHLETIC'S FIVE OPEN SEASON WITH FAST LINE-UP

The Sacramento Athletic Club's basketball team will open its basketball season to-night at Dixon when it plays the fast Dixon Athletic Club five in that town. Manager Harry Duke has a nice line-up of games for his huskies, and they promise to be a jovial lot after they get through traveling over the booking he has arranged.

Thanksgiving Day will find the Athletics playing in Lodi against the Lodi High School team, for the past three years recognized as one of the greatest High School combinations ever turned out of the State.

On Saturday, December 6th, they will journey to Colusa, where they meet Seth Millington's All-Stars. This is the first trip that a local basketball team has made to Colusa in a number of years.

On December 14th the fast Carlton Club basketers of Woodland will be played in the Woodland Armory. These are the only games Manager Duke has at the present time, but he offers enough to fill out the remainder of the season in nice shape, if he so desires.

The Athletics will line up in this evening's game as follows: Forwards, McNeeley, Hill, Eldred; center, Vetrop; guards, Asselena, Donald, Ash; Manager, Harry Duke.

WANTED—FIGHTER WILLING TO TACKLE JIU JITSU EXPERT

If there's any exponent of boxing as it is conducted in the American fight ring who wants to put his tactics up against those of an expert in the Japanese jiu jitsu art of self-defense, all he needs to do is to put in an application to the Sacramento Athletic club to get a job. For Joe Fukuto, a Japanese with an Eastern reputation as a jiu jitsu expert, has handed the club management his challenge to meet any fighter, wrestler, or jiu jitsu man who does not weigh more than 160 pounds and let him use his own tactics against those of the Japanese. Fukuto himself weighs less than 140 pounds, but he is confident that he can allow his opponent a twenty-pound advantage and still get the better of him by the most approved method of fistic hostility of Japan.

The fighter shall wear his boxing gloves and be permitted to do anything that the Marquis of Queensberry rules permit. The Japanese on the other hand will not wear gloves, but will guarantee not to strike, kick, scratch or bite his opponent. He will resort only to the tactics of jiu jitsu and trust to that to beat the man who depends upon his muscle and brawn to knock his opponent into the land of has-beens. The Athletic club is ready to stage the exhibition if the exponent of the fight game will appear who is willing to stake his reputation against the jiu jitsu man.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO SEND STRONG TEAM TO DIXON TONIGHT

Plenty of Promising Material Among Candidates for Local Basketball Squad.

The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team plays the fast Dixon five on the latter's floor this evening. The candidates for the local team have been practicing hard for the initial contest, and should put up a creditable game.

In McNeely, Hill, Anderson, Eldred and Lott the club has the best forward material it has had for years. McNeely, star man, and captain of last year's lightweight champions, needs no introduction. His all-around cleverness should be a great factor in the team's showing this season. Arthur Hill is a stranger to Sacramento, but no stranger to the game of basketball. His experience in college athletics has taught him aggressiveness. This, combined with his speed and cleverness, makes him a valuable addition to the squad.

Lott has had some experience in basketball and when he rounds into form will make the others hurry for their positions. Anderson and Eldred need not be presented to the fans, as they are already known as consistent performers. With little more experience Anderson will develop into a star. "Brick" Eldred's aggressiveness has long made him a favorite in high school athletics. His showing on the club team this year should eclipse all his former attempts.

The center position will be taken care of by Captain te Veltrup. Harry Duke, Miles, te Veltrup and Duke played with the club team last year, and will try hard to better their former performances. Of the new material the work of Miles has been perhaps the most impressive. With experience he should develop into a very good man.

The guard positions will be taken care of by Assalena, Donald, Ash, Chipman and Edmunds. Assalena, as well as McNeely, was a member of last year's lightweight champions. His work is always consistent, and with a little more accuracy in his goal shooting he would make a finished guard. Donald has had a great deal of experience in basketball, and when he is going right he makes the game rather dissatisfactory for his forward. Ash is a new club member; he hails from Maine, where they turn out real basket tossers. He bears the earmarks of an artist, and when he gets into shape will show how to take care of the guard position.

Chipman is an experienced guard, having played on last year's Y. M. C. A. team. His playing, although not startling, is steady throughout. Edmunds comes to the club from the coast. He has performed with some of the best teams in Washington and Oregon. His experience will be of great value to the squad.

The personnel of the team will not be decided absolutely for about three weeks, and the games during that period will be tryouts for the men.

Captain te Veltrup has chosen the following men to make the trip tonight: Assalena, McNeely, Eldred, Donald, Ash, Hill, Duke.

SOCCER LEAGUE TO HOLD FORTH AT M'KINLEY PARK

City Playground Will Be Future Scene of Men's Athletics as Well as the Youths.

Through the efforts of the city playground department the several teams in the Sacramento Soccer Football league will play their match games hereafter at the McKinley park playground gridiron. This is quite an added feature to the sports which are staged at the park, and with the formation of the team to represent the Sacramento Athletic club the four-team schedule will bring to the playground some of the prettiest games of soccer which have been played in this vicinity.

Sunday afternoon the Occidentals will attempt to take a fall out of the speedy Sacramento aggregation. In the last match between these two teams the Sacramento team all but succumbed before the youngsters. Game will be called at 2:30.

The coming of the men's athletic games to McKinley park is in line with the playground policy of encouraging and helping all organized athletics, and with the completion of the change room and shower baths, facilities for all athletes are now handy.

One feature that the playground authorities wish to have understood by the public is that all contests which are held on the playgrounds are free to visitors. In view of the fact that the game of Soccer football is being played in the grammar schools of the city it is expected that a large crowd of boys and young men will be on hand to get pointers from experts.

ATHLETIC CLUB TEAM IS WINNER OVER DIXON

Special to the Union.

DIXON (Solano Co.), Nov. 24.—The speedy basketball squad of the Sacramento Athletic club invaded Dixon last night and defeated the local high school team by the one-sided score of 53 to 16. The playing honors for the victors were evenly divided, but C. Rowher, S. Foster and R. Rohwer did excellent passing. The Athletic club boys made a fine showing considering the fact that this was their first game this season.

The teams lined up as follows: S. A. C.—Hill, McNeely and Eldred, forwards; Veltrup, center; Ash, Donald and Assalena, guards. Dixon—C. Rohwer and R. Rohwer, forwards; S. Foster, center; R. Hamilton and Mason, guards. The goals were scored as follows: S. A. C.—Field goals, Hill 3, McNeely 3, Eldred 2, te Veltrup 15, Ash 2; foul goals, McNeely 2. Dixon—Field goals, C. Rohwer 4, R. Rohwer 3, and S. Foster 1.

HANDBALL MATINEE TODAY WILL GIVE THE FINAL DOPE

Blake Brothers Look Good to Finish at Top of First Division in Club Play.

After the result of today's play in the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament is known it will be possible to tell just about how the final standing in the first division will be, and from the present standing it looks very much like Blake brothers.

They do not anticipate any trouble with Morris and Lobner today, but, as on previous occasions, the tailenders may come from behind and take a game, and on the other hand, should Marston and Russell drop both games to Yoerk and Bacon, it will keep interest centered on the first division leaders for another week at least, as both the first and second teams have lost but one game, and after today's play Yoerk and Bacon will be the only team left for the Blake brothers to go against.

The second division has developed into a pretty race, Sherwin and Sherwin regaining the lead they lost Sunday by the defeat of Mansfield and Gill Wednesday night. Snyder and Payne are playing a strong third position, and Elwood and Damm, having played most of the strong teams, should finish well up, despite the fact that they play Flammer and Flammer today.

Flammer and Flammer have proved quite a surprise, their play being up to standard, and their stock took quite a boost after they handily defeated Mansfield and Gill Wednesday night.

Palm and Boyer manage to hover around the .500 mark, while Wahlander and McDonough—a team that, to figure on their regular form, should be fighting for first honors—are well toward the bottom of the heap.

Today's games will be as follows:

First Division.

Blake and Blake vs. Morris and Lobner.

Yoerk and Bacon vs. Marston and Russell.

Pugh and Doval vs. Delano and Bronson.

Second Division.

Sherwin and Sherwin vs. Rose and Reese.

Mansfield and Gill vs. Corson and Thomas.

Snyder and Payne vs. Green and Rotholz.

Flammer and Flammer vs. Elwood and Damm.

S. A. C. BEATS DIXON 54 TO 16

(The Bee's Special Service.)

DIXON (Solano Co.), November 25. The Dixon High School basketball team was defeated, 54 to 16, by the Sacramento Athletic Club Saturday night. The Sacramento boys outweighed the Dixon boys and were considerably faster.

ATHLETIC CLUB TEAM IS WEAKENED FOR LODI TRIP

Weakened by the loss of one player, and the injury of another, the Sacramento Athletic club's basketball team will journey to Lodi tomorrow afternoon for a Thanksgiving day clash with the one-time San Joaquin champions. The local team is weakened by the loss of Hill, left forward, who has left Sacramento to make his home in Fresno; and the injury to Left Guard Ash, who wrenched his ankle in practice Monday night, will prove a further handicap to the squad.

Eldred and Anderson will take care of the left forward berth vacated by Hill; Donald will be called upon to fill the vacancy at left guard in case Ash is not in shape to get back into the lineup tomorrow. Captain te Veltrup has announced that the following men will make the trip to Lodi for the Thanksgiving day game—Neely, Eldred, Duke, Ash, Assalena, Donald, Anderson and te Veltrup.

LOTS OF HANDBALL FOR CLUBMEN THURSDAY

Handball will reign at the Sacramento Club on Thanksgiving Day. The doubles tourney, which has been such a success, will be on in full blast, and, according to the schedule of games, there should be some excitement.

ATHLETICS' FIVE WILL INVADE TOKAY CITY TO-MORROW

The Sacramento Athletic Club's basketball five will journey to Lodi to-morrow to play the fast basketers from that town. The Tokay City has not turned out a weak five in the past six years and it is not very probable that this year is an exception.

Forward Bill Hill of the Athletics has left Sacramento and is no longer a member of the Winged S boys. There is plenty of good material at the club and although he was a valuable man, his place will be filled with a good man.

Brick Eldred and Anderson, two members of the champion High School five of 1911 and 1912, are out after the vacant berth. Both players are fast on the forward deck.

The Athletics' opening game with Dixon showed that they were well trained for so early in the season. They pulled off nice bursts of team work and the shooting for baskets was good. They piled up 54 points to Dixon's 16.

The team will line up to-morrow as follows: Forwards, Eldred, McNeeley, Anderson; center, Te Veltrup; guards, Ash, Donald; manager, Harry Duke.

TO PLAY HANDBALL.

The handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club will be resumed today. The schedule of games postponed from last Sunday will be played today instead. Some of the best players in the city will meet today, and several exciting matches are looked for.

S. A. C. WINS.

Sacramento Athletic Club basket ball team returned home with the Turkey day scalp of the Lodi high school five, 25 to 20. The work of Eldred and Veltrup was the feature.

ATHLETICS DEFEAT LODI SCHOOL TEAM

Local Club Basketball Players Handicapped on Dirt Court, but Nose Home Winners.

Special to the Union.

LODI (San Joaquin Co.), Nov. 28.—The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team, although handicapped by playing on an outdoor ground court here today managed to outclass the Lodi high school team to the tune of 25 to 20. The game was hard fought from start to finish, but the superior passing and goal shooting of the visiting club boys told the tale in the long run. Eldred and Veltrup did most of the scoring of the day, sharing nine field goals between them. Ash played a clever guard for the visitors, while McNeely's passing was a feature, and Assalena was a tower of strength at the guard position.

The line-up:

TWO SPEEDY PLAYERS ON S. A. C. FIVE ARE LAID UP

Although the basketball season has just opened for the Sacramento Athletic Club, Manager Duke reports that two of his best players are now on the sick list. This puts the Clubmen's fast quintet in bad shape at the beginning.

Harry Te Veltrup, the Winged-S giant center, and Captain, is bothered with a bad ankle that may keep him out of the game for three or four weeks. Art Hill is on the road to good condition, but is still bothered by his knee, injured some time ago.

The Sacramento Club team this year is unusually strong and has swept every team before it. It is going to enter the P. A. A. tourney for the championship of the State and expects to land higher than the semi-finals this year.

HANDBALL TOURNEY NEARING A FINISH

Athletic Club Matches of Today Will Settle Title of the First Division.

The play in the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament is nearing the finals, and two weeks from today will be the windup of the present tournament, immediately after which will be started a singles tournament that is expected to be far more exciting than the doubles now taking place.

Today's play will positively settle the championship of the first division, which title is practically cinched by Joe and Irva Blake. They play two sets today, but it will be only by the merest chance that they will lose out. It will be a tight race for second honors with three teams striving for first place.

The second division is still causing no end of speculation as to the probable winner of this section, as but a few points separate the four leading teams. Sherwin and Sherwin are playing steadily, while Mansfield and Gill, Snyder and Payne and Elwood and Damm, the teams following in the order named, are dangerous competitors, and the standing is such that the fourth team could jump into first place by the right break of luck in a single day's play.

Play is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock, and the teams have been matched as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

Blake and Blake vs. Yoerk and Bacon.

Blake and Blake vs. Morris and Lobner.

Yoerk and Bacon vs. Delano and Bronson.

Marston and Russell vs. McCulloch and Strachan.

Simmermacher and Shaw vs. Morris and Lobner.

Pugh and Doval vs. Delano and Bronson.

SECOND DIVISION.

Sherwin and Sherwin vs. Green and Rotholz.

Elwood and Damm vs. Morris and McKillican.

Mansfield and Gill vs. Morrisey and Thayer.

Toland and Childs vs. Corson and Thomas.

Flammer and Flammer vs. Palm and Boyer.

Dr. Gundrum and Dickson vs. Rose and Reese.

Snyder and Payne vs. Wheat and Bedee.

Palm and Boyer to draw.

The Blake brothers—Joe and Irva—swept everything before them yesterday morning in their final games for high honors in the first division double handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic Club. By winning four games they completed a handball tourney record that will go down in the annals of the club. They played fourteen games during the tourney, met every team and lost but one game, finishing with a standing of .929.

The Blakes won two games from Morris and Lobner in nice style. Morris and Lobner are fast court men. The victories were 21-3 and 21-1. The Blakes also took Bacon into camp with 21-6 and 21-16 scores.

Simmermacher and Shaw and Yoerk and Bacon are running a nice race for second honors in the first division. They still have a number of games to play that promise to be warm. Both teams have won five and lost three.

In the second division play yesterday Sherwin and Sherwin defeated Green and Rotholz 21-13 and 21-3 and Morris and McKillican 21-12 and 21-14. They lead the second division. Elwood and Damm defeated Flammer and Flammer 21-12 and 21-18. Wahlander and McDonough in fast play defeated Corson and Thomas 21-9 and 21-12. McDonough showed good form. Mansfield and Gill defeated Rose and Reese 21-12 and 21-20.

Irva Blake and Joe Blake, partners in the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament, completely outdistanced the other seven teams comprising the first division, when they took two games yesterday morning from Yoerk and Bacon by the score of 21-6 and 21-16, and then to make a proper finish handed Morris and Lobner the most complete trimming of the series by the top-heavy scores of 21-1 and 21-3.

The Blake team deserves to win, as the boys play at all times in championship form, and they are without a doubt fully able to defend their title against all comers.

As is usual after each championship play the club directors, beside awarding the winners with appropriate medals, will endeavor to match the winners against the Olympic club's fastest men, which should bring about some clever play.

Though no weight is carried with second place honors, the teams remaining will fight it out for this honor, and it looks at present like the rub will be between Yoerk and Bacon, Simmermacher and Shaw and Delano and Bronson.

The second division play continues to furnish a great deal of excitement, as there is now four possibilities looming up for first place honors, Elwood and Damm by their consistent play having advanced to within striking distance of second place and not entirely on the outside as probable winners.

Yesterday's play brought much exciting play, the best of the day being when Rose and Reese threw a big scare at Mansfield and Gill. After losing the first set 21-12, Rose and Reese started wild in the second set, and to their own surprise had run 17 points while their opponents could only account for 4. Mansfield and Gill stayed with the game, fighting hard, but it looked like sure defeat when the board showed a score of 20-12 against them, but after several brilliant rallies, during which time Rose and Reese could not grab that much sought for point, Mansfield and Gill finally nosed through with a 21-20 win.

"Winged S" Basketers Are Formidable Collection of Players

THE basetball is being sent around at a lively clip at the Sacramento Athletic Club these days. Despite that the boys are working hard all of the time, Manager Harry Duke is not the happiest man in the world. He is having an unusually hard time booking games for his team.

Since the Athletics played in the Pacific Coast Amateur semi-finals last season, and showed so much class the teams of Superior California have not been overly anxious to tangle with them. Although two of the stars of the Winged S aggregation are on the cripple list Duke is after games right away with any club or High School teams.

Phil Ash, the new guard from Maine, is showing up better all of the time. He is steady, smooth and has a faculty of sticking with a forward until he is tired out. For two years he was a memebr of the championship team of Maine.

The cripples, Art Hill and te Veltrup, are slowly getting into shape again. Hill is almost ready to don a uniform, but the giant center captain is still on the sick list.

New Police Chief at Sacramento

Appointee of City Commission

William J. Johnson, Business Man, to Succeed Ahern.

WILLIAM J. JOHNSON

SACRAMENTO, December 3.—William J. Johnson to-day became chief of police of Sacramento, by virtue of appointment by the new city commission. He was inducted into office without ceremony other than the usual exchange of courtesies.

Johnson succeeds William Ahern, former Southern Pacific Railroad detective. Ahern had served nearly three years, and has held office since last July at the pleasure of the commission.

With the retirement of Ahern comes the automatic reduction to the ranks of Captain of Police Martin Pennish. By the terms of a new ordinance the position of captain of police is abolished and the place of inspector created, who is exempt from the civil service rules under which the department will operate. No inspector has been chosen. A number of candidates for positions on the police force are taking examination. Eleven officers will be chosen, to begin duty January 1 next.

The new chief of police, who is 41 years old, has never had experience as a peace officer, but is otherwise versatile. He leaves a position as department manager in a department store. He is tall, sinewy and athletic and has been a physical director in the Sacramento Athletic Club. He has refereed many of the prize ring contests in Sacramento and is one of the leading vocalists of the city. He has taken a large interest in civic and social affairs.

Fast and Furious Handball To-morrow

Intense Rivalry for Second Honors in First Division and First Place in Second

Because several teams in the Sacramento Athletic Club handball tournament have not played up to schedule, every remaining team will be down for two or more sets on the club courts to-morrow morning, which means there will not be an idle moment from 9 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The tournament, which has been the most successful ever conducted by the club, will come to a close one week from to-morrow. Blake brothers have cinched first place in the first division, but there will be a warm scramble for second honors.

Sherwin and Sherwin now enjoy a fair lead in the second division, but three teams are trailing them closely, and to-morrow may see them tied, or even ousted from first place.

The teams will play to-morrow as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

Yoerk and Bacon vs. Marston and Russell.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO SHOW AT EMPRESS

Athletes of Sacramento Will Put on Vaudeville Stunts Next Friday Night.

The directors of the Sacramento Athletic club have planned a night at the Empress theater for the present week, which promises to far outdo anything of the kind before attempted by this popular organization.

Next Friday night will be the time selected by the club, and they are busy arranging a series of feature acts which are bound to make a tremendous hit. The turns will be novel and up to date, and will be as an added attraction to the regular high-class bill of the second show of the evening.

By special arrangement, the Sacramento Athletic club tickets will be placed on sale at the Empress box office tomorrow morning for the convenience of those unable to secure them otherwise. Members of the organization will be able to furnish tickets to every person wanting them.

S. A. C. WILL START SOCCER PLAY DEC. 22D

Kimball - Upson Trophy Must Be Won Twice in Succession

At the meeting of the Sacramento Valley Soccer League at the Sacramento Athletic Club rooms on Wednesday evening, it was decided that the new team composed of the Sacramento Athletic Club players, would start playing in the schedule on December 22d.

This allows them two weeks for practice before going into actual play.

It was also decided that the handsome trophy donated by Kimball-Upson Company, to make the game interesting, must be won twice in succession before becoming permanent property and the team procuring the most number of points during the season was to have the privilege of retaining it the ensuing year. It was decided that if the award was handled in this manner, should other teams enter into the league, it would give them the some opportunity as balance of the teams in the league to become the winner of the cup permanently as well as temporarily.

Considerable enthusiasm has been shown in the Sacramento Athletic Club for the game and on Sunday morning F. E. Bacon, the Captain, will have out a number of enthusiasts, who will take part in the practice against the Sacramentos. The new team is expected to make more than a creditable showing against the experienced teams.

The following schedule has been adopted for the balance of the year:

December 8th, 2 o'clock, at McKinley Park, the Occidentals versus the Rovers. December 15th, Occidentals versus the Sacramentos. December 22d, Sacramentos Athletic Club versus the Occidentals at 12.30. Immediately following this game at 2:30, the Rovers versus the Sacramentos. December 29th, Sacramento Athletic Club versus Sacramentos, the Rovers versus the Occidentals.

SHERWIN AND SHERWIN CLINCH SECOND DIVISION HONOR

Sherwin and Sherwin practically cinched the second division honors of the Sacramento Athletic Club's handball tourney yesterday by winning two sets. This leaves but two more sets to be played by the leading second divisioners.

Fourteen sets were played yesterday making 28 games in all, and they were all very interesting. The tourney has been running for two months. A great deal of interest has been shown throughout.

The results yesterday were:

FIRST DIVISION.

Yoerk and Bacon defeated Delano and Bronson 21-9, 21-15.

Delano and Bronson defeated Pugh and Doval 21-15, 21-0.

Marston and Russell defeated Pugh and Doval 21-7, 21-20.

Blake Brothers, Are Now S. A. C. Handball Kings

JOE and Irva Blake won the Sacramento Athletic Club's indoor soft ball handball tournament last week when they completed their remarkable run by ending the tournament with thirteen victories and one defeat. This represents one of the best doubles records ever hung up at the club.

The record is all the more remarkable when it is consdered that although the players are brothers they have never played in a tourney before as partners. Irva Blake is the older of the two and was playing in championship teams when Joe was learning the game. Irva Blake is pronounced by critics as one of the greatest players ever developed in Sacramento.

With Sidney Root as his partner last year he won the Pacific Coast soft ball championship from Maguire and Hampton of the Olympic Club in one of the greatest series of games ever seen here.

The brothers are practicing together all the time now and within the next two months they are planning to play the best that San Francisco has to offer among the indoor artists.

After fourteen exciting games had been played in the Sacramento Athletic club handball tournament yesterday there was no noticeable change in the positions of the various teams, the leaders gaining a few points, but not enough to have them declared positive winners.

With credit for two wins yesterday, Sherwin and Sherwin all but completed their schedule, and their set against Dr. Gundrum and Dickson next Sunday will be the most hotly contested game of the tournament. Two wins and the Sherwins have first place honors in the second division, but Dr. Gundrum and Dickson are a hard team to figure, and should they break even on this set it will put Mansfield and Gill in a position to play off a tie with the present leaders.

Snyder and Payne are finishing strong and should either of the teams that head them falter in the least this team will surely jump to the front.

The fight for second honors in the first division brought forth some clever play, the best play of the day being when Yoerk and Bacon completely played Delano and Bronson off their feet, winning by scores of 21-9 and 21-15.

Revenge was sweet for the losers, however, for Delano and Bronson came back, and after battling through to a 21-15 victory in the first game, thoroughly swamped Pugh and Doval in the second by a 21-0 score, Delano on a single inning running a total of 19 points while serving to Doval.

Marston and Russell then proceeded to pull themselves into the percentage column and while doing so pulled Pugh and Doval to the bottom of the heap.

After all was said and done the score board looked something like this:

FIRST DIVISION.

Yoerk and Bacon ..... 21—21
Delano and Bronson ..... 9—15

Delano and Bronson ..... 21—21
Pugh and Doval ..... 15— 0

Marston and Russell ..... 21—21

CHINESE BAND WILL BE FEATURE OF S. A. C. SHOW

The feature of the Sacramento Athletic club show at the Empress theater next Friday night will be a concert by the local Chinese band. This band is to be the feature act of the show—in other words, it will be head-lined.

Although the band is composed of Chinese, they are accomplished and are said to be excellent musicians. The band will play a number of selections and, it is hoped, will please the audience.

CHINESE BAND WILL PLAY AT S. A. C. BENEFIT

A novel stunt has been secured by the Sacramento Athletic Club as an added attraction for the club benefit performance, which is to be given as the second show at the Empress Theater Friday night.

The feature act will be presented by a brass band of fifteen pieces. The members of the band are native-born Chinese. The young musicians range in age from 9 to 18 years. Their playing will prove a surprise.

By special arrangement the athletic club tickets have been placed on sale at the box office of the Empress Theater and the club men request that everyone desiring to assist the club to be sure and ask for a Sacramento Athletic Club ticket.

S. A. C. WANTS TO PLAY CARLTONS

(The Bee's Special Service.)

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), December 11.—The Sacramento Athletic Club basketball five are hot after a game with the Carltons. The Sacramento team is willing that the game be played in Woodland terriory. Their line-up is undoubtedly the strongest in the Valley. The Carltons are undecided whether or not to accept the challenge.

EXCITING HANDBALL IS BILLED FOR TO-NIGHT

Several exciting sets are expected in the Sacramento Athletic Club tournament to-night, games in both the first and second division being scheduled.

The teams have been matched as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

G. Simmermacher and C. Shaw vs. E. Morris and L. Lobner; E. Morris and L. Lobner vs. Marston and H. Russell; V. Marston and H. Russell vs. H. McCulloch and A. Strachan.

SECOND DIVISION.

R. Mansfield and C. Gill vs. C. Corson and W. Thomas; W. Rose and L. Reese vs. G. Green and M. Rotholz; G. Toland and J. Childs vs. F. Morris and F. McKillican; C. Wahlander and B. McDonough vs. J. Flammer and T. Flammer; Dr. Gundrum and S. Dickson vs. J. Barnes and H. Thayer take a long chance on both the weight and on his ability to defeat Salvador.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO GIVE LADIES' NIGHT NEW YEARS

The members of the Sacramento Athletic club are always trying to do something to keep their popular organization to the front, and in days gone by one of their most popular endeavors was a ladies night.

In a measure this popular feature will be revived, and no more an appropriate date could be selected than that which the directors are now working upon—New Year's eve.

It will be a sort of an open house affair, but arranged to appeal especially to the ladies—some amusement, refreshments, and a place to take a rest before taking to the streets for the final watching out of the old year.

This will be a new venture with the clubmen, and it is hoped that it will be a popular one with the ladies.

TICKETS ON SALE TODAY FOR ATHLETIC CLUB SHOW

Several hundred tickets were given out to members of the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday for distribution among their friends, and the clubmen will use every effort to make the second performance at the Empress theater Friday evening an event which will eclipse all former attempts.

Though not definitely arranged, the club directors are working on three big feature acts which will be staged in addition to the regular Empress bill, and they promise to give their friends and theatr-goers a genuine treat in the way of something new and up-to-date and one turn at least which it is doubtful if it has ever before been seen on a public stage.

While tickets may be procured from nearly every club member, they will also be on sale at the Empress box office, beginning this morning

POLICE TRY-OUTS ATTRACT HANDBALL AUDIENCE

The police try-outs proved such a strong attraction in the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night that the usual attendance at the handball contests was shattered. In fact, so amusing were the try-outs that the club members would not go into the court galleries to witness games, and, for the first time since the tournament has commenced, the contestants played practically to no audience.

In the first division Lobner and Morris split with Strachan and McCaralloch 21-16, 10-21. The second division resulted in a split also between Palm and Boyer and Flammer and Flammer 21-12, 9-21.

HANDBALL SETS ARE PLAYED OFF

The handball artists did not show up last evening on the Sacramento Athletic Club's Court the way the Directors had planned but the two sets played were fast and the players split the honors, making the games interesting.

The members of the Sacramento Police force who are training at the club held their try-outs and attracted quite a large crowd. It proved to be some real sport that will not be duplicated again in a long while.

The first division honors were split between L. Lobner and C. Morris and A. Strachan and H. McCollough with 21-10, 10-21 scores. In the second division G. Palm and Boyer and C. Flammer and T. Flammer split with 21-12, 9-21 scores.

S. A. C. EXPECT CROWD AT BENEFIT SHOW TONIGHT

The Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club have been working very hard in preparation for their benefit show to be held at the second show of the Empress this evening. A large number of tickets have been sold, but there are plenty left for those who desire to help the clubmen along.

As an added attraction three local acts have been put on to make the program a little stronger and more entertaining for the patrons.

The Chinese band, composed wholly of California-born Celestials, is one of the added features that is well worth hearing. The Sacramento quartet, which is formed of local talent which Director Frank Bacon says can really sing, form the second added attraction. The third is of the mysterious kind, and will not be made known until this evening.

AHLETIC CLUB SHOW AT EMPRESS SUCCESS

Members of the Sacramento Athletic club, together with their families and friends, crowded the Empress theater last night at the Athletic club show. The event fulfilled the expectations of the management, and was unusually well patronized. Three acts were added to the regular show, and were keenly appreciated. Most prominent among these was the Chinese brass band. This organization is composed of American-born Chinese, and they played in such a manner that would make regular musicians ashamed of themselves.

Then there was the Sacramento quartet, which sang popular songs and pleased the audience. The third attraction was a surprise to all, and was very much appreciated. All in all the athletic night at the Empress was a success, and probably a second one will be given in the near future.

Physical Fitness for Business Men

WHEN TENACITY WINS

By Frank A. Gotch, World's Wrestling Champion.

In my estimation, there is one beautiful thing about a bull pup. That is his determination to hang on whether he is right or wrong. With the ugly-looking canine the principle is neither judgment nor just cause. The reason the bulldog has to be pried loose from what he fastens his jaws upon is because he is 100 per cent physically fine.

The brute has strength and grit—and practically no sense. There are times, and these times may come frequently, when a business deal is won by the tenacity of the man who is trying to put it through. Long conferences, extending into the still hours of the night and the trying hours of the morning, demand the maximum physical resistance.

The man of commercial affairs who possesses just enough reserve force to see him through the day is not a fit subject for the trying ordeals that call for the ability to hang on.

Many a verdict in a jury room has been swung by one man who was physically able to wear out the others. The opposing eleven may have had the right on their side, but the prolonged vigils and the severe strain had told on all but the healthier and more physically fit juror—having worn the others out and caused them to capitulate.

The business man who has succeeded in the larger affairs of his commercial life prides himself on his mentality. Put him to the test where his muscles must survive shocks and strains and he will soon learn that his mental prowess feeds upon his physical force.

It is the duty of every business man to his institution, to his family, and to himself to keep in such trim at all times as to be able to withstand the unusual impositions placed upon his time and strength. If he contends that he is too hard pressed to go into a gymnasium and work out for a few minutes every day and take his bath and rubdown, he forgets that by so doing he is adding to his assets equally as much as when he meets his overdraft in the bank and maintains his credit.

S. A. C. BENEFIT GREAT SUCCESS

The second performance at the Empress Theater played to a packed house last night, the occasion being a benefit for the Sacramento Athletic Club.

After some well chosen remarks by Judge C. N. Post, during which he gave a brief but thorough review of the club, the regular performance was put on, after which followed the special numbers provided by the club.

First came the Star quartette, composed of local talent, and their selections were rendered with skill of experienced singers. They had to respond to many encores. The quartette is composed of Benny Davis, Fred Morris, Patton Valdez and John Vegas.

The Chinese band closed the entertainment, and they did all that was expected of them and then some more. They showed the result of careful training. Their two selections rendered in classy style made a big hit with the audience. They give promise of becoming excellent musicians.

The Sacramento Athletic club has held several successful handball tournaments, but none have quite approached the tournament which will be brought to a close today.

In only a few instances has interest lagged, for the most part every contestant—and there were forty-five entries—played close to schedule, and excellent records have been made.

CLASS OF CLUB IN FIRST.

The first division represented the class of the club, and though Blake brothers finished with a record that will stand for some time to come, they were pressed hard in many sets by many of the other teams in their division.

Irva Blake is classed as one of the cleverest handball artists on the coast, and this makes the third time that he has come to the front as first division winner in the S. A. C. tournaments. Two years ago with his brother, Joe Blake, he led the way to first place honors, and in January of the present year, with Sidney Root as a partner, again won the championship honors, and then to add to their laurels, they decisively defeated Al Hampton and "Midge" Maguire, Olympic club experts and heralded as Pacific coast champions.

The present tournament found him again playing with Brother Joe for a partner, and now that they have won another championship they are out with a challenge to meet all comers, and they will be given the loyal support of every S. A. C. member.

THE REAL FIGHT.

With first division first place honors out of the way, second place became the real bone of contention, and this morning's play will bring about some nerve-racking sets.

At present Yoerk and Bacon are on an even basis with Simmermacher and Shaw, and it seems likely that the coveted position rests between these two teams.

The second division has furnished some of the greatest sport ever seen on the club courts, and even today, with the two leading teams with but a single set to play, the result is in doubt as to who will be announced "champ."

Sherwin and Sherwin, by their consistent play, have forged to the front, and now show a record of 22 games won and but 2 lost out of a total of 24 played, and one of the hardest sets of the tournament will be their lot when they meet Dr. Gundrum and Dickson this morning.

IN THE SECOND.

Trailing close to Sherwin and Sherwin is the Mansfield-Gill team, and they are hanging on like a hungry shark, hoping that Dr. Gundrum and Dickson can slip over a game on the leaders this morning. Such an occurrence would be unfortunate for Sherwin brothers, as this would leave them a tie with Mansfield and Gill, which would necessitate playing an extra series between these teams to decide the winner of the second division teams.

Today's games have been scheduled as follows:

FIRST DIVISION.

G. Yoerk and F. Bacon vs. G. Simmermacher and C. Shaw; G. Yoerk and F. Bacon vs. V. Marston and H. Russell; V. Marston and H. Russell vs. E. Morris and L. Lobner; E. Morris and L. Lobner vs. A. Delano and H. Bronson; A. Delano and H. Bronson vs. G. Simmermacher and C. Shaw; G. Simmermacher and C. Shaw vs. L. Lobner and E. Morris; A. Delano and H. Bronson vs. V. Marston and H. Russell; A. Strachan and H. McCulloch vs. V. Marston and H. Russell.

SECOND DIVISION.

J. Sherwin and W. Sherwin vs. Dr. Gundrum and S. Dickson; R. Mansfield and C. Gill vs. F. Morris and H. McKillicom; G. Snyder and A. Payne vs. G. Green and M. Rotholz; W. Rose and L. Reese vs. G. Toland and J. Childs; H. Palm and F. Boyer vs. J. Barnes and H. Thayer; C. Wahlander and B. McDonough vs. T. Flammer and W. Flammer; S. Corson and F. Thomas vs. Mansfield and Gill.

LEADERS IN THE FIRST DIVISION

In the above at the extreme top in action pose is shown Joe and Irva Blake, the winners of the first division; that is, the two players in the handball tourney who have cinched their place. Out of fourteen games they lost but one and will finish with almost a perfect score. Joe Blake is shown on the left and Irva Blake on the right. In the center between the Blake brothers is George Yoerk and beneath him Clarence Shaw. To the right of Shaw is Frank Bacon and to the left Gus Simmermacher. These four latter players are running a neck and neck race for second honors in the first division, with Bacon and Yoerk in the lead with 700 per cent, as against Shaw and Simmermacher's 625.

Candidate Cops Get 3d Degree

ARTHUR DELANO, President of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has been appointed Physical Inspector of Sacramento under the Civil Service Board. Delano's chief work has been to see that the men trying for the Police Department are all O. K. on the strength and agility tests.

The try-outs have been held in the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic Club and if rumor be true many people have been missing one of the greatest comedy shows put on in a long while.

Delano is well posted on physical culture, as, for the past ten years, he has been one of the Sacramento Athletic Club's prominent members. The test that he puts prospective policemen to is said to be a tough one and the huskies have to do a great deal of work before they are in condition.

Captain Chet Gannon, of the Athletic Club's track team, has been training the police boys on the quarter-mile track at McKinley Park Playground. Gannon stated that some of the candidates would make valuable track men if they would keep up their work.

POLICE TRY-OUTS ATTRACT HANDBALL AUDIENCE

The police try-outs proved such a strong attraction in the gymnasium of the Sacramento Athletic Club last night that the usual attendance at the handball contests was shattered. In fact, so amusing were the try-outs that the club members would not go into the court galleries to witness games, and, for the first time since the tournament has commenced, the contestants played practically to no audience.

In the first division Lobner and Morris split with Strachan and McCaralloch 21-16, 10-21. The second division resulted in a split also between Palm and Boyer and Flammer and Flammer 21-12, 9-21.

Physical Fitness for Business Men

WHEN TENACITY WINS

By Frank A. Gotch, World's Wrestling Champion.

In my estimation, there is one beautiful thing about a bull pup. That is his determination to hang on whether he is right or wrong. With the ugly-looking canine the principle is neither judgment nor just cause. The reason the bulldog has to be pried loose from what he fastens his jaws upon is because he is 100 per cent physically fine.

The brute has strength and grit—and practically no sense. There are times, and these times may come frequently, when a business deal is won by the tenacity of the man who is trying to put it through. Long conferences, extending into the still hours of the night and the trying hours of the morning, demand the maximum physical resistance.

The man of commercial affairs who possesses just enough reserve force to see him through the day is not a fit subject for the trying ordeals that call for the ability to hang on.

HANDBALL SETS ARE PLAYED OFF

The handball artists did not show up last evening on the Sacramento Athletic Club's Court the way the Directors had planned but the two sets played were fast and the players split the honors, making the games interesting.

The members of the Sacramento Police force who are training at the club held their try-outs and attracted quite a large crowd. It proved to be some real sport that will not be duplicated again in a long while.

The first division honors were split between L. Lobner and C. Morris and A. Strachan and H. McCollough with 21-10, 10-21 scores. In the second division G. Palm and Boyer and C. Flammer and T. Flammer split with 21-12, 9-21 scores.

S. A. C. EXPECT CROWD AT BENEFIT SHOW TONIGHT

The Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club have been working very hard in preparation for their benefit show to be held at the second show of the Empress this evening. A large number of tickets have been sold, but there are plenty left for those who desire to help the clubmen along.

As an added attraction three local acts have been put on to make the program a little stronger and more entertaining for the patrons.

The Chinese band, composed wholly of California-born Celestials, is one of the added features that is well worth hearing. The Sacramento quartet, which is formed of local talent which Director Frank Bacon says can really sing, form the second added attraction. The third is of the mysterious kind, and will not be made known until this evening.

AHLETIC CLUB SHOW AT EMPRESS SUCCESS

Members of the Sacramento Athletic club, together with their families and friends, crowded the Empress theater last night at the Athletic club show. The event fulfilled the expectations of the management, and was unusually well patronized. Three acts were added to the regular show, and were keenly appreciated. Most prominent among these was the Chinese brass band. This organization is composed of American-born Chinese, and they played in such a manner that would make regular musicians ashamed of themselves.

Then there was the Sacramento quartet, which sang popular songs and pleased the audience. The third attraction was a surprise to all, and was very much appreciated. All in all the athletic night at the Empress was a success, and probably a second one will be given in the near future.

The Indoor Baseball team of the Sacramento Athletic club proved the dark horse of the local league in yesterday morning's games at the Old Pavilion. The Troop B team, heretofore regarded as the strongest in the league, was sent down to defeat by the decisive score of 15 to 3. In the second game of yesterday's doubleheader the Independents were nailed down safely in the cellar berth after a hard fought game which resulted in a defeat at the hands of the Capital City Wheelmen, 9 to 6.

Pitcher Summers, one of the mainstays of the Troop B team, was not in the line-up yesterday, and the troopers suffered considerably by his absence. The hitting of Palm and Donald, and the pitching of Bacon for the Athletics were the features of the first game.

In the second game the Independents suffered defeat, but showed considerable improvement over the form shown the week before. They made a desperate rally in the ninth yesterday that kept the Wheelmen guessing before the game was finally closed. The Independents also worked several clever double plays, and all in all showed a form that promises that they will be hard to beat before the league season closes.

Next Sunday morning the Sacramento Athletic Club team will meet the Capital City Wheelmen at 10 o'clock, and the Independents will meet the Troop B outfit at 11:30 o'clock.

S. A. C. CARD WILL BE CLASSY EVENT

Local Fans Are Displaying Great Interest in Friday's Events.

By FRANK BACON.

The hundreds of fight enthusiasts who will gather at the Clunie theater tomorrow night will not, according to the matches made, be disappointed in any manner, and the Sacramento Athletic club certainly deserves a great deal of credit for arranging such a classy card.

Every bout on the card will be a hummer, and the fans will see more action tomorrow night than they have seen in a long time. The Ahern-Malone go brings forth more interest daily, and everyone is looking for this event to be a great scrap. Ahern's ability is well known to every follower of the game here, as in every previous encounter he has shown all kinds of class. Malone comes very highly recommended, having met all the best in the 122-pound class in and around San Francisco, and has a record that any boxer might well be proud of.

Big Red Smith looks better every day and Brandt, the Westedn club man, though considered a tough proposition, will have his hands full trying to handle the local white hope.

The Wallace-Rufe go will be a slashing affair, as there are not many 133 pounders to be found who show much more class. Wallace is a clever boxer who has had a great deal of ring experience, and Rufe has many times demonstrated before local gatherings that he is capable of taking care of himself at all times.

The Sally Salvatore-Ada Zoette bout is causing as much attention as any of the bouts, and the fans will surely see a hair-raising exhibition when this pair clashes. Salvatore is a prime favorite here, and the class that Zotte has been showing at Stockton, his home city, is enough to warrant him recognition any place.

Benny Yanger and Valdez will furnish a thriller, too, as these boys show everything in their workouts. It is pretty hard to try and select a favorite in this pair, as both are going strong, up and coming all the time, and punishment seems to be the least of their worries.

Allen and Fritz are showing championship form, while the Bonadurer-Brinson match continues to attract more attention every day.

Pappas, Strand, Estoe and Ericsson have put on the finishing touches, and every one are in condition to put up the best exhibition of their ring career.

Hundreds of requests for seat reservations have been made at the club, and every indication is that the Clunie will be packed when the first go starts.

Sally Salvadore, the pet of Sacramento fight fans, had a narrow escape from rude awakening at the hands of a here boy in the feature bout of last ight's amateur fight card staged at he Clunie theater by the Sacramento thletic club. Only an advantage of age nd weight and the sympathy of the udges saved Salvadore from the ignominy of a draw with nineteen-year-ld Adzotte of Stockton, and although allie had the technique of the game o back him in winning the decision, he sympathy of the slim crowd which reeted the best amateur card ever taged here was all with the young tockton lad.

Adzotte worked a right effectively o Salvadore's face time and again and nly the fact that he was outweighed, 24 to 118, caused the youngster to eaken enough in the third round to llow Salvadore to cinch the decision y a questionable knockdown. The nockdown and a slight advantage in ggressiveness due to greater experince were all that Salvadore had to pport his claim to victory.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO STAGE CARD AT CLUNIE

With Old Pavilion Condemned Again, Fights Will Be Held in K-Street Playhouse.

Since the announcement was made that no more public gatherings would be allowed in the Old Pavilion, hundreds of fight enthusiasts have been worrying as to where the Sacramento Athletic club would hold their big card Friday night, but now all troubled minds will be at rest, for the club's directors have completed arrangements whereby they will be able to stage one of Sacramento's greatest fistic events at the Clunie theater.

The card will be started promptly at 8:30 p. m., but in order to accomodate the fans the doors will be thrown open at 7 p. m.

Every day interest in the bouts increases and the fan that misses the show will miss a genuine treat. The card is nearly completed, but a single match remaining to be made, and then not a fan can deny that it is to be the greatest card ever offered the Sacramento fight patrons.

Sally Salvatore, always a prime favorite, has been matched with Ado Zotte, a fast youngster from Stockton, and as he is the same style mixer as the local boy, they are sure to furnish a fast go. Zotte is touted as being the best prospect that Stockton has had in years, and as he is popular with the Stockton fans and has a large following—being a member of the Hub City Athletic club—quite a delegation will accompany him Friday.

Another exceptionally good go is looked for in the Bonny Bonadurer-Brynson bout, as both of these boys know the game from A to Z and are clever mixers. Bonadurer does his training at the club gym and has gained a host of admirers by his clever workouts. Brynson also shows up strong and while his backers look for him to win they admit that the Oak Park lad is a tough one to beat. They will weigh in at 145 pounds.

A go that will keep the fans going will be the Allen-Fritz affair. Fritz hails from Fresno, while Allen comes from Los Angeles. Allen has appeared here before the Buffalo club, making a big hit with his class, and while comparatively little is known locally about Fritz, his workouts at the club have demonstrated that he knows the game and will be up and coming from gong to gong.

A big surprise was sprung at the club last night which is liable to furnish the most bitter bout on the card. During the recent training siege for the Mantell-Holland fight, two club members, Joe Erickson and Dick Strand were acting as sparring partners for Holland, and up to this time were the best of friends. Some difference came up as to who was making the better showing with Holland, with the final result that the former friendship was strained and they are now enemies.

One word led to another as to the respective ability of these men and Erickson finally hurled a defy at Strand to meet him Friday night and settle for once and all who was the better man. Strand is about fifteen pounds heavier than Erickson, has a heavy punch and a fair knowledge of the game, but Erickson will overlook all this if he can only induce Strand to enter the roped arena with him. Strand has not yet consented to the match, but if he should there will surely be a whirlwind go.

NEW CLUB DETAILS

BASEMENT WILL CONTAIN ONE OF BEST SWIMMING POOLS ON COAST.

GYMNASIUM WILL BE ON FIFTH FLOOR AND WILL BE WELL EQUIPPED.

MORE THAN 300 MEMBERS HAVE ALREADY SIGNED NEW CLUB ROLL.

Frank Bacon, a prominent member of the Sacramento Athletic Club, his written the following for The Sunday News, relative to the new Sacramento Club, which proposes to build a costly club house at the corner of Eleventh and J streets, as told in another column of this paper.

The present Sacramento Athletic Club, which is the foundation upon which the new Sacramento Club will rest, has been a big factor for good in Sacramento during its long existence. Extending back over a period of some 25 years, the club at one time had a membership of 1200 persons, and contained the names of not only the city's but some of the state's best known men.

It is the intention of the new organization to take over the assets and liabilities of the present club as soon as the new building is completed. The present or old Sacramento Athletic Club will remain intact until that time.

The fact that the membership will be composed of representative men, not alone of Sacramento, but of the entire Inland Empire, offers the members and their families the advantages of larger acquaintance than heretofore, for the club will be affiliated with numerous similar organizations throughout the world and members will be entilted to privileges in other clubs. This means an immense advantage especially to thise traveling.

The services of the Hasslocher-Jagerson Company have been secured for the purpose of planning the interior arrangements and furnishings, securing members and raising the funds to carry on this huge proposition. This firm has had many years experience, and has built, financed and successfully operated the largest clubs in the Northwest. The members of the firm, at the time they decided upon handling the affairs of the local club had offers from seven different cities—from St. Louis to San Diego. Their confidence in Sacramento is evidence by the fact that they will take out stock in the club amounting approximately to $50,000.

The management of the club will be supervised by Mr. Hasslocher, who has been elected honorary secrtary. He is also one of the Board of Governors. He will have care of the operation of the club for several months after the opening in order to insure its success.

The building will cover the entire lot, which is 80x160 feet, and will be class A throughout. One of the main problems to be considered in designing a club of this character is to arrange the various departments that each one may receive the proper support from the other, and members be able to reach all departments with as little traveling as possible.

The basement will contain a swimming pool second to none on the Coast in size or equipment. The water will be regulated in temperature to suit the season, and will be furnished from a well on the premises, assuring its clearness and purity. Adjoining will be dressing rooms, shower baths, lockers for bathing suits, a Turkish bath with professional attendants, needle showers, electric bath, sleeping rooms, barber shop, and, in fact every modern detail known.

The women's gymnasium, 35x58 feet will be on this floor, having all up-to-date athletic apparatus suitable for women and children. This will also contain dressing rooms, ten shower baths, lavatories, lockers, etc. for exclusive use of women.

seating three hundred persons will be a feature.

The third floor will contain 11 bed rooms, and two large, elegantly arranged committee or meeting rooms.

The fourth floor will be provided with billiard and pool tables, buffet, card room, club offices, telephone booths, lavatories, spacious coat and hat room, a dining room, private dining apartments, kitchen, pantry, etc.

The fifth floor will provide one of the best equipped gymnasiums in the West, being 60x100 feet, and one end being arranged with a standard sized stage complete with dressing rooms, scenery, etc.

This floor will contain three tiers of dressing rooms, thirty or more showers, lavatories, lockers, and all necessary paraphernalia.

There will be a suspended running track, twelve laps to the mile, and there will be a seating capacity for between twelve hundred and fifteen hundred persons.

The women's dining room will also be on this floor. It will have a stained glass dome, French windows opening out on the balcony, making the room equal to any roof-garden, eliminating many unpleasant features viewed. The women will have a hat and cloak room, dressing rooms, with a commodious and comfortable rest room.

The by-laws provide that admission cards may be issued upon application for the immediate family of a member, and the women holding these cards may make use of the quarters for the women for whist patries, luncheons, and similar social functions, which will be a welcome feature.

At present more than 300 residents of the city have enrolled their names as members of the new club and now that the building site has been definitely decided upon, and plans are under way to begin work at the earliest possible date, it is predicted that more than one thousand applications will be received within the next thirty days.

Following is the Board of Governors of the new club: Jos. M. Anderson, President; H. E. Yardley, First Vice President; Jas. M. Henderson, Jr., Second Vice President; W. W. Bassett, Treasurer; E. A. Von Hosslocher, Secretary; Alden Anderson, Arthur Arnold, J. Grant Black, D. W. Carmichael, A. J. Delano, C. R. Gill, J. C. Haveley, J. V. McClatchy, C. W. Morton, Geo. W. Peltier, Thos. Schad, P. J. Shields, Sam Smith, Jos. H. Stephens, Edw. Wahl, Geo. P. Yoerk.

Machinery, boiler room, store rooms, and refrigerating plant will also be in the basement.

The ventilation will be a feature. The air, after being washed, will be passed over cooling coils, all the dust and germs removed, the temperature sufficiently reduced, and when distributed throughout the building will leave a cool, agreeable surrounding on the warmest day, and the system is such that it may be reversed during the winter days.

Three elevators, two passenger and one freight, will run from the basement to the top floor.

The first or street floor will contain seven stores, and the entrance lobby will be sheltered by a marquise handsomely decorated and amply large.

The second floor will have 20 handsomely appointed bed rooms, connected with private bath, stationery, wash stand, large clothes closet and telephone. Every room will an outside room, assuring plenty of light and air. This same floor will have two excellent concrete handball courts, each being 25x60 feet. They will be elegantly lighted by large end windows in the day time, and a flood of light from arcs and incandescents at night. A balcony

HIGH SCHOOL WINS AGAIN

WILLOWS HIGH SLIPS ONE OVER ON THE FAST SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUB

Once again the local basketball team showed that they are in a class by themselves when it comes to puting the crusher on other teams. Their best showing was made on Christmas night when they put the brake on the fast traveling team of the Sacramento Athletic club by a score of 20 to 18 before the largest crowd ever seen at a high school game of any kind in this city, there being over three hundred spectators lined up against the wall.

The S. A. C. has by far and away the best team ever played here, and they made the locals extend themselves to the limit to keep the advantage they had in the last minute of play. The winning of this game means a whole lot because the S. A. C. is recognized as the best team in the southern part of the valley, holding victories over Lodi, Dixon, Woodland and the Stockton All Stars, which is one of the best teams in the State.

The game was, beyond a doubt, the most exciting ever seen here. It was very fast from beginning to end and clever playing and spectacular goal throwing marked it to the end. The visitors were better at throwing goals, making some marvellous shots from long throws. McNeely of the visitors starred at this while Killebrew, captain of the locals, also threw a good one.

The game was very clean from the spectators point of view, none of the incessant bickering and crabbing which marked the Gridley-Willows game being in evidence. The Sacarmento boys received many favorable comments on the way they took their defeat and have won a place in the good will of the Willows fans and can have another game anytime they want it. In view of the close score and knowing what a drawing card the two teams would prove if they met agin, is urging Manager Monlux to make arrangements for another game to be played here and he is now trying to get a date for the 18th of January, which is a week after the locals hook up with Redding.

There was no star on either side as all played consistent team work throughout the game. Ray McNulty and Ash were the leading goal throwers for their respective teams.

Following is the score:

Willows

M. McNulty, forward, 1-1.
R. McNulty, forward, 2-2-2-2-2.
Killebrew, guard, 2.
Marshall, guard.

Sacramento Athletics

Anderson, forward, 2.
Hicks, forward.
TeVeltrup, center, 1-2-2-1.
Ash, guard, 2-2-2.
Assalena, guard.

Harry Duke of the S. A. C. and Fred Talcott refereed the game and gave complete satisfaction to both teams.

S. A. C. LOSES TWO SOCCER GAMES TO JUBILEE ROVERS

The Sacramento Athletic Club's first Soccer team lost a double-header yesterday morning at the McKinley Park grounds when they went down to defeat before the speedy Jubilee Rovers in the Sacramento Valley Soccer League. The score of the first game was 2 to 1 and the second 2 to 0.

Despite the fact that Soccer is a new game to the clubmen, they showed remarkable skill in the great English pastime.

Holtz made the first score for the Athletics and a Rover sent one through tieing up the first game for the first half. Walker sent one through the bars for the Rovers, winning the first game for the Rovers. The Athletics' denfense was stubborn and they did not give up until Referee Douglas called time.

Andy Reshke, outside left of the Athletics, suffered a broken leg in the last half of the last game. The accident was unavoidable, and the blame was not placed on anyone. This is one of the first accidents to occur here in Soccer. The Rovers handed the Athletics a goose-egg in the last game winning by a 2 to 0 score.

The teams lined up as follows:

Athletics.	Position.	Rovers.
Murray	goal	Bowden
Bowden	R. B.	Whalley
Thompson	L. B.	Button
McGregor	R. H.	Boyce
Rooney	C.	Moyer

LOCAL SOCCER PLAYERS TO INTRODUCE GAME IN MARYSVILLE

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), December 25.—In order that the game of soccer may be introduced to the people of Yuba and Sutter Counties, it is proposed to have two teams from the league playing in Sacramento come to Marysville early in the new year and give an exhibition game or two, with free admission to the grounds.

All the Sacramento promoters of the sport ask is that proper publicity be given the coming of the players. Manager Collins of the Marysville baseball team has been asked to work the proposition up at this end.

Willows Five Wins From S. A. C.

Exciting Basketball Game Ends in Score of 20 to 18

1-2-13

In one of the most exciting games of basketball ever played at Willows the Sacramento Athletic Club team went down to a 20 to 18 defeat last evening at the hands of the Willows Giants. The game was fast from beginning to end and clever playing and spectacular goal throwing marked the game as a great one for the large number of spectotors.

The contest was hard fought from beginning to end and not until the timer's whistle call was the outcome really settled. The game was clean and none of the players were injured.

The teams lined up as follows:

Willows—R. McNulty and M. McNulty, forwards; Monlux, center; Killebrew and Marshall, guards.

Sacramento—Eldred, Donald and Anderson, forwards; Captain te Veltrup, center; McNeeley, Asselena and Ash, guards. Harry Duke and Fred Talcott alternated as umpire and referee.

ATHLETIC CLUB TEAM TO MEET LINCOLN

The fast basketball squad of the Sacramento Athletic club will invade Lincoln Sunday afternoon when they will meet the All-Star team of that place. The local boys have been working hard and expect this to be one of the hardest games of the season, and they are confident of success. Manager Harry Duke of the Athletics has just cinched the game with E. H. Sanderson, manager of the Lincoln All-Stars.

The second game of the day will start immediately afterward, when the Rovers and the Occidentals clash. The best work done by the Lincoln boys was that of Stokes, who played forward. He threw the only basket from the field, chalking up in Lincoln's favor. The Sacramento players who threw baskets were McNeely 5, Te Beltrup 5, Eldred 2, Ash 1, Assalena 1.

ROVERS WIN OUT OVER ATHLETICS

In one of the hardest fought games seen in this city this season the Rovers yesterday defeated the Athletic club team in McKinley park by a score of 1 to 0. Up to the last ten minutes of play it looked like a draw game, and it was by the merest chance that Boyce shot one through just before the end, thus securing a victory for the Rovers.

Play in the first half was a shade in favor of the Athletics, but in the second half honors were well distributed. Owing to the extremely cold weather many of the Occidentals and Sacramentos did nut show up so the scheduled game between those teams was postponed. In fact the game between the Rovers and Athletics was nothing more than a practice game. One of the feature players of the day was Wahl of the Athletics who played at goal.

Next Sunday the two veteran teams of the league, the Rovers and Sacramentos, will battle for honors. The Rovers now lead the league, and it will be the purpose of the Sacramentos to unseat the champions.

Winter Baseball Planned

S. A. C. to Have 4-Club League

THE Sacramento Athletic Club is going to start a Winter Baseball League among its members during February. Club Captain Frank Bacon is framing the plans. He intends to start a four-team league on the first Sunday in February.

There is a great wealth of material now in the Athletic Club. All the Coast League players Wintering here are members and are strong for the League.

GAME EVERY SUNDAY.

The play will last only during February. Games will be played on every Sunday and on February 22d, Washington's Birthday.

For a number of seasons past this Winter Club League has been played here and it has been a big success. It has been so chiefly because the teams were composed of Sacramento's best in baseballdom. All of the local players are idle and their blood is tingling for a game of ball again.

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN.

A silver loving cup will be presented to the winning club, and the local sporting goods houses will be asked by the League Directors to put up prizes for the best hitters, base-stealers and run-getters.

All the baseball material at the Athletic Club will be banded together within the next two weeks and the Captains will be elected. They will choose their men and play will commence immediately.

COASTERS WANT IN, TOO.

Already a number of the Coasters have called on Frank Bacon and have expressed their desire to get the kinks out of their arms with a little Winter ball. The Sacramento Ball Club is going to take advantage of the League and try out several players, appraise their work in the garden and infield.

Unless double-headers are played each Sunday, each team will play each other team in the League once during the month. The team landing on top at the end of the series will be given the silver trophy.

OLD S. P. TICKET AGENT HAS FOUND A GOOD THING

Mr. H. C. Bronson, Guest at the Golden Eagle Hotel, Finds Plant Juice is an Efficient Remedy.

Mr. H. C. Bronson, a guest at the Golden Eagle Hotel here and who was the depot ticket agent for the Southern Pacific company and is now passenger and freight agent in Sacramento for the Rock Island route, is another man here who has a few good words to say for Plant Juice. Mr. Bronson has been a sufferer for a long time with malaria and has been unable to get anything that would even give him relief until he heard of this new remedy that is being introduced here. He tried it and related his experiences to the Plant Juice man at the Owl Drug Store as follows:

"For the last two years I have been with the Rock Island people and during all that time and for a long time previously I suffered with malaria. I would be unable to attend to my work properly for several weeks at a time, was always in a disordered condition and could feel the effects of the ailment in various parts of my body. During that time I tried many remedies, but was unable to get more than temporary relief. I read a great deal of your Plant Juice advertising and decided to try a bottle and I want to tell you that it surely is a marvelous remedy and will do all that is claimed for it. I have only taken a little over two bottles and now am completely cured. This wonderful change in my condition is due to Plant Juice and I am only too glad to recommend it to all who may suffer with malaria or any of the kindred ailments."

Plant Juice is a guaranteed remedy, that is, if you try a bottle and it does not do all that is claimed for it your money will be refunded cheerfully. This is as broad a proposition as can be made and shows that the manufacturers have faith in their preparation. If you suffer with indigestion, biliousness, constipation, nervousness, chills and fever, malaria, or in fact any derangement of the stomach, kidneys, liver or blood then Plant Juice is just what you need. Go to see the special Plant Juice man at the Owl Drug Store today. He will tell you all about this wonderful, new, vegetable preparation.—Advertisement.

The first singles handball tournament staged by the Sacramento Athletic club was started in the gym courts yesterday morning, and while the doubles tournament recently completed was pronounced the most successful indoor competition ever fostered by the popular Ninth-street organization, the tourney just started bids fair to create more enthusiasm than anything of an indoor nature ever started by the club.

It is the intention to class the players on nearly as even a basis as is possible, and the games played yesterday show that the directors were very careful in placing the players in championship, first or second division, and though some of the scores are somewhat topheavy, it is occasioned more by the defeated entrant not playing up to his usual standard than the superior class apparently displayed by his opponent.

The championship class brought out some remarkable play, and, by a coincidence, the Blake brothers, winners of the recent doubles tournament, were drawn against each other. For this reason it proved an unusually interesting set, and though Irva Blake completely outclassed Joe Blake in the first game, the younger brother gained confidence in the second set, and played a classy game, running tie, until eleven points all had been recorded. But class soon told and, with an almost impossible serve, and a kill which was impossible to return, the elder brother annexed the second game and the set, the scores being 21-4 and 21-12.

In the same class, Pugh sprung quite a surprise by taking both games from Count Marston, winning the second by a 21-20 score after one of the hardest played games ever seen on the club courts.

Doval also came well to the front, taking two rattling games from McCulloch, while the set between Delano and Strachan proved a thriller from start to finish. Delano was not picked to do better than break even, and the closeness of the scores indicate how evenly the players were matched.

The first and second division games proved just as interesting as the games in the championship class, and many surprises will be sprung before the tournament is very old. Yesterday's results:

Championship Class.—I. Blake beat Joe Blake, 21-4, 21-12; Pugh beat Marston, 21-11, 21-20; Doval beat McCulloch, 21-19, 21-18; Shaw beat Mansfield, 21-14, 21-1; Simmermacher beat Lobner, 21-15, 21-10; Delano beat Strachan, 21-20, 21-14.

First Division.—Palm beat Morrissey, 21-15, 21-14; Gill beat McDonough, 21-17, 21-3; Barnes beat McKillican, 21-14, 21-13.

Second Division.—Holtz beat Terrell, 21-3, 21-4; Dickson beat Pixley, 21-17, 21-10; Cowen and McKeown split, 18-21 and 21-11.

S. A. C. LOSES TWO SOCCER GAMES TO JUBILEE ROVERS

The Sacramento Athletic Club's first Soccer team lost a double-hender yesterday morning at the McKinley Park grounds when they went down to defeat before the speedy Jubilee Rovers in the Sacramento Valley Soccer League. The score of the first game was 2 to 1 and the second 2 to 0.

Despite the fact that Soccer is a new game to the clubmen, they showed remarkable skill in the great English pastime.

Holtz made the first score for the Athletics and a Rover sent one through tieing up the first game for the first half. Walker sent one through the bars for the Rovers, winning the first game for the Rovers. The Athletics' denfense was stubborn and they did not give up until Referee Douglas called time.

Andy Reshke, outside left of the Athletics, suffered a broken leg in the last half of the last game. The accident was unavoidable, and the blame was not placed on anyone. This is one of the first accidents to occur here in Soccer. The Rovers handed the Athletics a goose-egg in the last game winning by a 2 to 0 score.

The teams lined up as follows:

LOCAL SOCCER PLAYERS TO INTRODUCE GAME IN MARYSVILLE

(The Bee's Special Service.)

MARYSVILLE (Yuba Co.), December 25.—In order that the game of soccer may be introduced to the people of Yuba and Sutter Counties, it is proposed to have two teams from the league playing in Sacramento come to Marysville early in the new year and give an exhibition game or two, with free admission to the grounds.

All the Sacramento promoters of the sport ask is that proper publicity be given the coming of the players. Manager Collins of the Marysville baseball team has been asked to work the proposition up at this end.

A GREAT deal of interest is being taken here this year in soccer. The Sacramento aVlley Soccer League is meeting with much success in its endeavor to introduce the game in the Valley. Already two new teams have been formed here and the Marysville fans have invited two from here to play one of their games at the Hub City in an endeavor to show the natives what the sport is like.

To-morrow at McKinley Park at 12:30 sharp the Sacramento Athletic Club and the Sacramento teams will clash. The second game of the day will start immediately afterward, when the Rovers and the Occidentals clash. Both of these should be interesting and a large crowd of the soccer followers are planning to turn out.

The Rovers have been showing great improvement lately. They are using better team work and are fighting hard to win the Kimball and Upson cup, which goes to the victorious club in the league.

The Rovers usually line up as follows: Right back, Whalley; goal, Simpson; left back, Button; right half, Boyce; center half, Moyer; left half, Bowden; outside right, Trowbridge; inside right, Turner; center forward, Harry Simpson; inside left, Bissett; outside left, Ridley. LINCOLN TEAM IS DEFEATED BY LOCALS

Playing in the open and handicapped by a heavy wind, the Sacramento Athletic club basketball team and the Lincoln Athletic club five tried conclusions at Lincoln yesterday and the local boys copped the long end of a 28 to 2 score.

The best work done by the Lincoln boys was that of Stokes, who played forward. He threw the only basket from the field, chalking up in Lincoln's favor. The Sacramento players who threw baskets were McNeely 5, Te Beltrup 5, Eldred 2, Ash 1, Assalena 1.

ROVERS WIN OUT OVER ATHLETICS

In one of the hardest fought games seen in this city this season the Rovers yesterday defeated the Athletic club team in McKinley park by a score of 3 to 6. Up to the last ten minutes of play it looked like a draw game, and it was by the merest chance that Boyce shot one through just before the end, thus securing a victory for the Rovers.

Play in the first half was a shade in favor of the Athletics, but in the second half honors were well distributed. Owing to the extremely cold weather many of the Occidentals and Sacramentos did not show up so the scheduled game between those teams was postponed. In fact the game between the Rovers and Athletics was nothing more than a practice game. One of the feature players of the day was Wahl of the Athletics who played at goal.

Next Sunday the two veteran teams of the league, the Rovers and Sacramentos, will battle for honors. The Rovers now lead the league, and it will be the purpose of the Sacramentos to unseat the champions.

OLD S. P. TICKET AGENT HAS FOUND A GOOD THING

Mr. H. C. Bronson, Guest at the Golden Eagle Hotel, Finds Plant Juice is an Efficient Remedy.

Mr. H. C. Bronson, a guest at the Golden Eagle Hotel here and who was the depot ticket agent for the Southern Pacific company and is now passenger and freight agent in Sacramento for the Rock Island route, is another man here who has a few good words to say for Plant Juice. Mr. Bronson has been a sufferer for a long time with malaria and has been unable to get anything that would even give him relief until he heard of this new remedy that is being introduced here. He tried it and related his experiences to the Plant Juice man at the Owl Drug Store as follows:

"For the last two years I have been with the Rock Island people and during all that time and for a long time previously I suffered with malaria. I would be unable to attend to my work properly for several weeks at a time, was always in a disordered condition and could feel the effects of the ailment in various parts of my body. During that time I tried many remedies, but was unable to get more than temporary relief. I read a great deal of your Plant Juice advertising and decided to try a bottle and I want to tell you that it surely is a marvelous remedy and will do all that is claimed for it. I have only taken a little over two bottles and now am completely cured. This wonderful change in my condition is due to Plant Juice and I am only too glad to recommend it to all who may suffer with malaria or any of the kindred ailments."

Plant Juice is a guaranteed remedy, that is, if you try a bottle and it does not do all that is claimed for it your money will be refunded cheerfully. This is as broad a proposition as can be made and shows that the manufacturers have faith in their preparation. If you suffer with indigestion, biliousness, constipation, nervousness, chills and fever, malaria, or in fact any derangement of the stomach, kidneys, liver or blood then Plant Juice is just what you need. Go to see the special Plant Juice man at the Owl Drug Store today. He will tell you all about this wonderful, new, vegetable preparation.—Advertisement.

Popular Physical Director Goes to St. Mary's College

PROFESSOR OTTO RITTLER, who until recently has been the athletic instructor at the Sacramento Athletic Club, and one of the most prominent figures in loca lathletic circles, has accepted the position of head of the athletic department at St. Mary's College in Oakland. He will take charge at St. Mary's on the 1st of October.

Before coming to Sacramento Rittler was coach at St. Mary's, and during that time he trained some of the best teams ever turned out by the Oakland college. In fact, his work was so good that from the day he left until the present time, the faculty of that institution has been trying to get him back into athletic work at their college.

Rittler's work wherever he has gone has been of the same caliber; no matter what he has been asked to do, he has always made a success. His work always encouraged the boys, and his ability as a trainer and conditioner is equalled by but few on the Coast.

Installs Spirit.

One of the chief reasons why he is in such demand by athletic organizations, and especially St. Mary's, is that he teaches the boys to play a loyal, fighting game. He is always on the field with the boys, works as hard as the next one, suffers their sorrows, enjoys their jokes with them, and is at all times one of the boys.

All of his work in Sacramento has been marked with ginger, and all of the men trained under him have come to have the same ginger and "pep" that has marked his career.

Good Work Here.

During the twenty-one months Rittler was connected with the Sacramento Athletic Club he did more for the good of athletics in Sacramento than any other man ever did. His record shows this.

When he arrived in Sacramento, the Sacramento Basketball League was ready for a funeral, but after Rittler became a member of the Board of Directors he straightened things out, and the League was a big success.

He coached the two Athletic Club's teams to a victory in this same League. Later he took the teams on several tours.

Promoted Rugby.

Upon his arrival from St. Mary's he talked from one day to the next on Rugby, and finally the Rugby bug got started and all of the local athletes wanted to know the whys and wherefores, and they found the solution of their questions by asking Rittler, who was always ready to tell all he knew of the great English game.

His arrival in Sacramento was too late to start a Rugby team the first season, but the following year he put out a great team, considering that it was the first year the largest part of the members had ever played.

This year he had great material for a team, but his resignation from the club took the team out of his hands and the material was developed by the other club officials.

Introduces P. A. A.

The Sacramento Athletic Club was not a member of the Pacific Amateur Association when Rittler took charge of the club's affairs. He had always been a strong advocate of clean amateur sports, and one of the first things he did was to get the Directors to enroll the local club with the P. A. A.

During his time as instructor here Rittler managed a P. A. A. boxing tournament and a P. A. A. track meet. Both were big successes, many athletes from all over the State competed, and Sacramento was put on the athletic map for the first time in its history.

Sorry to Leave.

In going to Oakland, Professor Rittler will leave behind a large number of warm Sacramento friends. He does not make the change without a great deal of regret, but the field in Oakland is a bigger one, and offers him a greater future.

OTTO RITTLER.

Winners of The Bee League to Meet Valley Champions

Decide Basketball Honors of Superior California

9-23

(BY G. A. PUTNAM.)

The formation of the Sacramento Bee Basketball League has stimulated an interest in the sport that has been lagging for a number of years and there has come a revival of this once popular soprt in all of the athletic organizations in Sacramento.

The formation of the league offers a way to determine the basketball championship in Superior California. In past years four or five teams have claimed the honor of being the Valley "champs." With an organized league in Sacramento it will be possible to determine which team in the city is qualified to play the winners of the different Valley Leagues and thus settle the question of supremacy.

Winners to Meet.

The sentiment seems to be that the winner of the Sacramento Bee League unlimited class should meet the winner of the Northern California Athletic League after the finals in basketball have been played off in both leagues.

The winner of the basketball championship in the Sacramento Valley Interscholastic Athletic League will also probably be challenged by the winning team of the Sacramento Bee League. This will bring the championship of the Superior California teams to a head, and the team winning the proposed series should be the just claimant to the Superior California championship.

Directors Favor Series.

Most all of the different athletic directors are in favor of a series of games between the winners of the different Valley School Leagues. In the playing of a series of three games a large amount of interest would be created, and the game would become a great deal more interesing to the fans as well as the players.

Games will undoubtedly be scheduled between the winners of the N. C. H. A. and the S. V. I. A. L. This series will either take place before the finish of The Bee League series of immediately afterwards. The date of the games will depend on the time the different leagues finish their basketball schedules.

Favorite Pastime.

Although basketball has a large number of followers in Sacramento, its largest following is found in the smaller towns throughout Superior California, and it is on account of the popularty of this sport in these smaller towns that they turn out such good teams.

Basketball has been the chief amusement for the athletically inclined country fan for some time. The smaller towns were among the first to take to the great Winter indoor game. For this reason the teams will be supported and The Bee League teams will receive the hearty support and co-operation in their endeavor to bring the best team in Superior California to the front.

Davis, Woodland, College City, Colusa, Chico, Marysville, Auburn, Oroville, Grass Valley and Nevada City, and many other towns of the same size, all put out strong teams in the basketball field every year. They are anxious to put their teams into the championship running, and will be glad to enter into the final race for the championship of Superior California.

Teams Start Practice.

The Sacramento Athletic Club team started practice Wednesday evening, with a fairly large squad. Not many of the old players were on hand, as they were out with the Rugby squad. Most of the men who did show up were from the lightweight division, and made a good showing for the first time out.

The Club boys are planning to put three teams in The Bee League, and by the spirit they are showing they may do even better than that.

The Y. M. C. A. boys are doing their regular practicing every week, and the material is showing up in good shape. Considering the early date, the players have already taken on a fairly good-looking condition, and by the time the League is ready to start they should be in the best of form.

School Boys to Start.

Physical Director Gilbert Main will start his huskies to work within the next week. He has been so busy getting his different athletic classes in working shape that he has not had time to devote to athletic arrangements of any kind, but during the next two weeks he will start to get his material into shape for competition in The Bee League.

A large number of the High School's best men are members of the Rugby squad, and will not be able to enter basketball for some time, but with the large amount of new material going out for basketball honors this season there will be enough to make a good-sized squad without the old-timers.

Captain Hicks of the High School basketball team is very much enthus over The Bee League. He is going enter three teams in the League. T heavyweight team of the High Sch is composed entirely of veterans, a will be a strong contestant for fi honors.

The High School will not be alone the entering of good teams, for ev Club and athletic organization that entered so far is planning to put ou strong team. This is evidenced by early practice. Never before has th been so much talk and enthusia shown around the different athletic ganizations in Sacramento regard basketball.

The boys and the teams have so thing to fight for, and they are all termined to make the best of it. To this they realize they must put many hours of hard practice. All of teams and athletes are trying to get early start on the other fellow, and idler will be caught asleep at switch.

ATHLETIC RUGBY TEA LEAVES FOR RENO

BROOKES AND ATHLETICS BATTLE FOR LOCAL HONORS

The Brooke Realty and Sacramento Athletic club baseball teams will meet at Oak Park tomorrow afternoon to settle the dispute as to which is entitled to the baseball honors within the limits of Sacramento. These two teams are practically the only survivors of the all-Sacramento teams which started early in the season, and the showing which the Brookes and Athletics have made is such as to justify each in laying claim to the city championship.

This will be the first of the season between two Sacramento semi-professional teams, the games between Galt and the Brooke Realtys being the nearest approach to a local semi-professional game which has been offered local fans.

Manager Hughson of the Athletics has strengthened his team to go against the Brookes. "Danny" Wright, the popular southpaw, and "Hap" Smith will form the battery for the Athletics. Three other slab artists in Baltz, "Jack" Wright and "Demon" Doyle, will be on hand. Joe Williams, McGee, Acunia, Nixon, G. Wright and other fast men will be seen in action with the club team.

ATHLETICS TO CLASH WITH BOOSTERS TO-MORROW

11-25-11

Far more interest than was expected is being taken in the Sacramento Athletics-Brooke Realty game at Oak Park to-morrow afternoon, for the fans have realized that the Athletics, bound to uphold the splendid record they have made during the present season, will put forth their very best efforts, and as they will present the strongest lineup of the season they stand a good chance to leave the Boosters dragging along the short end of the score.

On the other hand, the Boosters are going in great shape at present, Johnston being in particularly good form, and the fans will see an exhibition that will be worth while.

As usual, there will be no grandstand admission, and the game will be called at 3 p. m. The teams will line up as follows:

ATHLETICS SWAMP TEAM FROM Y.M.C.A.

Basketball Game at Old Pavilion Results in One-Sided Runaway Score.

Whatever question there might have been as to the superiority between the Sacramento Athletic club and Young Men's Christian association basketball teams was decisively answered last night when the Athletics swamped the Y. M. C. A. team by a score of 34 to 10 at the Old Pavilion. The Athletics had the better of the argument all the way and it was not until well along in the second half that their opponents succeeded in caging their first field goal.

Team work was the particular feature of the work of the S. A. C. team, TeVeltrop at center and Blake at left forward proving the particular stars. The Y. M. C. A. team work was a missing quantity and in individual play they showed plenty of room for improvement. It was a game marked by many fouls, eleven being called on the club team and twelve on the Y. M. C. A. team.

In a preliminary game the Highland Park Athletic club team defeated the Golden Poppies by a score of 8 to 7.

The score of the S. A. C.- . M. C. A game was as follows:

COAST CHAMPIONSHIPS TO BE SETTLED HERE SUNDAY

Three Handball "Champs" to Play at S. A. C. for Honors

The Sacramento Athletic Club will be the scene of some warm handball games Sunday morning at 10:30, when Maguire and Hampton will defend the Pacific Coast double handball title against Root and Blake, the two Sacramento champions.

The big championship double games will be played first. The best three out of five games to decide the championship. Immediately after the championship games there will be a number of singles games.

G. Clements, the champion of the Northwest, will defend his title by playing Maguire, holder of the Pacific Coast singles championship. This will also be the best three out of five games.

Maguire, Hampton and Clements are among the best known handball players in America and if the Sacramento players score a victory over the double champions it will mean a big thing for Sacramento athletically.

Clements won the single championship honors at the Clark Exposition at Portland, and he claims never to have been defeated since that time. The club has gone to a great deal of expense in bringing these three men here. They are going to charge an admission of fifty cents.

ATHLETICS UNABLE TO MAINTAIN PACE

Stockton Basketball Team Defeats Sacramento in Fastest Game of Season.

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Nov. 16.—The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team went down to defeat before the team of the Stockton Athletic club tonight in one of the fastest games ever seen on the local court, by a score of 43 to 20. In team work and individual brilliancy the two teams were about evenly matched, the greater endurance powers of the local team breaking through for a decisive win in the second half.

In the first half the teams quit without either enjoying any special advantage. But the pace began to tell on the Sacramento boys in the second half, and as the Stockton team showed no signs of letting up its terrific attack, the visitors gradually fell behind until the end found them on the short end of the decisive score.

For Sacramento, Duke, the leader of the visting team, and Roberts, playing at center, put up the best exhibition.

INTEREST KEEN IN S. A. C. TOURNAMENT

Interest is running high at the Sacramento Athletic club in the whist tournament that is being played by about twelve teams considered among the best players in the club. "Duplicate whist" is the game as played by the entrymen, 16 treys constituting a game.

Sollars and Pixley are the near-champions of the club, that team having two legs on a championship cup that was hung up about three years ago. Sollars at present is in San Francisco, and Paisley is playing as a partner to Pugh. The winners of the present tournament will have to play a match game against Sollars and Pixley for possession of the cup.

Some of the results follow:

Corson and Starrett, 3, against Rose and Ross, 18; Loebner and Wahlander, 4, against Morris and Turner, 12; Bacon and Pearl, 4, against Eames and Warren, 13; Corson and Starrett, 3, against Pixley and Pugh, 14.

Will Meet Brock in S. A. C. Contest at Old Pavilion

Management of Club Arranges Eight Bouts for Friday Night Fight Card.

Hundreds of local fight fans are anxiously awaiting the word that will start at least sixteen classy boxers on their way at the Old Pavilion Friday night, when eight of the best contests that have ever been staged here will make up the splendid card that has been arranged for the pleasure of local enthusiasts. The main go between Brock and Hanson promises to be one of the most torrid affairs seen here in a long time, and as there has been a question of long standing as to which was really the better mixer of the two, they have each stated that they will enter this affair to settle the question for all time.

Brock is without a doubt one of the classiest boxers that has ever entered the game here, and has a great future as a championship possibility. Young, full of life, acquainted with every trick of the game, clever, shifty and possessing a healthy wallop, he has fast worked himself to the front and stands well in the estimation of the closest followers of the game.

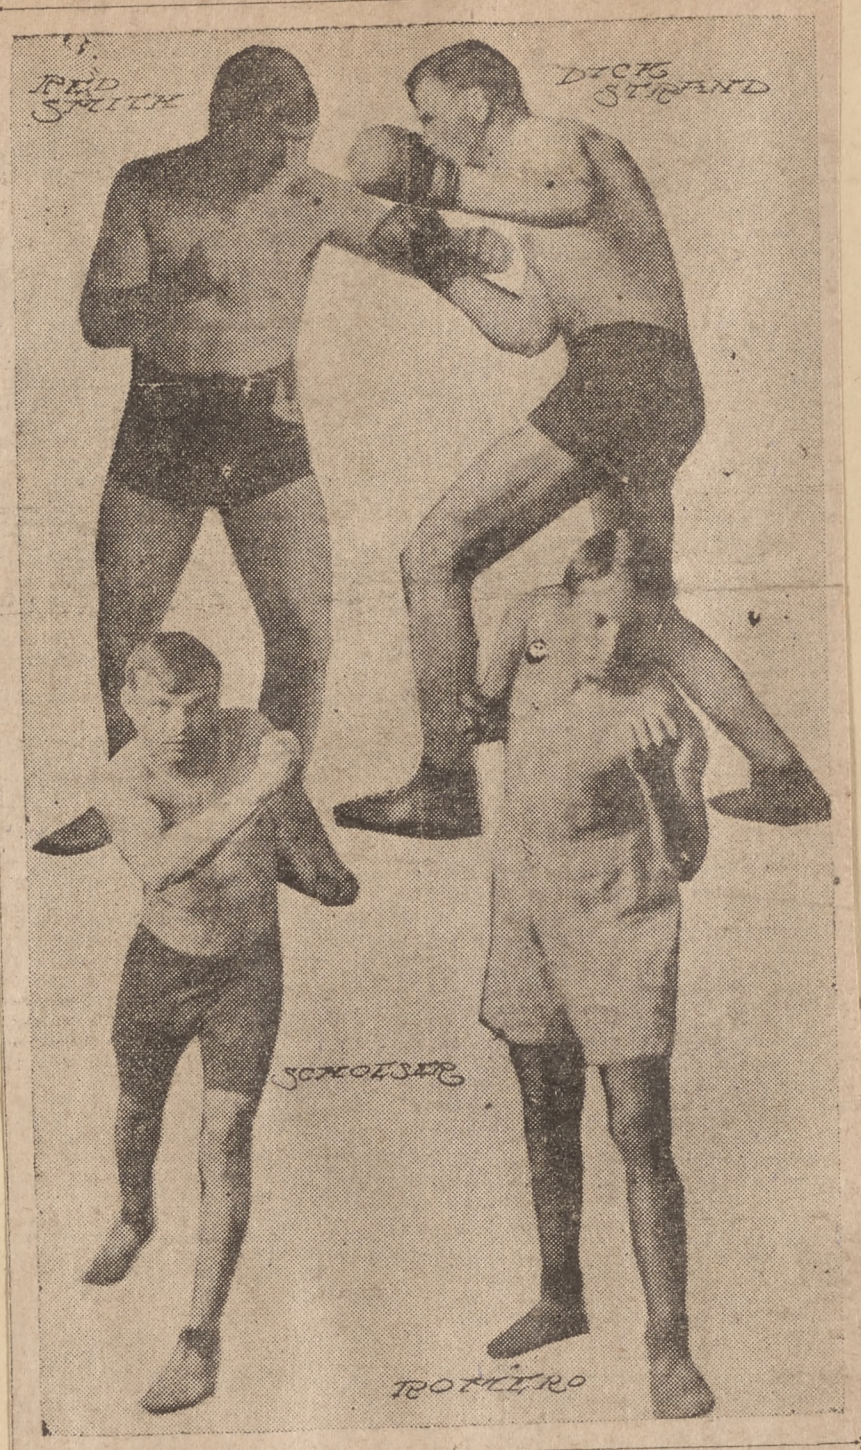
Hanson follows him closely in every qualification for a crack ring man, and the sailor boy from Sweden and his backers figure that it will be easy picking over the local favorite. Hanson has had nearly fifty ring battles and his record proves that he is a comer who is to be reckoned with. He has appeared before the local fans on many occasions, always putting up an aggressive, clever bout. While there is apparently little to choose between the two, the odds seem to favor Hanson.

Both are working out at the club gym and may be seen at any hour doing the stunts that will put and keep them in the best possible shape.

Every event on the card is causing an unusual amount of talk among the fans, and whenever an argument is started the Ahern-Tommy Romero match is brought up. This will be one of the hardest fought bouts of the night's card, for never were two more real, aggressive, clever boxers matched than this pair. They are willing, not being afraid to take a punch and box in a clean manner that always makes a big hit with fight followers.

BIG CARD AT PAVILION

Eight Contests Prepared by S. A. C.



LOCAL FIGHT FANS AWAIT TAP OF GONG TONIGHT

Local and Outside Talent Will Contend for Honors in Four-Round Bouts.

Tonight will witness the much-heralded four-round contests of the Sacramento Athletic club at the Old Pavilion. The card is an exceptionally strong one and local fight followers can be assured that every man selected by the club's matchmaker will do his best to land a knockout. Eight bouts will be staged, and the best of material available has been picked to make the contests the best ever held in this city. The advance sale of seats has been large and a record crowd is expected. Following is a summary of the fighters who will appear:

Jimmy Romero vs. Phil Schoeser. These boys will weigh in at 118 pounds. Romero has shown speed and class on previous occasions. Little is known of Schoeser, a recent arrival from Alaska, where he boxed many times. The lads are evenly matched and their bout should go the limit.

Lee Morrissey vs. Bakutich. This will be a whirlwind affair, both being hard, willing workers and show strong in workouts, but experience and ability slightly favors Morrissey. They will weigh 130 pounds.

Hennessy and Estae. Both of these comers have appeared here before and show plenty of class. They like the game, and will mix it from gong to gong. Hennessy is considered a slight favorite, but Estae may surprise.

Dick Strand vs. Young Joe Grim. This will be a nifty go. Both weigh in at 170 pounds, are fast, have a good knowledge of the game and know how to deliver the goods. Grim is from the Hawthorn club of San Francisco. He has had considerable experience, and is therefore placed as the favorite. Strand will surprise, however, for he has every making of a first-class man, with no opportunity to display his real ability.

Sally Salvatore vs. Louie Popparis. This will be one of the scrappiest scraps of the evening. Salvatore needs no introduction to local fans, as his past record speaks for itself. Popparis is a late arrival from Oklahoma, this being his first appearance on the coast. He is fast, clever and can take an unlimited amount of punishment. Salvatore should gain decision by outpointing his opponent.

First special—Tommy Ahern vs. Tommy Romero. Judging from workouts, this will be one of the prettiest bouts on the card. Ahern is a strong favorite locally, having appeared to advantage on many occasions. Romero has proved that he can also deliver the goods. Both are exceptionally clever, possess speed and a good wallop. They should go the limit and contend for a close decision. They will weigh 120 pounds.

Second special—Red Smith vs. Fritz Fry. A heavyweight affair that is causing all the followers to sit up and take notice. Both weigh 185 pounds. Smith has made sensational improvement since entering the game, and should he prove successful tonight will be looked upon seriously as a genuine white hope. Fry comes from the Western club of San Francisco. He has a splendid reputation and is also being considered as a possible white hope. Both are eager mixers and like the game, which will mean plenty of action. Hard for a choice.

Main event—Brock vs. Hanson. A bout embodying much bitterness which means something doing all the time. Both have excellent records. Hanson is in far superior condition for this affair than on any other appearance here. Tough, clever and not afraid to mix. Brock is one of the cleverest men at the game. Through knowledge, not afraid to take a punch, and can deliver a stiff blow. They will weigh 145 pounds and should fight very even the bout going to either on a decision by a very slight margin.

In going over the above bouts, the fans will doubtless know more or less about every one of the contestants and it will be observed that there is not a boxer listed who was ever classed as a quitter, which is a gilt edge assurance that every one of the goes will be hotly contested and won by superior work.

The bouts will be held at the Old Pavilion, Sixth and M streets, and the opening bout will be staked promptly at 8:30 p. m. The card will be run off in the quickest possible manner, without delay between fights.

Charley Schvalenberg, the well-known local referee, will be the third man in the ring, with Ed Cox and Ancil Hoffman acting as judges.

Every indication points to this as being a banner event as far as local pugilists is concerned, and the card is worthy of a packed house such as was never before known in this city

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT ARRANGED FOR S. A. C. CARD

Strand and Robertson Signed for Next Week's Contest at Old Pavilion.

Each day brings added interest to the big boxing show to be held at the Old Pavilion one week from tonight, when eight of the classiest bouts ever staged in this city will be put on. The fighters are showing exceptional form in their workouts, and many surprises will likely be sprung. Many of the fighters, while practically unknown to local followers of the game, will enter the ring with a record to sustain, which assures action from start to finish.

Yesterday an important match was made when Strand, a promising local heavyweight, was matched with Robertson. Strand is looked upon as a real comer, possessing every qualification of a first-class boxer, and those who have watched him work out predict that he will forge his way up fast, and will soon be going after higher honors. Robertson is practically unknown here, having arrived but lately from Scotland, but the big fellow looks all to the good. His record shows that he has met fourteen men in his division, and has never yet been sent to the mat, or had a decision rendered against him. Since he started his workouts at the club gym he has shown wonderful class, gaining many friends, and the local boy will have to be on the job all the time to keep in the going.

Much interest in the bouts is being taken outside of Sacramento, and Chico, the home of Brock, who will appear in the main event, is to send a party of fifteen to root for their favorite.

Interest increases in the bouts daily, and as the card will be completed by tomorrow night at the latest, the fans will have ample time to size up the contestants before the fight by watching them work out at the club gym.

S. A. C. FIGHTS BILLED FOR DEC. 15

Old Pavilion to Be Scene of Boxing Contests Among Clever Lads.

MATCHES ARE ARRANGED

Club Management Is Seeking Material for Bouts With Welterweights.

What is expected to be without exception the greatest set of fights ever staged in one night in this city is to be pulled off by the Sacramento Athletic club at the Old Pavilion on the night of December 15, and local fans are already anticipating some clever boxing.

There will not be a dull bout on the card, every go being a special event in itself, and every one of the best local men will be matched with the best talent obtainable. Every match will be made by next Friday night, and all contestants will be bound by a forfeit to assure their appearance Three good matches have been arranged already, and the fans will welcome all of them. Tommy Ahern, always a favorite, will clash with Romero, one of the most promising 120-pound youngsters in the game, and they will present some clever milling.

Brock, everybody's favorite, will be seen in action against Sailor Hanson, a husky 145-pounder, who has made a favorable impression with local fans, and their go will be one of action from gong to gong.

Moyce, one of the toughest boys that has ever appeared before a local crowd, has been signed up with Geo. Mullin, a clever welter, who has been making great headway at the four-round game in Salt Lake City and other middle state cities.

The club has strings out for men to go on with big Red Smith, heavyweight; Strand at 165 pounds; Pappas at 142 pounds, Hennessy and Estae at 130 pounds, McKeil at 145 pounds, and Parenti at 110 pounds. Local fans have very good reasons for expecting what will without doubt prove to be the greatest card as a whole ever staged in this city.

CONTESTS OF ALL SORTS NEXT WEEK

S. A. C. Card Is Attracting Attention of Local Fight Followers.

Local fans are fast warming up to the boxing show that is to be staged by the Sacramento Athletic club at the Old Pavilion one week from tomorrow night. They readily recognize a good proposition and are not a bit slow to know that the card is the greatest as a whole that has been put on in this city in recent years.

There will be a go to suit every taste as far as weights are concerned. There will be men on at 115 pounds, 120 pounds, 125 pounds, 130 pounds, 140 pounds, 150 pounds, 165 pounds and the real heavyweights, who will tip the scale at pretty close to 200 pounds. The bouts will be open to the public, and every effort is being put forth to make this the greatest card ever staged at the Old Pavilion.

Every one of the local favorites will be seen in action, and one of the bouts that is causing more than usual attention will be between Brock and Sailor Hanson. Brock is one of the most clever as well as consistent of any 140-pound mixer that has been seen here in a long time. Hanson is a willing, aggressive mixer, who has always made a favorable impression wherever he has appeared, and his many followers here will back him to the last ditch.

The Tommy Ahern-Tommy Komero bout will be another hummer, and everybody is looking forward to this to be a slap-bang, up-and-going affair from the tap of the gong. Both are well known to followers of the game, having appeared against different men on several occasions, and as there has always been a question as to who was the master it will no doubt be settled in a matter satisfactory to all concerned when they meet next week.

All the local men—Moyce, Smith, Strand, Pappas, Hennessy, Murray and those already mentioned are working out regularly, and will be in the best possible condition. Unless a lucky punch happens to be slipped over now and then, it is likely that every one of the eight bouts will go the limit.

Sixteen Boxers of All Weights and Sizes Ready for Bouts at Old Pavilion,

Fans and fighters alike are worked up to the very highest pitch over the clever boxing contests which will be held at the Old Pavilion tomorrow night. Eight slashing good events will be offered for the approval of those interested in the manly art of self-defense.

The fights are really the talk of the town, for never before have the fans been offered so many genuinely good goes in a single night as will take place. There is really not a weak number in the entire eight bouts, and it would be an easy matter to make almost eight additional goes with the present material. Boxers were never so plentiful before, and every member of the four-round game of any note has made application to the management for a chance to show his skill and ability.

Among the local boys who are counted upon to win laurels for the home town is George Pappas, the fighting bootblack, who will meet Thompson at 145 pounds. The rise of Pappas has been fast, as only a couple of years ago he was figured as almost an impossibility, but his aggressiveness carried him to the front, and as he is fast mastering the finer points of the game, he is now looked upon as a contender in the 145-pound class.

Morrissey, another local boy, who has fought his way to the top, will doubtless have a chance again to display his ability, as the club is figuring on putting on an extra bout—making nine in all—and having as his opponent Bakutich, a local wonder, who is being fast shoved to the front, though he has never as yet made a public appearance.

Otto Rittler, who is looking after the club's interest in San Francisco and Oakland, has wired the local aggregation that Manuel Vierra, at 120 pounds and Phillips, at 128 pounds, two dashing good boys whom all the local fans will remember for their cleverness and general ability, are very anxious for a match, and they will be sent for in case of an emergency.

Every day the fans further realize and appreciate the true strength of the card, and every afternoon and night the crowd increases at the club gym to watch the men go through their stunts. There is no doubt that the card is the best ever offered to local followers, and one which merits the attendance of every fan who wishes to see some real good sport.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS TO STAGE BIG CARD

Amateur Fights Are Planned for Old Pavilion Early in December.

The Sacramento Athletic club is preparing to stage another of its regular monthly amateur boxing cards at the old pavilion next month, Friday, December 8, being the provisional date set for the fights. Present plans of the members of the club call for the best card of amateur fights ever held in Sacramento, all the available amateur stars of the coast being invited to enter.

Ancil Hoffman, the popular local matchmaker will probably arrange the card and there is every reason to believe that the program will be a hummer from start to finish.

Three Knockouts and Five Decisions in S.A.C. Fight Card

S. A. C. RESULTS.

PRELIMINARIES.

Jimmy Romero won from Phil Schoeser, decision.

Estae won from Hennessey, decision.

Lee Muskrat won from Benny Andell, decision.

Dick Strand knocked out Joe Grim, 27 seconds.

SPECIAL EVENTS.

Tommy Ahern won from Tommy Romero, decision.

Red Smith knocked out Dick Strand, one round.

MAIN EVENT.

Sailor Hanson won from Kid Brock, decision.

Three pretty knockouts, all in the first round of fighting, five clean decisions and a houseful of well deserved enthusiasm, were the results of last night's boxing card of the Sacramento Athletic club staged at the Old Pavilion. It is probable that Sacramento fans will seek far and wide for a more earnest lot of fighters than was gathered in the amateur card, and the kind of billing produced would put many a professional program in the shade. In nearly every contest the men were evenly matched and superior ringmanship decided the majority. So well mixed were the light and heavy battlers that the fans saw all divisions at work, and nothing but praise for the card was pronounced when the last gong was tapped.

What was billed as a special event proved the thriller of the evening. Dick Strand, outweighing his first opponent, by a sufficient poundage to make it a onesided affair, put out Joe Grim, with a face something like the famous "Iron Man," but with none of his invulnerability, in the first half minute of one of the preliminary bouts. Strand hardly drew a quick breath, so the promoters put him on with Red Smith, when the latter's scheduled opponent, Fritz Frey, failed to put in an appearance. Red took a battering about the nose for a couple of minutes, and then slammed over a ram-like right that put Strand to the mat as long as ring rules allowed. A second time, Smith battered his man to the floor, and when Strand went down the third time, he was unable to arise until after the count of ten.

STRAND WINS AND LOSES.

A situation which is almost unparalleled in either amateur or professional ring annals was brought about by these two matches, Strand having put his man out in less than a round, and himself getting the sleep lotion in less than three minutes on the same night.

Kid Brock and HaHnson in the main event put up a hard battle, but Brock tired speedily in the middle of the second round, and only Hanson's ignorance of the game and his inability to land his swings on the man he sought saved Brock from a knockout. Brock sprained his left hand two days ago, and under the circumstances put up a game fight. A match between these two, with both in good trim, would prove a real attraction for any card.

DECISION FOR AHERN.

Clever, fast little Tommy Ahern had the narrowest escape of his career from seeing "K. O. by" printed after his name. Tommy Romero, his opponent, possessed none of Ahern's cleverness, and in the first two rounds it was all Ahern. In the third, Romero slipped over a wild swing to the jaw, and only Ahern's cleverness in stalling and Romero's eagerness saved the faster boy. The round was even, Ahern scoring a knockdown in his own corner a moment later, and winning on points.

RED SMITH SCORES.

If Red Smith possessed cleverness equal to his strength, Sacramento might boast of a white hope worthy of the name. Smith has a tremendous wallop that has a knockout behind it nine times out of ten when it lands squarely. Strand rushed him off his feet in the first few minutes of the single round of their bout, and worried the auburn-haired lad by bringing a stream of blood from his nose. Smith fought back wildly, aiming for a finishing punch, and in midring he slipped a haymaker over, dropping Strand. Dick gamely swung to his feet, but went down again, and when he rose Smith's massive glove smashed him on the jaw and he hit the floor with the thud, to rise a moment too late.

EASY FOR SALVATORE.

Louie Poparis came all the way from Oklahoma to whip Sally Salvatore, but the local boy straightened him out of his "Unholz" crouch and stretched him flat in two minutes after the first round began.

The so-called heavyweight preliminary was over almost before the announcer's voice had ceased to echo. As Strand and Joe Grim shook hands, Strand in the breakaway swung over a stiff left that connected with Joseph's jaw. He reeled and Strand bored in shooting over clean rights and lefts, and dropping him for good before the crowd realized the fight had begun. Grim was so much lighter than his opponent that it is hardly clear why these men should have been matched.

Outweighed, but by no means outgammed, Little Estae whipped Hennessey to a frazzle in their three-round argument. In the first round Hennessey started to win by rough tactics, and was warned by Referee Schwalenburg for palpably foul butting with the shoulder. He quickly went to cover when Estae opened up, and the lad's cleverness kept the bigger man on the losing end throughout the fight. Estae possesses a beautiful shift and ability to reach his man with either right or left. He has the markings of a clever ringster.

BANTAMS MIX FREELY.

Lee Morrissey and Bakutich failed to appear for the second carded event, and Lee Muskrat, one of the cleverest little 118-pound fighters on the coast, went in against Benny Andel. Muskrat did not fight his fight, but Andel gave him a good argument throughout and twice straightened the boy with a reputation by stiff straight rights.

In the opening event, Jimmy Romero, pride of the South Side, backed by a howling delegation of his admirers who sat behind his corner, peppered Phil Schoser so fiercely that only the bell at the end of the third round saved the boy from a knockout. Jimmy dropped his man in the first and scored three more knockdowns in the third, winning in a romp.

Charles Schwalenburg did the third man activities, handling the bouts admirably. The program was run off with a speed and promptness that the professional promoters might follow with results pleasing to the fans.

THREE KNOCKOUTS FURNISH FEATURE

Athletic Card Club Gives Promise of Some Fast Sport in Coming Months.

Three knockouts added spice to the boxing card staged by the Sacramento Athletic club in the club gymnasium last night. The card was made up of five bouts and considering the fact that the club was left in the lurch by Matchmaker Billy Burke at the eleventh hour and that volunteer matchmakers had to take up the task of preparing a card where Burke had left it, last night's program gave promise of some good sport to come when the club gets its winter program under way.

The main event of last night's card went four rounds to a draw, with Sailor Hansen and Johnny Pappas, both of the local club, as the principals. Both boys showed themselves willing and game to the end, and when the fight went into the extra round Referee Jack Burke's decision met with general approval.

Young Hennessy of Portland started the knockout program by putting Young Sherman of Sioux City to sleep in the first round. Joe Winters would have repeated the stunt with Tommy Hooker as his victim, but Hooker saved him the trouble, for after being knocked down four times in the first round, Hooker very modestly retired to his corner, took off his gloves and decided that he had had enough.

Tim Mahoney of the Multnomah club of Portland and Jack Raymond of the local club put up a good fight for three rounds, but a chance right to the jaw weakened Raymond in the third and when both men fell as Mahoney swung a vicious left to the stomach, Raymond did not have the strength to return to the fight. In the other event of the evening, Joe Ryan toyed with Young Steele for two rounds and finally persuaded him to go to the long enough to be counted out in the third.

INDOOR LEAGUE PLANNED IN BASEBALL

Team May Be Formed at Athletic Club With View to Winter Pennant Race.

The months between now and the opening of the baseball season—always more or less dull from the viewpoint of the loyal fan—may be enlivened by the organization of an indoor baseball league if the plans of Jack Hern, manager of the champion Galt baseball team, bear fruit. Hern is now working with members of the Sacramento Athletic club for the formation of an indoor baseball team from the members of the club with a view to entering a league to be made up of teams from Sacramento and the Sacramento valley.

Company G and Troop B of the local National Guard each have indoor baseball teams and have already opened the season with a game last Sunday. Company E also has a team and will get into the military league this week. But it is planned to extend this league outside of Sacramento and take in other teams.

Willows, one of the best baseball towns in the valley, has an indoor baseball team which is looking for games. And several other centers of Sacramento valley baseball fans are planning to form such teams. If a team is formed at the Sacramento Athletic club a league will undoubtedly be formed among those teams already formed and invitations will be sent to Chico, Marysville, Oroville and other cities of the valley to organize teams and get into the running.

ATHLETES WILL SEE CHANGED A.A.U. RULES

Radical Reforms of Policy Planned for Strict Conservation of Amateur Spirit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Reforms of a radical nature in the policy and constitution of the Amateur Athletic union will be proposed at the annual meeting in New York on November 20. Further conservation of the amateur spirit and character of athletics favored by the A. A. U., is the goal aimed at in the proposed reforms, and, the elimination of the athlete whose services virtually are bought by means of inducements that are of the same moral effect as fees.

Two rules in particular will be proposed. One will provide that an athlete who leaves a club affiliated with the A. A. U. must remain unattached for two years before he will be eligible to membership in a different club.

The second provides that no student in a college or university may belong to an athletic club other than that of his own college.

Other provisions suggested are that no athlete may engage in a contest under A. A. U. rules who has not previously filed with the registration committee of his district a bona fide certificate of four months' residence in that district, nor may he enter a championship contest until he has filed a certificate of residence of six months in the district.

"The object of these rules," said an officer in the union, who is interested in the reforms suggested, "is to remove the scandal threatening the amateur athletic union every now and then. There is no denying that when a small club develops a good athlete there is a rush by the big and wealthy organizations to take him away from the club. "This means professionalism in a thinly veiled form, since it gets clubs bidding against each other and encourages the athlete to lend himself to the club making him the best offer."

ATHLETICS OPEN THEIR RUGBY SEASON TODAY

Headed by Captain Spencer Dickson, the Sacramento Athletic club's rugby squad, eighteen members strong, left last night for Reno where they play their first game of the season this afternoon with the University of Nevada team. The local club team will present a line-up of considerable strength, boasting of players of former collegiate and school experience of considerable ability.

Dickson is confident that his men will win their first game, counting the greater fighting ability of the local players as more than a balance to the better chances which the collegians have enjoyed for practice and coaching during the last two weeks.

PICK ATHLETIC TEAM TODAY.

The Sacramento Athletic club Rugby team is fast being whipped into shape for its first game of the season with the University of Nevada team at Reno Saturday. The local candidates are practicing every day and at today's practice the definite lineup for the Reno game will be announced.

ATHLETICS LOST FAST GAME TO RENO FIFTEEN

Although the Athletics lost the Rugby game to the fast University of Nevada team by the score of 14 to 3, they have established a name in the Nevada town that will not be forgotten. Their clean, snappy, aggressive style of play won a home for them among the Nevada players and rooters.

Lack of condition and practice lost the game for the local boys, and while individually far surpassing the Nevadans, collectively they were not in the same class as the fast college boys. Fast, snappy and spectacular play marked the whole game, which went down as one of the best games ever played on the Mackay Athletic Field.

The score at the end of the first half was 11 to 3. Simmermacher, Captain of the High School team, made the lone Sacramento try in the game. The passing rushes of Dickson, Ga and Staratt were the features of the game in the first half.

Sacramento had by far the best back field, their speed being a noticeable feature of the game. Lack of ability on the part of the scrum to feed the backs with the ball was one of the direct reasons for the loss of the game. The Nevada scrum would keep the ball smothered and would only let it out of their play when they were near the goal and a try was then worked for, and in the first half this style of play was very effective.

In the second half, with the changing of the goals, the Athletics had the wind with them and entered the game with a determination to bring the game home to the Capital City. They fought all the way, and the best the Nevadans could do was to score one try.

The Sacramento boys can get a game with the University of Nevada any time they wish in the future, for they made a great impression in Reno on account of their clean style of play. During the game there was not one word of malice and none of the "crabbing" that sometimes mark athletic games.

The Renoites proved themselves very hospitable, and they entertained the Athletics from the time of their arrival until they left. In the evening they gave the Sacramento delegation a dance in their beautiful "gym."

ATHLETICS LEAVE TONIGHT FOR RENO

Local Rugby Team Appears to Be Strong Enough to Make a Creditable Showing.

The Sacramento Athletic club's rugby fifteen leaves tonight for Reno, where they open the season with the University of Nevada boys tomorrow. The local team has been getting in some hard practice in the last week, and from the showing which the boys have made in practice there is every reason to believe that they will land on the long end of many scores during the coming season.

Reports from Reno are to the effect that the Nevada team is fast getting into shape, but still lacks practice and is doing little more than straight away play, whereas the local boys have been practicing long enough to have reached a more advanced stage in the game.

The men who will make up the local squad and made the trip to Reno tonight are Blake, Williams, Palm, Schlosser, Gannon, Turington, Lobner, Hocke, Gay, Simmermacher, Eldred, Platt, Starrett, Putnam, McClatchy and Dickson, with either Thomas or O'Skinner to fill out the squad.

ATHLETIC CLUB IS SHOWING NEW LIFE

Rugby Season Opens This Week and Basketball and Handball Practice Started.

Encouraged by a steady stream of members, the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club are planning for a very busy athletic season, and will work upon every branch of sports.

At present interest centers on Rugby, as the club fifteen goes to Reno this week, engaging the University of Nevada team at Reno Saturday afternoon. Games with the University of California, St. Mary's, and other of the best teams in the state are also looked forward to, and the Rugby season promises to be a hummer.

Basketball is again coming to the front, and all of last year's members, together with much promising talent that is to be developed, are showing up regularly, and it looks as if the club will be stronger than ever in this line of sport for the season of 1911-12.

As usual, handball is the most popular indoor sport, and preparations are under way for the greatest tournament ever held in the city. Both singles and doubles will be played, which is assurance that some great contests will take place.

Last night an open meeting was held in the club rooms. The meeting was addressed by local business men, and matters of interest not only to the club but to the city, were discussed.

STRONG RUGBY TEAM IS ASSURED

Athletic Fifteen for Reno Game to Be Selected To-night

Plenty of Material Available to Guarantee Good Work

The Rugby fifteen that will represent the Sacramento Athletic Club in Reno Saturday in the game with the University of Nevada will be chosen to-night, following the final practice, which will take place at the Recreation Park at Twenty-first and C Streets.

The squad is showing up well and Captain Spencer Dickson and Manager McClatchy will not have a hard time to choose a good fifteen. The boys have put in some hard licks at practice and are in fair shape for the coming game.

Neither of the teams will be in the best of form, as the game is too early in the season to find both of them in the best of condition. It will be the first big game of the season at the University and will mark the opening of the Rugby season.

To Have New Suits.

The Sacramento boys will leave on the train Friday evening for the Nevada State. Eighteen of the best players the Capital City can produce will make the trip.

The Sacramento boys will appear in the new suits the Club is to furnish. The new suits will arrive here to-day.

The suits will consist of a black Jersey with a winged "S" on the left upper side. The boys will wear white padded basketball pants. They will be short and will make a good contrast with the black jerseys. The socks will be black, with one stripe three inches in width.

Captain Dickson has been filling a five-eights job in great style, and is in perfect condition. During the time he was a member of the St. Mary's crack team he made the All-American team and captained the St. Mary's team to a decided victory over their greatest rival, Santa Clara. As a leader for the local Athletics he cannot be surpassed, and if any one can make the boys play a winning brand of ball it will be Dickson.

Jed and Jim McClatchy are both out for back field positions and have put in a good many hard afternoons of practice. They are former Santa Clara players and both made good in the old game of intercollegiate.

Canadian in Line.

Shinners, a husky Canadian, who has had lots of experience at the English game, is trying hard and making all of the men hustle for a scrum position.

Chet Gannon, a member of last year's team, is out for honors this year. Being fast and aggressive and heavy he makes a very valuable man in the breakaway in the scrum.

Theo. Schlosser, another member of last year's fifteen, is out for a scrum position. During the games of last season he put up a great game in the forward pack and will be a great help to this division this year.

Ted Gay, a member of the High School squad, is out for a scrum job. Gay was one of the stars of last year's High School team and is good in any position. This year he is trying out for a break-away, and is more than making good.

Leo Lobner is a new recruit, but Rugby is a new game to him, but he takes to it in fine shape. His experience in basketball is coming in handy to him.

High School Players.

"Brick" Eldred is out for a five-eights berth and looks good; he is game and very speedy. Eldred is trying out for the High School fifteen and was one of the star members of last year's fifteen.

Starrett is making good on the wing. His experience with the speedy St. Mary's team is helping his teammates to a wonderful extent. He is a very shifty man and will be a marvel to the wing position.

Elmer Simmermacher, the game little Captain of this year's High School fifteen, is out for the center three-quarter position. "Red's" playing has been one of the features of the past High School contests and he will be a great addition to the Athletic team.

Albert Hart, Joe Blake and Doc Williams are out for the front rank positions. They were members of last year's team and they form a very clever, fast and aggressive pack. Their experience will help the team to win a great many battles.

Hicks is out for a forward position. The formation of a three-two-three scrum makes him shift to the scrum instead of trying for the wing forward position. His playing on last year's High School team will help him and make him a very valuable man.

Eugene Palm, a member of last year's fifteen, is out for scrum honors and is making a good showing. His performances on the last year's team almost assures him a position this year providing he can get into good shape.

Dick Shoemaker is a recruit at the game, but his speed will undoubtedly make him a likely candidate for a back field position.

With all of this good material to choose from it hardly seems possible for the Club not to have a speedy Rugby fifteen for the season.

POLICE PUT STOP TO A NEAR-RIOT

RIGHT SWING IS STARTER

Clerks and Cement Workers Are Held From Clash by Sight of Patrolman.

A fistic engagement between Eugene V. Armstrong, vice-president of the American Cash store, and Frank "Spike" Corson, a foreman in the employ of the Clark & Henery Construction company, over the dumping of rock for street repair work in front of the American Cash store, at 1117 Eighth street, came near resulting in a war between the men under each of the principals yesterday afternoon, when a right swing tendered by Corson sent Armstrong to the ground.

A number of grocery clerks rushed to the assistance of Armstrong, while back of Corson stood twelve husky cement workers, ready for business. Patrolman Sitton arrived in time to avert a threatened riot, and the near-warriors went back to work, but not without belligerent glares and mutterings.

The whole affair arose over the fact that Armstrong requested Corson to have the crushed rock, which was being unloaded in front of the American Cash store, sprinkled so that the dust would not blow into the store. Armstrong says that Corson refused to comply with his request, and that he had an argument with him, in which Corson struck him in the face with his fist.

Corson, who is foreman of a gang laying cement around the Central California Traction Company's tracks on Eighth street, between K and L, said Armstrong kept trying to interfere with his business. Yesterday afternoon Corson said that Armstrong tried to stop him from dumping ground rock in the street, and that when he refused to do so, Armstrong picked up a large rock to add inducement to his demands. Hostilities being opened, Corson landed a right swing on Armstrong's head, and the groceryman went to the mat.

Armstrong called for the patrol wagon to have Corson arrested, but matters were patched up by Patrolman Sitton. Armstrong complains that the dust from the rock dumped in front of the store settled on the fruit, and was a general nuisance.

BUSINESS MEN GET BEHIND CLUB

Prosperous Year Predicted for Local Athletic Organization

Many New Members Being Enrolled Every Month

At the last Board of Directors meeting of the Sacramento Athletic Club, D. W. Carmichael, President of the Chamber of Commerce, made a proposition to the club that he and some other business men of Sacramento would step into the fight for a larger Athletic Club and a larger membership. As a result of this generous offer, Charmichael, W. F. Gormley, Stewart Upson and other prominent Sacramento business men will start the end of the week to canvas among the local business men and get them to purchase life memberships in the club.

The three members of the committee have already purchased life memberships and they are confident they can get at least two hundred more men to join the club. The club at the present time is paying all of its bills promptly and is running along in a nice style, but the lack of an established fund is a big draw back.

The Athletic Club holds an open meeting every Tuesday evening. The members and guests are addressed by some local business man who has made good. The advice is always good and the young men profit by the advice.

The membership of the club h advanced very rapidly in the past months. An average of two me a day are coming in, and the roster is steadily climbing up to mark. The re-entering of old me is noticed by the Board of Di

LOCALS TO CLASH WITH ST. MARYS

Athletics Expect Hard Battle in Rugby Game at Oak Park Thursday.

From the manner in which the enthusiasts are talking, nearly every person interested in out-door sports is intent upon seeing the big Rugby game at Oak Park Thanksgiving afternoon, when the famous St. Mary's squad clashes with the fast aggregation representing the Sacramento Athletic club.

Rugby has come to stay, gaining more admirers every year, and Sacramento is fast coming to the front in ranking with the big cities that have adopted Rugby as the greatest of winter sports, and the Sacramento Athletic club deserves unstinted support for taking the leading part and making it possible for the citizens to see such a clever team as the collegians in action.

The local team is practicing with a will, and no doubt will make a far superior showing against their opponents than last year, when the visitors only held them to a 21 to 3 score.

Spencer Dickson and Starrett, formerly two of the fastest men that ever wore the St. Mary's colors, are now with the Athletics, and assisted by some of the best material from the high school, have worked their team into excellent shape.

It is surprising how much interest is being taken in the game, and from all indications a record crowd will attend the contest, as Sacramento is an exceptionally strong St. Mary's town.

S. A. C. LOOKS FOR GLORY TOMORROW

St. Marys and Winged "S" Teams in Trim for Rugby Game at Oak Park.

After weeks of faithful and strenuous practice, the Sacramento Athletic Club Rugby fifteen is fit to go onto the field against St. Mary's at Oak Park tomorrow afternoon. Without question of doubt the team is the strongest and fastest Rugby squad that has ever represented the popular local club, and the wearers of the winged "S" are not at all unlikely to come through and put up a game that will be a genuine surprise to their closest admirers.

Lacking experience last year, the S. A. C. team played a remarkable game against the fast college that was gratifying to all concerned, so with added experience and an addition to the team of many seasoned players, the local aggregation has great hopes of being returned a winner.

All preparations for the handling of the game has been arranged, and as an additional feature, the auto gates will be opened, in order that patrons in machines may drive into the inclosure.

What Captain Dickson of the S. A. C. squad says:

"It is pretty hard to make an attempt to foretell the result of a big contest of this kind, but I assure you it is more than gratifying to go into the game as our team will—full of confidence and determination. The team will make a showing against our most worthy rivals that is going to prove a general surprise to our closest friends.

"It is quite true that St. Mary's should be picked as the winner, but our team will not concede victory until the whistle has blown for the last minute of play.

"We have been exceedingly fortunate in securing several experienced men for our team, and we can assure every Sacramentan who wants to see the grandest of winter sports that the game tomorrow will be the greatest exhibition ever seen in this city."

What Coach Faulkner of St. Mary's thinks of the game:

"Of course it would be pretty hard to tell the exact outcome of the game for, while I know just what my boys can do, the Athletics are of a comparatively unknown quality, and will undoubtedly put up a rattling fine game. I do, however, know this much—that the teaching they have received from Otto Rittler was the best to be had, for he taught them one thing that wins at everything—a genuine fighting spirit. Every follower of good sports always credits the club representatives with that splendid qualification.

"Furthermore, the Athletics have two of the greatest Rugby men that ever represented St. Marys—Spencer Dickson and Starret, and the club is indeed fortunate in having two such worthy players around which they can build their team.

"We will have the same lineup, to a man, that whipped Santa Clara last Saturday, and we will give the people of your city a worthy exhibition."

ST. MARYS TEAM HAS EASY VICTORY

Players of Winged "S" Fight Hard but Are Outclassed—Score 19 to 3.

Fighting from the first whistle until end of time in the second half, the Sacramento Athletic club Rugby fifteen made a brilliant stand against the clever St. Mary's squad at Oak Park yesterday afternoon when the collegians were returned victors by a 19 to 3 score in a game that held the attention of a big crowd of enthusiasts throughout.

Handicapped as they were, far more credit should be given the local squad than they were allowed, for they practically played the visitors to a standstill. It was more of a freak of luck than superior playing that gave the visitors such a top-heavy lead in the scoring.

The play was from one end of the field to the other, first in the locals' territory and then in the visitors. There were several sensational runs, and many brilliant rushes, but all, as a rule were stopped before the real and hoped-for result was accomplished.

There were ten minutes of play before the first score was made, and at that time the St. Marys team pulled off their one brilliant play of the day. The ball was in scrum near Sacramento's 25-yard line, and heeling the ball to the open, the St. Mary's players, by a passing rush, sent the ball over the line in the prettiest play seen on the local grounds. Diavila failed to convert on the kick for goal.

By far the most spectacular play of the day was during the second half and it fell upon a Sacramento player to come through with the thriller. Sacramento had lost the ball, and the teams had formed for a line-out on the fifty-yard line.

The St. Mary's player passed the ball far out into the field, and taking a peculiar bound the ball proved too elusive for the red and white player awaiting to receive it. Quick as a flash, Starrett, the locals' fast three-quarter man, was upon the ball and away up the field, ducking and dodging the players in front of him, and outdistancing those who tried to overtake him from the rear. It was one of those instances which might be compared with a hare barely escaping from a pack of hounds. The crowd was almost breathless and it pulled for the one with all odds against him, and there was a great demonstration when Starrett made his final spurt and fell upon the ball safely over the line.

There were other plays, too, which were of mention, but the play was fast. The players would take an apparently nasty tumble, only to be up again and into the fray, and the wearers of the winged "S" won deserved applause, when in the second half they held St. Mary's within their ten-yard line for twelve minutes before they finally sent a man over.

St. Mary's scored eight points in the first half with Sacramento nothing, and in the second half the Athletics scored three against the visitors' eleven. The trys were made as follows:

For St. Mary's—Diavila, 1; Franchi, 1; Togni, 1; Childs, 1; Guptill, 1; Diavila and Blanco each converted one goal.

For Sacramento Athletic club, Starrett made the only try, and Gay failed to convert on a hard try.

FOWLER READY TO RISE AT 6 A. M. TOMORROW

Special to the Union.

COLFAX (Placer Co.), Sept. 17.—Fowler expects to leave here at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. The rear rudder should arrive Monday afternoon, and when it is in place he will spend an hour in the air tuning up the machine, which is complete except for the rudder. He expects to be in Reno by 8:30, as he cannot make more than forty miles an hour while climbing.

Fowler declares he will not make the attempt to cross the mountains unless the biplane is satisfactory in every way, but he says it is stronger now than when he started, and that with what he has learned and the engine improvements to overcome the high altitudes, he is better equipped than when he started.

He wishes to thank the Sacramento Athletic club for the life membership and buttons sent him, and says he will bring one of the club buttons back from New York. He also wishes to thank the people of Sacramento for his reception. A. J. Watts, freight agent of the Western Pacific at Sacramento, killed a two-point buck near Colfax this morning, and gave it to Fowler.

Fowler has two men at Summit observing wind conditions. He will probably follow the Yuba River canyon and the old immigrant road to Soda Springs Station, keeping to the left of the snowsheds. He expects to cut across to Truckee from the Summit, avoiding Horseshoe Bend, and from Truckee proceed to Reno through Truckee River canyon. He will steer for Castle Creek from here, and then head for Truckee. Fowler is working at a wrist machine, the same as Jim Corbett used, under Trainer Tim McGrath, to strengthen his wrist muscles against the jar of the levers.

WARD STILL DELAYED.

OWEGO (N. Y.), Sept. 17.—James J. Ward, coast to coast aviator, did not start from here today because of delay in receiving a new motor he had ordered. The motor is here tonight, and Ward expects to have it placed in the monoplane early tomorrow. He then will attempt to fly to Buffalo, 187 miles west of here.

FOWLER AGAIN DELAYS FLIGHT RENEWAL; TO START THURSDAY

Gilroy Aviator Studies Shifty Air Current of Hills—Still Confident.

Special to the Union.

COLFAX, Sept. 18.—Aviator Bob Fowler's machine is not yet ready. He announced today that he expected to make a trial flight Wednesday and would start for the East again on Thursday.

Despite the story that the engine used at the time of the accident was not damaged it was reported that Fowler had found it necessary to send away for a new one. He is still confident that he will cross the continent in the time allowed for the race and win the prize. He will make an early start when he goes on his journey again.

"I have come to the conclusion that I made a mistake in not leaving Auburn at daybreak last Tuesday," Fowler said. "I did not know then what I know now about the cross currents of the Sierras, and no one was present to advise me. I thought that the currents I encountered in the valleys and the foothills would be with me crossing the high mountains, but I know better now and shall not repeat the blunder. I have been making extensive atmospheric notes and observations since I have been here repairing my machine and I have learned a great deal that will serve me well. I find that the cross currents are not near as perceptible or dangerous in the mountains during the early morning hours as they are later in the day. Once across the Sierras I believe the journey will be easy and that I will be able to win the prize."

The machine has been practically reconstructed and in the reconstruction some additions have been made which the aviator thinks will be highly beneficial in his long flight.

FOWLER TO WEAR AN EMBLEM OF LOCAL CLUB

Robert G. Fowler, the young aviator who is making a transcontinental aeroplane flight, and who now is at Colfax, will wear a Sacramento Athletic club button on the lapel of his coat during his trip.

Several days ago the club sent Fowler a letter expressing regret that he had been delayed and wishing him luck. The club inclosed one of its buttons. Yesterday it received the following letter from Fowler:

"I want to thank you very much for your kind favor of the 10th, as it was indeed very encouraging at a time like the present to know that a person working under extra stress and strain has a lot of friends wishing him success.

"Will be very pleased to comply with your request in regard to the club button, and hope that I may soon return from the East after the accomplishment of this flight, as I want the opportunity of meeting the members of the Sacramento Athletic club personally and thanking them for their wishes for success.

"Hoping to be with you soon, and assuring you of my determination to make a successful flight, I remain,

"Yours truly,

"ROBERT A. FOWLER."

Athletic Club Affairs

The big event that is now occupying the minds of local lovers of outdoor sports is the big Rugby football game that is to be played on Thanksgiving Day between the famous St. Mary's team of Oakland and the Sacramento Athletic club.

All over the coast today devotees of this great outdoor sport are following closely every move of the St. Mary's team, for tomorrow they meet the fast Santa Clara team and the same line-up that goes on the field tomorrow will face the Athletics here on turkey day.

The Athletics are practising more faithfully for this contest than for any in the past, as they are capable of playing a slashing good game and figure to play the collegians to a standstill.

Spence Dickson, former St. Mary's star, but now coach and captain of the local squad, is putting his men through their paces regularly, and is getting excellent results from the club team. Starrett, another St. Mary's star, is on the S. A. C. team, and they will be further strengthened by the addition of Simmermacher, Gay, Eldred, Hicks and Rivett, club members who have been playing sensational ball on the local high school team.

Sacramento is a strong St. Mary's city, as hundreds of residents here either have been students at the school or have representatives there now, and the visitors will be welcomed by a big crowd of enthusiasts.

December 8 has been named by the board of directors of the club for their next boxing show, and they are planning to put on a show that will eclipse anything that they have yet attempted.

Since it has become known that the club intends continuing the shows, dozens of applications from first-class men have been received, with the result that the directors and their matchmaker have a list of the best eligibles at the game to choose from.

There will be two heavyweight goes which should prove hummers—White Hope Smith is open to all comers, and Strand, one of the most promising boys the club has turned out in a long time, will be given a match. Brock, Pappas and Hanson are out for the 140-pound class, and the fans will welcome appearance of any of these.

Hennessy, the Coalinga wonder, did not have an opportunity of showing his ability at the last show, is of the most promising in the 135-po class. McKeil at 145 pounds and E at 130 pounds are both open for match, and Tommy Ahern, a gene favorite with all the fans, is qu anxious to get on with Romero of Southside club. Parenti, at 110 poun is a comer in his class, and from t present outlook the club can accomm date all worthy amateurs who a anxious to show their ability.

These bouts will be staged at the O Pavilion, and the fans may look for ward to some real good and excitin sport.

Each succeeding week brings adde interest at the Sacramento Athleti club's handball tournament, and th drawings for Sunday's contest shoul bring about many changes in the per centage column.

Root and I. Blake drew Tate and J Blake, and many figure that the re sult of this set will have much to d with the final standing of the teams Root and I. Blake are slightly fa vored, but the fact that Tate and J Blake have not lost a game and, are coming strong, leaves lots of room fo doubt.

All through the first and second class the teams drew more evenly than at any other time during the two weeks' play, and closer and harder played games are looked for. The public is invited to witness these games and the following shows how the teams will play Sunday morning:

FIRST CLASS.

First class—Root and I. Blake vs. Tate and J. Blake; Yoerk and Macgregor vs. Strachan and McCullough; Bacon and Mansfield vs. Bronson and Marston; Shaw and Donald vs. Simmermacher and Watson; Lobner and Morris vs. Pugh and Doval.

Second class—Wahlander and Warren vs. Payne and Childs; Snyder and Ayers vs. Pixley and Corson; Rose and Ross vs. Toland and McDonough; Williams and Browning vs. Starett and Dickson; Emes and Engstrom vs. Palm and Wheat.

Athletic Club Affairs

The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team handicapped by the absence of two of its star players, teVeltrop at center and Dickman at forward, met defeat at the hands of the Dixon high school team at Dixon Saturday night, 21 to 12. A slippery dance hall floor on which the game was played added a further handicap to the weakened condition of the Sacramento team.

Upholding the exciting play that has characterized all the games in the handball tournament being held in the courts of the Sacramento Athletic club, the sets yesterday were no disappointment, except of course to the losers, and the enthusiasts that crowded the galleries saw some of the fastest play ever pulled off in the club courts.

The first-class sets were fast from start to finish, and though all winners came off with a clean score, and the final counts were not close, there was nevertheless some very clever playing by the losers that gave the leaders plenty of worry.

There were many surprises, but the biggest surprise of all was the great form displayed by Shaw and Donald, who easily disposed of Matson and Simmermacher, one of the strongest sets in the first division. By putting Joe Blake and Tate two games to the bad Root and Irva Blake again jumped into the lead.

The second division teams played the most exciting games of the day, and several sets were divided by but a few points.

Rose and Ross played an exciting set with McDonough and Toland, while Palm and Reese pulled off an exciting go against Childs and Payne.

Following shows the results of the games yesterday:

First division—Bronson and Marston beat Mansfield and Bacon, 21-10, 21-14; Lobner and Morris beat Pugh and Doval, 21-14, 21-13; Root and I. Blake beat J. Blake and Tate, 21-7, 21-8; McCullough and Strachan beat Yoerk and Macgregor, 21-7, 21-9; Shaw and Donald beat Simmermacher and Matson, 21-7, 21-8.

Second division—Snyder and Ayers beat Pixley and Corson, 21-3, 21-4; Childs and Payne beat Palm and Reese, 21-18, 21-18; Warren and Wahlander beat Eames and Engstrom, 21-8, 21-9; Dickson and Starrett beat Williams and Browning, 21-16, 21-5; Rose and Ross split with McDonough and Toland, 21-20, 15-21.

Standing of the teams:

First Division—	W.	L.	Pct.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IN LOCAL ATHLETIC CLUB CIRCLES

Boxing Card This Week Will Leave Stage Cleared for Basketball and Football.

Never a dull moment. That's the slogan at the Sacramento Athletic club quarters these days. Boxing, football, handball and basketball are chief among the subjects of activity, and there are more to come. The card of amateur boxing slated for Friday night at the Old Pavilion is the headliner this week. Basketball and handball share the stage next week, and the month will close with football in the upper berth.

Sailor Hansen and Rufe will put up the fighting in the four-round main event Friday night, Matchmaker Billie Burke having brought these two scrappers together for a return engagement which should be filled with all kinds of spice. They have met once before, Rufe coming in a winner, and both have been anxious to get together again. They will fight at 145 pounds.

Tommy Ahearn, the headliner in respect to popularity among local amateur fighters now that Azevedo and Salvadore have put on professional clothees, will be matched in a special event against Josephs of Vallejo, who is said to be a comer. Smith, the brunette heavyweight of the local club, will go up against Marlin, his old-time opponent, and matches will also be arranged for Pappas and Moyce, other local fighters. Any amateur fighters wishing to get on the card are advised to communicate with Matchmaker Burke or any of the officials of the club.

Basketball will come into its own as soon as the fight card goes down into history. The heavyweight basketball team opens its season next Saturday night at Dixon. A game is also being arranged with the University Farm school team of Davis, the date to be announced soon.

The annual handball tournament will open next Sunday and from the entries which have already been presented it appears that this event will be the most successful of its kind ever held in the northern part of the state. Handball has won many new followers this season and every day finds many enthusiasts in hard practice for the coming tournament.

In the meantime the rugby football players are getting in some hard licks in preparation for their Thanksgiving day game here with the St. Mary's college team. Spencer Dickson, captain of the S. A. C. team, is a former St. Mary's man, and Starretts, another star of the local aggregation, will be pitted against his alma mater, thus assuring plenty of hard playing and adding an interest other than that which would arise from the mere meeting of two ordinary teams.

All in all, things look bright about the quarters of the Athletic club on Ninth street. Optimism is the reigning note, and the hammer has been buried. Those who tided the club through its recent financial crisis are beginning to realize that they made no mistake.

TO CONTINUE WORK OF ORGANIZATION

Sacramento Athletic Club Members Will Hold Open Meeting Tonight.

A meeting will be held in the rooms of the Sacramento Athletic club tonight at which beside the members, will be present several local business men who have taken an unusual interest in the future welfare of the organization, and who are going to render all assistance possible to put the club on a sound basis and make it an institution of which the city way well be proud.

It was not long ago that the club, once a prosperous organization, nearly went on the rocks through unwise management, and it seemed that the city was to be without a full-fledged athletic club. But the present board of directors, composed of some of the city's most energetic young men, took hold of the club despite the shaky condition of affairs and by the hardest kind of rustling they have again placed the club in fine running order.

It was through the energy of the present directors that the business men have started to the front, for they realize the good of athletics and appreciate the fact that an athletic organization is as great an asset as any city could wish for. Tonight, President Dan W. Carmichal of the chamber of commerce will address the meeting as will several other prominent members, and it is expected that from now on the club will go ahead by leaps and bounds.

Every form of athletics will be thoroughly worked upon, and as the charter is to be thrown open, and a membership may be obtained without an initiation fee, every eligible young man in the city is invited to become a booster and join the club. Everybody is invited to attend the meeting. All of the directors will be on hand to explain all the advantages of the club, and the arguments that will be put forth by the business men will be worth the while.

PROGRESSIVE TESTS FOR SACRAMENTO'S "FINEST"

1-11-13

Two Soccer Games To-morrow

* * * * * * * * *

Very Exciting Clash is Expected

1-11-13

THERE will be two soccer games on the McKinley Park grounds Sunday. The first kickoff will be at 12:30 o'clock and will start the Occidentals and the Athletics. The second game will begin as soon as the first is over and will be between the Jubilee Rovers and Sacramentos.

Both should be warm contests, as all of the teams in the Sacramento Valley Soccer League have been dishing out spectacular ball all season. The Athletics are improving with each game and are developing some good material. Frank Bacon and Chet Gannon are showing up in great style.

ATHLETICS LUSTY BABIES.

Though the Athletics are the babies in the League they are putting up a brand of ball that is making all their opponents hustle. Their speed and aggressiveness have kept small all the scores against them and only the veteran skill of their opponents has won for them.

SHOULD BE GOOD BATTLE.

The second game between the Rovers and the Sacramentos will bring together intensely rival aggregations and the battle should be well worth seeing.

The Simpson brothers are two of the mainstays of the Sacramentos. They are wiry and husky players.

Fred Bowden is showing class as goal tender. Boyce, on the right half, is a wonder with the ball, quick as a flash and an accurate booter. F. T. F. Turner will be back in his regular place at center forward, and Button will drop back in his old job at left fullback.

The Sacramentos say they are going to spring a few surprises Sunday on the Rovers. Bingham and McDonald, who have been out of town for a number of weeks, have returned and will again be in the game. J. N. Young will referee both battles.

SOCCER LEAGUE WILL SEND TWO TEAMS TO CHICO

1-9-13

To Introduce Sport in Superior California at Own Expense

AT a meeting of the Sacramento Valley Soccer League it was decided to form two star teams. They will journey to Chico on January 19th where an exhibition game will be played in an endeavor to start the game in other Superior California towns.

The sport has been successfully introduced here and now has a firm grip on its followers. A new team is formed each year. The Soccer League showed its spirit when it voted to send the two teams at their own expense to Chico and they will not charge spectators admission.

Because of the interest here the sport-liking public may take advantage of the low railroad rate and make the Chico trip, not alone for the pleasure connected in it, but to help athletics in this section of California.

ATHLETIC CLUB'S FIRST DEFEAT COMES FROM STOCKTON ALL-STARS

1-13-13

The Sacramento Athletic Club basketball team suffered its first defeat this season last evening when it went down before the Stockton All-Stars 33 to 16. The All-Stars have been State champions for a number of years.

The Athletics played the Stocktonians one of the hottest games they have mixed in this year, but the superior weight of the All-Stars soon wore down the locals, and the champions stepped away out in front in the last half.

The first half was very even, with the score standing 14 to 10 in favor of Stockton. The locals took more shots for basket, but were not as accurate nor as lucky as their opponents. The weight told in the last half, and although the clubmen fought stubbornly the handicap was too much.

A return game will be played here some time next month, when the Stockton quintet will be on its annual northern tour.

Te Veltrup, the giant local center and Captain, and Bill McNeeley, of the forwards, were the local stars. Conklin and Munser did the best work for the Stocktonians.

The teams lined up as follows:

Stocktons — Forwards, Higgenboatham and Conklin; center, Munser; guards, Rainyer and Socal.

Sacramento—Forwards, W. McNeeley and Ross Eldred; center, H. te Veltrup; guards, Phil Ash and Frank Asselena. Referee—Conklin. Umpire—Harry Duke.

INDOOR GOLF IS THE LATE SPORT

Jolly Good Pastime for the Dreary, Weary, Busy Business Man.

1-12-13

The newest thing out and the greatest thing ever for the busy business man is indoor golf.

The game can be played in any room, preferably in a space fifteen feet wide by thirty in length. Against one end canvas is stretched and on this pockets are sewed, a foot or more wide at the top and held out from the canvas by a spring.

Thirty feet distant the golfer stands, with his ball in the usual golf "pix." Using his home course, he drives off from the tee at the top center pocket.

On each pocket is printed a list of the clubs one is supposed to use for each hole, and the distances one is theoretically supposed to make with any particular club, less from 25 to 50 per cent of the real distance.

The first hole of the San Gabriel course, for instance, is 350 yards. Selecting your driver, you drive off from the top center pocket and if you land your ball in it, you figure that you have made 200 yards on your first shot toward the hole.

With 150 yards left to go, you change your club to one representing 150 yards on some pocket, and "shoot" for that pocket with that club. If your ball goes in the pocket, you score 150 yards and have thus made the total required number of 350 yards and score the first hole as made in two strokes.

After this, you continue for each hole on the same plan. For short holes, you must use the club representing the distances nearing the desired distance.

On the floor of the court or "fair green" is a strip of carpet to represent the "green," and at the other end of the court is the hole, and you are to putt for this. If you are over or under five, six, ten or twenty yards, you can put your ball on the line you are over or under and putt the same as in regular golf.

This game is not hard to learn. The netting keeps your ball from going out of bounds and being lost. If you go into the net you lose a stroke, of course, and try again.

Of course, it has none of the exhilarating outdoor exercises of real golf.

CLUB FIVE TO INVADE RENO

1-14-13

The Sacramento Basketball team will play the Reno basketers on Saturday evening, February 1st. The local athletic teams have always made a big hit with the Reno fans. Nearly every year they play the University Ruggers a game. This year it's basketball.

17-Year-Old Star Who Is Hailed as Coming Champion

A Handball Star Has Risen

1-13-13

Gus Simmermacher Gives Irva Blake Tough Fight

ANOTHER clever soft-ball handball player has been developed here. If Gus Simmermacher keeps up his present clip, say his friends, he will undoubtedly be one of the greatest experts in handball turned out here.

He is but 17 years old, and not yet out of school but in the play at the Sacramento Club yesterday in which Irva Blake defeated him with 21-18 and 21-16 scores, he showed his playing to be of the variety that stamps him as a "coming champion."

Irva Blake is about the cleverest soft-ball player thus far produced here. He is a member of the team now holding the soft ball doubles championship of California. Blake was a clever performer before Simmermacher was old enough to know what a handball court looked like. Blake is also a sport of the first water and realizes Simmermacher's class. He promised the young player a return game after the present tourney had closed, for the club single championship.

This was done chiefly because Simmermacher was sick before and after the game yesterday, and did not play up to form. The veterans are still talking about the youngster's performance.

The following results were pounded out yesterday:

Championship class—I. Blake beat Gus Simmermacher, 21-18 and 21-16; Shaw beat Pugh, 21-13 and 21-9; Delano beat Doval, 21-14, and 21-6; Lobner beat Mansfield, 21-3 and 21-15; Marston split with McCulloch, 21-14 and 15-21.

First Division—Palm beat Reese 21-5 and 21-9; Green beat Gill, 21-19 and 21-11; S. W. Dickson beat B. McDonough, 21-17 and 21-11; W. Rose split with Wahlander, 21-14 and 20-21; Russell and E. Palm split, 21-14 and 19-21.

Second Division—Cox beat Pixley, 21-7 and 21-4; Daniels beat Flammer, 21-11 and 21-2.

SIMMERMACHER IS BEATEN BY BLAKE

Leader of S. A. C. Handball Tourney Made to Step Lively by Youngster.

1-13-13

More than two hundred members of the Sacramento Athletic club gathered at the club quarters on Ninth street yesterday morning and witnessed the second play in the singles handball tournament now being conducted by the club.

Every set was hotly contested, but the greatest play of the day was seen during the set of Irva Blake and Gus Simmermacher.

Blake, recognized as being the star player of this part of the state, never had to extend himself more than during yesterday's play and Simmermacher, one of the youngest players of the club, deserves great credit for the wonderful form he showed against a player of Blake's caliber as Irva Blake is looked upon as being able to hold his own and a little more with any soft-ball player on the Coast.

Other sets proved equally as thrilling as the play progressed, and surprises were furnished in each division.

Cox and Daniels displayed quite a flash of form and the ease with which they disposed of their opponents indicates that they are apt scholars and will be well toward the front of the last division when the finish comes.

Palm has proved to be quite a surprise in the first division, and the beating meted out by Green to Gill in the same class will cause the younger players to sit up and take notice.

Rose and Wahlander split in two classy games and Dickson displayed form by taking two from McDonough.

Shaw experienced little difficulty in disposing of Pugh. Lobner surprised all by taking two from Mansfield, Delano played in championship form against Doval, while Marston and McCulloch was the only team to split in the championship class.

The scores:

Championship class—I. Blake beat Simmermacher, 21-18 and 21-16; Shaw beat Pugh, 21-13 and 21-9; Delano beat Doval, 21-14 and 21-6; Lobner beat Mansfield, 21-3 and 21-15; Marston split with McCulloch, 21-14 and 15-21.

First Division—Palm beat Reese, 21-5 and 21-9; Green beat Gill, 21-19 and 21-11; Dickson beat McDonough 21-17 and 21-11; Rose split with Wahlander, 21-14 and 20-21; Russell and Palm split, 21-14 and 19-21.

Second Division—Cox beat Pixley, 21-7 and 21-4; Daniels beat Flammer, 21-11 and 21-2.

Play will be resumed Wednesday evening.

S. A. C. Handballers Are Busy To-night

1-15-13

The Sacramento Athletic Club handballers will start the ball a rolling again to-night in their singles tourney, now under way.

Ten matches are slated for this evening's play.

The following matches are slated for to-night:

Two Basketball Teams Entered

1-15-13

TWO basketball teams are going to enter the P. A. A. basketball tourney from here for the State championship honors among the amateur teams. They will be an unlimited and a lightweight team entered from the Sacramento Athletic Club.

Last year the Y. M. C. A. lightweight team defeated the Berkeley team here for the championship of the State. The game was played under The Bee League and the local lightweights were the winners of The Bee League which was one of the most successful ever formed here.

The Athletics that are again to enter this year were the heavy champions of The Bee League. They were defeated by the Stockton All-Stars who later on defeated the runners-up in the P. A. A. play and were returned State basketball leaders.

Captain te Veltrup and Manager Harry Duke have banded together about the same aggregation as last season and are in hopes of battling through to the top this season.

The Sacramento High quintet have been meeting with much success and are in hopes of having a representation in the play this year, but have not made any arrangements to enter this season. The local High boys have been returned winners of Superior California basketball honors for the past three years, and they can be counted on every year to put out a very strong team.

S. A. C. HANDBALL PLAYERS WILL MEET THIS EVENING

The handball players of the Sacramento Athletic club will meet in the courts of the gymnasium tonight. There will be seven games in all, two in the championship class; three in the first division and two in the second division. The drawings for tonight's play was made as follows last night:

Championship class—Snyder vs. McCulloch, Mansfield vs. Bacon.

First division—Morrisey vs. McKillican. Carson vs. Rotholz. Dr. Gundrum vs. Sherwin.

Second division—Folck vs. Flammer. Cowen vs. Boyer

1-22-13

S. A. C. BASKETBALL TEAM LEAVES FOR SISKIYOU

1-22-13

The basketball team of the Sacramento Athletic club left last night for Siskiyou county, where the boys will meet the basketball stars of that section in a series of games this week. The local team will proceed directly to Etna Mills, and will play the team of that place Thursday night. The following night they will play in Fort Jones, and Saturday they will meet the Yreka high school team.

This is the longest trip ever taken by the S. A. C. basketball team, and the boys are elated at the chance to see the country.

SACRAMENTOS PUT OVER VICTORY ON ROVERS

1-13-13

Rival Soccer Teams Fight Bitter Contest—Athletics Get Draw With Occidentals.

In one of the hardest fought and most keenly contested soccer games ever seen in this city the Sacramentos, the veteran team in the local Association Football league, yesterday defeated the Jubilee Rovers at McKinley park. Thus an old score was evened, and the members of the Sacramento team are not yet through patting each other on the back and cheering over their good fortune.

And the score was 2 to 1 at that.

The Rovers, now leaders in the local league, were defeated decisively by their rivals. There was no half way about it. Defeat was smeared on and rubbed in, and every one of the Sacramentos had a hand in the rubbing and did his "durnedst" too. With another victory the Sacramentos will take the commanding place in the league, and they declare that they will beat out the Rovers for the season's honors.

ATHLETICS SHOW CLASS.

In the first game of the day the Athletic club again demonstrated its adaptness at the game by sharing honors with the Occidentals in a 1 to game. It was a great victory for the Athletics, as they are the youngest team in the league, and most of the players are new at soccer. Bacon and Stone especially distinguished themselves, but all the other members played with a zest seldom displayed and clearly showed that they have material for a championship team. Next year, so say local soccer enthusiasts the Athletics will figure conspicuously in the playing.

In the first half of the feature game between the Sacramentos and Rovers Turner of the Rovers shot one through before the Sacramentos had waked up. The goal made the Sacramentos angry and they dug in like tigers, forcing the Rovers to their goal and kept them there defending the net every minute of the play until the end. Only once was the ball near the Sacramento goal and that was on a penalty. Near the end of the first half Bingham succeeded in putting one through the Rovers' goal, thus evening the score at half time.

The Sacramentos blocked the Rovers up right from the start of the second half and Ferrier soon put one through giving the victors a lead of one point. The game went on, most of the play near the Rovers' goal, and the Sacramentos trying hard to score another goal. Bowden, who played at goal for the Rovers, did effective work and succeeded many times in spoiling almost fatal shots.

FERRIER IS LAME.

Ferrier, center half for the Sacramentos, was lame and out of trim otherwise it would have been indeed bad for the Rovers. Cy Wahl, goal for the victors, did very well, and the Rooney brothers showed up to good form. Young Herb Bowden was a little out of place at left back, but did unusually well at the place. His usfancy plays and spoiled his usual brilual place is right back. Grant and Williamson bottled up Simpson's llancy and the Rovers' left half could not do much for his team, although he tried like a Trojan.

A. Gray refereed the game and gave satisfaction to both sides.

Next Sunday the boys will take two teams, the pick of the league to Chico, to introduce the game in that city. The local soccer players have planned a number of trips during the winter for the purpose of introducing soccer to the athletes of Northern California.

VALLEY TEAMS INVITED TO ENTER P. A. A. BASKET PLAY

Quintets in Superior California to Have Tourney of Their Own

1-18-13

THE P. A. A. will conduct a basketball tourney in Superior California, and the winning teams in the different weight divisions will be pitted against the winners in the Bay tourney. A sub-committee consisting of A. Gossett of the Stockton Y. M. C. A. and G. A. Putnam, Sacramento Commissioner of the P. A. A., will have charge of the games in this section of California.

Two teams are going to enter from Sacramento. They are light and heavy firsts from the Sacramento Athletic Club. Unless Superior California has any other teams to offer they will meet the two Stockton teams at Stockton for high honors.

Last year the lightweight championship finals were played here and won by the local Y. M. C. A. quintet. This year there is no place to play and the locals will have to play all of their games away from here.

Entry blanks can now be obtained from G. A. Putnam at The Bee office. Not more than ten players are allowed to enter any team and every player must be a registered amateur in good standing.

The following are the classes and weights: Midgets, not over 110 pounds; lightweights, not over 120 pounds; junior class, not over 130 pounds; senior class, not over 135 pounds; unlimited class, any weight.

SURPRISE SPRUNG IN FAST SOCCER CONTEST

1-13-13

Two surprises were sprung in the Sacramento Valley Soccer League's play yesterday at McKinley Park. The Jubilee Rovers, leaders of the League, were defeated by the Sacramentos with a 2 to 1 score, and the Sacramento Athletic Club, the baby aggregation of the League, tied the Occidentals, 1 to 1.

Both games were of the red-hot variety, and there was never a dull moment. The Rovers still head the League, but the lead is not as strong as it might be now.

The Rovers were the first to score when Turner let loose a terrific boost, sending the pigskin in through the goals for the first score. In the last ten minutes of play in the first half, the Sacramentos came back and evened things when Bingham booted one through.

Ferrier, one of the bright stars of the local Soccer League, scored the winning point for the Sacramentos when toward the last part of the last half he sent across the winning kick.

USUAL SNOW CARNIVAL BEING PLANNED BY ATHLETIC CLUB

In February Party Will Hie to Quincy for Frosty Frolic

1-17-13

THE Directors of the Sacramento Athletic Club are planning for another club snow carnival at Quincy. For each of three years past these affairs have been held by the clubmen. Last year an excursion was planned to invade the snow-topped mountains of Quincy, but on account of the lack of snow the trip was postponed from time to time until it was finally called off.

Reports from Quincy this year indicate there is plenty of snow and it is getting deeper every day. The Directors are planning to invade the frost belt during February. The party will be started early Sunday morning and will return late the same evening.

A big dinner will be given as soon as the train arrives at Quincy and the clubmen and their guests will be taken care of as one big party. There will be all kinds of games played, such as baseball in the snow and basketball against one of the Plumas County teams.

HANDBALL PLAY IS IN CENTER OF SPOTLIGHT

1-18-13

Athletic Club's Tournament Gives Promise of Good Sport With 24 Matches Slated.

Play in the singles handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic club will be resumed this morning and with twenty-four matches on the day's schedule it is probable that the courts of the Ninth street gymnasium will be in use for the greater part of the day. Competition is running high in the three divisions of the tournament, and although today is the fourth playing day of the present tourney, the race is still young and all of the aspirants to title honors are anxious to get off to a good start.

The tournaments held thus far by the athletic club have contributed largely to making handball the most popular winter indoor sport in this section and with the plans for future, play it is probable that handball in Sacramento will soon be on a plane which will make possible the scheduling of inter-city matches with bay teams. Today's play will begin at 9 o'clock and continue through the day. Twenty-four matches are scheduled—seven in the championship division, nine in the first division, and eight in the second division.

SOCCER SET UP AS WINTER TRAINING FOR BASEBALL

1-14-13

Exhibition Games in Valley Ar Planned to Interest Diamond Athletes in Sport.

Soccer football as a winter conditioner for the semi-pro baseball players of Sacramento and the Sacramento valley is the latest thing in the sport world of this part of the state. The Sacramento valley soccer football league which has always been confined to teams in Sacramento is anxious to extend its operations to cover a field which will correspond with its "Sacramento valley" title.

In other parts of the country soccer has been recognized by baseball players as being the best winter sport to keep a man in condition for the next baseball season. Now the semi-pro teams which are likely to figure in a "Trolley League" in the valley next season are taking an interest in the game. Teddy Peck, manager of the Chico baseball team, has arranged for a visit from two local soccer teams next Sunday to play an exhibition game in Chico. Gus Schluer, manager of the Woodland baseball team, and who is now working to organize a valley baseball league for next season, will probably arrange for two Sacramento soccer teams to play an exhibition game in Woodland on the following Sunday.

The Sacramento Athletic club and Jubilee Rover teams have been selected to play next Sunday's exhibition game in Chico. The other two teams of the league, the Sacramentos and Occidentals, will probably make the trip to Woodland on the following Sunday. Exhibition games will probably be arranged in Marysville, Oroville and Colusa, the other valley baseball centers which are among those interested in the formation of the 1913 Trolley League among the semi-pro baseball teams of the valley.

Ready for Soccer.

The Jubilee Rovers and the Sacramento Athletic Club Soccer teams of the Sacramento Valley Soccer League are all ready for the exhibition game of soccer to-morrow afternoon for the benefit of the Woodland fans. The players leave at 10:30 to-morrow.

LOCAL SOCCER CLUBS WILL PLAY AT WOODLAND

Exhibition Game Intended to Rouse Interest in League

1-21-13

THE Sacramento Athletic Club and the Jubilee Rover Soccer Club teams of the Sacramento Valley Soccer League, will journey to Woodland Sunday to play an exhibition game to show the football enthusiasts of that town what Soccer looks like.

The Sacramento Valley Soccer players are trying to arouse interest in all the Superior California towns so that these will form teams by next season and enter the League play for a trophy. Woodland, Marysville and Chico have signified their intention of forming squads if coaches are sent to train the Soccer men in their sections.

The local players are making the trips of their own free will and paying all expenses and not charging any money at the gate to see the games.

WOODLAND TO SEE SOCCER FOOTBALL

Jubilee Rovers and Sacramento Athletic Club Teams to Play in Yolo Metropolis.

1-22-13

Special to the Union.

WOODLAND (Yolo Co.), Jan. 21.—Woodland will have its first taste of soccer football next Sunday, when the Jubilee Rovers of Sacramento and the Sacramento Athletic Club teams meet at Recreation park.

The Sacramento players have kindly offered their services to Manager Schleur of the local baseball team for their expenses. The surplus of receipts over these expenses will go into the fund with which Schleur expects to improve Recreation park.

Not only has Woodland never had a soccer team, but the Australian game has never been played in this city. Lovers of athletic sports will no doubt look forward to Sunday's contest with interest. Both the Sacramento teams are good ones, being composed of veterans at the game, and are said to be evenly matched.

Besides this game, and two benefit dances to be held for the baseball fund—one on February 4 and the other on March 7, Manager Schleur is planning other ways of raising money, including a home talent theatrical performance.

The Sacramento Coast League team will play the local nine some time during the training season, the exact date not having been set.

Much Interest in Snow Carnival

* * * * * * * * * *

S. A. C. Hopes for Quincy Trip

SACRAMENTO ATHLETIC CLUBMEN and their friends are soon to have another snow carnival treat, if the plans that the Directors are preparing are carried out and the snow remains in the Quincy region until February 22d, when the excursionists plan to arrive at the carnival for a two days' outing.

For a number of years past these affairs have been big attractions for the clubmen and their friends. Two years ago they went to Truckee, where they took the town by storm. Last year they had planned to make a trip to Quincy, but snow was so scarce in the Feather River region that the trip was abandoned at the last moment.

Present indications are that there will be plenty of the fluffy stuff about February 22d and 23d this year and two special trains are being planned. A carnival of sports will be held in connection with the outing.

The club's basketball teams will play the Quincy teams and snow baseball will be played by the older members on the excursion. Frank Bacon, the club captain, has been asked a great many questions already about the trip and expects a record-breaking crowd.

SEVEN MATCHES SLATED IN HANDBALL TOURNEY

1-29-13

Seven matches are scheduled for tonight in the regular mid-weekly play of the Sacramento Athletic club's handball tournament, the matches to be played in the courts of the club gymnasium on Ninth street. The following players in the various divisions are matched for tonight:

Championship division — McCulloch vs. Snyder, J. Blake vs. Marston.

First division—Gundrum vs. Paul; Rothholz vs. Corson.

Second division—Boyer vs. Flammer, Cowen vs. Holtz, McDonald vs. Folck.

OCCIDENTALS WILL PLAY ATHLETICS SOCCER BOYS

1-23-13

The Occidentals and Sacramento Athletic club teams of the Sacramento Valley Soccer Football league will do battle at the McKinley park grounds this afternoon, the game being called at 12:30 o'clock. There is considerable rivalry between these two teams, they being the two youngest sets of players in the league, and a warm game is likely to be the result. The athletic club team has been considerably strengthened in the last few weeks, a victory over the Jubilee Rovers at Woodland last Sunday being ample evidence of the improvement. The Occidentals have also added several new players and the game will be hard fought.

ATHLETIC SQUAD MEETS DEFEAT BY RENO TEAM

1-2-13

Special to the Union.

RENO (Nev.), Feb. 1.—The Sacramento Athletic club basketball team was defeated here tonight by the University of Nevada team by a score of 37 to 29. The visitors put up a hard, clean fight, but did not enjoy the advantage of practice that gave their opponents the jump. The locals took the lead at the start, and although the visitors put up a hard battle and cut down the collegians' lead in the second half, the proposition was too tough a one, and the Sacramento team had to be satisfied with taking defeat gracefully.

Close Play at Handball

1-30-13

Close play was the prevalent feature in the singles handball tourney at the Sacramento Athletic Club last evening. A few of the games were won by one-sided scores, but, as a whole, the matches were all close. On account of the lateness of the hour, a number of scheduled contests could not be played.

The following results were made:

Championship Class—J. Blake beat H. McCulloch, 21-11, 21-14. R. Mansfield and G. Snyder split 11-21, 21-20.

First Division—E. Palm beat Dr. Gundrum, 21-13, 21-19; H. Russell beat S. Dickson, 21-14, 21-9. Dr. Gundrum and S. Dickson split 11-21, 21-10.

Second Division—T. Flammer and W. Cowan split 21-19, 5-21.

Clubmen to Swat Ball Around This Evening

1-27-13

The regular midweek handball will be on the slate this evening at the Sacramento Athletic Club's courts, where the singles tourney will be resumed, with seven games. Another large crowd is expected to be on hand to see the play.

The following is the schedule:

Championship division—H. McCulloch vs. G. Snyder, J. Blake vs. V. Marston.

First division—Dr. Gundrum vs. Paul; M. Rothholz vs. Spike Corson.

Second division—J. Boyer vs. T. Flammer; W. Cowen vs. G. Holtz, B. McDonough vs. A. Folck.

"Stereotyped Basketball" Latest Thing in Progressive Athletics

1-Basketball-13

"STEREOTYPED basketball" is the latest. The close guarding game taught by college and school coaches makes a new mode of attack imperative for the team so guarded—an attack that will increase opportunities for scoring.

The average basketball fan delights in seeing a game full of accurate and regular shooting just as the average baseball fan prefers a 7 to 6 score to a 1 to 0 score. He also delights in seeing the game worked fast and mechanically wherever possible.

The advancement of baseball and football along this line of unselfish team work has moved the progressive basketball coaches to think up a premeditated attack that will break up a close guarding game of the opposition and to increase the scoring possibilities also.

FOR TEAM WORK.

The problem is to break up the close guarding game and still encourage team work. A solution has been found in the introduction of the blocking game. The ones to do the blocking should be the guards, since they generally are better adapted for this work because of their heavier weight.

The forwards, generally speaking, are lighter, but the better shots, and accordingly can be utilized to better advantage if freed from their gluelike adversaries by their own guards, who can do the prying, thereby giving the forwards free rein to shoot.

The time to attack in baseball, known is the psychological moment, is the second the opposition relaxes. This moment occurs not once in a basketball game, but often. Every time the ball goes out of bounds, or when the teams line up after the caging of a basket, is a moment of relaxation. In order to get the best results, "strike while the iron is hot" is a recognized law that fits this case exactly.

The plan of attack is to sacrifice the guards in the passing department of the game when the ball goes out of bonds, or, better, to make them perform both the duties of a passer to his teammates and a blocker to the man of the opposition who tries to play the close guarding game on these occasions.

As the ball goes out of bonds the team which has caused it to do so immediately is put on the defensive.

The old method of the offensive team which is still used, was to evade the defensive five by dodging tactics. The new game is to have the guards outguess the opposition by playing a guarding game when the (the opposition) feels that they will run away.

CITE POINTS IN GAME.

However, it is not to be surmised that you play the man who tries to play you, but, on the contrary, you block one of his teammates while he is attempting to follow you. That is, if A is a guard, he picks out a man who tries to cover his forward, and blocks this man for a second, so that his (A's) forward will get free for the time required to shoot a basket.

Cleverly executed, this act, performed by both guards of the offensive team, leaves the offensive forwards free, with the possible chance of a foul being called on the defensive team because the guards, while blocking also, are being guarded, putting two of the defensive team about one of the offensive.

The plays devised to put this style of attack into practical execution are the kind that require a hard, heady bunch of players. No players of a roving or slipshod type can hope to attain success with them, and, like everything else, steady, persistent practice is the only means of gaining the desired end.

Valley Parties to Visit Quincy for Snow Frolic

1-30-13

TOBOGGAN PARTY READY TO TAKE "THE DROP."

SNOW CARNIVAL ENTHUSIASTS ON MAIN STREET, QUINCY.

QUINCY (Plumas Co.), January 30. ow, the beautiful snow. Just now re is three feet of snow here on level and Winter sports are in blast. Every evening crowds may be found at the toboggan slide enjoying the thrilling sport.

The toboggan slide is about one-quarter of a mile long and is electrically lighted. The first 200 feet or so is on a pitch of about 30 per cent and the balance is on about a 10 per cent grade. As the first drop is made it is like "shooting the shutes."

To-morrow an excursion party will arrive from San Jose and will remain till Sunday evening. This party will be composed of young women, the successful candidates in a contest conducted by a San Jose newspaper, their chaperones, and others from the southern city. They will arrive in Quincy Friday night.

The Winter Sports Committee of the Chamber of Commerce—George H. Stephan, B. H. Hart and A. C. Berg—who have the entertainment of the guests in charge, will give a dance in the Plumas House Hall Saturday evening. There will be skiing and all may enjoy a good old-fashioned sleigh ride to the tune of jingling bells. The citizens of Quincy will give the San Jose visitors the freedom of the town.

It is understood that the Bankers Association of Sacramento, and the Sacramento Athletic Club, and a Stockton organization will visit snow-clad Quincy in the near future.

CLOSE GAMES MARK HANDBALL TOURNEY

Nine Matches Played in Athletic Club Competition for Title of Individual Classes.

Despite the fact that many of the S. A. C. handball players were helping to successfully start the baseball league nine interesting sets were played in the singles tournament held on the club courts yesterday morning.

Two sets were run off in the championship class, three in the first division and four in the second division, the play in each being close and exciting.

Irva Blake and Shaw were winners in the championship class, and the games in the first division were exceptionally close. After losing to Sherwin 21-3, Palm made a strong comeback and took the second game 21-20.

Sherwin then took Russell down the line for two games, Reese took two fast ones from Rotholz and in the second division Holtz grabbed two rattling good games from Boyer, Rose set Childs back two games, Flammer trimmed Pixley two, and then Boyer split with Serrill 16-21 and 21-16.

The scores:

CHAMPIONSHIP CLASS.

I. Blake beat Bacon, 21-3 and 21-4.
Shaw beat Doval, 21-9 and 21-10.

FIRST DIVISION.

WINTER BALL LEAGUE IS PROVING TO BE POPULAR

2-6-13

The first two days that the list was up for entry in the Winter Baseball League of the Sacramento Athletic Club there were forty-two signed up. This provided enough men for the scheduled four teams and extra men. There probably will be more entries yet.

Among professional League players who are members of the club and will take part are Joe Gedeon, Chris Mahoney, Joe Williams and R. Montgomery, who plays in Florida.

Besides the above-mentioned players, the entry list represents the majority of the best semi-pro players of the city.

Play starts next Sunday with a double-header. The first game will start at 9:30.

The A. J. Reach Company has hung a fine loving cup as trophy for the winning team and individual prizes will go to players making the best records.

S.A.C. Holding Billiard and Pool Tourney

The latest feature that is absorbing the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club is a handicap billiard and pool tournament.

More than twenty entries are busy at the tables. It is proving one of the most exciting tourneys pulled off at the club.

W. H. Pugh, Club Director, is handling the handicapping of the men. His knowledge of the ability of the various players fits him as a competent handicapper.

Thomas Cowen, Henry Palm and W. H. Pugh are playing from scratch

S.A.C. to Get an Instructor

The Sacramento Athletic Club has written the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York City; the New York Athletic Club; the Chicago Athletic Club, and Dr. Allen of Yale University in regard to sending a competent physical instructor to the local club. The progress of the club demands the services of a thoroughly competent man. The above-named institutions have the reputation of turning out experts in that line.

The City Commission is planning to have the policemen and firemen take regular exercise at the club, and this, in addition to the increase in membership and increase in interest, will render necessary a competent instructor on the premises.

RED SOX GLORY IS SAFELY UPHELD BY CLUB SQUAD

2-10-13

Giants Are Downed in Opening Game of Athletic Club's Baseball League Play.

The Sacramento Athletic club baseball league was successfully launched at McKinley park yesterday morning, and while there was no pretense at mid-summer playing, there was, nevertheless, play which savored of mid-season form.

Though two games were scheduled, only one was played, the second being called at the end of the third inning. Through a misunderstanding some outsiders monopolized the grounds, causing the scheduled games to get a late start.

The Giants and the Red Sox clashed for seven innings, the Sox safely carrying away the heavy end of a 7 to 6 score.

O'Neill, twirling for the losers, was touched up for 12 safeties, while Doyle allowed but 4, though the Giants made the best of their opportunities and made their 4 hits count for 6 runs.

The features of the game were Lagomarsino's spectacular catch and the all-around playing of C. Shaw and Lewis, and Pearl's hitting.

The Athletics led the White Sox by a 4 to 3 score when their game—which was declared no contest—was called.

WOMEN'S GOLF RACE NARROWS DOWN TO TRIO OF PLAYERS

2-10-13

Mrs. S. S. Day Eliminates Mrs. Jordan—Country Club Officers Elected for 1913.

By suffering defeat by a score of 9 up and 8 to play in match play over an eighteen-hole course, Mrs. W. B. Jordan was eliminated yesterday from the women's golf championship tourney on the Country club links by Mrs. S. S. Day. Mrs. Day was playing in good form while Mrs. Jordan appeared to be having a bad day. Mrs. Day's victory leaves her one of the three survivors in the tourney who will fight it out for the title and the California winery trophy some time this week.

Besides Mrs. Day there are Miss Minnie Ebner and Mrs. W. B. Schaw remaining for the final matches. One of the trio will draw a bye and the other two will probably play their match some day this week, leaving only two aspirants for the championship to play off for the title next Sunday. With the closing match of the women's tournament next Sunday the stage will be cleared for the qualifying round of the men's championship tourney on Washington's birthday.

The members of the Country club held their annual meeting yesterday and elected officers for the ensuing year. Dr. R. B. Giffen was elected president; J. S. Chambers, vice-president; W. B. Schaw, secretary and treasurer. The other directors elected are C. E. McLaughlin, V. S. McClatchy, A. H. Smith and R. R. Flint.

SACRAMENTO TO HAVE BUT ONE TEAM IN P. A. A. TOURNEY

2-7-13

SACRAMENTO will have but one representative in the coming basketball tournament that will bring out the championship five among the Pacific Amateur Athletes of California. That team will be a heavyweight quintet registering from the Sacramento Atnletic Club.

As last year, the local team will battle with the Stocktonians, but hope and expect the result to be different this year. They hope to win the championship of the P. A. A. north of San Francisco and then play the winner of the Bay tourney and return champions of the State.

Last year the Y. M. C. A. lightweights won the championship of the State, while the heavyweights from the Athletic Club went down to defeat. This year there are no lightweight teams here.

Harry Duke is the Manager of the Athletics, and Harry te Veltrup is their Captain. Te Veltrup has a strong regular aggregation this year. The Athletics have met with defeats, but this was because the regulars could not get away to make the trips and subs were seen in most of the games.

Winter Baseball Play Starts To-morrow

2-8-13

THE Sacramento Athletic Club's Baseball League will start to-morrow, when four teams will start the play with a double-header at McKinley Park. The first game will start at 9:30 and the second at 11 o'clock. The first game will be between the Giants and the Red Sox, and the second between the White Sox and the Athletics.

Captains of the different teams have not been elected yet, but the men will get together and elect their leaders. Only members of the Athletic Club can join the League. Some very exciting play is expected, as there is an abundance of talent that has promised to be on hand to-morrow.

Each team in the league will play each other twice before the play is over. Every Sunday a double-header will be staged at McKinley Park. A number of the Coast Leaguers who are living here will be seen in action.

The batteries for to-morrow are as follows: Giants, L. O'Neil and H. Palm; Red Sox, J. Doyle and F. Shaw. White Sox, Dutch Huber, Bill Pugh and Thomas; Athletics, Howe, Doone and Dickson.

S. A. C. BASEBALL TO START TODAY

2-9-13

Four-Team League Will Be Inaugurated to Bring Out Good Material.

On top of the interesting singles handball tournament and the pool and billiard tournament now being conducted by the Sacramento Athletic club the directors of the club have completed arrangements for the inauguration of the club baseball league, which has caused quite a stir among the active members, as forty-eight have signed up and are anxious for the call of game this morning.

The league will be made up entirely of club members, divided into four teams, and all games will be played at McKinley park, the grounds there having been put into first-class condition.

Two games will be played every Sunday morning—weather permissible—the first game being called at 9:30 and the second game at 11 o'clock.

The teams have chosen the names of Giants, Red Sox, White Sox and Athletics, the Giants and Red Sox being scheduled to clash at 9:30 a. m., while the White Sox and Athletics are down for the 11 o'clock game. The teams will line up as follows. First game:

ATHLETICS ARE DEFEATED BY YOUNGSTERS

Stockton High School Basketball Squad Qualifies as Aspirant to P. A. A. Championship.

Special to the Union.

STOCKTON, Feb. 16.—The Stockton high school basketball team landed the Northern California basketball championship here Saturday night by surviving the grind of a four-cornered elimination tourney with the Stockton All-Stars, the Stockton Athletic association and the Sacramento Athletic club teams. The local high school team is now one of three teams remaining in the running for the Pacific Athletic association championship, the other two being the San Francisco Alerts and the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. The playoff for the title among these three teams will take place at San Francisco at an early date.

Three games were played here last night in the elimination schedule necessary to narrow down the Northern California contenders to one team. The first game, between the Stockton Athletic association and the Stockton high school teams proved a victory for the school team by a score of 37 to 25. The school boys took an 18 to 10 lead in the first half and were never in danger.

The second game was the hardest fought of the evening, the Sacramento Athletic squad requiring an extra period to defeat the Stockton All-Stars, 26 to 25. The All-Stars have been state champions for seven years and they put up a bitter fight for the game. The game ran along with never more than a few points difference between the scores of the two teams, first one leading and then the other. Hicks of Sacramento starred with four field goals and seven free throws.

At the end of the regular periods, the score stood a tie at 24 all. Referee Tyler announced that the first team to score two points would be the winner. Sockton made one point on a foul and took the lead with only one point needed to win. But Assalena of Sacramento came through with a clever goal and put the capitol city team out in front with the two points necessary to win.

The hard battle with the All-Stars proved the downfall of the Sacramento team in the final game of the evening. Even a forty-five minute intermission did not refresh the visitors enough so that they could do themselves justice. The Sacramentans outweighed the local high school squad, but with the players tired from their previous hard battle, that extra weight was a handicap instead of an advantage. The high school team took a 19 to 10 lead in the first half and increased it to a final score of 32 to 22 by the end of the second period.

Both teams did some clever work, but the youngsters of the Stockton high school squad had the advantage in an easy preliminary game and a long rest whereas the Sacramento Athletics struck a tough proposition in their preliminary game with the All-Stars and had a shorter rest than their opponents before entering the final

Big Handball Day.

Another big handball day is in sight to-morrow at the Sacramento Athletic Club, when the singles tourney is resumed. A large number of games are on the schedule, and some very good play is slated.

The following matches are scheduled, the first beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning:

Championship class—I. Blake vs. G. Snyder, J. Blake vs. W. Pugh, G. Simmermacher vs. H. Doval, R. Mansfield vs. F. Bacon, A. Strachan vs. L. Lobner.

First division—L. Reese vs. G. Green, R. Sherwin vs. Dr. Gundrum, I. Morrissey vs. M. Rotholz, H. Thayer vs. McKillican, Russell vs. Gill.

Second division—Flammer vs. Pixley, McKeown vs. R. Terrell, Boyea vs. Cowen, B. McDonald vs. W. Rose, C. Cox vs. B. McDonald.

FAST HANDBALL MATCHES SCHEDULED TOMORROW

2-8-13

Interest continues to hold strong in the singles handball tournament at the Sacramento Athletic club, and several good matches are scheduled for play tomorrow.

All classes are running even and hardly a set is played but what the result is in doubt up to the last ball played.

The drawings for tomorrow's play follows:

Championship class—I. Blake vs. Snyder, J. Blake vs. Pugh, Simmermacher vs. Doval, Mansfield vs. Bacon, Strachan vs. Lobner.

First division—Reese vs. Green, Sherwin vs. Dr. Gundrum, Morrissey vs. Rotholz, Thayer vs. McKillican, Russell vs. Gill.

Second division—Flammer vs. Pixley, McKeown, vs. Terrell, Boyea vs. Cowen, McDonald vs. Rose, Cox vs. McDonald.

MARATHON INNING PUTS WHITE SOX AT TOP OF HEAP

Sixth Frame Sees 8 Runs Put Over Plate by Only Winner of Day in Club League.

The Sacramento Athletic club league drew a big crowd out to Oak Park yesterday morning, and two fast, close games were reeled off by the club members.

The first game, played between the Giants and the Athletics, was called with the score at 3 all at the end of the fifth inning, owing to the time limit. The teams were fairly well balanced, and though Pugh held the Athletics to three bingles, the Athletics took every advantage of his inability to locate the rubber in the pinch, and made their three hits count for as many runs.

The second game proved somewhat of a surprise, as the Red Sox were picked as winners after the first inning, but the uncertainty of baseball cropped up during the finish of the game which completely smothered the Red Sox, the White Sox winning 10 to 8.

The Red Sox started off with two runs in the first frame, and the winners made one in each the first and second frame.

Air-tight ball was played up to the sixth frame, and then the Red Sox broke loose. An infield error, a walk, a single, a triple and a passed ball was the combination that turned the trick and the Red Sox outfit was jubilant. But their jubilation was short lived—their joy was turned to sorrow by the awful bombardment which the White Sox turned loose upon them. Nine men at bat, seven hits, eight runs before two men were out.

In the next frame Jack O'Neill replaced Huber in the box, and it looked as if the Red Sox were going to pull a comeback stunt, for they chased over three runs in jig time, which left them two short of the necessary number to tie.

These games are proving interesting, and the league will continue to play every Sunday morning up to April. Scores:

S.A.C. 5 Beat Stockton's Stars

STOCKTON HIGH SCHOOL will be the Northern basketball representative in the championship finals to be played in San Francisco very soon.

The Sacramento Athletic Club team defeated the Stockton All Stars at Stockton Saturday night for the first time the Stars have been defeated in a P. A. A. competition in seven years. They have been State champions for that time.

The score was 26 to 25 and was reached after the teams tied with 24 to 24 at the end of the second half. The Sacramento Athletics were then defeated by the Stockton High School team who defeated the Stockton Athletics in the opening game 37 to 25.

With but thirty minutes rest the locals went against the Stockton High five which had been figured as easy prey. Everyone had thought that the Stockton Athletics and the All-Stars would clash in the finals. The score of the last game was in favor of the Stocktonians in the first half with a 19 to 10 lead and ended in their favor, 32 to 22.

The hard battle with the All-Stars is what defeated the Athletics in their final game.

Two interesting games were played in the Sacramento Athletic club baseball league at Oak Park yesterday morning, the Red Sox trimming the Athletics by the score of 8 to 5, and the White Sox drubbed the Giants 12 to 4.

The second game was a regular swatfest, with the swatting mostly to the credit of the White Sox.

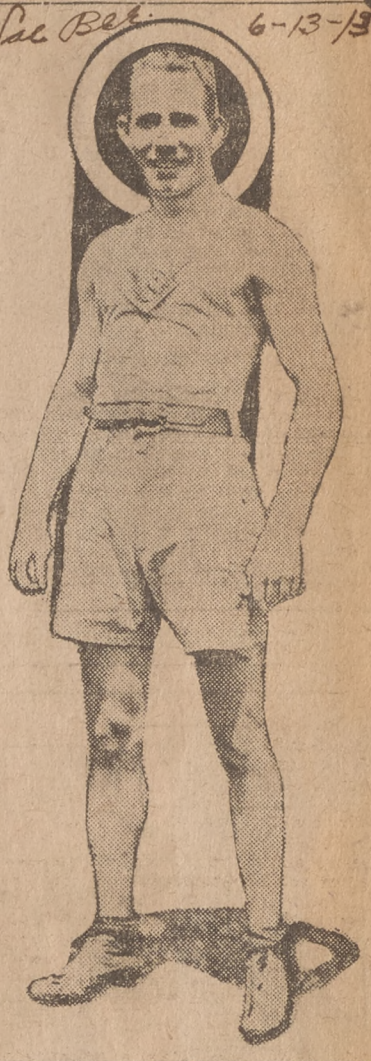
Chester Gannon, Who Hopes to Make a Record in Chicago

Sac Bee 6-13-13



CHESTER GANNON, the local track athlete who captains the Sacramento Athletic Club's track team, and is entered in the pre-Olympic Carnival at Chicago, June 28th to July 6th, is putting in some hard work at the McKinley Park track.

He has entered the Pentathlon, which consists of five events—the javelin throw, discus, 200-meter dash, 1,500-meter run, and broad jump. His time and distance in these events are better than James Donahue's at the Olympic games last year.

If the Eastern trip does not weaken him, he should place in the event at Grant Park, Chicago.

New Physical Instructor to Give Members Semi-Weekly Lessons

WALTER DYREBORG is the new physical instructor at the Sacramento Athletic Club. He will begin class work to-morrow evening at the popular Ninth Street quarters. Classes will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays and will be from 8 until 9 p m., when different branches of gymnasium work will be taken up.

Dyreborg is not a stranger here as he has instructed classes in wrestling for a number of years. For the past two he has been the instructor of the Stockton Athletic Club and was very successful there.

Of this amount $8,191.59 is in cash deposited in a Los Angeles, Cal., bank. His real property consists of four lots in Bourne, Mass. The appraisal was made at about one-half of the actual value on the personal effects.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO HOLD BIG PLUNGE

Night at Swimming Baths Will Be Enjoyed July 2—Many Contests.

Following their plans outlined some time ago, the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club are completing arrangements for a big swimming night at the Sacramento baths on next Wednesday night, and they promise to give the public some keen competition in swimming, diving and novelty stunts.

Hoping to bring about friendly rivalry, all events on the opening night will be open and every local swimmer who so desires may enter the different events. There will be a 50 yard and 100 yard dash, 200 yard swim, tilting contest, diving contest, race under water and tug-of-war. As a special feature there will be a race for the local mermaids, and as there are several feminine frequenters of the baths who are quite expert at this great sport, there should be at least a half dozen entries, which should be a most interesting feature.

All applications for entries should be made to Frank Bacon, captain of athletics, or to Prof. Walter Dyreborg, physical instructor, at the Sacramento Athletic club.

S.A.C. Plans a Tennis Court

May Install a System of Lights for Night Play

DIRECTORS of the Sacramento Athletic Club announced today that the large lot just north of their club on the southwest corner of Ninth and I Street, had been leased for a long term of years and that contracts were let for the building of a first-class regulation tennis court.

One of the features to be installed later will be a lighting system such as has been very successful in the East for night playing. This will not be added until the members show they are interested in the game and want to play during the evening.

The courts will be surfaced with oil macadam and will be of regulation size. The initiation fee will be lifted for a month and the Directors believe the addition of the court will make a big difference in the membership.

The courts will be but a step from the gymnasium, handball courts and showers. The lighting system that may be installed calls for fourteen lights on each side of the court. It is claimed that the arrangement makes the court as light as day.

SWIMMING EVENTS AROUSE INTEREST

Athletic Club's Program at the Riverside, Baths Promises Some Keen Competition.

Considerable interest is being taken in the swimming contests to be held at the Sacramento baths under the auspices of the Sacramento Athletic club tomorrow night, and while ten entries have already been received at the club for the different events, it is expected that by tomorrow night this number will be doubled, and everybody who goes to the baths Wednesday night—and weather indications are that there will be a big crowd—will see some clever competition as several swimmers of merit have entered these contests.

Mr. Nixon, member of the Olympic club of San Francisco, and for four years holder of the title of Pacific coast amateur champion at the 50 yard and 100 yard dash, will start in these events, and it is predicted by followers of water sports that he will be given a severe test by two local swimmers—Evers and Snook.

All events seem to be popular, as there are several entrants to each one, and at the present time the following names have been received at the club: M. Nixon, M. H. Bedell, G. Zoller, George C. Huber, J. W. Snook, A. Evers, George J. Henle Jr., William Keown, J. Childs and C. Stewart.

The affair is open to the public and should pull a crowded house.

Swimming Races Excite Crowd

The swimming events put on by the Sacramento Athletic Club at the Sacramento Baths last night brought out a large crowd, and all were satisfied with the exhibitions, each event being closely contested.

The fifty-yard dash was the real big number of the evening, fifteen swimmers participating. The dash was run off in three heats, with the starters as follows: First heat, Nixon, Huber, Wickham, Swanton and Bedell; won by Nixon, Wickham second.

Second heat, Evers, Henle, Stewart, R. Snook and Oliver; Evers first, R. Snook second.

Third heat, G. Snook, McKeown, Brown, Feeney and Corson; G. Snook first, Corson second.

In the final of this race there was only five starters, Nixon withdrawing, and it was a neck and neck race from start to finish. G. Snook, Evers and Wickham were together throughout and while they finished in the order named, the distance from first to third place was less than a yard.

In the 200-yard swim Gray was an easy winner, R. Snook finishing second. Gray also captured the honors at diving, giving a most creditable exhibition.

The swim under water was won by Swanton, who covered twenty-five yards before coming to the surface. Bedell finished second.

All Ready for Swimming Contests

EVERYTHING is ready for the swimming events at the Sacramento Baths to-night. Sixteen swimmers are entered. The events will start at 8 o'clock and will be run off in the following order:

50-yard dash—M. H. Bedell, G. Zoller, George C. Huber, M. Nixon, J. W. Snook, A. Evers, George J. Henle, Jr., William McKeown, J. Childs, C. Stewart, G. L. Ebner, Max Rothholz, J. M. Feeney, Dick Wickham and Charles Swanton.

100-yard dash—George C. Huber, M. Nixon, A. Evers, William McKeown, George J. Henle, Jr., J. Childs, C. Stewart, J. M. Feeney and Dick Wickham.

200-yard swim—M. H. Bedell, J. W. Snook, A. Evers and George Gray.

Diving—M. H. Bedell, J. W. Snook, William McKeown, George J. Henle, Jr., George Gray and G. L. Ebner.

The officials of the meet will be as follows: Starter, Prof. Walter Dyreborg; Judges, A. J. Delano, C. R. Gill and F. E. Bacon; timers, J. Francis Holtz and J. O. Tobey.

Gannon Wins Second With Javelin

(The Bee's Special Service.)

CHICAGO, July 5.—Chet Gannon, competing under the colors of the Sacramento Athletic Club, won second honors in the javelin throw here yesterday in the National Junior Championship meet in which some of the best athletes of the country were competing. His distance was 146 feet and the winners were 148 feet 8 inches.

Cannon is entered in the Sunday competitions. He is full of confidence. He received a beautiful medal for second honors yesterday and was the only Californian to place in the meet.

Gannon Home With Fine Medal

Made Good Showing at Chicago

CHESTER GANNON, Captain of the Sacramento Athletic Club's track team, and Sacramento's first representative in a United States champion track and field meet, returned Thursday from Chicago, where he competed against some of the best performers in track and field events in the United States.

The meet, which was a big success ,lasted from June 28th to July 6th. Gannon took second place in the javelin throw, winning a beautiful silver medal, the first American championship medal to come to Sacramento. He was away three weeks, and visited all of the big athletic clubs of the East.

MET WORLD-FAMED ATHLETES.

In his competitions he met such world-renowned athletes as Abel Kiviat, Mel Shepherd, Elmer Richards, James Donahue, and Fred Kelley. While in Los Angeles he was the guest of James Donahue, the famous American athlete, who took second to Tharp at the Olympic games in the Pentathlon. He assisted Gannon in this event, and the local star now is working hard in perfecting himself in his weak spots.

One point is all that kept him from placing in the Pentathlon at Chicago. He took fourth in this event. He fell down on the javelin throw, which was always before his strong event. Had he made the same mark with the javelin as in the regular competition, when he took second, he would have placed.

Stood Heat Well.

"One of the incidents that stood out in all of the athletes' memories was the way they stood the intense heat," said Gannon. "A tent with a corps of physicians and nurses was on the grounds, but not one of the boys was taken to it during the meet, while at least 100 spectators at the end of the meet had to be taken care of."

Gannon is going to enter the competition next year, and is confident that he will place, with this year's experience to help him. Much credit is due him, for all of the athletes that entered the meet were trained in the most careful manner by the best coaches in the country.

BY M. J. WATHEY.

Athletes from Chicago carried off the lion's share of the honors in the junior national A. A. U. championships held at Grant Park yesterday when the Chicago Athletic Association ran away with the team prize with 42 points, its nearest competitor being the Irish-American A. C. from New York, with 22 points. But one record was broken, although exceptional performances marked every event, the wind and poor track preventing the contestants from shattering the standing marks.

Arthur Kohler of the University of Michigan was the star of the meet, it being the giant weight man of the wolverine squad who broke the only record, and through his clever work in the field events he annexed 11 points, his lone efforts putting Michigan in a tie for fourth place. He raised the previous junior mark in the discus throw when he hurled the missile 129 feet 3 inches, more than three feet farther than the old distance. He also took second in the shot put and hammer throw.

GOELITZ LOSES LUCK.

Harry Goelitz, the decathlon winner, ran into a lot of hard luck in the meet, being the only member of the C. A. A. team who failed to produce a point. He finished in front in the 120 high hurdles, but was disqualified for "hooking" the last hurdle. James E. Sullivan, referee, ruled that Goelitz had carried his foot outside the hurdle rather than over the bar. Goelitz's efforts in the high hurdles left him without enough stamina to steam up into a place in the low event and he was forced to sit back while the others received medals.

The two teams from New York, each of which were picked before the meet to take down honors, failed to produce with their usual skill, the combined points of the New York A. C. and Irish-American A. C. making but 41, one less than was scored by the C. A. A. The giant weight men of the Irish-American team proved up to standard, firsts in the javelin, hammer throw and 56-pound weight throw going to that organization. The New York A. C. men took top honors in the mile walk and high jump, besides seconds in the high hurdles and broad jump.

The men from Boston were a disappointment in the junior trials, the big team entered under the colors of the Boston A. A. being only able to grab a laurel wreath once, this coming when Merceau romped home ahead in the mile in 4:33 2-5. A second in the low hurdles and three thirds was the rest of the honors to the men from the "Hub."

SEVEN WINS TO C. A. A.

The Cherry Circle youngsters proved by far the most evenly balanced team on the grounds, taking down seven firsts, besides a second and four thirds. When Sauer scooted home a winner in the half-mile in 2:00 1-5, the best average time of the day, there was an optimism expressed by the C. A. A. men, and when Cortis and Blair finished one-two in the quarter it began to look a sure thing for the local squad.

Charley Cory in the low hurdles, E. Riedel in the high sticks, S. W. Shaw in the pole vault, Phil Stiles in the broad jump and A. D. Kantzler in the shot put were the other C. A. A. men to finish in front.

Joie Ray of the Illinois Athletic Club possibly made the best showing of the day when he beat out Gaston Strobino, the Olympic marathon runner who finished third at Stockholm, in the five-mile race. Strobino ran a clever race, going out in front from the initial gun, and keeping the lead until the last lap, but he did not have the reserve strength possessed by Ray and the Kankakee boy romped him a winner by fifty yards. The pace was too hot for the rest of the field and only Ray and Strobino finished. The time for the distance was 26:39.

Gannon Captured Two Medals

Third Place in Chicago Meet

LOCAL ATHLETE'S TROPHIES

CHESTER GANNON, the local track and field athlete, was surprised the other day when he was informed that he had won third place in the Pentathlon at the Pre-Olympic games held in Chicago some time ago. This announcement was accompanied with a beautiful bronze medal.

At the time third place was given a member of the Chicago Athletic Club, but upon the official figuring Gannon was found to be the third highest.

Besides this, Gannon won a silver medal for second place in the javelin throw. These are the first two championship medal to be landed here by a local athlete in a National championship meet.

It was also Gannon's first appearance, but the local Sacramento Athletic Club Track Captain took a chance, and although he had not the services of the best coaches in the country in preparation for the meet he did exceptionally well and learned much.

CLUB RUGGERS BEGIN PRACTICE; GAME WITH NEVADA SCHEDULED

RUGBY football practice began for the first time here this week when the Sacramento Athletic Club fifteen began to do light work at the Club gymnasium and at the McKinley Park playgrounds.

Physical Director Walter Dyreborg is coaching the team and says that his huskies look to be a very promising lot. Games have been arranged with the University of Nevada and the Stockton Athletic Club. Games are also to be arranged with the local High School team and other High teams of the Valley.

Some of the veteran members of the Sacramento High teams are going to show this week for work. The squad will work to-morrow at McKinley Park and Dyreborg has made a call for 10:30 at the McKinley Park grounds.

REFEREE BLAMED FOR S. A. C. DEFEAT BY NEVADA

RENO (Nev.), Sept. 28.—The Sacramento Athletic club football team lost to the University of Nevada by a score of 24 to 3 Saturday. Sacramento was handicapped as the referee gave Nevada the first two trys on forward passes. If a competent referee could have been obtained no doubt the score would have been much closer, as the ball was held in Nevada territory the first half of the game. Our score was made in the first half on a penalty of forward pass, which was made by a free kick by Porter. The Sacramento Athletic club were entertained after the game by a reception and dance, which was appreciated very much.

POLICE HOPES ARE CRUSHEDBY SQUAD OF AGED ATHLETES

Old Men's Department of Sacramento Athletic Club Trims Cops' Baseball Team.

The all-star baseball team of the Sacramento police department suffered a decisive defeat from the old men's department of the Sacramento Athletic club at McKinley park yesterday afternoon, and, coming as it did from a bunch of veterans who were supposed to have long ago outlived their usefulness as stars of the diamond, Chief Johnson admitted after the game that his braves would not be allowed to again appear on the diamond in public until they had thoroughly demonstrated that they were able to come back.

They have requested a return game, but the only satisfaction they received from the Athletics was, "get a reputation. The score:

CLUB RUGBY SQUAD TO INVADE NEVADA

Athletics Will Hold Final Workouts Tonight Before Playing Varsity Outfit Saturday.

Coach L. W. Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic club rugby team will run the aspirants through the signals for the last time at McKinley park tonight before they line up against the fifteen of the University of Nevada Saturday for the initial game of the season. The club boys have been training hard for the last six weeks and are confident they can turn the tables on the collegians, who have been victorious on all previous invasions of the Nevada territory.

There are a good number of veterans to form a strong nucleus for the squad, and the new material, uncovered by the tryouts, is developing with remarkable rapidity. The scrum will average 170 pounds, while the backfield tips the scales at an average of 150 pounds. In previous seasons the scrum of the local club has proved superior to the scrums that it opposed, but the backs failed to handle the ball after it left the pack. This year the backs are showing the speed and accuracy that promises to make any opposing team go the limit to outdo them.

The election of the captain and manager of the combination will be held at the close of the practice tonight.

Coach Dyreborg, who has attended to the management of the team up to this time, is communicating with teams of Grass Valley, University of Santa Clara, Stockton Athletic club, the Barbarians and Insurrectos of San Francisco. Games will probably be arranged with all of these.

The squad of aspirants out for the team include the following: Forwards—Neilson, Trentane, Eppling, Wahl, Hubert, Holland, Cass, Zoller and Hart; backs—Bradley, Hannan, Shaw, Bryson, Dillinger, Gannon, Lee, Dixon, Cole and Swanton.

Local Ruggers Open Season

Play Nevadans To-morrow

MANY NEW FACES ARE SEEN ON ATHLETICS 1913 TEAM

SACRAMENTO Rugby foot-ballers will invade Reno to-morrow when the Sacramento Athletic Club fifteen plays the University of Nevada the annual game of the season on the Mackay field at the college.

Walter Dyreborg, who has been training the local athletes, says that his huskies are all in good shape, and he expects to bring home the game. This will be the third game that the "Winged S" boys have played in the Nevada city. In the two previous games it has meant a defeat.

A number of new faces will be seen in the line-up this year. Harry Villinger will play at full. Villinger at one time was a star sprinter of Superior California. The scrum averages 170 pounds, and is composed of a formidable bunch of boys.

The Sacramento Athletic Club team will line up as follows: Forwards, A. Hart, G. Zoller, Joe Gall, Joe Cass, Herbert Wahl, Joe Raab, George Huber, Ed Davis; backs, E. W. Swanton, half back; L. W. Dyreborg and L. Johnston, five-eighths; R. E. Lee, center three-quarters; Chester Gannon and E. Eplinger, wings; Harry Villinger, full-back; W. Shaw and E. Holland, substitutes.

TWO VETS STAGE A HOT HANDBALL GAME

George Yoerk, formerly handball champion of Sacramento, is out a French dinner, and George Green is licking his chops in anticipation of the big feed.

Yoerk had stoutly maintained that he was superior to Gren in the art of slamming the ball, and Green in turn has been dickering with Yoerk for a match for some weeks.

Things came to a climax Wednesday noon, and Yoerk and Green proceeded to the Sacramento Athletic club to settle the dispute.

Amid the cheers of a large crowd of backers, who were sitting in the balcony, Yoerk downed Green in the first match after a hard tussle, 21-17.

Yoerk's stock went up with a boom.

The second match was a hummer. Green came out ahead by one point. Score, 21-20.

But the second heat rather tired Yoerk and Green played him off his feet, winning by a 21-18 score, and copping the series.

WINGED "S" BOYS TO COMPETE AT BAY
CANNON, PAPPAS AND BOONE ENTERED

PROFESSOR Walter Dyreborg left last evening for San Francisco with Teddy Pappas, a middleweight fighter, who will compete in the Portola boxing events, and Frank Boone, a middleweight wrestler, also entered in the amateur events during the Portola's athletic program.

Both the Sacramento Athletic Club athletes have been working hard in the club gymnasium and Dyreborg believes that they will hold their own against the State amateurs who will compete at the Bay, beginning tonight.

Chester Gannon will enter from the Sacramento Athletic Club in the track and field meet Saturday. Gannon is entered in the javelin throw and the broad jump.

LOCAL ATHLETES ARE ENTERED IN PORTOLA EVENTS

SACRAMENTO will be represented in the Portola Athletic games next week in the boxing and wrestling events. Professor Walter Dyreborg of the Sacramento Athletic Club, has two of the Club's best boys in training for the meet in San Francisco on October 22d, 23d and 24th.

Frank Boone will do the wrestling. He is a middleweight amateur of much promise and Dyreborg believes that he will make a good showing with the Bay middlers.

Teddy Pappas will do the boxing for the Winged S boys. He is another middleweight and a new student of the art of Queensbery. Pappas comes from a family of fighters and handles himself like a veteran. With Bob McAllister, now a professional and out of the amateur ranks, Pappas believes he can give the amateur field of California a great run for its money.

A great deal of faith is being placed in Pappas. He is a rangy fighter, standing six feet one inch, and with a 76-inch reach. He is aggressive and looks like a comer if the clubmen are to be taken as judges of a good fighter.

Chester Gannon, captain of the track team, will enter in the Portola track meet. He will enter the javelin and shot putting events. Gannon has been meeting with a great deal of success in the javelin throw of late.

HANDBALL PLAY STARTS SUNDAY

Entry List in Athletic Club's Soft Ball Tournament Is Expected to Set New Record.

Judging from the practicing that has been going on in the Sacramento Athletic club handball courts, the number of entries in the annual double tournament, which starts next Sunday, will surpass all previous records. Entry lists were posted yesterday in the club rooms. The record high water mark was set last year, when 40 entrants started in the race for handball honors.

The tournament will have three classes, the winners of the first getting gold medals and the winners of the second and third classes getting silver medals.

Joe and Irva Blake won the championship of the club last year and claim the soft ball championsh p of the coast. Many speedy players have been developed in the club's courts in the last few years.

The Sacramento Valley Soccer League was opened yesterday with games on the McKinley and South Side Soccer Parks, the Sacramento and Occidentals being returned winners over the Athletics and the Rovers.

The Occidentals beat the Rovers 3 to 2, on the McKinley Park grounds. Rooney, Walker and Wahl were stars in the game and Button's boot for a score won for the Occidentals. Button is a Rover but in the excitement of play he kicked the ball into the wrong net.

The Sacramentos defeated the Sacramento Athletic Club soccer players, 5 to 2. The veteran Sacramentos were too experienced for their younger opponents and did not have any trouble winning.

ATHLETIC CLUB GETS MONTE ATTELL TO TRAIN BOXERS

MONTE ATTELL, former featherweight champion of the world, has been secured by the Sacramento Athletic Club Directors as boxing instructor of the club's boxers, and he will take charge of the amateur boxers beginning Tuesday evening.

On Tuesday and Friday evenings he will instruct the club members in the manly art in the club's gymnasium. Since Chief of Police William Johnson quit teaching the winged "S" boys the club has been without an instructor.

Frank Bacon, the Club Captain, stated to-day that at the present time there was more good material between the ages of 17 and 20 than there had ever been in the club before. The largest number of boxers ever to sign up have already signed the class roll.

After a month's work with the boys Attell is going to stage a boxing show. This will be kept up every month during the Winter and will be held in the club-rooms for members only. Formerly outsiders were allowed, but no one but Athletic Club members will be allowed to the shows.

The boxing class will be free to members and Monte Attell has already looked over some of the boys' work and says that Sacramento will land a couple of amateur championships here next year at the annual boxing tournament.

ALL SACRAMENTOS AND OCCIDENTALS LEAD LEAGUE

Sacramento Athletic Club and the Rovers Are Easily Defeated.

The All Sacramentos and the Occidentals took the lead in the opening play of the Sacramento Soccer league yesterday afternoon by defeating the Sacramento Athletic club and the Rovers, respectively. The Athletics, who went on the field with practically an all green team, proved easy victims for the experienced Rovers, who scored five goals to the club's 2. This game was held on the Southside Park field, which was muddy and slippery after the rain yesterday.

Kicking the ball into the goal of his opponents, Button of the Rovers practically presented the Occidentals with the opening game at McKinley park yesterday afternoon, the winners getting the game by the small margin of one point, the score being 3 to 2. The heady work of Wahl, Walker and Rooney stood out as the main features of the game.

The winning goals were scored by Walker and Hern of the Occidentals and Button of the Rovers. Through the excitement of the play, when the ball was near the goal, Button gave it the kick that counted for the score.

The members of the winning team are chiefly natives of Sacramento, while the Rovers are nearly all British. Atkinson and Simpson played the title roles in the game for the Rovers, especially in the second half. Atkinson was a trifle too aggressive, but will prove a valuable payer to his team when he settes down a little.

At half time the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the Occidentals. In the second half the Rovers worked hard to equalize the score, but the lead was too much for them.

It will be noticed that the standing of the teams is not on the regular percentage basis, but on a special table. Instead of making the basis 1000, each time a team wins it gains two points, but if it loses it remains in the same place, or at zero. When a game results in a tie, which is known as a drawn game, each team is given one point.

The line-up at McKinley park was as follows:

Rovers.	Position.	Occidentals.
McCutcheon	Goal	Wahl
Turner	Right back	Douglass
Button	Left back	Rooney
McNeely	Right half	Robinson
Moyer	Center half	Vanina

Former Champion Will Take Charge Of S.A.C. Boxers

MONTE ATTELL.

Monthly Boxing Cards Planned for Benefit of Members After One Month of Work.

Monte Attell, who formerly wore the lightweight championship crown of the world, will begin as boxing instructor of the Sacramento Athletic club tomorrow night. Classes of amateur boxers will meet every Tuesday and Friday evenings from the ranks of club members.

The former champ has looked over a few of the boys and is confident that he can develop some speedy millers who will make a strong bid for the amateur championship of the state next year. At the present time the local fight fans are not afforded the opportunity of seeing the amateur championship bouts, but Attell says that with worthy contenders in the field from the local club, many fast scraps can be brought here.

It is planned to have a monthly card in the club gymnasium during the winter months, which will be for the club members only. Previously outsiders were admitted to these monthly cards, but under the new management all outsiders will be barred. The first card will be given next month.

The All-Sacramentos defeated the Occidentals by a 1 to 0 score on the South Side Park grounds yesterday afternoon in the Sacramento Valley Soccer League and the Sacramento Athletic Club Soccer eleven downed the Jubilee Rovers, 4 to 2.

The Sacramentos and the Occidentals put up a great battle. A penalty kick netted the victors their winning point. The game was one of the best turned loose in the Soccer League so far this season.

The winning of the game by the Athletic clubmen, who are the babies of the League and received their first instructions in the English game last year, was the surprise of the day.

The Rovers, the team they beat 4 to 2, is composed mostly of veterans who learned the game across the ocean. Holtz and Bacon are the only old soccer players on the Athletics and the rest of the team is composed of new material this season.

The teams lined up as follows:

HANDBALL EXPERTS PREPARE FOR TOURNEY

Three Divisions Entered to Play for Gold and Silver Medals

WITH the rain comes the announcement that the annual doubles handball tournament of the Sacramento Athletic Club will start in the courts of the Ninth Street club a week from to-morrow, on November 9th.

Three classes will be entered. They will be known as the first, second and third classes. Gold medals will be given to the two winners in the first division team. Silver medals will go to the players in the second and third division winners.

Fifty Players Expected.

Last year forty players represented the entry in the handball play. This was a record. It looks like at least fifty handballers will be ready to start pounding the soft ball around a week from to-morrow.

Within the past three years a number of speedy indoor court men have been developed here, and they have all been working hard for the tournament that soon starts. Handball has always been a big sport at the Athletic Club, and the Blake brothers, Joe and Irva, now claim the Coast soft ball championship.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS BOXING CONTESTS

Youthful Huskies, Trained to the Minute, to Be Card for First Winter Meet

A BOXING show may be held this month by the Sacramento Athletic Club. It has been a long time since the members of the club have attended an Athletic Club boxing show. Monte Attell, who is instructing the clubmen on Tuesday and Friday evenings, has a bunch of lads in his care who he says will open the eyes of the fight fans here.

January May Be Date.

If the bouts cannot be staged this month the first part of January will find the "winged S" boys battling for honors. This time the spectators are to be limited to club members.

Sally Salvadore and Joe Azevedo are both products of the Club gymnasium and were instructed by William Johnston, now Chief of the Sacramento Police Department.

Fifteen Boxers in Class.

Attell has fifteen mixers signed up in his class and as many as twenty have shown up on some evenings.

Of this number he has four boys whom he expects to show a great deal of class in the ring. The monthly boxing show held by the Athletic Club used to be one of the stellar attractions of the city, and the Directors are going to try to make them a feature. They will not be held in the Ninth-Street cuubrooms. A larger hall will be rented.

MEMBERS OF LOCAL ATHLETIC CLUB HARD AT WORK

Handball, Basketball and Boxing Used to Get Men in Shape

HANDBALL, basketball and boxing are keeping the members of the Sacramento Athletic Club busy this month. The handball tournament starts to-morrow morning with play in the first division. The clubmen will be given a chance to sign up until the 23d of this month.

No regular scheduled play has been made for to-morrow, as not many of the players have signed up yet. The two courts will probably be pretty busy and after the play of to-morrow a regular schedule will be adopted.

Basketball is keeping a large squad of huskies busily engaged on Tuesday and Friday evenings in the club gymnasium. Two teams will be turned out this season, light and heavyweights. Almost all of the material trying out is new, as most of the old players have left.

Heavyweight Schedule.

The heavyweight team has a goodly number of games ahead. One of the trips that is tempting the players is to Reno, where the University of Nevada will be played. Other games are with Chico, Stockton and Woodland quintets.

Monte Attell is teaching a large class the manly art of self-defense. The former bantam-weight finds that his pupils are quick to learn the Marquis of Queensbury art and he expects soon to start the monthly boxing shows.

DELANO ENTERTAINS CLUB DIRECTORS

Gathering Held for Creation of Close Fellowship and Advancement of Athletics.

Owing to the big heartedness and kindness of Arthur Delano, well known sportsman of Sacramento, the directors of the Sacramento Athletic club were extensively entertained at a banquet at a downtown cafe recently. Due to the sportsmanlike manner in which he handled the affair the guests were given a treat that will not leave their memory in a short time.

This is not the first affair of the kind that Mr. Delano has shown his trait of good fellowship, and judging from the success he is making in business it will not be the last.

The boys look forward to having entertainments of a similar kind from time to time, as it creates good fellowship, closer feeling and co-operation for the good of athletics that is the aim of the club to create.

Mr. Delano, due to his excellent knowledge in athletics, was appointed and is now examining all applicants who are obliged to take exercises or go through some form of athletics before getting their appointment.

Soccer in Morning.

The morning will be taken up with a soccer game on the South Side Park field. The elevens that will meet have not yet been chosen, but Sacramento Soccer League officials have promised that they will get two fast teams out for a game of the English pastime.

Capitol Race at 11:30.

At 11:30 the race around the Capitol will be started. Seven teams are entered in this run. The first two teams to finish will be given medals furnished by the Home Products League.

In the morning, also, Sacramento Country Club golfers will start an eighteen-hole medal play tourney on the club's links at 10 o'clock sharp.

ATHLETICS, BY VIRTUE OF ANDERSON, BEAT THE ACORNS

Score 21 to 16 in Fast and Exciting Game; Brodericks Best the Finks

"BLONDIE" ANDERSON, of the Sacramento Athletic Club, is fast developing into a basketball star. He is one of the most accurate shooters in the Beginners' League, and shone brightly last night when the Sacramento Athletic Club team defeated the Acorns, 21 to 16, in the best game of the evening.

The first game went to the Brodericks, who defeated the Finks, 33 to 12. Center Palm, of the Brodericks, was the chief ring finder. He scored fourteen points.

After the games Thursday evening the old schedule of games will be abandoned and a new one drawn up. So far, the League has been a big success. The teams are dealing out good ball, and a number of stars have been developed.

The points last night were scored as follows:

S. A. C.—Anderson, 4 field goals, 1 foul goal; Miles, 2 field, 4 foul; Groves, 1 field; Bryson, 1 field.

Acorns—Oakley, 2 field, 2 foul; Ash, 2 field, 2 foul; Brown, 1 field; Boyd, 1 field.

Broderick—Palm scored 7 field goals; Peek, 4 field, 1 foul; Harms, 3 field; Curry, 1; Barry, 1.

BASKETBALL held full sway at the Sacramento Athletic Club last evening and the teams in the Beginners' Basketball League played the last game of their second week of existence. The Athletics won 23 to 21 from the Brodericks and the High School team lost to the Acorns on a forfeit because they did not show up.

The Acorns played just the same and won from a team picked from the stars about the courts 19 to 12. All three of the Beginners' teams showed class and turned loose clever exhibitions of team work.

Nevada Varsity Is Strong On Team Work

Administer Decisive Defeat to Sacramento Athletic Club

In a decidedly one-sided contest the Nevada 'varsity rugby team defeated the Sacramento Athletic club yesterday on Mackay field, 24 to 3. The Nevada boys showed the effects of three weeks' coaching under Amos Elliott and used every point learned to advanaage. They were outweighed at least five pounds to the man by the club players, but their superior knowledge of the game and the team work put up by the back field earned them the victory.

The game was altogether too one-sided to show the Nevada players up in their true form, but at times brilliant passing rushes starting at the halfback and traveling out to the wing for a try served to show what may be expected when the men line up against a stronger aggregation. McCubbin and Jepson were the star performers for Nevada, the former converting three goals from the extreme corners of the field and the latter was responsible for three hard-earned tries. McPhail and Menardi also showed to advantage in the back field, both men opening up a number of clever passing rushes. In the Nevada forwards Barton and Patterson at breakways played a good consistent game and kept the club's back field guessing. Henningson and High were each responsible for a try and gained much ground.

In the first half the Sacramento players opened up things by converting a goal from a penalty kick and held their three point lead for the greater part of the half time. In the last ten minutes of play the 'varsity team rallied and Crowley went over for a try from a twenty-five yard run. McCubbin failed to convert the goal. In a few minutes Jepson went over for another try in the same place. McCubbin converted, making the score in the first half 8 to 3 in favor of Nevada.

After the ten minutes rest, during which Coach Elliott changed the Nevada lineup by placing four new men in the scrum, the 'varsity team seemed to show new signs of life and Webster scored from the kickoff, by Sacramento. Then in rapid succession two more tries were added to the Nevada score by High and Henningson, McCubbin converting two of the goals.

Towards the end of the half, which was all played in the Sacramento territory, Jepson went over for a try in the extreme corner of the field after receiving the ball from a passing rush which included every man in the back division. McCubbin converted the almost impossible goal, making the final score, 24 to 3.

In the preliminary game between the Nevada second team and the Reno Y. M. C. A. the play was very slow and the game resulted in a tie, neither side scoring. The association team showed much improvement over their game last Saturday and may be looked upon to produce a fast bunch of players before the season ends.

The Nevada lineup in the big game: Hamilton, Settlemeyer, Limburger, (McDonald, Chism, Bryant), front rank; Henningson, North (Walker, Delahyde), second rank; Barton, High, Patterson (Coster), rear rank; Menardi (Fake), halfback; McCubbin, first five-eighths; Crowley, second five-eighths; Webster, center; McPhail, wing; Webster (Hancock), wing; Delahyde (Abbott), fullback.

Referee, Miles Kennedy; timekeeper, J. G. Scrugham; linesmen, S. E. Boes, H. C. Neeld.

S. A. C. IS EASY FOR MERCURIES

Local Five Outplay Visitors in Every Department of The Game

Showing championship form throughout the Y. M. C. A. Mercuries last night smothered the Sacramento Athletic Club five under an avalanche of field goals on the local court and won out by the score of 45 to 7. The speed, cleverness and team work of the Stocktonians completely upset all of the Sacramentans' calculations so that after the first half the visitors were content to play a purely defensive game.

By the end of the first period the score stood 31 to 6 in the Mercuries' favor, all of the local points being made with field goals while the Capital City five could only shoot baskets from the field on two occasions.

The fast work of Leland Spayd in this half was dazzling, he throwing six goals. Lester Covell was another of the evening's stars who showed headwork and speed at critical moments.

In the second half the visitors were instructed to play on the defensive and not to attempt to score any more points. These instructions were carried out and the Sacramentans' solitary score in this half was through a free throw.

Fergusson played forward for the Mercuries in the second half and Brown was shifted to guard. Palm took Bacon's place at guard for Sacramento in the second period.

Walter Dyreborg, physical director at the Stockton Athletic Club last year, is now director of the Sacramento club and was in charge of the team last night.

A preliminary game was played between the Y. M. C. A. Pirates and the First Baptist team. The final score was 26 to 16 in favor of the Pirates. At the end of the first half it was 11 to 6 in favor of the Pirates.

With the West Sacramentos completely outclassing the Hatters De Luxe, and the Athletic club and the high school hooking up in one of the closest games ever witnessed in this city, the play in the Sacramento Beginners' Basketball league was continued last night.

With Almer Norton, who has appeared with the high school first team for two years coaching them and explaining the finer points of the game, the boys from the west side of the river proved their superiority over the De Luxe club, winning easily by the one-sided score of 44 to 10.

On the other hand, the second game of the evening proved a see-saw affair, which could be called anybody's contest up to the sounding of the final whistle, when the clubmen were announced the victors by the small margin of one point, the score being 25 to 24.

The play in the schedule of the Sacramento Beginners' Basketball league will be continued tonight on the courts of the Sacramento Athletic club, when the Hatters De Luxe and the Athletic club fives meet the West Sacramentos and the High school respectively. This will be the second evening of the play in the schedule and will give the followers of the teams and the dopesters an excellent opportunity to judge the comparative strength of the squads entered.

All four of the teams that will play tonight have been working hard to get into form and their respective managers are confident that they will be successful in their first attempt at the game.

A large squad of enthusiasts were on hand at the opening night, including many of the followers of the game from the gentler sex, who were well pleased with the exhibitions. If the opinions expressed by them is to be judged for the numbers that will be at the games tonight, just take a tip from the wise and get there early if you want a seat, as the seating capacity of the gallery is limited. Ladies are always welcome at the games.

SACRAMENTOS GETS FIRST DEFEAT OF SOCCER SEASON

Athletics Put Up Sensational Struggle; Rovers Advance to Second Place.

The Sacramentos, who are leading the Sacramento Valley Soccer league championship race, were handed their first defeat yesterday at the hands of the Athletics. The game which ended 1 to 0 in favor of the clubmen, was voted the most sensational and thrilling contest of the season's play. During the first half of the schedule play, the Athletics seemed to be followed by a jinx, but with the showing they made yesterday, they will be the contenders for the championship next season. The clubmen outplayed their opponents in all stages of the game.

The Rovers advanced to second place in the standing of the clubs yesterday by downing the Occidentals, 5 to 2. This brings them up to striking distance of the top, being one point behind the leaders. Walker scored the two goals for the losers, while Batten scored 2, Turner 1, Nuttall 1, and Bisset 1 for the points of the winners.

Oliver, who played goal for the Rovers for the first time yesterday, made an excellent showing. Eales also showed up strong in the lineup of the winners.

In the second game of the evening, the High School had an easy job to defeat the Fink club, 35 to 19. The game was never in doubt, the students jumping into the lead from the beginning.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR CLUB CARD TONIGHT

Everything is in readiness for the three-round amateur card at the Sacramento Athletic club at 8:30 tonight for members only. This will mark the revival of the amateur boxing game at the Ninth street club, which gained fame in previous years through these events.

Jack Hallanan has selected what he thinks are probable prospects for the fight game in the future, and is confident the card will be as attractive as any staged by the club before. There are eight bouts scheduled.

SIX TEAMS ENTERED IN RACE AROUND CAPITOL

Runners from six organizations in the city will appear in the annual relay race around the Capitol Monday. They are the Sacramento Athletic club, Y. M. C. A., Turn Verein, high school, Acorn club and Fink club. All have been training their men for some time and from all accounts it will be hard to decide the winners of the medals for first and second places.

CLUB'S AMATEUR CARD BIG SUCCESS

Matches Well Balanced in All But One Case; Affair Well Attended.

One one-round knockout, two four-round decisions and five three-round decisions constituted the results of the amateur boxing card at the Sacramento Athletic club last night. With one exception, the bouts were well balanced and furnished excellent sport for the lovers of the game. The eveness of the matches were shown by the fact of the extending of two of the bouts to four rounds to decide the winners.

The success of the affair and the popularity manifested by the large attendance may be the cause of the formation of many such cards in the near future. It is probable that another card may be arranged within a month. The untiring efforts of Boxing Instructor Jack Hallanan, Physical Director Walter Dyreborg and Directors Delano and Mansfield is directly responsible for the success of the affair.

The Mahn-Young Dave Ahern and Hannon-Fountaine fights developed to be the hottest contested bouts of the evening with the former winning the decision after four rounds in each case. Teddy Pappas took the decision over Warren in the main event in three rounds.

The summary of the results is as follows: Tony Bozona, decision over Parenti, three rounds; Nunes knocked out Mattas in first round; Pugh, decision over Hollingsworth, three rounds; Mahn, decision over Young Dave Ahern, four rounds; Harnon, decision over Fountaine, four rounds; Bradley, decision over Phillips, three rounds; Clark, decision over Osborn, three rounds; Pappas, decision over Warren, three rounds.

Barbarians Score Victory Over Locals In Spite of Rainy Weather

Basketball, Soccer and Rugby on Schedule for Today; Excursionists Leave at 4:30.

Jupe Pluvius had his way yesterday in this city, but again the members of the Barbarian and Olympic clubs of San Francisco, who arrived in this city early yesterday morning, refused to have their plans upset on account of rain. Soccer games were scheduled to be played at McKinley park yesterday afternoon, but this program had to be abandoned and water soccer was substituted.

Davidson, Couch, Shaw, De La Mare, Merriman, Dyke and Chipchase, forming the team for the visitors, took the combination of Sacramento Athletic club swimmers and a few of the visitors into camp to the tune of 11 to 0. The team flying the Sacramento colors included Dalton, Swanton, Button, McGregor, Von Dagenhouser, Hudson and Pomeroy. The game was called at the Sacramento swimming baths at 3 o'clock.

SHAW FEATURES PLAY.

Shaw playing for the Barbarians was the shining light of the contest handling the ball with accuracy and science. He appeared to be as much at home in the water as he would have a football field, had the game been soccer football instead of water soccer. Although he only scored two goals his accuracy in passing took the ball to his end of the tank in many instances that resulted in goals.

Davidson captured first honors in the scoring end of the game, registering five ringers. De La Mare divided honors for second place with Shaw for with two goals, while Merriman and Chipchase each registered one goal.

Before the water soccer began Davidson, Glascock and Couch gave some exhibition diving, including jack knife, single and double flips, one and a half and many other difficult dives with much grace and skill. The diving and water soccer concluded the athletic program of the day.

VISIT POINTS OF INTEREST.

During the morning after their arrival about 9 o'clock the members o the excursion rambled over the cit taking in the points of interest und the guidance of members of the Sa ramento Athletic club, Home Produc league and Sacramento Valley Socc league, who are acting as the hosts the bay city clubmen while in t city.

BARBARIAN - OLYMPIC STARS DOWN SACRAMENTO AT RUGBY AND SOCCER

Both Contests Hotly Fought, With Luck, Wet Grounds and Slippery Ball Entering Into Result; Eleventh Invasion of Bay Athletes Proves Big Success Despite Untoward Weather

A HAPPY bunch were those Barbarians last evening when they boarded the boat for San Francisco after spending a day winning Rugby and Soccer games from the Sacramento stars.

At 1:30 the Soccer contest started and when the game was over the score was 2 to 1 in favor of the visitors. The Barbs took Rugby honors later on in the afternoon, making eight points to Sacramento's none.

Olympics With Barbs.

A number of Olympic Club members came along on the Barb's eleventh invasion. They played with the Barbs' fifteen and eleven yesterday and "the Winged O" boys made a good showing. Eighty people arrived Sunday morning on the trip which was made by boat from the Bay.

One victory for the visitors was somewhat fluky, the Barbs' two goals in the Soccer contest being of the lucky variety.

Slippery Ball to Blame.

The first goal for the visitors was made when Goalkeeper Cass of the Sacramento All Stars let the muddy ball get away from him and it shot through the bars for the first goal of the day.

The second goal scored for the Barbs was the read horseshow of the contest. Herb Bowden of the locals stopped a shot for goal with his foot and as he was booting the ball it glanced off his shoe and a Barb booted through the bars.

Button Stars.

Outside left Button was a star for the locals. He made the only score and it was a beautiful boot that landed square ebtween the bars for the first and only goal for the All-Stars.

The Rugby game was a great contest. The Sacramento fifteen rushed the Barbs off their feet during the first ten minutes of play and it looked as if the contest would be a runaway match with Sacramento taking the honors. The first half ended with no score although the locals had scored two trys that were not counted.

Barbs' Team Work Counts.

The second half opened with the locals rushing the visitors around the field and it looked like Sacramento would win. But the Barbs got together and by clever team work came back, Wing Forward Davidson scoring two trys before the game finished, one of which was converted.

Rudy Cole, Gus Simmermacher, Sammy Hern and Spence Dixon did the good work for Sacramento, while Davidson and Glasscock were the shining lights of the ivsitors.

Teams' Line-up.

ATHLETIC CLUB TAKEN DOWN LINE FOR SECOND TIME

Finks Turn Difficult Trick; Acorns Defeat Golden Poppies

THE Sacramento Athletic Club's basketball team in the Beginners' League lost last evening to the Fink Clubmen by 25 to 17 score. This is the second game this season that the Athletics have lost. Up until last Monday evening the Club tossers had won twelve straight games.

The Purple and White meet the Fink players next Monday in the final play of the League schedule. Should the School boys win they will be tied with the Athletics for top honors in the League. This will necessitate a championship game being played between the Athletics and High quintet.

The Acorns won the opening game last evening from the Golden Poppies, 15 to 13. The game was exciting, as it was a close game from beginning to end.

Association for Physical Improvement

Prof. Goldsmith of High School Interests Local Men in Plan

PROFESSOR ALBERT GOLDSMITH, head of the Physical Training Department of the Sacramento High School, has formulated a plan, whereby all persons interested in the physical welfare of the young people of Sacramento may unite as an association and thus be able to discuss methods, and, in fact, anything that will tend physically to benefit their charges.

Goldsmith hopes to be able to interest all who are interested in physical education. The following have expressed themselves as being in sympathy with the idea, and in all probability will unite in forming the club that Professor Goldsmith has in mind: Professor Martin Trieb, Sacramento Turn Verein; Captain Frank Bacon, Sacramento Athletic Club; Max Stone, Superintendent of Playgrounds; Miss Townsend, Girls' Physical Director of the High School; Miss Tully and Miss Anderson, Directors in the playgrounds.

The club plans to meet semi-monthly, and it is their intention to subscribe for some of the best magazines on physical education. At these meetings each member is supposed to discuss any article which he finds interesting in any of the magazines. This idea will tend to keep the members in touch with all the newest phases of physical culture. They intend to have a library on the different methods of teaching.

This library will include some of the best books on the German, Swedish and American methods. It is hoped that this organization will harmonize the work of the different organizations, and thus eliminate some of the antagonistic spirit that often appears. The members hope that this club will be a success and there is no doubt but that it will be, as all the members are graduates of some college of physical education.

BOOSTERS' SCALPS PLUCKED BY GALT

Brooke Realties Defeated in Exciting Game in Which Lead Swings to and Fro.

The Galt team kept up its present winning streak yesterday by taking the Brooke Realties into camp at Oak Park by a score of 8 to 6. The game was an exciting contest from the start, and, as Galt got away to a three-run lead in the first, and piled up another in the second, the game looked as if it were stored away for Galt. But the Brookes came back in the fifth, and piled up three runs, and two more in the sixth, taking the lead. But big Press Martin settled down, and the Galts came up in the eighth with four runs, which cinched the game.

Both pitchers were off color, but it made the contest more exciting, as the game was featured by heavy hitting, Galt getting ten hits, while the Brookes cracked out nine.

The fielding of Earl Grohosky was one of the bright features, as Earl grabbed off several hard drives to right field for the Brookes. Joe Giedeon carried off the hitting honors of the day, with three slashing hits, one going for three bags. Score:

December the Democrats and insurgents have combined to pass a wool bill, framed without authentic information, without committee investigations, without any facts from the tariff board—a compromise bill that does not meet the ideals of either Democrats or insurgents—and the President is asked to sign such a bill. His refusal to sign such a bill is easily defended, and for the veto of such a bill he will get much more political advantage than will either the Democrats or the insurgents, who combined to send him a half-baked wool bill that would do—nobody knows what.

THAT FREE- LIST BILL.

So far as the alleged farmers' free-list bill is concerned, that bill would never have passed the Senate had it been opposed by all members who have denounced it as pure buncombe. Yet half a dozen or more Republican insurgents during recent debates took occasion to ridicule the free-list bill as a measure that would accomplish no good; a bill brought forward in the hope of fooling the farmer, and on top of such denunciation, they turned in and voted for the bill, with the Kern amendment. Being pure buncombe, the President will have no difficulty in explaining or justifying his veto of the free-list bill.

And so it will be with the cotton bill and any other tariff bills that may be submitted before adjournment. Not one of these bills, except Canadian reciprocity, has been considered for a minute by the finance committee of the Senate; no hearings have been had; no report from the tariff board; nothing on which to base legislation. As finally agreed upon, all these tariff measures are compromises, fixed up to catch the Republican insurgent vote, and as such they will all meet the same fate.

Admittedly, President Taft is no politician. He don't like to play politics, and he don't know how to play politics. But in pursuing a thoroughly consistent and steadfast course with regard to all tariff legislation passed by Congress during the special session, it would seem at first glance that he has gained a greater political advantage than those who went into the game, regardless of consequences, to play politics and "put the President in a hole." And when the gavel falls at the close of this special session President Taft alone can point with pride to the enactment of the one piece of legislation he sought when he called Congress together last April. And Congress, by the way, will be just where it would have been on March 4 last if the Republican insurgents of the Senate had not filibustered and prevented a vote on Canadian reciprocity at the regular session—so far as tariff legislation is concerned. That filibuster was inaugurated to prevent the passage of the Canadian bill, the insurgents believing the President would not call an extra session. But the President did call an extra session (he was not bluffing), he did force the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill, and he is about to put the final kibosh on other tariff legislation set up solely to embarrass him.

H. S. ATHLETES ROMP AWAY WITH RELAY RACE

The high school relay team had an easy time copping first place in the race around the capitol grounds Monday. The Acorns finished second, Sacramento Athletic club third, Turn Vereins fourth, Y. M. C. A. fifth, and Finks sixth.

Five laps, each of 1100 yards were run. The time for the total distance of slightly more than three miles was 20 minutes and 18 seconds. The high school team, which was never headed, could have made much better time had they been harder pressed.

Connelly, running the first lap in 3:40, the best time of the race, gave the high school team a big lead. There was an interesting race for second place between the Acorns, Athletics and Turners. The Assalena brothers held up the Acorn team and were greatly responsible for the way the team finished. Epling made a good run for the Athletic club.

The teams that participated in the race were:

High school—Connelly, Fountaine, Block, Cox, Raffetto.

Acorns—Brown, V. Assalena, Eldred, F. Assalena, McNeeley.

Athletic club—Grove, Hannon, Swanton, Epling, Wahl.

Turn Verein—Reska, McKnight, Farg, Taylor, Rodgers.

Y. M. C. A.—Reed, Galehouse, Hoddy, Gwyn, Gillespie.

Sacramento to Meet Nevada Today on Mackay Field

That the first real game of football to be played on the Mackay field this year is going to be a hard fought contest, is clearly evinced by the manner Coach Elliott is going to send the Nevada team into the game this afternoon.

The team that will take the field the first half against the Sacramento club ruggers is the pick of the Nevada squad with the exception of Harriman at breakaway, and Sheeby at five-eighths, who have been out of the game lately with injuries.

They will represent the best aggregation Nevada has produced since 1909 and before the end of the season will probably hold the honor of being the best rugby team yet put out on the hill.

Reports from Sacramento state that the team which will arrive from there this morninfg has been doing great things in practice and will hold the Nevada boys to a very close score. The team is composed mostly of former stars of the coast colleges and a few of the best high school players.

As a preliminary to the game this afternoon the second Nevada team will line up against the Y. M. C. A. team of Reno. Although the first team ran up a big score against the association last week they profited much from the contest and have materially strengthened their team and promise a very fast game. The second team of the varsity has been holding the first team down to very few tries in the nightly practice games, and the players feel confident they will have little trouble in defeating the Y. M. C.A. This game will begin promptly at two o'clock and will be followed immediately by the main event.

No official line up for the Nevada team has been given out and probably will not be given, since every man on the squad is expected to be out in a suit ready to go into either one of the games.

Night lectures for one hour are now held once a week by Coach Elliott and the finer points of the game are taken up and discussed with no little benefit to the players.

Tonight the Block N society will take charge of the Sacramento players and will have them as guests at a big dance in the Gym, to which everyone is invited.

ays show an average value of $5[illegible] per ton. The values are practically all in silver, though occasional assays run high in gold, lead and copper.

At the 50-foot point in the winze a drift is run on the hanging-wall for a distance of 30 feet. At the 16-foot point in this drift the vein was crosscut and shows 24 feet from wall to wall. Assay returns from a 3-foot body on the hanging-wall give average values of 800 ounces in silver to the ton; 16 feet further in the crosscut there is 14 inches of ore that goes close to 200 ounces in silver; while from a 4-foot body on the footwall five average assays taken from different points gave returns from $30 to $102 per ton. Many handsome specimens come from the high-grade bodies and the whole vein at this point could be put through a mill, just as it is broken down, at a good profit.

Another tunnel, which will give an additional depth of about 200 feet on the vein, is now in 380 feet. When it is in 50 feet more it is the intention to make a raise and connect with the winze. This will put the mine in shape for a good steady production.

The Ruby Silver workings are undoubtedly on the extension of the vein worked by the former owners of the Betty O'Neal. The ores are identical in character and the average values about the same. From the mill company's assay records, now in the possession of Judge George of Battle Mountain, it is proved that the ore treated averaged close to $100 per ton, while the average of all the ores opened up was better than $50 per ton.

The veins on the Ruby Silver are typical true fissures and the history of the silver mines in Nevada is that such veins persist and carry their values to great depth.

Among recent visitors was James W. Gaughan, deputy mining inspec[illegible] mine in his official capacity. One of the miners reports that when leaving he remarked that the Ruby Silver was the best looking property for the stage of development that he had seen in a long time.

The mine has up-to-date equipment, including a Pneumatic Tool company air compressor, air drills, air hoist, Cameron sinking pump, two fully equipped blacksmith shops, ore houses and assay office. The air hoist, by the way, is a Nevada product being made in Reno, and gives the utmost satisfaction.

Hebuck: Exception to Rule

EDITOR'S NOTE: Vince Stanich is a past president of Placer-Nevada League, serving the seasons of 1940 and 1941. It was Stanich who helped reorganize the league in 1946 after World War II.

By VINCENT F. STANICH

Baseball is a game of statistics. That is the strength of the national pastime, especially the major league variety. The home run record of the immortal Babe Ruth is now coming into focus as Hank Aaron, the Atlanta belter is making a run at the 714 circuit clouts by Ruth.

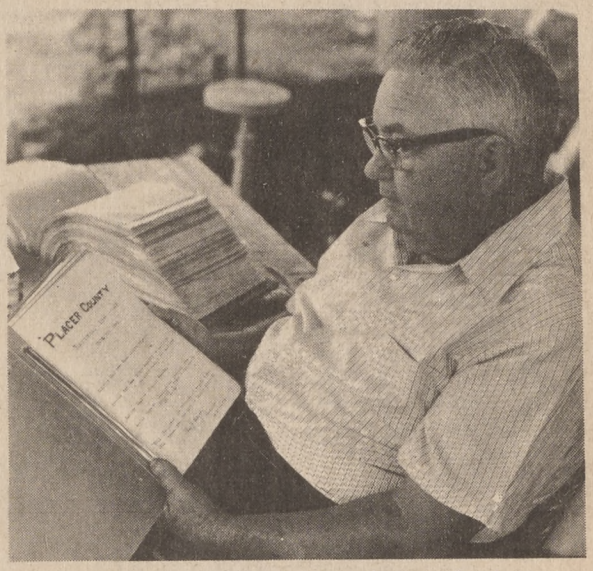
Each day someone is scoring a run which changes the records. Even the strikeouts and the innings pitched are a matter of interest and the statisticians hired by baseball keep an elaborate set of records.

Although this is the big leagues' strong point, it does not apply to most of the minor leagues where poor records are kept. In the semi-pro ranks comparative records are nonexistent, except in the Placer-Nevada League.

THERE IS a very good reason for this because one man did something about it. He is 74-year-old Uno J. Hebuck from Roseville who has compiled records back to 1886 when the first club, Auburn, played its first ball game. The last game the Placer-Nevada League played was in 1968.

During that period there were 3,549 games. Out of that number, Hebuck was able to come up with 1,688 box scores, with short scores of 1,661 games.

Hebuck's records border upon the sophisticated, covering batting averages, total times at bat, runs scored, basehits, home runs, triples, doubles and stolen bases.



Uno J. Hebuck and His Lifetime Project.

There are records of 660 pitchers, showing names, years played, home club, total games as a starter or as a relief pitcher.

HEBUCK LISTS the umpires, starting in 1886, showing names, their home town, first year of officiating and each succeeding year of umpiring in the Placer-Nevada League. The list includes many Sacramento umpires: Lagomarsino in 1905; Terrell 1907; Hellman in 1911; Bacon in 1917; O'Neil in 1919; Griffith 1926; Contente 1927; Griffith 1929; Ludeman, Valerio, Lilly Hodge, Walden, Dempsey, Schang, Lima, Ratoni, Lamb, Armstrong, Stassi, Androvich, Hern, John Semon, Slavich, Sypnicki, Avila, Wagner and a few others.

In addition to the box scores there was the job to post every player's (4,194 of them) performance for every game in which he participated. They were finally placed in alphabetical order. In all there were 2,400 pages of statistics.

Hebuck is satisfied that his work is complete up to a point. Now, the next project is to make it available for everyone who is interested. Hebuck would like to place a copy in every public library in Placer-County. Additionally, he would like to have the State Library in Sacramento represented with his lifetime work. To accomplish this entails a cost of $300. Hebuck is going to work on that.

HEBUCK WAS born in Rocklin in 1897 and like many other citizens of his community he went to the work for Southern Pacific Railroad. After his baseball playing days were over, Hebuck became an umpire, retiring from that sphere of operations in 1941. He is a former city councilman of Roseville and a former member of the Roseville City Charter Commission.

Hebuck pays tribute to the late Allen "Scoop" Thurman for the part he played in making box scores available. Thurman operated the Colfax Record, a weekly newspaper. Thurman, like Hebuck, was a baseball buff. During the baseball season he had a pink sheet supplement which listed all of the box scores of Placer-Nevada League games. They were very complete records, making it much simpler for Hebuck to compile the volume of statistics which is now in book form.

Hebuck indicates that he has records of players who performed in the Sacramento County League as well as the Valley League. For those old time ball players who would like to look over the records they are welcome to drop by Hebuck's home at 116 Willow Ave., Roseville. Hebuck is home most of the time.

Barbarian Water Soccer Team

Back Row:- Gailey, Brown, Dyke, Gurke, Pomeroy (E), Bartlett
Centre;- Grundy
Front:- Pomeroy (C) and Merriman.

This is the team which captured the Surf City cup at Santa Cruz, coming from behind with a terrific rush in the replay of the finial.

They don't look like a team that could be beaten; they look like their chosen name.

Gailey is the famous Australian short distance swimmer; Browne is from New Zealand and holds the Pacific Coast Record for plunging; Dyke is a cool goal getter; Gurke is a Sutro Baths product; Pomeroy is an enthusiast, who just about holds his own; Grundy is one of old London's champion water dogs; C. Pomeroy is a fair player but not experienced; Merriman is a fighting shark in any company.

Barbarian Champion "Five-a-side" Team.

In Civilian Clothes:- Edgar Pomeroy (Vice-President) and John Campbell Bruce Mackenzie (Commissioner).

Front Row:- Maurice Hudson and Archibald Scott.

This wonderful bunch defeated four strong competitors in one day. A feat which earned them the nickname of "The Barbs are a hardy race"; a name that their defeat of the Pastimes and Thistles this season, has again made prominent.

None of them are natives of California, Dyke being an Englishman; Timmis a "Buckeye" of English and Scotch parentage; Lees and Scott, Scotch and Hudson, French.

The cup won by the champions was the gift to the League of C.Y. Williamson an old Sacramentan.

The Barbarians' Soccer Football Team
Destined to play in Sacramento, Feby. 22nd.
Reading from left to right:- Back Row:- Mackenzie (Commissioner), Bartlett, Dyke, McRitchie, McCaskie, MacCallum, Lees, MacGregor, (Past Commissioner)
Front Row:- Hudson, Gloor, Timmis, Stringer, Scott.

The Barbarian soccer team is one of the most popular in California. One time becomes the Hornets. The team has filled engagements in San Jose, Palo Alto, Coalinga, and Los Angeles.

Year after year they have visited Sacramento, each time meeting a more stubborn resistance on the part of the local stars and, just a year ago, sustained their first defeat.

Partly, in fact mostly, because of that defeat, the Barbs are bringing up, this year, all their different lines of talent, determined, if beaten in one event, to win in another.

In the big California Football League around the Bay, the Barbs have this year beaten the best there is. They have also won all their games away from home.

This picture hangs in the Barbs' club room and is entitled "The Hardy Race".
